
Shepherds open Central Offices at Ely – photo – 30 12 05b

1930 12 06

Sir – we are a locally owned firm with its own garage, employing 57 people and we try to give a good service. Between October and March each year we lose a considerable amount of money and rely on summer business to get profits. We do not discharge staff because we overhaul and repaint our rolling stock. We stick to our own service and do not interfere with our competitors. But now our rivals have starting cutting fares. We have got to defend ourselves and the public will benefit from cheap rides until further notice. –Varsity Express Motors. 30 12 06a

1930 12 06

Sir – all Cambridge men will be alarmed at the threat to build an arterial ring road bisecting Grantchester Meadows. The meadows are owned by King's College. We regard their preservation as a trust; we will not build on them, nor near them. We will do nothing to change their character and refuse to contemplate such a calamity – The Dean of King's 30 12 06

1930 12 06

Under the Road Traffic Act Cambridgeshire has been allotted one motor car and three motor cycles to deal with the enormous growth of motor traffic. Such a force should be recruited from men best suited for the job but there is a limit to the number of tasks they can perform. This is another example of the Government forcing local authorities to make the new law work somehow. 30 12 06d

1930 12 06

The visit of Jack Hulbert's popular review carries the mind back to 1913 when he made his first appearance at the New Theatre in the May Week production 'Cheer-oh Cambridge' of the Footlights Dramatic Club. I remember his sprightly dancing, which has since developed so successfully. Then in 1921 we had Claude Hulbert making his first appearance in the Footlights production of 'What a picnic'. 30 12 06e

1930 12 08

The Home of Mercy in Christchurch Street, Cambridge has been more or less full of girls, almost all aged between 16 and 20. Seventeen girls had been admitted and ten provided with outfits and placed in domestic service. Five have been baptised, six confirmed and three restored to Holy Communion while two girls formerly in the home have been well married. The chapel had been redecorated and beautified. There were fewer illegitimate births but the moral standard of the country had broken down and a very large number of outwardly respectable women were morally corrupt. 30 12 08a-c

Cambridge coach war – Cambridge Comfort Coaches reply to Varsity – 30 12 08

New Square park, p8

Festival – Anmer Hall, p8*

1920 12 09

Mrs Hutchinson, p3

Branch library site, Chesterton & Cherry Hinton – 30 12 09

1930 12 10

Library site, p6*

1930 12 12

Today the CDN publishes a 16-page paper for the first time in its 42-years' history. This is because of the demands on our space by national and local advertisers for their Christmas shopping announcements and affords evidence of their confidence of the paper as an advertising medium. There is an enormous response each day to our Christmas Pages Advertisement Competition. 30 12 12a

1930 12 12

There was an exciting scene in the centre of Cambridge at mid-day. Amid cries of 'Stop, stop' and the blowing of police whistles, a man made a headlong dash down St Andrew's Street. People turned and stared and as a means of stopping him a cycle was thrown in front of his path. Eventually he was captured and, with a stalwart policeman on each side, was walked back to the police station. He appeared to be a young man, smartly dressed in a light coloured suit and grey soft hat. He was charged with passing counterfeit half-crowns. 30 12 12b & 30 12 13

1930 12 12

The 'skeleton' of the Chesterton vehicular bridge came out of the municipal cupboard. It had been suggested when Victoria Bridge had been erected but the council subsequently rejected the proposals. In the meantime a temporary bridge had been erected at Dant's Ferry with the intention of moving it towards the Pike and Eel. Now it will be kept in the present position and lowered to make it easier to cross with perambulators. But it was a shame to spend £1,600 on a structure which had not been right when it was put up. 30 12 12c

1930 12 13

Street chase, p5*

New Square, p8

1930 12 16

Miss M.H. Catley, headmistress of the Perse High School for Girls, took her degree at Oxford and came to Cambridge in 1926. She is with all her heart and all her desire, a trainer of girls. The keynote to her success is her understanding of youth – she is herself barely out of this category. She takes full part in sports and is an enthusiastic Girl Guide. There is still a long vista of years ahead of her and her success will be reaped when the young girls she is today training have themselves come to maturity. 30 12 16

1930 12 16

Cambridge council's plans for extending their boundaries were described as 'arrogant' by Chesterton RDC. They would upset local administration and leave only a small county that could not be staffed adequately. Villages did not want to lose their parish councils that knew their needs in exchange for a representative on the Borough Council. They had no control over water, gas or electric supply and are at the mercy of monopoly companies – these are the benefit they propose to extend to the surrounding authorities. 30 12 16a&b&c

1930 12 17

The County Library Committee debated spending a farthing rate on books, 80 per cent of which were fiction. Such books could be a waste of time or a downright bad habit. There was little difference between putting Edgar Wallace on a cinema screen and having him in a book. There was no reason why public money should be used to provide 'The Squeaker' free for boys and girls in the villages. But Sir Graham Greene said those in the country should enjoy the same advantages as those in town.

30 12 17

Fen Ditton case, p8

1930 12 18

Cambridge engravers, William Stephens and William Henshaw, 18th century – 30 12 18

1930 12 19

Suffolk Regiment, p5

Accident, Blue Circle steam wagon – 30 12 19

1930 12 20

Cambridge people can now send their Christmas greetings by picture telegraphy – at a price. They must post their picture telegram direct to the Central Telegraph Office at a cost of £1 for the minimum size picture of 15 square inches up to 70 square inches for which the charge is £4 13s 6d. 30 12 20c

1930 12 20

Robert Maynard, the well-known Whittlesford engineer, died at the age of 85. His life was spent in patenting or perfecting agricultural machinery & to the last he visited the office of works daily. His chaff cutter took the world's champion prize for efficiency at Glasgow in 1887 and His Majesty the King has one of these machines in the Buckingham Palace Mews. 30 12 20a

Pillion rider, p3

Chivers v cement, p3

Steam Oberon starts, p5

Millers all-electric wireless receivers photos – 30 12 20

1930 12 23

Chivers' employees spent a pleasant and instructive time at the Central Cinema when they watched the new film 'From Orchard to Home'. It covered the processes in making jam from picking the fruit to labelling the jars and showed the facilities afforded the employees in their leisure hours. At the conclusion a good deal of merriment was caused by the showing of a similar film taken 25 years ago; it was interesting to compare the difference between the work then and now. 30 12 23

Police fund, p5

1930 12 24

Cambridgeshire Hunt, p6

1930 12 26

Fen Road which is unique in England – Guyhirn towards Peterborough

The Isle of Ely can now take pride in the possession of a length of concrete road which is probably unique in the whole of the country. Many other concrete road exists and several short links had previously been laid down in the Isle of Ely, but it is believed that nowhere in England is there to be found such a highway as that which now exists from the railway bridge at Guyhirn to Wryde corner on the Wisbech to Peterborough road. For a distance of five miles, with only one slight bend, it stretches like a white ribbon across the fen, an ultra-modern example of highway construction, which strikes a somewhat incongruous note against the aspect of rural remoteness of the country through which it passes.

The road, however, has been reconstructed up to such a high standard, not so much to serve the needs of the immediate district, but because it forms part of an extremely important main highway. It is now classified by the Ministry of Transport as one of the most important trunk roads of the country, being scheduled as part of the route from Birmingham through Peterborough, Wisbech, King's Lynn and Norwich to Yarmouth.

In strength of construction and in its perfect formation the road is quite a splendid example of highway engineering, while its even surface must be quite a joy to motorists. The old road varied in width from 16 to 20 feet whereas the new one has a carriageway of 20 feet wide throughout and will have a footpath on the north side of its entire length. The old surface was undulating in places and this has been overcome by taking off the rises and raising the low parts so that a perfectly level road has been formed. Solid concrete supporting walls have been laid on both sides of the road and between them a reinforced concrete raft has been constructed to form the roadway. Rapid hardening cement has been used making the road fit for traffic five days after construction. The surface is practically non-skid. A further improvement along the same road has been entered upon in the erection of a new bridge. At Thorny Toll. These and other important works show that the county is keeping abreast of others in the modernization of its highways. 30 12 26ES

A bad smash took place in the Ely Beet Factory yard on Friday afternoon. In some way a loaded lorry got out of control and ran off. All efforts to stop or turn it proved unavailing and it crashed into a stationary lorry smashing its bonnet and mudguards. Both lorries were extensively damaged. On Friday night, a heavy lorry carrying a large load of beet was descending the bridge incline when its back axle suddenly snapped. It was sometime before a lorry could be commandeered from the factory to tow it the remaining distance. 30 12 26a ES

1930 12 27

The heavy rain did not deter a large number of members of the Cambridgeshire Hunt from assembling on Cambridge Market Hill for this traditionally English spectacle. The scene was one worth a soaking to witness. Figures in the traditional red and black mingled with macintoshed horsemen, their steaming mounts were restless, the hounds silent and around was a rain-drenched crowd of about 1,000 people. They took a great deal of interest in a small terrier who looked out from the mouth of a haversack slung across a red-coated huntsman's back. 30 12 27a-b

1930 12 27

The booking hall at Cambridge railway station was the scene on Christmas Eve of one of the most extraordinary happenings ever witnessed. As a taxicab was being driven back to the station rank its driver suffered a seizure; the vehicle careered through the booking hall entrance and crashed into the collapsible iron gates near the ticket collector's box. If the barrier had been wide open it would have gone right on to the track, and a train was just due. 30 12 27

1930 12 27

George Cornwell, signalman of Furlong Drove was presented with a 'First Aid' award certificate. In October 1929 a fireman fell off his engine and was run over by a train travelling in the opposite direction. His right leg was severed and he had wounds to the buttocks and head. Mr Cornwell applied a tourniquet and bandages, used a door as a stretcher and took him to the signal box. A doctor said the first aid had saved life for eight hours whereas the patient would otherwise have died in a few minutes. 30 12 27d

1930 12 27

Stars such as Jack and Claude Hulbert delighted Cambridge audiences in their early days. The latest is Harold Warrender who just two years ago was the mainstay of the University Footlights production, acting in many of the skits. It was very evident that he had great gifts and he is now playing at the Criterion with the famous Alice Delysia in a new farce, 'A Pair of Trousers', making the most of the opportunities it offers. 30 12 27d

1930 12 27

Edward Conybeare, the former vicar of Barrington, retired in 1898 and was then received into the Roman Catholic Church. He has three sons and two daughters, all of whom have distinguished themselves; James is Archdeacon of Nottingham, Bruce was one of the early settlers in British East Africa, Alfred is a Master at Eton. Alison is now Ely Diocesan Secretary for the Mothers' Union while Dorothea is actively interested in the Girls' Friendly Society and assists in the massage department at Addenbrooke's Hospital where 12,000 treatments are given annually. 30 12 27e

1931 Cambridgeshire Weekly News and ELY Standard

I have scans of articles summaries or marked *
Added to Century

January to December 1931

January 1931 CWN & ES

1931 01 02

Christmas Day festivities at the Home of Mercy in Christchurch Street, Cambridge were spent in the usual manner. The chapel was decorated with lilies and carnations presented by two of the married girls as a mark of appreciation. Everyone attended Christ Church at 7 and 11 am and then enjoyed a bountiful dinner. Each girl found in her pudding a piece of money which is to be presented to Addenbrooke's Hospital building fund. Evensong was sung in chapel after which a pantomime (on the wireless) was enjoyed until the day came to a close at 9.30. 31 01 02e # c.37.3 # WOMEN

The master of Saffron Walden Workhouse told the court that on Boxing Night three tramps had applied for admission to the casual ward. He took their particulars and attempted to search them, but they refused. One threw a bag at him and hit him on the cheek. "I knocked him down; then another threw a chair at me. I knocked him down". The third man was struggling with the porter. "When he saw I had knocked down the other two he tried to get away, and I fetched him back, and he struck at me, and I knocked him down also", he said. The men who appeared in a dejected state, minus collars and overcoats, were sentenced to seven days imprisonment. 31 01 02a-c

The sound of girls' voices, high and clear, punctuated the interview granted by Miss Dovey, headmistress of the County School for Girls. Cambridge born, she was educated at the Higher Grade School when Mrs Evans was the Principal. She took a degree at London University and was appointed headmistress in 1926. But the Girl Guides' concert meant we could not settle to our conversation and instead we watched part of a farce performed by some of the teachers who appeared in pyjamas, dressing gowns and sleeping caps, to the great delight of their pupils. 31 01 02d

A six-wheeled Chevrolet lorry was destroyed in a fire that broke out in a garage adjoining Bleak House, Bassingbourn. Mr G. Lincoln was lying under the lorry emptying the petrol into cans when some splashed on to the lamp by which he was working. It ignited and the lorry was enveloped in flames. Despite his burns he went into the garage adjoining and brought out another lorry. Royston fire brigade obtained water from a well and the fire was checked; the house was not touched. 31 01 02f

Croydon-cum-Clopton church is of early 14th-century date and has never suffered destructive restoration. The main walls of the nave bulge out and the new buttress has pulled the old one away from the tower; the south wall, pillars and arcade are leaning over at an alarming angle. The walls of the church are cracked at the centre of each side so it is not wise to ring the bell. Probably there is no church in the diocese in a more perilous condition. 31 01 02g

The lady owner of a barn at Fen Ditton told the court it had been used as a practice room for a band and they suggested she should run tea dances; a large number of prominent people attended. They had the lights out on one occasion because Conan Doyle was there and as he was very keen on spiritualism they had a small séance. But police said she had deliberately inveigled young men of the University and girls into immoral courses, using the premises as a brothel. She was fined £100. 31 01 02i-l

Cambridge station booking hall accident – 31 01 02h

Hunt, p5

Retrospect, p7

New Year, p9

Prickwillow fall, p10*

Balsham water, p13

1931 01 02 ES

New by-pass on March-Wisbech Road at South Brink 31 01 02

Work will be soon commence on the new South Brink by-pass road off the existing main road from March to Wisbech. It will form part of the important Trunk Road from Birmingham through Peterborough, Wisbech, King's Lynn and Norwich to Yarmouth.

The Ministry stipulates a minimum width of 20 feet for a trunk road and to meet these requirements, the existing road from Thorny through Guyhirn and along the South Brink will have to be bought up to the standard.

From Boston House Farm to opposite North Brink Brewery, the road narrows considerably, being only 15 feet wide in places. As the road runs for some distance along the top of the riverbank it could not be widened in that direction. But on the other hand, there are quite a number of houses on the opposite side of the road, meaning that if the existing highway were to be made up to the required width, the houses would have to be acquired and pulled down. This would be a very costly scheme and the least expensive way is to construct a bypass road

This will branch off on the March side opposite Boston House Farm and proceed along the back of Balcony Farm and across Redmoor Drove. From there it will run to Licking's Drove and on to the corner of Oldfield Lane from which it will proceed in a gentle curve to rejoin the existing road near Bowker's Corner.

It is hoped that start will be made before the end of March and will take 12 months to complete. It will provide employment for about 100 men, many from the distressed area. 31 01 02ES

A well-known Stretham resident had a very unlucky escape from drowning during Christmas. He was journeying home with a friend in the fens when they had to cross a drain by means of a wooden plank. When about halfway across, the friend slipped in and grasped her companion while falling, with the result that they were both plunged into the icy cold water. Luckily, the pumping engine had been at work during the day, thus lowering the water, otherwise more serious consequences might have resulted. After a struggle, they were both able to crawl out and proceed to the friend's home, where a clean change of attire had to be provided for one of the victims before he could proceed to his home in the village. A severe cold is the only ill effects either of these unfortunate persons has suffered. 31 01 02a

Death took place under pathetic circumstances on Christmas Eve of Mrs. Dora Fitch of Mile End, Prickwillow. She left a baby a week old besides the husband and a boy of three years. Gloom was further cast over the village when it became known that a fatal accident had occurred to Mr. Alfred Willson of Old Bank who was returning on a journey from Ely Station and on taking the trap back to his house the horse was proceeding up a steep incline when it slipped and overturned the cart, throwing its occupant onto the stones of a made up road below the bank. He was picked up unconscious and death occurred after being taken into his father's home. The deceased was an ardent member of the local Baptist Church and recently conducted the carol singers who toured the parish. 31 01 02a

1931 01 09

Lady Darwin, wife of Sir George the Professor of Astronomy, is an American with an interest in the feminine movement. In 1914 she wrote an article on policewomen; the idea of creating a female police corps created tremendous excitement and during the war a small number were appointed... She is very hospitable and is never happier than when her house, Newnham Grange, is full of guests, particularly American undergraduates. Her eldest daughter is Mrs Gwen Raverat, a distinguished wood-engraver. 31 01 09a

The police are to purchase four motor cycle combinations to prevent dangerous or careless driving and enforce the speed limits. They would not be out on the roads to catch and prosecute people but to educate the public to drive carefully. In order to get a government grant they would have to cover an average of 30 miles a day. Alderman Stanley voted for the scheme but hoped he would not be run in by them. (Laughter). 31 01 09b

The Orthopaedic (Cripples' Care) Clinics at Newmarket and Ely are run in connection with the Massage Scheme of the Red Cross Society to deal with cases of bone deformity among young children. The patients pay a small fee but save the time, expense and fatigue of going to Addenbrooke's Hospital. Infant paralysis (poliomyelitis) if taken in time should not mean a cripple for life. Regular treatment and aftercare means crippling defects are counteracted and crooked limbs can be made straight. 31 01 09a

An Ortona conductor was summoned for allowing 60 passengers on to a single-decker bus licensed to carry 37. It was a very busy day just before Christmas. The bus had started from Sutton and the trouble arose at Denny End, Waterbeach where there were a number of passengers wanting to go to Cambridge market. The bus had to pull up at the railway station to set down passengers and people waiting there wanted to get on. The conductor did his best to prevent them but was helpless. He tried to get them to transfer to a relief bus but they would not get off. 31 01 09b

CDN dinner, p5

Chivers Orchard film, p8

1931 01 09 ES

A secret of the centuries revealed: half-timbered ceiling in Old Ship Inn, Nene Parade, March 31 01 09

The Old Ship Inn, Nene Parade, March has made a discovery that's invests it with a new importance. For over three quarters of a century the Habbin family have been have been connected with this travellers rest and not until a short time ago was it revealed that a fine ceiling of carved black oak was in their midst. The secret might have been undiscovered, were it not for the fact that the plaster work of the ceiling in the lodger's kitchen called for attention. The secret of centuries was then yielded to the tool of the plasterer and a black oak beam peeping forth, paved the way for the uncovering of a finely timbered ceiling. When the plaster was disintegrated, it proved to be of great age. It was composed of coarse rushes to the thickness of seven or eight inches covered with ordinary plaster. Of exquisite craftsmanship the ceiling's age can only be guessed. It consists of a massive cross beam some 12 or 14 inches square, which runs right through the house from the wall adjoining the White Hart to Mr. B W. Easy's shop on the opposite side, crossing the entrance hall and the ceiling of the public bar.

To this cross beam twelve fine moulded and carved smaller beams are morticed on either side. It is believed that the public bar and the passage leading to it from the lodgers' kitchen conceal similar ceilings.

The inn forms part of the property recently bought by Messrs. Green King and Son from Messrs. Ogden and sons. It was at one time part of the White Hart Hotel, one of the oldest buildings in March, which was replaced about 20 or so years ago.

The Rector of Doddington says it is an interesting discovery. It was originally a black and white house with long windows and very small panes. One of these old windows is to be seen in the stairs. It also had a private apartment from which there were stairs to a private room above. This room has a very beautiful floor and fine windows. It must have been built by someone who had a great faith in the future of March. This suggests that the house was built about 1500. Were the plaster carefully removed from the front a very picturesque old house would be disclosed, which would add much to the beauty and historic interest of March. It might be bought for the town and would make a magnificent gift. 31 01 09ES

1931 01 16

Farmers said the agriculture Bills now before Parliament would destroy the whole of the industry, root and branch. It was the biggest piece of Bolshevism ever put before the country. The Land Utilisation Bill would disturb existing owners and set up great state farms and a new privileged class – the urban smallholder. The Government says farmers don't understand their jobs and are going to show them how to farm. The N.F.U. is to write to the Prime Minister, Lloyd George (the autocrat of present-day politics) and Stanley Baldwin. 31 01 16a-c

Elijah Lawrence learned the trade of blacksmith under his elder brother, James Lawrence of Harston and took over the smithy at Trumpington where he worked for nearly 50 years. He was a keen and competent tradesman, shoeing a considerable number of horses before advancing years caused him to transfer the business to his son-in-law. He had grown more feeble but a fortnight previously was driving himself in his pony-cart. 31 01 16d

A memorial tablet was unveiled at Cambridge Police Station to the late Det-Serg Francis Willis, who lost his life in the King's College shooting tragedy. The tablet, carried out in oak and bearing the Borough arms has been placed on the wall by the side of the Roll of Honour, at the foot of the staircase. The public had made a generous response to an appeal for the benefit of his widow and £625 had been raised with another £208 from police federations across the country. 31 01 16e

Mr Charles Morley has presented a handsome trophy to the National Skating Association for a one-mile race for amateurs who are not holders of the first-class speed badge. At present 90 per cent of skating contests have been practically foregone conclusions as one or two skaters carry off all the prizes, by debarring these men the race will be much more open. It is to be skated on an oval course rather than one requiring a length of 600 yards. This will enable fen skaters to compete more successfully on indoor rinks and Continental courses. 31 01 16f & g

1931 01 16 ES

Ely loses a great benefactor: death F.L. Harlock

Ely has been thrown into a state of mourning by the death of Frank Harlock of Waterside, one of its most generous benefactors and the donor of the District Motor Ambulance

He ran the Harlock Brewery under his name until 1907 in which year he sold his interest to Messrs Cutlack and Harlock Ltd. He remained a director of the company until its amalgamation with Messrs. Hall, Cutlack and Harlock Ltd in September of last year.

Geology was one of his interests and never was he happier than when unearthing fossils in the Roswell pits. He amassed a large volume of material following his explorations. 31 01 16ES Stretham Football Club organised a social which was held in the school. The room was crowded. It was planned to have games, dances and songs alternately. But so great was the crowd this was impossible and the entertainments were all concluded prior to the interval. Songs and recitations were given and a presentation made to Mr. R.A. Sadler, who had recently married.

After the interval dancing was indulged in to the strains of Bert Hazel's Dance Band from Wilburton. Many couples took the floor and a thoroughly enjoyable time was spent. In a candle lighting competition, Mr. G Dimock proved successful after a tie with Mr. Harry Fletcher. This competition caused much amusements. 31 01 16ES

1931 01 23

Cambridge motorists were on their best behaviour when the Borough Police mobile squad went out for their first time. P.C.s Edwards and Ward are the permanent members of the squad, which is equipped with a fast motor cycle combination. The setting up of the squad has made several changes necessary. The new warrant office is P.C. Ives of the detective department and P.C. Brooks is Coroner's Officer. 31 01 23a

Book of old Cambridge archives to be printed – supplement to Cooper – 31 01 23b

Wyton airfield, p14*

Ely hockey, p14

1931 01 30

Bywaters vicar, p3

School OTC, p5

Suicide after film, p7*

Explosion, p9*

40 years on line, p13*

1931 01 30 ES

Littleport Barclay's Bank improved – photo 31 01 30

Barclays Bank Limited have effected a pleasing street improvement by their new premises in Main Street, Littleport. The cream and green paint together with the oak pilasters, have brought about a big change in the appearance of this busy thoroughfare and the work inside has been done on a no less pleasing scale, thus giving Littleport a thoroughly modern bank. 31 01 30 ES

February 1931 CWN & ES

1931 02 06

Fire broke out at the Blue Lias Cement Works, Meldreth, during a snow and sleet storm. The engine rooms and mill house were damaged; most of the machinery was reduced to a mass of burnt wreckage and 20 men will have to 'stand-off' for several months. 31 02 07a

Huntingdonshire National Farmers' Union urged a reduction in the wages of agricultural labourers because of the fall in the cost of living and the present state of agriculture. Farmers could not pay a man 30s 6d a week to grow wheat which earned a guinea per quarter. An alternative would be for the Government to bridge the gap between the price they are getting for their produce and what it costs to grow it or to allow the men to work longer hours in summer time. 31 02 06b

A beam under the fireplace in the historic 'Town House' at Barley must have been smouldering for over a week before it was discovered; the room was filled with smoke. It was erected in 1530 as a town hall and almshouse and later became a school and a workhouse. It was even used as a mad house with 36 people living there, including one man who was chained in a corner. Now it is used as a club room and houses the Barley fire appliance – a hand pump. 31 02 06d

March Greyhound Racing Track staged its inaugural meeting. It attracted a fair attendance, considering there was a big football match, and some fairly good racing was witnessed, though no very notable dogs were competing. Because of the bad weather the track was in very rough condition, being under water in places while the spectators experienced considerable discomfort on the sodden ground. 31 02 06e

Shire Hall flooring, p6

Corners, p6*

Monster draw, p7

1931 02 06 ES

Opening of £6,000 concrete bridge at Wisbech – largest portal-type structure in country; feature article 31 02 06 *

A page was added to the illustrious history of Wisbech when the handsomely designed new concrete bridge was opened. One of the largest crowds seen in Wisbech witnessed the ceremony. Every vantage point of view was occupied, the Clarkson Memorial and the old bitch serving as grandstands. Following the opening ceremony, the Mayor drove over the bridge admit the applause of the spectators. A large number of vehicles followed and then the dense crowd of 1000s of people young and old surged across the bridge.

The first was erected before 1326 when the Bishop of Ely obtained a grant of tax for the purpose of repairing it. In 1583, a wooden bridge was erected over the river and in 1637 this was displaced by another. In 1750, a stone bridge was erected and this served its purpose until 1856 when the Iron Bridge, which is now being dismantled, was erected. This was originally a swing bridge, but it was only once used in that way during the 86 years since its erection. For several years it has been considered as an eyesore. A strong suggestion was made at the conclusion of the war that the new bridge should be erected as a memorial to the fallen. There was not sufficient support however, and the memorial Cross was erected in the Crescent. 31 02 06ES

1931 02 13

Mrs Harold Gray of Wandlebury House was elected to the executive of the Women's Institute movement at the end of the war and started an Institute at Stapleford. She resigned when her husband became Member of Parliament for the county but was elected President when his term of office ended. She says it is a strong social instructive link between women of each village, irrespective of rank. She is a true Bohemian at heart and has crossed the desert on a camel and almost gone 'back to Nature' on the Cocos Islands in the Pacific. 31 02 13a

Cambridge justices heard that the Crown and Sceptre in Clarendon Street was only open from Monday to Saturday and closed at nine o'clock instead of ten, which was the ordinary time for licenced houses. It was a comfortable house and the company was good but customers found early closing irksome and went to other pubs of which there were five within 200 yards. A full licence was granted subject to improvement in the sanitary arrangements. 31 02 13c-d

The Robin Hood at Cherry Hinton was the only licensed house on the main Cambridge-Fulbourn Road but only had a beer licence. The brewery had spent a good deal of money improving the amenities and the introduction of motor buses and charabancs had made a great difference in trade. During the summer people came in almost every day for teas and meals like bread and cheese. It was much used by walkers including ladies who asked for port. 30 02 13e-f

Stetchworth Dairies won the contract to supply Grade A tuberculin tested milk to elementary schools; children will receive a bottle containing one-third of a pint at a cost of 1d. An experiment in Lanarkshire showed that children supplied with milk were much more buoyant and lively both in body and mind and it had a striking effect in improving their physical and mental alertness. Parents should spare the penny a day so their children could receive these benefits. 31 02 13e

A farmer told the bankruptcy court that he had rented Block Farm, Fordham from the County Council. But the operations were very unsuccessful owing to the water on the land. "When I took the land the County Council man said 'There's not a drop of water on it', but it was a dry time and when it was flooded you couldn't walk across it; you would sink in. I had acres and acres of corn all spoilt. Three or four people at the place before I went there all went wrong". 31 02 13f-g

The Over postman, Alfred Adams, complains of the neglected state of the village byways. 50 years ago the old surveyors knew how to keep the main by-ways in repair for they had use of gravel dug from the Bare Fens which the farmers carted. But now Long Drove which led to the Boat Inn was almost impassable. The postman was supposed to be able to cycle but now had to walk and farmers grumble as they cannot get to their fields. 31 02 13h

J.D. Dickson, p7

Licence Rose and Crown, Cottenham removed – 31 02 13b

1931 02 13 ES

R. Hinkin of Lt Thetford celebrates 100th birthday – detailed article 31 02 13 *

Known as the oldest resident for miles and believed to be the oldest living man in Cambridgeshire, Mr. Robert Hinkin of Little Thetford celebrated his 100th birthday and received a telegram of congratulation from the King and Queen.

He has remained in bed for the past two or three weeks, not because he is unwell, but because he feels he is better there as long as the cold weather lasts. Many friends visited his bedside to congratulate him. He is still fond of his pipe which he calls his 'pacifier' and in addition to gifts of tobacco he received a birthday cake on which are 100 candles. He continues to eat heartily and sleep well and retains all his faculties with the exception of his hearing. But despite this enjoys a conversation 31 02 13ES

1931 02 20

Fire broke out in the house and bakery of Mr B.E. Trayner at Heydon. He was awakened by a noise he took to be mice in the wall but then saw smoke and a red glow under the skirting board. He found woodwork in the living room was alight. An 84-year-old lady was removed from the thatched cottage adjoining and neighbours fought the flames; the task was made difficult by a nest of beams in the wall. 31 02 20a

The treasurer of the Three Blackbirds Helping Hand Slate Club, Ely said the secretary collected the weekly subscriptions from members and passed the money to him. He kept it under the counter in a cigar box. But when he went for it before the share-out it was missing. When he told the members it had not been a very friendly meeting and they asked why it had not been banked. They gave him time to find the money. He was committed for trial. 31 02 20c & d

St Ives council discussed an application for the interment of a reverend gentleman in the grounds of Madeley Court, Hemmingford Grey. The Minister of Health has approved it provided that only one burial took place. The gentleman concerned was not yet dead but they had no power to stop the burial, however much they objected. 31 02 20e

The four children of Sir Cecil and Lady Neuman had a narrow escape from death when Burloes, their beautiful country residence just outside Royston, was entirely destroyed by fire. The head nurse, Miss Curry, roused the household and got the children to safety by means of a canvas fire escape chute from the night nursery. The mansion, which was built 28 years ago, stood in a commanding position on a hill and firemen were hampered by a lack of water. "Everything has gone, but the staff behaved simply splendidly", said her Ladyship. 31 02 20f & g & h

Huntingdonshire had some of the most progressive poultry keepers who bred various strains and passed them on to the community. But now production had dropped off. Hens were profitable but poultry-keepers had nobody to advise them. The sooner the appointed a poultry instructor the better. The important things were feeding and housing: they should not be overcrowded and have trap nests from which the hen could not release herself. 31 02 20f

William Carter joined the Cambridge Borough Police Force in 1867 and retired as Inspector in 1894. He had a vivid memory of the opening of the Corn Exchange in 1870 when undergraduates caused a disturbance and six were arrested. At their trial a mob gathered and dashed to King Street, the residence of the Mayor, John Death. But, headed by Carter, the police got there first and shut the gates. Missiles of all kinds were thrown and the fighting continued for some hours. Apart from a battered and torn helmet, Mr Carter was not hurt. 31 02 20j

The Rev J.W.E. Conybeare has passed away at the age of 87. He was one of the first cyclists in Cambridgeshire and wrote guides to rides as well as a history of the county. Born in Liverpool, he was vicar of Barrington until 1898 and some time after his retirement was received into the Roman Catholic Church. The Mayor expressed his deep regret when he heard the news. 31 02 20k

The mere male generally despises waves in his hair and does all in his power to make their disappearance 'permanent'. Not so the ladies who detest a straight head of hair and have a 'permanent' put in. So when Messrs Eugene Ltd visited Cambridge Guildhall to give a hair fashion revue they attracted audiences of 2,000 and their enterprise should have its reward. No longer is the process terrifying, it is comfortable, uses steam not electricity, and does not destroy the hair. 31 02 20l

Cambridge slums – 31 02 20b

1931 02 20 ES

Sugar Beet crisis

Serious concern is felt amongst farmers over the fact that agreement has not been reached with the Ely Beet Sugar Factory Company as to the terms on which sugar beet may be grown this year. As a result of protracted negotiations, a settlement was arrived at between the Sugar Beet Committee of the National Farmers Union and 11 of the factories, but it was not subscribed to by the Anglo Dutch Group, which includes the Ely and King's Lynn factories. Day by day since then the farmers, who have been waiting anxiously for many weeks to know whether or not they will be able to grow the crop, have been anxiously anticipating news of a settlement. The Anglo Dutch Group had made an offer but it did not embody an assured price. The situation has had a surprising development in the shape of the resignation of Sir Frederick Hiam from the directorate of the factory, owing to his not wishing his name to be associated with the offer to farmers. 31 02 20ES

1931 02 27

The Shepherd's Hall, Linton, was crowded to hear Dr Palmer's talk on the village's old houses. He showed pictures of the Court House projecting into the street where Mr Septimus Holtum's houses now stands and of wall paintings discovered in 1928. A pair of massive fire hooks, made for pulling down burning buildings, used to hang on the side of Chandlers. They were removed but have been recovered and are now safely fixed on the inside of the parish church. 31 02 27b

The name of the Hon Mrs de Beaumont is synonymous with Girl Guides and is a house-hold word. Her story is the history of the movement in Cambridgeshire, where she has been County Commissioner since 1916. Her youngest daughter, Marguerite, is following in her footsteps; she has just returned from Switzerland where she trained British and Swiss Girl Guides. She is blessed with beauty, wit and eloquence but I doubt whether the movement will suffice to content her strong personality indefinitely. 31 02 27c

Over 100 attended a funeral service for a young Freshman whose mysterious death has caused such a sensation throughout the country. Press and public were excluded but a crowd gathered and police had some difficulty in controlling the traffic. He had been found lying dead on the floor of his room, gagged and bound in an elaborate manner with numerous handkerchiefs, a length of puttee, and a wire flex. Members of the Pentacle Club, the University Magicians' Society have been interrogated & Sir Bernard Spilsbury, the famous Home Office pathologist has been called in. 31 02 27d-g-h

Death Col H.M. Douglas, Lord Manor Hemingfords – old family – 31 02 27a

March 1931 CWN & ES

1931 03 06

Miss Enright came to Cambridge in 1924 to help in the reorganisation of the School of Arts, Crafts and Technology and became the first woman to be elevated to be head of a technical school in the UK. There were odd classes for unemployed boys and girls with 54 students, now the number in the Day Trade School has grown to 151. They train women in domestic science, needlework and simple home hygiene but few show much interest in so essential an art. 31 03 06a

The Ouse and Cam Fishery Board want permits issued to people who catch eels as a livelihood, or to destroy them. John Barnes of Manea said men had fished for eels for centuries, it was part of their rights. He used the same implements as his great-grandfather before him; they were worth £50 and of no use for other purposes. Some years he caught £10 worth of eels, other years £80. The best time was when the flood water had almost receded that that was during the close season. He had a strong objection to getting a permit for something he'd done for years. It was the thin end of the wedge. 31 03 06b

The Medical Officer said there was a case of scarlet fever at Papworth and the boy had been taken to the Isolation Hospital. There were many cases of mild influenza and two of pneumonia. There were cases of measles at Eltisley and Graveley where all the children had been affected and the school closed for a period. 31 03 06c

A referee said there had been disorderly conduct by the crowd at a football match at Haddenham. He stopped the game twice to take the names of spectators. Later some of them got into the dressing room and tried to strike him. The club said he did not control the game properly and disallowed a goal when the keeper carried the ball across the line. It spoilt the game and annoyed the crowd. They wanted the match against Sawston Paper Mills reserves to be replayed and a competent referee appointed. 31 03 06e

For years King and Harper have been striving to secure an alternative entry at their Bridge Street garage for the convenience of their valued customers. Now three houses have been acquired and members of staff gave a rousing cheer when a Morris Oxford Isis Six Saloon became the first car to enter at Bridge Street and leave in Jesus Lane. 31 03 06I

Snow scenes, p12

Four Gate pit, Hemingford Grey to be improved by installing sluice gates. 31 03 06e

Sidney Sussex student death verdict. 31 03 06f –h

1931 03 13

Every woman who plays hockey is proud of Miss Gaskell. In 1914 she took the first women's hockey team to Australia and has taken teams to the United States and South Africa. During the war she became Commandant of the Red Cross Convalescent Hospital for soldiers at St Chads that was open until 1919. She then started Barton W.I. and joined the Folk Dancing Society. 31 03 13a

Before the war it seemed possible that Cambridgeshire might have a sanatorium built and maintained by the County Council. But war conditions alarmed the financial advisers, the scheme was turned down and men and women sent far from their homes to find the treatment they needed. A few people joined together to raise voluntary funds and start the Papworth Colony unbound by the red tape of officialdom so that Dr Varrier Jones could develop his great scheme for the prevention of tuberculosis unhindered. One of these was Mr Musgrave Francis, who has now died. 31 03 13b-c

Abington Pigotts church is appealing for funds for the restoration of the tower, bells and west end, which are in danger of collapse, and the ancient oak seats which have seriously decayed. Last year they raised much of the money but with agriculture in its present depressed condition it is difficult for the population of 149 people to pay the rest. 31 03 13d

The Conservative's touring cinema vans includes talking as well as silent films. There was a crowded attendance at Soham Fen when the programme started with an Empire film, followed by a humorous cartoon showing how the rising tide of unemployment was stemmed by Stanley Baldwin in the guise of a plumber. There were talkies on the agricultural situation and a tour of a motor works together with pictures of the hardships suffered by town dwellers during the General Strike. The van will visit Croxton, Wicken and Chittering. 31 03 13e

Hudson's brewery had closed six public houses in Cambridge: the Brewery Tap in Bridge Street, the White Swan and Prince Albert in Castle Street, the Beehive on Honey Hill, Spotted Cow in Northampton Street and Golden Fleece in Ram Yard. But they wanted to renew the licence for the Baron of Beef. The application was supported by a petition from the Sick Benefit Society and was granted. Also Cow & Calf & Crown & Sceptre. 31 03 13f

Counc. E. Saville Peck inaugurated an anti-gas school during the war and after studying the conditions of gas warfare in France, was sent to America to assist training in gas defensive measures there. He then formed schools of pharmaceutical chemistry for students whose studies had been interrupted by the war. In 1922 he was largely instrumental in forming the Cambridge Rotary Club. He has a unique collection of pestles and mortars and knows the history of each one. 31 03 20a

T. Musgrave Francis, p11

Sugar beet action, p14

1931 03 20

Thieves stole £250 from the Cambridge Central Cinema when a safe containing the day's takings was rifled. Spread along the gangway in the middle of the balcony were a quantity of coppers, the result of a lengthy sorting of coins. No trace of entry could be found and it is believed the intruders were among the audience at the last performance and hid in the lavatories, eluding the fireman who makes a final inspection of the building before leaving. 31 03 20c # c.76.9

Three steam lorries, two with trailers, representing a weight of sixty tons were used to test the strength of the new bridge over the Old West River at Twentypence Ferry. There was a crowd of over a hundred interested spectators. Several motor coach companies are applying to run services over the new road between Cottenham and Wilburton, shortly to be opened to traffic, which will prove another link between the north and south of the county. 31 03 20d

E. Saville Peck, p4*

Bourn plane crash, p9

Tram lines, p9

1931 03 20 ES

Important Soham Fen road proposal; linking up with Prickwillow and Ely 31 03 20 ES# c.44.65
Sir Frederick Hiam has offered to guarantee £3,000 towards the cost of a road from the Soham Fen Chapel to the river Lark and then along the bank to join up with the hard road at Prickwillow. As that is a tremendous number of unemployed in Soham the County should apply for a grant from the Unemployment Grants Committee and put in hand the construction of the fen road. The foundation should be constructed of a thick layer of clunch covered by layers of gravel and stone which could be raised locally. This would have the advantage of employing the maximum number of local labour and owing to the uneven shrinkage of thin soil would make a much more satisfactory road than one composed of reinforced concrete. In course of time this would become cracked. This year the conditions have been deplorable. It was disgraceful the way doctors had to go down there in the middle of the night. Mr. Leonard had sent a cart down there once a week and some days it was much as one horse could do to pull an empty cart. Why should people be stuck down the fens because they were born there and have the drawbacks of bad roads, bad sanitation and practically no water? The people residing there had offered to contribute to the cost, this meant money out of their pockets. 31 03 20

Adelaide bridge nearing completion – photo 31 03 20a ES*

While the severe winter weather of the last few weeks has had the effect of holding up work on the massive new bridge at Adelaide, satisfactory progress is being made with the work upon which 14 local men are engaged. Operations on the site were commenced last June and the bridge itself is now complete except for the retaining wall to the approaches and the approaches themselves. Within the course of the next six weeks, the whole of the bridge is expected to be complete. In the foreground two massive cranes are shown at work, while in the background the old steam beach which is still in use can be seen. 31 03 20aES

New route linking Cambs and Isle – Twentypence bridge opening 31 03 20b ES *

The bridge crossing the Old West River at Twentypence, providing another valuable link between Cambridgeshire and the Isle of Ely was efficiently tested. Seventy tons, the biggest load that could be got upon the bridge at one time, was the test, which was satisfactory in every respect. The new roadway is a direct communication between the villages of Cottenham and Wilburton. It is expected that the work will be completed and the new road open to vehicle traffic by April 1st. Dr Ellis of Cottenham was mainly responsible for getting the Council to adopt the road scheme. 31 03 20ES

1931 03 27

Impington church organ was bought from Barkstone, Notts., in 1891, being originally a one manual pipe instrument blown by means of a foot pedal. The Rev Dennis Hall reconstructed it with two manuals, adding swell pedals etc. But he was prevented from carrying out all the necessary work to obtain the fullest volume. Various repairs have been made but now a new organ is badly needed. 31 03 27a

George Brimley Bowes joined his father in the firm now called Bowes and Bowes in 1897 in the building known to be the oldest bookshop in the country. He became intimately connected with the business, as bookseller and printer and published the first works of J.B. Priestley. He founded the Cambridge branch of Toc H and Cambridge Rotary Club. People who associate many books with mustiness should speedily make his acquaintance and be disillusioned. 31 03 27c & d

Houghton mill was in a dilapidated state and might be dangerous to the public who passed through. Repairs were needed to the roof and there was the danger of fire. But it was one of the most picturesque in the county; there was a sentimental value attaching to it and if a subscription was raised they may be able to sell it for £100 to someone who would keep it under repair, the Ouse Drainage Board was told. 31 03 27e

An Ecclesiastical Inquiry heard objections to the proposed union of the parishes of Houghton and Wyton. Houghton rectory was unoccupied owing to the heavy cost of upkeep, the average attendance at church was 30 and there was no Sunday School. Wyton had a population of 365, including 150 at the Sanatorium. There was always a little friction between the parishes and if the benefices were joined scores of people would not go to church any more. 31 03 27f & g & h

The well at Balsham is in a dangerous condition; the chalk blocks at the top will have to be removed to a depth of five feet and the well lined with brickwork, with more repairs 51 feet down. Before this can be carried out the whole of the chalk lining needs to be secured by bolts from the surface. The council discussed final details of the village water scheme but rejected a proposal to include fire hydrants in case of fire. 31 03 27k

Rotary clubs conference at Cambridge. 31 03 27 j

April 1931 CWN & ES

1931 04 03

G.P. Hawkins opened the first tea shop in Cambridge at the corner of Sussex Street in 1900. It could hold 10 people with a waitress & two assistants. As adjoining space became available the premises were enlarged. Today the Dorothy Café can accommodate 2,000 and there is no brand of catering which cannot be undertaken. In 1904 he erected a bakery with two ovens at the side of Midsummer Common; today with seven ovens working six days a week he produces about 200,000 loaves. It also manufactures a ton of ice a day plus sufficient ice cream to supply the entire needs of Cambridge. 31 04 03a

A Histon man who could not be induced to sleep indoors was charged as 'an incorrigible rogue'. He had been a great trouble and nuisance; in the winter he slept in sheds and in the summer under the trees. He had been born in 1900 and attended West Wrating School later serving eight years in the army and four months in a military mental home. He was sent to Bedford gaol for three months. 31 04 03b

The National Tithepayers Association protested against what is widely regarded as an unjust tax on agricultural land. Owen Webb said the tithe was a burden impossible for the land to carry. During these difficult times of depression, when farmers were struggling to keep their heads above water in the face of terrible drops in commodity and grain prices it was an inverted food tax on the industry; there was no justification from an economic or religious point of view. 31 04 03c & d

William James Ison started as a cycle dealer in Chesterton Road in 1897; his business prospered and at one time he had four shops selling and repairing cycles. He also put one of his own machines on the market. The 'New Chesterton' has become deservedly popular and a special racing model won over 100 prizes in 1908. His late wife was sister of Fred Lawrence of the Belmont Cycle Works in King Street. 31 04 03f

Since Ely Sugar Beet factory was built there has been serious and copious discharge of dangerous effluent into the river during the 'campaign'. Organic matter flowing into the river from the lagoons and pits absorbed oxygen from the water and fish suffocated. After the factory had been taken to court matters had improved but there was still serious pollution affecting a nearby fishery and they were fined £200. 31 04 03h

St Paul's church, Cambridge, having been closed for a month during which extensive restoration work and some constructional changes were effected, reopened for worship amid an atmosphere of thanksgiving and delight. The improvements amounts to nothing less than a transformation and the previously unattractive interior is now pleasing in the extreme. Pews have been modernised with a wide central aisle, new choir stalls and chancel screen erected and a small clergy vestry provided. New arches and windows have greatly improved the lighting of the chancel. 31 04 03h & I

Mr J. Sainsbury, head of the famous provision firm, opened a new residential club that will accommodate 15 young men. In a place like Cambridge it is difficult for a young man to get lodgings and this large house in Brookland's Avenue has been modernised and redecorated and is a model of its kind. The bedrooms, which have two beds, have a wardrobe and cupboard for each occupant; it has a room with facilities for games and reading and dispels any gloomy feeling about what used to be called 'living in'. There were few local firms who had made such provision for their staff. Many firms had a contributory pension scheme but they had decided against such a scheme. 30 04 03k

A fire was discovered in a gable of The Grove, Fordham; the damage was not great. The brigade cannot discover any cause of the outbreak. It is a part of old Cambridge folk lore that a fire always follows if a hare runs down the main street of a village. The week before a hare did run down the street at Fordham. It was perused by Mr Richard Nicholls, a septuagenarian, and was killed in a shed within three yards of the place where this fire broke out. 31 04 03m

The first accident on the new Twentypence Road between Wilburton and Cottenham happened on Saturday. Mr Charles Lack and three passengers had been to view the new bridge and on the return journey failed to negotiate a severe bend with the result that his car skidded and finished in a ditch. No one was seriously injured. The car, an Austin 'six' was not badly damaged and with some difficulty was replaced on the road, Mr Lack being able to drive it home under its own power. 31 04 03o

1931 04 03 ES

Lark Bridge

On Sunday morning, a massive steel bridge weighing about 150 tons was rolled into position over the River Lark at Prickwillow in a matter of 30 minutes without any fuss or excitement. The task was undertaken in the presence of a few odd onlookers. It was unloaded two Sundays ago onto a temporary pile staging alongside the old bridge, where it was riveted together, made complete and placed on bomb runners. The actual work of preparing the bridge for placing into position started at one o'clock after the down mail train had passed. 14 men labourer to the night. They first remove the old track and then raised the old structure by means of two breakdown cranes. As these picked up the work of the past with an ease truly amazing to the inexperienced onlooker, it was placed on the riverbank where it will be demolished. The old iron spans have done duty for a matter of 50 years. Projecting woodwork and other paraphernalia in the way of the new spam came in for removal. The rolling-in path for the new bridge completed, the actual process of rolling-in began. Extreme accuracy was demanded as the bridge was lifted by four jacks and seated upon steel balls the size of a cricket ball. Then little squads of men heaving away at two hand winches had the great bridge rolled into position within the matter of 30 minutes. The permanent way staff made good the track and by 12:30 the bridge was ready to take traffic.

Quite close to the river is a fen road over which passes a bridge. The old one of timber has been removed and its place taken by a steel structure spanning about 30 feet 31 04 03 & a, c* ES # c.26.2 # photo

Stuntney cottages gutted in blaze – photo – 31 04 03d ES

A picture shows all that remains of two cottages which provided a remarkable blaze at Stuntney on Sunday and left two families homeless. While some of the furniture was saved before the flames, fanned by a strong south-westerly wind destroyed the thatched roof, not a few articles were destroyed. In the picture boys are seen as they engaged on a search in the hope of recovering some of the personal articles of those formerly occupying the cottages. 31 04 03dES

1931 04 10

Sir Frederick Hiam, the great agriculturist and patriot, went to London to look after the parental interests in Stratford Market. Then he started purchasing farms all over the country and now owns 13,000 acres of land, much of it within thirty miles of Ely which he personally farms. A great believer in farm manure, he keeps as many pigs and cattle as he can. He was Director of Vegetable Supplies in the Ministry of Food 1918-21 and was knighted for his services. Now he is to become Sheriff of Cambridgeshire and Huntingdonshire. 31 04 10a

Cambridge was represented at Skyros at the unveiling of a statue of Rupert Brooke, the poet who died in Greece during the war. In the morning there was a ceremony at his tomb when one of his poems was recited, then in the afternoon the statue was unveiled. It stands on one of the highest points in the island, overlooking the sea. 31 04 10b

Lord Sandwich has offered to sell Huntingdon council three acres of land between Hartford Road and Primrose Lane for a housing site; ten houses in Hartford Place and two in St Clement's Passage are to be registered as clearance areas. But land in the village of Hartford will not now be incorporated into Huntingdon. 31 04 10c

St Ives residents are concerned they will be deprived of the use of their river this summer because of engineering repairs at the stanch. The continued low water is not only ruinous to the boating industry but will also affect the acreage under osiers. At present the engineers had only put in a pair of fen gates, which was the easiest task of the lot. They should leave the remainder of the work until autumn. But very soon repairs would be started at Hemingford Lock. 31 04 10g

Cambridgeshire had its first taste of dirt-track thrills when a crowd of 5,000 witnessed some excellent racing on the new speedway at Caxton. The management had not anticipated such a crush with the result that the solitary entrance was sorely taxed and the pay-box nearly pushed over by the pressure of the queues. Despite showers the track rode well and although there were several falls only one rider – Buster Cray – was injured. The Eastern Counties' scratch event was one by Puff Morley, who rode in fearless style. 31 04 10h

Alderman Harry Gleaves Few was born at Willingham in 1848 and spent long years in the service of his village: he was a founder of the Star Benefit Society, Building Society, Water Company and Village Hall and one of the builders of the Willingham Baptist Tabernacle. He was in business as a corn merchant and became an expert in fen drainage. During the Great War he served on the Military Tribunal with his eyes open for the country's need of both soldiers and farm workers. 31 04 10 i j k

Under the new Road Traffic Act the speed limit for ordinary motor cars has been abolished. But it is now an offence to drive a motor coach at over 30 miles an hour and invalid carriages must not exceed 20 mph. Goods vehicles can be driven at 30 mph, if fitted with pneumatic tyres and not drawing a trailer, but heavy vehicles with solid tyres must not exceed eight miles an hour when drawing a trailer. Drivers must not remain on duty for more than 5½ hours. It is also an offence to drive while under the influence of drink or drugs. 31 04 10 I

Since 1904 the charges for the water and the poor rates have each risen by over 300 per cent. But whereas the services of lighting, better paths, roads and sewerage have increased enormously the supply of water has been just the same. The Water Company has simply passed any extra charges on to the consumer. Now they are unwilling to agree to a take-over by Cambridge Town Council. But no parliament will refuse any town the right to its own water supply. The anti-Socialist composition of our legislators leaves no doubt that the stockholders will be generously treated. 31 04 10l-n

Despite a steady downpour over 400 people paid for admission to the Cambridge Greyhound Racing tack in Coldham's Lane which opened with a fine programme of events. The track is in the shape of three sides of a rectangle with a stand forming the fourth. This was occupied by about 200 people most of the time. Another meeting at Cowper Road was affected by the rain when Slow and Sure proved the speediest greyhound of the day. 31 04 10o

Waterworks purchase proposal – history of water company – 31 04 10d-n

1931 04 17

St Ives town council has been awarded a site for the building to be called 'The Norris Library' which is to house a collection of Huntingdonshire topography, pictures and antiques collected by the late H.E. Norris. At his home in Chichester he had a room crowded with pictures, relics and literature. He was a man of great literary attainments and one of the finest chess players in England. The council recorded their gratitude and appreciation and stood for a moment of silence in tribute to his memory. 31 04 17b

Saffron Walden Freemasons processed in full Masonic regalia to the parish churchyard for the unveiling of a tombstone of an 18th-century Freemason that has been in the churchyard for 170 years. It was discovered in a very dilapidated condition and has been restored before it became completely obliterated. It bears the emblems of the Craft and an inscription to Jonathan Parker who died in 1764. But nothing is known about him. 31 04 17c

The driver of a motor lorry from Brixton had an accident in Trumpington Street. He was unaware of the 'run' at the side of the road and drew a little too far to the left. The rear wheels of the lorry dropped into the run and the top of the vehicle struck the ventilating shaft on the kerb beside the Fitzwilliam Museum. The tall shaft was snapped off short at the base and fell with a crash into the road, knocking the top of the adjacent lampposts in its fall. The broken shaft was removed on one of the Council's big steam lorries. 31 04 17d

Counc. A Spalding – profile – 31 04 17a

A.A. Spalding, p4*

Rampton services, p8

Soham police, p10

Emma Gunton, p13

Bus application, p14

Histon railway crossing, p14

Facts about folk lore. It was up to everyone to make notes of what they saw because folklore was rapidly dying out and it was worthwhile to preserve it as far as possible, Mr L.F. Newman told Cambridge Rotary Club. In the old days with isolated villages and no newspapers or wireless it was only natural that scandal was rife and the villagers had their own way of showing disapproval of wrongdoers. If a man beat his wife the villagers might plough up his front garden with the idea that walking over the upturned soil would act as a reminder and creates a sense of guilt. Some country customs took the form of initiation into certain callings; for example a man destined to become a farmer was rolled up in a blanket and lifted onto the prongs of a pitchfork. Belief in medicine could be divided into medicinal drugs and magic potions. To this day Mullein was believed good for sore throats and number of British plants derive their names from the medicinal uses to which they were put. One of the superstitions as regard cures was to pass a child suffering from rupture through a split tree. If the tree grew whole again the child would be cured. There was always a loophole provided however if these quaint formulae did not work. Superstition still played a large part in our life. People hesitate to walk under a ladder or be a third to light a cigarette. The question of mascots have become a positive social evening evil. During the war people had quite openly believed in such things and today a large number of women carried mascots. Bright articles were often put on horses as protective charms and blue was supposed to be a protective colour. 31 04 17c # c.39

1931 04 24

The Minister of Agriculture told Cambridge farmers that agriculture had been neglected by parliament for the last 50 years. Producers did not get a fair price; fruitgrowers must have an organisation which could approach the big jam manufacturers & offer a fair tonnage when they wanted it at a price agreed in advance. At present manufacturers could order all the jam pulp they wanted from foreign sources. 31 04 24b-d

A thrill of romance marked the departure from Marshall's Aerodrome of a gleaming silver Puss Moth monoplane bearing its bridegroom pilot, Mr A.G. Marshall, and his bride on the first stage of their honeymoon. He took his seat at the controls, the propeller whirled and the graceful machine glided forward. In the next few seconds it was rising steeply into the wind, while rain fell from a heavy cloud. The bridal couple however were quite cosy in the saloon cockpit. 31 04 24c

A Cambridge builder was granted possession of a cottage at Mill End, Cherry Hinton. He had purchased it three years ago when the occupant paid 2s 9d a week. That man had left but there were now nine people living there in just a living room and kind of kitchen with a bedroom and a lean-to on the landing above. It was in a very bad state and he intended to carry out improvements; it should not have been re-let until in proper repair. 31 04 24f

In 1820 there were seven fully-licensed public houses in Swavesey including 'The Swan with Two Necks', 'George and Dragon' and 'Rose and Crown'. Later another 14 were added including 'The Railroad Hotel', 'The Sir Harry Smith', 'Black Bull' and 'Red Lion'. All have now been closed with the exception of the 'White Horse'. 'Sun', 'Blue Bell' and 'New Inn'. 31 04 24g

Terence Gray profile – 31 04 24a # c.76

May 1931 CWN & ES

1931 05 01

Mr J.W. Autherlonie, manager of the Cambridge University and Town Gas Light Company since 1902 has seen many changes. During the Great War 70 women worked there, doing exactly the same hard tasks as the absent men. But on the return of the men they retired and today only one is engaged in this capacity. Eighteen of the employees fell and the war memorial, placed in a garden surrounding the works, is counted amongst the best of its type. 31 05 01a

Cambridge led the way in making it an offence to sell short weight of food. It was usual to sell butter by the yard, with each yard weighing 1lb and a penalty was imposed for those under weight. Its position of Inspector of Weights and Measures was also unique. Prior to 1856 the University held the powers and when these were transferred to the town they were granted the right to appoint an additional inspector should they feel dissatisfied. So far they have not exercised that right. 31 05 01b

At Cambridge the railway companies have a financial interest and working agreement with the Ortona bus company. The time will come when co-ordination will be very close; already they have had two experiments when railway return tickets could be used on the buses and vice versa, the Ortona chairman told an inquiry. In both borough and county they worked routes which were good and bad and excursions and long-distance tours helped to pay for unremunerative town services. 31 05 01c

Bert Washington of Littleport applied for a licence to continue to run a bus service to Cambridge in competition with Ortona. He allowed an hour for the journey of 21 miles but this was described as too fast and they were told to look at the times again. It was opposed by the Railway Companies who had a working agreement with Ortona: they felt it would be more efficient if directed by the larger company. Joseph Lofts runs a small bus between the station and Littleport villages. 31 05 01e

Cambridgeshire County Councillors considered a bye-law dealing with the nuisance caused by gypsy encampments. It would ban landowners from allowing any tent, booth or van within 200 yards of any house and require a squatter to depart if requested by any inmate of a house, his servant or any constable. The voting resulted in seven for the motion and seven against; it was defeated on the casting vote of the chairman. 31 05 01f

Straightening Great Ouse opposite Pike & Eel – photo – 51 05 01d

1931 05 01 CDN
Pages 1-6 T2141-6

1931 05 08

Huntingdon Housing Committee felt the time had arrived when they could not support any further housing schemes except in conjunction with the clearing of slums. There were 97 applicants on the housing list but building new houses would be a burden on the rates. It was difficult to find a site alongside a main road; the last scheme took up a number of allotments but it was better to provide houses and gardens than allotments. 31 05 08a

When R.C. Pierce took up an appointment with the Cambridge Electric Supply Company in 1908 it was a small affair with about 1,400 consumers. Now it has risen to 8,000 with 150 employees. During the war he was a Coal Conservation Officer and made much of the apparatus used by the V.A.D. massage and electrical treatment department. He was one of the original members of the Cambridge Rotary Club and Commodore of the Cambridge Motor Boat Club. 31 05 08b

Why do tramps prefer Cambridge? Councillor Edwards had given lifts to men on the road from London. They told him that its casual wards offer a great measure of comfort to the gentlemen of the road and it is a convenient jumping-off ground for tramps en route to Newmarket races. "If we carry on as we are, we shall get casuals and plenty of them", he told councillors who were considering a scheme to build new accommodation for 150 casuals at Union Lane. They agreed to reduce the size of the building. 31 05 08c

The soft roads in Burwell and Swaffham Prior are in a very bad state. Much of the land cost £50 an acre 50 years ago but now sold for about £10; landlords had been paying highway rates for 60 years for very little benefit and could not be asked to contribute to repairs. The same applied elsewhere: valuable land had depreciated owing to the difficulty of getting to it in winter. Unemployed men should be employed to make them up. 31 05 08c & d

Midsummer Fair is to be held this year on Stourbridge Common; money had been spent reseeding Midsummer Common and would be wasted if heavy traction engines and other fair equipment were allowed on it. The fair was getting bigger and bigger with complaints about the noise and it is extremely unlikely it will ever return there. But showmen objected; the music could be reduced but most of the noise came from the 'Walls of Death' which ought to be banned. 31 05 08 g-I

Extensive workshops belonging to a builder and undertaker in Glisson Road were destroyed by fire. During the blaze the petrol tank of a car garaged in the building exploded. The two-storied wooden building stood next to Eaden Lilley's warehouse and in close proximity to a number of houses. It blazed fiercely and a large crowd was attracted. Its contents were completely wrecked and it finally collapsed. 31 05 08f

Sir Henry Lytton and Miss Bertha Lewis, two of the best-known members of the famous D'Oyly Carte Opera Company were injured as the result of a car skid on the Huntingdon Road near Cambridge. Miss Lewis received very serious injuries to the head and neck and is now lying in a critical condition at the Evelyn Nursing Home. Sir Henry fractured a rib, received flesh wounds and is suffering from severe shock. He was driving his Wolseley saloon which turned completely over. The door had to be broken open before the passengers could be extricated. 31 05 08l

A controversy has arisen as to the use of the hall at Sawston Village College as a cinema. The Education Committee says it cannot be used on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays as it would turn it from an educational centre into an ordinary cinema. But they had promised that the Spicers pictures would be transferred to the new hall. A rival cinema scheme had been brought forward and its promoters were voted en bloc as school managers. 31 05 08m & n

An amazing freak, a kitten with two faces, was born at the 'Ramping Lion' garage near Fenstanton but lived only three days. The kitten was an extraordinary little object with its two mouths, two noses and four eyes, but it had only one head and consequently only two ears. 31 05 08o

Gypsy camp restrictions bylaw – 31 05 08e

May Day demonstration, Norfolk Street – photo – 31 05 08i

1931 05 08 ES

Conservative touring cinema visits villages 31 05 08 ES# c.76.9

New Adelaide bridge nearing completion – photo 31 05 08c ES*

Work on the new bridge at Queen Adelaide is nearing completion and the structure is now open to one way traffic. Everyone passing over it is full of admiration of its graceful lines. These can be seen from the photograph which conveys an excellent impression of the neatness of design, which has been given to the bridge. 31 05 08

1931 05 15

Kirtling wants a supply of pure water: the school well is contaminated and the only public well is at the top of the village. Some residents have to walk a mile and a half for water. All the other wells are shallow and subject to surface contamination with some people dependent on land drains. But the cost of any improved water supply should not be more than the village can afford. Water from the borehole at en is not satisfactory but not so bad that it cannot be used in case of necessity. 31 05 15a

Wearing a dark blue kimono dressing gown and sitting in a wheeled chair Sir Henry Lytton told an inquest upon the body of Miss Bertha Lewis, the leading contralto of the D'Oyly Carte Company, that he had driven since he was 18 years old and covered 18,000 miles a year. Approaching Cambridge from Huntingdon there was a quantity of oil on the road and it was raining. He had been told motorists had to be careful on this particular road when wet. The car skidded into a ditch. 31 05 15 b c

The toll house on the Chatteris to Somersham road stands on the site of an ancient river called the West Water where a ferry existed until it dried up about 1765. It became a turnpike road & the tolls were still collected by Mr Dyson on behalf of the General Estates Company. Their obligation was to repair 60 yards of road; in 1925 it cost £10 and the income was about £750, a handsome profit. Now Chatteris council demanded rates on the toll-house. 31 05 15d e

1931 05 22

Dr Alex Wood of Emmanuel College is chairman of the Cambridge Peace Council. He was a Conscientious Objector exempted from active service during the Great War on condition he carried on ambulance work and became commandant of a Red Cross hospital. He joined the Labour Party and in 1926 was elected to Cambridge Borough Council. At the last general election he contested the University seat but was not successful. 31 05 22b

A Stapleford grocer was summoned for displaying verses in his shop window accusing a dairyman of adulterating his milk. One read 'Edgar had a little pump, With water soft as silk. And with the fluid from that pump, He used to mix his milk'. Crowds gathered to read them but nobody took them seriously. He claimed the milkman had broken the windows and threatened to wring his neck. 31 05 22 c & d

Messrs Murkett Bros, the well-known garage proprietors and motor agents, are now installed in their imposing new premises on the Huntingdon Road, Cambridge. They were pioneers in the motor industry and their extensive new motor showrooms and repair shops will provide the best of sales and service. If all garages installed such up-to-date machinery and gave such service then insurance companies could bring down their premiums. 31 05 22 e f g

1931 05 22 ES

Murkett, 1893-1931: detailed illustrated article 31 05 22, a,b,c ES * # c.26.48 photo

Messrs Murkett Bros, the well-known garage proprietors and motor agents, are now installed in their imposing new premises on the Huntingdon Road, Cambridge. They were pioneers in the motor industry and their extensive new motor showrooms and repair shops will provide the best of sales and service. If all garages installed such up-to-date machinery and gave such service then insurance companies could bring down their premiums.

The history of the firm is a romance of enterprise coupled with dogged determination and the business like grasp of opportunities. Mr Dennis Murkett was a white-smith by trade who turned his attention to bicycle in the early days when pedal two wheelers of the penny-farthing type were a novelty. He set up a small shop in High Street, Huntingdon and continued to build and repair bicycles. Then came along the motor tricycle which was a predecessor of the modern motor car. The brothers Murkett. took up this new line of business and in order to acquire the knowledge to build this class of motorcycle, they studied at night time. For 15 years, they were never in bed after half past four in the morning and rarely left the workshops until 10 at night. In 1897 they acquired their first motor car, at that period there were less than half a dozen cars in Huntingdonshire and they described as 'road nuisances'. The car had solid tires and there was no horn as it was capable of making sufficient noise to alert the whole neighbourhood. Two years later, they took up an agency for an English made vehicle. About this period they started making motor bicycles. After the war there was a boom in second-hand cars. They were busy from early morning to late at night doing repairs and selling cars. When the manufacturers got into their swing and new cars were being turned out in large numbers the firms were able to place contracts which placed them in a premier position. In the old days it had never it had been necessary owing to the difficulty of obtaining spare parts for cars or motorcycles to make these. But with large facilities they erected machinery for the rapid assembling and replacing of manufacturers parts 31 05 22 e f g

C.W. Abbs of March and Hunstanton had six brothers and sisters in one business; fruit and fish shop 31 05 22d ES*

Mr. C W Abbs commenced his business career 27 years ago opening a fruit and fish shop at 40 High Street, March. As time went on new shops were opened in different parts of the town. The first being the fish buffet next to the liberal Club in 1909. In 1912, he launched inter the tobacco and confectionery trade and opened up the shops at the Palace Cafe. In 1919, he extended by opening other tobaccos and confection shops in High Street and in 1922, opened his first shop at Hunstanton. He has worked up an extensive wholesale trade in the March district and his large red van is a familiar sight in almost every town around. During that period he has employed no fewer than six sons and daughters of Mr. And Mrs. S. Stewart. He was the first in March to have the telephone installed and the second have a motor van. During the war, it was converted into a 14 seater bus and was the first one to run between March, Wimblington, Doddington and Benwick. Petrol was scarce and the bus was made to run on three parts paraffin but only infrequently had a breakdown 31 05 22

New bridge on Isle trunk road at Thorney Toll; remove toll house beside bridge – photo feature 31 05 22g ES* # c.44.75

Improvements to the trunk road from Peterborough to Norwich have advanced with the completion of the new concrete bridge over the watercourse at Thorny Toll. The old bridge had become unequal to the demands of modern road transport and shown signs of weakness beneath the heavy loads that passed over it. But the classification of the route as a Trunk Road and its reconstruction in concrete - 'the Great White Way of the island of Ely' - the provision of a new bridge became essential. The old bridge was the responsibility of the Thorny Drainage Board. It was decided to remove the Toll House which stood beside the bridge to improve the alignment and a temporary bridge was placed across the river. Now the new bridge has been almost complete and one half has been bought in to use. It is twice the width of the old one. 31 05 22ES

Sunday was the 37th annual Hospital Parade held at Stretham. Although heavy rain during the morning threatened seriously to mar success, the weather in the afternoon was much more favourable, and the whole proceedings were conducted without any interruption. The number of people attending from the immediate neighbourhood was not as great as large year, but Stretham residents themselves turned out in full force. 31 05 22ES

1931 05 29

Cambridge professors were amongst scientists who made a film at Spicers of Sawston and less than four hours afterwards saw themselves in natural colours on the screen. Experiments in colour have been going on for two years. At present efforts are being concentrated on motion-picture film. One of the difficulties has been the provision for a sound track but this has been surmounted and talking colour films will be made. Sawston may become a complete film colony rivalling Elstree in importance. 31 05 29a

Severe flooding in the Earith district meant that the Seven Holes sluice gates had to be opened and 5,000 acres of grass land spoiled. It was a serious matter to those who occupied the Washes that their grass should be ruined by water from the uplands - who paid nothing. The engineer could have opened the Hermitage Sluice instead since water in the Old West River was very low. 31 05 29 e f

Mr Harry Semark, of Willingham still constructs the old-fashioned straw hives which are universally condemned by modern beekeepers and now seldom seen even in the 'backward' villages. Yet he exports them to America and the remote Antipodes. In a recent book there is a photograph of a lorry stacked sky-high with Willingham skeps. It is a coiled straw basket, woven by hand with strips of osier. The basket can be moulded to any shape, straw in his hands is like clay to the potter. 31 05 29g

Last fair on Midsummer Common? - photo - 31 05 29b

Territorial machine gunners on new range, Barton Road - photo - 31 05 29c

Public baptism, Isleham - 19 immersed - photo - 31 05 29d

June 1931 CWN & ES

1931 06 05

The opening meet of the Eastern Counties Otter Hounds took place at Hauxton Mill where a good dog otter was put down at Luton Osiers. After hunting him up and down streams as far as Haslingfield for three hours he had to be given up, bad scent and too much water making hunting most difficult, and everyone was soaked to the skin by the downpour. While the miller's wife was admiring the hounds from her front door, some of them walked into her dining room and mopped up a nice leg of mutton. 31 06 05 & a

Miss Borne, the greatly respected and loved Matron of 'Papworth' belongs to the rapidly decreasing band of women who, in their early youth, were convinced they had a vocation, and in spite of opposition have managed to reach their goal. In 1914 she was appointed as Cambridgeshire Tuberculosis Health Visitor and when Dr Varrier Jones began to put his theories into practice she was invited to join him. She went to Bourn as matron of the six-roomed cottage in which the great work came into being. In February 1918 the 15 patients were removed to Papworth Hall. Last week there were 338 under treatment. 31 06 05b

Lode Labour Party was formed in December 1924 with 16 members – it now has 120 - and members were levied one penny per week to pay for a Hall. Building started in April and is now windowsill high, the work is being done voluntarily and is expected to be completed by October. It would provide for the social and educational recreation of the village and be a home where children could hear the message of Socialism truly preached. 31 06 05c

A prominent figure in University and military circles is removed by the death of Col Charles Heycock, Goldsmith's Reader in Metallurgy; on his retirement the Goldsmiths' Company increased the endowment of the Laboratory in recognition of his services. He attended the Perse School and was the first honorary member of the Cambridge Rotary Club. When Kitchener's Army was formed he commanded the Cambridgeshire Battalion from its nucleus at the Corn Exchange, to the County and Melbourne Place schools before retiring in 1916. 31 06 05d & e

Those Knighted in the Birthday Honours include County Councillor W.C. Dampier-Whetham who played a great part in the development of the Rural Community Council & Dr P.C. Varrier-Jones, founder of Papworth tuberculosis hospital. It started with one patient in a Cambridgeshire garden and has now grown to the largest Village Settlement in the world. Another, Montagu Burton, is not a Cambridge man but endowed the University Professorship of Industrial Relations. 31 06 05f

In all proposals affecting change to local government, the sewerage problem looms large. Cambridge is provided with a sewage scheme which appears to be adequate and the sewage farm produces a satisfactory effluent. They could cope with Chesterton and Cherry Hinton but if the town boundaries were expanded to take in Histon and Impington it would cause problems. 31 06 05 h i

Farmers forgot their troubles and flocked to the annual Agricultural Show at Manor Park, Chatteris. Special trains, buses and private cars brought over 6,000 visitors and over 500 cars were parked in an adjoining meadow. In spite of the motor tractor the horse is by no means a back number in farming work and there were 78 entries in the Shire horse classes though Percherons and Suffolks showed an unexpected falling off. 31 06 05j

The Mayor of Cambridge formally opened the new paddling pool on Sheeps Green. It was the result of the Corporation's scheme of work for the unemployed with a £12,000 Government grant. As it has already been 'patronised' by the youngsters for some time now, no great ceremony was observed beyond that of letting with water in again. It is now open to old and young to paddle, but he declined the invitation to do so. 31 06 05k

D.R. Hardman resigns as Labour party candidate – 31 06 05d
Death Col Charles Thomas Heycock, Goldsmiths reader – 31 06 05d

1931 06 05 ES

Isle Education Committee: progress with new schools; includes Parson Drove, Fridaybridge – 31 06 05(2) ES

Lt Thetford death Dorothy Kisby, Rose Cottage – 31 06 05 ES

1931 06 12

Despite heavy and prolonged rain the Conservative's fete held in the grounds of Mr Harold Gray's home on the Gog Magog Hill still attracted 9,000 people. An open-air concert had to be abandoned and the gymkhana was discontinued owing to the slippery state of the ground, otherwise everything went off according to arrangements. The open-air dancing was enjoyed and, thanks to the efforts of the operator in keeping them dry, the fireworks were a great success. 31 06 12a

It was a very gentle earthquake in Cambridge: suddenly in the silence of a calm and tranquil night there came a mysterious, slow, oscillatory motion, quickening and increasing in intensity. It seemed as if a giant hand had seized the bed and was shaking it, gently but with irresistible might. A washstand was overturned at Comberton but houses were rocked at Ely where some of the foundations were heard to crack. At St Ives people sought refuge on the Market Hill and could not be induced to return to bed. 31 06 12c & d & e

A Cambridge motor firm – W.E. Harding of Seven Sisters garage, Newmarket Road – has been barred from trading with undergraduates by the Vice Chancellor. Under university rules tradesmen must notify tutors by the end of term of any debt exceeding £5 incurred by an undergraduate. But Mr Harding had not been told this. Only two other such notices have appeared within living memory. Now any student having any dealings with the firm may be suspended or rusticated. 31 06 12b

Evidence of the serious situation developing in Suffolk and Essex in regard to payment of tithe was forthcoming at a sale of seized goods at Stoke-by-Clare. About 500 tithepayers attended the sale and the auction realised ridiculously low prices: horses went for 10d 6d while binders and lorries only made 2s. The sale was carried on amid incessant bantering and when a certain figure was reached for each article a general cry of 'No more' went up. The total sum realised was £5 11s as against the demand for over £112. 31 06 12 g-h

Huntingdon councillors agreed to purchase four acres of land at Ambury Hill for a new housing scheme, at £160 per acre. Their intention is to clear the slum areas and give people better houses to live in. They went ahead despite warnings that the total indebtedness of Huntingdon had increased by over £70,000 since 1915. They had been told there were 90 families on the waiting list, but could only find 45; there were only three men who wanted to get married and wanted homes. But even if the land was set out as a playground for children it would do no harm and there would be little expense. 31 06 12i

A baker told the bankruptcy court that he started at Harston in 1928 and made a living the first year. He bought a motor cycle combination hoping to increase his business but it broke down. Two other bakers had been canvassed from Cambridge so he took premises in Burleigh Street. There were five other bakers within 100 yards and he hoped to make a 'do' against them. But what with rent, wages and bus fares from Harston he became insolvent. 31 06 12j

The new road under construction between Milton and Histon Roads provides some exceptionally attractive sites for those wishing to erect a private house. It has much to recommend it as Chesterton is a very popular district but most of the available land within a reasonable distance of town has already been taken up. The plots are for the erection of private dwellings only and no bungalows or inadequate houses can be erected. 31 06 12k

The complete reconstruction of the Cambridge Town Football Club is underway and when supporters pay their money at the gate next season they will be confronted with an entirely new sight. The old stand has been demolished and the network of frames for the new one seating 800 people erected together with a new pavilion. There will also be a full-sized Cumberland turf green for the Chesterton Bowling Club. 31 06 12l

Mrs Keynes elected first woman alderman – 31 06 12aa
Cambridgeshire speedway advertisement – 31 06 12s

1931 06 12 ES

Earthquake, little damage

An earthquake, the most severe of its kind ever recorded in England, did little damage; houses were shaken, windows and crockery rattled, beds rocked, doors banged and pictures moved about. The centre was in the North Sea, and the effect was more severe and we felt in the towns on the Eastern Seaboard. Many people spent the remainder of the night in restless expectation and not a few found their way to the streets to discuss the matter.

The shock terrified many inhabitants of Sutton many some of whom were convinced their houses were about to tumble down. One tells how everything in the house shook for half a minute. "But nothing shook so much as my old woman. She shook for hours after it were all over".

Prickwillow experienced the uncanny sensation of the earthquake. There were few villagers who were not awakened from their sleep as their houses rocked and furniture rattled.

The first indication at March was in the form of a rumbling noise. Then houses began to shake and the realisation dawned that an earthquake was taking place. There were two distinct tremors. The first was very violent and the second not quite so severe. Little damage was done with the exception of a few loosened chimney pots and slight falls of ceilings. A graphic account of the shock is given by a Police Constable who was on duty in Broad Street at 1:25am. He says the tremor passed over the town like a wave and seem to come from the direction of the Fountain along Broad Street and up high Street and the whole of the buildings in Broad Street began to rock and shake. The tower of the Town Clock shook violently and while the town was in the throes of the tremors the bell rang incessantly. Just as suddenly as it appeared, it went away and except for the noise of dogs barking, hens crackling and people walking about the streets, all was once again quiet. The area of West End and Nene Parade, along by the river bank seem to have been the worst affected. Down Nene Parade where several slips had recently occurred in the riverbank many people thought there had been a serious substance in the bank and rushed from their homes expecting to find water gaping at the foot of their front doors.

Seldom has the town been so awake at such an hour and seldom have more people been about the streets at that time of the morning. Within a few seconds of the tremor lights came on in every quarter, and many remained on for quite a time until the people felt safe in returning to their beds. Officials on duty at the Post Office had quite a busy time with telephone people telephoning to relatives, inquiring as to how they had survived the shock.

A resident of Ely likened the earthquake to a procession of heavy traction engines passing his house. One girl living in a cottage in the Fens, said when she rushed from her bed the movement in the room was so pronounced that it made her fear that the walls would collapse about her. A Constable said trees swayed as though they were being blown by a terrific gale.

At Downham residents in nearly every house were disturbed from sound sleep. Windows and crockery rattled.

In some cottages at Redmere falls of ceilings took place; the occupants were alarmed for the safety of the buildings

At Chatteris doors rattled, jugs and water butts shook and two large pictures fell to the floor in one house. One woman said she was shaken off her couch on which she had just laid down for a few moments sleep. The shock was accompanied by a vivid light in the sky and the atmosphere was very impressive.

Most people in Whittlesey were disturbed. All the ghosts in town might have come to life and turned grizzly hand to weird mischief to judge by the rattling and shakings and squeaking and creaking which the disturbance caused.

At Benwick With the exception of a crack which has been discovered in the walls of Mr. H. Richards' house, no damage appears to have been done. Many of the inhabitants were considerably enlarged.

Alarmed. 31 06 12ES

At Stretham the District Surveyor studied feasibility of making a road improvement by filling in the pond and dispensing with the brick culvert. The Council would first determine whether the pipe was necessary having regard to the pipe water supply which is expected to be available shortly. There were complaints on the way the water mains were being laid, causing much inconvenience. The pond in the cricket field could be filled in by all the surf plus Earth from the water trenches being dug about the village

The District Council were also considering whether there was further need of Council houses to be let at a much cheaper rent than those that present occupied. The Parish might agree for more houses to be built, providing they will let at a rent to agricultural labourers working at the minimum rate of wages. 31 06 12ES

More houses for Stretham? Parish council discuss diverting drainage from three premises from the brick culvert under the main road which discharges into the pond; might fill in pond. Letters on whether further need of Council houses – would be at a much cheaper rent than those at present. Parish council did not know whether there were a demand for houses. They might agree proving they could be let at a rent that agricultural labourers could pay; suggest three pairs of houses. Complaints on way water mains were being laid, causing much inconvenience. Consider filling in pond in the cricket field – 31 06 12(4) ES

Stretham raises over £87 for Addenbrooke's Hospital – 31 06 12(5) ES

1931 06 19

One of Cottenham's old houses overlooking the Green was entirely destroyed by fire. It was occupied by Mr & Mrs Thoday, who carried on a small general shop as part of their home, and was built of wood and plaster walls with a thatched roof covered with galvanised iron. Local firemen managed to fix up a hose on the water main but the pressure was feeble so water was pumped from Horace Gautrey's pond. They had to pull off the roof and demolish the walls to get at the seat of the fire. Ropes were attached to the roof corners and it was pulled off with a crash but the house was finally reduced to a smouldering wreck. 31 06 19a

An aerobattist was killed at the University air pageant. He was flying an Avro, looping the loop, rolling and spiral diving when the machine appeared to break and crashed to the earth. Mr Honour, ground engineer at Marshall's Flying School, said that tools were kept at the aerodrome for extricating pilots but some delay was caused as the machine was made of metal, not wood. He obtained a hacksaw to cut part of the wreckage and within 20 minutes the pilot was taken to Hospital, terribly injured. 31 06 19b

Two men who had lived together and then parted through a quarrel are the central figures in a tragedy. One is a painter and decorator of Swiss nationality who now lies in Huntingdon hospital in a serious condition as the result of a gunshot wound in the left side. The other, a general decorator, is dead: he shot himself when police tried to enter the window of his house at Brampton. 31 06 19f g h

Midsummer Fair counterblast – rival show near Barnwell junction – 31 06 19c & d & e

Death Canon H.P. Stokes – 31 06 19 I

1931 06 19 ES

Aeroplane crashed at Cambridge University May Week air pageant; pilots killed – 31 06 19(2) ES # c.26.1

1931 06 26

It will be recorded in the annals of the county that in the year 1931 people who were then living at Kingston had laid themselves out to accomplish a great work of restoration of their church and carried it through to a successful conclusion. 13th-century frescoes have been restored and new clergy and choir stalls made and fixed by Benjamin Hardy of Bourn, beautiful examples of the craftsman's art in English oak. 31 06 26a

Plans for children to be accommodated at St Neots Poor Law Institution were rejected by the Government who say children should not be placed in an institution intended for the sick and invalid poor. But the Guardians cannot afford to procure another home for them. At Huntingdon the present children's quarters and old laundry could be adopted to take 50 tramps on the separate cell system. 31 06 26c

1931 06 26 ES

Such has been the progress of the Ely Standard in recent years that the need for improved editorial and advertisement officers have been apparent. The old offices and Lynn Road have been inadequate. At the new up-to-date premises in Market Street, Ely modern architecture has resulted in the creation of a set of offices with residential quarters which have been admired by all who have seen them. Care was exercised to see they were in harmony with the properties already erected. The general office is fitted with a mahogany counter giving a pleasing effect while in each office is a fireplace.. Now the Standard is housed in a way that will enable them to conduct editorial advertisement business under conditions which must attend a measure of comfort. Market Street is on market day the centre in which motor omnibuses from all parts and district sit down and pick up their passengers making it easier to transact business with the paper. 31 06 26(2) ES # c.04

Storm wreaks havoc at Ely: houses struck by lightning – 31 06 26 ES

July 1931 CWN & ES

1931 07 03

The last vans, trains of tractors and heavy wagons have made their way from the Showman's Guild fair ground, Newmarket Road, bearing the dismantled remains of the devices which have thrilled thousands during the week. The Guild have eliminated the undesirables and shown Cambridge that travelling folk are as sober and industrious as the rest. Midsummer Common was more central but the only complaints were about the bus fares to the ground. 31 07 03a

Sir – may I draw attention to the deplorable state of the pavilion in Cottenham 'playground'. It is intended for the accommodation of cricketers but is scarcely fit for the cows which have been making use of it. Players have to pack their clothes on the grass and it is unbelievable that a village of 2,500 should have such a wretched pavilion – 'Disgusted Cottenhamite'. 31 07 03b

Latest figures show that about half of the cows in England are suffering from tuberculosis. Probably more than 1,000 children die from infection from milk and many more are maimed for life. We suffered an annual wastage of many human lives with grave financial losses to the farmers, Prof. Buxton of Cambridge School of Agriculture told a conference. 31 07 03c & d

1931 07 03 ES

Stretham: death J.H. Savidge

By the death of John Henry Savidge of Cambridge Road, Stretham has lost one of its most respected and popular inhabitants. He had for many years carried on a bakery business in Stretham, and this brought him into contact with many people. His cheerful disposition and ready humour made him a host of friends, and won him the esteem of all. He was the last of the line of the Charles family, which was one of the oldest and best known Stretham families. – 31 07 03(3) ES

Stretham football club successful season; to apply for election Cambs League Division III- 31 07 03 ES

1931 07 10

Huntingdon council are still experiencing difficulties in their plans to replace slum houses with modern dwellings: can they obtain the ground, would old people be prepared to vacate old houses for more suitable ones and would they be able to pay the rent. How could they rent new houses at five shillings a week all-inclusive when the old ones were more? The whole things turned upon figures and they did not quite know what the figures were. 31 07 10b

The amount of land in Cambridge suitable for building was extremely limited and the cost was being driven up because of its scarcity. The urban population was spilling over into Histon and Impington which were being used as Cambridge bedrooms. But these were separated by a belt of orchard country and, more importantly, drained away from Cambridge. So the town council have decided not to expand into that area. 31 07 10c & d

The annual Histon Feast Sunday parade was most disappointing, very few members of the friendly societies put in an appearance and there were no decorated vans or wagons. The Cottenham and Histon Salvation Army Bands stopped en route to play selections and there was a large crowd on the village green for the open-air meeting and the sacred promenade concert in the evening. 31 07 10a

We have to record the death Longstowe blacksmith, James Huckle, after three months illness. Deceased came to the village 30 years ago as smith with the late Mr Jacobs and carried on the business after the death of his employer. The funeral service at the church was choral and a large number of beautiful floral tributes were received. The coffin bore the inscription 'James Ernest Huckle, died June 27th 1931, aged 53 years'. Messrs King of Caxton carried out the funeral arrangements. 31 07 10b

1931 07 10 ES

A.W. Orbell, March musician had one of his compositions published by a London music publisher, featured by well-known singer at Central Pier, Blackpool – 31 07 10(2) ES

Few have succeeded in winning fame in the world of song-writing. But success has come at the first attempt to Mr. A.W. Orbell, a young March musician. He has just had one of his compositions published by one of the leading London music publishers Mr. Orbell, who is 21 years of age, is a clerk in the employ of Messrs Ollard and Ollard, solicitors. But it is in his capacity as the popular right- half of the March Town Football Club's premier team that he is best known. A keen musician, he is an accomplished violinist and has chosen song-writing as his hobby. Some weeks ago, he sent up to London three of his compositions and now he has had official intimation that one of the pieces, an enchanting song entitled 'Down the Streams of Haunting Dreams' has been accepted. The song has been featured with great success by Mr. Denis Emons, the well-known singer at the Central Pier, Blackpool. It is now on sale locally at Mrs. Haylock and Sons March and promises to become quite a popular melody in the district. 31 07 10ES

1931 07 17

In spite of the rain the Peckover Van and Wise Spending Exhibition attracted a large crowd to Waterbeach village green. The exhibits included some anatomical specimens showing the injury which alcohol drinking could cause. The children were also attracted by a grass snake, caught on the Histon Road, and preserved in alcohol. Twenty-four children signed the Torchbearer's pledge. 31 07 17a

An undergraduate rag in celebration of examination success led to two young army officers appearing in court charged with the theft of coloured lenses and other fittings belonging to traffic lights on the corner of Lensfield Road. They were of no conceivable value except as a trophy. One was the son of a distinguished soldier in the Coldstream Guards killed at Arras during the war. If convicted it would have a grave effect on his army career. The case was dismissed. 31 07 17b & c

The discovery of the body of an unknown man in a ditch at Benwick has provided that rural locality with a first-class sensation. It was in a very advanced state of decomposition, reposed in an ordinary sleeping position, and all the unclothed or exposed parts had been completely eaten away by rats. It was not unusual to see tramps sleeping in that way, in fact there were scores of them. 31 07 17d

A Cambridge women resident in Salmon Lane, off Fair Street, told the court she went out for a bottle of stout when another punched her in the mouth and tore the sleeve of her dress. "I have had to endure this life for two years", she said. "Each time I go out of my house I'm insulted because I'm a respectable married woman & won't mix with them". She denied that she'd hit her husband and cut his head open or that her baby kept neighbours awake with its crying. 31 07 17e

The question of cricket on Lamas Land, Newnham produced a spirited debate: old ladies crossing the grass might be hit with the hard cricket ball. The Commons Committee is going through a spasm of kill-joy spirit: boys played on the streets but as soon as they went to open space they were told they must not do so. Perhaps a soft ball could be used – or a golf ball. Newnham Institute sought permission for a cricket pitch, but this would turn it into a second Parker's Piece. 31 07 17f & g

A wireless broadcast relay service may be installed in Cambridge. Rediffusion wish to place wires over the streets and would pay the Corporation £250 per annum for the first 1,000 subscribers. The charge would be 1s 6d a week, plus sixpence for a loud speaker and ten shillings for the Post Office wireless licence. But the service was limited to one programme and was nothing like as good as having a set of your own. 31 07 17f

After a lapse of 35 years an old custom was revived at Burwell. The University holds the position of Lay Rector of the parish and the Vice-Chancellor used to visit the church annually. This year he was attended by the Esquire Bedells, and the Marshall with their silver maces. On arrival at church he put on his scarlet cope of office before following the choir into the chancel. After the service they took lunch at the vicarage. 31 07 17h

Marshall's Aerodrome was visited by a party of continental airmen when ten planes, including two containing young ladies, flew in from Heston Aerodrome. After tea and a chat they left by motor coach for a hurried tour of the colleges before flying out again. It is the first time any private French and Belgian pilots have paid an organised visit to England. 31 07 17i

Fire completely destroyed the Rendezvous Cinema and Dance Hall at Magrath Avenue, Cambridge. The only part left standing is the fireproof operating box, which is really a separate structure. Staff removed 12,000 feet of film which, if reached by the flames, might have caused a serious explosion. The most spacious dance floor in the Eastern Counties was reduced to charred bits of wood. Renovations and improvements to the dance hall lounges were nearing completion and were to be opened as a special attraction. 31 07 17j & k

The Isle of Ely NFU protested against the decision to fix the 1931 harvest wages at the same rate as last year: the cost of living had fallen, placing workers in a more favourable position but there had been a serious drop in the prices of agricultural products. The Manager at Chatteris station said the goods yard at the station and at Billups' Sidings would be improved following assurances that more traffic would be diverted from road transport to compensate for the outlay. 31 07 17l

1931 07 17 ES

The extensive works of bridge reconstruction undertaken by the Isle of Ely County council in recent years form the subject of a special double number of Ferro-Concrete which is devoted to construction in reinforced concrete. It reveals how thoroughly the Isle of Ely has tackled the problem of its inadequate bridges and provides a comprehensive record of the important scheme, which the County council have so far carried out in spanning the many rivers the district with bridges equal for the requirements of modern traffic. After charting the history and development of the area it points out the network of waterways that have involved a construction of it an exceptionally large number of bridges. And while these structures were all ample strength and width of for the traffic at the time they were erected they were totally inadequate for present day heavy mechanically propelled vehicles. So the Council have in arrangement with the Ministry of transport undertaken the work of rebuilding the bridges as necessity arises. In addition to County bridges, which are inadequate for modern traffic, there are upwards of 300 bridges and culverts for which various Drainage Commissioners are responsible. It is probable that these will devolve upon the County Council as the owners do not admit liability for maintaining bridges to a standard higher than that of which previously prevailed. Each of the bridge schemes another important road works is described and the notes are extensively illustrated with photographs & drawings. The sections on the North Level include a description of the Peterborough-Wisbech trunk, Guy hirn and Thorney Toll Bridges. Others schemes include the Mepal bridge and viaduct over the Wash, The Dog in a Doublet, Ponders Bridge. Angle Bridge, Boots' Bridge, Twentypence Bridge, Stretham Ferry Bridge and the bridge at Queen Adelaide. 31 07 17(2)ES

Littleport cottages between Bull Dog Bridge and Mile End Road destroyed by fire – 31 07 17(2) ES
Two cottages abutting on the Littleport Road between Bulldog Bridge and Mile End Road, Prickwillow, were completely destroyed by fire and before the occupants were aware of the danger, workers in nearby field rushed to the scene. When they got there smoke was belching from the roof, which was thatch with corrugated iron, but they entered and succeeded in carrying the furniture to safety. The flames spread with considerable rapidity and in the hope of saving the property the Littleport Fire Brigade was summoned. They quickly responded to the call but by the time it was possible to run out the length of hose from a hydrant and play water on the flames the work of destruction was practically complete. Relatives and kindly-disposed neighbours made temporary arrangements for the housing of the dispossessed families. 31 07 17ES

Ely cattle off to Russia – photo at Ely Railway goods yard – 31 07 17(4) ES
A photo taken in the Goods Yard at Ely Railway Station shows seven pedigree Scotch shorthorn bulls and two pedigree Scotch shorthorn cows prior to being loaded into two trucks in which they made the first part of their journey to Russia. They will be shipped to Leningrad and on arrival will be forwarded to cooperative farms and experimental farms in the Central Plains, where they will be used for breeding purposes. This is the first batch of cattle to be sent to Russia from the Isle but it is anticipated that a good deal of stock will be dispatched to that country from here. 31 07 17ES

1931 07 24

A unique performance has been accomplished by Jack Overhill of Trumpington who, although only three years of age, has mastered the art of swimming. The tiny record breaker is also the youngest member of the Cambridge Amateur Swimming Club. He has been a real 'water baby' since his first introduction to the river at the age of one year and nine months. Since May he has been in the river twice daily, even during cold spells. 31 07 24a

Reliance Coach Services of Cottenham had three coaches and had contracted to purchase another vehicle for £1,500. They operated services from Cambridge to Cottenham and Willingham; their buses ran five minutes before Ortona's but usually they waited for the Ortona drivers to start up and then got away faster in their smaller vehicle. Now they planned a new service from Haddenham via the Twentypence Bridge. 31 07 24b & c

The butler at Kneesworth Hall, the residence of Lord Knutsford, chairman of the London Hospital, said he had secured all the doors and windows but next morning he found a window had been broken. Clothing had been disturbed and a number of dresses were lying on the floor. Five ladies coats, three fur stoles, two cameras and a chiming watch were missing. 31 07 24d-e

Shire Hall demolition picture – 31 07 24f

1931 07 24 ES

Barway Bridge was in really disgraceful state of, but who owned it? The bridge had caused Newmarket Rural District Council a good deal of trouble and they had tried but failed to find who was the owner. It was alleged to belong to the Council. As soon as the bridge was built the Council took it over and did work there. They would not have done that if it was not their property. Soon after it was done – it had a concrete course on the top – Mr Palmer complained and his overseers gave instructions for it to be picked off and it was done. The Council would not do that on a new bridge if it did not belong to them. Could they prove that it did not belong to them? The Chairman: you say the old Surveyor did it, but we tried to find out if that was so and we have not found that any Highway Authority has repaired the bridge. Unfortunately Mr Clarke's books were destroyed, but they did prove that it had been done by the old Surveyor. It was a disgrace that it should be left unattended. Why would they not instruct their Surveyor to put on a few stones? It was going to rack and ruin and something would have to be done by someone. People living there had to pay rates and should command some attention – 31 07 24(2)(3) ES

Stretham Wesleyan fete for rebuilding of schoolroom – 31 07 24(4) ES

New egg testing and grading industry

A new industry has been set up in Littleport where Messrs Gotobed and Sons have introduced an almost human machine by means of which 5,000 eggs an hour are tested, graded and automatically counted, saving a great deal of time. Twice a week the eggs, making a total weight of about three tons are taken to London. The machine occupies very little space and as it is operated special cases stand in front of the receptacles for the different grades and from here they are placed by hand into their appropriate cases. The Gotobeds have to make frequent visits to the fens to collect more eggs. 31 07 24ES

Wilburton death G.T. Seppings – 31 07 24(5) ES

1931 07 31

A serious accident occurred during a performance by Capt. Barnard's aerial circus at Port Holme, Huntingdon following a passenger flight. A young woman had just been up for a trip and, on alighting, walked around the wings into the revolving propeller. The blade struck her left shoulder, smashing the bone. It was not revolving at great speed, otherwise she would have been killed outright. The force of the blow stopped the propeller instantly. Despite the mishap the programme of aeronautics continued and the passenger flights proved very popular. 31 07 31a

The last of the Cambridge silent cinemas is to turn 'talkie'. The Western Electric system is to be installed at the Kinema and the first sound film to be presented will be "Song o' my Heart" starring John McCormack. With the new system the Kinema will be open continuously from 2.30 till 10.30. 31 07 31b

Earlier the wheat, barley and oats promised well but owing to the recent wet weather and lack of sunshine are not now so satisfactory. Potatoes and roots are good, though there is danger of disease. There has been an abundant crop of hay but it is practically unsaleable. It has been about the worst year farmers have had: crops are unsaleable at anything like the cost of production, "we shall have to live on hope, which will not fatten us", one said. 31 07 31c

August 1931 CWN & ES

1931 08 07

Caxton dirt track racing photo – 31 08 07b

Kneesworth burglary, p6

Leach accident, p9*

Volunteers, p12*

1931 08 07 ES

Ely Council offices

Work in the provision of new offices for the Ely Urban District Council has started and men have been engaged in dismantling the roof of the Fire Station in Lynn Road where the new structure is to stand. It will be 20 weeks before it is complete and by then no one will be able to recognise the site on which the Fire Station has stood for many years. The new property will provide Ely with a modern home for its officials. The ground floor will be used as present for the Fire Station with the addition of the Rent Collectors' office. The Council Chamber will be quite modern with a strong room and offices and a balcony from which announcements can be made 31 08 07 & (1) ES

Littleport branch of the junior imperial league tennis club new pavilion opened 31 08 07(2)ES

Since its formation a few months ago the tennis club run in conjunction with the Littleport branch of the Junior Imperial League has made extraordinary progress. Saturday saw the IMPS open a new pavilion with a veranda overlooking the courts. It would be an asset to the social life of Littleport. Any night during the week they would find people playing tennis. 31 08 07

Coveney Wesleyan chapel reopening ceremony after renovation 31 98 07(3)ES

Bankruptcy of Edward Lawrence Pocock recently trading as a baker, grocer and confectioner at Histon and formerly at Manea 31 08 07(4)ES

1931 08 14

Prickwillow lighting, p3*

St Ives staunch, p9*

Stonea station, p8

Banham boathouse, p12*

1931 08 14 ES

Ponds Bridge Whittlesea nearing completion. During the past four years it has showing signs of weakness under the very heavy traffic necessitating restrictions being placed on the weights of vehicles. The new bridge is of reinforced concrete. The old and narrow iron structure was steep and difficult of approach. The steepness has been reduced by an extra width of the waterway. Photograph 31 08 14 ES

Proposal to start a cardboard factory, a new industry, at Littleport 31 08 14(2)ES

1931 08 21

A.J. Willmott of Royston has retired after serving 42 years with the Post Office. He used to travel for many years between Bassingbourn and Guilden Morden, driving a horse and cart, but lost his heart to a Royston lady and had been there ever since. He did his duties in a praiseworthy manner and always carried a smiling face. But he had not enjoyed good health and was moving to Westcliff into a house electrically fitted; he was presented with an electric kettle and a reading lamp by his colleagues. 31 08 21a

Chesterton RDC approved a proposal to purchase the New Cottenham Gas and Waterworks Company for £4,500. As the original valuation had been fixed at £5,000 they had reached a fairly good bargain. Now the gas works will be conveyed to the University and Town Gas Light Company for £500. 31 08 21b

The parishes of Histon and Impington will vote on proposals for an extended Borough of Cambridge taking in the rural district within a three-mile radius. There was little desire on the part of rural residents to come into the Borough, there was no real community or interest between them. Cambridge would really be a little county with a population greater than Huntingdonshire. But what was left of Chesterton RDC would be unable to function and the administration of the rest of the county would be extremely difficult. 31 08 21c

A farmer from Hillrow, Haddenham was summonsed for failing to pay wages in accordance with the Agricultural Wages Regulation Act, 1924. It said 30 shillings should be pay for every 48 hours in winter and 50 in summer, while ninepence should be paid for every hour worked on Saturday in excess of 5 ½. He was recognised as a good employer, his men had not worked their full hours during the week and were paid overtime for Saturday work to make up the time lost. It was a technical offence and no fine was imposed. 31 08 21d

A heavy, gusty wind and driving rain greeted Captain C.D. Barnard and his famous monoplane, the Spider, when he visited Cambridge. But when it abated a number of people took trips knowing they would be dry in the plane. 20 readers of the CDN had been given free tickets for a ten-minute flight and enjoyed the experience; one young lady laughingly remarked she felt 'a bit funny' coming down. 31 08 21e

There is no telephone at the Haverhill Isolation Hospital: was it right that in case of urgency in the middle of the night that the caretaker should be expected to go 150 yards down a lane to ask a man to phone for a doctor. For the sake of £8 a year they should have one put in. But they should not be rushed: the system had worked well in the past. 31 08 21f

Sir – Cambridge shop assistants have no civility or smiles, just 'take it or leave it' style, not to mention high prices. The police are inadequate and inefficient – fancy a town of this size being left in the keep of what seems to be a small band of schoolboys. The bus fares are too high and as for the cinemas: what trash we poor people have to pay high prices to see. And who would expect to find such a lot of ignorant, grasping, unintelligent people as live here. By now I think you know I do not like Cambridge – 'A disgusted native' 31 08 21h & i, j

Sir – what prospects are there here for a healthy, ambitious man anxious to get on. The colleges are nice to look at but not much use in finding employment for men with growing families to clothe. The nearest factory is Chivers and when one sees the cleanliness of Histon and signs of prosperity and happiness of the villagers one marvels at how anyone who has to work for their daily bread can like Cambridge where the majority of local men are underpaid and discontented – 'King without a castle'. 31 08 21k

Huntingdon Public Assistance Committee wants to convert part of the St Neots workhouse to accommodate poor-law children. But the Ministry says they should be taken away from the atmosphere of a union and brought up outside and has ordered the removal of all children over the age of three. There were eight in the county, one of whom was an imbecile. They should buy two cottages for them – the Ministry might rave but the Government was a queer lot of people and not likely to last very long. 31 08 21l & m

Considerable damage was done to the foreman's house on Mr Cowell's farm at Great Abington. A ball of fire struck a steeple and passed on to the house, where it completely wrecked the chimney. It also hit a stable where the horse-keeper suffered so badly from shock that he was obliged to go home. A gardener said he had never seen anything like it in his life. Mr Cowell had his farm struck last November, when much more serious damage was done. 31 08 21 m & n

1931 08 28

Sir – I have just visited Saffron Walden; its one cinema is perhaps not up to par, but shopping prices are reasonable; the buses do not monopolise the streets or their passengers the pavements. The Sunday there is no more deadly than of Cambridge, prams do not form fours across the path and a three-halfpenny stamp may be bought at the Post Office in a friendly and courteous atmosphere. If I had to migrate, I would go there – R.N. 31 08 28g

The new Victoria Cinema on Market Hill, Cambridge opens today. The auditorium is an example of complete harmony between the architect and the decorative painter. No architectural enrichment is applied to the walls, which remain for the most part in darkness, but when the space is filled with light a gorgeous flow of rich colours rises like waves from the back of the house to reach a climax in the rich proscenium curtain of crimson and gold. 31 08 28h

Cambridge station, p6*

Coach accident, p9*

Wireless starts, p9*

Tragedies, p10

New Square photo, p12*

1931 08 28 ES

Air pageant at Horsey Toll, Whittlesea, stunt flying from Wittering, combat race between three machines around the brickyard chimneys and Peterborough gasworks 31 08 28ES # c.26.1

Stretham farmer George Russell Driver left estate of £7,267; left two cottages at Green End to his niece Phyllis Driver and the residue to his brother Robert 31 08 28(2)ES

Death of Joseph Pikett, foreman at stud farm Witchford to the late Mr Beldam; to Stretham 18 months ago where he purchased a grocery business at Chapel Square. Unfortunately he did not enjoy good health 31 08 28(4)

September 1931 CWN & ES

1931 09 04

Cambridge's new Victoria Cinema possesses a theatre organ of the most modern type, a three manual Christie built by Messrs William Hill and Norman and Beard who have been responsible for many of the finest cinema organs in the world. It is placed on one side of the proscenium in two specially constructed chambers which house 2,000 wooden and metal pipes each of which has been 'voiced' by an expert. In the centre of the orchestra pit, placed on an electric lift, is the beautifully decorated console from which the entire organ is controlled. 31 09 04c

The parishes of Houghton and Wyton will not be united at the present time. The value of the living of Wyton was wrongly returned at £145 (instead of £565) and it seemed unfair that an incumbent should be expected to accept so small a stipend. But an inquiry found the actual stipend was as large as the majority of small country parishes. Had they been given the correct figures in the first place much inconvenience and recriminations would have been avoided. 31 09 04d

Inquiries by the News confirm that the Central Cinema in Hobson Street is perfectly sound, despite rumours to the contrary. As part of the building is over the old King's Ditch, special attention was paid to the concrete foundations and reinforced with steel. The balcony, designed to carry 500 people, will take 2,000. The whole building is as sound today as it was when completed nearly 12 months ago. The only possible work is the renewal of some of the decorations as these were applied to wet plaster. 31 09 04e

Cambridge Town Football Club's £4,000 stand was officially opened by the Mayor as Milton Road took on again its usual Saturday afternoon activity. In the centre of the pitch the Railway Band played crowds into the new stand and the lily badges of the Town Supporters' Club were well to the fore. The new dressing rooms were not in use and players used the old pavilion. Cambridge won 4-3. 31 09 04f

Market day at St Ives was the worst experience for many years owing to foot and mouth disease restrictions. Tradespeople particularly felt the pinch. Ordinarily the market would have opened at midnight on Sunday but a few hours before the Spaldwick outbreak was reported and that meant no cattle could be allowed to enter the auction. 31 09 04g

When Philip Byatt arrived at Rectory Farm, Gt Chishill, on Saturday morning he found the whole of the mantelpiece and top of the range in the kitchen well alight. He raised the household and with the aid of some farm hands soon got the blaze under control. The oak beam, about a foot thick, had been smouldering for some days as more than a yard had to be cut away. The old fashioned chimney behind had once formed part of an earlier structure around which the more modern farmhouse had been erected. 31 09 04h Haddenham has lost another aged inhabitant by the death of George Russell who passed away at his home at Hillrow at the advanced age of 86 years. When a young man he went to Sydenham as a grocer's assistant but returned nearly 50 years ago and took the little grocer's shop. Since his wife's death several years ago he has lived with his daughter, Miss Dora Russell, who has recently carried on the business. 31 09 04I

1931 09 04 ES

Soham woman Hazel Lyon is first woman in Cambridgeshire to take an air pilot's licence. Miss Hazel M Lyon of Soham is the first girl in Cambridgeshire to take an air pilot's licence. She lives to fly and hopes at a distant date to fly to live. She knows no fear, loves flying and is never happier than when engaged in stunting. She has the distinction of having gained the Royal Aero Club Aviator's Certificate qualifying her for the Ministry pilot's 'A' licence, All her life she has had a bent for the air, but this was whipped into something very real, when in 1919 she won a free flight in London. The sensation of speed and the freedom of the air made her ambitious for still further flying. Next she had one or two Joy rides, and then went to a Flying School at Redding. She wants to specialise in stunting, because she is frightfully keen on it. She has a desire to make an attempt to fly the Atlantic. 31 09 04 ES # c.26.1

1931 09 11

Mr A. Graham de Courcy-Ireland, son of the vicar of Abington Pigotts, has lost his life in India. An elephant found destroying crops in the Shambas near Babati Government Station was wounded and ran through the compound in a state of alarm to the thick bush. Later it was heard trumpeting with rage and nearby was found Mr de Courcy-Ireland's body. It is assumed the elephant attacked him before he had time to fire more shot. 31 09 11a

Many will mourn the loss of Miss Katharine Wilson, creator of the Chesterton Preparatory School. She had an amazing power of understanding children so that the most difficult little people became happy and tractable. Boys and girls of whatever nationality, whether Italian, Russian, American, Estonian or English, from toddlers to twelve years old, all found themselves equally at home and grew into resourceful little citizens. 31 09 11b

Great interest has been excited at Ely by the arrival of a cormorant which has been perching on the western tower of the Cathedral. Through powerful glasses, it appears a fine specimen, with long hooked beak, white breast and short fine legs. During the day has been missing from its position, evidently in search of food, but each night it has returned. It is about four years since such a bird last visited Ely and selected the Cathedral as its nightly resting place. 31 09 11a

Toft flooding pic, p12
Longstanton, p12*

1931 09 11 ES

Sir Frederick Hiam and land prices. Started life as a farm labourer and is now a potato king and one of the largest landowners in East Anglia, buys more and more land and now owns 20000 acres much of which he farms on a prairie system of his own. Can by land at £3-£5 an acre which in 1919 was worth £20 to £40 an acre. He disputes the claim that he was a farm labourer. His father farmed about 500 acres of land and he started business on his own in Stratford Market, London. Inaccurate to say he owns 20,000 acres it is about 12,000 acres. "I have not made any purchases of land for two or three years. Owing to the very great slump in agriculture prices of land have come down considerably but really first class fruit land cannot be bought under £40 an acre. As for prairie farming, all my land is intensively cultivated with the exception of land put down to grass for horses and cattle. Cereals including wheat must be grown extensively to provide straw for use in making manure for the root crops. Anything in the nature of prairie farming does not exist in this part of the country 31 09 11(2)ES

Ely Cathedral has had an unusual visitor making its home on a lofty perch which is one with the turrets 215 feet from the ground. It is a cormorant, a bird chiefly to be found on the more rugged parts of our coast, where his diving exploits in search of fish are a source of interest to people. This particular bird was first seen on Saturday evening and returned on Monday afternoon. 31 09 11(2)ES

The week harvest work on the fields at Manea has again been held up by the heavy rainfall. Practically nothing has been done amongst the corn from Tuesday of last week to Tuesday this week. Owing to the rains the ditches have presented a scene which has not been witnessed here since the 1912 deluge. These have been brim-full of water, and have been inclined to spread over the land. It has certainly not presented such a sea-like appearance as happened in 1912 and shocks of corn have not been band-deep in water. But some potato fields have been temporarily flooded. The situation would certainly have been as bad as that was witnessed in 1912 had it not been for the improved methods of pumping that have been installed in the district. Work on the harvest field will, it is hoped, be maintained until all is safely gathered in. 31 09 11(4)ES

1931 09 18

The Sanitary Inspector said he went to Boxworth to investigate an anonymous letter about the water supply. He visited several houses and the people were complaining bitterly. The local policeman fetched a bucket of water, and it was positively appalling. "You can't stand the smell of it, let alone drink it", he said. It was hardly necessary to send it away for analysis. There was a pond on the green and the water was supposed to be filtered to the well. 31 09 18

A big fire destroyed four cottages beside the Chequers Inn off High Street, Cherry Hinton. They were of lath and plaster and thatch and blazed fiercely, though the fire brigade were summoned they were unable to do more than keep the fire from spreading. Only one of the cottages, which were owned by Mr Smith, a baker, and were the subject of closing orders, was occupied. The village turned out in large numbers and neighbours managed to get most of the furniture from the ground floor. 31 09 18c (photo 31 09 18f)

Despite the fact that the outside world is pessimistically inclined, the inhabitants of Caldecote are convinced that there's a 'good time coming' and are combining in an effort to build themselves a village hall. Caldecote do not do things by halves: they mean to have the best hall in the vicinity and are prepared to pay something like £450 for it to make the village more attractive for its youth. 31 09 18d; (photo 31 09 18e)

An International Illuminations Congress opened at Cambridge Guildhall. The Mayor said there had been no proposals to floodlight the front of the building – it is not of the finest. But the front of the Dorothy Restaurant and the Fitzwilliam Museum were lit. Floodlights might be used in recreation grounds to allow sport at night and people with nice gardens might like to enjoy their beauty under new conditions. 31 09 18g

The quiet village of Rampton received a surprise visit of the Church Association 'Dolby Van' with their missionary, Mr F. Wood. He parked his van on the village green and held a Protestant meeting, addressing a large gathering on 'The movement towards Rome'. In his 40-minute address he exposed many of the practices which are indulged in by some members of the clergy and distributed a large amount of literature before leaving. 31 09 18I

A fruit and vegetable canning factory may be established at Sandy on a site purchased by public subscription. British Cannery say they are getting applications from all over the country to build factories: are local farmers organised to keep a factory going – it is surprising the amount of fruit and garden produce they get through. 31 09 18h

1931 09 25

There was a sensation at the Agricultural Wages Committee when no farmer representatives attended the meeting at which the wage is fixed for next year. They say the neglect and dilapidated state of agricultural land must be obvious to all, due mainly to the shortening of the hours and uneconomic wages which they are compelled to pay. But farmworkers' children suffer from malnutrition and the present minimum wage of 30 shillings (£1.50) should not be lowered. 31 09 25a &

Dr A.C. Haddon celebrated his golden wedding. He married Miss Fanny Rose at the Bunyan Meeting, Bedford in 1881. He was appointed University Lecturer in Ethnology in 1900 and next year published a book 'Head Hunters, Black, White and Brown' based on an expedition to Sarawaka. He has been President of the Royal Anthropological Institute, the Cambridge Antiquarian and the Folk-Lore Societies. 31 09 25c

A cormorant, presumably the same bird which created something of a sensation when it perched on the tower of Ely cathedral, has been seen at Cambridge. For several nights it has come at dusk to one of the chimneys of the Saxon Cement Works, Coldham's Lane, and aroused great curiosity in the neighbourhood. It leaves its perch in the early morning and is not seen during the day, returning at night. 31 09 25

Jane Bultitaft of Ely, 94, still works at the sewing machine she acquired 74 years ago. It is an American machine of the lockstitch type and was the first that came to Ely. When it arrived it was in parts and she had to put it together. In those days a machine that could sew was something very wonderful and dozens of people came to see it. In spite its constant use it is little the worse for wear and still performs its duties at the command of its mistress. 31 09 25i

The biggest demonstration ever held of anti-dazzle devices for motor car headlights was held on Midsummer Common. The crowds were dense, however, in more senses than one: drivers had to pick out a route marked with white stakes but these were constantly obstructed and some got completely misled and finished up on the south side of the common. Amongst those attending were Ministry of Transport and Scotland Yard officials, chief constables and scientific experts who carried out technical measurements. 31 09 25f & g

Over 350 acres of land on the immediate outskirts of Royston, together with numerous cottages were offered for sale. The auctioneer said, "In a few years' time many people will be wondering why they did not buy land at the bargain prices it can be purchased today". But none of the lots reached their reserve: Flint Hall Farm with 195 acres was withdrawn at £1,750, Grange Farm with 131 acres at £1,200 at Northfield Cottage, 28 Melbourn Road failed to reach £300. 31 09 25e

Cottenham Old Meeting Baptist Church celebrated the 150th anniversary of its opening on 28th September 1781. Joseph Oddy, the 'father' of local nonconformity, went to live there in 1672 and gathered a congregation of men and women. Later Anne Renew wrote 'sacred poems', (the first hymns to be sung in the old St Andrew's Street Meeting House), which she used to 'walk over to Cambridge with, to one Leonard Haggis, who wrote them down on paper'. 31 09 25h

Sir – Swavesey people should be given details of the fate of their church bells. When asked, one member of the church council replied that 'he wasn't at liberty to say', yet this same person found the atmosphere of the hairdresser's shop in a neighbouring village so congenial that Over people were given full particulars. Unfortunately for him, Swavesey people were also present. The bells are to be removed to a foundry, but will not return with the same lovely tone as now. Why were not the ringers asked their opinion first? – 'Lucilius'. 31 09 25j

1931 09 25 ES

Jack Hulbert biography in Radio Times. 31 09 25(2)

October 1931 CWN & ES

1931 10 02

It is easier to kill a man than to kill a custom so every year on Sept 25th the Mayor, Town Clerk, Bailiffs and Town Crier form a solemn procession which proceeds to Stourbridge Common to open the Fair. But this year not even schoolchildren were there to greet them and a News reporter was the sole representative of the public until a solitary figure strolled up. There were no roundabouts, swings or stalls, not even the traction engine that last year was the final relic of a dying fair, puffed and snorted in welcome. 31 10 02d

In October 1930 the first of a series of 'Who is it?' pictures appeared in the CDN. Now we are celebrating the anniversary by giving readers a different type of puzzle to solve. Our picture shows the rear view of a group of our office staff and five shillings will be awarded to the person who can spot the greatest number or give the best general account of the group as a whole. 31 10 02a

A new luxury ambulance will soon be seen in the streets of Cambridge, replacing the older of the two Borough Police ambulances. It is an Armstrong-Siddeley fitted with self-changing gears and equipped with a wheel stretcher and Mosley 'float-on-air' bed. It is the last word in comfort with a Thermorad exhaust heater to warm the interior in cold weather and opaque glass so patients can see out. 31 10 02b

Sir - Many in Histon and Impington are perplexed as to how they will be affected by proposals to include them in Cambridge. This failure is largely due to their own neglect by not attending public meetings organised by the parish councils. The critical factor is sewerage: there are plans to build an estate at Girton but the Ministry say it must be sewered and Histon would be included to make it worthwhile. A sump near the Ballast Hole, a pipe line following the railway and sewer beds near Milton seem the answer. But how will it be paid for? – W.F. Robinson. 31 10 02f

Caldecote's new village hall marks a new era in the social life of the village. Made of timber it is tastefully decorated and there is a piano for dances. It. "Some have said it will be run as a young 'hell upon earth', but we have no intention of applying for a licence to sell intoxicating liquor or carry on dances until two o'clock in the morning. Midnight is plenty late enough", the chairman said. 31 10 02g & h

A public meeting at Cottenham agreed to protest against the large expenditure of public funds on the proposed village college at Impington. Officials were suffering from spendmania, it was time the whole thing was hit on the head and done with. It was wrong to transport a large number of children daily from the large village of Cottenham to the smaller village of Impington. If there was such a scheme, Cottenham was the place for it. 31 10 02j

Mr C.B. Long of West Wrating reapplied for a bus service to the Thurlows and Cambridge. Last year it ran four days a week and carried 2,000 single and 9,000 return passengers. Now he wanted a new service from Balsham to Newmarket. Messrs Saberton and Young ran a bus from Little Downham to Ely; it had started 2½ years ago and carried 100 passengers a day. Sometimes they ran a private car to take additional passengers. 31 10 02k & l

Addenbrooke's Hospital contributory scheme encourages people to pay twopence per week. Treatments get more expensive as doctors discover new methods of helping people and owing to lengthening waiting lists extensions to the hospital become necessary. But it is no use having additional wards unless there is an increase in funds. Those who do not join may be required to pay a substantial charge if they need treatment. 31 10 02p

At Newmarket the work of laying electric cables is proceeding rapidly with a quarter of a mile of trench, cable laying and replacing of the pavement completed in one working day. One lady stopped her motor car and presented the foreman with a rose, remarking that she had never seen men working so well before. Soon Newmarket and Exning will enjoy a supply of electricity equal to that in any town in the country and not be far behind Burwell which is completely lit by electricity. 31 10 02u
06 10 15

Cinemas – are they morally clean? – 31 10 02c

Wisbech fruit grower and dairyman, Alfred Balls, who came to Cambridge and purchased fruit and fish business – bankrupt – 31 10 02i

Heydon bus operator – E.E. Weeden, Withers of Haverhill, Raynham of Saffron Walden – applications – 31 10 02 m & n

Addenbrooke's Hospital contributions scheme – 31 10 02o

New type of railcar being tried on branch lines – pic – 31 10 02q

Traction engine crash Bourn – photo – 31 10 02r

Modern house on Madingley road – photo – 31 10 02s

Ring road from Cherryhinton Road across Coldham's Lane under construction – photo – 31 10 02t

1931 10 09

A disastrous fire broke out on the well-known Boarding House Farm, March, the property of Lewis Shepperson, a member of a very old family of agriculturists. Although the outbreak was 2 ½ miles from the town, the entire contingent of firemen with their motor and steam pumps were on the scene within 20 minutes of being called. They found seven stacks ablaze as well as a large barn and range of cattle buildings. They soon pumped the dyke dry as neighbours helped move 60 bullocks and calves to safety. 31 10 09c

A schoolboy admitted breaking into Abbots Ripton Station and stealing chocolate and a paint brush. He took some patches from the tool box of a motor cycle which he showed his father who gave him a good hiding. So he put them back together with a tin of paint. He also took some electric batteries but they were not charged and he threw them away. Previously he had broken into a signal box and pulled one of the levers. 31 10 09d

Impington does not wish for amalgamation with Cambridge: a meeting voted 146 votes to three against the suggestion. By remaining in the county they could settle their own affairs and no sewage scheme could be put into operation unless they wanted it. Their houses were let for five shillings, half that charged by the borough. They should preserve their individuality as a rural community. 31 10 09g

Cambridge Daily News staff – details of picture of their backs – 31 10 09a

Signor Marconi in honorary degree procession – pic – 31 10 09e

Glider built by Slingsby and Armstrong of Scarborough on display in Slingsby's workshop – photo – 31 10 09f

1931 10 09 ES

Tenders for new pumps Isleham Water Works 31 10 09 ES

1931 10 16

Frank Piggott was born in 1845 at St Neots and served his apprenticeship with a newspaper proprietor there, studying shorthand. He became a journalist on the Cambridge Chronicle in 1866, rising to become editor. Owing to the heavy strain he retired to become a master printer and journalist with connections with important London papers and Press Agencies. 31 10 16a

Mr J. Wentworth Day of Wicken Old House acted as mechanic for Sir Malcolm Campbell, holder of the world's motor car speed record, in the practice runs for the 500 miles race at Brooklands. They approached 112 mph but dense clouds of smoke burst from the back and it appeared as though the car would go up in flames. Afterwards he followed the final laps in a private aeroplane. 31 10 16b

An Inquiry opened into plans to expand Cambridge's boundaries. It was the centre for education, shopping and amusement for adjacent villages where people were still dependent on cesspools: these would be provided with a sewerage system. Less than 500 acres were available for building because of the attitude of certain colleges, but it was undesirable that Cambridge should be filled up as if it were a manufacturing town. Most of the new houses in Shelford and Trumpington were of the working-class type. 31 10 16d

Cambridge Labour Party adopted Dr Alex Wood as their parliamentary candidate. It was going to be a fight between Socialism and anti-Socialism. On the one hand it was a country of wealth, position and tradition, on the other there were millions of hard-working people who found it a struggle to get on, he told them. 31 10 16f

A combined exhibition by members of the Wireless Retailers' Association opened at the Cambridge Guildhall. J.T. Harvey of Aylestone Road is showing sets all of his own manufacture, the receivers being especially adapted for Cambridge listeners. W.K. Islip displayed Murphy Ultra products as well as Cossar kits and Beethoven portables while R. Lathbury of Castle Street sells Kelster Brandes including the Kobra three-valve complete with loud speaker. 31 10 16g & h

Exning school strike – strikers and parents – photo – 31 10 16e

1931 10 16 ES

Arthur William Stevens retired as driver of the Swaffham and Bottisham engine having been in charge for 25 years, but for 22 years before that he assisted his father Mr William Stevens who was for 25 years supervisor of the plant. His grandfather was for 40 years employed of the Hundred-Foot Engine in Littleport and Downham district and two uncles completed between them nearly 100 years' service in the same kind of work. Until three years ago the engine was of the old beam type. This was displaced by an oil engine which opened on September 12th 1928. The fumes that came from this were found to disagree with his hitherto good health so he retired. The engines drain an area of 7,000 acres and is now driven by Mr Bullman his assistant. The only thing in support of the present oil engine was that it could drain water a little more quicker than its predecessor which is now used only when absolutely necessary. During the 40 years he experienced numerous heavy floods and during the winter of 1919 the quantity of water on the land was so great that he had the old engine running day and night for a whole month and throughout that time he not only forsook his bed entirely but never went to his home 100 yards from the engine house, for a single meal. 31 10 16ES

Modern sluice at Welmore Lake. In the background of the picture can be seen all that remains of the old sluice at Welmore Lake which is now being demolished after performing efficient service for over a century. Men are shown engaged in the work of demolition while in the background is the new sluice which has just been completed. It is fitted with two valves and two roller doors which are motor driven - photo 31 10 16(2)ES

1931 10 23

Residents of York Terrace protested about the rabbit-skin warehouse in Sturton Street. They had large blue-bottles in their homes and maggots had been seen crawling on the pavement within a few inches of their doors. The proprietor had put in different machinery but had not obviated the nuisance. It should be moved from that crowded area so people could live free from the smells, maggots and flies. 31 10 23c & d

Prompt action averted a serious fire at the Panton Brewery, Cambridge. The premises were deserted at the time of the outbreak as the mechanics and other employees were away at breakfast but as soon as the alarm was given many hastened to the spot with chemical extinguishers, but flames spread to the roof and loft of a small workshop. The fire brigade arrived in under five minutes and prevented a big fire. 31 10 23b

The Isle of Ely lived up to its reputation for political sensation when a Rolls Royce car drew up before County Hall at March and a man alighted wearing an American Stetson hat, just in time to be nominated as 'an independent up-to-the-eye-brows Tariff candidate'. He was Major John Whitehead of Cockayne Hatley Hall. The other candidates are James de Rothschild, National Government Liberal candidate and Frank Knowles for Labour. 31 10 23f & g

Sewerage arrangement – evidence at Borough boundary expansion inquiry – 31 10 23a
Cambridge University Drag Hunt first meet on Market Hill – photo – 31 10 23e

1931 10 23 ES

Walter Porter, Stretham, summoned for permitting of horse to be worked in an unfit state. P.c. Waghorn was on duty on Station Road when saw an aged black mare drawing a cart loaded with coal. It had torn itself on some barbed wire. Defendant who was nearly 70 years old and had been amongst horses all his life so he did not regard the animal to be in bad condition. He was not a cruel man 31 10 23ES

1931 10 30

Two new church bells were dedicated at Over to complete the octave. One is a thank-offering from F.G. Weston, vicar, while the other is in memory of Horace Bernard Woolley, vicar of Longstanton 1905-1929. It was given by Ingle Robinson, younger son of the clerk of the church from 1839-1883 and the united efforts of Over ringers. Round were then rung as an octave for the first time. 31 10 30a

Captain Briscoe and one of his supporters in wheelchair – photo – 31 10 30c

A serious fire broke out, involving the greater part of a large stackyard at Fulbourn and also threatening the school. It was noticed while the children were at play. Every window on that side of the school was cracked and broken by the intense heat which also caused the trees in the yard to flare. The Village Institute was also threatened. Numerous volunteers assisted firemen but soon the stacks were reduced to heaps of flaring debris.

Ashwell Grass Track held its last meeting organised by the present promoter, Mr J. Tanfield. A new company is being formed and next season it will be run as the Three Counties' Speedway. A new track 1½ miles long and 120 feet wide will be constructed to accommodate light cars and motor cycles together with a club-house, grand stand and dressing rooms. The course will be equipped with loud-speaker apparatus and will be opened next Easter. 31 10 30d

1931 10 30 ES

P.C. Baldwin leaving Manea after six years 31 10 30ES

P.c. Baldwin, who is leaving Manea after six years upholding the law there, comes from a real old stock of 'Robert Peels'. His father served for 30 years on the Norfolk and Cambridgeshire Constabulary and he also had an uncle who served 40 years in Norfolk, rising from the rank of constable to be a superintendent. A brother in law is also at present, serving as a superintendent in the Norfolk force, having had 32 years of service. At one time, P.c Baldwin had a brother serving at March at the same time as he himself was serving. Baldwin has had various stations since he first joined the force in 1905. For eight months he served in Ely, then moved to March where he stayed nine years, before going to Chatteris where he remained until 1925. That year he was removed to Manea where he has completed his service. 31 10 30ES

G. Theobald retiring as commissioners officer after 45 years 31 10 30(2)ES

Manea three young children suffocated

We may be thankful that it is only on rare occasions that we are visited by such a calamitous occurrence as that which took place during Monday afternoon in the vicinity of Manea. There in one of the wildest spots one would wish to discover in the whole of Fenland, three young children were suffocated while locked in the kitchen of a house and not many hundred yards away their hard-working parents were labouring, little recking that the hand of deaths was hovering over their peaceful and happy home in such a tragic form 31 10 30ES

November 1931 CWN & ES

1931 11 06

George Langley, 80, a well-known figure on local fairgrounds, died following an accident at March. A lorry loaded with baled straw was driving along the High Street when it had to pull up sharply near the George Hotel after a pony drawing two carts pulled out suddenly. This caused some bales to fall off, one of which knocked Mr Langley down. He was removed to the Nursing Home but never recovered consciousness. The lorry driver had done all he possibly could and acted like a gentleman in every way. 31 11 06 ab

The keenness of competition between omnibus operators in the March area was apparent when the Traffic Commissioners heard applications for bus licences. The March Motor Co. operated services to Chatteris carrying 1,826 passengers a week. But the Railway Company objected saying they were the only operator to keep to a timetable. Their Benwick service averaged 350 on the two days a week that it ran. It had begun in 1922, but lapsed for some years until resumed in October 1930. W. Spriggs of Parson Drove had one of his buses stopped by police for being overcrowded and it had twice broken down. 31 11 06c

Mr A.W. Stevens, for many years driver of the Swaffham and Bottisham drainage engine at Upware, has retired at the age of 71. He had been in sole charge for 25 years and for 22 years before that assisted his father, William Stevens, who was previously supervisor. His grandfather was employed at the Hundred Foot engine for over 40 years. 31 11 06f

The atmosphere of Cambridge Reference Library was more reminiscent of a cinema during the showing of a hilarious comedy than a lecture room when the Rev H.K. Cossar told the cream of a world-wide collection of jokes about the church, University life and Irishmen. There is a great rivalry between John's and Trinity so when one dean sent a letter addressed to "The Dean of Trinity, near St John's College" the reply was addressed: "The Dean of Trinity, near Matthew's Café". 31 11 06d,e

March accident – bale falls from lorry – 31 11 06a

Arthur Heffer death – folk dancing leader – 31 11 06g

1931 11 06 ES

Great Middle Level Pumping Station at St Germans discussed 31 11 06(2)ES

1931 11 13

Scouters and Rovers mingled with grave dons in academic dress at the Senate House when a degree of Doctor of Laws honoris causa was conferred upon Lord Baden-Powell. The Chief Scout wore his accustomed uniform with his scarlet doctor's robe above it. The Public Orator said his soldiery in Mafeking made him so famous and popular that the boys of Britain chose him as their exemplar in many virtues and patriotism. 31 11 13f g h

The decision of the Theatres Committee not to allow Soham Electric cinema to open on Christmas Day is 'almost tyrannical', one councillor claimed. The public would have a perfectly free choice whether to patronise it or not. It was better than loafing about street corners or drinking in pubs. Some of the pictures were worth seeing, even at Soham. But family circles would be broken and the one meeting in the year would be destroyed. The council agreed that the cinema should be allowed to open. 31 11 13e

The Poppy Day collection in Cambridge has again smashed all records with undergraduate collectors struggling with money still coming in. Nearly two tons of coppers have passed through their hands. Early in the day the stock of poppies was exhausted and a fresh supply had to be brought in by train. Market Hill was the scene of half-a-dozen well organised 'rags' and at Silver Street the Demon Diver jumped in flames into the river and the collectors drew in good sums for his 'widow' and 'children'. 31 11 13 I & j

Capt. George Mathews, the engineer of the Ouse Catchment Board has died. He took the post in 1920 and supervised the scheme which placed the South Levels in a safe condition, the improvement of Denver Sluice and the complete rebuilding of the Welmore Lake Sluice. 31 11 13k

The reopening of the Oakington Women's Institute was celebrated by a social and dance. Music was provided by Mrs E.C. Papworth at the piano and Mr Boutellier's jazz band was very much appreciated. The competition cake was won by Miss Francis and the mysterious competition for gentlemen by Mr W. Elmore. Oakington ladies should be proud that their menfolk took a great interest in the movement. 31 11 13l

Ald Raynes Mayor – memories – 31 11 13a & aa

Armistice Day – 31 11 13b & bb & c & d

Council officials offer take reduction salary – 31 11 13b & bb

Baden Powell message scouts – 31 11 13g & photos of his degree – 31 11 13h

1931 11 20

The garage, containing two cars belonging to Mr P.H. Grundy of Royston was destroyed by fire. The wind blew the flames on to the chauffeur's cottage but all his furniture was removed to safety. Duxford RAF fire brigade offered their services and had the wind not changed their 50-gallon tanks of chemicals would have been vitally necessary, owing to the lack of water. 31 11 20a

Traffic Commissioners considered applications for bus services to Soham. A.J. Bailey operated a service to Newmarket on Tuesdays, chiefly for cinema-goers. He carried 259 passengers between January and June. However his application for a service to Ely was opposed by Ortona who'd started a service in 1921 – it was not a good paying route, the costs were almost the same as the takings. But Mr Bailey said local people favoured him and had "booed the Ortona out of Soham". 31 11 20c

1931 11 20 ES

World's biggest pumping station for the Middle Level - St Germans, photo feature 31 11 20(3)(4)ES # c.29

Stretham death of Emma Hazel, wife of Frederick George Hazel of Cambridge House, 76. Was born at Sutton eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs W. Bradshaw, when quite a child she went to reside with her parents at Stretham. On 17th of May 1882 married F.G. Hazel and lived at Halfway House. Later they moved to Emneth and in 1918 returned to Stretham 31 11 20ES

1931 11 27

The question of the development of the industrial side of Cambridge has cropped up periodically over a good many years. Hitherto works and factories have not been encouraged - the serene, academic atmosphere should be maintained at all cost. But economic pressure, the diminution in the spending power of the undergraduates, depression of agriculture and trade have hit the town very hard. Cloistered calm is all very well, but people must live. 31 11 27b & c

Lt Downham accident – tractor – 31 11 27d

December 1931 CWN & ES

1931 12 04

A meeting at Bourn demanded immediate steps to repeal the Tithe. There was land that had lain dormant for years because the tithe charge was more than the rateable value. The result was that the tithe owner got nothing, the tithe-payer got nothing, the agricultural labourer got nothing and the country got nothing from taxes. On the basis of production instead of paying 4s.6d. an acre farmers should be paying about ninepence. 31 12 04a

Three thatched cottages and a small hall were destroyed by fire in the village of Diddington. Mr Underwood, one of the tenants, awoke to find the room full of smoke. He aroused his neighbours and found that the three cottages and the parish room were ablaze. The fire brigade was on the scene very quickly and water was obtained from a pond but owing to the inflammable nature of the cottages they were powerless to save the buildings. 31 12 04b

A tramp was charged with setting fire to a stack of hay at Great Shelford. Frederick Pell, a fish salesman, said he served a customer in Granham's Road and cycled towards Cambridge when he saw a man standing beside the stack. On arriving home he saw a fire so he biked back and found it was in that same stack. He attended an identification parade and picked out the man he'd seen. 31 12 04c & d

A Trinity Hall undergraduate appeared in court following a collision. Students were not allowed to have motorcars and he was endeavouring to leave Cambridge without being seen, but had an accident in Coleridge Road and failed to stop. A number plate was knocked from his car and by that means the driver was traced. As a result he had been sent down for good. He did not think the penalty would have been so severe. 31 12 04d

A pony and several fowls were killed when fire broke out in a barn at Church End Farm, Cottenham. It was thought a pig had also perished, but it was later found wandering about the field. Cottenham fire brigade were called but their pipes were not long enough to reach the water. Flames licked the walls of a bungalow 15 yards away and willing helpers removed the furniture while others formed a chain to pass buckets of water with which the side of the dwelling was kept damp. 31 12 04e

Paul Robeson, the famous singer and star of 'Show Boat' sent into raptures an audience of over 1,000 at the Guildhall when he paid his second visit to Cambridge. He took up his position within the shelter of the grand piano where he sang songs of his own land that went straight to the hearts of the people. They ranged from the most sacred of spirituals to "Ol' Man River" followed by the convict song "Water Boy". 31 12 04f

When R.A. Taylor joined Cambridge Town as an outside left at the beginning of the season, few anticipated that within a few weeks he would gain his Blue in the University side. He showed distinct promise in his first match with the Town and it was not surprising that the Varsity gave him a trial. He centres well and shoots hard & such a young player should have a bright future. His sudden rise is remarkable as last season he was playing in village football. 31 12 04h

The Broadway Kinema, St Ives is much better kept than before. The licence was renewed but the manager's attention was called to the badly-lit exits from the balcony of the cinema. Mr Glazier said that in the future he hoped to show more educational films. 31 12 04i

1931 12 04 ES

Farmers protest against dumping. Branch of Agricultural party formed in Ely 31 12 04ES

Stretham golden wedding William Jarman, Brook Lane. For 21 years were in charge of the Royal Oak at Stretham Ferry but last year they retired & went to reside in Brook Lane where they lived before taking over the public house. Mr Jarman, 71, shows great interest in his allotment. He started work at the age of 9 at West House Ferry, Chettisham as a bird scarer at tuppence a day. He kept a house, wife and family of five on 10 shillings a week. The eldest son in a family of 16 he was born at Chatteris. He has a wonderful memory. He remembers a train smash at Stretham on July 28th 1882. Mrs Jarman was born at Fordham. They had five children three of whom are left. There are 32 grandchildren, many of whom visited Brooks Lane to congratulate their cheery grandparents. Photograph 31 12 04(3)ES

1931 12 11

William Darnell, the head porter at Addenbrooke's Hospital is the best-known and most popular man to be featured in our 'Mystery Backs' series. Almost every writer identified him. They described him as 'genial', 'kind-hearted', and say 'the hospital would be a sorry place without him for he has a smile and kind word for every one'. Many asked that if they should win the five-shilling prize that it should be donated to Addenbrooke's. 31 12 11a

Manorial rolls dating back to the 18th century were produced as evidence over a disputed piece of land in High Street, Ramsey. It was once called Vesey's Yard and had been conveyed with the right of bridle and barrow way to the defendant's land. He was a potato merchant who stored his empty sacks in the yard, sometimes he put bags of rotten potatoes there. But neighbours said that although the old cottages, which had been pulled down in 1910, had right-of-way it had never been used for storage. 31 12 11b

A fire broke out at Messrs Towgood's Film Factory at Sawston but was quickly extinguished by the staff brigade. It was confined to a part of the factory where benzine was used, and the damage kept to one dyeing machine and the roof of the building over it. Some film was involved, but this being non-inflammable, did not burn. 31 12 11c

G.P. Hawkins occupied a unique place in Cambridge life. Few men are twice Mayor and play such a part in the political and business life of the town. He opened Cambridge's first tea shop and later the Dorothy Café which can easily accommodate 2,000 people at one time. In the bakehouse in Parsonage Street tributes fell like water from the lips of the employees and 1,400 crowded into the church for his funeral. 31 12 11f

A Band of Hope meeting in the Bethel Baptist Church, Swavesey welcomed Mr and Mrs David Moore and their programme of moving pictures. Mrs Moore deplored the fact that the gambling spirit was so rife and a scientific film showed the narcotic effect of alcohol. Pictures of the Skegness excursion gave great delight as many people saw themselves on the screen. They were followed by film of a garden party in Christ's College and the colleges in their winter mantle of snow. 31 12 11g

Lord Astor's Coaches applied for permission to run a four-shilling excursion from Cambridge to London. But 'Varsity and Westminster Coaches objected; they ran one on Thursdays and would be hit by the competition. If Astors only had one or two passengers for London they bought Westminster tickets and put them on their coaches. 31 12 11d

Mr L.J. Parker of Reliance Motor Services, Cottenham, applied for a licence to continue to run a bus service to Willingham. Last year they carried over 19,000 passengers, chiefly workpeople carried on weekly tickets. Mr B. Washington of Littleport applied to continue a service to the Ely Beet Sugar Factory although last year had seen a substantial drop owing to big reductions in the factory staff. 31 12 11d

1931 12 11 ES

Lorry crashes into Walbro Cycle Works photo 31 12 11ES

One of the most shocking accidents which have ever taken place in Ely occurred on Thursday evening and while it resulted in considerable damage being done, no personal injuries were sustained. The scene of the accident was the Wallbro Cycle and Motor Cycle Works in St Mary's Street. The massive plate glass window, which stretched across the front of the shop was smashed into fragments, as well as one of the smaller side windows as a result of being run into by a three ton motor lorry. So great was the force of the impact that the crash of the glass could be heard from some distance along the Lynn Road. It was also heard in High Street and St. Mary's Street, and within a couple of minutes a great crowd of people assembled outside the premises. The driver of the lorry, from Northwold was negotiating the sharp corner from St. Mary's Street into Lynn Road when the steering broke.

Stretham beam engine

Stretham beam engine erected 100 years ago and was recently set in motion by Mr E. Stevens after four years of disuse. The engine is one of the oldest in the fens. Although succeeded by a diesel oil engine and Gwynnes centrifugal pump, which disposes more quickly of the water from the fen, the old beam engine and scoop wheel can still be used to keep the fen clear of water in case of an emergency; is known to many people at present living in the district 31 12 11(2)ES # c.29

The beam pumping engine and scoop wheel on the Old West River in the Waterbeach Level Drainage District was erected 100 years ago. It was recently set in motion by Mr. E. Stevens, the district officer and engineer, after four years of disuse.

The engine which is one of the oldest in the fens. Although succeeded by a diesel oil engine and Gwynns centrifugal pump, which disposes more quickly of the water from the fen, the old beam engine and scoop wheel can still be used to keep the fen clear of water in case of emergency.

Therefore, this is a tribute to the workmen of 100 years ago. 31 12 11(2)ES # c.29

1931 12 18

Messrs Eastwoods own 160 acres of first-class cement-making land at Barrington. We saw the marl being bitten out of the pit by a giant mechanical shovel and watched the complete process through to the final product. In the grinding mills the atmosphere was thick with cement dust and the din appalling. When we came out of this Bedlam of noise we were covered in cement dust, luckily it does not stick and most had vanished before we got to the final process, the bagging. 31 12 18a

The Ouse and Cam Fishery Board had failed to net the carp in ponds at Hauxton and Fenstanton as they had 'mudded' for the winter, but the drawing of lakes at Madingley and Longstowe Hall had yielded 15,000 fish, mostly roach and rudd. Several thousand gudgeon were also taken from Hinxton Mill and placed in the Granta at Cambridge. 31 12 18b

A haulage contractor from Bleak House, Bassingbourn told the bankruptcy court that in October 1928 his father gave him a lorry and he carted live stock. Later he purchased other lorries on the hire purchase system but some could not stand up to the work and cost a considerable amount for repairs. They were overloaded to a certain extent, but not more than other lorries which stood the work better. He could not say they were not driven over 20, 30 or even 40 miles an hour: he did not drive them. 31 12 18c

Gamlingay parish council has been told it may not get electricity for a considerable time. The Electricity Company has plans for a line from Eltisley to Meldreth in the future but there are many hundreds of towns and villages still waiting supply and the demand in Gamlingay is small. If factories were erected it would receive more favourable attention. 31 12 18d

A crowded meeting at Cambridge Guildhall threw out proposals for the Corporation to take over the Waterworks Company. Were they going to get a cheaper or more efficient service? No. There had been no serious criticisms of the management and there would be heavy legal expenses and compensation to directors. But the creator had given mankind three essential things: sunshine, air and water and it was immoral for water to be kept from the people by private enterprise. 31 12 18 e f g

Grantchester mill house rebuilding – 31 12 18h

King Street market goose – photo – 31 12 18I

1931 12 18 ES

Death of Benjamin Lee, Stanground. Was a waterman as were his father and grandfather. Could tell of the cruel punishments and hardships and lads were subjected to. 45 years ago he went to Stanground and setup as a barge man on his own account. He started with five old hulks, and by dint of hard work and economy was able to have 15 new barges built, and a barge in those days cost £120. With the advent of the war he sold out his barges and at the close he set up in business with pleasure boats. In the winter he would help his son with his barges and was engaged pouring sugar beet to the Ely factory up to his illness 31 12 18(2)ES

1931 12 18

The Bishop of Ely said there was abundant evidence that the number of regular adherents of the church bore a direct proportion to the number of the clergy. If there were twice as many clergy at work in the country, there would be twice as many practising Christians and church people. The ideal organisation of the church was that there should be everywhere one clergyman to minister to such-a-number of parishioners as he could reasonably hope to know and influence. But changing conditions, the depopulation of the countryside, the increase of urban populations and the building of immense towns in hitherto occupied districts had caused a breakdown of the time-honoured parochial system. And they were faced with the fact that while many incumbents had charge of parishes with populations too small to provide scope for their activities, others were vainly endeavouring and breaking down in the attempt to administer to 8,000 10,000 15,000 or even 20,000 souls single-handed. Common sense favoured redistribution of manpower but local customs and endowments prevented a complete solution in that way. The trouble was due to the shortage of clergy and could only be overcome by an increase in the number of ordinants. In their own Diocese, they had no problems of vast populations springing up in the new towns. They felt the shortage rather in the difficulties of finding sufficient incumbents for vacant beneficiaries and in the necessity uniting benefices permanently in order to provide a proper day's work and a reasonable day's wage for the clergy. 31 12 18ES

1931 12 25

Ely Urban Council's new offices were opened by the chairman from the balcony of the building. It was the most important municipal move Ely had made in the whole of its long history and marked a new era in the future development of the city. They had converted what was previously an eyesore into architectural beauty and the new council chamber with its horseshoe table would be a credit for many years to come. 31 12 25a

Sir – is it not time that Cottenham Parish Council gave its inhabitants some safeguard against fire? Recently two fires have occurred and on both occasions the premises have been gutted. True the village possesses a contraption which out of politeness is described as a 'fire engine' but for the purpose of extinguishing a conflagration its value is nil. Recently a farmer borrowed it for flushing drains. That is about its full capacity – 'Safety First'. 31 12 25c

The annual share-house of the Stretham Malt and Hops Sick and Dividing Club took place. The total receipts for the year were £62 12s 4d, the sum expended on sick pay had been £13 9s 4d so each of the 44 members received £1 13s. 31 12 25b

Sir – when Mr W. Rouse Ball and myself were invited to consider a local guide for publicity purposes we also recommended a volume of old views of Cambridge. In our local library and with the Photographic Club and many citizens, there are many old pictures which would prove of lasting interest as a record of the past, a volume which would appeal to all those who are interested in the township – Charles Porter, Sidney Street. 31 12 25c

St Ives tramps complained that their food and clothing had been gnawed by rats in the workhouse. But the Master said if they carried food in their clothing it was obvious that the rats would go for it at night. It was their fault as they left their clothes on the floor instead of hanging them up. He had shot 30 rats during the last month and there had been no trouble during the past three days. 31 12 25d

Fire broke out in some lean-to outbuildings at Hildersham Rectory, the residence of the Rev P.R. Phillips. It originated in the gas generator which supplies the house with light. There was one cwt of carbide and a considerable amount of coal in the outhouse but the house itself was not involved owing to the prompt action of firemen in pulling down the sheds and throwing water on the house. 31 12 25d

Cambridge Rabbits' Cricket Club, formerly Heals, held their annual dinner at the Corner House Café, Petty Cury. They had enjoyed a most successful season and were thoroughly established and well-known. Mr D. Burton further showed his generosity by offering to present yet another cup for the most outstanding bowling performance of the season. His cup for the most outstanding performance went to Mr R.P. Fuller. 31 12 25d

1931 12 25

The ancient custom of soliciting alms on St. Thomas's Day is still observed in Isleham where, in groups, the widows patrol the village and solicit from the upper and middle classes anything in the shape of money or seasonable presents 31 12 25ES

Official opening of Ely U.D.C. officers. Col Archers brilliant historic survey 31 12 25(2)ES

Ely Urban Council's new offices were opened by the chairman from the balcony of the building. It was the most important municipal move Ely had made in the whole of its long history and marked a new era in the future development of the city. They had converted what was previously an eyesore into architectural beauty and the new council chamber with its horseshoe table would be a credit for many years to come. 31 12 25a

Ely marked the most important municipal step it has taken in its long history by the opening of new and magnificently-equipped central offices in Lynn Road, adjoining the Shire Hall. The new premises provide Ely Urban District Council offices of which any ratepayer may well feel proud. On the ground floor is provided a much enlarged Fire Station.

In the past, the work of local administration has been conducted in different sets of premises. This has involved endless running about between the offices and the consequent loss of time. Under the new regime, the whole of the staff will discharge their duties under one roof. The Council will meet in the central building which are replete with a beautiful council chamber. This is of course the main feature of the premises. Designed on quite modern lines, it was finished with oak panelling. From the ceiling four attractive electric lamps are suspended. It was important that those who act as councillors should work under the best possible conditions; this is the very least that the ratepayers can arranged for them. And in these buildings, they will work both comfortably and efficiently. 31 12 25(2)ES

1932 Cambridge Daily News

I have copies of these articles

1932 January to December

January 1932 CDN & Ely Standard

1932 01 01

The custom of dancing out the Old Year grows apace, most of the Cambridge dance halls had special celebrations and crowds flocked to all of them. Then in the early hours the streets were thronged with men and women, old and young alike, who gaily wandered home, having little time for thought of Income Tax or other worries. 32 01 01a

Kinema films, p5

1932 01 01 ES

Bus manager retires, presentation to J.C. Parnell of Stretham; lorry business then launched as motor bus proprietor, March 1926 sold business to Ortona and appointed local manager. Opened with five vehicles, now has 17 at Ely. 32 01 01ES # c.26.46 *

1932 01 02

Unfit ground

1932 01 04

The Marconiphone Company has brought a unique radiogramophone entertainment to Cambridge where the public can hear the instruments and judge their powers of reproduction in perfect ease and without any sense of bewilderment. Gramophone records are utilised to provide a 'discussion' between the instruments with a running commentary on their virtues. What better way could be found to demonstrate them. 32 01 04

1932 01 04

Three labourers from Yelling were summoned for damaging hymn books at Graveley church. The churchwarden said there had been a lot of talking during the service and afterwards their pew was completely littered with hymn book leaves. But Claude Sanford said that as he handed the books to them a lot of loose leaves had fallen out. Parishioners would stop coming to church if the nuisance of talking was not stopped but there was insufficient evidence to convict them. 32 01 04a

1932 01 07

Scouting is progressing with new troops at Haddenham and Lt Downham, but the 1st Ely Troop has been disbanded owing to the inability to find a scoutmaster and four of their bugles are missing. The Littleport scoutmaster had also left and they were unable to find anyone else suitable. While the new bridge was being built at Adelaide one boy fell into the river but Scout Butcher held him up although he was gradually being pulled in himself. Without his help the other boy would have been drowned. 32 01 07

1932 01 08

Fire damaged St Ives Chicory Factory. Five Belgians, specialist chicory driers are employed, and at four in the morning one found the first floor was on fire. Flames spread through the silo to the elevator and to the second and third drying floors. Extensive damage was wrought amongst costly machinery. Arrangements had been made to increase the size of the building but these may now be delayed. Chicory is constantly being dried and on account of the terrific heat the danger of fire is always very real. 32 01 08

1932 01 09

John Hewitt, at 101, is the oldest man in Western Australia. He was born in Cambridgeshire in 1831 and emigrated in 1862. Since then his life has been spent among the vineyards of the Upper Swan. But his longevity has nothing to do with the acres of old Omar's grape: he is a teetotaler and attributes his long life to hard work. He still follows the plough and likes the best good corned beef. He has two married daughter and nine grandsons. 32 01 09 & 09a

1932 01 11

Pricilla Byford of Stetchworth has celebrated her 100th birthday. She was born at the Mill House where her father was a miller and married George Byford, the schoolmaster and organist at Chevington. She is fond of music but does not care for the modern jazz. A congratulatory message was broadcast by the BBC and she received a telegram from the King and Queen. 32 01 11

1932 01 13

The new domestic block at the Central Girls' School was formally opened. It includes a coal-fired Eagle range, electric and gas cookers, gas griller and iron heater. Cookery and dressmaking was a very important part of their teaching. Any girl who goes into domestic service with a good mistress has a ten times better chance than the girls who go into factories, the Mayoress said. 32 01 13

1932 01 15 ES

Opium in the fens a necessity in past years. 32 01 15ES

St Ives chicory factory fire. 32 01 15ES

1932 01 16

The annual tea party of the Parkside Infant Welfare Centre was attended by 60 mothers and their infants. Few fathers were present, no doubt due to the fact that the mothers were better able to look after their children without their presence. It was important they had prompt and proper care during the early years of life and the Maternity and Child Welfare Committee had done wonderful work in this regard. 32 01 16

Old Cambridgeshire p6
Peter Pan, p8

1932 01 18

Complaints have been received about the rabbit skin warehouse in Sturton Street. Inhabitants of York Terrace say it caused effluvia and was a nuisance injurious to their health due to abominable smells which prevented them opening their windows and because of the maggots which escaped from the works and entered their houses. 32 01 18, 32 01 22b

Cambridge suffered the loss of a centenarian with the death of Mrs Sarah Ann Howes of Glisson Road. She was a charming old lady with many interesting reminiscences. She attended the dinner on Parker's Piece to celebrate the coronation of Queen Victoria and remembered the opening of the Cambridge railway station and her first journey to Ely by train. Things are very different today, she would say: the poor people are much better off than they were and people have more sympathy with each other. 32 01 18b

Dr Charles F. Searle sued for enticing away wife of grocer's assistance – divorce – 32 01 18a

1032 01 19

"Peter Pan", the wonder fairy play opens at the New Theatre and its power to unite parents and children in a happy band of adventurers into the Never, Never Land makes it best play ever written for children. The production is one of the most ambitious seen in Cambridge for many years, a special feature is the marvellous flying, which gives a real fairyland touch to the scenes. 32 01 19

1932 01 20

A unique action involving two Cambridge stockbrokers, Elias and Company and W.A. Bignell and Co. was held at the County Assizes. It concerned certain transactions concerning the majorities to be secured by the parties supporting the National Government at the General Election. The Stock Exchange committee did not approve of such activities. 32 01 20 & 20a

1932 01 21

A Ram Yard plumber told Cambridge bankruptcy court he had been successful until 1929 but due to the trade depression he could not get sufficient work and certain customers did not pay. He built a house in Belvoir Road for his own occupation with the very best plumbing and if this sold for £1,100 he could repay his creditors. 32 01 21

The landlord of the Bridge Inn, Clayhithe told the Bankruptcy court that in 1909 he had emigrated to Alberta, Canada, taking a homestead of 160 acres. But his wife could not stand life on the prairie so she bought the Bridge Hotel and told him he could remain in Canada but she would stay there. He didn't want to lose his wife and family, so he returned. He knew nothing about the licensing trade and there had been no summer in the last two years, so he had lost money. One of the reasons for his failure was that he did not provide proper meals for customers. 32 01 21a

Disarmament, p6

King Street shoe repairer – John Motley – bankruptcy – 32 01 21a

1932 01 22

A man employed as horsekeeper by H.C. Crouch, the well-known Manea farmer said his wages were 36s a week with house, garden & a piece of potato land. They were harvest carting on a Saturday afternoon when the foreman told them they were to work till five o'clock. But they had no dinner with them and the gang stopped at 4.15. He attended to the horses and did not get home till 6.30 but had been dismissed for disobeying orders. The judge said the farmer was perfectly in order to sack him. 32 01 22a

Pye Radio invited people to inspect their works and queues five or six deep stretched halfway up Haig Road. It is amazing that a non-industrial town should have such fine works and few realised that we in Cambridge had such an important and highly organised industry in our midst. In these times of depression it is a novelty to find a works which is really flourishing. Despite making 4,000 sets a week, demand is greater than supply and they are planning to increase the size of the works by 50 percent. 32 01 22c & d

1932 01 25

The 'White Ribbon' Coffee House and Temperance Hotel in East Road has been taken over by the Salvation Army. After redecorating it will be run as a hostel and restaurant providing good refreshment and lodgings for 40 men at a reasonable charge. 32 01 25

1932 01 27

Photo, p7*

1932 01 28

The Sanitary Inspector said that seven cottages at Hauxton Road, Little Shelford, were in a very bad state of repair and nothing had been done to them since August 1927. Notice of a closing order had been served and all the tenants with the exception of one man vacated the property. The owner did not deny the houses were unfit and past repair and there was no alternative to a demolition order. 32 01 28

1932 01 29

In the fens thousands of acres of land are below sea level, dependent on internal and main river drainage works for their existence. They paid heavy Internal Drainage Board rates in addition to Catchment Board precepts. But land bordering the river above Earith and Cambridge derived benefit by that work but did not pay. The fens could no longer bear the cost of carrying their water to the sea.

It needed very large sums to put rivers into satisfactory condition and make good the neglect of the last 100 years, but Government revenue had disappeared. 32 01 29

Band of Hope, pic, p8*

1932 01 30

"Dukes Walk", the donkey which has been a familiar participant in all Poppy Day 'rags' has died. Rising from the mundane routine of drawing a chimney-sweep's barrow it enjoyed a distinguished career. In addition to being first favourite with undergraduates the animal was equally popular with children at Sunday School treats, as water-carrier at the University fruit-picking campaigns and as mascot to the 17th Lancers. It was while on military service that he earned his title which led to his appearance before the King in the Military Tattoo at Olympia. His owner, Mr A.W. Wyer, is to get another donkey. 32 01 30

February 1932 CDN & Ely Standard

1932 02 01

Cambridge stationmasters were told that protection from unfair and illegal road transport was essential. In the last year the number of passenger journeys have dropped by 16 million, goods trade decreased by 15 million tons and the livestock by a million head. Motor lorries were running away with the traffic they used to carry. A man can buy an old bus chassis, stick a lorry body on it and pick up traffic here and there, charging different prices as it suits him. 32 02 01

1932 02 02

1930 02 03

Cambridge Young Men's Christian Association cancelled the letting of their hall to an exhibition on education in Soviet Russia. Amongst the exhibits were anti-religious posters which upset several prominent clergymen who wrote to the News protesting. The organisers are looking for another hall so the exhibition can continue. 32 02 03

Parson Drove School should have a semi-permanent building in which handicrafts and domestic subjects can be taught. It would then be possible to provide a most efficient master there. They would still require three teachers at Murrow Council School but the Church of England School would be closed, dispensing with two teachers; another could be saved at Newton. However a bus would be required to bring in children from outlying districts. 32 02 03

1932 02 04

The Bankruptcy Court was told that the Autoservice Company based at Haig Road, Cambridge offered an automatic vending service using machines supplied by Pelpas and Uneeda Automatics of Edgeware. When the debtor was ill the manager of the Uneeda Company, feeling the illness was a bluff, interviewed him in bed. He immediately got up, against doctor's orders. The proprietor had previously invented his own penny-in-the-slot machines but never gained patents for them. 32 02 04 & 04a

1932 02 05

An NSPCC inspector said he had gone to Angel Drove, Ely where he saw a tent of sticks and pieces of sacking. Inside was a roughly-constructed bed of lashed branches with four sacks stuffed with rags covered with an old blanket, coats and rags. He found a 15-year-old boy and a two-year old girl who were very miserable, huddled together to get warm from a stick fire. They were filthy and verminous and had been used for begging purposes. In a hedge he found all kinds of food that had been thrown away, which some families would have been pleased to have. 32 02 05

1932 02 05 ES

Burnt Fen Institute new building opened by Fred Hiam. 32 02 05&(2)ES *

Downham death O.C. Few. 32 02 05ES

1932 02 08

A March bus driver told an inquest that when he got to Doddington Clock Tower he turned the corner into Newgate at 10 mph. He noticed a stationary bus near Dr Taylor's house and took the precaution of sounding his hooter twice. When he was nearly clear he saw a lady coming out from behind the bus; he braked sharply but she seemed to be hit by his radiator. He did not notice any bump and thought the wheel could not have passed over her. But she was quite dead beneath the bus. 32 02 08

1932 02 11

A fire broke out in the roof of Guilden Morden church on Wednesday. There had been two services and in preparation for another in the evening Mr S. Leonard the caretaker had re-lit the stove. The flue runs through the part of the roof where the fire was. The wood in the roof must have been very dry to burst into flames so soon after the fire was lit. The caretaker, aided by villagers, flung buckets of water on to the roof; a handpump was also used and the flames had been subdued when the brigade arrived. 32 02 11

Mole draining uses a cutting implement which bores a channel beneath the ground and so drains the water away. It is not a new method: in the olden days many good mole drains were cut by eight or ten horses drawing the drainer. Then came the advent of steam and the cable set. Now a demonstration using tractors was held at the University Farm using Garrett, Marshall, Case and a variety of other machines. Even though the ground was frozen they cut through it as if it had been cheese. 32 02 11

1932 02 12 ES

Robert Hinkin, Lt Thetford, 101, oldest resident – memories. 32 02 12ES *

Top-spinning in streets a danger. 32 02 12ES

Angel Drove tent home to family of six – photo. 32 02 12(2)ES *

1932 02 15

Of all the memorable gatherings which have been held in the Drill Hall, East Road, none has ever come up to the vast assembly which gathered when the Cambridgeshire Regiment Old Comrades' Association held its first reunion dinner. When they arrived at Southampton 17 years ago one NCO said: "It's taken three trains to get us here, a carriage will be enough to get us back". That prediction came true! A silent toast was drunk to the 900 officers and men who fell in the Great War. 32 02 15

Two houses at Horningsea which were subject of a demolition order had been bought for £200 by a working man who claimed that if they were repaired they would stand as long as the parish church. Councillors would be made to look as silly as school children if people could go behind their backs and sell property which was the subject of a demolition order. But he'd bought the houses for half the original price and had no intention of repairing them: he just wanted the land at the back. 32 02 16

1932 02 16

An 'automatic laundry' has been opened in Hartington Grove Cambridge. Dignitaries inspected the Forum Cleaning and Dyeing Company machines where several garments were cleaned and dried before their eyes in less than ten minutes. After cleaning clothes pass to a dusting wheel where they are tumbled and dried in a current of cold air before passing the eagle eye of a 'spotter' to the pressing room so that obstinate stains can be removed. 32 06 16

The Deck family has played an important part in pharmacy and public life in Cambridge for 130 years. Isaiah introduced the custom observed for 80 years of firing rockets on New Year's Eve, Arthur made balloon ascents with his friend Henry Coxall, while Alderman Deck was chemist to the Prince of Wales while a student at Trinity. He presented his Royal Arms to the Corporation and these are now in the Cambridge police court. The business continues to thrive under Reginald, with a new optical department. 32 02 16b

1932 02 17

Back to the Ferry – Dant's ferry being used again while approaches to footbridge reconstructed – photo – 32 02 17

1932 02 18

Ely Allotment Association complained of damage caused by 2,500 rats on Bridge Fen that had dug peas out of the ground. They made a special effort with 20 men, ferrets, dogs and guns but only managed to kill 50 of them. The rats were attracted by clumps of sugar beet tops being left but the council refuse dumps were worse than the allotments. At Prickwillow rats came from two to three miles to get to pigs, and they did not know what to do. 32 02 18 & 18a

1932 02 19

York Street residents signed a petition complaining about the Sturton Street rabbit skin factory. It had started in 1928 and the skins were stored and dried on the premises. The smell was very offensive and unhealthy, like old bones burning, there were maggots in the streets and blow flies as big as small bees. It was very bad in August – but the factory was only open from September to March. 32 02 19 & 19a

1932 02 19 ES

Canon Dickson, a Victorian precentor – history. 32 02 19ES

Thorney Abbey memories of F.W. Goodwin. 32 02 19(3)ES *

1932 02 20

A London sales manager was charged with demanding £500 by menaces from a Cambridge resident referred to in court as 'Mr Z'. After being told that he was going to be 'beaten up' by a gang of bookmakers Mr Z paid the man £500 in the presence of two hidden police officers. He told the court he was still going in fear of personal violence. The prosecutor remarked "It looks like an American gangster film". 32 02 20a & b

1932 02 22

New Cambridge Industry (employing only local men). Same day dry-cleaning service by the new British wonder machine which cleans and actually strengthens fabrics leaving no smell. Special opening offer: suit, costume, coat or dress, dry cleaned, hand pressed, collected and delivered for three shillings. The Forum Cleaners and Dyers, Market Hill, Cambridge (Advert). 32 02 22

1932 02 23

Many people will regret the passing of 'Lame Walter' - James Walter Mansfield – of Dove House, Park Street. He retired in 1918 after about 40 years of cab driving. He was a well-known figure in later years with his tricycle and dog, much liked for his cheery disposition. He leaves three sons and three daughters. 32 02 23, photo 23a

The Dry Drayton estate of T.F. Hooley may be converted into a Danish colony where the famous methods of Danish agriculture might be put into progress. There would be a great central demonstration farm with its own agricultural college catering for the produce of 500 acres. The majority of the 32 cottages on the estate will be sold to Danes and the rest made available for English smallholders wishing to learn their methods of farming. 32 02 23b

Police barricade, p5

St Andrew's Court, p6

Pentacle club, p8

1932 02 24

Mr R. Hinkin of Little Thetford has passed away, days after celebrating his 101st birthday. His health was remarkably good; he was only once attended by a doctor; that was five years ago when he fell from a ladder as a result of it breaking. He started work on the land at the age of ten, finally giving up when he was 97. He had six children, 25 grandchildren and about 40 great-grandchildren. 32 02 24

1932 02 25

Apart from the large hall and council chamber the Cambridge Guildhall is worn out and absolutely unsuitable. The accommodation in every department was deplorable – dark, dismal, horrid, unlit and unhealthy. On Castle Hill there was a fine new building being erected for the County Council who were planning to spend £8,000 on furnishing alone. Never since the war had prices in the building trade been lower; this was the right moment to consider rebuilding, councillors were told. 32 02 25 & 25a

1932 02 26

St Andrew's Court, off St Andrew's Street, was a disgraceful place in the centre of Cambridge. It was not only an eye-sore, but dangerous. Properties were dark, damp, reeking with age and decay. The houses were not fit for human habitation, children under school-leaving age will not be permitted to live there – but what of young mothers and old people? Such slums should be demolished, the Medical Officer urged. 32 02 26

1932 02 26 ES

Prickwillow man Henry Leonard unlicensed bus. 32 02 26ES

Haddenham Hillrow fire, Herbert Waddelow. 32 02 26ES

Wicken death Mrs E.A. Fuller, last of 13 children. 32 02 26(2)ES

Littleport death Jabez Cross, baker. 32 02 26(2)ES

Isle County Council: Parson Drove new school, slip in bank. 32 02 26(3(4))ES

Thetford death R. Hinkin. 32 02 26(3)ES

Pubs referred for compensation: Sutton Black Horse; Ely Eagle & Lamb; Haddenham The Vine; Prickwillow Hardwick Arms. 32 02 26(4)ES

March 1932 CDN & Ely Standard

1932 03 01

P.C. Woolf stated that while on duty in Petty Cury he saw some water thrown from a first-floor window of the Lion Hotel. He visited room 36 where he noted the curtains were soaking wet. The defendant said he had been spending the evening with his friends who had been drinking whiskies and sodas. Being a teetotaler himself, but not wishing to offend them, he had thrown his drinks out of the window. He was fined £1. 32 03 01

1932 03 02

The chatter of Lewis guns and the rattle of rifle fire echoed almost continuously over the countryside around the peaceful villages of Bottisham and Quy for almost four hours as members of the Perse, Leys and County School Officers' Training Corps took part in a field day. The first thing inhabitants knew of impending hostilities came when several motor buses disgorged their occupants ready for the fray. Our reporter was fighting his own battle on his bicycle with the wind in an endeavour to get to the battle front before the attack materialised. But the wind won. 32 03 02 & 02a

1932 03 04

It is distressing to hear the condition under which some people in Littleport are living. In many cases there are two families sharing one five-room house while a man, wife and three children occupy a three-roomed house with only one bedroom. They have applied for council houses, but the parish council decided they did not want any more built at present. 32 03 04

1932 03 04 ES

Road improvements Southery Ferry to Brandon Creek: photo. 32 03 04ES *

1932 03 05

Magistrates refused to relicence the Bowling Green public house, High Street, Chesterton. The landlord said a billiard room had been re-decorated, he had regular customers and it had become more or less an institution. But there had been a decrease in trade, despite the growing estate nearby. The Maypole in Portugal Place was the headquarters of the Whippet Club; the tenant was 70 years of age and his only means of support would be the old-age pension. This together with the Alhambra in East Road, the Eagle Tavern beerhouse in Victoria Road and the Clarendon Arms was relicenced. 32 03 05 & a

Miss Agatha Carroll, an actress, tells how after performing at Cambridge she received an invitation to go to a dance from a man she had known for years. Two young men called for her with a fast motor car which sped north at 60 miles an hour towards Gretna Green, where one intended to propose marriage in the famous smithy. After protesting again and again the driver finally turned round and returned her to Cambridge at five in the morning. She has received no explanation of the affair. 32 03 05b

Justices approved a licence for the Vine Hotel proposed at the corner of Vinery Road and Coldham's Lane. Basil Oliver, the architect of the award-winning Rose and Crown on Newmarket Road would design it with a large dining which many workmen would use for lunch. Over 200 of the residents of new houses recently erected in the area had signed a petition in support. 32 03 05c

Dr Alfred Haddon, 77, lives in a quiet house in Cambridge. He is a scholar of world renown, and a crocodile. He was so honoured by a chief on Warrior Island in the Torres Straits where natives believed in totems and sacred animals. He is forbidden ever to marry a crocodile girl, nor to kill or eat one. "I'm willing to keep my part of the bargain but am worried whether other crocodiles know they ought not to eat me", he says. 32 03 05d

1932 03 07

Saffron Walden Hospital has been given extra support by the workers' contributory scheme. It has a membership of 6,700 who paid over £1,500 which has supplied surgical instruments and a dental chair. A new sun balcony had proved a great boon to many patients, being particularly suitable for treatment. It was up to date, boasting an efficiency second to none having treated 490 in-patients in one year. 32 03 07 & a

1932 03 09

James Osborne told Girton W.I. that the village stocks in front of the blacksmith's shop on Church Green had disappeared before his time, but his father used to relate how he was ordered by the constable to supply a straw cushion for the last unfortunate victim who had to spend a chilly December night imprisoned in them. At Wash Pit Road farmers washed sheep in the brook which was also a bathing place for boys. Duck End Green was where ducks were raised on a large scale by the Eusden family and droves of geese brought by rail from the goose fairs in Lincolnshire were collected so their wing and tail feathers might be plucked and sold to make quill pens. 32 03 09

1932 03 10

An exciting six-hour police chase started after three men were found asleep in a car on the road between Whittlesey and Coates. When questioned they ran away across the fields until they found their retreat barred by the river Nene. Although the tide was flowing strongly the fugitives jumped in; one drowned but the others made off in the direction of Thorney. Police spread the alarm by telephone and the countryside was scoured by pursuers in motor cars, on bicycles and on foot. Eventually they were found on the railway line at Eye. 32 03 10

Mailbag, p8

1932 03 11

The record success of Dale's Brewery at the Brewery Exhibition was celebrated at the Dorothy Café when the cups and medals won were on show. It was a local firm, founded by Frederick Dale in 1903, their capital was all local, the majority of their barley was grown within a radius of 20 miles of Cambridge and malted locally at Barnwell. Eight of their tenants have over 20 years' with the firm. If they were Britain's best brewery then Mr Hawkes was the best brewer. 32 03 11 & a

1932 03 11 ES

Col G.L. Archer lecture on drainage of fens, shrinkage of soil. 32 03 11ES

Upware Five Miles from Anywhere, ghost-ridden fens: copy article from the 'Dispatch'. 32 03 11(2)ES

Beds, Cambs, Hunts Electricity Company to hire-out cookers, Ely. 32 03 11(2)ES

Ely Beet Factory's mammoth sugar store: photo. 32 03 11(3)ES

1932 03 12

Few villages with a population of 800 are capable of producing Gilbert and Sullivan operas in their own village hall, entirely unaided. In the last three years Harston Musical Society has produced 'The Mikado', 'Gondoliers' and 'Yeomen of the Guard' very successfully. This year it will be 'Ruddigore', and thanks to the advent of the electricity supply at Harston they will have a special lighting installation recommended by Mr Terence Gray of the Festival Theatre. 32 03 12

1932 03 14

Dr F.C. Searle is giving up his practice in Cambridge and will take up an appointment as a medical attendant on a ranch in Kenya Colony conducted by former students of Trinity College, known to him as patients during their stay at the University. "I have always felt the call of the wild and shall be in my element roughing it hundreds of miles from civilisation", he said. He has resigned from the Rotary Club and as medical officer to the Cambridge Home of Mercy. He will not be accompanied by his wife and children, for whom he has taken a house in Cambridge. 32 03 14

1932 03 15

A tall chimney standing in the midst of a smouldering ruin is all that remains of a large thatched farm house and dairy in High Street Fen Drayton. About midnight neighbours who smelt burning alerted the occupants and the elderly gentleman carried his invalid wife downstairs, clad only in her nightclothes. Fortunately the pond was directly opposite allowing firemen to work three hoses on adjoining houses and large wooden barns with thatched roofs which were in grave danger. The house, about 300 years old, was damaged beyond all hopes of repair. 32 03 15

1932 03 16

Stonea near Wimblington is composed of three public houses, a chapel, a few farms and a fen drainage engine or two. Mrs Naomi Parr, the wife of the engineer of the Middle Level Commissioners' pumping engine is jubilant as she had drawn Pelorous Jack in the Irish Grand National Sweepstake. She has received many congratulations on this piece of luck and has already received the tempting offer of £2,140 from Irish Pools. But she is determined to take her chance. 32 03 16

Anywhere ticket, p8

1932 03 18
Dr Searle, p5

1932 03 18 ES
Ely death Beatrice Sharman Franey, poet; took great interest in Chettisham. 32 03 18ES

Woolworth open shop March – photo. 32 03 18ES *

Ouse & Cam Fishery Board report. 32 03 18ES

1932 03 21
Cambridge Metal Stamping Company applied for permission to erect a modern factory at the rear of St Andrew's Road. This was an area zoned for residential use but was nearly opposite the Gasworks, which was not entirely a thing of beauty and the Corporation's pumping station, which was not quite as attractive as the gasworks. Pye's works close to the river were not at all objectionable, nor was Banham's boat building establishment. Despite reservations it was agreed. 32 03 21, 23 & a

1932 03 22
New Square, p5

1932 03 23
After all the controversy and heated arguments of a few years ago, there was no excitement at the opening of the New Square parking place. The council turned up in force and from under the shelter of umbrellas watched the Mayoress drive her car through the pale blue ribbon that had been knotted across the opening. At last motorists have a place where they can leave their cars and not come into the police courts. The Master of Jesus suggested that path inside the trees should be known as Coleridge Walk. 32 03 23b

Metal Stamping Factory, p3

1932 03 24
Cambridgeshire folk used to bake a large cake on Good Friday and, when dry, grate it into powder. This, mixed with water, was considered a panacea for many ills, especially diarrhoea. A popular Easter Sunday dish was known as 'herb' or 'season pudding, a kind of batter with onions, sage, thyme etc. Stool ball, a forerunner of cricket, commenced its season at Easter and games were played on village greens for prizes of candy cakes, a confection composed of eggs, sugar, flour, cream, spinach leaves and butter. 32 03 24 &

Photographic club – how newspaper blocks are made – J.W. Scott, manager CDN Photo Engraving Dept - 32 03 24b

Dr Searle, in Africa – 32 05 24a

1932 03 25 ES
Ely Canning Factory photo. 32 03 25ES *

1932 03 29
People attending the St Ives grass track motor cycle races gathered around the arena in anticipation of a pleasant afternoon's sport and the engines began to buzz for the first heat when down came the rain. The riders valiantly continued to plough their way round to the finishing post, churning up mud many feet high. Machines and riders were practically obliterated under a steady stream of earth and the announcer was the only one to discern who was who. 32 03 29

Rector of Stiffkey, p6

1932 03 30

Described by its builders and furnishers as 'the ideal home at the ideal price on the ideal terms' there is a newly built house in Kings Hedges Road which all prospective purchasers should inspect. With two receptions, three bedrooms, a bathroom and large garden it is on sale at the remarkably reasonable price of £625 freehold or for £35 deposit and 19/6 (97p) weekly. Robert Sayle has completely furnished it at a price of £140.10s. Lucky will be the wife whose husband presents her with this home. 32 03 30

The residential population of All Saints church in Cambridge is dwindling on account of commercial progress. Of 1,500 residents when the church was built, only 600 now remain due to the conversion of houses into shops and offices. The time is rapidly approaching when parishioners will have to consider the state of the church, the vestry meeting was warned. 32 03 30a

1930 03 31

Methwold and Feltwell Internal Drainage Board was in a bankrupt condition; it owed £10,000 and could not find the money to run the pumping engine. There was a risk of flooding 25,000 acres of the finest fenland in England. Many other boards were in the same condition. The whole of the fens had cost more than four times their value in draining. 32 03 31 & a

Grand Opening. W.H. Peak's new furniture showrooms, King Street. Our premises have been converted into four spacious floors exhibiting the most remarkable values in furniture, carpets and linoleum that has ever been offered in Cambridge. We have built up our business by selling only reliable goods. If you cannot pay a visit, we shall be pleased to send you our catalogue. – Advert. 32 03 31b

Mott death, p5

April 1932 CDN & Ely Standard

1932 04 01

Stiffkey, p5

Blackmail, p4

Shelford fire, p8

1932 04 01 ES

Ely R.D.C. council houses; Littleport 32 04 01(2)(3)ES

1932 04 02

The Ministry of Transport should take steps to control the speed of heavy vehicles near Ely Cathedral. Standing close to the main road it has to bear the strain of almost continuous vibration, especially during the sugar beet season when the flow of traffic is extremely heavy and causes the windows in the Deanery to shake. 32 04 02

1932 04 05

Magistrates decided not to confirm the licence of the Vine Hotel, proposed on the junction of Vinery Road and Coldham's Lane to serve the needs of a new locality developing at a rapid rate. It would not be an ordinary public house but a catering establishment – though residents would not use it for breakfast, lunch or dinner. 207 had signed a petition supporting it, 100 signed another against it. 32 04 05

1932 04 06

Astonishing examples of hardship to farmers were cited at a tithe payers meeting at Willingham. There was an agricultural depression with Norfolk farmers going bankrupt at the rate of one a day. Land worth £25 an acre in 1925 was not worth £5 today, yet the same tithe had to be paid on it. At recent sales of farmers' goods a dozen sheep had been bought for 2s 6d (12p) and a tractor for 2s (10p). It is impossible to get blood out of a stone, but it is possible to smash it – and that was the attitude of the Ecclesiastical Commissioners. 32 04 06 a& b

Canon Cockshott has worked for the church for 60 years, choir, mother's meetings, Stretham retire Shelford – 32 04 06a

Huntingdonshire Chief Constable said that parish constables were, on the whole, useless and out of date, seldom of any use to the police. He had no objection to their abolition. But they were useful in the smallest localities, where police were scarcest. It was an official who had the power of an ordinary constable within the parish and should not be abolished merely to save £17 15s. a year. 32 04 06b

Fen Ditton school was on the 'Black List'. It was the worst in the county and probably the worst in England. The number of children had increased and now there were 103 packed like sardines in the main room with three teachers engaged with three different classes with only a flimsy curtain between them. The sanitary arrangements were very bad and the school was falling to bits. There was no playground so the children had to play on the road. They could do nothing with the site and would have to build a new school. 32 04 06b

Hailier failure, p8

1932 04 08

The Rob Roy Boat Club was founded by a church temperance organisation, Mr Morley Stuart observed at their annual dinner, but looking around the table he thought they must have strayed a little bit since then! The Robs lived up to the highest credentials a rowing man could possess. Each generation had been worthy of the last and the present club was capable of winning back the Headship of the River plate. 32 04 08

1932 04 09

Sir – as motorists do not appear to need the new New Square car park I suggest something useful should be done with it. It could be turned into tennis courts or used as a model yacht pond, a skating rink or the site for the new Guildhall. Meanwhile the surface should be coloured an appropriate shade of green as the white grey of the desolate expanse of concrete hurts my eyes. And could passers-by spare a few books for the attendant to read while he is waiting for the customers who never come – Ratepayer. 32 04 09

1932 04 11

A woman had a narrow escape from injury when the pavement blew up as she was walking down Fitzroy Street. She had almost passed the 'Fitzroy Arms' when an electrical junction blew opposite Williamson's shop sending a shower of stones into the air. Smoke coming out of the cracked pavement turned into a sheet of flame six foot high after a man threw a bucket of water on it. 32 04 11

1932 04 12

Smoke and frequent storms of rain, hail and snow, accompanied by thunder. A biting wind blowing gale force. The ground covered by a thick layer of slippery mud embedding cars that had to be freed by horses. Tote officials' hands too cold to pick the money off the benches. Despite all that there were many smiling faces at the point-to-point races at Thurlow as a surprisingly large crowd braved the elements. 32 04 12

Fenstanton cricket pavilion was totally destroyed by fire; within an hour there was nothing left but the charred remains of the wooden fence that surrounded it. All the cricket gear was saved. The pavilion was a 30-year-old wooden structure regarded as the best in Huntingdonshire. It was erected by voluntary subscriptions and insured for £200. The origin of the fire is a mystery. 32 04 12a

1932 04 13

Large new buildings designed by Sir Edwin Lutyens are part of a comprehensive extension scheme by Magdalene College on land originally occupied by Bird's vinegar and mustard factory. For two years it has been one of Cambridge's biggest building contracts but the comparative obscurity of the site has kept it out of the public eye. Eventually the whole of the west side of Magdalene Street from the bridge to Northampton Street will be cleared for reconstruction with a more imposing bridge and a further college wing at right angles to the present one. 32 04 13

1932 04 15

Tramps are on the increase. Previously the 'weary willies' were habitual vagrants who did no work; bearded, unclean and ragged they 'humped' their dirty kits through rain and sunshine. But now many respectable and well-dressed men who have been shorn of the dole by the Unemployment Insurance Act are taking to 'the road' in the almost vain hope of obtaining some employment. There are some from high professions who have found themselves cast on the 'rubbish heap', while married men are leaving their families rather than be a burden to wives who are employed. 32 04 15 &

Sir Alan Cobban visited Ashwell with his flying display. A large crowd watched the tricks and racing in the many different kinds of machines used. There were passenger flights, not only in the airspeed liners, but also in an open plane, a cabin monoplane, an autogiro, a glider and, for those who wanted an extra thrill, a plane set apart for aerobatics. In one event a pilot shot six balloons tied to a post with a revolver from a fast-moving plane. 32 04 15b

Corpus Christi College is to auction 'Pinehurst' and eight acres of land facing Selwyn College, close to the new University Library. There is every reason to think that apart from preventing the covering of the site with ordinary houses, its purchase for collegiate use would in time be found to be a very wise step. The vendors may be trusted to give the friendliest consideration to any proposal that may tend to the advantage of the college. 32 04 15c

1932 04 15 ES

Stretham:

No Hospital parade this year must be discontinued – hospital had never really appreciated their work; but to hold parade on behalf of Nursing Association. 32 04 15ES

An improved Ely garage: Ely Service Motor Company; photo. 32 04 14(2) *

1932 04 16

St Catharine's was one of the colleges whose elaborate extension schemes met with a setback through the war. There was to have been a full elevation to Trumpington Street with a completely enclosed court beyond. Now the porter's lodge will be replaced, the cobbles removed and the whole area sown with grass to give a more balanced frontage. It is eight years since that the elm trees, which formed a grove, were cut down. 32 04 16

1932 04 18

The entire confectionery department of Messrs H.G. Stiles' bakery at St Ives was totally destroyed by fire. For two hours the bakery, which contained tons of sugar, flour and a quantity of tea, blazed furiously. At one time the destruction of the shop and tea rooms appeared likely but fortunately it was separated by a thick wall and firemen managed to contain the outbreak. 32 04 18

New Square pic, p8*

1932 04 19

Two houses at Horningsea that had been condemned for demolition were sold for £200 – they had fetched only £150 ten or 12 years ago. The new owner thought they could be repaired satisfactorily. Three quarters of the thatched houses in the area were not half as sound as these were and on that basis at least 300 houses must be condemned. But the demolition order was confirmed. 32 04 19

1932 04 21

A number of farmers claimed they were unable to pay tithes because of the very bad times they were passing through. Those on heavy land were in a particularly parlous condition. A Whaddon farmer of 80 acres owed £10 13s which was suspended until mid-September to enable him to pay it out of the proceeds of the harvest. An agent for Queen Anne's Bounty agreed to suspend other distraint orders on payment of monthly instalments. 32 04 21

1932 04 22

Mr E.C. Green recalled that when he was a boy skittles were played by country people in a large shed; then it was brought into Cambridge with a club room converted into an indoor skittle alley. Both the pins and balls were made of India rubber with the sides of the room padded so there should be no noise. After a time the game died out but had now once again become a growing pastime with a Cambridge League started three years ago. 32 04 22a

The new Smedley canning factory at Ely will handle a full range of fruits and vegetables but specialise in greengages which grow better in Cambridgeshire than anywhere else in Britain. Canning will commence in June with about 200 people employed at the outset. It is capable of dealing with 5,000 tons of fruit and 10,000 tons of vegetables a year. Conferences have taken place with local growers with plans in hand for a big increase in the local acreage of produce specially cultivated for the canner. 32 04 22

1932 04 22 ES

Coveney death A. Dewsbery, Hundred Foot Bank, former celebrated fen skater. 32 04 22ES

Wicken parish meeting discuss proposed water supply. 32 04 22ES

Cambridgeshire Times new circulation record. 32 04 22ES

1932 04 25

Greene, King and Sons who own the Panton Brewery formerly operated by Bailey and Tebbutt are closing down their Sudbury brewery as the result of the high duty on beer which has seriously affected their trade. It has been in operation for 60 years and was formerly carried on by Oliver Bros. The decision will not affect either the Cambridge or the main brewery at Bury St Edmunds. 32 04 25

1932 04 26

Brunswick athletic club, p7

Bertram Mills, p8

1932 04 28

Nobody wants a programme of industrialisation for Cambridge which would in any way spoil the amenities of the town as a residential centre, or disturb the charm and special beauty of the university. There were many industries for which the town was manifestly unsuited though absence of raw materials, skilled labour, housing for workers or industrial buildings. But new industrial zones could be established on the east side, the Chamber of Commerce say. 32 04 27 & a

A tractor caused a blaze on the farm of Mr John Scambler between Conington and Elsworth. Mr Richard Scambler was engaged in baling straw when the tractor back-fired and ignited a twenty-ton hay stack. A strong wind made it impossible to extinguish the flames. The stack was entirely destroyed and the tractor and baler damaged. 32 04 27b

1932 04 29

Buntingford's new post office, the most up-to-date of its kind in Hertfordshire, has an imposing frontage and the automatic stamp machines are lighted at night by electric strips. There is a spacious counter with the latest fittings while the sorting room is large with a rest room which contains up-to-date cooking utensils. Motor transport has been introduced so there will be three collections a day from nearly every box in the 15 parishes served. 32 04 29

Huntingdon Child home, p3

1932 04 29 ES

St German's, world's largest pumping station, progress: feature. 32 04 29&(2)(3)ES # c.29 *

1932 04 30

Cambridge parted with the last of its hansom cabs a long time ago, but there are still a couple of four-wheelers to be seen on the stands, one driven by George Jolley and the other by Arthur Carter. George has been driving for 40 years but says things are not what they were. Cabbies used to assist undergraduates who were locked out of their college by backing the hansom against the wall to allow the belated reveller to climb over, negotiate the spikes on top and slip in unobserved. 'Growlers' were always available for mock funerals. 32 04 30

May 1932 CDN & Ely Standard

1932 05 02

Tractor shoe, p3

Atom split, p6

Technical School, p8

Photographer, p8

1932 05 03

Cambridge Metal Stamping Company's plans for the erection of a factory on land off St Andrew's Road, Chesterton would endanger the beautiful prospect from the river. Alderman Starr said he had viewed the site and been surprised to see a very large building for Pye's Radio Works had already been erected on the opposite side of the road. Factories were being built without consent of the council but this one could be blocked under the town planning scheme. There were other places it could go. 32 05 03 & a

1932 05 04

Asked why the old ceremony of 'beating the bounds' of the parish had not been revived in Thaxted, the Rev Conrad Noel said that this was quite meaningless when most of the land and property was owned by a few people while most owned nothing. Almost all the common land had been stolen or annexed. He hoped the time would come again when the land would belong to the people and the old processions would proclaim the people's rights and ask for God's blessings on the crops. 32 05 04

Mr Taylor, the blind music, was a well-known figure in Cambridge. Who, having talked with him, has not been impressed by the personality of the robust, breezy, genial, gifted blind man who carried on a music business for over 20 years in his little shop in Bridge Street. Not only could he restore any musical instrument, however dilapidated, he was an exceedingly clever player of the violin and 'cello. 32 05 04a

1932 05 05

Metal stamping factory turned down – 32 05 05

1932 05 06

John Place, grocer's assistant v Dr Charles Searle re elopement of his wife – 32 05 06a & b

St Paul's church hall, Suez Road was dedicated to serve the large community resident in the Coleridge Road district. Jesus College had given the site with sufficient land at the rear to build a church while Mrs E. Rowcroft of Torquay had send a cheque for £1,000 for the building work. 32 05 06d

Prof Albert Einstein lectured on electricity and relativity in the Cambridge Senate House, filling a blackboard with mathematical symbols and diagrams. A tall, thick-set figure, with a great mane of unruly grey hair, he was totally unacademic in appearance, speaking in quiet broken English with occasional burst of German. He lectured quite informally while his quiet humour set the dons and undergraduates laughing many times. The audience included members of the women's colleges and a puzzled-looking group of young school girls. 32 05 06

1932 05 06 ES

Wesleyan Methodism's final synod at March before Methodist Union. 32 05 06&(2)ES

Norman Cross prison camp for sale. 32 05 06(3)ES *

1932 05 07

Prof Einstein at Cambridge – photo – 32 05 07

When Jack Overhill had his initial swim in the river at the age of one year and nine months he took to it like the proverbial duck. He was diving at the age of two and now aged four his standing somersaults from the springboard, reverse and hand-stand dives, flips and other stunts delight onlookers. Had it not been for his shyness to talk he would have been in the films by now. Paramount Sound News tried to make a 'talkie' of him in October but he refused to say anything! 32 05 07a

1932 05 09

The old Ortona bus company had a sort of family arrangement with the workers. But with the formation of Eastern Counties the men had suffered cuts in wages. A midnight meeting of 200 employees instructed the Transport and General Workers' Union to open negotiations for wages of 1s 4d (07p) an hour for drivers, 1s 2d (06p) for conductors, for a 48-hour week. On public holidays the pay should be double time. 32 05 09

1932 05 10

An inquiry was held at the Three Pickerels Inn, Mepal on a man who'd lived on No.1 Houseboat on the Counter Drain. He'd been playing the accordion, was quite sober and in the best of spirits but was later pulled from the water by his brother on Houseboat no.5. The deck had no protection, there was a strong wind and he might have lost his balance and slipped into the water which was six feet deep. 32 05 10

1932 05 11

Governors of Christ's Hospital, a charity body and extensive landowners, were summoned at Saffron Walden for refusing to pay rates in respect of the tithe rent charge on land at Clavering. They were unable to recover tithes due to them from tithe payers and so could not meet the demand. Their endowments had to be put to the use of poor children, not poor landlords. A distress warrant was issued. 32 05 11

1932 05 13

Importers have been supplying eggs in large bulk to the wholesalers, providing continuous, dependable supplies to the retailer. Now the opening of the Royston packing station has improved the size and quality of home-produced eggs. The National Mark Egg Scheme has steadied prices; it is the best hope of retaining existing markets and may increase consumption. 32 05 13

Inquest Henry Watson, photographic artist of Newmarket – worked for Frank Griggs – 32 05 13a and 32 05 20d & e

Royston egg, p3*

1932 05 13 ES

Stretham Feast parade: detailed article. 32 05 13ES

Death William Hawkes, Ely coal merchant. 32 05 13(2)ES

Soham fire rear of Walker's Stores, High Street. 32 05 13(2)ES

1932 05 14

There is praise for the improvements along King's Parade effected by the substitution of the low stone balustrade for the old hurdles and the construction of the light railings to separate King's College and Senate House Yard. All the work has been done by local labour. Messrs Coulson and Rattee and Kett have been the builders and the iron railings have been made by George Lister and Sons. 32 05 14a

Ortona garage – line of men applying work as bus drivers and conductors – photo – 32 05 14

1932 05 16

Flames reached the roof of King and Harper's garage in Jesus Lane when a taxi-cab caught fire as it was being filled with petrol. Cars in the garage were pushed out and the blaze extinguished. The cab was taken to the Thompson's Lane depot but some part of it still smouldered for at four in the morning it again blazed up. This time it was totally destroyed. 32 05 16

1932 05 17

Royston Town Hall reopened after being altered at a cost of £2,500, with a three-day programme of entertainments. Melbourn Players performed on the first night – but attracted only a small crowd. 200 attended a ball on the Friday – as this was the first dance on the floor it was not as good as it might be, but will improve in time – and a variety entertainment by amateur London artistes on Saturday seemed to the liking of everyone. 32 05 17

1932 05 18

Overnight two unfurled umbrellas were securely tied to the pinnacles of King's College chapel so they stood straight up. The college called a window cleaner to remove them, but despite his long ladder he was unable to get within ten feet. Two undergraduates went on the roof with shotguns and endeavoured to shoot them down. One fell but the other proved more difficult. The shots knocked the handle sideways. For some hours it floated gracefully from side to side in the wind like some gigantic weathercock. 32 05 18

Royston workhouse, p8

1932 05 19

Some of the former spirit of the quaint St Ives custom of throwing dice for Bibles was recaptured when for the first time in 30 years a service was held in the church afterwards and the Vicar presented the bibles at the foot of the chancel. The custom used to take place in the church on the communion table. Twelve children had been selected, but three failed to present themselves so councillors acted in their stead. 32 05 19

A fire broke out at the Corporation Store Yard, Mill Road when a tar boiler, containing 240 gallons, boiled over. The tar blazed up and ran under some old timber, setting it alight. Several barrels of tar and a horse lorry also became involved in the blaze. Flames shot 30 ft in the air and a dense, black pall of smoke settled over the neighbourhood. Employees attempted to put it out with water and sand. Had the wind been blowing in the opposite direction, serious damage might have been done. 32 05 19a

Tick fen dispute – 32 05 19b

1932 05 20

Rabbit skin factory, Sturton Street now improved – 32 05 20

Cambridgeshire bird life – survey and folk lore – 32 05 20a & b

Fire broke out in three lock-up garages owned by S.B. Wallis of St Barnabas Road, Cambridge. An Austin ‘Seven’ was completely burnt out - so fierce was the heat that the wheels collapsed, leaving the car resting on its frame. The fire spread to a 1932 Morris Major; its petrol tank exploded and before the flames subdued a Fiat had been reduced to a charred and twisted wreck of wood and metal work. But the Morris’ instruction booklet was practically unscorched. 32 05 20c

1932 05 20 ES

Stretham:

Farm fire Robert Driver, lamp caught fire; two men extinguished with buckets of water otherwise serious as is surrounded by barns and sheds.

1932 05 21

What would papers do without Cambridge undergraduates’ pranks? During a hard frost years ago some 150 callow youths had a ‘curling’ bonspiel on the pond at Emmanuel College. Each had a china bowl in lieu of the orthodox curling stone – and each bowl contained a lighted candle. Overnight a thaw set in and visitors watched gardeners salvaging the ‘curling stones’ from the bottom of the pond. Shortly afterwards undergraduates took a donkey dressed in cap and gown into dinner in hall. Most of the aged dons mistook him for one of themselves! But in those days no newspaper commented. 32 05 21a

The inner history of the King’s College roof-climbing escapade has been revealed. The hazardous feat was carried out by two parties of undergraduates, including several well known athletes, who are members of a secret organisation composed of skilled mountain climbers. They used the lightning conductor which has been loosened by previous generations of climbers. It is the climax of a series of climbs during the past few months; now they proposed to publish detailed accounts of their exploits. 32 05 21

Cambridge novel ‘Poor Scholars’ by A.R. Rossiter – 32 05 21b

1932 05 23

Cambridgeshire Insurance Committee considered moving to the new County Hall, Castle Hill. It was a very fine situation but what sane business man having a base in the centre would go a mile out of town to a place scarcely anybody knew - even though there was a free motor park. But future development would be on the north of Cambridge as the County had offered a very large acreage of land between Histon railway station and the old Chesterton village. 32 05 23 & a

1932 05 24

Night-climbers Kings chapel & Eton – 32 05 24

Dr Searle, p6*

1932 05 25

Ralph Starr reminiscences about 1875 – 32 05 25 & 25a

‘Varsity Weekly’, an undergraduate newspaper conducted on sensational lines, claimed that errand boys had been sumptuously entertained by members of the University in rooms in Trinity Street. As a result the writer was challenged to a duel. But police were waiting outside Girton College when a car drew up early in the morning. Inside they found three fencing epees with their protective buttons cut off and the points filed down to needle sharpness. 32 05 25b

1930 05 26

Cooking in Cambridge colleges – soups etc – 32 05 26

Bourn windmill worked until about six years ago when the sails were damaged in a gale. It was bought by Mansfield Forbes using money collected at an exhibition of Epstein's 'Genesis' at 'Finella'. Now it has been repaired by Hunts of Soham and will be presented to the Cambridge Preservation Society. 32 05 26a

1932 05 27

Non-payment of tithe, Saffron Walden farmers – 32 05 27

The Carnegie Trust offered to meet the cost of erecting a semi-permanent building to accommodate March Library provided the Isle of Ely County Council spend £200 on books. But councillors thought this an unnecessary expenditure at a time when people were hard pressed for money. 32 05 27 & a

The skin of a musk rat was exhibited at a meeting of the Ouse Catchment Board. The animals had been introduced into the country for breeding purposes but were a serious menace to river banks. They lived in colonies and made runs up to 1,000 feet long below water level. A reward of five shillings would be paid for each one killed. 32 05 27b

1932 05 27 ES

The cost of fighting fires; 13 calls from outside district; should RD bear its share: Ely UDC meeting. 32 05 27&(2)ES

1932 05 28

St George's church appeal – (detailed) – 32 05 28 & 28a

Sensational disclosures are expected in connection with a fivefold shooting tragedy. While the shooting was taking place a girl operator in the telephone exchange was listening to it, powerless to help. The dead woman was in the act of putting through a telephone call. Before the bullet entered her head she had taken off the receiver which was found hanging on its wire when the police entered the house. 32 05 28 b & c, 30, 31

1932 05 30

Shooting, p8*

1932 05 31

Mass murder, Hills Road – 32 05 31a, b, 32 06 01 & b

June 1932 CDN & Ely Standard

1932 06 01

The 'Brighter Roofs for Colleges' movement is growing. Overnight at Ridley Hall two cords were stretched from one of the college towers. On them pyjamas, pyjamas and still more pyjamas were floating in the wind. Large ones, small ones, brightly-coloured and silk examples were proudly swaying in the breeze and in the middle was suspended a parson's hat. After they had been lowered to the ground their various owners joined in a frantic scramble for their particular pairs which had been removed from their rooms. 32 06 01a

British Legion dedication Isle standard – 32 06 01

Shooting funeral, p8

1932 06 02

King's nightclimbing – broolly removed – 32 06 02

Prince George Wisbech show

1932 06 03

Messrs Hall, Cutlack and Harlock told a rating appeal there had been two large breweries at Ely which had now amalgamated. The Forehill Brewery had been expanded, with a new bottle washing shed and additional offices. But at the Quay Brewery the mineral water factory had closed and it was only used as a storehouse for lorries that were waiting to be sold. 32 06 03

1932 06 03 ES

Milk Marketing scheme, Isle to join. 32 06 03ES

March Tarmac works: photo. 32 06 03ES *

1932 06 04

Bourn windmill was handed over to the Cambridge Preservation Society. It was probably the oldest in the country and cannot be economically used today. However it was pretty and on that criterion alone it is worth preserving. It was quite possible it would be made into a Youth Hostel. 32 06 04

A new Cambridge Guildhall should be built on the corner of East Road and Parkside where the site is three times as large, meeting the requirements of the Corporation for many years. The existing Guildhall on Market Hill should be replaced with shops on the ground floor and offices and flats above, councillors have recommended. 32 06 04a, 06a, 06aa

1932 06 06

The Conservative fete at the Gog Magogs has established itself as one of the events of the summer. Ten thousand people from every part of the county poured into the grounds by bus, car, cycle or on foot. There were stalls where all manner of things could be bought, a darts tournament, whippet racing and non-stop dancing on the cricket ground to the music of Salmon's and Foster's "Imps" Bands. 32 06 06c

Retrial Dr Charles Frederick Searle divorce case – 32 06 06b, bb, 32 06 07

Nightclimbing craze spreads to Emmanuel – 32 06 06d

Guildhall site, p3*

1932 06 07

Stan Waller, the Cambridge middle-weight boxer and one of the best in the country, has returned from a tour to South Africa designed to re-establish boxing in the public taste, for they have gone all-in-wrestling mad. He beat Eddie McGuire, the South African champion in a bout in Johannesburg. Meanwhile Cambridge had its first taste of open-air boxing with a tournament on the Town Football Ground promoted by Arthur Waller. 32 06 07a aa b

1932 06 09

May races opening – crowds – 32 06 09

New Guildhall debate – 32 06 09a, 32 06 20 & a, 32 06 21

1932 06 10

A 100-year old Girton lady, Mrs Elizabeth Evans, was remarkably active to the day of her death. She was a hard worker in a local laundry until she left, aged 86, to look after her husband. Up to a year ago she kept house for one of her grandsons in High Street and could be seen scrubbing the front step in the morning when she was 99 years of age. 32 06 10

Salvation Army young people's hall foundation – 32 06 10a & b

1932 06 11

St George's church foundation stone – 32 06 11

1932 06 14

May Week balls, p8

1932 06 15

Milk marketing scheme – 32 06 15a

Ebenezer Haynes, shoe maker – 32 06 15

Lolworth roadman killed, p8

1932 06 16

During mole draining on a Bourn farm the operator noticed the mole was pulling very hard and reduced the depth from one foot to ten inches. The land was very stiff, heavy and stony and oil consumption on his Fordson tractor was 30 gallons a day. But another contractor said such a tractor could pull a mole and drain 18 inches deep on such land and should consume only 12 gallons. The price charged was extortionate. 32 06 16a

The new Trinity Hall Estate off Milton Road is one of the highest, healthiest and more popular residential districts of Cambridge. It has been developed on garden suburb lines with grass verges and street lighting. The rooms are airy and spacious, hot and cold water is supplied to the bathroom, and there is a good garden with space for a garage. The first seven houses were sold before they were complete. 32 06 16b

Kensington advert, p7*

1932 06 17

A Cambridge Publicity Club was formed at a meeting of prominent businessmen. Some might like to advertise their goods by brochures, others by taking large space on hoardings or through the local press but they would be better off by the pooling of their ideas and by coming into contact with specialists who could offer advice. It might become a branch of the Chamber of Commerce. 32 06 17 a & b

A Cambridge doctor claimed payment from an undergraduate for a course of sun ray treatment. He sent his account to the college but the tutor had not been told the student had been ill and queried the charge. When undergraduates are going down it is extremely difficult, if not impossible to get them to pay their bills, he lost more from undergraduates than any other kind of patients, the doctor complained. 32 06 17 c& d

Stretham garden fete, p6*

1932 06 18

The Stokesay Laundry of Histon Road is a happy hive of industry where women and girls work under ideal conditions in a healthy atmosphere. They have installed a wonderful ironing machine which is the last word in efficiency. The extensive drying grounds in a very large garden ensure final cleanliness and sweetness. 32 06 18 & 18a

1932 06 20

Guildhall debate pic, p6*

Robinson plane crash, p7

1932 06 21

Gonville Place photo, p8*

1932 06 22

The Prince of Wales landed in his red Puss Moth monoplane at Marshall's aerodrome. He jumped hatless from the plane, then donned a boater and drove to the Leys School where he opened the new squash courts and sports ground. On his return he was assisted into his raincoat in preparation for a lofty flight in search of a favourable wind before he stepped into his monoplane, soared gracefully aloft and headed for London. 32 06 22a

Midsummer Fair returns to original site, opening – 32 06 22b

1932 06 24

There were three horses for sale on Midsummer Common – which is three more than last year. A group of bored-looking men watched the animals being put through their paces. An elderly man dressed in country clothes patted one of them and looked critically at its teeth. A young man in oil-stained overalls walked over, a pail in each hand. “What’s going on”, he asked. “The Horse Fair” I replied. “Never heard of it”. So pass out ancient institutions. 32 06 24

1932 06 24

Midsummer Horse Fair, p8*

1932 06 24 ES

Methodist Minister, H.R. Didcock leaving. 32 06 24ES

Ely’s new canning factory: photo. 32 06 24(2)ES

Chatteris Black windmill, Doddington Road damaged by fire. 32 06 24(3)ES *

Soham ‘Last Post’ at War Memoria. 32 06 24(4)ES

1932 06 28

“Billy” Godlington was born in Cambridge 64 years ago and began his career as a waiter at the Bull Hotel before serving in a similar capacity at Trinity College for forty years. His wife Florence (nee Leggett) was active during the Great War in connection with the Tipperary Club which made socks and sandbags for use at the Front. They had five sons, three of whom worked at Trinity with their father; four were in the war, one being killed serving with the Australians. 32 06 28

1932 06 29

Willingham house struck lightning – 32 06 29

1932 06 30

Newmarket Electric Light Company’s new showrooms in the High Street include a large room to be used for cooking lectures and demonstrations. Progress is being made with the changeover from direct to alternating current and they can now shut down the Newmarket power station. The cost had come down to 8d (04p) a unit, but it was still somewhat of a luxury at that price. 32 06 30 & 30a

March Town Football Club’s season was probably the worst in their 50 years of existence. They had a deficit of more than £30 and several of their best players were unscrupulously persuaded to play for another team. They competed in two leagues and finished at the foot of each. The bright feature was the wonderful loyalty of their few playing members in the face of overwhelming defeats, week after week. 32 06 30b

July 1932 CIP & Ely Standard

1932 07 01

Sir. Agricultural workers’ wages are down from 46 shillings (£2.30) to 30 shillings (£1.50) and even so many are unable to find employment. The price of farm produce is below the cost of production but still the ‘Grasping Parson’ expects to receive the same tithe as they did when wheat was making £2.8s a quarter – it is now around £1.4s. They do not care who suffers - poverty-stricken widows have been dragged through the county court. The church is committing suicide by its callous treatment of tithe holders - ‘Fair Play’. 32 07 01

Sir – Histon has a railway crossing – but it is by no means a ‘level’ one. It needs a footbridge for pedestrians. Recently two villagers were waiting for one of the long goods trains to pass along the railway; "Is it a goods or a passenger" one asked. "Goods" was the resigned reply. "Then I'll just go home and have a shave while it goes by". 32 07 01b

The cross-roads in the centre of Melbourn were the scene of another accident when a Jowett car going to Royston collided with a Morris Isis drive by Sir Layton Blenkinsop which was crossing to Meldreth. Happily both cars were travelling dead slow, otherwise the collision might have had more serious results. The smaller Jowett car was damaged rather badly. 32 07 01c

Balsham British Legion, p10

Willingham lightning, p13*

1932 07 01 ES

Wilburton church garden fete photo. 32 07 01ES

1932 07 08

A new oak altar and side chapel was consecrated at All Saints' Church, Huntingdon. It is the gift of the Countess of Sandwich in memory of her mother, Bessie McLeod Leggett, and was designed by J.M. Cowper who was responsible for the Warriors Chapel at Westminster Abbey. 32 07 08

Wicken Coronation Band played during a fete to raise money for repairs to the village almshouses. There was plenty to amuse with darts, coconut shy, a rifle range and various stalls. Then there was a dancing display by pupils of Miss K. Setchell of Sutton and a variety entertainment by C. Arnold's Concert Party. Mr C. Alsop – known as 'Wick' on account of his activities for the village – said many Cambridge people had made donations. 32 07 08a

The publican of the Prince of Wales, Histon Road, Cambridge became licensee in May 1914. His wife ran it while he served in the army during the war and afterwards he made 25 per cent profit on beer and a third on spirits. But his furniture was not very good and there was no inducement for people to come there. There were four other pubs in the locality and he lost trade when the depression set in. 32 07 08b

Sir – since Eastern Counties Omnibus Company took over from Ortona the conditions of employment are far worse. Conductors now have to write numbers in tiny squares all day and only get 2s 6d a week extra for working a double-deck bus. The old firm granted a permanent pass for employees' wives, now they get none. Cleaners and fitters - the highly-skilled men who tend the fleet - earn over a pound a week less than before. – A Ratepayer. 32 07 08c

Windows of the houses in Sawston were rudely shaken by a heavy explosion, followed after a brief interval by another equally loud. People ran into the streets and rumours were rife – two aeroplanes were down, an anti-aircraft gun was being tested at Duxford. The noise was called by huge rockets purchased by the Parish Council as fire warnings. They are intended bring firemen on bicycles to the station where they secure a horse, harness it to the engine and gallop to the fire. It would doubtless soon be got under control – if there was only a water supply! 32 07 08e

Allegations of a bus 'war' between Eastern Counties and Reliance Coaches were revealed when Mr L.J. Parker applied to run an additional service from Cottenham to Cambridge on Saturday nights. Reliance charged one penny to garden workers between Cottenham church and Garden Gate, considerably less than Eastern Counties. But they claimed his vehicles were driven by men who were not licenced for public service work. 32 07 08d

Harston land, p7

1932 07 15

The Duke and Duchess of York opened Papworth Village Settlement's Women's Hospital which provides accommodation with the personal appurtenances of a private bed-sitting room so that each of the 62 patients may enjoy cheerful, colourful surroundings in her fight for health. Then they journeyed on to Addenbrooke's Hospital to open a new wing for children. 32 07 15a & b

Cambridge councillors say the municipal buildings should remain on the Guildhall site and not move to Parkside as had been proposed. It should be a worthy building, not surrounded by shops. With four floors they could provide 70 per cent more accommodation for officials but five would add to the dignity of the building and leave some surplus space that could be let and provide a source of income. But it must not overwhelm the market place. 32 07 15 c & d

The new Shire Hall was opened with little ceremony in the presence of a handful of people. The Architect (H.H. Dunn) presented the Chairman, Ald W.C. Jackson, with a gold-covered key engraved with the County Arms with which he unlocked the door. Soon a stream of guest arrived and the corridors presented a most animated appearance. The council chamber is very similar to that at the old County Hall in Hobson Street from which all the seats and tables have been removed while every care has been taken to provide the maximum air, light and spaciousness to the offices. 32 07 15e & f

Policeman charged, p7
Queen at Fitzwilliam, p9*
Ramsey rights of way, p13

1932 07 15 ES

Peat shrinkage lecture by Maj G. Fowler: Holme Fen post. 32 07 15ES

1932 07 22

Fenstanton's new village hall was opened by the Bishop of Ely. The idea was mooted 17 years ago and the work had gone on under three vicars. The hall had been converted out of some stables at the back of the vicarage at a cost of £500 and a piece of land added in the event of a further extensions being required. It gave parishioners the opportunity to develop fellowship, unity and enjoyment between one another. 32 07 22a

Tobacco-growing in this country has been crushed by absurd laws but pipe and cigarette tobacco could be grown on Cambridgeshire allotments – Shelford alone could produce many tons of cured leaf. It could be a more profitable industry than sugar beet with a factory in Cambridge providing employment. Mr J. Burn-Murdoch will show samples of his home-grown tobacco at Shelford Horticultural Show together with specimens of cigarettes manufactured in England. 32 07 22b

Rail smash, p6

1932 07 22 ES

Organising milk producers: scheme explained. 32 07 22(3)ES

1932 07 29

Cambridgeshire County Council held their first meeting at the new administrative buildings on the Castle site when the recommendation that it be called 'Shire Hall' was adopted without discussion. It was admirably suited to its purpose without any frills and decorations. But Councillor Fordham regretted the purchase of two Turkey carpets for the councillors' room at cost of £37. 32 07 29a & b

Farmers objected to the proposed harvest wages; Mr Scambler declared that prices were down by 25 per cent. He had 500 lambs that looked like making £500 less than last year. Agriculture was bankrupt and prices had gone to bits. How could the farmer pay for the harvest while we allowed foreign food to come in – wheat was being imported from Germany at 21 shillings a quarter? Special harvest wages should be wiped out. Farmers were mostly honest men and so were the workers. They should be left to make an agreement themselves. 32 07 29e

A bricklayer's labourer told the court that when he passed Newsells Lodge at Barley he noticed a lorry near Mr Crossman's spinney and saw the prisoners come out with iron fencing on their shoulders which they put on the vehicle which then drove off. Frederick Dodkin, a blacksmith, noticed it bore the name 'General Motor Transport Co., Ealing'. One defendant said he took them to make petrol can crates. The other said "I was with him, but I did not want them". They were sorry they did such a foolish thing. 32 07 29d

Littleport was plunged into gloom after a fatal accident at the Show. A man died when his parachute became entangled in the rudder of the plane. The machine at once tail dived and drifted backwards over an oatfield. The right-hand wing struck the ground and the propeller dug into the soil. The pilot lay bleeding and about 30 feet from the tail was a mark caused by the body of the parachutist striking the ground. His wristwatch was still going. 32 07 29f

The old bells of Swavesey church have been tuned and re-hung on a steel frame with ball bearings which lessens the work of the ringers very considerably. They have been in the church for about 180 years and were originally fitted by Messrs Gillet and Johnson of Croydon. A new floor has also been laid under the bells which makes their tone more pleasant. 32 07 29h

Painting streets, p6
Stretham man fined, p20*
Lorry fire, p13

1932 07 29 ES

Littleport show plane crash, parachutist suspended in mid air: photo. 32 07 29&(2)(3)ES *

August 1932 CIP & Ely Standard

1932 08 05

Nearly 200 troops arrived at Ely for the voluntary camp of the Cambridgeshire Territorials. On Tuesday they marched to a field on the Littleport Road where the men engaged in machine gun work while trained machine-gunners were taking ranges from the water tower. The men have been accommodated in the old Barracks while the officers' mess has been at the Lamb Hotel where in accordance with the old Militia tradition the band has played outside in the evenings. All the catering has been done with local tradesmen, which has been much appreciated. 32 08 05a

Seven pigs were roasted alive in a fire which destroyed buildings at Manor Farm, Great Raveley. Mrs F. Herbert made a great effort to save them but failed owing to the intense heat. She threw buckets of water on the flames and prevented them reaching the house until the arrival of Ramsey Fire Brigade helped extinguish the blaze. 32 08 05b

Cereal growing in Cottenham has reached the lowest ebb in living memory. Many acres of land have become derelict and present a sorry spectacle indeed. It suffered first in May from excessive wet, followed by prolonged drought and then the recent heavy storms. The farmer's expenses will again over-ride receipts. Most fruit growers are disappointed with the crops, though the canners have taken a fair quantity, which has helped. 32 08 05c

1932 08 05 ES

The handsome new school which has been erected at Christchurch was opened in the presence of a large gathering. Known as the Townley School it is in every way an ideal building for the purpose, having been designed according to the most modern standards. The original intention was that it should be a Junior Mixed School for the education of children from the ages of 5 to 11 and that the older children should attend a Senior School which was to have been built by the Norfolk Education Authority between Outwell and Upwell. Owing to the financial stringency that building was not preceded with and the new one has had to be applied to the accommodation of all the children from the Christchurch district, accept the infants who are being taught in the old village school. All the children who have attended the Euximoor School have been transferred to the new one and the buildings there closed. The school is of the open-air type, the first such to have been built in the Isle of Ely and all the windows give 100-percent opening. It was also the first village school in the Isle to possess a Central Hall. However this has now had to be equipped for the teaching of handicrafts for the boys and domestic subjects for the girls. The benches have been specially made so that they can be converted into dining tables but can also be used for classroom purposes. The Rector said that Christchurch people had always been interested in education because the first school in that parish was, partly at any rate, put up by public subscriptions. The headmaster is Mr L.W. France who has been transferred from Newton and was formerly at Witchford. 32 08 05&(2)ES

Witcham church restoration. 32 08 05(3)ES *

Soham 100-year old Robert Horsley was best man, 1892. 32 08 05(3)ES *

Territorial Army parade, Ely. 32 08 05(3)ES

1932 08 12

The University of Cambridge has accepted Messrs Rattee and Kett's tender for the superstructure of the new University Library. They are also building an extension to the School of Agriculture and the Royal Society Mond Laboratory while Mr Sindall is building the new block of lecture rooms in Mill Lane and Coulson and Son have the contract for the extension to the Physiological Laboratory. These valuable contracts have been made possible largely by the munificent gift of the Rockefeller Trustees. 32 08 12b

Sir – On Saturday night I saw a meteorite near Ramsey. It dropped in a slanting direction towards the southern horizon and appeared to be travelling in half circles. A long trail of greenish light was left behind, although the meteorite itself was yellow and even more brilliant than lighting. It was not like any other shooting star, five of which I saw before dawn. – J.A. Burn-Murdoch. 32 08 12c

The Union Jack and the American flag were draped behind the chair of the President, H. Franklin when Cambridge Rotarians assembled at the Dorothy Café to hear an address from the founder of Rotary, Mr Paul Harris. Mr Galloway said they were content to assist in the cultivation of this great movement and offered its founder their most grateful and affectionate tribute. 32 08 12d & e

The greatest Guide camp Cambridgeshire has ever known is taking place in Chippenham Park to commemorate the 21st anniversary of the movement. As I motored round the camp we saw on all sides healthy, merry, laughing girls, filled with the zest that only life in the glorious open can give. A clump of huge beeches is the site of a huge camp fire where every one of the 600 Guiders gather round the blazing logs to sing and yarn, the night sky overhead and the smell of wood smoke in their nostrils. Then are friendships made. 32 08 12f & g

Suicide Arthur Savidge, Twentypence Road, Wilburton – worried that father had lost farm – 32 08 12a

Swavesey land dispute – 32 08 12f

1932 08 19

A fracas at Wellington Street had a sequel at Cambridge Police Court. One man claimed another had insulted his wife by calling her a 'wireless set' so he hit his mother and grandfather. After that there was a free fight. The Mayor said they could not do that sort of thing and Wellington Street must be better behaved. People should not meddle with other people's private affairs. 32 08 19a

Proposals to close the Saffron Walden Public Assistance Institution and build a large institution at Takeley were criticised. It would be a large specialist hospital for old people but old age was not a disease, what they wanted was comfort. It would mean herding people together for the sake of economy, not treating them as human beings. An institution had been built at Dunmow 20 years ago and a few years later was scrapped and sold for less than half its cost. 32 08 19b

An enquiry into a footpath at Aspenden heard from Dr Harry Dixon from Buntingford who said he went to the village many times using the footpath across the field at the back of the Red Lion. The stile had not been wired up when the pub burned down in 1917 and until 1929 there was never any obstruction. Other elderly residents remembered using it. But it was not shown on the Enclosure Award and people had been stopped from time to time by gates and barricades. 32 08 19c & d

John Austin Fabb started in business as a printer, moving to Guildhall Street in 1881 and Corn Exchange Street in 1920. He printed the Cambridge Review from its inception in 1879 and conceived the idea of a list of Resident Members of the University in 1890. During the war he compiled seven editions of the list of Cambridge University men on active service. He was a prominent Freemason and founded the York Street Sick Club. 32 08 19e

Sir – modern education is insufficient as witnessed by the complaints of employers at the errors made by young people seeking their first post. But what can society expect whilst teachers have to attend to the requirements of 60 and more children in each class? Schools should develop character in addition to imparting knowledge but teachers have to combat indifferent home influences. If society desires protection from its vices let it not economise at the expense of its schools – Walter Billings, Coleridge Road. 32 08 19f

Teversham Sunday School children prefer the old fashioned type of ‘treat’ to any organised outing. Tea in the rectory garden was followed by games in the field and with four swings and a rocking-horse for the tinies, everybody was happy. Balloons were very popular as was the usual scrambling for sweets. Instead of the usual toys the Rector presented each child with a Book of Common Prayer and they gave him many hearty cheers. 32 08 19g

1932 08 26

The purchase of up-to-date fire appliances has been a controversial subject at Ely so councillors were given demonstration of one of the latest motor fire engines at the Quay. Built on a Ford two-ton chassis it has dependable brakes and can seat officer, driver and six firemen. The pump delivers 250 gallons of water a minute though a 120 feet of hose 32 08 26a

Ely council considered a letter about the proposed open-air swimming baths to be erected by a Cambridge lady. She wanted to know the price they required for the land, whether they would lay on a water supply and how much they would charge for filling it with water. It would hold 70,000 gallons and be changed once a week. Ely people wanted a swimming bath but if it was going to pay an individual, would it not pay the council? They should look into costs themselves. 32 08 26c

Sir – recently at the Dorothy Café I sat at the table with an elderly farmer and the conversation drifted to the difficulty of obtaining reliable farm labour. Then he sang me a song of goodwill, grit and endeavour. It starts ‘Now if you will listen a moment or two, I’ll sing you a bit of a rhyme, I’ll tell you what I think a man must do, To make the best use of his time.’ Is it an old Cambridgeshire folk song? – J.T. Lambeth. 32 08 26d

A stack fire which broke out near Coldham’s Lane attracted a crowd several hundred strong. It is believed to have been started by one of the many courting couples who frequent the place. Mr A.H. Doggett of Rectory Farm, Cherry Hinton said: “The fire was not caused by internal combustion, nor by lightning. Couples come here and lie about. I don’t mind so much as long as they don’t damage my property”. Boy scouts from Fen Ditton worked with police and farm hands to prevent the flames spreading. 32 08 26e

Sir - Has the country gone examination mad? Mass production may be effective in industry but when it is applied to education it becomes tragic. I recall a large schoolroom filled with village children, with a master who was a retired soldier with a pension whose wife taught the girls needlework in the afternoons. There was no other help except that the elder children had to teach the youngest. The modern child is much quicker in the uptake and has a wider outlook at 14 than I had at 20. - 'Rusticus'. 32 08 26g

Of Huntingdon Town Football Club little can be written. Owing to poor support by the public and heavy travelling expenses, they are in debt to the extent of £60 and have decided not to continue in the Peterborough League. It is hoped that things will improve. The public must rally round more if they desire Huntingdon to remain on the football map. 32 08 26h

Residents in Little St Mary's Lane narrowly escaped injury when the chimney-stack of the Museum of Classical Archaeology was struck by lightning. Its extensive double glass roof was completely wrecked and two plaster casts of classical figures were slightly damaged. One brick struck the floor with such force that it rebounded on to the base of a model, which it chipped. 32 08 26

Sir - Swavesey RDC repaired the bridge at Webb's Hole some years ago but have for a long time been lax in looking after it. How many of the old rights of way between Swavesey and the Ouse are now available for the public. Where are the stiles? How much is left of the footbridge over Covill's drain on the right of way to Holywell Ferry and is it possible to get to Overcote across Middle Fen, as in days gone by? - Fisherman. 32 08 26j

Coveney farmer fined bad condition of horse - 32 08 26b

Stretham - F.H. Dimmock foot seriously injured by grass cutting machine - 32 08 26c

1932 08 26 ES

Stack fire, Lt Downham Road, Ely. 32 08 26ES

Ely new fire engine brought by Charles Graven, Ford motor agent, demonstration. 32 08 26(2)ES

Newspapers 50 years hence - predictions. 32 08 26(3)ES

September 1932 CIP & Ely Standard

1932 09 02

St Ives workhouse took in 693 casuals during the month, compared to 309 last August, including 19 women and ten children who had been fruit picking with their parents. It was unusual for girls of this age to be tramping. They have been made too comfortable and preferred such institutions to lodging-houses. They were supposed to pay for their keep but the men hid their belongings so it was difficult to know what they owned. 32 09 02a

Abbey United started their football campaign in fine style. Not only did they play their first match on their new ground but they won it. The ground is situated close to the former pitch at Newmarket Road and has been levelled and fenced-in. All this was possible through the generosity of the club president, Mr H.C. Francis and it was officially declared open by Mr R.J. Wadsworth. 32 09 02b

Ernest Bevan opened the new wing of the Transport and General Workers' Convalescent Home at Littleport. It includes a billiard room, dining room, recreation rest room and ten bedrooms. The whole of the old building has been redecorated and with its well-laid-out gardens is now an ideal spot for invalid workers to recover their health. The Union purchased the site in September 1920 for £2,500, the Home opened in May 1921 and 9,000 men have passed through it. 32 09 02c

Practical jokers have been at work again on the statue of Oliver Cromwell on the Market Hill at St Ives. This time a yo-yo was attached to the pointing finger of his outstretched arm and was the cause of much amusement. Poor Oliver! Of recent years he has been adorned with objects ranging from beer bottles to a loaf of bread but this latest prank seems to be the most topical yet. 32 09 02

Mr J. Wentworth-Day of Wicken learned journalism on the 'Cambridge Daily News' and wrote the biography of Sir Malcolm Campbell. He recently dined with the Duke and Duchess of York who displayed great interest in the bird sanctuary at Wicken Fen. He also flew in the first aeroplane to land on the tiny island of Sark in the Channel Islands. 32 09 02d

Burwell churchyard, p8
Rendezvous, p11, p12

1932 09 23 ES

Black Bank signalman, Herbert Aspland retires, started 1886: memories. 32 09 23ES *

1932 09 09

Members of the Cambridge Workers' Hospital Fund say they cannot accept the new Addenbrooke's Hospital Contributory Scheme. There have been no discussions with the Hospital who have rejected every approach. They had refused permission to put posters on the gates of the Hospital saying it would not look nice – although notice boards advertised a staff dance for the nurses. 32 09 09a

Aldreth householders appealed against their rate assessment. Mr W. Nicholas had bought a former public house when it closed for £150. There were six rooms, a wash-house and about 30 poles of ground, two small stables and a barn. A.G. Wright had three houses, they were old properties and wanted a lot of attention to keep them in habitable repair. He could not charge more than three shillings a week for them: there was no water and they were isolated. 32 09 09b

Norris Library, p9

Horse photo, p12*

New estate linking Histon Road with St Luke's estate – photo – 32 09 09c

1932 09 09 ES

Wicken church memorial brass restored. 32 09 09ES

1932 09 16

A well-known St Ives figure has been removed by the death of Mr Frederick Whaley, aged 80. He served in local banks becoming sub-manager with Messrs Foster which was taken over by the Capital and Counties and then Lloyds. He was a total-abstainer and non-smoker who filled every office at the Wesleyan Chapel. He always went abroad to escape the winter but declared that 'St Ives was the best place on earth between Easter and Christmas'. 32 09 16a

The notorious Rector of Stiffkey changed trains at Cambridge station. Immediately he arrived in the booking hall – in clerical attire and with a cigar in his mouth – he was recognised and news spread with amazing rapidity. Many eyes followed him and he waved frequently in reply to salutations. He leant down to a small boy and patted him on the head with the remark 'You know me, didn't you'. He informed a CDN representative that he would be returning to his Norfolk parish shortly. 32 09 16b

At the opening of the new Spicers Theatre at Sawston Mr H.G. Spicer recalled that they had provided silent pictures for ten years, now they would be 'talking' or 'musical'. He hoped to also have variety entertainment, theatricals and dances. He then attacked the County Education Officer, Herbert Morris, over the previous agreement for showing pictures at Sawston Village College. 32 09 16b

When the electric current failed in Newmarket on Monday night the audience at the Kingsway Cinema waited by gaslight for it to return. The Victoria Cinema was not incommoded at all, for all of the electricity in the club, billiards room and bar is manufactured on the premises. But the Oddfellows and British Legion Clubs were plunged into darkness and had to resort to candles. 32 09 16c

The Chief Constable said it was contrary to regulations for heavily-laden lorries to stop on the road and it was impossible for them to pull on to the grass verge as they would become embedded. It was time the county provided hard-surfaced 'pull-offs' so the drivers could sleep at night. But councillors said they were not Cambridgeshire lorries and the Ministry of Transport should fund them. 32 09 16d St Ives Whaley, p16*

1932 09 23

The Union of British Methodism – bringing together the Wesleyan, Primitive and United Methodists - is the most important event in the history of British Nonconformity since the birth of Wesley. Cambridge's first Methodist chapel in Fitzroy Street was where Gipsy Smith heard the sermon which led to him becoming an evangelist. It is now Fellowship House for the local unemployed. 32 09 23b & c

Huntingdon county council should take over the Tick Fen Road. At present it was a private road and if it required repairing the expense fell on the owners. On the question of drainage, Alderman Tebbutt said the Ouse Catchment Board had not got a single man with any real experience of fen rivers. They were very able young chaps but there was only one man who really understood the position, Capt Matthews, and he was now dead. 32 09 23d

On the Kendal Way Estate 375 new panels had had to be put in the front doors as they had cracked badly and fallen out on the mats. To put them in workmen had nailed pieces of wood at the back of the doors and nailed the new panels on to them. Such bodged-up doors should be taken out straight away and replaced with new ones. In every house one can find one or more of the ceilings and walls cracked. Jobs were only done properly when the clerk of the works was around. 32 09 23e

The new schoolroom adjoining the Baptist church at Over was blessed and opened following a service in the chapel, which was filled to capacity. It was something they could be truly glad about. While other churches were thinking of cutting down, they were extending. A powerful progressive church was something to rejoice in and praise God about. All they needed was a minister so that the interest did not become cold. 32 09 23f

Ambulance men had to carry stretchers nearly two miles through boggy fields, sometimes knee deep in swamp, before they could reach the victims of an aeroplane crash near Hauxton. The De Haviland Gipsy Moth, hired from Marshall's Aerodrome, suffered engine failure and struck the top of a tree. The journey back to the ambulance proved more difficult but was helped by a C.D.N. van driver. 32 09 23f

Jesus College boathouse was damaged by fire; the upper floor was gutted and the stone ground floor reduced to the dismal prospect of two dozen boats of all kinds, either charred beyond repair or only slightly blistered by the heat. They included ten eights, two fours, two light pairs, two whiffs, two funnies, three tubs and three bank tubs. But the clock tower still stands and the clock still works. The blaze was spotted by a man on the opposite bank but the mist was so thick at the time that he was in doubt whether the building was actually on fire. 32 09 23g

Pull-offs, p5*

Green End Road school photo, p12

1932 09 23 ES

Black Bank signalman, Herbert Aspland retires, started 1886: memories. 32 09 23ES *

1932 09 30

The agricultural wages tribunal heard that the position of the farmer was as bad as it was possible to be, the list of farm sales is appalling and it is impossible to continue to pay the present wages and maintain the correct number of men to farm efficiently. But the proposed wage of £1.3s.6d. (£1.18) would bring workers to a state of semi-starvation. Eventually it was fixed at £1.10s.0d a week (£1.50). 32 09 30aa

Members of the National Unemployed Workers' Movement organised a meeting opposite a house in New Street, Cambridge in the interests of a resident who was threatened with eviction. The man was a rag and bone dealer with two children whose application for relief from the Public Assistance Committee had been refused on the grounds that he was not starving. A Defence Committee was formed to oppose his ejection and a demonstration will be arranged on Parker's Piece. 32 09 30bb (picture 32 09 30d)

Swavesey hedges dispute – 32 09 30a & b

Adelaide wedding by boat - -photo – 32 09 30c

1932 09 30 ES

Clayway boat wedding photo. 32 09 30ES

Littleport plane crash pilot returning to duty. 32 09 30(2)(3)ES # c.25.1

Burnt Fen Institute first annual meeting. 32 09 30(2)ES

October 1932 CIP & Ely Standard

1932 10 07

Sir – the time is not far distant when every village of importance will have to provide an official parking place for motor vehicles. The traffic through Melbourn may be abnormal but a parking place near the cross, church and green is even now a necessity. The many white road lines are evidence of the dangerousness of its turnings and corners. While many a halting motorist is rightly moved in by the police there are some who escape attention and it is ironic that motorists who offend least may be those who have to suffer – Melbournite. 32 10 07e

A Swaffham Bulbeck man told the Bankruptcy Court that he'd dealt in pigs and poultry, saved money and bought ten acres of land at Lode. He then bought his father's coal carts for £90 and supplied coal chiefly in small bags. But there was a lot of competition and he'd had to lower his prices. He owed considerable sums to coal merchants, then the corn crop failed. He put his land up for auction but it failed to reach the reserve and later sold for only £150. 32 10 07a

County engineers reported that the main beams of the bridges at Sutton Gault were no longer safe for a load exceeding three tons and needed to be improved. The piles were also in a very rotten condition. The Estates committee recommended that Sutton Tollhouse, the adjoining cottage and a strip of land on the opposite side of the road, should be offered to the Isle of Ely County Council at the price of £100. But Herber Martin considered this excessive. 32 10 07aa & 32 10 07b

The old English sport of falconry was demonstrated on Roger Fuller's land at Wicken. Lord Howard de Walden and his friends go hunting with his falcons every year. The five peregrine falcons were brought to the field in an up-to-date motor car and after one or two fruitless efforts finally made a kill out of sight of the spectators. 32 10 07bb

It was an important day in the history of Downing College when the Lord Chancellor opened a block of new buildings. In 1910 undergraduates had petitioned for a chapel to replace the small upper room in which religious services were held, then a former member directed in his will that a chapel, library and living rooms be provided. New gates in Tennis Court Lane commemorating the tragic death of Prof. Kenny were also opened. 32 10 07bb

Varsity Express Motors asked to be allowed to increase the average speed of their motor coaches on the Cambridge-London route to 25 mph – it would cut 15 minutes off the journey. The early morning coach leaving at 6.30 made very few pickups and it would be useful if it arrived in London before 9 o'clock as most of the coaches leave for the coast then. They manage to catch some by dropping passengers on their route but it was difficult to get to Regent Street in time for the Bournemouth coach. 32 10 07b

Linton council heard that there was a plague of rats. They should go back to the old scheme of paying a penny per tail for dead rats. But there would be an awful scrap for the tails when stacks were pulled down and they would be paying out for all the rats in Cambridgeshire. It had cost of a lot of money and in the end there were more rats than ever - there were rumours that people bred them, simply to kill them and collect the pennies. It would be cheaper to employ a professional rat-catcher. 32 10 07c

The landlord of the Crown Inn, Linton, told the bankruptcy hearing that the pub had paid its way until the new taxes went on. While there he'd gone into partnership as a garage owner but this had come to an end when the Dominion Oil Company sold up the garage. After that he travelled for a book firm, working on commission while his wife looked after the pub. He then borrowed from a moneylender. 32 10 07d

1932 10 14

Cambridge town councillors saw their constituencies from a new angle when they took the air in Sir Alan Cobham's big liner. He was visiting Marshall's aerodrome with his fleet of planes and many gathered to see his display. The Mayor was unable to be present and the deputy mayor preferred solid ground. When the party was about to take off it was discovered to number 13, so the County Chief Constable stepped into the breach and the plane both ascended and descended safely. They made a comprehensive survey of the town with its ring of new housing estates though the new County Hall looked more impressive than the huddled roofs of the Guildhall. 32 10 14a

A man, his wife and five children were rendered homeless when fire destroyed their cottage at Shepreth. It was a four-roomed building owned by William Wilkinson of the Chequers, Fowlmere and occupied by Alfred Taylor. When the fire brigade arrived they found a plentiful supply of water was available but the high wind fanned the flames so strongly that they were unable to save the dwelling. All the furniture was removed to a barn. 32 10 14b

Cambridge Market Hill presented an animated appearance when the University Drag Hounds held a meeting. Thirty horsemen gathered to be welcomed by the Mayor and a silver stirrup cup was handed round to all who could persuade their mounts to remain still for 30 seconds. They then moved off followed by all but one of the hounds which soon received 'instructions' from the crowd of 200 spectators and joined his comrades. 32 10 14a

The new church of St George, Chesterton, was packed for the dedication by the Bishop of Ely. He welcomed those from the local district: it was for them that the church had been built. It was only a hall at present but he wanted them to see to it that an actual church was built in due course. 32 10 14a

1932 10 21

Mr Butler, who owns a filling station on the main Cambridge-Ely road at Milton, said two men drove up in a large Talbot saloon car and asked for ten gallons of petrol. While he was screwing on the cap the car began to move. He jumped on to the running board but it drove off at high speed through the village, swerving on to the verge to try and knock him off. He fell into the road and was picked up by a lorry driver. The car was stolen in the London area. 32 10 21a

Coton Women's Institute was formed in 1923 and five years later they'd decided to build a new hall. A piece of land was acquired from Mr Edwards on very favourable terms and a sub-committee of men formed to help with the building. The contract was given to Mr E. Peacock at a total cost of about £300. Now it was open and their grand-daughters would enjoy the amenities of the fine Institute. 32 10 21b (pic 32 10 28f)

Considerable excitement was caused at Gamlingay when a delivery van crashed head first through the front of Mr Cope's dwelling at the corner of the Cross. No one was injured and the van only slightly damaged, but the house will require a new door and window. Only last week the Parish Council had asked the County Surveyor to provide white lines at these dangerous cross-roads. 32 10 21c

1932 10 28

St Ives magistrates were told that twelve months ago five persons by the name of Topper were ejected from a house and the Vicar of St Ives had kindly allowed them to use the parson's house at Woodhurst on the understanding that it should be vacated on request. They took a lot of furniture with them and two or three rooms were so 'bunged up' they could not be used. The resident clergyman, who acted as curate, had lived in the house with them for six months but now desired complete possession. 32 10 28

Bus companies applied for an increase in fares due to the threepence a gallon rise in the cost of petrol. Buses averaged about nine miles per gallon. But there was no doubt the number of bus services now running were not justified. Before the Road Traffic Act of 1931 there had been a feverish rush of bus owners on to the road. Services were put in which did not pay, except by causing the extinction of rival operators. 32 10 28 & c

Prince Aly Khan, son of the Aga Khan, was injured in a motor accident near Six Mile Bottom on Saturday night while returning from a shooting party. He was taken to the Evelyn Nursing Home and detained. His car, driven by his chauffeur, came into collision with a lorry, crashed through a hedge, rolled down into a field ten feet below and overturned. An eye-witness says he was amazed to see the occupants alive. 32 10 28b

A Baroness complained that without buses it was impossible for people in Storey's Way to keep cooks – they are elderly people and cannot ride bicycles. Many households had reduced the number of servants. She herself had been obliged to give up her car and lower her expenditure considerably, consequently she was an ardent bus-rider. Lady Hope of Herschel Road said the buses ran irregularly and never in connection with one to the railway station. But very few Grange Road residents used them and some would even object to a service. 32 10 28d

John Yeomans came to Cambridge at the age of 19 in 1857 and purchased the shop at the corner of Petty Cury and Sidney Street from Mr Lyons where he carried on business as a chemist for 40 years. He had a vivid recollection of events: he knew George Stephenson personally and was a passenger in the first railway engine to run in England. 32 10 28e

Hunger marchers at Cambridge – picture – 32 10 28f –

1932 10 28 ES

Fire engine demonstration at Ely Cathedral – photos. 32 10 28(2)ES

November 1932 CIP

1932 11 04

The Rev Herbert Appleford was a notable benefactor to the new parish of St George that covers the new housing estates in the Milton Road district. It has been an open secret that his enthusiasm and generosity made possible the work of the church. He provided money to purchase a site, he laid the foundation stone and was present at its dedication. He also furnished the sanctuary and gave half the cost of the clergyman's house. The new church practically owes its existence to his generosity. 32 11 04

Romsey Labour Club celebrated its 21st anniversary. In the early days everyone in the movement was a worker, unfortunately as the party grew in numbers the percentage of workers became less and they had to be 'up and doing' if they were to bring about the new social order of things. In 1911 they fought their first seat in Romsey when Tom Orrey polled 147 votes. In 1920 they tried again and the present Alderman Briggs was elected. 1912 saw the first – and greatest- open-air demonstration on Parker's Piece when many thousands were present. Permission had been refused but they decided to defy the council and the police. 32 11 04a

Cambridge Labour Party 21st birthday – 32 11 04b

Undergraduate view – rags, good & bad – 32 11 04c & d

Fen Ditton & its school – reminiscences. I have been reading about Fen Ditton School in the 'Press and News, which is sent to me week by week by an old friend. As I lay it down memories come thick and fast. I see the village as I knew it 50 years ago when there was no railway and no bridges. I see the constant stream of horses and carriages through the village street to the Paddock at Ditton Corner during 'May Week'. Again I am helping my pals hold horses for the 'gents' who tipped us very well. May Week was the village lads' harvest and sometimes we picked up a pound each during the week. I know everything has changed and the motor has taken the place of those fine 'nags' and coaches that once graced the Paddock every year. Mr Tuddenham, after Mr Frederick Bailey, the brewer, built the almshouses for the aged poor, had the fence in front of them erected at his personal cost. Once again I seem to slide on the pond opposite the church gate, which was our wont during the frisky weather. That pond had disappeared. I wonder how many can recall our school days when Miss Fothergale was the mistress and Miss Green and Miss Peachey were the teachers. We had in those days to take tuppence every Monday to pay for our schooling. Then came the day when my mother told me there would be not be any more money to pay for the school. I went to school that morning fearing I should be sent back home to fetch the usual fee and I was surprised when the mistress did not ask for it, nor did she get her book to put it down in. That fact remains very vivid in my memory. Where are those boyish pals of mine who went to school with me? I seem to see them pass by as I write these lines and I recall incidents of those days. We were just mischievous boys up to any boyish plank often to our own discomfort. Harry Newman was the leader in the really harmless tricks we used to play but Pamplin was the force that held us together, for he was the master of the school and held his own more than once when it came to a set-to with another scholar. We used to settle our little differences in the spinney in the evening down Long Lane where the railway bridge now stands. They were quite harmless little scraps and George Pamplin always remained the cock-of-the-walk. But he was a kind-hearted lad. I am sure he would give his last copper to a beggar on the road. Harry Newman was more of a thinker. Mr Frederick Bailey had him bound apprentice to a carpenter in Cambridge and he became an excellent craftsman and a power in his native village. He was a strong church man and remained in the quiet until he died. The old Ditton Lane was very lonely in those days. There was not a house in it and at one time a deep pit existed from which coprolite had been dug that was partly filled with water. Halfway down was a grass lane leading to the holts called Cutthroat Lane and many people had a holy fear of it after dark because of the tales that were told concerning its history. Its reputation was made worse by the school mistress miss Fothergale being struck from behind with some hard object which rendered her unconscious, by some unknown person who robbed her and left her. For seven years and nine months I walked around that lane night and morning until November 1887 but I went armed. Once I was stopped at the same spot. I stepped into the road and at the same time I fired a shot into the air. This had the desired effect. I called after a retreating figure I've got five more barrels and by gosh I use them if you come any of your Fothergale tricks with me. I spoke to no one of this afterwards the village policeman one day said to me "Do you ever see anyone hanging about the late at night". I asked him why and he surprised me by saying "I thought you did as you carry firearms" I asked him to tell me who were told him and he did. I told him only one person knew I carried a pistol and that was the man who stopped me in the lane a few weeks ago.

If any of my old schoolmates should read these lines they will join with me in the hope that their old school will be repaired rather than replaced. John W. Bailey. 32 11 04c

Cambridge Motor Boat Club decided to take over a new piece of land at Clayhithe to enlarge their present ground. Although some people thought the scheme too ambitious, they could provide tennis courts and bungalows which would be rented for £3 as well as providing a motor way and parking place. Mrs Banham said the Ladies' Committee would contribute £20 towards the costs. 32 11 04g

Funeral A.H. Brady, death H.H. Appleford – 32 11 04h
No new bus service, Cambridge; Girton's bus service – 32 11 04i

1932 11 04 ES
Ely Beet Factory with beet deliveries: photo. 32 11 04(2)ES

1932 11 11
One man meeting – Swavesey RC meeting – 32 11 11a
Sawston cinema controversy – 32 11 11b & c
Mrs Keynes elected Mayor – 32 11 11d
Newmarket stableman trial; unemployed protest, Shire Hall – 38 11 11e
Death Charles Alder, Stetchworth Dairy; Madingley church window – 32 11 11f
Perse school building plans – 32 11 11g

1932 11 11 ES
Remembrance meetings. 32 11 11&(2)(3)ES
Stretham, Haddenham, Wilburton British Legion first church parade. 32 11 11(3)ES

1932 11 18
H.R.H. Prince George toured the Pye Radio Works where 1,500 hands produce 4,000 radio receivers a week. This is the first time a factory engaged in Britain's newest and most progressive industry has been honoured by a Royal visit. The operatives gave him a rousing reception – the girls were especially enthusiastic: it was a wonderful study to observe their varying expressions as he passed through the workshops. "Oh, he's lovely" was the general verdict and every detail of his dress, appearance and manner have furnished a fruitful topic of conversation in Cambridge homes 32 11 18a

Armistice village, p14
Black Horse Drove film, p14

1932 11 18 ES
Soham windmill off Fordham Road demolished, in one family since 1800. 32 11 18ES *

1932 11 25
Cottenham tithe, p9*
New Rendezvous, p11, p12
Conington wedding, p16*
Uncle David, Doddington, p16

December 1932 CIP & Ely Standard

1932 12 02
Sir – The decision of the Norfolk National Farmers Union to advise members to dismiss all workers other than 'key men' is most unjust, unwise and deplorable. They have failed to get the Agricultural

Wages Committee to agree to a reduction of two shillings a week and wreck by starvation the homes and health of the children of farm workers. Despite receiving millions of pounds in subsidy farmers have reduced wages and increased working hours - W.J. Shingfield. 32 12 02c

Cambridge Motor Boat Club clear their new ground, Clayhithe – pics – 32 12 02f

Uncle David, Band of Hope, at Swaffham Bulbeck, Fen Drayton & Wimblington, p3

Dredging tragedy, p5*

Addenbrooke's Hospital X-Ray, p6

Hardwick benefice, p8*

Steeple Bumpstead Hall, p9*

1932 12 02 ES

Hope Bros shirt factory Littleport: feature article. 32 12 02&(2)(3)(4)(5)ES *

1932 12 09

A man told the bankruptcy hearing he had been employed by Crampton's mineral water factory at Newmarket until 1927 when he started up the firm of Kitchener Bros in competition. But they had a bad season in 1929 when price-cutting by another firm had affected their trade. There had been a heavy fall in turn-over since the slump – many firms in their line were making nothing but losses.

32 12 09a

A Cambridge man told the bankruptcy court he had started as a second-hand bookseller from a stall on Market Hill. Then he took a shop at 17 Peas Hill selling antiquarian books. But a slump in trade 18 months ago meant Americans were not buying books so he had to borrow from moneylenders. 32 12 09a & b

A Cambridge publican told the bankruptcy court he had taken the Horse and Groom in King Street in October 1925 and made a profit until the General Strike when trade was hit throughout the country. He borrowed money and in May 1930 took the Rose Hotel, Rose Crescent. But the increase in beer by a penny a pint hit sales so he left and moved to a pub in Maidstone. 32 12 09b & c

Floods, bad harvests and bad prices were blamed by the owner of Gravel Diggers Farm, Chittering at the bankruptcy court. For nine years he was also licensee of the "Gravel Diggers" pub, Cottenham Fen, but he did not sell a barrel of beer a week and it closed last September. The 1932 harvest was "a rum 'un", the most disastrous he'd ever had: his land was all flooded during May and he'd had to borrow money. 32 12 09d

1932 12 16

Paston House School for girls, Cambridge, goes from strength to strength. The number of pupils is greater than ever and parents were satisfied with the work conducted under the care of the Sisters of the Institute of the Blessed Virgin Mary. The school improved morals and character and a girl's soul receives that training which sets her on her way to face the problems of life with a firm grounding in the things that matter. 32 12 16a

About 1,400 men are unemployed in Cambridge but there were plenty of jobs to be done by unskilled labourers. The Mayor proposed a subscription fund to pay for work over the Christmas people. The alternative was to levy a special rate for the relief of unemployment – it would save spending money on benefit. But there were hundreds of people who had the hardest difficulty in meeting the existing rates – some going without food. 32 12 16b & c

Growers assembled in large numbers when manufacturers of spraying machines demonstrated their products at Willingham. Kidd and Sons showed 'Mist-spray' power sprayers, Jeeps and Easy demonstrated 'Mortegg' spraying mixture while F.W. Peacock of Cottenham had a good display of 'Niagara' dusters suitable for greenhouses and rose bushes. 32 12 16b & c

Over Town Hall was packed to hear plans to send all children over eleven years of age to Willingham School. Needless to say, no part of the scheme was received favourably by the audience, which included ladies who did not hesitate to express their opinions. The discussion was occasionally somewhat heated: the road was almost impassable at certain times and would be dangerous for the 50 children cycling to and fro twice a day. If they had to buy a meal it would be an extra charge on a family budget. 32 12 16d

The Post Office says every effort will be made to deliver by Christmas day all parcels, packets and newspapers for distant places posted not later than the 22nd December and all letters and cards posted by 23rd December. The latest time of posting for letters and cards for local delivery and in towns within 30 miles radius will be 6pm on Christmas Eve. There will be one delivery of letters and parcels on Christmas Day. 32 12 16c

1932 12 16 ES

Denver Sluice photo showing the fourth drainage eye recently added at considerable cost. 32 12 16(2)ES *

1932 12 23

Christmas customs and beliefs – 32 12 23a

Mr J. Wentworth Day of Wicken will act as Lady Houston's personal representative on the management of the Houston-Mount Everest flight which is leaving for India in an attempt to fly over the world's highest mountain early in the New Year. The Marquis of Douglas and Clydesdale will act as chief pilot. The crew will have to fly nearly six miles high wearing electrically heated suits and gas masks through which they will breathe pure oxygen. Lady Houston is bearing the entire expense, estimated to cost £15,000. 32 12 23b

Cottenham and waterworks – Chesterton RDC to purchase – 32 12 23d

Former Mayoress, Mrs Catherine Tillyard was an accomplished yet humble woman. Under the pen-name of 'Pertelote' she contributed a women's column when her husband edited the Cambridge Independent Press. Her daughter, Aelfrida, is an authoress of some distinction and her son, Eustace, has a number of important books to his credit. She belonged to the old aristocratic school, worshipped at St Columba's and took an active interest in the temperance cause. 32 12 23e

Cambridge Railway Silver Prize Band opened their new hall at Fletcher's Terrace, Romsey Town. They started in 1919 and still had 10 foundation members of the band. They won the Grand Shield at the Crystal Palace in 1922 and in 1926 won the Junior Cup. It showed what an extremely progressive band they were. 32 12 23f

A sanitary inspector visited a house in Green End Road where he found eleven people living in the three bedrooms. It was a very bad case of overcrowding. One family told him they had moved to Cherryhinton Road but after they had carted the furniture in various perambulators the new landlord said he would not have them in the house, so they went back. But after six months something should have been done. 32 12 23f

Mr F. Plumby of Abbey Walk, who looks after the Cambridge Greyhound racing track on Newmarket Road, said he was at work in the middle of the track when a hare dashed on to it, closely pursued by a pack of harriers. It ran right round the whole 565 yards length of the course, and just as it reached the winning-post the dogs came up with it. It ran into the space reserved for the judge, and there the pack killed it. 32 12 23b

1932 12 23 ES

Jordan family four generations based around Oxlood: photo. 32 12 23(2)ES *

1932 12 30

Sir - The Ouse and Cam Fishery Board has accepted compensation of £200 for the inconvenience and damage caused by the pollution to the River Lark. It was becoming the best roach and pike fishing waters in the Isle of Ely, now all of those thousands of fish have gone west. But what of the clubs who hire these waters: they have only had four month's fishing and it will be useless for the rest of the season. Will they be given a rebate? - W. Hitch, Ely. 32 12 30c

Cambridge enjoyed a quiet Noel this year. In the children's wards of Addenbrooke's Hospital the spirit of Christmas had most play. The three rooms were decorated to represent Alice in Wonderland, Peter Pan and the Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe. The shoe was kindly lent by Messrs Joshua Taylor. Every child had a nursery rhyme quilt on their bed and their stocking were filled, the night Sister playing Santa Claus. 32 12 30a & b

As Christmas Day fell on a Sunday, the whole of the festive side of the celebrations at the County Infirmary, including the Christmas dinner, were postponed for a day and the Mayor's official visit was not made. All the passages, wards and rooms were bedecked with paper flowers and evergreens, electric lights were hidden in lanterns and poppies hung along the walls. Celebrations were also delayed at the Church Army Hostel but presents of a good shirt, ounce of tobacco and packet of cigarettes were distributed on Christmas morning. 32 12 30a & b

The bridge just outside Abington was one of the county's beauty spots. But recently an accident had occurred there when a young man on a motor cycle with a girl on the back crossed it at speed. The motor cycle bounded off the hump back of the bridge and crashed. The coroner said it was a danger spot and now it was to be widened. But it would be a hideous thing to level such a beautiful old bridge. 32 12 30d

New Year superstitions - 32 12 30e & f

An old Cambridgeshire custom on New Year's Eve was for a farm girl to approach a pig and slap it sharply with her hand. If the animal uttered a squeal, she would be married within the year; but if it took no heed of the blow she would continue a spinster. Another custom was to stick tufts of grass on the horns of a cow. If it tossed them off their lover would remain true, if they remained firm on the horns, the sweetheart was false.

A superstition remains that if a person runs three times round the house before the clock strikes twelve on New Year's Eve, good luck will come in the future year, and some folk look out for white horses on this eve, in the belief that every one they see will secure a month of happiness in the future. Superstitious folk keep a light burning in the house from the dark of the eve to the dawn of the New Year, in the belief that if this is neglected, death will enter and mark a victim for the coming year. "Watch-night" services on New Year's Eve are of modern times but in the olden days solemn vigils were kept throughout the night in the churches, and, as now, the bells rang out the old and pealed in the New Year.

The custom of 'first-footing' or 'letting-in' the New Year is generally observed in Cambridgeshire. The proper observance is for a dark boy or man to be the first to cross the threshold, after the midnight year, and that theirs shall be the first voices to utter the season's wishes. No female or relation must perform this office or ill-luck will follow in their footsteps. 32 12 30e & f

1932 12 30 ES

Wedding Elsie Grey, Bridge House and Michael Kelly at London. 32 13 30ES

1933 Cambridge Daily News & Ely Standard

I have copies of these articles. CDN digitised on British Newspaper Archive

January 1933 CDN & ES

1933 01 03

Camera club, Capt C.K. Hamilton exhibition, p5

1933 01 04

Bus season tickets – 33 01 04 & a

Dr W.M. Palmer, JP, p8

Cheveley Park road, p8*

1933 01 05

Arthur Savell, stained glass, tile and decorative artist came to Cambridge forty years ago but kept his workshop at Albany Place, Regent's Park, London. His work can be seen in the chancel windows of St Bene't's Church and in the stained glass windows of the University Arms ballroom. 33 01 05

1933 01 06

Does the present succession of mild Januaries suggest something in the nature of a change in climate? Today amateur gardeners have standard and rambler roses in full bloom, primroses blooming in clumps, stocks, polyanthus – indeed a show of flowers usually retarded by frost until spring. 33 01 06

Love tragedy, p8*

Stretham: Sidney Canham no rear bike light. 33 12 15(5)ES

1933 01 06 ES

Isle's new registration index. 33 01 06ES

When the Motor Vehicles Registration Act came into force 30 years ago the Isle of Ely was allotted the index EB. The intervening years I've seen the whole of the 9,999 numbers in that series used. Now the Isle has been given the letters J E, for the registration of the next 9,999 vehicles.

By peculiar coincidence that enterprising firm of automobile engineers the Ely Service Motor Company hold the distinction of having supplied both the last car to bear the old registration index and the first to have the new letters. Both vehicles are made by the well-known Austin firm. One is the Austin Seven saloon which Mr. Hull is using for demonstration purposes, and J.E.1 is one of the new Austin 10 trade vans, which has been supplied to Mr. Alfred Saberton, baker of Little Downham. Until eight years ago, only 5,000 motor vehicles have been registered in the Isle but from 1926 until 1933 the remaining 5000 numbers have been used. This is undoubtable due to the popularity which light cars have gained.

It is interesting to note that the letters and number E.B.1, allotted to Mr. William Welchman, of Upwell when the first car was registered are still in use. From the initial registration on December 22 1903, the index number was applied to one car and in 1911, he had it transferred to a second vehicle which is still in use. Numbers are not now transferred from one car to another except on payment of £5 and the charge proves prohibitive. The result is that probably some 4,000 of the E.B. numbers are no longer in use. 33 01 06 ES

1933 01 07

Huntingdon councillors rejected proposals to expand the town boundaries to include Hartford. It would cost too much to maintain the sewerage, lighting, water supply and scavenging and there is ample land near America Lane for future development. 33 01 07

Woman dead in river after engagement broken – 33 01 07a

Sluice at Hundred Foot Bank, Downham – 33 01 07b

Referee Elsdon reported a bad case of misconduct by Stretham players. They had appealed for hands in the penalty area but he had not seen it. As he was going off the field three players and the linesman said they would put him in the pond. He considered he was lucky to get away as he did. P. Oakman, A. Sadler and W. Lythel, who had played for 15 years and never been in trouble before, were suspended for the rest of the season. 33 01 07c

Sir – Coldham's Common could be turned into a municipal nine-hole golf course now it is no longer required for shooting. The Corporation have £700 from the War Office in compensation for not putting the Common in the state it was before the rifle range was constructed. The various firing points and the lower portion of the butts could be used in the construction of a very sporting course, providing work for the unemployed. It would be no new thing to have golf played on the Common as the first University course was there – RG. 33 01 07d

1933 01 09

All branches of the Cambridge Daily News and Cambridge Independent Press were represented at the annual dinner at the Dorothy Café. And for the first time the ladies joined us – perhaps a sign that they have their part to play in the newspaper world as anywhere else. Horace Watson produced the seventh edition of the Office Song, dealing with the events of the year and Capt Taylor outlined forthcoming developments including new printing machinery permitting a 24-page CIP. 33 01 09

Ely Joint Isolation Hospital Committee agreed that tradesmen who charged full retail price for their goods would have 2½ % [discount taken off their bill. They had not been asked – otherwise they may have refused. None had so far objected – but they had not yet had their cheques (Laughter). 33 01 09a

Stretham football club delayed by King's train – 33 01 09b

1933 01 10

Captain and Mrs Townley were presented with a handsome silver salver subscribed for by practically the whole of Fulbourn in honour of their recent wedding. They hoped the couple would see their way to come and take up residence in the village for good and carry on the tradition of the Captain's honoured father. In reply he said he was trying to save enough to come back to the Manor again but it was not a small place and required a considerable amount to keep it up. 33 01 10

The 1925 Tithe Act was one of the greatest injustices imposed on farmers, fixing the amount they had to pay irrespective of the price of farm produce. Land was being let for four shillings and acre but was subject to three-and-six tithe. The landowner could not keep the house and gates in repair for sixpence an acre, a Tithe payers meeting at Swavesey was told. 33 01 10a & b

1933 01 11

The Cam Conservators heard that dredging operations had been carried out from Clayhithe to Baitsbite. There were still 700 lineal yards to complete, which meant about 20 weeks work but then they would not have to do any more dredging for up to 20 years. They ought to advertise the sale of the dredger so it could be seen at work. The men working the machine appealed for an increase in wages but this hardly opportune as it would only be used for a few more months. 33 01 11

During threshing operations at Rectory Farm, Ickleton, a number of stacks became fired, apparently by a backfire from a tractor that was being used. Ickleton Fire Brigade turned out but the water supply was insufficient to extinguish the blaze. Had the wind been in the other direction the extensive farm buildings must have been threatened. 33 01 11a

The recent starting of a Kentucky minstrel troupe at the BBC has re-awakened interest in this old form of entertainment. Now the Alabama troupe has been formed at Cambridge. They made their first appearance at the Footlights Club room, Corn Exchange Street. Dressed in red and white check costumes they sang plantation melodies like 'Oh, dem Golden Slippers' and 'Polly Wolly Doodle'. 33 01 11b

1933 01 12

Mrs Priscilla Byford celebrated her 101st birthday with congratulations from some of her surviving pupils – now aged 70 – from Chevington School. Birthday greetings were broadcast by the BBC and the Stetchworth church bells rang out. She was born at the Mill House, Stetchworth and baptised in the village church in 1832. 33 01 12

Foot and mouth disease – 33 01 12a

1933 01 13

The Isle of Ely motor dental van, a completely equipped travelling dental surgery for school children, drew up at Peck and Packer's garage on Dartford Road, March where the tank was re-filled with petrol, a little of which ran over on to the road. When the driver put the self-starter into operation the cab burst into a huge flame and the whole of the front of the vehicle was enveloped in a dense mass of smoke. He made an expeditious and fortunate escape and garage staff quickly subdued the flames. 33 01 13

Sir, not many years ago a beautiful pastoral scene might be enjoyed by anyone who stood on the south bank of the Cam with his back to the Gas Works and the destructor chimney and looked towards Old Chesterton Church. Then Pye Radio Company was allowed to erect a factory near the church and now a tall chimney-like structure has been erected not far from the steeple. This has ruined what was once a charming scene – Periscope. 33 01 13a

1933 01 13 ES

Death C.B. Appleyard, waterman. 33 01 13&(2)ES(2)

Death occurred of Charles Benjamin Appleyard, at Ouse Terrace, Ely where he had lived for 40 years, aged 83. When he was 21 he married Miss Fyson of Ely and lived at Annesdale about a year. He then moved to one of the houses on the bank near the present boathouse, and after five years, erected his first boat house. It had a bungalow over the top.

At first he was in business on his own account in the then flourishing barge trade. He was also a coal merchant, but, but had the misfortune to fall from a bridge onto the deck of one of his barges. This brought on deafness and he had to give up the barge trade. He then started in the pleasure boat business, and in 1877, he built the president boathouse. The business flourished and in 1898, he retired in favour of his only son.

He purchase the piece of land known as Babylon and there attended to his garden. The fact that this side of the river looks so beautiful is due to Mr Appleyard, for he carried out on the bank what is known as camp sheathing.

The grand old gentleman lived for the river and it was his intention to live on the river all the years around. But owing to his wife's illness, this could only be done in the summer months. Their intention was to purchase of a Wherry, but they did not do so. A steam launch was purchased however and in one year they travelled no less than 1,500 miles by water. The steam launch was sold 20 years ago but he still stuck to the river.

Mentioned must be made of the small summer-house near the High Bridge, which he erected a few years ago. The tree around which the house is erected was planted about 1888 and was part of his scheme for beautifying the river banks Two years ago the couple celebrated the 60th anniversary of their wedding by planting the avenue which leads from the road to the boathouse. 33 01 13ES

Soham as seen after 50 years' absence. 33 01 13(3)ES

May I communicate a few thoughts as I return to my native town of Soham after an absence of 50 years.

One couldn't possibly approach Soham from Ely without feeling a cold chill at the barrenness of the open and exposed Shade through which we pass May I ask my townsmen to visualise the altered and great improved aspect which would be created by the planting of an avenue of well selected trees? On

Armistice Day we stand in silence in memory of those who sacrificed their lives. If we secure the consent of 50 persons, each prepared to defray the cost of one tree and dedicate it to one or more persons of sacred memory this would give an approach of real beauty. The name might be then altered to Remembrance Avenue, and further generations would applaud so praiseworthy an effort. Lubalmin

1933 01 14

Littleport fatal collision, p6

Cambridge Liberal cycling club history – 33 01 14a & b

Thomas Beecham's visits – 33 01 14

1933 01 17

The owner of Reliance Motors, Cottenham, sued Eastern Counties Omnibus Company for damages. They alleged he'd run two hackney carriage licensed cars between Cottenham and Midsummer Fair, picking up and putting down passengers en route. To use private cars or taxis as motor coaches was misconduct of a very bad kind. He had four motor buses and two taxicabs which he'd used that day for private hire, charging four shillings return. He produced his order book – written on blotting paper – as proof. 33 01 17 & 17a

Newmarket Road housing estate, p6

1933 01 18

Divorce case, p5

Steve Fairbairn on rowing – 33 01 18

A woman sued a Cambridge dentist after he broke her jaw. She told the court she was a trained masseuse and had carried on business in Cambridge for some years earning about £4 a week. She'd gone to have a wisdom tooth extracted under anaesthetic but when she 'came round' the dentist said "Do you know what bad luck we've had. Your jaw has gone". After hearing the details the court adjourned for lunch. 33 01 18a & b

1933 01 19

March doctor's death – Murphy – 33 01 19

Some of the buildings erected during 1932 in Cambridge and district by Kidman and Sons Ltd, Abbey Walk. 'The British Queen', Histon Road, Sedley Taylor School, Cambridge Co-operative Society cooked meat factory and milk depot, St Paul's church hall in Suez Road and Spicer's Cinema, Sawston (Full page advertisement with photos). 33 01 19 a & b

Spaldings printers sued a University lecturer over an unpaid bill for publishing 'Forestry Journal' a magazine of the Cambridge University Forestry Students' Association. He had brought in a considerable amount of copy, articles and advertisements together with photographs from which they had to make blocks. But the don claimed it was run entirely by undergraduates and it was the responsibility of the editor. He could not say who that had been. 33 01 19c & d

Schoolgirl run over by bus, p8

1933 01 20

A large number of the unemployed at Ely met to discuss a scheme to help those in distress. They had been looking around to see if they could get a suitable place as a centre for people who were out of work. They had the old cinema in mind and alterations would not be a big job or a great expense. The scheme had to be run by those who were out of work. Speed was essential and they wanted to get the premises as soon as possible. The scheme was simply to help the men, but could not be done if they did not receive help from them. It would be better if the work and alterations could be done by the men themselves and not by a contractor. It would require 20 men but the work would have to be done for nothing. A number agreed to carry out the work 33 01 20

1933 01 21

Leonard Hollingworth means to be our local Edgar Wallace. His third mystery story 'Dead Man's Alibi' will prove just as popular as 'The Body on the Bus' and 'Death Leaves us Naked'. It is well-written which should appeal to a wide circle of readers in Cambridge and to none more than the boys of the County High School where the author is a master. 33 01 21d

An NSPCC inspector told the court that the family lived in an old railway van at Hardwick which was in a most objectionable state. The bedding was in such a filthy state that he had burned it. The children were fairly well nourished but the awful stench which came from them polluted the police station to which he removed them. The father was sentenced to six months' hard labour. 33 01 21b & c

St Germans' Sluice was opened in 1877 but the fens continued to shrink as drainage progressed and the tideway silted up. Once there was a four-foot fall from March whereas now there was practically none and a north-west wind could affect the outfall by two feet. The new pump was probably the largest in the world. The men working on the huge scheme were glad to have jobs in such depressed time. 33 01 21 & a

1933 01 23

A house in Parkside was severely damaged when an explosion, suspected to have been caused by gas, blew out almost the whole of the front upper part of the building. There was a flash, followed by a tremendous explosion and the wall appeared to be driven across the road. James Langdale, heedless of danger, broke in the front door and searched for the old lady inside. He found her on the top landing, terribly injured with her clothing alight. 33 01 23 & a & b

Swavesey skating, p5

1933 01 24

The 300-year-old Cock Inn at Castle Camps was practically destroyed after the roof caught fire near the chimney stack. Although there was a good supply of water from a pond it was impossible to save much of the building. Of the nine rooms only a kitchen and pantry remain. 33 01 24

University and Burwell tithe dispute – 33 01 24a

Fen Ditton school schemes – 33 01 24b

1933 01 25

Parkside gas explosion – inquest - 33 01 25

East Anglian folk lore society – 33 01 25a

Death Mrs Conybeare, p6

1933 01 26

The County Council want to restrict traffic in Minster Place and The Gallery, Ely to 10 mph. This would safeguard the cathedral against vibration caused by heavy vehicles. Mr Tyndall also said his shop had suffered, as did the King's School, especially when the sugar beet lorries went past. But the A.A. said it was used by traffic from Soham to Lynn and the real remedy was an effective bye-pass and to extend Broad Street to Prickwillow Road. 33 01 26 & a

West Wrating Park partner's bankruptcy – 33 01 26b

1933 01 27

Swavesey land dispute – 33 01 27

Skating at Lingay fen – 33 01 27a

Herbert Robinson garage reopening – advert – 33 01 27b & c & d

Water Company's scheme – new main for Cambridge – 33 01 27e & f

St George's church – why not move St Michael's – 33 01 27g

1933 01 27 ES

Haddenham church achievement: bells, organ and clock renovated. 33 01 27ES

Haddenham church bells have been really hung on Iron cannon retaining headstocks fitted with new clappers and improved in other directions. The organ has been cleaned and a new stop added while the clock has been cleaned repaired and the Dayang we painted the cost was approximately 190 pounds. And all of the money has been raised to the great generosity of people who gave private donations and dinse supported various efforts. Service of dedication and Thanksgiving was led by the Bishop of the Diocese. Who said it showed the unity and harmony which existed in the parish
33 01 27ES

Ely unemployed preparing their new centre: photo. 33 01 27(3)ES

So ready was the response by the unemployed of Ely to the appeal made for voluntary labour for the preparing of the old cinema as the new centre for the men, that what at one time appeared a task of no small dimensions has been more than half accomplished in less than a week.

The work of taking up the sloping floor of the building and relaying it level was started on Monday morning and has proceeded rapidly and efficiently.

The photo shows a large number who gave up their services while on either side are two of the large sections of the wooden floor propped up while the foundations were being levelled for the floor to be replaced. It is hoped that the alterations will be completed within a few days and that the centre will be officially opened by the Bishop. 33 01 27(3)

1933 01 28

Alabama coons concert party – 33 01 28

1933 01 30

Communist party first meeting – 33 01 30

Hitler becomes German chancellor – 33 01 30a

Gas explosion funeral – 33 01 30c

Fen Ditton school site agreed – 33 01 30d

Guildhall 'by instalments' plan – 33 01 30e

Railway v motor traffic – 33 01 30f & g

1933 01 31

Cause of gas explosion – 33 01 31 & a

Guildhall 'by instalments' plan – 33 01 30e

February 1933 CDN & ES

1933 02 01

Benjamin Coxall, Stretham-born Methodist farmer, dies – 33 02 01

Central Conservative club fete for repairs following fire – 33 02 01a

Indoor bowls, p7

1933 02 02

The annual domestics staff ball at the Dorothy attracted 450 servants. Although the ballroom became on the crowded side, everybody was happy. Nothing is nicer than a good servant's ball and it was good to see so many heads of households present. Percy Cowell and his band was in a particularly bright mood and led a 'merry dance' with a varied programme. The great attraction was the fancy dress parade. 33 02 02

Cambridge's most modern laboratory, the Royal Society Mond Laboratory, provides unique facilities for research under the most powerful magnetic fields ever developed and intense cold temperatures. It is the outcome of researches by Dr P. Kapitza in the Cavendish Laboratory which might have far-reaching effects. 33 02 02a & b

Alderman Oliver Papworth of Over, 'the Major', was a successful lawyer and councillor who served in the Territorials and Rifle Association. He was the founder member of several Masonic lodges but was best-known in the realms of sport. He was impervious to cold and wet and only last week when raw winds were blowing and skaters were enjoying themselves he was to be seen without an overcoat. 33 02 02a & b

Guildhall development on Peas Hills front – 33 02 02c & d

1933 02 03

Councillors heard that a common lodging house on Newmarket Road accommodated 16 or 17 lodgers without any sort of bathroom. But none of the users had asked for one. There were three girls sleeping in a small room separated only by a narrow wall from a room in which 15 men slept. This was not right: the language in a common lodging house was not always what it should be. It was time the council consider setting up a municipal lodging house for women as well as men. 33 02 03a

Mond Laboratory, Cavendish, opened by Baldwin – 33 02 03b & c, photo 33 02 04c

Demolition orders were made in respect of houses in Wellington Passage, Sun Court, Smith's Gardens and Newmarket Road. Some were in such a precarious state they would not last much longer. But the people moved from slum dwellings just found accommodation in lodgings, which meant two families in one house. It would be no kindness to rebuild on the site of demolished houses. People should be moved to more spacious sites on the outskirts of Cambridge. 33 02 03d

The Mayor, (Ald Mrs Keynes) expressed her appreciation for the support her fund for providing work for the unemployed is receiving. There are 1,600 unemployed men in Cambridge but 120 who have done no work for a year are now making the path on Long Road and levelling Coldham's Common. Another 80 will level the building ground in Brook's Road and the site of the new school and playground in Gilbert Road. 33 02 03e

1933 02 03 ES

Engineer's scheme to relieve local unemployment

Considerable comment has been occasioned by the outline of a scheme by Mr. Holland Porter of Stretham for the relief of unemployment and the benefiting of the general health of Ely by diverting the River Ouse near Ely High Bridge to follow the Middle Fen Bank and rejoin the existing water course at a point immediately south of the Roswell Pits.

Suggestions are made to locate a new channel further from the city which would eliminate undesirable features. A drier atmosphere would be secured and several acres of waterlogged land would be reclaimed. On the completion of the new channel, the old bed could be filled in and all that portion of the city extending eastwards, including Broad Street, would rise in value. The channel would promote better health conditions and secure better drainage capacity. The new channel would be practically straight.

Work of some kind is desirable for a large number of unemployed workmen who would prefer being engaged at a reasonable wage rather than receiving dole doing nothing.

Previously, the Ouse was the medium by which a large amount of heavy local transport was made and a general bend of its course towards Ely facilitated the near handling of cargo. Since the railway was established, however the needs of the river on this account has dwindled almost to zero.

Neither is it now depended upon for public water supply. It is now mainly required for the proper drainage of the watersheds or upland waters. That portion of the river passing directly through the city area is in the form of an irregular semicircle and is crossed twice by steel bridges of the railway company.

The portion between the two railway bridges has for many generations been used and relied upon much as Ely's public sewer or open drain, the location of the city sewage works and the Common Muckhill confirming this. The close proximity to the city of the river in its present form and condition is not conducive to health. The new location of the river would provide an excellent opportunity for a fine public bathing place and prove attractive to the Light Blues for their rowing practices.

The proposal would enable the Railway Company to cut out two bridges from their system and they could rebuild the same bridges elsewhere. They might also investigate the site for the passenger station on that part known as Babylon. The distance from this point to the centre of Ely is approximately 200 yards nearer than the present passenger station.

It would also provide an opportunity for an embankment walk and provide a course for an annual Regatta. 33 02 03(2)ES

Burnt Fen Institute completed. 33 02 03ES

The first birthday whist drive and fancy dress dance of Burnt Fen Institute, attended by over 100 folk, marked the culmination of a sustained and wholehearted effort by Burnt Fen people and their friends. The idea of having an Institute was placed before a public meeting in June 1931 by the Vicar appreciating the educational and social needs to which such a building would minister.

A Committee was formed, events organised and the tender of Messrs. F. Hale and Sons of Sutton, was accepted. It was opened on the 29th of January 1932 by Sir Fred Hiam.

During the present season it is being used regularly by St. James's School, the Men's Club, Mothers Union, Women's Institute, Girls Friendly Society,

Ely Unemployment Committee heard from the Crusaders Clothing Campaign who collect part worn clothing for the unemployed and poor. Not very much had come in yet but a good deal more would come in when the scheme was generally known. At present there were a pair of servicemen's leggings two pairs of shoes, one pair of boots, three pairs of serge uniform trousers, about a dozen white collars and a quantity of ties, all the articles being men's things. A games curator should be responsible for the safe custody of cards and table games, the removal of which from the centre is strictly prohibited. The question had been raised whether the centre should be open on Sunday evenings for a sing-song of men from eight to 10pm. There were plenty of people about the streets on a Sunday evening and in the bad weather the men might appreciate the opportunity of being inside if they could spend the time in community singing and sacred singing. When the Holy Trinity Parish Room was open for a similar purpose, they had a quite a number of people. But they were not unemployed and included a number of young people who would otherwise have been walking the streets and the number of young boys who ought to have been in bed by that time.

They ought to do something for wives and mothers and women out of work. The men would be glad to stay at home one afternoon a week to look after the kiddies while the women had an afternoon at the centre. Although it was the men for the most part who were unemployed, it was the women who were probably shut in their homes for the week.

Several people asked if assistance could be given to the women and children who really needed food. Would it be possible for mothers and children whose children needed milk and cod liver oil to take them to the Child Welfare Centre? The best way would be to send a little parcel of 2/6 worth of food to cases which they knew were in need, rather than go prying into the affairs of those who were down and out. 33 02 03(2)ES

Haddenham epidemic of scarlet fever. 33 02 03(3)(4))ES

A week of skating. 33 02 03(7)ES

Lovers of skating were provided with a rare opportunity to enjoy the sport during the frost which came to an end on Monday. For a whole week excellent facilities were available on the ice-covered waters. Numerous matches were speedily arranged and the championship contests were also run off. C.W. Horn of Upwell, the Amateur champion, retained his title at Lingay Fen. He first won the King Edward Cup in 1927 and again at Swavesey in 1929.

He was opposed not only by his fellow fenmen but by some eight members of London district skating clubs, who have had constant skating practice on indoor rinks while the fenmen had been waiting in vain to put on their skates. After only three or four days' practice he again proved that he is the best skater in England. The crowd of 3,000 was the largest remembered for the championship.

The style of the professional skaters was in distinct contrast with that of the amateurs, many of whom skate with their hands behind them. Without exception the professionals swung their arms just like the old Fen runners of the last century.

There were some weak places on the surface of the ice but a straight quarter of a mile was obtained with really good ice, and the mile-and-a-half was covered with five sharp turns. This is the only the second occasion since the first race in 1879 that such a course had to be used. 33 02 03(7)

Skating: photo. 33 02 03(8)ES

1933 02 04

A young salesman employed at Sainsbury's in Sidney Street was found dead in the bathroom over the shop. The housekeeper said there were about 80 employed; eight boys lived on the premises, three maids and herself. They were the only ones to use the bath. They were told to turn off the gas before getting in. People might be enjoying the delights of a bath and suddenly find themselves overpowered by carbon monoxide fumes. The coroner hoped Sainsbury's would not use the geyser again or see it was placed outside the bathroom. 33 02 04a

Photographic club cine films – 33 02 04b

The opening of the new Mond laboratory by Mr Stanley Baldwin has thrown into prominence the work of Professor Kapitza, the young Russian from whose investigations the laboratory has spring. He combines the physicist and the engineer and the mere scale of his apparatus is almost daring. When a party of pressmen visited Kaptiza demonstrated some of the low-temperature hydrogen, and then said if anything went wrong they would probably be decapitated! 33 02 04d

Guildhall rebuilding cartoon – 33 02 04e

Mrs Vincent novel, p8*

Valentines, p8*

1933 02 06

The London Co-operative Society opened their new creamery in Ditton Lane. Four years ago representatives met Cambridgeshire farmers and now hundreds supplied them with milk. They could have bought it some parts of the country at pence per gallon cheaper than in Cambridge but believed in sourcing as near as possible to London. But some small retailers who found cheap milk available had started price-cutting. 33 02 06 & a

Cambridge library ban on Shaw – 33 02 06b

Demolition orders were made in respect of houses in Wellington Passage, Sun Court, Smith's Gardens and Newmarket Road. Some were in such a precarious state they would not last much longer. But the people moved from slum dwellings just found accommodation in lodgings, which meant two families in one house. It would be no kindness to rebuild on the site of demolished houses. People should be moved to more spacious sites on the outskirts of Cambridge.

1933 02 08

Justices were told there were two public houses in Stetchworth, the Marquis of Granby and the Live and Let Live, both beerhouses. Now the Earl of Ellesmere proposed to close the White Horse as an inn and transfer its full licence to the Marquis of Granby. There ought to be one fully-licensed public house in the village as there was only one place – the British Legion Club – where wines and spirits could be obtained, and only by its members. 33 02 08a

Irish Society formed – 33 02 08

Papworth funeral, p8

1933 02 09

Sir Thomas Beecham, on a first visit with the new London Philharmonic Orchestra to Cambridge Guildhall, completely won over the most severe body of critics in the country – a Cambridge symphony concert audience. They are accustomed to taking their musical pleasures somewhat sedately but let themselves go and the applause and cheering at the end were unusually enthusiastic. 33 02 09

Lewis Robert Jellis who farmed 600 acres at Leighton was a regular attendant at St Ives market, one of the few farmers who made the journey by horse and trap and derived considerable enjoyment in so doing. He had many interests in his own village but apart from being local Secretary of the Royal Agricultural benevolent Society, there was little that held his attention outside it. However he was a keen follower of the Fitzwilliam hunt and rarely missed a meet. 33 02 09a

Cambridge has lost an old-established tailor by the death of Mr Byron Thomas Wait of Mill Road. His father was a tailor at St Ives but Byron came to Cambridge 52 years ago and opened the shop in Hills Road. Thirty-five years ago he extended the business to the shop at 28 Mill Road and four years later to 100 Regent Street. Two of his sons are carrying on the business. 33 02 09b

1933 02 10

Royston museum of Bunyan tools – 33 02 10

St Ives Chicory Factory wished to increase its supply of water to 50,000 gallons a day for the whole season. If the supply was cut off for two or three days it would not be an inconvenience. They would erect a pumping station and put down a filter plant on their property. East Hunts Water Company will be asked how much they are able to supply without detriment to the Borough. 33 02 10a

1933 02 10 ES

Haddenham through the ages compiled by W. Ivatt. 33 02 10&(2)ES & 33 02 17&(2)ES & 33 02 24&(2)ES. 33 03 03ES *

Haddenham through the ages: history compiled by the late Mr. W Ivatt. His wish fulfilled.

Haddenham, so far as is known, has never before had its history completely chronicled, but a very interesting survey of events in the life of the village from the time of St. Paul was compiled by the late Mr. Walter Ivatt, of Hillrow, Haddenham, whose intention it was to give that history in the form of a lecture to the Haddenham Wesley Guild on February 6th. He unfortunately died, however, three weeks before the date of the lecture, but his wish was fulfilled, for his paper was read at the Guild meeting on Monday evening by Mrs. Ivatt.

The meeting was held in the Methodist Schoolroom, Haddenham, which was packed. Mr. S. Feast presided, and prayer was offered by the Rev. A. S. Howarth, while Miss P. Chapman gave a solo entitled "Keep on".

At the conclusion of the lecture, Mr. Howarth, in thanking Mrs. Ivatt, said that that paper must be very interesting to natives of Haddenham. He (Mr. Howarth) was not a native, but one or two points had puzzled him, and that paper had cleared them up. It was Mr Ivatt's intention to further expand those items, had he have lived, but he had been called away.

Owing to the length of Mr. Ivatt's paper, and in order to reproduce it in its entirety, we propose publishing it in four instalments, the first of which is appended:

"A paper of this description will obviously be more interesting to those who are natives of Haddenham than to others whose place of nativity is elsewhere, and also, as the title of this reading indicates, the items will be somewhat detached, and in no sense will it attempt to be a continuous history of Haddenham; that would be too big a subject.

Perhaps it would be fitting to commence with a brief history of the Methodist block of buildings wherein we are now assembled. We will go back then some 200 years to about the 1740.

The site whereon the chapel is built with the garden on the back now in the occupation of Mr. Feast, together with other property in Haddenham, was owned by a certain Elizabeth Wingfield of Stamford, Lincolnshire. In 1742, it became into the possession of Robert Chapman of Haddenham who sold it to William Fitch of Cambridge in 1743. Sometime after that it became the property of Thomas Harrison who in his will dated May 23rd 1774 gave and bequeathed it amongst other things unto the Reverend Samuel Hunt of Lincolnshire, who in turn sold it to John Clay of Haddenham in the year 1809 John Clay, in his will dated September 12th, 1812, appointed his son George Clay and his nephew Richard Clay, of Coveney, his executors, to whom he left his property in trust, to sell at his decease. In the year 1818 the said executors sold the property to Wm. Bowtall who, in his will dated January 3rd, 1834, bequeathed all his property to his wife, Sarah Bowtall. At the end of the year 1841 Mrs. Sarah Bowtall sold this site, with the buildings thereon, to the trustees of the Methodist Church for £200. Just previous to this transaction the plot contained one rood seven perches but someone, probably Mr. Oliver Setchell, acquired 10 or 11 poles of it at the west end, so that the plot, as purchased by the trustees, actually contained 36 poles.

The trustees and friends took the opportunity to secure this prominent and convenient site as their old chapel was inadequate for the congregation and also was in a bad state of repair. This old chapel which was the first Methodist Wesleyan Methodist chapel in the parish, was built in the year 1800 and enlarged in 1814. The site of this old chapel was on that part of ground that is now between the residences of Mr. T. Camps and Mr. W. Freeman, but in those days the site now occupied by Mr. Freeman's house was where the Friends Meeting House stood with the Wesleyan Chapel adjoining. Later this old Meeting House was converted into a public house which some may remember. The trustees pulled down the old chapel and sold the site to Mr. Murfitt for £31, and he built the cottage which now stands thereon.

In the meantime, while the new chapel was being built, they held the services in a barn which I believe was somewhere in the yard at the back of the shop now occupied by Mr. Godwin, for the use of which they paid £1.

It will be interesting to note how they went about building the new chapel in contrast to the present day method of putting the entire work out to one contractor. I ought to first just say that the chapel as it is today, is not as it was built in 1843, as it was to a great extent rebuilt in 1891, which we will allude to later.

First of all, the trustees or their representatives on the building committee bought all the chief items of material. For example, they paid Mr. Cox for bricks £60 4s 3d; Mr. Jewson for wood £51 5s 4d; Mr. Ingle for wood £19 19s; Mr. Morris £3 9s 7d; Mr. Rose for ironmongery £5 7s 2d, and Mr. Shippey £2 1s 9d, while for the lime plastering etc they paid £4 13s 10d.

Then they paid different workmen tradesmen to do the work. They paid Mr. C. Waters for bricklaying £42 3s 11d; Mr. William Maltman as carpenter had £39 14s 3½d; Jarvis Porter and sons for woodwork had £31 5s 3½d; Mr. Grasscock for slating received £27 15s 06; Mr. Thomas Ground as plumber, glazier and painter £15 5s; Mr Mansfield for plumbing £13 13s; Mr. Clayton, the stonemason £1 15s 5d and Mr. Stubbings for ventilators etc had £1 17s 6d

One item which sounds curious is that in the light of today's temperance work is 'ale for workman £3 14s 5d'. Another item recalling old times is for tolls paid for the material as the materials were carted. There were two tolls between Ely and Haddenham, namely Ely and Witcham gates. This toll amounted to £1 3s 9d. In addition to all the above, there was a considerable lot of voluntary work done, especially in carting the materials, as all the materials were carted free by different farmers and others owning carts.

The whole cost the cost of the whole affair was as follows: to purchase of land and premises £200; solicitors' fees for deeds etc £7 13s 3d; for use of barn during building operations £1; for building of Chapel and school room £331 3s 10d making a total of £540. In addition to this, there was a considerable lot of old material used for the old chapel.

And no doubt as time went on, they found that other necessary items were required, some of which were given. Amongst them were a communion table, burial ground gate, pulpit cloth and cushion, a font and a timepiece.

How they raise the money would take too long to tell to go into all the details, but with the money they had in hand, and the sale of all property, they had about £600 when they started and then by subscription raised about £148 then they borrowed locally from two or three sources £250 at 5%. They commenced building at Easter 1843 and it was opened in August and they apparently had special opening services on two Sundays and the two Tuesday's following which raised £50. The Reverend Luke Wiseman father of the president Luke Wiseman came to one of these services and he also came again at the anniversaries in 1846 and 1851.

As before, stated there was a shop on the site when they purchased it, which shop which they let remain for about two years after the chapel was built. This shop they let for £4 10s per annum and at the garden at the back in those days made another £2 annually.

We might now ask who were the people concerned in all this work? And who were the one or two who shouldered the responsibility for seeing things done? It is recorded that its inception and completion was greatly owing to the devotion and indefatigable industry of Mr. William Cuttriss, Mr. William Robinson and Mr. Henry Robinson, and especially to the wife of the last name for her zeal in collecting subscriptions.

The full list of Trustees at that time were Henry Robinson (Haddenham) schoolmaster. William Robinson (Haddenham) tailor, Wm Whiting shoemaker, Thomas Graves (Hillrow), shoemaker, Thomas Gibson (Hillrow) farmer, George Kidd (Littleport) surveyor, Daniel Cosyn (Ely) tailor, James Harrison. (Ely) shoemaker, David Gunton (Soham) schoolmaster and Charles Lock (Stretham) tailor. In those early days of the chapel, the seat rents of the gangway brought in over £10 pounds while the seat rents below realised me nearly £24, making a total of £34 a year, while the present day seat rents are only about £12 yearly.

But as the time went on their already heavy burdens of debt seem to increase and I found that about 20 years after the chapel was built, they were paying two different persons as much as £21 per year interest on mortgages. This went on until the year 1869 when they found that the burden of debt which amounted to £438 was too heavy, so the trustees made an application for help to the General Chapter Fund Committee. The outcome of this was that the Committee offered them a grant of £60 and a loan of £119 pounds repayable in eight years free of interest, on the condition that the trustees and friends raised another £259. In addition, they had to find £21 due to Foster's bank.

So they accepted this offer and opened another subscription list, which realised the magnificent sum of £280 pounds. In 1872 they were able to announce that they were free from any debt whatsoever. The first alteration to the old chapel came in about the year 1886 when they decided to rebuild the schoolroom; this work was carried out by Mrs. Waters and Feast, the total cost being £186 4s 6d, the present school room being the result.

Then in 1891, it was decided to alter the old chapel and rebuild it to a great extent leaving some of the main lower walls and foundations. The result is the president Chapel, the total expenditure being £576 2s 3d. The work was carried on by Messrs Feast and Waters. In anticipation of this scheme they had the Rev Peter Mackenzie down, who came in July 1888 and gave a lecture which realised £20. Then in 1889, they had a bazaar which provided another £70.

At the opening services in November, 1891, they got £51 13s 7d. Then of course there was the usual subscription list, sales of work, etc, and by the end of 1890 the chapel was completely free of debt. 33 02 10 ES

Haddenham through the ages, by W. Ivatt, pt.2

Nearly 1,000 years ago the Haddenham district was a primitive forest. Looking up its wooden slopes from any direction it presented a grand sight of what might be deemed a thick and impenetrable forest of majestic oak and beech while the surrounding low lands presented an aspect of a confused mass of trees and herbage with wild reed and rush beds extending many a mile. This was relieved here and there by a noble oak with branches spreading over the dwarfed willow or alder. Remains of these oak trees are found to this day as the farmer ploughs his land, adding to this wild and beautiful scenery. There were large tracts of shallow water and broad streams of natural rivers flowing in fantastic windings ocean-ward. There were no banks in those days to keep the water in bounds. Neither were there any cuts as we now see them. Consequently, in the rainy season, these marshes which are now our fens were flooded, especially in the lower parts.

On the surface of the shallow lakes and amongst the weeds and rushes thousands of wild fowl disported themselves; there were ducks and geese, the diver, the bittern, the spoonbill, the heron the ruff and the reeve, while soaring aloft in mid-air were buzzard, hawk and kite. These birds together with wild untamed land animals formed the chief support of the inhabitants of those parts and were probably eaten with little preparation.

At the time of which we are speaking Britain was inhabited by people called Britons. They consisted of many tribes, each tribe bearing its own particular name. The tribe who inhabited the district of which Haddenham formed apart were called Iceni and they were a very primitive people. Their mode of life was of the most barbarous kind, ruled by ignorance and superstition.

Of such men were the early inhabitants of the place now called Haddenham. They lived in a clearance in a forest on the high lands, and Haddenham would be the highest point for miles around. It would then be then a small encampment with about 20 families who lived in small huts, the walls of which were made by weaving willows around stakes - similar to basket work, and known as wattle work - plastered with mud on the outside and lined with the skins of animals, the roof covered with layers of reeds and kept in position with logs of wood.

As time went on, those conditions would improve - and they had already had done in some parts under the influence of the Roman invader. But at that time in this district, there would be no roads simply tracks padded as they went on their hunting expedition to the marshes, their only weapon for this or warfare being a spear-head fixed on a pole and their only clothing consisting of the skins of animals.

They had ingenious means of catching the wild ducks which were more plentiful and less wild than they are today. Sometimes they would lie concealed in a hollowed-out tree trunk which would float about till in a favourable position when they would suddenly rise up and fling cudgels with unerring aim amongst the flocks of ducks and geese. Sometimes they would sit for hours in this water up to their necks and by peculiar noises decoy the birds to within arm's length, when they would suddenly disappear by being dragged into the water and end their existence with a broken neck.

As these years and centuries rolled on, these primitive forests would gradually be cleared. Rough roads would be formed and land would be cultivated. The people under the Roman rule up to the fourth or fifth century, and afterwards by the Saxon influence, became a more civilised and peace-loving race. The houses would become more pretentious and divided into apartments till later there gradually evolved the house constructed on the mud and the stud principle and thatched with reeds, a type which has survived up to the present time.

At this time, viz the fifth and sixth centuries if Christianity had reached England it was not at all general and the people in this district under the Saxon influences were pagans worshipping different deities, principally Odin, whose chief title was the 'Father of the Slain'. A great log of unfinished wood perpendicularly raised in the open air was the common representation of Odin.

Near the end of the sixth century, the Roman monk Augustine came to England as a missionary to preach the gospel. Thousands were baptised into the faith but for many years the champions of paganism manifested a terrible and destruction opposition, and about the middle of the seventh century Christianity had fallen to a very low. It was revived however by a monk named Alden, from Ireland, from which it gradually prevailed and in time became general.

The time we are now speaking about is still a very early period in the history of Haddenham, centuries before the time of Hereward the Wake, but it is a time which had an effect on the history of Haddenham.

The Isle of Ely in the year 652, was the possession of a prince Tonbert who that year married the princess Etheldreda and settled in on her as a dowry. He died in the year 655. Etheldreda afterwards married Egfrid and gradually eventually became Queen of Northumbria. But Queen Etheldreda had embrace Christianity, and she had a long-cherished desire to retire from the world, which she did in the year 670 and came to her Isle of Ely estate, there to devote her life self to a life of seclusion and prayer. She founded the first monastery for men and women in 673 and Queen Etheldreda was the first abbess. She had previously committed the management of her Isle of Ely estate to Ovin her friend and steward, who was a person of importance in her court. Both Etheldreda and Ovin would have some connection with Haddenham.

It would seem that she visited or Aldreth, for not only was the place named after her but there was a well on the Aldreth Road called Audrey's Well which after her death, in 678, was much resorted to by pilgrims on account the miraculous virtues ascribed to its waters.

Years afterwards, from these pilgrimages a fair originated at which cheap and showy articles were sold. It is thought by some that the term 'tawdry' divides its name from such articles that were first sold at Audrey.

This fair gradually took the form of a cattle fair which in after years became discontinued on account of the decay of the then Aldreth Bridge. This fair was apparently of great importance and caused much concern, when discontinued, of which we find mention in a petitioner of the inhabitants to the Bishop of Ely in the year 1620. This petition sets forth that the great cattle market formerly held Aldreth had to be discontinued because of the decay of Aldreth Bridge and the Bishop is requested to lay their cause before the King (Charles I) and implore his favour on their behalf. This petition contains the signature of Oliver Cromwell. I am unable to say what the result of the petition was. It will be seen by this that the prosperity of Aldreth depended to a great extent on this bridge, but of equal importance was that bit of road known as Aldreth Causeway and although one necessarily depended on the other, there is more historic interest in the causeway. First, it was probably one of the old roads made by Romans who had settlements in Cambridgeshire and the Isle some 1,500 years ago. This would be the only one of the only two causeways crossing the marshes from the direction of Cambridge to the Isle; elsewhere it would be impossible.

For that reason William the Conqueror choose the Aldreth causeway to lead his main attack on the camp of refuge near Ely in 1071. The Camp of Refuge formed by strong barriers of rough unsawn timber was not isolated, but connected with a string of similar but smaller forts, probably reaching to Haddenham, where they would expect an attack through Aldreth. As a matter of fact, it was on this causeway where that Hereward and his men played such havoc with Norman soldiers who were unused to the treacherous marshes on either side and no doubt many of them were slain as they floundered in the mud. Eventually in spite of fierce opposition, the Normans prevailed and then would obviously march to capture first the outlying forts on the high lands of Haddenham.

Coming down the centuries to later days, somewhere about 17th century there is another interesting old time item respecting Aldreth Causeway. It appears that at that time, it was still an important roadway not only to Aldreth but to all the Isle, forming as it did the only link or connection in the neighbourhood to the roads on either side, being as it were a bridge over the marshes. For we find that as far back as the 17th century the following places had to contribute to its upkeep: Benwick, Chatteris, Coveney, Doddington, Downham, Ely, Elm, Guyhirn, Haddenham, Hillrow, Littleport, Leverington, March, Manea, Mepal, Murrow, Newton, Outwell, Upwell, Parson Drove, Stretham, Sutton, Stuntney, Thetford, Tydd St Giles, Thorney, Wilburton, Witcham, Welches Dam, Wisbech and Whittlesey. In addition to these, there were certain persons responsible for a share. According to old records in the earliest time each place was responsible for a certain definite length of the Causeway, its position and length in poles being described, but afterwards they contributed a certain proportion amount. The whole amount contributed for one year amounted to about £570, and was called Treasury money. These contributions ceased about the year 1786. 33 02 17 ES

Ovin also had some connection with Haddenham. He lived in the seventh century and was a friend of Queen Etheldreda and was at that time her steward for the Isle, but afterwards entered the monastic life. He probably accompanied Etheldreda when she came through Haddenham on her visit to Aldreth, while on other occasions his duties as steward may have brought him here. But a link of more importance is that Ovin probably introduced Christianity to Haddenham or was the means of forming the first church here, in the sense of fellow Christians meeting together for common worship. When the first church was built is somewhat uncertain, but it is probable that Ovin may have caused the first rough structure to be erected or had some buildings altered for the purpose where in the people could meet. Thus, he was probably the founder of the first church at Haddenham; but whatever the real cause, it is evident that Ovin had some great tie with Haddenham which was not entirely severed by his death, as it is believed that he was buried here, and a memorial known as Ovin Cross was erected to his memory. It is now about 1,200 years ago when this cross was put up, assuming it was erected within a few years after his death. This cross stood at the junction of the roads now known as Stone Cross at Linden End. It was removed to Ely Cathedral about the year 1785 by James Bentham, Historian of the cathedral, so that what we made of it might be better preserved, as it was apparently degraded to the base use of being a block from which to mount horses. The inscription it bore was rudely cut in Latin which translated reads "Grant, O God, to Ovin Thy Light and Thy Rest. Amen." The cross is to be seen to this day in the south aisle of Ely cathedral.

Another important event, which to a great extent altered the history of Haddenham and the surrounding district must not be overlooked, and that is the drainage of the fens. The condition of the fens before this event has been described earlier and there is a great credit to the persons who had the vision and courage to conceive and carry out this great undertaking, under great difficulties and opposition. It may seem strange in the light of today's knowledge, but there was opposition from at least two quarters and they were the Fenmen who contented it would deprive them of their means of gaining a livelihood by catching wild fowl, etc; and by the shipmasters, keelmen and others of Lynn and elsewhere, who in a petition to Parliament said in relation to the great Bedford Level scheme that the various dams and sluices, especially at Salters Lode would greatly affect and prejudice their navigation to inland towns by shutting out the tide. And also, before commencing on this great scheme and during its construction too there was a lot of contention and discussion amongst experts as to the best methods to use to gain the best results.

First, we will look briefly at that great drainage scheme known as the Bedford Level which although it did not directly affect all our fens as regards drainage, deprived the inhabitants of Haddenham of certain rights which will be described later in another item.

When the scheme was first undertaken in 1630, in the reign of King Charles I, I suppose the old natural river was there. Being more or less a national affair, the country contracted with Francis, Earl of Bedford to drain the marshes. The conditions were that he had to do the work at his own expense and he was to receive as recompense 95,000 acres of the land so reclaimed. Being such a great undertaking, he took several participants into the scheme, and they were to raise money for the work in proportion to the shares each one should receive, i.e. 4,000 acres each. In this first scheme they had about 40 miles of cuts to make, but we need only mention here the principal one, now known as the old Bedford River, which was 70 feet wide and 21 miles long from Earith Bridge to Salter's Lode. The whole scheme was finished in 1637 and had taken seven years to complete. The 95,000 acres were set out by the Commissioners to the said Earl of Bedford.

Unfortunately, the scheme did not prove as successful as was anticipated, especially in the winter months, for which it was intended, and at a session of Sewers held at Huntingdon in April 1638 the scheme was adjudged defective. Then King Charles I undertook to make the level winter grounds at his own charge under the expert advice of Sir Cornelius Vermuyden, a Dutchman. For this the King was to have not only the 95,000 acres which had been set out to the Earl of Bedford, but 57,000 acres besides, but it was afterwards arranged that the Earl of Bedford should retain 40,000 of the 95,000 acres in consideration of the expense he had incurred.

The new scheme had not been commenced many months before the King had to raise an army against the Scots and then followed the Civil War at home, which ended in the King losing his head in the year 1649. In the meantime, the level was neglected and all the work rendered nearly useless.

Then in that same year that William Earl of Bedford, son of the aforementioned Francis Earl of Bedford applied for and obtained an Act of Parliament authorising him to carry out the work and to have the 95,000 acres for doing it. This scheme was finished in 1656. It was then that the New Bedford River was cut and the banks formed. This river was cut 100 feet wide and is sometimes known as 100 Feet River. It runs parallel in a straight line for many miles beside the old river.

To digress just a moment, it might be interesting to note that this straight river lent itself to an interesting experiment carried out in 1870 as a means of proving that the Earth is round. Three signals were set up each 13 feet four inches above the water level and at a distance of three miles apart. On looking through a telescope so adjusted that the line of sight touched the tops of the first and last poles, it was found that the middle signal was more than five feet above the line that's showing that the curvature of the earth was over five feet in six miles. This was known as the Bedford Level Experiment.

It was mentioned a short time ago that the drainage of the Bedford Level deprive the inhabitants and commoners of Haddenham of certain rights. When this great drainage scheme was finished in 1656 great tracts of wasteland and fens were enclosed, some of which were no doubt part of that 95,000 acres due to the Earl of Bedford as payment for work he had done. Over these great tracts of wasteland and marshes from time immemorial, the inhabitants of Haddenham had rights for grazing for all kinds of cattle. So the trustees of the poor of Haddenham sent a petition to the Commissioners, asking them to remedy this grievance. The Commissioners had a full survey made of the whole fens and wastes and found there was a considerable quantity of surplus land lying in different parts of the fens over and above that portion out as before stated and at a meeting of these Commissioners at Cambridge in the year 1677 it was determined and settled for all time that these pieces of land be given to the trustees for the benefit of the poor to the parish of Haddenham. This land was decreed to two houses which were situated in Haddenham End, (now Station End). These houses were known as town houses and were for the benefit of the poor according to a statute in 1601 and were occupied by widows.

This land, which was some of the first "Poors Land" was in 18 plots, situated in different parts of the fen would take too long to describe in detail, but it comprised in all 132 acres and it was let out to farmers and others, the rents being for the benefit of the poor. At first, the rents brought in, after expenses were paid, £23 per annum. In the year 1689 it not only made £8, but at that time there were some default with the trustees over which an inquisition was held, which will be explained later on. In 1700, it made £45 and about 1820 it made £58 while in 1822 it brought in £108.

About 20 years after this land had been allotted and given for the benefit of the poor to perish in lieu of certain grazing rights, certain suspicions were aroused, and it was discovered that there were serious discrepancies in the administration of this charity by the trustees. So in 1698 an Inquisition was taken at Ely before the Right Reverend Father in God, Symon, Lord Bishop of Ely and other gentlemen by virtue of the Commission under the Great Seal of England, bearing the date May 26 1698. There were also called to be present as witnesses several good and lawful men of the parish. To put it briefly it was found that there had been only two trustees acting during the past 18 years. They were Francis Bland of Haddenham and William Saywell, Doctor in Divinity and Archdeacon of Ely. It seems that Bland took upon himself the duties of letting the land and collecting the rents etc, and it was found that he had received £173 4s 10d more than he had accounted for, and further that he had dug on this trust land 80,000 turfs for his own use, valued at £4. It was further found that he had caused damage to the trust lands by burning and digging turf, etc, to the value of £28 and it was adjudged and decreed that he and Dr. Saywell, who admitted his responsibility, should pay to the trustees of the poor the sum of £205 4s 10d. It was further decreed that the new trustees purchase more land with this money and add to the other lands for the benefit of the poor.

The officers of another Haddenham charity known as Arkinstall's Trust, were also examined and revised at the same inquisition. Robert Arkinstall, in his will dated April 1st 1640, subject to his wife's and daughter's life interest, did give and bequeath to the Churchwardens and parishioners of Haddenham certain tenements in Haddenham and lands lying in Wentworth and Sutton, which had to be let and the rents, after payment of expenses, were to go towards the maintenance of a free school at Haddenham. When the Churchwardens inhabitants came into possession of this property, it brought in £14 per annum, and for several years they made it up to £20 per year by other funds. This was paid to the schoolmaster as his salary. But after that, it was found that for several years previous to 1698, they failed to make up the rents of the said estate to £20 pounds, so that in consequence, there was not a competent allowance made for a schoolmaster, and it appears that for a few years the post was not filled, because this at this inquisition was decreed that the schoolmaster be appointed within six months under new regulations then formulated, and that the rents of Arkinstall's estate be made up from other funds to £20 per annum as his salary. 33 02 24ES

Ancient Power of the Manorial system. Working people almost slaves/

When the Bedford Level scheme was finished in 1656, that of course not improved to a great extent the drainage condition of the Fens and it was not until 70 years later that an Act of Parliament was passed in the year 1727, entitled 'An Act for the efficient draining and preservation of Haddenham

Level in the Isle of Ely'. Under that act, certain commissioners were appointed and empowered to make such cuts, drains, dams and outlets through certain fens and low lands lying in Haddenham and the neighbouring parishes, to make and erect such works and engines thereupon as they think fit and necessary, and to rate and tax and charge all the owners and occupiers of the said fen with a tax of two shillings an acre for the year 1727 add one shilling and sixpence for the year 1728, and for every year after a sum not exceeding one shillings per acre'. The Commissioners were also authorised to borrow money on the security of the rates and taxes for the carrying out of the works.

As time went on, it was found that the tax of one shilling per acre was not sufficient for keeping in repair the works and drains and for paying interest on the borrowed money and a considerable debt was incurred. In addition, it was found that other new works and drains were necessary. So in the year 1797, about 70 years after the first act, another Act of Parliament was passed entitled ;An act for amending and rendering more effectual the former act of 1727 and for more effectively draining and preserving the fen land and low ground lying within the said level'. Then after a long preamble on the appointment and duties of the commissioners, it authorised them to raise the tax to four shillings per acre, this to be paid until the debt was reduced to £5,000. Then after that they had power to tax the land as required, but not less than two shillings and not more than four shillings per acre.

It is interesting to note that in those days, the Three Kings in was in existence as the Act ordained that the first meeting of the Commissioners shall be held at the Three Kings in Haddenham on the Wednesday three weeks next after the passing of this act. That was in the year 1797 and it is believed the Commissioners have met their twice a year ever since up to the present time.

When comparing old times with the present day, it is wonderful to note the advanced and improve conditions of the people, the freedom they enjoy today and especially the freedom of the working classes. But this freedom has not been gained without strife and bloodshed.

One of the old customers that enthralled men still lingers with us in a very mild form as the Manorial System, but its ancient powers and privileges have almost passed out of existence. This system was established in Anglo Saxon times, somewhere about 800 years ago, and the Manors were estates originally grafted as rewards for knight service and gave the recipients great power within the manorial territory. In the early times, the lower classes were practically slaves, they were bound to do whatever they were commanded, and were liable to beating and imprisonment at the whim of their Lord. They were incapable of acquiring property or of giving freedom to their children. But from the time of the Magna Carta onwards, the conditions gradually improved.

Most of the remaining irksome and arbitrary manorial rights in the Manor of Haddenham were swept away in year 1610 by what is known as the Haddenham decree. This was really a kind of bargain made between Thomas of Suffolk, then Lord of the Manor and the customary tenants of the Manor or Lordship of Haddenham. To give it its full title it was termed 'Haddenham Decree, ordered adjudged and decreed by Sir Thomas Edgerton, Lord Chancellor of England on Thursday the sixth day of December 1610 In the eighth year of the reign of James I'. To understand this decree more clearly it is well to bear in mind that at the time, all our fens were open waste land and not drained over which for centuries, the inhabitants had grazed cattle and sheep. The trouble began when the said Thomas, Earl of Suffolk, being Lord and owner of the Manor or Lordship of Haddenham wanted to enclose for his own use that portion of fens, known as Ewell Fen, part of the waste grounds of the Manor of Haddenham, therefore anciently used for common by the people of Haddenham. Ewell Fen is that portion of Fen land between Aldreth High Bridge and Haddenham Engine, but it probably extended them to Earith Bridge. The people of Haddenham objected to this enclosure and sent a bill of complaint onto His Majesty's High Court of Chancery. This bill bore about 80 signatures of some of the customary tenants of the said Manor. The Earl of Suffolk's contention was that there was sufficient other common for the set tenants within the manor. He then set forth and described all the different fens or waste grounds used as Commons in Haddenham and Hillrow which is too lengthy to describe in detail here, but they comprised seven separate farms and contained in all some 3,680 acres according to his computation, not including Ewell Fen. It was then suggested that if he would need sever and enclosed that fen land known as Ewell fen his lordships would be pleased in consideration to make some recompense and satisfaction to the said customary tenants of the Manor of Haddenham. In the end, his Lordship said that that although he could lawfully, according to the laws of the realm, enclose the said fens for himself and his heirs, but as the benefit, practice and contention of his tenants were well liking unto him, he would upon the condition of his quiet enjoying the said Ewell Fen, , grant to them and their heirs forever the several immunities, privileges, dispensations, advantages promises and agreements as set forth by the Bill.

Now previous to this decree, the owners of copyhold property were not allowed to cut down wood or trees upon their estate, or to dig for clay, sand, chalk or gravel without permission, but the Lord of the Manor had the right to cut down and cast away such trees. They were not allowed to pull down a house or building or to build or rebuild without his consent. If they failed to cultivate their land properly, and let it run to waste, they were liable to forfeit it and pay a penalty. Then they were liable to do days' work for the Lord of the Manor and pay recognition money as demanded or pay the fine in cattle etc. This was known as 'heriot', due to the Lord of the Manor from a tenant succeeding as heir to his father's holdings. Also when a person bought property or had it bequeathed to him, he could not take possession so easily or cheaply as he could afterwards. In fact, the Decree altered the Manor from what is known as copyhold arbitrary to copyhold fine certain; that is before the Decree the Lord of the Manor could fine and charge what he liked, but afterwards, it was a small fixed fee. Not only were these irksome restrictions swept away by the Decree, but amongst other things, he undertook not to graze more than 20 score sheep on the commons or to obstruct the folding of the commoners' chain. It must be understood that the Lord of the Manor held certain farms in Haddenham and farmed the land under the supervision of his farmers. He thus had the same rights as other farmers to graze sheep on the commons, but I think that previous to this decree, through his authority, the other tenants could not fold their sheep just when they liked. He also granted them the privilege to let in water from the river across his lands when necessary to water their cattle in the dry season. He also undertook to be responsible for the upkeep of the Hillrow Causeway at his own expense, and also to pay the annual fee of £86 9s 8½d due to the King from the Manor, which had formerly been paid by the tenants of the Manor. Thus, it will be seen that this degree greatly improved the conditions for the copyholders of Haddenham, while today the tendency is to gradually extinguish all right rights. No doubt in time, the centuries old system will be entirely swept away.

In these old time items, we have rambled through some 19 centuries of local history noting the general improvement of the conditions of the people from early times to the present day. And for all the wonderful advantages and privilege we enjoy today there is no doubt we are greatly indebted to the uplifting influence of Christian religion, both direct and indirect. For centuries, the Mother Church carried on this great work single handed. We know the Church was founded in the early days at Haddenham and we know from old records that a Rector was in charge here, about the 1270. Probably the Society of Friends or Quakers, as they were sometimes called, were the next body of Christians established at Haddenham. Then followed the Methodists, who as before stated built their first chapel in 1800. Soon after that came the Baptist. It is recorded that the first body of Christians called Baptists were organised at Haddenham in the year 1814 and reorganised in 1828. It is well to remember that although the Baptist may have been the last of the nonconformist bodies to be established at Haddenham, they were one of the first Nonconformist sects in England as we read of them about the time of the Reformation. The Congregationalists or Independents claimed to be the oldest sect of Nonconformist but I am speaking only have those bodies established at Haddenham. After the Baptist came a Society of Friends who were founded about 100 years later, and that is about the years 1650. Then nearly 100 years after that came the Methodists founded by John Wesley in 1739.

About three years after the Baptists had been formed here they bought a plot of land on which to build their first Meeting House. That was in 1817. The site is where the old Baptist Chapel stands, but in those days it did not include the land at the back of the Meeting House where now the Baptist Manse and garden is. That portion of property they did not acquire until 1846.

It is interesting to note the previous to the 1817 the sites whereon now stand the Baptist Chapel, Manse and garden, and also this Methodist Chapel and garden were all one property owned by a Mr. John Clay, who purchased it in the year 1809 as previously mentioned in the history of the Methodist Chapel at the beginning of this paper. In those days the roadway beside the old Baptist Chapel did not go right through to Mr. Setchell's yard as it now does, but was made afterwards when Mr. Oliver Setchell acquired 11 poles for that purpose from off the bottom end of our chapel site in 1841, and thus separated the property.

In thus looking briefly at the lives and works of the former inhabitants of Haddenham, one is reminded that although these are now mostly forgotten, yet in their time life was to them as earnest and real as it is for us today. They too had their hopes and fears, their joys and sorrows. They too took pride in their handiwork and tilled the land they called their own, which others now enjoy.

This on times ever rolling streams

We too shall pass away,

And others then the streets will fill

And others then our land will till

And other lips will sing as gay

And bright the sunshine as today.

A hundred years to come.

Were stilts used in the fens – Gordon Fowler. 33 02 10(3)(4)ES *

Major Gordon Fowler expressed his views on the use of stilts in the Fens. It has long been said that stilts were in common use in the fens in the time gone by. If this means on the silt-covered fenland bordering the coast, or on the islands, there is no need to doubt that assertion. But if it implies that stilts we used in the peat covered areas, the fen proper, the matter should be inquired into carefully. Stilts cannot be used on land surfaces which are soft and boggy. In such surfaces, they would sink rapidly and make movement impossible. There is evidence to show that before the 17th century drainage, the peat was as much as 22 feet and not less than nine-feet deep. That peat was soft and saturated with water like a sponge which during hot dry summers become crusty and cracked but able to support both man and beast. It is however open to doubt whether that crust was capable of supporting the penetrating proclivities of stilts with even a lightweight man on them.

Casaubon, writing in 1611 mentions remarkable men in the fens who moved fast on very high stilts and says he saw a single man on stilts with only his boy to help him looking after 400 cows at pasture. The Pouts Complaint, includes 'stilt makers or tanners shall complain of this disaster'.

There is little evidence to show that stilts were ever used on the peat covered fenland, but only on the high land, where it seems they were used by shepherds and cow herds for keeping their eyes on their stocks in uncultivated brush-covered lands.

The things that we used in the soft peat were really patterns or flat oval pieces of wood tied to the feet, or else the two flat pieces of wood or iron separated about by 12 inches by iron rods, which were called stilts and tied to the feet for support and dryness in the once boggy lands.

It is hoped that this summer, a man on stilts and another on patterns are going to have a walking competition in Wicken Fen which is the only near virgin undrained peat fen in the country. That should help settle the question. 33 02 10ES

Since its formation a few months ago Haddenham, Wilburton and Stretham branch of the British Legion has made rapid progress in every respect. Much of this is due to the enthusiasm of the men themselves and the untiring efforts of the officials. They held a dinner in Haddenham church hall, that they hope will become their annual event. Nearly 70 member were present.

Many of the young men of today were only babies in 1914 and had grown up without any knowledge of war and its aftermath. Industrial depression, unemployment, want of money, war debts and war reparations, all dated from 1914 and it was up to members of the British Legion to teach young people their duties in trying to preserve world peace. In the minds of most young people war was regarded as a great adventure and they did not think of the consequence not only to themselves but to those dependent upon them.

Mr. Reed, Vicar of Wilburton said that he had charge of a parish of 15,000 people in Hull and one night Zeppelins came. He would never forget those bombs as they fell on his poor defenceless people. He was one of the specially-appointed constables and from two o'clock in the morning, houses in the parish went down like packs of cards. Until 10 o'clock the next morning they were carrying out the dead and the injured to the hospital. 33 02 10ES

1933 02 11

An amazing criminal record in Canada and America, including safe blowing and the theft of bombs, and sentences among which was one of 30 years' imprisonment, were revealed against an Ashwell man who stood in the dock at Cambridge Police Court. He had been deported from Canada and

America three times. The prisoner, a carpenter lodging in Norwich Street, was found with twelve £5 notes and a bunch of skeleton keys. He was sent to prison for three months. 33 02 11 & a

The mildness of the winter has given gardeners something to talk about. Even the frost has failed to kill off all the roses and some were in full bloom at Cottenham with the first snowdrops flowering between the standards. Flowers gathered before the frost set in and put into water have a more powerful scent than usual. But are these the first roses of summer or the last? 33 02 11b

Season, p8*

Mystery photo, p8

1933 02 13

Motoring notes column, p6

1933 02 14

When the Cambridge Daily News was founded in 1888 it was produced in premises in Camden Place. The present site, once an arcade of shops and offices in the passage leading between the New Theatre and Scott and Wilkinson, was acquired in 1901-2. Now we are expanding with new presses, modern Linotype plate casting machinery and a larger photo-engraving department. We have also introduced a fleet of efficient delivery vans. 33 02 14,a & b

With regard to distribution we have substituted for railway transit will enable a 24-page weekly paper. Many mechanical changes and improvements have gone forward occupied by the revenue has responded to the Mayor's appeal for work for the relief of unemployment. All who pass the Theatre Buildings will see we are taking over the premises vacated by D.J. Scott, the photographer. 33 02 14

Cottenham gas supply meeting – 33 02 14

Lauries fie pic, p8

Rickling fire, p8

1933 02 15

Greek play – 33 02 15a & 33 02 15

Hunts Cyclist battalion reunion – 33 02 15b

Mock divorce trial – 33 02 15c & d

Motor Boat club, p5

1933 02 16

Milton doctor dispute – 33 02 16a

Reliance and Comfort coaches merge – 33 02 16 # c.24.46

1933 02 17

Mr A.W. Jones, the Cambridge music teacher, has added yet another to his growing list of compositions. It is a song fox-trot 'The Girl Most Suitable for Me' which has been featured with success by Alex Alexander and his Radio boys. It should prove very popular. 33 02 17

Milton parish council has erected a seat across the gateway of a Doctor's house. Now the only way in from the road is to climb the fence and drop down on to a flowerbed. They had agitated for a pond which stood in front of 'The Willows' to be filled in with the ground retained for the use of the parish. The doctor made a new entrance before the council could put up the seat, but they went ahead anyway. 33 02 17a

Death Robert Donald, chairman Directors CDN – 33 02 17a

1933 02 17 ES

Stretham:

Influenza outbreak
Slot postage stamp machine
New – older council houses, Ely Road
Wesley Guild
Carnival dance
Cricket Club agm. 33 02 17&(2)ES

1933 02 18

The Cavendish Laboratory seems unable to keep out of the limelight. Sensation follows sensation as the invisible atom is mercilessly attacked. And now comes news of the discovery of a minute particle of positive electricity which may lead to entirely revised conceptions of the ultimate nature of matter.
33 02 18

Sherlock Holmes rag at play recalled– 33 02 18a
Greek Play, p8*
Concert party, p8*

1933 02 20

Histon bells dedicated – 33 02 20a
Waterworks company list of plumbers – 33 02 20b
Oddfellows sports club – 33 02 20

1933 02 21

Milton fence pic, p8

1933 02 22

An investigation into the making up of Goose Tree Road between Guyhirn and Whittlesey heard that gratuities of two guineas had been offered to the divisional surveyors at Christmas by a company supplying materials. Other firms had sent gifts of cigars and game to members of the Highways Department. Work should be suspended and the Minister of Transport informed. 33 02 22 & a

Sir Oswald Mosley, leader of the new Fascist Party, was defeated in a debate at the Cambridge Union Society. He was booed when he entered the chamber and his speech was subject to continual interruptions. No Fascist movement in the world has developed at such a rapid rate as in England. Accusations of violence were true, but we are organising violence to meet violence, he told them.
33 02 22b & c

Death on debate, p8
Pentacle Club, p8
Festival future, p8

1933 02 23

Sidney Wisbey, a hackney carriage taxi proprietor from Wellington Passage, told the court he started driving in 1908. He had bought an old Buick, VR 6151, because he wanted to use the chassis and had made one car out of two. He altered the body from a box van to a saloon and changed the colour to blue. He tried it out but the engine was no good so he put it back in the garage. 33 02 23

Sir – many a lover of trees mourns the cutting down of the fine Pagoda tree, Sophora Japonica, which stood in Downing Street. It was about 200 years old and doubtless adorned the Botanic Garden there before it moved to its present site. A young American who was sadly photographing its headless trunk says it was one of the finest specimens in England. Why do we not value our ancient trees as we do our buildings? - F.P. Leyburn-Yarker. 33 02 23a – photo 33 03 01

1933 02 24

Melbourn isolation hospital, p8

1933 02 24 ES

Isle County Library enthusiasm, Carnegie. 33 02 24&(2)ES

Any doubts the County Council might have had as to the interest taken in the County Library would have been instantly dispelled had they been present in a body to witness the large crowd (mostly teachers) that gathered at the Regent Theatre, March to hear an address by Lieut-Colonel J. M. Mitchell, Secretary of the Carnegie United Kingdom Trust.

He urged his listeners not to be content with the present county library facilities in the Isle, but to press for a greater stock and better quarters. It was gratifying to know there was such a strong public opinion in favour of expanding and improving the opportunities offered by the county libraries. He gave a brief resume of the history of the county library scheme. Up to 1915 the only public libraries were in boroughs, urban districts or parishes. The Carnegie trustees then decided to find the capital costs, stock and books and maintenance costs of the five period of five years in those counties where the authorities would take advantage of the offer. The response was remarkable and by the end of 1925, every county in England, except three, had embraced the scheme.

The Isle of Ely county stock was not large enough. There was a much larger source upon which to draw and they could write to Miss Philip and ask her to get any book they wished for. Along with the County Library had been growing up the great National Central Library whose purpose was to serve local authorities with books which it could not reasonably expected to provide for itself.

They were passing through a period when they must be practical. They were short money and burdened with unemployment and had to ask themselves 'What are we spending our money on?' The County Library was one of the great potential assets of the community. Many people sneered at the number of books of fiction but there would be a great deal more enforced leisure. The problem was how to use it to best advantage. And the most profitable way to do it was in reading decent books. Along with the unemployed question was the problem of young people who were just leaving school and were either out of work or at some jobs that lead nowhere. Let us try to keep them in some kind of contact with the habit of reading and endeavour to let them know what the county library can do for them to help them fill up their leisure time until they resume a normal avocation.

The Library was doing great work amongst the Women's Institute's, boys clubs and girls clubs and adult education classes. It could supply music scores and plays.

The future of their County Library lay with themselves. For Miss Philip he had the greatest respect. She had worked under very difficult conditions and in very restricted quarters. It was their job to back her up.

The provision of knowledge and the provision of material to occupy otherwise unoccupied time is one of the things we must as a community organise. The population which the County Library in this area serves was 77,000 and the amount being expended on them was three pence per head per year.

33 02 24(2)ES

The prosperity of Ely really depended largely on the success of agriculture which was today in a very bad way.

The Beet Sugar Factory Adelaide has been of enormous benefit both to agriculturalists and to the city and had been the saviour of many farmers and small holders in this district' Last year a canning factory was opened in Ely and did a great deal towards solving part of the unemployment problem. There was a move on foot to get a bacon factory for the Isle. Whether or not it would come to Ely he could not say but it would help further to solve that distressing problem of unemployment and assist agriculture to get on its legs again.

The district Master bakers Association had been formed in 1920 to promote good fellowship and loyalty amongst its members and to discuss the problems of their craft. Of the 44 master bakers in the area 42 were members of the association. Milling and tilling were important industries. The tiller cultivated the cereals to pass on to the miller for grinding into flour, which the miller passed on to the baker in turn to turn into good wholesome bread.

One way to make Ely prosperous was for everyone to spend all the money they had to spend in Ely and not go out of town to buy the things they needed. Farmers were passing through very difficult times and when the farmer was being hard hit by depression everyone else was too. On the other hand, if the farmer did well the rest of the community did so to add on the success of agricultural dependent the prosperity of Ely 33 02 24ES

Coursing in the snow, Stretham meeting. 33 02 24(3)(4)ES

Isle highways sensation ... corrupt local government, Ministry asked to hold enquiry, Guyhirn-Whittlesey road. 33 02 24(5)(6)ES

1933 02 25

Blizzard – 33 02 25

1933 02 28

The Medical Superintendent reported a rather severe epidemic of influenza at Fulbourn Mental Hospital involving a large number of inmates and staff. The epidemic spread to the female side and 105 patients were affected, 30 dying. None of the staff died. The epidemic lasted nearly a month. The Visitors expressed their appreciation to the staff for the extra and hard work during a very trying time. 33 02 28b

Flooding – 33 02 28a

March 1933 CDN & ES

1933 03 01

Tree photos, p6*

1933 03 02

Jesus college boathouse demolition following fire – photo – 33 03 02

1933 03 03

Licences, p6*

Milton doctor blockade ends, p8*

1933 03 03 ES

Stretham Railwayman retirement

Albert Charles Wright of High Street Stretham retired, having served on the railway away for the last 32 years. He started as a porter at Harston in 1920 and remained there for a year and eight months. He then transferred to Stretham as porter signalman later being appointed signal man. In this capacity he served under no fewer than eight different stationmasters. When the position of stationmaster was dispensed with nine years ago, Mr. Wright was appointed foreman in charge, in which capacity he worked until his retirement.

It is interesting to note the changes which have taken place during the last 32 years at Stretham station. At the beginning of the period there were employed there a stationmaster, a signalman and a porter while now the station is managed entirely by one man.

Formerly residents of the village had to choose between the passenger trains and carrier carts as the only mode of travel. But now the station is closed entirely for passenger traffic, the work now being done by buses. The goods train service is also not nearly so much used as it was in former years, the work to a great extent being done by motor transport.

At one period during the war ladies were employed at the station as porters and later before the passenger service was dispensed with tickets were issued by the guard on the corridor trains which were used at that time. We understand that a permanent successor to Mr. Wright has not yet been appointed. 33 03 03 (2)ES

1933 03 04

No longer will tradesmen have any difficulty gaining access to Dr Woodman's house at Milton. The siege was partially raised when Dr Woodman, watched by a number of villagers, pulled down the whole of the fencing with which his entrance has been blockaded, sawing it in half. Then, in persistent rain, the seat that had been erected by the Parish Council was dug out from its foundation of solid concrete and placed on one side without harm. 33 03 04a

“Murder at the Varsity” novel review – 33 03 04b
First Eastern General Hospital reunion – 33 03 04d
Licencing – Maypole, Alhambra, Carlton - 33 03 04
Jack Rowell, p6*

1933 03 06

A rag-and-bone merchant of Shamrock Passage, Newmarket Road, appeared in court with three of his neighbours, accused of assault. A sanitary inspector said he'd received complaints of a terrible smell and asked for a pile of rubbish to be cleared away. As he got on his bicycle he heard cries of ‘Murder’ and saw two men struggling. One lady – “a villainous woman” - had a piece of wood and threatened to knock another’s brains out. All were bound over for a year. 33 03 06

Branch libraries for Cambridge – Morley and Shirley schools – 33 03 06b

1933 03 07

Bus crashes wall St Giles church – 33 03 07

1933 03 08

Rowell funeral, p6*
James Wilkerson, p8*

1933 03 09

Gt St Mary’s bells a nuisance – 33 03 09

1933 03 10

Fire breathing apparatus, p8*

1933 03 10 ES

Wisbech St Mary churchyard unpleasant conditions. 33 03 10(2)ES

Wisbech St. Mary Churchyard has been full for some time and it is impossible to put a spade into the ground without digging up human remains. It had been a disgrace to bury the dead there for some considerable time

There had been some funerals recently and in one case no less than three skull bones were dug up. In another instance the undertaker made a special effort to get an isolated part of the yard. But the gravedigger dug into a coffin and the stench was so bad that he had to leave the yard.

It was a shame that they should have to put up with it but what could they do? There were no other means of providing a burial ground. It was about time they provided a suitable burial ground and a Burial Board so that the dead could be buried in a proper manner.

Apart from the churchyard being full, it was very wet. At this time of the year the graves were half full of water. But unless a piece of land could be bought very close to the chapel and the church it would mean enormous expense. 33 03 10(2)ES

Ely Refuse

Ely Council discussed the question of providing a refuse destructor. Details of the cost of the incinerator and the uses to which it could be put, were given the Surveyor. He had prepared plans and specifications for the house refuse disposal plant at the Angel Works and had advertised for tenders for the erection of a refuse destructor. They considered the possibility of utilising the heat which would be available in connection with the boiler and suitable electricity generator, the energy to be used for public lighting and for other services. It was also ordered that the tenancy of the City of Ely, Gas and Electricity Company on that portion of the Angel Works be terminated as early as possible. The refuse with which a destructor could deal with was: Animal - fish and meat offal, bones, leather rags etc. Vegetable – paper, cardboard, cotton, rags, potato peelings, cabbage stalks and other waste vegetable matter, wood, string charred wood, etc. Mineral – (combustible) coal, coke and partly burned cinders much being in the form of dust; (non-combustible) metal, brickbats glass, pottery clinker. At the Huddersfield destructor the chimney tops were almost smoke free, only a thin white smoke was visible and there was a complete absence of odour. Steam from the boiler plant was drawn directly into the mains of the adjoining power station. During 12 months the equivalent amount of coal saved to the electricity supply department was approximately 8,000 ton. 33 03 10ES

1933 03 11

Vinery Road allotments – 33 03 11

No More War, p5*

1933 03 13

An NSPCC inspector said he went to a field in Chesterton where he found a family, including two children, living in an old baker's cart. At one end was a bed which was filthy and saturated. In the centre was a stove round which the children had to crawl. They were bare from the waist down and in a very filthy condition. He advised the parents to take them to the infirmary. 33 03 13

The Cranbrook Drain was in a choked condition. It was not included in the Sutton and Mepal Internal Drainage Board area but higher up, above Somersham, it was shown as a public drain. Riparian owners had cleaned it out in the past but now refused to do anything more. They had paid taxes for 20 years and received no benefit. Now they should ask the Minister who was responsible. 33 03 13b

Disarmament, p6*

Anti-war demonstration: procession of undergraduates, organised by the Students' Anti-War Council, in St Andrew's Street. 33 03 13a&aa p6

1933 03 14

Arthur Cooke, senior Surgeon at Addenbrooke's Hospital, owned one of the first steam cars in Cambridge. He was founder of the University Automobile Club which wound up about 1926 when the funds went to form the Ricardo Prize for Thermo-dynamics at the Engineering School. 33 03 14 & a

1933 03 15

Cambridge Permanent Building Society had a record year: there were 1,266 mortgages, most for amounts of under £500, and arrears were only £339, which was very satisfactory. The staff were a happy family, they worked hard and the books were all balanced. Rates for borrowers and shareholders had remained at four percent for the past 36 years. 33 03 15

Serious damage was prevented at Peterhouse when an undergraduate awoke in the early hours of the morning and noticed flames in the window of the Junior Combination Room. The head porter, Mr Barnes, was called and the water hose was brought into action. The fire was got in hand so quickly that many of the undergraduates did not know there had been a blaze until breakfast time. Slight damage was done to some 14th-century beams and an oar. A cigarette end is believed to have been the cause of the outbreak. 33 03 15b

Chatteris station, p6*

1933 03 16

"Undergraduate Roadways" want route to Skegness – 33 03 16

Warboys road accident – 33 03 16a

1933 03 17

Eaden Lilley carpet beating works advert – 33 03 17

Death W. Cooper, St John's College servant – 33 03 17a

Milton school was packed for the largest meeting ever held in the village. Although very 'lively', it was kept well in hand by the chairman, despite cat-calls, boos and other vocal demonstrations. It broke up quite amicably with a resolution demanding the resignation of the whole of the Parish Council over the 'boarding up' of Dr Woodman. 33 03 17b

1933 03 17 CDN

Anti-war demonstration – students. 112.99

1933 03 17 ES

Congratulations are extended to Mr. J. Butcher of Slipe Farm, Black Bank, who has celebrated his 91st birthday. He is the oldest and one of the most highly esteemed residents in the parish and is still very active, driving himself out in a little Shetland pony and trap almost daily. He possesses a remarkable memory enabling him to relate to many interesting incidents of his boyhood days.

Commencing work on a farm in the parish Mr. Butcher worked from 9am to 7pm, the remuneration being his food and three pounds annually. At that time labourers' wages were: married men nine shillings per week, and the single ones eight shillings, working from 6am to 6pm.

More than 60 years ago, Mr. Butcher started on his own account and proved one of the best and most successful farmers in the neighbourhood. He attributed his success to the constant use of the fly tool, claying the land, feeding and fattening cattle and pigs and making straw into manure.

Retiring only a few years ago, he still takes an interest in the work of the farm. For upwards of 70 years he has been a constant attendant at Ely market, and still drives himself when weather permits. In the house he now occupies he has resided for something like 65 years and is most happy under the capable management of his grand-daughter. Miss Edith Hall 33 03 17ES

1933 03 18

A tragedy occurred at the weekly meeting of the Women's Mission at March Station Road Methodist church when the reader collapsed and passed away. She was the oldest member of the church and it was a tragic coincidence that she met her death at the scene of so many hours of her loving labour for the cause. Several of the lady members were so overcome as to have to receive medical treatment before being able to proceed home. 33 03 18b

CDN 'free cycles' competition – 33 03 18, 33 03 22 & a

Arthur Cooke appreciation – 33 03 18c

Arthur House, p6*

1933 03 20

Gas exhibition – 'housewives wonder' – 33 03 20

Newmarket big blaze, timber store – 33 03 20a

1933 03 21

Willingham peace ballot – 33 03 21

St Luke's school overcrowding – 33 03 21a

1933 03 22

CN cycle competition, p3*

1933 03 24

Soham sewage problem – 33 03 24 & a

Snelson lecture on River Cam – 33 03 24b

Three Tuns licence to be withdrawn, Coach & Horses, Newnham – 33 03 24c

1933 03 24 ES

Burnt Fen Schoolmaster death. 33 03 24&(2)ES *

Burnt Fen has mourned the loss of its beloved schoolmaster Mr. Arthur Laurance Crust at the age of 45. In the comparatively short time of two-and-a-half years he had become known to almost everyone because of his unstinted efforts for the people amongst whom he lived. He came to Burnt Fen mixed school, which comprises 117 children with three assistant teachers, as successor to Mr Crowther and soon became settled in his new position. Together with his wife he entered wholeheartedly into the life of the Fenland community, by whom he had been so warmly welcomed and from then onwards his life, crowded with duties, was one of thought and service for others.

One of his first undertakings was that of the Burnt Fen correspondent of the Ely Standard. Perhaps the greatest piece of work with which he became associated was the provision of the splendid Institute. He was one of the prime movers behind the whole project and rejoiced when the debt was completely cleared last month. He evidenced great interest in the Men's Club, was Secretary of Burnt Fen Badminton Club and formed a Scout Troop. He was a devout churchman and was lay reader in the absence of the vicar of Prickwillow, conducting services in the little Mission Church of St. James close to the schoolhouse. 33 03 24 ES

1933 03 25

Cambridge boundary extension proposals – 33 03 25 & a & b

University voters, p8*

Stanley Williams, p8*

1933 03 27

Police Court Mission work – 33 03 27

Lode's Labour Party was formed in December 1924 and determined to have their own hall. Now opened, it is the first in the county to be built by voluntary labour erected by the accumulation of the pence and shillings of those whose whole income is measured in pence and shillings. It was out of the spirit of such villages that the Labour party would obtain its new army of supporters. 33 03 27a, aa & b

1933 03 28

Newmarket's new fire station in Rous Road comes with a new fire motor engine complete with first aid apparatus, two sets of 'proto' breathing apparatus and 12,000 feet of hose. The brigade started in 1906 and until now they had relied on the strong force of water from the mains. But the additional force of a petrol driven fire engine was needed for the loftier buildings in Bury Road. 33 03 28 & a

1933 03 29

Cricket memories book – 33 03 29 & a

School dentist's report – 33 03 29b & c

H.S. Johnson on colour photography – 33 03 29e

Littleport death, p8

Elephant photo, p8

1933 03 30

Goldfinches in too small cages – 33 03 30

Houses for farm workers – 33 03 30a

Plantation Farm, Littleport, death on light railway, Shippea Hill – 33 03 30b

1933 03 31

Safety First movement – 33 03 31 & a

Photographers' association, p8

1933 03 31 ES

Railway fatality on Hiam's Shippea Hill farm. 33 03 31ES

A terrible fertility occurred on the light railway which runs through Sir Frederick Hiam's Plantation Farm, Shippea Hill as a result of which one of the labourers was killed, one of the trucks running over him and inflicting severe injuries. A platelayer were said he saw the man working with some trucks on the light railway; the trucks were being drawn by a horse. The deceased stooped down to uncouple the truck in order to release the horse but fell and the truck ran onto him. He called his mates and they unloaded one of the two trucks and sent for a doctor at once. The man had uncoupled the horse from the trucks as they have a run since it was downhill. The horse was quite quiet at the time. It was the first serious accident in 22 years. 33 03 31

Haddenham farmyard fire, Allen's Hillrow. 33 03 31(3)ES

The fire broke out in the stack yard at Mr. P. Allen's farm Hillrow Fen, Haddenham, His young son ran to play in the stack yard and discovered that the top of one of the three haystacks was on fire. He informed his mother who immediately secured help from some men working in a nearby field but despite their efforts the fire gained the firm hold and pieces of burning hay were blown onto another stack, near which stood a portable fowl house which soon became ignited. Ely Fire Brigade did all they could, but it was impossible to save two stacks and the fowl. They did however, prevent the third stack from becoming ignited. 33 03 31(3)ES

Quite a novel treat was provided for the inmates of Ely Tower House. Through the generosity of Mr. And Mrs. C. F Evison they were entertained at Evison's Fish Saloon, which has just been opened up at the Market Place, Ely. These inmates have been feasted many times before, but within the institution walls, and this was the first occasion on which they have ever been entertained outside their home. The party numbering 70, including the children of the Cottage Home, arrived at the spacious dining rooms at 3:30. Everything had been prepared: the fish cut up and the potatoes peeled by the electric peeler and chipped, and when the large family arrived, the wonderful three-part range which has been fitted in this up-to-date fish saloon was set to work. Within a quarter of an hour, each had been supplied with a plate piled high with fish and chips while the Licensee of the White Hart hotel generously gave each male member a glass of beer. Some of the inmates who could not make the journey had similar fare the next evening. 33 03 31(2)ES

Mepal blacksmith Setchfield retires. 33 03 31(4)(5)ES

The blacksmith has always been the symbol of strength and good will and no better example could be found than in Mr. Alexander Setchfield of Mepal. Although 73 years of age he looks younger. On Monday, he said goodbye to the village of his birth where he was always worked at his thatched forge in High Street. He started work at a lad of 12 for his father who was always a blacksmith and took over the business 40 years ago. With his retirement and the fact he had no son to follow after him this breaks a line of business extending to well over 100 years. He also served for 63 years in the church choir.

Since the invention of the motor car the living of the village Smith had greatly depreciated for there was little shoeing done now, while the rest of the work was just jobbing. The days of the village smith were passed and it was a dying profession. With regard to bent iron work, he believed nothing would again be produced for that art had been killed by cast iron work. Because his work had been in the village, whatever came along, whether it was a fire or illness he was always there. 33 03 31(5)ES

Ely Needham's headmaster moves to Silver Street Boys' School. 33 03 31&(2)(ES)

Littleport British Legion Band in new uniforms. 33 03 31(6)ES

Arnold King, 85, came to Stuntney 50 years ago and has been continually employed as estate wheelwright and carpenter by Mr. Ambrose. He and his wife have a family of 14 of whom eight are still living and in addition, they have 25 grandchildren and five great grandchildren. Mr. King has a host of interesting reminiscences. He remembers walking from Soham to Wicken to work at tuppence a day, following his mother on the land dropping two grains of corn into each hole made by a dibber, having meat once a week, and making tallow candles for rush dipped in fat. 33 03 31ES

1933 April CDN & ES

1933 04 01

Cambridge taxi drivers protested against the amount charged by the Railway Company for the use of the station ranks. Each owner is charged £6 a year, which they regard as excessive and want reduced to £2. But the LNER says it has already cut it from £9 and that drivers could pay eighteen pence weekly. Although taxi earnings had fallen off in recent years most paid the rent without difficulty. They also had the use of a shelter provided by the Company. 33 04 01a photo: 33 04 03c

Lloyd George was in great form when addressing a student meeting in Cambridge. On previous occasions received an honorary degree in 1920, broke a railway journey to address crowds outside the station in 1923 and spoke in the Guildhall on the eve of the General Strike. Once he strolled through King's college grounds and sat down on the river bank. When a companion pointed out that the grass was damp he said "All right, I'll sit on the People". And, folding his Sunday paper he did just that! 33 04 01b

Cambridge boat race success – 33 04 01

School broadcasting, p4

Stetchworth fire, p6*

Safety fire, p8

Roundabout, p8*

1933 04 03

The county was swarming with rats but nothing was being done. The Ministry would provide thousands of pounds for the destruction of musk-rats, but not for ordinary ones. The only way to deal with them was to kill the females and let the males go: Cambridgeshire should set the example for the rest of the country and appoint a rats officer. 33 04 03b

The foundation stone of the new church at Six Mile Bottom was laid by the daughter-in-law of Mr Bullock Hall, who gave the land nearly 30 years ago. Its construction is of Roman tile plinth and flint facings and when completed it will have a small tower at the west end. People have been longing for the day when their own church should be built and they could have the satisfaction of worshipping in their own parish. 33 04 03d

The sudden death of the Maharajah of Nawanagar – better known as 'Ranji' – has caused a profound shock in the cricket world. While at Trinity College he received first-class tuition and was awarded his Blue in 1893. He became the first to score 3,000 runs in first-class cricket in one season and made 72 centuries – two in one day. His nephew K.S. Duleepsinhji later echoed his Cambridge and England triumphs. 33 04 03e & f

While those living on the outskirts of Cambridge had many advantages in the way of fresh air and beautiful surroundings they did suffer certain disadvantages such as facilities for book-borrowing. Now two branch libraries have been opened in Morley Memorial Schools on the Rock Estate and Shirley Schools in the Green End Road districts. Each contains four hundred modern novels (mostly entirely new) and 100 popular non-fiction works and are open one evening a week from 6-8. This pioneering service could spread, if successful. 33 04 06

First Eastern General Hospital, p6*

Taxi dispute, p8*

1933 04 06

Morley & Shirley schools, p5*

1933 04 07

The early days of the Cambridge Amateur Boxing Club were recalled by W. Child, the well-known referee. They began by buying a second-hand pair of gloves and fighting under a street lamp until chased by a policeman. Then they hired a washhouse and met in various public houses. The club had passed through hard times and been near to pawning everything they had. But the fighting had always been clean in the best sporting spirit. On one occasion two Princes had attended a contest at the Corn Exchange to see their chauffeur box. 33 04 07 & a

1933 04 07 ES

Photographers form East Anglian Centre of Professional Photographers' Association, Cambridge. 33 04 07ES # c.65.5

Burnt Fen new schoolmaster. 33 04 07(2)ES

Haddenham: Walter Newman finds foxes. 33 04 07(3)ES *

Mr. Walter Newman of Hillrow Fen, Haddenham, recently made an interesting discovery on his land in Cracknall Drove One evening he noticed a foxes' hole in a dyke side near to which was several rat and mole skins, and the carcass of a fowl. With the assistance of Mr. J. Waterfield, he immediately made it his business to 'dig out', expecting, of course to disturb one or both parent foxes. Instead to his sheer astonishment, he found 11 young ones, each about the size of a half-grown cat. One was killed by Mr. Waterfield's dog, but the others were retained alive and subsequently seven of them were sold for 10 shillings each. In the meantime, they were fed on milk, liver and fowls. Nothing was seen of the dog fox or vixen and so apparently they are both done at large. What a shock they must have had on returning to their home after all this.

In the photograph, Mr. Newman is shown with three of the young foxes, one of which has climbed onto his shoulder. Of the other two, the one on the left seems keenly interested in the little chick in the background. Probably it is the first sign of what may one day might have been its prevailing instinct! As it is, it is the intention of Mr. Newman and Mr. Waterfield to keep these three as pets. 33 04 07

1933 04 08

Ranjitsinhji appreciation – 33 04 08 & a

1933 04 10

Ramsey water scheme – 33 04 10a

Four Lamps roundabout picture – 33 04 10b

Huntingdon water scheme - 33 04 10c

Stretham man shot, p3*

1933 04 11

Stretham tragedy, p8*

1933 04 13

Egg-laying, p8*

1933 04 14

Cambridge Town Silver Band are champions – 33 04 14

Guildhall plans – 33 04 14a

Chesterton – tree adjoining Chesterton Hall – photo and memories – 33 04 14b & 08b

Huntingdonshire accounts, p5

1933 04 14 ES

P10

Stretham Football Club v Adelaide, 1-7

Stretham:

County library

Cuckoo heard

School Easter vacation

Tennis courts opened

Darts club

Sports Association. 33 04 14ES

1933 04 18

Grange Road proposed new road, Adams Road – 33 04 18 & 33 04 21

1933 04 19

Cambridgeshire police are losing a valued officer by the retirement of P.S. Sidney Smith. He joined the force in 1907 and was stationed at Eltisley, Swavesey, Willingham and Fen Ditton before being promoted to sergeant in 1926 and moving to Melbourn. He will be missed by motorists, for he has had more motor cases than anyone else in the county. 33 04 19

1933 04 20

Terence Gray has been connected with the Festival Theatre for seven years. Many of his productions have aroused the most intense antagonism and many times caused me to gnash my teeth and anger. It has always been a place of experiment. It set out to present the best plays in a modern manner, introducing new devices: the cyclorama, atmospheric lighting, formalised scenery. Controversies were frequent. But his work was never boring and frequently exciting. I would not have missed any of the productions. 33 04 20 & a

“If you care to go down the main street of Linton any night there is an almost unbelievable smell which is a disgrace to the parish”, the District Council was told The sewage arrangements were the same as hundreds of years ago. There were 36 drains running from yards to the main gutter along the street. A new sewage scheme had got to come. 33 04 20b

Cambridge councillors considered schemes for the rebuilding of the Guildhall. One would alter the whole site, the other would set back the front but the building on Guildhall Street would remain untouched and would revert to being a court. But some councillors thought the Parkside scheme was still the best and would be far cheaper. 33 04 20c & d

1933 04 21

St John's new estate, p8*

1933 04 22

Burwell farmers appeared in court for not paying the tithe. One said he owned 45 acres of land, it was not in cultivation but he was charged £25 a year. Asked why it was not being farmed, he said he could not pay for labour. “I am in debt at the bank. I would pay if I had the money, but I haven't. This is State slavery”. Another said he had bought land in 1921 when prices were high and had been hard hit by the fall in agricultural values. They were told they had to pay. 33 04 22

1933 04 23 c

Cambridge Mayor, Victoria Avenue Bridge has been offered to the Council. He was the first to wear the Mayoral chain presented by Colonel Harding's family and the first, certainly in recent times, to be presented with a silver cradle on the birth of a son in 1890 during his year of office. 33 04 23 p8*

1933 04 26

An employee of the East Anglian Cement Company at Shepreth climbed into a lime clamp, walked into the middle and prodded it to try and get it to run through. It collapsed and he was buried except for the top of his head. Malcolm Reed jumped into the hot kiln and cleared the lime away from his face, burning his hands in the process. Two others took over until they were exhausted, but it was impossible to pull the victim out before he had suffocated. 33 04 26a

Master printers and new CDN machinery – 33 04 26

1933 04 27

A meeting of the Cambridge Branch of the Society for Cultural Relations was ejected from the café where it was to have met after the management became alarmed at the number of undergraduates who managed to push their way in. It moved to Parker's Piece where a strong posse of police surrounded the speaker while he denounced capitalism and imperialism, but they were there for his protection. Finally they escorted him off the Piece, holding back the crowds of undergraduates who would have followed him. 33 04 27

A Sutton farmworker claimed that while driving three horses attached to a self-binder machine the traces became entangled. When he was freeing them one of the horses swished its tail across his eye and he lost his sight. The farmer, Harold Read, said the man had been partially blind for some years and had hurt his eye against a hanging lamp in his own house. But he was awarded £19 damages. 33 04 27a

Histon doctor, p8*

1933 04 28

Eleven farmers from Wimbish appeared in court for non-payment of tithe rent charges. Mr H. Wiseman said that for the last four years he had worked for nothing. A clergyman in Somerset was receiving £600 a year out of the parish, one of the poorest Essex districts. Farmers had suffered heavy losses yet Queen Anne's Bounty had even suggested that they should reduce their workmen to meet the charge. They did not intend to do that. 33 04 28

1933 04 29

Dry Drayton Three Horseshoes robbery – 33 04 29 & a
'Alexander Tomlyn' book review – 33 04 29b

May 1933 CDN & ES

1933 05 01

Tithepayers' protest, Saffron Walden – 33 05 01 & a

1933 05 02

The large room of the Central Girls' School was charmingly decorated with garlands of cowslips when abdicating May Queen, Lorna James, delightfully dressed in a daffodil frock, crowned her successor, Miss Rita Baynes. Dressed like a rose in a pink gown with a train of petals she approached the throne through a triumphal arch of greenery and received the homage of her subjects who each brought a bunch of flowers. 33 05 02

1933 05 04

Inhabitants of three thatched cottages at Duxford saw their homes burnt down in a big blaze that started across the road in a paint and oil yard belonging to Harding and Son. Cans of oil and paint exploded and the whole of the display window fittings were burnt out, leaving a gaping hole in the wall. Had the alarm not been raised by the barking of a dog the fire would have been more disastrous and enveloped the whole of the street. The absence of a strong wind, the heroic efforts of firemen and villagers, and a plentiful supply of water were alone responsible for the fire being controlled – but not until after six hours' toil. 33 05 04 (pic 33 05 04)

1933 05 05 ES

Parson Drove new school tenders. 33 05 05ES

Prickwillow motor boat wedding photo. 33 05 05(2)ES

1933 05 06

There is a good deal of interest in the building operations in progress at the corner of Lensfield Road. It is for the Scott Polar Research Institute which has been based in a house at the corner of Panton

Street since 1925. The new building, designed by Sir Herbert Baker and being built by Messrs Sindall, should be completed next year. 35 05 06a & b

Liverpool Victoria Friendly Society annual report – 33 05 06

1933 05 08

A motorist had a narrow escape at the Milton Road railway crossing subway. A medical student was driving towards Cambridge when two boys ran out into the road. One was knocked down. The car continued on a short distance before crashing into the fence and being left with one wheel suspended over the ten-feet drop. 33 05 08b

The County Council is to change their staff's weekly half-holiday from Thursday to Saturday, although the Clerk can to require the attendance of any member of staff on any Saturday afternoon if desirable. However senior officials should not lose their half-day. The public would have no cause for objection, though last Saturday afternoon 50 people applied for licences. The Guildhall has closed on Saturday afternoons for many years. 33 05 08

1933 05 09

A great wave of cheering swept across the footlights to welcome Jack Payne and his band at the New Theatre. As soon as the world-famous signature tune 'Say it with music' began, the applause commenced, and when the curtain rose upon Jack and his 21 players, the tumult was deafening. It was a tremendous tribute to one of the most cheery figures in vaudeville today. They opened with the American unemployed's song 'Brother, can you spare a dime?' 33 05 09

1933 05 10

Cambridge was one of the worst places for rats, councillors were told. The Pumping Station and the boundary ditches at Cherry Hinton were simply teeming with them. They could get rid of them in a very short time if they adopted the old plan of paying so much for each rat destroyed. In Hertfordshire there were two rats officers, and the Isle of Ely had taken other steps. But Cambridgeshire had done nothing. 33 05 10

1933 05 11

Portugal Terrace fire – 33 05 11

1933 05 12

A Peterborough pilot had a fortunate escape from serious injury when the aeroplane in which he was flying solo crashed in Manor Farm, Swavesey. When passing over the village he lost his way and dropped down close by the station in an endeavour to find his position. In avoiding one belt of trees he collided with another and crashed almost on the railway line. Railwaymen rushed to his assistance and he was taken to Dr Hart in Mr W. Hind's milk van, which happened to be passing. 33 05 12

1933 05 12 ES

Ely shops change – Fosters Bros take McFall, Fore Hill; photo. 33 05 12ES

Photographs show the vast improvement which has been effected to one of the best-known shopping centre in Ely: Mr. W. McFall's clothes shop as it was during the latter part of last year, and the shop as it appears today, now that it's been taken over and completely modernised by Messrs Foster Brothers clothing company. With Mr. McFall's, retirement was severed a business connection with Ely, which dates back to the early years of the present century. But his departure allowed the introduction to the city of a branch of Messrs Foster Brothers' well-known business. The shop, which is now one of landmarks on Fore Hill has for its efficient and obliging manager, Mr. W.M. Lane, who for over six years was with Mr. McFall in the same business. 33 05 12ES

Lt Thetford rumours over labourer's demise. 33 05 12(2)(3)ES

1933 05 13

The Eastern Counties Folklore Society held its first meeting at the University Museum of Archaeology and Ethnology. Dr Haddon explained its object was to collect and record folk customs, rites and beliefs. One charm he mentioned had been discovered at Babraham: a stone which was put into the manger to cure a horse of night sweats – supposed to be caused by the animal being ridden by a witch. 33 05 13

Keen regret has been expressed that Terence Gray proposes to give up his directorship of the Festival Theatre at the close of term, after seven years of magnificent work. Efforts are being made in University circles to enable the theatre to continue. Mr J.G. Macleod has expressed a wish to run a Festival season, but his plans depend on a guaranteed sum of £4,000. He has produced, acted and written for the theatre but is not one of those who believes in queerness for the sake of queerness. 33 05 13b

CDN free flights drawn – 33 05 13a
Say it with music, p8

1933 05 15

Greyhound racing attracted a large crowd to the Downham Road Stadium, Ely when the first meeting of its kind to be held in the city went through with much success. Apart from two mishaps with the hare, everything went off well. In the first race one dog went astray by jumping the wire and in another Honeycomb was leading at the last hurdle at which it jumped the wire out of the course. 33 05 15

Emir of Katsina visits University - 33 05 15a

Members of Clare College were awakened by the sounds of banging and hammering at every entrance gate: each had been securely padlocked and barred so staff were unable to gain admittance. Axes had to be procured to break the stout chains. Then it was discovered that all the locks had been carefully filled up with putty so a considerable time elapsed before the normal college routine could be resumed. 33 05 15b

1933 0516

When Dick Turpin stayed at the Three Tuns Inn, Castle Street, in January 1739 he left a velvet coat behind which he never reclaimed as he was soon afterwards hanged at York. Now 194 years later that coat is back in Cambridge and its new owner, E. Rutter, the well-known antique dealer has discovered hidden valuables. He was surprised to find a George I half-crown together with other coins, silver rings and a pair of earrings in the lining. He bought the coat, together with a mask, pistols and spurs from a Cardiff man whose grandfather had claimed them at the Inn in his capacity as an Excise Officer. 33 05 16

1933 05 17

Future of the Festival – J.G. Macleod letter – 33 05 17
Cropley Grove estate, p8*

1933 05 18

Hangman's Corner, Barton Road presented a scene of excitement when the British Hospital's Air Pageant visited Cambridge and all afternoon there was the incessant 'zoom' of aeroplanes 'taking off' and landing. All-in advanced aerobatics provided a thrill; the 'crazy' flying drew many a gasp whilst equally entertaining was the dancing to music by the tiniest machines in the show. Wing-walking and parachute jumping were presented, together with balloon bursting and a chase after a 'kidnapped' bride. One machine which caused amusement was Mr Heath Robinson's conception of a Chinese dragon: the 'flying motor cycle'. 33 05 18

Cambridge Mothercraft Clinic gives information and teaching which saves women many hours of anxiety and babies many terrible pains. They have held classes for expectant mothers and six have come to the clinic for help and advice. It is open two days a week and has seen 160 attendances but needs 360 people to pay a guinea a year to cover expenses. 33 05 18 a & b

Ouse Catchment and control of the pumps – 33 05 18c

Coal cart accident – 33 05 18d

1933 05 19

Death Jimmy Sands, footballer – 33 05 19a

Sir – the gravel footpath from Brooklands Avenue along Hobson's River up Empty Common has long been known as Finch's Walk. But how did it get its name? Some people call it Senior Wranglers' Walk and connect it with the name of the Rev G.B. Finch who was Senior Wrangler in 1857. But he never mentioned that he had anything to do with it. In an 1834 deed relating to the Hobson's Conduit Trust there is mention of two trustees called Charles Finch, one of whom died in 1762, who had a foundry and ironworks in Thompson's Lane – W.D. Bushell. 33 05 19b

1933 05 19 ES

Littleport Alexandra Institute's work among factory girls. 33 05 19ES *

Littleport Alexandra Institute is a flourishing women's club, the sanctity of which is never violated by the presence of mere man, for it is a realm where the female sex of the Littleport district spend in sister-like seclusion some of the happiest of their leisure hours. The Institute which has catered for the recreation of the young ladies for nearly half a century is the only organisation. of its kind. It was way back in the 1880s the late Thomas Peacock, founder of the shirt factory, now run by Messrs. Hope Brothers, saw the need of the provision of some recreational centre to raise the tone of the great number of young women employed in the factory and erected and equipped the spacious premises in Victoria Street. The Institute opened in 1880 was heralded with great celebrations. The large club room and well-set-out grounds provided a source of delight and a foundations of a thriving organisation were laid, nearly 200 members were enrolled during the first year. When Hope Brothers took over control of the local industry they maintained the support previously given to the Institute. When opened 45 years ago, the club was replete with games and on the lawns were tennis and croquet courts. In those days needlework, cookery, dancing and singing lessons were given but with the passage of time these have given place to more indoor games. There is a library containing nearly 1,200 books with a room devoted to other reading matter, magazines, periodicals and 101 publications which women expect to find in a women's club. Badminton is played in the large hall and there are four modern bathrooms fitted with hot and cold water which are used regularly all the year round at a cost of three pence per bath. 33 05 19ES

Stretham:

Gooseberry picking started

School shut – annual feast

Methodist church anniversary

Feast – no parade this year. 33 05 19(2)ES

1933 05 20

Royal horse trainer, Richard Marsh, dies at Shelford – 33 05 20

Sidney Street rebuilding – 33 05 20a

Radio relay, p8*

Hangman's Corner, p8*

1933 05 22

The 1931 census report shows a population increase in Cambridgeshire of seven percent since 1921. The number of married women has increased assisted by the high marriage rate in recent years, despite the prevailing economic depression. The net result of all the new building, structural alteration and demolition has seen the number of dwellings rise by 13.7 per cent and the instances of 'overcrowding' has reduced notwithstanding a large increase in the numbers of families. 33 05 22c

Unemployment situation – 33 05 22

Wireless relay service report – 33 05 22a

Crossman death, p8*

Census, p8*

1933 05 23

An inquiry into the extension of Cambridge boundaries was told that Girton should be included. Most of the residents worked in the town and it was their shopping and amusement centre. The sewage could drain by gravitation into Cambridge drains which were already almost up to the boundaries. Chesterton RDC did have a scheme but it was a complete mystery. The Mistress of Girton College said the question of drainage was one of urgency and she would also welcome public lighting and refuse collection. 33 05 23 & a 33 05 24a & b

Reach Fair opening – 33 05 23

1933 05 24

A notice in the Nairobi official gazette states that the central figure in the Cambridge 'Helen of Troy' case has changed her name to that of the doctor with whom she moved to Africa. It will be recalled that her husband, a grocer's assistant, was awarded £500 damages last June following his action against the doctor for the enticement of his wife. Some weeks later the two arrived in Kenya where they said they were to make their home 'for good and all'. Her husband was very upset when told of the news: "I think it is perfectly disgusting", he said. 33 05 24c

Newnham nursing association meeting – 33 05 24

Boundary inquiry, p8*

1933 05 25

Cambridge councillors rejected plans for the provision of a wireless relay service. People who could not afford expensive wireless sets could receive programmes by possession of a loud-speaker. The continual exchanging of unsatisfactory wireless sets was an expensive item for meagre incomes while subscription to a relay would secure perfect reception. But it would give a monopoly of news and programmes into the hands of one company and increase the number of unsightly wires over back gardens. 33 05 25

Borough expansion inquiry closes – 33 05 25b & c

Mayor Wace, p6*

1933 05 26

Alan Cobham's visit – 33 05 26f

The Vicar of Caxton sought permission to install electric lighting in the church. Mrs Muriel Patterson, the donor, wanted directional lighting from the roof as hanging lamps would interfere with the congregation's view during service and break the beauty. The Diocesan Chancellor said he did not like the scheme, it was a great mistake. But he could not condemn the church to its present means of illumination, which was by oil. 33 05 26a

Deaf-mute people were cut off socially and industrially, many became a burden on their families and were sent to institutions at the age of seven. The answer lay in one word: 'Papworth'. A village settlement should be established in pleasant surroundings where they could live in an entirely self-contained community. They could make their own township and find a suitable vocation in working the land. The difficulties of normal children born in such a colony, of the marriage of deaf-mutes and the sterilisation of the unfit were touched upon at a meeting in Cambridge. 33 05 26d

The Great Ouse Catchment Board's proposal to control the pumping of water into the main river was strongly opposed by Internal Drainage Boards. Improved drainage means that the black top soil was continually shrinking: they must be able to pump whenever needed and not be ordered to stop by people in Cambridge. Instead the Board should ensure their banks were properly kept up. But they were over-ruled. 33 05 26b & c

Proposals to set back the line of buildings in Sidney Street would leave only two small properties jutting out between Woolworth's and the corner. There was no room for people to move on the pavement and it would be a great improvement. But Mrs Rackham said it was unreasonable to pay so much money: the owners demanded compensation that equated to nearly half a million pounds an acre. This was not new: when a building line was prescribed in King Street, property which formerly sold at £1,500 immediately fetched £2,000. 33 05 26 f & g

Horse parade, p5*

Hush-hush engine, p11*

1933 05 26 ES

Isle police changes. 33 05 26&(2)ES *

Six changes are pending in the Isle of Ely Constabulary upon the retirement of Sergeants L.W.G. Baker of Ely and J.G. Browning of Wisbech. Jabez Payne of Guyhirn saw active service with the 11th Suffolks and was badly wounded. Harold Barwell of Ely has had a distinguished career both in the Army and Police Force. 33 05 26ES

William Gibson, a small holder of Ten Mile Bank, Littleport said he visited his small holding on the main road at Lynn Road. He went to his plough which was in a field and noticed it had fallen over because the wheels had gone. He last saw the wheels there on the previous Monday. He reported the matter to police P.s. Roythorne who made inquiries and visited Downham Market Police Station where two men were in custody for being in possession of the missing plough wheels. When cautioned one said "The reason I stole those wheels was that the wheels on my truck broke". They were then conveyed to the Ely Police Station. 33 05 26ES

Plane lands near Coveney. 33 05 26(3)ES

Excitement was caused in Coveney when an aeroplane descended in a field. Local lads rushed to the scene on their bicycle and found the machine had come to rest in a field belonging to Mr. G. Green of the Hythe, Little Downham, quite near the house. The plane was owned by Scarborough Aero Club and contained a pilot and two passengers, both gentleman. It was a Gypsy Moth that was flying to Norwich and having lost his way the pilot descended for information as to his whereabouts. After being informed that he should follow the railway line the pilot quickly got the machine into the air and flew off. 33 05 26ES

A safe containing eight pounds which was stolen from the Conservative Club at Littleport was found in a dike by four boys between Pidley and Oldhurst. P.c. Craghill took it to St. Ives Police Station. The safe was unopened and the contents were presumably intact. It would appear the thieves' endeavour to break it open proved abortive and in their disgust, they discarded it. The place where the safe was found is about 20 miles from Littleport. It weighed about 1½ cwt and would have taken at least two men to remove it. 33 05 26ES

Littleport Constitutional Club safe found intact. 33 05 26(3)ES

Fen Drainage Authorities opposed Ministry byelaws

Internal Drainage Districts would lose control over their pumping plants and sluices, rights they had have had since the earliest days of drainage, if a Bye-law drafted by the Ouse Catchment Board was passed. This would constitute a serious danger. It was a question of life and death in the fen area that where they had to use pumps that they should have full control over them and the sluices. It would be absolutely detrimental to the efficient drainage of the Middle Level. Nobody in their senses would dream of interfering with efficient bodies.

The Minister of Agriculture had assurance that the Internal Drainage Districts would not be interfered with. But if one Minister could say a certain thing, the next could wipe it all out. If the Bye-law was passed, there was not a single drainage authority that would take any notice of it. They would pump when they considered it necessary. 33 05 26ES

1933 05 27

Finch's Walk name and ironfounders – 33 05 27 & 33 06 03a

June 1933 CDN & ES

1933 06 01

Sir Alan Cobham's great air display at Marshall's Aerodrome showed all kinds of flying and many were the thrills his pilots provided. During a demonstration aerobatic flight with a passenger the plane dived and looped, twisted and turned and did everything a plane could do. But at the end the hardy individual who had decided to take the flight actually managed to walk without assistance and appeared to have enjoyed his literally hair-raising trip immensely. 33 06 01

1933 06 02 ES

Electricity for the villages: Ely RDC take steps to obtain supplies. 33 06 02&(2)ES

Downham Legion Standard dedication: photo. 33 06 02(3)ES

The standard of the Little Downham branch of the British Legion was dedicated on Sunday with ceremonial benefiting so auspicious occasion. A huge procession of ex-servicemen marched through the village with standards of the various branches and Colonel F.M. Stratton took the salute at the march-past. 33 06 02ES

Photographs show the splendid work done by the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. In the centre is a tent constructed of sticks, old pieces of sacking and canvas, which in February 1932, was discovered in Angel Drove Ely as the 'home' of a man and woman with four children. The man and woman were prosecuted for neglecting their children, and they were each sentenced to one month's imprisonment by Ely magistrates. On the right are the children as they appeared then, in a filthy and verminous condition while that on the left, taken at Dr Barnardo's Home, shows the amazing contrast brought about by the action the NSPCC, on whose behalf a flag day is being held. 33 06 02ES

Letters were received from various parish councils with regard to the attendance of fires in Ely Rural District by the Ely Urban District Council fire brigade. Stretham wrote that the minimum payment of £10 per annum towards the maintenance of the Ely brigade was one which they could not feel justified in undertaking. Payments in respect of attendance at fires had in the past been readily undertaken by the insurance companies and there was no reason to suppose that the practice would be discontinued. They decided not to contribute. Wilburton council did not feel disposed to undertake liability which was readily undertaken by the insurance companies. Littleport wrote that as they had a brigade and firefighting appliance of its own, they did not see any point. 33 06 02ES

1933 06 03

W.D. Nicholes, Mill Road store refurbishment – 33 06 03

Finch's foundry, p8

King's organ, p8

1933 06 06

The Whit Monday horse and pony parade was revived on Midsummer Common. The beasts had been brushed until their silky coats gleamed in the sunshine and their carts and vans 'groomed' for the occasion. Even a coal cart becomes a thing of beauty when it is resplendent in a new coat of brightly-coloured paint matched only by gaily-coloured ribbons. Many of the spectators came in horse-drawn carriages and even the police were mounted. But the Mayor arrived in a car. 33 06 06a & b

University Film Society filming 'Power' – 33 06 06

1933 06 07

The Backs near King's bridge were crowded with punts when the Cambridge University Madrigal Society performed the annual rite of singing on the river. As the sun went down and the moon rose from behind the Gibbs' Building, the cawing of the rooks and the noises of the town ceased, and over the water came the sounds of a Brahms' motet. An aeroplane buzzed like an angry wasp across the sky but failed to break the spell of magical voices which softly floated in the air. 33 06 07

1933 06 08

A Newnham College student was summoned for dangerous flying. Mary Barnard said she had taken off from Marshall's flying school on a solo flight and descended to 1,000 feet over her College. But Dr John Bury, who had flown for five years, said she had descended rather rapidly, then flattened out and crossed Corpus Christi gardens at about 600 feet, he could read the letters on the plane quite clearly. As it was the first prosecution of its kind the magistrates decided to dismiss the case with a caution. 33 06 08a

Pinehurst flats – advert – 33 06 08

St Ives water scheme – 33 06 08a

1933 06 12

Cambridgeshire farmers had a reasonably good market for their milk, but in many districts there was a surplus they could not sell. The only way to help was a national milk marketing scheme. The country would be divided into a number of regions that would fix their own price. If a farmer failed to find his own buyer then the Board would take his milk, producers meeting at the Lion Hotel were told. 33 06 12

Saturday was one of the quietest bump supper nights on record. A few blazered undergraduates wearing dress shirts roamed the streets and occasionally a cheer could be heard. Then there was a squad of those who went through various drill movements, using the pavement as a parade ground. But they were remarkably steady, and mild, possibly because the bump-supper beer was likewise! A constable remarked, "Sid Moon (the News cartoonist) should draw a cartoon of an empty Market Hill with a yawning policeman, because that all there's doing tonight". 33 06 12a

1933 06 13

The roof-climber who 'pinched' the two weathervanes off the Squire Law Library building seems to have had an attack of conscience, for the missing cock and fish were replaced last night. But they also left tasteful decorations and souvenirs in the shape of two sherry bottles at each end of an arch high over the entrance to the Geological Museum. They are said to be full and so act as 'bait' to other scalers of walls and roofs. 33 06 13

Jesus College's new boathouse was opened, nine months after the disastrous fire which had destroyed one of the landmarks of the river. It was a mitigated disaster as the original was gradually becoming too small. The clock, which was the only survival of the burnt boathouse, was still keeping good time in the new clock tower. It had been presented by Dr Morgan shortly after the old boathouse had been built. 33 06 13a

Over 1,300 dancers disported themselves at the First and Third Trinity Boat Club's ball. As usual there were large crowds of spectators lining all the entrances and not a few on the river but great precautions had been taken to avoid gate crashing with two lots of 'sentries'. Inside the place was aglow with thousands of coloured lights while the dance tent itself, with its famous parquet floor, was electrically lit. From a dais in the centre the Embassy band played a sweet programme of dance music until the early hours of the morning. 33 06 13b

In the Caxton district the rural population was dying out and houses were not needed as much as formerly, a conference was told. Machinery was taking the place of hand labour and the population had gone down considerably. It was also found that the old people would not go out of the old houses – some of them very primitive, with ladder staircases. The Council only built for agricultural labourers; they had applications from outsiders but left them to look after themselves – they only looked after their own people. 33 06 13c

Royston Cinema, owned by Mr J.N. Cox, was practically burnt out by a fire which threatened a nearby house. So fierce was the fire that within 15 minutes the whole of the roof crashed, to be followed by the right-hand wall. This fell on to a greenhouse in the garden of Mr E. Henderson, who was ill in bed and the flames charred the wood under his roof. The cinema auditorium was destroyed but the valuable projection apparatus and gas-engine was saved, as were most of the reels of film. 33 06 13b, 33 06 14a (pic)

1933 06 14

George Bolton, furniture remover, death – 33 06 14
Royston cinema blaze photo - 33 06 14a

1933 06 15

The malaria mosquito is still very prevalent in Wicken Fen, but the disease has died out. During the war, when a large number of troops came home suffering from malaria they were bitten by mosquitoes which then became infected with the parasite and spread the infection to many people who had never been out of England. This state of affairs lasted for six years but has now died out. Scientists do not fully understand why the insect is no longer infected, the Rotary Club was told. 33 06 15

The rates of pay for workers employed in the corn harvest should be double the ordinary rates for a working week of 69 hours, with double overtime rates. That worked out at £12 per harvest worker. Boys under 14 should receive fourpence an hour and there should be a four o'clock stop on Saturdays, farmer were told. The prices for bacon, potatoes, lard, rice, currants, flour and bread had all risen and rent charges were at least 100 per cent above pre-war rents. But farmers wanted normal wages, plus bonuses. 33 06 15b

David John Scott had been engaged in photographic work all his business life. He first started in 1884 in partnership with Mr Wilkinson at 47, St Andrew's Street. They bought an existing business for £300 and traded for five or seven years before the partnership was dissolved and he bought Wilkinson out. About September 1932 he had to leave those premises and remove to 59 Regent Street, which affected the business. Trade had declined and people were not having their photographs taken as much as they used to. 33 06 15c # c.65.5

Francis Pollendine, haulage contractor – 33 06 15c
John Mellanby electrical contractor, Waterbeach – 33 06 15e
King's May Ball – 33 06 15e
Share-out clubs heaviest claims – 33 06 15f

1933 06 16

Community and Labour opinions were so divided at a conference in Burleigh Street that a proposal to form a Cambridge Anti-War Council had to be adjourned after three hours. The University Anti-War Council said workers in Cambridge laboratories had been organised against war. Mrs Foster of the Women's Cop-operative Guild wondered who were being prepared as the next enemy of Britain. It used to be the French, then the defenceless Boers and last of all the Germans. She appealed to women to play their part against the wickedness of war before the catastrophe arrived. 33 06 16 & b

The Edison Bell factory at Huntingdon, which at one time was a busy workshop for hundreds of hands making gramophone records and parts for wireless, was offered for sale. A large company assembled but there appeared no special demand for the premises which were offered with some of the important fixed machinery. It was withdrawn at £10,000. The disposal of the modern plant and machinery occupied two days and buyers were attracted from a wide area. 33 06 16a

The latest feature of building development at Cambridge is the erection of two blocks of modern flats at Pinehurst, Grange Road. The site, formerly occupied by a large house used as a private school, has been acquired by the Strand and Savoy Properties. Each block has 20 flats at rentals from £145 to £175 per annum. Messrs Stockbridge furnished on display flat in antique style including a Queen Anne bureau-bookcase, another had modern furniture by Papworth Industries with an 'all-electric' kitchen. 33 06 16a

1933 06 17

The New Theatre has closed for the Summer Vacation by which time it will probably be converted into a 'talkie' house. Even star actors have failed to attract crowded houses – apart from the D'Oyly Carte Company. It will mean the throwing out of work of over 100 staff, several of whom have given many years to its service. In nearly every town the story is the same. Owing to the competition of the talking films the theatres are suffering as never before. As many as 157 have closed in the past twelve months. 33 06 17a

Samuel Taylor Coleridge commemoration – 33 06 17

New buildings, p8*

May Week accident, p8*

1933 06 19

Frederick Rushmore, Master of St Catharine's – death – 33 06 19 & a

1933 06 20

Clare College memorial court damage by climbers – 33 06 20

Cambridge corporation plate returned – 33 06 20a & b

1933 06 21

Stanley Baldwin at Selwyn College jubilee – 33 06 21

1933 06 22

RIBA architects conference – 33 06 22 & a

1933 06 23

Railways were subjected to ever-increasing competition from road transport, the Railway Students' Association was told. Over long distances lorries seemed most vulnerable and railways could eliminate them by fixing their rates to make them unremunerative to the road carriers. It was wrong that people could obtain a motor lorry on the hire purchase system for about £25. This had resulted in unbridled competition. Every day they saw cases of these poor men, after having struggled for a few years, going through the bankruptcy courts. 33 06 23

1933 06 23 ES

Stretham, Haddenham and Wilburton British Legion standard dedicated (photo p16)

Wicken church was closed on Sunday and will remain so for several weeks while repairs are being carried out to the chancel and to the nave. The work on the chancel is being done by the owner of the Tithe Rent charge but that to the nave is part of the Parish Church's £1,000 restoration scheme. The services on Sunday were held in the Mission Hall and this will continue until the work of restoration has been completed. The Bishop has ordered that in the meantime the Mission Hall must not be used for any other purpose. 33 06 23

1933 06 26

Guildhall scheme approved – 33 06 26 & a
Shelford Road, p8

1933 06 27

Comberton parish council took compulsory powers in 1927 and purchased a suitable field of easy access from all parts of the village with some fine oak trees at one end. During the past five years money has been raised to meet the cost of hedging, levelling and erecting swings, but there still remained the laying down of tennis courts, a bowling green and a cricket pitch. Now a grant has been received which will enable this to be completed. 33 06 27

Newmarket slums, traffic system, fire service – 33 06 27a

1933 06 28

Impington sewage, Comberton pond – 33 06 28

1933 06 29

Bus services through Clavering, which has a population of under 1,000, would soon become as 'thick' as in Cambridge, already there were 108 every week, an inquiry into extra services on the Heydon-Bishop Stortford route was told. But a new early morning bus would suit train passengers to London, it was claimed. 33 06 29 & a

1933 06 30 ES

Crane overturns Darby's pit, Sutton Gault: photo. 33 06 30ES *

An alarming mishap of an unusual character occurred at Messrs Fred Darby's gravel pits at Sutton Gault. The bucket crane used in excavating, at a certain point in its circuit overbalanced and crashed in the pit. Workmen in the pit were startled and entertained thoughts for the safety of the man in charge of the machine. Fortunately he was able to get clear. The crane was much damaged by the mishap. 32 06 30ES

Stretham Church fete (photo p13). 33 06 30(2)(3)ES

July 1933 CDN & ES

1933 07 03

Councillors agreed to renew the licence of the Three Tuns, Castle Street, Cambridge on the understanding that a new public house would be erected on the adjoining site of the old White Swan, which is also the property of the Corporation. This would avoid the demolition of the Three Tuns, which has a definite local history and connections to Dick Turpin, but is structurally unsound. 33 07 03 p6

One of the droves at Tile House Farm, Soham mere is to be made into a hard road, nine feet wide. Councillors inspected a reinforced concrete road made in Huntingdonshire some years ago, which tenants claimed was a success. But it is an experimental project: the sub soil was not the same so it might not stand the wear and tear and they could not claim it would last for ever. 33 07 03 p3

Corporation plate, p6

Swavesey Legion standard, p8

Pampisford pageant, p8

1933 07 04

George Robert Kett was one of Cambridge's best-known and respected builders. He studied medicine before joining Rattee & Kett, becoming managing director in 1926 and was a founder of the Federation of Building Trades Employers in 1918. During the Great War he was Executive Officer for Food Control for Cambridge and served as a special constable. Despite his outspoken manner his genial personality maintained for him an almost unrivalled popularity. 33 07 04 p8

1933 07 05

A fight over a girl at Balsham fair ended up in court. One lad said he went to the fair, had one drink, and then gone on a roundabout several times with a young lady. As they walked away, talking, another lad came up and spoke to the girl, then hit him the eye, breaking his spectacles. The second lad said he had been 'walking out' with her for 18 months. They were both fined ten shillings. 33 07 05 p5

Sir, If I were 'Traffic Dictator' for Cambridge motor cycles would not be allowed in Sussex Street or Christ's Lane, there would be no parking of cars for more than fifteen minutes or in Jesus Lane: why spend £2,000 widening it, then block the space gained by motor cars. Bus users would be made to queue up near Lloyds Bank: often it is virtually impossible to get through the crowds of waiting passengers. – 'Interested'. 33 07 05 p8

Trumpington Free Church minister, p6

1933 07 06

Two ancient silver spoons were presented to Cambridge Corporation. They were part of a collection of plate sold by the Council in 1836 – in those days even property passed into private hands in return for a good dinner - now they wanted to retrieve them. They had bought back one of six spoons and were seeking the gem of the collection, a rose bowl. 33 07 06 p8 33 07 14 03

Somerlite, p5

1933 07 07

The Carlton public house in Lensfield Road owned by Lacons brewery had seen an increase in trade following the Budget decrease. There had been no complaints about the tenant, Edward Bettsworth, who was getting a living and wanted to retain it. Its licence was renewed but not those of the Coach and Horses on Newnham Road or the Alhambra on East Road where there were five other pubs within 220 yards and the trade was decreasing. 33 07 07 p12

Accident at Stretham – 33 07 07

P.c. Waghorn, Stretham, said he received a report that an accident had occurred at Wesley's corner. At the corner were three sheds and a passage. There was a very bad camber on the road from Ely towards Cambridge, which tended to swerve vehicles going towards Cambridge to the left. He saw a collision had occurred between two large motor lorries and the whole of the cabin of one lorry had penetrated into Mr. Wesley's buildings to an extent to 15 feet having gone completely through the front and side of the carriage, across the passage-way and into the third shed, moving the last named-shed by eight inches towards Cambridge, while the first shed was shifted 15 inches towards Wilburton The centre shed, which was a garage, was completely demolished. The tracks of one lorry were definitely on the wrong side. It was a particularly dangerous corner and anyone taking it in a vehicle should be very careful. 33 07 07

Dog fountain, p9

Somerlite case, p12

1933 07 07 ES

Wilburton church fete: photo. 33 07 07(3)(5)(6)ES

Those who have charge of Wilburton's ancient and architecturally unique church are faced with the task of raising at least £1000 to renovate this fine old edifice, the roof of which badly needs repair, owing to the damage done by wet and the depredation of the Death watch beetle. The second annual function in aid of the Restoration Fund was held in the ground to Wilburton manner. The vicar said the church was rebuilt by Bishop Alcock some 500 years ago and it was its beautifully carved roof which was the cause of the present problem. Two experts had said there were serious defects. The rain had been getting in for a long time past and had caused a great deal of rotting in the upper roof and secondly, in the lower roof, which is 500 years old, and was unique in the East of England, they had the depredation of that terrible insect the Death watch beetle. Unfortunately, it was not the roof alone that needed repairs. They also required money for the doing-up of the exterior of the church. 33 07 07

Motor lorries collect fruit: photo. 33 07 07(4)ES *

A daily motor transport service between farm and market separated by a distance of 180 miles is proving an efficient link in the marketing of fruit grown in the Isle of Ely. Each evening a large motor lorry is loaded with strawberries on March Market Place and leaves at 7pm for Preston, Lancashire, where it arrives about 4:30 next morning, delivering fruits in time for the early market. The services being run by Messrs J. Turner and Company, fruit, vegetable and flower salesman from Preston, whose local agent Mr. Robert Tibbett of March arranges the dispatches. Light motor vehicles collect the fruit from the farms and convey it to the Market Place where it is loaded onto a large motor lorry belonging to Mr A.J. Kilby of Doddington, the contractor for the long-distance transport to Preston. The average daily consignments during the past three weeks have been 3,000-4,000 chips and the service has been such a success that it is to be continued for the conveyances of all other fruits. All the produce is insured against a breakdown of the service and loss of market and Mrs. Turner and Company accept responsibility for it as soon as it is loaded onto the lorry 33 07 07 ES

Ely Rural District Council considered the question of a suitable site at Littleport on which to erect 20 houses, and recommended that the offer by Mr. Heber G. Martin of two acres of pasture land, abutting on Mill Pit Furlongs and the gardens of 18 houses recently erected by the council at Hempfield be accepted. The land would be given to the council subject to them constructing a road to the south of the houses to be erected and a footpath on the north side. 33 07 07ES

1933 07 08

There seems no end to the output of University fiction. 'The sporting term is over' by Richard Heron Ward is set in Cambridge where – according to the blurb – 'the extreme communities of pseudo-intellectualism and excessive athleticism are constantly warring against each other'. There are too many unpleasant and abnormal people: one effeminate creature is thrown into the river by fellow undergraduates and another lad hit over the head with a heavy candlestick. But it does describe a Poppy Day rag. 33 07 08

1933 07 09

One woman was killed and 11 men, women and children seriously injured at Wisbech when a saloon car collided with a group of London fruit pickers engaged in the strawberry fields. The accident occurred in semi-darkness and pouring rain. Afterwards the injured and their relatives were scattered in small groups along the roadside, the uninjured endeavouring to identify the injured. They were removed to hospital in relays in an ambulance and motor vans. 33 07 09 p5

St Giles, p6

Chiswick End pit, p8

1933 07 12

Dr R.M. Salaman addressed Cambridge Rotary club on the persecution of the Jews in Germany. Hitler was destroying the whole people: it was more serious than the mere 'beating up' of individuals who happened to be Jewish, it was a movement which struck at the very roots of civilisation. Paid advocates of the Nazis had been sent to Palestine and the Ukraine and the doctrine was being taught in schools in the most scandalous way. 33 07 12 p8

1933 07 14

Corporation plate, p3*

1933 07 14 ES

Lt Downham church roof restoration fete. 33 07 14ES

Ouse Catchment Board inspect training walls river: photo. 33 07 14(2)ES

Girl Guides' rally Littleport: photos. 33 07 14(3)ES

Vinegar cake is one of many unusual recipes to be had from a handwritten book compiled by a one-time resident of Sutton in the early part of the last century. The majority of the recipes are of local origin and have included the autograph of the housewife who furnished them. They cover a wide field: the making of wines, puddings, ointments, sweets, boot blacking, cow drinks, etc. Whether as a testimonial or not to the effectiveness of certain recipes, the last entry is a biographical note about an old lady in the village, who at 64 years of age, weighed 21 stone, stood five feet 10 inches in height, and measured one and a half yards around the waist! 33 07 14ES

1933 07 15

The centenary of the Oxford Movement was celebrated at St Giles' church when the congregation was exceptionally large. Prof Wynne regretted the tendency of the Church to be manned with old men. It was the younger man who saw visions and who must carry on the work. These days a mass attack was being made upon Christianity, the world was growing increasingly evil. The English Church Union and the Anglo-Catholic Congress should work together. 33 07 15 p6

The Cam Conservators have recently completed the dredging of the lower river. Since the dredger commenced operations in July 1923, enough silt has been removed to cover Parker's Piece to a depth of six feet 10 inches. It will probably be 30 years before another clearance of this nature will be necessary. 33 07 15

1933 07 17

This area will be scene of aerial activity during night exercises by the RAF. Operations will begin between a raiding force of 108 bombers and 152 fighters, some based at Duxford, who will endeavour to intercept and destroy them. They should be off the ground in two minutes, reach an altitude of 1,600 feet in about ten minutes and travel 30 miles. Cambridge itself is off the map as far as actual fighting is concerned as it is supposed to be covered by mountains. 33 07 17

A tithe 'raid' took place at Cowlinge when three lorries containing 14 men from London swooped down on a field and 20 young bullocks belonging to Frank Clarke of Hundon, were loaded into the vehicles. 14 others strayed away, doing a great deal of damage to an adjoining field of wheat. The distraint order was obtained on behalf of Jesus College for tithes amounting to £114. 33 07 17

Ernest Bevan, general secretary of the TGWU, addressed the Cambridge Labour Party fete at Girton. Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald had the backing of four million organised workers but had deserted the cause from panic. Nearly every great progressive movement had been split through the ambition or ego of the leaders. The Labour movement was the personal property of no man and though leaders might go, the movement went on, he told them. 33 07 17

1933 07 18

The giro-tiller, an interesting piece of agricultural machinery, was demonstrated at the University Farm. It looks like a large tractor behind which are two sets of blades affixed to revolving drums which break up the land to a depth of 18 inches in clay. They cost several thousand pounds and are intended for contractors who charge thirty shillings an hour for doing the work. 33 07 18

Two Cambridge bus drivers had their lives saved by the use of new equipment acquired by the Borough Ambulance. D.G. Boyd & R.A. Doe became overcome by exhaust fumes after doing duty on the starting gang at the Hills Road garage and were removed to hospital. Boyd was revived from a state of unconsciousness through the use of the Novox resuscitation apparatus and Doe also benefited by the oxygen mixture. A conductor was also slightly affected by fumes, but quickly recovered. 33 07 18

1833 07 19

Lord Clifden has sold Wimpole Hall but has arranged to take a lease of the house, park and sporting rights and intends to go on living at the Hall. The sale is a noteworthy example of the revived tendency to buy landed properties as an investment. The purchaser does not intend to break up the estate which included two villages, 12 farms and many small buildings. The park, including a double avenue of elms, is one of the finest in England. 33 07 19

Crowds of about 5,000 persons witnessed the thrilling demonstrations of the wonderful non-skid properties of Michelin Zigzag tyres at New Square car park. After It was drenched with water two Austin Sevens, a Morris '14' commercial van and a Citroen saloon went whizzing round at a dizzy speed, twisting, turning, swerving abruptly to right and left, corkscrewing and turning figures of eight in a perfectly hair-raising fashion. Their tyres gripped like octopuses. 33 07 19

1933 07 20

Plans for the new Royston cinema in Priory Lane met with opposition: it is deplorable thing it is being built there; it has absolutely crabbed the whole of the building of good-class houses in the future. Tradesmen thought it the most calamitous things which could ever have happened, councillors were told. 33 07 20

Black Horse Drove school becomes badly flooded, not only with surface water but with sewage, councillors heard. Since so many more houses had been built on the higher land at Littleport a tremendous amount of sewage comes down whenever they got a heavy storm and settles in the playground. Tenders were received for the erection of a branch library at March together with a new senior school which will be named the Hereward School 33 07 20

Harold Archer died in the same house in which he had been born in Ely on 17th February 1845. That day residents first saw a locomotive engine that had been sent by road on a horse trolley by the contractor to the Eastern Counties Railway to work the ballast train and make the Railway Embankment across the Cresswells. He played a prominent part in the city's affairs and became an authority on the drainage of the fens. 33 07 20

1933 07 21

Coveney accident – 33 07 21

1933 07 21 ES

Downpour mars Stretham sports. 33 07 21&(2)ES

Inclement weather marred Stretham's sixth annual sports meeting held on the Recreation Ground in conjunction with the annual Horticultural Show. All day the sky was overcast and the downpour lasting from seven o'clock onwards, accompanied by thunder and lightning, had been threatening a long time. Afterwards, conditions were extremely unpleasant, but competitors and spectators, hoping in vain that the weather would improve, stood by the decision of the officials to carry on with the races and the programme was completed. Preceded by a dozen events for local children the adults' races were being decided under heavy grey skies, when suddenly the rain began to descend heavily. With the exception of a few who were plucky enough to brave the elements, the spectators rushed for shelter while some left the field altogether. It might have expected for the officials to postpone the events but they decided otherwise and the programme was completed. People obtained the best view possible from their places of refuge, appreciative of the determination to continue shown by the competitors who cycled and ran in the rain regardless of what consequences might be. The track was treacherous and there were several spills amongst the cyclists. But no one was seriously hurt. While the attendance of Stretham people was good, the neighbourhood was not represented so well due to the unsettled state of the weather. Open to all persons resident in the parish the Horticultural Show suffered nothing as a result of the rain. 33 07 21ES

1933 07 22

Royston theatre – 33 07 22

R.H. West replies criticism of his novel 'The Spring Term is Over' – 33 07 22

1933 07 24

The General Stores and adjoining cottage on the Old North Road near Arrington Bridge caught fire. After removing a copper in one of the rooms it was found the lathe and plaster wall was red hot. The building is an old one and it is said that Dick Turpin slept there. In one of the bedrooms there are two large iron sockets into which a bar could be put to block the door and a small sliding panel in the wall gives a view of anyone coming up the stairs. 33 07 24

Baldwin at Gogs, p8

1933 07 25

Cambridge's New Theatre is to be run as a cinema but every effort will be made to continue some theatrical form of entertainment. It has been leased to Mr P.V. Wallis who was the originator of the Central Cinema ten years ago and later took over the Tivoli and Playhouse cinemas. A Western Electric sound projector system will be installed together with some structural alterations and it is hoped to reopen in September. 33 07 25

1933 07 26

The reconstruction of the London-Norwich road to trunk road standard was begun in 1931 and 2½ miles were completed when work was stopped at the request of the Ministry owing to the financial crisis. Because of that the cost of maintenance has increased and the sides of the uncompleted roads are getting worse. Now the Ministry have offered a reduced grant to allow it to continue. 33 07 26

The reputation which Cambridge enjoys as the home of many women prominent in public life has been enhanced by the appointment of a new secretary of the University Lodging Houses Syndicate. Miss Mary Kennett is the daughter of the late Professor of Hebrew. She trained at Guy's Hospital and her knowledge of hygiene will be valuable when she inspects the houses licensed to accommodate undergraduates. 33 07 26

A meeting of the Cambridge Anti-War Council debated whether to affiliate to the national body. There was a danger that war might appear soon and the workers would be caught as they were in 1914 unless some centralised organisation was set up. But the British Anti-War Movement had been started by Communists with the idea of boring from the inside and they should not join. 33 07 26
Steeple Morden estate, p3*

1933 07 28

Grave warning of the danger of exhaust fumes from motor vehicles were given at a BMA Conference. The blood of traffic policemen has been found to be charged with carbon monoxide at a high concentration and that of motorists must be similarly polluted. Should the danger be intensified pedestrians will need to wear gas-masks in self-defence, delegates were told. Soon or later authorities responsible for public health must take action. 33 07 28

The Central Hall in Market Passage may become a cinema where cultural films would be shown during the University term. It would be run by Openshaw Higgins, formerly manager of The Tivoli cinema. Mr Mullett, the architect said the amount of film in the proposed projection box would not generate sufficient heat in event of a fire to buckle the iron armour of which it would be constructed. 33 07 28

Ouse estuary crisis, p8

1933 07 28 ES

Rickwood's improve Ely shopping facilities: photo. 33 07 28ES *

A wonderful addition to Ely shopping facilities has been effected by the demolition of the old Star Inn and the two adjoining cottages in Newnham Street and the erection on the site by Messrs. H. Rickwood of the city's most up to date furniture showroom.

For over two centuries, the old public house and the cottages had stood on the corner and with the road only 13 feet wide at that dangerous junction, several accidents had occurred there. Eventually the property was bought by the County Council and the old buildings pulled, down the corner considerably widened and the remainder of the site offered for sale

Mr. Walter Rickwood conceived the idea for acquiring and utilising the site for a showroom. He drew up plans and has supervised the whole of the work, stipulating that it should employ only local labour; all doors and windows are made a solid oak and even the parquet floor has been carried out by Messrs Sindall & Sons.

The business was started by Henry Rickwood over 70 years ago as a house furniture in premises at present used by Mr. H D. Croot as a fish shop at the junction of Newnham Street and Prickwillow Road. So rapidly did the business grow that he purchased the property where Rickwood's Arcade now stands and built the furniture showroom which have made them a household name. At that time, they dealt chiefly in antique furniture. Conditions have changed and it was necessary to display to the public the goods for sale. It is with the idea of exhibiting some of their comprehensive stock that the present showrooms have been built. 33 07 28ES

Low flight over Ely Cathedral. 33 07 28(2)ES

The Secretary of State for Air was asked whether he was aware that a low-flying aeroplane came near to damaging the roof of Ely Cathedral during the King's Cup races in June by passing between the lantern of the Cathedral and the eastern pinnacles of the Lady Chapel, and that the cathedral had on several occasions been in similar danger. The Air Navigation Order prohibits the flying of aircraft so as to cause unnecessary danger to any person or property and he would arrange for an immediate investigation. 33 07 28ES

Barway's first fete. 33 07 28(3)ES

For the first time in the memory of man, a garden fete was held in the picturesque grounds of Fordy House at Barway on behalf of the beautiful little church. Though there is but a mere handful of people in this tiny hamlet, there was a large crowd at the fete. A short time ago £100 was received from an unknown anonymous donor for the reseating of the church. But as it had not been spring-cleaned for 24 years, it was felt some efforts should be made for the interior renovation before the seats were installed. That work is now in hand. 33 07 28ES

St German's pumping station nearing completion. 33 07 28(4)ES # c.29 *

The magnificent Pumping Station and Sluice which is nearing completion at the Middle Level Outfall at St. Germans was inspected by a large number of landowners and farmers. The northern engine house is complete with all its equipment while the southern house is ready for the reception of equipment. The huge sluice gates were seen in position and work was proceeding on the clearance of the channel on the inlet site for the diversion of the drain back to its original course on which the pumping station has been erected.

There was an additional interest which brought to mind an historic event in the Middle Level drainage: the bursting of the original sluice in 1862 and construction of a dam and siphon to cope with the emergency and the subsequent diversion of the channel through a new cut and sluice. When the siphons proved unequal to the needs of the situation. The old dam, of course, remained in the disused portion of the channel, but it was not until excavation upon it were commenced that the discovery was made of the siphons still intact with the exception of the valves, which had been removed from the top of the embankment. The battery of pipes, 16 in number, were exposed to view along with the other material used in the construction of the dam over 70 years ago. At the formation of the dam over 90,000 cubic feet of timber, 75 ton of iron, 432 casks of cement and 2,444 tons of clunch were used. Now all this enormous quantity of earth has to be removed. This has been laborious work, but by the employment of the most efficient mechanical appliances the bulk has now been cleared away. 33 07 28ES

1933 07 29

Two portions of the East Stone Training Bank of the Great Ouse Estuary below King's Lynn have fallen in and the whole bank might be lost if there were heavy storms in the winter. The Great Ouse Catchment Board would lose their main outfall and trade to the port of King's Lynn damaged. The southern bank might be saved if steps are taken at once and the Ministry should be approached for funding. 33 07 29

Early moving pictures – 33 07 29

1933 07 31

The old County Hall in Hobson Street was supposed to be sold with the proceeds being used to pay for the new Shire Hall on Castle Hill. But now little tin advertising 'To Let' signs had appeared and there didn't seem to be the slightest attempt to sell it, a councillor complained. But every effort had been made to dispose of it without success and they were now hoping to let a portion to the Government's Office of Works which would suit the council equally as well as a sale. 33 07 31

Trial road, p6*

August 1933 CDN & ES

1933 08 01

The Fenland Research Committee, recently established at Cambridge, has already justified its existence. At Plantation Farm, Shippea Hill, they have discovered an interesting settlement of the early Bronze Age which has yielded a large number of flint implements, arrow heads and knives. Grahame Clarke also found traces of an earlier culture. When it is remembered that the archaeology of the fens has been practically unknown it will be seen that their discoveries are of much importance. 33 08 01

Ely Potato Association – 33 08 01

1933 08 02

Charles Wilkins took up journalism at an early age. He worked on the Huntingdonshire Post before moving to the editorial side of the Cambridgeshire Times. He became managing editor of the Cambridge Chronicle and in 1921 he was appointed its managing director. Mr Wilkins was secretary of the Isle of Ely Amateur Football Association and took a prominent part in the Conservative cause and the Catholic church. He leaves a widow and a family of nine, six sons and three daughters. 33 08 02

Cambridge bus companies: future of Varsity and Westminster – 33 08 02

1933 08 03

The Minister of Transport has rejected calls for the imposition of a speed limit in front of Ely Cathedral but says steps should be taken to avoid vibration by providing the carriageway with a smooth running service on a bed insulated from the adjacent buildings. A large volume of traffic could be diverted if a by-pass road was constructed on the east side of the city and a one-way system introduced along Minster Place and the Gallery. 33 08 03

Ely boy's pluck – river rescue medal John Gotobed – 33 08 03

1933 08 04

Ely's new 'Majestic Cinema' in New Barnes-road has an attractive front plastered in brown and cream which arrests the attention of anyone passing. Designed by F. Tucker of Lynn Road it has the latest Weston screen and Imperial sound system and will seat 370 people. Messrs Russell and Frank Wright are to be congratulated on their enterprise. The first film is Ida Lupino in 'Her First Affair'. 33 08 04

1933 08 04 ES

Ely Majestic Cinema to open. 33 08 04(2)ES *

The Majestic Theatre. Ely's new cinema in Newnham Street is now complete and arrangements have been made for a free performance for children under 14 years to herald the official opening of this modern entertainment house. With plans for their winter programme the Directors anticipate a successful run in catering for the amusement of the people of Ely. Many of the latest films successes have been booked.

It is but a few months ago since the idea of another cinema of Ely was first mooted. Councillor F. Tucker, builder, of Lynn Road was engaged to draw up plans for the Majestic and work commenced on preparing the site on which Councillor Russell Wright's Newnham Food Stores then stood. The front of the building is plastered in cream and brown with the name 'Majestic' in bold lettering and an electric neon sign. Seats in old gold velvet have been fixed and with the raised balcony there is seating for 370 people. Various sound and lighting systems installed. There is a system of ventilation to give a complete change of air every 15 minutes ensuring the atmosphere is kept sweet and clean. For colder weather first class heating apparatus has been put in.

The commissioner is Mr. H. Lee of Ely whose uniform will be of maroon and gold with the word 'Majestic' on the peaked hat. The cashier is Miss Yarrow who held a similar position at the old cinema in Market Street for some years. 33 08 04ES

Graven's first with Ford commercial vehicle. 33 08 04(3)ES *

Ely, through the enterprise of the English Ford agents, Messrs. Graven and Sons, has the distinction of marketing the first commercial Ford fitted with an eight-cylinder engine. This machine was specially constructed for Messrs Graven. It is an entirely new departure in commercial transport. The vehicle is seen loaded with 770 boxes of cut flowers ready for each days run to Covent Garden. It is interesting to note that Messrs Brooks and Sons of Soham, the first in the field with this new type of machine, were also the first to transport cut flowers by road to London from their district. 33 08 04ES

Ely canning factory closed: insufficient supplies. 33 08 04(4)ES

The canning factory in Brays Lane Ely owned by the National Produce Cannery Limited of Wisbech has been closed, partly owing to the shortage of supplies of fruit from local growers and partly owing to the pressure of packing at the firm's Paddock Wood factory in Kent. It is very doubtful whether they will reopen in Ely again this season. The whole of the staff have been dispensed with, except for two or three who are retained to dispatch orders that may be received.

The only possibility of the Ely factory reopening during the present season is in the event of the other factories, which includes Spalding, Wisbech and Dundee, being unable to cope with supplies delivered to them. The Secretary says it was unwise to maintain the staff at Ely unless the factory was better supported by the growers in the district. Supplies were insufficient even during the soft fruit season. 33 08 04ES

Jack Hulbert at Ely's first sports, 1897: photo. 33 08 04(5)ES *

A photo of the group of officials who organised Ely's first Bank Holiday Sports in 1893, includes the now-familiar face of Jack Hulbert, the famous film star, shown as a baby in the centre, who has recently brought additional distinction to Ely as the city wherein England's present king of mirth was born. Most of those in the pictures are now dead. In the early days several novelty races were run, including donkey steeplechases, and the sports were bought to a conclusion with a grand display of fireworks. Times have changed since then, but Ely Bank Holiday Sports are still running and this year's record entries show they should still be as popular and flourishing an entertainment after another 40 years have elapsed. 33 08 04ES

Shippea Hill Bronze Age settlement. 33 08 04(6)ES

A very interesting discovery has been made at Plantation Farm, Shippea Hill, by the Fenland Research Committee. It is a settlement of the early Bronze Age which has yielded a large number of Flint implements and pottery of the Bronze Age together with bones of domestic animals, red deer and beaver. It shows that Bronze Age inhabitants were living on a dry Sandy island in the middle of a shallow swamp. They also found traces of an earlier culture. When it is remembered that the archaeology of the fens has been hitherto practically unknown it will be realised these discoveries are of much importance. It is hoped the investigation of the Fenland will result in a great increase in our knowledge of ancient man's existence in this country. 33 08 04

1933 08 05

C.T. Wilkins, p8*

100 years ago, p8

1933 08 08

Slum clearance scheme – 33 08 08

1933 08 09

A state of armed neutrality exists on the title 'battlefield' of Woodlands Farm, Ringshall near Stowmarket. Fascists are camped in the farmyard while a bailiff is in possession of two cornfields on the farm. The owner owes £47 to King's College for tithe and fields of wheat and barley have been seized for which tenders have been invited. Police are on constant duty while the fascists watch the approaching roads for signs of approaching cutting machinery. They have chalked messages on the road which read 'Farmers, Unite Now'. 33 08 09

1933 08 10

Cambridge is well ahead with its slum clearance schemes. In the Newmarket Road area there was a case for clearance near the Tabernacle but most of the people worked in the neighbourhood and if they were rehoused on the outskirts it would mean increased cost in getting to work. They had displaced 342 people and only provided homes for 218 of them: would the rest be put onto the street? There was controversy over the fate of one old lady whose house had been demolished, but it was better than leaving her in a building so dangerous it might collapse and bury her. 33 08 10

Boundary decision – bigger borough approved – 33 08 10

1933 08 11

The veranda or shelter over the main entrance of the Guildhall was disgustingly dirty and unsafe and should be removed, the Surveyor reported. It had been built in 1878 and the public should get used to the Guildhall without it because it would not be incorporated in the new building. Others said it was a useful shelter and should be maintained at all costs: the Preservation Society would be shocked if they allowed that ancient piece of architecture to be scrapped. 33 08 11

A travelling posting-box has been started by the Post Office on the Eastern Counties' service which leaves Cottenham at 8.15pm. The letterbox is painted Post Office red and will be fixed on the front of the bus, giving a later posting time than is now the case. It will operate from Monday to Saturday and letters will be delivered in practically any part of England by the first post in the morning. 33 08 11

Swavesey show & sports – 33 08 11

1933 08 11 ES

Ely Majestic cinema opening: photo. 33 08 11ES *

Milk Marketing scheme registration. 33 08 11(2)(3)(4)ES

Witcham church restoration nearing completion. 33 08 11(5)ES

1933 08 12

Milk marketing scheme, p7

Old Cambridgeshire series to start - Palmer Clarke, p8

1933 08 14

Saffron Walden Borough's Electricity Undertaking is to be sold to the County of London Electric Supply Company. They will cover the costs of changing from D.C. to A.C. current and cut the price of units. The scheme had cost £80 in the first year and for nine years they had had electricity in the town but if the council kept the works they would have to spend £10,000 on them. 33 08 14

Old time minstrel entertainment and Memories of the old Arcade – 33 08 14

1933 08 15

Televisions blow at film industry – 33 08 15

New Theatre plans convert to cinema – 33 08 15

1933 08 16

George King will always be associated with Miller's music shop's fortnightly gramophone recitals that he popularised when he came in 1929. He introduced the performance of opera on records with full scenic and lighting effects and sang and played at the recitals. He also undertook the entire managerial duties for University dance bands and was compere when the Union Society first staged classical and light gramophone music. Now he is moving to Dale's Brewery as sales manager. 33 08 16

Water from four wells at the Pit, Isleham is unfit for drinking and they must be closed. They were probably contaminated from the top and ought to be inspected to see where it came from. Now another nineteen wells will be analysed. Councillors also discussed the bad state of Padney Road Wicken: something ought to be done before the heavy traffic of beet haulage began. 33 08 16

Old Cambridgeshire, no.1, p8

1933 08 17

Prior to 1932 workers from Brittany had been imported into Jersey to lift, sort and bag the June potato crop, but this year 47 volunteers from Cambridgeshire were part of 2,500 men employed. The labour was organised on the gang system and broke all records. The Cambridge men were well satisfied with their earnings and several have remained in permanent employment. 38 08 17

Stage or screen, p8*

1933 08 18

Sir – it is a disgrace to Cambridge that our only theatre, the New Theatre, should close like it has done and have to re-open as a cinema. It used to be the finest in the Eastern Counties. When such attractions as Ruth Draper, Jack Payne and Matheson Lang visited it was packed and many people were turned away. But they put up prices and had too many variety shows instead of good plays and musical comedies – Lionel Cherry. 33 08 18

1933 08 18 ES

Twenty-three years at Ely river: A. Broad's service as bathing place attendant. 33 08 18&(2)ES

Typical fenland harvest scene: photo. 33 08 18(3)ES *

1933 08 21

A new use has been discovered for the camera – that of a detective. Official photographs are invariably taken at the scene of a serious crime but recently an amateur photographer used his camera to identify a thief who robbed his hen roost. A piece of string attached to the shutter lever of a simple box camera was pulled by the thief himself when he opened the door of the roost and the tell-tale picture taken. Every motorist may meet an accident and a photographic record of a collision is better testimony for the insurance company than the evidence of an eye witness. 33 08 21

Some early entertainments in Cambridge – magic lantern, Poole's Myorama etc – 33 08 21

1933 08 22

The Bishop of Ely's son, Charles Wright-Thomson, was one of four Eton schoolmasters who lost their lives on the Sella Glacier of the Roseq Peak in the Alps. Hundreds lined the walls of the hillside burial grounds as the coffins, covered with garden flowers and bunches of edelweiss, were buried in one grave in the cemetery adjoining the tiny church of Santa Maria. At the same time a memorial service was held in St Catharine's Chapel at Ely Cathedral and Eton College was closed to visitors. 33 08 22

Stetchworth Park, the residence of the Earl of Ellesmere, was damaged by fire. Fortunately the main buildings and stables escaped but outbuildings including the laundry together with a sitting room and two bedrooms occasionally used by chauffeurs were affected. The flames burnt fiercely about the wooden structure and a clock-tower above the garage was demolished. Prompt action saved two motor cars. 33 08 22

1933 08 23

March man's dole fraud – 33 08 23

1933 08 23 ES

Latest in agricultural machinery: harvester demonstrated at Plantation House Farm, Littleport. 33 08 23ES

Demolition of chimney of Brandon River Pumping Station, Burnt Fen: photo. 33 08 23(2)ES # c.29

1933 08 24

New Zoological labs photo, p6

1933 08 26

Christ's College room renovations for C.P. Snow – 33 08 26

Millers Music shop, Sidney Street – 33 08 26

Trinity college land purchase near Ipswich – 33 08 26

1933 08 28

Grand Jury's last bill – 33 08 28

1933 08 30

Tithe chief faces farmers at Saffron Walden – 33 08 30

1933 08 31

Snake at Byron's pool – 33 08 31

Wardy Hill fire – 33 08 31

September 1933 CDN & ES

1933 09 01

St Giles church has been damaged because of the exceptionally dry weather. A crack was seen at the east end and the wall showed a tendency to fall away from the rest of the church. There is no immediate danger, though a wooden frame will be placed around the top of the arches of the windows as a precaution but it was thought advisable to move the altar. Now the east end will probably have to be underpinned. 33 09 01

Railway line blaze, p8*

1933 09 01 ES

Fire menaced the residential area of Jerusalem Drove, Wardy Hill. It originated in a field where a farm-worker had been engaged in stubble burning and travelled along a dyke for a distance of some 150 yards. The fire rapidly spread to adjoining fields, stubble and part corn in shocks. Willing helpers were soon on the scene and with various improvised beaters, attacked the fired area, several hundred yards in extent and still spreading. With a strong breeze carrying it on towards a not far distant farm and the near-by cottages, the situation became very alarming. The Ely fire engine arrived and soon became master of the situation in spite of the water supply handicap, the only available source being a pond near the Wardy Hill Club, a good distance from the actual fire scene and necessitating the laying of a very long line of hose. 33 09 01ES *

Three stacks, implement and lambing sheds were destroyed by a fire in a farm four miles out from Sutton on the outskirts of West Fen. The outbreak occurred in shed where a Fordson tractor and other farm implements were stored. The blaze was noticed by a neighbouring farmer, but assuming it was being dealt with, he made tea and partook of refreshment before making his way to the scene. Mr Seekings made his way to the residence of Mr. Reed of Somersham who phoned up P.s. Bent of Sutton. He succeeded in calling up members of the brigade in a remarkable short space of time and arranged for the dispatch of the Sutton engine. The manual fire engine from the not far distant village of Somersham was also ordered to the scene. The main fen drain close by provided a good supply of water and the blaze was under soon under control. 33 09 01ES

1933 09 02

Death John Sworder, Barkway – 33 09 02

New Theatre opens as cinema – 33 09 02

1933 09 05

Five Cambridge playhouses remembered – 33 09 05

37 farmers committed following tithe protest – 33 09 05

Cambridge Playhouse, p4*

1933 09 06

Hexton vicar leads flock of goats – 33 09 06

Converted bus in Quy accident & Shudy Camps water shortage photo – 33 09 06

Water shortage pic, p8*

1933 09 07

Orwell villagers assisted in extinguishing a burning lorry owned and driven by H.A. Jude, a village haulage contractor. He was driving from the garage in a narrow lane called Lotfield Street when the engine backfired and flames came up into the cab. A petrol can exploded and the heat was so intense that the dummy ends of the petrol tank, which was nearly full, were melted off. Fortunately it did not explode as a few yards off was a thatched cottage occupied by William Breed and on the other side a house occupied by Mrs C. Jude. 33 09 07

Suffolk farm wages, p7

1933 09 08 ES

Ely new tailoring centre: Tharby. 33 09 08ES

By acquiring the shop on Lynn Road, Ely, Messrs J.W. Tharby, the practical tailors formerly of Chiefs Street have provided themselves with the most modern facilities. Their removal to these more commodious and central premises previously used by Messrs H.F. Wykes and Sons marks another step in the progress made since a business was first established over 30 years ago, by the late Mr. Joseph Tharby at his private residence in Bernard Street. He became partner with his father, and five years ago, was himself joined by his younger son. He is a very experienced cutter and the work of the firm has always been of the highest class. Their reputation amongst people who like to be well dressed is good. Their prices are reasonable and to suit the pockets of the lower-paid worker. They are now selling suits from three pounds three shillings upwards. Several of their customers reside abroad and every year they send breeches to Ireland. 33 09 08ES

P8

Features of interest in Fenland – article on Lt Thetford, Stretham & Wilburton; interview with John Smith and his memories of village life – photos. 33 09 08(2)(3)ES *

Passing along the main road from Ely I noticed on the milestone by the Halfway House sat a sturdy wayfarer contentedly smoking his pipe while watching labourers at work in the nearby cornfield gathering in the last few sheaves of corn.

Turning away from the main road just beyond the railway crossing I went up into Thetford one of the smallest villages in the Isle.

It is one of those delightful the old-world villages which the passage of time has touched but lightly and, while it's quaint old thatched cottages bear striking testimony to this fact, it has little to interest the passer-by save its immunity from the roar of main road traffic. There is scarcely a sound in the street save the rumbling of farm carts and the occasional cackle of hens. It has a beautiful little church with a capacity to seat the whole of its habitants and finally the quaint roundhouse. This strange structure, which now provides a home for two families, is reputed to be one of a number of old stone forts built hundreds of year ago to protect from them from outside invasion.

Further along the road lies Stretham, a more modern village but one which has historical as well as topical interests. Almost every visitor notices its ancient stone cross standing near the church. This relic of a bygone age, which dates from about 1400, was restored in 1910. It has an octagonal base and at the top are four niches with pedestals for images. At one time it boasted a weather vane which has since disappeared and around the top is a band of steel spikes presumably to deter adventurous youth of the village from climbing to its height.

The nearby church of St. James has many points of interest with its lofty spire containing a clock and five bells to say nothing of its beautifully carved oak screen dating from 1440

I could not leave Stretham without a chat with that cheery old gentleman, John Smith, one of the village's oldest inhabitants and yet in mentality and outlook still a youngster. I found him in his customary place in the garden which now that he is nearing the 90s is his chief interest in life. Hard work evidently has had no effects on this genial and hale son of the soil for apart from a slight deafness he still retains all his facilities.

In his own captivating way he told me in his delightful Yorkshire dialect that he was born at Stretham way back in 1845. "My father", he said, "used to work for the late Charles Wright at Dimmock's Cote where he was the head man on Mt Wright's farm. In those days we never got much education for I started work on the land when I was seven-years old. We used to work in gangs, bird scaring, weeding and hoeing corn and we thought we were millionaires when we got our pay - three shillings a week! Even full-blown men only got about 10 shillings a week and if they earned nine shillings in the dead of winter they were lucky".

When in his teens he joined the railway as a cleaner, retiring in 1910. On the death of his wife in 1917 he went to live with his son and daughter-in-law Mr and Mrs J.T. Smith who returned to Stretham in 1926.

Mr Smith has quite a clear recollection of many events which happened in Stretham over half a century ago. "I still I will remember one year when the water in the river dried up so that it was only a tiny stream a yard wide along its bed and with some of my pals I walked over it. We used to get very severe frost in those days too and once the river was frozen to a depth of three or four feet; it seemed the whole river was frozen, so thick was the ice"

He also recalled the day when his father, who had lived to be nearly 90, first drew the Old Age Pension, in those days five shillings a week - and a grand thing it was, he added

Mr Smith posed for his photograph to be taken with his inseparable companion, the gold mounted walking stick with which he was presented by his fellow workmen when he retired. 33 09 08(2)(3)ES

1933 09 09

A disastrous fire occurred at Woodhouse Farm Chettisham, near Ely. Smoke was seen in a stack yard, one of the largest in England. Flames spread with amazing speed and soon 28 stacks were in full blaze. Hundreds of people flocked to the scene as firemen together with farmer Mitcham's workmen worked magnificently in the great heat to try and stop it spreading. 33 09 09

1933 09 12

Anderson (Andy) Broom was keenly interested from a boy in amateur photography and became the first Press photographer in Cambridge, having been for 20 years on the staff of the Cambridge Chronicle. Before that he worked for 37 years with the firm of Flavell and Ellis, decorators. He was member of St Giles' parish dramatic society and an athlete, chiefly engaged in cycling and skating. 33 09 12

Cambridge Fire Brigade was called to Knapwell after Mr C. Shelton noticed flames at a window of one of two cottages, both of which have thatched roofs. Neighbours did all they could to remove furniture and belongings but the flames had obtained such a hold that the occupants, Arnold Hodson and Berry Bath and their families, have been rendered homeless. The fire made little more than shells of the cottages. 33 09 12

Four fire brigades fought an extensive conflagration at Great Gransden which imperilled the whole village. Cambridge firemen were returning from a blaze at Waresley Wood when they saw a glare in the sky and were on the spot within ten minutes. Mr Christmas' barn at Home Farm was well alight but a motor car was saved before the garage became burned out. 33 09 12

An interesting record of life in the Cambridge Borough Gaol, which used to stand in Gonville Place has been brought to this office by the great niece of a former governor of the Gaol.

It is the journal of Mr. John Edis who entered upon his duties as Governor of the Gaol on the 21st December, 1839. The record begins on the 1st October. 1843 and ends on the 31st January 1864

It is a sad catalogue of crime and misconduct both in and out of gaol, relieved by evidences of humanity, sympathy and understanding on the part of Mr. Edis who appears to have taken a deep and active interest in the unfortunate creatures committed to his charge.

The first entry records the absence from chapel of the debtors on Sunday without reasonable excuse and the next page mention of a man falling from the wheel in a fit of epilepsy.

There are a number of records of suicide and various attempts to escape are also recorded.

One prisoner spent the greater part of his time in a state of frenzy concerning his wife's conduct towards him. Prisoners in the same cell were unable to sleep owing to his noise and worry. He was declared a criminal lunatic and removed to Bethlem, London

In December. 1845, mention is made of a woman being ordered into the dark cell for destroying the oakum given her to pick. On Christmas Day of the same year all the prisoners were given chocolate and other extra fare. This is one of a number of entries relating to prisoners being supplied with chocolate.

Children of tender age were sent to prison in those days and others were brought in with their parent. There are numerous entries as to floggings; one 13-year-old boy received 20 stokes of the birch for stealing bread. One ten-year-old had given himself up to every vice, swearing and using the most obscene language. He was played in the refractory cell on a punishment diet for 24 houses. Two boys under sentence of transportation has to be locked up without their dinner for destroying the prison comb and getting into a clean bed with dirty shoes and trousers on.

In 1851 a Cambridge tradesman and his son were charged with having set fire to their house to defraud the fire office. They were sentenced to transportation for life. The farewell visit of their members of the family, consisting of the aged wife, one daughter, two sons and their wives, all persons of respectability was described by Mr Edis as one of the most distressing scenes he had ever witnessed – 33 09 12

1933 09 13

Knapwell fire, p8

1933 09 14

Sir – in my old curiosity shop in Trumpington Street I have formed a museum of prison, punishment and other interesting relics, many of which have come from our old Cambridge prisons. They include the clothes, mask, pistol and spurs of Dick Turpin which were left at the Three Tuns Inn, Castle Hill, on the eve of January 12th 1739. I would welcome any items connected with village punishment or an old police uniform with the beaver top hat – E. Rutter. 33 09 14

1933 09 15

Horse knocked river, p6*

1933 09 15 ES

Another 'interesting tour': Doddington, Wimblington. 33 09 15ES *

1933 09 16

Norris Museum, p5

1933 09 18

Haverhill post office, p5

Hardwick tithe protest, p8

1933 09 19

Mr A.J. Wardley of Whittlesford was filling up a County Council water cart with the vehicle standing on the village bridge when a car skidded on the damp surface. It knocked the horse and cart into the river, which is ten feet deep. The driver was thrown high and dry. Seventeen people helped extract the horse, which was cut in several places, and the tank was damaged, with the two shafts broken. 33 09 19

Cambridge Guildhall dated back to about 1782 and there had been various extensions. In 1928 the Corporation bought shops in Peas Hill to allow for rebuilding. The possibility of providing shops on the ground floor had been considered but this would not allow sufficient offices for the extra staff needed to cope with their increased duties, an Inquiry was told. 33 09 19

1933 09 20

Well-built houses, Perne Road. An attractive position, situate on the beautifully-made new ring road, close to bus stop. Prices £690 and £710. £50 down, balance £1 weekly. See Walter Driver's announcement in the auction columns for detailed particulars. Sole Agent: Drivers, 1a Post Office Terrace. Tel.468 (Advertisement). 33 09 20

The pilot of a Gypsy Moth was summonsed for low flying at Fen Ditton. He had hired the plane at Marshall's aerodrome but then began 'hedge hopping', looping-the-loop and narrowly missing telegraph poles. Roy Fisher, the ground engineer at Marshall's waved a piece of white fabric to try and attract the pilot's attention and then Mr Marshall went up in a Puss Moth in an attempt to bring him down. They flew together but the man did not land with him. He told magistrates he had served in the RAF but was fined £5. 33 09 20

Prickwillow Lark Bank fire, p5

1933 09 21

Herbert Robinson opened a small shop in Regent Street, 30 years ago, where he commenced selling Premier bicycles. Today his extensive new garage occupies the site of Llandaff Chambers and the old Fountain Inn. It embraces motorcars, motor cycles, bicycles, baby carriages, wireless and gramophones and features a turntable for cars and an overhead runway which enables parts to be conveyed from one side to another. 33 09 21

Sir Frederick Hiam was concerned that if the pumps were stopped his land would be flooded. Some simply floated at such times: when a horse went on the land it went up to its neck and had to be dragged out with ropes. In 1912 the banks held but in 1928, after the Ouse Catchment Board took over, there was a break. His men were out all night to prevent the whole district being flooded. The Board can give an order, but they haven't the men to do it. The man on the spot knows what to do, people in Cambridge did not. 33 09 21, 22, 23

Stretham car crash, p8

1933 09 22

An inquiry into the new Ouse Catchment Board byelaws heard objections from Railway Companies. Their bridges might be damaged by storm or flood and signal wires blown down but they would be unable to repair them without permission: was their traffic to be held up while they got consent. Huntingdonshire County Council felt they would prejudice the growers of bat willows. 33 09 22

The Norris Library and Museum at St Ives was opened with full civic pride. Herbert Norris's collection of manuscripts and books was unique; there was nothing printed in the world concerning Huntingdonshire that was not there and it should become a county museum. The architect, Mr Inskip Ladds was congratulated. The council had also carried out improvements to the Waits and made new flower beds. 33 09 22

1933 09 22 ES

Wonderful air display to visit Ely: Alan Cobham. 33 09 22ES # c.26.1

Burnt Fen Institute annual meeting. 33 09 22(2)(3)ES

1933 09 23

The famous old water mill at Houghton is to be finally destroyed. A short time ago the interior fittings were taken out, but the picturesque fabric was spared. The fine mill at Godmanchester was destroyed some years ago. It is fashion to consider these old mills as useless but there is one at Elton that is doing a roaring trade in milling poultry and cattle food. The water power has been harnessed to drive turbine fans which dry corn cut and thrashed by the Dominion harvester. 33 09 23

County to fight, p8

1933 09 25

Stourbridge fair proclaimed – 33 09 25

1933 09 27

Flying-officer Norman Styche, who formerly lived in Fordham and Cambridge, was one of two men who perished when their bomber crashed at Bamburgh after a successful "battle" against the Home Fleet. Having attended Soham Grammar School he had got books on flying out of the library and learnt all he could. He had previously been in two crashes, but was unhurt in both. 33 09 27

Cambridge Guildhall was crowded for the Eugene Film and Hair Fashion Revue. It included a demonstration of Eugene waving and a parade of ladies whose hair had been waved by Cambridge hairdressers. Applause showed the appreciation of the feminine for those who provided them with these 'Waves of Desire'. 33 09 27

Stretham claim, p5

Damming Cam pic, p8

1933 09 28

Mrs Rackham told of her recent tour of Russia. There were great shortages but the only queues were for oil which was needed for agricultural machinery. However there was no shop in a Russian city which anyone in Cambridge would think it worth looking in. Newspapers were placed on walls as a shortage of paper prevented a large number being printed. When it was suggested she had only seen the better bits, she said it was a very sensible thing to do: visitors to Cambridge were only shown the best in it. 33 09 28

Willing neighbours rescued an elderly bed-ridden lady when her old thatched cottage at Ellington caught fire in an unusual manner. Mrs Stacey was busy making jam and was heating some wax to seal it down when it caught fire. She rushed to the cottage door and threw it outside but the flames flew up and caught the thatch above the door, which is very low. The vicar's daughter and her maid got Mrs Buckmaster out of bed and wheeled her away in a bath chair. There was difficulty getting water: two ponds were practically emptied and one half of the building was destroyed. 33 09 28

Clavering poultry breeder's affairs – 33 09 28
Death of Richard Holttum, Linton – 33 09 28

1933 09 29 ES
Old Doddington: reminiscences W.T. Gent. 33 09 29ES *

Ely rousing welcome for great aviation display. 33 09 29(3)(4)ES

Soham Grammarian Pilot Office Styche of Fordham killed in crash. 33 09 29(4)ES

Fenlanders fight against Ouse Board by-laws; local control of pumps. 33 09 29(5)(6)ES # c.29 *

Prize stackers and thatchers. 33 09 29(5)ES *

1933 09 30
The make-up of the Cambridge Daily News is being completely re-modelled and in future the front page will be devoted to the main news of the day instead of small pre-paid advertisements. The London Letter will appear daily, with weekly motoring notes, fashion and household features and book reviews. A new super Crabtree press will allow of larger papers and turn out copies at up to 40,000 an hour. 33 09 30 33 10 02

Houghton mill saved, p8

October 1933 CDN & ES

1933 10 02
Ely's Paradise Recreation Field is a fine, large enclosed ground that would be the envy of many a big London sporting club. It is nicely laid out, kept to perfection with a splendid pavilion and other dressing rooms. During the summer there is an excellent cricket pitch and 17 tennis courts are laid out, all occupied by various clubs. In winter it is used by Ely City Football Club and there are two full hockey pitches always in use. 33 10 02

Huntingdonshire needs an up-to-date ambulance service. The Red Cross ambulance was now practically worn out and unreliable but it might be given to Wyton Sanatorium to maintain. A hearse might be obtained when the bier had been taken out and replaced by a stretcher. It had been used as an ambulance before and also carried football teams, though people did not like to know they were riding in a hearse. 33 10 02

Sir, Needing a stamp for a letter I hied down to the G.P.O. feeling certain its automatic machines would duly deliver the goods. The nimble penny did function, but the halfpenny, though absorbed into the digestive machinery of the apparatus, obdurately refused to pass out the little bit of green paper. Obviously a serious crime as that of obtaining halfpennies under such circumstances was a matter for our every ready Borough Police. An officer detailed to investigate proceeded to test my story twice, with the result that the Revenue was again the richer, and he, alas, the poorer by the sum of one penny. 33 10 02

New CDN, p8*

Death of Professor John Edward Marr – 33 10 02

1933 10 03

Speaking of slum clearance, Mrs Stevenson said there was no trouble about building houses, but the psychological side of rehousing is difficult. Slum dwellers became very cosy in their 'dirty little places' and when transferred to the spacious amenities of a new estate, the families felt terribly lost. Cambridge had 1,700 council houses yet there were 1,269 people on the waiting list with names added at the bottom as fast as they were removed from the top. The situation was helped by the newly-formed Hundred Houses Society. 33 10 03

1933 10 04

The Baron of Beef public house in Bridge Street was partially destroyed by fire. Firemen found flames shooting half-way across the Blackmoor Head Yard and people living at the Mitre pub began to get alarmed. It is one of the fire danger zones in Cambridge, congested with plenty of old property. The Baron was almost entirely rebuilt in 1932 which involved the demolition of four old cottages and three others were destroyed to make room for the new garages. 33 10 04

Railways are a never-failing source of interest to young and old. Cambridge Rotarians were told that trains between Cambridge and London occasionally attain 72 mph and tunnels on the Newmarket line were constructed so that trains should not frighten racehorses in training. In the fens one could stand 100 feet away from the railway track and be shaken like a jelly when a train passed. The outer rail settled half-an-inch owing to the 'draw' when the dykes dried and telegraph poles and even buildings leaned outwards. But the permanent way was practically immune from flooding. 33 10 04

CDN debut – first with new front page 33 10 04

1933 10 05

Since the dredger commenced work on the Cam from Clayhithe Bridge to Baitsbite Lock it had removed enough mud to cover Parker's Piece to the depth of six feet ten inches. Now it has been sold. Weeds had also been cut and removed. Conservators agreed to continue with the full staff of men until they had got the banks into reasonable condition, and their wages increased to 38 shilling (£1.90) a week. 33 10 05

The Huntingdon car park attendant was accused of assaulting a man on Mill Common where the car park is situated on market day. George King said he'd been talking to Mr Richardson, a greengrocer of Buckden, who'd said he could have some cabbages from his lorry. But the attendant had come up and told him to put them down, then punched him in the eye when he refused to do so. The attendant claimed King had used filthy language and not answered his questions. 33 10 05

CDN new presses launched – 33 10 05

1933 10 06

Ramsey's water is unfit for drinking unless it is boiled and filtered. In 1909 a report on the sanitary conditions revealed that the most urgent need was a safe public water supply. The same sources of water, which were then criticised very severely, are in use today. Between 1920 and 1930 various schemes had been suggested but the cost was always prohibitive. Ramsey is purely an agricultural district with no factories or industries and a water scheme was the only hope for development, either industrially or residentially. 33 10 06

1933 10 06 ES

Ely's water supply now assured: new electrical pumping plant opened at Isleham. 33 10 06&(2)ES *

Following the opening of the new electrically driven pump, which has been stalled at the waterworks at Isleham. Ely now possesses a modern and efficient, a pumping plant for supplying of water and there is practically no risk of the supply ever becoming dangerously low.

A century ago, Ely had no official water supply apart from the river and private wells. But in 1853, the present reservoir was built. The water was drawn from the river through a suction pipe to the Angel filter beds, and then pumped to the reservoir, from which it gravitated through the mains to the city

In the 1880's a desire was expressed to have a supply of water that would need no filtration and a well was sunk at Isleham to the depths of 70 feet. A steam pumping plant in duplicate was installed and the well was connected to the existing reservoir by a cast iron pumping main over a distance of eight and a half miles. The original plant consisted of two reciprocating steam engine sets, driving two three-throw force pumps.

In 1921 Ely Urban Council took the water out through Adelaide to Prickwillow and later extended a main to the Mile End Council cottages. In 1930 they took our main to Hole Farm, Witchford and Chettisham.

The old plant was a very good and did its work well for 40 years. When taken down the pumps were still in splendid condition. But they were rather expensive, and the old boilers would have had to be renewed.

In 1932 they decided to take out one of the steam pumps and have a crude oil engine bought from Messrs Ruston and Hornby, which started work in July 1932. This showed a considerable saving on the cost of running the old plant. Then it was decided to remove the other steam engine and install a modern high efficiency electric motor, keeping the crude oil engine as a stand by.

The new plant delivers 22,000 gallons per hour and can pump more water at lower costs than the older plant. It requires no fuel storage or attention while running, and without any preparation can be started in less than a minute. It will run continuously. They also joined up with Ely Rural District Council, so that the event of failure of either supply the other could help out. 33 10 06&(2)ES *

For two or more centuries the Axe and Cleaver, has been a part of Sutton and for 120 years, it has been under the management of the Knightall family.

A house of traditions, it has retained an old world, atmosphere. The old grandfather clock has ticked steadily on, keeping good time in the self-same corner in which it was placed 120 or more years ago. During recent decades it has been the rendezvous of a 'school', small in number, but great in heart, who have initiated successful efforts in the interest of charitable institutions. On Saturday night the 'school' assembled and lined the quaint old high-back settle and the seats by the old clock and quaffed ale for the last time.

For on Saturday night the house as a public house was definitely closed by the brewery owners. The evening was spent in quiet enjoyment, reminiscences, domino contests and a recital of gramophone records. A surprise visit was paid by the vicar, who made an appropriate little speech in the bar, referring to the excellent reputation of the house and the good work accompanied there in the interest of charity. The closing of the house was a loss to the social life of the village. 33 10 06(4)ES

1933 10 07

Linton water inquiry, p5

Table Talk new heading, p6

1933 10 09

The greater part of the undergraduate population is now in residence and the Dorothy café is once again thronged with young men over the tea hour. The prevailing fashion is to wear striking sports jackets with the proverbial flannel trousers and hats but the new arrivals, despite every effort to appear 'old hands' generally reveal their 'freshness' by walking about in their gowns. 33 10 09

1933 10 10

Assize trumpeters pic, p1

1933 10 13

A skeleton found at the new Perse School building site near Hyde Park Corner may have been the victim of a highway robbery many years ago. A workman was digging when his pick went through a skull. The police have been informed but the bones are obviously very old and roots of various plants had entered through the eye-holes and mouth. The site is outside the basement door of the former Gonville House which was built in the 1840s. 33 10 13

1933 10 13 ES

Death Ely florist, A.G.W. Snell. 33 10 13ES

Railway Tavern, Black Bank Station closed. 33 10 13(4)ES

The doors of the Railway Tavern at Black Bank Station were close to the public and the last bottle of sparkling ale was sold on Saturday evening. This grand old beerhouse, the taproom constructed of wood and the private part brick, has served a very useful purpose for something like 100 years, and thousands of traders, farmers, teamsmen and travellers using the railway station, have within its walls been supplied with the needs of bodily sustenance.

In days of yore farmers and labourers attended nightly for news, light refreshment and amusements. Smoking concerts and skittles, darts and domino competitions were regularly held.

Many great individual feats have been recorded in the bar. On one occasion, before the introduction of the reaper and self-binder, a villager well used to a scythe mowed (his wife gathering and tying it after him) more than two acres of corn in 12 hours.

Another villager in seven hours through 16 holes of clay, while a third in an hour's less time, sowed 30 bags of manure on six acres of ploughed land. The late Ken Moxon the village 100 yards sprinter, once ran a mile, climbed up the sign post and jumped over both railway gates for a pint of beer and a remarkable feat of a gentleman who stood on his head in the tap room and drank two pints of beer is still fresh in the memory of those of riper years. 33 10 13(4)ES

Four old Stretham sisters, Mary Murfitt (79), Emma Sadler (82), Jane Dimock (77), Rebecca Dimock (77), daughters of Joseph Sennitt, 33 10 13(5)ES

1933 10 14

Cambridge's eighth cinema, the Cosmopolitan, otherwise the Central Hall in Market Passage, will provide a regular home for cultural films. Five years ago a Film Guild was started to show a more intelligent class of film, then Mr Openshaw Higgins tried putting them into the ordinary programme before deciding on a new small cinema. It will give three performances each day during Term. 33 10 14, 33 10 17

1933 10 16

The new Municipal Health Centre in Auckland Road houses the school dental and medical clinics as well as maternity and child welfare centres. After health visitors started in 1906 infant mortality had dropped from 114 per 1,000 down to 38 last year. As for the dental clinic it was Dr Charles Cunningham and Mr Sedley Taylor whose combination of science and benevolence set an example which had been followed all over the civilised world. 33 10 16

Foot & mouth outbreak, p5

1933 10 17

New Fountain inn plans, Regent Street – 33 10 17

1933 10 18

An exhibition of Russian posters organised by the Cambridge branch of the Friends of the Soviet Union was opened at the Labour Hall. Maurice Dobb explained that very simple and forceful ideas were combined with a striking use of colour to appeal to the worker and 'activate' him or try to convince the peasants to join community farms run on a co-operative basis. The posters gave some idea of the life of the workers, contrasting the old conditions with the new. 33 10 18

An RAF flying officer had to make a parachute decent when his plane plunged to earth out of control near Hinxton. He jumped out and landed safely in a copse while his machine hit the earth nose-first and burst into flames, quickly becoming a flaming furnace. Flying Officer Scorgie, who is stationed at Duxford, is now eligible for membership of the Caterpillar Club for that select band of pilots who have been forced to save their lives by parachute. 33 10 18

Newmarket clock tower, p6

1933 10 19

Pelican at Wicken Spinney Abbey pic, p1

1933 10 20

Unemployment in Cambridge is serious: 965 men and 84 women were out of work. The University Library was nearly finished and the great building projects in the town completed. But work continued on Queen Edith's Way, Long Road and the Hundred Houses Estate as well as the paddling pool on Coldham's Common. The Minister of Transport was keen to do away with level crossings and replace them with bridges; this could mean serious expenditure but provide employment for a great number of men. 33 10 20

1933 10 20 ES

Features of interest in Fenland: Haddenham. 33 10 20&(2)ES

The flourishing village Haddenham has an irresistible attractiveness about it. Perhaps it was the friendliness of his people, but I stayed there much longer than I intended originally.

My first port of call was at the Vicarage where the genial incumbent, Reverend A.E. Kirkland, was anxious to assist me in picking out some of the interesting points.

From him I learned the history of the fine old church which was practically rebuilt in the 1870s, much of the old material being used in the work of reconstruction. The church possesses two fonts; the one in use is a curiously yet beautifully-carved 14th century work, while in the south porch stands an earlier and perfectly plain font. This was dug up in the churchyard and is presumed to have belonged to the former church.

The restoration of the church seems ever in the mind of parishioners, for in the last 60 years scheme after scheme has been carried out to improve the building structurally and enhance its architectural beauty. The chancel has been twice restored since 1878. The restoration of the nave and aisles took place at about the same time and the transepts were rebuilt. The church also possesses a very beautiful screen which dates back to about 1450. When the church was restored in 1878 the screen was not re-erected but a Vicar discovered it lying derelict in a builder's yard in Cambridge and very skilfully had it replaced.

The present Vicar has had the bells, the clock and the organ thoroughly overhauled and a scheme is now on foot for refurbishing the sanctuary. Practically all the money needed has been subscribed which is a wonderful achievement.

From the vicar I learned that the strange customs still prevail. Plough Monday is observed by the lads of the village while on December 21 of every year - called 'Gooding Day' - it has long been customary for the poor widows of the parish to call at the various houses collecting donations for Christmastide.

Leaving the vicarage I paused for a moment to look at the far-famed hostelry, the Three Kings, the doorstep of which is claimed to be on a level with the top of Ely Cathedral.

As I went down the Aldreth Road towards Linden End I tried to visualise what Haddenham was like when Hereward the Wake had his camp of refuge in this part of the fen. History however dates back much further than Norman times and I was shown the spot where St Ovin's stone once stood at Stone Cross Corner.

It was while I was looking for the site that I came across that dear old fellow, Mr C. G. Sulman of Linden End. I met him as he was just fetching his son's horse 'Prinny' back from the blacksmith; it would tug at his halter in impatience to get moving again and then would give Mr. Sulman a playful nudge in the back.

Mr Sulman was quite a mine of information and remembered most of the important changes which have taken place since he first saw the light of day at Wilburton 81 years ago.

"I well remember Haddenham church being built for, although we lived at Wilburton, my father was a dissenter and you could not go to Wilburton School unless you went to church. So I had to come to Arkenstall's School. I used to walk backwards and forwards from my home, opposite Wilburton cemetery gates, and had some rough journeys tramping across the fields in the winter.

"They pulled down the old Haddenham church, and although they used a good deal of the same material, when they rebuilt it, a lot of it was left as rubbish. With that they made the roadway down to Hinton Hall. I also remembered the railway being built through from Stretham. I used to watch them carting loads of ballast from behind Haddenham Church to make up the line. They used this ballast all the way down to Stretham Station, but where the other came from I don't know"

At one time, it seems, the streets of Haddenham were illuminated by gas and many houses in the village used gas for domestic purposes. That luxury is a thing of the past. The gas-house which used to be against the Station has ceased to function. The lamp standards still stand in the street, mute reminders of Haddenham's more enlightened days which ceased, Mr Sulman believes, just before or during the War.

Years ago Haddenham was quite a hive of industry so far as brickmaking was concerned, and various yards sprang up where bricks were made. All that remains today are the ruins of some of the kilns and the modern yard which until you two years ago identified Haddenham with the brickmaking trade.

The latter yard is still in working order and while it is at present out of commission, hopes are entertained that it may be reopened at some future date.

I was told that my visit would be incomplete without seeing Mr J. Thorpe, recognised as one of the 'chroniclers' of the village. So on my way back to Ely I called at Tower House where I was allowed, through the kindness of the Master and Matron (Mr & Mrs E. Brown) to have a chat to Jimmy, who will be 79 next April. For a time he went to school at Arkenstall's, but when he was eight or nine he started to work for Mr William Pate, who had the farm where the present Vicarage now stands. He soon grew tired of farm life, or perhaps of the poor pay, and for 20 years worked in one of brickyards owned at that time by Mr. Tom Pate and later by Mr Jewson of Earith. He recalled that the bricks used for the erection of the present Vicarage, and for the house in Church Lane now occupied by Mr. E.L. Porter, were burned on Hinton Hall farm by a Mr Woodbine lived at the Red Lion public house which is now occupied by Mr. Ted Murfitt.

Referring to the various brickyards which have been built in the village he said it was rumoured that £17,000 was sunk in one of them, "and that was more money went up the Station Road in those times than there is today". Some of them tried to produce glazed bricks, but that was not very successful, as the clay was not of a nature which would take the glaze.

Haddenham indeed has changed in many ways, since the days of Jimmy's youth, when it was a village noted for its large and rich farmers. "But today you can't find four or five horsekeepers living on one farm as you used to do years ago; the majority of them now are these two-horses-and-one-motor-car farmers" 33 10 20&(2)ES

James Baker, a native of Parson Drove, was married to Miss Alma Britton at Lt Downham Church on October 13th 1883.

There were six children of the marriage, four sons and two daughters only four of whom are now living. Frank lost his life as a result of injuries sustained in the Great War. Alfred went to Australia where he was joined by his brother, William. Both served in the war and then Alfred returned to Australia to take up farming on an extensive scale, the Australian Government giving him 1,230 acres of land, which they took away again after seven years. He has now gone to the gold fields and writes that conditions there are as bad, if not worse than in England.

Like most children Mr & Mrs Baker had little education and started work at an early age. Mr Baker was about 10 when he started as a garden boy. Eventually he became a farm labourer and on his marriage they took the Downham Holts farm where they lived and worked exceedingly hard for 21 years, bringing up their children on a mere pittance. They recall when they fed and clothed four children on 4s 6d a week. "In those days", said Mrs Baker, "you could get a basket full of groceries for 2s. Today you see practically nothing for that amount". Twenty years ago they gave up farming and moved to Ely, James becoming an assistant gardener and general labourer.

There is no doubt they are a devoted couple and we congratulate them on their Golden Wedding. 33 10 20ES

Queen visits Ely. 33 10 20(3)ES

Ely was honoured by a surprise visit from Her Majesty the Queen, who drove through the city. Very few were aware of her presence until they saw her luxurious car drive slowly through the streets. It was at 10.20 that the limousine containing Her Majesty and her lady-in-waiting passed over Chettisham railway crossing and five minutes later the R.A.C. Scout on duty at the Lamb Corner saw the royal car approaching. The driver signalled that he wished to cross straight over towards the Cathedral and the Scout held up other traffic while the car passed. It went by he stood smartly to attention, and his salute was acknowledged by one of Her Majesty's gracious bows.

The car was driven very slowly by the Cathedral in order that the Queen might admire its beauty. She seemed greatly interested in this fine old building. After passing down the Gallery the car was turned around to be driven back to the Lamb Corner and along St Mary's Street. Although only five minutes elapsed between the time the royal car first passed and its return the news spread rapidly and quite a number of citizens stood at the corner. Others were seen at windows or shop doors, anxious to keep catch a glimpse of the Queen. 33 10 10(3)ES

Old Ely business changes hands: G.H. Tyndall sells the Minster Press. 33 10 20(3)(4)ES

One of Ely's oldest and best known business has changed hands, Mr G. H. Tyndall having sold his premises at Minster Place including the Minster Press and his bookselling, stationery and newsagents to shop, to Mr H. F. Mason of Hampstead. He will continue with his Diocesan work as well as his business as an architectural photographer, and insurance agent

It was in the spring of 1896 that Mr Tyndall came to Ely to take over the business which Mr Thomas A. Hills had carried out on the same premises since 1832. During the 37 years he has been there he has retained the atmosphere that characterised the establishment during its earlier days.

"My ambitions", he said, "was to be a genuine country bookseller. And I have endeavoured to learn something about the history of the district. Another ambition was to produce the best printing in the Isle of Ely and just before the war he installed the most modern machinery,

His work as a photographer is well known. Mr Tyndall was an amateur photographer before he came to Ely and began architectural photography, about 1898, he could not obtain really good pictures to sell in his shop. He has illustrated quite a number of good books and been responsible for practically the whole of the illustration of the Victoria County History of Huntingdon. He also did a good deal of the illustration of Atkinson's Architectural History of the Cathedral. He has given lectures at the Cathedral using slides which he made from his own negatives. 33 10 10(3)ES

Foot & Mouth disease destroys Ely herds: photos. 33 10 20(6)ES

Pictures are a grim reminder of the measures being adopted to stamp out the serious outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease which has occurred at Ely and necessitated the slaughtering and burning of no fewer than 263 animals, wiping out whole herds of cattle. Pictures show P.c. Boulton disinfecting the tyres of the bicycle of an employee leaving the farm, and the pens in which the animals are confined until humane killers send them to their painless doom. Below is the field where a huge trench was dug in which a gigantic fire was built to burn away the carcasses. When the fire was lighted no fewer than 247 animals were piled on the pyre, a sight which will remain in the memories of those who saw it as long as they live. 33 10 20(6)ES

Progress of old-established Ely business: William Blake. 33 10 20(6)ES

1933 10 21

The club for unemployed men at Fellowship House, Fitzroy Street has been renovated by members and now present a very cost appearance. It has a club room and canteen, a workroom fitted with benches at which men do woodwork and picture framing, a concert and lecture room complete with a piano purchased for three shillings, and a ping-pong and billiards room. During the war the Welsh troops had used it as a cookhouse, later it became a brush factory and furniture store but no better use could possibly be made of it. 33 10 21

St Ives Public Assistance Institution, which is now closed, could be converted into a home for wayfarers. It would take men aged 18-21 off the roads and try to improve their characters. They'd be subjected to regular work and discipline but have recreation in the form of a club. The Vicar said he was constantly picking up men on the road, often young fellows who never had the chance to work. Being near Cambridge it would give undergraduates the opportunity of doing real social service in the vacations. 33 10 21

Mammoth Show memories – Chesterton sluice – 33 10 21
Littleport flooding, p1

1933 10 23

Cambridgeshire WI staged two of the most successful ventures in the annals of their history with an exhibition and pageant entitled 'A Festival of Olden Days' at Cambridge Guildhall. Crowds were so large that numerous people had to be turned away. Many of the objects owed their preservation to the devotion of the housewife. There was an urgent need for a country museum of by-gones with a portfolio for the preservation of historical documents in every village. 33 10 23

1933 10 24

The proprietor of the Ramping Lion garage at Hemingford Abbots was charged with exhibiting advertisements relating to the Dominion Petrol contrary to the bye-laws. The advertisements on the walls of the garage were unsightly and seriously affected the view of rural scenery from the highway. The owner said it was a very barren spot and a witness stated that the country around was dull and uninteresting, though he admitted he had only seen it once and that there had been fog about at the time. 33 10 24

Miss Tree robot pic, p1

1933 10 26

A Saffron Walden accountant told the bankruptcy court he'd set up an insurance business in 1923 and also collected debts. He acted as accountant to the Auto-Service Company of Cambridge and about 1925 began to finance people in the purchase of their motor cars and motor charabancs but lost hundreds of pounds when they defaulted. He'd also lent money to "Mr X" as capital for his business which was to have been repaid from the profits. 33 10 26

1933 10 27 ES

Features of interest in Fenland: Sutton. 33 10 27&(2)(3)ES

So far as the average tourist is concerned Sutton lies off the beaten track and casual users of the highway would be unaware of the presence of a village of this size. A short lane up by the vicarage, however, brings one to the heart of this thriving community and a first glance at the one main street standing high above the meadows gives the impression of a village which spite of its undoubted disadvantages, in some ways, nevertheless is unsurpassed in many respects.

I looked at the sturdy old folk, the hard-working folk of the present generation and the children in whose cheeks to read the glow of health shone and thought of the undoubted advantages of village life, with its simple yet vigorous occupations and its health-giving fresh air.

In Sutton, I had the assistant of Mr. Harold Painter from whom I learned many things concerning Sutton's past including notes on the fine old church which is often referred to as the Cathedral the Fens which is a landmark for miles around. The church was restored in 1869. Just inside the south porch stands a quaint little font, thought to have been used at Burystead in the days when that place was a monastery. It is only of recent years that the font has reposed in its rightful place in the church having previously been used in a fowl-run as a receptacle for the chickens' water supply.

Up to a decade ago there stood on the south side of Main Street opposite the church, what was known as the Gild Hall. An interesting old building of the half-timber style, it contained a Norman stone staircase and was believed to be the original meeting place of the Gild existed in the village in the 15th century.

I then went down to the Burystead to look at that interesting old building. There is a tradition it was originally on the other side of the road and that it was flooded and then rebuilt on the present side. In support of this, there is a moat on the other side of the road surrounding about an acre of land, which it is supposed to have been the site of the old Burystead. Some say it was a graveyard for the fen people, others maintain it was a place of worship for soldiers. Mr Painter contends that the word means a fortified place and that the building guarded one of the few entrances to the Isle of Ely. At the Burystead I saw Mr. and Mrs. Richard Darby who live in this fine old house. They told me that over one of the windows there was carved in stone the date 1398. Attached to the older building is another house built in 1742 and for the past 22 years, since the formation of the Sutton Small Holdings Association these have formed the homestead of two families of small holders, Mr James Lowe being the present tenant of the other house.

Mr Painter has an extract of John Wesley's journal recording a visit to Sutton where he spoke in a large barn which is reputed to be at the rear of Norwich House and the old thatched roof has been replaced the main structure remains the same as it was at his visit. The house, like many others, bears traces of Dutch occupation and the walls are two foot thick the bottom and a foot thick at the top. To finish my tour I went to see Mr. and Mrs. Butler Frear of Woodbine cottage who are the oldest and one of the happiest married couples in the district. They live in a delightfully old-world cottage. When I went in, I could not resist the infectious atmosphere of cosiness there. A good fire was burning in the hearth, the proverbial cat sat on one side, and the dear old lady was busily preparing "the master's dinner". Her husband was earthing up his potato heap and gone to the stack yard to get some straw. Age 91 he still carries on business as a market gardener. He started work when he was eight years old, being employed by the late Mr. John Vipan, who paid him fivepence a day for minding sheep. In his time he has had many sidelines to his business of farming. He has been an osier grower and has five acres of land covered with willows big enough for cricket bats; he has been a bird catcher and has often not seen his bed for several nights when he had been out lack catching in the fens. It has been a very profitable pastime; he has netted as many as 24 dozen larks a night when they used to fetch up to one shilling a dozen. He told me of the small wage on which they had to keep large family and of the hardships caused by the payment of compulsory education. Of their family of 13, six daughters and four sons are living and they have 43 grandchildren and 13 great grandchildren

33 10 27&(2)(3)ES

1933 10 28

Robot cartoon, p6

November 1933 CDN & ES

1933 11 02

The water supply from the open reservoir at the Elsworth end of Boxworth is very unsatisfactory. During the recent summer months it has been very offensive and as a surface well near the school dried up during the drought villagers have had to go half a mile or more for water, the Medical Officer told County Councillors. 33 11 02

Photographs taken during a holiday in Russia are displayed at Ramsey and Muspratt studio in Post Office Terrace. Two studies, 'Dneiprastron: the new town' and 'Moscow: the Kremlin' show there is beauty in the new and old. The human side is captured in a fine study of the 'Intourist' bus driver and a Young Pioneers' demonstration while 'The Infants School' shows the Russian child. 'Prison Settlement', is a photo of another aspect of Russian life. 33 11 02

Briscoe Snelson lectures on Ouse with camera – 33 11 02

Tithe trial – 33 11 02

1933 11 03

G.T. Gotobed, Stretham, licenced to slaughter animals, p8*

1933 11 04

Jack Overhill 'Romantic Youth' and Warwick Deeping 'Smith' novels – 33 11 04

1933 11 06

Truly the 5th is fizzling out. In days of old 50 or 60 arrests in an hour were not an unusual occurrence but this year eight was the total bag. Save on Market Hill the streets of Cambridge were all quiet except for an occasional firework episode. Booths on the Market Square prevented the crowds from gathering early in the evening so the firework throwers and others gathered in the Rose Crescent corner. A favourite pastime was to assault the windows overlooking the square with squibs while those inside the rooms banged the frames down to keep the fireworks outside. Another diversion was provided by people on a roof nearby who staged the private firework display of their own. The crowd thronged the Market Street end of the Square until the first man found himself 'run in'. The victim was a rather inoffensive-looking undergraduate. Crowds followed him and his captors but the support offered was only moral consisting of cries of "Hard Luck, old boy" and a few and boos and hisses. Physical support in the shape of concerted attempts at rescue was conspicuous by its absence. Then someone started a rather foolish pastime of throwing fireworks at the police gathered opposite the Guildhall. The Roberts stood it for some time and then gently but firmly cleared the space in front of the building and ceased to become unwilling targets. An adjournment of the crowds to Kings Parade followed the arrest of two townsmen and two undergraduates, in the course of which one or two Bobbies lost their helmets. But the draw of Market Hill soon proved stronger than the fear of arrest. A crowd near the Vic took on the form of a Nazi meeting and prize of 'Hail Hitler' were heard above the crack of squibs. Hands were raised in salute and when someone appeared at an upper window flashlights were placed on him and he was warmly welcomed. One or two lamps on the Square were put out but were quickly reignited by a lamp-lighter who had been waiting for what such an emergency. The anti-climax came about 11:30 when the Proctors attended by Bull Dogs. The tumult and the shouting died and the crowds of Varsity men became like sheepish schoolboys in the presence of the Headmaster. Many rapidly faded away all became quiet. 33 11 06

Rats migration – story of a Cambridgeshire farm – 33 11 06

Essex tithe trial ends – 33 11 06

1933 11 07

Mrs Keynes 2nd woman Mayor review of year – 33 11 07

1933 11 08

Slum clearance schemes, Newmarket area – 33 11 08

Old Cambridge tram photo – 33 11 08 – c.26.44

1933 11 09

An inaugural meeting of the New Britain Movement was held in the Dorothy Café with Mr A Mackay in the chair. There should be a federation of European states: every day the world became more international and a policy of isolation would be disastrous. Communism and Fascism were threatening the world and England must show the rest the way out of the mess, speakers said. The power to issue money should be taken away from the financiers, only then would people receive enough to live on. 33 11 09

1933 11 10

The film 'Our Fighting Navy' has been withdrawn from the Tivoli Cinema following lively scenes. Fifty members of the Students' Anti-War went to make a protest but a rival party, numbering about a thousand undergraduates, marched to the cinema with two bands playing war-time songs and carrying Union Jacks. Several tried to push their way in until the arrival of four policemen who, with drawn truncheons, managed to keep the crowd at bay whilst a dozen more raced to the scene in motor vehicles. Cries of 'Down with Hitler' and 'Hail Hitler' were heard above the general uproar and a stink bomb let off in the vestibule. 33 11 10

Fire destroyed the stage of the A.D.C. Theatre; all that remains is a charred and tangled mass of wood and iron. The ruined switchboard is still distinguishable as it stood on an iron frame, but the roof, stage and everything else bar the walls has fallen in. The fireproof curtain contained the flames to the stage but all the scenery was destroyed including very valuable Queen Anne furniture and a grand piano. Firemen fought the blaze from the top floor of the Union Building alongside and the Pitt Club was considerably damaged by water. 33 11 10

Sir - The London and North-Eastern Railway are to withdraw wireless from their London-Leeds trains blaming the 'prohibitive' charges announced by the Performing Rights Society for the use of its copyright music. But the fee is only three shillings a week per train and when challenged they now say the service was uneconomic and had never covered its cost. The payment of a fee to the composer is as much a cost of production as the ten shilling licence to the BBC or the installation of earphones – C.F. James, Performing Rights Society. 33 11 10

Newport's new fire brigade is a 'contracting brigade' not drawing any support from the rates and not being controlled by the Parish Council. When called on it is entitled to charge a reasonable amount for the use of the apparatus and the time of the men. It had been established with a grant from the Pond Common Charity and other money had been raised from subscriptions or received for services at fires. Now they will insure the firemen. 33 11 10

1933 11 10 ES

Stretham Nursing Association annual meeting. 33 11 10&(2)ES

Stretham & Lt Thetford Nursing Association reported a gratifying year of progress. Nurse Athill had made 4,366 visits during that time, 70 casual, 104 health, 88 antenatal, eight children in the home, eight school inspections and 20 maternity cases.

As a nurse is so much in need they only hope that people will see the necessities of being subscribers to the Association to keep it flourishing. The County Council paid a third of the nurse's salary of £160 a year. It makes one wonder how we managed before we decided to have a nurse in the village to cope with the illnesses 33 11 10&(2)ES

Ely Farmers' Union discussed on the regulations governing motor lorry and tractor drivers. As the law stands at present no person under 21 years of age is allowed to drive either a motor lorry or a tractor along or across any public highway. This proved a source of considerable inconvenience to the majority of farmers, many farms being divided by public highway. The keenest and best tractor drivers were lads from 17 to 21 years of age and the regulations should be changed exempting drivers of tractors used solely for farm work from the restrictions and penalties now in force. 33 11 10(2)ES

Armistice Day commemorations. 33 11 10(3)(4)ES

Without undue pomp and ceremony, but with genuine solemnity befitting the occasion, people of Ely and district observed Armistice Sunday. In several of the neighbouring villages the memory of those who made the supreme sacrifice was perpetuated with the utmost reverence. Parades and united services were held in their honour

Ely, unfortunately, was again humiliated by the neighbourhood so far as the comradeship shown by its ex-servicemen was concerned. While Legionnaires in the villages attended their respective parades in at least presentative numbers. Ely's ex-servicemen displayed an apathy similar to that of 12 months ago which may be largely due to the fact that they have long since lost their valuable organisation. Only 22 of them were included in the procession to the cathedral where a large congregation attended a simple yet inspiring service. The Bishop was unable do to indifferent health to preach at the service but his sermon was delivered on his behalf. 33 11 10(3)ES

1933 11 11

Anti-war battles in street, Tivoli cinema – 33 11 11

Littleport potato merchant action – 33 11 11

1933 11 13

Students white feather pic, p5

Fighting for peace, p5

Anti-war procession, p5

1933 11 14

When excavating a Saxon burial ground near Castle Camps three skeletons were removed from the graves and placed in crates to be taken to Cambridge. But they were deliberately smashed up overnight. Some form of superstition must have been responsible for this action, said T.C. Lethbridge, “it is too much to explain it as mere mischief”. In some graves he had found tiny pots containing face cream or pomade. 33 11 14

Memories and reminders of the horror of war are provided by the Cambridge Anti-War Council’s exhibition opened. It consists of diagrams, photographs and cartoons and if anybody wants war after seeing them, they can have no feeling. Some of the photos of the dead were forbidden by the Censors and it is easy to see why. Part has been prepared by members of the Bio-chemical Board, Cavendish Laboratories and shows the effects of gas. 33 11 14

The University Engineering Society was packed for the first public demonstration of television in Cambridge with the picture being transmitted from one side of the room to the other and projected on a four foot square screen. After a pause while the transmitter and receiver were synchronised, the room was plunged into total darkness, then suddenly there appeared on the screen the blurred and flickering figure of an undergraduate’s head and shoulders. He caused some amusement by blowing his nose several times. Later a microphone was brought into use and sound, as well as pictures, ‘came across’. 33 11 14

1933 11 15

Haddenham attempted murder – 33 11 15

Wilberforce Road being made up – photo – 33 11 15

1933 11 16

Cambridge was thrown into a state of chaos by the failure of the electric light system over a very wide area. The breakdown started when lights grew dimmer and dimmer and finally went out altogether. Shops, offices and private homes brought candles into use. One ingenious garage owner switched on the lights of the cars in his shop window showrooms. At the CDN office reporters wrote by bicycle light and headlines were set by hand with the aid of a supply of wax tapers. 33 11 16

Ward’s mill Melbourn machinery installed, p1

1933 11 17

The City of Ely Fire Brigade took over the new Bedford Ford tender and fire escape purchased by Ely UDC. The present fire engine will now be hauled by this modern tender on which is seating accommodation for the men to ride. The brigade received instructions on working the tender and detaching the escape and were seen carrying out practical experiments in various parts of the city. 33 11 17

Joel Smart was the son of a Gloucestershire cloth manufacturer. Coming to Cambridge shortly after the battle of Waterloo he commenced business at 59 Bridge Street in 1826, removing in 1840 to Petty Cury and in 1853 to 11 Market Street. Here he purchased the clothing business of Watson Taylor who had been trading from early in the century. He took his son, Charles, into partnership, in whose family the business still remains. Such is the history of one of the oldest firms in Cambridge where customers will find all the latest materials and the most fashionable styles at keen prices. 33 11 17

Anti-war demonstration photo, p5

1933 11 17 ES

Ely's new fire escape: photo. 33 11 17ES

Ely Urban District Council have improved the city's fire-fighting equipment by purchasing a new Bedford Ford tender with first-aid equipment and escape. The present fire engine will now be hauled by this modern tender on which is seating accommodation for the men to ride. The brigade received instructions on working the tender and detaching the escape and were seen carrying out practical experiments in various parts of the city. 33 11 17ES

St Germans pumping station commemorate armistice: photo. 33 11 17(2)ES

Among Armistice Day Services held in unusual places one that must rank as unique was that which was conducted at the Middle Levels new sluice and pumping station at St Germans. Each Armistice Day since the huge undertaking was commenced the men employed there have gathered at some spot in the excavations among the massive concrete walls, the machinery and the derricks to observe the silence. Now the work is nearing completion and this year service was held in one of the great sluiceways 29 feet below high tide level. The picture shows the men assembled for the service on the concrete floor of the sluice. Many of them standing in front of the discharge pipe from one of the pumps from which, when the station is in operation, water will pour at the rate of 1,000 gallons a minute. Reverend J. M. Trevor of Wickenhall St Mary's conducted the service and with are David Hill, the resident engineer and his assistant Mr. G. Buchner. The group includes men from all parts of the British Isles and many regiments were represented. 33 11 17(2)ES

Fire Sutton Gault

A valuable stack of wheat, the produce of some 10 acres, was involved with a fire occurred on Primrose Farm, Sutton Gault. The outbreak was first observed by Mr. Hammond, a workman resident in one of the houses on the farm who noticed smoke issuing from the end of the stack. Some difficulty was experienced in the extraction of an eel, which passed through the pumps and hose and became fixed in the nozzle of the fire hose.

Passing over a wide, well-filled waterway in the fen a resident, by the fouling of a bundle of sticks she was carrying, was precipitated into the water. She passed right under the plank and broke surface in a position to clutch the opposite side of the plank. A neighbour spying her hat floating on the water arrived on the scene and rescued her from her predicament. 33 11 17(3)ES

1933 11 18

Dr Goebbels, Hitler's lieutenant and Minister of Propaganda for the Nazi, has denied authorship of an article appearing in the 'Saturday Review' under his name, entitled "The Nazi's next step". He claims he is the victim of a malicious forgery. But the editor of the Review, Mr Wentworth Day, a former Cambridge journalist, said he had no reason to doubt its authenticity and that the views were those expressed before Hitler's peace speech. 33 11 18

Perse school extension – 33 11 18

Unpaid workers wages, Leighton farm – 33 11 18

1933 11 20

Perse foundation stone p5

1933 11 21

Cambridge Chronicle at 70 , p5

1933 11 22

Ely attempted murder charges, Wilburton trial – 33 11 22

1933 11 23

A Cambridge man told the bankruptcy court that he had farmed at Rectory Farm Coton after the war, then gone into partnership in a retail milk and dairy business in Ely High Street. In 1927 he purchased part of the dairy business at Cherry Hinton Hall Farm and then bought a coal business in John Street, Cambridge. He did not know anything about the trade and he had competition. The weather was against him: the winter of 1932 was very bad for coal merchants and the summer of 1933 made it a jolly sight worse. 33 11 23

1933 11 24

Consternation was caused in Hope Street, Romsey Town, by a fire which caused considerable damage. Residents were in the street in very scanty clothing and one lady who dashed back into the house to get some clothes was burnt about the face. They owe their escape to a baby whose coughing in a smoky room over the fire roused the other sleepers and led to the alarm. Had the flames reached the roof the whole row of houses would have been endangered. 33 11 24

1933 11 24 ES

Haddenham Scout troop colours dedicated. 33 11 24ES

Restoration Prior Crauden's chapel undercroft. 33 11 24(2)ES

The undercroft of Prior Crauden's Chapel has been restored at a cost of approximately £500 and will be used for worship by the scholars of Ely Kings' School. Dating back to about 1250 it was for many years nothing more than a derelict store. But it has now been made a beautiful little sanctuary, electrically illuminated and heated. For some time, the Kings' School have used the early 14th century chapel above the undercroft and this latest work of restoration will help to overcome a difficulty which at present exists there in connection with limited accommodation 33 11 24(2)ES

Isle of Ely County Council discuss dangerous corner near café south of Stretham on A10

1933 11 25

The Transport and General Workers' Union was awarded a reduction in rates at their Littleport home, one of four big convalescent homes for free treatment run by the Union. It was not a source of revenue and used for an entirely charitable purpose. It was having 1,000 patients per year and the number of beds was 90. If the appeal failed it might quite possibly cease to function. 33 11 25

1933 11 28

Cambridge Victoria Friendly Society's Institution opened its new pavilion with a verandah from which residents could watch Cambridge Town Football Club's matches. It had started in hired cottages in James Street but in 1841 the foundation stone for the present building was laid. Cottages were added in 1888 and 1899 thanks to the Jubilee fund with the four others known as Miller's Buildings opened in 1906. It provides accommodation for 37 residents whose average age is 70 years. 33 11 28

1933 11 29

Haverhill council slum clearance – 33 11 29

1933 11 30

Dr Charles Frederick Searle's name removed from Medical register – 33 11 30
Royston cinema photo, p5

December 1933 CDN & ES

1933 12 01

Sutton Gault bridges were unsafe for traffic and should be replaced, the River Board said. The roads over the bridges gave access to 4,000 acres of land and the present weight limit of three tons meant that anyone driving three horses and a wagon over them was liable to prosecution. But Mr Hudson said it lead to a dead end by an occupation road and he could not support the proposal. 33 12 01

1933 12 02

Amateur film producers' production – 33 12 02

'Romantic Youth' Overhill novel, p6

1933 12 04

King's College was criticised over tithe distrains on its farms. At Kersey their agents arrived as dawn was breaking with their lorries and the usual gang of East End 'toughs' armed with cudgels. They raided in their usual style and when the farmer let out a shot a man hit him over the head with a cudgel and practically knocked him out. They took cattle worth twice the value of the tithe but then wrote demanding a cheque for more. 33 12 04

The Medical Officer reported on the housing conditions of Swavesey district. At Lolworth there were four cottages belonging to Clare College which needed repair, together with six in School Lane and four others known as Grape Vine Cottages which needed demolishing. In Conington two cottages, one known as Kate's Cabin were to be amalgamated and Rectory Cottage was also to be improved. At Fen Drayton three cottages opposite the school had been condemned as had two at the Green Man and two in Wallman's Lane, Swavesey. One cottage at Station Road, Over, would not last another five years. 33 12 04

1933 12 06

Godwin Hunt was one of the most popular comedians and vocalists that Cambridge has ever known. Born at Soham, he was associated with many famous theatrical enterprises including the D'oyly Carte Opera before becoming Lay Clerk at St John's College. He was the founder, 30 years ago, of the Magpies Concert Party which enjoyed a tremendous vogue when amusements were not so plentiful as today. Up to the war they were a male voice quartet but then it became a mixed concert party who travelled far beyond Cambridgeshire. 33 12 06

Making of photographic blocks by CDN Engraving department manager – 33 12 06

1933 12 08 ES

Sutton church's 600-year-old message. 33 12 08ES *

The Venerable Graham White, Archdeacon of Singapore, who is in charge of Sutton in the absence of the vicar spoke about the parish church with its splendid tower and pinnacled octagon steeple. Roundheads tore out statutes of the saints as the mutilated remains in the corner bear witness and may have broken the coloured glass but the carved stones, gargoyles and flowering window survive. By the spacious porch we bring our little ones to be blessed at the font which our father's forefathers used. From the tower in turn refuge, armoury and schoolroom issue the white-robed choir whilst from its top most chamber the quivering bells warn against floods or floods of wickedness. 33 12 08ES

The annual dinner the Isle of Ely Coursing Club held with all its old time popularity at the Bell hotel Ely. It was well attended by a large number of enthusiasts from many parts of the eastern counties and London. Hopes were entertained for the success of the activities which the club had arrange for the following day but the frost overnight necessitated the postponement of that meeting. Ald Childs said he had heard on many occasions of the great festive gatherings of the club. Frederick Hiam had been president for a good many years. He said the club was one of the oldest in the country He hoped in succeeding years it would lose none of its brilliance, because it was one of the most honourable and honest sports in front of the public today. 33 12 08ES

Newspapers were most of the raw material of history and possessed an attraction which formal history lacked in an engaging quaintness of literary expression, and in their capacity to provide entertainment in quite as great a degree as information. They recorded many matters which would be beneath the dignity of an historian to notice and thereby, and even by an occasional coarseness of detail, rather startling to modern readers, would assist not a little to appreciate the manners and customs of the past, C.F. Harris told Ely Literary Society

Unfortunately newspapers were very perishable so that the man in the street would usually live out his life without coming across any old enough to be historically interesting.

Newspapers of the period 1787 to 1818 seemed almost childish to this more sophisticated age. They were merely single sheets containing four badly-printed pages, nearly half of which were advertisements. There were no headlines, no leading articles and no sporting items. They were called local but they contained hardly any local news. The advertisements were by no means the least valuable and diverting features and the criminal records were illuminating. 33 12 08ES

Mr and Mrs. William Oakey of Ely celebrated their golden wedding. Mr. Oakey, 74, enlisted in the First Battalion, Royal Scots Regiment in February 1877 and spent 12 years in the Army, most of it spent abroad at that's Malta, Jamaica and South Africa, during which time he rose to become a colour-sergeant. During his service he went through the Bechuanaland Expedition and the Dinizulu Expedition, being discharged with the rank of sergeant in 1889 on completion of 12 years of service. It was while he was in Jamaica, that he met his wife whose father was also in the army. They married in Jamaica, and when they returned to England, Mrs. Oakey, who had been used only to the hot climate of the West Indies, had her first experience of the Fenland sport of skating. Of the 13 children of the marriage nine are still living.

The South African war again called Mr Oakey's services and he enlisted and served for 12 months in the Royal Scottish Reserve Regiment. Then when the Great War broke out he enlisted again in January 1915 as a National Reservist, and afterwards transferred to the Royal Defence Corps, being demobilised in April 1919. In the following June, however, he once more enlisted for a period of 12 months, and proceeded to France on exhumation work. It is safe to say that if there was another war, the military spirit of this old soldier would again become uppermost and he would try at least to enlist again. 33 12 08ES

1933 12 09

Policewomen were urgently needed in Huntingdonshire: they were useful in taking statements from women and children in sexual crimes and were on duty near schools to protect children from molestation. But the Rev O'Connor thought an unhealthy sex obsession had intruded into every aspect of life today and this should be exorcised rather than appoint women police officers. The Chief Constable said there was very little sexual crime and no work for women officers to perform. 33 12 09

Hundred Houses Society work – 33 12 09

Godwin Hunt, Magpies founder appreciation – 33 12 09

New rectory, p6

1933 12 12

A serious fire broke out at Mr A.V. Bonnett's bakery, Broad Street, Ely. For the first time the Ely brigade had the advantage of their new equipment especially adapted for subduing blazes in rooms. The flames quickly spread due to tins of fat and other inflammable articles but they prevented it reaching the room above where there was a large quantity of fire lighters, a ton of sugar and a quantity of margarine. However smoke completely spoiled about 50 iced Christmas cakes. 33 12 12

St Botolph's church has never had a house for its incumbent. Former rectors have generally been Fellows of Queens' and entitled to a set of rooms in the college. But recent clergy have been family men and had to provide their own living accommodation. Now a new rectory in Summerfield, Newnham Road, has been designed by C.F. Skipper. 33 12 12

A.T. Paskett, county horticultural adviser, knew what he was talking about and had a pleasant way of imparting information. He was secretary of the West Cambs. Growers Association and organised the Great Autumn Show, arranged demonstrations of sprayers for fruit trees and mechanical cultivators as well as trials of different kinds of fruit. He was responsible for the County demonstration plot at Rampton, started four years, ago where experiments are tried on different fruit tree stocks. 33 12 12

1933 12 15

Rents of houses in Dalton Square, Linden Close and Scotland Road were subsidised and because of the low cost of building they were remarkably low – houses with four bedrooms were six-and-ninepence (34p) a week. These rents could be reduced if tenants could show their income was insufficient. The general public did not fully realise the facilities now provided to the re-housing of very poor people, councillors were told. 33 12 15

1933 12 15 ES

Ely new industry: old cinema reopened as model laundry, Market Street. 33 12 15&(2)ES, photo 33 12 15(6)

A modern laundry embodying the latest contrivances for the dispelling of dirt from both wearing apparel and household linen has been opened at Ely. It has been established in Market Street in the old cinema building which has undergone considerable internal alteration to enable Mr. H.W. Adams to install the latest washing and ironing appliances.

Externally the building has been completely renovated, now presenting a trim and pleasing appearance. One would hardly recognise it as the structure which for some years did duty as a cinema and which last year provided a recreation centre for the city's unemployed.

It has now been redesigned to cope with soiled linen in quantities. At the far end of the building, where the stage and screen formerly stood, an up to date boiler has been installed. In the main body of the building are the various machines used in different processes. There is a washing machine for treating delicate fabrics and flannels which, used with a special preparation of spirits soap, ensures both careful handling and immunity from shrinkage. This is practically a dry cleaning process. The danger of mangles has been entirely overcome and broken buttons and such minor misfortunes are now a thing of the past. 33 12 15(3)ES

Two wheat stacks were destroyed on Mr. Tom Fairchild's farm at Hillrow, Haddenham. A threshing machine stood between the two stacks and had been damped down for the weekend. Apparently, it became overheated and set fire to a tarpaulin, which had been placed over one of the stacks. The fire soon got a hold and the other stack became involved. The local fire brigade did a splendid work and eventually got the flames fire under.

When fire broke out at Weston Hills Church near Spalding on Sunday, parishioners entered the building and removed seats, altar and the valuable contents and placed them on the roadside. Considerable damage was done and the afternoon and evening services were abandoned. The church is a chapel of ease for Weston parish church. It was built in 1883. 33 12 15(2)ES

Trouble at Ely Isolation Hospital: matron resigns. 33 12 15(3)(4)ES

Ely Joint Isolation Hospital Committee considered a complaint regarding the treatment of a ward maid the hospital while she was a patient there suffering from scarlet fever. She had contracted the fever whilst in the service of the hospital authorities. She had given them a month's notice, and just before the time expired, she was taken ill with scarlet fever. The committee agreed she should be paid. Her father said his daughter contracted the fever through being ordered to undertake duties for which she was not paid.

At the end of September there had a case of cross-infection Dr. Smith had called together the whole of the staff impressing upon them the gravity of the position. Following that the ward maid and probationer nurse gave in their notices. The ward maid had complained of a sore throat and, unknown to the Matron, went to see Dr. Beckett. He considered it was tonsillitis but seeing that she was working in a fever hospital, the possibility of infection came to his mind, and he sent her back telling her to go to bed. She went to bed and it was not until 10 o'clock at night that the Matron knew of it.

She immediately removed the cook who usually sleeps with the ward maid telling her she would have to sleep alone that night.

The actual diagnosis of scarlet fever was not made until the Monday night. She developed a temperature and it was found that she had a scarlet fever. The Matron made her dress and sent her across to the hospital. Dr. Smith explained the ward maid had to be removed from the house to the hospital because they were working more or less with the skeleton staff.

It was on his orders that nurse Fox was moved into a hut owing to the difficulty of looking after her otherwise. When the nurses were nursing acutely ill patients, particularly a full number, their time was fully occupied. Nurse Hancock was upset about what he had said about cross-infection and that had caused a great deal of trouble

Dr. Smith said discipline must come before the patient. If every nurse was going to report to the Matron for this or that, the place would continually be in a state of chaos. The efficiency of the hospital must come before feelings.

If the Ministry stepped in, they would find the arrangements and having to work with a skeleton staff open to complaint. If the Committee was sanction two fever-trained staff nurses, a probationer and a matron with extra help, then that sort of thing would never happen. But they always had to work with a skeleton staff because the Committee did not want to pile expenses.

But the Matron had employed her sister at the hospital, exceeding her duties. The Committee had advertised for a probationer nurse; she had applied but they had appointed somebody else. Two days later, the Matron rang up to say that they had a boy with pneumonia, which meant they required extra help, and that her sister, who was cheaper than any of the nurses, was there. What could they do then? It was no use telling the matron to send for another nurse because the boy might have died in the meantime.

There were complaints that Matron's dog was running around from one ward to another and even jumped on the beds. There were many complaints, some of which were bound to be frivolous.

The Matron had tendered her resignation. A new Matron would be advertised for a salary of £100 inclusive of an allowance for uniform. 33 12 15(3&4) ES

Fire at Bonnett's Bakery, Ely. 33 12 15(5)ES

Damage was caused by a fire which occurred at Mr. A.V. Bonnett's Bakery, Broad Street, Ely as a result of which some 100 Christmas cakes were destroyed or rendered useless by smoke.

Mr B. Stallan when he returned to the bakery to prepare the dough, noticed a fire in the confectionery room and found the room was full of smoke. The fire brigade was immediately summoned. For the first time they made use of their new tender and the first aid equipment specially adapted for subduing flames in rooms. By the time they arrived at the bakery, extensive damage had been caused by the fire.

Had the discovery not been made it may have been more destructive, because in the room above there was a quantity of margarine, a large number of fire lighters and about a ton of sugar. In the confectionery room itself, there were tins of fat and other inflammable articles which helped to feed the fire.

About 50 iced cakes were completely spoilt while several others waiting to be iced were affected by smoke. Fortunately Mr. Bonnett had taken one batch of Christmas cakes in his shop to the High Street and another to his establishment at Littleport. 33 12 15(7)ES

PC Wayhome said he was on duty on the Cambridge Road Stretham. He saw a motor lorry loaded with sugar beet travelling from Cambridge towards Stretton. They followed it for one and a half miles during which time eight sugar beet fell from the lower to the road load comprised about four and a half tonnes of sugar beet and it was two and a half feet higher than the top of the lorry. They pulled out some 20 beet which would have fallen out during the journey the driver said I told my master not to put so many on the small beat and to have had a net over them 33 12 15ES

1933 12 18

A crowd of 200 people saw skating races for the Duddleston Cup at Lingay Fen. The ice was not of the best and records remained intact. The winner was C.W. Horn, the National Skating Association champion, whose time was very much faster than ever previously recorded, though the race has never before been over an oval course. Runners up were R. Wyman of Stretham, G.W. Martin of Nordelph and L.B. Carter of Over. 33 12 18

St Botolph's church has never had a house for its incumbent. Former rectors have generally been Fellows of Queens' and entitled to a set of rooms in the college. But recent clergy have been family men and had to provide their own living accommodation. Now a new rectory in Summerfield, Newnham Road, has been designed by C.F. Skipper .

A happy, vociferous and altogether exuberant crowd of youngsters packed into the Cambridge Guildhall for the News' Robin Fellowship's Christmas entertainment. The main hall and gallery were filled and some seats behind the orchestra had to be brought into use. The Mayor called for the grand "Tweet, Tweet" and expressed hearty congratulations to the Fellowship on having nearly 10,000 members and for the wonderful way they were keeping the Robin Cot going at Addenbrooke's Hospital. 33 12 18

Hardening Soham Mere roads – 33 12 18

1933 12 19

Seward's End Farm was gutted after fire broke out in an unoccupied bedroom where bedding was being aired in preparation for the use of the room by Christmas guests. Mr & Mrs Reeve tried to put it out with buckets of water while their son biked to the Post Office from which the Saffron Walden Brigade was called. Firemen had to break ice on the pond to get water but this soon ran out and they had to send an SOS to Walden for water which had to be especially pumped. Only then were they able to make any progress against the flames. 33 12 19

Miss M.H. Catley, Headmistress of the Perse Girls' School, was called hurriedly home from a school dance when a blaze in the front room of her house in Barton Road threatened to envelop the whole building. Her housekeeper found a curtain had been set alight by an electric fire and rushed to the house next door to telephone the fire brigade. But there was some mix-up and they went to the Perse School buildings in Panton Street. 33 12 19

Harston grocer, Gatward, failure – 33 12 19

Cambridge new buildings, survey by Mr Webb – 33 12 19

Bus crowds in Sidney Street – 33 12 19

1933 12 21

Bourn and neighbouring villages have been fortunate during the past abnormally dry summer in having a good water supply. A further stage towards making that supply safer was marked when the East Hunts Water Company opened their new reservoir. Built of reinforced concrete it is three times as large as the old tank which has been a familiar landmark on the Cambridge to St Neots Road for the last 40 years. 33 12 21

1933 12 22 ES

Prickwillow Village Institute opened. 33 12 22&(2)ES

The Opening of Prickwillow Institute meets a long need felt need, for that community has now been supplied with an admirable building, which will not only give the ex-servicemen permanent headquarters, but will provide the village with an ideal room for the staging of its many social functions.

It is little more than a year ago since the Prickwillow Branch of the British Legion was formed but in that short time its members have worked with such a will but they have built a flourishing organisation and the Institute will stand as a memorial to the success which has crowned their persevering efforts. The Institute has cost about £400 to build. It is an attractive wooden structure with a stage at one end, cloakroom, a dressing room and kitchens. No intoxicants, however are to be served. It was decorated for the opening and it was gratifying to see it almost filled with people for the bazaar that followed. 33 12 22ES

Soham Grammar School's status. 33 12 22(3)ES

Fen skater C.W. Horn retains King Edward cup. 33 12 22(4)ES # c.38 : skating

The fen skater is still supreme, C.W. Horn of Upwell, the holder of the British Amateur mile and a half championship, which carries with it the King Edward Cup, retained his title at Lingay Fen on Saturday. The fen men are more accustomed to straight skating but for the first time in history, Saturday's race was decided over a continental or oval course, with four laps to the mile. There was a strong challenge from the ice-rinkers. The championship was decided on time and not on that knock out principle.

Horn followed up his Cup victory by annexing the Cameron Cup and the Duddleston Cup at Lingay Fen on Monday, thus completing a great treble. 33 12 22(4)ES

Canon Kirkland, Chairman of the Ely Urban District Council entertained 400 boys and girls to a regal treat in the Corn Exchange and Public Room. Children eligible had to be 11 years of age and upwards. The party was a big success. About five o'clock the children filed into the Corn Exchange and as they did so their young faces literally beamed. Their keen little eyes immediately fell on the gay and well decorated tables encircled above by a multitude of coloured balloons, and laden with lots of appetising things. The company stood for grace and then began to do full justice to what must be described as a sumptuous tea. Above the continual buzzing, so inevitable at a party of that kind and size, one could hear crackers being pulled. The toys and novelties found inside sponsored outbursts of laughing and general merriment and it really did good one's heart good to gaze on such a scene of colour and joyful animation. The children then returned to the Public Room and very soon they were indulging in communities singing and entertained by a clever conjurer who thrilled and mystified them with a series of amazing tricks. 33 12 22 ES

Sale blacksmith shop late Joseph Westley, Reads Street, Stretham

Mrs. George Comins auctioneers offered for sale at the Red Lion a dwelling house blacksmith shop, outbuildings, garden and yard situated in Reads Street late in the occupation of the executors of Joseph Westley. Bidding rose to £140, at which price Mrs. R Dimock became the purchaser.

Mr. Comins also placed under the hammer a freehold cottage outbuilding and yard in Reads Street in the occupation of Mr. J.T. Hicks and this too, was purchased by Mrs Dimock for £80. 33 12 22ES.

Stretham

Christmas attractions: on Christmas morning football match between George Dimock's "Never Sweats" and Spurs

The coming Yuletide appears to present more attractions to residents than for some years passed. On Christmas morning a challenge football match will be played on Stretham Recreation Ground between Mr. George Dimocks 'Never- sweats' and the local Spurs. This game is bound to cause a great amount of excitement and several large bets on the results have been struck. The members of the 'Never-sweats' have been promised a liberal liquid reward should they succeed in lowering the Spurs' colours.

Stretham Dividing Society share-out club *

The annual share out of the Stretham Dividing Society took place in the Infants' School. There are 104 members of the Society and these paid in a total of £180. Of this £59 have been paid out in sick benefits during the year. Each of the members received 18 shillings.

The annual supper and share-out in connection with the Chequers Club took place on Saturday evening and after an excellent supper there was a varied programme of entertainment during which the health of the brewers was drunk and the toast of the hosts Mr. And Mrs. Nayler was received with applause The club has had 95 members during the year and each received £1 14s 9d. 33 12 22

1933 12 27

The two dozen kiddies confined to the Mill Road Isolation Hospital for Christmas found a keen and energetic staff to brighten up the holiday. Balloons, paper decorations, flags and mistletoe were to be seen in profusion and the girls' ward contained a huge Christmas tree sparkling with fancy ornaments and tinsel. At the Union Road Institution there was breakfast of sausages and dinner of roast pork, beef and mutton with sprouts, parsnips and potatoes followed by Christmas pudding and custard. Fruit, tobacco, beer and lemonade were also provided and afterwards the inmates listened to the King's speech on the wireless. 33 12 27

1933 12 28

In accordance with custom the Isle of Ely Coursing Club held a Boxing Day meeting at Stretham by permission of the President, Sir Frederick Hiam. Weather conditions were bad, rain falling continuously throughout the day, but this did not upset the usual enthusiasts. Hares were rather slow in breaking cover but there was some splendid sport, though 'the going' was a trifle heavy. 33 12 28

Harriers at Market Hill pic, p1

1933 12 30

Cambridge's New Theatre has been hit by the theatrical slump which began in London in 1932. There was a shortage of plays in the provinces and the alternative of plays eked out by variety shows had failed. The Directors have been unable to let the Theatre to a repertory company and had no choice except to run it as a cinema with occasional stage plays until the present financial depression has passed away. 33 12 30

Chesterton RDC is to transfer their headquarters from St John's Street to a floor of the old County Hall in Hobson Street. It is possible the new West Cambs RDC would also take offices and share the council chamber. Councillors decided that six houses at Rooks Lane, Cottenham were slum property and should be demolished as should four cottages in Lambs Lane even though they were watertight and the owner, who was over 80, spent most of his old age pension in keeping them in repair. 33 12 30

1934

Cambridge Daily News

I have reader-printer copies of these articles (not scanned)

Ely Standard 1934 – have digital copies

January 1934 CDN

1934 01 01

Bishop of Ely death, p1

1934 01 02

Fire at a barn on Mordaunt House Farm, Swavesey, forced occupants of two nearby cottages to remove their furniture when their houses were threatened. The Fire Brigade was hampered by fog and rain and on arrival had to break half-an-inch thick ice before they were able to obtain water. They were unable to save the barn which contained hay, an oil engine and agricultural implements. Earlier they had been called to an empty house in Parsonage Street, Cambridge which was being made ready for occupation. 34 01 02

1934 01 03

Wisbech Magistrates heard of thefts by a dangerous and well-organised gang of five small boys aged seven to 10. They felt the only thing to do was to remove them for the benefit of other children and sentenced them to an industrial school until the age of 16. But their decision provoked mass protest with even the MP contributing to an appeal fund. It was described as 'illegal from start to finish' and the convictions were quashed. 34 01 03

1934 01 04

A dull grey sky cast sombre shadows over Ely which seemed strangely quiet. Only around the vastness of the cathedral was there continual movement as hundreds and hundreds of mourners waited their turn to enter the sacred edifice for the funeral of the Bishop. Many others remained outside or attended the interment at Ely cemetery and thousands lined the streets as the cortege passed. 34 12 04

Drought – water carted to Horseheath – 34 01 04

1934 01 05

A new branch of Huntingdonshire County Library was opened by the Lord Lieutenant in a room in the municipal building at St Ives. It had been made possible through a grant from the Carnegie Trust and would prove of great benefit to the town. The chain of county libraries was now complete. Two libraries had now opened in St Ives within a few months; they now had a lending library and the specialised Norris Library at the new Museum. 34 01 05

1934 01 06

The Monster business is booming with rival claimants springing up in all parts of the country. It appears that Saffron Walden once had a serpent that lived in a cave in the chalk hills until the collapse of the entrance prevented further activities. On several occasions the shock of its appearance caused the death of onlookers and an inn in Covent Garden is named The Essex Serpent after it. If the cave can be located the beast might still be found, but whether the reward offered for the Loch Ness Monster would be available is not known. 34 01 06

Mr E. Rutter of the 'Olde Curiosity Shoppe', Trumpington Street, has purchased a razor which belonged to King George III. It will be added to his other 200 interesting relics that include a Bible dated 1633 which has covers worked in needlework by King Charles I's wife and a pair of very fine silk stockings bearing the royal crown, which were worn by Queen Victoria. He also has a warrant issued by Oliver Cromwell and a cockade worn by Lord Nelson. He attempted to buy the Eton flogging book but that sold for the remarkable sum of £450. 34 01 06

1934 01 08

Thousands of people lined both side of St Andrew's Street when the Queen and Duchess of York paid a private visit to Mr Woolston's antique shop where the Queen chose several tiny ivory objects for her famous doll's house. She also inspected the Cambridge Tapestry Company's premises in Thompson's Lane where they watched the women workers actually engaged at the canvas and saw the tapestry panelling now being made for Lord Fairhaven, depicting his seat at Anglesey Abbey. 34 01 08

A film entitled 'Cambridge and the University Town, directed by Peter Collin of Newmarket is a twelve-minute pictorial survey with shots of the backs, boating scenes and Grantchester. He had the collaboration of R. Colville-College, an undergraduate of King's. The photography, which reaches a very high standard, is by S.W. Bowler who shows considerable promise. The film, released by Equity British Films will be shown in Ely, Littleport and Newmarket. As a lad Mr Collin assisted in the operating box of the Victoria Cinema and is now a director of Argyle Talking Pictures. 34 01 08

CDN dinner, p6

1934 01 10

Mr John Dayton of Godmanchester broadcast from London on an organ he made for himself with odd materials such as egg and soap cases, tea chests, carbide and toffee tins and fancy buttons for stops. The instrument which has amazing volume and extreme awareness of tone took 14 years to build. He plays entirely by ear and can give a programme including Handel's 'Largo' as well as popular songs. 34 01 10

1934 01 11

George Gault of Blossom Street has been a horse and motor cab driver in Cambridge for 41 years – 18 years of taxi work and the remainder with a horse cab. During the past 18 years he has had two Ford cars – 16 years with one. He is a familiar figure on the rank at Hyde Park Corner and has carried many undergraduates who are now far across the seas. Now in his 63rd year he is a total abstainer and non-smoker. 34 01 11

1934 01 12

H.J. Gray, the Cambridge sports manufacturers are flourishing and announced plans to extend their Playfair Works into which they moved from Searle Street 25 years ago. Now a new mill and motor engine would be introduced to keep up with demand. Henry John Gray started his career in a racquets court on the site of the present University Arms Hotel nearly 90 years ago. He became champion racquets player of England – a title that had stayed in the family for 22 years - and two his brothers became champions of the world. 34 01 12

St Ives may have a miniature lido on an islet in the river following the gift of two pieces of land known as Anchor Holt and Grace Holt by Mr Wright Ingle. The land was currently used for the cultivation of osiers but could be improved by erecting a footbridge. Flower beds and shrubs could be planted using unemployed labour at very little expense to provide something of which they could be proud. It should be renamed 'Ingle Holt'. 34 01 12

Election contest includes United British Party candidate – 34 01 12

1934 01 12 ES

Library repository nearing completion at March as the repository of the County Library 34 01 12(3)ES

R.A.F. plane lands at Fridaybridge after being lost in fog 34 01 12ES

Considerable interest was aroused by an aeroplane which landed in a field at Cotton's Corner, Fridaybridge. The plane, which belonged to the RAF, had travelled from Chester aerodrome. For a short time previously to its landing the machine had circled over Wisbech for several minutes, and it was learned afterwards that the pilot had run into thick fog on his journey and was making this manoeuvre in order to locate his position. About 12:30pm however, he was forced to come and made a good landing in a grass field belonging to Mr. Joseph Bettinson. Although the landing was not caused by engine trouble, the plane could not be started and the pilot had to phone for another machine, which later arrived from Grantham. The plane had to remain there all night but was able to take off about 10 o'clock next morning. The pilot was offered hospitality for the night by Mr. Luck. 34 01 12ES

1934 01 13

Fourth candidate, p5

Lively time, Hinchbrooke, p6*

1934 01 15

January sales attract large crowds – 34 01 15

Haddenham / Wilburton attempted murder – 34 01 15

1934 01 16

Medical school demolition photo, p1

1934 01 17

Forty-five years' service as church organist is in itself remarkable, but when the musician has carried on under the affliction of blindness, the record is surely without parallel. Mr J.J. Warmington has been organist at Emmanuel Congregational Church all that time. Only once has there been an error: he played the tune over with gusto but when the choir came in played another tune which began with the same two notes, he told a dinner in his honour. 34 01 17

By-election comedy, p5*

1934 01 18

Longstowe rector dispute over land – 34 01 18

1934 01 19

Death Goodrich

1934 01 19 ES

Attempt on Haddenham woman's life; lodger put carbolic powder into medicine of Lavinia Morton
34 01 19&(2)(3)ES

1934 01 20

C.E. Goodrich, the photographer, started working at Cambridge under Mr Palmer Clarke and with Mr Sanderson took over the business, continuing alone after Mr Sanderson's death. He retired last summer. For over 25 years he was known for the special colour photographic process which he devised and used with great success in portrait and landscape works. He had photographed in colour most of the important members of the University and was always engaged to take pictures of new laboratories when they were erected. 34 01 20

National Labour Party and the election – 34 01 20

Byeways of history, p6*

1934 01 22

In the new ward at Huntingdon Infirmary people aged between 70 and 80 have to go up two flights of stairs to their own bathrooms to get an early morning wash. It was the most ridiculous place he had ever seen for a modern hospital, Mr F.W. Figg told Guardians The need of a lift was never more apparent yet of 16 members on the Management Committee only four were present when the question was discussed. The title 'Management Committee' was a misnomer, he said. 34 01 22

Goodrich funeral, p3

1934 01 23

Robert Brown sold two million gallons 'Somerlite' lamp oil a year around Cambridge. He got oil from various sources, mixed it together and told the public that it had no equal. So when his sister-in-law, an oil and hardware merchant at Fordham, started selling oil that did not come from him under the 'Somerlite' name he took the case to court. Their vans both carried that name and there was a danger that people might assume the two were the same, he claimed. But the case was dismissed.
34 01 23 & 26

1934 01 25

When a News photographer set off to look for a bus that had come to grief on the road from Cambridge to Ely he found more than he bargained for. Between Milton and the 'Slap Up' he came across a lorry heavily laden with potatoes which was upside down in a ditch. Then near Denny Abbey there was a Ford lorry lying on its side in the bottom of the ditch and near Stretham Bridge he found another hanging over a ditch. He finally found the bus which had turned over on its side. Fortunately there was nobody on board except the driver, Mr Cyril Newell, who had crawled out through the windscreen unhurt. 34 01 25

Alex Wood nominated election – 34 01 25

1934 01 26

Future of leisure lecture – 34 01 26

Motor boat tests, p7

Great Ouse training bank scheme, Wash – 34 01 26

1934 01 26

Monday afternoon an aeroplane was seen flying low over Southery. It circled twice and then landed in the football field, which is owned by Mr. C. W. Thornhill of Manor farm. A large number of people rushed to the spot to ascertain the cause of the descent, but fortunately, the only trouble was that the pilot who was flying an R A F machine, had lost his way. He made a perfect landing, stepped out of his machine, and made inquiries as to his position. Then he took off and gracefully flew over the field bound for Grantham. 34 01 26

1934 01 26 ES

Prickwillow teacher for half century – Miss E. Gayton 34 01 26ES

A presentation was made to Miss E. Gayton who recently retired from the post of infants' mistress at Prickwillow School. Her long connection with the school, first as pupil and then as teacher is believed to be unique in the annals of teaching in England.

She first went to the school as a scholar and in 1880 was appointed as monitress. That was 54 years ago, and they did not think there was another teacher who had served 54 years consecutively as a teacher in one school. She had known five headmasters and the present one Mr. Bennett had told an inspector that he believed she was the oldest teacher in England, the inspector said there was another one the other side of Cambridge who had been a year longer. When Miss Gayton heard that she said she would stay on a year longer!

Practically all the inhabitants of the village have passed through her hands. Almost all the schoolchildren were present at the Institute, numbering 140, while the adults numbered almost 200. She was presented with a fireside chair, a rug and a half tea service. 34 01 26 ES

1934 01 29

The Queen paid another visit to Cambridge when she inspected two antique shops and called at a café on King's Parade. The large crowd who had been waiting was surprised when a small blue car drew up and she stepped out. The Royal limousine had broken down on the Ely Road and Mr Percy Titmous, a brewer's manager, had stopped to offer assistance. He then drove her to Cambridge. The Queen was intensely amused at the somewhat unexpectedness of her arrival and at the little adventure which had befallen her, he said. 34 01 29 & 2017 11 01

1934 01 30

Another interesting part in the Queen's visit to Cambridge was played by Mr Walter Riddy, proprietor of the St Andrew's Road Garage, Chesterton. After the Royal car had broken down and the Queen had been driven by Mr Percy Titmous, he received a telephone message requesting the hire of a Daimler saloon at short notice. He changed out of his working clothes and drove to Mr Roe's shop in St Andrew's Street to take the Queen to the Copper Kettle Café and then on to Exning. There she invited him to remain for lunch but he had another engagement and could not accept. 34 01 30

The greenhouses at Cambridge borough cemetery were beyond repair and would have to be scrapped. But more glasshouse accommodation was now required for the propagation of plants used on the recreation grounds. Two new 120 ft glasshouses could be constructed on the West Chesterton recreation ground where a house could be built for the man in charge, councillors agreed. 34 01 30

Three Tuns public house plans, White Swan to close – 34 01 30

1934 01 31

Fens exhibition, p3

Titmouse thanked in gracious letter from Queen, p5

February 1934 CDN & Ely Standard

1934 02 01

Cambridge council is to restore full all-night lighting in the streets following numerous complaints. The gas lighting is obsolete and the time would come when they would have to consider electric lighting. Even policemen were nervous about going down some of the unlighted streets: it is enough to make any policeman nervous when we know what is happening in the way of gangsters, one councillor said. 34 02 01

Williman Typewriter Services bankruptcy. 34 02 01

1934 02 02

Kirby & son, woman builder and contractor, bankruptcy. 34 02 02

White Horse public house, Castle Street bought by council – 34 02 02

1934 02 02 ES

Lt Thetford choir record: long service by Yarrow brothers 34 02 02(2)ES

Stretham Church heating fund short of £140. During past few years the parish has laboured under great financial difficulties: had to raise £440 to repair spire, heating cost £271 and strain every nerve to pay quota 34 02 02ES

1934 02 03

Percy Titmous has become famous as a result of driving the Queen to Cambridge after her breakdown. The news spread very quickly and soon pressmen, news agencies and even film companies were hot on his track. One wanted a film especially for America, but he did not feel inclined to do so. He had wanted to slip away unobserved but had not thought to cover the number plate of his car and it was easy to telephone the Council offices to get his name. 34 02 03

For the second time in three weeks, Her Majesty the Queen passed through Ely on her way to Cambridge, where she paid a visit to antique shops.

The journey was marked by an interesting incident on the main road from Ely to Cambridge, where the Royal car experience to breakdown due to overheating. This unfortunate mishap led to a Cambridge motorist Mr. Percy Titmous, a brewer's manager, having the honour of conveying Her Majesty in his private car to Cambridge in good time for her to do her shopping. The Queen drove to Cambridge sitting in the back of Mr. Thomas's car with Mrs. Titmous while Lady Desborough who was in attendance on the Queen of the sat in the front.

Mr. Harold Sedgwick of Egremont House Ely who was motoring from Cambridge Littleport noticed the Royal car near Littleport before the breakdown occurred. He called at his home to take his wife to Cambridge and the Royal car went on ahead of him. Approximately 200 yards out of Ely however, he noticed it stationary on the roadside and realised something was wrong. As two chauffeurs were working on the engine however, he did not feel inclined to interfere. He had often wondered what he would do if he found Royalty in distress on the road but the only time such a thing did happen to him, he did not think his assistance was required. Her Majesty journeyed from Cambridge to Exning in a car loaned by a Cambridge Motor Company and she later returned to Sandringham in a car which had been sent out from Sandringham. 34 02 02 ES

Vine Hotel refused, p3

1934 02 05

William Arthur Briscoe of Longstowe Hall died suddenly in New Zealand. He acquired the Hall about 1906 and took a great interest in the candidature of his elder son, Captain R.G. Briscoe, MP for Cambridgeshire. An excellent farmer and fond of country pursuits, he was an accomplished tennis player, a good shot and horseman. He wrote several poems including 'The Ballad of Betsy Ann' about one of his favourite hunters. 34 02 05

Sight-healing photo, p7*

1934 02 06

Theft at Shelford church – 34 02 06

1934 02 07

The London and North Eastern Railway announce a new facility for their passengers. Trained typists, fully equipped with an office, will be provided so that letters may be dictated, correspondence dealt with and documents typewritten en route. A special dictating compartment will be set aside in addition to the business office and reasonable charges for the services provided will be made on the basis of prevailing rates for stenographic work. The service will start on the 8.15 am King's Cross to Newcastle express which makes the journey in just over five hours. 34 02 07

Eve of poll, p6

1934 02 08

Commander Tufnell, the National Conservative candidate, toured Cambridge polling stations by motor car adorned with pink and white ribbons and artificial flowers. His wife took the wheel and proved herself a capable driver. Dr Alex Wood left the Labour Hall to a rousing reception from a drum (biscuit box) and fife (tin whistle) juvenile band while the Liberal candidate had a large black cat mascot, tied with blue and buff ribbons on the spare wheel of his buff-coloured car. However he lost his deposit as Tufnell beat Dr Wood into second place. 34 02 08, 34 02 09

1934 02 09

A man met a terrible death while he was oiling a moving overhead shaft in Mr Worboy's saw mill at Bassingbourn. His left side was crushed, his ribs broken and both legs were completely amputated at the knee. He had been working his machine since before the war and knew that no bearings were to be oiled whilst it was in motion. 34 02 09

Permission has been granted for the removal of swans on the river between Brownhill and Hemingford Staunches. There were not less than 250 and they did a great deal of damage to fish. St Ives Angling Society should be asked to destroy the cygnets on their portion of the river. But they should not go in for wholesale destruction because the swans were a pretty sight and people appreciated them, said Councillor Coote. 34 02 09

Declaration of poll, p11*

J. V. Spalding lecture on amateur portraiture - 34 02 09

1934 02 10

The fame of Mr Percy Titmous, the Cambridge man who gave the Queen a 'lift', has spread to the United States of America and did the News Editors lap it up! The New York Herald-Tribune headlined the story 'Percy Titmous Plays Launcelot to Queen Mary in Dire Distress! Motorized Knight Comes Upon His Liege Lady in Broken Down Limousine and Wheels His Trusty Sedan About in Dash for Cambridge Town'. 34 02 10

An inquest was opened on a ten-year old boy who met with a fatal accident on Parker's Piece. Ronald Hutt was in company with other boys near a motor roller which was at work at the Regent Terrace side of the Piece. He was struck by the roller and one side of his head was badly injured. He died almost immediately. 34 02 10 & 34 02 12

Arthur Rubenstein captivated a Cambridge audience in the Guildhall with a brilliant performance at the piano. Good humoured and gifted, he inspired confidence from the first chord and when after two hours the audience wanted more he obliged twice, although he had arranged to motor to London the same night. He was always commanding, often thrilling and at times grand. Rarely have we heard such volume and power, rarely such incredible crescendi. Sadly half the seats were empty. 34 02 10

1934 02 12

World's largest lorry photo, p1

Killed on Parker's Piece, p5*

1934 02 14

A disused signal box at the West Junction, Adelaide, Ely, was completely destroyed by fire. The wooden structure, was superseded some time ago by a more modern box and was not used for any purpose. All the staff available were called out to endeavour to extinguish the flames, which soon secured a firm hold, eventually burning the box out. As a result of the fire trains on the Peterborough line were delayed for two hours. 34 02 14

1934 02 15

A blindfolded motorist drove through Cambridge at the height of the rush hour as people made their way home to lunch. Professor Popjie's claims that he has 'second sight' enabling him to sense anything in the way was tested when a pedal-propelled invalid chair caused him to slow somewhat abruptly. He threaded his way through traffic down Petty Cury, round the Market and back to the New Theatre where he is appearing with his electrical figure 'Radiana'. 34 02 15

Coffin in crash near Balsham, undertaker summoned – 34 02 15

1934 02 16

A home of his own for even the lowest paid worker – such was the prospect opened up at Coldham's Lane when the first brick was laid on the new Cromwell Road housing estate. Cambridge Ideal Homes will build about 200 houses at prices from £350 which can be purchased on a small weekly payment of about ten shillings. They will contain three good bedrooms, two large sitting rooms, scullery, and bathroom and garage space. If every family could own their own house they would be happier and more contented. 34 02 16

Many dancers in Cambridge will learn with regret that Ron Wickes has been compelled to give up his position as official drummer to Percy Cowell's Band. He started drumming with them at the old Rendezvous before joining the band run by Mr Hensher, and later played with Manning's Band when the Premier Hall at Old Chesterton was opened up. From there he went to Skegness for two seasons, returning to the Rendezvous in the interval. He came back to Cambridge three years ago when Mr Cowell started his band at the Dorothy Café and has played with them ever since. 34 02 16

Proposals for the union of the benefices of Fen Drayton with Conington have been approved, despite objections from almost the entire population. Fen Drayton wished to retain services in their own church which had been in use for the last 800 years. They'd had a resident curate for 40 years but now it would stand empty for 26 Sunday mornings and 26 Sunday evenings. The aged and sick could not walk to Conington and will be deprived of spiritual aid. There were no objections to the union of Elsworth and Knapwell. 34 02 16

Bus crash near Stretham – 34 02 16

1934 02 16 ES

Stretham bus overturned on Ely Road near Station Road corner; tyres smooth 34 02 16&(2)ES

Quietude of Southery was somewhat disturbed at 110 on Friday morning, when a heavy marine loaded with four tons of potatoes being driven in the direction of Cambridge came into collision with Mr. H.G. Ellwood's house on the near side the main road. Fortunately, the accident was attended by no personal injuries, but considerable damage was done to the side of the house and the railings were smashed, while the front of the lobby was badly buckled. 34 02 16ES

Ely Beet Factory reduce acreage or refused applications when crops of low sugar content 34 02 16ES Consternation has been caused in farming circles by the Ely Beet Factory when considering applications for next season's beet, having reduced the acreage of growers whose crops have been of low sugar content. In some cases those affected have been growing beet for the factory ever since it was built. They have been forced to seek last-minute contracts with other factories with the inevitable increase in transport charges or have to sow the land with seeds for other crops. But under the Potato Marketing Scheme, farmers are restricted to the acreage of that crop they are allowed to grow. The Factory says it has received applications in excess of the maximum quantity it can accept and surplus amounts have had to be refused. The action has caused seriously concern at Manea where many growers, especially ex-servicemen, asked the Company to reconsider the decision. All the one-acre growers were assured they would be able to grow their full crop. 34 02 16ES

The report from the captain of the Downham Fire Brigade on a midnight fire at Sir Frederick Hiam's Further Fen Farm, Southery states: We were called to a fire in Hilgay Fen, which proved to be Southery Fen. Having arrived at the place from where I received the message we found we were on the wrong side of the river. On making inquiries we ascertained there were three droves to go down. Having selected the shortest we found halfway down that the drove was in a very bad state. We had to drag the engine down to the fire. The lorry with appliances could not enter the drove at all, and the hose and appliances had to be carried by firemen. The drove caused a considerable amount of difficulty and took us one-and-a-quarter hours to get out. This shows the difficulty caused by person supplying the wrong or insufficient information. At such outbreaks people should meet the brigade at a convenient point and guide them along the best route. 34 02 16

A spark from us passing engine is believed to have been the cause where fire which destroyed a disused signal box on the L.N.E.R. near Adelaide. The signal box was used to house batteries which work the points and signals and as a result of its destruction, the signals and points were put out of operation. Composed entirely of wood the structure burned fiercely for some considerable time, in fact, until all combustible materials had been consumed, and only the foundations and some of the floor members were left. For a short while traffic using that particular system was disorganised and single mind working had to be brought into operation. Some of the railway companies employees were soon on the scene, however, and within a comparatively short time normal working was resumed. Men were at work clearing up the debris and also building a hut to house the new batteries. 34 02 16ES

1934 02 17

Eighteen 'Blackshirts' were arrested on farms at Wortham, Suffolk by 50 police who arrived in large double-decker motor buses. The 'Blackshirts' were outside the farm gates and were arrested peacefully without any resistance. They have been at the farm for several days 'guarding' cattle and sheep which were impounded for tithe and a crowd of spectators cheered them as they left. Other Fascists were instructed to withdraw from a farm at Diss where their steel-protected cars have been keeping a watch-out for a van expected to remove animals. 34 02 17 34 02 20 34 02 21 trial – 34 02 26

1934 02 19

The overcrowding of the casual wards at Huntingdon Institution is alarming Guardians. A hundred casuals are being accommodated in a building with only 42 beds. Many have to sleep on the floor between the beds and in the dining room. The last time the problem was only temporary, due to fruit picking but now it happens almost every night. Last month's admissions were 1,204 compared to 290 for the same period last year. 34 02 19

Cambridge showed little interest in the 100 hunger marchers who arrived from Huntingdon. They halted at Girton College where jugs of tea and buns were given. About 200 people including members of the University Socialist Society and Anti War Movement escorted them into town. Darkness was falling as a rally was held on Parker's Piece where a small crowd gathered before they made their way to the Corn Exchange where they spent the night. But police were accused of provocation when they forcibly expelled them on Monday morning. 34 02 19, 34 02 26

Dr Searle ill in Africa, p1

1934 02 20

The misconduct of spectators at a Huntingdon Town football on Christmas day has resulted in the ground being closed for a fortnight. 34 02 20

Fascists withdraw, p1*

Oxford group meeting, p5

1934 02 21

Theft from Swaffham Bulbeck church – 34 02 21

Suffolk tithe 'blackshirts' leave Wortham – 34 02 21

1934 02 22

Trinity College was the venue of a carefully-planned 'rag' involving a large number of fireworks. The roof was chosen as the main display ground. The first rocket went up and landed in Neville's court before all sorts of fireworks went off in rapid succession, including a couple on the two turrets of the Great Gate. Next day porters were trying to identify the owner of a walking stick on which a Catharine wheel had been fixed. 34 02 22

1934 02 23 ES

Ely mourns death of Hubert Roythorne, the finest Police Superintendent county had known 34 02 2ES
Ely mourns death of Hubert Roythorne, the finest Police Superintendent county had known 34 02 2ES
Ely has seldom mourned with such deep-rooted sincerity the passing of one of its civic dignitaries than has been the case with Councillor Herbert Roythorne MBE. By his demise in the city, the friend of all and the enemy of none, we have lost one who in his day was the finest police superintendent the county has ever known.

His genial personality won him a warm place in the hearts of all who knew them, as was shown at the funeral when people in all walks of life attended the solemn obsequies to pay their last tributes to one whose life of self-sacrificing service has left behind a fragrant memory of a fine old English gentleman. 34 02 23ES

1934 02 26

Jesus College boat crew celebrated their Lents victory with a bonfire on the grass in front of the college and flames forty feet high dried the pavement in Victoria Avenue. An old boat helped to keep the fire going and when the supply of fuel ran short branches from trees were used. Police kept a wary eye on hoardings which might have been looked upon as sources but no raids were made. 250 paper glasses were provided to hold the beer but some preferred it straight from the bottle. 34 02 26

Romsey Labour Club extension opened – 34 02 26

Play performed in Bloy's smithy, East Road – 34 02 26

Over water supply results of boring operations – 34 02 26

1934 02 28

Newmarket district water supply – 34 02 28

March 1934 CDN & Ely Standard

1934 03 01

Hunger Marchers – Bishop Stortford vicar's impression – 34 03 01

1934 03 02

The tenant of the Rhadeund public house in King Street had been there since 1893 but his wife had died and trade had gone down. There were six other pubs within 300 yards, three belonging to Lacons, two to Greene King and one to Mr Dale. A good many of the customers were getting on in years and some had fallen away. But it served a useful purpose socially for a certain class of people and should be kept open, magistrates were told. 34 03 02

Saffron Walden Hospital, p7

1934 03 03

Soham Parish Council opposed plans to convert the Grammar School into a senior school at great expense. There was a definite need for a school for the children of local villages who would otherwise have long journeys into Cambridge. It was most undesirable to have boys and girls travelling together by train under no control whatever and many parents would object. 34 03 03

A Cambridge police constable was injured during the 'rag' which followed the inter-college rugby cup final between Clare and St Catharine's. At Burrell's Walk undergraduates used wooden palisades to make a bonfire. The fire engine was called out but was surrounded by a crowd of students some of whom pulled the hose off the drum. Others clambered on to the engine and took the front and side lamps off. The fire was put out by college porters. In Queen's Road the police were forced to defend themselves. Truncheons were used to prevent their helmets being snatched off. There was some hard fighting. A number of street lamps were broken and a window was smashed in King's Parade. Two undergraduates were arrested, charged with assaulting the police. 34 03 05

Sir Stafford Cripps addressed a meeting on 'The Necessity for Socialism' at Cambridge Central School. The hall was packed to capacity with townspeople and undergraduates and he was greeted with mingled cheers, boos and hisses. His speech was interrupted on several occasions and twenty undergraduates opposed to his views waited for him at the school gates afterwards. But the proctor and his bulldogs arrived in time and he was driven away without any demonstration being possible. 34 03 03

Marshall's Flying School had offered to buy Elfleda Farm, Fen Ditton for a public aerodrome, county councillors were told. Financially it would be a very good deal, giving them a profit of £3,000 for land they'd earmarked for smallholdings. But it was a very growing neighbourhood and the aerodrome would be a source of great annoyance to residents who didn't want these noisy things coming at all hours of the day and night. Mr Marshall would be getting a thunderingly good deal, others argued. The sale was agreed. 34 03 03

1934 03 05

Policeman injured in rag, p5*

1934 03 06

The proprietor of the Garden House Hotel proposed to make alterations and additions and wanted to acquire a portion of Coe Fen lying in front of Coe Fen Terrace, an annexe to the hotel, to add to the gardens. There was a public footpath across it which would have to be diverted. He was the owner of the piece of land opposite the Ladies Bathing Place which would be added to the common in exchange for the land he wanted. Councillors agreed to the scheme. 34 03 06

Sir – a report in the News says a new public house is to be built in place of the Three Tuns in Castle Street 'to fit in with the building going on in the neighbourhood'. Already quite a third of this district has been depleted of its residents by transferring them to new estates far away and then pulling down their old homes with a consequent detriment to trade. While agreeing to the demolition of uninhabitable houses I would like to know when building is to commence on the many plots of land which now lie derelict and so bring back some of the lost trade to the district – 'Tradesman'. 34 03 06

1934 03 08

A question of moving back the railings on Christ's Pieces to extend the Drummer Street parking station again came before the council. Councillor Stubbs had opposed it from the first; at weekends there was congestion of buses in Drummer Street at a place where pedestrians were crossing. Councillor Few said it was unfair to the railways who had to find their own land for parking: it was the buses that took up the space and it was wrong to give up public property for them. But Mrs

Hartree said the car park was chiefly for the people from the rural surroundings and was very important. The vote was tied. 34 03 08

The owner of Childerley Gate garage blamed insufficient trade and lack of capital for its failure. He started business in March 1932 doing cycles and selling oil and petrol. He had two petrol pumps and was able to pay the deposits on these in the summer but not in winter when his takings fell from £3 a week down to thirty shillings. The profits were too small for him to live on he told the bankruptcy court. 34 03 08

A plastering contractor said he'd been told there was "a bag of money for plasterers in Cambridge" and had come from Sutton Bridge with £900 to his credit. There was a strike on at the time and he started on 20 houses in Huntingdon Road for Mr John Brignell then contracted to plaster 212 houses in Kendal Way. But another workman's strike arose – a strike that never ceased. His last contract was for houses at Harston, Eversden and Coldham's Lane. He attributed his failure to other people's bankruptcy and bad debts. 34 03 08

1934 03 09

There was considerable enthusiasm at the parish meeting held at Haddenham for the election of the parish council. For there were three lady candidates in the field for the first time in history. But neither Mrs Olive Morris, Miss J. Tebbutt nor Mrs Hooper was elected. Mr C. Morris topped the poll followed by H. Feast, F. Peacock, J. Haddock and E.L. Porter. Mr A. Norman said that those electors who were not present would have liked a chance of voting and that there should be a poll. But there was no support for his motion. 34 03 09

Granta dried up at Bartlow for long time, p1
Abbey United stand photo, p7

1934 03 09 ES

Death George 'Mutton' Sindall, Pump Lane, Stretham; had distinguished military career; photo 34 03 09(2)ES

Mr. George 'Mutton' Sindall resided in Pump Lane, Stretham since his discharged from the army in 1918. A native of the village, he had a distinguished military career. He first enlisted in France in February 1896 in the Suffolk Regiment with whom he saw 22 years of service which included periods in Egypt, Malta, India and Burma. At the outbreak of the Great War, he was one of the first to be called up and was taken prisoner early in 1915, when the photograph was taken. On his discharged in 1918, he returned to Stretham where he resided until his death aged 56. For several years he had been employed as a toolman by the Ouse Drainage Board. He was a member of the Hatton and Wilburton and Stretham branch of the British Legion and eight members of the Legion formed the Guard of Honour and Marched at the head of the cortege. 34 03 09ES

1934 03 10

The last bus he drove formed part of the funeral cortege for John Reed of Shelley Row. He had been with the Ortona and Eastern Counties' companies for 22 years and as a last tribute a large contingent of his fellow workers headed the procession to St Giles' cemetery. The bearers were drivers W. Fowler, J. Hawkes and A. Morley with conductors L. Scarr, S.Scarr and S. Ashman. 34 03 10

1934 03 12

Who is the author of a manifesto issued at the Eastern Counties' Cambridge garage? Headed "The Cambridge Busmen" it alleges victimisation in the dismissal of George Proctor, secretary of the Busmen's Union. He has been made redundant after working as a turner for 12 years. The reasons for this are clear: our resistance to future wage cuts must be broken by getting rid of the man who has done most to build it up. If we let the Company get away with this they will get worse and worse, it claims. 34 03 12

A Haslingfield man and his wife had a narrow escape when a ball of fire struck their cottage in School Lane. Percy Morris was sitting by the fire in the kitchen when lightning demolished a chimney pot, flinging the debris several feet into the garden. "The noise was like that made by a whiz-bang during the war. I could not see for soot and had to open the window to let the smoke out", he said. His wife was talking to a neighbour when what looked like a ball of fire rushed past in front of her. This is the third occasion in recent years that lightning has done damage in the village. 34 03 12

The "Buy British Illuminated Street Parade" will feature a huge van pass through Cambridge telling people by means of flashing, blazing electric signs the virtues of British products. The 23-feet long vehicle is itself a mechanical marvel. It carries a small 'power station' with 2,688 bulbs flashing out messages in letters 18 inches high and attracts considerable interest. It has already travelled through several hundred towns and will create as much wonder here as elsewhere. 34 03 12

1934 03 14

The recent rains have had no effect on the serious shortage of water in certain villages in the Horseheath district. A ton and a half of water is carted daily from Haverhill and is rationed to the villagers at two bucketful per household. This has been going on, with the exception of a short break, since last September and is expected to continue till "the company's water" is laid to the houses concerned. The expense of a pound a day will fall on County ratepayers. 34 03 14

1934 03 15

Lime Kiln death – 34 03 15

1934 03 16

Rotary plough pic, p5

Isle police changes, p8

R.H. Mallinson lecture, p9

1934 03 16 ES

As the result of a generous bequest in the will of the late Mr E.E. Westley, a beautiful stained glass window has been installed in the Memorial Corner, Stretham Church as memorial to the Grainger family who lived in Stretham about 100 years ago and are now extinct – and to the benefactor herself. Mrs Westley left £400 for this purpose, of which £100 was spent on an Aberdeen granite cross erected about twelve months ago in the Churchyard, which is now closed as a burial ground. Designed from John Bunyan's 'Pilgrim's Progress' As the result of a generous bequest in the will of the late Mr E.E. Westley, a beautiful stained glass window has been installed in the Memorial Corner, Stretham Church as memorial to the Grainger family who lived in Stretham about 100 years ago and are now extinct – and to the benefactor herself.

Mrs Westley left £400 for this purpose, of which £100 was spent on an Aberdeen granite cross erected about twelve months ago in the Churchyard, which is now closed as a burial ground. Designed from John Bunyan's 'Pilgrim's Progress' by J.N. Comper, the leading artist in England for stained-glass windows, the window itself cost £300. It was unveiled by Mr Harry Drever, Churchwarden, immediately before a special service held in conjunction with Mothering Sunday. Conducted by the Rector (the Rev. S.S. Stitt), the ceremony was very brief and unostentatious but none the less impressive to the large congregation present. 34 03 16(2)ES

Modernising an Ely shopping centre

The past few years have seen rapid developments in Ely as a shopping centre and the latest firm to make their contribution to this commendable progressiveness is that of Messrs. Blake and Sons who purchased premises on Fore Hill formerly occupied as a milliners by Miss Florence McFall to extend the scope of his rapidly growing business, which he commenced in a cottage since demolished in Broad Street as far back as 1886. The result was seen when he discarded hoardings to reveal a new and up-to-date shopfront with spacious interior accommodation. The alterations were started in December 1933, the first task being to remove four brick walls, level the old floor by two feet and lay about 4000 wood blocks.. The shop front is of polished oak and shop lights fitted so they are visible from the exterior, affording a splendid effect at night. A heating system has been installed which will be a valuable asset in the cold and damp weather. This part of the premises is being devoted entirely to the displaying of goods in the furnishing and allied trades while the other Fore Hill shop will be used for the sale of second-hand and antique furniture and crockery. 34 03 16 ES

1934 03 17

Kings Ditch photo, p7

1934 03 18

Arts & Craft school open day, p5

1934 03 21

A nurse travelling in an ambulance was killed and four men badly injured in a violent collision between a London ambulance and a Newmarket horse box at the Woolpack crossroads near Fenstanton. The Red Cross and St John ambulance was proceeding to Leeds to pick up a patient while the horsebox containing three horses from the Hon George Lambton's stables was heading to Lincoln races. One of the horses, Versicle, was favourite for the Lincolnshire handicap but had to be withdrawn, causing a revolution when the betting opened at Tattersall's. 34 03 21

1934 03 22

The final meeting of Linton Rural District Council was held before it combined with Melbourn and Caxton and Arrington to form the new South Cambridgeshire RDC. It could not be termed a 'funeral party' for the council has never been a soulless machine and died as it had lived in a friendly and pleasant atmosphere. White-haired Canon Thornton has presided over it from 1909, the last of the three chairmen. He remembered when some councillors rode to meetings on horseback and put their horses in the place later used for the hearse. Their last debate was on the biggest scheme ever launched: the plan for supplying water to the whole district. 34 03 22

1934 03 23

The Somersham Rectory Bill was considered by a Select Committee of the House of Commons. The rectory belonged to Cambridge University which takes one half of the income and the vicar the other half. Out of his share he was obliged to maintain two curates whose stipends took one half of his salary. The changes would transfer the rectory to the vicar and the University would make up his salary to £600 a year. 34 03 23

1934 03 23 ES

Police promotion, P.c. Moll Of Guyhirn to be Sergeant 34 03 23(2)ES

Ely's ancient causeways

Some years ago, T.C. Lethbridge and Major Gordon Fowler started to investigate the subject of William the Conqueror's his attacks on the Isle of Ely. Reading original sources, they found topographical descriptions of events were very confusing, but not of a nature to suppose that the attack took place opposite Aldreth.

A series of excavations on various parts of the Aldreth Causeway and investigations into the nature of the objects found in the river produced no evidence to support the fact that Aldreth was the site of the battle. A large earthworks on the south side of the causeway was photographed from an aeroplane and appeared to be an Iron Age fortification more than 1000 years older than the Norman period.

They then investigated causeways on the east side of the Isle, first investigating a causeway between Quaverney and the north side of what was a hill on the present side of Roswell Pits, but it had been so destroyed during the last 20 years they they could not learn much from it. They did recover iron weapons of the period of the Conquest not many yards away from where the causeway must have been interrupted by the bed of the now extinct course of the main river.

They then investigated the remains of a similar causeway between the old Manor House at Stuntney and Babylon but the few remains were too scanty to provide any exact information because it has also been in the process of destruction for many years.

Both these ancient cause ways had been made with the help of oak stakes driven right through the peat into the battery blue clay beneath it. They had been dug up from the time to time when the wastage of the land due to drainage had brought their tops near the surface and interfered with its cultivation.

Mr. A.J. Randall discovered piles on his land between Seven Stars cottage on the bank, opposite little Thetford Ferry and the high land of Fordy. In a dry ditch on the west and in the drainage ditch on the east of the centre field of three fields which lie between the river and the highland. Lethbridge went down and discovered an artificial hard in the banks of the river, made of layers of clunch, gravel and decayed brush wood and a hard bottom across the river. He then dug a trail trench in the land just inside the bank and found a causeway, but was driven out of it by the inflow of surface water before he could make a thorough investigation.

Now full details of the nature of this causeway are available, no doubt the two other causeways already mentioned were of similar construction.

Mr. Randall has dug up the causeway over the full width of the field. It is about 15 to 18 feet wide and runs on a line between the north side of Seven Stars cottage and the main side of Mr. Markham's Fordy Farm buildings. Its surface is about a foot to 18 inches below soil, consisting of a dark coloured humus loaded with marshland vegetable matter and occasionally impregnated with thin layers of little fresh water shells. In fact the sort of soil one would believe originated in a marsh frequently flooded by the overflow of an imbanked river.

The floor of the causeway consists of now very decayed brushwood of about two-and-a-half feet thick, resting on virgin peat that is about five feet thick and rests on buttery blue clay. The surface of the brushwood is consolidated in places with gault from the near highland and a little sand of unknown origin. The brushwood is held in place by a number of small oak stakes and some large ones, split or whole, up to nine inches in diameter and nine feet in length.

Mr. Randell was photographed standing beside one of the large stakes. He has dug up about 50 and placed them point upwards in the ground beside the holes from which they came. Those who are interested would be well repaid if they went out to see this miniature forest of large stakes before they are removed as they show so well the nature and course of the causeway.

On the highland towards which the causeway points, a number of little trenches and banks can be seen. They are of the kind which would be associated with Romano-British sites. The few pot-sheards found are Romano-British ones. What then is the age of this causeway? We would surmise it was Romano-British work if it were not for the fact that it fits so well into this description of the Conqueror's Causeway and is just where we expected to find it. The De Gesta Herewardi says 'the breadth of the position extended only four furlongs'. That is to say the width of the marsh to be crossed was half a mile. The fen land between the Fordy and Little Thetford highlands is only just over half a mile and by far the shortest connection highland to highland connection between the island of Ely and the mainland. It is the very place a wise commander would choose to try and force a crossing. At Aldreth it is two miles. The place 'Aldrehede' mentioned in the manuscripts as the site of the attempted crossing was always supposed to refer to Aldreth and can be translated as the landing place or quay or hythe by the alder tree. It needn't necessarily point to Aldreth when almost all other details given in the manuscript do not seem to indicate it as the site of the battle.

There may have been more than one landing place beside alders at other places on the verge of the highland of Ely. There is an Alderforth Farm near Braham Farm. The problem is unsolved for the time being but the presence of some sand on top of the brushwood is suspicious when we read in the Liber Eliensis 'At dawn the defenders suddenly saw an immense people carrying brushwood and sand in sacks in order to make a causeway 34 03 23ES # c.41 # c.44.65

1934 03 28

Magistrates approved the transfer of a licence from the old Three Tuns on Castle Hill to a new County Arms nearby. There would be increased facilities for meals to cater for the new County Hall opposite. But the proprietor of Ye Olde Castle Tea Rooms and the Castle Inn objected. None of the county council staff came in and there was no trade in the winter. The neighbourhood was decreasing and it would have an effect on their businesses. 34 03 28

1934 03 29

“War is madness and we are being driven to it by madmen” a peace meeting at Soham was told. Some scientists were now saying there was no serious danger from gas warfare and people would be safe if they went and sat quietly in the bath. But soldiers who had been trained to combat mustard gas had become casualties without knowing they were affected until it was too late. They were being driven into this madness by men who were so stupid that they were virtually insane and they needed missionaries against war to defeat them. To believe anything these days involved a belief in miracles.
34 03 29

Col Tharp, Chippenham death, p7*
Caxton & Arrington RDC last picture, p10

1934 03 30 ES

New home for County Library, Gordon Avenue, March formally opened 34 03 30(2)(3)ES # c.77.1
A further step in the provision of good literature for the Isle of Ely was reached with the when the County Library Repository and March branch of the County Library was formally opened in Gorton Avenue. The new building attractively designed in the Elizabethan style consists of two rooms one designated for the Repository and a smaller for the use of the Match centre. The Chairman said the building had been a dream for some of them. The great assistance that had come from the Carnegie Trustees was largely responsible for the beautiful building. They might have done something if they had been left to themselves, but the result would not have been so good.

A great many people hardly realise the actual value of the public library service. A good many of them were to afford a subscription to one of the large book agencies but should never forget those who were unable to afford it. They were getting more and more leisure time and the unemployment problem had to be faced. In some areas the library had been a priceless service. In this county, they were mainly agricultural and the library catered for them too. There would be a very good collection of books on agriculture and farmers should make use of them to broaden their knowledge and take in modern methods. Children of 14 ½ were pushed into the world to learn their living. It was a cynical reflection on modern education. A few were able to stop at school which 70 per cent of their fellow beings had to earn their living. In 1919, there were only 13 counties in the country which had libraries. Now there were only three that did not have them. And by grants to the National Central Library, they were able to obtain old books that were out of print as well as modern ones. They needed another assistant for the librarian, Miss Philip, who was constantly working until nine o'clock at night; 12 hours was too long. 34 03 30(3)ES

Ely horse-drawn fire engine, 1912 – photo with names of firemen 34 03 30(4)ES

In the past Ely firefighting appliances have been the subject of discussion and criticism because of that inadequacies. But the recent purchase of a new motor fire tender and escape has been augmented by the conversion of the engine bought in 1912 to a motor trailer pump. Four old wooden wheels with iron tires which were very unsafe have been replaced by two centre wheels fitted with pneumatic tires. In its former state the engine was restricted to a speed of 10 miles per hour but now it is modernised and in the case of emergency it can travel at 40 miles per hour with safety. The trailer has automatic brakes and the drawbar can be attached to the new motor fire tender or to the council's lorry. A photo of 1912 shows the old horse-drawn engine, now converted into a trailer pump, together with some of the firemen. 34 03 30(4)ES

Ely new motor fire tender illustrated 34 03 30ES

Chatteris haulage contractor, Green Bros, bankrupt 34 03 30ES

April 1934 CDN & Ely Standard

1934 04 03

The Mayor and councillors performed the ceremony of ‘beating the bounds’ to mark the addition of additional areas to the Borough. They began at the east end of the cemetery grounds on Newmarket

Road then toured Cherry Hinton before moving on to Trumpington where the new boundary begins on the town side of Long Road. Here the Mayor cut a light-blue silk ribbon before formally stepping into the new territory. Then after visiting the boundary a quarter of a mile beyond the L.M.S. railway bridge on the Shelford Road they were entertained to tea. 34 04 03

1934 04 06

The automatic waters sprinklers fitted at Messrs Enderby's mill at St Ives prevented a serious blaze. Fire broke out in a room on the first floor but within a quarter of an hour it was extinguished without human aid. Immediately a certain temperature was reached a safety valve was released and water rained on the blaze from all angles. At the same time a bell was set ringing which was heard all over the town. The mill is a printing works and a large stock of cardboard and paper was damaged chiefly by water. 34 04 06

1934 04 07

Cambridge boundary extension, Chesterton reaction cartoon – 34 04 07

1934 04 10

An inquiry into the sale of land in Scotland Road heard it had been offered to the corporation by Mr A.E. Few in 1929 but they'd turned it down. The land was subsequently bought by a private individual for £2,600. But when it was needed for the Hundred Houses Society the new owner had sold it to the council for £3,200. It was a good profit but the inspector cleared the council of any maladministration. 34 04 10

1934 04 11

Plans for the new Meadowlands Estate show 277 houses and six shops. The builders proposed to construct the primary roads with concrete but run the risk that the council will not take them over. They have suggested the names Meadowlands Road, Meadowlands Way, Meadowlands Terrace, Brightside and The Sunnyside but councillors want some alternatives. 34 04 11

Mr H.R. Maunders, the lay reader at Litlington, reports that he was returning from a vestry meeting at Abington Pigotts when he was amazed to see by the light of his cycle lamp, a young woman standing a few yards from him. She was wearing a costume of 100 years ago and her eyes pierced the night like balls of fire. Mr E. Hallybone, the well-known dirt-track rider from Royston, says he had stopped one night with magneto trouble when he saw something white coming towards him and ran. But the vicar says it is a large white owl and he sees it every night. 34 04 11

In 1921 members of Sturton Street Methodist Church erected a school hall as a temporary building. Now plans have been prepared for extensions to the church itself with choir stalls and pews. They have launched an appeal for £2,300 to include a new hall. Old scholars are invited to give a contribution, however small. 34 04 11

1934 04 12

Herr Gerhart Seger, who recently escaped from a German concentration camp told of his experiences. Under Hitler's 'Protection Arrest' men could be taken to prison with no reason. The Storm-Troopers, sadistic and brutalised men, could do what they would with inmates. Prisoners were beaten mercilessly, slept crowded together in damp ice-cold cellars and listened to men being tortured by the Nazis. Of 42 men imprisoned with him, two were beaten to death within a fortnight. After he'd come to England his wife and baby had been taken to a concentration camp as hostages, not to be released until he returned. 34 04 12

One of the first results of Cambridge borough expansion has been the taking over of the Lending Libraries in Trumpington and Cherry Hinton and these new branches were opened by the Mayor. He was sure the new libraries would be well looked after. Both are established in the parish schools and contain 400 modern novels and 100 popular non-fiction works. Approximately 100 volumes will be exchanged monthly with books from the Central Library. 34 04 12

1934 04 13

Kneesworth Hall, p5

1934 04 13 ES

Mepal mourns active social worker, Ivy Louisa Giddens 34 04 13ES

The spring conference of the Stretham Group of Women's Institutes had considerable discussion over the question of electricity for the villages. Since the local councils have done nothing to help in obtaining electricity for Stretham and Haddenham they had been in correspondence with the Beds. Cambs and Hunts Electricity Company through the Member of Parliament. But they had stated that when they canvassed the area the response they received did not merit the introduction of electric light. But in Stretham only a few houses were visited They said stated that should the Haddenham and Wilburton brickyards be reopened and need power, the Company would be willing to open a new centre. But having made inquiries the W.I. could find existence of a brick yard in Wilburton. 34 04 13ES

1934 04 14

The LNER will shortly be releasing a new crop of posters calling attention to holiday resorts and other places of interest on their lines. Cambridge is to be represented by a picture of St John's College gate which shows the artist, Fred Taylor, at his best. The poster advertising York shows Dick Turpin on his famous 'Black Bess' with the Minster in the distance. 34 04 14

Orchard Estate, Cherry Hinton. Come and see these artistically designed houses on this beautify Orchard Estate. Large hall, 2 reception rooms, 3 bedrooms, spacious kitchen and bathroom fitted with shower, bath spray, electric light, gas, Company's water. Price £495 complete. £50 down and 12/9 weekly – advert. 34 04 14

The Chief Constable reported that two motor cycle combinations and two BSA solo motor cycles supplied in February 1931 were now worn out. They were in constant use and had each done over 40,000 miles. He recommended they be replaced with two Hillman Minx cars. With these he could cover the whole of the county more efficiently. One would be based at headquarters and the other at Bottisham. 34 04 14

1934 04 16

There was a crowded congregation at Impington church for the dedication of the new organ. Slung from the roof supported on steel girders and enclosed in a panelled oak case, it is a great improvement to the chancel. Messrs Millers are to be congratulated upon constructing such a fine instrument which replaces one that has been in use for nearly 50 years. 34 04 16

1934 04 18

A simple ceremony on the borders of Girton and Histon marked the change of something that has stood unaltered for about a thousand years. Manor Farm in Histon parish was far nearer Girton and it was more convenient to move the parish boundary. The Minister had agreed and 51 acres had been taken over. Now the boundary-post was dug up, put in a wheelbarrow and carried 200 yards down the road to its new position. 34 04 18

1934 04 19

Cambridge Photographic Club featured an excellent display of cinematograph films. They included a splendid pictorial film of Cambridge by Eric Twinn on 9.5 mm stock. It was a brief presentation demonstrating his ability to choose a pleasant viewpoint. Mr J.V. Spalding depicted some of the useful work of the Ouse Drainage Board with several very clever angles chosen to obtain dramatic effect. 34 04 19

1934 04 20

Controversy has raged in Ely over the various streets and roads that have been re-named during the last century. By the kindness of one of the oldest inhabitants we are able to give the names by which some were previously known: Present name Market Street, old name: Gaol Street; Barton Road – Smock Mill Alley; Mill Pits – Gallows Hill Pits (where five Littleport rioters were hung); Cresswells – Common Muck Hill; Springhead Lane – Spion Cop; High Street Passage – Tallow Lane. 34 04 20

1934 04 20 ES

Wicken church re-opened after restoration 34 04 20ES

Wicken church reopened for public worship having been closed for 10 months while repairs were executed and it is now restored to something approaching its former beauty, There was quite a large congregation. £1000 has been spent in restoring the greater part of the building but work is still needed on the last section, the north end. 34 04 20ES

1934 04 23

An oak beam across the top of a fireplace at 47 St Mary's Street at Ely suddenly burst into flames after smouldering for three weeks. The 400-year-old house was the original Ely Workhouse. A few doors away people are living in rooms which were once used as barracks. Had nobody been in the house at the time the results would have been disastrous for the partitions are made of wood and canvas. 34 04 23 in a

1934 04 25

The first meeting of the new Chesterton Rural District Council was held in the County Hall. New councillors were told they had to consider problems such as water sewage, dust collection and lighting. They discussed a grant towards cleaning out a Harston pond. It was a 'disputable pond' – the village made use of it but it was private property. 34 04 25

1934 04 26

New view of Cambridge from University Library, p5

1934 04 27

A large number of University and college servants gathered at the Assembly Rooms in Market Passage for the opening of their new Club by the Vice-Chancellor. The opportunity for members to meet in social intercourse was half the value of a Cambridge education. It would provide properly organised amusements for all servants during winter months, to fit in with their rather unusual hours of leisure. 34 04 27

A smallholder from White Cross Road, Wilburton appeared in court for passing a traffic signal at red whilst driving a motor car in Bridge Street. He told the policeman he had never seen them before and don't know how they worked. Nobody had told him what they were for or anything about them. In Ely they had policemen and A.A. men on the corners. The magistrates fined him ten shillings saying it was distressing that a man should be on the public road driving a motor car and not know what traffic signals meant. 34 04 27

1934 04 27 ES

City Chambers, new building, Market Street, Ely by H.R. Dimmock 34 04 27(2)ES

Considerable interest is being evinced in the speedy erection of the new building in Market Street, Ely which is to be known as the City Chambers. The outcome of enterprise on the part of Mr. H.R. Dimmock represents another stride in the development of Ely and in particular of Market Street as a business centre. It is expected to be completed ready for occupation by July 21 and will comprise 12 offices, two shops and the number of lock-up garages in addition to which there will be space for a car park at the rear. The sketch plan reproduced shows a striking impression of how the building will appear when finished. 34 04 27ES

Ely fire brigade horse-drawn vehicle with names 34 04 27(4)ES

Darby of Sutton fleet of motor vehicles – photo 34 04 27ES

The photograph shows just the 'Ford Motor' section of a fleet of vehicles owned by Messrs. Fred Darby and Sons of Sutton and supplied by the well-known family firm of Mrs. James Graven and Sons of Ely. Incidentally Messrs. Darby and Messrs. Graven are two of the oldest-established in their respective businesses in the Isle. These vehicles are engaged in general haulage and pit work and cover almost half a million miles per annum. The fleet comprises only about half the number used by Messrs. Darby as they have some of the largest heavy vehicles in Cambridgeshire, a well-known maxim being 'Nothing too heavy for old Darby'. The two huge sand and gravel pits shown in the rear of the lorries are working day and night, being all lighted by electricity. The pits are most modern in equipment and in addition to supplying other large users turned out 10,000 yards annually for road purposes. They were designed and built by Messrs. Darby. When it is considered that this firm started with only one steam waggon several years ago, and has now reached such huge proportions it will be realised the Isle is not dead as regards enterprise. Naturally Messrs Darby have been able to give employment to a large number of local people. 34 04 27ES

1934 04 30

Three houses were damaged by one flash of lightning in Lovell Road, one of the new roads off Milton Road. The house which sustained the greatest damage was fortunately unoccupied; it struck the chimney stack and ripped a large hole in the roof. The flash spanned the road, missed no.113 but broke windows at nearby properties. It was seen by Mr Dale who was putting up curtains at the time and was thrown from one side of the room to the other. 34 04 30

A former undergraduate appeared in court following a scuffle. Vincent Brock, a university bulldog, said he'd accompanied the Proctor, Rev Heywood, into the bar of the Theatre Cinema where there were many undergraduates during the interval. There was much shouting and excitement. The accused had then assaulted him by tipping his top hat over his face. 34 04 30

May 1934 CDN & Ely Standard

1934 05 02

May Day demonstration – 34 05 02

May Day queen – 34 05 02

Cars for county council staff – 34 05 02

Dorothy café ballroom floor – 34 05 02

1934 05 03

Dorothy café, p1

Alex Wood re-adopted, p5

1934 05 04

CAS members at Shire Hall, photo, p7

1934 05 05

Cambridge Mothercraft Clinic aimed to promote breast-feeding. It held clinics three days a week in Chesterton Road; over 2,000 mothers had attended and nearly 80 per-cent breast-fed their children. The class that attends the public clinics are not the best for an educational movement. They wanted to get people who are further up in educational interest, and perhaps intellectual development. The main aim was to keep well babies well. 34 05 05

Air circus, Barton Road – 34 05 05, 34 05 07

Housing problems – 'monstrocities', p5

A.W.H. Barnes, artist, bankruptcy, p5

Soft roads, p5

1934 05 07

Sawston fire, p5

May Day meeting, p5*

Sky devils, p5*

Dredging the Cam – 34 05 07

Labour and co-op demonstration, May Day – 34 05 07

Holliman furniture removals van – advert – 34 05 07

1934 05 08

West Wratting fire, p5

1934 05 09

Donald Bradman, Australia's wonder batsman, keeps very much in the news. In most cases it is his century habit that brings him the limelight – but not so against Cambridge University at Fenner's. For 'Don' was out for a duck, clean bowled by a slow leg-break from J.G.W. Davies of St John's. Two thousand people cheered Bradman when he went in to bat but the fourth ball sent down found his stump. 34 05 09

1934 05 10

Harvey Goodwin Home – plea – 34 05 10

Drawing Society exhibition – local views - 34 05 10

Gilbert and Sullivan, Henry Lytton's farewell appearances – 34 05 10 & 34 05 18

1934 05 11 ES

More concrete roads as those on Soham Mere Estate a success – 34 05 11ES

The concrete road made on the Soham Mere Estate last autumn is proving very successful and it was decided to spend another £2,300 on making similar concrete roads on the same estate. Last year they made 1,200 yards of road from Tilehouse Farm to Great Drove. Work had been carried out to the entire satisfaction of tenants and the road surveyor and had proved a great success. The tenants were very pleased and were willingly paying the additional five shillings an acre. Tenants of Middle Mere Farm had asked for a similar road. The Estate was practically unique. It consisted of 1,570 acres in one block without a single yard of hard road and at no place did any county road touch the property. It was the old Soham Mere drain, which was drained some years ago. It was valuable land for sugar beet but the difficulty had been to get the crop off the land. Last year, said Councillor Fordham, I was delighted to see one horse bring along a load of beet where previously they would have had to have three horses struggling along through the mire. 34 05 11S

1934 05 14

Stuntney Village Institute was destroyed by fire. The blaze was fought by villagers but it was one mass of flames and it was useless to attempt to save it. Built by the late Cole Ambrose, the building was of wood and corrugated iron. It was the centre of social life in the village and the whole of the contents, with the exception of a piano, were lost. A stove, a relic of Queen Victoria's yacht 'Osbourne', was destroyed together with a billiards table, whist table and chairs. The Billiards Championship Cup was discovered twisted and broken in the debris. 34 05 14

Trumpington motor trap – 34 05 14

1934 05 15

Marshall's Flying School propose to carry out improvements to their aerodrome and had purchased Elfleda Farm through which the proposed Ring Road would run. They asked the Council to move the route slightly east. But the Surveyor said this was not possible. The whole of the land is zoned for dwelling houses and this would be have to be borne in mind if any proposals were made to them for further developing this aerodrome. 34 05 15

Marks and Spencer's new shop will be opened on Friday morning. The premises have a frontage to Sidney Street. The ground floor space is devoted entirely to sales while the first and second floors contain stock rooms, offices and other accommodation for the staff of 60 assistants who have been mainly recruited locally. There is a dining room where staff can obtain lunch at a cost of sixpence. There will be no 'stunt' lines at opening and 90 per cent of the goods sold are of British manufacture. 34 05 15

1934 05 16

Stuntney Institute pic, p5

West Wratting windmill, p6

1934 05 17

Paul Robeson is a genius. The beautifully proportioned giant who has played baseball for the United States, is now studying for a degree in African languages, has an almost perfect Russian accent and a voice whose texture has been described as reminiscent of velvet and mulberries, is no ordinary singer. And thus when he gives a recital at Cambridge it is only natural that he should receive such an ovation as he did at the Guildhall. His songs included two Russian folk songs and Negro ballads. 34 05 17

The beautiful Church Farm estate at Eversden comprises 300 acres of open country surrounded by hills, one mile from Lords Bridge railway station. The new houses are beautifully designed by a qualified architect. Each have three bedrooms, a bathroom with chromium fittings, a spacious kitchen and electricity and company's water supplied from new Artesian wells on the estate. The price is only £550 - £50 down and thirteen shillings and sixpence (66p) weekly. 34 05 17

Four lamps now five, pic, p1

1934 05 18

Within a few hours of the official opening of Marks and Spencer's Cambridge stores two of their windows were broken. There was a large crowd both inside the shop and on the pavement when suddenly a man went up to the left-hand centre window and, taking a large stone from his pocket, threw it and broke the glass. Shaking with rage, he then walked to the other centre window and smashed that with another stone. Nearby policemen took him into custody. 34 05 18

Newmarket Amateur Cine Society, in only its second year, has accomplished a splendid performance by winning first prize in a competition organised by 'Home Movies and Home Talkies'. Their film was directed by Merrick Griffiths, with J.W. McGlone responsible for the photography. The prize consists of a gold medal and a 16 m.m. projector. 34 05 18

1934 05 18 ES

Proposed extension of Middle Level area – inquiry 34 05 18(2)ES

County Hall March was filled almost to capacity when a Public Inquiry was held into a scheme in relation to the Middle Level Drainage District. This will affect people over a very wide area and large numbers of counsel and solicitors representing the various bodies which had launched objection to the scheme, together with a large number of the general public filled the building.

In 1840, an Enclosure Act was passed and certain drains were made out. No sewage was allowed to run into the Middle Level drains. It all went into catch pits first, before it went into the river.

The Chairman of March Urban District Council said that there was such intense resentment to the proposals as they affected March as had never been known in the history of living man. The proposed works were deliberately unjust and grossly unfair. March could not see why it should be called upon to share at the burden of a great indebtedness in which they had not a single thing to say. 34 04 18ES

Stuntney Institute destroyed in mysterious fire – photo – 34 05 18&(3)ES

Stuntney Institute, the centre of all social activity, was burned to the ground and a considerable amount of games equipment including a billiards table, darts board. Bagatelle table, dominoes and chairs were destroyed. The Institute had been used very little of late as it is the closed season and there has been no fire in the place for some time. The configuration raged furiously seeing that the building was one of tarred corrugated iron on brick foundations, packed with sawdust and lined with varnished boards.

The first to enter found the smoke was so dense and the heat so great that all they could save was a piano, which was slightly charred at one end. The Fire Brigade was delayed by a hold up at the railway crossing but connected a hose and started to play water on the Institute part which had collapsed. Stripped of their tar covering the sheets of corrugated iron were placed on one side together with the burnt timber. Right in the centre of the wreckage was the stove which used to heat the building, this came from Queen Victoria's yacht Osborne. Broken slate was all that was left at the billiards table which had recently been put in good condition and the Cricket Club's practise gear was never seen again. Luckily, the new equipment was at the house of the Secretary. In a corner workers found a number of bagatelle balls and the Billiards Handicap Cup. The Institute was built upwards of 30 years ago by the late Mr. Cole Ambrose, and was used entirely as a social centre by the people of the village 34 05 18ES

Ceremonial opening for Ely's new swimming bath 34 05 18(6)ES
Wicken holds first parade 34 05 18ES

1934 05 19
Cromwell Park estate advert – 34 05 19
Orchard Estate, Cherry Hinton photo, p4

1934 05 23
Machine gunners pic, p1

1934 05 25 ES
Pitiful plight of fen farmers fruit – Times letter 34 05 25(2)ES
Lt Thetford railway crossing gates smashed 34 05 25(3)ES
Little Thetford railway crossing was the scene of a mishap on Tuesday morning when the crossing gates were closed against road traffic in favour of the milk and parcels train from Haddenham, which leaves Stretham station at eight o'clock. Loaded with cement and travelling from Cambridge towards Ely, a six-wheeled lorry ran into the first gate knocking it back and crashed through the second gate which was badly smashed. The gatekeeper Mrs. Guy, ran down the line with a red flag to stop the train which pulled up a few yards short of the gate. Mr. J. Royal and Mr. H. Roberts, of Little Thetford regulated road traffic until the arrival of a railway break down gang who cleared away the broken gate and directed a temporary structure. 34 05 25ES

Turbutsea, origin of Ely's Roswell pits which removed for banking clay from middle 1600's, by Gordon Fowler 34 05 25(4)ES
The area of land called Turbutsea covered the whole of the peninsular of hard Kimeridge clay, which juts out into the Fens below the Common on the road from Ely to Adelaide. From the middle of the 17th century part of it has been removed bit by bit by the excavations for banking clay and left the Roswell pits. Cuckoo bridge crossing the entrance was built about 1660. About 80 yards East can still be seen the last of the ruins of the old Pike and Eel inn which was burnt down about 1884. The two old cottages a little further on became uninhabitable last winter and before long will show very few signs of themselves on the surface. The site of the Turbutsea farmhouse is now covered by the offices of the Ely Beet Sugar Factory. Turbutsea see was quite a notable place in the Middle Ages due to the fact that a small stream leaving the original rain main riverbed near Quaveney wandered through the fens and afforded the nearest water transport communications for Ely. 34 05 25ES

Stretham
Monoplane lands in field adjoining Military Road # c.26.1
Much excitement was caused at Stretham on Wednesday evening when a monoplane descended in the field adjoining Military Road. There was a general rush in this direction and the stalls in the Feast were quickly left for this new attraction. After a short stay, the monoplane took to the air again. 34 05 25

Feast one of quietest on record

The annual village feast which has just concluded has been probably one of the quietest on record. Except for the children there appeared to be little interest taken in the various stalls, which were pitched on the Chapel green and along to the Tunnel corner. It is gratifying to report however, that the parade held on Sunday it was a great success. 34 05 25(5)ES

Stretham Feast week parade successfully revived; Hospital van, children with decorated bicycles 34 05 25ES

Isle of Ely County Council decided members will be allowed third-class rail fare for railway travel and not more than threepence per mile for road travel in attending meetings, from place of residence to place of meeting and home again.. Threepence a mile from home to County Hall was going to make it very expensive. A man with a motor car would receive far more than one coming by train: in the case of a councillor coming from Ely, the rail cost would be two shillings and nine pence, by car it would be eight shillings. But proposals for the provision of expenses had ever been discussed before. Nobody had a mandate from electors to vote for them. Members of Parliament were given no allowance for their motor cars. 34 05 24ES

The rector of Doddington has written to The Times.

Small holders who are growers of fruit such as gooseberries, raspberries, strawberries and plums are prospering. There is a heavy tariff on these imported fruits, beside their perishable nature, which is practically prohibitive, so that they have the home market to themselves. There is one serious competitor, Australia, but they come in on the off-season. This explains why such smallholders can obtain a profitable price for their product and thus they prosper.

On the other hand in the Fens, we have a soil which though it is much richer will not grow fruit. Our main crops must be potatoes, vegetables, and carrots and some wheat; also poultry farming. Owing to the continual glut, especially these last few years, due to foreign competition there is scarcely any demand for our produce. Thousands of tons of it are never sold at all every year, so that smallholders and farmers alike are in a pitiful plight. Our land is so fertile that we can produce all the potatoes this country needs, if only it were a profitable proposition. Richard Ridge. 34 05 25ES

1934 05 26

A Cambridge chess club was first mentioned in 1835 and in 1837-8 it was sufficiently organised to play a match of two games by correspondence with Nottingham's "Town and Gown" club. But an experiment in holding a Chess Congress in Cambridge in 1880 was a complete fiasco. The British Chess Association had selected Cambridge as the meeting place but little support was forthcoming from the University Chess Club, founded four years earlier, and visitors were very few, a new book reveals. 34 05 26

Sir – we scientific workers and teachers of the University wish to affirm out fundamental opposition to the use of scientific research in war and the preparation of war. A situation may soon arise when scientists will be pressured to engage in research directed to the purpose of war Signed: Joseph Needham (Biochemist), E.O. Whetham (Agriculture), Marjory Stephenson (Biochemistry), M.L. Oliphant, C.P. Snow, B.M. Crowther and Alex Wood (Physics) and others. 34 05 26

1934 05 29

One of the best-known Cambridge hairdressers Alexander Joseph Priziborsky was born in Cambridge 54 years ago. It was his father who founded the hairdressing establishment in Round Church Street about 1856 and on his death in 1905 his son took it over. He shaved his first customer when nine years old and built up a first class reputation, the majority of his customers coming from outside the town. 34 05 29

The new Cambridge Post Office in St Andrew's Street was needed to meet ever-growing demand. People knew they could obtain wireless licences, motor licences and gun licences but not that they could get marriage licences as well. There was criticism that the stamps remained the same but it was not policy to make money out of philatelists by creating unnecessary issues and would mean altering stamp machines. Now deliveries would improve and the 26,000 letters a week delivered by second post will in future secure first post delivery. 34 05 29 & 30

1934 05 30
Kingston fire pic, p5

June 1934 CDN & Ely Standard

1934 06 01
The great move has begun. At four o'clock the doors of the old University Library near the Senate House closed to readers. There had been many visitors all day to say farewell to the building and some tender-hearted ladies left the library in tears before the bell rang for the last time. Librarians have been packing volumes into boxes and Eaden Lilley's staff began the work of loading the horse-drawn carts for the journey to the new library in West Road. The process will go on day after day for about three months. 34 06 01

1934 06 02
A.G. Markham, p2
Prince George flies to Cambridge, p5

1934 06 04
Prince George at Technical School, pic, p1

1934 06 05
Crowds flocked from all parts of the diocese to see Dr Bernard Heywood installed as Bishop of Ely. Inside the Cathedral a splash of colour was provided by the arrival of Mayors in their robes and a procession of 400 robed clergy. The vast congregation awaited the time-honoured ceremony by which the new Bishop knocks thrice with his staff on the West door. Amplifying apparatus has never been allowed so the service was heard by the greater part of the congregation as only a distant murmur. 34 06 05

Undergraduates enter Exam Hall, pic, p5

1934 06 07
The prompt action of three employees of Messrs S. Wilkerson, corn merchants of Royston, averted a blaze which would have been one of the biggest ever seen in the town. They saw flames and smoke issuing from one of the wooden ventilators in the centre of the granary roof, entered the building and attacked the flames with minimax extinguishers. The granary is a large wooden building and it would have been impossible to stop the fire had it gained a firmer hold. 34 06 07

1934 06 08
St Ives market is only a shadow of its former self due to the depression in agriculture. A good many of the old farmers and dealers have passed away and there are none to take their place. Sales in shops had also dropped since the coming of the motor car as there was a tendency for people to go to large centres. Buses come in from villages but leave again after ten minutes which was no good for trade, the Mayor told a meeting at which forty prominent business men formed a Traders' Association. 34 06 08

Bus effects mergers – St Ives route - Wheatley – 34 06 08
Leys School scout HQ, p5

1934 06 09
Church Farm estate, Eversden, p3

1934 06 11

Abington place crash, p5

1934 06 12

May Week balls, p5

1934 06 15

A student, Cecil Hutchinson, made a dramatic race against time to attend the Cambridge Entrance Examination. He docked at Cherbourg early today on the Olympic on which he had travelled from New York, then chartered an Imperial Airways taxi which arrived at Croydon at 8.45. After snatching a hasty breakfast he flew on the Cambridge where he arrived a few minutes before the examination was due to start. The ship had decided in mid-Atlantic not to dock at Plymouth, from which he had arranged to travel by train, so he cabled his father who arranged the air taxi. 34 06 15

Buildings in Brick Lane, Earith belonging to Frederick Pink, the well-known Cambridge slaughterer, were destroyed by fire. One contained a motor lorry which he had purchased two days ago, now all that remains is a heap of twisted metal. The carcass of a horse which had just been slaughtered was also damaged. A number of cartridges used for slaughtering purposes exploded as the fire quickly took hold. 34 06 15

1934 06 16

The Chief Constable of Huntingdon suggested that police buy a second-hand SS.1 capable of 75 miles an hour for patrol work from Norman Cross. But Mr Tebbutt said this was too much of a swagger car for the work. "I suggest you get a second-hand Brooklands car which you do not mind messing up and can be bought for a song." 34 06 16

1934 06 18

A barn at Carter's Farm, Pidley Fen, was razed to the ground. The roof of the granary was fitted with glass tiles and it is thought that the fire was started by heat from the sun. Somersham Fire Brigade was able to prevent the blaze spreading to the farm house but there was so little water that the Huntingdon Brigade returned to their base. 34 06 18

1934 06 19

An agreement has been reached in the long-running dispute over the rebuilding of the Dorothy Café in Sidney Street. In spite of the conflict over details Messrs G.P. Hawkings now have a really beautiful, modern and commodious building that has earned praise from the Cambridge Preservation Society and the Illumination Congress while the builders are no longer under any imputation of incompetence. 34 06 19

1934 06 20

Sir – may I draw attention to the speed of buses in Cambridge? It is not the fault of the drivers who have to be at certain places at the minute. At the destination they turn round, the conductor changes the board and off they go again, speeding only to be on time. As for cleanliness: just lift any cushion up and you will see the filth underneath them. Why not have some disinfectant spray as in the picture palaces – 'Chestertonian'. 34 06 20

1934 06 21

A Sutton farmer told the court he'd supplied 30 tons of Majestic potatoes for shipment to the Argentine, he then got a second order and had included some King Edwards. But the agent they were not suitable for shipping across the Equator and during the voyage twenty-seven bags had to be thrown overboard at Buenos Aires. 34 06 21

Ely's open-air swimming pool at Angel Drove

1934 06 22 ES

Ely new swimming pool opens to huge crowd 34 05 22ES

All roads in Ely seemed to lead to the Council's fine new open-air swimming pool at the Angel Works with the result that a huge crowd estimated at 2,000 packed the terraces around the bath. Before the time of opening ceremony every available seat had been filled, and those who arrived later had to stand five and six-feet deep in front of the cubicles. Unfortunately, a heavy storm broke over the district soon after the opening ceremony. But so interested were the people both in viewing this work of art and in watching the display given by members of the Saffron Walden Swimming Club that most of them braved the elements and saw the programme completed.

The swimming pool itself is a greatly needed improvement. It makes the best use of a site which has not only been derelict but an eyesore. The work was completed by unemployed men who know how to work when they get the chance of doing it.

People who bathe in the river from today onwards do so at their own risk and their own peril. But if they bathe here, they will take care of you and see that every possible precaution is taken to see safety is maintained 23 06 22ES

1934 06 23

The Mayor opened Cambridge's 2,000th council house situated on Bateson Road and a large number of spectators gathered to watch. He unveiled a memorial tablet high up on the front wall to commemorate the occasion. The Housing Committee was formed in 1920 to construct houses for the working classes and the estates are a great credit to the architect. Mr Bland. Most houses had three bedrooms with spacious gardens. But there was a need for more for young people who find it difficult to get a home and remain unmarried year after year, disappointed and tired of waiting. 34 06 23

Sir – we are now desired by the Government to economise in our use of water but I actually saw a huge Corporation cart filled with water which men were lavishly pouring on to the roots of young trees which have been planted in Hurst Park. I consider this to be utterly unnecessary. If water can be spared why not distribute it to poor animals and spare the anxiety of their owners who are obliged to go five miles to fetch water – 'Disgusted'. 36 06 23

Car crashes into King Charles pub, Back Hill, Ely – 34 06 23

1924 06 25

The British Legion area rally saw a parade 15,000 strong, a procession at least three miles long and an open-air service on Parker's Piece before a congregation of 25,000 people. For many to whom the British Legion had been only a name – especially the younger generation – the rally came as a revelation of the undying soul of the greatest organisation of ex-Servicemen in the world. 34 06 25

1924 06 26

Ashdon cottage struck by lightning – 34 06 26

1934 06 28

Historic Ramsey Abbey may become a secondary school. The Government had approved the replacement of the present old wooden hut by a permanent building and the Hon Mrs Broughton would let the Abbey and grounds on a 99 year lease at an annual payment of one pound. Unfortunately there were no plans and maintenance would be a large item of expenditure. The old gateway had been taken over by the Ministry of Works as an ancient monument. 34 06 28

Robert Sayle's great reconstruction sale. On account of extensive alterations we need to move the whole of the stock and are marking goods at prices which convey positively unique values. Fully laundered linen sheets, single bed size – 21/- (£1.05). Tennis shorts of pique, white and colours 4/11 (25p). Boys' double-breasted tweed suits 10/6 (52p). Bargains from the shoe department: summer shoes to clear at 12/1 (60p) – Advertisement. 34 06 27

1934 06 28

Mr G. Lenton told Huntingdon councillors that when he started work on the farm boys left school at the age of ten, now it was twelve so two years had been lost. Unless boys could work on holidays during term from 6am to 1pm they would be useless and the farmers would like a free hand during holidays. It was not really work, but play. They earned £2-£3 during harvest time and the parents would be up in arms if this was stopped. If they did not let the boys work they would be drawn off the land and be no good to anyone. 34 06 28

1934 06 29

A shell, nine inches long was found by W.G. Collins in his garden in Alpha Road. It was of a type fired by anti-aircraft guns and in a greatly rusted condition. But it was obviously 'live' so he took it to the Police Station. There he was referred to the Drill Hall, but they didn't want it either! Eventually he took it to the Officers Training Corps for disposal. This is the second such dangerous explosive recently: two live hand grenades were found some time ago. 34 06 29

In spite of its delightfully antique appearance the inside of the new Fountain public house in St Andrew's Street is the last word in modern efficiency. Owned by William Younger of Edinburgh, the architect was C.M. Quilter and the Tudor style mirrors their other pubs up and down the country. The Scottish atmosphere is maintained by the variety of tartan panels and coats of arms which decorate the windows. 34 06 29

1934 06 29 ES

Car crashes into taproom King Charles in the Oak, Back Hill, Ely – photo 34 06 29(2)(3)UES
A remarkable accident occurred at 2:55 on Friday morning, when a motor car driven by a Fordham schoolmaster, crashed into the tap room of the King Charles in the Oak Inn in Station Road, Ely. The car knocked out the window facing Back Hill and ran straight into the room as if in a garage. The window frame with only four of the nine panes of glass broken, coming to rest by side of the vehicle, which did not stop until it struck a fixed seat at the far end of the room. The brickwork was badly smashed and some of the large cracks made in the walls extended to the bedroom above. The seats, tables, chairs, beer mugs and even the clock on the mantelpiece in the tap room were broken. Startled by the terrific noise, the landlord, Mr F.A. Clark first thought there'd been an explosion at the Gas Works or petrol station on the opposite side of the road. Downstairs, gas was escaping through a broken pipe on the ceiling and the electric-light leads on the car had fused, admitting a burning smell. The driver was found to be suffering from shock and a nasty cut. News spread rapidly and many visited the scene of the accident. 34 06 29ES

Bishop of Ely installation 34 06 29(2)ES

Ely Aero Club thrilling air display and pageant; aerobatics arranged 34 06 29ES

When Sir Alan Cobham gave his display at Ely last year he stated that his idea was for an aerodrome to be established in every town and village. So far as Ely is concerned he has been successful. For we now have the Ely Aero Club formed with the object of arousing the enthusiasm of local people and making it possible for Ely to be in the forefront of the aviation world. The club do not expect a huge membership in the first place and so have decided to give a series of air displays in the Flying Field on Downham Road. About 50 aeroplanes are expected to arrive and there will be displays of advanced aerobatics and an opportunity for joy-rides, enabling people to see Ely or their own village from the air. Three motorcars will be bombed with flour bags from swooping aeroplanes. 34 06 29ES

The peaty nature of the fen-land at Pymoor is evidenced by the fact that in several instances banks that have been fired weeks ago are still burning, in many cases fiercely. One has case has been reported of a fire which has been burning over seven months in spite of numerous efforts to put it out 34 06 29ES

1934 06 30

Alderman W.P. Spalding started the collection of portraits of Cambridge mayors at the Guildhall and it is now traditional for outgoing Mayors to present framed pictures of themselves. But one hung for many years as Charles Humfrey, Mayor 1837-38, has now been identified as being his brother. It has now been replaced. 34 06 30

Two of W.B. Redfern's collection of Cromwellian relics have returned to Cambridge. A pair of grey gauntlets and a pair of spectacles in their original fish skin case which belonged to Oliver Cromwell were purchased by Edwin Rutter and added to his museum at the Old Curiosity Shop on Trumpington Street. 34 06 30

July 1934 CDN & Ely Standard

1934 07 06

Eversden Church Farm estate houses – advert – 34 07 06

The value of old documents for genealogical and topographical purpose and as an aid to local history is too obvious to need emphasis. But there is a real danger when in many ways old order is changing, lest these valuable evidences may be unknowingly destroyed. Most solicitors' offices, particularly old established ones, have boxes and bundles of old deeds, which owing to the splitting up of estates and the closing of trusts years ago, have long lacked owners and have ceased to be of any value for proof of title. There is always a risk when the practice changes hands or in a succession of partnerships that such documents may be destroyed to make room. The Cambridge Antiquarian Society, being anxious to remove the possibility of destruction, offers its services to advise whether preservation is worthwhile. If anyone who may possess any documents will be kind enough to inform us we will arrange in due course to inspect. Furthermore if they are willing, as several owners have done, to hand over documents for safekeeping we can arrange for removal without expense. The Local Records Committee, which is been set up by the Cambridge Antiquarian Society includes solicitors, and any of us will be prepared to offer advice or further information. – E.A.B. Barnard, W.M. Palmer. 34 07 06

1934 07 07

Prickwillow vicar leaving – Hicks – 34 07 07

1934 07 10

'A shock', p10

1934 07 11

The first air display by the recently-formed Ely Aero Club attracted 2,000 people to their flying field on the Downham Road. An attractive programme of aerobatics had been billed but was marred somewhat by the non-arrival of a number of machines. Despite this the crowd had plenty of thrills and many opportunities for joy riding. Mr H.R. Dimock was the first Ely citizen to own a private plane and his activities in the air had been watched with interest. The club hoped to have its own ground, own staff and own machines. 34 07 11

The Cambridgeshire Regional Planning Report, a handsome volume illustrated with original woodcuts and photographs, contains many valuable suggestions for the development of the county. In villages the problem is not only one of controlling new development but also preventing their decay and alteration of character. Provision must be made for industrial expansion around Cambridge. The Government should construct new roads and the Roads Beautifying Association advice on the planting of verges with flowering shrubs to enhance their scenic value. 34 07 11

Longstanton church rethatched photo – 34 07 11

Spirit of Sunday – river bank scenes, p6

1934 07 13

The Burwell district nurse has been asked to resign after the arrival of her second baby and so she will have to leave the cottage, which is Burwell's war memorial. Nurse Kinloch had offered to place her children under the care of others but the County Nursing Association considers she could not give her full attention to her duties. Dr Charles Lucas, the retired village doctor has resigned in protest and a petition has been raised in her support. 34 07 13

Sturton Street chapel stone laid, p5

1934 07 13 ES

Ely Aero Club pageant at grounds on Downham Road; for second time in twelve months Ely was the centre of an air display – photo 34 07 13ES

Water restrictions enforced by Ely Urban Council, alarming drop in well levels 34 07 13(2)(3)ES

The alarming revelation that the height of water in the well at Isleham had dropped suddenly by no less than a foot in a course of a few days cause the Ely Urban District Council to issue emergency regulations prohibiting the use of water other than from domestic purposes. The Council decided to cut off supplies to those people who persist in watering their lawns and gardens and washing down cars. A considerable quantity was used at garages for that purposes and it was one of the things they could do without for the time being. One Councillor said he stopped two men washing down lorries in the market. Another important matter was the advisability of opening the new swimming pool to the public on Sunday afternoons. This provoked an animated debate and the proposal was defeated. The Surveyor reported that the process for converting house refuse and sewage sludge into a fertiliser had been demonstrated to him. In his opinion was the thing was not worth any further experiment. He understood it was an objectionable process to carry out and he thought the manure would be detrimental to farmers' machines because of the glass and tins. The Chairman said he was not impressed with the efficiency of the process. Although impressed by the odour it created 34 07 13

Robbery at Ely Cathedral, memorial window broken 34 07 13(4)ES

One of the most despicable robberies ever perpetrated was revealed during the night: somebody had broken into the Cathedral and stolen money from three offertory boxes in the nave. Fortunately all boxes were opened the previous Monday and the Pilgrims' box containing donations towards the relief of unemployed in distressed areas, which is believed to have been the thief's main attraction, has been emptied each night since the scheme commenced. The crime is rendered all the more distressing in view of the fact that access was gained by breaking the beautiful stained glass window in St. George's Chapel, which was installed by the Cambridgeshire Regiment as a memorial to all the men who gave their lives in the Great War. It was the bottom left hand panel depicting Hereward the Wake and the battle at Aldreth which was smashed, the hole measuring just over a foot across. A ladder kept in the organ, shed organ engine shed was found outside the window. The thief may have hidden inside the Cathedral awaiting his opportunity to get away as soon as the building was unlocked. 34 07 19

Theft of fowls from Lt Thetford 34 07 13(4)ES

1934 07 14

Rampton has one of two reed-thatched churches in the Diocese. The 13th-century nave roof is supposed to have been brought from Barnwell Prior at the Dissolution. It is now being rethatched, the bells rehung and a heating system installed. The cost bears heavily on a village of only 280 inhabitants and any contributions should be sent to the Rector. 34 07 14

Old University Library, p6

1934 07 18

A complaint was received about a wireless set at Downfield, Soham. This was a quiet, rural housing site where the people should be happy and comfortable. But one person had got an infernal machine called a loud speaker and was operating his wireless set at high volume. Such people should be put in the middle of a 40-acre field. Everybody paid the rent and had a right to peace and quiet, so a letter should be sent stating that the nuisance should be stopped. 34 07 18

Water supplies scheme – 34 07 18

1934 07 19

The cost of treatment of tuberculosis in Huntingdonshire is much higher than elsewhere. Many men had been treated at Papworth but others were incurable and should be removed to Wyton Sanatorium, although some questioned the advisability of having incurable adults and children in one place. Now Wyton's future was in doubt: it was a temporary building and in two years' time Yorkshire would withdraw all their children as they were building their own hospital. 34 07 19

1934 07 20 ES

Witcham church restoration nearing completion 34 07 20(3)ES

Soham death Harry Palmer 34 07 20(3)ES

Storm damage; houses struck Whittlesey, Doddington windmill, Sutton house 34 07 20(4)ES

Messrs Driver's mill at Doddington was struck by lightning. The flash passed along beam of one the sails, scattering large splinters of wood in all directions. Strangely enough, the shutters remained intact. After leaving the sail that the lightning took a downwards course and entered the mill a few feet from the ground. It seems to have circled the mill before going to earth for bricks were splintered in several parts of the circumference. 34 07 20ES

Stretham Geranium day 34 07 20(2)ES

Effects of drought seen at Stretham Show; fewer entries, vegetables good – 34 07 20ES

County Library progress; 8,688 active borrowers 34 07 20ES

1934 07 21

Sunshine home, p4

Diamond Jubilee memory – Sidney Street photo, p6

1934 07 22

Spurgeon cottages & room – photo, p6

1934 07 23

Over 10,000 people attended the Conservative fete in the delightful grounds of Harold Gray's home at the Gogs. By bus, car, and bicycle and on foot they came. Of entertainment there was almost unbelievable variety: popular music by the Soham Comrades Silver prize Band, a mixed doubles tennis tournament, clay pigeon shooting and greyhound racing with displays of physical drill by boys from Dr Barnardo's Homes. 34 07 23

An open-air peace meeting at Newmarket was told that thirteen shillings in every pound of taxes went on war, only a quarter of a farthing on peace. The League of Nations Union was non-political and non-sectarian. If anybody broke the peace of a town they were brought before the magistrates and punished, the same principal should apply to the nations of the world. As a result of the meeting nearly 20 new members were enrolled. 34 07 23

Mr Lansbury, MP, said that Labour movement had been criticised when in office, but he hoped they would capture the Saffron Walden area. They were very fortunate at having candidates like Mrs Rackham. She is a scholar who has fought for the poor and dejected and should be sent to Westminster. He was a socialist because he was sane, Labour leader George Lansbury joked while being photographed in his characteristically homely style. 34 07 23

Police refused entrance Pembroke College – 34 07 23

Haddenham – Alfred Norman killed by kick from horse – 34 07 23

1934 07 24

A good deal of controversy has been aroused amongst local anglers by a fish which was caught in the Cam by Mr F.W. Arnold. It is rather like a roach except that the colour is golden-red, similar to a carp. Some say it is a red mullet or a golden orfe. Mr Agger of the fishing depot in King Street is unable to identify it, nor are anglers with 40 years' experience. It is on show at Mr Agger's and will finally be pickled. 34 07 24

The four children of Mr H. Clark of Queen's Street, Cambridge, are very sporting. Alice, aged 21 is interested in running, while Ken, 19, is keen on billiards and won the junior Federation cup. Horace, the youngest, aged 15, is a good boxer and has won numerous school fights while Frank is one of the most versatile and goes in for swimming, running and boxing. He won several competitions while with his regiment in India. Mr & Mrs Clark are very proud of their sons and wonder if any other family can beat their all-round record. 34 07 24

1934 07 26

Ramsey abbey school future – 34 07 26

Libraries in hospitals – British Red Cross work – 34 07 26

1934 07 27

University Library last load of books, p1

1934 07 28

The 'His Master's Voice' show train arrived at Cambridge station as part of a national. It is one of the greatest collections of radio and gramophone instruments ever assembled. Visitors can see everything from a Columbia self-contained battery receiver to a luxurious ten-valve automatic record-changing radiogram. Other exhibits include a radio receive with no visible loud-speaker, the music being heard from behind the dial of an electric clock. The train carries its own power station, café and sleeping accommodation. 34 07 28

A barn, a stack-yard and two stacks were destroyed by fire on Ely Road, Stretham. Fanned by a strong wind over the fens the blaze was intense and in ten minutes the barn and stack-yard were razed to the ground. Some casual pea-pickers used the barn in which to sleep and cook their meals. A farmworker said "While working in an adjoining field, I saw a volume of black smoke suddenly shoot up into the air and burst into flames. By the time I got there the whole lot was ablaze". Some anxiety was felt for a field of wheat, already scorched by the intense heat, and farm workers cut it down. The property was owned by Mr S. Wright, of Orchard House and the stacks by Mr T. Jacobs who also lives in the village. When asked why he did not send for the Ely fire engine, Mr Jacobs said: "It cannot do any good; besides it will be a waste of valuable water". The property was insured. 34 07 28

1934 07 30

It is only a year since Sir Hugh and Lady Ripley went to reside at Brinkley Hall but they been instrumental in making village life much brighter. They have formed branches of the Women's Institute and British Legion and held a garden fete to raise funds with cocoanut shies, Aunt Sally, bowling for a pig, clock golf, treasure hunt and darts. There was a lady whose dress contained 100 pockets in which there were presents while Monty the Dalmatian invited people to guess the number of his spots. Haverhill Co-operative band played for dancing on the lawn in the evening. 34 07 30

Oswald Mosely at Wisbech, p1

Newmarket church union, p2

Cambridge anti-war council, p8

Long Road bridges scheme – 34 07 30

1934 07 31

Godmanchester worthy – J. Garner dies – 34 07 31

August 1934 CDN & Ely Standard

1934 08 01

Ely Old Dispensary reported a quiet, uneventful year's work amongst those for whose benefit the dispensary existed. The fact that 157 patients had been 'cured and relieved' was proof it still filled a useful niche in the life of the city. Cases treated included influenza, dyspepsia, rheumatism and diseases peculiar to women. But income was down: since the Addenbrooke's Hospital contributory scheme the parade did not realise anything like what it used to do. 34 08 01

Gonville and Caius College's scheme for the complete rebuilding of the block of shops and houses on the north side of Cambridge Market Hill has been finally approved. At present the site from Rose Crescent to St Mary's Court is occupied by a group of houses, mostly of the 18th century. Their disappearance will be regretted, even by those who knew how dilapidated they had become behind their neat Georgian facades. But the whole effect of the completed block should stifle these regrets. The shops will be set back seven feet with upper rooms carried on slender pillars. 34 08 01

After a history of 100 years it is hardly surprising that there is a thorough tobacco atmosphere about the shop of Messrs Bacon Bros which has stood on Market Hill since 1805 and the news that it is to be pulled down with cause regret to many. A number of ledgers over 100 years old, containing fascinating information about the smokers have come to light including the original accounts sent to C.S. Calverley whose 'Ode to Tobacco' appears on the outer wall of the shop. A new shop will be built on almost the same spot. 34 08 01

1934 08 02

A Warboys couple, Mr & Mrs Edward Upchurch have both forgotten the date of their wedding, 60 years ago. They mark the event by the fact that it was during feast week in the village that they were joined in matrimony and the feast week custom has never been broken. They were both born in the village and have lived in the area all their lives, bringing up 14 children of whom nine live to share their diamond wedding. At one time Mr Upchurch, a land worker, received only a shilling a week and the family gleaned at harvest to bake their own bread. 34 08 02

Councillors considered a scheme for compulsorily purchasing the old Post Office on the corner of Petty Cury and other properties in Sidney Street to widen the road. Cambridge could not progress unless it spent money. Money was never cheaper: the banks were bursting with it. There were the materials, the men and the money available for the work. But having compulsory orders hanging over the properties would influence the price they could be sold for. 34 08 02

Road repairs St Andrew's St – photo – 34 08 02

1934 08 03 ES

Blaze at Stretham:

Prompt action by farm hands who were working in the vicinity prevented what would have undoubtedly been a serious fire at some farm buildings on the Ely Road, Stretham. The outbreak occurred at premises consisting of a barn and stockyard owned by Miss Sarah Wright of Orchard House, and tenanted by Thomas Jacobs. Mr. Jacobs was the owner of two stacks which were destroyed by the fire. The outbreak was first noticed about 6:15pm by farm workers in an adjoining field and they immediately rushed to the spot. It was soon a roaring furnace and nothing could be done to save the buildings. Willing helpers concentrated on saving an adjoining wheat field and a large space was quickly mowed all around the fire. Fanned by a strong breeze, the flames quickly destroyed the buildings, and although part of the adjoining wheat field was scorched, the promptness of the men in mowing a space prevented a serious outbreak. 38 08 03ES

Stretham pioneer. F.W. Savidge's wonderful work among head hunters

Stretham pioneer. F.W. Savidge's wonderful work among head hunters; started schools, made grammar, administered medicine; out of population of 100,000 devil-worshippers, many embrace Christian religion. A volume is in the Press and probably before long may be ready for reading. It will be the 41st volume Savidge has been responsible for 34 08 03ES

F.W. Savidge, who was one of the two intrepid men who have done so much for the head-hunting tribes in the mountain ranges between Burman and Assam, was born at Stretham and is now living in retirement in the village.

Over 40 years ago they decided to enter the almost unknown hills and see what they could do with the barbarous people there. For two years, they were not allowed to enter as the Government feared they would be killed by the head hunting Lushai, and thus make it necessary to publish those raiders as they were British subjects.

They found when they eventually arrived a savage race who looked upon them with every suspicion. There was no written language of any kind of civilization and no knowledge even of money. The two men made a grammar and dictionary of the language, started schools and administered medicine to over a quarter of a million attendees at their dispensary.

Before they left, many of the Lushai young men had become Bachelors of Arts and Sciences of the Calcutta University. Many are fully qualified doctors and there is a scarcely a village in which there is not a member of St John's Ambulance Society. There are now amongst them schoolmasters, Christian preachers, blacksmiths, carpenters, printers, engineers, government clerks, and many other useful vocations.

Out of a population of a little under 100,000 devil-worshippers 66,000 of them have embraced the Christian religion and several of them have already gone to some of the neighbouring tribes to teach them as they themselves have been taught.

It is interesting to know that a volume showing how all this change has come about is already in the press. This will make the 41st volume that Mr. Savidge has been responsible for. 34 08 03ES

Mr. Ernest Hunter who drives an ice cream motor tricycle for Mr. H. Nunn of Sutton, on hearing a lady speak to him, held his hand up as a sign that he had heard her. Miss J. Tebbutt, who was driving her car in the direction of Haddenham mistook the signal for a sign that the man was going to turn out into the road. She turned to the side and car and tricycle came into collision. Mr. Hunter was knocked off and sustained cuts and abrasions to his face and leg, the front wheel of the tricycle was damaged and the box was smashed. The car was only slightly damaged. 34 08 03ES

1934 08 04

What Cambridge was doing when war declared, August 1914, memories of Sixth Division – 34 08 04

1934 08 06

The amazing story of a young Cambridge man's cycle raids on village churches unfolded at court. He left home in the mornings, leaving people to think he was going to work, and rode around the villages, forcing boxes, safes and drawers in the churches. He carried tools in a brown attaché case and when spoken too professed great interest in the wood carvings. He'd raided churches at Cottenham, Eltisley, Harlton and Stansted as well as stealing a collecting box from the Cathedral Café, Ely. 34 08 06

Barrington Cement Works accident, p2

1934 08 08

Constable C. Hine of St Ives police and his young lady friend, Miss Lily Wilkinson of Hartford, embarked in a punt at Huntingdon for a quiet afternoon on the river. But a stiff breeze resisted the progress of the boat as it neared the arches of the bridge and PC Hine seized a chain hanging from the stonework. At once a distressing situation developed: man and craft parted company, the policeman was left dangling in the water while the punt with its alarmed occupant, drifted away. Then a second punt, manned by two ladies rescued him from undignified plight, a reunion was affected and a car despatched for dry garments. 34 08 08

1934 08 09

Polo, Newmarket heath, p6

1934 08 10

James William Auchterlonie was for over 30 years manager and engineer of the Cambridge Town & University Gas Light Company during which the annual output has risen three-fold. He was responsible for the adoption of a co-partnership scheme by which employees as well as shareholders enjoy a proportion of the profits. After the war he received Government recognition for his services in connection with the supply of high explosives. His loss will be keenly felt in Masonic and Rotarian circles. 34 08 10

1934 08 10 ES

Sports and shows in locality gradually dying out or running at a loss, Stretham made a profit 34 08 10ES

1934 08 11

Jesus College more monastic remains – 34 08 11

Demolition corner Hobson Street – Sidney Street pic, p1

1934 08 13

Cambridge Fire Brigade averted a serious conflagration in Paradise Street. They were called to some lock-up garages beneath Messrs Coulson's stores where a lorry was found to be blazing fiercely with flames through the floor of the store above. If the fire had reached a petrol and oil store another row of garages would inevitably have become involved. Their smart work confined the damage to the lorry, which was practically burnt out. 34 08 13

S.R. Ginn, county council clerk 13 years, former Mayor – 34 08 13

1934 08 14

Death of W.E. Lilley, son of founder – 34 08 14

1934 08 16

Ye Olde Castle Hotel in St Andrew's Street was devastated by fire. Every fireman and policeman was called from other duties as smoke billowed from the gabled windows leaving people gasping at its pungency. Staff and volunteers busied themselves removing furniture. The Hotel ranked as one of the oldest inns in Cambridge, dating back to the 13th century. It was reconstructed about 1620 and the last extensive additions were in 1891. It is doubted whether it will be possible to restore the damaged parts of this historic building. 34 08 16

Stretham crash, undergraduate car overturns – 34 08 16

1934 08 17

We regret to announce the deaths of three well-known Cambridge men - Dr F.E. Apthorpe Webb, medical practitioner of Grafton House, Maids Causeway was registrar of the 1st Eastern General Hospital during the war until and later held several official appointments. Mr A.E. Chaplin, governing director of Messrs R. Sayle & Co was at one time its sole proprietor. He lost both his sons during the War and in 1919 the business became a limited liability company. Mr Haydn Inwards was for many years leader of the Cambridge University Musical Society orchestra and extremely popular with local audiences. All three were members of the Scientific Lodge of Freemasons. 34 08 17

1934 08 17 ES

Retirement C.W. Horn, well-known Upwell racing cyclist 34 08 17(3)ES

Stretham: six undergraduates escaped in two-car crash at corner new Cambridge Road both cars overturned, one burst into flames 34 08 17ES

1934 08 18

Castle inn demolition pic, p1

1934 08 23

Newmarket fire, p5

1934 08 24

Some 750 young anglers assembled on Parker's Piece and were played to the station by the band of the Boys' Brigade to catch a special train to St Ives to take part in the Albion Angling Society's annual fishing match for youngsters. The miniature army of anglers disported themselves along the river bank at Hemingford meadows. It was not unusual to see gathered in one small space at least half a dozen children with lines and rods crossed and floats completely submerged. The winners of the President's cup for the best catch were F. Parr (boys) and Marjorie Benton (girls). 34 08 24

Mitcham's Corner roundabout enlarged, pic, p1

1934 08 24 ES

Stretham: Fire in corn field on Fidwell Farm

1934 08 27

Cambridge's new fire engine, built by Messrs Merryweather, has a maximum speed of 48 mph. It carries an all-steel 85-ft ladder which can be extended in 30 seconds. At the top is a telephone to enable the fireman to communicate with the ground. Provision is made for four powerful fire-fighting jets of water. 34 08 27

Needlingworth housing, p5

1934 08 28

The renovations to St John's College have been the subject of much comment in 'The Times'. It was suggested that the two turrets at the front were in imminent danger of falling away from the main tower because of a system of main drainage 30 years ago when a trench 30 feet deep was dug along the street. But there is no evidence of settlement due to foundation trouble. The walls had shattered because of vibrations caused by street traffic. 34 08 28

The opening of the new exchange at Trumpington is the first step towards the great change-over to automatic telephones. Engineers dashed to remove the wooden plugs which set the system working and waited for the first call. Soon a line crackled and a bulb lit up. But it was a false alarm. The second caller had forgotten the changeover and, not getting a verbal answer, hung up. Twice more this happened but after eleven minutes a call came through from the Trumpington A.A. box and the new apparatus was officially launched. 34 08 28

1934 08 29

Ely Council's decision to allow the swimming baths to be used on Sunday afternoons prompted strong protests. The Railway Mission deplored it, as did Downham Baptist chapel. Haddenham Baptists say it will necessitate some amount of Sunday labour, Lt Thetford think it a retrograde step and Ely Sunday School Union thought that for the sake of the children Sunday should be preserved from worldly and secular labour. 34 08 29

1934 08 31

Poultry breeders gathered at Ely to discuss the possibilities of establishing an egg packing station to help them market their eggs. They had to bind themselves together as marketing was the most difficult thing they had to face. The depot would cost at least £1,500 to set up and there had to be a regular flow of not less than 6,000 dozen eggs per week. It was agreed to consider it further. 34 08 31

Needlingworth Parish Council protested against plans for council housing on the Bluntisham Road. The field was much too low, was subject to floods and also inconvenient as it was two miles from the church, a mile from the post office and a mile and a half from the school. The question of sewerage had also to be considered. But despite this the District Council voted to purchase the site. 34 08 27

Hunts police – memories including Seekings murder – 34 08 31

September 1934 CDN & Ely Standard

1934 09 01

Sherlock Holmes as boy, p6

1934 09 04

Market Hill changes – Bacon demolition, p5

1934 09 05

Woodlands Estate, Girton Village. This new estate comprises 9 ½ acres, situated in a beautiful wooded setting. There are 46 houses to be erected each with three bedrooms, a very fine bathroom, garage and good garden. They will have main water, gas and electric light. These artistically-built houses are only £550 freehold. There are no road or legal charges whatever. Apply to Harvey & Dodson (Builders) Ltd, 9 Llandaff Chambers, Cambridge – advert. 34 09 05

1934 09 06

At Sawston leather works the sheep skins used are mainly from New Zealand and Australia but the finest come from St Ives. When the skins get to the factory from the butcher they are fleshed and then split in two. The outer one is made into handbags and hat-bands, the inner into chamois leather for window-cleaning leathers and gloves - many of the factory employees take them home and do the sewing there. The skin trimmings are moved to the Granta works at Stapleford and processed into sheets of gelatine. 34 09 06

At Castle Camps the population of 505 people depended on a deep well pump and it was very difficult to get water. It took about 170 turns to obtain two gallons from the pump and it was the only drinking water available. The situation has become worse recently because a lot of the shallow wells had dried up. The Parish Council suggested the District Council arrange a water cart three times a week. But they would charge a penny a bucket. 34 09 06

University Library big move – 34 09 06

1934 09 07

Straw and corn sacks together with a threshing drum were destroyed in a fire on Sir Frederick Hiam's Plantation Farm at Shippea Hill. The blaze was discovered by the bailiff, Mr F.W. Convine who managed to release frightened pigs and cattle from nearby buildings. The terrific heat hampered the work of pulling the stacks down and flames which shot sky-high attracted people from their beds for miles around. 34 09 07

Milton crossing smash pic, p1

Canon Burrell, Balsham wood carver – 34 09 07

1934 09 07 ES

London man posed as canvasser for photographic firm supplying enlargements 34 09 07(2)ES

Earith diviner finds water with elm twig 37 09 07(3)ES

A water diviner visited Earith to carry out a test in connection with the provision of water. He commenced on Mr. Hall's farm near Mr. Edwards' gravel pits, and located the first stream down the roadway through the farm and soon came across three or four others. Down the other side of the farm, where water was expected, there was no response.

Mr. Goode described the weird way in which the hazel twig affected the man who was holding it. "It drew him on his knees when he had a strong stake. He got an elm twig from the hedge and it acted as successfully as did the hazel. We wanted him to trace streams so that they would come together further down, but he would not follow the stream because it was too much for him. It was too strong until he finally traced them and they came together before they left that field. We marked this place and have decided to bore and test it. There are people who ridicule the whole thing". 34 09 07ES

Spectacular Alan Cobham's air pageant re-visiting Ely – large article – 34 09 07 &(2)ES

1934 09 08

Cambridge automatic telephone exchange progress – 34 09 08

1934 09 11

The new sluice and pumping station in the Middle Level at St Germans is a really wonderful piece of engineering, probably the biggest of its kind in the whole country. The drainage of the fens has resulted in a general settlement of the land which is now below the waters in the Ouse. Now there is a reinforced concrete sluice and three Gwynnes pumps driven by Crossley Premier Diesel engines to overcome the problem. 34 09 11

1934 09 12

A quantity of earth has fallen from the sides of the Kirtling parish well and filled it up to above water level. Messrs Lack of Cottenham say cleaning it out and making good the brickwork was very dangerous and they were not prepared to undertake the work. They suggested a new borehole we sunk. A 200 gallon water cart has been hired from Pamplin Bros to distribute water from the main at Wood Ditton at a cost of one penny a pail full. 34 09 12

1934 09 13

Many thrilling flying feats were seen during Sir Alan Cobban's air display at Ely. The most popular machine was the multi-engined Handley Page 'Youth of New Zealand' in which passengers, seated in comfortable chairs in a roomy saloon enjoyed the experience of soaring over the Cathedral. Flight-Lieut Godfrey Tyson flying a 'Lincock' did aerobatics at high speed while Miss Jean Meakin's wonderful demonstration of gliding was outstanding and Ivor Price made a thrilling parachute descent. As a humorous item an old battered motor cycle was pelted with 'bombs' from the air. 34 09 13

Fascists at Newmarket, p5

Rampton barn fire – 34 09 13

1934 09 14 ES

Another wonderful aviation display ...

Thrills at Ely aerial display – photos 34 07 14 & (3)ES

Plantation Farm, Shippea Hill serious fire stackyard, destroyed threshing drum 34 09 14(4)ES

Wedding W.M. Lane, manager Fosters, to G.M. Ablett 34 09 14(5)ES

Stretham Parish Council; deplorable condition of streets; pump in Top Street to be dismantled; to purchase Grunty Fen allotments; manure dump in Chapel Square to be removed, catchwater in Green End should be fenced as a danger 34 09 14(5)ES

Peat digging in fens a lost craft, Swaffham Fen interview B. Bailey 34 09 14(6)ES

1934 09 15

Extensive repairs are being carried out to the roof of Great St Mary's church. Once again the cause is the death-watch beetle whose activities in the wooden beams have wrought tremendous havoc. The area around the chancel is in 'splints' with steel scaffolding but services are being held as usual. The church has only recently been cleaned and the organ renovated. One can only hope the ravages have been checked before they could cover the whole of the roof. 34 09 15

Work is in progress on the concrete approach road to Cambridge Water Company's new Softening Station on the Fulbourn Road. When it is finished consumers will get water having less than half the hardness of the present supply. 'Fur' and 'scale' in kettles will be greatly reduced and it will lather more easily with the almost complete absence of the unsightly curd which now forms. 34 09 15

From tomorrow night every built-up area in Great Britain becomes a 'Silence Zone' between 11.30 and 7am. This includes Cambridge so it will be illegal for a motorist to sound his horn. The regulations do not include any vehicle used for fire brigade, ambulance or police purposes if the observance would hinder its use. 34 09 15

1934 09 17

Consternation reigned when lightning struck two houses in Stretton Avenue, dislodging part of the chimney stack which damaged the roof. Soot was shot all over the place and there was a smell of gas. During the storm large hailstones fell in Grantchester while at Haslingfield Mr Norman Thompson's bus with a load of passengers was forced to stop when the hail beat a fusillade on the roof. 34 09 17

1934 09 19

For the first time in its 600 years' history, and probably the last, the old University Library has been thrown open to the public. Members of Cambridge Rotary Club have organised visits to the buildings, shrouded in antiquity, which have only been visible to members of the University and privileged guests. Now with all the books gone it does not present its traditional literary appearance but the wonderful carvings and decorations of some of the rooms remain. 34 09 19

1934 09 20

An inquest was held at Isleham School on a lad who had fallen into the river in the fen. To get to the scene Dr McFeeters had to travel two and a half miles of very bad fen road. "A car cannot travel down there in safety. I went on my bicycle because it was the quickest way of getting there and it took me 13 minutes. If there had been a main road I could have got there quicker and the result would have been rather different", he testified. Neighbours carried out artificial respiration until he got there but there was no sign of life. 34 09 20

1934 09 21

Messrs George Stace's new windows in his Petty Cury Arcade are absolutely the latest idea. They curve inwards to reduce reflections making the glass invisible. Spotlights inside, which can be given any colour, provide the perfect finish and one feels one has only to reach out and touch the articles. Showrooms upstairs have been reconstructed and one of the workrooms moved to make space room for the new arcade. 34 09 21

Who will give a start on his life's career to a young Goliath of Huntingdon who at the age of 14 weighs 16 stones and is still growing rapidly? Stanley Weaser is an ordinary, healthy young fellow with a zest for energetic recreation. He was fat as a baby, he has continued to be fat ever since. But he doesn't mind and feels none the worse for it. He possesses pronounced ability in sketching and would like to be trained as a newspaper cartoonist or, if not, a carpenter. 34 09 21

Histon Dr Houghton car accident – 34 09 21

1934 09 21 ES

New aerodrome for Feltwell, part of R.A.F expansion 34 09 21ES

1934 09 22

A pilot from the Klemann Air Services offered people flying trips in his blue Klemm monoplane from a field near the Gibbet Inn, Caxton. But he did not hold a proper licence to carry passengers for reward and the field was not approved as a regular place of landing and departure for aircraft. The landlord said the pilot had landed in his field and said he was looking to start a flying school. He had got permission from the owners, Paines the brewers, to put up an air indicator and applied to the Air Ministry for a licence which had not yet been granted. 34 09 22

Cambridge Rotary Club did a good piece of work when it undertook the organisation of the public visits to the old University Library. During the first three afternoons close on 3,000 people made the tour of inspection of these old buildings, previously closed to all but a favoured few. It appealed to all classes – old and young, tradespeople and artisans, clerks from University offices and school children. The old Pebble Court, the original centre of the University, was a special source of attraction and here Mr P.C. Fitzgerald fascinated continuous groups by his characteristic talks. 34 09 22

Life in the University would not be complete without humour, Ald Tweedy told a dinner. He mentioned a professor who was lecturing on a part of the world where men greatly outnumbered the women. "I believe that even the young women of Girton and Newnham would be able to find husbands there", he said. As a protest all the members of these colleges rose and turned to go out. "Wait a minute", said the Professor. "There's no hurry. The boat doesn't go till Friday". 34 09 22

Statues on Market Hill conduit named – 34 09 22

1934 09 24

The Cottage Home for Orphan Girls is a small house in Fitzwilliam Road, a part of Cambridge which is not generally seen by the population. Few people were aware of its existence. It seemed there were not many destitute children in Cambridge for the local cases were not numerous but it was open to orphans from anywhere. It was started by two undergraduates named Coote and Watney and the foundation stone had been laid in June 1871. 34 09 24

1934 09 27

Hot Bargains at the great re-building sale at the Peas Hill Cash Drapery Stores. Household linens, blankets, dress and underwear fabrics at knock-out prices including Wigan sheeting, Jaspe bedspreads, Gent's fancy socks, Ladies artificial silk knickers (slightly fleeced) and interlock woven pyjamas. From college hire, 50 pairs of single bed sheets, once used and laundered, from 3/6 each. Six dozen heavy white Turkish Towels (one used and laundered) nine-pence three-farthings each. – Advertisement. 34 09 27

For the convenience of people wishing to travel to Newmarket races by air, the Stewards of the Jockey Club have approved the laying out of a private landing ground on the exercise ground north-east of the Rowley Mile Stand. It will be open each race day. No hangars have been erected but picketing gear and chocks will be available. Petrol and oil can be obtained by arrangement with Turner and Hore, Heath Garage. Charges will be two-and-six for landing plus one-shilling a head for all occupants. 34 09 27

1934 09 28

Thousands packed the area around Mill Pool and gathered on Silver Street Bridge to watch a demonstration of the new fire engine. The most thrilling display was lifesaving by the Davey apparatus as 'victims' were lowered from the roof of the Mill Lane Examination Rooms. The only flaw in the organisation was that the spectators were not warned when the water tower was set in use with the result that many, especially women and children, had a soaking. 34 09 28

1934 09 28 ES

St Germans pumping station opening – detailed article 34 09 28 & (2)(3)ES # c.29

Crash of giant air liner that took passengers at Ely air pageant 34 09 28(4)ES

Dead fish, Adelaide Bridge 34 09 28(4)ES

More pure water for Ely Urban District? 34 09 28(5)ES

1934 09 28

Today marks the culmination of an undertaking equal in importance with those of the pioneers of fen drainage to the Middle Level Area. The giant St Germans Pumping Station and Sluice will be officially opened by the Minister of Agriculture. The new pumping station is a marvel of military engineering. Great care has been taken to secure a dependable foundation for the pumping station with thousands of reinforced concrete piles carried down to the Kimmeridge clay. The engine-houses are single storey buildings equipped with powerful engines attached to a huge pumps of the centrifugal type. They are the largest that have been constructed: a motor car may be driven comfortably through the opening. 34 09 28

October 1934 CDN & Ely Standard

1934 10 01

Gas Light Company centenary dinner – 34 10 01

Police inspector George Abbot retires – 34 10 01

Cambridgeshire Regiment signal section reunion – 34 10 01

1934 10 02

Sir. Since the demolition of the military aerodrome at the end of the war, Newmarket has taken a back seat in aviation activities because of the possible danger of aircraft upsetting nervous racehorses. But the opening of the special landing ground on the Heath may dispel the fears of trainers. Newmarket has a bigger call for speedy air transport than most towns. Bury St Edmunds will soon become an airport, Cambridge has the advantages of a splendid flying school and there is an Aero Club at Ely. Now perhaps we may look forward to a local flying club here – Edward Milner, Heath Villa, Newmarket. 34 10 02

Histon new football stand, p6

1934 10 04

Sir – since the Eastern Counties Company bought the Cambridge bus service the wages of conductors have started at nine pence and drivers ten pence per hour. Recently pressures have increased as buses are larger than formerly and faster times demanded from drivers. But now the Company have announced restrictions of the overtime which many of the men have always worked since they are buying homes. It does not seem right that more arduous service is rewarded by lower wages – R. Pascal, Cambridge. 34 10 04

Dant's ferry bridge path widened, p5*

1934 10 05

A report on Ely sewers in 1910 showed they were badly planned and imperfectly constructed, being carried not along the roadways but behind houses and through gardens. In some instances houses have been erected immediately over sewer mains. Since then a few had been relayed. In 1885 some sewerage works were put down at Willow Walk which created a great nuisance to many people living in the area, an Inquiry was told. 34 10 05

1934 10 05 ES

Opening St Germans pumping station 34 10 05 &(2)(3)(4)(5)ES

Ministry inquiry into Ely's proposed sewerage system; history of the present system 34 10 05(6)ES

Sutton Hospital parade 34 10 05(7)ES

Fenland Research Committee – lecture by Gordon Fowler 34 10 05(7)ES

Major Gordon Fowler, who has acquired a national reputation by his discoveries in the fens, particularly in his recognition of the course of extinct waterways, said a Fenland Research Committee was formed largely on the initiative of Dr Grahame Clark, Mr Miles Burkett, and Dr. H Godwin. At present, it had 34 members, including pre-historians, paleo-botanists, geologists, geomorphologists, archaeologists, physical anthropologists, historical geographers, historians, and antiquaries. The basic principle of the committee was cooperation to research in all matters relating to the fens.

Members initiated their own research work, but in the course of it they took note of all phenomenon outside their own science and once drew the attention of those members in whose special line, they might happen to be. The final result was nothing that might contribute to general knowledge, or that particular work which a member was engaged on, was overlooked. Also the differences of opinion as to the conclusions to be come to are thrashed out before publication. A member, initiating any particular research published his results in some suitable periodical, and included in his paper the contributions of any of his fellow members who have cooperated with him. In this way all members are kept posted with their fellows' work and will eventually have a body of scientific information at their disposal, covering almost all the various aspects of the region 34 20 05(7)

Ely Rural District application to increase water supply 34 10 05(8)ES

Ministry inquiry into Ely's proposed sewerage system; history of the present system 34 10 05(6)ES

A Ministry inquiry into Ely Urban District's proposed sewerage system was told the Ouse Catchment Board had given consent for proposed new rising main crossing the River Lark and the Old West rivers. A great part of the proposed main would go across country outside the district. The original water scheme applied to eight of the 14 parishes in the Rural District and extended to all parishes.

In recent years, owing to the considerable extensions which had been made, and to the drought of 1933, the seven inch rising main had been taxed to its utmost capacity. In the summer of 1932 the pumps were working continuously for no less than 75 consecutive days, and consumption at times exceeded the capacity of the main. They were advised to make provision for an average of supply of no less than 300,000 gallons a day.

Residents in the areas concerned were dependent for their supplies on water from rivers, fen drains or watercourses. These sources are invariably polluted or were unsuitable for the water to be used for human consumption. Without financial assistance in the Ministry of Health, and the County these areas would not be provided with a pipe supply.

Although it was a fen district, it was a waterless district, and in consequence had to be supplied with water from a distance. A pumping station was established outside the rural district in the Mildenhall area.

The time had now arrived when the seven inch main was insufficient to carry the water necessary to supply the area. It needed an eight inch main which would pass principally through Newmarket District, and pumped direct to Haddenham water tower, the highest point in the Ely rural district. There were prospects of some new industries being brought into this little area and some contemplation of a sewerage system for Littleport and Sutton, which would probably increase the demand for Water.

During the summer, Ely Urban Council had issued notices to the effect they might have to restrict their water supply. How could they anticipate supplying the Rural area if they could not supply themselves.

Ely telephone exchange 34 10 05(9)(10)ES

The wonders of the telephone service were revealed to councillors when they spent two hours at Ely Post Office telephone exchange. They learned about the intricacies of a really marvellous system, which is becoming more and more indispensable in these modern days when rapid communication means so much particularly in business. It was the first day of telephone week signalling the introduction of sweeping reduction in the charges which are part of great campaign to popularise the telephone. The Isleham, and Pymoor rural automatic exchanges will also be open inspection.

At the exchange female operators sat before a complicated-looking switchboard busily engaged in attending to the frequent calls of subscribers. They carried on unperturbed by what was happening around them. After much persuasion, the late Bishop had had the telephone exchange installed at the Palace. But he would not give his number to anyone. So the clergy could not get in touch with him if their wives were ill, if the churches were burning or if any disaster be failed them. The new Bishop had allowed his name and number to be included in the directory. 34 10 05(9)(10)ES

Marvels of modern milling at Clarke & Butcher's, Soham – detailed article 34 10 05(12)(13)(14)ES

Ely Cathedral first broadcast 34 10 05(15)ES

Soham Comrades Silver Prize Band, Crystal Palace 34 10 05(15)ES

Glimpses of Old Ely

Glimpses of Old Ely – photo of shunting staff at on no.3 siding of the Ely station Goods Yard shows part of the shunting staff. Standing on the engine are Driver Gray and his fireman, both of Cambridge. The names of the others, left to right are: Shunters C. Bunting (now living at March), A. Brown and G. Golding (deceased), Inspr. S. French (deceased), Shunters H. Cooper, J. Rowell, R. Williams and W. Bailey – photo 34 10 05(17)ES

1934 10 06

The possibility of diverting much of the heavy North Road traffic which streams almost unceasingly through the centre of Huntingdon was aired. But a by-pass was a long way off. There were too narrow roads and two dangerous corners. It was possible to use compulsory powers to widen George Street but Hartford Road corner was far more dangerous. Quite a number of pavements were smashed since many vehicles were so big they could not get round, which caused a danger to pedestrians, councillors were told. 34 10 06

The dog trough which stands outside Lloyds Bank in Victoria Road has been in position for some weeks. It was erected by His Royal Highness Prince Chula of Siam in memory of Tony, a dog which gave him friendship and happiness during his Cambridge years. The Prince 'went down' some time ago but left the money for the trough to be erected. 34 10 06

The death occurred with tragic suddenness of Archibald Marshall, the novelist, who had rooms in Panton Street. Educated at Trinity College he contributed to The Granta and then worked on newspapers. He became well-known for his novels, writing one a year. He started in 1899 with 'Peter Binney, undergraduate'. 34 10 02

Soham cemetery consecrated, p3

1934 10 08

Houghton Mill Restoration Committee was formed after they heard that the mill was either to be allowed to fall down or to be pulled down. But it would have cost more to demolish than to leave it where it was. They raised £150 but then wondered what to do and it was a miracle they should hear that the Youth Hostel Association might use it, Mr Whympers said when he unveiled the familiar 'Y.H.A.' sign on the building. Mr Chopping had been the last man to be employed grinding flour in the mill and supplied the key to visitors wishing to look over it. 34 10 08

Undergraduates' luggage, pic, p1

1934 10 09

Kneesworth bungalow fire, p1

1934 10 10

'Overture to Cambridge' had its premiere at the Festival Theatre. The play, written and produced by the Director, Joseph Gordon Macleod, exposes the pettiness of Town Gown and University. It tells of an invalidated idealistic Mayor who comes to be regarded as a madman. His wife is killed in a car accident, his daughter becomes deranged and he falls to his death whilst addressing a meeting after being 'debagged' by a crowd of undergraduates. As he hovers between life and death he sees the future, with people living in the co-operative ideal which he preached. 34 10 10

Whittlesford cottage blaze, p1

Fairhaven tapestry, p2

Chesterton churchyard sheep pic, p6

1934 10 12

Trumpington churchyard had been in a deplorable condition: 17 loads of rubbish had been removed and they had burnt shrubs, bushes and ivy for four days. After clearing they had left the land fallow until the autumn when grass was set. The new churchyard was not in quite so bad a state: Ted Peters spent two days a week there and had made a transformation, a public meeting was told. 34 10 12

'The Close' in Bridge End, Saffron Walden, the timbered skeleton of a Tudor house which was recently restored to light after being hidden for 200 years has been sold. The purchaser, Sir Ralph Harwood, Deputy Treasurer to the King, wanted to buy the whole site and carry out restoration on the spot. But he could not come to terms with the ground landlord so the remaining framework will be taken down and reassembled elsewhere. He has also acquired the Monks' Barn at Newport, once used as a sanatorium. 34 10 12

There was great rejoicing among members of the Sturton Street Methodist Church at the opening of the new school hall adjoining the chapel. The building, which seats about 200 and has a fine platform and convenient ante-rooms, was beautifully decorated with flowers for the occasion. It was opened by Arthur Harding, the senior trustee, who has been associated with the church for 37 years. He hoped it would be of great service amongst young people. 34 10 12

Stretham accident, p5*

1934 10 13

The death of Willie Clarkson, the London theatrical costumier and make-up expert, recalls two of the greatest hoaxes of the century. The hero of the famous visit of the Sultan of Zanzibar to Cambridge and of the Abyssinian dignitaries to the Dreadnought was H. De Vere Cole. But he would not have escaped exposure but for Mr Clarkson's masterly make-up. He became more famous than many of the actors and actresses who he costumed and gowned during his association with the stage. 34 10 13

The Perne Road Estate. Charming modern houses from £400 freehold. Every house contains entrance hall, drawing room, kitchen, dining room, three bedrooms, bathroom, separate W.C., H. & C. Water. Room for car. Small deposit (£25). Terms from 13/2 (65p) per week. Over 40 already sold. Drivers, Estate Agents – advertisement. 34 10 13

Sir – I do not think it is right for sheep to be grazing in the old Chesterton churchyard. They are prowling all over the mounds, damaging and eating shrubs that were planted to be living monuments to loved ones. If the church council cannot afford to have the churchyard groomed, only by sheep grazing, I say to the Vicar and his flock 'Band yourselves together with sickles in your hands to make the hallowed ground look trim and neat' - Harry Pitt. 34 10 13

Cambridge trees, p1

Cambridge firemen pic, p5*

1934 10 16

Col Roscoe Turner and Clyde Pangbourn, the Americans, arrived at Mildenhall for the England to Melbourne air race. Their plane, a huge dull grey Boeing Transport, was the 15th to reach Beck Row. Another machine landed on the old aerodrome at Conington. No damage was done, the monoplane being forced down through engine trouble. The pilot was Mr Lowdell, and the 'plane has been entered by Lord Nuffield. Mechanics were at work on the machine early this morning. Competitors are to see a film of the route to Australia at Mildenhall Town Hall on Thursday. 34 10 16

F.J. Tuck, p5

1934 10 17

Godmanchester problems, p5

1934 10 18

Rock Estate Library approved – 34 10 18

Barley shop theft – 34 10 18

1934 10 19

Fred Tuck was a great performer on the concert platform. 'Funny Fred' was a comedian but also a conjurer, juggler, tumbler, raconteur and trick cyclist. His most popular character was that of an old-fashioned clown in traditional make-up. His most famous trick was to balance a burning newspaper, made into a cone, on his nose until it had practically burnt out. He would make his exit balancing a chair on his nose, or the table he had been using for his tricks, if it was not too heavy. 34 10 19

Cambridge University Department of Zoology's new building looks rather like the upper decks of some huge liner when viewed from Corn Exchange Street. It has been built of concrete and steel so that should the study of zoology ever fall in favour it can be adapted for other purposes. Inside it is possible to be perspiring in tropic heat in one moment and shivering in Artic cold the next. The Elementary Laboratory, the largest of its kind in the world, is on the ground floor so that the vibration caused by students entering and leaving should not be felt throughout the building. 34 10 19

Prince inspects planes 34 10 19, 34 10 20

1934 10 19 ES

Opening of the Hereward School, March 34 10 19(3)ES

Haulage licence applications 34 10 19(5)ES

Stretham & Thetford Nursing Association annual meeting 34 10 19 &(2)(ES)

Ely Public Room has reopened as a modern cinema.

This week has seen the reopening as a modern cinema of the Public Room, Ely, which has thus come into its own more as an entertainment house in the city. Externally the building has undergone very few alterations, apart from lighting and neon sign improvements, but the interior has been completely renovated, and in some instances remodelled.

A new proscenium front has been erected with an attractive blue and light-and-dark-blue colour scheme. A new screen has been fitted well back on the stage to allow the room to be used for concert and theatrical purposes should occasion arise.

The interior stairway which went to the balcony has been removed, and the balcony has been built-in for the operating box and winding room, access to which is gained by the stairway from the front of the building. In the operating box the Film Industries apparatus was used at the Rex Theatre until recently, has been installed, having been thoroughly modernised before being rebuilt in its new home. In place of the old floor there is now a sloping floor with one central gangway, and 280 tip-up plush chairs have been installed. The pay box and ladies and gentlemen's cloakrooms have also been included in the general scheme of improvement. The whole building has been made comfortable and cosy. "Damage to Lives", the film, which is being shown that this week, is proving a great attraction for the opening and drawing a grand house each evening. 34 10 19(4)ES

Sir

Before motor cars were so extensively used Ely High Street was practically packed on Thursdays, with new agricultural implements for sale, and, owing to the obstruction caused, the practice was stopped. Now the traffic is very intense on a market day but still there appear to be more goods displayed on the roads and paths than ever.

An Act of Parliament has caused butchers to keep their meat behind glass windows, and I contend that the present state of affairs is grossly unfair to them, and to all traders who keep their goods behind their own glass. If a tradesman has not sufficient room to show off his goods, then he must enlarge his premises and pay rates accordingly. Now the idea is to obtain a small shop, with a low assessment, and exhibit more goods on the public highway than are in the shop.

Another nuisance to pedestrians is the number of trade bicycles that are allowed to accumulate on the paths and gutter. In a certain part of High Street it is necessary to step off the path when passing a lady. I should like to congratulate the people concerned in the excellent lighting of the city but I am afraid the crazy pavements will always be with us.

Very few people are aware that the clock on the Public Room is the property of the city. It would be interesting to know whether permission has been given to attach advertisement to it, and if so why.
Ratepayer . 34 10 19

1934 10 20

Mildenhall air race to Australia, p1

King's visits to Cambridge – 34 10 20

1934 10 22

Thousands greeted the King and Queen when they made their way to the new University Library. Washing and cooking alike was forgotten in hundreds of homes as women formed a great part of the crowds which were thickest in Trinity Street where undergraduates in cap and gown added to the number. Of all the wonderful products of man's skill in art and labour the Library must rank of one of the most inspiring and peculiarly permanent of our national institutions and with while clouds scudding over its lofty tower this unique building occupied the centre of a delightful scene. An exceptionally good film of the visit, taken by Gaumont especially for the Victoria Cinema will be shown next week. 34 10 22 & 25

1934 10 25

Ramsey Abbey school, p5

King's visit on screen, p5*

1934 10 26 ES

Hoard of Roman coins unearthed at Linwood Farm, March 34 10 26 &(2)ES

A hoard of nearly 1,000 Roman coins has been turned up by plough, on Linwood Farm, March, the property of Mr. W.H. Mitcham. Mr A. Moate was 'duckfooting' the land, proprietary to putting in wheat, when he noticed the remains of an earthen web pot shattered into scores of pieces in a field that had been ploughed some months earlier. Several years ago, the land was ploughed considerably deeper than this time. The pot was initially thought as of no consequence but amongst its ruins were hundreds of Roman coins, some in an extraordinary fine state of preservation. When a search was made for further coins, another 100 were found, making about 950 in all. Major Gordon Fowler of the The Fenland Preservation Committee conveyed the coins to the Museum of Archaeology Cambridge. No signs of a contemporary occupation site could be found in any of the neighbouring fields though other finds have been made in the same farm in previous years. 34 10 26 &(2)ES

Regional planning in Cambridgeshire: review of valuable report 34 10 26(3)ES

Regional planning in Cambridgeshire: review of valuable report

The Cambridgeshire Regional Planning report prepared after five years of investigation and research is a book that contains a wealth of information for the people of Cambridge. The work is comprehensive and includes maps, diagrams and photographs giving suggestions for priorities under the Town and Country Planning Act of 1933

It is an extremely valuable guide those who are interested in town planning, particularly property owners and those connected with the building trade or the development of land.

It is regrettable that Isle of Ely is not included in the report, but the finding apply locally.

The report is divided into four main parts the first of which describes the rivers, dikes and topography, the resulting nature of the soil and its effect on cultivation. This is followed by an historical outline of the growth of towns and villages, how drainage influenced them, the main lines of communication and the development of agriculture

Part two deals with regional planning and proposes new roads, diversions and level crossings improvements which s particularly reference to relevant to the fen area. It involve short by-passes with the new road elevated to bridge over the railway. Areas are reserved for factories, areas for shops, and areas for purely residential development. It is intended to govern the number of buildings permitted on each acre of land in order to secure proper sanitary provision by preventing overcrowding, and protect the amenities of any district in which development is likely to take place. Part three deals with more practical nature of town planning such as controlling development, the design of buildings and the preservation of the countryside. This includes the control of advertisements which often spoil pleasant surroundings with their deplorable ugliness.

The present century has given us the motor car and we demand good roads. Petrol filling stations are particularly referred to; they should be set back clear of the road, harmonise with the surroundings.

34 10 26(3)ES

England to Australia air race start – photo 37 10 26(4)ES

1934 10 27

Preservation Society on planning, p5

Cambridgeshire YHA group inaugurated, p5

1934 10 31

Rotarians backed plans for the establishment of a Cambridge Folk Museum where objects of historic interest could be preserved for future generations. The growth of centralised industry was flooding the countryside with machine-made goods superseding those produced locally. There were many toys such as hoops, whip-tops, marbles and bar-and-trap which were being discarded that should find a place there, Coun. E.S. Peck said. 34 10 31

Wicken bus, p2

Peace ballot, p5

Scientists and war, p5

November 1934 CDN & Ely Standard

1934 11 02

Branch Cut bridge at Padnal was originally constructed by the South Level Commissioners in 1827 and kept in repair until recently. A little while ago it collapsed and was now barely passable even for foot passengers whereas in the past it had always been maintained for wheeled traffic. It was a great benefit to all engaged in farming in the area between Littleport and Ely and its present condition was a scandal, councillors were told. 34 11 02 & a

Suicide Douglas Gavin Reid. 34 11 02b, 34 11 03, 34 11 12

Cambridgeshire typhoid danger: wells that may get polluted. 34 11 02c & d

1934 11 02 ES

Littleport & Downham Commissioners; possibility of heavy expenditure at Ten Mike Bank pumping station where 22-year-old boilers becoming worse for wear 34 11 02ES # c.29

Ely councillors received a petition from dwellers in Littleport Padnal and Ely Padnal respecting the decayed condition of the Branch Cut Bridge. It was originally constructed by the South Level

Commissioners. The Branch Cut was made under the provisions of the South level act 1827. It had been kept in repair by the South Level Commissioners and their successors, the Ouse Drainage Board until recently when the bridge collapsed. At the present time it was barely possible even for foot passengers whereas in the past it had always be maintained for wheel traffic. The present condition of the bridge was a great handicap to farming other businesses and they asked for maintenance of the bridge, which in its present condition was a scandal to the district 34 11 02(3)ES

Ely Rural District water supply committee considered a petition signed by occupiers of property at Witchford asking for the erection of a standpipe somewhere near the centre of the village. They recommended that a standpipe at Ten Mile Bank, Littleport, which was now little used, be removed to Witchford at the junction of the Stretham and Grunty Fen Road with Main Street. They also received particulars of a type of indicator suitable for communicating the water level at Haddenham Water Tower to the Pumping Station at Beck Row. The Post Office would install an exchange line from the tower to Haddenham Exchange at their normal tariff rate with an additional charge for a switch termination. The cost had been included in the estimates at the time of the new mains. It was agreed to proceed 34 11 02(3)ES

The Way to Kill Rats

Many weird and ingenious appliances have been devised to kill rats but is left to the chemist to produce a really effective measure to cope with such formidable vermin.

A Scottish chemist has invented a preparation more deadly than any old-fashioned methods. Not only was it instantly fatal but it was definitely fascinating to rats.

When a small portions of it was spread on bread and laid near rat runs the deadly fascination of Rodine proved irresistible to the rodents. Farmers who were amongst the first to give it a try and were amazed to find whole colonies of rats wiped out in a night by this amazing raticide. At factories and dwelling houses similar results were observed. Soon the importance of Rodine in dealing with the nuisance was officially recognised by sanitary authorities and public bodies.

A raticide which has unquestionably accounted for many millions of rodents should be a big part in the rat war and it is no exaggeration to say that if every owner or occupier of land or premises infected these vermin responded by buying and using a tin of Rodine the present rat population estimated at over 70 million would be enormously diminished. 34 11 02(2)ES

1934 11 03

The Cambridge Social Club, all that survived of the old Liberal Club in Downing Street, has been wound up. It moved to Market Passage and for the last five years old party labels have gone by the board. Each year it has been difficult making ends meet but happily the club finished up free from debt. The Ranjitsinhji Billiards Bowl has been offered to the Central Conservative Club and the portrait of its donor to the Hobbs' Pavilion. 34 11 03a

Hardwick village hall, p3

1934 11 05

Alex Spalding's Mayoral year of office reviewed. 34 11 05 & a

1934 11 06

Cambridge saw one of the most riotous celebrations of the 'Fifth' for many years. In the course of demonstrations around Market Hill nearly 40 arrests were made, many of the police lost their helmets, several more had their tunics ripped right down the back and not a few sustained split knuckles and bruises. When supplies of fireworks began to run low parties of undergraduates attempted to put out every light but carried their efforts too far and smashed the glass of two shop windows and the traffic signal at the top of Petty Cury. There were 35 defendants including seven for assaults on the police, three for resisting the police a number for obstructing the police. Other summonses were for extinguishing street lamps and throwing fireworks. A Trinity undergraduate was fined for 'tipping' a policeman's helmet. Several times during the hearing there were outbursts of laughter. 34 11 06a & b

1934 11 07

The All People's Association Cambridge clubhouse was opened by the Vice Chancellor. One of the chief functions of a university was to attract people of all kinds and nations. There were a large number of foreign students here for short periods and colleges made the position rather difficult for a young man brought up in a different tradition. The A.P.A. was doing good work by taking a special interest in the short-term student. The world had gone mad: it was depressing to find principles of liberty of speech and the freedom of the press going by the board. The next 20 years were going to be the most vital in the history of humanity and we must make a serious attempt to understand the other fellow's point of view. 34 11 07 & a

Bus and lorry collide, Hills Road – pic – 34 11 07b

1934 11 09 ES

Soham shops assessment, improvements, demolitions 34 11 09ES

1934 11 14

New Ouse Catchment Board meets. IEA 34 11 14 & a

1934 11 14

New Vice-Chairman of Ouse Catchment Board: Heber G. Martin. 34 11 14

1934 11 08

Dufay film Sawston factory lecture – 34 11 08

1934 11 09

Alderman Ralph Starr Mayor – profile – 34 11 09 & a & b

1934 11 09 ES

Soham shops assessment, improvements, demolitions 34 11 09ES

1934 11 10

Poppy Day collectors had to contend with a dismal downpour of rain. But a large crowd gathered on Senate House Hill to await the arrival of a self-styled 'Hitler' who was due to open the Caius Fun Fair. When he did come, by car, he brought a procession of about a dozen cars in his wake, all containing weird and wonderful characters. The obstinate mule, which last year lay down in the road and refused to get up until tempted by a coin, was less obstinate on the present occasion, for the wet and muddy road was hardly a pleasant bed. 34 11 10 & a

1934 11 12

Several hundred people joined in a peace meeting on Parker's Piece organised by the Cambridge Anti-War Council and the University Anti-War Movement before marching in a torchlight procession to the War Memorial. The procession, some 300 strong began their march along Mill Road, increasing in size as it went along. But they missed the turning into Tenison Road and crossed Mill Road Bridge before winding its way round the back streets to the War Memorial. They laid a wreath 'To those of all countries who fell in the last war from those who are pledged to prevent another'. 34 11 12c

Until recently it was customary for some of the Cambridge Corporation documents to be in the private possession of the town clerk. When Thomas Yorke died in 1756 he had a large quantity of treasurer's accounts in his possession. His executor put them into a chest in St Michael's Church for safe keeping, but then he died and nobody claimed them. They did not belong to the parish and when space was wanted the clerk was authorised to sell them as waste paper. John Bowtell, the University bookbinder, bought the whole lot, Dr Palmer told the Women's Luncheon Club. They were now preserved in Downing College. 34 11 12a & b

Wesley Church memorial Cambridge Brotherhood WWI 34 11 12d

Sidelights post, p8

1934 11 15

Pedestrian crossings, p6

1934 11 16

The new Scott Polar Research Institute was opened by the Chancellor of the University, the Rt Hon Stanley Baldwin. It was founded as a memorial of Capt Robert Falcon Scott to assist polar exploration by collecting information and providing a centre where those contemplating future explorations can profit by the experience of those who have gone before. Later Baldwin opened the new extensions of the Perse School buildings. 34 11 16a

Road vibration caused by heavy traffic near Ely Cathedral could be eliminated by means of wood paving, a meeting was told. They had considered constructing a new road to divert traffic away but so many buildings might have to be swept away that the cost would be tremendous. The widening of the road near the cathedral had also been considered but would not be worth the tremendous amount of money required. 34 11 16b

Ely councillors considered the advisability of having traffic lights at the Lamb Corner. But they were more necessary at the junction of Nutholt Lane and Lynn Road where there had been many accidents avoided by sheer luck. There was often someone on duty at the Lamb Corner to direct traffic, but there was no one at the junction of Nutholt Lane and Lynn Road and this was a far more dangerous corner, particularly at this time of the year with the beet traffic that went that way and it was the worst death-trap in city. The wood block system introduced in High Street Wisbech had eliminated the vibration caused by heavy motor traffic and the same system should be applied to the Gallery where it would do much to save the Cathedral from the vibration of heavy traffic. The County Council had considered putting down another road to take traffic away from the Cathedral but the cost was prohibitive. 34 11 16

1934 11 16 ES

Soham church thefts 34 11 16(3)ES

1934 11 17

Sensational revelations concerning Germany's war plans were made at a meeting in Cambridge Guildhall. Speaking to the University League of Nations Union, Mr Wickham Steed, a former editor of The Times, said they had imported enough arsenic ore to make poison gas sufficient to swamp Europe twice over. The next war is likely to come without warning and many be commenced by an overwhelming night attack. General Goering, at the Nazi Air Ministry has built 85 underground aerodromes this year and had at least 2,000 aeroplanes, he claimed. 34 11 17 & a

Oliver Cromwell's hat is to stay in Cambridge. When put up for auction last April it was withdrawn at £25. But now it has been purchased by Mr E. Rutter of Ye Olde Curiosity Shop and Museum, Trumpington Street. The hat has a very large flat brim and tapering crown. It has been handed down through several generations of the Constable family who ran a very old established hat maker's business where Cromwell left the hat when he was up at Sidney Sussex College. It will be placed alongside other Cromwell relics including his gauntlet gloves and spectacles. 34 11 17c

Perse School extensions opened by Stanley Baldwin – 34 11 17b

1934 11 20

Ely Hospital of St Mary Magdalene stone from Etheldreda Abbey – 34 11 20 & a

A stone in the wall of the building which is supposed to embody the remains of the ancient Hospitalist of St Mary Magdalene at Ely is thought by Dr Lewis Cobbett of Cambridge to be a remnant of Etheldreda's Abbey. It is his theory that the stone belongs to the monastery which the saint founded and that it was probably carved in the title of one of her successors.

Dr. Cobbett discussed this opinion when he lectured to Ely Field Club on the remains of the hospitals of John the Baptist and St. Mary. The latter he believed to be contained in a barn.

At the top of an arch was a square stone obviously not part of the church at all, but taken from some older building. This stone he believed was of Saxon date and was from Etheldreda's Abbey, not necessarily the one she built but that which was there until it was destroyed by the Danes. It then remained in a wilderness state for 100 years and when restored became a Benedictine abbey for men only. He had shown diagrams to some of the best experts in Saxon art and all agreed it was eighth century.

Carving on the stone seems to represent an animal of some sort with horns. But the sculptor was not a very skilful person. A man seems to be sitting on the animal facing the tail and holding a great trumpet shaped like an elephant's tusk.

At the outset he mentioned that the two hospitals had been known to exist from 13th century. They were not places for the treatment of the sick but for monks and clerics to live in. The hospitals continued as one institution until the time of the dissolution of the monasteries. The Hospital of St John - the name of St. Mary having dropped out – was given to Clare College Cambridge

At some time the church, which he believed to have been the chapel of St. John, was turned into a farmhouse. The building which he took to have been St. John's Hospital was on the old Cambridge Road which ran past St. John's farm. He ventured to say that St. Mary's Hospital stood quite close and the chapel was a barn on the farm.

About 130 yards away was what was thought to have been St Mary's Chapel. It had a recess 10 to 12 feet wide as though a great chancel arch had been there. This he thought was an open gate cut right through the wall for waggons, and it was closed up with a thin wall and another gate cut. He thought the building ceased to be a chapel long before the Reformation. 34 11 20 & a

1934 11 23 ES

Sedge Fen tragedy, Chivers Factory 34 11 23(2)ES

An inquest was held into the death of the mechanic, who lost his life when a pulley wheel burst at Messrs. Chivers factory, Sedge Fen.

An engineer said he had been carrying out work on a sentinel tandem compound steam engine, which was to be used in place of a gas engine for generating electrical power. The flywheel and driving wheel would have to be reversed in order that it would drive a dynamo. Next morning, he found that the flywheel had been fixed in its new position except for keying. He helped with the assembly of the belt pulley holding the flanges while deceased did the bolts up. They afterwards attended to the inside of the engine. The engine was started up and kept running slowly for five minutes. He then shut off the steam for a little and as the engine was slowing down, he heard a loud bang and looking round he saw the pulley had disintegrated. When the wheel flew to pieces, the man who was standing in direct line with it received terrible injuries. The Jury returned a verdict of death from misadventure. 34 11 23ES

Fire above Cass & Co garage, Ely 34 11 23(2)ES

Fire broke out on the premises above the showrooms of Messrs. Cass's garage at St. Mary's Street, Ely. The prevention of what might well have been a serious conflagration must be credited very largely to the City of Ely Fire Brigade. The premises were occupied by the manager and his wife who immediately took double precautions by summoning the Fire Brigade and giving instructions for the cars in the show rooms below to be removed from all possible danger. Examination proved that the fire was confined to the floorboards underneath a newly installed stove. It was quickly extinguished. 34 11 23(2)ES

Haddenham buys March's old steam fire engine – photo 34 11 23(4)ES

For many years the pride of the March Fire Brigade, the old steam engine which for 12 years had protected the Urban District from fire has found a new home at Haddenham. March having acquired another fire engine of the most up-to-date type., the old steamer came under the auctioneer's hammer and was purchased by representatives of Haddenham Parish Council for £15. The picture shows the scene at the sale and the three Haddenham men who made the purchase 34 11 23(4)ES

1934 11 24

The old-established business of Messrs Robert Sayle has been acquired by Selfridge's Provincial Stores but the name remains, the General Manager remains and the staff remains – "I like the look of them and the merchandise is tastefully displayed", said H.G. Selfridge, junior. He studied at Trinity and was treasure of the Boat Club Ball in 1920-21 when it was held for the first time in a marquee at the college, instead of in the Corn Exchange. 34 11 24

"This is the first time in history that a water company has of its own free will undertaken the softening of its supply", the Chairman of the Cambridge Waterworks Company said at the laying the foundation stone of its new water-softening station on Fulbourn Road. Cambridge water is abundant and pure but being drawn from a chalk formation is of necessity hard in quality. A considerable number of private water-softening plants have been installed but these will soon not be worth their salt and people should ignore the blandishment of salesmen. 34 11 24b

There have never been more than 15 Japanese undergraduates at Cambridge in any year since the war – there are currently seven and the number may drop to three. But Mr M.Y. Sawatake is prepared to stay on to form a Japan Society to encourage discussion and understanding of topics of mutual interest. Viscount Hijikato, another undergraduate, said it was a pity the added expense of the exchange rate prevented more coming as undergraduates. The supply will not dry up altogether as long as Cambridge welcomed Japanese students: apart from instruction in economics and the sciences it was the atmosphere that the Japanese valued. 34 11 24c

1934 11 26

Fire broke out at the White House, Great Chesterford where the chauffeur, named Plumb, was in the garage attending to a Sunbeam car. When the engine was started it back-fired and the vehicle was enveloped in flames which spread to the corrugated-iron garage which was destroyed. Firemen obtained water from a large pond near the house. There were goldfish in the pond but the obstructing appliance on the hose prevented them from being sucked through the pipe. 34 11 26

1934 11 27

Two local railwaymen died when the Cambridge to Liverpool Street passenger train struck a lorry on a level crossing near Broxbourne. The train consisted of a locomotive, tender and six coaches, two of which completely overturned. The engine fell upside down but its fire was still burning three hours later. Other coaches came to rest lying at all angles and passengers had remarkable escapes. 34 11 27 & a

1934 11 28

Old University Library tenders to adapt – 34 11 28

1934 11 29

Many Cambridge people listened to the Royal Wedding of the Duke of Kent and Princess Marina by medium of the wireless. Some of those without a set hired one for the occasion. A CDN report who listened to the broadcast in a car was able to hear every word of the ceremony as microphones followed the progress of the two lovers inside the Abbey. The sweet singing of the choir and the pealing of the organ mingled into one glorious harmony. Then millions of listeners in cottage and mansion, in office and home heard the royal lovers plight their troth – and heard the voice of the beautiful Princess Marina for the first time. 34 11 29 & a

An inquiry heard that in 1835 Cambridge was divided into five wards with 30 councillors and ten aldermen. This continued till 1889 when the University were given representation. Further changes came in 1909 and 1911 but the council was now a little unwieldy and numbers should be reduced. However the University representation would be unchanged. 34 11 29b

1934 11 30 ES

Ely Service Motor Co enlargement of garages for 100 cars - photo 34 11 30(2)ES

December 1934 CDN & Ely Standard

1934 12 04

Lord Rutherford presided at the first meeting of Cambridge University Democratic Movement. There is a great fear of the power of military aeroplanes making a sudden and devastating attack on defenceless cities involving the destruction of combatant and civilian alike. Air warfare of any kind should be abolished, he urged. Vyvian Adams praised his work at the Cavendish Laboratory. None could hope to isolate himself from the surrounding dangers. The question was did we want human development or human destruction by scientific means. 34 12 04

1934 12 05

Lord Buckmaster, p1

Kirtling water, p7

1934 12 06

The Sanitary Inspector had examined a number of private wells in Swaffham Prior and found the amount of water in some of them was very small and repairs were needed in a variety of cases. It was recommended that in the event of the council not deciding to provide the village with a piped supply of water that two wells be sunk, one near the Cock Inn and one near Station Road. 34 12 06

1934 12 07

Barratt shoes have just opened their 126th branch at 6 Market Street Cambridge. When you consider that ten years ago they had fewer than 20 you must allow that they'd progressed. Some of the lines are stocked in no fewer than fifty alternative fittings. They are made in Barratt's own factory and sold only through their branches. From start to finish every detail is under their control and there are no middleman's profits – advert. 34 12 07

The Lineoleum and Floor-Cloth Manufacturer's Association wrote to Ely council after they had given council house tenants notice to quit for breaking their rules that at least six inches must be left between the skirting board and the outer edge of linoleum on the ground floor. Research suggests that the problem of dry rot was one of floor construction and not the floor covering used. They hoped the council would withdraw such restrictive regulations in regard to the use of such an inexpensive and hygienic product. The council decided to take no action. 34 12 07a

1934 12 07 ES

Sutton collapse of frontage wall and roof of row of cottages known as 'The Barracks' 34 12 07(4)ES
Sutton resident escaped being buried alive beneath several tons of brick and other material that crashed into the highway with the partial collapse of the frontage wall and roof of a row of cottages in Sutton. The cottages were in a row known as The Barracks in Painter's Lane. At one time they provided two tiled and two thatched roof tenements. It was the frontage wall of the two thatched tenements, fortunately unoccupied, which collapsed carrying with it a large portion of the thatched roof made heavy with the recent rain and also a part of the wall of the tiled tenement occupied by Mrs Whitechurch who was upstairs at the time. Descending, she found a hole in the wall, exposing part of the wooden way which provided her with a view of outside happenings and a heap of debris. Occupants of the cottages at the other end of the row were also upstairs at the time and were greatly startled by the noise of crashing brickwork and smashing timbering. They hastily descended to the ground level. An old property which, in the ordinary course of affairs would eventually have been swept away by clearance order, the cottages had peculiar features. The ground floors were raised some five feet six inches above the level of the roadway. Thus the front elevation encased almost as much earth as room space. Fortunately houses were available in the village and the occupants of the tenanted portions found other accommodation. 34 12 07(4)ES

Isle Clerk C.E.F. Copeman to retire 34 12 07ES

1934 12 09

County Council plans to erect a new Poor Law Institution at Doddington were condemned by Ely Ratepayers who would fight to the last to preserve the Tower House as the Ely Institution. It was wicked to take old people to a different district and expect their friends to visit them at some expense. Where men and women had lived together for fifty or sixty years it was a scandal that the men should have to go one way and the women another. 34 12 09

Every conceivable article suitable for Christmas presents can be obtained here in Cambridge. The difficulty is to make a choice among the many tempting articles displayed in the windows and showrooms. Cream machines, Pyrex dishes and hearth furniture are a few of the household articles to be seen at Messrs Macintosh's showrooms along with watches, electric torches and bathroom fittings – an endless choice of useful and ornamental presents. The younger generation will revel in the display of Hornby trains, the ever-popular Meccano or the children's bicycles. 34 12 09

In George Stace's new showrooms Christmas shoppers can choose gifts for the womenfolk in comfort. A splendid stock of furs, dresses, gloves and handkerchiefs may be found. The Rycroft Rubber Company have tempting lines in stockings in either the silk or fish-net styles together with some very diverting surprises in the way of Christmas jokes while hot water bottles are a very acceptable gift. Legerton's well-stocked establishment offers a comprehensive range of children's wear, from the tiny tot upwards. Hosiery and underwear are featured in great variety together with jumpers and house coats. 34 12 09a

Owen Webb told a meeting of agriculturalists that there was a great future for young men in farming. The industry would require more labour in the future. With our exports declining it would be more necessary to produce more from mother earth in these islands. There would be a tendency to move certain factories into the agricultural areas which would make a lot of employment and bring general prosperity to the countryside. 34 12 09 b & c

1934 12 11

A young airman who set out from Marshall's aerodrome ended his flight in the River Thames which he chose as a landing-place in order to save his own life and those of many Londoners after he had nearly run out of petrol. He had landed at Cambridge in his Moth aeroplane but did not fill up with petrol then ran into fog on his journey home and got lost. To land on the Thames was the best thing he could have done, for a Moth tearing down a street at 50 miles per hour does not give people walking there much chance of escaping injury. His machine floated and he was taken off by tug. 34 12 11

1934 12 14ES

Stretham school to be closed

Sir, there is a suggestion by the Educational Committee to close the big school at Stretham. It is absurd to think of such a thing with a fairly large parish like this. A few years ago they had to build an infants' school to meet the demands. They try to impress upon us that this is an economy cut. But it is nothing of the kind and when we see large sums of money being spent for this, that and the other, we wonder when and where we shall stop. All ratepayers would welcome cuts to ease the burden which is crushing them. A proper course would be to reduce staffs and expenditure, so helping the poor fellow who is struggling to pay. T.E. 34 12 14ES

1934 12 13

CDN van accident, p1*

1934 12 14

Complaints about the nuisance caused by the sounding of church clocks at night promoted councillors to write to the authorities of Great St Mary's and the Catholic Church to consider silencing them between 11pm and 6 a.m., with the exception of New Year's Eve. Councillor Papworth said it was a trifling complaint from one lady; he had been assured by residents that they were music to their ears. But Councillor Stubbs said the chimes were not very beautiful when people wanted to go to sleep and tended to keep patients at Addenbrooke's Hospital awake. 34 12 14

1934 12 15

Members of the Beaconsfield Club celebrated 50 years of work in the social and political life of Cambridge. It was opened in November 1888 and with its members unswervingly loyal to the Conservative cause the club stood as a bulwark against the inroads of socialism. While there were clubs like this the political destiny of the constituency was in safe hands. The Magpies Concert Party gave an excellent entertainment, this chorus song to personalities of the club being particularly popular. 34 12 15

Littleport Parish Council considered fitting their fire engine with pneumatic tyres. The wheels had been on the engine for 70 years and might have dry rot, all the wheels creaked and might break at any time. The men were afraid of them. In any case they would be compelled to have rubber tyres in 1939. The fire box was only seven inches from the ground and it would be no good on some of the fen roads. They could ask the Ely Fire Brigade how much they would charge to attend the fen fires, and scrap the engine. 34 12 15a

1934 12 17

Arthur Colin Lunn was born over his tobacconist's shop premises in Bridge Street in 1896 and assumed control of his father's business founded nearly a century ago. His brother carried on the same trade in Oxford. When the business was turned into a limited liability company seven years ago he became governing director. Although one of the best-known business men in Cambridge he did not take a prominent part in either public or social life. 34 12 17

Merchants at Cambridge Corn Exchange traditionally end the year by throwing about samples of their wares. The signal for the commencement of the battle was the explosion of a cracker near the door. The 'firer' was immediately bombarded and soon covered with flour, wheat and artificial manure. Crackers banged merrily, bags burst with marked effect and very soon all the dignified corn-merchants were life-like imitations of snowmen. Even the rather grim-looking statue of Jonas Webb looked comical with the flour-bag headgear that was placed on it. After 30 minutes the ammunition ran out and combat ceased, though the debris-covered floor was witness of the fight that had been in progress. 34 12 17a

1934 12 20

Cambridge and March continue to spread out along the main thoroughfares and 'ribbon development' has already disfigured roads in Quy, Girton, Harston and Chatteris. The County Council is primarily a road authority and its objection is from the traffic standpoint rather than from the aesthetic point of view. To retain the beauty of the countryside frontage control much be applied to all roads, the Cambridge Council for the Preservation of Rural England urged. 34 12 20

Traffic Commissioners considered bus services between Ely and Littleport, Little Ouse and Shippea Hill. The LNER said that railway traffic to Littleport had showed a marked decrease with 4,000 passengers being lost to road competition in the last few years. But Mr Bert Washington said his bus services were practically identical with those he operated in 1930, though there were some unauthorised journeys not at the agreed times. 34 12 20b

When a foreman railway porter reported a burglary at Warboys station little did he realise it would lead to the apprehension of his wife on a charge of stealing money from the office. Although the station was closed during the weekend it was the practice to leave money there. Police found a window had been broken but it was discovered the office could only have been entered by somebody with a key. The porter sat in the court at Ramsey while the woman tearfully confessed to taking two ten-shilling notes, two half-crowns and a penny. She was bound over to be of good behaviour. 34 12 20c

Flourishing New Museums, p5*

1934 12 21

F.C. Salmon, an Essex farmer, told the Licensing Authority he had reduced his team of eight or nine horses to five and wanted two lorries to carry on his haulage contracting on a modern basis. But unless he could show work was not taken away from other hauliers his chance of being licensed for two vehicles was very remote. He was allowed one vehicle, restricted to a radius of ten miles as they had never heard of a horse going 15 miles out and back on a job. But Mr Salmon said he had known a horse do 65 miles in a day. "Was it a racehorse", he was asked? (Laughter). 34 12 21

1934 12 21 ES

Soham Mere estate not to be internal drainage district 34 12 21(3)ES

Glimpses – old photo of Daimler motor car

A picture reveals the great advances made in the production of motorcars since year 1901. The model seen was a Daimler, fitted with tube ignition, which was afterwards discarded for an accumulator, artillery wheels and a chain drive. It was capable of carrying eight passengers in addition to the driver. Mr. A.C. Drake who has held a driving basements since 1901 used to convey people from Sutton to Ely for 1s.3d each. His first car was a Starr-Benz, the second, a three wheeled vehicle of French origin with a horizontal engine. 34 12 21ES

1934 12 22

All records connected with Pye Radio dances were broken when over 600 attended the annual Christmas ball at the Dorothy. Practically everybody knew everybody else and consequently the crowd was a thoroughly cheerful and merry throng. Not one glum face was to be seen either in the ballroom or the bar. Fancy hats and novelties added greatly to the carnival gaiety and the Percy Cowell and the Pyradians bands rose to the occasion in a lively manner. 34 12 22

1934 12 24

W.F. Thompson, p5*

1934 12 28

William Sindall was one of the most prominent of Cambridge business men. Born at Isleham he served his apprenticeship and established the well-known building firm 60 years ago. It has erected many University and college buildings besides undertaking a number of other important contracts. A councillor and Alderman, Mr Sindall was director of the Waterworks Company and the Cambridge Chronicle. He was also associated with the arts and crafts side of the Cambridgeshire Technical School. 34 12 28a

Cambridge abduction charge, p5

1934 12 31

Charles Gent, who has died aged 80, was one of the oldest newspaper men in the country. Half his life was spent in the service of the Cambridge Daily News which he joined about 18 months after it was started in 1888. He did sterling work as advertising manager and was well respected until his retirement. As a youth he had started in the 'Sherborne Journal' and at the age of 21 was appointed editor and publisher of the 'Poole Telegram', a paper run specially in the interest of the local Liberal candidate. When the Cambridge Association of West Country folk was formed, he became one of the first members. 34 12 31

1935 Cambridge Daily News & Cambridge Standard from March & Ely Standard

I have copies of these articles

1935 January CDN & Ely Standard

1935 01 01

Coldham's Lane estate plan – 35 01 01

1935 01 02

Water scheme, Haddenham – 35 01 02

Guildhall – architect's drawing – 35 01 02 # c.35.7

1935 01 04

Ely isolation hospital, p3*

1935 01 04 ES

Ely men in somersaulting car near Elford cottages. Midnight escape at Stretham. 35 01 04 (2)

Glimpses of old Ely no.45: R. Wayman, Ely town crier, proclaiming Ely fair 1908 35 01 04 (3)

The late Mr. Wayman for many years Ely's blind town crier, is seen sitting in this picture on a stool at the Quayside at seven o'clock one morning in 1908 after proclaiming open Ely fair. It is not certain whether it was the May or October fair. The children include George. Dolly & Albert Royal, Reginald Peel and Elsie and Milly Fison. 33 01 04(3)ES

Wedding Doris Driver, Middle Street and Walter Coxall, Haddenham 35 01 04 (4)

1935 01 05

Two vehicles, one belonging to a haulage contractor from Oxloade and the other a van owned by a Terrington firm, came into collision at the corner of Nutholt Lane, Ely. The door of the general stores owned by H. Cowley was shattered with the wheels of the beet lorry on the door steps and straddling the radiator of the van. Joseph Stone, an elderly pedestrian, formerly a night watchman at Ely Cathedral, was struck and had his foot almost severed. He was lifted on a stretcher over the radiators of the lorries and placed in the Ely ambulance 35 01 05

Albert Chevalier Cambridge visit recalled – 35 01 05a

1935 01 07

Sir Alfred James Ewing of Herschel Road, Cambridge, was the brains behind the famous 'Room 40'. When the Great War began he was asked to undertake the task of collecting and deciphering enemy messages. Numerous listening stations were set up on the East coast at which enemy fleet signals and other wireless messages were received. From December 1914 the German Fleet made no movement which was not known in advance. The work was probably the best-kept secret of the war and the full story has never been told for he was refused permission to deal with it in his reminiscences 35 01 07a & b # c.45.5

W.E. Lane, Zoological Laboratory death – 35 01 07

1935 01 08

Filming boat race crew – photo - 35 01 08

1935 01 09

Ely's new unemployment centre opened at the old Angel works. Many were in seasonal occupations: one did not pick potatoes and plums or squash sugar out of beet every day of the year. People should be employed all the time, not necessarily upon wage-earning work. It was a demoralising thing to have nothing to do and here men could discover good music, good literature and good occupations. It was not just a place of warmth and shelter. 35 01 09 & a

1935 01 10

Who can claim the greatest number of living descendants? J. Haynes of Thoday Street says: "I am 80 and have eight children living. There are 37 grandchildren and 19 great grandchildren. My eldest daughter is 39 and the youngest great grandchild 14". Miss K. Brand of Gloucester Street says "My grandmother (87) has had 12 children; there are 62 grandchildren, 62 great grandchildren and three great-great grandchildren. 35 01 10 # c.31

Eastern Counties Omnibus Company said that following complaints about people being crowded off the buses they will increase services to Histon from 20 to 39 journeys a day on weekdays, with 43 on Saturdays and 18 on Sundays. This may be too much but they hope the traffic will warrant it. They were also given permission to run buses on race days between Warren Hill Station and Newmarket racecourse; hitherto only the LNER had been authorised to operate the buses on hire. But A.E. Nicholls of Clare was refused a licence to run a new Sunday service of four journeys between Clare and Haverhill. 35 01 10a

Since Colonel C.E. Copeman was appointed Clerk of the Isle of Ely County Council in 1907 the duties had increased considerably. At that time they had a staff of three: the Colonel, Mrs Williamson and a boy. Now there were nearly 80. At first there was no County Hall, the meetings were held in the Temperance Hall and they had a small room in the top of his office in Wisbech. He had been successful in keeping the Council out of legal entanglements: there had been many occasions when they were on the brink but by his advice they had escaped great legal difficulties. He hoped the Council would continue good things such as smallholdings and avoid anything of a harebrained character involving the expenditure of thousands of pounds. 35 01 10c & d

More buses for Histon – 35 01 10b

1935 01 11

At Buckden Towers Prince Alexander Graigevitch, grandson of the Russian Emperor Alexander II, laid a foundation stone in the Great Chamber to the memory of Catherine, first consort of Henry VIII, who once resided there. It was part of the restoration scheme being carried out by R.H. Edleston. Tea was taken and an iced cake bearing the colours of Russian royalists was cut with a sword that had belonged to Napoleon. 35 01 11

1935 01 11 ES

Man's foot amputated after lorries collide, Ely – 35 01 11 (3)– photo 35 01 11 (2)r

An aged pedestrian had his left foot amputated while laying on a shop floor following a collision between two motor vehicles which occurred on Saturday morning at the junction of Lynn Road and Nutholt Lane, Ely. He was the unfortunate victim of a crash which occurred between two motor vehicles.

An empty sugar beet barley from Oxloode was emerging from Nutholt Lane when a motive van owned by a Terrington St Clements man collided intrtlocked and crashed into the doorway of the shop at the corner of Egremont Street and Lynn Road owned by Mr. Harold Cowley.

Mr. Joseph Stone, 70, was knocked to the doorway of the shop. His left foot was practically severed and he sustained a scalp wound. Dr. Davis amputated the foot as he was laying in the shop floor. He was lifted on a stretcher through the doorway, over the bonnets of the two vehicles and placed in the in the ambulance by which he was conveyed to Addenbrooke's Hospital, where it was found necessary to amputate his left leg below the knee.

Traffic had to be carefully controlled by the police at these four crossroads, which constitute a veritable death-trap particularly during the campaign at the beet sugar factory. 35 01 11(7)ES

Speedboat thrills at Adelaide

Some of the thrills of speedboat racing were enjoyed at Adelaide when Mr. J. F. Smart, a well-known figure in motorboat racing, tried out a new craft with which he anticipates making an attempt on the international record for dinghy outboards.

Conditions were far from ideal due to intermittent rain and a bitter north wind which made the water rather choppy. The boat Ajax IV was fitted with a Johnson 24-horsepower 500 cc engine, of which there is only one other in existence. Some difficulty was experienced in starting as well as from the spray getting into the sparking plugs while travelling at speed.

The frail craft was driven twice up and down the river from Adelaide Bridge to Clayway Farm.

The present record for this class and size of boat is 36 miles an hour. In the first attempt he covered the miles straight at 35 miles an hour. Adjustments were then made and the second trial it obtained a speed of 37 miles which would justify him making a bid later at Adelaide to break the present record.

35 01 11(7)ES

Prolific celery growing in fens; Samuel Moore of Soham – harvesting, photo 35 01 11 (4)

1935 01 12

We felt customers would like to know something about our dairy. Our cows graze on our fields at Chesterton, Trumpington, Cherry Hinton and Shelford Bottom, the finest pasture in the county. They are thoroughly groomed and their udders washed before being milked using electrical apparatus at our Abbey Street premises. The milk is cooled and bottled without being touched by hand, then kept in a cold storage chamber before delivery. The cream is separated daily. We guarantee early delivery twice daily to all parts of town. Arnold Brothers (established over 75 years), Abbey Street, Cambridge –advertisement. 35 01 12a & b # c.27

Nonagenarian Richard Chapman was born at Swaffham Prior and started work before he was seven, scaring crows and rooks off land for a shilling a week. He never went to a day school but obtained his knowledge from a night school he attended when 18 years of age. He was leader of the choir at Reach Congregational Church in which he used to play the concert flute before they had an organ. He has been engaged in agricultural work, fossil digging and as a peat master, employing men cutting peat in Swaffham Prior Fen for use as fuel. During the war this peat was also used in homes as a preventative against influenza. 35 01 12c

The East Anglian Electricity Supply Company discussed supplying West Row, Beck Row and Kenny Hill with current. They would put in three lighting points and one power point into houses for £3 per annum which would allow 120 units to be used during the year. Their high tension lines were being brought within easy carrying distance and residents are barred from getting any other source of supply. About 80 per cent of West Row residents said they would take the supply but the Company was not satisfied it was an economic proposition and wanted a guarantee of £750 annual revenue. 35 01 12d

ADC, p6*

1935 01 14

Saffron Walden market was the most important in the area, combining cattle and corn and it would ruin the town if it closed. Farmers would be compelled to send their cattle to Cambridge, Bishop's Stortford and Braintree. It had been nearly lost under new Government provisions – an order for closure was actually made, but had since been rescinded. If their M.P. was any good he would move heaven and earth to save it, councillors felt. 35 01 14 & a

1935 01 15

When the Haverhill Co-operative Society was founded in April 1882 it opened as a retail store in a cottage in Peas Hill Slade. Stephen Webb was placed in charge, a post he occupied for the next half-century. In June 1933 he retired as manager of the grocery department which by then had developed into a very large concern and was presented with a gold watch and chain. He was also agent for the

Co-operative Building Society and undertook the duties of special constable during the war. At his death, aged 72, he was much respected in the district. 35 01 15

The oldest inhabitant of Cambridgeshire must be Mrs Priscilla Byford of Stetchworth who recently celebrated her 103rd birthday. She is still possessed of good hearing and until ten years ago could thread a needle without glasses! She is very strict that no foreign meat shall be included in her diet. In her younger days she always drank beer for breakfast but 'sad to say the stuff is not what it used to be and is not pure enough for her consumption'. For many years she ran the Chevington village school and has received telegrams from her pupils, one of whom was 80 years of age 35 01 15

L.B. Carter the young amateur skater and cyclist of Over is proceeding to Switzerland for a fortnight's training, followed by competition as a representative of Great Britain in some international matches at Davos where all the finest speed skaters do their training. The International Ice Hockey Association is sending a team and wanted some speed skaters to join the party. The Fen Committee first approached C.W. Horn, who is in a class by himself. He was unable to accept at such short notice but Messrs Chivers allowed Carter time off work to attend. 35 01 15a

1935 01 17

The new A.D.C. Theatre in Park Street was opened by Miss Ellaline Terriss replacing the one destroyed by fire 14 months ago. It was a wonder it had not burnt down every time the stage was used years ago, as there was no fire-proof curtain, the theatre was lit entirely by gas and the proscenium made of painted canvas stretched on wood batons, reminisced E. Mellish Clark 35 01 17

January sales, Cambridge – 35 01 17a

1935 01 18

The Ministry of Transport did not appreciate the heavy traffic passing through Ely carrying agricultural produce, Colonel Archer told councillors. Traffic lights should be installed at both the Lamb and Nutholt Lane corners. The County Council had recognised the need for a bridge at Chettisham railway crossing, the main artery from London to King's Lynn docks, but a "flying bridge" was also needed at Queen Adelaide where the fire brigade and medical men were often held up and heavy beet traffic was hindered and disorganised at the three pairs of crossing gates. 35 01 18b & c

Huntingdon High street improvement – 35 01 18a
Poultry packers, p3

1935 01 18 ES

Reverend Fred Savage died at Stretham at the home of his sister Mrs. Gaultrey, aged 73. The deceased was formerly in the Baptist ministry and previous to his retirement was for many years Baptist minister in the Lushai district of India. The government of India awarded him Kaiser-I-Hind medal for his distinguished services for education in that province, where he conducted a college. Retiring from the Ministry some years ago, he went to live in Baldock but on the death of his wife came to live with his sister 35 01 18(3)ES

1935 01 19

On one of the finest main roads of Cambridge has arisen a new garage that has been named 'Riley House'. No hastily conceived building this with its rows of pumps and oil cans bedecked in signs and colours. Here is a garage of dignity and restraint, logical in planning and design, fitted to be the new local headquarters of 'the Finest Light Car in the World'. Here one can fill up with petrol completely under cover while the workshop is equipped with the latest pressure greasing plant. Tom Cox Motor Co., Chesterton Road, Cambridge – Advert 35 01 19 # c.26.48

Guests came to the University Zoological Department to inspect the new Balfour and Newton Libraries. Francis Maitland Balfour, who was killed in the Alps in 1882, started the science of embryology. He became one of the most distinguished biologists of his century, founding the finest zoological laboratories in the world. Prof Alfred Newton gave the University his unique collection of very early ornithological books. The honorary Librarian is Mr Ambrose Harding of Madingley, an authority on birds and leeches 35 01 19a # c.36.9

1935 01 22

Fire destroyed the Evelyn White drapery shop in Fitzroy Street shop and the owner and his wife escaped in their nightclothes, with only a coat thrown over them. All that remains is a tangled mass of debris, blackened and ruin by the flames. Here and there the remnants of a dress could be recognised but everything was burnt beyond repair. Flames also threatened Norman Bradley's shop next door: the thin dividing wall was scorching and might have flared up at any moment. Firemen were kept fully occupied in keeping smouldering materials from catching again and were badly hampered through the insulation having been burnt off the electric light wires, several received electric shocks before it was decided to have the current cut off at the main. 35 01 22 # c.34.75

We have to report the death of Miss L.M. Brooks of Oxford Road, portress of Newnham College since 1924. She served the college with devotion and made herself respected and loved by successions of students, Fellows and staff alike. Her unfailing courtesy and interest, and the joy in life which was evident in her, won everybody's affection. She kept in touch with old students in remote parts of the world and remembered everyone who came back. The college has suffered a great loss by the removal of so charming and gracious a personality. 35 01 22a

Mepal gravel pit tragedy – 35 01 22b & c

1935 01 23

Her Majesty, Queen Mary, paid a surprise visit to Cambridge to purchase some antiques for her collection. So informal was the visit that even the police were not told she was coming and did not know she was in the town until her car was recognised. Officers then proceeded to Stanley Woolston's antique shop in St Andrew's Street where there was soon a crowd of about 1,000 people. Motor cars parked nearby were removed and for some time bewildered drivers were inquiring the whereabouts of their vehicles. The Queen visiting all 16 rooms and bought a number of choice specimens of china, glass a furniture which were placed gently in her car. 35 01 23a

Busmen's dispute with Eastern Counties – 35 01 23b

Witch's hand sold – cures diseases – 35 01 23f

1935 01 25 ES

Glimpses ... High Street corner Ely, 1900 election – photo 35 01 25 (2)

1935 01 26

Sir – The Mill Road footbridge over the railway line was opened to the public on Monday August 3rd 1889. I was the last one to take the keys of the gates to the station – William Nelson. Sir - The iron footbridge over the railway on Mill Road had wooden steps and gave access to the open fields beyond it. In fact, so countrified was the area that when the Royal Standard was built it was known as 'Apthorpe's Folly' from William Apthorpe the brewer who built it. The bridge now stands on Coldham Common where it spans the Newmarket Line – H.D.C. 35 01 26

1935 01 28

Cambridge goes white – snow complaints – 35 01 28

1935 01 29

An Eastern Counties omnibus had a narrow escape from crashing over Fen Ditton bridge onto the line below. The bus was travelling up the hill towards Fen Ditton when it came into collision with a private motor car, swung round and ended with the front part over the embankment. Neither the driver of the bus, Mr J. Pitchers, or the driver of the car were hurt 35 01 29

1935 01 30

Snow plough Grange Road photo – 35 01 28, tipped into river – 35 01 30

1935 01 31

Gypsy Moth forced landing field Long Road – photo – 35 01 31

New street proposed from Downing St towards Sidney St – 35 01 31a

King's college chapel candelabra dedicated – 35 01 31b

1935 February CDN & Ely Standard

1935 02 01

County Arms, Castle St opens – 35 02 01

Coldham's Lane estate, p6

1935 02 01 ES

Glimpse of the past: Wilburton cow that gave birth of five calves in 1900

Horseless tractor for the farm – photo Graven taking delivery tractors

1935 02 02

In the gale of January 26th an ancient and somewhat decrepit sycamore in the Sidney Sussex College Fellows' Garden was blown down. This tree was the last survivor of an avenue of sycamores planted in 1607-8 along the east side of that part of the King's Ditch which crossed the college grounds from the end of Hobson Street to Jesus Lane and thence along the side of Park Street. In the college accounts are payments to Thomas Hobson, the carrier, 'for bringing the sycamore trees from London ... iiii. xd' 35 02 02 # c.18

1935 02 05

Clayhithe toll bridge photo – 35 02 05

1935 02 06

The new additions to the County School for Boys were opened by Lord Rutherford and many heads of colleges were amongst those present. The new wing includes a large Assembly Hall which will be used as a gymnasium, an art room and a classroom. Over the existing workshops another storey has been built, giving a new chemistry laboratory. The court outside will be turfed and if anybody feels disposed to offer a fountain then the County Council would pay the extra water rate for playing it on very special occasions. 35 02 06 & a

1935 02 07

Toft flooding picture – 35 02 07

1935 02 08 ES

Photos: Belisha beacons appear in Ely – Pledger's sale gimmick 35 02 08 (3)

Two Belisha Beacons have been installed in High Street, Ely. They are two of the original glass type first erected in London which are illuminated at night. They have become an attraction both to the residents and to all who have visited the city during the last few days. Between them is a banner exhorting people to 'Cross here for bargains'. They have been erected by Messrs. Pledger's Successors who have adopted this very novel form of reminding the public that they now have a sale in progress. 35 02 08(3)ES

Glimpse of the Past: Littleport church bells 1891 35 02 08 (3)

Littleport Parish Church bells constitute one of the finest peals in Fenland. They were first rung on June 24th 1891 and the photograph was taken only a few days before they were hung in the tower. During the past year the bells have been repaired and rehung at a cost of over £200. The boys sitting on the bells are, Alfred Adams, son of the late Mr. John Henry Adams of Main Street Littleport,

Archie Astill, Joseph William Atkins (present captain of the Littleport bell ringers) and John Henry Long who died about a fortnight ago. The lad on the extreme right is unknown. 35 02 08ES

1935 02 09

Huntingdon Medical Office listed 50 properties to be considered for demolition under section 19 of the 1930 Housing Act. They include houses in Royal Oak Passage, Oliver's Court, St Germain Street, Woodward's Court, Castle Hill Court, Sayer's Court, Nevitt's cottages and St Thomas' Court. Another 48 are to be dealt with under section 17 including two in Herbert's Yard, seven in Sweeting's Court and one in Manchester Place. Notices will be sent out and the council would hear objections from the owners 35 02 09

1935 02 11

One of the most remarkable re-unions on record has been enacted in a tiny cottage at Home End, Fulbourn when a man who had been reported 'missing' after the Armistice came face to face with his wife who had long thought him dead. They were married at Burrough Green in 1900 and he enlisted in the Army Ordnance Corps before being posted to India. Still suffering from loss of memory, he is unable to give an account of his movements since the war. It was a great shock for his wife when he stood on the doorstep as she had believed him dead for about 17 years. Now she has notified the Post Office regarding the widow's pension she has been receiving. 35 02 11 his name: William Edwards

At Trinity Hall porters were busy pulling down a motley assortment of bedroom and bathroom utensils which had mysteriously appeared on the roof and pinnacles of the college. Water jugs, tied to the roof with gay scarves, formed a large part of the amateur decorators' efforts, but even an armchair somehow got on to the roof and caused no small trouble in getting in down. The college say it was 'just a bit of sport' and have not discovered the identity of the persons responsible 35 02 11a

1935 02 15 ES

Measles: no scholars at school Wednesday morning at Infants
Owing undoubtedly to the recent outbreak of measles in Stretham, an occurrence probably unprecedented in the history of the village was reported on Wednesday morning at the Infants' School. Assembling at the usual time for the morning session, the teachers were astounded to find no scholars present. After waiting some time they had a hurried consultation and decided to close the school until next Monday morning. 35 02 15(2)ES

1935 02 16

W.C. Squires exhibition – 35 02 16

1935 02 17

Coldham's Common being levelled – photo – 35 02 17

1935 02 18

Starr reminiscences as volunteer & memories Cambridgeshire Rgt WWI – 35 02 18 & a

1932 02 19

A serious fire was averted at Gentleman's Farm, Chrishall when it was found that a large beam in the living room chimney had practically burned away and was starting to burn through the wall. It was brought under control with the aid of a bucket pump. The farm is surrounded by thatched buildings, and with the high wind, extensive damage would have been done had the outbreak not been dealt with. This burning question: Why not insure against fire with the Norwich Union Fire Office, St Andrew's Street, Cambridge. Quotations submitted without obligation. 35 02 19a

Long Road level crossing gate photo – 35 02 19

1935 02 20

It was time something was done about St Luke's School. The headmistress had a class of 54 in a large room divided only by a curtain from another class of 50. It was very trying for the teachers and not very satisfactory for the children. Putting another teacher into the room would not be much use. Romsey Council School also had large classes but to move one upstairs would be difficult: the natural lighting and ventilation was poor and there was insufficient head room. The head would prefer to have eight classes under normal conditions than take a class in an attic, councillors were told. 35 02 20b

Rail trip, p5

1935 02 21

Contractors had started pumping at the East Hatley borehole. The yield was 200 gallons of water an hour with the engine, which meant about five gallons a minute by hand. The Sanitary Inspector had tried the pump himself and found it took about five minutes to get the water up. Once that was done there was a good supply. The contractors had changed the fittings slightly but given a satisfactory explanation, he told councillors. However members insisted the original specifications must be adhered to, even if it meant putting up a new pump. 35 02 21a

Harry Williams, builder obit – 35 02 21c

Hugh Dalton on fascism – 35 02 21

1935 02 22

A businessman told the bankruptcy court that he had worked in Nigeria for five years, then gone into partnership in a house decorating business in Linton. He put in £550 but lost it all. He afterwards went into the garage business but that also was a failure and he lost all his money. He sunk the whole of his capital in the two businesses. He appeared to have no practical knowledge of either business which was at the bottom of the trouble. 35 02 22

Cambridge Ideal Homes Ltd laid the first brick on the Cromwell Park Estate on 16th February 1934 and now 128 houses were built or under construction – one third of the total houses built in Cambridge during that period. Builders Johnson Bailey and road contractors Lavender & Bateman had worked whole-heartedly to assist the scheme. The low prices they charged meant houses had got to be sold as soon as they were built, bringing them within the reach of the ordinary working man. But there are still 900 people on Council house waiting lists. 35 02 22a

Royston Gas Company has had a successful year's trading. They had opened a new showroom in the High Street giving greater facilities for the display of lighting, cooking and heating appliances and installed 77 cookers, 23 gas fires and 18 geysers, coppers and radiators for clients. But they lost the contract for street lighting although their tender was substantially less than that for electric lighting. They had no records of the formation of the Company but had a notice sent out in 1836 so knew they were about 100 years old. 35 02 22f & g

A feather bed caught fire in Cambridge. It was being aired in front of the fire in the sitting-room of a house in Mill Road, occupied by Mrs Wilkins. The Brigade was called and turned out under P.S. Clague, but the blaze was extinguished with pails of water by Mrs Wilkins and others in the house before the engine arrived. 35 02 22h

Guildhall design – 35 02 22b, 35 02 23

Dance band contest – 35 02 22c

Duxford pageant – 35 02 22d & e

Source to sea, p7

Scientists anti-war group, p5

1935 02 22 ES

Glimpse of the past: Littleport church bells 1891, another photo 35 02 22 (2)

1935 02 23

Her Majesty, Queen Mary, paid a surprise visit to Cambridge to purchase some antiques for her collection. So informal was the visit that even the police were not told she was coming and did not know she was in the town until her car was recognised. Officers then proceeded to Stanley Woolston's antique shop in St Andrew's Street where there was soon a crowd of about 1,000 people. Motor cars parked nearby were removed and for some time bewildered drivers were inquiring the whereabouts of their vehicles. The Queen visiting all 16 rooms and bought a number of choice specimens of china, glass and furniture which were placed gently in her car. 35 01 23a

Mosley previous visits – 35 02 23a

1935 02 25

An open-air demonstration under the red flag against the new Unemployment Bill was held on Parker's Piece supported by the University Socialist Society and Labour Clubs. A crowd of nearly 100 assembled. There are two-and-a-half million registered unemployed but there had been an increase in production without an increase in wages. The worker had become the slave of the machine, not the machine the tool of the worker. Mr H.C. Bibby spoke on camps for the unemployed: many who took part had the best of motives but they could develop into terrible concentration camps. 35 02 25

Cambridge met Oxford in the spirit of peace, not of semi-lethal combat. The ceremony took place near the pump on the green at Sherington, Buckinghamshire, exactly half-way between the two universities. Two morning-coated representatives vied in the vehemence of their protestations of fraternal feeling and in the sartorial elegance of their attire. Then to the whirr of newsreel cameras they buried a hatchet beneath the pump. Afterwards a village worthy who had forgotten his tie, collar, shaving water and washing water in the excitement of the morning, came up to the immaculately attired Master of Ceremonies, thanking him putting Sherington on the map. 35 02 25a & b

1935 02 26

John Berry ('Jack') Hobbs has bidden farewell to first-class cricket. His retirement will cause general regret. "Mrs Hobbs thinks I ought to go on to get my 200 centuries", he said, but he needs two new legs: "after many years in the field mine get very tired nowadays about four o'clock". He will continue to play in club cricket and all in Cambridge hope to see that flashing bat in action again on Parker's Piece, the scene of his early triumphs 35 02 26

1935 02 27

Coldham's Common, p1

1935 02 28

Cambridgeshire oldest inhabitant, Mrs Martha Starr (nee Rayner) of Bassingbourn was born at Christmas 1832. There were 15 in the family and after her mother died she kept the home going. Martha married Charles Starr of Shingay when she was 20 on an income of seven shillings a week (35p) and had eleven children, five of whom are still living. Although bedridden she had all her faculties and enjoyed all her meals up to three weeks ago. Her end came quietly, aged 103. 35 02 28b

Linton crash, p5

1935 March CDN & Cambridge Standard & Ely Standard

1935 03 01

A flight of three RAF aeroplanes were forced down near Cambridge. Two landed in rough fields near Dry Drayton and turned upside down. None of the pilots was injured. The other made a forced landing at Smithy Fen, Cottenham. The flight was of a very recent pattern single-seater fighters and had taken off from Duxford to practice for the Hendon Air Pageant. They ran into thick fog and received wireless instructions to make a forced landing. The squadron leader mistook a field of wheat for grass and turned his plane completely over on the rough surface. His flying helmet was covered with mud as a result of his skidding along upside down 35 03 01

1935 03 01 ES

Huge oak unearthed at Burnt Fen, J. Carter's farm – photo 35 03 01 (2)

A huge oak, about 90 feet long eight feet in diameter at the bottom of the trunk has been unearthed on Mr. J. Carter's farm at Burnt Fen. Tree trunks are frequently being dug up in the fens, but this is one of the largest found for a considerable time. 35 03 01ES

Glimpse of the past: Queen Victoria Jubilee 1897 Ely Buffaloes wagon 35 03 01 (5)

Stretham

Fine coursing at Stretham – Isle of Ely Coursing Club on Hiam's farm 35 03 01 (3)

Wesley Guild lecture on work Ilesha Hospital, West Africa

Motor lorry on footpath: Albert E. Wright drove on footpath at Newmarket

Wedding: Albert Gipson Holiday and Marjorie Agnes Jugg 35 03 01 (4)

A charming wedding was solemnised in the parish church at Stretham when Mr. Albert Gipson Holliday of Ely Road was married to Miss Marjorie Agnes Jugg of Green End. Both bride and bridegroom are well known in the village and a large congregation of relatives and friends gathered to witness the ceremony. The bride looked very attractive in her dress of white oyster-shell satin beaute, with veil and orange blossom. Her bouquet consisted of red and white carnations and she wore a gold brooch, the gift of the bridegroom. Three bridesmaids were in attendance: Misses Nora and Joan Jugg, sisters of the bride and Miss Maud Chapman, friend. All three were attired in long dresses of apple-green silk taffeta, with gold leaf caps and green satin shoes and they carried bouquets of yellow carnations. Their future residence will be at 12 Ely Road, Stretham. 35 03 01(4)ES

1935 03 02

Vinery Road off licence 35 03 02

1935 03 04

Guildhall interior designs 1896 35 03 04 & 05

1935 03 05

Queens' College proposed building Silver Street 35 03 05a

1935 03 07

S.A. Rolfe's wholesale confectioners and tobacconists business started 25 years ago in a very small way on East Road. Now it is the largest of its kind in the Eastern Counties with nine full-time travellers and 15 motor vans. New premises in Newmarket Road house an enormous variety of brands including chocolates from R.S. Murray and 'Classic' bottle sweets made by Messrs Parkes. Mr Rolfe was hailed as a hard-working and keen young business man who by sheer determination and grit had made his mark in his chosen trade. 35 03 07, 35 03 09 & a

Electricity supply company future 35 03 07a & b 35 05 08 & a

Police guarded the closed gates of the University Arms Hotel while Sir Oswald Mosley was at a dinner organised by the University Fascist Society. Outside a meeting organised by the University Socialist Society was held on Parker's Piece with speeches by John Cornford, Maurice Cornford and Maurice Dobb. Then a torchlight procession by 200 undergraduates shouting anti-Fascist slogans such as 'We want Mosley dead or alive' and singing 'The Internationale' marched to Peas Hill where more speeches were made before a Proctor arrived and they dispersed. 35 03 07c

The Cambridge Scientists' Anti-War Group heard an address on aspects of the Nazi movement. Many of the true facts were to be found in reports circulated secretly by the Ruhr industrialists who were providing the Nazis with immense financial support. German science was being devoted almost exclusively to war preparations. At the end the Group protested against increased expenditure on armaments by the British Government and urged the money to be spent on the social services instead. Peace cannot be maintained by building greater armed forces. 35 03 07d

1935 03 08

Electricity company, p6

1935 03 08 ES

Glimpse of the Past: Cambridgeshire Militia drummers, taken by Titterton in 1873 35 03 08 (2)

1935 03 09

Woodlands Park Estate, Girton. The first thing in life is good health. That is why you should come and visit this beautifully healthy estate which will have its own tennis courts and swimming pool for residents and members. Show House open daily. Furnished by Peak's famous furniture stores. Cambridge only eight minutes by car, 10 minutes by bus or 15 minutes by cycle. The finest value ever offered to house purchasers! Price £495 or £50 deposit and 12/9 (63p) weekly. Houses with brick-built garage and outhouse £550. A few to let at 15/- (75p) weekly. – Advertisement. 35 03 09b & c

Cambridge council's decision not to purchase the 1890 electricity undertaking hardly came as a surprise. Only the members of the Labour Party who believe in public ownership of all utility services were in favour. The undertaking would have had to be split into two parts but the Company offered to reduce the price of supply by 25 per cent if the council waived their option. Several councillors are not averse to taking over the whole concern when it comes up again in 1945 35 03 09e

Anchor inn demolished photo 35 03 09d

Thomas Alfred Walker, Peterhouse, death 35 03 09f

Cambridge Vaudeville artists entertain 35 03 09f

1935 03 11

A poultry farmer appeared on a charge of wilful murder after his wife had been found shot dead in their home at Broughton. It is but a small village but a good many people heard nothing of the happenings. Even picture-goers at Huntingdon did not sense a tragedy when a message was flashed on the screen at the Hippodrome requesting a young man in the audience to go immediately to the village. He was a nephew of the dead woman. 35 03 11 & a

1935 03 13

A packed public meeting at Cambridge Guildhall voted against plans for a new building and called on the council to remodel the front to a more dignified style of architecture. Cambridge was a treasure house of architectural gems and they had no right to hand down to posterity a freak building, a flat and uninteresting example of early 20th-century abominations. Another motion dealing with the question of shops on the Peas Hill side of the building received scant attention as most of the audience had left before the end. 35 03 13 & a

1935 03 14

The New Traffic Signals. Traffic signs announcing the 30 mph restrictions, which comes into force next Monday are being erected on the approaches to all 'built-up areas'. (Thursday). New Traffic Signs Disappear. Several of the new 30 mph signs on the outskirts of Cambridge were unofficially removed during the weekend, but have since been replaced. (Monday). Missing Speed Limit Signs. A Trinity College undergraduate appeared in court charged with the theft of three of the new speed limit signs. (Thursday) 35 03 14, 35 03 21c

1935 03 15

Ely Beet Sugar Factory was charged with pollution of the River Ouse causing the death of thousands of fish in the river below Adelaide Bridge. The Company said pollution had occurred when the factory was not working and may have come from the sewage works. They employed 700 men during each campaign, were a tremendous benefit to farmers and an injunction would mean they had to stop working. The man who owned the fishing rights said there was bad feeling: he had been in shops in Ely where people refused to serve him and a wheel had come off his motor car after he'd left it near the factory 35 03 15, 35 03 15a, 35 03 19, 35 03 27

Great Ouse Catchment Board has constructed a large-scale model of the River Ouse depicting the area from Earith to the Wash and ten miles out to sea. There is no other tidal model like it in the world. It stretches for seventy feet in a shed off Coldham's Road, shows the various sluices and has a huge plunger which mimics the raising and lowering of the tide. This will enable engineers to study the effects of plans to improve the outfall and drainage of the fens which has been made necessary because of the ever-continuing shrinkage of the land. 35 03 15b

1935 03 15 ES

Glimpse ... Burrows shop, Market Place 1899 35 03 15 (2)

Delivering 'Ely Standards' by the hundred: Burrows shop photo

A glimpse of the past shows Ely Market Place at the close of the last century, the little shop on the left being that taken by Mr. J F Burrows when he started business in the city during the Christmas of 1899.

A comparison of this photograph with that of his present premises shows the great advance which this progressive business has made in the early years of his trading. Then Mr. Barrows sold only a few odd copies of the Ely Standard, whereas today he is the largest agent in any town or village in the huge area of 1000 square miles served by the Cambridge Times series of papers.

The photograph shows Mr. Percy Burrows (who manages the business for his father), and eight of the young men who utilise all kinds of conveyances for delivering their supplies of 'Ely Standard' each Friday morning. 35 03 15

1935 03 16

Peas Hill demolition for Guildhall - 35 03 16

Cartoon on coming of 30 mph restrictions - 35 03 16

1935 03 18

30mph road signs stolen - 35 03 18

1935 03 19

Ely beet factory, p5

1935 03 20

Backs tree demolished - 35 03 20

1935 03 21

Briscoe Snelson gave a lecture of exceptional interest on the Ouse and its tributaries, showing several beautiful slides of the scenery. This was a stretch near the Godmanchester-St Neots road where the river ran alongside the rail-road and every morning an enthusiast would wait to race the 'Flying Scotsman' with his motor boat. "Elsworth was a photographer's paradise. It has no traffic problems, is on the bus route and has no petrol pump. It is a typical Cambridgeshire village, and I hope it will not change", he said. 35 03 21a & b

Speed signs undergraduate, p5

1935 03 22

The new motor tug 'Sheldrake', which has been built for the Great Ouse Catchment Board for use in the Wash, took advantage of the seasonal rise in the water to travel from King's Lynn to St Ives towing a string of barges to collect osiers for the East Stone Bank contract. It is the first time for 20 years that a vessel of this kind as been seen as far up-river. The last vessel to carry a cargo through St Ives arrived in August 1915 with potatoes. 35 03 22a

The Great Ouse River Board has reconstructed the century-old locks and sluice at Over so that one of their big steam dredgers can pass through. It is now dredging a channel with a minimum depth of 3ft 6ins through to St Ives. All the locks are now in order as far as Godmanchester but it will be some time before a deep channel can be dredged all that way. A great deal of spoil has to be removed from the river. 35 03 22a

1935 03 22 ES

Glimpses ... Band 4th Battalion Suffolk Regiment 1904 – names

1935 03 23

Suffragette pic, p8

1935 03 26

Sir. Any of your readers who have laid their loved ones to rest in the beautiful old churchyard of St Mary's are invited to subscribe to the Longstowe Churchyard and War Memorial Preservation Fund. This will erect and maintain a fence around the churchyard and to keep the resting place of loved ones in a pleasing manner. It also embraces the war memorial, which we are going to remove to the village pound. This will be fenced and a tree planted to mark the great Silver Jubilee of the King and Queen on May 6th. F. Holloway, Chairman of the Parish Meeting 35 03 26

1935 03 27

University authorities are seeking to control the giving of large sherry and cocktail parties in undergraduates' rooms. Now a host wishing to give a party for more than 15 people will have to obtain permission from his tutor and the Junior Proctor. Parties of more than five members of the university held in any tavern or public room also need written permission or the owner will be liable to be discommuned. Another change bans garages from supplying motor cars to undergraduates on hire purchase without the tutor's approval. 35 03 27

Coad's new store, beside Woolworth's in Sidney Street, with its new arcade and island cases is a glowing example of the shop fitter's craft. There are now three floors and the splendid oak-panelled stairway has been retained. The fashion salons are already quite famous for their remarkable values in coats, woollies and blouses and the millinery salon is well lit. At the farther end lies the Lingerie and Corsetry Salon and a Younger Ladies' Department where the woman to today can shop like mother does. 35 03 27a

1935 03 28

The work of the Estuary Company had been of great assistance to the drainage of the fens. Had the tidal cut not been made between King's Lynn and the sea it was probable that Lynn would have been like Eye, an internal city, and the river would have disappeared. A model had been made of the stretch of Ouse between Denver and Lynn with a plunger mechanism to replicate the action of the tides. It was the largest of its kind in the world and would enable engineers to study data. 35 02 28 & a

1935 03 29 CS

Introducing the Cambridge Standard. 35 03 29(2)(5)CS # c.04

Home of the Standard: offices in Regent Street. 35 03 29(7)CS # c.04

Tidal model of Ouse set in operation. 35 03 29CS

Coad's of Cambridge: notes on W.A. Coad and his shop. 35 03 29(3)CS

Cambridge Steam Laundry: advertisement. 35 03 29(4)CS

Assize records of the Seventeenth Century by W.M. Palmer. 35 03 29(6)CS

Guy Priest, 'The Stroller' will have weekly article on nature subjects. 35 03 29(8)ES

Ring Road continued: photo of road from Hills Road to junction Mowbray Road and Queen Edith's Way. 35 03 29(9)CS

Ald W.C. Jackson welcomes the 'Standard'. 35 03 29(10)CS

1935 03 29 ES

A model of the River Ouse – model to study outfall, photo 35 03 29 (5)

1935 03 30

Those who worked or lived at the First Eastern General Hospital huts in Burrell's Walk immediately after the war will be sorry to learn that many of the huts that were transferred from there to Manea for use as hen houses have been destroyed by fire. A big enterprise had been built up at Fodder Fen by Mrs Harry Crouch, who was a pioneer of the intensive system of poultry keeping. The long rows of sheds have been a familiar sight to those travelling by train but now about a quarter of a mile of them have been burnt. 35 03 30a

In the near future all telephone subscribers in the district – about 3,500 of them – will receive instructions in the working of the new dial system that will come into operation in May. It is rather a terrible thought that when we lift off the receiver we shall not hear the customary melodious voice at the other end saying 'Number Please' but shall have to do our own dialling. If we get the wrong number we shall have no one but ourselves to blame 35 03 30a

Hundred Houses new estate Fallowfields pic - 35 03 30

1935 April CDN & Cambridge Standard & Ely Standard

1935 04 02

The High Court heard evidence on the state of the River Ouse. An expert witness said the river in Ely was grossly polluted with discharge from water closets. Ely Sewage Works were entirely obsolete and useless: the mud downstream was very foul with traces of tar oil coming from the Gas Works and Ouse Catchment Board Depot. But only cooling and condensing water passed into the river from the Sugar Beet Factory. A fisheries expert said the death of fish in 1933 and 1934 was caused by sewage pollution and not the factory. 35 04 02b

There are 4,000 road haulage contractors in the area today and 1,000 will be out of it in the next two or three years. They will lose their jobs, licences, vehicles and livelihoods. The Government was railway minded. Legislation never seemed to stop and it always seemed to favour the railways rather than the roads. But the whole transport world cannot be swept out at the pleasure of the railway companies. Somebody has got to carry on the road service of this country. Membership of the Cambridgeshire Road Haulage Association had jumped to 120. More would follow as even a haulage contractor had a flash of intelligence sometimes! Instead of being caned by successive government they should go to the Minister and speak with one voice, a meeting was told 35 04 02 & a

1935 04 03

Fordham Parish Council had contacted B.C.H. Electricity Company to seek costs for lighting the streets but they had not replied. Soham Gas Company intended to run mains to the village and enquiries were made of them. Any scheme had to be approved by two-thirds of the electorate but a large number of people could not afford to pay their rates now and this would mean another 1s 6d in the pound. 35 04 03

1935 04 04

There is no doubt the Peace Ballot has made Cambridge people face the vital questions. Results show nearly all wanted Britain to remain a member of the League of Nations and an all-round reduction of armaments by international agreement. The manufacture and sale of armaments for private profit should also be prohibited. If a nation insisted on attacking another the others should compel it to stop by economic measures or, if necessary, by force under the auspices of the League and preferably by an International Police Force. 35 04 04

Dr Herbert Allen Giles of Selwyn Gardens, formerly Professor of Chinese and at one-time H.M. Consul at Ningpo left gross estate of the value of £23,614. He willed £1,000 to his faithful housekeeper, Mabel Slinton and legacies to others who helped make his life bearable. They include Mabel Faiers-Pikett (late housemaid), Alice Ryder and E.M. Halls (cooks) and his 'trusty housemaid' Dorothy Baker to whom he left £100 and £15 for each year of service over three years 35 04 04

1935 04 05

Ely Sugar Beet Factory was cleared by the High Court after large number of fish had died. River conditions were analogous to those of a septic tank. The bed of the Ouse had not been dredged for thirty years and was filled with impurity which was disturbed by the considerable barge traffic. Ely sewage outfall was of an exceedingly objectionable and dangerous character and there were drains connected with the Gas Works from which noxious matter found its way into the river. But the only discharge from the factory was condenser water 35 04 05

Carlton aviation enthusiast killed in accident at Kelshall – 35 04 05a

Monkey in blue blazer as rowing mascot – 35 04 05a

The Chivers family have suggested the name 'Impington Village College' for the new school to be built on land they have donated. Magdalene College may be interested in certain of the original portions of Impington Hall and the library fittings and some of the panelling might be incorporated in the new College. Ultimately the land round the 13-acre site may be opened up as a building estate and this should be considered when the new college is planned. 35 04 05b

1935 04 05 ES

Glimpse ... Ely Theological College c1878 35 04 05 (3)

1935 04 06

Post office telephone engineers have been installing the switches and relays necessary to complete the new Cambridge automatic exchange. It is the most up-to-date in the country and incorporates new features. Soon subscribers will hear what is known as the 'ringing' tone - 'burr-burr-burr-burr'. If the number is engaged another tone - 'buzz-buzz-buzz-buzz' will be heard while a continuous high-pitch sound means it is unobtainable. Those uncertain of what these mean can dial '91' for a demonstration 35 04 06 & b

"A broadcast of the future": old rowers watch race on large TV screen – 35 04 06a

1935 04 08

Residents need not be alarmed by the appearance of heavy bomber aeroplanes during the next few nights. A tactical exercise will involve bombers flying a series of 'co-ordinated attacks' on selected military targets to introduce new crews to the role of the night bomber. It will provide actual practice in extended navigation and the technique of bombing by night, the co-ordination of raids and the employment of the signals organisation. But there will be no 'bombing' in this neighbourhood and no explosive bombs will be dropped anywhere. It is essential these exercises should be carried out during the hours of darkness and the Air Ministry is to restrict night flying to the minimum possible. 35 04 08

1935 04 09

The Chief Constable said he was unable to effectively enforce the new 30 mph speed limit in Cambridge. He needs two more constables to carry out motor patrol work, bringing the total up to four, and a Ford V8 30 hp motor car should be purchased for £210 to replace the solo motor cycle. The combination machine should be retained. 30 05 09

1935 04 10

Demolition work on Peas Hill for the new Guildhall has led to an architectural discovery of outstanding interest. It has revealed the residence and business premises of a well-to-do Tudor merchant which was subsequently divided up into a detached and two semi-detached houses. The magnificent front was covered up with lath and plaster in the reign of Queen Anne and finished with mock bricks. Dummy eaves were also added. Now each piece has been carefully taken down and numbered for preservation and re-erection. 35 04 10

Corporation proposals for the widening and improvement of Sidney Street and the lower part of Petty Cury met with vigorous opposition. In 1922 they had taken powers to prescribe frontage lines and in 1924 when Messrs Woolworth's and Sainsbury's came to Cambridge they agreed to set back their premises and gave the land to the Council. Various other places were reconstructed and now the frontage line had been prescribed from Sainsbury's to Millers with the exception of Almond's and the Prudential Assurance Company. The Surveyor said the street was urgently in need of widening to cope with increased traffic. The Livingstone Hotel had been carried on in Sidney Street for 30 years. Under street widening proposals they would be left with the second, third and fourth floors which they could not get at at all. It was used by travellers who could not afford more expensive hotels. 35 04 10 & a, 35 04 11

1935 04 11

At Laurie & McConnal buyers can see what new furniture will look like in a room. One of their big showrooms has been partitioned off to represent drawing rooms, bedrooms and even a kitchen. Each has been furnished and decorated with harmonised carpets and wallpapers. Chesterfield suites can be bought for nine guineas cash or through a no deposit hire purchase scheme. There is no other display like this in the Eastern Counties. So popular has it proved that the firm are going to build another forty rooms! 35 04 11a

1935 04 12

The court heard that in 1933 Ely RDC had appointed a Cambridge architect to oversee the construction of 20 houses at Camping Close, Littleport. Local firms had tendered for the work. An auditor discovered that the cost of fitting out 12 houses came to £839 but payment of £3,174 had been authorised including £3,012 to the builder personally. The architect said he'd taken the prices from lists and was not aware that the contractors got them so cheap. A witness saw £50 being handed to a builder in one-pound notes, no receipt was requested but the architect asked for a blank billhead. Another firm also working on the site did not want anything in writing about it. 35 04 12 & a & 35 04 16

1935 04 12 ES

Glimpse ... Ely V.A.D. detachment ... names 35 04 12 (2)

1935 04 15

Cambridge proposed swimming stadium Parkside design 35 04 15 & 15a
History of Cambridge savings banks – 35 04 15b & c

1935 04 17

In a little cottage in Union Lane, Chesterton, men on the way to the Institution can now, for a few hours daily, experience something of the comfort of home life. The once rather dilapidated house has been transformed into a cosy Wayfarers' rest. Brightly-distempered walls and a roaring fire make it a comfortable place. On arrival they are given tea and a cigarette. Upstairs is a tiny chapel where prayers are said with a bible reading for any who care to attend. 35 04 17

Cambridge Photographic Club Cine Group films included 'Yarmouth Scene' by E.J. Twinn showing the curious narrow 'Rows', the great herring season and a tragedy of the sea – a great cargo boat being destroyed by fire. E.F. Watson showed his travel film 'Glorious South Devon' and Arnold Darlington displayed 'Puffin Island'. The tit-bit was the group's 1935 film 'Morning' which starts in a leisurely strain and ends with the workers and school children beginning their day. The actors, Mrs A. Twinn and Mr E.F. Watson are to be congratulated on their performance. 35 04 17a

1935 04 18

New road connecting Mowbray Road with Hills Road – Glebe or Holbrook – photo – 35 04 18

1935 04 19 ES

Glimpses ... Church Lads Brigade 1899 35 04 19 (3)

1935 04 20

The name of Bertram Mills is famous throughout the circus world. His two sons Cyril and Bernard were both up at college some 12 years ago. Cyril, who was at Corpus, had rooms with Miss Goff who now keeps a University lodging house at Maid's Causeway. She remembers him as one of a happy party of four at the house, all of whom used to ride motor-cycles. He took his MA degree the last time the circus was in Cambridge, three years ago. 35 04 20a

Good Friday stalls on Parker's Piece – photo – 35 04 20

1935 04 23

Sir – this country has not produced a mask to safeguard us against an attack of modern gas. For two years I have worked in the anti-war movement I founded in a room in Cambridge to protest against war-like manoeuvres and to organise against war. It is the workers who are called upon to fight, to make munitions and pay for it afterwards and trade unionists should take the lead in opposing it. – W.G. Doel, Hope Street, Cambridge – 35 04 23

1935 04 24

Professor Peter Kapitza, a leading University physicist, who went to Russia to attend a conference last summer, has been told that he cannot return to Cambridge. Lord Rutherford, director of the Cavendish Laboratory, has described it as 'a severe shock and most unfortunate'. A special Royal Society Mond Laboratory was built with machines producing as much electrical power as those at Battersea Power Station, when Kapitza carried out experiments with them mild 'earthquake shocks' occurred in the building. 35 04 24

1935 04 25

An East Anglian Egg Packing Station was opened at Mildenhall with up-to-date machines for handling and grading eggs which will mainly be sold in the London market. 35 04 25

1935 05 26

An inquiry was held at St Ives into proposals to build a public convenience in White Hart Lane. The market was important, bringing many people to the town and such a building was necessary. But Mrs Saint considered it would devalue her property in East Street and Mr Skeels, who owns two houses in the Quadrant, thought the council should utilise some of the land lying idle in the present market place. The Town Clerk said this would be unsightly. 35 04 26

Saffron Walden Westminster Bank manager, P. Cubitt, retires 35 04 26a

Burnt Fen Drainage Commissioners presented James Luddington, formerly of Audley House Littleport, with a silver salver on his retirement as Chairman after 50 years. His father and grandfather had filled the post before him back to 1849. Sir Frederick Hiam said this was unique in drainage history of the fens. They were now one of the best-drained districts for which Mr Luddington deserved the greatest credit 35 04 26a

1935 04 26 ES

Another shopping centre in Ely ... Kathleen's on Fore Hill – photo 35 04 26 (2)

Another Shopping Centre in Ely. An attractive modern shop of special interest to ladies has been opened on Fore Hill Ely where Oxford House once stood under the name of Kathleen's. Fore Hill is fast becoming one of the principal shopping centres in Ely and the establishment, with its very latest interior fittings is a marked improvement in the development which is rapidly taking place there 33 04 26ES

1935 04 26 CS

The secret room at Shudy Camps, house of the Dayrells. Mansion Houses of Cambs, no.2. 35 04 26CS

1935 04 24 CS

An ancient dove cote, Shepreth: photo. 35 04 24CS

1935 04 27

The news that the Festival Theatre is definitely closing will come as a severe blow. When Joseph Gordon Macleod took over from Terence Gray two years ago he set out to make it a very definite part of the life of Cambridge. Not only has he worked tremendously hard but he has also sacrificed every penny of his personal capital and it a great blow that Cambridge has not supported him. One is equally sorry for the company which was developing into one of the strongest repertory companies in the country. Now they will be split up. 35 04 27

1935 04 29

Cambridge Salvation Army's earliest days, 50 years ago were recalled by the Mayor, Ald Ralph Starr. He told how a band from Liverpool had come to give them a send-off: "I remember seeing them go down King Street, a singing multitude of people thronging around the band, who were trying to play, and some lads and lasses marching behind. The crowd were not only hustling and pushing them but dealing out blows to those who were playing. Several bandsmen had blood on their faces, but they did not retaliate. It was that which affected me most", he said. 35 04 29

Photographer, p5

1935 04 30

Anti-Nazi play at Festival Theatre – photo – 35 04 29a

May 1935 CDN & Cambridge Scrapbook & Ely Standard

1935 05 01

The Guildhall Protest Committee criticised plans for a useless portico of a most ornate and incongruous style which could be 'put on cold' in from of the proposed façade of the new Guildhall in two years time if the town really wanted it. They maintained the main entrance should be on Market Hill. It would allow a terrace which would form a platform for addressing meetings on Market Hill and give a façade of distinction that the people strongly desire. There was also intense feeling regarding the question of shops on the Peas Hill side 35 05 01

Cambridgeshire County Council considered plans for the construction of new roads alongside the River Lark from Isleham to Prickwillow and from Tunnel Drove, Soham. It will shorten the distance from Isleham to the Beet Sugar Factory by four miles. At least 1,800 acres would be benefited. About one mile of the road out of the seven would be in the Isle of Ely but they are prepared to consider the scheme. The cost of maintenance would be met by the reduced cost of maintenance of the existing roads through Fordham and Soham. 35 05 01a

1935 05 02

Lord Eltisley spoke of the record of the National Government. If the Socialists had remained in office we should have been in a state of chaos. We required a stable, strong and safe Government and in Stanley Baldwin had a leader in the best tradition of British statesmanship. Signs were not lacking that storms were blowing up and we might again be approaching a crucial period. In Germany young people were being brought up in a creed of glorification of arms. Now they had order 12 new submarines. Our best defence was to be prepared against sudden attack 35 02 02 & a

1935 05 03

A number of shoppers at Messrs Robert Sayle's new store accepted the invitation of Mr J.W. Pretty to take morning coffee in the library, in celebration of the opening of the store after the improvements which have been carried out. These have made conditions very much better for shoppers: there is now twice as much sales room as before and the whole store has been opened up. The fact that the store is now one of a chain means that values are better than ever before, and will remain so 35 05 03

Death John Collin, Rob Roy Boat Club 50 years – 35 05 03a & b

The water situation at the Elsworth end of Boxworth is very unsatisfactory. Water from the pond by the roadside is practically unusable, some of the inhabitants had to go half a mile for water and a proper public supply is urgent. At Longstowe part of the parish had to depend on water from roofs. This proved inadequate and of unsatisfactory quality. The distance from some of the houses to the nearest standpipe was considerable. It should be a simple matter to carry the pipe line along the village street to the railway bridge with a standpipe provided near the houses on the Old North Road also Kirtling & Over 35 05 03c

1935 05 03 ES

Glimpses ... rod-peeling yard – names 35 05 03 (2)

1935 05 04

Jubilee decorations Downing Street corner – pic – 35 05 04

One of the most memorable features of the Jubilee celebrations for King George V will be a retrospect of the reign which has been prepared by Prof Harold Temperley for broadcasting. He calls it a radio dramatic and historical drama. He was assisted in his research in the Royal Archives by Miss Sybil Crowe, a former student of Girton and the gifted and artistic producer was by Lawrence Gilliam formerly of Peterhouse. Both were formerly his pupils. 35 05 04a

Photo of Mayor Ald George Stace and Chief Constable Holland en route Westminster Abbey for coronation of King George – 35 05 04b

The Soviet authorities' actions in retaining Prof P. Kapitza in Russia has profoundly disturbed the University and the scientific world. Lord Rutherford has written to The Times stressing the importance of his work and the reasons it should be continued in the new Royal Society Mond laboratory at Cambridge which was constructed and equipped for him. Even under ideal conditions it would require much time to reconstruct the unique equipment in Russia 35 05 04c

1935 05 06

Jubilee celebrations – see 35 05 07

1935 05 07

Cambridge was decorated for the Jubilee celebrations of King George V. The gayest part covered the main shopping centre where everyone had apparently tried to do better than his neighbour. One of the most original efforts was seen in a grocery shop where a number of eggs had been dyed red and blue and made with some white-shelled eggs into the shape of the Union Jack. A music and cake shop, neighbours, had joined together to produce an effective display with lengths of red white and blue silk draped across the front of their premises while a gay display outside an insurance office attracted a great deal of attention 35 05 07a

In the evening of Jubilee Day the King's speech was relayed by means of loud speakers on Jesus Green. It came through with great clarity and was listened to with rapt attention by many thousands of people. The relay was carried out by Messrs Morley and Duke by means of amplifiers installed near Jesus Green Swimming Bath. Afterwards Josephine's Ladies Gipsy Ban played for dancing 35 05 07b

Cambridge Jubilee celebrations – 35 05 07c & d & e & f

Joshua Taylor six reigns of service – 35 05 07h

1935 05 08

Newmarket & Mildenhall jubilee celebrations – 35 05 08

One of the most pleasing features of Ely celebrations for the Silver Jubilee of King George V was the happy atmosphere which prevailed at the dinner for the unemployed, their wives and aged folk which was served at the Central Hall and the Women's Institute. Three hundred sat down to roast beef, baked potatoes, cabbage, fruit tart and custard. There were cigarettes for the men and sweets in red, white and blue bags for the women. Jubilee caskets containing goods were sent to 300 who were unable to attend. 35 05 08b & c

Sir. During the Cambridge Jubilee Celebrations two men went into the marquee and set light to a box of rubbish which they thought contained fireworks. Had it done so it would have caused a considerable loss of life as it stood next to a box containing a large supply of explosives. Fortunately brave men dragged it out and threw it into the river. Will the two who did this dastardly deed meet my two sons, who might have lost their lives, on the lawn of the Croft, Primrose Street and take their medicine in strict privacy? I will guarantee no names shall be mentioned or action taken – Capt E.A. Longley. Organiser Jubilee Celebrations 35 05 08c

Proposals to erect a bridge over the railway at Six-Mile-Bottom level crossing were opposed by the Parish Council because they thought it would spoil the beauty of the place. It would make the main road a racing track whereas if the traffic was held up, as at present, it gave country people a chance to get across. It would also affect the livelihood of shopkeepers and petrol-sellers. But this was a trunk road and the level crossing was very awkward. A subway would be very expensive and much more dangerous and the only way improve it was through a by-pass road. 35 05 08d

1935 05 09

A new road from Isleham alongside the River Lark to Prickwillow would benefit the whole of the parish: "It is a place of all places on earth that most people would object to live in in consequence of its situation and the road would bring Isleham out of the rut and help employment", said Coun, Moore. Half the cost would be obtained from the Ministry of Transport though there were some very light-fingered gentlemen in Parliament and when short of money they dived their hands into funds they were not entitled to. 35 05 09

Children celebrate Jubilee, cinema show – 35 05 09a

1935 05 10

The Medical Officer said that nos.1-4 Wesleyan Cottages, Chapel Street, Exning were unfit for human habitation; each contained one living room and two bedrooms, and there were a total of six occupants. But the Wesleyan Church Trustees said they were clean inside and could be put into a satisfactory condition, the rents were paid regularly and the tenants wished to remain in occupation. Another property at Mayes Yard, Church Street had eight rooms and ten occupants, the tenants had the use of a garden and the cottages could serve a useful purpose to the community for some years. 35 05 10

End of Jubilee celebrations – big crowds at Christ's Pieces – 35 05 10a

1935 05 10 ES

Jubilee King George V celebrations 35 05 10 (2)

With memorable scenes of patriotism and pageantry, every town village and Hamlet, in the fens celebrated the Silver Jubilee of King George V and Queen Mary. All thoughts of class or creed or political belief were submerged by the boundless enthusiasm with which the whole community joined Haddenham celebrated the Jubilee: houses were decorated, flags and bunting were everywhere, a United Service was held and in the afternoon, a fancy dress parade was marshalled on the Green At Stretham, with the sum of over £70 collected, the Jubilee Committee had ample funds at their disposal to provide a day fitting to the occasion and this they did in no uncertain manner. A thanksgiving service was held in the Church and there was a crowded congregation, practically every available seat being occupied. During the day a merry peal was rung on the Church bells by the local ringers 35 05 10(3)ES

Glimpses ...Coronation 1911 at Constitutional Club, Chequer Lane 35 05 10 (4)

1935 05 11

The new West Chesterton children's playground off Histon Road was opened by the Mayor and hundreds of youngsters thronged the ground for the occasion. Since it was bought as an orchard three years ago an immense amount of work had been necessary. It was not complete and they were hoping for swings and perhaps a roundabout later. It is primarily intended for younger children and not for the playing of hard-ball games such as cricket but old and middle-aged people could also enjoy the ground for sitting about. 35 05 11b

Any withdrawal of assistance for the sugar beet industry would be a disaster to farmers. The subsidy was granted to keep the land under the plough and without it hardly one of the county smallholders would pay his rent. It had kept in regular work hundreds of men who would otherwise have been laid off. But the subsidy was given first 11 years ago to establish the new industry and the cost to the State to produce sugar worth 5s was 12s 6d. 35 05 11 & a

Architect and builders accused of conspiring to cheat Melbourn RDC – 35 05 11c

Death Prof Francis Crawford Burkitt – Prof Divinity – 35 05 11b

Many who frequent the University Botanic Gardens will be sorry to learn of the death of 'Tommy', the old pony who had been a familiar sight for 30 years. He had reached the great age of 35 and was a special favourite with children who loved to take him sugar and other little dainties. Old ladies too used to make quite a fuss of him. Tommy helped to pull the lawn mower and was working up to a few days ago 35 05 11c

1935 05 13

The number employed by the Disabled Persons Workshop has varied from 9 to 10; two are doing piece work in their homes, not being able to attend at the shop. Unfortunately three who are employed are not eligible for the deficiency grants from the Ministry of Labour which has hit the income. It has been a disturbed year owing to the difficulty of finding suitable premises in Cambridge for a shop. The workshops in Gloucester Street are out of the way and they had to leave Peas Hill because of demolitions, meaning there was nowhere to sell their goods. The new premises in Trumpington Street are outside the shopping centre and the rents and rates are a strain 35 05 13

Tuberculosis officer retires – 35 05 13a

Memorial service for Captain Cook's widow – 35 05 13a

1935 05 14

Cambridge General Cemetery Company asked that the Corporation take over control of the Histon Road Burial Ground which was established nearly 100 years ago by a private company. There are still a number of private grave spaces available for burials and it would be in the public interest. This was agreed 35 05 14

1935 05 15

Sunday bathing in Ely protest – 35 05 15 & a

1935 05 16

Lofts Hall, Wendons Loft was destroyed by a fire which raged through the night. The blaze started in the modern part of the building which was inhabited by the gamekeeper, two gardeners and their families. The mansion, which contains over 50 rooms, was completely gutted and all efforts to save Tudor features including some fine old chimneys and carvings of antique interest were unavailing. Before the war the Hall was the residence of Sir James Bailey who made additions to the structure. It is now home to a London stockbroker. 35 05 16c

Councillors argued over proposals for the Guildhall. Some wanted to spend £200,000 on the old building and still have a patchwork quilt, whereas they could have an entirely new one for £150,000. Peas Hill never had been and never would be a business centre and shops there would never be a paying proposition. The dispute had started with an unfortunate illustration of the façade in the 'Sunday Times' but the design was undoubtedly a dignified building of its kind and the average elector would vote for anything, if it were as ugly as sin, if it would only save a bit on the rates.. However Councillor Stubbs said if it had been built on Donkey Common as he'd suggested some years ago the council would not be in the muddle it was today. 35 05 16a & b

Bourn author D. Mordecai attempted hoax – 35 05 16b

1935 05 17

Cambridge University and Town Gas Light Company needed to lay a main from their works in Newmarket Road to Cam Road. The first proposal was to lay it under the river but negotiations were opened with a view to the erection of a footbridge which would serve the Company and also meet the growing needs of the residents in the neighbourhood. The cost would be £4,000 of which the Gas Company offered to pay a quarter providing the skeleton of the bridge was provided during this financial year 35 05 17

1935 05 17 ES

Stretham

Mr Willett has serious accident on Jubilee night; condition remains the same

Cricket v Cottenham & Mr G. Swan's XI

Mothers Union outing to London

Accident – car overturned near Elford Cottages, Cambridge Road, hit telegraph post which broken in half.

Feast Sunday parade committee – Haddenham Band, united service on recreation ground, parade to include a fancy dress and decorated cycle parade; to judge entries after service on field and not at commencement as previously. Income to Nursing Association as its future in grave danger and may cease to act

Jubilee arrangements committee balance sheet; to agree site for playground on recreation field

35 05 17 (2)

1935 05 18

Cambridge Drawing Society exhibition includes many local views including 'Peas Hill' by Dorothy E. Bradford, 'Pembroke College' by Joyce Shillington Scales and Fenners by Mary Fyson. Fulbourn

Mill has provided R.C. Lambeth with a subject. His detailed painting of the interior of the mill and its machinery will interest all with a mechanical turn of mind. Madame Raverat has some beautiful woodcuts including an unusually large cut of St John's Old Bridge printed from three wood blocks.
35 05 18

Here is a wonderful opportunity to inspect the miracle-ride Studebaker that is sweeping the country. Not even a £1,500 car can give you such a ride: its swiftness, silence, smoothness and cutter security must be experienced to be believed. Features include independent front wheel suspension, compound hydraulic brakes and full five seats. Prices: Dictator regular saloon £298, de-luxe saloon, fixed-head coupe or roadster £348. See the models in our showrooms. Tom Cox Motor Co. Ltd, Riley House, Chesterton Road – advert. 35 05 18a

1935 05 19

Broughton murder trial – 35 05 19

1935 05 21

According to the recent census taken for military purposes, Cambridge has a horse population of 779, excluding railway and military animals. This is abnormally high, being roughly twice as many as any other town of its size. In the riding horse and hunter class Cambridge takes fourth place in the country but the town is poorly supplied with carriage and trap horses. People have forsaken the horse for wheeled outings though there are still a few residents who prefer to sit behind a horse instead of a petrol engine. It seems that the motor salesmen of Cambridge are extraordinarily efficient. 35 05

Newmarket Jockey Club suffered extensive damage as the result of a disastrous fire. The well-equipped billiards room presented a sorry sight, the lamps and ceiling having crashed on to the table and water pouring though like a tropical storm. Volunteers worked with great zest in clearing rooms of furniture, pictures and valuable oil paintings, some of which were spoilt by the heat. Standing apart are the residential quarters used by the King during his visit to Newmarket. It was the town's greatest fire for many years 35 05 21a

1935 05 22

Queens' College – demolition in Silver Street for new extensions – 35 05 22

1935 05 23

Queens' new buildings, p5

Ely traffic lights at Nutholt Lane – 35 05 23

1935 05 24

Matthew's bakery electrically-driven delivery van – 35 05 24

1935 05 24 ES

RDC discuss roads: Haddenham-Stretham road widening opposite Wilburton church 35 04 24 (2)

Stretham's annual effort for charity, held entirely on behalf of the local Nursing Association for the first time on Sunday, was marred by an unpleasant spell of rain, which necessitated the postponement of the parade of decorated vehicles and cycles and fancy costumes. Nothing was done until five o'clock when the weather permitted the Haddenham Forresters Silver Band to parade the village accompanied by a number of collectors. When the band reached the War Memorial flowers were laid on the shrine. The fancy dress parade was held on Monday evening. A decorated motor lorry commenced the tour of the village with several children attired in a variety of costumes. J. Gibbons dressed as an old gentleman and riding a decorated cycle also attracted a great deal of attention. The procession made its way to the cricket field where the fancy dress competitions were judged. As a result of the efforts approximately five pounds has been raised for the funds 35 05 24(3)ES

1935 05 25

The rector of Doddington has bought a remarkable stained glass window dating back to 1510. From the auction catalogue it seems that it was in the Strawberry Hill sale where Horace Walpole had a collection of stained glass which is believed to have come from Cambridge. Experts believe it is not the lost window from King's College Chapel though the subjects are the same though they are treated more clearly and not mixed up. The glass has been temporarily installed in several rooms at Doddington Rectory. 35 05 25

Christ's College library new stained glass window to William Skeat - 35 05 25

1935 05 27

Thomas Henry Connor, Cambridge dentist dies – 35 05 27

A large paraffin drum exploded during a blaze at Royston Brewery sending a sheet of flame into the sky like a long comet and causing more damage than the fire. The top of the drum knocked the troughing off the brewery building while the main body of the drum was hurled against the back wall of Mr F.J. Middleton's house with such force that the brickwork was knocked back half an inch. It then rebounded rebounding into the middle of his greenhouse. The thick steel 50-gallon oil drum was nearly empty before the fire. 35 05 27a

1935 05 28

Dr Wooster of the Scientists' Anti-War Committee said the proposed air-raid drills would be compulsory, getting civilians under war discipline and squashing anti-war activities. It was impossible to protect the population at large against air attack: we might conceivably protect the inhabitants of Haverhill by building shelters but not the whole of London. The Government would not supply gas masks, you must buy them for yourselves; they would cost about £20 and it was obvious that poor people could not afford it, he told a meeting in the Labour Hall, Norfolk Street. 35 05 28 # c.45.6

1935 05 31

What is believed to be a medieval burial ground has been revealed by the finding of skeletons during underpinning work at Spinney Abbey, Wicken. The house bears the date 1775 but is believed to be much older and the bodies were found below the wall. Two full-sized skeletons and another of a child were found close together with others nearby. The position of the bodies indicates a burial ground, particularly as the house stands on the site of the old monastery which was said to be connected to Denny Abbey by a subterranean passage. 35 05 31 & a

1935 05 31 CS

Skeletons at Spinney Abbey discovered. 35 05 31CS

Cobham's air campaign: plans for a Cambridge visit. 35 05 31(2)CS

1935 05 31 ES

Skeletons unearthed at Spinney Abbey

The skeleton of a man, woman and child, have been discovered at Spinney Abbey, Wicken. The bones, which are obviously centuries old, were found during the course of underpinning the north and east walls of the Abbey which has been the home of the Fuller family for many years. Mr. Fuller found that the east wing was settling and decided to have the north and east walls underpinned. It was during excavations for that purpose that the skeletons, five in all, were unearthed. Two of them had evidently been properly buried, lying with their feet to the east, and bearing out the supposition that there was once a burial ground within the abbey precincts. One was wholly recovered but of the other the arms and heads still lie under the floor of Mr. Fuller's dining room, only the leg bones projecting beyond the wall into the garden. The leg bones are very large indicating that person buried there was a big proportions and the fact that the body part lies under the dining room floor proves it must have been buried before the present Abbey was built some 200 years ago. It was while a hole was being dug beside the east wall, near to the dairy, that the three skeletons were found about four feet deep. The fact that the man's skull was smashed suggest that he was murdered and the other two persons, a woman and a child - perhaps his wife and offspring - probably shared the same fate. By the position in which the bones were found, with the feet doubled round and almost touching the heads, it seems the bodies were hurriedly built bundled into a hole to remove traces of the crime. The discovery was reported to the police who deemed that no inquiry was necessary. 35 05 31ES

June 1935 CDN & Cambridge Standard & Ely Standard

1935 06 03

Over 3,000 farmers and workers attended an open-air demonstration at Ely to protest against the abandonment of State assistance to the sugar beet industry. It would mean disaster for agriculture. Without beet the eastern half of England would have fallen into desolation and become another distressed area. The 18 factories had installed machinery which consumed no less than three million tons of coal and coke as well as over one million tons of limestone and no fewer than 65 million bags. The cost of the industry had been worth it to the nation as money would otherwise have been spent on dole and poor relief. 35 06 03 & a

1935 06 04

The Mayor (Ald R. Starr) opened the Cambridge Trustee Savings Bank's new offices in Downing Street. "I believe there are people in this town who do not trust the banks", he said. "They still keep their savings in old stockings and I often come across people who keep their money in old pewter pots. If the people of Cambridge will only feel it is their bank, and that they can deposit their money feeling it is safer than it would be in their own cottages, it would be a good thing". The Chancellor of the Exchequer, Neville Chamberlain, sent a telegram wishing the bank success. 35 06 04 & a

1935 06 05

Cambridge Town Council was among the pioneers of town planning, the Mayor (Ald R. Starr) told a conference. "We town planned the eastern portion of our Borough in 1927. Why we did such a small portion I cannot understand, though I was chairing the committee, but we got on with it very satisfactorily. In 1928 we launched the Cambridge and district town-planning scheme and since then have been sticking very truthfully to it, dealing with difficult problems". Town planning is not smooth. It is full of snags with so many people to consult, he warned. 35 06 05 & a

1935 06 06

Town planning, p3

1935 06 07

It will cost less to wash in Cambridge from now on, thanks to the Cambridge University and Town Waterworks Company's new water-softening station at Cherry Hinton whose plant was designed by Messrs Roby of London. They were a public utility company which while it had a duty to their shareholders, also had a duty to the public. So when in 1934 the Company had at long last freed itself from the heavy financial drain incurred by the obsolescence of the old Fulbourn pumping station, much consideration was given to the problem of how subsequent revenue surplus could be handed back to its customers. 35 06 07 & a Godmanchester medical officer said only a small percentage of the houses had water closets and baths. He had tested 30 wells and found that in 21 the water was unfit for drinking because in dry weather the water from the drains ran into them. He strongly advised the council to put in a pure water supply. But they did not want to put great burdens on the ratepayers. During the financial crisis of 1931 the council thought it was not time to embark on big expenses, in 1932 nothing was done and in 1933 they'd asked Huntingdon if it was possible to draw from their water supply. 35 06 07 b & c

1935 06 07 ES

Stretham

Women's Institute

Death Sarah Ann Sennitt, Cage Lane ...

By the death of Mrs. Sarah Ann Sennitt of Cage Lane, 80, Stretham has lost one of its oldest inhabitants. She was the widow of Joseph Sennitt. Despite her age, deceased was remarkably active and was employed by Mr. R.C. Routledge in his baker's business. She had worked at this establishment for many years, being previously employed by the late Mr. J. H. Savidge and his son, Mr. Alan Savidge. 35 06 07ES

1935 06 08

The official announcement that Stanley Baldwin is to succeed Ramsey MacDonald as head of the Government is of special interest to Cambridge because it is the first time in history that we have had a statesman occupying the position of Prime Minister and Chancellor of the University at one and the same time. Nothing has commended Baldwin more to the public than the loyal way he, as an ex-Prime Minister, has served under Mr Macdonald in the last six years. Now MacDonald is to serve under him 35 06 08a

The finest Chinese actor of today, Mr Mei Lan-fang, who has to have a three-strong bodyguard to protect him from kidnappers, visited the Festival Theatre. He granted the News his first interview ever to an English newspaper for Chinese actors have a genuine dislike of publicity in every shape and form. As Mr Mei could not speak English, and the reporter knew no Chinese, the conversation was conducted through an interpreter. He is actually a female impersonator for in China women do not take part in classical drama. 35 06 08

1935 06 11

Catherine Parsons said people believed that midnight was the hour when ghosts would be seen. No one would pass the Roman road crossing to Streetley End for fear of being pelted with large things like apple dumplings. But Horseheath ghosts were quite harmless and included a poor girl whose coming was heralded by a sound like buzzing bees, three headless women dressed in black who wandered in from Camps and a headless man with a red handkerchief around his neck. The finest spectacle was a coffin borne up Limbery's Hill followed by a long procession of mourners. 35 06 11 & a

1935 06 12

Sir –Longstowe has scarcely advanced one iota this last fifty years. True we have been able to get a second delivery of letters and the postmaster now allows the postman to collect on Sunday afternoon. We have a public telephone and last year the County Council spared a little tar and gravel for the road. But we have had no farm workers' houses built since 1865 with three families living in one house. You will see the matronly schoolmistresses drilling boys of 14 in some sort of exercise while their fathers tramp the roads looking for work, but some young men cannot write their own names when they leave school – F. Holdway 35 06 12

1935 06 13

Huntingdonshire Agricultural Show – 35 06 13

1935 06 14

Undergraduates' misbehaviour – 35 06 14

1935 06 14 CS

West Wratting mill open play. 35 06 14CS

May Week carnival. 35 06 14CS

Strange powers of a Waterbeach butcher: G.H. Batten, water diviner. 35 06 14(2)(3)CS

1935 06 14 ES

Stretham's Methodist fete

Stretham Methodist fete was held in the Rectory Grounds for raise money repairs to the Sunday School schoolroom which in a very dilapidated condition. The foundation stones were laid in 1885; part of the old chapel, which was left standing, is in a very bad condition and needs pulling down for the erection of a more modern and commodious premises providing a vestry, place to boil water and coal storage. The Rector had placed parts of the Rectory at their disposal ... MP Rothschild said it showed love and harmony existed in Stretham; it was good to see congregations combining. The sad condition of the schoolroom had been apparent for some time, it would not need a Samson to cause the ceiling to fall down. 35 06 14 (2)

Terrific fen dust storm, hundreds of acres of sugar beet devastated ... Manea. Also other articles on beet industry 35 06 14 (4); pictures 25 06 14 (6)

The serious and extensive damage to the sugar beet crop was wrought in Fenland by the terrific gale and consequent dust storm which ranged on Friday and Saturday.

Despite the recent rains which had moistened the land in the previous few days the great velocity of the wind whipped up loose surface soil in the beet fields and vast clouds of dark brown dust swept across the countryside for hours, causing farmworkers to run for shelter, shutting out the sunlight and leaving in its path the blighted and shrivelled remains of what were but a few hours before healthy and sturdy young sugar beet plants.

As much damage was caused by the flying dust as to the fields off which the soil was blown. It is now too late to re-sow with the prospect of anything more than half a crop, meaning more expense in cleaning, setting out and singling. Before the storm many farmers had been compelled to re-sow in some cases two or three times owing to the failure of crop caused either by frost. lack of moisture or insect.

Dust was carried for miles across the flat country and where a farm stood in its path the dust collected to a depth of nearly a foot. There are to be seen places which resemble a desert rather than a section of a fen field. Dikes have also been filled by the earth.

The dust was especially bad at Manea, particularly around Fields End, Purl's Bridge and Welches dam. It was impossible to remain on the land during the storm and farmhands who were working in close proximity were cut off from sight. Many returned to the fields on Saturday morning to continue with their work, only to find that neither crop nor weeds remain. They are now out of work.

Arthur Sharpe of Field Road, Manea, said the storm was a sight and experience that will long be remembered. "Acres and acres of sugar beet, singled out and going ahead vigorously, have been completely spoiled, all shrivelled and withered up. I was at work in a field less than a mile from the village, a field almost entirely sheltered by the Old Bedford barrier bank, and from 3pm until 7pm, the village was practically hidden from view. From the Hundreds Farm a mile beyond Welches Dam on the Mepal side, almost to Welney, a distance of six miles, a cloud of dust half-a-mile wide obscured everything. Nor was this the only cloud of dust, for it was blowing just as fiercely and thickly from other areas. Wherever there was a field unsheltered clouds of dust were whirled and the crops damaged. Even potatoes have been battered and bruised to such an extent they look as bad as they did after the great frost"

Many of the fields which suffered the worst were flooded as late as the Wednesday prior to the storm. A similar dust storm occurred on March 24 1895 which was described in a letter written at the time: "a driving cloud, apparently of smoke mixed with flying straws, fragments of thatch and miscellaneous debris swept through the streets of Chatteris. It was not until we looked out upon the great expanse of fen surrounding us that we realised that the black clouds sweeping across them were clouds of black fen earth driven by a gale that seemed ever-increasing in violence.

Compulsory driving tests commenced on first of June. The approximate time the test takes is half an hour: 10 minutes for questions on the Highway Code and 20 minutes for driving. Applicants are reminded that they must bring a vehicle, they must should have their driving licences with them and be insured from third party risk and covered to carry a passenger. Single seater vehicles are excepted for passenger carrying. Motorcyclists are not exempt from taking the driving tests. 35 06 14(5)ES

Glimpses ... photo Lloyd's bank premises uses from 1835 until 1923, at junction High Street and Chequer Lane, now Bonnett's Bakery ... special article elsewhere 35 06 14 (7)

As the Ely branch of Lloyds Bank is this year celebrating its centenary, the old picture is of particular interest. It shows the premises used for 88 years from 1835, the business was established by the Foster family of Cambridge, until 1923 when it was moved to the present fine building in Minster Place. The bank was in High Street, Ely, at the junction with Chequer Lane, the site now occupied by Mr. A.V. Bonnett's bakery and confectionary shop and cafe. 35 06 14(7)ES

In recent years, the demand for the service of the school dentist has increased enormously and, while it may have been possible at one time for a single dental surgeon to cope with all the demand, it is certainly not possible now. There can be no question that the work is bound to fall further and further into arrears and each individual school is going to be left for an increasing period of time without a visit from the dentist. The only solution is the appointment of a second dentist, a solution which will be criticised on the grounds of expense. But there is evidently an increasing demand for the service and it will be a great benefit to the health and well-being of the children. 35 06 14(5)ES

1935 06 15

I dialled '0' and asked for Teversham 331. The answer came, "Marshall's Aerodrome". I said "How about that little trip we spoke of earlier". "Righto, come along at once. In a few minutes I arrived at the aerodrome and found a 'plane awaiting me. I tied my camera to a buttonhole in my mackintosh as we took off and made for Baitsbite where we could see the boats at First Post corner. Close co-operation between the pilot and myself was made easy by the speaking tubes and my helmsmen showed adaptability to the requirements of aerial photography, allowing me to obtain some interesting photographs. 35 06 15

The Cosmopolitan Cinema in Market Passage was started two years ago by Mr N. Openshaw Higgins as an experiment. Increasing numbers of people have welcomed the opportunity of seeing cultural films that do not appeal to be masses. Now it is moving to the new theatre being constructed in Peas Hill. There has been discussion as to the most suitable name for the new venture. The Arts Theatre was talked of, but a more likely choice now is the Market Theatre. 35 06 15b

1935 06 18

May Week entered its ballroom phase with the twinkle of fairy lights and the dazzle of evening frocks. The biggest ball was that arranged by the First and Third Trinity Boat Club which was attended by 1,200 people. The flood-lit bridge stood out pearly white against the shadowy outlines of college buildings and hundreds of fairy lanterns made a necklace of living fire round the lawns of the Backs while Chinese lanterns hung in the trees along with coloured light indicators which showed the number of the dance in progress. Here and there a brazier gleamed dully, spitting steam in protest against the rain which sought to dampen their fire. 35 06 18

1935 06 20

The Theatre Cinema returned to a programme of cine-variety with a programme of stage turns and films. The variety bill is headed by that inimitable comedian, Max Miller, 'the cheeky chappy'. All his jokes have the air of spontaneity and his suggestion of breezy good humour is infectious. The stage programme includes the most daring roller-skating acts we have seen, a juggler and a young lady who has achieved success as a wireless crooner. The principal film is 'The Personality Kid' with a clever cartoon and the News. 35 06 20

A number of readers of the 'CDN' saw the town from a new angle. Winners of our Free Flights Competition in connection with Sir Alan Cobham's air display went on a formation flight round the town. A number went up in the 10-seater air-liner while others took a 'flip' in the open planes which take part in the display. The rush of air past the face, the thrilling sensation as the plane dipped and the sight of Cambridge spread out mosaic-like made for an exhilarating experience and the winners walked more jauntily after their trip than they did before it! 35 06 20a

1935 06 21

A large granary at Longland's Farm, Fenton, near Warboys, was destroyed by a fire which began on the top floor where two tons of flake maize was stored. A week ago the maize, which was kept in sacks, was found to be overheated and was turned in order to cool down. At 10.40pm a maroon was fired in Ramsey to arouse the fire brigade and 15 minutes later they were at the scene. In a little more than half an hour they had the blaze under control. 35 06 21

Open-air theatre, p3

1935 06 21 ES

Stretham

School scholarship success to Ely High School, includes Edna Feetham, Joan Papworth

Garden fete – Methodists raised £31

Jubilee Committee had visited Kettering to select amusements ... parish council asked to fund shortfall; Sir Fred Hiam to be asked to open 35 06 21 (2)

1935 06 22

The well-known dairy farmers J.M. Bull & son of Hills Road have won outright the silver challenge cups for clean milking at the County Show. Their cows are fed entirely on foods that produce the very best vitamin milk which is cooled immediately then bottled and delivered direct to the consumer within a few minutes. Milk produced under such hygienic conditions and from such healthy cows is undoubtedly the best form of food, as well as the cheapest as far as children are concerned. The same scrupulous care is also given to their cream cheese and the quality of their butter and cream is a by-word in Show circles. 35 06 22 & a

1935 06 24

Cobham's air display – 35 06 24

1935 06 26

The proposed Cambridge town planning scheme envisages a ring road to encircle the whole town with the construction of by-pass roads and the improvement of dangerous junctions. The level crossings on the Milton and Cherry Hinton roads will be replaced with bridges. An area of 190 acres on Milton Road opposite the sewage farm acres is reserved for a municipal aerodrome with a municipal golf course off Trumpington Road 35 06 26a

The Parliamentary Land Drainage Committee discussed the prospects of flooding in Middle Level. Land 20 feet above the normal height of spring tides should be subject to a drainage tax. This would bring in much of March and three-quarters of Whittlesey but Doddington and most of Chatteris would be exempt. In the past churches had been inundated and parishioners climbed the towers to get out of the water. People went from Lincolnshire by boat to take food to the folks in Terrington. 35 06 26 & a

1935 06 27

Stretham HMS Pinafore on the vicarage lawn – 35 06 27

1935 06 28 ES

Model battleship at Stretham fete made by L. Caswell, pupil of Soham Grammar School, was centre of much attraction of Church Fete on Rectory lawn: photo 35 06 28 (2)

July 1935 CDN & Cambridge Standard & Ely Standard

1935 07 02

An auction of John Evison's land at Fen Drayton was told that most lots had been sold privately to the Land Settlement Association. The auctioneer was sorry to disappoint people but the application was from a semi-public body concerned with settling families on the land from the depressed areas and deserved special consideration. The remaining lot comprised 56 acres of gravel-bearing land but it failed to reach the reserve price. 35 07 02

The largest number of British warplanes ever assembled in one spot have arrived at RAF Mildenhall for the Silver Jubilee review. Three hundred and fifty in number, from 38 squadrons, 'planes of the bomber, night bomber and fighter type have turned the green aerodrome into a sea of silver. But poor visibility caused the practice take-off to be postponed twice and owing to the time it takes to get airborne only 200 of them will actually participate in the fly-past 35 07 02a # c.26.1

Royston paddling pool started – 35 07 02b

1935 07 04

A motor engineer told the bankruptcy proceedings that he'd started at a small lock-up garage at Chesterton in 1933, then moved to St Tibbs Row where he sold used cars. Next year he moved to Bridge Street. He advertised for a salesman, and three or four paid £50 and received a car. An investor put £500 into the business which was for the purchase of cars 35 07 04

1935 07 05

Excitement was caused at Mildenhall where the 350 aeroplanes – worth practically £1,000,000 – are assembled for the Royal review when fire broke out at Horrox sawmills, about a mile away from the aerodrome. The Royal Air Force received a telephone call asking for help and a lorry load of men armed with fire extinguishers was despatched together with a fire engine. It was the luckiest chance that the wind was blowing away at the time otherwise the fire would have spread with lightning rapidity and there would have been a danger of it reaching as far as the aerodrome. 35 07 05c

The King had 'Jubilee Weather' for his review of the Royal Air Force at Mildenhall Aerodrome where he inspected 28 squadrons of the RAF – five miles of aircraft in all – on the vast landing ground. The machines ranged from tiny 230 mph Gauntlets to giant bombers. Twice he left his car to learn some of the secrets of our latest flying machines including the power-driven machine guns mounted in the turret of an Overstrand bomber 35 07 05 & a

The tenant of the Red Lion at Trumpington had been there since 1916. If the licence was taken away he would be deprived of his livelihood & the Red Lion Self-Help Club would be broken up, magistrates heard. There were 34 allotment holders on ground belonging to the pub and half the allotment land in the village had already been lost on account of building. It was an old-fashioned house, very quiet and homely and the Feast was held in a field at the rear. They served teas to anybody who asked for them, but not much beer. The licence was renewed 35 07 05b

The Five Bells was one of five fully-licensed houses in Cherry Hinton. In 1920 the Hop Bine, next door, was done away with and the Russian Arms had been closed in 1912. Lacons the brewers said the extra penny on beer had hit sales. The Five Bells had been ringing harmoniously for a good many years to the comfort and convenience of the inhabitants and should be allowed to continue to ring a little longer. The licence was renewed – 35 07 05b

This delightful brick-built bungalow, standing on its own grounds about three miles from Cambridge was originally built for a retired couple, and is designed not only as a labour-saving residence, but also allows for extensions when required. It has all modern conveniences with gas and electric throughout. Buses pass the door. The extensive garden is well cultivated and the whole property can be truly described as pictures. It has a lovely lawn, garden and fruit trees together with a good garage. Its original price was £900. What offers? Contact the Belfast Linen Warehouse, St Andrew's Street, Cambridge. – Advert 35 07 05d

Royal air force review, Mildenhall – 35 07 05c 35 07 06, 35 07 06a, 35 07 06b, 35 07 08

1935 07 05 CS

300 years of Cambridge bowls, 35 07 07CS # c.38 : bowls

1935 07 05 ES

Drainage Bill thrown out – whole purpose additional income for Middle Level 35 07 05 (2)

The Select Committee of the House of Commons continued their consideration of the Land Drainage (Great Ouse) Provisional Order. From early times man had carried out work in the area to expedite the work of nature in building up barriers against flood. It was the usual for the barriers of sand and silt which accumulated to be swept away by storms. In the Ouse district man had been a little impatient and had not allowed nature to finish her job. Accretion of deposits was still going on outside banks man had built. The Marsh Cut had been very much due enlarge to natural causes in spite of the work of the Norfolk Estuary Company to prevent it.

The Solicitor on behalf of March, Chatteris and Whittlesey Urban District Councils said the promoters had failed to prove that the areas they propose to include derived benefit or avoided dangers as a result of drainage operations. For taking into their streams any of the Urban District's sewage water the Councils paid a precept on the understanding that the Government would assist in carrying out schemes of drainage works.

The theory that if protective work collapsed, there would be complete inundation of the whole area between the rivers and thereby a 15-foot tide had now been abandoned. In January 1928 Mr. Griffiths, the Engineer saw a 15-foot tide at Denver, and St Germans. The tide was confined in a narrow channel of the Bedford River and immediately the river banks collapsed, the level of water must fall. It was not fair to bring into taxation land which had hitherto been free from it and been bought and sold on that basis. The whole basis of the promoters' case was the desire for additional revenue for the Middle Level Board. And to get it they proposed to tax high land although the Board's function was to drain fen lands. 35 07 05ES

The March Amateur Cine Club gave a show in the club room. It consisted of shots of the March and London Jubilee celebrations. Mr. J. E. Taylor operated the projector. The screen used was a Bulman Stereotone and is the largest one in use by amateur clubs. The film was taken by Messrs. Taylor and Cheeseright and the sound effects were reproduced by means of a Decca Portola radiogram. Arrangements are being made for the film to be shown to the public 35 07 05ES

Stretham

Old folk entertained – WI tea 35 07 05 (3)

Parish Council meeting – RDC had piped the pond, Jubilee Committee had overspent funds, time pond in Cricket Field was completely filled in

Sidney Leach, Ely Road bricklayer's business 24 years 35 07 05 (4)

1935 07 09

Four cottages, all unoccupied and condemned, were destroyed by a fire at Lolworth. A group of thatched cottages nearby were also threatened seriously for a time as a strong breeze fanned the flames that way, but the brigade poured tons of water on the burning houses and effectually quelled the danger. The buildings were made almost entirely of wood and plaster with tiled and thatched roofs and the powerful jets of water played on the wall from the back pushed them down almost instantly. 35 07 09

Roy Godfrey, son of the Swavesey Haulage Contractor, has been awarded an autographed Hobbs bat for his fine all-round performance in the 'News Chronicle' cricket competition for schoolboys. Playing for St Ives Grammar School he scored 46 runs and took six wickets for eight runs. He also took a difficult catch off a fast rising ball. Roy's performance is remarkable, as he lost his right arm as a result of an accident when he was five years old 35 07 09a

1935 07 10

Walter Worthington was executed at Bedford Gaol for the murder of his wife at Broughton, Hunts. He'd claimed the shooting was an accident as the gun went off in his hand. Two of his 13 children from his previous marriage witnessed the shooting. A crowd of several hundred gathered outside the prison gates. There were scores of children and some mothers carried babies. About a dozen police controlled the traffic. Just at 8 o'clock, the hour of execution, the many pigeons which congregate on the roof of the prison flew into the air 35 07 10

1935 07 11

Wisbech fire granary elevator – 35 07 11

Royston dustbins, p6

1935 07 12

Harvey Goodwin Home, p6

1935 07 12 ES

Stretham

Baptist anniversary services

Sports Committee arrangements sports and horticultural show

Stretham Horticultural and Sports Association's annual exhibition of fruit, flowers and vegetables, held in the Recreation Ground Social Club, was again a gratifying success. The classes for bread, sandwiches and cake were judged by Mr P. Bradshaw. The customary sports meeting brought only one disappointment - the absence of several prominent runners and riders. Even some of the local athletes were not as loyal as they might have been and the programme had to be adjusted.

Nevertheless some excellent racing was seen and though the track was hard and the corners dangerous, there was not a single spill among the cyclists. There were a dozen events for local schoolchildren and comedy was introduced by a tug-of-war for ladies. A new trophy was presented by Lieut-Commander G.M.S. Stitt for the local competitor gaining the highest number of points. It was won by R.C. Caswell, a Stretham lad still attending Soham Grammar School. 35 07 19(2)ES

Show and sports, 60 entries for sports including pick of professional cyclists and runners

Many anxious eyes will be cast towards the skies by the Committee of the Stretham Show and Sport Association who are tomorrow holding their annual horticultural show and sports. This year will be a critical one for the prize drawer has now been forbidden and they will have to make up the deficit to raise enough to at least pay their way. Over 60 entries have been received for the sports, including all the pick of the professional cyclists and runners. 35 07 12ES

Death Rebecca Gaunt, Reads Street, 74. Eldest daughter late Frank Russell, came back five years ago 35 07 12 (2)

1935 07 13

Sidney Moon, p6

1935 07 16

Oakington isolation hospital, p5

1935 07 17

Stretham annual show – 35 07 17 & a

1935 07 18

Jesus Green playground chute – boy killed - 35 07 18 & a

1935 07 19

Huntingdonshire County Council decided to accept £5,000 from the Air Ministry for the Wyton Aerodrome and £3,000 for the lands adjoining. Alderman Wood Horn said this was of great interest both nationally and locally. The land at present is occupied by sanatorium buildings but this had served its purpose and the money could be used to pay off the outstanding debt on the hospital 35 07 19

1935 07 19 CS

The rare pines at Pampisford Manor. 35 07 19CS

1935 07 19 ES

Stretham stages another creditable show; good-quality fruit ... splendid racing at evening sports meeting; two new trophies, one won by local schoolboy, several prominent competitors failed to appear 35 07 19 (2)

Garage breaking at Stretham – E. Steven's entry forced through windows, blood-stained packs of cigarettes on ground spotted by Cyril Westley, Stretham postman; wireless sets damaged 35 07 19 (3)
The garage on the Cambridge Road, Stretham owned by Mr. E. Stevens was broken into and a quantity of cigarettes and tobacco was stolen. The discovery was made by Mr. Cyril Westley, a Stretham postman, who noticed several bloodstained packets of cigarettes laying on the ground around the outside of the building. He informed Mrs. C. Hitch who lives almost opposite, and she notified the proprietor by telephone. Entry had been forced by breaking the central pane of glass in a window. This had been reached by means of an old motorcar seat. On the shelf immediately below the window were two portable wireless sets and the intruders had moved one of these to the garden where it was left badly damaged. An attempt was made to take the second set but a battery which was attached was found smashed on the floor and it is thought that the noise disturbed the thieves who then secured tobacco and cigarettes, pitched them through the window and ran off. The thieves were evidently cut a good deal by broken glass and many fingerprints were left behind. 35 07 19ES

1935 07 20 c

The Corner House Dart Club, runners-up in the Wells and Winch League, held an outing to Calais. Paddy Harris, of the Progressive Coaches, efficiently conducted the party throughout the day. The new luxury cross-channel liner, Queen of the Channel, was boarded at Southend and the party, with 1,600 other passengers returned home in a very merry mood, probably occasioned by the price of champagne!

1935 07 23

Cottages in Dolphin Lane, Melbourn, condemned for demolition – 35 07 23

1935 07 25

Two RAF 'Bulldog' planes taking part in night flying exercises over Cambridge had to make forced landings when they were caught in a thick mist which came up suddenly. The pilots looked for an emergency landing ground and saw the lights of Marshall's aerodrome below. One succeeded in landing just before the fog blotted out the lights but the other five had to keep on flying until one ran out of petrol and had to make a forced landing at Duxford. In doing so the machine crashed and the pilot was slightly injured. 35 07 25

1935 07 26

Pageant at Haslingfield White Hill. 35 07 26CS

1935 07 26 ES

Stretham

Infant's death – 17th-month daughter L Ellinor Reads Street

Death Peter Cutter, Read Street; came from Abington 14 years ago when married Jessie Knights, daughter of late Mrs T. Stubbings. Had been inmate at Fulbourn for five years 35 07 26 (2)

1935 07 27

Sid Moon, the CDN cartoonist for six years, is leaving to take up a similar appointment on the 'Sunday Despatch'. Speaking in a dual capacity as editor and as 'Uncle Robin' (of the Robin Fellowship), Mr Morley Stuart said Mr Moon had produced cartoons which were full of clever ideas but never objectionable and expressed regret that the special Robin Goodfellow cartoon characters he had created had no 'gone back into the inkwell' 35 07 27

Workmen engaged in digging operations between Scotland Road and the new Eastfields housing estate at Chesterton came across a number of human bones. George Firman and Bert Jacobs found almost a complete face, several hundred years old but with the teeth in almost perfect condition. Experts say they could have come from the burial ground of one of the nunneries or that they may have been left behind by a research student 'going down' whose landlady buried them, not knowing what else to do 35 07 27a

Belisha Beacons have now been installed in Cambridge, whether we like them or not. They are on Market Street corner near Sainsbury's, between Christ's College and St Andrew's church, near the Midland Bank in Petty Cury, the 'Jolly Waterman' on Victoria Avenue and between Christ's Pieces and New Square. It is just as well the undergraduates are not here to see their erection. Perhaps we shall all have become thoroughly accustomed to them where our young friends come up 35 07 27b

1935 07 31

George Collins, the Cambridgeshire glider champion, was killed during an exhibition flight in Huntingdonshire. He was being towed by an aeroplane and was released at a height of three thousand feet. He glided, did some turns and then two loops followed by a 'bunt' – the first half of an inverted loop. But the left wing folded upwards and came adrift. The glider was completely wrecked. He was an exceptionally skilled young man and no blame could be attached to anybody 35 07 31 & a

Lord Fairhaven has launched a very interesting scheme for the development of village beauty at Bottisham and Lode. He has offered prizes for which those owning small houses and cottages with a road frontage may compete with attention paid towards an increase of permanent beauty eg thatching, colour-washing, hedging or planting of trees or shrubs. He hopes that these two villages should stand out as examples of which a village may become by the efforts of its inhabitants. 35 07 31a

W.H. Woolworth is to open one of the most modern shops in Ely. Situated on Fore Hill, the store is built in the well-known style and provides a surprising area of shop space. The second floor is devoted to store rooms to which the stock is transferred by means of an electric lift. Every provision has been made for the staff with toilets and facilities for cooking meals. There is central heating throughout the building 35 07 31b

The Hundred House Society realised that young married people were not getting a very good chance of obtaining a house. Nothing in the world matters more than that they should have happy home lives and that marriage and the bringing up of children should be the happiest and jolliest business that could ever happen to them. Eastfields was the most beautiful housing scheme and those who had been selected would make very good tenants. The rents were set at what they could more-or-less comfortably pay, without the Society making excessive profits 35 07 31c

August 1935 CDN & Cambridge Standard & Ely Standard

1935 08 01

After a very close debate Cambridge councillors voted to continue lighting the streets with gas. Councillor Kenney said the lighting was bad and it was ridiculous to think of giving a ten years' contract to gas. Street after street was almost entirely one-sided as regarded lighting. Beyond Hills Road railway bridge all the lamps were on the left hand side and the place was in shadow. Nothing could take the place of electric lamps suspended over the streets. But in London where there were no long lines of electric wires from remote stations there had been a number of breakdowns. How much more would that apply to Cambridge? 35 08 01

1935 08 02

The new swimming bath on Coldham's Common was opened by the Mayor, Alderman R. Starr. There was some regret that his Worship did not take the first plunge into the 150 feet long pool, which takes its water from the high level stream, and youthful spectators had to be restrained from going in as soon as the doors were unlocked. There is a diving tower and spring board at the deep end with dressing sheds and a space fenced off for sun bathing. 35 08 02a

The foundation stone of the new Roman Catholic Schools in Union Road was laid by the Bishop of Northampton. Such schools were almost as important as churches. Catholics cannot be satisfied with a sort of elementary Christian faith: their children must be taught as soon as they are able to read and understand. Cambridge Catholics would have to make very considerable sacrifices: more than £8,000 would be required when the new schools were completed. 35 08 02

1935 08 02 CS

Tales of our villages by M.S. Gabrielle Breeze: stories founded on actual events: Haslingfield man hung 1381. 35 08 02CS

Lord Fairhaven scheme to award beauty in dwellings and gardens: Bottisham & Lode. 35 08 02CS

1935 08 03

Elsworth cottages destroyed by fire on Furbank's farm – 35 08 03

Town council and street lighting – 35 08 03a

Prince the Airedale dog owned by Mrs Rowell of Fair Street is one of the most persistent cadgers. His life-long occupation is to sit in a public house and beg for pennies from customers which he does by tapping their pockets with his muzzle to make them jingle. If he is offered a penny he goes to the counter and buys a biscuit which he lays at the feet of the donor and waits for permission to eat. He also goes to the shop and buys a newspaper for his mistress every morning. 35 08 03b

Don't forget to 'touch wood' at Touchwood Cottage on the main Cambridge – Newmarket main road between Bottisham and Newmarket. You will get nice teas here, and light refreshments are served at all times at moderate charges. Open to midnight (Advertisement featuring photograph of the cottage) 35 08 03c

1935 08 06

Brinkley British Legion standard was dedicated in the grounds of Brinkley Hall. The Bishop of Ely said they owed a debt to those who had laid down their lives during war and also to the tens of thousands of men maimed, wounded, invalided, blind and incapable of profitable employment. He called on the ordinary man to exert himself in the cause of peace and pointed out the results of dictatorship 35 08 06

The management of the Theatre Cinema (New Theatre) have returned to their popular cine-variety policy. There are four excellent stage turns and an exceptionally fine film. A snappily presented singing and dancing act featuring Jack Lewis and his Rolling Stones with the Wellington Sisters forms the principal item in the stage show, combining dancing by a cheery trio, saxophone work and percussion 'fireworks'. Savona is a remarkable juggler while 'the racketeers of mirth, Roy Lester and Jack Cranston offer a quick-fire cross-talk act. Finally Sereno and June's head-to-head balancing and tumbling act has much which is new even in these days when vaudeville simply abounds with this kind of act. 35 08 06a

Fifteen thousand people flocked to the Conservative Association's Gogs fete on August Bank Holiday. The steady flow hardly stopped for a moment as they came by car, motor cycle, cycle and on foot. One is tempted to wonder how long it will be before visitors begin to arrive by air. Although entertainment predominated most of the competitions and side-shows were hushed while people crowded round the cricket ground to hear Lord Burghley, chairman of the Junior Imperial League. Many availed themselves of the rest lounge with a comfortable seat in the shade, a cigarette and a cooling drink, all for threepence. 35 08 06

1935 08 07

Hauxton bridge dangerous – 35 08 07

1935 08 08

There were ten back-to-back houses in London Road and The Warren, Royston. The living room was practically underground, there was no through ventilation, sanitary accommodation and water supply were inadequate and they were in a bad state of disrepair. A large amount would have to be spent to make them fit for human habitation and they should be demolished. But there were no vacant houses to which the tenants could go and they were quite content where they were, an Inquiry was told. 35 08 08

Probation report – 35 08 08a

Sawston water supply – 35 08 08a

1935 08 09

The Weights and Measures Inspector said he was shown into the vaults of the Sun Inn, Stretham, where he noticed some small glasses used when quarts were taken into the men who played dominoes. There was a quart measure with a broken spout which was a good mouthful short. He wanted to take it away but the landlady said he could not do that until she got another one, adding 'What am I to do tonight'. She said no one ever asked for a quart of beer nowadays but would not say what she used it for. 35 08 09

1935 08 10

Fire broke out in the New Street Council Schools. Large crowds flocked to Young Street to see the smoke pouring from the roof and many other people had views from upper windows. Firemen broke away the tiles and beams and poured water on the smouldering wood which then flowed through the classrooms where painters had been busy working. 35 08 10

Caius, p5

1935 08 12

Houses were threatened when a line of flame swept three-quarters of a mile of land from Trumpington to Hills Road. In Long Road helpers beat desperately at the flames to prevent them spreading along the hedges to the gardens of near-by houses whose residents used garden hoses to dampen them down. Dozens of rabbits raced wildly over the charred ground and a leveret was turned into a living mass of flame. The verge caught alight, clouds of white smoke making it impossible for passing traffic to pass at more than a crawl. Vehicles were diverted via Cherry Hinton and all available police were mobilised to control the traffic and help fight the fire 35 08 12

1935 08 15

A special meeting was called to discuss a complaint from Marshall's Flying School who felt the council was obstructing their business by aligning a road across the existing aerodrome site so they could not compete with a planned municipal airfield. Councillor A.C. Taylor had gone away on vacation but on receiving the agenda had chartered an aeroplane to get to the meeting. Ald Stephen said there had been a number of underhand actions and he wanted an assurance that Marshall's would not be prejudiced. It was agreed that the previous resolution was not in order. 35 08 15

1935 08 16

Edward ('Ted') Phillips was Cambridge's best-known and most popular watermen. He was Light Blue waterman, or badgeman, up to the time of his death. He started work in a boatyard at the age of 12 and was appointed Varsity waterman in 1868, erecting starting and finishing posts, repairing boats and sometimes breaking ice on the river. As a coach he had some remarkable successes. One of his most prized possessions was a photograph of his father, his seven brothers and himself in an eight together 35 08 16

1935 08 16 CS

Ellington windmill being demolished prior to transfer to Madingley: photo. 35 08 16&(2)CS

Joe Mullins the boxer, gymnasium planned at Bottisham Bell Inn. 35 08 16(3)CS

1935 08 19

Sir – I am sorry to hear there is a proposal to construct an aerodrome near Cambridge. There is no town in England where one is less wanted. An aerodrome is the first and most legitimate target for the bombs of enemy aircraft, which would soon wreck our priceless buildings. In peace time we should be worried day and night by the drone of aircraft engines. They should be placed away from cities and important railway junctions as aeroplanes may crash in flames at any time – J.E. Allen, Cambridge.
35 08 19

Two semi-detached cottages were completely destroyed by fire at Kirtling. The occupants, Edward Levell and George Potter, an engine driver employed at Cheveley, escaped without injury. Smoke was first seen rising from the thatched roof. It came from a smouldering beam and was extinguished but later the whole of the thatch suddenly blazed up. Furniture in the downstairs room was hurriedly dragged out and before the Newmarket rural fire brigade had time to arrive the two cottages were blazing fiercely. The nearest supply of water was a pond too muddy for use and the other source was half a mile away. 35 08 19a

1935 08 20

Eastfield Estate tenants committee formed – 35 08 20

Fire near East Hunts Waterworks Company premises Bourn – 35 08 20a

1935 08 21

Most of the villagers of Duxford turned out about lunch-time to help get furniture from two houses whose upper stories were gutted by fire. With dense clouds of smoke hampering their efforts men and women strove to save property from Mayfield Villa. Not until they were ordered to leave would they give up. The flames quickly got a good hold and within half-an-hour the roof had crashed in. Two bedsteads and a sea-chest containing a uniform were destroyed but a plate on the wall advertising that the owner is an insurance agent was untouched by the flames. 35 08 21

A long-felt need in Ely was discussed when young men met at the White Hart Hotel to consider the formation of the Ely Excelsior Sports and Social Club. It would meet at the hotel from 6 to 10 each evening offering billiards and table tennis together with a special room for reading. Whist drives and dances could be arranged during the winter and socials held every month. However a proposition that monthly magazines and daily newspapers should be purchased was not carried. 35 08 21a

1935 08 22

A petrol station, café and several houses on the Cambridge Road at Foxton were menaced by a fire which started in the grass behind Capt. Martin's garage. The wind threatened to blow the flames on to the café premises and petrol pumps but good work by the brigade got it under control. It was the second outbreak at the same place except that the first was away from the buildings and the brigade was not sent in case of more serious calls and owing to the lack of water. Stacks were also destroyed at Fen Drayton when the flames travelling 'faster than a horse can gallop' spread a mile across country. 35 08 22

With rods and a look that combined gladness and determination, a children's army a thousand strong gathered on Parker's Piece, intent on getting their fish. A free outing to St Ives, an afternoon's fishing, a tea, sports and prizes was arranged by the Albion Angling Society. Ice-cream men did a roaring trade and one enterprising draper sold a number of Panama hats before the quarter-mile long procession set off for the station headed by the band of the Boys' Brigade. The children's match was started about 30 years ago but stopped during the war and was not revived until 1928 or 1929. 35 08 22a

1935 08 23

Many years ago Madingley windmill was as famous a landmark as those at Bourn or Fulbourn. But in 1909 a great gale blew the mill down and the oak timbers were so badly smashed as to make restoration impossible. Now the Squire of Madingley has purchased an old post-mill at Ellington. There are four sails and the timbers are in an excellent state of preservation. Workmen are engaged in the delicate task of dismantling the mill and foundations are now being dug for it to be erected on the old site at Madingley Hill. 35 08 23

1935 08 23 CS

Last days of the 'Horse-grind' ferry: photo. 35 08 23CS

Witchcraft at Harlton: tales not based on fact. 35 08 23(2)CS

1935 08 24

Laying foundation for new bridge over Cam on site of Horse Grind Ferry – photo – 35 08 24

Madingley Mill notes by Charles French, last tenant – 35 08 24a

1935 08 27

An 84-year-old Haslingfield man was summoned for assault. He had gone to the pump with his pail and told a group of youths that they had no business loitering there on a Sunday evening. Having filled his pail he deliberately poured some of the water down the back of one lad's legs, then shot the rest of the contents of the pail over him and starting swinging it round saying "I will cut your b--- head off". The old man said there'd been friction with members of the village Cricket Club who left their bicycles against his house. The lads had pulled his fence down as fast as he'd put it up but he'd driven them away with a coal hammer. The case was dismissed 35 08 27b

Political travelling cinema, New Square car park – photo – 35 08 27

Widening Long Road railway bridge – photo – 35 08 27a

1935 08 28

Regent Street traffic congestion during roadworks – photo – 35 08 28

New front to Lloyd's Bank, Sidney St – photo – 35 08 28a

1935 08 30 CS

The highwaymen of Gamlingay in C17. 35 08 30&(2)(3)CS

1935 08 30 ES

Silver badgers at Hillrow – killed 35 08 30 (2)

September 1935 CDN & Cambridge Standard & Ely Standard

1935 09 02

A widow, married woman and a waiter were charged with procuring a miscarriage. The man said a girl arrived in Cambridge and told him she wanted something done. He went to Mrs S—who said she knew a woman to go to. There was only one thing that might be effective. It would cost £3. But Mrs D--- said she'd been only paid £1.10s for what she had done. 35 09 02

1935 09 03

Fire, p1

Six families are rendered homeless and a Methodist chapel has been destroyed at a fire at Whaddon. One man had to jump out of his bedroom windows clad only in a pyjama jacket. The blaze started in an eight-roomed farmhouse. In the same block are the chapel and six four-roomed cottages, five of which were occupied. The cause of the outbreak remains a mystery 35 09 03 & 03a

Ernest Zaratini, depot manager for T. Wall, ice-cream merchant at Cambridge told the court that a man was sent to him from the Labour Exchange and engaged as an ice-cream vendor. He was issued with a complete outfit and ice-cream and went off on his round. The tricycle was later found abandoned in Gold Street close to the White Ribbon Hostel. There was £1.6s.4d worth of ice-cream missing. 35 09 03a

1935 09 04

A crowd of 2,000 people invaded Marshall's Aerodrome to see a demonstration by M. Henry Mignet of his marvellous little machine, 'The Flying Flea'. Thousands of people would love to fly but could not afford an ordinary plane so he had built 'The Flea' which was a combination of kite and parachute. It cost £70 to build and can do 40 miles per gallon. He took it up to 1,000 feet and then cut the engine. The little machine floated gently to earth like a parachute and made a perfect landing. 35 09 04b – photo – 35 09 04

James Binney purchased the Manor of Pampisford with the mansion, grounds and estate in 1895. He served as a Magistrate, Deputy-Lieutenant and High Sheriff as well as special constable, churchwarden, chairman of the parish council and Commandant of Duxford and Ickleton Boy Scouts. When the Great War broke out he offered his services and whilst waiting for his commission assisted, with Lady Marjory and Miss Binney, at the Red Cross Hospital at Whittlesford. 35 09 04a.

People in Mawson Road had a shock when a chimney stack crashed down into the roadway from the roof of no.74. George Watts said a mass of bricks and rubble were shot over the pavement and a chimney pot fell clean through his greenhouse. He believes recent heavy rains, after the excessively dry weather experienced this summer, must have had a loosening effect upon the mortar. Fortunately no one was injured by the occurrence 35 09 04c

1935 09 06

Ely Council have rejected many sewage scheme following objections by residents. But a new Simplex aeration system can be accommodated at the old site at Common Muckhill. There is no smell or anything else unpleasant. There was no emptying of tanks, no carting of sludge or the nuisance caused by emptying. One-tenth of the total flow of sewage comes from the Brewery as trade effluent and the council will negotiate with them in this matter 35 09 06 & a

Lazarus Potter has just celebrated his 106th birthday at Kingston, Victoria. He was born at West Wrattling in July 1829 and went to South Australia in the ship 'Caroline' in 1838, two years after the colony was proclaimed. He has always had good health, has never worn spectacles and only stopped chopping wood for his fire two years ago. His descendants include six children, all still living, 29 grandchildren, 13 great-grandchildren and two great great-grandchildren. 35 09 06b

1935 09 06 CS

Ancient inns of Cambridge; the 'Post Office' and the 'White Horse'. 35 09 06CS

Keeper of Baitsbite Lock, H. Dewsberry, to retire, from Lt Thetford. 35 09 06(2)CS # c.26.3

1935 09 07

New theatre on Peas Hill takes shape – photo – 35 09 07

Victoria Road Industrial School for poor boys – photo c1860 – 35 09 07a

1935 09 10

The new Post Office sorting department at Petersfield has a vast and spacious garage complete with repair and painting shops for the upkeep of a fleet of vans. Altogether 50 vehicles are sent out and should anything go wrong a staff of mechanics can tackle the job at once. Even painting and complete overhauling is done. The various sections in the sorting department now have plenty of room with the latest equipment including two electrical stamping machines which deal with the letters at an incredible speed. 35 09 10a

St Ives staunch collapse – photo – 35 09 10

1935 09 11

Swavesey stationmaster appointed – 35 09 11

1935 09 12

Stretham wedding of Francis Fuller, Padney and Miss R.L. Fuller – 35 09 12

The White Horse Inn at the foot of Castle Hill is a 15th-century building surrounded with mystery. Between the two chimney stacks is said to exist a small secret room once used by Royalists as a hiding place from their enemies. The entrance was probably by way of the chimney but as the wide fireplaces have been bricked up there is no means of ascertaining whether there were iron rungs on one side. But inside a cupboard on the first floor landing is an iron door built a few years ago to enable a sweep to enter. The mystery may be solved if and when the building is demolished, as it may be in the near future for road widening purposes. 35 09 12a

1935 09 13

Two large stacks of hay, the property of Walter Doggett, were completely destroyed in a blaze of several hours' duration in a field down Queen Edith's Way. The heat of the blaze scorched the hedge bounding the fields for many yards and reduced a wooden gate to little more than charcoal. There was a continual stream of onlookers many of whom thought that some of the new houses along that part of the road were burning. Several times the crowd split up hurriedly as someone saw a rat or mouse making a hurried exit from its flame-spread home. 35 09 13a

Observer Corps established – 35 09 13

Bursar of Pembroke College, H.G. Comber dies – 35 09 13b & 14

1935 09 13 ES

Stretham

Accident on Cambridge Road corner, lorry loaded with bricks overturned over a wall owned by Mr W. Bent and finished on its side 25 09 13 (2)

1935 09 14

St Ives police station is entirely inadequate and unsatisfactory, the Chief Constable reported. Two adjoining cottages could be bought and pulled down for an Inspector's house or there was a very good site known as Bible Orchard for an entirely new station. But Alderman Tebbitt did not think they were justified in spending money and that the present court room was quite adequate 35 09 14a

Peterhouse – the oldest Cambridge foundation – was threatened by a fire which broke out in a staircase in Gisbourne Court early in the morning. The Master, Sir William Birdwood (70) was one the scene from the start and did not leave until everything was safe, two hours later. Staircase H which contains six sets of rooms, was extensively damaged and several hundred books ruined. Its cause remains a mystery for the staircase, which is not far from the old Noah's Ark staircase, has been unoccupied since August 35 09 14b

St Ives Institution is empty and its condition getting worse every month. The roof was dangerous and two wings were bad but the children's ward and front part of the institution were fairly satisfactory. The Public Assistance Committee are apposed to it being used again as a children's home but it might be converted into six or eight homes houses for workers. They would be easy to let as there are hundreds of applications for houses 35 09 14c

1935 09 17

A gale which raged all night wreaked sad havoc amongst the leafy avenues and clusters of trees of which Cambridge is so proud. The Backs bore the appearance of having been shelled by a volley of artillery and Queen's Road had to be closed. A Huntingdon elm, the pride of Trinity garden, was blown down. A tree was blown half into the water at Jesus Green Baths while another came down near Park Parade. Hundreds of 'conkers' were blown down, to the delight of the kiddies and large quantities of ripe and unripe fruit fell on the ground. 35 09 17

Sir – Burwell Public Reading Room has been closed for several months. The closure arose through some noisy louts who were permitted to become a great nuisance. For many years its tables provided daily and weekly newspapers and journals and some reference shelves were available. Never in the history of our country is it more necessary for the public to be able to read newspapers of different views. Burwell is the largest village in the county but the number of borrowers through the County Lending Library is very low: the building is only open for an hour or so on certain evenings which is quite inadequate – “Old Burwell Boy” 35 09 17b

1935 09 20 CS

Hidden stories of old Cambridgeshire; the riddle of the dykes, lost village of Lt Linton. 35 09 20&(2)CS

Longstanton church roof repairs: photo. 35 09 20(3)CS

Peas Hill transformation: work on Guildhall site. 35 09 20(4)CS

1935 09 21

Marshall's aerodrome protected should council develop nearby – 35 09 21

ASLIB conference – 35 09 21a

1935 09 23

Ely Isolation Hospital – 35 09 23

An inquiry at the Golden Lion, Stonea heard from the driver of a baker's cart that he was going along the road towards Boots Bridge when he met a horse and trolley near the Methodist Church. He turned his van round further along the road and saw the horse and trolley disappear over the bank into the river. He rushed to the scene and got the driver to the bank but he died of heart failure through sudden immersion into the cold water. Emily Atkin said the horse appeared to be very restless, the deceased touched it with a whip when it reared up and backed into the river. 35 09 23a

On Saturday night the village of Barkway was aroused by cries of 'Fire!' Flames had been seen shooting through the roof of The Elms, an eight-roomed house. Adjoining, under a continuous roof is The Gables with a carpenter's and paint shop to which the blaze spread. It is an Elizabethan building and was the Corn Exchange when the market was transferred from Barkway to Royston. Every room is panelled with inflammable pitch pine and there is a very valuable oak staircase. Both buildings were saved. 35 09 23b

The hamlets of Pymore and Oxloade suffered severely by the visitation of a hail storm, the worst in living memory. It stripped slates and tiles from the roofs of houses and smashed windows. Scarcely a residence escaped and numerous cases of ten, twelve and even fourteen windows being broken in one house were reported. Holy Trinity church and day school had the entire side windows smashed and both Methodist chapels suffered badly. The LNER signal box had nine windows broken and the roof damaged. Hundreds of birds and small animals were killed. 35 09 23b

1935 09 24

Messrs H.J. Gray of Cambridge, who manufacture sports requisites at the Playfair Works is to establish a new company in Ireland where the Government has imposed Customs duty on finished racquets, hockey sticks and cricket bats. Suitable wood is available and the quality of the goods made will compare favourably with those previously imported 35 09 24

A six-wheeler lorry containing a full load of sugar was destroyed near Abington cross-roads when the engine suddenly back-fired and burst into flames. The fire reached the sugar and burned furiously despite the efforts of the driver and his mate to drag it off. Five of the tyres and the whole of the load and the lorry were entirely destroyed. All that remained was the off-side front tyre and wheel. Over 12 hours later the sugar was still burning and had the appearance of burning coke. Men spent hours scraping the burnt sugar off the road. Many motorists stopped to inspect the wreckage. 35 09 24

1935 09 25

Viscount Forbes, a Trinity College undergraduate, expects to make an attempt shortly on the outboard motor boat record with a remarkable machine stored at Marshall's garage at Cambridge. Tests were carried out on the Adelaide course of a mile near Ely when an average speed of nearly 60 mph was obtained but on the return run the unit was badly damaged. Looking like a shimmering torpedo the boat has a six cylinder super-charged engine which emits an ear-splitting scream when full out 35 09 25 & a

1935 09 26

Tithe appeals – 35 09 26

New estates – Storeys Way & Gilbert Road – 35 09 26a

1935 09 27

Before the war the peat industry was flourishing and enabled families in the fens to obtain a livelihood from a natural product. There is still a demand for it as fuel in private houses and by nurserymen and gardens for horticultural purposes. Peat is obtainable in Cambridge at a cost of twenty-four shillings for 600 pieces (technically called 1,000) delivered. While not suitable for closed stoves and grates it is very pleasant for the hearth fires found in so many houses today. Pieces are 11x4 inches, are clean to handle and take up little room when stacked. It can only be dug in fine weather so orders should be placed as soon as possible with the Rural Community Council, Cambridgeshire House, Hills Road, Cambridge 35 09 27

The opening of Bacon Bros' new premises on Market Hill will forge a new link in a unique chain of tradition. Old ledgers record the names of customer who became famous in every walk of life including the Prince of Wales, the future Baron Rothschild and both Alfred and Charles Tennyson. The new interior fittings are made of cedar so that the shop is like a giant cigar box with many relics of bygone days. Verses from the 'Ode to Tobacco' by Charles Stuart Calverley which featured on the wall of the old building in Rose Crescent until its demolition last year are to make their reappearance in the form of a bronze tablet. 35 09 27b & 28a

1935 09 27 CS

Chapel by the fair: St Mary's, Stourbridge. 35 09 27CS

1935 09 27 ES

Hydroplane's mishap at Adelaide

After covering a mile course along the River Ouse at Adelaide in the wonderful new racing hydroplane with which he hopes to secure the world's outboard motor boat record, Viscount Forbes, an undergraduate of Trinity College had the misfortune to see his craft severely damaged. The trials were carried out at Adelaide over a specially picked mile course to see if the machine was capable of beating the present record of 65 m.p.h. held by a Frenchman. The machine, which looks like a glittering torpedo, was built by the Southampton Launch Company to the plans of Mr Fred Cooper. It has a six-cylinder super-charged engine, capable of developing 110 h.p.

Viscount Forbes drove the speedboat both up and down the river and his best time was when he covered the mile in one minute. Just as he was completing the last run, near Adelaide Bridge, the whole of the bottom including propellers broke away and sank to the bottom of the river. The boat, rendered out of control, spun round in the stream but did not capsize. It is thought it hit some obstruction in the water. The craft was severely damaged. Efforts were immediately made by some of the watermen employed by the Ely Beet Sugar Factory to salvage the unit.

Stretham

Former Minister's death - Rev Fred Savidge at home of his sister, Mrs Gautrey, aged 73. Was formerly in Baptist ministry in the Lushai district of India. The Government awarded him the Kaiser-I-Hind medal for distinguished services to education in that province where he conducted a college.

1935 09 28

The Silver Jubilee streamlined express drawn by the new LNER locomotive, the Silver Link, broke the speed record for British trains by reaching 112 miles an hour between Hitchin and Huntingdon, missing the world record by 8mph – 35 09 28

A new agricultural machine, known as the gyrotiller, has been working on Vicar's Farm, Madingley Road. It stirs up the soil very deeply – as much as two feet if required – and breaks up the hard 'roof' just below the surface. It leaves no 'wheelings' and so it is not necessary to sent a horse to plough into the field to finish up after it. Its action seems ideal and crops yielded by land on which it has been used are extremely good. 35 09 28b

Novel 'The Days of his Youth' by E.H. Lacon Watson depicts University life – 35 09 28c

Dr Alan Gray composed many famous pieces of Church music. In 1893 he was appointed organist of Trinity College and was conductor of the University Musical Society – 35 09 28d

Stretham lost a widely-known resident by the death of the Rev Frederick William Savidge whose father carried on business as grocer and draper in the village. After graduating he became interested in missionary work and spent 30 years in North India training natives, many of whom became missionaries. Three years ago he came to reside with Mr & Mrs W.K. Gautrey of Pond Street where he wrote the story of his life, a copy of which was requested by the King. He had also been in demand as a lecturer on his experiences. 35 09 28e

October 1935 CDN & Cambridge Standard & Ely Standard

1935 10 01

Cambridge Justices approved the plans of Associated British Cinemas for a new cinema to be erected in St Andrew's Street. The site had been left derelict after fire burnt down a large part of the Castle Hotel in 1934. The application was opposed by the Theatre Cinema and the Rendezvous. There were nine cinemas in Cambridge with 6,300 seats and it would be impossible for them all to carry on if a super cinema like this were built. The Victoria was built four years ago, the Arts Theatre was completely new and the Rendezvous was having more seats and an organ. But the Cosmopolitan had closed and the Guildhall and Corn Exchange licences were rarely used. 35 10 01 & a

Charles Kidman of the well-known Cambridge building firm was inspecting work on the Co-op's new bakery in Sleaford Street when he almost fell from the scaffolding. He was caught and held by the foreman. Doctors decided he must be kept lying down and the Fire Brigade's new water tower was brought to the scene. The escape ladder was extended over the spot where Mr Kidman lay. He was placed on a cradle made of planks, swung out into the air and lowered to the ground. 35 10 01b

1935 10 02

Photographic Club agm 35 10 02

The Great Ouse has been used not only for drainage purposes but for power and navigation, and in the process of making the river suitable it was made artificial in many respects. As long as the mills (there were many in the main river) existed, they looked after the banks and saw to it that the weeds did not accumulated.

The navigation interests too, when they were in existence, carried out their duties. But when the navigation became derelict they were cut back. Today the Catchment Board was endeavouring to exercise control over it

As a result of neglect of the river trees had fallen into the Great Ouse and the accumulation of silt had formed islands. In some places it had been difficult to find a river at all and some 500 miles had been cleared out. The River Board was endeavouring to keep a channel clear but weeds were a problem. The whole of the South Level is settling due to improved drainage by modern pumping machinery but the high river banks are also settling, faster than the fens themselves. At Denver the inrush of water brought in silt from the Wash meaning the bed of the river was rising, the Catchment Board's engineer reported. 35 10 02

1935 10 03

Building of Cromwell Park housing estate – photo – 35 10 02a Perne Road – 35 10 03 # c.23

1935 10 04

The housing position at Longstowe is scandalous. No working men's cottages have been built for over 70 years. Two old thatched cottages had been condemned but there was nowhere else for the occupants to live. Half of the residents have to go half-a-mile for drinking water and mothers are unable to wash their children's clothes. But Hunts Water Company said it suffered no special hardship when compared to other places. During the drought residents only had to fetch water a matter of 500 yards and improvements would need a new mains 35 10 04 & a

1935 10 04 CS

Golden Jubilee of New Chesterton Institute: history. 35 10 04CS

Eastfield Estate recommended for R.I.B.A. medal: feature. 35 10 04(2)CS

Cambridge coffee-houses: history. 35 10 04(3)CS

King & Harper advertisement for car; includes colour. 35 10 04(4)CS

1935 10 04 ES

Mepal mourns old ferryman

Mepal mourns old ferryman, Mr Wm Water's death – photo. Was local ferryman residing at the ferry cottage and latterly at the Gaultholes. A lighterman of old he was employed by Messrs Drake and Sons for many years and made hundreds of river trips by lighter before he retired 20 years ago. Those who can recall the crossing of Mepal Causeway by ferry boat before the coming of the viaduct will remember the short sturdy man of the boat. William Waters, so skilled with the spread, and at home on the wash, who has passed away. Born at Mepal he spent the greater part of his days, a resident of his native village, and as father and grandfather before him was the local ferry man and residing at the Ferry Cottage. During recent years he had lived at the Gaultholes. A lighterman of old he made hundreds of river trips by lighter before he retired some 20 years ago. 35 10 04ES

Famous missionary interred at Stretham – F.W. Savidge [copied] 35 10 04 (3)

In the tiny Little Thetford cottage, well away from the busy traffic of the main road, and surrounded by the simple village life of an agricultural community, Mr and Mrs. Henry James Dewsberry of Ivy Cottage celebrated their diamond wedding.

Mrs Dewsberry, just over 80, is twice as active as the average woman of her age, and frequently goes to Ely to do her shopping. She intends to do so as long as she can get on a bus without assistance. Her husband looks more his age, and unfortunately is deaf, and his eyesight is not good. He is none the more for that a marvellous man for his years, and still passes away his time in digging the garden. He can still row himself across the river, a wonderful feat for such an elderly man.

Married life has been a glorious adventure for this grey haired couple and Mrs Dewsberry's eyes sparkled with pride to she spoke of her eight living children. But tears were not far away when she mentioned her trip to France, some years ago, and her unsuccessful attempt to find the graves of her two soldier sons who were killed in the Great War. She pointed out their photographs which were hung up over the fireplace, and then hastily turned the conversation

The loss of her sons is her only unbearable lifelong sorrow, "We have lived happily together these 60 years but it has not always been easy bringing up 10 children. We have worked hard and cheerfully and made the best of our lives for the happiness of our children", she said.

They live contentedly together, forgetful of the hardships of their life and thinking only of the happiness that lays in front of them.

Mr Dewsberry lived at Harrimere Mill, Soham for about 50 years and for nearly 20 years he ran the floating bridge across the river at Little Thetford until it sank in 1917.

1935 10 05

Novel 'Days of Youth' by E.H. Lacon Watson – 35 10 05 # c.74

The Trinity Lane corner of Caius College was left black in the cleaning operations that have been taken place during the Vacation. This was to show the contrast. Now it is receiving attention like the rest of the building. Messrs Johnson and Bailey say it was impossible to erect scaffolding owing to the traffic down Trinity Lane so it had to be done piecemeal from ladders. The excellent result has been achieved simply by the use of water and stiff scrubbing brushes. 35 10 05a

1935 10 07

Coming up – pictures of undergraduates luggage arriving – 35 10 07

Joseph Gordon Macleod, director of the Festival Theatre, has announced its closure because of lack of further capital – 35 10 07a

The Cambridge Wireless Retailers Association show has several stands carrying a full range of the local product, Pye, including the all-wave model, the radiogramophone and the battery and all-elect superhets and portables. For those who have a preference for non-factory made sets there is the Harvey model. This locally-made receiver is made by hand with all the skill and care which expert workmanship can give it. One of the features for which it is noted is its great reliability. 35 10 07b

1935 10 09

Mrs H.M. Swanwick autobiography 'I have been young' includes Girton & suffrage – 35 10 09 & a

1935 10 10

E.H. Lacon novel 'In the days of his Youth', set in Cambridge 35 10 10

1935 10 11

Sir – No one thinks that Gothic Street is a foul place, no one condemns it as a place when undesirable people live, but the Mayor was quite right in saying that no one will put up with people punching each other on the nose or booing people. He did not condemn a neighbourhood, but the conduct which happened there. I wish to assure my friends in Gothic Street that the rest of Cambridge does not regard them as undesirable, but only a single and unfortunate incident – Charles Joseph. 35 10 11

1935 10 12

St Columba's Mission, p5

1935 10 14

A hard road through the fen from Isleham to Prickwillow had become urgent owing to the Lark river bank being covered with gault by the Ouse Catchment Board, preventing its use by traffic. It had been used by people on foot or on horse and in 1788 tolls were charged at the Prickwillow end which had continued until recent years. A hamlet grew up with three public houses before 1835 and a school built in 1879. But it was a private road that could not be taken over by the County Council until it had been put in repair by the owners of the land. 35 10 14 & a

The electric light which has been installed in Trumpington church was designed by Professor Richardson and the old wrought iron gas standards and brackets have been used as far as possible. In addition there are six pendants in the west bays of the church which give the effect of flood-lighting without its disadvantages and do not break the lines of the graceful pillars. Most of the work has been done locally and E.W. Haynes was praised for wiring without cutting into the stonework. The cost of £89 has been raised by parishioners. 35 10 14b

1935 10 15

Newmarket Golf Links new club house has been erected by Lord Wolverton in memory of his father. It was designed by the Slade Professor of Arts at Oxford University and built by H.W. Hunt of Cambridge; the Newmarket Electric Light Company supplied the appliances. It is of the bungalow type, with accommodation for ladies on the first floor. The dining room has oak strip flooring and is divided from the hall with folding doors. 'Freddie' Wolverton was a great game hunter, a challenger for the America's Cup and afterwards took up facing and golf. He was a shy and retiring man who never did an unkind thing in the whole of his life. He did not make friends easily but never lost a friend once he had made one. 35 10 15

1935 10 16

Bryan Smith Motors wound up – 35 10 16

1935 10 17

The foundations of the Small Room of the Guildhall, which also supported the Borough Surveyor's room, are in such bad conditions that they must be demolished earlier than planned. It had been hoped to defer demolition until the Surveyor could move into the new wing of the Guildhall being built on Peas Hill. A ditch had been found under the site. Assurances were sought that the foundations of the rest of the Guildhall, especially the Large Room, were secure because weaknesses were not generally found in one spot but existed in veins all over the area. 35 10 17a

Sidney Street to be widened at no cost to council 35 10 17

1935 10 18

Sir – while I was at the Theatre Cinema some kind individual stole the dynamo from the back wheel of my bicycle which was in the theatre cycle shed. It could only have been undone with the aid of a screwdriver and whether the lamp-snatcher is an amateur or professional, he certainly made a good job. Some people seem to have a mania for collecting, pumps and lamps and should by now be able to set up a retail store. I hope something will soon be done about these thefts which are happening every night by the dozen. – R.H. Stanton 35 10 18

Sir – Last Saturday afternoon I saw a fellow stuck more than half-way up Market Street with a car. He had been into a nearby shop and carefully turned the petrol off. When he came out he found a string of cars and buses held up. He got flustered at the situation, pressed the starter and nothing happened. I swung it about four times for him, and still nothing happened. Then I helped him push it down the street out of the way, and there found out the trouble. – Albert Baker 35 10 18a

Controversy surrounded the offer of £10,000 from Sir John Davenport Siddeley for developing aeronautical research in the University. Some dons felt it would subsidise research of a military character of pecuniary value to armament manufacturers. But others say the ultimate influence of the aeroplane upon civilisation will be pacific rather than warlike. It was abhorrent that the University should become a centre of specifically military research but this money would be used for work of a fundamental and non-military character 35 10 18b

1935 10 18 CS

Spiritualism address. 35 10 18CS

1935 10 18 ES

Proposed £27,000 road through the fens.

The construction of a hard road through Isleham and Soham Fen to Prickwillow is almost a reality. A hard road had become urgent owing to the Lark River bank being covered with gault by the Ouse Catchment Board, preventing its use by traffic.

From 1788 tolls were charged for horses and cattle passing along, but no mention was made of carts or carriages. It is clear therefore that the traffic then was along the bank. Tolls were charged at the Prickwillow end until comparatively recently, but there does not appear to have been any toll collection at Isleham.

And about this time a hamlet grew up halfway to Isleham. Three public houses weren't licenced in 1835 and the school was built in 1877. Probably the access to this hamlet was along the bank or by the river. Forty years ago the question of a way for carriages to this hamlet was discussed. It was finally agreed to make a road of a sort. The landowners gave up some land so that the position of a ditch might be moved. The Middle Level Commissioners provided the clunch for the foundation because the making of the road, strengthened the foundations of the bank. The cost of the road surface was provided by local subscription. This was in 1891.

An attempt was made in 1920 to out the repair of this road on the Newmarket Rural District Council, but they disclaimed liability. Since then, numerous suggestions have been discussed. The County Council were not satisfied that they were justified in putting on the rest of the county, the cost of making up and maintaining a road from Isleham, to the hamlet. That has been the difficulty, all through. The Highway Authority cannot spend public money for the good of individual landowners. It is now satisfied that there is some public advantage in a through road from Isleham Prickwillow and are is prepared to meet some of the cost. 35 10 18(2)ES

1935 10 19

The new Rendezvous cinema and ballroom was opened with a recital by Reginald Dixon, the famous Blackpool organist. It is the latest in modern styles with new plush 'tip-ups' accommodating 1,100 people, the latest Penum heating and ventilation and the Compton organ. Film star Charles (Buddy) Rogers said it was as beautiful as any he had seen in the United States. The show was late starting as guests were unable to get through the congestion in the street outside. Afterwards a private reception and dance was held in the new ballroom which has also been redecorated and re-furnished throughout. 35 10 22, 35 10 19

Second stage, p1

Meadowlands, p6

1925 10 21

A pleasant little function took place at the Park Street School when the Bishop of Ely paid a visit to see the improvements carried out to the babies' room to accommodate a further 35 babies. 35 10 21

1935 10 23

Since the Rev E.J. White came to Orwell in 1928 he has effected many improvements in the village church and the original 17th-century bells have been re-hung. Four of them were taken down about 60 years ago owing to the weakening of the supporting timbers and left standing at the foot of the tower. Mr White raised £300 to have the five bells recast, re-tuned and re-hung in the belfry which has been strengthened with iron girders. He also installed new heating apparatus and the churchyard has been extended and consecrated. 35 10 23

The Minister of Health criticised Godmanchester Town Council for delaying a water supply scheme that had been agreed with Huntingdon town council. The Town Clerk and the Medical Officer resigned as did two councillors. Tenders had already been submitted and it was the most unbusinesslike thing the Council had ever done. But the Mayor said the lowest tender was far above the engineer's estimate and the Ministry had not sanctioned a loan to carry out the work. 35 10 23a

1935 10 24

A new school may be erected on the disused wood yard adjoining Huntingdon North Station. Lord Sandwich had provided 12 acres from his private park, one of the finest things ever done for education in the county. Provision would be made for sports pitches and probably a bathing pool. A beautiful set of plans had been produced but Alderman Wood Horn wanted economies made to bring the cost nearer the original £12,000 rather than the present £33,000 scheme. 35 10 24

1935 10 25

The first new Morris 8-10 cwt light van in Cambridge has been supplied to Matthew and Sons Ltd of Trinity Street. It is revolutionary in its design with an offset engine mounting and a large rear opening for loading. The spare wheel, an eyesore on even the most attractive car, is neatly concealed in a carrier which incorporates the rear number plate. It has dipping headlights and traffic signal arms. The most remarkable feature is the price of £169 10s. in ship grey with blue or green paint three pound extra. 35 10 25

The new Senior School off Gilbert Road, Chesterton contains separate departments for senior boys and girls, each with its own assembly hall fitted with a stage and cinema projection room. The boys department has science laboratory and woodwork and metalwork rooms while the girls' includes provision for cookery, laundry and dressmaking. A changing room, fitted with shower baths, has been included in connection with organised games. 35 10 25a

Ramsey and Muspratt's photographic work will be even more distinctive by the use of the solarization process in certain of their portraits. It produces quite different results from the usual photograph as by chemical means a black line is made to outline the face of the subject giving it the appearance of a drawing. Their other work captures not only the face but the character of the subject. An exhibition of photographs features Dr Alex Wood and Cavendish Laboratory scientist Mr Searle together with charming child studies full of the joy of living. Others are of commercial work, showing interiors and pictures from unusual angles. 35 10 25b # c.65.5

Sidney Street widening, p1

1935 10 25 CS

Rendezvous cinema transformed: feature. 35 10 25CS # c.76.9

Burwell fen riots; villagers' fight for ancient rights, by Charles Lucas. 35 10 25(2), 35 11 01(3)CS

1935 10 25 ES

Stretham

H. Miller coffin of oak, W.T. Rayner of Stretham was undertaker
Mothers' Union

Parish Council – spare earth to be put in town pond

Bowls Clun formed at meeting in Infant's School – recreation ground the best place, would take two years for grass but Mr Sidney Smith, chairman, would allow members the use of his own lawn until the green available 35 10 25 & (2)

1935 10 26

The Three Tuns public house at Castle Hill was a picturesque building and there were too few of that sort remaining. Dick Turpin was supposed to have stayed there at one time, but that was purely legendary. Mr Northfield had restored it some years ago so as to make people think it was really an ancient building but it had just been painted to look like a half-timbered house. It was not fit for human habitation and the Cambridge Preservation Society could not appeal for its retention 35 10 26a

Guildhall cartoon, p6

1935 10 28

A folk museum may be established in the old White Horse Inn following a meeting called by Cambridge Rotary Club. It should be a town and county museum for objects of local interest. Dr Palmer offered some of the items which had accumulated in the attic of a house where his ancestors had lived for 300 years. This was only the beginning: the ideal folk museum should be in the open, a space in which old cottages, smithies, a windmill and other things could be shown. 35 10 28 & a

Downham mill, p5

1935 10 31

An Arrington blacksmith told the bankruptcy court that he started in business in 1932 at his father's smithy at Old North Road. He had about £15 of his own money. Things went well for a time but then everything went slack, the shoeing business becoming practically derelict owing to mechanical power superseding horses. In 1933 he bought a motor lorry to start a haulage business but it was always breaking down and eventually became useless. He bought another for £20 but got very little work and did not make much money. 35 10 31

Henry Philip Chalk was one of the best-known and respected auctioneers. He started business in Cambridge in 1880 as an agricultural auctioneer and valuer. Beside the stock sale which he conducted at the 'Earl of Derby' he attended the opening of the Cambridge Borough Market in 1885 at the same time as Mr A.T. Grain. In Linton he had a member of the parish council from its inception and chairman since 1907, a foundation manager of the church school and churchwarden for 54 years. In his younger days he was well-known as a fast bowler and represented Cambridgeshire at cricket 35 10 31a

Basil Beaumont art exhibition – 35 10 31b

November 1935 CDN & Cambridge Standard & Ely Standard

1935 11 01

A family of Hillrow Causey had a narrow escape when their isolated bungalow was destroyed by fire. Mr Bonnett, a horse keeper, was awakened by the barking of his dog which was chained outside the only door of the house and got his family to safety before the roof collapsed. Captain Peacock of Haddenham Fire Brigade decided nothing could be done to save any of the buildings. Three horses, a dog and several fowls were burnt to death. The engine used for threshing poultry had been moved earlier in the day to refill with water and was intact. Fanned by the strong wind the flames leapt across the Drove and destroyed two hay ricks, the property of Arthur Thulbourne. 35 11 01

1935 11 01 CS

Folk Museum: White Horse Inn may house Folk Museum. 35 11 01&(2)CS

University election campaign. 35 11 01CS

King & Harper advertisement, colour. 35 11 01(2)CS

1935 11 01 ES

Farm fire at Haddenham, much property destroyed, Long Drove occupied Fred Bonnett, horsekeeper to Herbert Palmer 35 11 01 (2)

A man with his wife and child had a narrow escape from death in a disastrous fire at Haddenham in which three horses, number of fowls and a dog have perished. The house, farm buildings, a drum and jack-straw were all completely destroyed while two haystacks were set alight by sparks and burned to the ground.

The property which is situated at Long Drove, Hillrow Fen belonged to Mr. Thomas Setchell and let to Mr. Herbert Palmer. It was his housekeeper Mr. Frederick Bonnett, who occupied the house and who had such a fortunate escape. He was sleeping on the ground floor of the house when he were awoken by the barking of a dog which was tied outside the back door. He opened the door and flames and smoke blew into the house. His wife climbed out of the window to safety and he pulled his daughter out of bed by her leg from a room full of smoke. No sooner had they vacated the dwelling than some of the roof collapsed. None stayed to save any property and all were in their nightclothes. Mr. O Peacock, Captain of Haddenham Fire Brigade visited the scene but did not consider it advisable to fetch the fire engine as the place was then one mass of flames and beyond saving. 35 11 01 (2)

Famous glider pilot, Robert Kronfield at Ely – photo 35 11 01 (3)

1935 11 02

Isleham woman drowned in water butt – 35 11 02

Sutton lady drowned in Forty-Foot River near Carter's Bridge – 35 11 02

G.W. Townsend was one of the first editors of the CDN in its early days; afterwards went to East Anglian Daily Times 35 11 02a

1935 11 05

A 'Fascism and War' exhibition organised by the Cambridge Anti-War Council discloses methods by which the illegal opposition movements in Germany and Italy distribute their literature disguised as items of a non-political nature. There is also propaganda printed on paper of tissue thinness and a method of photographing illegal printed matter and transposing it on paper which instantly goes black on exposure to light if opened by the police. The recipient knows to treat the paper chemically to counteract the effect. Also on display is also one of the Anti-Nazi leaflets spilled from the roof garden of a Berlin restaurant on to the streets below and a collection of abusive correspondence, including one from Ezra Pound, sent from Italy to a Fellow of King's College after he contributed certain views in an English paper 35 11 05 & a # c.45.6

Oil tanker crash at Pampisford – 35 11 05b 35 11 06

1935 11 06

New aerial view 35 11 06a

Guy Fawkes – traditional rag, few arrests – 35 11 06b

1935 11 07

Dr Gasteen of Gamlingay complained that a number of villagers were suffering from diarrhoea and sickness which he attributed to the quality of the water and in one case death had been accelerated by drinking it. Instructions had been given to boil water before use. Few of the wells were safe and the contamination was due to lack of sewerage facilities. He felt that a policy of evasion or obstruction was being pursued by the RDC. But councillors said it was a pity he did not come to the council and help carry out some of their things he suggested and no further action was taken 35 11 07

1935 11 08 CS

Foxton Hall as Nursing Home; dedication by Bishop. 35 11 08CS

1935 11 08 ES

Death Ernest John Swan, in partnership with his brother, W.L. Swan in grocery and drapery business; member of Choral Society of which brother conductor. 35 11 08 (2)

By the sad death of Mr. Earnest John Swan which occurred at his residence, Stretham has lost a prominent and much respected businessman. He was in partnership with his brother, Mr. W. L. Swan in the grocery and drapery business carried on by his father, Mr. Thomas Swan many years ago. Although he no longer took an active part in the public life of Stretham he was keenly interested in the village tennis club and was a member of the Stretham Choral Society of which his partner brother was conductor. He was very much musical man and from 1922 to 1929 was organist of the parish church. Widespread sympathy was evidenced at the funeral which took place at the cemetery, being preceded by a service at the house 35 11 08 (2)

1935 11 09

The licensee of the Wagon and Horses at Cottenham the court that a man planning to establish a branch the 'National Smallholders' Society' in the village had stayed several nights but had not settled the bill. A village dairyman said he'd paid five shillings to join the Society but had heard nothing more and did not receive a book of rules. Altogether 362 people had subscribed. Police saw a poster headed "National Smallholders' Society" in the window of a house in King Street, Cambridge and arrested the occupant. He was convicted for obtaining money by false pretences 35 11 09

Horse Grind Ferry going – will be replaced by bridge – photo - 35 11 09a

1935 11 11

The Two Minutes' Silence was observed. Life was paralysed and sound was stilled. A crowd of several hundreds gathered on Cambridge Market Hill, waiting. At two minutes to the hour a clock in the vicinity struck and a whistle blew on the Guildhall demolition site and the Silence began. Buses, cars, carts, cycles and pedestrians were perfectly still. When what was actually the first maroon went off at eleven the crowd mistook it for the second and during what should have been the Silence the ordinary bustle recommenced. The second maroon took everyone by surprise with the exception of the few who had realised the mistake and remained still. 35 11 11

1935 11 12

A six-year old boy who was riding on a horse drawing a wagon loaded with sugar beet was seriously injured when it was struck by a train. The collision occurred when the crossing at Black Horse Drove was shrouded in thick fog. The 7.7 am from Hunstanton caught the rear of the wagon and scattered the beet in all directions. The front of the engine, lamp brackets and vacuum brakes were damaged. The horses and their driver escaped injury 35 11 12

1935 11 13

Important pieces of apparatus were installed at the Royal Society Mond Laboratory in Cambridge to enable Dr Kapitza to study very intense magnetic fields and experiment on low-temperature liquid helium. This work is of fundamental importance relating to properties of atomic nuclei. Now Lord Rutherford had agreed it should be sent to a laboratory being built by the Government of the USSR so that Kapitza can continue his research there, following his recall to Russia. 35 11 13

Sensation was caused among the villagers of Swaffham Bulbeck by a shooting affair which ended in the death of a young married man. His wife is nearly prostrate with grief. A particularly distressing feature of the tragedy is that there are five small children, all under the age of nine, and another is expected within a short time. The sensation was increased when, after a night search by police officers, another villager was charged with wilful murder. 35 11 13a & b 35 11 14a

1935 11 14

In view of the apparent apathy it is surprising that the number of electors who voted was so high. The excitement, so far as there was any, was greatest in the outlying districts. Residents in the newly-added areas such as Trumpington and Cherry Hinton had the curious experience of living in the Borough and voting (for Parliamentary elections) in the County. So did residents on the Hurst Park Estate which used to fall within the Impington parish boundary. At Brunswick Council Schools a blind man arrived. The inner room was cleared except for the presiding officer who told him the names of the candidates and then made a cross at the voter's selection. 35 11 14

1935 11 15

After the Cambridge declarations the victors went round to the Central Conservative Hall, where, by the courtesy of the Little Theatre players, who were having a rehearsal, the customary congratulatory meeting was held. The voters had realised the necessity of the National Government carrying on its duty of reviving prosperity and the necessity of defence as well as peace. Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin telegraphed congratulations to Lt-Commander Tufnell. At Saffron Walden there had been a record poll for Labour though Miss Clara Rackham was still 10,000 votes behind R.A. Butler whilst in the Isle of Ely Mr J. de Rothschild retained the seat for the Liberals by a majority of 699 votes. 35 11 15, 35 11 16

Proportional representation, p5

1935 11 15 CS

Shot dead at cottage door, Commercial End. Swaffham Bulbeck. 35 11 15CS; widow's story. 35 11 29&(2)CS

Cannibal orgies of primitive fenmen: wooden causeway of Bronze Age, Lt Thetford. 35 11 15(2)ES

T.C. Lethbridge examined an ancient causeway in the fen between Fordy and Little Thetford.

The place names, the mediaeval chapel which once stood on the little island on the present river bank and the fact that Walter Buck is known to have forced his way into the Isle at 'Herriby' suggested the existence of a crossing and Harrimere Drain still runs close at hand.

It had been thought it was a relic of the days of the Wake, but the experts proved it must have been in existence 1,000 years before Hereward's resistance

In 1932 piles were found on the farm of Mr. Randall in the direct line between the little island and the nearest high ground towards Fordy. Continual trouble while ploughing prompted Mr. Randall to remove the obstructions in the ground, and there was uprooted a forest of great stakes which had been embedded in the clay. These he replaced in their holes bottom end upward so that they could be photographed. They show the exact course of the causeway looking towards the old 'Seven Stars' and the site of the mediaeval chapel.

Mr. Lethbridge excavated a spot near the present riverbank where he hoped people waiting to cross may have dropped objects. In the field by the 'Seven Stars' they hit on the causeway exactly. It was largely composed of decayed brushwood kept in place by occasional beams and stakes and above this was a well-marked layer of fine sand.

It had been thought to explain a passage from Historia Eliensis which reads 'The King (William I) moved his camp against the Isle (of Ely) by the river Ouse. At dawn the defenders saw an innumerable people carrying brushwood and sand in sacks in order to make across the causeway across the river and take the fortification'.

But when a section was cut to the causeway, a large part of a very coarse handmade pottery vessel was found in the brushwood itself. This pot was beyond all reasonable doubt a product of the late Bronze or Early Iron Age, as was a bronze ring, also unearthed.

While it is certain the sand was brought from some distance away and might have contained fragments of early pottery it is difficult to imagine anyone putting a pot over 1,000 years old into a faggot of brushwood which he was laying for the foundation in a bog, and the same argument applies to a bronze ring. Not only is it virtually impossible to connect this causeway with William's attack, but it can hardly have been constructed by the Romano-Britons who made ditches on the higher ground at the Fordy end of it. Also, unless there is another causeway parallel to this one, it is hard to see how the Fordy and Thetford place-names arrive.

Dr W.M. Palmer notes: Harrimere is a corruption of Haveringmere, the site of which can still be traced. In the Middle Ages there was a free chapel there which owed no obedience to the mother church of Stretham. The patron was Sir Philip Tilney, who was sheriff of the county in 1383. A list of incumbents from 1376 to 1391 includes members of the family of le Scope and le Strange. For some years a certain Thomas de Cotton, priest, was used by the patrons to keep the benefits warm for a succession of the patron's friends. In 1396, 1403 and 1408 the Bishop offered indulgences to all who should contribute to the repair of the chapel. Apparently all were in vain because in 1405 the chapel was being used as a store for goods bought up the river in barges.

1935 11 15 ES

Stretham remembers war dead 35 11 15 (2)

1935 11 18

Cambridge University Camera Club heard how the aerial camera acts as a kind of detective of the air, picking up clues helpful to the soldier, the prospector, the map-maker, archaeologist and even the tax-collector. Wing-Commander H.M. Taylor from the School of Photography at Farnborough told how on one housing estate an aerial photograph was fixed at the entrances as a guide to the streets for strangers. Panchromatic film was used to combat moisture. Showing an aerial view of Cambridge he commented; "There's always a lot of dust and haze over this town – there must be a lot of hot air talked!" 35 11 18

1935 11 19

An agricultural labourer lost all his possessions in a fire which destroyed his cottage at Turf Fen, Warboys. Returning at 8pm he saw smoke and flames pouring through a window. He smashed in the front door with an axe and was able to recover some money belonging to his wife. This was the only thing he managed to save. The flames made short work of everything except the brick walls of the five-roomed cottage whose majesty was soon disturbed by the Ramsey Fire Brigade. When they found that water was not having the desired effect they pushed the walls over with poles. 35 11 19

The first of a series of lectures on 'Sex Guidance' were given by the Welfare of Youth. An excellent audience of young women greeted the lecturer who, with blackboard, lantern slides and cine films demonstrated her subject in a most graphic way. The meeting for young men attracted fewer people to a talk on the evolution of sex. But those who attended were equally appreciative 35 11 19a

1935 11 21

New Roman Catholic school construction delayed – photo – 35 11 21
Stretham accident, p5

1935 11 22

The London branch of the Civil Aviation Corps was founded in 1934 and approached Marshall's Flying School who realised that such a corps could become of national importance. They have been coming to the Aerodrome regularly each Sunday and are now building a hangar for themselves where they hope to build a 'Flying Flea' and 'B.A.C. Drone'. Now Cambridge has started a local squadron; any young fellow over 20 years of age who is keen to fly will be welcomed. 35 11 22

With the heavy rainfall of the last few days Fenland has to thank the vision of those who planned the pumping station at St Germans for the fact that there has been no flooding. The new sluice has pumped 2½ million tons of water and but for this the rivers would have risen six feet. Although the banks could have withstood the pressure, much water would have leaked back from the banks into the dykes so that the Internal Drainage Districts have been saved much expense. The Middle Level need not fear three times the present rainfall as the pumps were only working at a third of capacity. 35 11 22a

1935 11 22 ES

Welney work on reconstruction and widening bridges over Old Bedford and Delph; the narrow bridges have been one of the danger spots since the increase of modern traffic of late years 35 11 22 (2)

1935 11 25

As a Cambridge Corporation steam roller made its majestic way along Adam and Eve Row the road gently subsided. So did the steam roller as one wheel became buried nearly up to the axle, fracturing the water main. Mr A.C. Mallyon, the driver, said "I felt the roller sink a little so opened the regulator to try and get it past the spot before it sank, but before you could say 'one' it was in. If I hadn't had hold of the regulator handle I reckon I should have fallen overboard". It was several hours before the roller was eventually 'rescued' by means of jacks and the main repaired. 35 11 22b pics 35 11 22c Horse Grind ferry bridge nears completion – photo 35 11 25

Ely Isolation Hospital was there to prevent contagious diseases from spreading to other people, it was not for the benefit of the patients but for the benefit of the outside public and should be paid for by ratepayers, Mr Everitt told the Hospital Committee. People would fight shy of going there if they knew they would have to pay maintenance charges. But accounts had been sent out and some people had paid them. In 1931 maintenance expenses came to £477 but only £1 had been received from patients – 35 11 25 a & b

1935 11 22 ES

Welney work on reconstruction and widening bridges over Old Bedford and Delph; the narrow bridges have been one of the danger spots since the increase of modern traffic of late years 35 11 22 (2)

1935 11 26

Cambridge Disabled Soldiers' Workshop had been through a difficult period. The largest number of men in the workshop was 12 and at present there were only seven, none of which were complete in their bodies. One had lost his leg in the South African War. The shop in Trumpington Street was not in so good a situation as at Peas Hill and they did not get the streams of passing undergraduates. We should never forget the men who had served, suffered and saved our country through its years of dire peril. 35 11 26

1935 11 27

Swaffham Bulbeck murder – 35 11 27 & a Caroline Taylor 100th birthday

1935 11 28

Mrs Walter Miles has given birth to quadruplets in a council house at Ferrars Avenue, Eynesbury, St Neots. Their weights ranged from 3lb 15 ounces to a boy of 2lb 13oz who was very weak indeed at birth. Dr Harrison holds out little hope for him. The arrival of quads was a great surprise – they had been expecting two or three babies in a couple of month's time. The father, a lorry driver, although overjoyed, had little to say when the doctor broke the news. He was out with his lorry next day 35 11 28, 35 11 29

Sir- This season Gamlingay Football Club are having great difficulty in finding eleven players as the stars have been chosen to play for better teams. The side consists of youngsters who are gamely fighting against great odds to keep the team going, aided by one or two older players who had finished with football but sportingly came to their help. In spite of not winning a single League game all went well until one match when the referee gave a penalty and suspended a player. His autocratic manner savoured of Hitlerism and now the Football Association have closed the ground for a month. I am convinced that a grave injustice has been done" – C.H. Careless 35 11 28b

1935 11 29 CS

Rowers pass new bridge replacing Horse Grind Ferry. 35 11 29(3)CS

1935 11 29 ES

Sugar Beet Factory pollution of River Ouse, damaging fishers at Littleport and Brandon Creek; claimed pollution from sewage works, brewery and gas works were cause; but warm water from factory drew fish to 'black hole of Calcutta' 35 11 29 (2)

1935 11 30

Stretham lorry accident photo – 35 11 30

Christ's College cat – 35 11 30a

December 1935 CDN & Cambridge Standard & Ely Standard

1935 12 05

At Burwell various houses in Parsonage Lane, Fuller's Lane, Burnt Yard and Beldam Square should be demolished together with six at Malting Cottages, the Medical Officer advised. Four houses at Mutton Row and two in Lower Road Swaffham Prior should also be pulled down. Many unfit houses were still occupied at Swaffham Bulbeck but four at Quarry Lane and two in the High Street should be cleared as soon as there was alternative accommodation for the working-class people who would be displaced. 35 12 05

John Whitehead, 65, has been in the fruit and vegetable trade all his life. He started hawking goods on a barrow and then with a horse and cart. About 40 years ago he took a shop in Fitzroy Street and struggled to bring up a big family – he had 13 sons. It was difficult to obtain goods during the Great War but afterwards got a motor lorry and in 1933 went to London for goods for the Christmas trade. They were brought to a garage in Cambridge from which they were stolen. Then a run-away horse smashed up his van and the lorry ran into a lamp post. 35 12 05b

Walter Nicholas told the court he'd started as a confectioner at Little Downham. He knew nothing about the business and only took £8 a week of which thirty shillings was profit. So he added a little vegetable round, buying from neighbouring farmers. He had a motor van and later a lorry for £75, paying by instalments. As business was poor he came to Cambridge in September 1934 and started in the wholesale vegetable business, but lost more money. He disposed of his lorry for £10 and paid off some of his debts. Then he was refused a potato licence, which was a major reason for his failure. 35 12 05c

1935 12 06

Mildenhall water, Littleport electricity – 35 12 06a

1935 12 07

Briscoe Snelson gave a talk, illustrated by lantern slides on 'The River Ouse with the Camera' 35 12 07

A map entitled 'A plain delineation of ... Cambridge setting for the inns and taverns thereof' and drawn in the eighteenth-century style has just been produced by Ian Cox. Together with two of his University friends he has been making a tour of the aforesaid inns, sampling the ales sold and the pastimes with which customers amuse themselves. There is a list of 199 places where beer and ale can be obtained and notes on the 15 brewers whose products are sold, as well as the Audit Ale. Five pastimes are named: darts, skittles, table-skittles, ring the ball and shove-halfpenny. The map is sold at half-a-crown uncoloured with hand-coloured versions at six shillings 35 12 07c

For the past 14 years Professor P.L. Kapitza, the famous Soviet scientist, has been doing research in England. The laboratory he used at Cambridge was erected specially for him by the University authorities. Now the apparatus has been purchased by the Russians and installed in a remarkable building on the outskirts of Moscow. It has rock-like foundations of special cement to ensure complete freedom from vibration. The walls are lined with barium plaster through which the strongest X-Rays cannot penetrate and the doors covered with massive sheets of lead. His work will deal largely with research into the magnetic and electric properties of metals under extremely low temperatures 35 12 07d

1935 12 10

A local history exhibition in the Central Library Reference Room in connection with the Local Government Centenary Celebrations shows how Cambridge looked in days gone by. Schoolchildren are showing the greatest interest as they make tours of the exhibits. Photographs show the changes more vividly than anything: it is hard to believe that the Hobson Street pictured is the same one today. Political broadsheets from the 1840s comment on the 'horrible extravagance' of police expenditure and hint that all was not well with the painting of the inside of the Council Chamber - it advises local painters to have nothing to do with the job. 35 12 10

1935 12 11

The managers of Coveney Church of England School are not willing for it to be converted into a junior mixed and infants' school. But it would be detrimental to the children if they were deprived of the facilities of a senior school and if parents wanted to send their children to Ely there was nothing to stop them, councillors heard. A site for the new senior girls' school in Downham Road could be bought for £1,700 which was less than its commercial value. The Board of Education had objected to plans for the new senior school at Chatteris saying it should be a two-storey building or there would not be enough space for physical training and organised games. 35 12 11

Ely Urban Council were condemning property without having places to put the people into. They ought to approach owners to see if they could be put in proper repair. People should have decent places to live in but in many cases they did not want to come out. 35 12 11a

Long Road railway bridge photo – 35 12 11d

1935 12 12

Dr William Wooster told the court he was a member of the Scientists' Anti-War Group and had been standing outside Duxford Aerodrome selling pamphlets entitled 'Air Display Special'. It carried a headnote to say it was not to be sold to members of H.M. Forces but they were seized by police under the Incitement to Disaffection Act. Surely people could be reminded of the sheer horrors of the Great War 35 12 12 & a

1935 12 13 CS

The old 'Nancy' on the Cam: Briscoe Snelson's river scenes. 35 12 13CS

John Evison, Fen Drayton, oldest motorist in England. 35 12 13(2)CS

1935 12 14

St Ives rowing – 35 12 14

Papworth Village Settlement is fortunate in its friends. Some years ago Mr Warwick Deeping wrote a novel about it and devoted half the profits to the cause. Now many theatrical celebrities have been lending a hand in making a special film. Gordon Harker plays the part of a consumptive worker, Henry Hawkins, who comes to Papworth for treatment. The film tells of his progress through the hospital to an open-air chalet and occupation in the settlement workshops. Eventually he is provided with a Papworth cottage in which he is joined by his wife and children. 35 12 14a

1935 12 16

Sir – the de-population of Castle End has brought a serious decline in trade in this district. Slum clearance has seen the departure of many young families to the new residential estates in other parts of Cambridge and we are left with the old people whose requirements are practically nil. When a house is vacant it is condemned and pulled down so consequently no new residents come to take their place.

Some sites have been empty for years and are growing a plentiful supply of weeds and thistles. When are we going to have new houses built on these vacant sites – Tradesman 35 12 16

1935 12 17

Thirteen girls have left the Home of Mercy in Christchurch Street during the year, nine of whom were placed out in service. Every effort has been made to train them in laundry and housework, cooking and needlework. The Fellowship of Compassion has provided the girls with woollen underwear and rubber aprons. Religious teaching, which was more necessary than ever, has continued and there are always girls in various states of preparation for baptism and confirmation. 35 12 17 # c.32.9

Electricity is the modern housewife's Father Christmas, bringing her so many labour-saving and home-brightening devices and Messrs Bailey, Grundy and Barrett of St Mary's Passage are specialists. Lamp standards, wireless sets and coffee percolators are a few gift suggestions. Harassed husbands and flurried fiancés will find solutions to all their gift problems at Messrs Eaden Lilley's which is packed full of things dear to the feminine heart such as evening gowns, furs and lingerie. The bargain basement has good quality stuff at reasonable prices. 35 12 17a

If you are hard up for ideas for gifts, visit Samuels in Petty Cury. The manager produced an Everite 'King' watch and threw it on the floor. It did not hurt it – a similar watch was dropped from the top of Big Ben and was still going when picked up. Diamond rings are available at prices up to forty shillings and the latest for a lady's handbag is a combined flap-jack and cigarette-lighter. Canteens of cutlery, eminently suitable for wedding presents, are priced from fifteen shillings (75p) 35 12 17a

1935 12 18

More than half the girls attending the Cambridge & County High School are above the average physique for their age and less than one per cent are poorly nourished. Nearly all the pupils are sensibly clothed and school uniform plays a useful part in this. Many take advantage of an excellent school dinner system and systematic training in a good gymnasium is open to all. Taking into account the intensive curriculum and the long distance many of the girls have to travel the results are very creditable, the Medical Officer reported. 35 12 18 & a Death statistics show that measles and whooping cough had caused as much loss of child life as diphtheria and scarlet fever and since 1910 influenza had caused at least 1,400 deaths in Cambridgeshire. Improved travelling facilities and cheap cinema entertainment were great causes of the spread of infections and until people refrained from exposing others to risk in those surroundings there could be little improvement, Dr F Robinson warned Rotarians 35 12 18a

Tipperary Club treat – photo – 35 12 18b

Ely Ratepayers Association wrote to the Council asking for the amount paid to the consulting engineer who prepared a sewage scheme for Ely. The Clerk said £481 had been paid to Messrs Elliott and Brown in 1921 and a further £210 in September 1932. Councillor Merryweather said he did not mind the Council furnishing the information but the whole thing was published in the newspapers and he did not think they should be subject to scrutiny for years back. The Association should not make such requests unnecessarily. 35 12 18c

A short time ago the Land Settlement Association purchased property at Fen Drayton and the work of settling 40 Durham unemployed miners on the land has commenced. At present the first ten are occupying Drayton House and 20 of the 40 cottages are in course of erection. None of the miners have had regular work since the strike of 1926 and some have had no employment at all for five or six years. The men were in rather poor condition and it would take some time for them to become capable of doing a hard day's work on the soil. There is no unemployment in Fen Drayton. The village shows a good spirit and demonstrates not only interest but neighbourliness as well 35 12 18d

Mrs Rackham told councillors that at present a crowd of children was loosed on the labour market all at once and the best were often forced to take the worst jobs, or ones they were not suited for. One County School girl had been compelled to take domestic service. Although the school leaving age was 14 they should not deprive children of the possibility of getting employment and some should be allowed to leave earlier. But she was outvoted. 35 12 18d

1935 12 19

King Street Christmas poultry market picture – 35 12 19

1935 12 20

The judge agreed that police had been wrong to seize copies of a pamphlet from a member of the Cambridge Scientist's Anti-War Group at Duxford aerodrome during the Royal Review. They'd been worried following an earlier incident at Mildenhall when a misguided female threw a paper at the King's car. 'The Anti-War Special' was crude, inartistic and in some respects childish. It had been sold by Dr Wooster supported by a bevy of satellites, mainly ladies, wearing badges of a reddish hue. Various ex-servicemen had expressed themselves in vituperative terms and its distribution might have lead to a breach of the peace 35 12 20 & a

1935 12 20 ES

Villages near Ely dying out?; population decline but Littleport grows as industry; Stretham dropped from 1,145 to 1,000 1871-192; fewer blacksmiths and carpenters, less children; if agriculture did not employ more not much hope for a good healthy life in the countryside, difficult to sustain amenities; electrification progressing facilitating decentralisation of industry 35 12 20 (3)

The probability of the villages of the Ely district dying out in the new future was mentioned by W.P. Baker of Jesus College in a lecture at the Alexandra Hall, Littleport.

There had been a decline in the population of villages during the last 50 years. But Littleport has continued to grow as it has an industry. The prospect of increasing the number of people dependent on agriculture were very slight and probably they would find even less people earning their living on the land as a result of development of big scale farming rather than the small holding system.

Nearly all over England, villages have been dropping in numbers while the towns have been growing. Haddenham's population had decreased by 400 in the last 50 years, Coveney which had 712 inhabitants in 1801 had only 472 in 1921. Between 1871 and 1921 the population of Mepal fell from 379 to 360 and Stretham from 1,145 to 1,000, during the same period.

Agriculture was already employing less people than it did 50 years ago, and villages were shrinking. There were fewer blacksmiths and carpenters than there used to be. If agriculture did not employ more people, there was not much hope for a good healthy life in the countryside. If the villages got smaller, it would be very difficult to supply the amenities of life to their small and scattered populations. But there was an appreciable increase in the number of people employed in the towns residing in villages. And with the electrification of the countryside progressing, the spreading and decentralisation of industry was facilitated. The spreading of industry to the villages was made more easy by the lower cost of factory sites and lower rates. But the preservation of England's rural charm was a matter of enormous importance. 35 12 20(3)ES

Ten Mile Pumping Station

An important link in the history of Fen drainage in the Littleport and Downham District was completed at the Ten Mile Pumping Station, Hilgay, when the Commissioners officially put into operation the largest single power unit of any pump in the South Level. It consists of a 340 horsepower diesel oil engine which replaces one of two steam engines that had been in use since 1912. The new plant is coupled with one of the existing centrifugal pumps.

The District contained 26,600 acres and to drain it was necessary to have powerful engines.

Periodically their drainage had to be improved as the land settled considerably.

The first steam engine ever erected on the site was put up in 1819. Formerly the land was drained by a big paddle wheel and beam engines which for years did their work thoroughly. In 1879, however, they found it necessary to deepen their paddle wheel to drain their land better because up till then they could only just get the top water off. In 1880, when the wheel was lowered two foot six inches their drainage was pretty good and continued for a little while. But still the land continues to shrink and they found it necessary to do something else.

While other districts had erected pumps, they continued to keep to the wheel until 1912 when they had new boilers and duplicate pumps put in the station. They then thought they were in a very good position. Those pumps were erected by Messrs. Allen and Sons. But they had never considered it safe to have only one plant in that district because if anything happened in winter, they would soon be inundated. So it had been their custom ever since they changed the paddle wheel to have plants in duplicate.

In February, it had been reported that their boilers were the worst for wear and they decided it was desirable to erect an oil engine instead of one of the steam engines. For many years, they had run with three boilers, two of which, with one of the engines, were being retained as a standby and when they became unsafe, they might have to fit a duplicate oil engine. When the two steam engines and pumps were fitted in 1912 they were only designed for a 15-foot lift. They now had to face a 19-foot lift and the pumps were not built for that. The impeller of the pump now attached to the oil engine was capable working with a lift of 21-feet which was probably as much as they would ever require in the next 50 years. 35 12 20 (4)

The Isle of Ely Society for the Blind reported there were 93 registered blind persons in the area. Brush making seem to be a suitable trade for a home worker. The home teacher had given 98 lessons in cane and willow basket-making, tray making rush seating and braille. Eleven people were being instructed and making reasonable progress. They made between five, six and 7,000 baskets but did not market them in the right way.

She also assisted in the fixing of wireless sets supplied by the British Wireless Fund for the Blind. The two and three-valve sets mark a great advance over the original one-valve headphone sets and gave quite satisfactory reception. 35 12 20(4)ES

Harry Pendle said he was town crier and bill poster at Soham and paid rent for a board for Bill posting. During the last election, he posted bills for the Conservative candidate Captain Briscoe and on November 7th was informed that Councillor Edwards had posted bills on his private hoarding without his consent. He saw two bills one on top of the other advertising a meeting for Payne, the Liberal candidate. Three more slips had been deliberately posted across the photograph of Captain Briscoe. Athur Elston said during the election Mr. Flatt told him he had great difficulty in knowing how to place posters on top of the plaintiff's board. He said the only way to do it was to get Councillor Edwards on his shoulder and put the poster on Captain Briscoe's. Councillor Edwards said he was responsible. The small bills did not disfigure Captain Briscoe's face in any way. He was fined one guinea. 35 12 20(3)

1935 12 28

Mr William Macintosh, a member of the Cambridge firm of ironmongers, died following an accident at Graham's crossing. The express train stopped in Shelford station for five minutes after the accident. In another incident a passenger train from Peterborough to Cambridge was delayed when it ran through the gates at Dimmock's Crossing near Stretham and smashed them. Fortunately no passenger or member of the train crew was injured. The debris was cleared quickly enough not to affect the other trains on the line 35 12 28

1935 12 31

Castle Hotel's demolition to make way for cinema – photo – 35 12 31

Coster's annual barrow race to Bottisham swan 25 years ago – photo – 35 12 31a

1936 Cambridge Daily News

I have scans of these stories

January 1936 CDN

1936 01 03

Much anxiety is being caused among farmers by the countless numbers of wood pigeon which are playing havoc with winter food for sheep, young layers of clovers and sainfoins. Thousands migrate from Norway and assist our native birds in their devastation despite scarecrows, stakes and string being used to frighten them off. Sheep farmers find it is impossible to farm under their conditions and appeal to all covert owners and the sporting public to turn out each Thursday and Saturday to shoot these pests. 36 01 03a

Proposals to establish a greyhound racing track at Caxton or any part of the rural district could injure the amenities of the area, councillors decided. But Mr Pease said there was already a track at Teversham and if the residents of Histon rose up and said they wanted a track to make life more interesting there, they should not object to it. The conversion of The Elms, Great Shelford, into a country club was also opposed as the land was zoned for eight houses per acre 36 01 03b

Ely RDC has accepted tenders from Messrs Grensells of Kettering for wiring council houses in Ely Road and West End Sutton, Tower Road, Main Street and Cross Lane Downham, the Cambridge and Ely Roads in Stretham together with Hillrow, Hop Row and Station Road, Haddenham, Millfield Littleport and Haddenham Road at Wilburton. The Beds., Cambs. & Hunts Electricity Company will make a connection charge of £1 for each of the 94 houses— 36 01 03c

With the enlargement of the drapery section, the Co-operative Society's premises in Burleigh Street comprise the finest Departmental Store in Cambridge. On the ground floor, the Butchery has finest home-killed and imported meat, Grocery sells bread and confectionary, Outfitting has made-to-measure suits while Furnishing has three-piece suites and mirrors. Every Department is equipped in the most modern manner with lifts to all parts of the building. 36 01 03d & e # c.27.2

1936 01 04

Ely electricity, p2

New Co-op, p6

1936 01 05

Cambridge colleges are closed to the public one day in the year. Most choose December 31st 36 01 05

An amazing tame jackdaw has made its home with Mt T.L. Naylor of Blinco Grove. It came as an uninvited guest in January last year when it flew into his garden with a cheery 'Hullo!' and was promptly adopted, At first the bird's food was placed on the scullery window-sill but as other birds used to join in the feast its tray of tit-bits was placed inside the scullery. Now when it feels hungry the bird taps on the window to gain admission to its snack-bar. It is put to bed each night in a tomato-box which is placed in the garage and surrounded with boxes to keep the cats out. 36 01 05a & b

Cambridge has lost a well-known butcher in the death of Mr James Traylen, aged 82. Born at Oundle he had his first experience in the meat trade at Peterborough and came to Cambridge at the age of 20. He carried on his own business at 122 Newmarket Road until he retired in 1912 after which his two sons took on the shop. Mr Traylen spent much of his time after retirement in gardening. 36 01 05c

1936 01 07

"This coupon'll win us a thousand pounds" jokingly prophesied a Cambridge man to his wife on Christmas day after he had filled in his football pool form while she had a glass of port with a friend.

And no one was more surprised that he when his forecast came true. The lucky man, Mr 'Dick' Morgan of Cambridge Place, was at work when a CDN reporter brought definite news of his success. He had not heard the wireless announcement as the accumulator of his set had run out. 36 01 07

Corpus village, p5

1936 01 08

An amazing roof collapse awakened residents in Broad Street, East Road, shortly after midnight. When they rushed into the street they found that the whole of the roof of a storehouse and garage belonging to Messrs Whitehead, the fruiterers, had crashed down on the contents of the building. It is thought the long-continued rain and damp weather may have affected the wooden beams. One of the three lorries in the building had the engine badly knocked about and some boxes of fruit were smashed by beams and tiles. It is said that when the old All Saints Church opposite St John's College was pulled down, the stone was auctioned off and many loads of it went into the building of this store house 36 01 08

Union Cinemas, the company controlling five Cambridge cinemas have joined forces with Arthur Segal to acquire more sites – 36 01 08a

1936 01 10

Chatteris Masonic Ladies night held at University Arms – 36 01 10

New Chesterton Institute organised grand social at the Dorothy Café to celebrate their Golden Jubilee. The whole of the Dorothy had been booked for the occasion but even then the number had to be limited to 800 and several hundred were disappointed. There was dancing to Reg Cottage's band, a progressive whist drive and a concert in the Oak Room. Miss Queenie Chapman's pupils gave an excellent dancing display and Pat Peddle and Joan Metcalfe produced a version of 'Top Hat'. Suppers were served through the evening when a gramophone provided appropriate music. Many tired people were very glad of buses to various parts of the town. 36 01 10a

1936 01 11

Fire at Brook House, Bassingbourn – 36 01 11

With its purchase of the Strensham Court Estate of 2,800 acres near Tewkesbury, Corpus Christi is following the examples of the richest Cambridge college. Trinity, which has an income of £80,000 a year, bought 4,000 acres of agricultural land in Suffolk two years ago. However King's, whose finances have flourished exceedingly under the bursarship of Maynard Keynes, prefer to invest in urban rather than agricultural properties. After the war they held estates in fifteen counties but these have been greatly reduced and they recently bought a valuable site close to the Middlesex Hospital. 36 01 11a

1936 01 15

Cottenham children gathered at the school gates gazing at the remains of their school with unsuppressed glee. The caretaker had been stoking up the fumes when he saw smoke coming from the senior boys' classroom. The floor collapsed and the contents of the room including two pianos were destroyed. The school bed was rescued from the wreckage of the belfry. The portion destroyed was erected in 1860 and is owned by the British School Trustees. The undamaged part is own by the County Council and was built in 1875. 36 01 15

The Queen motored over from Sandringham to visit Mr Stanley Woolston's antique store where she purchased specimens of needlework and some ivories to add to her collection. As word spread the police had a hard time keeping back the ever-increasing throng of sightseers. It was noticed that one of the tyres of the royal car was a little deflated and an RAC Scout was called in to blow it up again. The Queen also visited the Cambridge Tapestry Company in Thompson's Lane where she saw one piece of tapestry that was being repaired. It had been stolen by thieves who were forced to abandon it in a wood where it had been affected by the weather and some children had also mutilated it 36 01 15a

Debate on Women's Suffrage in 1910, the first time an inter-college debate opened by a woman – 36 01 15 b & c # c.33

1936 01 16

Unruly and heated scenes were witnessed at a parish meeting at Burwell to discuss proposals for piped water. Analysts reported that 27 wells were unsafe for drinking from but one man aged 92 said he had been using one of these all his life. There had been cases of diphtheria but they were imported from outside. Many men did not realise the large volume of water that had to be drawn for washing. Were they going to deny a little comfort and ease to their wives for the sake of the cost of a packet of cigarettes a week? But a water scheme would be an infliction and they could not afford it. 36 01 16 & a

1936 01 17

It is many years since Raymond Bennett was a Cambridge semi-professional entertainer who made early appearances in cine-variety at the Playhouse, Mill Road. He has progressed rapidly and Cambridge audiences now have an opportunity of seeing him at the Theatre Cinema with his partner of many broadcasts. Bennett and McNaughton have achieved great success on the music halls, including the Holborn Empire, and have attained great popularity as broadcasting stars. Those who have listened to their broadcasts will be glad of this opportunity of renewing acquaintance with a popular local artiste 36 01 17

An unusual claim for damages caused through infection from a pair of trousers was heard at Cambridge Court. Walter Tarrant, a rick-burner at a brickworks, said he bought a pair of navy blue serge imitation trousers from Messrs Norman Bradley and Co but within a few days he suffered an irritation diagnosed as dermatitis and was in hospital for three weeks. The Public Analyst said the trousers had been made from waste rags. The original wool was dyed with indigo but when the cloth was remade it was dyed with iron sulphate. He thought the problem was caused by the dye bath not containing sufficient alkaline. 36 01 17a & b

1936 01 18

As the Guildhall is being reconstructed the Cambridge Education Committee met in the old Post Office on the corner of Petty Cury. The large hall on the ground floor where the public business of the Post Office used to be transacted has been cleared of the counters, screens and telephone boxes and converted into a committee room. Unfortunately the CDN reporters found the acoustic properties very bad. It is never easy to follow the remarks of some of the members of the Committee and hearing was rendered doubly difficult by the roar of traffic outside. They dragged their table nearer but even then the noise of the traffic was an easy winner. 36 01 18

1936 01 21

The news of the death of our beloved King came to the people of Cambridge by means of the wireless. The late afternoon bulletins prepared listeners for the worst and a solemn vigil began. In hundreds of homes families sat by the fireside waiting anxiously for the quarter-hourly bulletins which were given by the BBC. It was as if the whole nation were waiting at the King's bedside. At the Dorothy Café, where the Fulbourn Mental Hospital Staff dance was in progress, the news of the King's death was learned at half-past-twelve. At once the dance was terminated. 36 01 21 # c.02

Sandringham estate – 36 10 21a

The late King George first came to Cambridge as Duke of York in 1894 when he received an Honorary Degree. As King he stayed at Trinity College while inspecting the army manoeuvres in 1912 during which he met a column of troops on the march near Whittlesford and sat on his horse for nearly half an hour waiting for them to pass. He refused to allow them to be stopped in order to give him passage. Earlier he had dismounted to talk to an old soldier at Linton. His final recent visit was at the opening of the new University Library, 36 01 21c

1936 01 22

Proclaiming new king – 36 01 22

1936 01 23

Long before the royal train carrying the dead King was due to leave Wolferton, thousands had assembled at vantage points along the railway route to London line to pay their final homage. Every few yards little knots of people stood in reverent silence. Hundred lined the platform as the funeral train steamed slowly into Cambridge station. 'Charlotte' the parrot, King George's inseparable companion, was on the train. It had been carried to the station in a covered cage, placed on the knees of a royal servant in a royal shooting brake. 36 01 23a & d

Cambridge embroiderers – 36 01 23b

Several thousand packed Cambridge Market Hill where from a special platform draped in purple the new King Edward VII was proclaimed. But proceedings were interrupted by the appearance overhead of an aeroplane and as a result of the noise from the engine the Mayor (Ald Wing) had to pause. Undergraduates crowded outside the Senate House where the University ceremony was held. Many of them had cameras and four or five, determined to get a good view of the ceremony, climbed into the huge bowl which stands on a pedestal in the court. 36 01 23c

1936 01 27

Scene in King's college chapel & other services – 36 01 27

1936 01 28

Last act of homage – 36 01 28 & a

The Air Ministry say it is very desirable that a new Cambridge municipal aerodrome site should be provided in the near future. Land at Milton had been recommended by Sir Alan Cobham but this would cost more than £33,000 and take at least two years to build. Messrs Marshall's existing flying ground at Newmarket Road is quite inadequate for present requirements and they could have a new site at Teversham ready in a year, councillors heard. 36 01 28b & c 36 01 30a

1936 01 29

King George V has a warm place in the hearts of Newmarket people. His frequent visits, during which he moved about as 'a simple country gentleman', endeared him to all the residents and they regarded him as a personal friend. Every shop bore signs of mourning and those who did not wear a black symbol of respect were very few and far between. On the day of the funeral businesses were closed. There was a deep hush and the streets were practically deserted during the two minute's silence. All Saints Church was packed for the memorial service, many stood at the back before the doors were closed. 36 01 29

Arrangements have been made with the Cambridge General Cemetery Company for the Histon Road Cemetery to be transferred to the Borough Council as from February. The cottage, chapel and old mortuary required considerable repairs, the paths regravelled and the grounds cleared up. The cottage should be made habitable for a man to live there and have general charge of the ground, a report recommended. 36 01 29a

1936 01 30

Benjamin Rayment was first apprenticed to the shoemaking trade at a shop in Trumpington Street but decided to try his fortune elsewhere. He walked to Birmingham for work before entering the hat industry in Luton when the first hat-blocking machine was introduced from America. He returned to Cambridge and carried on business in Burleigh Street as a straw and felt hat maker for close on 70 years. When the straw hat industry was in its prime he used to supply 'boaters' to most of the University shops in the town. He had a wonderful memory with recollections of the Crimean War, the Chartist Riots and the great exhibition in Hyde Park and died in his 100th year. 36 01 30

Cambridge beauty spa – 36 01 30a

1936 01 31

There was a need for providing a community welfare centre for the housing estates on the outskirts of Cambridge where a large proportion of the houses were occupied by youngish married couples with growing children. Chesterton is like a new town, the people are isolated, lonely, vague and have no centre. Youngsters wandered aimlessly about with nothing to do and nowhere to go. They need a building for public meetings, concerts, dances, films and medical inspections. But it would not be suitable as a library and a site in Ascham Road would offer quietness and room for any necessary growth, councillors were told. 36 01 31 & a

February 1936 CDN

1936 02 01

G.J. Gray was born in Pembroke Street and entered the firm of Bowes and Bowes in 1876. He was encouraged by the late Robert Bowes to prosecute his bibliographical work beyond the requirements of business and his publications on Cambridge booksellers and printers won him the esteem of University librarians. In earlier life he was connected with the Higher Grade and Camden Cricket Clubs, Old Chesterton Institute and Men's Bible Class. He also organised the Penny 'Pops' concerts held in the Guildhall in years gone by. At his retirement The Publishers' Circular praised his 60 years in the book trade 36 02 01

Chesterton RDC's scheme to enlarge their isolation hospital at Oakington spoiled the County plans for accommodating small-pox patients, the Medical Office complained. In the event of an outbreak it was the usual practice that one of the existing isolation hospitals should be immediately vacated and used for small-pox cases. Oakington was ideal for this. Within 24 hours all the ordinary patients could be transferred and in another 48 hours it could be ready for use. The Ministry of Health should hold an inquiry. 36 02 01a

1936 02 03

Fire broke out at the Live and Let Live Inn, Stetchworth, during Friday evening. It is believed that the outbreak was caused by some clothes catching alight whilst drying. Damage was caused to beams and to a piano before the flames were extinguished with pails of water. Meanwhile at Burwell, where many of the wells have been found to be polluted, a parish poll urging the adoption of a supply of pure water was overwhelming defeated. 36 02 03

1936 02 04

The Cambridge Arts Theatre opened with a gala performance by the Vic-Walls Ballet Company. It is a beautiful piece of work with furnishings in autumn leaf and includes a restaurant and café bar. The cinema and sound apparatus is of the very latest type with facilities for the reproduction of gramophone records designed by Messrs Morley and Duke. The fresh air supply can be warmed or cooled while the main heating by water-fed radiators is instantly adjustable to meet the vagaries of the English climate 36 02 04 & a Widespread flooding occurred at Huntingdon and St Ives which one motorist says looks like an island. The water in the Old West is within eight inches of the top of the bank and these are being heightened with clay on the low places. There is also heavy seepage on the Wissey, all along the Middle Fen banks, at Southery Ferry and the River Lark. All banks are being patrolled by day and night with tugs and barges in readiness to deal with any emergency. 36 02 04b

Mrs A.A. Moyes' charming, pleasant nature was well-known to countless visitors to the Lion Hotel in Petty Cury hotel. Her memory was outstanding: many commercial travellers recall how she could take up a conversation practically where it had been left off, even after many months. Undergraduates had the greatest respect: even during the liveliest of moments she was able to quell impending trouble without outside assistance. She had the present glass roof put above the former courtyard, which was used for traffic up to 1907. Now the family have severed their links with the hotel after over 80 years. 36 02 04c

1936 02 05

Premier Travel Ltd has been formed to take over the services of Royal Blue Coaches of Chesterton Road and the Harston and District Motor Services. Managing director, E.A. Lainson, says there is a definite need for a good independent transport company. They will offer special excursions to Hunstanton, Southend and Yarmouth, run motor tours to Europe all year round and also conduct a travel agency for steamship, motor coach and aeroplane services. 36 02 05

The world premier presentation of the new GPO film unit production 'Night Mail' was given as the second gala performance in connection with the opening of Cambridge's delightful new Arts Theatre. It deals with the work of the Royal Mail night train from London to Scotland with plenty of novel-angle shots and some quick-fire doggerel which is made to synchronise with the train beats. Other features were a highly-diverting slapstick Mickey Mouse cartoon and the British Movietone News 36 02 05a

1936 02 06

Demolition of property on the top corner, Haddenham would improve visibility for traffic proceeding from Wilburton to Sutton but a more comprehensive improvement could be effected if the adjoining baker's shop in Hop Row could be acquired. Councillors recommended it be acquired and demolished and the existing kerb and footpath line be set back seven feet. At Littleport there would be a small piece of land to spare after improvement at the junction of High Street and Hempfield Road which could be used for the erection of a public convenience. But there will be no more traffic lights as these are an expensive luxury 36 02 06

A demolition appeal heard that two cottages at Great Abington must be 100 years old. The roof was heavy thatch in a state of decay, the stairs were worm-eaten and dark and rain came in around the windows. A family with six children shared a living room and two attic bedrooms, all the cooking and washing had to be done in the living room. The bedroom of one was built into one of the bedrooms of the other and it was impossible to pull down one without affecting its neighbour. Repairs would cost £58 but the houses were worth scarcely £10 36 02 06a

The Cambridge University Mummers, who are still the only University Dramatic Society to admit women members equally with men in all their activities, are presenting 'Heartbreak House' by Bernard Shaw. In the cast there are four members of Newnham, the most prominent of whom is Miss Teresa Mayor. She will be supported by Beryl Eeman, Cecilia Hopkinson and Deirdre Moore. The play will be produced by George Rylands who is well known for productions at the A.D.C. 36 02 06a

1936 02 07

The question of a Municipal Aerodrome for Cambridge has at last been settled. Messrs Marshall's new aerodrome at Teversham will be of sufficient size to enable Cambridge to have a fully licensed airport competent to meet the needs of commercial and civil flying. The council will remove the present restrictions on the site and divert a footpath but will have the option of purchasing the undertaking in 40 years and afterwards every ten years 36 02 07

The proposed formation of an Internal Drainage Board for the Cam, Rhee and Bourn Brook was opposed by owners and occupiers of land in the area. They would be precepted for work in the fen from which they had no immediate benefit. Mr F. Matthews from Shingay said he farmed by the Rhee and had been troubled by floods for 20 years. If the main channel was cleared out the water would flow away. "We want drainage, but we don't want to let ourselves in for a lot of expense", he said. 36 02 07a

1936 02 08

Two new pubs in Coldham's Lane were considered. The Star Brewery's 'Haven Hotel' at the junction of Vinery Way would be like an Elizabethan Manor in red brick with stone dressing and red tiled roof. Greene King planned the 'Merry Monarch' opposite Brooks Road as a plain up-to-date pub with a Cumberland turf bowling green attached – far more appropriate than the 'Brewers Jacobean' proposal. But this was a new housing area in which many people were starting out in life and taking of a narcotic drug like alcohol was subversive to the economic, moral and spiritual welfare. Both applications were refused 36 02 08 & a

Cambridge Post Office placed new pens on their counters for a six-month trial. But at the end of a month they had all disappeared. A special locking device held the stainless steel nibs in position, but this did not deter the members of the public who took a fancy to them, as both pen and holder were taken away! Many inquiries have been made with regard to the type of nib used and where they could be purchased (possibly following unsuccessful attempts to abstract them from the pen holders). Now a special red pen holder bearing the letters 'G.P.O.' is being issued for use at public counters of head post offices. But these are not intended for the purposes of ornamenting writing desks in houses and business offices. 36 02 08b & c

1936 02 10

Skating at Newnham – photo – 36 02 10

1936 02 11

Death Mrs Henry Sidgwick, Principal of Newnham – 36 02 11

1936 02 13

Wells and Winch Ltd, brewers of Biggleswade, announce the opening of the new 'Yorkshire Grey' Chesterton. This house has been designed to ensure the comfort of its patrons, both new and old, and is the latest endeavour of Messrs Wells and Winch to make licensed premises clean, healthy and attractive. A spacious clubroom is available for parties – this room having a private entrance and conveniences. Tenant Thomas Evans. Architect E.H.C. Inskip & Son, Bedford 36 02 13

1936 02 15

Shop assistants branch formed at Ely, Newmarket – 36 02 15

Cambridge Beauty Spa is probably the most up-to-date and best equipped of its kind in the country with expert assistants, modern appliances and the best of materials. Zotofoam Baths ensure Cambridge is not behind in the now-awakened national cult of health and beauty. By deep cleaning of the pores they clear the system of poisonous secretions. Aches and stiffness gives way to supple firmness, unwanted weight is pleasurably sweated away and the skin is made clear with real skin-deep beauty – Advert 36 02 15b

River Cam Internal Drainage Board opposed Sawston – 36 02 15c

Buses to Wyton airfield – 36 02 15c

1936 02 17

Thomas Jacobs Stretham cattle-dealer dies – 36 02 17

1936 02 21

A new Blue Boar hotel, refined and distinctive yet homely has been taking shape in Trinity Street. A new Georgian cornice and canopy has been installed with flood-lighting producing a beautiful effect. Internally structural alterations, redecoration and refurbishing make the hotel a place of comfort and restful beauty with every modern refinement to ensure the enjoyment of residents who have a choice of gas, coal or electric fires in the bedrooms. The main lounge was originally a cobblestone yard into which coaches were driven. It was covered in in 1900 36 02 21 advert – 36 02 22a

1936 02 22

‘Cambridge Murders’ by Adam Broome (Godfrey James) 36 02 22 36 02 28

House purchase through a Building Society – 36 02 22b

Meadowlands Estate Newmarket Road, Cromwell Park estate – adverts 36 02 22c & e

Harvey’s Church Farm Estate at Eversden & Harlton offers a brick-built bungalow with an acre of well-drained land suitable for nurseries, glasshouses or poultry fattening - Mr Creighton, who lives on the Estate, is an expert and would be pleased to show you the methods. The basis of a house is the foundations and the material comes from our own sand pits at Cottenham. We use Fletton Bricks and tiles fitted by the Marley Tile Company who give a 40 years guarantee with each roof. Window frames and doors come from Newsums of Lincoln, ranges and locks by Cakebread Robey & Co while Sir William Rose & Company supply the paints and distemper and electrical installations are carried out by A.W. Matthews of Mill Road, Cambridge. Advert 36 02 22d

1936 02 24

Burning the boat at Jesus College following success at Lent Race – photo – 36 02 24

1936 02 25

An undergraduate was discovered with his head terribly injured on King’s Parade at midnight. He was removed to a nursing home in the police ambulance but died on the way. He had apparently fallen from the fourth-floor window of the house where he lodged and was dressed only in pyjamas, coat and socks. His landlady found the door of his room sealed up with adhesive tape and there was a smell of gas. A sealed letter was found. 36 02 25

1936 02 28

Cambridge Murders, p6

March 1936 CDN & Cambridge Standard

1936 03 03

Long Road new railway bridge – photo – 36 03 03

Cambridge University Film Production Unit documentary on psychology at Psychological Laboratories – photo 36 03 03b

Cherry Hinton Hall, p5

1936 03 04

Sultan of Zanzibar hoax – photo – at reported death Horace Cole - 36 03 04

1936 03 05

Trinity Hall had purchased Cherry Hinton Hall Estate with a view to development and asked the council to let them proceed or to buy it as a public park for £13,000. This was more than they’d paid but the land had recently been brought within the Borough boundary and if they were to acquire open space in areas ripe for development they should have to pay building land price. They would move the Horticultural Department there and let the grazing but parts of the house would probably be demolished– 36 03 03a 36 03 05a & b

1936 03 06

The Star Brewery want a new pub, The Golden Hind, on Milton Road, an area of 1,010 houses of which the majority had been built since 1927. It was not ribbon development but housing estates on each side and practically built up to the railway gates. Kings Hedges Road would form part of the new Ring Road so further development might be expected there. If granted the brewery would surrender the licence of the 'Racehorse' on Newmarket Road and the 'Plume of Feathers'. The Women's Total Abstinence Union opposed the application. Licence applications Elm Tree, Hare and Hounds & Dog & Pheasant. Licence of Bowling Green Chesterton transfer to new Golden Hind. 36 03 06

Sir - Great falls and breakages in the main line of elms along the Backs began in a gale 40 years ago. They have come at intervals ever since and will certainly continue as the trees are much more diseased and feeble than the public knows. Twelve years ago King's cleared fifty yards of the sad wreckage of old trees and planted a double reserve line. These are now well grown but some have been broken. The public may look forward to more random falls whenever the wind is high and a limited amount of controlled felling and replanting where the trees are judged to be worst. But there will be no sudden large clearances and we are taking the best advice we can – Vice-Provost, King's College 36 03 06c

Byelaws that prevented children doing agricultural work for more than four hours a day during school holidays were a hardship for farmers – they could not even employ their own sons to help with the harvest. But one 13-year old boy had worked in the harvest field from eight in the morning to eight at night, six days a week, for a full harvest, and was paid the magnificent sum of twelve shillings. The farmer did not put his own children in the harvest field – would they allow their own children to do that? Councillors agreed to allow children to be employed in light agricultural work, not involving heavy strain, for up to nine hours during the summer holidays. 36 03 06b

1936 03 07

Ugly scenes were witnessed at a demonstration organised by the University Socialist Club and Anti-War Council at the Guildhall which was addressed by Aneurin Bevan. There was vocal opposition from the gallery with fighting and at one juncture all the doors were opened wide because of a strong offensive smell. Earlier 500 undergraduates took part in a torchlight procession headed by the red banner of the University Anti-War Movement shouting "We want peace" and "Stanley Baldwin must be sacked" 36 03 07 & a

Golden Hind application granted – 36 03 07b & c

1936 03 09

The Rendezvous, in Magrath Avenue has been turned into a modern luxury super-cinema with a new café restaurant. The latest talkie equipment ensures perfect reproduction and sound, the films are of the highest quality and patrons are assured of a three-hour programme. An added attraction is the illuminated Compton organ which is played at every performance. The ballroom has been re-decorated and is one of the finest in the Eastern Counties with popular tea dances and combined tea, picture and dancing tickets. 36 03 09

1936 03 11

Unusual features mark the will of Aubrey Leonard Attwater, Fellow of Pembroke College. He desired to be cremated and the ashes deposited in the precincts of the college. He left five old prints of the University Rakes Progress to a former undergraduate, his wine in the college cellars to another Fellow and his clothing to his bedmaker and college servants. His poems should be sealed up in a packet and placed in the College Library, not to be opened for thirty years. 36 03 11

1936 03 12

"Is any treaty made with Germany more than a piece of paper" asked Sir Austen Chamberlain when he reviewed Germany's action over the demilitarised zone in a speech he made at the annual dinner of the Cambridge University Conservative Association. The Association was flourishing and its numbers and activities greater than ever. There were a disproportionate number of Oxford men in the House of Commons but the Cambridge men made up in quality what they lacked in numbers. However there was a slackness in the Conservative Party which had no counterpart among the Socialists. 36 03 12 & a

Albany Café in St Mary's Passage – painting – 36 03 12b

1936 03 14

Undergraduates last night hazardously climbed to the roof of Emmanuel College North Court and decorated six chimneys with chamber pots. They were removed by Mr S. Burgess of Messrs Prime's the builders who is often called in to remove various objects placed in inaccessible positions by exuberant undergraduates. "Some of them can run up brick walls", he said: one took off his shoes and went down a wall by means of his feet and hands alone to remove a gown that had been placed in a particularly difficult spot. 36 03 14

Broadsheets were once very popular in Cambridge and now Dr F. Carr of Sawston has revived the tradition with one featuring Mr David who has been selling books for 40 years. He pays tribute in a poem printed on antique paper with two admirable sketches of David and his stall by his son, Mr Hubert David. The broadsheet is published at a shilling and should make a strong appeal to the friends and customers (the words are almost synonymous) of one of Cambridge's celebrities 36 03 14a

1936 03 17

Ely councillors considered a parking place in Bray's Lane. The time would come when the streets would be congested with cars left in all directions. The garage charge was 6d but as soon as they started forcing cars off the streets the charge would go up to a shilling and that would not do any good to the trade of Ely. It was a shame cars should park on St Mary's Green and Barton Square and it was about time they got on with a car park of their own. But Councillor Wright thought they could put a dozen houses on the land. 36 03 17

1936 03 18

Folk Museum, p6

1936 03 19

Newmarket old soldier badly gassed during war dies – 36 03 19

1936 03 21

Milk bar at NFU dance at Dorothy – 36 03 21

Many people have wondered about the object of the black and white poles which have sprung up along St Andrew's Street and Hills Road. The Ministry of Transport have finally given permission to the system of unilateral parking and the posts will be adorned with notices warning motorists not to park on the wrong side of the road on the wrong day. There is also some reason for believing that the new 'one-way' streets will also be brought into operation before very long. 36 03 21a

Harry Pitt of Manor Cottage, Church Road has written recalling 'The Walking Lady of Chesterton'. "She walked for a wager 'a thousand miles in a thousand hours' in a private garden in Church Street, Chesterton 60 years ago. I have been told that she walked in tights with high-topped boots, a jockey's cap and whip in hand. The story goes that she kept up her one mile per hour, walking day and night until she completed her task and won the wager." Other readers may enlighten us still further 36 03 21c

Albany coffee shop St Mary's Passage notes; frontage between St Mary's Passage and St Edward's Passage sold - 36 03 21b

1936 03 23

The King's Coronation may be televised as will next year's boat race, Post Office engineers were told. "How are we going to do that? Some think that in 10 years time people who have got the telephone service will want to use those wires for a re-diffusion service for broadcasts. It means that every wire has got to carry a much greater frequency and you will have to re-lay the undergrounds. I cannot see the end of these expansions. None of us can", the Superintending Engineer asked. 36 03 23 & a Unilateral parking came into force in Cambridge on Saturday. Between Regent Street and the Old Post Office parking is now allowed for 15 minutes in any one hour on one side of the road on even dates and on the other side on odd. There is one short stretch against Emmanuel Street in which no parking is allowed, owing to the difficulty of traffic coming in and out of the town through this narrow street. Readers should remember they cannot now leave their cars for any longer than 15 minutes as this is the limit. 36 03 23b

1936 03 24

Ellis Wilkerson of Manor Farm, Barley founded the business of Messrs Samuel Wilkerson & Son, corn merchants, at Bassingbourn 73 years ago, moving to Royston in 1876. He farmed 800 acres, taking a great interest in his sheep, and was a director of the Royston Farmers' Manure Company. He was also a fine judge of barley being a buyer for Mess Bass, Ratcliffe and Gretton of Burton-on-Trent. 36 03 24

Herbert Ernest Fenn – a clever artist and cartoonist – 36 03 24a

Andrew Norfolk, Wilburton fruit farmer bankrupt – 36 03 24a

1936 03 25

Cambridge more one-way streets – 36 03 25

Cold schools – 36 03 25b

Roger Roe carried on the antique business in St Andrew's Street in succession to his father and many times had the honour of waiting upon royalty, dies – 36 03 25a & c

1936 03 26

Modern living with its flats, bungalows and almost stream-lined houses, can no longer accommodate the fine old heavy furniture of our ancestors. Today the cult is for comfort and utility in limited space so Robert Sayle has equipped their basement to show this new furniture. Here you can see complete rooms set out with wallpaper decoration, carpets, curtains, lamps and all the etceteras which make a house a home. There is even a little nursery that is wallpapered with a new type of American cloth which is washable and most hygienic. What home-proud woman will want to refuse such advice? – Advert 36 03 26

Sewage schemes Cheveley Park, Soham, Burwell water, Swaffham Bulbeck ditches and Brinkley smells 36 03 26a

Huntingdon County Library 10th report – 36 03 26b

1936 03 27

Cambridge Police had a busy time when the new system of one-way traffic came into being. They were based at the end of all the affected streets and strangers must have wondered at the cordon thrown round the town. But it was necessary for despite all the notices many motorists attempted to make their way along the street from the wrong end and were stopped. And, by the way, the new restrictions apply equally to cyclists who will not be allowed to walk with their machines against the streams of traffic – 36 03 27

E. Saville Peck said he had not wanted to become a pharmacist as he was always afraid of poisons. But he had carried on the business founded by his father in 1851. He had met some eminent Cambridge doctors including Sir George Humphrey, who frequently had a chat over the counter at 30 Trumpington Street. 36 03 27a & b

Alfred Scales carried on his father's business as wine and spirit merchants, formerly well-known as Scales Brewery. He retired in 1925 when the estate was disposed of and the business taken over by Messrs Barclay, Perkins & Co. During the war he arranged sports and entertainments for the patients at the 1st Eastern General Hospital and took special interest in the bath ward where wounded soldiers used to lie continually in baths of warm water. 36 03 27c

1936 03 27 CS

Cambridge Standard, an Independent weekly Town & County: masthead. Printed and published Regent Street, 36 03 27&(2)CS

1936 03 28

A shepherd of the Cottage, Hundred Foot Bank, Pymore was crossing the railway bridge when he recognised the peculiar whistling noise of the otter and saw three of them in the river. He fetched his gun and approached the spot in a boat. By this time the otters were on the bank. He got within 12 yards before shooting and was astonished to find he had killed all three with one cartridge. His bag consisted of a female and two youngsters. He also possesses the skins of several other otters he has shot. 36 03 28

A Huntingdonshire branch of the Historical Association was formed in the room at Huntingdon Grammar School where Oliver Cromwell learned his lessons. This was the oldest building in England still used as a school. East Anglia was very backward in the study of local history and students suffered a good deal because of the inaccessibility of local records. More trouble should be taken to preserve them and much could be done to make careful copies 36 03 28a

Under new restrictions Cambridge motorists may not travel from Market Hill towards Trinity Street or into Bene't Street from King's Parade. You may not drive into Sussex Street from Hobson Street or into Corn Exchange Street from Downing Street, nor turn at Burton's Corner, Petty Cury to go to the Victoria Cinema or from Wheeler Street into Peas Hill to get to the Arts Theatre. But cyclists may walk with their bicycles either way as they do at present in Petty Cury and Market Street. Restaurants will have to speed up their service if they wish to cater for those who leave their cars outside, for only a quarter of an hour is permitted. Travellers who do not want to get indigestion had better make use of a parking space! 36 03 28b

Charles Rowell running recollections – 36 03 28b

Macleod's 'Overture to Cambridge' play rewritten as a novel – 36 03 28c

Girton Men's Institute cannot become a Jubilee memorial and cannot put up a combined village hall and pavilion on the recreation ground. Want an Infant Welfare Centre – 36 03 28d

Great Ouse training walls into the Wash – 36 03 28d

Policeman and cyclist – explaining one-way rules – photo – 36 03 28e

April 1936 CDN & Cambridge Standard

1936 04 01

The ditch in Harston High Street ran in front of a good many cottages and into it the sewage matter from a large number of houses emptied. At times the odour was so unbearable that people cannot have their windows open. In places the ditch passed under culverts and the flow was interrupted causing a bad stench, especially near the Coach and Horses who complained they had lost a great deal of custom. People living in the houses had a great deal of trouble with their throats and were not well, councillors were told. 36 04 01a

Parker's Piece opening as free car park – April Fool's Day photo – 36 04 01

Queens' College new building – photo – 36 04 01b

1936 04 02

Cambridge Short Wave club set up – 36 04 02

A man was sentenced to four years for burglary at the house of Mr Sidney Smith at Stretham. He used a poker to open various pieces of furniture and ransacked the house. But why he stole some of the articles it was difficult to understand. He took Mr Smith's tweed coat and vest, a tack coat, flannel coat, overcoat, 13 packets of cigarettes and five shillings in silver together with two pairs of stockings, five silk handkerchiefs, one pair of eyeglasses in a case and other articles belonging to his wife. 36 04 02a

1936 04 03

There were lively scenes at Little Thetford when a meeting was held to elect five councillors to constitute the Parish Council. Mr H.E. Kisby topped the poll with 21 votes but an unsuccessful candidate protested that the election was not valid as one of the voters was not on the electoral roll: "There is jiggery-pokery going on", he alleged. The man demanded a public poll which, as it received the backing of four electors, will be held. 36 04 03

1936 04 03 CS

Mid-Anglian Friday Post, successor to the Cambridge Standard. 36 04 03&a,bCS

Room for two... usually new papers have a fortnight's rehearsal ... we had twelve hour's notice of the need for this district's second paper, not tied to any news trust ... 36 04 03(2)CS

1936 04 04

The Policewoman's Review includes an article in praise of policewomen by Cambridge Councillor Mrs Rackham. The main obstacles to an increase in their numbers are prejudice against women police constables and ignorance of the work they perform. 36 04 04

Cambridge Police Force was established about March 1836 when it comprised a superintendent, two inspectors, eight sergeants and 24 constables. Now it consists of the Chief Constable, a Chief Inspector, three Inspectors, eight sergeants, 79 constables, two policewomen and the Fire Brigade which is made up of a sergeant and six men. Crime was much the same then as now: the 1837 report shows gas lamps were extinguished unlawfully and there was even a case of furious driving, the vehicle being a gig. 36 04 04

1936 04 06

Easter is replete with many quaint customs and beliefs and in Cambridgeshire folklore many of these old observances are still kept up. Centuries ago witches were believed to meet at some lonely spot in the fen district on Good Friday and hold their satanic revelries, Country folk, to prevent becoming 'bewitched', would mutter the charm

Upon Good Friday

I will fast while I may,

Until I hear the knell

Of the lord's bell

They also hung bunches of "palm" (catkins) over their doors as an additional prevention of witch spells

The eating of hot cross buns still remains a popular observance. An old custom of Cambridgeshire housewives was to bake a large bun on Good Friday and keep it until it was dry. It was then grated into powder and kept in stoppered jars to be administered mixed with water, when necessary, to any person in the household suffering from sickness or diarrhoea. Old folk will still tell you that if the sun shines on Easter Day it will also shine on Whit Sunday and that new clothes should be worn on Easter Day, or at least some new articles of attire, if only a necktie, so good fortune may attend you

At least let your clothes be new,

Or else be sure you will it rue

The custom of partaking of Easter eggs growth in popularity every year though nowadays there seems more of the sweetmeat variety than the natural production. Nevertheless many Cambridgeshire folk still serve home coloured hard-boiled eggs at breakfast on Easter morning. No doubt the observance arose from the idea of an egg being an object retaining the elements of future life.

A pleasing ancient Easter custom which still survives is known as the 'Clipping of the Church', clipping being an old form of the word 'embracing'. This observance takes place in the churchyard on Easter Sunday afternoon. The scholars of the Sunday School, with their teachers and parents, link hands and form a human chain long enough to encircle the sacred edifice, hymns appropriate to be observance being sung. 36 04 06

1936 04 07

The "Buy British" movement will receive a boost with the visit to Cambridge of the All-Electric Propaganda Van. It is a miniature mobile power station generating its own electricity to enable the display in 12-inch letters of electric light that show almost as clearly in daytime as at night. The whole cost of this 'Buy British' demonstration is borne by British firms and concerns of national reputation, prominent amongst them being the New Zealand Dairy Board and Meltonian Shoe Polishes 36 04 07

1936 04 08

"Overture to Cambridge", play by Joseph Gordon Macleod, now turned into a novel – 36 04 08 # c.74

1936 04 09

A distinguished group of architects including the Slade Professor Fine Art and the Vice-Presidents of the Royal Institute of British Architects have offered to contribute £1,200 towards the architectural fees of building Histon Village College provided it is designed by the firm of Maxwell Fry and Victor Gropius. The County Council said the offer came entirely out of the blue and was a great compliment to Cambridgeshire. It would be a model of its kind and used not only as a school but a centre of adult education. 36 04 09 & a

Important Notice. Peak's furnishers, King Street, Cambridge have built up the name and reputation for selling reliable goods. We give an expert furnishing service with 150 bedroom, dining and drawing room suites always on show. Don't be misled. We have no branch shop and no connection with any other furniture store. – Advert 36 04 09b # c.27.2

1936 04 11

For those on enjoyment bent Cambridge offered plenty of attractions on Good Friday. That 'hardy annual', skipping on Parker's Piece, showed no sign of waning in popularity; a large-sized crowd gathered to watch and take part. Various stall-holders seized the opportunity to set up their portable businesses beside the Piece. The streets wore their usual holiday deserted look, but neither that nor the temperatures deterred the cycling ice-cream salesmen. The Town football match drew some 5,000 spectators while the brass band concert in the Guildhall was a popular affair and the cinemas were open in the afternoon and evening. 36 04 11a – photos 36 04 11 # c.39

Death Charles Kidman, builder 36 04 11b # c.23

Three minutes before the service at Ely Cathedral began on Good Friday evening, a 20-years-old youth dropped dead in the organ loft. He was an articled pupil to Dr M. Conway, Cathedral organist, and his death was a tragedy of almost incredible suddenness. Just before the Cathedral choir were due to sing he was in the organ loft with the assistant organist, Mr R. Young. The latter turned his back for a few moments, and hearing a gasp found the young man had collapsed on the floor. Rushing from the loft he sent for medical assistance but he was beyond aid. Meanwhile the congregation were unaware of what had happened until the end of the service, when the Preceptor offered a prayer for the dead youth 36 04 11c

1936 04 14

Roger W.B. Jenyns of Bottisham Hall took the welfare of village cricket to heart and presented a cup with the final played in his Park. The first member of the family to live in Bottisham was Sir Roger Jenyns who was knighted for his services in the drainage of the fens. Others included Sarah, the famous Duchess of Marlborough, and Soame Jenyns a great literary character of the 18th century while an uncle was one of the survivors of the charge of the Light Brigade at Balaclava. He is succeeded by Roger Soame Jenyns who after four years in the Colonial Service at Hong Kong is now a Keeper of Oriental Antiquities at the British Museum 36 04 14

1936 04 16

Newnham photo, p1

Smallholding, p5

1936 04 17

Sussex Street, p1

1936 04 18

Lord Eltisley has made extensive use of electricity on his estate at Croxton Park for threshing, pumping, grinding pig food, working sack hoists and operating fruit grading, corn cleaning and potato sorting machines. It also drives a sawmill, heats sites with newly-farrowed pigs, warms milk for new-born lambs and drives elevators for stacking straw and hay. Fourteen motors are in frequent use. He is a director of the Beds, Cambs and Hunts Electricity Company amongst several others and while Cambridge MP served on a parliamentary committee on the development of electricity in rural areas. 36 04 18a

The work of pulling down and building up in Cambridge goes merrily on. Anyone revisiting the town after only a few years' absence must be amazed at the remarkable changes taking place from the old Post Office to the Catholic Church. In a few years this will form the most important and best shopping centre in Cambridge. Now no.14 Regent Street, which was built at the end of the 18th century, will be pulled down by Messrs Herbert Robinson to make an extension of their business. This will mean a further improvement in the building line with a consequent street widening. 36 04 18b # c.44.6

1936 04 21

Members of the Territorial Army Nursing Service and nurses of Addenbrooke's Hospital receiving instruction in anti-gas drill – photo – 36 04 21 # c.21.4 # c.45.6

Central Cinema installation of machine for lighting the screen – photo – 36 04 21a # c.76.9

1936 04 22

Percy Clark left Cambridge for a life of adventure in South Africa. Today he is famous to visitors at the famous Victoria Falls because of his picturesque huts which house photographs and mementoes for the delight of the traveller. In his autobiography, 'An Old Drifter' he tells how, after working as a photographer with Mr R.H. Lord, he went to Rhodesia where he worked as a travelling photographer. Having returned to Cambridge to be married he went back to find that the man he'd left in charge of his photographic business had decamped, having sold nearly all the furniture. But his young wife made the best of it and they have two strong sons. 36 04 22a # c.65.5

Cambridge Photographic Club cine group showed a film by Eric Watson entitled 'East Coast Holidays' with some interesting shots of fisher girls 'gutting' at Lowestoft. 'Neath Arctic Skies' by Arnold Darlington depicted Eskimo life in East Greenland in 1935 while his 'Offence and Defence' was accompanied by a running commentary: the absence of sub-titles made it something of an experiment. The club's combined film 'Springtime for Henry' portrayed a small boy's attitude towards compulsory school attendance on a fine morning. Mr H.S. Johnson, president, thanked King and Harper for the use of their radiogram in relating the musical score accompanying the films. 36 04 22b # c.65.6

Autobiography of an old drifter – P.M. Clark – 36 04 22

1936 04 23

Cambridge Short Wave Club was formed to foster and maintain interest in short wave radio, discuss problems, provide technical literature and exchange 'junk'. They hoped to install a club transmitter and arrange instruction in Morse for beginners. H.W. Scott presided at the first meeting when a large number of short wave fans attended together with transmitters 5JO, 2PL, 6HD, 2KW and 5PU 36 04 23 # c.27.8

The bridges over the Bedford Rivers at Sutton Gault were unable to carry the weight of traffic now using them and were beyond the capacity of the Ouse Catchment Board to repair. They should be replaced by the County Council like the Honeysome Bridge near Chatteris station. But this would cost £8,000 and in times of flood the road between the two bridges would be underwater. To make a good job there would have to be a viaduct and the area did not warrant that expenditure, an Inspector was told. 36 04 22c & d photo 36 04 23a # c.44.75

1936 04 25

Hope for heated indoor swimming pool soon – 36 04 25

The Wayfarers' Rest at 3 Union Lane, Chesterton has been open for a year. It provides an opportunity for those on their way to the Casual Ward to spend an hour or two in homely surroundings during which they are given tea, scones and a cigarette or tobacco. They can write letters, read magazines and join in the small chapel for prayers and a short Bible reading. More than 4,700 men and 120 women have used it so far 36 04 25a # c.32.9

1936 04 27

New bridge replacing old ferry at Horse Grind is now in use – photo – 36 04 27 # c.44.7

"This country will never be saved by young men with permanently waved hair. They may be mother's darlings and favourites of the girls, but they will never be any good to the country because he is a 'she-man' and the country will never be saved by 'she-men'. Women are all very well, but they should know their place and the danger of the present day is that there is too much feminism about. A man has got to be prepared to stick up for his own. The Territorial Army is preferable to spending evenings in cinemas and smoking round corners", the Cambridgeshire Regiment Old Comrades were told. 36 04 27a

The new R.S.P.C.A. clinic for animals at Covent Garden was officially opened. Those who could pay took their animals to the veterinary surgeon but many could not afford the fees and three prominent vets had promised their professional assistance without any charge 36 04 27b # c.19

Some members of King's College went mountaineering last night. A Union Jack and the Abyssinian emblem were fixed to the pinnacles at the east end of the chapel with a large banner slung between them bearing the words 'Save Ethiopia'. The flags were still flying during the morning but the banner was blown down by the wind. A man who was astir early claimed to have seen four undergraduates climbing up at four o'clock. Unfortunately he was unable to see what means of assistance they were using in their climb, otherwise one of Cambridge's age-old mysteries would have been solved 36 04 27c # c.38 : night # c.39

Territorial soldiers with machine guns at anti-aircraft exercises on Coldham's common – 36 04 27d # c.45.6

1936 04 29

Thirty of the smallest circus performers have arrived on the fairground at Cowper Road, Cambridge. Well-known on the Continent, these Lilliputian players range up to 36 inches in height and their 30 ponies are of similar build. They make their own village, consisting of hairdressers' shop, a newsagent, café and billiards saloon as well as their own church. There is added interest in the show as two of the tiny performers are to be married shortly 36 04 29 # c.76.2

1936 04 30

John Whitaker, the well-known Cambridge antique dealer who has died in his 92nd year, was a craftsman of skill and taste, a carver of wood and stone and many buildings were enriched by his work. He had travelled extensively in India, the Cape, America and the Continent and also had a great knowledge of local history. The business of a dealer in antiques never ceased to appeal to him and he could discuss items with shrewdness and judgment. He was Bohemian in appearance, whimsical and entertaining and with an optimism unbounded. 36 04 30 # c.27

Nathaniel Mayer Victor Rothschild child – 36 04 30

The Majestic Entertainment Company of Ely appealed against the assessment on the Majestic Cinema in New Barns Road. It was in a back street and it was difficult to get people round there. The prices had been reduced and they had to remove some of the seats, decreasing the capacity to 342. As a result takings were down. Their rates were reduced 36 04 30a

May 1936 CDN

1936 05 01

A famous scholar and poet, Professor Alfred Edward Housman of Trinity College and author of 'A Shropshire Lad' has died at the Evelyn Nursing Home – 36 05 01

Central School May Queen chosen – 36 05 01a

Cambridge University's world-famous Cavendish Laboratory, the leading centre for modern physical research, has benefited by the magnificent gift of £250,000 from Sir Herbert Austin, the motor magnate. The frontage on to Free School lane will be left as will Clark Maxwell's original lecture theatre and the rooms in which Sir J.J. Thomson discovered the electron and Lord Rutherford disintegrated the atom. The rest will be pulled down and a new five-storey block erected with a laboratory for the utilisation of very high voltages to allow experiments in the transmutation of matter by high speed particles and by radiation. 36 05 01a 36 05 02 # c.36.9

1936 05 02

Houghton Mill was given a spring-clean by a working party of 25 Youth Hostellers. From top to ground level they cleaned the floors and 'dusted' the machinery and claim that about half-a-ton of dirt was carried away and burnt. There were over 170 'bed-nights' by Y.H.A. members including visitors from Birmingham, London, Africa and America 36 05 02a

1936 05 04

The proposed road alongside the River Lark from Isleham to Prickwillow cannot be safely built owing to the leaking through the river bank. Instead a road should be constructed along Black Drove and Black Wing Drove with a hard road along Spooner's Drove to the Fen Bank. There would be extra cost due to the need to put in four more bridges and foundations because of the peat soil. Owners felt the construction of a road away from the river was not of use and had reduced their contributions to the scheme but the top of the river bank would be gravelled to enable them to get to their houses. 36 05 04

"I am not at all sure that if I had been a German I should not have voted freely and enthusiastically for Hitler at the last election", Dr Alex Wood told a May Day demonstration on Parker's Piece. Germany as she was today was the creation of the Allied Governments and their policy of repress and unilateral disarmament, he continued before condemning the Government's re-armament policy. It would lead inevitably to war. Only on the foundations of International Socialism and co-operation can secure peace be built. 36 05 04b # c.33

1936 05 05

Guildhall rebuilding photo – 36 05 05

Undergraduates, tired of their boring existence at the University, found a new way of letting off their spirits. A party 'invaded' the fair on Midsummer Common and obtained permission from the proprietor of the Wall of Death to give a display. Two mounted on motor cycles and the others on bicycles then gave a short show with plenty of impromptu thrills and spills. Fortunately no proctors appeared on the scene. 36 05 05a # c.27.3

1936 05 07

Friendly rivalry between the owners of two 50-years-old steamboats led to a unique race on the Cam. 'Kathleen' owned by Mr & Mrs Leach, performed so well that, although the older craft, she beat 'Sunbeam' owned by Mr Barlow of Jesus College by a quarter of a mile over the course from Pretoria Road bridge to Baitsbite and back. An old fire engine boiler was a big help to Mr Leach in the construction of 'Kathleen's' engine, which drives the boat at about eight knots 36 05 07 – photo # c.26.3

1936 05 08

Sutton sewage – 36 05 08

Huntingdon discuss air raid precautions – 36 05 08a

Ely fishmonger sells cat fish as hake – 36 05 08b

1936 05 09

Did you see this Holliman's furniture van in your district? It was delivering guaranteed furniture that had been bought for cash. Do be wise and furnish for cash. You will then know that the home is your own. Hollimans', the firm that guarantees you satisfaction. The King Street Furniture Galleries, Cambridge - Advert 36 05 09

An inquest on a workman who crashed to his death from the roof of a hangar at Wyton Aerodrome heard that he had been helping to nail the roof on and to do this he stood in the guttering, supporting himself on the boards he was fixing. The contractors said it was not necessary to have scaffolding as erecting it would be more dangerous than the actual work. The men had been told that if they had any qualms about walking along the guttering, they could crawl. None of them did this: they all stood upright as if used to climbing. If a man complained he was given a different task. The firm had offered the relatives financial assistance in conveying the body to Darlington for burial 36 05 09a

Marjorie Moss who is well-known to local dancers as a crooner with Percy Cowell's band has won a round of a £600 light singing competition organised by the Gaumont-British Corporation & the News Chronicle at Peterborough. She will go to the final at Ipswich and if successful to London for the All-England final. Success there will mean that she will broadcast. Miss Moss, who is a member of the Enthusiasts' Concert Party, chose as her song 'Some of these days' and was accompanied by Percy Cowell himself. 36 05 09b # c.69

1936 05 11

Dr William Mortlock Palmer has examined a vast number of old Corporation papers and documents. They have been cleaned, labelled and made up into parcels, listed with cross-references and arranged in cupboards. The result is that order has been effected out of chaos. They contain valuable material for social history with original petitions, complaints of nuisances and opposition to proposed improvements. The most bulky is the petition against making the concrete paths across Parker's Piece. Some have been handed over to the County Council and University Library. Now the Corporation may publish a list of them. 36 05 11a # c.43

1936 05 12

Proposal erect cinema on land adjoining Cattle Market recommended – 35 05 12

The Seed Testing Station, Huntingdon Road was established as during the Great War farmers had not been getting the best seeds and new regulations had to be worked out. The main work is carried out by a staff of 30 girls. There are sections dealing with cereals, grasses and clover – where a bad weed called dodder has to be separated - together with a vegetable germination room where an ingenious device automatically plants 200 seeds in a pan. Onion and parsnip seeds are tested periodically – they will keep for two years then go off altogether. 36 05 12 # c.18

Marks & Spencer tender £26,000 for 10-11 Sidney Street as a general stores – 36 05 12a # c.27.2
Stretham inquest 2-year-old Alfred Godfrey Parish of Old White Horse, kicked in stable – 36 05 12b

1936 05 13

Haddenham and Wilburton Nursing Association started in 1915, Nurse Lowe was appointed district nurse in 1917 and still held the position. Last year she made 3,851 nursing and casual visits with 31 maternity cases and 505 health and school inspection visits. She had treated six patients sent home from hospital, one of whom she attended daily for seven months. Nurse Lowe had not missed a day's work through illness or any other cause. Her salary and special fees came to £160 7s 5d with a £29 10s. allowance for a car and new tyres. The village Hospital Parade Committees might be approached for a donation. 36 05 13

1936 05 14

Feltwell aerodrome deaths – two painters fall from top of hangar – 36 05 14

A proposal to sell land adjoining Cambridge Cattle Market for the erection of a cinema was defeated. The Market was increasing every week and nobody could foresee what the land would be wanted for in 75 years time. There was not the slightest need for another cinema and it would spoil the area. People who had bought their homes adjacent to the site were very upset, fearing that their homes would be devalued. But others thought it was a jolly good idea: it was a long journey into town and it would be a blessing to be able to visit a show near home. 36 05 14a # c.76.9

1936 05 15

Huntingdon councillors discussed demolition orders on various properties. Slade Cottage in St Peter's Hill needed repair and had no water supply. But the owner said this was not necessary as the occupiers got their water from a near-by spring. Two shops in St Germain Street would become unsafe if the adjacent house was demolished while new drains had been put in and water laid on to Rectory Cottages. But no.3 Newton's Court and 4 Hartford Corner should be demolished within in six months. 36 05 15

There were a large number of single people in Cambridge living under very unsatisfactory housing conditions and few of the public lodging houses were suitable for them. The council could cooperate with the Church Army or Salvation Army but this meant robbing people of their freedom as individuals. It was about time they erected a municipal lodging house where people could live under decent, humanitarian conditions, Dr Wolf urged 36 05 15a & b # c.23

Cambridgeshire Regiment, Major Digby takes command, is University correspondent of CDN specialising in sport and drama – 36 05 15c & d # c.34.4 # c.04

Rose and Crown, Newmarket Road – Greene King advert – 36 05 15e # c.27.4

1936 05 16

Feltwell aerodrome, p5

1936 05 18

Albert Hugh Lloyd, antiquarian – death – 36 05 18

1936 05 20

A travelling squad of service technicians from the Morris factory is visiting Cambridge and will make its headquarters at the premises of the local distributors, King & Harper on Bridge Street. Morris owners may have their cars inspected free of charge by the factory experts who will issue a detailed report and give advice on its care and maintenance. Representatives of the Dunlop, Lucas and S.U. factories will also be in attendance so that on-the-spot service will be available for accessory matters where required. There will also be a display of the latest Morris models with vehicles of every type
36 05 20a

Stretham feast parade – 36 05 20

1936 05 21

At the opening of the new Rock Road library the Mayor said that in these difficult times it was important that there should be in every district a building which would help to circulate the best ideas and information for the guidance of residents. In the days to come the building will become more and more the intellectual home of the people who live around it. All would agree it was the right policy to encourage children to use it. He regretted the absence of a representative of the Carnegie Trust, which had helped with the money for the library 36 05 21a # c.77.4

1936 05 22

Histon station fatal accident – 36 05 22a

1936 05 23

A March grocer told the court the amazing story of a gipsy woman's threat. The accused was a pedlar who lived in a caravan and had nine children. She started telling his fortune, said he had an enemy and that she could prevent curses being put upon him providing he gave her money. This affected his mind and he parted with £50. Eventually a policeman hid behind the glass case in the shop and heard the woman threaten to put a curse on him if he did not fill her basket with groceries. 36 05 23 & a

Mr W.A. Fenton, the Borough Librarian, has seen a tremendous growth in the reading public since he took office. The new Rock Road Library has had an excellent start-off this week. When I looked in last night I found a continuous flow of adults and juveniles. The children's reading room was practically full and some boys to whom I spoke assured me that everything was quite all right. Work on a new branch library at the corner of Milton Road and Ascham Road will begin almost immediately. The site appears to be an ideal one and new building should be complete before 1937 is very far advanced 36 05 23c # c.77.4

Mr Lee told an inquest that when Kempton's fruiterers premises in Ely Market Place were being demolished he'd fetched away about 150 tubs and boxes and put them in his yard. He saw something amongst them that looked like fireworks which he laid aside and soaked with water. There were also some crackers and small fireworks, but he did not dream that they were dangerous. However children found them and lit one causing a loud explosion. Mr Kempton said he had been in business 30 years and never knew about the fireworks which his father had used for fetes and school treats. 36 05 23b

1936 05 25

Hunstanton for health feature – 36 05 25

The new electric clock in the tower of Cherry Hinton Church was given by Mrs Newport-Willson in memory of her husband. She also bore the expense of leading an electric cable into the church. The three feet dial is Coventry blue with gilded figures and hands. The hours are struck on the beautiful toned fourth bell and are heard all over the village. Churchyard trees have been lopped to give an unimpeded view. Over 50 years ago Mr Carter Willson built Brooklyn on Cherryhinton Road which was then the only house between Cherry Hinton brook and the railway bridge and the family is devoted to the parish church 36 05 25a

The Gog Magog Hills are in immediate danger. The rapid progressive uglification of Cambridge means that already the view is spoiled by 'the thoughtless spawning' of houses higgledy-piggledy. The Preservation Society has no money and it is no use leaving the matter to that body. Colleges and private owners should be compensated for the difference between what they would get by selling land for building and agricultural use. The 'Cambridge Daily News' should start a fund and undergraduates organise a flag day, Professor Rattray urges in an article in 'The Times' 36 05 25b # c.49.4

1936 05 26

Sir – May I appeal to persons not to throw into the river metal containers, such as petrol cans, which float about. The cans do not much matter to sail or power boats but might upset a skiff or even a pair. To cast dead dogs and cats into the Cam is a filthy and barbarous practice. I cannot think all the dead animals – five counted yesterday – died by 'misadventure'. Surely unwanted or sick pets would be better disposed of by use of the places where these things are attended to – Navigator 36 05 26 # c.46.5

Town Bumping Races changes to course: to be three finishing posts - 36 05 26a # c.38 : rowing

1936 05 30

Fitzroy Street shop owner blames losses on Corporation slum clearance and multiple shops 36 05 30 # c.49.66

War Memorial site history – Parker's Piece had been suggested – 36 05 30a

June 1936 CDN

1936 06 02

Cambridge Training College for Women celebrated its Jubilee. It had started in two cottages at Newnham when Miss Hughes, the principal, was the sole staff and lectured on every subject. Early staff, if they did receive their salaries, paid them back into the college in some way until the new buildings were started. When it moved into Queen Anne Terrace 1,000 guests gathered in a marquee for the ceremony. So great was the crush that those who were to sit on the platform could only get to it through a hole cut in the marquee. 36 06 02 & a # c.36.72

Whit Monday parade, p1

1936 06 03

Gt Yarmouth, p6

1936 06 04

Nine dwellings in Victoria Street, Littleport should be demolished an Inquiry was told. They were structurally unsound & had a permanent dampness in the walls and floors which were below ground level. Access to the bedrooms was by ladder, the plaster on the ceilings broken and the walls were bulging badly. But owners said they were wind and water tight, each had lavatory accommodation & there had been no case of illness attributable to sanitary defects in the last 40 years. The tenants were employed on lands in Burnt Fen and had no complaints to make. 36 06 04a

"I never let people pose" said Mrs Lettice Ramsey at an exhibition of modern photography. Her Solarised photographs are striking and new, giving the effect of charcoal drawing, while the unusual angle in the beautiful picture of Mrs Victor Rothschild is becoming as well as arresting. But the child studies are the most interesting: none of the usual sentimental darlings, but vigorous, animated children, almost walking out of their frames. Feminine sitters appreciate a women photographer's experience in matters of clothes and hair dressing while men – often vainer than women – can be flattered into good humour. Here is something new and original in photographic technique 36 06 04b # c.65.5

Jack Hobbs unveiled a tablet in the Hobbs Pavilion setting forth his wonderful achievements in first-class cricket. The proceedings had been delayed as Hobbs would not stop making records. Jack said that although wobbly at the knees, he still played. "I can visualise the youngsters coming and looking at the board and saying 'He must have been a real good player'. When I look at that board I begin to think I must have been". (Laughter and applause) 36 06 04c # c.38 : cricket

1936 06 05

Wilburton is the centre of an extensive fruit-growing industry but has a shortage of working-class houses for those employed in agriculture. As owners of existing cottages maintain their property in a good state of repair there are no slum clearance areas and so no public grants are available towards the building of further much-needed houses, the Parish Council say 36 06 05

1936 06 06

An inquest on the body of Thomas Lawrence, miller of Haddenham, heard he had been thrown from his cart in Grunty Fen during a thunderstorm and had broken his neck - 36 06 06

Two-seater car smashed into telegraph pole on corner near the Black and White café, Stretham – 36 06 06

Mrs Arthur Walters book 'My Wayside' describes life in Cambridge where Arthur Walters was minister Hills Road Methodist church - 36 06 06b # c.83

Friends of the Cambridge Town Silver Band will be glad to know that they are to give another broadcast on Saturday afternoon. This will be on the 'National' wave length but all B.B.C. stations are taking the programme. Last time the band opened with an original item by the conductor (Mr R.E. Austin) called 'Cambridge Bells' which featured the melody of the Roman Catholic Church chimes. This time they will start with his new military march 'Cantabrigia'. The band will be having a busy day for that evening they will be playing for the promenade concert on Christ's Pieces 36 06 06b # c.69 # c.27.8

1936 06 08

The Tithe Bill now before Parliament would alter tithe from being a charge on the land to a charge on the person. This meant a man could be distained on his household goods and everything else to pay tithe dues. The burden of tithe should rest on the broad shoulders of the large landowners, but it had now been put on those who had not the shoulders and could not bear it, Cambridgeshire farmers were told. If they owe money fairly and squarely, they are prepared to pay. But they are not going to pay unjust taxes, a meeting resolved 36 06 08 & a # c.22 # c.33

1936 06 09

Rutherford opens exhibition of historic scientific apparatus 36 06 09

1936 06 11

"Sluice" (George Edward) Parker was a street vendor of various things, at one time flowers, at another matches. It was a matter of common knowledge that he was always a little "tipply" on his legs and was ever so deaf. He had been crossing St Andrew's Street when a number of cyclists came round the corner which seemed to daze him. He'd stepped back right into the path of a Homerton student. Police said he smelled strongly of drink but was not drunk. It would only have taken the merest touch to upset his equilibrium. He'd been taken to Hospital in the Police Ambulance where he died of pneumonia. 36 06 11

1936 06 12

St Ives council discussed the possible development of the Ingle Holt, a small island in the main river which had been a gift to the town. With a river frontage and a greensward it could be a beauty spot equal to any in England. The Ouse Catchment Board dredger could deposit soil to raise the level. A suspension bridge from the Waits, a lawn and trees would not be excessive cost, but anything like a recreation ground with a bandstand and beautiful flower beds should be regarded with very great suspicion. 36 06 12

1936 06 13

The foundation stone for home for 40 nurses suffering from tuberculosis was laid at Papworth Hospital. Once restored to health they are employed in their profession, working only half a day so they have ample time for rest. They are paid a salary which together with free board and lodging, makes them self-supporting. If there is the slightest recrudescence of the disease they are at once treated as patients. Nurses from all over the country were contributing generously to endow a few beds for their colleagues who are permanently invalided 36 06 13

1936 06 15

Cambridge Town Silver Prize Band broadcast then return to play at Christ's Pieces – 36 06 15

1936 06 16

Somerlite oil, p1

1936 06 17

Village applications to SCDC – 36 06 17

Histon fire, p1

1936 06 18

A famous scholar and poet, Prof Alfred Edward Housman of Trinity College, died in the Evelyn Nursing Home. As a poet he appealed to a wide public. 36 06 18

Histon fire, p1

Plane mishap, p8

1936 06 19 CS

Friday Post – heading. 36 06 19CS

1936 06 20

Damaged houses, a blocked road and wrecked telephone wires marked the route of the great storm through Cambridge and district. The first ominous rumblings were heard comparatively early but not until the crowds began to pour out of the cinemas after the last performance did the rain stream down and great flashes of forked lightning rend the sky. Cambridge seemed to be almost surrounded by thunderstorms, for sheets of light flashed on the horizon at every point of the compass 36 06 20 # c.12

A bearded man with one eye and a peg leg has been frequently seen in the streets of Newmarket recently. On Thursday he was found lying on the footpath and pedestrians were walking in the road to pass him. He smelt strongly of drink so policemen borrowed a handcart and wheeled him to the police station. The man was a travelling blacksmith who visited Newmarket regularly and was a general nuisance. They could do without his company at any time. He was sentenced to 14 days' hard labour and told not to come back any more. 36 06 20

1936 06 22

The landlord of The Oak in Lensfield Road was awakened by a terrible crash which shook the whole property. He found a Winston Smith van imbedded in the woodwork. It had been crossing the junction with Regent Street and Hills Road at about 4 a.m. when another van ran into it swinging it right round and smashing it backwards into the wooden wall of the pub. At this time of the morning the traffic lights are off and it is against the law to sound a horn or hooter. 36 06 22

1936 06 23

The Cambridge Preservation Society reported that the Three Tuns in Castle Street was in so bad a state of repair that it was unable to put forward a scheme for its preservation and so it will be demolished. Dwelling houses in Cambridge Place will be cleared but a site in New Street was unsuitable for building and should be turned into an open space. The Central Library Reading and Reference Rooms will be closed four days for cleaning with the Corn Exchange used as a temporary alternative, councillors agreed. 36 06 23

Midsummer Fair showmen were in a state of indignation after police banned games and competitions for which prizes are offered, practically paralysing the fair. "They stopped everything, including darts and hoop-la, but these are games of skill or where the element of gambling is of a trivia nature" showmen complained. The games were for amusement, not to encourage gambling and the Home Secretary had said no objections would be raised to people playing for prizes or money not exceeding one shilling in value 36 06 23a # c.27.31

1936 06 24

Somerlite injunction – 36 06 24

1936 06 25

Councillor Wilding asked if the new sewage plant would prevent "the effluvia we all notice so strongly along Milton Road" and if not, whether consideration would be given to the moving the works further from the road. Lately the smell had been terribly bad, although people in the neighbourhood got used to it. The Mayor said he was frequently at the farm and never smelt anything which could be described as "terribly bad". Mr Edwards remarked, amid laughter, that he thought the Mayor should receive nasal attention 36 06 25 & a # c.29.8

1936 06 26

Green King, p4

1936 06 27

Model cruisers, p6

1936 06 29

Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs gathered a thousand strong at Ely to take part in a huge county rally. Six hundred camped over the weekend in the delightful surroundings of the Cathedral Park. The numerous tents dotted here and there among the trees provided a pleasant spectacle. Saturday brought 120 wolf cubs from Cambridge who chose the novel method of travelling by river, starting from Victoria Bridge. Amongst troops present were Prickwillow, Pampisford, Wilburton and the Whittlesford Sea Scouts 36 06 29a

1936 06 30

Newmarket bowls, p5

July 1936 CDN

1936 07 01

A large number of Methodists gathered to celebrate the anniversary of the Swaffham Fen Methodist Church. This is one of the outposts of Methodism, being situated about four miles beyond Waterbeach and three from Swaffham Prior. It is only reached with difficulty after travelling down lonely fen roads and crossing the river in an antiquated chain boat. It has been well served over a long period by the stalwart local preachers of the Cottenham circuit. Afterwards a picnic tea was held in the grass roadway near the chapel 36 07 01

1936 07 02

Improvements have been made at Cambridge station yard to provide better parking accommodation and cope with the heavy vehicular traffic. Three car parks have been allotted with an in-way and out-way for 'through' traffic. The Eastern Counties Omnibus Company's services are located at the south side of the passenger station and will 'set down' and 'pick up' at the same place. The taxi-cab accommodation has also been divided into three parks with an in-way and out-way between them. It is hoped that with the co-operation of the owners of road motor-vehicles this will facilitate safe movement into and out of the station premises 36 07 02 # c.26.2 (photo)

1936 07 03

Friday Post and Mid-Week Post creditors meeting – 36 07 03 # c.04

1936 07 04

Cambridge street lighting is being brought up to standard. Hills Road and St Andrew's Street are already ablaze. So is Sidney Street. Twenty-three miles of streets will be illuminated by autumn. Side lights properly equipped with seven watt bulbs are all that are now required by motorists. Pedestrians and cyclists are now visible from afar after dark. The lamps are lit automatically by clock devices and soon the familiar figure of the lamp-lighter will disappear from the streets forever 36 07 04 # c.24.8

"Cambridge is now almost entirely covered with new street lamps, which will hardly be of any use until the dark evenings. Suggestions have been made as what to do with them during the long wait – as hanging baskets, clothes lines and even wireless aerials. But it is more than likely that owing to the summer holidays our streets will become so congested that we shall have to turn them into - police traps!" (Ronald Searle cartoon showing policemen with telescopes mounted in crows' nests high on lamp posts) 36 07 04a # c.24.8

1936 07 06

Stetchworth villagers celebrated the coming-of-age of Viscount Brackley, son of the Earl and Countess of Ellesmere. Proceedings opened with a luncheon for 200 tenants and employees of the Stetchworth Estate followed by sports and a buffet tea. They presented the Viscount with an inscribed cartridge magazine and a trout and salmon fishing rod and reel. A photograph was taken of members of the family together with employees with at least 26 years service. These included J. Lancaster (59 years' service), W. Jolly (54), J. Briggs, H. Cook & R. Turner (51) together with R. Jaggard (44) and 26 others 36 07 06

1936 07 07

When Justin Brooke took Clopton Hall, Wickhambrook in 1928 his idea was just to grow fruit on modern lines. To those who had farmed there for generations the idea seemed preposterous and they predicted his speedy ruin. But today in place of the semi-derelict land there are 300 acres of fruit together with 410 acres of permanent grass and 30 of nursery. There is also a large rose growing business. He employs 153 workers and even old men are invaluable: they only have to take a look at a field and can drain it better than any machine 36 07 07 & a

1936 07 08

Babraham vicar & ice-cream salesman – 36 07 08

Mildenhall aerodrome, scene of the first Royal Review of the British Air Force, was further honoured when King Edward visited the station during the first flying tour of R.A.F. stations ever undertaken by a reigning Monarch. After the scarlet and blue Dragon Rapide came to a halt the King inspected three bomber squadrons, two of Handley Page Heyfords and the third Hawker Hinds, and toured the Airmen's Barrack Block. As the visit was entirely unofficial only a mere handful of people knew. 36 07 08

Vicar and ice cream man – 36 07 08a & b

1936 07 09

Much regret will be felt at the death of John Morris Bull, the dairyman. Born in Landbeach, he assisted his father who was village smith before buying a dairy business from Mr Thompson of Russell Street, Cambridge in 1891. During the War he was one of the organisers of the Dairyman's Association that ensured a regular supply of milk. A life-long Liberal, he had a good record of public service on the Board of Guardians and County Council. He leaves a widow and three sons 36 07 09a # c.27

Royal visit to Mildenhall – photo – 36 07 09

County High School for Girls site agreed in Long Road 36 07 09a # c.36.5

March was likely to be a bull's eye for air attack as it was an important railway marshalling centre, residents were warned. Windows smeared with treacle and covered with paper would prevent glass from flying and one room should be made gas proof by blocking up the chimney and other cracks. No air raid would last as long as twelve hours and they would be able to get fresh air as soon as the 'All Clear' had sounded. Following an attack using mustard, tear and liquid gas decontamination would be carried out by the St John Ambulance Brigade. But people must wear a mask as some gases hang around for long periods. 36 07 09b

1936 07 10

Considerable damage was caused by a cloudburst at Arrington where gardens were washed away and crops looked as if they had been flattened by a steam-roller. Several fields were under water and one farmer bemoaned that there were a lot of rabbits high and dry on a hillock, but he could not get to them with a gun. At Toft houses in Brook End and School Lane were flooded with residents 'living upstairs' and empty chicken coops seen floating about outside them. During the thunderstorm the village school was struck and a chimney pot knocked askew 36 07 10

There has been a great demand in Newmarket for convenient facilities for swimming. Now a new pool called 'The Newmarket Dip' will be opened adjoining the White Lion Hotel. It is 75ft by 45ft with depths ranging from nine feet to two-foot-six and the water will be maintained at about 70 degrees. An H.M.V. public address system will relay soothing music to swimmers and sunbathers. At night the whole of the pool and terraces will be floodlit and there is a system of underwater lighting 36 07 10 & a

1936 07 13

Stretham Flower Show and Sports – 36 07 13 & a

1936 07 14

Vicar of Babraham, formerly Fen Drayton, unfrocked – 36 07 14

1936 07 15

James Street was the scene of one of the most serious blazes Cambridge has experienced in years. It started when a Ford van caught fire at the premises of William Scott, house decorators, builders, motor and coach painters. It spread to their motor-body room where a number of cars were in for renovation. The place was soon a veritable inferno as drums of paint and oil exploded. Flames engulfed ladders and handcarts belonging to the Cambridge Window Cleaning Company then Messrs Pate's builders workshops which were reduced to ashes or scrap. The damage must run to many thousands of pounds 36 07 15 & a # c.26.48 # c.34.75

1936 07 18

Samuel Fletcher, a Longstanton diary farmer told the court he had an old motor van that he used as a fowl house. He noticed that the radiator had disappeared; he considered it was worth ten shillings. A cowman's wife said that a Cottenham scrap dealer had offered a shilling for it. But he only gave her three pence together with another three pence for some old rags. Had she got the full amount she would have offered it to Mr Fletcher but as it was so little she did not bother about it. She did not think it wrong as the van was no good. The scrap dealer later sold the radiator for one-and-sixpence.

36 07 18

1936 07 20

Looking back on his 45-year career at the CDN Robert Cleaver remembered when there had been no linotypes but every line had been set by hand – laboriously and painfully slow. The paper was printed only one side at a time, and not folded at all – and the speed about 1,000 an hour! Change had come gradually but the real push and progress had been since Mr Taylor had taken charge. He had transformed the news sheets from their rather dull appearance to a production of which they might justly feel proud. 36 07 20 & a # c.04

1936 07 22

No air raid precautions were being taken in London and it was left to Huntingdon to decide whether they should take any or not. As they had two aerodromes so near it is quite possible that they might be attacked and have 'planes over the town. The Government expects local authorities to provide a gas-proof shelter and appoint air-raid wardens in each street but does not say who should pay for them. It was agreed to form an air raid precautions committee 36 07 22 & a

1936 07 23

The deeds of Bassingbourn Recreation Ground were handed over to the Parish Council as a perpetual playing field for the village. The generous gift was made by Samuel Willmott of Muswell Hill who was born in the village when there was no tennis courts, the cricket wickets were two sticks with a coat thrown over them and at Christmas they played hockey using a large brewers' bung for a ball. He also erected handsome entrance gates at the South End road entrance carrying the words "Willmott's Playing Field" in large letters 36 07 23a

1936 07 24

A large number of civilian aeroplanes were to be seen at Marshall's Aerodrome during a visit to England by foreign amateur pilots. Some 70 were expected but the bad weather upset the arrival of some from abroad. They made a very pretty sight with planes from Belgium, Germany, Holland, Rumania and Switzerland. It is hoped that others from Egypt, Morocco, Portugal and the United States would arrive later. Their occupants took luncheon at Trinity College and made a tour of the colleges before leaving for a reception 36 07 24

A former undergraduate told the court he had hired a plane from Marshall's Flying School and flown to Caxton where he landed and then taxied towards the Gibbet. There was a haystack between him and the hotel and he hit a pole which had been erected with a wind-sock, but there was no wind-sock. The propeller and two wings were damaged. But he disputed the cost of repairs and said the job could have been done in three days and two wings were not necessary: he'd had a similar accident at Lympe when the machine had been repaired next day for £35. 36 07 24c # c.26.1

The Papworth Settlement needed more capital expenditure on workshops, hostels and cottages so men stricken with disease could earn their own living. How large it is going to become no-one could say but judging from the amount of post received every morning from people anxious to come then it would probably encircle both Huntingdon and Cambridge! The new surgical hospital, a magnificent contribution to the fight against tuberculosis, was opened by the Earl of Athlone. It was the 15th visit of the Royal House of Windsor to Papworth 36 07 24a & b

1936 07 27

Landbeach hall opening, p3 & 5

1936 07 28

Cambridge Place houses unfit for human habitation and should be demolished – 36 07 28

A tapestry showing a panoramic view of Windsor Castle that was produced as a personal Silver Jubilee gift for the late King George V and Queen Mary is now on view in London. It represents the very finest modern English weaving and was designed and woven by the Cambridge Tapestry Company in their workshops at Thompson's Lane. The weavers were Ellen Nichols, Sylvia Corby, Ethel Lander, Dorothy Pettit, Elsie Blunt and Alice Haylett working under the direction of Hilda Lister. 36 07 28a # c.27

1936 07 29

New Guildhall takes shape – steel skeleton – photo – 36 07 29

Sutton farm trading as C. Sole and sons in bankruptcy – 36 07 29a

The Fellowship of Reconciliation, a peace movement born in Cambridge during the dark days of 1914 was founded by people united in the conviction that the way of war could not be the way of Christ for righting wrongs and had now spread to many countries. Some 250 people from Germany, France, Italy, Bulgaria and Belgium together with the USA, Japan and the Argentine are attending a conference at Selwyn College on 'Christ: the Peace of the World'. 36 07 29b # c.45.6

1936 07 30

The younger generation are not following in their fathers' footsteps and drinking beer, instead they are spending money on cinemas and motor cycles, the landlord of the Rose and Crown at Little Thetford claimed when appealing against his rate assessment. Mr H. Nunn of Sutton said he employed several men in his ice-cream business but the machinery was only used six months a year while Mr G. Cobbin a miller of Downham Road Ely said he had lost trade as the beet industry had hit him heavily; he was grinding very little and the mill had not been in use for two years. 36 07 30 also J.H. Acred said his cottage at Green End Stretham was very old and had not the conveniences of modern houses. He had had a portion added to the building

The Isle of Ely County Council heard that the proposed approach road to the new bridge over the River Nene at Benwick had brought objections from the owner of Cosmo House who said it would be untenable as a residence. An alternative route would entail the removal of the Parish Hall owned by Benwick Parish Council which stood on a piece of land they hired from the objector. He would be prepared to accept compensation of £250 and the Council £150 to remove the Hall to another site when required to do so. This was agreed 36 07 30f

Specimen lamp standards had been put up so that everybody had equal chance of commenting and not one criticism had been received. So standards had been ordered and work was proceeding well. But then criticism poured in from the Preservation Society and Colleges who said the standards were not in keeping with the buildings around them. But while they had antique buildings in King's Parade, they also had modern traffic passing along the road at the modern fast rate. Where were the protests going to stop? 36 07 30b & c # c.24.8

Cattle Market needed modern facilities and expansion – 36 07 30d # c.27.3

Harston flooding, Prickwillow and Sutton Gault bridges, musk rats, Quy Rye Ditch – 36 07 30e

1936 07 31

The High Back Bridge at Jesus Lock was 40 years old and not designed for prams. Recently two little children were trying to push one across when it overturned and the baby was thrown out. However they were getting less bulky and when one of the heavier prams came along people were not backward in giving a helping hand. A long sloping ramp would be very detrimental to the quaint old lock and increase the danger from cyclists. The Surveyor was instructed to provide two cycle ramps on the steps on Jesus Green side of the bridge 36 07 31 # c.44.7

August 1936 CDN

1936 08 01

Various conferences have been the principal means of bringing visitors to Cambridge and when one meeting disbanded over the weekend at least two others were in process of starting. One was the International Conference of the Fellowship of Reconciliation when representatives from nineteen countries met at the Guildhall. The University Summer School on 'Tudor England' includes papers on Cambridge and Cambridgeshire 36 08 01 #

The L.N.E.R. has made provision for a heat wave by giving orders that new trolleys which serve light refreshments to the passing travellers from station platforms should be equipped with refrigerating apparatus to ensure minerals and other soft drinks are kept cool. They also serve tea, coffee, cakes, cigarettes and the dainty modern successor to the railway sandwich of grandfather's day. Two of the new barrows will be placed at Cambridge and Ely stations 36 08 01a # c.26.2

1936 08 04

Conservative fete at Gogs – 36 08 04

1936 08 06

March Urban District Council is to resort to firmer measures to deal with horse-play by adults to the recently-purchased swings on the recreation ground in Robin Goodfellow's Lane. The steelwork had been bent due to rough usage. It was one of their most successful schemes for keeping children off the streets but they needed someone living near the ground to keep an eye on things. Houses had been damaged in Eastwood Avenue where putty was removed from recently gazed windows and glass broken. Some tenants were not worthy of the houses and were an annoyance to the others. The Council was doing all it could to make the tenants happy and appealed to them to put an end to what appeared to be sabotage. 36 08 06a & b

Mildenhall St Margaret's Chapel altar stone re-dedicated – 36 08 06

1936 08 07

It is an easy matter to pull down slum dwellings – many are falling down of their own accord. But it is not an easy matter to re-house the low-paid occupants and give them good living facilities at prices they can afford. The Slum Clearance Campaign runs the grave risk of putting them into better dwellings in which they will be poorer owing to higher rents and other charges. As a result the new dwellings will rapidly develop into slums. The answer is to build new towns around factories in the countryside, like at Corby where a community has grown up around new iron works – A.T. Edwards 36 08 07

1936 08 08

Greene, King and Sons of Bury St Edmunds presented the parish of Mildenhall with their old fire tender that was converted from a lorry by the workmen at the brewery. No longer will the parish council have to hire a motor to haul their steam engine to fires. They will now do all in their power to maintain an efficient brigade as far as funds would allow, for in the event of war air raids would mean the destruction of life and property. Despite torrential rain hundreds turned out on the Market Place to show their appreciation. 36 08 08

Prof A.E. Housman, creator of 'A Shropshire Lad' directs in his will that all his prose and fragments of verse should be destroyed. The eminent classical scholar left all the wine in his cellars to the Family Dining Club of Cambridge University. This small and select body has a membership of a dozen and meets regularly in the houses or college rooms of its members. While the 'Family' dates back to the 18th century, its donnish dining club, the 'Society' was founded in 1857 36 08 08b

1936 08 10

John Herbert Stevens dies - disputed the repair of chancel Hauxton Church – 36 08 10

1936 08 12

Towing Rowing Club crew, p3

1936 08 13

Mrs D.A. Poynter arrived home in Saffron Walden after anxious and terrible days in Spain. "There was street fighting between the Socialists and the Fascist rebels, the dead were taken through Madrid in dirt carts. Rifle and machine gun fire was going on practically all the time and if I went near the hotel window I had to crawl in case a stray bullet hit me", she reported. An English girl-friend saw her husband, brother-in-law and father-in-law shot before her eyes. Nuns were made to walk through the streets completely nude in front of jeering and laughing crowds while British subjects wore red, white and blue armbands to make their identity clear 36 08 13

1936 08 14

The question of the supply of electricity to Saxon Street was discussed by councillors. The Electricity Company required a contribution from Banstead Manor Stud and the District Council together with a guaranteed sum. Although Lord Aston was prepared to use electricity at Warren Stud, if available, he did not feel inclined to make any contribution to the general cost of extending the cable, having regard to the small amount likely to be used at his stud premises. 36 08 14

A retired schoolmaster, F.J. Fuller, has built a large motor-boat in his back garden in Ascham Road with 'tips' from Mr H.C. Banham. He laid the keel in October and it was launched on August Bank Holiday. It has an engine from an Austin Seven car and features oak and spruce steamed to the required curves with mahogany lining. The craft has been named 'Butterfly', reviving that of a steam launch that his father had 50 years ago. 36 08 14a # c.26.3

1936 08 15

Old buildings at the back of shops opposite the 'Blue Boar' in Trinity Street caught fire. This is one of the densest areas with much valuable property including several college buildings. Trinity College fire-fighting appliance tackled the blaze from the back and the brigade's water tower fire engine was soon at work. Onlookers had a laugh when a frightened mouse was seen running along the pavement among the hoses. But the storehouse at the rear of Roper's shop was burnt out. 36 08 15 # c.34.75

The Christian Science Monitor observes: 'In Cambridge, Saturday afternoon shoppers parked their bicycles along the street and left all sorts of packages unmolested in open baskets on the handlebars. Other cycles were left in racks beside the college buildings. If one missed his machine, we were told, he had only to wait till the morrow; someone had taken it by mistake and would return it to its place'. Evidently our American friend has not heard of our undergraduates and their 'taking little ways'. Their 'mistakes' are more frequent than some of us like and both pumps and lights also have a habit of disappearing 36 08 15a # c.26.485

1936 08 17

Sir Henry Lytton, the famous Savoyard, made many appearances in Cambridge in Gilbert and Sullivan operas, the last in 1934 – 36 08 17

1936 08 18

A lorry driver and his passengers jumped for their lives in the nick of time at Main Drove level crossing near Black Bank station. The lorry, belonging to Mr E.A. Cole of The Two Pounds, Little Downham, was being used for carting hay and was on the rails when the driver noticed a train coming. He attempted to reverse, then jumped clear. The train struck the bonnet, smashing it. The radiator was torn off along with the off-side wheel and lamps. Such was the force of the impact that parts of the railway engine were broken off with one heavy metal plate found 60 yards away. 36 08 18

1936 08 19

Fascism in Spain – letter from Madrid - 36 08 19

1936 08 20

Over and Swavesey Skating Association was presented with a 50-guinea solid silver trophy to be known as The Chicago Cup for the English Grand Prix. It will be competed for by amateur skaters from all England over a course of one-and-a-half miles with three turns. The donor, Mr C.A. King, is a native of Over who has spent many years in America. He has taken a great interest in skating throughout his life and has previously given two other Chicago Cups for local competitions. 36 08 20

Lord Fairhaven's Bottisham and Lode garden competition extended to Swaffham Bulbeck – 36 08 20a

1936 08 21

Burwell Ratepayers Association formed – 36 08 21

The newly-formed Friends of Ely Cathedral will help maintain the fabric of the beautiful church and carry out necessary improvements and adornments. They will help make the Cathedral more a source of inspiration and a house of devotion 36 08 21a

1936 08 22

A lady motorist noticed smoke rising from the thatched roof of a double cottage standing a short distance back from the roadway in The Street, Great Bradley. The alarm was given and as the flames were soon making headway it was deemed advisable to set about removing the furniture. Haverhill brigade attended and as a supply of water was available from a nearby pond they were able to prevent the spread of fire to nearby premises. But the two cottages, mainly lath and plaster built, were extensively damaged. A quantity of clothing in an upstairs cupboard was destroyed 36 08 22b

Cambridge – and indeed the whole of East Anglia – has lost one of its best-known and popular auctioneers by the death of Mr A.L. Rutter. He had carried on business as auctioneer, estate agent and surveyor in Cambridge ever since he left St Catharine's College in 1898. He held office in several professional institutions and was at one time a warden at St Botolph's church where his funeral will be held. 36 08 22c

Mr & Mrs Ben Mills of Sleaford Street received a telegram of congratulations from the King on their diamond wedding. Born at Hardwick, he lost his right arm in an accident at the age of nine. Refusing to allow that disability to mar his life, he came to St Paul's School, Cambridge and soon qualified as a teacher. He worked for W.G. Chater, the woollen merchants before joining the Co-operative movement in 1876, starting at the old shop in Fitzroy Street. In 1901 he opened the new shop in Burleigh Street with a silver key and has seen the premises grow. He became Provincial Grand Master of the Oddfellows. His wife has been a familiar figure at the functions, quietly lending a hand 'behind the scenes' and catering for juvenile outings. 36 08 22a

Cambridge has sent its sons and daughters to places all over the world. Miss Freda Mary Sennitt, 27-year-old daughter of F.O. Sennitt of Milton Road, received training in nursing and midwifery and has now been appointed to the charge of one of the hospitals in Nigeria under the Methodist Missionary Society. She will be the only white woman at the hospital where her first spell of duty, owing to the climate and conditions, will be for only 18 months. 36 08 22d

William Allen, retired railwayman, joined Wesley Methodist Church, Hills Road in 1867 when it worshipped in a temporary building at the rear of the present church. He compiled a book telling how he started at Wesley Church but found them unfriendly 36 08 22e # c.83

1936 08 24

A freshwater eel, well over two feet long appeared in St Andrew's Street about tea-time on Saturday. The eel, which appeared to have been dead for some time, first made its appearance through the grating which carries the stream by the side of St Andrew's Street. A passer-by saw it floating and lifted the grating, allowing the eel to fall into the gutter. It attracted great interest until removed by a Corporation scavenger. The water flows up into the gutter from the underground Hobson's Brook and the eel must have been carried along by the stream 36 08 24

Queen Mary paid a surprise visit to Ely and spent an hour in the Cathedral. A man and his wife in the Cathedral noticed Her Majesty without being immediately aware of her identity. He remarked, however, on her 'likeness to the Queen' and the next moment was astonished to receive a gracious 'Good morning' from Her Majesty. Although she had mingled unnoticed with other visitors the news soon spread and there was a large crowd outside the West Door when her maroon Daimler left for Newmarket Jockey Club 36 08 24a (photo 36 08 25) # c.02

1936 08 27

Mystery surrounds the disappearance of a brilliant young organist, Johnnie Francis. Originally he was a musician in a theatre orchestra but when this was replaced by an organ he was given the opportunity to learn that. He fell out of work and made his way to Cottenham when Miss Maud Gautrey found him work picking strawberries. He was given an audition at the Rendezvous Cinema in Cambridge, borrowing clothes to replace his own worn outfit. He obtained the post at once and played there for a week before drawing his salary and walking out. He has not been heard of since. 36 08 27 # c.76.9

1936 08 28

Cambridge meeting on Spain & Fascists – 36 08 28 # c.33

1936 08 29

Rail times for the journey from Cambridge to Oxford have increased since 1886 when the quickest journey took three hours. But although a noisy minority quick through journeys there were insufficient of them to make such a service pay. The railway company had experimented by running an express petrol rail car but it was a complete failure from a commercial point of view: the patronage was so small they had to give up within a few weeks. Additional stations had been opened on the line since the war, necessitating more stops. 36 08 29 # c.26.2

Did you know that coconut shies had their origin at the Cambridge Fair? A Showman's Guild official says: "These old fairground games are a traditional part of England. They have been in existence for centuries. At the old Cambridge fair they used to shy at live cockerels; then an Act was passed forbidding it because of the cruelty. So the showmen substituted lead dummies and these were the origin of the coconut shies" 36 08 29a # c.27.31

'Sunnyfields' Estate at Histon features the latest type of labour saving houses built by F.L. Unwin and furnished by H.W. Peak of King Street Cambridge. 36 08 29b

September 1936 CDN

1936 09 01

Cine-variety is back and all who enjoy this dual form of entertainment should hurry to the Theatre Cinema (New Theatre). The bill includes the Krakajax instrumental sextette, Danny Lipton and his Dancing Debutantes – a tap-dance act, the Lorch Family who juggle with their feet and compere Benny Leven, a humorous entertainer, raconteur and singer. On the screen the principal feature is a new kind of thriller 'Thirteen Hours by Air' with Fred MacMurry and Joan Bennett. Paramount News is also shown 36 09 01

1936 09 02

A car was burnt, wireless set destroyed and a large number of customers' accumulators lost in a fire which broke out at the lock-up showroom, garage and workshop occupied by Mr L. Howard, electrician and motor engineer of Hill Street, Saffron Walden. There was a 500-gallon tank of petrol, but this was not involved. The building, part of which was over 300 years old, was composed largely of timber and was completely gutted but the front of the shop, including the window, survived. Firemen wore rubber gloves as a protection against electrocution as the water from their hoses struck the live wires of overhead cables. The fire was watched by a large crowd, some of whom had come from their beds in dressing gowns and pyjamas. 36 09 02

1936 09 03

Regal Cinema building photo – 36 09 03

When John Brown took charge of Freeman, Hardy & Willis shop on Market Hill in 1897 boots were cheap, and needed to be: "I can remember country women coming in with a dozen children and saying their husbands only earned twelve shillings a week". When he started brown boots were so scarce that people stopped and gazed at someone who sported a pair in Peterborough. Most had hob nails in the sole – even those for infants - and women wore elastic-sided boots – it didn't matter what they wore, because you never saw their feet. The shop was enlarged into premises next door in 1905 36 09 03a # c.27.2

1936 09 04

Fenners cricket ground was opened in 1846 but there have been only three groundsmen, Tom Parmenter who remained to 1862, Walter Watts and Dan Hayward who took over in 1908. He has also been custodian of the University Football and Hockey Grounds. His father used to look over the Rugger and Soccer pitches on Parker's Piece where they played until the Grange Road ground opened in 1896 and the two clubs amalgamated. Dan's own sport is cricket and he once took all ten wickets for 32 runs, though he considers his nine wickets for eight runs against Bury to be his best performance. Now he is retiring 36 09 04a # c.38 : cricket

Dispute over dyke in Grunty Fen at Whitecross Road, Wilburton – 36 09 04b

First ladies' fishing match at Prickwillow – photo 36 09 04c

1936 09 10

National Conference of Friendly Societies held at Cambridge Guildhall – 36 09 10 & 12 # c.37.2

1936 09 11

Papworth Hospital nurse murdered – 36 09 11

1936 09 12

Friendly Society, p6

1936 09 14

Haddenham vicar Kirkland leaves – 36 09 14

1936 09 15

Motor Boat Club officials – photo – 36 09 15

1936 09 17

Saffron Walden council discuss water and sewage problems – 36 09 17

Alfred Carpenter has just retired after 32 years as County Court bailiff. He served in the army in Africa and India before taking up his post. When the Great War started he was put in charge of the horses at the Cattle Market that had been commandeered and later was labour supervisor over German prisoners. In the early days his clients were a far tougher proposition than today: "It's a gentleman's job now to what it was". "I never knew when he was coming home with a black eye or broken nose", his wife said. Recently at an East Coast resort he ran into a Cambridge debtor who dashed off at full speed, under the impression he was about to be arrested. "He didn't know I was on holiday", laughed Alfred. 36 09 17a

1936 09 19

A customer died with tragic suddenness in a Cambridgeshire inn. As he had not long arrived in the district, his identity remains unconfirmed. He was in the Three Horse Shoes public house at Stapleford and was about to sing a song to the company when, just before closing time, he collapsed and died. His is believed to have been a native of Chorley, Lancs, and had been working with a party of pea-pickers at Bury Farm, Stapleford. 36 09 19

Alderman W.L. Briggs has been nominated as Cambridge's first Labour Party Mayor. 36 09 19a

St Ives RDC has lodged a strong objection against the installation of overhead electricity cables in the village of Holywell. They would be a tremendous eyesore in one of the prettiest villages which had several thatched cottages that, though modernised, contribute to its antiquity. But people at Hemingford Grey did not want water laid on by the council and could not be forced to have it. However residents of Hemingford Abbots did want a supply 36 09 19b

1936 09 21

Mr H.R. Dimock of Ely, an enthusiastic air pilot, had a lucky escape from serious injury when his machine crashed at Cardiff Airport. He had been demonstrating a Super Drone machine in which the pilot sits at the front, the propeller being above and behind his head. Mr Dimock's hat flew off and caught in the propeller, which snapped. Luckily he was flying fairly low and was able to bring the machine down with only a minor crash. His injuries were very slight 36 09 21 # c.26.1

A pair of cottages at Mepal was completely destroyed by fire. Standing on their own close to the main road, on the Ely side of the village, the cottages, which were thatched, had been empty for about two months. The fire was first noticed at midnight and although the Sutton Brigade, under Chief Officer P. Painter, made a prompt turn-out and were in action until 8 a.m., the flames defeated their efforts and destroyed the buildings 36 09 21a

1936 09 22

An RAF pilot had a remarkable escape when his Bulldog machine – a single engine fighter – landed on the railway line near Six Mile Bottom. He was engaged in taking weather observations in thick fog when he got into difficulties and descended in a field, crashing through a fence and on to the railway track. The force of the impact cocked the tail up into the air and it became entangled on the overhead wires running beside the railway line. This probably saved the pilot's life. An oncoming train was stopped and passengers wheeled the plane into a field. 36 09 22b pic 36 09 22 # c.26.1

Stretham tenant John Sykes given notice to quit 11 Council Houses, Ely Road. Is his 8th notice to quit in two years – 36 09 22a

1936 09 23

The new Folk Museum which is to be opened in Cambridge shortly will not be filled with glass cases containing stuffed birds. The rooms will be authentically furnished – one visitor to the bar-parlour even asked for a pint of bitter. It was unfortunate that the front of the old White Horse Inn had been modernised 25 years ago, but interesting old beams were revealed after the interior walls had been stripped of many layers of paper. A modern fireplace had been removed and electricity installed. They now need everyday objects, craftsmen's tools, toys and an old smock, Mr Saville Peck told Rotarians. 36 09 23 # c.03

Nearly 600 people attended a film show at The Dorothy arranged by King and Harper in connection with Morris cars. The chief film was 'Sahara' showing how a car broke the record from London to Nigeria and illustrated what a standard Morris 25 saloon can do, while the 'Morris Gazette' included boats on the broads and some of the employees social pursuits. The programme included one of Walt Disney's immortal cartoons. It was 'The Service Station' and the audience found plenty to laugh about. – 36 09 23a # c.65.6

1936 09 24

A case under the Official Secrets Act was heard in camera at the Cambridge Police Court when a mechanical and electrical engineer employed by the Air Ministry was charged with having passing information to a person unauthorised to receive it and assisting a man to gain admission to Cranfield Aerodrome, a prohibited place. They were very serious charges but there does not appear to have been any harm as far as the State was concerned. He was bound over 36 09 24

A general dealer of Sutton told the bankruptcy court how he had worked for various market gardeners and then bought some pigs and gone in for breeding. But he lost four sows. He hired ground and began to grow garden produce, then rented a lock-up and carried on a fruiterer's and general business. He moved to Pound Lane but that was more out of the way and he got into arrears. He attributed his failure to bad trade, bad debts and insufficient profit as there was great competition with about ten or eleven general stores in the village 36 09 24a

1936 09 25

The opening and blessing of the new Roman Catholic Schools and Hall at Union Road, Cambridge, presented a picturesque spectacle of stately ceremonial. In the morning Archbishop Goodier preached following a Pontifical High Mass in the Church of Our Lady when the glory of mauve and splendour of gold vestments stood out vividly among the black cassocks and white surplices. The new buildings were opened and blessed in the afternoon whilst the Roswitha Players from London gave the first stage show at the new Houghton Hall in the evening. 36 09 24b 36 09 25a # c.83 # c.36.5

A Horseheath man employed as an ice cream salesman told the court he was in charge of a motor cycle box combination which was stationary in Bardfield End Green. He was serving a girl when a motor cycle combination travelling at 30mph ran into him. The sidecar tilted into the air and the machine travelled some time before stopping. The other rider said there had not been room for him to pass unless he went on to the grass. He was fined but his licence was not endorsed. 36 09 25

1936 09 28

Mr W. Varney Webb was appointed Chief Constable in 1916 and had the task of filling the places of the old men who had carried on during the war so that younger men might be released for military duty. He showed the most paternal care for them in their homes, duties and sports. He brought the County Police to a high state of efficiency and the county enjoys a gratifying reputation for absence of serious crime. He was also a Freemason, Chairman of the Boy Scouts and President of the Cricket Association. 36 09 28a

1936 09 29

Long Road bridge, p5

1936 09 30

Chesterton RDC discussed the Harston water scheme where there had been a breakdown following a collapse of clay into the bore. It was now cleared up. But Coun. Ilsley complained of the quality of the water: it came through discoloured, a grey colour. It was impossible to see through it and had a scum on the top. However the question of charges were 'much more cloudy' than the water. It had been intended to charge people within 200 feet of the standpipes but there had to be a satisfactory supply before this could be done. 36 09 30 & a

A British Legion Club will be formed in Ely. Primarily it would be for the benefit of ex-Service men only, although there was no harm in letting a few others in. They have been offered some premises but these were not up to the standard they wanted. The British Legion tried to help their unfortunate colleagues who were unemployed. There were 600 ex-Servicemen in the district but only 300 had enrolled. They had not joined for what they could get out of it, but for what they could put in: they had the right stuff in them 36 09 30

October 1936 CDN

1936 10 01

The Vice Chancellor spoke of the overcrowding of the Medical Schools and suggested that despite extensive additions to departmental buildings the University would have to consider placing a limit on the number of undergraduates for medicine or any other subject. Unless something is done the situation may become one of even greater embarrassment than already exists. But the donation by Sir Herbert Austin of £250,000 for new buildings and equipment at the Cavendish Laboratory was the largest ever made by a single person to the University 36 10 01b # c.36.9

A pilot summonsed for flying at a low altitude over the Cam at Fen Ditton told the court he was carrying a photographer for the Sport and General Press Agency. Herbert Cook was taking pictures of the Bumping Races from a side window using an ordinary camera with a long focus lens. They had to fly across the river and would not have got good photographs if they'd come down to the tree tops. There were a number of other planes from Marshall's flying about. Spectators complained he was too low and had caused one of the waitresses at The Plough to spill the things on a tray in the tea garden. The case was dismissed. 36 10 01 & a # c.26.1 # c.65.5 # c.38 : rowing

1936 10 02

Fred Bennett, grocer at Ely, dies 36 10 02

G.H. Lavender, fancy draper, King's Parade – photo - 36 10 02a

1936 10 03

Whittlesey lorry driver trapped in burning cab – 36 10 03

A garage attendant in Ermine Street Huntingdon told an inquest that a Morris Minor two-seater tourer had pulled up beside the petrol pump. The driver asked for two gallons of petrol and he commenced to pump it after opening the bonnet of the car to get to the tank. The filler was on the side nearest the pavement. As he lifted the petrol pipe to drain it the engine burst into flames igniting the fuel which blazed along the pavement. The driver jumped out and fell into the burning petrol, her clothes catching fire. Before filling he had noticed that the engine of the car was still running and had not been told this should not be done 35 10 03

1936 10 05

Six people were injured following a collision near Milton Road level crossing. A passenger train struck a light engine which was stationary on the reception goods line and its driver and fireman had a fortunate escape from being buried under tons of coal from the tender. The crossing-keeper said the passenger train was on the wrong line. Its front was badly smashed and a coupling broke but it did not leave the track. The passengers received a severe jolting. 36 10 05 # c.26.1

1936 10 07

Folk Museum receive toll board from cottage at Clayhithe – 36 10 07 # c.03

1936 10 08

Newmarket UDC agreed to purchase Stratford House, Old Station Road for its offices and meeting rooms. There was space to construct a council chamber and the price of £900 was reasonable. They could bring all their staff under one roof instead of being divided between Godolphin House and

Hadley House and have offices worthy of the council. But they rejected proposals to purchase allotment land on which to build a central school 36 10 08

Cambridge Borough accounts – analysis – 36 10 08a & b

1936 10 09

Sir – I wish to make a protest about the condition of Barton Road in Cambridge. A few months ago this was tarred and chipped, but why were the holes not filled in where the mains were laid to new homes? Now new light standards have been erected and tremendous holes again left. The other day I broke an axle at 28 mph on one of these holes. The motorist doesn't mind. He's used to paying for things not done and to accidents for which he is not to blame – E.K. Howell. 36 10 09

King & Harper new garage Hills Road – 36 10 09a

South Cambs RDC's water scheme was inaugurated with the opening of the new pumping station between Linton and Hildersham. Previously water had to be carted to two parishes and it is hoped that every household within reasonable distance of the mains would take a supply. Councillors then visited the water tower on Rivey Hill where most climbed to the top and inspected the 87,000 gallon tank. 36 10 09 b & c

1936 10 10

The extension to the Beck Row pumping station sees the completion of the Ely rural district water scheme. There was no good water in the area at all so they'd had to go to Suffolk to find it. The first stage had been completed after the war using money from the unemployment grants. Now they had put in a new set of mains, making a complete circuit, and had duplicated the machinery to pump twice the quantity for 24 hours a day. It had been immensely expensive but 95 per cent of the population had the opportunity of a supply 36 10 10

What a different appearance Cambridge presents from that of a week ago. The shops look busy, their windows newly filled with gowns, blazers and scarves. Theatres and cinemas are filling up; there are traffic jams in the streets and almost everywhere one meets undergraduates making their first acquaintance with Cambridge. They are attired in the 'regulation' dress of flannel trousers and sports jackets. An overcoat is a rarity but most men keep their hands in their trousers pockets. In spite of all the troubles they cause, we are very glad to see 'the young gentlemen' back again. 36 10 10a

March councillors debated bridges. A footbridge should be erected over the river at Marylebone Lane: it would help in getting more houses built in the vacant spaces within the town. But the majority of the inhabitants, many of whom were railway employees, preferred to live on the north side of the river. Coun Ogden thought a light bridge could be erected in Wigstones Road and advocated the building of a highway bridge to which a by-pass could be made. An alternative would be a bridge from Creek Road (through Lambs Yard) to Elwyn Road. 36 10 10b

1936 10 12

George John Gray entered the firm of Bowes and Bowes in 1876 and completed nearly 60 years' service. Encouraged by Robert Bowes he carried out bibliographical work and researches, publishing several works on early Cambridge printing and bookselling. He also indexed the William Cole manuscripts in the British Museum. Mr Gray was a member of the Library Committee, secretary of the Higher Grade Cricket Club and YMCA and organiser of the Penny 'Pops' held in the Guildhall. He also played an active part in Chesterton Institute, Cricket Club and Men's Bible Club, amongst others. 36 10 12a # c.25

Over £120 was collected for the Spanish Medical Aid Committee at a meeting in the Guildhall. If they went to Spain today they would find village after village barricaded. Many people were being killed because they have nothing but their bare bodies to put against the latest legal death which modern science has given to the rebels, the Fascist International, to destroy decency in life in Spain today, Mr J. Langdon-Davies claimed. 36 10 12 # c.45.6

1936 10 13

Precautions to be taken in preparation for air raids were outlined to a meeting of architects, officials, school managers and owners of shops at Cambridge Guildhall. They hoped the dangers would never come to pass but must provide for contingencies. The three main weapons would be the incendiary, gas and high-explosive bombs. The first was the greatest danger. It would burn for seven minutes and could not be put out by water or any known chemical. Food exposed to gas vapour should be thrown away. Respirators would be issued to everyone except tiny children 36 10 13 # c.45.6

Crematorium proposed design – 36 10 13a # c.21.2

Ely shopping week & trades exhibition opening – 36 10 13d

The Housing Committee was told that over 170 people would be displaced by the demolition of buildings in Cambridge Place; the houses would have to be vacated within two months from the date of the clearance order. Plans would be drawn up to build 47 houses to re-home residents on land off Newmarket Road which the Council would purchase from G.P. Hawkins and W. Boyton for nearly £10,000. 36 10 13b # c.23

The Central Library Lending Department is housed in the oldest and most unhygienic part of the building in Wheeler Street. The room is badly provided with natural lighting and artificial light has to be used. When 'open access' was installed in 1921 the annual circulation was 141,968 books and now it is over 309,000. It should move into the present domed Reading Room. Most of the bookcases have been in use since 1862 and would be unsightly; they should be replaced by steel shelving. 36 10 13c # c.77.4

1936 10 14

Willingham recently 'went on the gas' and the Cambridge University and Town Gas Light Company are holding cookery demonstrations in the British Legion Hall. There are already a number of gas cookers in the district and there would soon be a showroom in the village. The parish council had tried for seven years to get street lighting but the Electricity Company had let them down. So they approached the Gas Company who acceded to their request in a business-like manner. They hoped women would do their best to install gas wherever possible and show their appreciation of the Company. 36 10 14

The Ely Trades Exhibition staged in the Canning Factory in Bray's Lane has 102 stands covering every branch of local business activity. In addition to the usual trade stalls there are features of unusual interest such as a talkie cinema, up-to-date television apparatus, a café and the only working model in the world of a roller flour mill. The slogan should be 'Shop in Ely; don't pass – buy! The more local people shopped in the city the better the shops would be. 36 10 14a – photo – 36 10 13d

1936 10 15

More than 737 new street lamps had been installed and from Milton Road to Northampton Street there was excellent lighting. But the council had deliberately left a big black patch along the Backs. Discussions had taken place with the Cambridge Preservation Society and Heads of Colleges; Queen's Road was unique, they had to reconcile its beauty and character with the efficient lighting which would protect life 36 10 15 # c.24.8

Mrs William Edwards demonstrates mediumship and clairvoyance – 36 10 15a

Some 1,200 children attending Huntingdon schools come from homes where the parents were too poor to provide an extra pair of shoes for wear in schools and for physical training. About 2,000 children were already supplied. The council could purchase these at two shillings a pair, a total of £120, and would need to provide storage on school premises. It was agreed to carry this into effect.

36 10 15b

Exning improvements – 36 10 15c

1936 10 16

Councillors had considered the erection of a municipal crematorium before 1900 and earmarked a piece of land at the cemetery on Newmarket Road. Now a private company had come forward and it was time to act. It would cost £12,000, including land, a chapel, furnace and accessories together with a garden of rest. Running costs were extraordinarily low. Quite half the senior members of the University who died were cremated and it would soon pay for itself. 36 10 16 # c.21.2

1936 10 17

Removing dangerous bottle neck – photo – 36 10 17

County Nursing Association annual meeting – details – 36 10 17a

Two old Churchwardens pipes over the string course of the parapet of Messrs Almond's shop at 11 Sidney Street, now being demolished, are a reminder that it was once used by Joshua Lee for the making of clay pipes. Mr A.T. Potter recalls that there had once been a large kiln in the centre of the shop in which the pipes were baked. There is also a very fine old lead head to the down pipe which has cross clay pipes embossed on it. 36 10 17b # c.27.2

Lending library bookcases too close together and too dark, were designed in days of 'closed access' system when books obtained by assistants – 36 10 17c & d

1936 10 19

Friends of Ely Cathedral newly formed – 36 10 19 & a

Joshua Taylor – 'Our advertisers' photo – 36 10 19b (photo 100.78)

1936 10 20

W.J. Pryor, born Whittlesford, prominent walker – 36 10 20

King's College had employed a firm to supply a pump to serve half-a-dozen jets of water at their fountain. They had intended to use the water over and over again but found that with the heavy wind the water was blown over the gravel and did not go back into the fountain. So they had connected the mains to make up the loss. This contravened Water Company byelaws and there was a danger of contaminating the supply 36 10 20a # c.61 # c.24.2

Sir – I use the Public Library very frequently. The Reading Room is extremely popular and is at all hours of the day well patronised. But the Lending Department might be bettered. The conditions are most undignified and unworthy of Cambridge. The great bulk of borrowers are centred around the 'Fiction recently returned' shelves making use of light from the Wheeler Street windows. However it is a pleasure to watch the extreme precision and incredible speed of the assistants receiving or dating books. 36 10 20b # c.77.4

1936 10 21

A.J. Winship told Rotarians he had visited Germany. The Germans had no more idea of attacking this country than the man in the moon. The attitude to Hitler seemed uniform all over the country. They worshipped him. He was the first real ruler who was absolutely unselfish and sought nothing for himself. He had taken power but was not a dictator. He held a position almost the same as the King did here. But Rotarian Franklin disagreed: Hitler was a dictator who had assumed power by force and murder and the treatment being given to the Jews was diabolical. 36 10 21 # c.45.6

Society for Blind sale of work – 36 10 21a

Ely Isolation Hospital arbitration hearing fixed – 36 10 21a

1936 10 22

Asplin, p2

1936 10 23

Charles Laurence Pemberton Robinson of Hinxton Hall dies – 36 10 23

1936 10 24

Laurie & McConnal 'Advertisers;' feature - 36 10 24

Millers record your own voice advert – 36 10 24a

New telephone calls boxes being installed – cartoon – 36 10 24b # c.27.75

1936 10 29

Cambridge Place, p5

1936 10 30

Eaden Lilley – our advertisers feature – 36 10 30b

1936 November CDN

1936 11 02

Undergraduates demonstrated support for 130 hunger marchers from Durham on their way to London to protest against the Means Test and new scales of benefit. At Girton College girl students served them tea and buns before 250 undergraduates joined the procession carrying torches and banners. There were meetings in the Co-operative and Labour Halls before the protestors had an evening meal in the students' rooms. At Cheshunt College some of the marchers ate in hall. Having slept in the Corn Exchange they continued to Saffron Walden where the Labour Party entertained them with lively tunes from a loudspeaker van. The march is due to arrive in London next weekend. 36 11 02 & a # c.32.1 # c.36.92

1936 11 03

An RAF pilot and observer had remarkable escapes from death when their plane came down and overturned in a field near the Gogs. The pilot thought the place looked safe enough to land on from the air but when the plane touched earth the rain-sodden ground caused it to smash its nose into the ground and turn over. The pilot's helmet was covered with dirt as a result of being dragged along the ground but he escaped with a bruised lip. The observer was entirely unscathed. Jack Utteridge, who has a petrol station nearby, was an eye-witness. 36 11 03a & 03 # c.26.1

A meeting at the Arts School organised by the Child Emigration Society heard about the Fairbridge Farm School scheme which takes orphans and young children from the poorer districts of this country for training in schools in Australia. A similar school had been established in British Columbia and quite recently three boys from the Harvey Goodwin Home have gone to there 36 11 03b

1936 11 04

Charles Frederick Skipper, architect, death – 36 11 04

Work will start shortly on a big railway improvement scheme between Soham and Snailwell junction. Six miles of the L.N.E.R., which is at present single track, is to be doubled. A large amount of labour will be required to complete the work which is part of a general speeding-up scheme. The line forms part of the route used by Continental express trains between York and Liverpool and Harwich. It will mean a reduction in journey time of from two to four minutes 36 11 04a

The Cambridge and County Folk Museum at the old 'White Horse Inn' was opened in the presence of a large company. It would become a clearing house of information on local matters in a town where there is more information about Papua than Pampisford. The Corporation had handed over its old measures, the steelyard used at Stourbridge Fair and the High Constable's stave while the Public Library had loaned portraits and caricatures to give a human touch to the museum. Miss Catherine Parsons has accepted the position of honorary curator with Reginald Lambeth as custodian. 36 11 04b & c # c.03

1936 11 05

The Air Ministry propose to construct a RAF station at Bassingbourn and approached South Cambs RDC about the possibility of obtaining a supply of 15,000 gallons of water a day. This could be obtained from Croydon Hill at a cost of 10d per 1,000 gallons. The scheme would take 20 months to implement and would also serve nearby parishes. But did any of the parishes want piped water? It would mean a rate of over four shillings for Litlington, Shingay and Wendy and there had been too much money spent on water already, all of which was money wasted. 36 11 05c & d

The Isle of Ely County Council approved the erection of a new bridge to carry the Peterborough-Wisbech road over the river Nene at Guyhirn. This was part of a vast scheme which will link up with the Leicester-Great Yarmouth road. At Prickwillow the Ouse Catchment Board had agreed that the new bridge need be only an inch higher than the existing one, instead of 1ft 3ins as originally contemplated. Plans were also submitted for the reconstruction of the bridge on Puntney Hill drove, part of one of the alternative routes for the proposed Isleham-Prickwillow road. 36 11 05b

1936 11 06

Guy Fawkes night disorder, truncheon charges, riotous scenes – court case – 36 11 06 # c.36.94

A. Mackintosh, ironmongers – advertisers feature – 36 11 06a # c.27.2

1936 11 07

Messrs W.T. Thrussell and Sons, the well-known Cambridge firm of shoemakers, held a dinner in honour of Mr F.H. Lucchesi's 70th birthday. 'Fred' has been with the firm for 56 years and recalled many amusing incidents connected with the 'good old days' of shoemaking. Mr E.W. Brett, an employee of 38 years' service also spoke of the early days of the firm. The speeches were interspersed with musical entertainment 36 11 07 # c.27

Cambridge Town Council will make history when it elects a Labour Mayor for the first time. Having retired from the railway service, Ald W.L. Briggs will be able to devote the whole of his time to the duties. But his fellow citizens will not expect him to entertain on the same lavish scale that some Mayors have been able to do. Some people think the mayoral grant is sufficient to meet all demands made upon the holder, but this is not so and it is often necessary to dig pretty deeply into one's own pocket. Ald Briggs deserves further congratulations for he has just passed his motor driving test 36 11 07a cartoon 36 11 07b 36 11 09b # c.35.7

Horace Cole and origins of Dreadnought hoax – 36 11 07c # c.39

Model liners built by F.W. Thiem floated in tank in garden at corner Chesterton Hall Crescent – 36 11 07d # c.26.2

1936 11 09

Gas demonstration platform at Premier Hall, Union Lane – photo – 36 11 09 # c.24.4

Dullingham fire in thatched roof of King's Head pub – 36 11 09a

1936 11 12

Barclays Bank staff count poppy day money – photo – 36 11 12

1936 11 13

Ely Cathedral broadcast – 36 11 13a

1936 11 14

Trumpington petition for faculty to have plain marble kerb to enclose grave – 36 11 14 # c.21.2

Woman council bailiff appointed – 36 11 14a # c.35.7

Trumpington 'The Volunteer' inn sign exhibited in London – 36 11 14b

1936 11 16

Firemen who were attending a Mayoral service at Great St Mary's church were rushed by police car to attend a blaze in Upper Gwydir Street. Mrs Unwin was trapped in her front bedroom but Mr J.H. Turner, a window cleaner placed two of his ladders against the window and, with his son, got her to safety. Neighbours helped to get the downstairs furniture out into the street 36 11 16a

1936 11 17

Croydon fire, p5

1936 11 18

Ely Urban and Rural District Councils had a joint Isolation Hospital which was originally given as a private gift by Mr Cutlack and his wife. However the County Council had decided to include Chatteris UDC as it was too small to provide a hospital of its own. But Chatteris councillors did not want it and objected to having to pay towards its support. They preferred to treat patients in their own home. Anyway it was not a proper hospital: it had no consultant staff and was no different to an ordinary nursing home. 36 11 18 & a

1936 11 20

Gustave David, known as 'David' to generations of undergraduates has died hours after returning by the midnight train having attended a London auction. He came to Cambridge forty years ago, opening his now-famous stall on Market Hill. Later he opened a shop in Green Street before moving to St Edward's Passage. He was the first man in Cambridge to sell rare and old books at low prices. So appreciative were Universitymen of his services that in 1925 a number of distinguished members entertained him to lunch at Trinity in recognition of the 'conspicuous services he has rendered the cause of humane letters'. 36 11 20 a & b # c.25

Grocers' Association dinner. Mayor on need for light industries and guides for visitors – 36 11 20

W. Heffer & sons history – Advertisers – 36 11 20c # c.25

1936 11 24

An elderly man lost his life in a blaze which completely destroyed three thatched cottages at Orwell in the early hours of the morning. Neighbour Harry Freestone got his own family out and then threw buckets of water on the flames. But the thatch caught fire and he had to leave. Royston and Cambridge brigades arrived just in time to save the Post Office although the Royston pump broke down. The cottages were burnt to the ground, only the chimney stacks being left standing. Deceased always slept downstairs in front of the fire and tied himself to the bed so that he should not roll over into it. 36 11 24a

1936 11 25

Haddenham has lost one of its oldest residents by the death of Henry Thomas Camps of Linden House. He came from an old farming family and had a record of considerable public service as councillor and trustee to Arkenstalls School and the Baptist Chapel. He was correspondent to the

Cambridge Independent Press and as Fellow of the Zoological Society was a judge at the Crystal Palace. 36 11 25

An airman challenged the validity of his marriage to a Cambridge woman. He claimed that her former husband, a Cambridge taxi driver, had gone to Canada after getting into financial difficulties. But had still been alive when the two married at Kensington Register Office, though the woman told him she was a widow. As a result the airman had refused to live with her until she produced evidence of the first husband's death. The woman however petitioned for the restitution of her conjugational rights. She lost her case 36 11 25a # WOMEN

1936 11 27

The Territorial Army recruiting campaign at the Drill Hall attracted a large number of people including employers of labour, members of the University O.T.C. and boys from the Perse and County schools. The progress of aircraft means that the channel is now a mere ditch over which planes can fly in a few minutes and a defence force must be efficient. This should be voluntary and employers must make some sacrifices and encourage their men to join the Territorial Army, giving them leave and pay when on service. 36 11 27 # c.45.6

1936 11 28

Billy Cotton, who is bringing his popular band to the Theatre Cinema, St Andrew's Street, has a style of his own. He stands coolly in the centre of the stage and with little more than a flick of the wrist gets just what he wants from the musicians. The band is a variety show in itself, best-liked on the stage because the wireless and gramophone cannot do them full justice. The comedians are especially good, there are two Japanese entertainers, a conjuror, dancers and a pair of trick cyclists. But Cotton is also a keen racing motorist and has just bought Sir Malcolm Campbell's original 'Bluebird' which he intends racing at Southport. 36 11 28a & 36 12 01 # c.76

1936 11 28

The Brazen George Inn was in St Andrew's Street, opposite Christ's Lane. The inn yard (Alexandra Street) ran crookedly, its back gate opening in Petty Cury and it crossed the King's Ditch on the way. The name Brazen George is first met with in 1445. The inn came into the possession of Christ's College about 1517 and was soon afterwards occupied by the scholars and the gates were shut and opened night and morning as the college gates were. In later times it became an ordinary inn. The 'Black Ditch' meeting house of the Methodist (1810) was in this yard on the bank of the King's Ditch. On the left of the archway was once situated the Cambridge General Post Office the clock of which remains – 36 11 28 # c.27.4

The Truevoice Recording Studio in Jesus Lane is now open every day for the producing of gramophone records. Your opportunity to hear yourself on a perfect 10 inch double sided wax record for a fee of 10/6. Children's voices faithfully reproduced. Specially equipped studio for music and orchestral recordings. These records make ideal Christmas Gifts to your friends. Why not make one and send it to them. They will be delighted – Advert. 36 11 28b # c.69

December 1936 CDN

1936 12 02

A new church banner at St Andrew the Great features a boat, taken from a medieval brass, resting on a sea of silvery waves in which fishes may be seen. It is an interesting example of needlework, linen and silk having been skilfully applied to a handsome hand-woven blue background and richness obtained with stitchery and couching in silks and metal threads. It was designed by Mrs Allworthy under the direction of the Cambridge Embroiderers 36 12 02 # c.67

1936 12 03

A family feud between van dwellers at Turf Fen, Chatteris, had a sequel in court. They had a grievance over some potatoes which resulted in a 'rare tussle' during which one man was hit on the head with a spade causing him to run to his van, load his guns and fire into the air to frighten his attackers. But some of the shot penetrated their van just missing three children. Police found 30 pellet holes in the side. The assault case was dismissed and he was fined £2 for firing the gun and £1 towards repairs. 36 12 03 # GYPSY

Air raid precautions were discussed by South Cambs RDC. The roads and bridges about to be built in the county should have bomb-proof surfaces. Substantial material was to be used and it would not be at all impossible to make them bombproof. Most of the roads were to be constructed above the present ground level and could have shelters under them 36 12 03a # c.45.6

Clara Harris, the grand old lady of showland, celebrated her 100th birthday in her caravan at Haslingfield. She was the daughter of a showman, Larry Shaw, who was the first steam roundabout proprietor. In 1869 she married Moe Harris of Gamlingay and assisted him at fairgrounds around England. Clara worked until she was 93; the last fair was at Royston where she sat behind her stall selling sweets she'd made herself. Two of her five daughters carry on the tradition. 36 12 03b # c.27.31

1936 12 04

Isle of Ely Highways Committee discussed various road improvements. There may be a bypass at Chatteris from Carters Bridge to link up with Warboys Road but this was a huge scheme. A bottleneck on the Lynn Road north of Ely was caused by a cottage standing close to the road: this could be demolished with a new home built further back. In Stretham the Cambridge Road between the new council houses should be widened with an island at the junction of Wilburton Road. They were faced with this monstrous expenditure because of the foolish position in which the houses had been built. 36 12 04 & a

1936 12 05

Bacon's tobacconist history – 'Advertisers' series – 36 12 05 # c.27.2

J.J. Thompson 'Recollections and reflections' reminiscences – 36 12 05a & b

W.A Fenton, Borough Librarian has done much to raise the standard of library books in Cambridge. He is a worthy servant to the public whose willingness to help all and sundry who frequent the Reading Room is well-known. – 36 12 05c & d # c.77.4

1936 12 07

Since 1921 there have been 2,800 allotment holders in Cambridge. One man had entered the national onion competition and came first in all England. There were 187 applicants for allotments from among the unemployed during the past season. Where men had to do work on the soil to produce food it meant keeping in really good health. That 'daily dozen' weeding or hoeing or digging the ground was of the greatest importance. But the allotments should be permanent: it was hard for a man who has to leave his land after about 18 months. 36 12 07 & a & b # c.18

1936 12 08

The draft Cambridge town planning scheme would see the construction of bridges and closure of the level crossings at Histon and Shelford with footbridges for pedestrians. The line of the Ring Road from Huntingdon Road to Shelford was agreed and the difficult question of the aerodrome settled. 36 12 08 # c.49.4

1936 12 09

Whitemoor railway marshalling yards near March is the most up-to-date in England and the first to be equipped with mechanical rail brakes. The 'up' yard was opened in March 1929 and dealt with traffic from the collieries. The main feature was the 'hump' where wagons were sorted. It was very much like the Long Road bridge, only much bigger. It had good floodlighting but it wasn't a very pleasant place at night. The working is very intensive. It attracted visitors from around the world, especially the Japanese who spent days there, Rotarians heard. 36 12 09a

The Cambridge Milk Bar opened on Market Hill where all the shakes and soups can be purchased at the standard price of four pence. You have only to visit it once to become an addict. The first milk bar opened in Fleet Street two years ago and they have spread rapidly attracting business men, workmen and shoppers. In cold weather what could be more sustaining than a bowl of soup made with milk while in summer a cold milk shake flavoured with fresh fruit syrups, made 'crisp' with cream and whipped is a creamy delight 36 12 09b # c.27.47

1936 12 10

King abdicates – headline 36 12 10

There was an enormous demand for copies of the CDN containing official news of the King's Abdication. The first edition was on sale within minutes of the Speaker's historic announcement in the House of Commons. It contained a three-column sketch of the new King and Queen and an appreciation of 'Edward – the Man' together with pictures recalling his visits to Cambridgeshire. The Night Final contained many other interesting details about the crisis. Hours after this London papers were still being sold in the streets that contained only a brief announcement in the Stop Press columns 36 12 10 & b-e # c.02

The depressing fog hung over Cambridge like a gloomy portent of the sad news to come as people awaited the King's decision. Thursday afternoon (early closing day) brought shut shops and deserted streets to add to the atmosphere of depression. The usual football matches were in progress but the only topic of conversation was the Abdication crisis. The first to hear the news was the group gathered in the offices of the CDN awaiting the News Agency 'snap' messages. Shortly after three-thirty it came. Soon after the poster 'The King's Decision – Official' brought people into the streets eager for the latest news 36 12 10f

Thick fog invaded Romsey Town hours before it reached Huntingdon Road. Once it settled it did so in earnest and visibility was practically nil. Buses were reduced to trailing through the streets on the heels of the conductors and even they could not see their way properly: one stopped himself just in time from leading a No.106 into the pit on Newmarket Road. Where conditions were not quite so bad drivers 'convoyed' and as many as six buses were seen in single file. One conductor walked from Cambridge to Ely, leading his bus – and did the journey in 4½ hours 36 12 10a # c.12 # c.26.46

King Edward VIII has abdicated. As Prince of Wales he came to Cambridge in June 1921 to receive an honorary degree and inspect Boy Scouts and Girl Guides. More than 5,000 children lined the route so they could catch a glimpse of 'Prince Charming' as he was called in those days. His last visit in June 1932 was to inspect the Leys School. There have been visits to the County, he opened Sawston Village College in July 1930 and reviewed the Royal Air Force at Duxford in 1935 36 12 10d

Abdication: great demand for copies CFB – 36 12 10e # c.02

How the news was received in Cambridgeshire – 36 12 10f

Cambridge Town Planning scheme – 36 12 10g # c.49.4

Private crematorium at Barton turned down – protest – 36 12 10h # c.21.2

Murkett Brothers, automobile engineers, who have large garages in Huntingdon, Peterborough and Bedford, opened their new premises on the corner of Huntingdon & Histon Road in May 1931. Owing to the satisfactory service they have given business has developed to such an extent that an additional garage is shortly to be built. This will cater for commercial vehicles and heavy repairs, whilst the Huntingdon Road depot will be for new and second-hand cars, with light repairs and service facilities

36 12 10i # c.26.48

When Mr Plumb became landlord of The Prince of Wales pub, Gwydir Street in 1895 the tailors and shoemakers always used to observe 'Saint Monday' and never worked that day. It was common for them to spend the whole time in the bar from early morning until 11 pm. And unless they had two or three sing-songs a week a house was 'not in it'. During the Great War when beer was rationed he had to go out during the day to avoid the crowds who wanted the beer he could not supply them with. When the brewers' drays arrived with fresh supplies they were besieged 36 12 10j # c.27.4

1936 12 10
CDN and abdication, p5
Planning scheme, p5
Murkett, p8
Crematorium, p8

1936 12 12
All Cambridge listened to the farewell message broadcast by Prince Edward from Windsor Castle. At the Theatre Cinema an announcement was made that the feature film would be interrupted for the relaying of the speech by courtesy of the BBC. Just before ten the curtains over the screen were lowered. When they were drawn back a large receiving set was seen in the centre of the stage with a single spot-light shining on it. The lights were dimmed. A tense, almost painful silence fell on the audience. Suddenly it was broken. Sir John Reith was heard. 'This is Windsor Castle – His Royal Highness, Prince Edward' 36 12 12a

When the new King unveiled the War Memorial – 36 12 12 # c.02 # c.45.5

Cambridge and the new King – his various visits – 36 12 12b & c # c.02

St George's school centenary – 36 12 12d & e # c.36.5

Duke of York caught smoking when undergraduate – 36 12 12c # c.02

Farmer killed in aircraft crash near Caxton Gibbet – 36 12 12c # c.26.1

1936 12 14
Proclaiming King George VI – 36 12 14 & a, b

1936 12 15
The King as a Cambridge undergraduate – photo – 36 12 15

Cyril Ridgeon recalled the early days of his business at a dinner in to celebrate its silver jubilee. When the Great War came ruin had started him in the face. But he managed to get some army contracts and started as an English timber merchant selling thousands of trees to the Midlands and Cambridge builders. At times he worked up to the knees in snow. He bought his first lorry, a Wolverine, in 1922 and put up a sawmill in Cavendish Road. It had been hard work and success was due to the loyal staff 36 12 15a & b # c.23

March magistrates express loyalty to King – 36 12 15c

Proclamations at Huntingdon – 36 12 15d

1936 12 17
Lorry fire at Independent Oil Supplies garage by mill at Hauxton – 36 12 17 & a

1936 12 19

R.H. Lavis was bulldog who caught Prince Albert smoking – 36 12 19 # c.02

Smart & Son, Bridge Street – advertisers – 36 12 19a

1936 12 21

When fire broke out near the organ of Swaffham Bulbeck church all the available men and women rushed to save the tower. After buckets of water failed they used sand taken from heaps by the roadside. Two floors in the tower were burnt out, the organ was badly damaged by scorching and water but the bells remained intact. Next morning smoke was noticed from near the wooden casing of the clock where a beam was smouldering. 36 12 21a & b

1936 21 23

Police Poor and Needy fund distributes potatoes – photo – 36 12 23

Ely Upherd's Lane, air raid precautions – motor drivers, issue gas masks, decontaminate streets – 36 12 23a

Colonel Archer read a report on Air Raid Precautions to Ely Urban Council. They had been given authority to view buildings which might be adapted as first aid posts and a local hospital. They arranged for a schedule of suitable vehicles for ambulances and certain people had been approached to organise a scheme for the decontamination of clothing. One gentleman had been asked to organise an orderly squad and another to arrange a squad of motor drivers for transport purposes. Street wardens were to be appointed to issue gas masks, auxiliaries would be obtained to increase the personnel of the fire brigade, and arrangements made for the decontamination of streets and also for salvage work. Anti-gas lectures will be given shortly. 36 12 23a

Littleport's new Regal Cinema is an entirely new building designed on the most up-to-date lines and presents an imposing appearance. The decoration is on ultra-modern lines with bowl lamps in spray plastic and an illuminated clock. All the chairs from the 'sixpennies' to the 'two-shillings' are comfortable, the armrests being sprung with Dunlopillo. The projector is by Kalee while the sound equipment by British Talking Pictures employs three speakers. It will show the finest films and has a park for 100 cars 36 12 23b

1936 12 24

S.A. Rolfe, wholesale tobacconist – advertisers – 36 12 24

Chesterton Gravel Pits have been transformed into a flourishing business working from dawn to dusk. A Priestman dragline gets the gravel out of the ground, grabbing a third of a ton in its great steel jaws and depositing it in a truck which a patient horse drags to a narrow-gauge railway. It needs no driver but stands still while the load is emptied, then lumbers slowly back to fetch more. An ever-moving belt feeds a constant stream of raw gavel into the washing and grading machine from which it pours into appropriate heaps where a fleet of lorries cart it to its destination. 36 12 24a # c.27

1936 12 28

Christmas Day dawned dreary and dismal but everything was bright and happy at the White Ribbon Hostel. It was beautifully decorated and the crackling of huge fires re-echoed the old-fashioned Christmas spirit. On Boxing Day an old gentleman said, with tears in his eyes, "It was the happiest day I've had since I started 'on the road', and the gifts of socks, ties and handkerchiefs were appreciated by us all" 36 12 28a

Christmas in Sanatorium Mill Road, Church Army work aid home, Harvey Goodwin Home, District Nurses' Home – 36 12 28

1936 12 29

Bottisham stores threatened when lorry standing outside caught fire after driver filled up with petrol – 36 12 29

Thaxted Christmas Morris Dancers – 36 12 29a

1936 12 30

Peas Hill windows smashed – including Sennitt – 36 12 30 & a

1936 12 31

Cambridge Place was a long, narrow cul-de-sac with a narrow entrance from Hills Road. It used to have an unenviable reputation but had now greatly improved. It was a convenient place for residents engaged in unskilled work who left their houses early and returned late. But the houses were unfit for human habitation. Nearly all the roofs were sunken, the doors perished, the plaster was decayed, the stairs dark and steep. They were all were damp, thirty-three shared a water tap with another house and none had a water closet inside nor any proper place to keep food, an Inquiry heard. 36 12 30b & c, picture 36 12 31 # c.23 # c.44.6

1937 Cambridge Daily News & Ely Standard

Cambridge Daily News January to December 1937

These stories were noted when compiling my Looking Back column. I have digital copies of the complete articles.

January 1937 CDN & Ely Standard

1937 01 01

A disastrous blaze broke out in a boiler house in the pig yard at Colony Farm, Manea. Despite the efforts of the Brigade the flames had a good hold and spread quickly to adjacent buildings in which 150 pigs were housed. Forty of the animals were liberated but the rest perished in the intense heat. The buildings, as well as a straw stack, were razed to the ground. Occupants of the George Hotel Chatteris were also awakened by the sound of the fire alarm when a blaze broke out in the kitchen. Its timely discovery allowed staff to quell the flames and prevent serious damage 37 01 01

1937 01 01 ES

Years principal events 37 01 01 & (2) ES

Miller's death: when his horse bolted during a thunderstorm Thomas, balance of Haddenham had his neck broken 37 01 01(3) ES

F. & G Hazel mourned by Stretham January 37 01 01(4) ES

Opening of new pumping plant at Beck Row 37 01 01(5) ES # c.29

The outstanding events of 1936 37 01 01(6)(7) ES

Rev S. F. Walton rector of St John's March biography 37 01 01(9) ES

Accidents. Mrs Savidge of Wilburton riding her bicycle at Sun corner hit by motor car. Bertram Lofts of Littleport driving bus owned by Washington's crashed near Norman's cottages on Cambridge road. Trumpington man turning corner near the Black and White cafe ran into the dyke 37 01 01(8) ES

1937 01 02

Gang activity at Chesterton – 37 01 02

Cam magazine published – 37 01 02b

1937 01 06

Cambridge Festival Theatre has started a million farthing fund to ensure they have money available in case of emergency. The weekly receipts have to cover weekly expenses. When a bad week comes the manager hopes things will pick up next week. During the summer people had come to the theatre but recently there had been a falling-off. The workers' voucher system had increased attendance but the vouchers were finding their way into the hands of people who were not entitled to make use of them. They entitled people to purchase two seats for the price of one 37 01 06

1937 01 07

Dr Paul Dirac was appointed as-old Lucasian Professor of Mathematics at Cambridge University in 1932 a few days before his 30th birthday, becoming the youngest occupant of this famous chair which was once occupied by Isaac Newton, and remains the youngest professor in Cambridge. He has a reputation for being of a particularly shy and retiring disposition." A London newspaper stated: "More than publicity he fears women. He has no interest in them and even after being introduced to them cannot remember whether they are pretty or plain". He has now wed in London. The marriage was unexpected in Cambridge and even his colleagues at St John's College were unaware of the ceremony. 37 01 07

1937 01 08

Tribute was paid to a water-diviner at the opening of Over's new water works. After one bore had been sunk unsuccessfully the Chairman of the Parish Council contacted Mr Charles Adams and when he was walking with his 'magic twigs' they twisted violently. The well was sunk in that position. They had originally wanted a supply from the East Hunts Water Company but this meant paying Swavesey for the use of their main and they had charged too much. The new station had two pumps which stopped and started automatically when the level in the water tower dropped. 37 01 08 & a

1937 01 08 ES

First broadcast service from Ely Cathedral 37 01 08(2) ES

Millions of people heard a service in Ely Cathedral on Sunday evening, which was broadcast on the national wavelengths. It was the first occasion on which a divine service has been broadcast from the Cathedral and the reception over the air was very good.

The service was conducted in the choir stalls and the silent congregation of about 300 people seated in the Octagon could hear every very little of the singing or the sermon. They had been asked not to sing. 37 01 08(2)

Fatal smash on railway crossing at King's Dyke 37 01 08 ES # c.26.2

A motor lorry struck by a passenger train travelling at 50 miles an hour was carried 330 yards along the line with flames belching out around the engine in one of the most shocking tragedies which Whittlesey has encountered in recent years.

The accident occurred at Funthams Lane crossing which leads from the main road to the yard of the Whittlesey Central Brick Company at Kings Dyke. There is no gate keeper and lorries have to cross the line entirely at their own risk. The lorry was loaded with bricks and was hit broadside by the train. The driver, Joseph Carter, 19, was killed instantly. To add to the poignancy of the tragedy, the deceased leaves an 18-year-old wife and a baby four months old.

Both the train driver Arthur Hurn and fireman, Frank Tooley, who fell out of the cabin and was seriously injured, were from March. 37 01 08ES

1937 01 09

Les Walton, the popular Rendezvous band leader, who introduced the 'Jig' which proved a success, has introduced a new dance to Cambridge for the first time. It is called the St Bernard. One of the bandmen, George Oldfield, brought it back with him after a visit to Streatham Locarno. It is undoubtedly going to make a 'hit' and was enthusiastically taken by 'Rendy' patrons. It is nice to have something fresh in the way of a dance. 37 01 09 # c.69.2

A plaster case from one of the decorations in the ceiling of the Cambridge Guildhall Large Room fell to the floor during the night. Although from the floor 60 feet below the petals do not appear very large each is about six inches across. Had there been an audience it would almost certainly have struck someone's head with results. Now the Mayor is considering whether the Large Room should be closed. 37 01 09b

'Random Journey' novel by R.W. Barnard has short account of Cambridge – 37 01 09a

The Blue Book Directory of Cambridge, published by the St Tibbs Press, comprises not only streets, trades and names of residents but also a wealth of information and a portrait gallery of our civic fathers (and mothers). An endeavour was made in 1936 to cover the immediate environs, including Shelford, Sawston, Milton and Grantchester. Now it has been enlarged to bring in Girton and Cottenham together with details concerning new or extended streets on the outskirts of the borough. It is extraordinary good value for five shillings. 37 01 09a

1937 01 11

At the first open meeting of the Cambridge Left Book Club tribute was paid to the memory of Mr G.C. Maclaurin, who was killed recently fighting for the Spanish Government in Madrid. He, more than anybody, was responsible for the flourishing members of the club in Cambridge where some 400 of the total membership of 35,000 are resident. The speaker discussed 'Must Capitalism Fail?' In a Socialist society, such as the USSR, all the sources of production were utilised to the full. While Russian workers were enjoying the fruits of their labour, the capitalist workers were saddled with debt. 37 01 11

1937 01 12

Albert Stubbs told the Agricultural Wages Board that farmers must pay workers a living wage or they would not get the labour. The minimum should be £2 for a working week of 48 hours. Rates for horse-keepers, cowmen and shepherds should be seven shillings more while women should earn from five to seven pence an hour. He would advise the men to take work on the roads or aerodromes where pay was higher. Young men would cycle 12-15 miles into Cambridge where they could earn more. But farmers had had a monstrous year and could not afford it. 37 01 12 & a

1937 01 13

Cambridge Preservation Society wants to raise £40,000 to preserve the Gogs. There are two ways of spoiling rural beauty: by ribbon development and the erection of houses at spots chosen because of the pleasant view they command, Rotarians were told. But one disagreed that it was spoiling the countryside to build on it. What was the countryside for? The contention that the Gogs was a most beautiful place was denied by a photograph he had taken of the landscape. "The Preservation Society is wrong and the whole thing is as mad as a hatter", he told the speaker. 37 01 13 & a

Sidney Gordon Clark, antique dealer of Collins & Clark, dies – 37 01 13b # c.06

1937 01 15

A fire at a large house at 10 Adams Road in the early morning caused considerable damage. There were six people living there and the haste with which they had to leave their rooms was obvious, for several were still wearing pyjamas and overcoats whilst engaged in salvage work this morning. The Merryweather fire engine was sent for and the brigade fought the flames from the water tower, managing to confine the outbreak to the upper storeys. Mr P. Hirsch, the owner, said several hundred pounds had recently been spent in redecoration and more damage had been done by water than fire. 37 01 15a, pic 15

The head offices and showroom of the Cambridge University and Town Gas Light Company in Sidney Street, where all the most modern and efficient appliances for heating, cooking, refrigeration and lighting can be seen, were built in 1909. Today the total number of consumers is in the region of 25,000. Recently the villages of Willingham, Longstanton and Oakington were supplied with gas and mains are being laid to Sawston. 37 01 15b # c.24.4

1937 01 15 ES

Major Archie Clark. Famous Middle Level engineer.

Major Archie Clark occupies a well-earned position among the world's foremost civil engineers. An early appointment was to the Military Works Service in India and after he returned to England he achieved distinction by becoming one of the pioneers in the use of reinforced concrete in 1907. During the War he rendered distinguished service in the Royal Engineers and afterwards, in 1921 came to March as Engineer to the Middle Level Commission.

It was he who carried out the changeover from gravitation to pumping and the giant station at St Germans, which is still regularly visited by engineers from all over the world, will ever stand as a testimony to his conspicuous ability. He designed it and supervised the work for which he was awarded the OBE.

In addition he has designed and constructed 15 pumping stations, many of which have duplicate sets, in different parts of the Fen district. Under his supervision, the whole drainage system of the Level has been enormously improved by the raising and strengthening of the barrier banks, the dredging of the 125 miles of waterway and the construction of bridges which are now being handed over to the County Council. In 1924, he became the first engineer in England to use draglines for land drainage works in the River Nene. 37 01 15ES(2)

1937 01 16

Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth paid her first visit to Cambridge since her accession. Together with Queen Mary she made a number of purchases from Mr S. Woolston's antique shop. Although a private trip, word had got about and despite the drizzling rain a crowd gathered to cheer the two Queens when they arrived from Sandringham. Police had to institute a single-line traffic system to allow vehicles to pass the crush of people who surged round, cheering enthusiastically, when they departed en route to Exning for lunch. It was Queen Mary's fourth visit to the shop 37 01 16c # c.02

1937 01 16

Arthur Hoppett, 73, the oldest organist in Cambridge, started his musical career as a chorister at Trinity College under Sir Charles Villiers Stanford. His first appointment was at the Abbey Church, later moving to All Saint's. He played for five or six services every Sunday during the Great War and was accompanist at the musical evenings given by the late Oscar Browning where he met artistes of world-wide fame. His great hobby was his fine collection of stamps of the British Empire 37 01 13c amusing incidents – bumped into King Edward – 37 01 16f

Herbert George Whibley, ex-Mayor, dies – 37 01 16d

Whittlesey farmer sues drainage board over flooding of his land – 37 01 16d & e

Readers have responded with information on Keith and Tudor's circus on Midsummer Common. Mr R. Bainbridge says it was a large wooden building at the junction of Victoria Avenue, where the lamp standard is, at the corner of Jesus Grove. It was pulled down due to the expense of standing there and rebuilt at the bottom of Auckland Road. Mr Keith was the ring master and Mr Tudor was the clown. Sam George competed for a cup given by the late Charlie Rowell. It was a race 20 times around the ring over four hurdles every round. The circus finished late 1893 or early 1894 just before the Royal Show was held on Midsummer Common. He still has some of the building that was built into a shed. 37 01 16f # c.76.2

1937 01 18

Fire broke out at English Bros' timber yard in Newmarket Road; soon timber stacks, some of them 25 feet high were blazing with over half-an-acre of crackling 70-foot high flames. The Gasworks were far enough away but at Nightingale's garage a number of petrol lorries were in the danger zone and were moved. All three of the Brigade's engines were called into service but it was 13 hours before they were able to return to the station. A timber-drying shed was completely destroyed, a saw-mill damaged and a lorry completely burnt-out. 37 01 18 # c.34.75

The whinnying and neighing of valuable racehorses amid the crackling of blazing wood when their stables caught fire, the rescue of the horses by eager people, and an all-night chase for seven of the animals which dashed away into the darkness, were incidents in an exciting fire at Newmarket. The outbreak at St Gaten House endangered over 20 racehorses seven of which dashed away and disappeared into the darkness. All but three were recaptured on the outskirts of town and the rest lately returned quietly to the stables. 37 01 18a

1937 01 19

Haddenham Rev K.G. Sandberg appointed vicar – 37 01 19

1937 01 21

The Upper House of Convocation meeting at Westminster Abbey discussed a resolution by the Bishop of Ely. He had opposed admission to Holy Communion of persons "who having re-married after divorce and having thereby transgressed the law of Christ and the church, continue to live in disregard of the moral obligations which must bind those who are to be admitted to Holy Communion” Marriage after divorce is a sin against the seventh commandment, he said. But only one other Bishop voted in favour. 37 01 21 & a

Phyllis Osborne, lady artist, makes glass statuettes – 37 01 21b

Sir – Cambridge’s dustbins are insanitary. Until late in the morning they decorate the edges of the pavements and their ugly and battered forms render the streets hideous. But worst of all, they stay there without lids, old tin baths, bent and dented zinc tubs, even cardboard boxes, all filled with garbage, scattering their dust and filth in the winds. In summer they stew in the hot sun. In winter they lie open to the bleak rain and drip their dust and ashes on the pavement. Babies have to run the risk of dust and infection in the streets while mothers at home strive to keep them protected from germs. Can nothing be done? – A maternity nurse 37 01 21c # c.21.15

Cambridge University Film Production Unit described their difficulties in making the film ‘Psychology Today’. They used various laboratories for studios and when hounded out of one would look for another. The camera was of the hand-cranked type and had to be held down by three people when in use to prevent it rocking. While the film was being made they had no time for work or any other activities. A commentary had now been recorded and the sound track and visual film were in process of being ‘married’. The unit is not confined to members of the University: townspeople are welcome. 37 01 21d # c.65.6

1937 01 22

Huntingdonshire county council needs new building – 37 01 22 & a

Belfast Linen Warehouse – advertisers – 37 01 22b

Briscoe Snelson lecture ‘With a camera in East Anglia’ – 37 01 22c # c.65.5

‘One with a memory’ writes: “My father put Tudor’s circus up twice in Cambridge and once in Ipswich and eventually at the Romsey Town Cement Works, where the main part still stands and is used by Messrs Macintosh for their ever-increasing agricultural department”. He has a bill, dated June 1895 which includes six shillings and fivepence for 38 pints of beer from the ‘Duke of Cambridge’ for the workers. Another reader recalls Samuel Murfitt from Manea, the largest man in the world, who died 50 years ago. His girth was 100 inches and as no hearse could be found large enough he had to be conveyed on a flat. The sashes had to be taken from the windows and nearly 20 men were employed to get the body out. 37 01 22e # c.76.2

1937 01 22 ES

Horace Price, Assistant Bishop – biog – 37 01 22ES

Haddenham new vicar K.G. Sandberg inducted 37 01 22(2)

Cambridge Road Stretham was the scene of an accident in which three cars were involved. John Allsop from Ilkeston was driving a car towards the village and when passing Mr. Norman's farm, he met a steam lorry. The fog made visibility very bad and the steam from the lorry kept low and consequently it was impossible to see very far. Just as he passed the lorry the off side of his car hit the offside of another car, which was following the lorry. The impact caused Mr Alsopp to go to the offside of the road and he ran into another car.. There were no personal injuries but the three cars were considerably damaged.

1937 01 23

Snelson lecture, p5

Lake districts, p5

Cambridgeshire giant, Tudor circus, p6

1937 01 26

Fulbourn Hospital is to have a cinema projector following a demonstration of both a 16mm and 35 mm machine. The smaller one was noisy and while it would project for ordinary purposes it would need to be in the same room as the patients. The projectors were of a delicate nature and if they got men of the labouring class moving it about they would get a lot of damage. The larger one was superior, it was compact, easy to work and the pictures were clear and good-sized. . Mr Stubbs said: "The sound was clear and even with a Yankee voice was tolerable – and sometimes they are not" (Laughter). 37 01 26a # c.76.9

1937 01 27

Flooding at Ely High Bridge – photo – 37 01 27 # c.29

1937 01 28

A report from Linton parish council draws attention to the increased heavy traffic through the village and suggests that the old Roman Road from Cherry Hinton should be made up. But this would cost £6,000 a mile. An alternative scheme would be the classification of the existing road leading from the Cambridge-Haverhill road though Hildersham and the construction of a by-pass linking it with the Haverhill road south of Linton 37 01 28

The Newmarket Tradesmen's Association was formed to promote the trade and industrial interests and advertise the attractions of the district as a residential and holiday centre. 37 01 28a

1937 01 29 ES

Who's who H.H. Truman of March, the veterinary surgeon and farmers leader

Mr. Herbert H Truman of March has been a leading light in agricultural circles, not only locally but nationally and internationally. In his professional capacity he is a Veterinary Surgeon and Inspector for the Ministry of Agriculture. He is also the most famous Percheron horse breeder in the kingdom and has received a medal from the French government for his work over a period of 20 years during which he paid frequent visits to purchase the best Percheron stallions and mares for shipment to America. It was he who imported Percherons into this country for show purposes in 1912 and today his horses are famous the world over. 37 01 29ES

J.J. Spencer dies at Ely, an expert on shire horses 37 01 29(3) ES

Mr. John James Spencer, a member of the Shire Horse Society. Was prominently known in farming circles and an expert judge of Shire horses. He became associated with this county when as an expert under-drainer he was responsible for the draining of many acres of the fen for the Ecclesiastical Commissioners. About 54 years ago, he went to Coveney, first farming at Wardy Hill and later at Ebenezer farm. 37 01 29(3) ES

Stretham

Funeral of A. Howe 37 01 29(4) ES

Stretham old age pensioners tea 1909 photo 37 01 29(5) ES

Isle of Ely coursing club temporary cessation, enthusiastic organise private meeting at Stretham 37 01 29 ES

1937 01 30

Folk Museum disappointed about lack of interest – description – 37 01 30 # c.03

Horace Coulson, the well-known chemist, was one of the best-liked men in Cambridge. – 37 01 30a # c.21.1

Sarah Campion 'Cambridge Blue' novel – 37 01 30b & c # c.74

Gladstone's visit 1887 recalled – 37 01 30d # c.33 # c.02 : 1887

Cambridge Dining Clubs recalled in old issue of 'The Idler', 1898 – Beefsteak & True Blue – 37 01 30e # c.36.92

Peaks Furnishers of King Street was commenced in 1924 by Mr W.H. Peak and by dealing in reliable goods, together with a sound service, he has rapidly built up business. The premises have been extended and improved from time to time and a very large floor space is now devoted to the display of floor coverings and furniture. Consistent advertising in the CDN for a number of years has helped considerably to make this firm so widely known. 37 01 30f # c.27.2

February 1937 CDN & Ely Standard

1937 02 01

Alexander Paul MacAlister was articled to Messrs Fawcett's, a Cambridge firm of architects, before starting on his own in St Andrew's Street 45 years ago. He designed the new block at Fulbourn Mental Hospital and the Tubercular Hospital at Antwerp as well as many houses in Madingley Road. He founded the Cambridge Amateur Operatic Society and played parts in all the Gilbert and Sullivan operas. 37 02 01 # c.61

1937 02 02

The Mayor expressed fears for young people at the Temperance Society meeting. A large number spent their time parading the streets and going to the pictures. Unless occupation could be found for them, people who could see profit in their folly would ensnare them. But Cambridge had some of the best recreation grounds in the country which help to keep children off the road and Romsey Town had a new bathing and paddling pool. The society was up against wealth and convenience. The enormous motor traffic of today could pull up anywhere along the highways and obtain liquor. 37 02 02a

The inadequate accommodation at the Fire and Police Station has now become serious. The proposed changes involve the complete demolition of the Chief Constable's house, garages, policewomen's office and the Remand Home in Downing Lane. There will be a basement for the storage of 320 bicycles and provision for eight motor vehicles together with a workshop with pit for repairs, petrol pumps etc on the ground floor. A flat for the sergeant in charge of the fire brigade will be needed together with a mess room and larder for 12 men, photograph room and offices for the chief constable, coroner and detectives. Above would be ten bedrooms for 12 single men with two bathrooms and various stores. 37 02 02b # c.34.7

St Ives golf, p5

1937 02 03

The death of John Cornford while fighting for the Spanish Government is a grievous loss. He had a brilliant academic career and was preparing for research work in history when the Spanish rebellion broke out. As soon as it was known that Italian war planes were being delivered to the Spanish rebels he went out as a volunteer, joining the British section of the International Brigade and fighting alongside G.C. Maclaurin of Cambridge who was killed in Madrid. He saw continual fighting for five weeks and was commander of the British section on the Cordova front when he was killed reconnoitring in advance of the lines. 37 02 03 # c.45.6 # c.33

1937 02 04

Proposed alterations to the police and fire station were opposed by councillors as it meant compulsory purchase of property belonging to St Andrews Street Baptist Church. The fire station could be moved to Maid's Causeway allowing the police space for the next 50 years. But there did need to be accommodation for constables – recently when a large number of additional men were required for emergency service the Chief Constable had to send motor ambulances and motor patrol vans to whip them up. 37 02 04a & b # c.34.7

Mr W. King's film display at Stapleford Institute featured scenes of the maiden voyage of the Queen Mary together with two of his latest films. 'Armistice Day' included colour pictures of Poppy Day in Cambridge and 'Village Life' showing the British Legion parade, Stapleford school children at their exercises in the playground and many scenes of farming life. Stapleford's ambition is to be right up-to-date. It has a water supply with hydrants in case of fire, gas and electricity though this has not been installed at the Institute and a wire was run from the Old Vicarage to operate the projector 37 02 04 # c.65.6

Magistrates received an application from the Star Brewery for the removal of the licence of the Garden Gate at Little Wilbraham to premises to be erected on Newmarket Road to be known as the Airport Hotel. However Lacons Albion Brewery asked for the removal of the licence of the Cow and Hare at Lode to a new pub to be known as the King George, also on Newmarket Road near the borough boundary. While they might regard one application with sympathy, two were out of the question and the decision was deferred. 37 02 04c # c.27.4

1937 02 06

Motor vehicles are to be substituted for the horses engaged in railway cartage traffic in Cambridge. They will displace 18 horses after which the railway would have no horses in use 37 03 06a # c.26.2

Robert Hensher, draper business – advertisers – 37 02 06

The Star Brewery applied for the transfer of a licence from the Crown and Compasses in Coronation Street to a new 'Vine' pub in Vinery Way. There had been 817 new houses nearby and many residents supported the application. But several residents thought it would devalue their property and Mr Skeel, who has an off-licence in Vinery Road, opposed it. Greene King also wanted to erect 'The Running Footman' in Coldham's Lane opposite Brooks Road. It would be open at all times for the sale of teas and would have a Cumberland turf bowling green. Both were refused. 37 02 06b # c.27.4

Although rebuilt as recently as 1935, Robinson's garage in St Andrew's Street has again been enlarged to meet ever-increasing business. This has enabled them to enlarge their radio department which is quite distinct from the motoring side of the business. It is staffed by men who have made radio their special study and offers hundreds of brand-new sets (some in their original cases) at pounds below list prices. The radio service department is one of the finest in the entire country with engineers from Marconi, H.M.V. and Pye factories. 37 02 06c & d # c.26.48 # c.27.8

Gladstone tree, p8

Boneshaker, p8

1937 02 10

At least 400 Cambridge people took part in Shrove Tuesday dances and Rob Roy Boat Club followed tradition by indulging in pancake scrambles. There were over 100 dancers at Houghton Hall where Geoff Fearn and his orchestra provided a popular medley of new and old numbers. Gay costumes, reminiscent of the days of Uncle Tom Cobley, enlivened the scene at the Dorothy Café for the fancy dress dance held by the Association of West Country Folk while 200 were at the Rob Roy dance at the Rendezvous. 37 02 10

Roy Fox, the famous band leader who is appearing at the Theatre-Cinema, toured Cambridge businesses. He travelled in his own Rolls Royce to the main showrooms of Cambridgeshire Motors in Cherryhinton Road. He always likes to visit the showrooms of the main Ford dealers because so many of his boys use this make of car. "I like Fords. They are a fine job and Cambridgeshire Motors have a wonderful range of them. Their service department struck me as being O.K. Being an American I like this town of yours. It is a great change to find such a wonderful shopping centre in such a beautiful setting", he told our reporter before continuing his tour. 37 02 10a # c.26.48

1937 02 11

A farm cart bore the coffin of Lady Foot Mitchell, of Quendon Hall, to Quendon Church on Saturday, when her funeral took place. Behind it was another cart filled with some wreaths, which numbered nearly 150. Sir William and other mourners walked behind, all the way from the Hall. At the gates of the drive they were joined by the estate workers. There were many sympathisers and the little church was too small to hold a large number of those who attended. 37 02 11

1937 02 12

Mr G.H. Jacob specialises in his tailoring for ladies and gentlemen and holds Gold, Silver and Bronze medals in addition to thirteen trade diplomas. He offers a complete gentlemen's outfitting service. The shop at 34 and 35 Burleigh Street was established in 1859 by Mr P.S. Stevenson and taken over by Mr Jacob in 1912. In 1926 the business was extended by the opening of a branch shop at 23 St Andrew's Street where extensive enlargements and alterations have just been completed. 37 02 12 # c.27.2

Stretham haulage contractors, Algernon, William Gordon and Roland Neville fined for failing to keep records of driving – 37 02 12a

1937 02 12 ES

Colonel W.P. Cutlack prominent military and political figure 37 02 12(2) ES

Among the foremost of the military and political figures in the Isle of Ely stands Colonel William Phillip Cutlack of Whewell House, Cambridge, who was the High Sheriff of Cambridgeshire and Huntingdon in 1934. He is the only son of Alderman William Cutlack, JP, of Croyland, Ely and was educated at Pembroke College. He eventually joined the firm of Messrs Cutlack and Harlock Limited of the Quayside Brewery, Ely, which was afterwards amalgamated with Mrs. A and B. Hall Ltd of the Forehill brewery, under the name of Messrs. Hall, Cutlack and Harlock Limited of which firm he is now the managing director. During his military career he served in France and commanded the old Cambridgeshire Regiment during the Battle of Arras in 1917. In political circles he has been a great champion of the Conservative cause. In February of last year he was married at Worlington Parish Church 37 02 12ES

A new trunk road from Wisbech to Norwich in a straight line 120 feet wide, 30 miles long from Walsoken 37 02 12(3) ES

The route to be followed by the proposed Trunk Road from Wisbech to Great Yarmouth via King's Lynn and Norwich, and by the straightened Lynn to Hunstanton road were traced by the Town Planning Officer

The Wisbech-Lynn-Norwich road is of national importance and purely local considerations must be subordinated. But if at any point an alteration is much to be preferred for local reasons and can be incorporated without detriment to the line, a recommendation will receive sympathetic consideration. No bends or curves of small radius will be suffered for any reason.

The cost of construction will be heavy and any deviation which involves greater length the road will cause substantial extra expense. So it may be cheaper to buy and demolish an obstructive property than designed a route boot to avoid it.

Although the trunk road is proposed with 120 feet width and the Lynn bypass is similar, the road between the two has a proposed width of 80 feet. This will be bought into line eventually. Even though the width is sufficient for traffic requirements it will not allow more than a single line of small trees to be planted along it and of verges which may make to have to be reduced to allow increased width for carriageways. 37 02 12ES

The formation of the Salvation Army Corps at Soham 49 years ago proved a memorable one and although the work presented many difficulties, the officers and members were able to keep the Army flag flying.

The first meeting house in which the corps worship was a barn known as "Warren White's" in Hall Street, the opening of which caused great anxiety owing to the crowd which had gathered around, some in not too friendly a spirit. The corps carried on the work here for some years after which it removed to another barn in Station Road near the People's Hall. Here they remained until the premises became not only uncomfortable but unsafe and they sought more comfortable accommodation in the People's Hall where they remained some considerable time.

Meanwhile, despite many ups and downs, work was gaining a steady grip on the people. The band too made steady progress, and although this section has had a temporary setback, there is every reason to believe that a great advance is imminent.

About 15 years ago, the idea of building an Army Hall was put forward. With great zeal members raised funds to put the work in hand and today it possesses a substantial Hall capable of accommodating 300 people, well fitted with modern conveniences. 37 02 12(2)ES

Article on postman at Welney from the Post Office Magazine.

In the heart of the low lying fen stands the village of Welney. Not only is the village renowned as the home of champion skaters, but it is notorious for its floods. For the river Delph lying between the rivers, Bedford and Hundred-foot overflows its banks to flood a part of the main road to Ely.

This flooded area is known as Welney Wash and when the water cuts off access to certain neighbouring localities the postman acquires a boat in which to travel across. Ice and rough weather have occasionally forbidden the passage of the boat and so caused him to cycle 20 miles to and from his delivery. These extra journeys he has undertaken willingly.

In recent years, the ice has never been strong enough for him to skate over, or he would have demonstrated the Welney style and speed. Thus in snow rain, cold east winds or ice-bound floods he has never failed in his delivery. And knowing fen postman one can say he never will.

In winter, weather at Welney is severe. In summertime, the floods give place to green fields and the postman is happy in such surroundings. The article is well illustrated with interesting photographs, showing a postman making his rounds in the fens. 37 02 12ES

1937 02 13

Sir – I remember Ditton Docks some 70 years ago. It was then a small landing stage, long disused and out of repair. There was also a more pretentious one further down the river – Horningsea Pier we used to call it - and I was told that in pre-railway days this had been extensively used. My father would speak of the times, before the present locks were installed, when strings of barges were kept waiting sometimes for several weeks for the river to rise sufficiently for them to come up. They carried coal and corn to Mill Lane or timber and sand to Walnut Tree Lane (now Avenue). Dant of Dant's Ferry had a fleet of barges at that time – A. Cox 37 02 13 # c.26.3

Cambridge Scientists' Anti-War Group, a technical and advisory body to Peace Movements, has issued a booklet entitled 'The Protection of the Public from Aerial Attack. It is a critical examination of the recommendations put forward by the Home Office Air Raids Precautions Department. They constructed 'gas proof' rooms according to Government plans and measured its resistance to the entry of air from outside. Much of the information is technical with a separate chapter devoted to the protection of children 37 02 13a # c.45.6

Gladstone tree at Newnham College recalled – 37 02 13b
May Week murder p6

1937 02 15

Papworth Colony – old photo taken at Bourn 1916 – 37 02 15

Haddenham football ground has been closed until March 1st by the Cambs F.A. following incidents in the match between Haddenham and Girton in the Creak Shield competition. The referee stated that a section of the spectators used bad language and barracked him throughout the game, ridiculing his decisions when not in favour of the home side. If any similar report is received more drastic action will be taken 37 02 15a

1937 02 16

An inquest heard that a bargeman's son had been in the habit of visiting the Half Acre pumping station at Barway. This had been erected in 1935 and contained a 10 horsepower crude oil engine. The engineer in charge said the lad had been standing with his back to the engine, looking out of the window. He was wearing a mackintosh which became caught in the flywheel. The man had run to stop the engine but the wheel took the boy round four or five times and his head hit the concrete. The flywheel had a projection for fixing a starting handle and this was not guarded. All other drainage engines were larger and let into the floor 37 02 16a. # c.29

1937 02 18

Guildhall and Market Hill site – history by Mrs Keynes – 37 02 18 # c.35.7 # c.44.6

1937 02 19

Work has started on the destruction of houses condemned under Royston Council's slum clearance orders. One of the first to go is the old Well House in Melbourn Street, in spite of the efforts of Mr E.W. Thair to get it preserved. The building had belonged to the Beldams, whose vault lies in the churchyard 37 02 19

Tom Cox motor, p8

1937 02 19 ES

Littleport parish church new electric lights dedicated.

Littleport parish church new electric lights were dedicated and put into operation for the first time on Sunday. The gas lights faded out as the Nunc Dimittis was sung and while the church was still in darkness Alderman Cutlack addressed the congregation. After he had switched on the new lamp special prayers were offered by the vicar and the service continued 37 02 19(2) ES

Inquest into Barway boy whirled round and round by pumping engine flywheel 37 02 19(3) (4)ES # c.29

Mr A.F. Sharman of March businessman 37 02 19(5) ES
Stretham

Car over turns into ditch near Chittering 37 02 19(6) ES

Thorney Abbey

W Goodwin of Thorney sends us some of his recollections. For some generations his predecessors were connected with the music of the Abbey. His great grandfather Mr. Thomas Thompson was a clarionet player and leader of the band before the days of organ. His great grandfather, Stimpson Charity, and his son, and two daughters were all members of the choir. Mr. Goodwin's first association with it was as a tiny worshipper, when he sat on a hassock at his grandfather's feet, and wondering why they were all singing differently. He then did not understand harmony. As a youngster at the boy's school under Mr. Lane this came to him quite naturally and he sang the second treble parts in the school songs and looked forward to the time he would take part in the choir music.

Great changes have occurred in the Abbey. The organ and choir was situated in a large gallery at the west end. In the nave were the old-fashioned pews with a row of seats down the centre known as 'the middle alley'. In each transept were other galleries with seats and underneath still more seats. In the centre was the old double-decker pulpit.

The congregations at that time were extremely large. Farmers with their families come up to morning services in their traps and carriages, the inn yards being full. The services commenced at 11 but was rarely over until one, nothing in the church service was omitted and in addition, there was a long sermon.

People were shown into their pews by the sexton, Mr. Billy Bradshaw, armed with a long rod of a billiard cue type and used for more purposes than one. Woe betide any boy who misbehaved or anyone snoring doing this sermon. Crack would come the stick which could be heard all over the church.

The singing at that time was not of the highest order, but the Psalms and responses were not chanted, the verses being read alternately by the clergyman in a natural voice, the choir reciting on one note with the Gloria sung. Anthems were a regular feature of the evening service.

With the coming of the Rev W. Symons, and the alterations in the Abbey Church, matters assumed a different aspect. The galleries were removed and the organ rebuilt in the south transept. No provision was made for the choir who had to take a back seat in the north transept, almost out of sight of the congregation. As a consequence, the singing was not of the same high order. The older members died or left and there did not appear to be the same enthusiasm.

Later, however, the choir stalls were erected and the Psalms weren't last chanted, and on special occasions, the responses sung. These changes were gradual, but when the Reverend E.C. Essex became vicar, a properly intoned service came into general use.

During his time the east end of the church assumed a brighter appearance. The deep crimson hangings and the absence of ornaments of any kind presented a rather dismal aspect. Gradually changes came.

A brass memorial cross was presented by Miss Topham and this together with vases filled with flowers, carved oak and gift panelling erected to the memory of the late Reverend W. Symons, and seasonal frontals have given a more beautifying effect to the east end. 37 02 19(3)ES

Somersham fire

The loss by fire of several hundred chickens has been the unfortunate experience and Mr. Neville Read of Whitehall, Somersham. Early on Saturday a building at the side of his house burst into flames. It contains six foster mothers, holding about 800 chickens. The fire was first seen by Mr. Fred Lewis, working in a nearby bakery. He arouse Mr. Read and his family. The flames had by then obtained too strong a hold to attempt rescue work, and attention was directed to preventing the fire reaching the house which stands but a few yards away. Neighbours were attracted by the flames and hurried to the spot, but only a few knew of the fight until later in the day. The building was completely gutted and the contents entirely destroyed. 1932 02 19(4)ES

Rat Catcher

Mr E. Cox of Manea is the official rat catcher of the Drainage Commissioners. Since last September, he has accounted for over 1,300 rats of all sizes. Many of these have been killed along the dikes which now seem infested with the pests. The method of tracking down the rats is ferrets and dogs while Mr. Cox also carries a long implement, which reminds one of an eel gleave. This has five or six sharp prongs at the end which has a span of about six to eight inches. It is used to dart any rat that attempts to escape by swimming among the water. 32 02 19(4)ES

1937 02 20

The Jolly Butchers, a famous 17th century inn at Wyton, was extensively damaged by fire. Built in 1662 it contained some fine 18th-century panelling which was practically destroyed. Firemen had to break through the tiled roof to get at the blazing beams beneath. Volunteers worked hard removing furniture and valuables while schoolboys helped to carry to safety bottles of spirits and kegs of beer. Keys to show cases containing chocolates and cigarettes were mislaid, so that the glass fronts had to be smashed to salvage the contents. 37 02 20a

Wimblington and Doddington housing schemes proposed – 37 02 20a

The News made history by holding the first Cambridge and County Press Ball at the Dorothy Café where a gay crowd, some 300 strong, danced, supped and had a really good time. There were two bands – Percy Cowell's and Percy Read's - providing a continuous programme of music for valetas, waltzes and the 'Paul Jones' with spot prizes given by local firms. Two tasty suppers were followed by a midnight cabaret with star turn Tommy Fields (Gracie's brother) who did a spot of female impersonation. His pleasant smile and India rubber legs will be long remembered. 37 02 23 & e – photo – 37 02 20 # c.04 # c.69.2

1937 02 23

John Cornford memorial meeting attended by Communists, socialist, labour, liberals and Bevan – 32 07 23b & c # c.33

New-constructed bus turning point Newnham route, Barton Rd – 32 02 23d # c.26.46

Somerlite, p3

Joseph Reed, the well-known tenor, has retired from his appointment at Trinity College and from the concert platform. He first came to Cambridge in September 1891 as principal tenor lay clerk at Trinity College. He sang in the Mozart Centenary celebrations, at Ely Cathedral and in Dr Mann's musical festivals in King's College chapel. Sir Edward Elgar was a terribly nervous man and when 'The Kingdom' was being performed in King's he was pacing up and down the side of the chapel all the time. Reed undertook concert tours with Dame Clara Butt when a saloon carriage was attached to any train and they sang on the platform every night. 37 02 23 & a, 37 92 24, 37 02 25b & c# c.69

1937 02 24

Men worked in gas masks when two heavily-laden lorries came into collision at the junction of Chesterton Lane and Castle Street. The crash happened at 5.30 am when the traffic lights were not working. The vehicles were an Eastern Railways lorry laden with ten tons of fruit and a lorry carrying 4,000 bricks. The impact threw the Railways vehicle on to its side and it fell on to the street refuge, the lamp standard and two posts. A passer-by was overcome by gas so workmen donned masks to move the load so a cock could be fitted and the gas turned off. 37 02 24a

G.H. Jacob, tailors, silver jubilee – 37 02 24b # c.27.2

1937 02 25

The Gogs preservation scheme is intended to secure the uplands and keep them open for the people of Cambridge at all time. The Prime Minister wrote a letter endorsing the appeal. There was a danger land might be developed for houses and once this started there was every possibility of it spreading. Speculative builders were spoiling the country. They bought materials cheaply and dumped them anywhere they chose, building incongruous houses all over the country. 37 02 25 & a # c.49.4

Joseph Reed, p6

1937 02 26 ES

Ely unemployment committee report

County air raid scheme - 37 02 26 (2) ES

Interior of Littleport Regal Cinema photo 37 02 26(3) ES

1937 02 27

The Cambridge Light Car Company opened premises in Hills Road about six years ago as Used Car Showrooms. The business rapidly increased and within two years the management found it necessary to take larger garage premises in Norwich Street for car storage and repairs. They were appointed distributors for the now famous High-class Triumph cars that have come rapidly to the fore during the last four seasons. They are also Morris deals and stock Standard, Austin and other popular makes of car 37 02 27 # c.26.48

"May Week Murders" by Douglas G. Browne – novel set in Cambridge – 37 02 27a # c.74
Cambridge rates, p5

March 1937 CDN & Ely Standard

Includes stories from John Martin cuttings on 1937 & other floods EBK1485

1937 03 01

The adoption of automatic traffic indicators on modern cars has led to a great deal of reliance being placed upon them by drivers. But 'trafficators' should be kept clean and in good working order. After prolonged use they become dusty and difficult to see in daylight. A weekly rub over with a soft duster is needed to keep them clean and bright. Who has not seen a car in front which according to its indicator is perpetually about to turn to the right or left, yet never does. The application of a drop of oil (preferably machine oil applied with a brush) is a cheap price to pay for safety. 37 03 01

Cycle history lecture – 37 03 01a # c.26.485

A horse attached to a milk float belonging to Messrs W.H. Onyett, dairymen of Chesterton, bolted while standing outside a house in Ramsden Square. After a run of about three hundred yards during which it rounded two sharp corners, distributing pieces of harness, milk crates and bottles, it came to a halt in Kings Hedges Road when the near-side wheel was wrenched off the cart 37 03 01b

1937 03 02

Wesley church youth rally – 37 03 02

1937 03 03

Newmarket's Doric Cinema and Café is the latest addition to the entertainment of the town. With seating for 1,200 the cinema makes an instant appeal by its novel outward appearance. Inside the tasteful decorations include beautiful curtains for the stage which is equipped for every type of theatrical production. There are special seats with microphone apparatus for deaf people. A small charge would be made for the car park but it will be free for those patronising the cafe which is open to the public. The main film was Will Hay in "Good Morning, Boys" and a Mickey Mouse cartoon completed the programme 37 03 03

Cambridge transmitter, G2XV, is one of the most successful amateur short wave radiotelephony stations in the country. Its semi-vertical antenna enables it to be heard on the 20-metre band in almost all corners of the world, including Australia, New Zealand, India, Honolulu and every state in the USA. It is owned by G.A. Jeapes of Perne Road, whose interest in short-wave transmissions goes back to the days before radio broadcasting was ever thought of. 37 03 03 # c.27.8

1937 03 04

Miss Lilian Clarke gave a lantern lecture on 'Lady Margaret and her two colleges' in the Reference Room of the Central Library. She drew on her wonderful store of knowledge of bygone Cambridge with many interesting anecdotes that kept her large audience entertained. Recently it has been found that the main gate of St John's College was being rattled down by the heavy lorries which passed through the narrow streets every night. It will be necessary to rebuild, but there are problems in getting bricks to match 37 03 04

Sir Alan Cobham, the world-famous airman, spoke in favour of a nine-bedroom Airport Hotel on Newmarket Road. Every Continental airfield had a hotel where accommodation was available in the same way as at a terminal railway station. A man had a terrible inconvenience when he landed at an airport and a first-class hotel was one of the amenities which was going to make people fly. A rival proposal by Lacons Brewery was withdrawn: people like Mr Marshall who were training pilots were doing a work of very great importance and entitled to reasonable facilities. 37 03 04a & b 37 03 05 # c.26.1

1937 03 05

Annual Business review: description of activities:

Dorothy Café, Morlin's, Greene King, W.H. Pratt, Rendezvous cinema, Bowes & Bowes, J. Sanders, Murkett Bros, Otto Wehrle, Provincial Homes – 37 03 05

Arnold Bros, A.H. Careless, Dolphin's shoe repair, Whitmore, English Bros, W. Delph, S.A. Rose, Cherry Hinton Granaries, Coulson, S. Ginn – 37 03 05a

Smart tailors, Sennitt's game, Hayward cycle, Marshall's, F.J. Prime, Bird's Chemical works, Flack & Judge, Banham, Leys Laundry, Bell & co travel agents, Hallen's motor cycles – 37 03 05b

Allen & Welcher painters, H. Tredgett florists – 37 03 05c

Miller's music, Cam electrical, Cambs Permanent Benefit Building Society, George Stace costumiers, Trustee Savings Bank, Hyman & Cox opticians, Edw Harper funerals, F. Winton Smith butchers, Austin coal, Cambridge University Gas Light Co – 37 03 05d

Cambridge Brush, Cambridge Secretarial training school, J. Holliman furnishers, F.W. Drake medical herbalist, Cambridge Steam Laundry, A Sidney Campkin pharmacists, F.M. Wilson insurance, Collins & Clark antiques – 37 03 05e

Williamson's furnishers, Robert Sayle, J. Ward cycle, Riding School, Dale's Brewery, Hockey auctioneers, Cambridge Billposting Co, Electric Wiring & Repair, Cambridgeshire Motors, New Cambridge Tyre co – 37 03 05f

Ivett & Reed monumental masons, Evans Flanders chemist, E.E. Harmer income tax, Layton & Leech masons, H.J. Gray sports, S. Rampling surgical appliance, Cambridge Health Spa, George Bolton removal, Kwick cleaners, Wm Farren furrier – 37 03 05g # c.27

Speaking at the Zion chapel centenary celebrations the Mayor, Ald Briggs, said he'd been born in Bradmore Street 60 years ago and had many memories of the meetings in the building. He associated Zion with evangelical work and for a 100 years there had not been one instance when they'd turned to a 'stunt' to keep their religion going. All the ministers had relied on preaching vividly, strongly and in a clear-cut manner to get the response they'd hoped for 37 03 05h & i # c.83

Magistrates heard that the Old Guinea public house in Russell Street was owned by the Star Brewery who had redecorated it and fitted a new fire and sink. There were seven fully-licensed houses and two off-licences within 400 yards. The Burleigh Arms in Burleigh Street was a beerhouse which provided a living for the tenant who found great difficulty in getting any work. The Rabbit in Gold Street was a comfortable little house; it had two extremely nice trade rooms and Green King had put in new windows. The residents of East Road might be 'scared off' a big place. The Cross Keys in Saxon Street was the only beer house in the neighbourhood which had five fully-licences housed within 400 yards. Beer was drawn straight from the wood, which was an attraction and trade was good. 37 03 05j # c.27.4

The death occurred of Mrs Ann Smith, wife of Gypsy Smith, at their home, Romany Tan in Hinton Avenue. She was associated with Hills Road Methodist Church but led a very quiet life and although she once or twice went on tours abroad, she generally remained at home. The funeral service will be held at the house. The famous preacher is absent in America on an evangelical tour; he is at present in Charlotte, North Carolina. It is not expected that he will be able to return home until April. 37 03 05k

Sir, the new agricultural land settlement by the Huntingdon Road at Fen Drayton daily becomes less picturesque. It would have been more cheerful for the people who have been transplanted to the area if the cottages had been built in a central position around a village green together with a clubhouse and other amenities. The whole layout, although well-intentioned, smacks of the robot mind of the self-appointed planner of other peoples' lives and there is little wonder that one hears rumours that some of the settlers pine to be back in their old haunts – Rusticus 37 03 05

Marshall's Airport Hotel plan backed – 37 03 05l

Proposed Weathervane on Perne Road refused – 37 03 05n # c.27.4

1937 03 05 ES

Wilburton vicarage under the hammer. Withdrawn at £400. Also Ely properties 37 03 05ES

1937 03 08

Cambridge Trades Council and Labour Party celebrated its 25th anniversary with a dinner in the Dorothy Café addressed by Mr C.E. Atlee, leader of the parliamentary party. Mrs Rackham recalled the early Labour candidates: the Rev Rhondda Williams was the first in 1918 while Alec Firth stood in 1922, 23 and 24. Hugh Dalton, hero of the spectacular by-election of 1922 and now Chairman of the National Executive, spoke of the early days of the party in the town. Dame Sybil Thorndike put in an appearance at the close of the evening, receiving an enthusiastic welcome. 37 03 08 & a # c.33

1937 03 09

Conditions at Wyton aerodrome are unspeakably bad; contractors should not permit horses to be worked in such horrible conditions and the Air Ministry should be made to construct better roads, magistrates said. A man had been leading horses with a water cart from a concrete mixer to the sleeper track when the front horse went into the mud. He'd run to release the second horse so that should not also go down, then tried unsuccessfully to raise the fallen animal. But it was ankle deep in mud and it was impossible for it to get up. The owner was fined. 37 03 09 & a

1937 03 10

Fen Drayton, p8

[Many of the following cuttings are from scrapbook borrowed from John Martin, June 2013. They also covers floods of 1938 & 1939; also Fen Floods book one, before, supplemented by R.C.O.C.B. Fen floods March 1937 press cuttings ebk1484]

1937 03 15

Ministry of Transport proposals to minimise street parking have called forth dissension from many motorists. We in Cambridge know there has been a steady increase in our shops by the more modern method of road transport. A large proportion of those who come from outlying districts to buy the week's commodities are private car owners. To refuse to allow cars to be parked for a reasonable period outside the place of purchase would cause many to give Cambridge a wide berth. Motorists are already taxed up to the hilt and police courts would be more than ever congested with these trivial offences. 37 03 15 # c.26.48

The next 25 hours are the critical period in the fight against flood waters which are threatening a large area of fenland near Littleport following the recent heavy rain and high spring tides. A night and day watch is being kept on the rivers around Denver Sluice. Dredgers and barges are standing by ready to stop any gaps. The water has been over the banks in several places, but so far there has been no breach. Flood conditions have prevailed for eight weeks now – the longest period in living memory. The superintendent of Mildenhall Fen pumping station had no sleep over the weekend where the sodden condition of the banks has heightened anxiety. 37 03 15a # c.29

1937 03 15

Wall of water burst over fens as river bank breaks; Littleport shop flooded. 015

1937 03 16

A great battle is going on over a 50 mile front to save the fens from serious flooding. But in the minds of the hundreds of men working on strengthening the sodden banks is the ever present question 'Will the banks hold?'

The first signs of serious flooding were to be seen on the Cambridge side of Stretham Bridge. There for a distance of many yards water poured over the road from the drainage dike to a depth of several inches, making a series of miniature waterfalls as it ran down the bank on the opposite side. On the side of the dike furthest from the road, a group of men filled sacks with earth and piled them up on top of the bank to prevent the water overflowing into the fields below.

Mrs. Gillett, who lives enough house beside the dike said it has not been so bad for the last 40 years. Though the water has trickled over the road before it has never run over it as fast as it is doing now. All men from the farms around here have been called out to keep the water in the dikes. Even in 1928, things were not as bad as they are now. The level at Stretham Pumping Station is an inch above the record.

At Earith Bridge the water was almost level with the top of the arches and on either side the road was flooded to a depth of two or three feet. A pony attached to a buggy loaded with hay was able to get through, though it was nearly swimming at the end of the journey.

On the banks of the Old West, some 50 or 60 men, some of whom had had practically no rest for 48 hours, were heightening the banks on the Haddenham Fen side utilising sacks filled with earth some were digging from nearby. One of the helpers was a man with an artificial leg. A message came that it was rushing over at a spot lower down and the group moved off to deal with the danger front.

Another man came with the news that men were needed at all Aldreth. Despite their efforts the Old West River at Aldreth Causeway overflowed and nine inches of water poured into Haddenham Fen causing people to leave their houses. Last night the town crier at Haddenham appeared for helpers, while at Swavesey a crier called for volunteers to go to Willingham where the Old West had overflowed the banks. At Ely a bugler of the British Legion is standing by all day to sound a 'fall in' for volunteers in the event of a breach occurring in any of the banks 37 03 16

Photos – Prickwillow, Earith, Stretham, Ship Inn – 37 03 16c

Cottenham Salvation Army Hall stone-laying – 37 03 16b

1937 03 16

Fen dyke cracks as zero hour nears. 37 03 16

Road open but only to boats: Welney. 009

Rain sweeps fenland: river banks begin to give way. Pc21

Thought he was in the river. Pc21

The fenland floods: strengthening defences at Aldreth Causeway. Pc21a

Livestock surrounded by flood: aerial photo. Pc22

Flood threat to fens. Pc24 &a

'Prepare to go' warning to fens. Pc24

Ship Inn flooded. Pc32

Building up the banks near Stretham bridge. Pc32

Strengthening the banks: cradging near Ely. Pc32a

Great battle today against fen floods. Pc46

Volunteers in mass attack on overflowing Old West near Earith Bridge. Pc49

Fenland flood peril – photo – Littleport – Daily Mail

All-night watch on rising rivers

1937 03 17

Floods, p1, 5,8

1937 03 17.

Danger spots in the floods: Aldreth Causeway. Daily Herald FC10

Danger spots in the fens; 500 leave villages. 013

Evacuation of more villages in the fen area. 014

Aerial photo Earith Bulwark. Pc12

Fenland floods go down a little. Pc20

Fen flood peril still acute today: CDN. Pc30 &(2)

Water washes over road. Pc32a

Fenland floods: Ship Inn flooded. Pc33

Floods Hilgay aerial. Pc34

Floods in the fens: a critical day; photo Littleport railway engine. Pc48 & a

Villages abandoned to fen floods. Pc50

Fight against floods. Pc51

Floods in the fens: a critical day; photo Littleport railway engine. Pc48 & a

Express - Main Ely-Cambridge road – water crosses – Stretham

Express: The milk 'ferry' sets out – floods, Sutton
Mail: Fenland floods menace: aerial view Ely
Mail: Fish & Duck Stretham flooded
Mail: 2 a.m. message brings hope to fens
Telegraph: 'Stand by to evacuate' BBC broadcast; Ship Inn Brandon Creek photo
Times: Floods in the fens: Times editorial. 051

1937 03 18

Threat to Barway following Lode burst – 37 03 18 & a

Soham Lode breach – photo – 37 03 18b
Fen embankment bursts: train at Littleport. 016

Fighting fen floods: Brandon Creek aerial view. 017
The fen floods from the air: Littleport train. 018
Flood control failure. 019
Soham Lode bank break photo. 020
Banks give way in fen floods: near Earith. 021
Another late scene at Wilburton: volunteers in water. 022
Train without tracks: Littleport train flood. 023

Floods sweep fens as dyke bursts, 2,000 acres submerged, women lead the way. 024, 025
An aerial view of a train approaching Littleport on a track submerged in floodwater gives an idea of the extent of the Fenland floods which have caused thousands of pounds damage to farmer and property owners Photo across flood to railway. 026
Where the rivers are flooded: map. 027
Acres of fenland flooded; dyke breaches, more feared, barges directed by wireless. 028, 029
Homeless sleep in village church: Barway, old pump restarted. 030, 031
Slight fall in fen floods. 032
Four days of desperate effort to save the people of the fens have failed tonight. With a roar like thunder the bank of the Soham Lode at Barway has burst and millions of gallons of water are now sweeping across the low-lying Fordey Fen
"We are finished", Mr. E.G. Taverner, engineer in charge, said. "Nothing more can be done here and thousands of acres will be flooded. It is heart-breaking. Just when we were holding the bank success has eluded us".
So great was the force of the burst that one of the 50 ton barges used as a bulwark was overturned. Weary men soaked to the skin and covered in mud looked on helpless. 2000 acres of farm of land and four farms are already under three feet of water and the flood is still rising.
I was at Barway when the crash came. It was an appalling sight. The top of the bank suddenly seemed to dissolve like sugar in tea. Someone shouted "It's going" and the grey water began to pour over. Frantically the tired workers, many of whom have not slept since Sunday, began to pile clay onto the sinking bank. But as fast as they shovelled it on, it was washed away. I saw one of the great barges overturned by the torrent as though it were a canoe. Engineers of the Catchment Board after a hasty survey decided the gap must be abandoned. All day the fight to lessen the beach had been waged. Houses and farms had been evacuated, animals move to safety.
When it was seen the crisis was near the BBC broadcast a dramatic SOS for volunteers for men to report at Morton's Farm, taking a hurricane lamp and spade. Within a few moments down roads inches deep in mud scores of gum-booted men were trudging to the danger spot. Like some battalion going up to the front they made their way in the darkness wading sometimes through water nearly a foot deep. Others commandeered cars and motor-cycles. Lorry-loads of clay were rushed up. On the river bank stood a portable wireless set so that workers could hear instructions from head office. There has been drama too near Wilburton. A tiny mole burrowing in a dike set 100 men working frantically to try and save the acres of farm along the swollen Old West. Now, shortly before midnight, that tiny hole is the size of a football and water is seeping through it over the fields. Almost dropping with fatigue volunteers are frantically digging clay to the shouted orders of engineers. Sacks weighing than 1cwt are carried on eager shoulders to be rammed onto the sloping side of the punctured drain. For an hour I joined the volunteers. Women acted as our lantern-bearers and guides. So far the villages are safe. But at Barway water is two-feet deep in the road and police are stopping all cars. The village church has been prepared to accommodate people who might be rendered homeless.

Fighting fen floods: Brandon Creek aerial view. 017

The fen floods from the air: Littleport train. 018

Flood control failure. 019

Soham Lode bank break photo. 020

Banks give way in fen floods: near Earith. 021

Another late scene at Wilburton: volunteers in water. 022

Train without tracks: Littleport train flood. 023

Floods sweep fens as dyke bursts, 2,000 acres submerged, women lead the way. 024, 025

An aerial view of a train approaching Littleport on a track submerged in floodwater gives an idea of the extent of the Fenland floods which have caused thousands of pounds damage to farmer and property owners Photo across flood to railway. 026

Where the rivers are flooded: map. 027

Acres of fenland flooded; dyke breaches, more feared, barges directed by wireless. 028, 029

Homeless sleep in village church: Barway, old pump restarted. 030, 031

Slight fall in fen floods. 032

Four days of desperate effort to save the people of the fens have failed tonight. With a roar like thunder the bank of the Soham Lode at Barway has burst and millions of gallons of water are now sweeping across the low-lying Fordey Fen

"We are finished", Mr. E.G. Taverner, engineer in charge, said. "Nothing more can be done here and thousands of acres will be flooded. It is heart-breaking. Just when we were holding the bank success has eluded us".

So great was the force of the burst that one of the 50 ton barges used as a bulwark was overturned. Weary men soaked to the skin and covered in mud looked on helpless. 2000 acres of farm of land and four farms are already under three feet of water and the flood is still rising.

I was at Barway when the crash came. It was an appalling sight. The top of the bank suddenly seemed to dissolve like sugar in tea. Someone shouted "It's going" and the grey water began to pour over.

Frantically the tired workers, many of whom have not slept since Sunday, began to pile clay onto the sinking bank. But as fast as they shovelled it on, it was washed away. I saw one of the great barges overturned by the torrent as though it were a canoe. Engineers of the Catchment Board after a hasty survey decided the gap must be abandoned. All day the fight to lessen the beach had been waged. Houses and farms had been evacuated, animals move to safety.

When it was seen the crisis was near the BBC broadcast a dramatic SOS for volunteers for men to report at Morton's Farm, taking a hurricane lamp and spade. Within a few moments down roads inches deep in mud scores of gum-booted men were trudging to the danger spot. Like some battalion going up to the front they made their way in the darkness wading sometimes through water nearly a foot deep. Others commandeered cars and motor-cycles. Lorry-loads of clay were rushed up. On the river bank stood a portable wireless set so that workers could hear instructions from head office. There has been drama too near Wilburton. A tiny mole burrowing in a dike set 100 men working frantically to try and save the acres of farm along the swollen Old West. Now, shortly before midnight, that tiny hole is the size of a football and water is seeping through it over the fields. Almost dropping with fatigue volunteers are frantically digging clay to the shouted orders of engineers. Sacks weighing than 1cwt are carried on eager shoulders to be rammed onto the sloping side of the punctured drain. For an hour I joined the volunteers. Women acted as our lantern-bearers and guides. So far the villages are safe. But at Barway water is two-feet deep in the road and police are stopping all cars. The village church has been prepared to accommodate people who might be rendered homeless.

Fenland was once a forest: a Caesar destroyed the trees. Pc10, a

Men rushed to new danger spot. Pc13
Dykes weakening at many points: Barway. Pc39
Floods burst over the fenland: photo Wilburton. Pc47

Express: Swollen Ouse bursts its banks – Barway
Dykes weakening at many points: Barway. Pc39
Express: Radio used in fen flood fight

Telegraph: Breach in fenland dyke floods 40,000 acres – Soham Lode
Telegraph: Banking up the Ely-Cambridge road – undergraduates

Times: Fen Floods, fight to stem a breach; Roads under water, Chittering

Bridge that leads to nowhere – Earith; Flood control failure
Barges tied up to windows of their bedrooms – Sutton
Horse on island in flooded field

1937 03 19

Workers at the end of their tether – 37 03 19 & a

The floods: scenes in town and countryside: Stretham bridge, Earith bridge, Sheeps Green, CIP.
FC09

Week's battle against fenland floods: Barway. Captain Briscoe's tour. CIP. FC30

Fenland threatened with wholesale flooding. Burst at Soham Lode. Photographs Great Ouse in flood near Ely High Bridge, building barricade, Ship Inn Brandon Creek, Prickwillow flooding, Upware lock pumping water into the Burwell Lode. Details include disaster averted at Prickwillow. Roads flooded in many parts. trains plough through water. Men become exhausted, Legionnaires stand by. Residents in fen areas warned. Orders issued by wireless. Ely and Littleport houses flooded. Crack in the cut which runs alongside the Ely to Littleport road. Banks undermined near Wilburton. Soham lode bursts its banks. Ugly scenes at Littleport. The position at Sutton. Flood questions in parliament 37 03 19(3) ES

Week's battle against fenland floods: Barway. Captain Briscoe's tour. CIP. FC30
Flood trail ... Barway breach. Daily Herald. FC31

The Passing Hour: floods. CIP. FC32

Fen flooding situation very grave. 033
Defence against floods: new danger points. Pc35
Flood trial: aerial view Barway breach. 034
R.A.F. men rushed to fen danger zone. 035
Picture Hilgay. 041
Picture Denver Sluice. 042
Troops sent to fight fen floods. 043, 044
The stricken fens at close of day: aerial. 045
Fenland floods: aerial Barway barges. 046
Fen farmers may go to court: threatened by ruin. 047
Hopeful fen outlook, troops called in, King's message. 048
The fen floods: letter to Times by Catchment Board. 049
Precedent of 1768: letter. 050

The thin blue wall. Pc11

Fenland floods: barges at Barway. Pc11
The floods, many Bedfordshire roads impassable. Pc14
The bailiff of Bedford: washes. Pc15
Milk ferry sets out: churns near Sutton aerial photo. Pc16
Week's battle against fenland floods = CIP. Pc17 (2)
Night bomber patrols flood danger zones. Pc18
Fen waters lower. Pc18 &a
Floods in fenland: Littleport aerial. Pc19
Serious flooding near Stretham bridge. Pc19
How fenland flood scattered barge barrier, Barway. Pc36
Barway breach aerial. Pc38
Barges, Barway breach
Flood questions in Parliament – Rothschild
Pumps at Upware lock working at full power

Telegraph: Troops sent to fight floods

1937 03 19 ES

Flood conditions unparalleled in the history of the country have threatened the Fens for the past week but so far we have had a miraculous escape from wholesale inundation. Wildly exaggerated stories of the floods have appeared in The Daily Press telling of 250 square miles of land underwater, the bodies of dead cattle floating in the floods as well as premature reports of bursts in the banks. At times, the water has been very nearly seven feet above the normal level, which is higher than during the terrible floods of 1928, but the great network of rivers have contended with the adverse tides and almost daily torrential downpours of wind and rain.

Men have worked desperately to keep in check the turbulent waters which now tower up to the very top of the banks. At night-time for miles around the hurricane lamps of the workers patrolling the banks can be seen flickering in the darkness. With the aid of dredgers, tugs and barges, as well as fleets of motor lorries, clay has been taken to every part of the district to reinforce the banks.

Apart from minor overflows, no bursting of the banks was experienced until Wednesday evening but then, the bank of the Soham Lode gave away.

At Prickwillow an immense crack 30 yards wide appeared in the bank which protects the village. A boat laden with clay was hastily brought down and loads of it applied to sections that seemed to be weakening under the strain. In a short time the number of men patrolling the banks had been increased to over 200 who kept ceaseless watch on every yard of the many miles of banks

Elsewhere on Monday operations were aimed at safeguarding the Fens. But shortly after midnight, while men were fighting desperately by the aid of hurricane lamps to strengthen the banks of the Old West River at Aldreth Causeway the water rushed over the top and poured into Willingham fen. Many of the Catchment Board's men became exhausted and volunteers stepped into the breach while they had a brief respite. The crier had been running through the streets of Haddenham calling up every available man who rushed to the help strengthen the banks. Volunteers poured in from all parts and University Dons and Undergraduates were toiling side by side with farm workers.

A crucial situation developed near Wilburton on Wednesday when the Old West river bank had undermined the bank at a spot near Twentypence. Men were rushed to the place of danger and proceeded immediately to reinforce the bank the sacks of clay and mud. The strength of the current was so great that the first bags which were dropped into the water were tossed about like corks. But eventually a foundation was made. Behind the bank workmen were filling thousands of sacks with mud while a continuous stream of men carried them to the top of the dike. Their work was made all the more difficult by the mud churned up by the continual passage of the workmen. All along the bottom of the bank was a veritable quagmire through which the men were waiting knee deep. The top of the bank was treacherously slippery Heavy rains, winds of gale force and frost have impeded the operations of men and machines. At Brandon Creek the old Ship Inn became entirely encircled by water, a torrent rushing in the back and side doors and out of the front.

At Littleport railway lines became submerged and trains had to plough their way through waters several inches deep. Cottages in the Holmes were flooded and the old people removed most of their belongings. There was nearly two feet of water in City Road while at White Hart Lane there was a depth of three feet and more houses were evacuated. People going to Mr. W. H. Cox's butcher shop had to walk over planks on barrels.

A band of Salvation Army men and women carried refreshments to the workers.

Troops are to aid in combating the flood parallel in the Fens. One hundred men of the Royal Air Force at Mildenhall aerodrome were ordered to stand by and 20 were dispatched to aid in the construction of the new dam where the Soham Lode bank was breached.

For hours on end a big RAF Bomber from the Mildenhall aerodrome proposed patrolled the Ouse and tributaries ready to communicate by wireless the first news of a serious breach in the dikes. But only two small breaches were made near Ely, and Little Thetford and no houses were imperilled.

The King and Queen sent a message to the Chairman of the Great Ouse Catchment Board. They have followed with anxious interest the grave situation which has arisen in the fenlands and watch with great admiration the historic efforts of all who have worked to keep the position under control. It is their heartfelt hope that the efforts may be successful in preventing any extension of the damage and distress which has already been occasioned. They express their sympathy with all the inhabitants who have suffered hardship or loss

A detachment of the Royal Corps of Signals has been sent to the fens equipped with six shortwave transmitters which will be used as necessary for directing work on the riverbanks and Royal Artillery Dispatch Riders have been drafted from Colchester.

A big Handley Page night bomber has joined the flood fighters in the Fens. It is cruising up and down the brimming waterways on patrol. Radio between air and land keeps the Great Ouse Catchment Board posted of danger spots where walls of blue clay hold back the threatening waters. While the bombers drowned in the overcast sky a black and yellow sports car rushed along waterlogged roads from danger points to danger point. Beside the driver, whose wet eyes told of lost hours of sleep, sat a troubled looking man with grey hair. So Frederick Hiam, the biggest land-owner in the fens was making a tour of his farms which are either flooded or threatened

Sightseers' cars were blocking the only road open to the breach on the Soham Lode bank at Barway and the BBC broadcast an appeal asking people to keep away from the spot because work on the new dam was being held up. 37 03 19(3) ES

Brays Lane Ely as it will be: artist's impression 37 03 19(6) ES

An artist's impression of the Bray's Lane housing site in Ely as it will appear when the Ely Urban District Council have carried out their proposal to build a number of one and two bedroom bungalows for the old people of Ely. 37 03 19ES

Stretham

Collection for National Children's Home

Concert Ely Wesley Guild

Sports Association committee - several engaged in fighting the floods

Funeral of Mrs Jane Winkworth, oldest inhabitant 37 03 19(7) ES

New industry for Ely. Rapid development of the aero club.

Ely Aero Club was originally formed by Mr H.R. Dimock in 1934 and the wonderful display on opening day in July will never be forgotten. There was a very entertaining display of various types of aeroplanes doing aerobatics, bombing cars with flour bag and other tricks.

Much of Dimock's time was taken up by his responsibility for the supply of electricity which restricted his activities until June 1936 when he resigned to devote more time to flying although he has formed a company called the Ely and District Electricity Company which still carries out installations of all kind.

Since 1934, chiefly due to Monsieur Mignet and his 'Flying Flea' the Air Ministry have exempted the ultra-light type of aircraft from the expensive necessity of having a certificate of airworthiness. The Ely Aero Club has taken full advantage of this and of the new method of ground training whereby it is now possible to get a flying licence for as little as seven pounds 10 shillings. When the member has obtained this licence he is allowed to fly anywhere in the country. The most economical aeroplane travels at an air speed of 60 mph and at rates of 10 shillings an hour.

The Ely Aero Club, which has its offices in City Chambers, Market Street, does most of its flying on its flying field at Caxton Gibbet. But they have recently acquired a field at Ely where the airplanes are kept in perfect repair. A workshop has just been erected in which the construction of a ground trainer is now taking place. This will be very similar to the Drone aircraft, except that the wings will not be sufficiently large to lift it from the ground. Pupils will learn to taxi along the ground using all the controls.

The fleet consists of three Drones, one of which is the luxury type which has been converted to a cabin with heating.

Ely Aero Club is one of the two clubs in the country who are doing proper pioneer work in cheapening the cost of flying, bringing it within the reach of anybody who can afford to spend £10-£15 per annum on his hobby 37 03 19 ES

1937 03 20

New peril in the fens – River Lark, Hiam inspects – 37 03 20 & a

Work today at Lark danger spot. 036

New perils in the fens; threat from breach in River Lark. 037

Scourge of the fenland flood – J. Wentworth Day. 038

R.A.F. men fight fen floods. Pc43

Soldiers stand by in Fenland. 039

Little danger of fen floods. 040

Cartoon: flowers under water. Pc27

St Dunstan's organised a reunion of war-blinded men at the Dorothy Café. Their aim has always been to re-establish the men in their own homes and consequently they have lost touch with fellow sufferers. There were demonstrations of the Talking Book Machine, a kind of gramophone which can be used to play both ordinary records and special recordings of books which run for about 25 minutes. The machine has only been in production for a year but already 100 books have been recorded. 600 have been distributed, half to soldiers, and half to civilians. 37 03 20b & c # c.21.4

Gipsy Smith's bereavement – 37 03 20d

1937 03 21 S

Farmers face ruin in flooded Britain. Cambridge National Farmers' Union passed the resolution: 'The threatened diaster to the Fens is felt to be entirely due to the Government in not taking action years ago to make all banks safe and to provide an adequate drainage system' – Sunday Dispatch Pc07

300 soldiers sent to flooded fens. Pc08

So grave has the flood menace become in the fenlands that 300 troops were dispatched from Colchester and Aldershot to Ely to give assistance. R.A.F. men from Mildenhall aerodrome had been at work all day with the Fen men

Lorries of the 5th (Iniskilling) Dragoon Guards began to arrive from Colchester at six o'clock.

Chalked on the side was the word 'Floods' a passport that cleared the roads for them. The troops are being quartered at the Territorial headquarters. Royal Engineers from Aldershot will help the Catchment Board to control the flow of all important sluices. They will be stationed with wireless transmitters at the sluices. Wireless apparatus is also installed in the offices of the Catchment Board in Ely. Special prayers are being offered up at Ely cathedral and in fen churches. 37 03 21 Sunday Times

When the bank gave way: Barway. Pc37,

35 miles of land menaced by new fen burst. Pc42

Mail: Battle to avert British floods

1937 03 22

Telegraph: Floods – aerial view to Ely

Troops ease fen flood situation; Engineers and fenland disaster

Floods – RAF men with portable apparatus, Welney
Floods in the fens. Pc09

Times: Earith fort, aerial view; archaeology and the camera

Times: Floods in the fens; Rates in catchment areas

Times: Hopeful fen outlook; King's message

The fen flood, dilemma of Board. Pc28 &a,b

Hopeful fen outlook. Troops called in. pc28

Tel Troops sent to fight floods

Reports from the Fen district yesterday showed that the danger of further extensive flooding through the bursting of the banks has been reduced. The lower tides coming up from the sea and some remission of the persistent rains have enabled large quantities of water to be carried off, while contingents of troops from Colchester and Mildenhall arrived to help in the work of patrolling and patching. But extensive damage has already been done and the danger of further damage may reoccur. The message of sympathy sent by the King and Queen reflects the widest anxiety felt for the fate of this the richest agricultural area in England.

At the moment attention is concentrated upon the gallant fight conducted day and night for the past 10 days by the staff of the Great Ouse Catchment Board and by many hundreds of volunteers to prevent any breach in the banks which contain the sluggish streams passing through the fens to the sea. So far, ceaseless patrolling and patching seems to have prevented any uncontrollable collapse except at Soham Lode last Wednesday. But unhappily, there can be little doubt that water has seeped through the banks in many places. And further soaked already rain-sodden land.

All concerned seemed to have done everything possible. But the prospect that some parts of so fertile an area will be out of action and some section of a rural community impoverished at a time when in every quarter there are demands for greater agricultural production and prosperity will undoubtable call for many hearts searchings as soon as the urgent peril of an even greater disaster has been averted. But far more important is an inquiry as to the reason why progress in improving the drainage of the fens has been slow and the means by which it can now be accelerated. 37 03 22 Times.

The scene at Denver Sluice is now very different from what it was a few days ago, and a high watermark of weeds and loose straw among the banks remains to show how high the water had risen at its worst. In any case, the water of the swollen rivers must necessarily be taken off fairly slowly, for the banks would tend to crumble from the top if subjected to a sudden release of the pressure that has been against them for so long.

At midnight, it was reported by the Catchment Board that the level of water in the washes between the Old and the New Bedford Rivers was two inches above the highest level ever recorded. The Catchment Board officials were of the opinion that no break was likely to occur during the night. But it pointed out that changes in the wind might have a serious effect in blowing the mass of water against the banks. The tides commenced to rise from today, which means that the tidal doors at Denver will probably be closed for a short time so that discharge from the South Level will be impeded. 37 03 22 Times

The Dean of Ely said there has been very much over-stated publicity about the floods and literally hundreds of thousands of silly creatures are flocking into the district today in their motor cars and buses from all parts of England. They are successfully interfering with the work of restoring the dikes and the banks. They are standing about looking like a lot of geese rather than civilised human beings. That is nothing to see and these wretched creatures have not the slightest desire to do anything to help their only desire seems to be to get in the way. 37 03 22 Times

1937 03 23

A great deal of work has been done on the banks of the Old West River between Welney and Manea on the wash side. As the water in the wash has been lowered, the river bank has crumbled in many places, and the bad patches are being filled in with sacks of earth and clay, taken from the top part of the bank on the river side. There was one rather more serious beach on the other side of the bank about two miles from Welney which had to be shored up with timber as well as clay.

The water in the wash is considerably higher than that of the Old Bedford River beside it and work on any lower part of the bank is made difficult by its sodden state. The paths on the top of the bank were fairly dry today and soldiers who have been passing along them have had a much easier time than the workmen who had to tramped through several inches of mud last week. On the Welney village side of the Old Bedford River water which has seeped through the banks has made a farm road impossible. Dispatch riders of the Royal Artillery have been quartered in the village and seem to enjoy the novelty of their unexpected task. 37 03 23 PC04

Commons debate fen floods – 37 03 23 # c.29 # c.12

The present flood conditions in the fens were raised in the House of Commons. A titanic struggle was going on between man and relentless nature. Children had been unable to go to school for months, housewives were marooned and unable to provide themselves with the necessities of life, crops had been destroyed bringing ruin to farmers and unemployment to farm workers. Half a million acres of the richest soil in the country were in daily peril during the winter. Much of the flooding had been caused to Government cuts in grants for land drainage, Arthur Greenwood declared 37 03 23 # c.29 # c.12

Easter Sunday will be zero time in the second phase of the great battle being put up against the flood peril in the fens. Ten days ago the calamity of a major burst was only narrowly averted when the spring tides were at their peak. This weekend they return. Today all the cracks in the bank of the Old Bedford River were reported to be satisfactory and airmen who had been working day and night have been withdrawn. The spirit of the troops is excellent but the medical officer has certified that rum is desirable and arrangements are being made for it to be issued. 37 03 23a # c.29 # c.12

Emergency in fens will last a fortnight, photo near Littleport. Pc03

The fen. Pc04

The danger of the fens. Pc04

Improvement in the fens. Pc04

Future safety pc05

The floods. Pc05

In time of flood. Pc05a

Photo of Ely over floods. Pc06

Looking at life.

Floods crisis may last 14 days. Pc40

1937 03 24 circa

Parliament was told that anyone who read the newspapers knew what was happening in East Anglia where a titanic struggle was going on between man and nature. This was a great human tragedy complicated by the fact that owing to the silting of the outflow people dare not pump out water below river level, because they might therefore be accessories to their own destruction. By pumping water off this waterlogged land into rivers that might burst they might be agents in drowning themselves. Crops were being destroyed and there would be unemployment for farm workers. Half a million acres of the richest soil in this country were in constant peril in the winter time. The present position was a result of the accumulated neglect of years.

But Mr. de Rothschild MP for Isle of Ely expressed the scorn and ridicule with which fenland had read what was written about them in the press for the last 10 days. The pictures which had been conjured up of whole villages in a fever of anxiety for their lives and even in some cases of a panic stricken population fleeing from their homes, clutching their valuables, were totally untrue and fictitious.

When he visited the threatened area a few days ago, conditions were in striking contrast to the reports of the press. Of course there was great anxiety but the men were working with calm confidence to save the land which they had tilled and sown. The work might have been different but there was no panic of any kind and if there was any impatience, it was the impatience of the many sightseers who went to see the conditions.

One of the papers announced in thick headlines that one village had become evacuated on Tuesday night. On the following Friday, a very successful Liberal meeting was held in that village. The Liberal inspiration in this village was well known, but even he doubted whether it would have been strong enough to hold the men to that village if their family's homes and goods had been threatened.

In spite of the aberrations of the press, the situation was certainly still very grave. There were hundreds of acres which had been sown with wheat in the threatened areas. And if floods reached these areas, the crops would be ruined and the land have to lay fallow for another two years. Already large areas had been lost to cultivation, acres which had been shown with wheat or where potatoes were lying in graves. One farmer had lost 70 acres of wheat-sown land and 40 tons of potatoes. In the case of another small farmer, his land was flooded last year, and this year, and now 74 acres were underwater. There were many hundreds of cases of that kind. Times Pc02

The weather has once again taken a turn for the worst with snow falling throughout the greater part of the day rapidly making the ground muddy. A day such as this with snow falling and a cold wind blowing emphasises the need that hard roads should be built beneath the riverbanks. In the seven miles between Prickwillow and Isleham, a stretch of country on either side of the River Lark is entirely without any road along which a motor lorry can travel. In the critical days when the peril of flooding had been imminent, this has been a serious hindrance in getting loads of clay and other material to dangerous spots on the Lark, a river which has its full share of cracked banks. On the Ely side of the river between there are 80 inhabited houses amongst the scattered farmsteads/ The doctor who attends people in this isolated district has to use a bicycle and only recently a small boy with acute appendicitis had to be taken for five miles in a farm cart along a rough track before reaching a road along which an ambulance could pass. Times Pc031

Cambridge Scientists have challenged Government claims that the majority of London houses could construct a gas-proof room. They say it would need to be lined with sheet tin and the joints overlapped with Vaseline. Even so tear gas could get in. Mustard gas could be spread in liquid form from aeroplanes as had been done in Abyssinia. It gave off a vapour so toxic it was lethal if breathed for six minutes. Government-issue gas masks would cost two-and-sixpence each but would not stop cigarette smoke that could make people cough and be sick. 37 03 23a # c.45.6

Air raid debate – 37 03 23b # c.45.6

1937 03 24

Parliament was told that anyone who read the newspapers knew what was happening in East Anglia where a titanic struggle was going on between man and nature. This was a great human tragedy complicated by the fact that owing to the silting of the outflow people dare not pump out water below river level, because they might therefore be accessories to their own destruction. By pumping water off this waterlogged land into rivers that might burst they might be agents in drowning themselves. Crops were being destroyed and there would be unemployment for farm workers. Half a million acres of the richest soil in this country were in constant peril in the winter time. The present position was a result of the accumulated neglect of years.

But Mr. de Rothschild MP for Isle of Ely expressed the scorn and ridicule with which fenland had read what was written about them in the press for the last 10 days. The pictures which had been conjured up of whole villages in a fever of anxiety for their lives and even in some cases of a panic stricken population fleeing from their homes, clutching their valuables, were totally untrue and fictitious.

When he visited the threatened area a few days ago, conditions were in striking contrast to the reports of the press. Of course there was great anxiety but the men were working with calm confidence to save the land which they had tilled and sown. The work might have been different but there was no panic of any kind and if there was any impatience, it was the impatience of the many sightseers who went to see the conditions.

One of the papers announced in thick headlines that one village had become evacuated on Tuesday night. On the following Friday, a very successful Liberal meeting was held in that village. The Liberal inspiration in this village was well known, but even he doubted whether it would have been strong enough to hold the men to that village if their family's homes and goods had been threatened.

In spite of the aberrations of the press, the situation was certainly still very grave. There were hundreds of acres which had been sown with wheat in the threatened areas. And if floods reached these areas, the crops would be ruined and the land have to lay fallow for another two years. Already large areas had been lost to cultivation, acres which had been shown with wheat or where potatoes were lying in graves. One farmer had lost 70 acres of wheat-sown land and 40 tons of potatoes. In the case of another small farmer, his land was flooded last year, and this year, and now 74 acres were underwater. There were many hundreds of cases of that kind. Times Pc02 37 03 24 & a

Army return to fens, cracks in Ouse at Redmere – 37 03 24b

The fen floods. Pc02 (2)(3)

Cartoon: rule the floods. Pc26

Save Fenland, MPs urge. Pc31

Snow in the fens. Pc31

Fen floods. Preventitive works urged. Pc29

When the Salvation Army first came to Cambridge Ellis Merry gave them what was then his wash-house in which to hold their meetings. He was one of the early sergeant-majors and associated himself with their work in the villages, using a concertina and violin to good effect. He was the first to run a penny bus, from Mill Road into town and also did the horse mail work. Until his retirement Mr Merry carried on the business of undertaker. 37 03 24c # c.21.2 # c.83 # c.26.46

Lorry wrecks house corner Bell Lane Histon – 37 03 24d

1927 03 25

Histon cars, p5

1937 03 26 ES

Flood danger to roads caused by fenland flooding. Send deputation to the Minister of Transport. Flooding has occurred over the Ely-Cambridge road south of Stretham Ferry Bbridge and although sandbag protection has been constructed on the west side, the flow of water has gradually weakened the eastside. Heavy traffic being diverted as far as possible via Twentypence Road and Cottenham. Flooding over the Chatteris to Mepal road over the Old Bedford and a ramp of tarmac had been put the cross the road west of the bridge and traffic has been maintained. Several unclassified roads in the vicinity of Littleport had been restricted as far as heavy traffic was concerned. Sutton Gault bridges - the Ouse Catchment Board will make a contribution of £2,000 towards the cost of reconstruction and give any land acquired for the resiting of the bridges. Plans for an improvement to the Chatteris to Upwell Bridge from Horseway to Mount Pleasant were submitted. A slip on the Upwell road near Outwell church bridge. Estimate for a bypass on the Brandon Creek to Littleport Road. It was a quagmire and something had to be done 37 03 26 &(2) ES

Flood menace receding but position still serious. Crowd of 80000 sightseers on Sunday. King and Queen express admiration for officials and workmen. Photos of Barway. Sunday will be remembered not so much for the flood as for the tens of thousands of sightseers who invaded the fens; they came by road, rail and air and over 18,000 people came to the district. In one hour during the afternoon 3,024 vehicles were counted to pass the Lamb Corner at Ely and during the day just over 6,000 cars passed over Littleport Bridge. There were countless cyclists, motorcyclists and fleets of motor coaches. But the lurid pictures which some of the daily papers had painted were not to be seen. Anxious time in Manea area; photo Littleport bridge 37 03 26(3-5) ES

Who's who. Alderman H.J. Martin, Littleport diligent public worker. Prominent farmer, lifelong interest in fen drainage 37 03 26(6) ES

Cambs Times: Flood menace receding
Manea flooded cottage
Littleport bridge cars
Barway bargFen floods debate in Commons

Ely Standard: Flood situation eased - editorial

Glimpse of the past 1897 showing flood at Appleyard's boathouse 37 03 26(7) ES
An old photograph shows the flood of 1897 which affected Ely and district in much the same way, which has threatened to devastate the South level area this year. The picture taken from Appleyard's Boatyard shows the flooded state of Victoria Street and Cutter Lane. The highest level reached was 20 feet eight inches above ordinance datum. Councillor A.J. Cross describes how he and Mrs. Cross were able to reach the Victoria Street Methodist Church via Annesdale for morning service on certain Sunday, and how the water rose so quickly that they had to return along Broad Street. 37 03 26(7)ES

1937 03 27

Good Friday skipping on Parkers Piece – 37 03 27 # c.39

The Ouse Catchment Board received a telegram from the King and a letter from the Minister of Agriculture saying they had watched with admiration the heroic efforts made to control the fen floods. Sadly a breach had occurred which led to the flooding of Soham fen. Last year Padnal had asked for a new engine but it had been turned down. As a result the old engine had broken and fens were under water. Unless something was done the South Level was heading for the greatest calamity it had ever known. 37 03 27a & b # c.29

Have you seen the luxury houses on the Fendon Estate (new road leading from Hills Road to Queen Edith's Way?). Make a visit this Easter. Architect designed houses, built with best materials and labour by a firm which is rapidly gaining a fine reputation. Houses have sold quickly to discerning buyers. Every house is detached and different. Schools and churches nearby. Prices from £975 to £1,500. Advert 37 03 27b # c.23

Waterworks Company new workshop and depot foundation stone, Rustat Road – 37 03 27c # c.24.2

Victoria Friendly Society centenary – history – 37 03 27e # c.37.2

1937 03 29

The danger of further serious flooding in the Fenland is now over, but it will be many a long time before the effects of the recent inundations have disappeared. Losses by farmers are considerable. Cultivation has been held up and work is now some weeks late. Water lying on the arable land is neither a surprise or danger at the end of a wet winter in the Fens. This is very difficult, however, to having a broken bank and the fens 'drowned'. This means that the land is ruined and the area uninhabitable for at least two years. It was this menace to enormous areas which caused so much anxiety. Those who farm in the fenlands are aware of the flood risk but through the generations have discovered the secret of producing, in normal circumstances, enormous crops of potatoes, grain, celery, parsnips, carrots, and now sugar beet using farming methods that would be quite unsuitable in any other part of the country.

The fens are no longer a place for smaller farmers. Men who have a small acreage and capital can be ruined by a broken river bank or a bad season. Small farmers also have not the resources of men and horses - no tractors can be used in the fens - to get work done rapidly when suddenly there comes a change of weather and the land is workable. 37 03 29 Tel

1937 03 30

Death W.P. Littlechild, 56 years chapel clerk at Kings – 37 03 30

1937 03 31

The new Regal Cinema, seating about 1,900 people, includes all the latest luxury features with luxurious tip-up seats. It has equipment to enable those hard of hearing to follow the sound with ease and comfort. The first attraction will be the new Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers show, 'Swing Time', when William Southwold will be at the mighty Compton organ. A resident organist will play at each performance 37 03 31 # c.76.9

Haddenham vicar, p5

April 1937 CDN & Ely Standard

John Martin cuttings on 1937 & other floods

1937 04 01 c

Hundred Houses Society annual report – 37 04 01, Water Street estate, 37 04 02 # c.23

Airport Hotel approved – 37 04 01a & b # c.26.1 # c.27.45

1937 04 02 ES

Ouse boards and the floods. Breach occurred which lead to flooding at Soham Fen. The Middle Level had a marvellous escape from a peril that was unexpected having regard to the large amount of money that was spent recently on the barrier bank. There was no district that have not suffered because of weak banks. When the bank broke at Soham the men broke down completely. One man he brought home from Burnt Fen had only been in bed only once since Monday and then only for three hours. A shepherd left his sheep and did excellent work. Ely Sugar Factory lent 70 barges and two tugs and 12 men to relieve the drivers of the Board's tugs. Grateful for volunteers including undergraduates of Cambridge University. Work had to be carried out including clearing the outfall from Denver to the sea. 37 04 02 & (2) ES

The flood menace which has threatened the safety of the third our fenlands for several week is now a thing of the past and the water is rapidly subsiding to the more than normal levels. Fears were entertained that the weekend might prove another crucial period for the spring tides were at their height, but the absence of any downpour compared with favourable winds and sunshine enabled the danger to pass.

The barges which had been piled up on the banks when the breach occurred in Soham Lode have now been removed by means of winches and wire tackle and the task of repairing the damage to the banks is proceeding apace. The breach itself has been closed and men are engaged day and night in three eight-hour shifts to finish this work, which will take several more days. The water on the flooded Fenland near the breach has gone down and has been draining through a culvert underneath the Soham Lode into the Middle Fen whence it has been pumped to the rivers. Meanwhile, general consolidation work is being carried out throughout the whole of the huge South Level area and all the weak places caused by the flood are receiving prompt and thorough attention.

The troops who have been stationed in the district during the last 10 days or so have returned to their depot leaving just the staff and workmen of the Catchment Board to deal with that position. In the Middle Level men of the Royal Air Force the Royal Engineers, the Royal Corps of Signals and the Engineering section of the Royal Artillery and the Suffolk Regiment who had been working on the barrier banks were able to leave during the early part of the week. The Middle Level Board however, still have about 40 men on the spot.

The Minister of Agriculture, Mr. W.S. Morrison, visited and toured the area. He then moved along the Hundred Foot to Sutton, onto Welches Dam and to Colony Drove where the Minister saw the damage done to the bank by the huge volumes of water which it has had to hold in check. At one time the water in the river was 10 feet higher than the adjoining land. The party proceeded to St Germans when they inspected the giant pumps. 37 04 02 ES

Mr Maxwell's speech in the house, Ouse outfall. 052
Sequel to flood incidents: Littleport men in court. 053, 054

Ouse Board and the floods: tribute to workers. 055
Floods cost over £10,000. 056
Minister of Agriculture visits fen floods: Soham Lode. 057 photos 37 04 02(4)(5) ES
Fen flood danger: rivers returning to normal levels. 058
The Ouse floods, Catchment Board and the river at Bedford. Pc01

Haddenham vicar Sandberg booed by parishioners.
Unfortunate disputes which have been taking place for some time between the Vicar of Haddenham, the Reverend K.G. Sandberg and a number of his parishioners reached a stormy climax at the annual Easter Vestry. Mr Sandberg began his duties on January 15, in succession to the Reverend Kirkland and it appeared that certain members of the congregation objected when he introduced alterations to the Sunday school curriculum so that children under 11 attended Sunday School in the morning, and children over 11 in the afternoon. He said he could not accommodate his address to suit children of all ages. Some of the parents affirmed that the young children having nothing to do in the afternoon made a nuisance of themselves and a number said that if their children were not welcomed at Sunday school, then they themselves would not attend church. Many of them started going elsewhere. The Sunday School teachers resigned after 20 years' service. Differences of opinion then arose on the subject of whether the choir should sing an Easter carol or an anthem. The vicar suggested a carol, but the choir preferred an anthem. The organist resigned the choir and bellringers all followed suit. The meeting broke up in disorder with cries of 'Coward' and 'Shame' from the crowd. A large number of people waited outside until the Vicar and the wardens left the hall when there was continued loud continuous booing. A former member of the choir said 'I don't think the Vicar is justified in his action towards the choir, because we are a voluntary choir. I think people have a right to object to the Sunday School alterations because the children are being turned away'. 37 04 02(3)ES

Who is who. Fred W Green

Mr. Frederick William Green of Ely, affectionately known as Fred, devotes the whole of his time to serving the interests of his fellow man. In 1907 he was appointed Relieving Officer. Collector, Vaccination Officer and Registrar of Births and Deaths for the Haddenham district. Then in 1911 became Master of the Ely Poor Law Institution, a post which he shared with his wife, who was appointed Matron. The old people regarded him as a son and the young people looked up to him as a father. In those days, workhouses had not the best of reputation as far as the unfortunates who had to seek refuge were concerned. But in Mr. and Mrs. Green, the inmates of the institution had two friends who did everything to brighten the lives of those in their charge and the inmates displayed for their master and matron adoration which testified to their popularity. Soon after the close of the Great War in 1919, Mr. Green was appointed Clerk to the Board of Guardians and Superintendent Registrar of Births for the Ely district and Clerkship of the Ely Union Assessment Committee until 1927, when the duties were taken over by the County Council. He was Secretary of the National Farmers Union when the Ely branch formed in March 1924. From 1926 to 1929 he farmed Vicarage and Bannold Hall Farms Waterbeach in the name of F.W. Green and Son. 37 04 02(7)ES

Stretham

Death of former schoolmaster Alfred George Wheeler, 82, retired 17 years ago, first chairman of Sports Association
Concert in Wesley hall
Parish Council bad condition recreation ground due to cattle being put on the field; it is impossible to play football there. Thank Rev Routledge who was retiring as chairman 37 04 02(8) ES

1937 04 03

Sutton fatal accident, need traffic island at Brook Corner – 37 04 03a

W.P. Littlechild, chapel clerk at King's – 37 04 03b

One of the big attractions at the new Regal Cinema is the Compton organ, fitted with an illuminated console which produces a wonderful range and combination of colours. It is described as the 'most remarkable instrument of its kind in the world, producing every kind of music from the thrilling peal of a cathedral organ to the colour and tone of a symphony orchestra or the rhythm of a modern dance band'. 37 04 03b # c.76.9 # c.69.4

1937 04 05

Fen floods and compensation, new road at Soham Mere – 37 04 05

Telegraph: National control of floods – editorial

Flood problems in fenland – 1. Dutch experts surveys the old defence works. Had Vermuyden plan outlived its utility. 059

Telegraph: Flood problems in fenland – Schoenfeld – 1 : old defence works

The new Regal cinema opened – 37 04 05a & b # c.76.9

1937 04 06

Telegraph: Protection against tides invasions. 060

1937 04 07 W

Flood problems ... 3. Building a defence wall across the Wash. 061 & FB73

A constructive policy for the fens. 062

The Fenland floods 'a blessing in disguise'. 062

Telegraph: Constructive policy for fens

1937 04 08

Telegraph: £13,000 dam to safeguard fens

Mouth of the Ouse – aerial photo

Telegraph: Air survey; Security – case for a sluice; Water defences

Public conveniences are absolutely necessary in Littleport. It was a town of over 4,000 inhabitants, many people from the surrounding area visited for shopping, there was an up-to-date cinema and hundreds paraded the streets on Saturday evenings. Tenants of licensed houses made a practice of locking the gates of their toilets to prevent the public using them and there was no accommodation for woman. But opponents said the chosen site was away from the shopping centre, there was no footpath and people would need to cross the main road to get there. It was near a butcher's shop and would tend to the breeding of flies. They would be better underground. 37 04 08

The new chapel for the use of troops at Mildenhall RAF station was dedicated. The Bishop said that in the past they had to wait a long time for a camp to be equipped with such a place of worship. Now it came at the start of construction. Everyone was sorry that the state of the world meant they could not do without great defences. But they were proud of the Air Force and the devotion shown in the minds of those ready to join in. The men should consider their influence as a body in the parish in which they were living and take care it was a good one. 37 04 08a

1937 04 09

Telegraph: Letters re wash dam

Civil Aviation Service Corps first open day at Cambridge aerodrome; bomb dropping contest – 37 04 09 # c.26.1

1937 04 09 ES

Littleport public convenience a disgrace to the town

Objections to the site for Littleport's proposed public convenience at the junction of Hempfield Road and High Street were raised at an inquiry to ascertain whether it was suitable that the Council should spend money on it and whether it was wanted by the town. The Parish Council had come to the conclusion it was absolutely necessary. Littleport was a town of four or 5,000 inhabitants and was surrounded by villages whose inhabitants came into Littleport. There they had Ely some five miles off and now they had an up to date cinema. It seemed that Ely people derive pleasure from coming to Littleport. Hundreds of people parade the streets on a Saturday night. It is in the midst of the finest agricultural land and in the last few years have built two or 300 houses. It must move with the times
37 04 09ES

Compensation for flood damage 37 04 09(2) ES

Car damaged in accident at Chettisham - photo 37 04 09(4)

Mrs. E. Mortimer Rose of Plantation Farm, Littleport had a miraculous escape from death in a somersaulting car on Sunday afternoon. She was driving the small saloon from Littleport to Ely and when negotiating the bend in the road on the Chettisham side of the Oakery housing estate, the car somersaulted four times and when it came to rest, it was facing towards Littleport and was upside down. Mrs Rose received cuts and suffered from shock, but her son was unhurt. The car was extensively damaged. 37 04 09ES

Chatteris meeting protests against non-deliveries of letters on a Sunday 37 04 09 ES

1937 04 10

Telegraph: Wash dam

1937 04 14

Emmanuel Road tree, p5

1937 04 15

Housing development, p5

1937 04 16

Nicholes advertisement, p8

1937 04 16 ES

Causes of fen floods and suggested remedies

"Fen Floods - Causes and some suggested remedies" was the subject of a talk by Colonel G. M. Archer to Ely Field Club who traced the developments in fen drainage from mediaeval times. After a severe flood in 1912 there was great heart-searching as to what was wrong with the drainage of the things and in 1918 an inquiry was held at King's Lynn, where a very able engineer Mr. Crocker put forward a very clever scheme for putting a sluice at King's Lynn to prevent sea water from coming up. The Denver Sluice was the salvation of the fens around Ely but the water passing through it was often hindered by the enormous flow from the Hundred Foot. At the same time, the new Lower Ouse Conservancy Board put forward a scheme to build training walls out into the middle of the Wash and it was hoped that by thus canalising the river, there would be obtained a much greater tide, which it was assumed would clear the silt from the channels. Mr Crocker's scheme fell to pieces and Government influence was largely on the side of trading training walls.

In 1930, Catchment Boards were set up to have control over the river from mouth to source. But the Ouse demanded special treatment because it was an axiom that if they were going to improve a river they must begin at its mouth. Lately there had been an amount of work of amount of work done on the upper reaches with the result that water which formerly took 12 days to reach the fens came down now in two days, making a very difficult and dangerous position for fen dwellers.

"When you get enormous fen engines pumping at the same time, you see what a tremendous strain it puts on the fen banks. The answer is that fen engines should leave off pumping, but if they stopped the fen becomes flooded by the rain. And if you keep on pumping in times of grave emergency, you run the risk of breaking your banks. Notwithstanding the improvements in machinery and the fact that banks are higher, the safety of the fens at the present time represents a much more difficult undertaking than it ever did 100 years ago by reason of the shrinkage of the land, the siltage, the small gradient and the increased facilities for highland water”.

He dealt with two schemes, which had been suggested to satisfy the needs of the fens and favoured that of erecting a sluice at King's Lynn which would shut off the silt and give an extra course of river in which to bed their fresh water. Once a sluice was there, they could set to work with the certainty that once they had dredged the rivers of silt, they would be free; the banks would not have to be so high and the engines would be able to pump freely.

The greatest enemy of the fens was the sea and the problem unless tackled heroically would land the Fens in disaster.

“The works of Cornelius Vermuyden were very wonderful and very clever; through no fault of his, these works are not sufficient for the salvation of the friends at the present day. With our increased engineering knowledge it is up to those responsible for the fens, with the assistance of the Government, to apply that knowledge so that we can supplement the work of Vermuyden by doing something which is equally necessary to preserve the fens in their present state”. 37 04 16ES

Wallbro celebrates 25 years in business.

The Walbro, the largest cycle and radio establishment in the district are celebrating their silver jubilee having now completed 25 years of successful business in Ely. It was early in 1912 that the brothers, H.S. and G.J.T. Wallace came to Ely to set up a cycle and motorcycle establishment. In the early days, they only had a portion of their present extensive premises but later when Mr. Horace Wallace was trading on his own account he bought first the block of buildings on the Lamb Corner, (later sold by him to the National Provincial Bank, who we sold it to Starr and Rignall) and then the house which accommodates the present wireless department and the row of cottages at the rear known as Totnall Court, which he converted into the present garage.

In his younger years, Mr. Horace Wallace and his brother, Mr. P.V. Wallace were very keen aviators and they hold the distinction of having built in 1910 the first aeroplane which left the ground in Cambridgeshire. The plane was christened ‘The Walbro’ and it was from that title that the trade name of this business establishment was taken. Last year, a branch shop was opened at Soham of which Mr. Ken Wallace is in charge.

From small building beginnings, this business has now grown to such dimension that it is by far the largest and most progressive establishment of its kind in the district, and the name ‘The Walbro’ is now a household word in this and neighbouring towns. 37 94 16(3)ES

1937 04 17

Red Cross members will be trained in air raid precautions and encouraged to volunteer for ARP services. They could be assured that people wearing masks would be unaffected by gas, despite a recent study by Cambridge Scientists. Diffusion of elementary knowledge would prevent many casualties caused by panic. They had held six ‘gas courses’ attracting 350 people. But these numbers would be hopelessly inadequate to deal with a large-scale air raid. 37 04 17 # c.45.6

Pub fire, p3

3d pieces, p6

Dancer injured, p6

1937 04 18 c

Public conveniences are absolutely necessary in Littleport. It was a town of over 4,000 inhabitants, many people from the surrounding area visited for shopping, there was an up-to-date cinema and hundreds paraded the streets on Saturday evenings. Tenants of licensed houses made a practice of locking the gates of their toilets to prevent the public using them and there was no accommodation for woman. But opponents said the chosen site was away from the shopping centre, there was no footpath and people would need to cross the main road to get there. It was near a butcher's shop and would tend to the breeding of flies. They would be better underground

1937 04 19

The death occurred with tragic suddenness at the Gog Magog Golf Club of Percy William Gray, 65, who collapsed while practicing for a round. The club was immediately closed for the day. He was a member of the well-known auctioneer and estate agent firm, Gray, Son and Cook and was director of the Cambridge Waterworks and Gas Light Companies. In his younger days he played cricket, hockey, golf, rugby and 'soccer' and continued to hold various offices including President of the Cricket Association. He married Miss Strange, daughter of the Chesterton boat builder. 37 04 19 # c.06

1937 04 20

A number of Cambridge police officers have received promotion. Supt. Percy Sharman is in the 23rd year of service, Inspector S.J. Double, Serg W. Ainsworth, Det-Sergt A.E. Robinson, Sergts O.

Cornwell, J. Kester, W. Edwards – 37 04 20a # c.34.7

Scientists' Anti-War Group challenge claims about gas proof rooms – 37 04 20b

Midsummer Common, p1

1937 04 21

Fenland is alarmed at another rise in the level of the rivers following heavy rain. The water is now 4ft 6in above normal, the washland is again flooded several feet deep. But the absence of rain so far today gives hope that a further disaster may be avoided. Even so the position is serious. Many fenland farmers have been unable to get on their land which is still completely waterlogged and much will have to lie fallow for a year, as it is too late to sow crops. 37 04 21

Cambridge Photographic Club cine group presented its annual show. Mr W. King's "Flood" was a magnificent epic of the recent Fenland troubles with some really brilliant photography. "Close of the Day" recalled some of the scenes witnessed in Cambridge every afternoon at 5 o'clock and showed the evening's life of a typical couple. Humour and trick photography are the keynote of the film which was written and directed by Mr F.B. Ives and produced by Mr E.J. Twinn. 37 04 21a # c.29 # c.65.6

1937 04 22

Fen Drayton Land Settlement Association bus service – Barker's buses – 37 04 22

A lady who inherited a considerable fortune some 10 years ago and had since resided at Hemingford Grey appeared at Cambridge Bankruptcy Court and told how it had disappeared. She had bought Pear Tree Cottage and been generous in entertaining the people of the village, giving them all a party and dance every year for seven years. She had also given the children a Christmas party. This cost a considerable sum. She kept a stud of beautiful dogs but in November 1932 she had a considerable fire, losing a lot of valuable old china. She lived extravagantly with an expensive wardrobe, including a fur coat. But she never spent the money on cocktails or drink. 37 04 22a & b

Saffron Walden gold chain for Mayoress presented – 37 04 22b

1937 04 23

Fen rivers still rising. 062

Cambs Times: Flood danger reappears – Littleport

The Sanitary Inspector reported on flooding in Sand Street, Soham. The sewer which discharged into the river was nearly choked up with silt and water could only get away very slowly. As it was an old brick drain it would be an expensive and difficult matter to clear and they might have to replace it with a new 12-inch glazed stoneware pipe drain. Soham councillors should inspect it and be given power to arrange for cleaning if considered necessary. 37 04 23

Cambridge bus men vote to strike – 37 04 23a

Wicken wells – 37 04 23b

Opening Ascham Road library, the Mayor said it was a great day for Chesterton. In that beautiful building, with good light and accommodation they could look at the books and select them for themselves. The children's library would encourage youngsters to read. At present physical education was the fashion. We were in danger of producing a nation finely developed from the waist down. The library would help to counteract it. Ten months ago they opened a branch library in Rock Road and so far 87,799 books had been issued, very close to the number at Mill Road branch which had been in existence 40 years. (Applause). 37 04 23c & d # c.77.4

Wm Scott and Son, art decorators and painting opened their new premises in James Street. On the site of the disastrous fire which gutted the old site in July last has arisen one of the most up-to-date works equipped with the very latest plant and materials for high quality motor-body and van repairs, cellulose spraying, painting, lettering, joinery work etc. They are specialists in glass & sign writing, plumbing and repairs to residential and business property and have achieved distinction for the high quality of all work. – Advert. 37 04 23e # c.27

Barwell Tyre Renewing Company – advertiser – 37 04 23f

1937 04 23 ES

Haddenham inquest into motorcycle accident

Imaginary air raid at Ely

A practical demonstration was given of the working of an Air Raid Precaution scheme. At 6:30 warning was given by a loud blast on a siren, intimating the approach of hostile aircraft. A few minutes later, the aircraft came into sight and three bombs were dropped. Needless to say the bombs themselves did no damage at all as they exploded in mid-air. But they helped to make the demonstration realistic. Three detonations were thereupon made on the ground to represent the exploding of bombs on the ground. These were presumed to have been phosgene, mustard gas and high explosive bombs and casualties resulted from each bomb. They were dealt with by the appropriate services wearing the prescribed equipment. The demonstration proved most instructive. 37 04 23ES

Flood danger reappears due to torrential rain 37 04 23(2) ES

Three days ago, it seemed entirely possible that flood conditions would again threaten the safety of the Fens but this time the weather has been a little more favourable. Up to the weekend, the level of the water in the rivers had been steadily dropping. But heavy rains at the weekend resulted in the level rapidly rising. Torrential rain practically all day on Tuesday produced a big jump of seven inches and took the level of the water to four feet four inches above normal and two inches above what is regarded as danger mark. Then fortunately the rain ceased. Providing there is no further heavy downpour the levels will gradually drop. Although the spring tides are now making they are not so high at this period of the year. As a precautionary measure as many of the banks are still in such a precarious state after the floods, it was necessary for men to patrol again on Wednesday evening, though no immediate danger threatened. Meanwhile, work is going on to repair damage done to the banks a month ago. 37 04 23ES

At Stretham Parish Council, Mr. Sadler spoke of the speed of motor vehicles passing through the village. The County Council should be requested to adopt a speed limit. He also raised the question of the narrowness of the road from the end of Green End Road to the allotment gate and agreed the County Surveyor be asked to consider utilising some of the grass verge abutting the road to effect widening improvements. 37 04 23ES

1937 04 24

Hundreds of Cambridge people had to walk to work and home again, or to find lunch in the town, because the bus stoppage at the Eastern Counties Omnibus Company's depot was complete. Not a single bus left and two which arrived from March and Peterborough were met by pickets and not allowed to leave. There was no violence, but men surrounded one bus which attempted to leave on the Chesterton-Station service. No other efforts to take out buses were made. Premier Travel services are not affected. Meanwhile Herbert Robinson have taken delivery of 500 Raleigh bicycles 37 04 24 & a. & c # c.26.46

‘With detectives round the world’ by Frank Longworth – capture at Cambridge of printer of objectionable books – 37 04 24b # c.34.6

1937 04 27

Basque town wiped out, hundreds killed – 37 04 27 # c.45.6

During the Cambridge bus strike a dispute occurred as to whether the Open-Air School bus should go out. Its windscreen was broken and the radiator emptied. One of the strikers said they were willing to let it go provided one of their men drove it. The manager would not agree. The children were eventually taken home in private cars or on a hired motor coach. The bus did not run next morning despite an offer by the Chief Constable to provide a police escort 37 04 27a

1937 04 28

Cambridge Union Society emulated the Oxford refusal to fight for king and country by carrying a motion in favour of complete national disarmament and individual refusal to bear arms. If re-armament were abandoned in the pursuit of peace our economic system would collapse and we would be faced with a military revolution of the property classes on the lines of General Franco. It might involve us in civil war – unless passive resistance was practiced as it had been by Gandhi, opponents warned. 37 04 28 & a # c.45.6 # c.36.92

1937 04 29

Five RAF men were killed when two bombers collided near Methwold. Three machines were flying in V formation when the propeller of one caught the tail of the leading machine. Both ‘planes fell, one bursting into flames and coming down in a field, the other crashing on the bank of the river Wissey. Part of this machine was submerged in the river. Men rushed to help from Wissington Beet Sugar Factory, half a mile away, and tugs were sent up river with tools. Inhabitants of Stoke Ferry saw the planes collide and two men make parachute decent. The squadron only moved to Feltwell from Scampton a few days ago. 37 04 29 # c.26.1

Parts of Newnham College known as ‘The Slums’ include a number of small dark bedrooms which get no light at all and from which the view consists of a blank wall. Owing to congestion and overcrowding these are now used as students’ bed-sitting-rooms. Some bathrooms are used for washing crockery and there is insufficient accommodation for food and coal storage. But some new rooms are large and light with basins fitted with hot and cold water. 37 04 29b # c.44.5

1937 04 30

During the peak of the floods the river in Littleport rose to such an extent that several layers of sandbags were laid along Lynn Road to keep the water in. But a crowd of 250 people in a ‘rough temper’ had started to remove them. They claimed the bags had caused their houses to be flooded out and they didn’t see why others shouldn’t be flooded as well. They’d tried to stop River Board officials replacing them. This was a very serious matter as it would have harmed many people and caused damage in the fen 37 04 30b

£10,000 the cost of the floods. 063

Cambs Times: Floods cost over £10,000

Cambs Times: Sequel to floods – Littleport men fined

1937 04 30 ES

River at Purls Bridge was always full for the benefit of beet barges plus increasing the leakage to the banks. During the recent floods their land at Manea would have been completely flooded had it not been for the Middle Level Engineer opening the doors at Welches Dam and cutting the bank at Well Creek allowing the water to flow into the Middle Level and be cleared at the outlet by the St Germans pumps 37 04 30(2)(3) ES

Cost over £10,000 to put floods right say Littleport and Downham Drainage Commissioners said the 10 Mile River was not a river because it is above the ground level. It is just an elongated tank closed in at one end. There is absolutely no flow in it. The water flows in and fills the tank and gets out if the tide will let it out at Denver, Mr Martin said. The only way to improve the discharge at Denver is by setting one of the banks back and making the river larger to Lynn. But the first thing to be done is to shut out the tides. At Earith the area is flooded to a depth of 114 feet above ordnance datum. The water has been there weeks and weeks and it will remain there because of the state of the Hundred Foot River which is in a shocking condition. With the closing of the Welmore Lake Sluice they are making the wash area of very little value. It has been flooded continually because of the closing of Welmore Lake to save the South Level. The catchwater bank on the north side between the Ely-Littleport road and the river had cracked and slipped, trouble have been averted by holding the foot of the bank by means of bags of gault 37 04 30(6) ES

Bedford Low bank joining the Council's Purls Bridge farm. Manea, had been a source of trouble. The farm joined that bank a dike at the bottom of the bank was always full, although it was entirely cleansed last year. Owing to leakage of water through the bank. The height of water in the river was always maintained at a high level during the autumn for the benefit of beet barges, thus increasing the leakage through the bank. During the recent floods Manea would have been completely flooded had it not been for the act of the Middle Level engineer in opening the doors at Welch's Dam and cutting the bank at Well Creek, allowing the water to flow into the Middle Level and be cleared by the St Germans pumps. A dangerous and disastrous situation would have prevailed had not a system of day and night control been put into Operation

The day would come when the Wash would run over and anyone who was on the bank on the Thursday night at the height of the flood saw the waves coming over the height of a man. It did not seem as if the bank could be saved. Few realised how serious the problem was and how little divided the area from a very great damage and disaster. The place to start improvements was towards the sea. The Middle Level had done right in installing the pumps that serve Germans. But it was a dangerous thing to pump huge volumes of water into the Ouse when the outfall was in a bad state. The vital thing was to improve the outfall from Denver to the sea.

Mr Martin said the Hundrfd Foot River is not a river. There is absolutely no flow in it. It is just an elongated tank and an elevated tank because it is above the ground level. The water flows in that one end and fills the tank and gets out if the tide will let it at Denver. The tide fall between Earith and Denver is infinitesimal, the river is dead water. It is an elevated tank really acting as a reservoir to take any water when there is abundance and to put it out when there is a chance.

What we want to aim at is the enlargement of that reservoir. If we can get a wash to take the Ten Mile 'tank' waters in the same way as the Welney Wash takes those of the Hundred Foot in time of flood you would have a reservoir between the Wissey and the Nar which could be discharged somewhere about St Germans. The Ten Mile 'tank' stores up water at time of high floods and discharges at time of low floods. The only difficulty is that the storage reservoir is not large enough. Besides Denver sluice there is St. John's Folly, a river which used to take the Stoke Ferry water. It was never banked in properly. If it is possible to make another river from that point to come out near St Germans you would only have one bank to make and it could make that into a good river and save the situation for years.

We have gone to the third worst floods that have ever been known and are fortunate some banks have not gone.

At Earith the whole of the area is flooded. The water has been there weeks and weeks and will still remain there because of the state of the Hundred Foot River which is in a shocking condition and until something is done they will get no relief in the upper reaches above Earith.

With the closing of the Welmore Lake Sluice they are making the wash area of very, very little value. This is a very serious position to be in. It has been flooded continually because of the closing of the Welmore Lake Sluice to save the South Level.

Sir Frederick Hiam said: I think we are very fortunate indeed that we did not have a big catastrophe during the last three months. Although we have had an exceptional rainfall and we have had no really great rains, and that is what has saved us, just allowing the water to get away and keeping our banks up.

During the flood the main catchwater bank on the north side between the Ely- Littleport road and the river had cracked and slipped. At one time it had been in a very dangerous position, but trouble had been averted by holding the foot of the bank by means of bags of gault. The slip was 55 yards long. Riotous scenes in Littleport during the Western floods had a sequel at Ely Police Court when three men appeared accused of removing stones from the bank of the river at Littleport and interfering with the bank. In March the water level rose and the South Levels were holding all water possible to save the fens from destruction. Owing to the rise in water level, it became necessary for three or four layers of bags containing earth and gault to be placed alongside the Lynn Road near the railway crossing. The men began to remove the bags, causing a tremendous stream of water to pour across the road. Police tried to put back the bags displaced. Mr. Martin sent a lorry and police reinforcements arrived. The bags were replaced and order restored. The acts were as a result of mob rule and threatened serious damage to the fens. The motive seemed to be that an employer was flooded and he did not see why others should not be flooded. Mr Cox's motive seemed to have been that water was surrounding his shop and house and he wanted to relieve the pressure by removing the bags near the station yard. If the bags had been removed, it would have been very serious due to the fact that the pumping engine at Ten Mile Bank had stopped. The crops would have been damaged and there would have been too much water for the engine to deal with. The men were fined. 37 04 30ES

Eastern Counties Buses hit by strike men attached to the Ely depot. In common with 300 employees at Cambridge and several thousand other bus men, they have ceased work in an endeavour to obtain the same terms of those of Eastern National employees. A notice was sent by Mr. A.E. Stubbs of the Transport and General Workers Union urging members not to withdraw their labour. Relations with the company have never been more favourable in the interests of the men than now. They should not be misled by persons who have no connection with the transport passenger industry and are then you for the purpose of creating industrial strife. In all the Ely depot including St Ives and Soham out-stations employs 26 men and apart from one driver and the inside staff they are, they all came out on strike. The Company employs two fitters, one greaser and one cleaner at Ely. Owing to the strike the greaser and cleaner have had to be stood off, but they still employed the two fitters full-time overhauling the buses. The bus company had contracted to convey the Ely City Football Club team to and from away matches and a bus which took them to Cottenham was stopped twice on the road by strike pickets. But after explaining the position, it was allowed to proceed. On Sunday a bus driven the Cambridge Road towards the city found a cordon of drivers and conductors formed across the road. It drove straight on and the cordon, shattered. The strikers then followed the bus to Market Street where they were in conversation with the driver. Eventually, it was decided not to operate the service between Ely and Chatteris. The strikers declared that they would not allow another bus from March to go back. But it was agreed that if it went private, meaning that no passengers would be picked up. the men agreed to the bus returning to its home depot. 37 04 30

Mr and Mrs Jubal Crow of Green End Stretham celebrate golden wedding. Were married at Stretham and have lived in the same house all their married life. They have 11 children and four grandchildren, Photo 37 04 30(7) ES

Sequel to flood incidents. Littleport men fined for removing stones from the bank of the river at Littleport causing a stream of water to pour across the road. Police were sent and the bags replaced and order restored. The employer was flooded and he did not see why others should not be flooded. Mr Cox's shop was surrounded by water and he wanted to relieve the pressure 37 04 30(8) ES

R.A.F. forced landing at March,

The pilot of an RAF single seater Hawker Fury machine had a miraculous escape from the injury when making a forced landing in the field adjoining the March-Ely railway at Horsemoor crossing March. The machine cut the top off a small tree on one side of the road, demolished a tree in passing under the telephone wires on the other side, ploughed to the hedge, hit the ground and slewed completely round buckling the wings and undercarriage and wrenching the tail-skid round. Yet the pilot was unhurt! 37 04 30ES # c.26.1

Marshall's Aerodrome's special fire engine meets Air Ministry specifications for fire, first-aid and crash equipment. It is finished in fire engine red and black, the front seats are upholstered in best selected black hide and fitted with outsized fire and alarm bells. It is designed to meet any possible emergency with an impulse magneto which, together with the dash carburettor flooders and emergency gravity feed petrol tank ensures instant and easy starting in all weathers. 37 04 30 # c.26.1 # c.34.75

Mepal seat damaged – 37 04 30a

May 1937 CDN & Ely Standard

1937 05 01

The Cambridge bus strike is developing into a test of endurance and there seems little that can be done to bring about a settlement. Motorists, with seats to spare, have expressed a desire to help but are not clear how to set about it. The C.D.N. has therefore had a large number of labels printed bearing a blue cross which, when attached to a windscreen, will show willingness to pick up fellow townspeople going in the same direction who may desire a lift. People should stand at the ordinary bus stops and raise a hand if they see a car approaching. The labels may be obtained free at the News office 37 05 01

RAF stations open for Empire Day, Sutton Bridge – 37 05 01a

During Empire Air Day Sutton Bridge RAF Station will be open to the public. The visitors will see the bombing with flour bag 'bombs' of a moving car by attacking fighter aircraft, individual and synchronised aerobatics and attacks on a target towed in the air. An attack on the ground target by an aircraft using its front gun and the demonstration by a machine picking up packages from the ground whilst in flight will be amongst the other events. On the ground, as in the air interesting, programmes will be arranged. Visitors will be able to inspect different types of aircraft and to see engines, bombs, armaments and parachute and photographic exhibits. They will be able to walk around the buildings and technical sections which will be open and to see the daily life and work of the service at first hand. 37 05 01

1937 05 03

The Rural Community Council's new advisory service for parish councils was launched at Cambridgeshire House. Burrough Green, Caxton, Cotton, Gt Chishill, Newton and Longstowe were amongst 18 councils whose wish to affiliate were received. 37 05 03

Labour Party's May Day demonstration on Parker's Piece, 500 marches – 37 05 03a & b # c.33 # c.39

1937 05 07 ES

The bus strike affects congregation at young people's service

Unemployment centre closes for summer

John Knight retires after 44 years at cemetery

Stretham coronation celebrations program 37 05 07 ES

Sutton proposals for traffic island Brook Lane 37 05 07(2)ES

1937 05 04

Busmen march – photo – 37 05 04a #

1937 05 06

Cambridge councillors voted against the erection of a municipal crematorium. The practice was confined to a very small proportion of the population – only two percent – and it was undemocratic to call on the mass of ratepayers to foot the bill, especially when it was the well-to-do who used such a service. A crematorium was being erected by a private company and this would be entirely sufficient, there was no need for two. If the council had money to spend, they should erect an indoor swimming bath which would be a paying proposition 37 05 06 # c.21.2

1937 05 07

Bottisham Village College was opened by the President of the Board of Education. During the day the college houses 240 scholars in the senior school with a provided for the county library which will be used by students at evening classes. The warden's house and a house for women members of staff occupy a site opposite the main building. Adjacent is the junior school with a nursery for the under-fives and the Sir Hailey Stewart Clinic for the medical inspection of pupils. 37 05 07 & a

Four members of George Challice's Band had a remarkable escape from serious injury. They were being driven back to Cambridge from a dance at the new Bottisham Village College when their car, a Riley Nine, skidded on the wet road, caught the verge and somersaulted several times. It finished up on the road with the wheels in the air. The occupants scrambled out with considerable difficulty. When an attempt was made to right the car, it fell to pieces. 37 05 07b # c.69.2

1937 05 07 ES

The bus strike affects congregation at young people's service

Unemployment centre closes for summer

John Knight retires after 44 years at cemetery

Stretham coronation celebrations program 37 05 07 ES

Sutton proposals for traffic island Brook Lane 37 05 07(2)ES

1937 05 08

During the last three months as much rain fell on the high lands as fell on the fen land. There has been much more damage to the high lands than ever was done to the fens and thousands of acres will never have a spring crop sown this year. The damage to the high lands is many thousands, compared to the fenlands' shillings and pence. But the Middle Level fen men put up a very fine advertising stunt, they are the finest Press agents that ever were and a tremendous lot of rot had been written about what had happened in the fens, Councillors were told. 37 05 08 # c.29

1937 05 10

Remarkably fine silken embroideries have been prepared for the embellishment of the thrones to be used at the Coronation of their Majesties King George VI and Queen Elizabeth. The King's throne is adorned with the Royal Arms while the Queen's also carried her newly-granted Bowes Lyon arms. The Cambridge Tapestry Company was entrusted with the work of embroidering the backs of the thrones. All the preliminary drawings on linen were made in Cambridge and the work was completed at the company's premises at Ickleford, near Hitchin 37 05 10 # c.27

1937 05 11

It came as something of a surprise to most Cambridge people to find buses on the streets again after a strike of 17 days. When the Eastern Counties Omnibus garage doors opened on Hills Road pedestrians and even motorists stopped to see what would happen. Then drivers and conductors appeared in uniform. Managers say the men have returned to work unconditionally and there would be no victimisation; every man would be reinstated except those who had caused wilful damage to buses. 37 05 11 # c.26.46

Coronation programme – 37 05 11a # c.02

1937 05 12

Coronation Celebration rejoicing – 37 05 12a # c.02

Cambridge celebrated the coronation of King George V with a decorated vehicle display on Midsummer Common. The entries hardly reached the standard of the Jubilee procession and the crowds did not seem to be quite so thick, but the right spirit was present. Modern decorations in the shape of coloured electric bulbs and weatherproof materials were utilised to the full with triple garlands spanning Market Hill and central streets. The war memorial and the colleges were bathed with floodlighting 37 05 12b # c.02

St Ives Coronation procession, man dies – 37 05 12

At the Coronation celebrations one small tent attracted probably more interest than any other with the possible exception of the tea tent. It contained a Pye television apparatus and during the afternoon many availed themselves of the opportunity of seeing the actual Coronation procession taking place. Although Cambridge is almost out of range of Alexandra Palace, everything came through very well. Almost the only interference was experienced when the motor racing was being held in the area only a few yards away 37 05 12b # c.02 # c.27.8

193705 13

Coronation tv, p5

1937 05 14

Ely coronation celebrations – 37 05 14

1937 05 14 ES

Coronation celebrations George VI and Queen Elizabeth. Ely activities. photographs coronation celebrations

Scenes of patriotism and pageantry marked the Coronation of Their Majesties King George VI and Queen Elizabeth. Ely streets were lavishly decorated with flags, festoons and bunting with bands playing and people singing and imposing processions marched through the main thoroughfares. A very disappointing, was that the Clerk of the Weather was on his worst behaviour with a strong downpour which continued unabated through the afternoon, which detracted from the enjoyment of the activities.

There was an early morning procession to the Cathedral and every one of the seats were filled with the assembly overflowing the aisles and choir stalls. Almost every enemy family was represented. Over 1,000 children enjoyed a happy time at the tea in the Corn Exchange where they were regaled with bread and butter, fruit salad, potted meat sandwiches and cake.

A minstrel party gave some of the best entertainment of the day. The may rain may have ruined their acts and washed away a good deal with their black paint, but it failed to dampen their spirits. They generally played the fool and forgot the rain.

Residents of Soham Fen held their own celebrations with a fancy dress parade, the competitors headed by an accordion band met at the Jolly Farmer Inn and paraded to Mr. Ezra Books' spacious garage which was prettily decorated, and some 320 people sat down to an excellent cold luncheon. At Sutton there were last minute-changes in the plans; it was decided to abandon field and marquee and to stage festivities at the school. Within two hours, a winning band of workers stacked away desks and transformed the building into a beflagged hall with row behind row of flower-bedecked tables. Festivities commenced with a grand Carnival parade.

Stretham fancy dress parade was carried through and sports arranged for the children. But as the evening sports had to be abandoned, a whist drive was held in the Mixed School and a dance in the Infants' School. 37 05 14ES

Sutton coronation celebrations,

Mepal coronation celebrations

Stretham carnation celebrations: weather spoilt activities, fancy dress parade and sports for children arranged. Was tea for adults - 37 05 14(2)ES

Girl Guides at Ely. 1100 March through almost deserted streets to service at cathedral

1937 05 15

Chesterton church bells silent on Coronation Day – 37 05 15

Mayor's coronation medal, Cambridgeshire Regiment return from duty in London – 37 05 15a

1937 05 17

A police cordon was thrown round the Regal Cinema in the early hours of Sunday morning after PC Parker saw a man's head out of a bottom floor window. Two men ran away; one was brought down with a rugby tackle by a passing cyclist, Arthur Wright, another punched Inspector Witham with a knuckleduster. One was alleged to have packets of gelignite in his possession, another was found with fuse detonators. Later Scotland Yard's Flying Squad arrested a fifth man. 37 05 17a # c.34.6 # c.76.9

Crown Prince of Japan visits Cambridge – 37 05 18 # c.02

1937 05 19

Spanish children, p5

1937 05 20

Chesterton RDC told an inspector that the parishes of Histon, Impington and Girton together with Shelford and Stapleford were provided with a piped water supply but were entirely unsewered, although some properties were connected to surface water drains that discharged into watercourses passing through the inhabited parts of the parishes. The development of building estates had given rise to cess-pool areas of considerable magnitude with the danger of pollution of the sub-soil. The pumping plants would be electrically driven and would not spoil the appearance of the countryside, there would be no smell unless one broke down. But nearby house owners claimed they might have an effect on the value of properties 37 05 20 & a

Sir - What we have come to know as the Cambridge War Memorial was part of a three-fold memorial scheme which embraced a substantial grant to Addenbrooke's Hospital for extension work, a complete record in Ely Cathedral of the names of local men killed in the war or who died from wounds and the monument at the junction of Station Road. This was to commemorate all Cambridgeshire infantry and should be 'To Victory'. It was not to be a memorial to the dead but to the living. It is for this reason that we who pass the memorial do not lift our hats as we do at the Cenotaph in London – E.W.R. 37 05 20 # c.45.5 # c.62

1937 05 21

Stretham Parade Committee was favoured with a fine day for their annual event for charity, for the first time for several years. The parade was marshalled at the Cross by Messrs P.G. Lowe, P.W. Hazel and PC Boulton and, headed by Haddenham Silver Band, marched off on the tour of the village. The Parade Committee's banner was followed by a van decorated by ladies of the Nursing Association. Afterwards the procession formed up again at the Cross for a service conducted by the Vicar, Rev. S.S. Stitt, who was supported on the platform by the Rev A.R. Routledge, A. Westrupp and E. Stevens 37 05 21

1937 05 21 ES

Strange to relate, umbrellas were not needed at Stretham Feast Parade on Sunday, for after many years, the village's charity workers were able to stage their annual effort in fine weather. In the past, it has been usual to write of delays and postponement owing to rain. But in Sunday, the 1937 parade went off according to plan. A splash of colour was provided by the Charity Committee's banner. There was one gaily decorated motor lorry loaned by Messrs Wright Brothers, carrying nearly a score of children attired in various styles of fancy dress. Mounted on a bicycle which had been converted into a realistic model of an aeroplane, Maurice Thulborn completed the procession. 37 05 21ES

1937 05 22

A wages tribunal was told that agriculture in the Isle of Ely was totally different from Cambridgeshire; the soil was more productive, the crops were apt to be heavier, the type of agriculture was more profitable. And yet there was a uniformed rate of wages for workers in both areas. Budgets were considered of families from Castle Camps, Swavesey and March where the father of a family of five earned only 35s 6d a week clear; he'd had no Sunday suit or boots for six years 37 05 22 & a

Tradesmen's token issued by Thomas Powell Cambridge 1666 – 37 05 22b

1937 05 24

Basque refugees alarmed by military aeroplanes flying over their camp nr Southampton – 37 05 24 # c.45.6

An inquest into a worker at Shepreth Cement Works was told that trucks were let down into a tunnel under the lime clamps to be filled. Deceased had been clearing lime that was blocking the rail when he had been hit by a loaded truck that had run back after a rope broke. There was a clearance of six inches between the track and the wall with recesses in which a man could stand. A normal person would have heard the truck coming, but the man was more than slightly deaf. A verdict of 'Accidental Death' was recorded 37 05 24a

1937 05 26

A Melbourn grocer and provision merchant told the bankruptcy court that he'd been employed as a grocer's assistant by his father who'd died 40 years ago. He then left Melbourn but returned in 1905 to assist his uncle who was carrying on the business. It had been successful until 1922 when it was wound up. He'd then started as a grocer at the Cross but after three years the competition became too severe through the opening of other premises offering a dividend. He'd also collected fares for an omnibus company which he'd not accounted for. 37 05 26 grocer was Oscar C. Campkin

Bandstand, p5

1937 05 27

Aerial photo, p5

Congregationalism in Cambridge during C17 – history – 37 05 27a # c.83

1937 05 28

A.P. Herbert's Marriage Bill on divorce backed by University MP – 37 05 28

Ouse Catchment Board discuss floods and dredging river – 37 05 28a & b

Wimbish farm blaze – 37 05 28c

1937 05 28 ES

Ely Public Room Cinema

A large audience applauded the first public showing of Mirrophonic Sound at the Public Room Cinema, Ely. The excellent opportunity for the full beauty of this sound was provided by the main feature film, 'Meet Nero Wolfe' and 'Caught by Television'. But probably the best results were revealed by the test film which clearly demonstrated the wonderful range of sound, from the hush of a whispered conversation to the terrifying roars of deep sea explosions, which literally vibrated the building. The sparkling clarity of the dialogue aroused much enthusiasm and the delicacy with which it reproduced the subtle sound effects was quite amazing. The brilliance of the musical sequences too was especially appreciated. Comments in the foyer afterward showed how much patrons of the public room appreciated the latest advances in film technique. 37 05 20(2)ES

1937 05 29

Within the next few weeks about thirty Basque children brought to England following the terrible air raids at Bilbao and Gernika will be arriving in Cambridge. They will be taken to Pampisford Vicarage where the children will remain for at least six months being looked after by volunteers from the University. As they are destitute provisions must be made for their welfare and beds, boots and clothes are required. 37 05 29 # c.45.6

Sir – today I wandered down to Christ's Pieces. Hearing the band I came to the entrance and behold there was a sign 'Admittance 3d'. I am told that an ancient footpath crosses there. But it must be kept select or perhaps a poor woman with her pram might mix with the few who have paid their threepence. Besides poor people cannot be expected to enjoy the music of a band. The hedge around the bandstand is thick enough to protect those inside from the gaze of the vulgar crowd. So we listened and looked at the band from the street. Cambridge knows how to keep the common herd in their place. But did I not hear somebody say that the people, not the council, own the park? – Canadian 37 05 29a # c.32.3 # c.69

Bull's diary has cowsheds behind shop in Hills Road – advertisers – 37 05 29a # c.27

1937 05 31

About 2,000 people gathered on Grange Road Rifle Range to see a display of first aid by the British Red Cross Society under air raid conditions. Three bombers from Duxford took part in the raid, exactly as though on active service. As they dived at speeds of 240 mph there were realistic bangs and clouds of smoke. People in the area rushed about screaming and collapsed wounded or from the effects of the gas. When the raid was over the rescue parties, clad in gas masks and decontamination suits commenced work. A musketry party fired on the 'planes during the raid 37 05 31 # c.45.6

Glorious sunshine and the tree-shaded beauty of Impington Park should have promised a record number of spectators at the County Agricultural Show. But attendance was well down. The reason was the Empire Air Display at Duxford Aerodrome – this is notoriously a mechanical age! But there was always something to see with cattle, sheep and goats coming under the judges' eye. His Majesty the King gained several prizes for his sheep from the Sandringham estate while both Chivers and Messrs Towgoods of Sawston had many entries in the pig classes. 37 05 31a

June 1937 CDN & Ely Standard

1937 06 01

The King of Egypt arrived in Cambridge on the first visit he has paid to the town. He had been expected at Clare College at about six o'clock but was late as he'd waited for His mother, the Queen, who'd booked a suite at the University Arms Hotel. The King strolled about Regent Street and visited Barbara Fuller's dog shop where he purchased a wire fox terrier puppy which he played with in the college. Very few people knew of his visit which was to meet Egyptian students. About twenty were introduced to him, many being members of the Pharaohs Club. 37 06 01b # c.02

Regal cinema raid – more details 37 06 01& a # c.76.9

1937 06 02

An R.A.F. Empire Day display saw hundreds flock to Wyton for their first close-up view of the splendid new air station and the machinery and men behind it. The display consisted of aerobatics by two Hinds, demonstrations by a Blenheim and by an instructor in a Tudor aircraft who showed the right and wrong way of flying. Three Gauntlets flew formation aerobatics and a plane loaded with bags of flour staged a low bombing attack on a motor car. Wyton's debut was a success in every way and there was not a single casualty of any kind. 37 06 02

1937 06 03

Ely Cathedral – 'such neglect should not exist' – 37 06 03

1937 06 04

The sale of building land in St Peter's Road Huntingdon is being held up because of a lack of proper sewage. Builders are only waiting for a decision on the extension of the sewerage scheme before putting the land up for auction. But the council had not said how much owners would have to contribute to the cost of £393. Councillors decided to ask the Ministry to sanction the scheme provided owners made a contribution if and when the land was built upon. A similar resolution was passed with regard to Anchor Lane. 37 06 04

Southery coal merchant trading at Littleport – 37 06 04

1937 06 04 ES

Sutton extracts from old farm ledgers kept by Thomas Faux Upsher 37 06 04(2)ES

Stretham

Bowls green to be opened

Accident to Joan Soar, employed at Stretham rectory; cycling into rectory gates when in collision with a car.

Coronation committee meeting on provision of coronation seats; seven to be erected: two in Main street, one on recreation ground, two on Old Cambridge Road, one on Wilburton Road opposite the R.A.C. box and one on Ely Road

1937 06 05

The Cambridge Town Magazine, 'The Cam' comes to an end this month with its sixth number. It had hoped to give readers a better appreciation of the town, take an interest in current affairs and emphasise the importance of local trade. But there was a meagre response and it has not been a financial success. The final issue has an article on Cambridge in the '90s, the benefactors of Addenbrooke's Hospital and Cambridge post office. Illustrations include a drawing by H.M. Brock 'Start of the Mays' and a sketch of Ald Mrs Keynes 37 06 05 # c.04

1937 06 08

Radio Society set ups radio station near windmill at St Ives – 37 06 08

Many Cambridge Youth Hostellers attended the opening by Prof Trevelyan of a new hostel at Castle Hedingham, one of the most beautiful villages in Essex. It was an old malting house now transformed to accommodate 12 men and eight women with a large common room and a well-equipped kitchen with separate gas rings for cooking. Electric lighting has also been installed. It is the second hostel opened by the Cambridge Group which has been in existence for two years. 37 06 08a

1937 06 09

Emperor of Abyssinia at Trinity – 37 06 09 # c.02

A meeting at Cambridge Guildhall to raise funds for the Basque children's hostel at Pampisford brought several promises of 'adopting' children by guaranteeing fifteen shillings a week. There will be 29 young refugees at Pampisford Vicarage and volunteers were needed to do cleaning, carpentry and plumbing. Leah Manning described the terrible tragedy of Guernica and the conditions in Bilbao where everyone from the President to the poorest refugee had only black bread, coarse cabbage and a little rice to eat. 37 06 09a & b 37 06 12a # c.45.6

1937 06 10

The new headquarters of the Cambridge branch of the Royal Empire Society was opened at Harper House. The British Empire had been going through a period of depression and almost apologetic inertia 37 06 10

Nine men who worked on the fen banks at Soham Lode during the recent floods appeared in court charged with stealing a shovel each, the property of the Great Ouse Catchment Board. Several of the men said they had lost their own shovels and took another as 'compensation'. One said he had picked one up and taken it home, burying it in a sack in his back garden after he'd been told he would not get any money for his work. The Board had bought extra shovels which had been handed out before being branded; about 40 had gone missing along with 30 lanterns. 37 06 10a # c.29

The reconstruction of four bridges, Popeleys Bridge (Wisbech), Slade Lode Bridge (Chatteris). Brands Bridge and Benwick Bridge will be deferred as contractors cannot obtain the necessary steel for the work. But estimates the reconstruction of the road between Littleport Bridge and Brandon Creek were accepted by the Isle of Ely council. An application by Stretham Parish Council for a speed limit through the village and the widening of the Fordham Road near Green End was granted. 37 06 10b

1937 06 11

Coads, p3

1937 06 11 ES

Majestic cinema new sound system to be fitted 37 06 11ES

The Majestic Cinema, Ely is being equipped with the latest B.T.H sound system and kalee projectors recognised as one of the best in the trade. E.J. Drake is the new manager of the Majestic and also of the Palace Cinema, Chatteris. 37 06 11ES

Stretham bowls green official opening & photo 37 06 11(3)(4)

Stretham Bowls Club green, one of the two in the county where ladies and men can be seen playing side by side, was officially opened. The club was formed at the end of 1935. The green has taken nearly 18 months to complete. The pavilion was the gift of the club's President Mr. O.P. Drever. He said he could remember a time 50 years ago when Stretham had a cricket team which could take down picked teams from Cambridge colleges and saw no reason why it should not possess a bowls team in the very near future to equal many crack teams in the county. 37 06 11ES

Steel shortages hold up bridge buildings at Benwick, Chatteris, and Wisbech St Mary

The difficulty of obtaining steel suppliers owing to the demand or the re-armament programme. The County Council will defer schemes for the reconstruction of bridges at Benwick, Brand's bridge & Lode bridge Chatteris, and Popeley's bridge Wisbech St Mary. 37 06 11 ES

Application received from Stretham Parish Council for speed limit through the village. There are two right hand bend and two schools. Also drew attention to narrowness of the Stretham to Fordham Road near Green End and the Surveyor reported that as there was ample verge available the road could be widened under ordinary maintenance

Consider improvement of the Littleport to Brandon Creek Road 16 was submitted 37 06 11(2)ES

1937 06 12

Millers audio equipment at Agricultural Show – 37 06 12

Leah Manning, p3

1937 06 14

The picturesque Rose Queen Festival which has become such a charming feature in Hardwick took place in a field on the outskirts of the village. A procession formed at the school and, accompanied by a percussion band of school children, paraded to the flower-bedecked platform erected under an ancient elm. There the retiring queen (Mary Dodson) gracefully relinquished her crown to her successor (Iris Kelly). The new monarch seated herself upon the throne, the toy trumpeters sounded a fanfare and everyone cheered. 37 06 14

George Hawkins, the Cambridge caterer, and his wife both sustained injuries in a motor accident. He was driving along Trumpington Street when one of the car wheels got into the run at the side of the road and the car collided with a lamp post. Another accident occurred at Pampisford Railway Station cross-roads when a van plunged down an eight-foot bank after a collision. The driver, Mr T.H. Marriott, a Duxford butcher, was trapped. When extricated it was found he had suffered a severe scalp wound and other injuries. 37 06 14a

1937 06 15

Car struck a telephone kiosk on Trumpington Road smashing it so completely that only the base remained; the roof land upside-down some distance away – photo – 37 06 15 # c.27.75

1937 06 16

Isleham has no public water supply and the inhabitants are dependent on private sources. These consist of shallow wells in the chalk varying in depth from 10 to 45 feet. There were about 160 of them situated close to houses. Samples taken for analysis from wells in the old chalk pit containing 40 houses, show most were unsafe for drinking purposes. Others were liable to pollution. The refuse from pail water closets was disposed of upon garden ground or allotments. But the borehole for Ely Waterworks was near the railway bridge and the water main supplying the Ely rural district passed through the village. 37 06 16

1937 06 17

The RDC scheme for the collection of unburnable rubbish attracted criticism. In the old parts of Burwell the lanes were very narrow and it was doubtful the lorry could get along. Some houses had been left and in others the receptacle had been taken as well. The parish had turned down a cheap scheme which worked well for a dear one that didn't. But Barway and the Fen had help to pay for collection in the past and would now be part of the scheme. The outskirts of Soham would be cleared and the dump shifted to a covered dump at Fordham. In the old area collections were made so casually that to call them collections was an absurdity. 37 06 17

1937 06 18

The Tyre Service Company claims to be one of the oldest tyre firms in Britain. Commencing in Norfolk in 1902 it moved to Cambridge in 1919 and carried on business at Pound Hill and Jesus Lane. Through constant expanding business they have transferred to more extensive premises in Burleigh Street where they carry the largest and most comprehensive stock of motor tyres in the Eastern Counties, including a full range of Dunlop, Goodyear, Indian, Firestone and all leading makes 37 06 18 # c.26.48

A crowd of several hundred people gathered at Cambridge station to welcome the Basque children refugees who are to be cared for at the Pampisford hostel. They travelled from Southampton in a special coach, arriving tired and a little awed. Gradually smiles were to be seen on their faces when they heard an interpreter repeat the welcome in their own language. Then they got down to tea, with plenty of cakes and bananas, before setting off to Pampisford by car 37 06 18a & b # c.45.6

Careless driving at Stretham dismissed – 37 06 18a

1937 06 18 ES

Are fen pumping stations rateable. Test case. Pumping stations used entirely for agricultural purposes
37 06 18 & (2)(3)ES

1937 06 19

A conference delegate described his college room: "It was well lighted, but the walls were covered with a chilly blue 'distemper'. The grate had a dreadful purple plaque surround with a horrid mantelpiece and neither the carpet nor tablecloth was clean. As for the bedroom, few servants would have tolerated its meanness; three things were cracked or broken. For closet or bath a man had to go out and round the quad, through a passage and some distance further to a huddle of buildings where baths, w.c.s and urinal were all ill-kept. It is doubtful if the taps had been cleaned since they were put in". 37 06 19 # c.27.5

1937 06 23

Sir - The 29 Basque refugee children are now settled in the Vicarage at Pampisford after their ordeal in Spain. There have been heavy initial expenses in creating a home in an unfurnished house not designed for the purpose and insufficiently provided with sanitation. Several firms have supplied goods free or at cost prices and individuals have given their labour in repairing, paintings and cleaning the Vicarage. We hope to employ a cook-housekeeper and charwoman as well as a part-time gardener to grow vegetables for the winter - F.M. Cornford. 37 06 23 # c.45.6

Stonea bus accident - 37 06 23a

1937 06 24

Fatal air crash at Fen Ditton kills Horningsea man - 37 06 24 & a # c.26.1

Cherry Hinton British Legion hut - 37 06 24a 37 06 28b

Bus stopping places not to be used by cars - 37 06 24b

Darby of Sutton operating without haulage licence. 37 06 24c & d

1937 06 25

Society for the Blind annual report - 37 06 25

1937 06 25 ES

History of the fens lecture by County Librarian

Schemes for elimination of the bend in the Isle 37 06 25&(2)ES

Ely a bright spot in Guiding

1937 06 28

Huntingdonshire Agricultural Committee says that Air Raid precautions would be futile if there was a terrible shortage of food and there was never more than four weeks' supply at any time. Large areas of land have gone out of cultivation and fertility is decreasing as farmers do not maintain agricultural equipment. There has been a continued drift of skilled agricultural workers into urban occupations and this harvest there would be an awful shortage of labour. The farmers must get a fair price for his product. 37 06 28

Anglers say River Lark polluted by Bury Sugar Beet Factory - 37 06 28a

1937 06 30

The Nazi salute was given as German ex-prisoners of war honoured Cambridge's war dead. Members of the Reichsvereinigung Ehem from Kriegsgefangener marched to the memorial where the ranks of local British Legion standard bearers were joined by the German standard-bearer, carrying the Nazi flag. While standards were dipped, one of the visitors placed a laurel wreath on the memorial as members of the German party gave the fascist salute. They then left for a civic reception at the Guildhall. 37 06 30 & a & b 112.80 # c.45.6

Stapleford fire 'Summerdale' - 37 06 30c

Regal cinema raid convictions – 37 06 30d # c.76.9

July 1937 CDN & Ely Standard

1937 07 02

The new Heath Laundry on Exeter Road Newmarket is housed in an entirely new building with architectural pretensions and is light and airy. The water is naturally hard by softeners have been installed and the machinery reduces the amount of wear and tear to a minimum. A special department is devoted to dry cleaning using non-inflammable fluid which preserves the brilliancy of the colours, something very important in the case of ladies' garments. The girls employed are resident in the town where there is little work for them apart from domestic service and shops 37 07 02

Magistrates heard that the Old Guinea public house in Russell Street was redundant: it sold a little over two barrels of beer a week and there were nine other premises within 400 yards. The Star Brewery was happy for it to close. But brewers Greene King opposed the closure of the The Rabbit in Gold Street. It was a nice clean little house and they had recently made alterations and repairs. It was close to the Burleigh Arms in Burleigh Street and they would not oppose closing that instead. This was agreed. 37 07 02 & a # c.27.4.

Dales brewery modernised with new bottling units and pure air plant; group photo – 37 07 02c # c.27.41

1937 07 02 ES

Registration of births deaths and marriages started 100 years ago.

One hundred years ago there started in this country the system of registration of births, deaths and marriages. For the whole of that period, the registration in the Littleport district has been undertaken by members of one family. Mr Elliott M. Cheeseright, the present registrar says his father Robert Cheeseright, who lived in the Old Post Office in Main Street was Registrar of births and deaths from July 1st 1837 until his death on March 9th 1869, when he was succeeded by his son Mr. Morley who remained in office until March 12th 1882. He was the first member of the family to be appointed Registrar of marriages so far as the Littleport side of the Ely district was concerned. That appointment dated from 1872, previous to which there was no need for a registrar of marriages in Littleport as the parish had no buildings licenced for weddings Mr. Henry Cheeseright was the next registrar and he remained in office until October 6th 1905 when the present registrar, his son, succeeded him. Mr. Elliott, M. Cheeseright is of course still filling that position and his tenure is the longest, exceeding that of his grandfather.

The district covers Littleport and Little Downham and during the past 65 years, members of his family had attended no fewer than 479 weddings. There had been over 10,000 deaths and the number of births registered amounted to over 18,000

Mr Cheeseright has been connected with six national censuses, starting in 1881. There was a fall between 1871 and 1881 when there was a strike during which a lot of labourers left Littleport for the north while Messrs Hope Brothers' Shirt Factory was established between 1881 and 1891 when the population rose by 626. The slight decline in 1921 he attributed to the Great War. 37 07 02

At the time of the coronation celebrations in May, there was an epidemic of measles in Prickwillow and the children were prevented from joining in any festivities. Part of the money collected was put on one side and on Friday the children were given their treat, a day that they will always remember. The majority were pleased that their celebrations had been postponed for whereas on Coronation Day, arrangements were marred by rain, Friday it was perfect day indeed. Each child obtained a Coronation Medal. There was a tea for 133 mothers and their babies with another for 135 children of school age. Wicken Coronation Silver Prize Band led a parade through the village with a number of children with decorated bicycles. It was followed by children's sports. 37 07 02ES

1937 07 03

Model warship, HMS Repulse, to visit – 37 07 03

1937 07 07

Elm disease has attacked some of the trees along the Backs at Cambridge. Some have been topped and others are definitely going bad. But experts believe the disease is not so serious as first feared. A number of trees have recovered and there is no need to be in a hurry to fell those which have been affected. At Sheep's Green and Coe Fen the trees are chiefly willows but some are not as happy as they might be. They could be replaced by cricket bat willows which are pretty trees and the most profitable grown at present, a Forestry expert told Rotarians. 37 07 07b # c.18

Aerial photo centred over Shire Hall – 37 07 07

Charges levied by the Huntingdon Town Clerk for acting as the Council's solicitor for securing ejectment orders in respect of houses served with demolition orders were described as 'exorbitant' by a councillor. It cost them £5.5s.8d to gain possession of a house rented at 2s.6d a week with another 14 guineas to pull the house down. The Mayor pointed out that the Town Clerk was only a part-time servant and when he did solicitor's work he was entitled to solicitor's costs. The charges were recoverable from house owners. The great difficulty was having to turn people into the street and owners naturally postponed the evil day as long as possible 37 07 07a

Newmarket Dip Swimming Baths were robbed of money, cigarettes, two bottle openers, some chocolates and a key to the ladies' cloakroom. Police found a painter asleep in the waiting room of Six Mile Bottom railway station. He was in possession of the missing items together with an invoice that had been in the till. The man said he had been working at a fair in London and bought the cigarettes for a stall. He had taken a train to Ely, then walked to Newmarket where he'd found a brown paper parcel containing the items. He's been deported from Canada and had numerous convictions for theft. He was sentenced to 18 months hard labour 37 07 07b

1937 07 08

Cambridge student's fruiting campaign silver jubilee – photograph – 37 07 08

1937 07 09

Franciscan Brotherhood leaving from St Ives – photo – 37 07 09

1937 07 09 ES

Dog in the Doublet sluice ready for opening 37 07 09 &(2)ES

March may have an Aero club.

Efforts to form an Aero Club in March on the lines of the organisation already in existence in Ely may be brought to a successful conclusion in the near future. Mr. H.R. Dimock of Ely Aero Club, who was co-operating with Mr. G.S.O. Jennings of March in an effort to endeavour to establish a club in the town, flew over from Ely on Friday to make a preliminary search for a suitable field. Mr. Jennings has since arranged with Mr. J. Ogden of the Poplars Farm for the temporary use of a field in Upwell Road. Mr. Jennings is endeavouring to get in touch with potential members, and afterwards to arrange a meeting to give the necessary information regarding the formation of a club. The Ely Aero Club are prepared to place their machines at the disposal of the March club on one day a week in the first instance. 37 07 09

1937 07 10

A Swavesey grocer told the bankruptcy court that in 1913 he'd bought his house which had been damaged by fire at both ends and had restored it. He started in business in 1925. But trade declined during the agricultural depression and competition became very keen with various stores sending out vans and calling from door to door. Then buses began to take customers to St Ives and Cambridge where they did their shopping and took the opportunity of having a cheap day out. This was the last straw: the bus service was doing great damage to many small shops in villages 37 07 10

The B.S.A. Company's offer of a brand new bicycle to Britain's oldest woman cyclist has brought several responses. Mrs Mortimer of Chedworth Street is 63; she has ridden a cycle since she was 10 and has toured Ireland, Scotland and much of England on it. Mrs F. Plumb of Gt Shelford is 68 and delivers fruit grown in her garden to Cambridge every day. But the oldest so far is Mrs Cross of Brookside, Toft, who was born at Tydd St Mary's in 1856 and still rides regularly. 37 07 10a

1937 07 14

During recent floods the water in the Hundred Foot Washes had been held up causing great hardship to occupiers. Yet their drainage charges have greatly increased. The water is let into the Wash area through the Seven Holes Sluice at Earith. But Welmore Lake Sluice which had only been built about five years is unable to cope. The Hundred Foot should be dredged: at Littleport it was only 30 feet wide. Alternatively the water should be let through the Hermitage Sluice into the Old West River and then out at Denver Sluice. But the washes were there for the express purpose of taking flood waters and grazing land was hired under those conditions. The problem is that rivers in the uplands have been cleared meaning water arrives in about a day, whereas it used to take a week. 37 07 14 & a # c.29

1937 07 16

Trumpington consisted largely of houses strung out along the main road but new plans for development on land owned by the Pemberton trustees would create a self-contained colony with a recreation ground surrounded by 280 houses. It would allow the village to develop a character rather than being a string of houses, an Inquiry was told. The Council would also like to borrow £13,300 to purchase part of the Cherry Hinton Hall Estate for public walks and pleasure grounds. The Hall might become a headquarters for the propagation of plants. This was likely to be a centre of considerable building development and it would be right to secure such open space 37 07 16 # c.49.4

An 18-feet long scale model of H.M.S. Repulse was exhibited on Cambridge Market Square to stimulate recruiting and advertise Navy Week. It is fitted with electric search-lights and Morse lamps and illuminated by powerful lamps from the Vauxhall lorry that tows it. Extensive alterations have been made to the upper deck of the ship since the model was first made and these have been effected on the model which was originally constructed at Portsmouth docks for instructional purposes. 37 07 16a # c.45.6

The Cambs and Hunts Electricity Company plans to erect overhead power lines in Sawston met opposition. Up to 12 months ago they had laid cables underground but this was now too expensive. In Mill Lane the cost would be £183 for overhead wires, but £254 if buried. But SCRDC said that to preserve the amenities of the village, this should not be permitted. The roads could not be called beautiful but putting up poles would make them more unbeautiful. Sawston was a considerable consumer of electricity and the company should meet the cost 37 07 16b.

Newmarket RDC wanted to continue the clearance of unfit dwellings. The first tenants had been satisfactorily rehoused in decent homes, most being eager to take possession of new cottages. At Ashley three dwellings near the Plough Inn were damp and dilapidated; the owner had to bear the cost of clearing them without compensation but she would still own the land. At Cheveley the owner complained that a property had been inspected after phenomenal rain when water from the pond had swamped it, undermining the end wall. At Stetchworth three dwellings at the rear of the 'Live and Let Live' were damp and insanitary, an inspector was told. 37 07 16c & d

Workmen excavating for a sewer at Bishop's Road, Trumpington, found a skeleton about two feet six inches below the surface. A number of Roman coins were found in the vicinity some years ago and the skeleton may be of similar date. The bones were in a crumbling condition but the teeth in the jaw were practically perfect. The remains have been handed to the Cambridge Coroner's officer 37 07 16d # c.41

1937 07 17

Cambridgeshire Regiment march off to camp – 37 07 17

Trinity College remove railings in front of college chapel, Trinity Street – photo – 37 07 17a

Rainwater heads on Three Tuns, Central Hotel, Peas Hill – 37 07 17b

The fate of the open-air theatre on Christ's Pieces is in the balance. Michael Walsh has been most unlucky; three of the four performances have been spoiled by rain. Thursday's show was particularly unfortunate as the programme, with the Town Band and St George on his charger, was essentially an outdoor show. His decision to transfer it to the Corn Exchange was taken to spare the 80 young performers disappointment. He says the drops of rain that fell from the roof to members of the audience are nothing compared to the tears that would have fallen on his head had he decided to cancel the production – 37 07 17b # c.76

1937 07 19

Shepreth cement strike of 1925 recalled – 37 07 19 37 07 21

Cottenham's new Salvation Army Hall was opened in the presence of a large gathering of supporters. It was a great day for the Army and the village itself. Money had been short and yet money was got and it was thought wise to build the hall a little before the final penny had been raised. It had cost a lot of devoted labour on the part of Major Dant, Captain Mitson and Adjutant Vowles. Now it stood looking mature and finished in every way. 37 07 19a & 20

1937 07 21

Strike memories, p2

1937 07 22

Previously warned by the Town Crier, the inhabitants of Sawston gathered for the annual free pea picking. Pails, baskets and sacks were collected for the purpose and passers through the town saw a strange procession. The pickers were started off sharp to time by a blast on the local police constable's whistle. Many years ago, a Sawston squire was deeply affected by the imprisonment of a poor widow who had stolen some peas, and he afterwards grew two acres annually for the poor to pick themselves. On his death he made arrangements in his will for the continuation of the custom. Today the peas are grown on land belonging to Mr R. Driver of Huntingdon Farm. 37 07 22

The Home of Mercy in Christchurch Street is one of the oldest Rescue and Preventive Homes in the country. Miss Meeking, who completed 29 years as manager, had a remarkable understanding of the young girls; many sent to her as 'hopeless cases' were restored to self-respect and received a fresh start in life. In the Home she was affectionately known as 'Mam', but there was no weak sentimentality in her treatment of the girls and she fully understood the need of firmness and discipline. She knew that when they left the shelter of the Home they would meet many difficulties and kept in touch with scores of girls. She was consulted frequently by other moral welfare workers and recognised as a wide and sympathetic counsellor 37 07 22a # c.32.9 # WOMEN

1937 07 23 c

The fate of the open-air theatre on Christ's Pieces is in the balance. Michael Walsh has been most unlucky; three of the four performances have been spoiled by rain. Thursday's show was particularly unfortunate as the programme, with the Town Band and St George on his charger, was essentially an outdoor show. His decision to transfer it to the Corn Exchange was taken to spare the 80 young performers disappointment. He says the drops of rain that fell from the roof to members of the audience are nothing compared to the tears that would have fallen on his head had he decided to cancel the production

1937 07 23 ES

Stretham coronation fete in rectory grounds to cover cost of installing heating apparatus in church
Enquiry into clearance orders at Fordham, Isleham & Soham 37 07 23 ES

1937 07 24

Messrs J. Johnson and Son's premises at 51 Sidney Street, usually referred to as 'Johnson's Shirt Shop' is probably one of the oldest outfitters in Cambridge, the premises being first opened in 1880. In 1922 the business was acquired by Mr A.G. Mole and is now under the sole charge of his son, Cecil. Much of the success of this specialised Men's Outfitting business has been due to consistent advertising in the C.D.N. 37 07 24 # c.27.2

Mrs Allen, Willingham, has cycled since 1894 – 37 07 24a

1937 07 27

Milton Road railway crossing bridge proposed – 37 07 27

1937 07 29

Charles Henry Driver, custodian of the Town Bathing Sheds at Sheep's Green since 1903 is to retire. He has saved over 90 lives, receiving several life-saving certificates. It will be children who will miss him most, even though most of them only know him for the firm way he suppresses outbreaks of youthful over-enthusiasm. He has taught hundreds of them to swim. His fancy dives are a speciality and his appearance on the diving board is the signal for a crowd to collect to watch him 37 07 29 # c.38 : swimming

Work on the improvement of the Wash estuary would be very expensive and not only benefit drainage. It could not be undertaken with funding from the Government, but they had no powers to take over the Wash without legislation and that would have no hope of passing. The Ouse Catchment Board were unhappy to have such a liability imposed that not one of them would have thought of accepting. The scheme was an experiment so far as the drainage of the fens was concerned and it would be impossible for internal drainage boards to raise the money. A start should be made on improving the outfall and a large scale scheme for the reclamation of the Wash kept in reserve 37 07 29a & b # c.29

By a majority of one vote Cambridge Town Council voted in favour of establishing the Cambridge Municipal Orchestra of 50 players, the first in the country to be run on a voluntary basis. Being amateur it would only cost £20 a year and the director, Mr Parkinson, would maintain a high standard. But some thought the orchestra's excursions into serious music were very rare and very slight; something should be done to provide serious music and not music of the level of the lunch-hour concerts from the Savoy 37 07 29c # c.69

Charles Henry Driver, custodian of the Town Bathing Sheds at Sheep's Green since 1903 is to retire. He has saved over 90 lives, receiving several life-saving certificates. It will be children who will miss him most, even though most of them only know him for the firm way he suppresses outbreaks of youthful over-enthusiasm. He has taught hundreds of them to swim. His fancy dives are a speciality and his appearance on the diving board is the signal for a crowd to collect to watch him 37 07 29

Dr A.J. Laird has served as Cambridge Medical Officer of Health for 29 years. Since 1908 the death rate, infant mortality, tuberculosis and all ailments had dropped with the possible exception of cancer. There'd been no complaints about the Infectious Diseases Hospital and he'd twice saved Cambridge from epidemics of smallpox. Nor had there been a quarrel with the County Council over matters of public health – the medical officers had come to agreement. His work had been largely unseen and unspectacular but Cambridge owed him a very great deal. 37 07 29d

1937 07 30

The historic 'Ye Olde Castel Hotel', which dates back to pre-Cromwell days, enters another phase as Messrs Barclay, Perkins and Co. open a new and modern building. The old character of the house, from the time when its stables were filled with horses and latterly its garage with cars, has disappeared and upon the site has risen the Regal Cinema and a smaller, but more modern 'Castle'. 37 07 30

1937 07 30 ES

Stretham show bigger and better than ever; details of names

Camera studies of Stretham Show: photo of judges and officials with H. Holliday 37 07 30 & (1)(2)(3)ES

Branch of famous plane tree in the grounds of Ely Palace falls 37 07 30(4)ES

With a 'report like a cannon', one of the largest branches on the famous plane trees in the grounds of The Palace, Ely, crashed to the ground. The head gardener said his attention was attracted by a terrific bang and he watched the branch fall. The tree was planted in 1674 by Bishop Gunning and is reputed to be the largest plane tree in Europe. It measures some 23 feet around the trunk, while the branch which collapsed was 10 feet round the thickest part and 80 feet or more in length. The portion which fell must weigh several tons. The curious thing is that the crash came when it was calm, as there was no wind that morning. He thought it was the beginning of the end insofar as a tree was concerned, as this was the first time a branch of any size has been lost. It was fortunate the branch did not fall a few hours before as a party of deaf and dumb people had met in the grounds of the Palace. 37 07 30ES

Isle Women's Institutes celebrate coming of age; rally at Beaupre Hall, photo 37 07 30(5)ES

The Isle of Ely Federation of Women's Institute held a rally at historic Beaupre Hall, Outwell in celebration of the 21st birthday of this now famous movement, which has done so much to establish a bond of friendship between women in our towns and villages. Hundreds of enthusiastic members took Outwell by storm in motor cars and buses. A procession of living pictures of bygone days demonstrated the hours that must have been devoted to the careful makings of costumes. The first picture of a Saxon fair was produced by members of Haddenham, Stretham, Little Thetford, Wilburton, Prickwillow and Witcham Institutes. The second covered scenes in the life of the St. Etheldreda. A woad scene was presented by Parson Drove and Murrow. Produce and horticulture and exhibitions gave an insight into the capacity capabilities of the Institutes' members in kitchen and garden. 37 07 30

Opening of Isle Smallholdings estate at Guyhirn

Claimed to be the finest smallholding estate in the country, the Isle of Ely County Council's 1,270 acre estate at Goosetree, Guyhirn, together with the pumping station which has been erected on the Twenty Foot River, was formally opened. It was described as the consummation of a great idea, that every man working on the land shall have the chance to rise and become an independent farmer. To go to Goosetree will be the smallholder's aim in the future. One smallholder referred to the difficult period tenants had experienced before the houses were ready for occupation and had several criticisms to make of the position of the some of the buildings, certain aspects of the drainage on the March side of the river and one or two defects in the houses. He said 'Our houses are excellent in most respects. But if we are bathing when the maid is getting tea, we are not expected to splash'. 37 07 30ES

Littleport Swimming Club's annual gala held in the river near Sandhill Bridge is the outstanding event of its kind over a very large area. It attracted a large crowd as well as the pick of the swimmers for miles around. One of the features was a water polo match between Littleport and the combined Ely and Granta clubs. 37 07 30

Stretham

Parish Council: Ministry to impose a speed limit through the village, portion of the road at Green End had been widened, cricket field to be drained

1937 07 31

Harold Davidson, ex-rector of Stiffkey, Norfolk, who was unfrocked by his Bishop for immoral conduct, launched a never-ceasing campaign against the Anglican hierarchy. He had been appearing in a Skegness amusement park lecturing about his case and then entering a cage to give a display with the animals. There were two lions and two lionesses and hundreds of visitors had entered the cage and patted them. But one seized the rector and carried him round as cat does a mouse. A girl lion tamer drove it off, but the injuries proved fatal, an inquest was told. 37 07 31

The appeal for pioneer women cyclists heard from Dorothea Conybeare. Her father, Rev Edward Conybeare of Barrington, had bought her sister a bike on 28 July 1893. By 1894 women's bicycles still rather unusual and fellow Perseans were much impressed when they'd cycled in from Barrington in order to be present at an examination for which the train would have been too late. She does not remember seeing any Cambridge women or girls bicycling before 1893 but saw two during a visit to Leicestershire in 1892 and was agreeably surprised by their grace and dignity 37 07 31a

August 1937 CDN & Ely Standard

1937 08 03

Brilliant summer weather attracted a big crowd to the annual Conservative Fete held at Sir Harold Gray's home on the Gogs. There was a steady stream of buses, cars, cycles and invalid carriages the whole of the length of Hills Road while thousands made the journey on foot. There were numerous games and competitions concluding with dancing and a grand firework display. It was opened by the Home Secretary (Sir Samuel Hoare) who said that there would soon be sufficient gas masks for the whole of the population and production of guns, tanks and warships was coming along. 37 08 03 & a

Inquests on Mepal man struck by van, Stuntney Hall tree branch & of motor cyclist kicked by horse near Caxton Gibbet 37 08 03b & c

1937 08 04

Sir, as a former critic of Histon Road Cemetery may I now acknowledge the improvement which is so apparent, especially to the curator who had no easy task in taking over such a neglected place. However Alexandra Gardens in Carlyle Road is probably the worst kept of all the recreation grounds. The grass verges have been neither mown nor trimmed this year and no hoe has been used on the shrubbery border which is a mass of thistles and other weeds. It seems difficult to believe that no member of the Council ever pays a visit – 'Observer' 37 08 04 # c.32.3

Large crowds found Newmarket Dip an ideal spot for a sweltering Bank Holiday. There was the additional attraction of a swimming gala. Chief of the items was the beauty parade. Six young ladies scorned shyness and entered. The result was a win for Miss Joan Ellis with Miss Mary Garrick second. The swimming events proved both amusement and keen racing with an enjoyable trick display by Mr J. Halliwell, the bath instructor who also swam two lengths of the pool under water 37 08 04a

1937 08 05

A maroon fired shortly after 9.30 caused a smart turn-out of the Ely Fire Brigade. A quantity of tar in front of the tar-still at the gasworks had caught fire and, although not many gallons were involved, the dense smoke gave the impression of a serious outbreak. The brigade found on arrival that the gas workers had almost quelled the flames and it was extinguished within half-an-hour. 37 08 05

Councillors praised a March constable's praiseworthy act in rescuing a drowning horse. In the early hours of July 17th a horse and cart, the property of March UDC, tumbled into the River Nene. When Pc Davies arrived the horse was practically submerged but divesting himself of clothing he plunged into the water and with difficulty succeeded in releasing the animal which swam to the opposite bank. It was a very brave act; but for him the horse would undoubtedly have been drowned. 37 08 05a

A.M. Morley member of Cambridge Railway Ambulance team – 37 08 05a

1937 08 06

Union of Ely parishes, p3

Littleport houses, p3

1937 08 06 ES

Workmen engaged in digging foundations for houses in Sutton unearthed Anglo Saxon remains, a skeleton with weapons lying beside it. Unfortunately, those of the village actively interested in archaeology did not learn of the find until Saturday when it was but possible to salvage fragments of the interesting remains. In the event of similar kind of archaeological interest Mr B Woodard of Sutton Vicarage, and Mr. Harold Painter would appreciate the opportunity of viewing them. 37 08 06ES

1937 08 07

Pearl Hills of Willow Walk Ely is the Cambridgeshire winner of one of the bicycles presented by the Union of Cycle Manufacturers to boys and girls born on the same day as Princess Margaret Rose. 37 08 07

1937 08 09

An air "attack" is being made on London by 176 light and medium heavy bombers. All through the night they will concentrate their efforts to 'destroy' the capital and opposed to them will be 19 fighter squadrons with a total strength of 222 machines. The 'attack' will continue two more nights unless affected by bad weather. The main object of the exercise is to provide tactical training for the RAF in conjunction with the Anti-Aircraft Division of the Territorial Army and Observer Corps. 'Casualties' will not be assessed. 37 08 09 # c.45.6

1937 08 10

Bridge Street photo, p1

Air raid, p1

1937 08 11

Royston public library has 1,120 readers but all they can offer is one evening a week with the books displayed in 22 heavy transport boxes placed on school desks in a classroom. These have to be replaced in a corner of the room at the close of the library. In spite of these adverse conditions it is greatly used and appreciated. The UDC has power to raise a library rate to provide a room. This would allow more books, extended opening and better conditions. As a quarter of the population use the library it merited careful consideration, councillors were urged 37 08 11

Accident at March East railway crossing – 37 08 11a

The landlady's daughter of the Red Lion pub at Kneesworth told the court that when she went to her bedroom just before midnight she saw a man's hat lying on the floor. Bending down to pick it up she noticed there was a man lying beneath the bed. She said 'Come out of it', then went downstairs and told her father. The prisoner had been living at the pub, come back drunk and climbed a ladder to the room. He did not break in or commit a felony. He was discharged. 37 08 11b

1937 08 12

Queen Mary visits Woolston's shop – 37 08 12b # c.02

1937 08 13

Royston estate, p3

Willingham memories, p3

St Ives houses, p3

Heavy traffic, p5

Abington bricks, p5

Saffron Walden air plane, p6

1937 08 14

Mr W. Ridgeon established his shop in old Sussex Street in 1902 and moved to their new premises in 1932 since when the business has steadily grown. Now with their own nursery at Castle Street and lawn mower works at Westfield Lane they pride themselves on giving the best and most complete garden service in Cambridge. The business also includes a modern floral department and a section devoted to all dog and pet foods and requisites. 37 08 14 # c.18

More ladies have come forward in the search for Britain's oldest women cyclists. Mrs Cross of Toft (81) still rides her ordinary lady's bike regularly while Annie Long of Withersfield (75) has a machine she bought in 1898. Mrs N. Plint of Gt Shelford rides into Cambridge each day to deliver fruit grown in her garden & Mrs H. Ball of Staploe (68) also bikes five miles a day to work. Mrs L.M. Mortimer (63) of Chedworth Street is one of the most consistent riders, having done thousands of miles since she was ten years of age. 37 08 14a # c.26.485

Jack Hulbert film – 37 08 14a

Toy Theatre – 37 08 14a

Travellers between London and Cambridge will soon have three additional fast trains performing the journey non-stop in 65 minutes. All will have buffet cars, bringing the total to 10 each way daily, in addition to the restaurant trains already running to Liverpool Street. The first service of five buffet cars was inaugurated between Cambridge and Kings Cross in 1932 when the trains each consisted of three coaches. So popular has the service become that at least double this accommodation has to be provided regularly 37 08 14b # c.26.2

Boxing almost defunct in Cambridge – cartoon 37 08 14b # c.38 : boxing

1937 08 16

Sir – as a small boy in the 1880s my first impressions of Cambridge were so different from today as to be almost incredible. Cambridge, bounded practically by Mill Road railway gates, Paper Mills Bridge, Hills Road Bridge and Queen's Road was a glorified village. It smacked of medieval times with its Spinning House in St Andrew's Street and bread and butter was retailed in yard length by Varsity tradesmen. The fastest vehicles on the road were the pretty tandem horses in dog carts affected by rich undergraduates and hansom cabs and I remember assisting the shepherd of Mr Joseph Sturton's sheep with his flock to and from Parker's Piece where they were grazed – P.J. Wright 37 08 16

1937 08 17

Thieves were again busy at the Regal Cinema. The doors of the ticket store, ice cream room and managers' offices were wrenched opened and the woodwork splintered, apparently by a jemmy. They helped themselves to a meat of baked beans and fruit jellies at the restaurant upstairs. But they failed to secure much booty, leaving with a small quantity of cigarettes and chocolate. Meanwhile the first defendants to appear in the new Cambridge Police Court were charged with riding with two people on one cycle. They were given the benefit of the doubt. 37 08 17

1937 08 19

Sir – I came to live in Cambridge as a boy of 13, from a local village. I was one of a family of eight and all of us and our furniture were packed on a farm wagon. It was wonderful to come to live in a town built of bricks, to see Cambridge shops, colleges and commons where we could play. My first impression was of a tollgate near Coldham Lane where we had to pay a toll to enter. Having lived here 58 years and seen the wonderful and delightful improvements one can only say that it is a lovely town to live in – 'Content' 37 08 19

1937 08 20

Sir – way back in the 1890s I booked a seat with the Sawston carrier. The morning broke with a grey sky. I remember his suspicious look until I paid him the ninepence fare and threepence extra providing there was no ‘scorching’. I also recollect his need of a shave. We made Stapleford in the first three hours, on to Shelford and rounded the Stone Bridge, Trumpington about noon, to schedule. But then the offside-wheel came off. I alighted at Market Hill, walked down Petty Cury and boarded a horse tram. Then from the delightful rhythm and sway of that luxuriously-upholstered vehicle I drank in the scenery of the skyscraper buildings in Regent Street before returning home – ‘Blisters’ 37 08 20

Sir – London newspapers, suffering from a scarcity of news, have reported unruly behaviour by 18 of the 3,826 Basque refugees in England. Picture 4,000 children from English towns, their nerves wrecked by months of war and air raids, many of them having lost their parents, transported to a strange climate, strange customs and an unknown tongue. Would they all be angels? The refugees at Pampisford have been happy and untroubled. But now we have been asked to take another 30. The great difficulty is to find an empty house large enough. Can readers help? - F.L. Lucas. King’s College 37 08 20a

Landlady complaint, p5

1937 08 20 ES

Haddenham fire at College Farm watched by 300 people 37 08 20ES

1937 08 24

Tanks prepare for manoeuvre, Linton - photo – 37 08 24

1937 08 25

An attempt by an insurgent force to cut the railway at Bartlow Station saw rifle battalions attack on a wide front. A small British machine gun battalion took up a position on the west bank of the River Stour while soldiers demolished bridges to prevent the attackers occupying the high ground at Shudy Camps and Horseheath. Villagers had a fine time watching the ponderous tanks pass by and comparing them with the guns and beautiful horses of the 1912 manoeuvres. It was part of the military exercise simulating that in Egypt before the latest Anglo-Egyptian treaty. 37 08 25 # c.45.6

1937 08 26

Army exercise, p2

1937 08 27

Drivers and staff of Street Tramway Company – photo – 37 08 27 # c.26.44

Tanks featured in the opening attack on Haverhill under cover of a smoke screen. An assault via the Bumpsteads was held up so the advance swung westwards past Shudy Camps towards the Bartlow railway. Late in the afternoon an enveloping movement was successful. Street fighting and sniping was expected and the infantry was served out with an extra supply of hand grenades. The inhabitants thronged the centre of Haverhill eager to see the activity of the military manoeuvres 37 08 27a # c.45.6

1937 08 27 ES

Grunt fen fire

Death Georgiana Everitt of Millfield, Wilburton 37 08 27ES

1937 08 28

Babraham old bridge removed – photo – 37 08 28

1937 08 31

The premise behind the military manoeuvres was that production of a new lethal gas was about to start in two underground factories at Yole and Barsey Farm near Balsham and Shudy Camps. Different essentials of the gas were to be made at each factory so destruction of either would prevent production. There was a large influx of visitors to the church parade at Shudy Camps Park where 400 men from various regiments had assembled for the training exercise. Afterwards a band concert was greatly enjoyed. 37 08 31 # c.45.6

September 1937 CDN & Ely Standard

1937 09 01

Guildhall demolition, p1

1937 09 02

A notable improvement in the arrangements for feeding the troops is apparent during the exercises at Shudy Camps. The old travelling cookers, used for the first time at the 1912 manoeuvres, have disappeared and in their place are oil-fuelled cookers on which the food is prepared. After about 20 minutes it is sufficiently cooked to be placed in metal chests made on the principle of the hay-box known to housewives during the Great War where the rest of the cooking goes on until complete. The filled boxes are loaded on to troop carriers and taken to the troops where it is kept piping hot until dished out 'done to a turn' 37 09 02 # c.45.6

1937 09 03

The Fire Brigade was called out when a 20-ton stack of hay, the produce of 18 acres belonging to Mr C.S. Wilson of Bonnington Hall, Ugley, caught alight in a field near the Hall. Stansted fireman were also present but nothing could be done and the stack was allowed to burn itself out. 37 09 03

Ely RDC scavenging, rubbish collection proposals – 37 09 03a

1937 09 03 ES

Repairs to Soham church finished; tower repointed and clock overhauled

The repointing of Soham Church tower and repair the clock have just been completed. Messrs Hunt and Sons millwrights of Waterside provided a strong cradle with a rope over 500 feet long by which the workmen could be lifted by tackle fixed to the top of the tower

The works of the clock were then dismantled by Messrs Bailey of Pratt Street who had been in charge of the winding and regulation for several years, and the southern face was removed.

Mr A Whymer of Cross Green applied gold leaf to the figures and painted the northern dial from the cradle and later applied the same treatment to the southern dial in his workshop. Meanwhile his son repointed the tower on all four sides and stopped up a nest of wild bees, which had enjoyed sanctuary for sometimes passed.

The clock was found to be a fine workmanship but needed careful adjustment, and was finally re-assembled and set going. The actual value of the public timepiece was not noticed until its absence became noticed. It is now generally appreciated in spite of the fact that the leafage of the surrounding trees makes the clock difficult to discern during the summer season.

This is the third clock that has been installed. The former two were purchased in 1600 and 1701, and the present clock was acquired from one of the Cambridge colleges, about 1885 when the striking bell was made by Messrs. J. Mears of London. The southern dial was added in 1900 in commemoration of Queen Victoria. 37 09 03ES

Farm fire at Littleport on White Horse Farm

Bridge over disused railway line at Babraham scientifically destroyed 37 09 03ES

A bridge over a disused railway line at Babraham was scientifically destroyed by the Department of Scientific and Industrial Research

The method, took the form of a temporary 'bridge' built over the old one. The new structure was made of huge girders of iron and weighed in on about 150 tons. The weight however was prevented from bearing on the old bridge until everything was ready for its destruction. A hydraulic jack was then placed between the two structures and the 150 tons weight was transferred to the bridge beneath which gave way under a pressure of about 54 ton.

The test was one of the series which has been carried out for the Ministry of Transport, and although a roundabout method of destroying the bridge it provided the officials in charge with valuable data. 37 09 03ES

A playground should be provided for the children of Ely on the Barracks Field. It would accommodate a slide roundabout and swings.

But a lady, who was anonymous, had spent several pounds in providing swings and a seesaw in Ely and they had not been there many days before she had to spend money to have repairs made.

Eventually it became so expensive that she had to withdraw the things altogether. Knowing that how could they possibly support any more for more swings?

Councillor Rickwood said: I should like to see this carried out. The latest played the field for children is on the top of the Canning Factory and the sooner we get a playground where we can push the youngsters the better. Something ought to be done about the damage done by the so called children who go to school. If the police keep an eye open instead of doing so much motor catching, we might not have so much damage as is being done. 37 09 03ES

1937 09 04

The Army manoeuvres now taking place locally should have a beneficial effect on recruiting. The introduction of the motor into all branches of the service has rendered the soldier's task much less toilsome and robbed the march of its old-time discomforts. The present-day Tommy is better provided for and looked after, better fed and more comfortably clothed. Recruits for the three battalions of the 5th Infantry Brigade now in camp at Shudy Camps Park are coming in steadily. It is expected that a further 100 will soon be ready at Aldershot and will probably also be sent there 37 09 04b # c.45.6

Cambridge Repertory Players moving from Festival Theatre to Cosmopolitan Cinema which will be renamed the Little Theatre – 37 09 04 # c.76

Army manoeuvres Bourn Bridge, Ickleton, Abington Park – 37 09 04a

1937 09 06

Ely troops on manoeuvres can use Isolation Hospital if ill – 37 09 06

1937 09 07

Basque children at Pampisford rectory visited by Dr L. Cobbett – 37 09 07 # c.45.6

Bassingbourn stack fire – 37 09 07a

Stacks, farm buildings, pigs and calves were destroyed in a fire which broke out at Dovecote Farm in the heart of Somersham Fen. The blaze was caused by self-combustion in a straw stack which had become overheated and, fanned by a strong breeze, made short work of the buildings. People hearing the cries of the trapped pigs and calves could do nothing to save them; the animals were roasted alive. The only properties to escape were the horsekeeper's cottage, a granary and a rather large cart shed. Fortunately a threshing tackle had been removed from the stack yard and the horses were in a field out of danger 37 09 07b

1937 09 08

Rendezvous Cinema clerk fraud trial – 37 09 08 & a # c.76.9

Papisford vicar, p5

1937 09 09

Manoeuvres photo, p5

1937 09 10

The Rycroft Rubber Company commenced business in Cambridge in 1904, specialising in waterproof and rainproof garments, surgical and mechanical rubber goods, water hose and all classes of rubber and reinforced rubber tubing and Wellington Boots. It now the finest and most complete shop of its kind in the Eastern Counties and a regular advertiser in the CDN 37 09 10

Many people assembled at Marshall's Aerodrome to see the competitors in the King's Cup air race pass over on their journey northwards. The first swept in from the direction of Cherry Hinton, roared over the 'drome and were lost in the void beyond, travelling at over 200 mph. But the majority of the entrants made for the wrong aerodrome, heading towards the new one near Teversham and when they discovered their mistake had to bank round towards the town. 37 09 10a # c.26.1

Manourvres, p6

1937 09 10 ES

Wedding Daughter of Ernest Stevens of Engine House, Stretham & Cyril Clarke

Great concentration of troops

Sunday witnessed the great concentration of troops in the manoeuvre area which includes Ely, but up to the present the city has not been invaded in any shape or form. Neither has fighting been seen or heard in the vicinity of the historic neighbourhood. But some exciting times are promised in the coming week, when a great battle will be fought in East Anglia, no fewer than 60,000, men of all arms will be engaged. A rumour has gained currency that the King may visit me one day next week. But no confirmation of this can be obtained. 37 09 10(3)ES

Should any of the soldiers who would be encamped at Ely for two weeks develop scarlet fever they would be admitted to the Isolation Hospital 37 09 10ES

The Ely Joint Isolation Hospital decided that should any of the soldiers of the Supplementary Reserve who will be encamped at Ely for annual training in September develop scarlet fever, diphtheria or typhoid fever would be admitted to the hospital. But it would not be fair on nurses or any other local persons who might be inmates to accept other infectious cases, such as smallpox. 37 09 10ES

A five-ton petrol-driven Foden lorry owned by Mrs Darby of Sutton was completely destroyed by a fire which up the countryside for several miles around. The vehicle was proceeding empty from Manea to its depot when about three quarters of mile from Boots Bridge, along the 16-Foot Bank the driver was startled to find flames entering his cabin. He stopped and as he descended from his driving seat the whole cabin became enveloped in flames, which were being fed by the oil and grease of the engine. The fire was noticed by inhabitants of a house which the lorry passed on the road.

The lorry driver found that little could be done to save the vehicle from the flames which had secured a firm hold. Help as soon arrived with pails and water taken from the 16-Foot River was turned on to the flames. This did eventually subdue the blaze but it was not before the lorry had become a total wreck. There was a loud report while the flames were at their height but it is uncertain whether this was caused by the explosion of the petrol tank or the bursting of one of the large pneumatic tires. The road was blocked to traffic for about three quarters of an hour. 37 09 10(3)ES

The Royal train contain carrying Queen Mary on her journey from Sandringham would pass through this district between Whittlesey and Peterborough. Few members of the public knew of the journey but those who had heard of it collected at vantage points such as level crossings to watch the train go by. At March the biggest crowd collected at the footbridge at West junction. The train came round the loop at little more than a walking pace, as the permanent wave was receiving attention at that point, and Queen Mary was seen in the centre coach reading a book. There were also a number of spectators at Whittlesey and other stations along the route. 37 09 10(3)ES

Although after a lapse of nearly three weeks the floods are becoming to be regarded as things of the past, the work of getting the water from the sodden land has only just got beyond the stage of more acute pressure and the men at the pumping stations have been almost continuously employed. At the Burrowmoor pumping station March, the reporter found Mr T. Henson, about to start up the fine up-to-date oil engine which operates in this portion of the fen. This 65 horsepower machine which goes under the ambitious name, King of the Fens, was built by Messrs Campbell of Halifax, and is the most powerful of its kind in the district. For nine days it was kept going continuously and pumped into the river 10,000 gallons per minute. 37 09 10(3)ES

Improvement of part of the March to Whittlesey road deferred

March Hyde collapsed; brick arch of the culvert under the road subsided - 37 09 17(2)(3)ES

1937 09 11

Thompson's houses sell because they are quality built, using only the best materials and stand on good sites. The 'Windsor Estate' is being rapidly completed with houses for sale from £585 to £850 (£32,500 - £45,200 today). It is in a very healthy position on one of the highest points and served by two main bus routes. The 'Thornton Estate' houses cost from £800 to £1,500 (about £83,340). Each is freehold and the price includes roads and paths, fencing, decoration and large gardens. Ralph Thompson Ltd, Fulbourn – Advert 37 09 11a # c.23

Have you ever considered when you've seen police officers riding by in their big new patrol cars what happens to the old motors that have been 'retired' from police service. There must be a market for such second-hand cars. But who acts as salesman and interviews customers? In Huntingdonshire the job has been undertaken by none other than the Chief Constable. However one purchaser complained, saying the Morris saloon he'd bought for £30 had broken down. The cylinders were bad, it was using oil and there were other defects. The Chief Constable had to report the matter to the Police Committee who refused compensation. 37 09 11b

Sturton Town Hall as theatre – memories – 37 09 11c # c.76

Cambridge Gas Bulletin to be issued for staff – 17 09 11d # c.24.4

Wicken band, p5

1937 09 15

The ceremony of the enclosure of the new Carmelite Convent at Waterbeach was performed by the Bishop of Northampton in the shade of a huge plane tree. The Gregorian Chant was led by the priests while Catholic hymns were sung by the laity, numbering over a 1,000. The old convent in Chesterton Road, opened 12 years ago, has proved inadequate so a house standing in extensive grounds has been chosen. Visitors have been seeing over the building at the rate of 100 a day. But never again, except in extremest necessity, will anybody other than nuns enter the door. 37 09 15 & a # c.83

Rumours that action was contemplated against Royston UDC after they revoked their provisional approval of the Priory estate development scheme appear to have fostered the belief that there would be 'some fun' at the council meeting. Fun there may have been, but the Press were not allowed in to report the debate which lasted an hour. It related to a plan submitted by Mr H. Giddings for 52 houses that the council considered too dense for the site 37 09 15b & c

1937 09 16

War will be declared at midnight on Saturday – at any rate for the purpose of manoeuvres – and Ely will be in the war zone. 450 men from Liverpool, Manchester and London arrived in the city and went into camp at Barton Fields, arousing the curiosity of residents who have visited in large numbers and showed considerable interest in the military activities. It is the largest exercise of its kind since 1918 but the only troops are members of the Royal Signals Supplementary Reserve; most are Post Office employees who give up their spare time so they could assist the Regular Army in the event of conflict

37 09 16 # c.45.6

The Isle of Ely County Council considered the construction of a new road eliminating the bends between Chatteris and Warboys Road, together with the widening of the south side of the Haddenham-Earith Road to include the filling-in of the parish pond. But tenders for £440 to improve the conveniences at Manea School seemed a gross extravagance when there were only 200 children on the books. At Manea they could build a bungalow for that price. Some classes were having to be held on the stairs at March High School as there was no room left in the cloakroom, extensions should be started as soon as possible 37 09 16a

1937 09 17

Plans to demolish Newmarket houses under clearance orders were met with objections. The Medical Officer said houses in the Queen Street area were unfit for human habitation. But the owner claimed they were better now than when she bought them; they were all she had to live on and the council were going to take them away. Houses in Regent Street were somewhat dark because of the shrubbery in the churchyard but occupants were able to open the windows. One of the residents had been there 23 years and had brought up ten healthy children. There was such a shortage of accommodation that two families were living in each council house and few houses at a rent of six shillings a week (£16.70 today) suitable for old people. 37 09 17a & b

Gallyon gun makers – advertisers – 37 09 17c

1937 09 18

Pye Radio Sports and Social Club held their first dance at the Rendezvous ballroom. Les Walton and his band were in fine form playing some of the ‘hit’ numbers of the past two months which were danced with gusto. The high spot was a cabaret item by Sammy Parker whose rendering of ‘September in the Rain’ was followed by his speciality dance which even the ‘hula-hula’ girls would have envied. The attendance was one of the largest the ballroom has known with dancers arriving until quite late. 37 09 18

Memorial at Horseheath church commemorates King’s visit for 1912 manoeuvres – 37 09 18a
Cabinet-size portraits were invented in the spring of 1866 and John Werge visiting Cambridge two years later was surprised to find Cambridge men had not adopted it; writing in ‘Photographic News’ of 10 April 1868 he says: ‘while there is a rush for cabinet portraits in Oxford, Cambridge holds aloof. ... lukewarmness of Cambridge photographers. Carte-de-visite size was most popular – 37 09 18a # c.65.5

1937 09 20

During a severe thunderstorm a ball of fire set alight two stacks at Mitchell Hill Farm, Twentypence Road, Cottenham. They were right in the middle of the farmyard but firemen stopped the flames spreading to the farmhouse and nearby wooden barns, using water from a pond. The lightning struck a wire clothes line strung between a corner of a barn and a tree then travelled back along an aerial wire to the barn and thence it fired the stacks. Stock, including a newly-born calf, was removed for safety. 37 09 20

Bird’s Chemical Works at Duxford was threatened when a blaze broke out in a heap coal near one of the boilers. The fire had been withdrawn from the boilers as usual on Saturday but the live coals were placed too close to the heap which smouldered through the night before igniting, setting fire to one side of the building. There was a large amount of grease and tallow on the premises which could have been ignited. Workers wheeled out the six or seven tons of coal in wheelbarrows - coal had never been shifted so quickly – and dumped it beside the river. 37 09 20a

George Hall, Ely coroner died; had held many offices including registrar and high bailiff of county court – 37 09 20a

1937 09 21

New Chesterton Institute opened a new hall over the billiards room; it would be used for debates, lectures, whist drives, dramatic society work and other functions. 37 09 21

An 80-year-old stage coach with a 78-year-old driver brought a breath of more leisurely days into Cambridge's busy streets. Drawn by four superb Dutch piebalds it is being used to draw attention to Gallaher's Park Drive cigarettes. The driver, Bob Smith, began driving in London in 1880 and continued until the horse buses went off the road. Since then he has driven for Bertram Mills in all sorts of places, including the great circus. The coaching tunes are sounded on a post horn by 15-year-old Albert Osmond. The four-in-hand is staying at the L&NER stable and will be here for a week 37 09 21a # c.26.42

Mr A.E. Page started as a butcher at a small shop in Cherryhinton Road in 1897 and now has six shops selling goods of the finest quality at reasonable prices. His factory in Coven Garden produces pies, sausages and cooked meats some from animals bred and fed on his own farm at Barton. He knows it is worth advertising in the CDN 37 09 24a

1937 09 22

Fordham waterworks scheme 37 09 22

1937 09 24

Band photo, p5

Page, p5

1937 09 24ES

Changes in Isle of Ely police force. Police sergeant Ernest Roythorne stationed at Littleport retiring, comes from an old police family

Pc Bush promoted to sergeant

Ps Vail of Ely - 37 09 24 & (2)ES

Stretham speed limits introduced 37 09 24(2)ES

Ely garage in action over repairs to car. Cass and company in action against Kenneth Wallace of Cambridge Road, Ely

War exercise. Communication signals in camp Barton Field were busy establishing telegraph services and other communications, while the canning factory, used as headquarters for the Anglian Second Corps was abuzz with ceaseless activity. It was a nerve centre of maps officers and men. Forces including the Second Corps from Ely met little opposition until it reached the River Ouse from Huntingdon south. They found the majority of the bridges blown and the Third Division did little more on Sunday than establish a small a few small changes west of the river. The war is over but the signal camp particularly will not be broken until Sunday when the last of the military of visitors will leave the city 37 09 24(3)ES

Littleport young people have nowhere to go after church and chapel services on Sunday and are found huddled away in dark places. Should be Sunday evening cinema shows. 37 09 24(4)ES

Soham Downfields windmill struck by lightning causing extensive damage 37 09 24(4)ES

Albert Gibbs, Cambridge Road, Stretham fined for committing an indecent act near the church wall 37 09 24(4) ES

A new pumping plant at West Fen March to drain the 4th March Drainage District. The floods of last March severely tested the old engine and the state of the boiler made it imperative that something be done to cope with anything approaching a repetition of the deluge early this year. Engineers have been busy installing the new engine and it was tried out; a difference of 4-5 inches was made in the level of the main drain in a few minutes. The area from which the engine drains water into the Nene comprises 6,000 acres and 15 miles of drain. The new engine directed by Farrow and Sons is a six-cylinder paraffin driven type capable of discharging 58 tons of water a minute. It can be quite easily started and operated by one man 37 09 24(6)ES # c.29

1937 09 25

Jesus Lane Sunday School was set up in 1827, later moving to King Street where many local children were taught religion by undergraduates who rose to positions of eminence in the church. A new large school was erected in Paradise Street in 1868. But times change. After the war many families have moved further out so now they have sold that building and erected a new hall in Brooks Road which will also serve as a temporary church until a new one can be built. All children between eight and 15 are invited 37 09 25 # c.83

Freedom photo, p5

1937 09 27

Microfilm will bring the library resources of the world to the desk of an individual scholar, a Cambridge conference was told. The prodigious daily flood of newspapers can be compressed photographically into little rolls of microfilm making them perpetually 'in print' while censuses, birth and death records and correspondence can be duplicated. The technology is still being developed and will take much longer than expected, but a satisfactory reading machine should cost about as much as a portable typewriter 37 09 27 # c.04

1937 09 29

A scheme of 1853 provided Ely with a supply of water from the River Ouse which was stored in an underground reservoir then pumped to the water tower. The old reservoir was abandoned in 1885 and in 1933 was converted into an open-air swimming pool. Then steam-driven wells were sunk at Isleham to take water from the chalk. Now they plan a new underground reservoir tank which, with the present water tower, will ensure four day's supply in the event of emergency. But proposals for another water tower will not be proceeded with on account of its vulnerability to attacks by aircraft, councillors heard. 37 09 29a

October 1937 CDN & Ely Standard

John Martin cuttings on 1937 & other floods EBK1485

1937 10 01

Telegraph: £266,000 plan to stop floods

The Great Ouse Catchment Board considered anti-flood schemes costing over £300,000. Work was in progress on the Old West bank between Aldreth Causeway and Willingham flat bridge, and on Soham, Swaffham & Lakenheath Lodes where weaknesses were found during the spring floods. Draglines have been hired from several contractors as have several miles of railway track and over a hundred tipping wagons. At Manea they have opened up another clay pit and started re-facing the bank but have had to cross over several watercourses and make several substantial bridges. 37 10 01a & b # c.29

Cambridge Spiritualists held a fair in the Carpenter Hall, Victoria Street, in aid of their building fund. They had bought a piece of freehold land, despite some misgivings, and were anxious to put a church on it. There was no state support. All the spiritualist churches in the country had been secured by their own efforts. "If we are not here in physical form we shall be in the spiritual body to see the church" they were told by Mr A.J. Case, the president 37 10 01 # c.83

1937 10 02

'The Harassed Harrises', a play by local author Gerald Light, features a father who keeps a fried fish shop in a town that is obviously Cambridge. His son, a young man of brains, has won a scholarship to the university but feels he is looked down on because of his father's job. What makes things even more awkward is that his aunt is a bedder at his college who is very fond of whisky. Without a doubt the play was greatly appreciated by the audience at the performance given by the CUP Amateur Dramatic Society 37 10 02 # c.76 # c.36.92

1937 10 04

The 1st Battalion of the Cambridgeshire Regiment lined up on Parker's Piece for their first inspection since they were reformed after the war. Behind them hundreds of Old Comrades also paraded. It is a Volunteer Army undertaking onerous duties and alone stands between us and conscription. With no prospect of war for some years the Government has taken very little interest in either the Regular or Territorial Army but times have changed as a result of the combined efforts of Hitler, Mussolini and now the Japs, they were told. Men, women and children are regarded as suitable subjects for attack by shell and bomb and we must defend ourselves, they were told. 37 10 03b & c # c.45.6

1937 10 05 ES

Opening St Germans pumping station 37 10 05 &(2)(3)(4)(5)ES

At the opening of this Germans sluice Major Clarke said three or four years ago they were wallowing in mud 50 feet below where they stood that day. It looked rather hopeless. Their engineering staff had been very small, but very loyal and very efficient. He would like to mention to men in particular. Mr G. Buchner and Mr. Leslie Clark. He knew what good work these two men had put in, and they had done it from sheer love of the work and of their profession.

The pumps, and the engine houses now opened had not did not grow up in a night. The foundations had to be put in, and this station was different from any other he had seen before in as much as they had to put the pumps in first, and build the engine houses around them. He paid tribute to the general foreman, Mr Tharby, a quiet capable steady man who had been at St Germans for the last four or five years. The job had put years on him. He had to take a large number of men from distressed areas, men, not used to such work, some of whom had not worked since they left school. To take these men and teach them their jobs was difficult, but he had done him. The Middle Level Foremen were the backbone of the staff.

He had had a certain amount of misgiving when he found they had to employ 75% of distressed area, men. But many of these were raised from unskilled to semi-skilled and many had left to get permanent jobs with contractors. 37 10 05 &(2)(3)(4)(5)ES

1937 10 06

The famous Festival Grill has been reborn. Connoisseurs of good food and good wine need no longer journey to Newmarket Road as the Grill has opened in more commodious premises at the corner of Bene't Street and King's Parade. It has a new name, the Festival Restaurant with a new sherry and oyster bar which together with the restaurant under the direction of Toni, is first-class in every respect. Its delightful colour scheme of red, black and cream ensures the rooms are bright but not garish and it will become one of the best-known rendezvous. 37 10 06a # c.27.47

1937 10 08

Ely RDC heard that Mr Setchell of Haddenham had given land at West End on condition it was used as the site of four one-bedroom bungalows, but they preferred four houses. Mr Thompson's offer of a building site for four houses near the school at Little Ouse would be accepted provided he made a gift of land fronting White House Drove. At Plantation Farm, Shippea Hill a proposal for four pairs of three-bedroomed houses will be submitted to Sir Frederick Hiam for his approval. But Mr Everitt felt that by erecting houses on sites that had been offered free they were subsidising the large landowners with free labour. 37 10 08 & a

Matthew's new bakery in Cherryhinton Road has a complete absence of machinery in the confectionary department as it was staffed by excellent craftsmen trained specially for the job. Night bakers work from 10pm to 5am when the confectionary bakers and delivery men start. There is a special oven for making Vienna bread with a thermospray boiler operated by gas which manufactures wet or dry steam that is introduced under pressure into the dough, ensuring a crisp crust. An ultra-violet ray lamp, similar to those used in hospital, floods the flour before mixing and the dough before baking. From the ovens the bread is loaded into racks which are placed bodily into electric delivery vehicles 37 10 08b # c.27

1937 10 08 ES

Mr W. Cox of Swavesey is new station master of Black Bank 37 10 08(ES) # c.26.2

Ragwort prevalent 37 10 08(2)ES

In Littleport a lot of labour was being imported and it was these people who came to work from outside who would live in the village if there were houses for them.

A lot of the trouble was that they had fixed a Council house rent that working people could not afford to pay and they were letting the houses to people who could afford to pay double. 37 10 08 & a

1937 10 09

Duxford aerodrome extension approved – 37 10 08c

1937 10 12

Basque arts and crafts - photo – 37 10 12 # c.45.6

1937 09 13

Sir – since the beginning of the Spanish Civil War four Cambridge men have laid down their lives fighting against the Fascist Insurgents. They are John Cornford (Trinity), G.C. Maclaurin (St John's), G. Lorimer Birch (Caius) and Julian Bell (King's). The first three were in the International Column, the fourth as an ambulance driver. Now a branch of the Voluntary Industrial Aid Organisation has been established to recondition motor vehicles as ambulances for Spain. Side-car ambulances are needed that can go up the hills through narrow passes; at present wounded have to be transported by mules. Donations should be sent to me – Joseph Needham, Caius College 37 10 13 # c.45.6

Following the provision of gas at Willingham a year ago, the Cambridge University and Town Gas Light Company has opened a showroom replete with up-to-date equipment. It includes an automatic switch by which a gas lamp is lit by pressing a button, and Ascot water boiling apparatuses. Ladies will want gas after seeing the labour-saving appliances now available and demonstrations of home laundering and cooking will be given throughout the week 37 10 13a

County Council proposals for the establishment of Village Colleges at Swavesey and Impington have been approved by the Government. But they reject plans for a new junior school at Cottenham: it would be better to use the money from Insurance to rebuild portions of the burnt down one.

Negotiation would be opened with Cottenham Eleemosynary Charities for the purchase of land in Lamb's Lane. The County would also discuss with the Air Ministry about school-age children due to arrive in Bassingbourn in connection with the establishment of an aerodrome 37 10 13c

1937 10 15

The Festival Theatre in Newmarket Road reopened under entirely new management. The building has been redecorated and improved and will begin with what it is hoped will be a successful regime of plays, ballet and opera. Meanwhile the glamorous Marlene Dietrich's Technicolor film 'The Garden of Allah' is the principal attraction at the Regal Cinema while the Kinema presents 'The Princess comes across' starring Carole Lombard and Fred MacMurray 37 10 15 # c.76

St Radegund's Hall on the corner of Brooks Road and Coldham's Lane was inaugurated by the Bishop of Ely. It is the property of the Jesus Lane Sunday School trustees and is the third building to be used for their work since its inception nearly 100 years ago. It is hoped that ultimately a new parish church will be built in this rapidly-developing part of Cambridge. The hall will be used not only as a

Sunday school but also for regular church services and is a important new centre of Christian worship and teaching 37 10 15c # c.83

Linton Village College could help the agricultural industry and help stem the drift from the countryside to the towns. It is intended to serve as a community centre for education, recreation and social life, the Earl of Feversham said at the opening. The teaching of mathematics would have a realistic connection with what went on in the workshop and school garden. It has a workshop equipped with lathes and means of learning about the internal combustion engine (with an eye on the farm tractor) and electricity while girls do cookery, housewifery and laundrywork in the domestic science room. 37 10 15a

St Ives fair is now nothing less than a gambling show. A few of the push-penny boards do not do any harm but there were some attractions that are detrimental to the young: little boys were putting pennies on Hearts, Spades or Clubs and winning money at odds of 3-1. It would be better that people did not come than allow that sort of thing. The Council had a responsibility and without any drastic changes they could bring back some of the older amusements, the Mayor said. 37 10 15b

1937 10 15 ES

James Hustler of the Ferry Boat Inn Rings End

Mr James Hustler of the Ferry Boat Inn, Rings End was found dead in his bed, aged 85 years of age. He had lived at the Ferry Boat Inn, which stands opposite the Guyhirn Bridge for 77 years, going there with his parents when he was eight. He had resided there without any lengthy break until the time of his death, and for about 50 years had been landlord. Until old age kept him indoors he combined the business of inn-keeping with farming. 37 10 15(2)ES

1937 10 16

Roof-climbing – Ronald Searle cartoon – 37 10 16a # c.38

1937 10 18

Cambridge University Officers Training Corps gave a demonstration at the Grange Road rifle range. It opened with a display by the Vickers machine gun section followed by mortars laying a smoke screen. Cavalry were in action reconnoitring and dummy-thrusting with swords while communication by wireless and cable was also shown. A spectacular display of demolishing a bridge was followed by a battery action by two 18-pounder field guns. Visitors could inspect the equipment and try out an army gas mask in the gas chamber. 37 10 18 # c.45.6

Hemingford Grey houses, p5

1937 10 19

Major-General Ernst Udet, an ace pilot during the war, was amongst top German airmen at R.A.F. Mildenhall who inspected two squadrons of giant Heyford bombers and the latest Battle Bristol-Blenheims, Harrow, Wellesey and Whitley bombers, specimens of squadrons that were to fly past from their home stations. The Blenheim bomber, with a maximum speed of nearly 280 miles per hour was dwarfed beside the Harrow, which has a top speed of 190 miles per hour. All the machines were camouflaged in the latest muddy style. Before each one stood its crew, wearing flying kit and altitude respirators. Drawn up in lines were lorries forming the transport of the light bomber squadron. The station buildings and equipment were also ready for the German's inspection. The visitors walked between the ranks of aircraft and paraded to the five new types of bombers, which they inspected closely. They went into the body of the Harrow plane and three sat in the cockpit of one of the others before watching the engines starting. The visitors, some carrying small dress daggers, also toured the station buildings including the mobile wireless transmitting, photographic and automatic control sections. 37 10 19 &a, 37 10 22CIP # c.45.6 # c.26.1

Death Henry Ernest Foster, Victoria Friendly Society's secretary – 37 10 19a

The Mayor opened a model anti-gas room at Boot's shop in Petty Cury. With the disturbed state of international politics the company was anxious to help people to retain a sense of proportion concerning air raids. Any room could be made gasproof at a trifling cost. It had been tested under the most severe conditions with war gas. The Home Office Air Raids Precautions Department welcomed the initiative. If people took the simple precautions suggested they would be able to deal with the emergency quite successfully. 37 10 19b # c.45.6

1937 10 20

James Wentworth Day's book 'Sporting Adventure' takes us on a night's punt-gunning with its patient stalking in bitter weather with, perhaps, only frozen snow to show for the night's work. He also explains the mysteries of badger-digging, rabbit traps and the art of 'tickling' for trout. It is a record of precious days in the countryside by an expert whose attractive prose grips even the most casual reader. Cambridgeshire is frequently in the picture and the account of adventures on our own doorstep will make the book doubly welcome in this area 37 10 20a

Cambridge and the scientific world have suffered an irreparable loss by the death of Lord Rutherford. Cavendish Professor of Experimental Physics and Director of the Cavendish Laboratory since 1919, he thrilled the world five years ago when two young scientists working under his guidance split the atom. He won the Nobel Prize in 1908, was knighted in 1914 and awarded the Order of Merit in 1925. Rutherford made very little use of mathematical machinery and worked surrounded by a body of assistants and students who were devoted to him. He died in a nursing home following an abdominal operation 37 10 20b # c.36.9

An undergraduate of Peterhouse, Cambridge's oldest college, awoke coughing because of smoke and rushed through his burning sitting room to report the outbreak. Another occupant on the same floor attempted to put out the fire assisted by Mr S. Wilderspin, a porter. The Fire Brigade cut away floor boards to extinguish the blaze caused by a defective fire-place. The whole of the floor together with furniture and a wireless set was ruined. A club room beneath, situated in one of the oldest parts of the college dating back to the 15th century, was damaged by water. Another blaze of a much more serious nature occurred nearby about two years ago 37 10 20b photo 37 10 20 # c.45.5 # c.34.75

Percy Salmon gave a lantern lecture on Melbourn to Cambridge Photographic Club. One drawback was a lack of water supply and this was a serious matter to a photographer. The method of washing slides at the village pump was slow, but healthy, while dangling them in the mill pond merely provided a free picture show for the stickleback, who ruin the slides by their curiosity and rubbed the gelatine off. He deplored the 'slum clearance fever' which has swept Melbourn. It has made the village more healthy but less picturesque and no longer a hunting ground for photography 37 10 20c # c.65.5

The Bishop of Ely says money is needed for building new churches in rapidly developing centres of population, such as St George's off Milton Road, Cambridge, and the maintenance of church schools. But many old buildings are in serious structural difficulties due to subsidence or dry rot. Some such as Upwood and Croydon are already 'hospital cases'. Inhabitants of Balsham, Caldecote, Benwick and Carlton do their best but are unable to meet the expenditure necessary to put their churches into repair. Soon an Appeal Fund will be launched. 37 10 20e

Festival Theatre refurbished with electric candelabra from Alhambra in London – 37 10 20f # c.76

1937 10 22

Mr & Mrs Edward Simeon Flack celebrated 50 years of married life in the same cottage. They married at Fowlmere in October 1887 and went to live at Church Street, Thriplow. Mr Flack started work before he was 10 years old for Mr Joseph Ellis and was employed on the same farm for 63 years. He can remember the bad old days in farming about 1906 when he had only nine shillings a week to provide for his eight children (about £43 today). Now they have 21 grandchildren. His wife, born Matilda Smith, still does her household duties. 37 10 22b

The Cambridge Hebrew Congregation's new synagogue in Thompson's Lane was consecrated by the Very Rev, the Chief Rabbi of the British Empire. Jews were to be found in Cambridge before the Middle Ages and the stone walls of the medieval synagogue were said to be still standing. Cambridge University was the first seat of higher learning in the modern world to have given Jewish studies academic recognition. Arthur Cohen was the first Jew to take up residence at Magdalene College in the early 1850s after representation had been made to the Prince Consort, the then Chancellor, by Sir Moses Montefiore. 37 10 22 # c.83

1937 10 22 CDN

German airmen at Mildenhall inspect bombers 112.74

1937 10 22 ES

Walk or ride problem of Isle school children

School children who have to walk about two miles to and from school every day are to have their claims to be transported by 'bus, a privilege at present only enjoyed by those residing three miles or more from their school, considered by the Education Committee

The Education Committee considered the conveyance of children from Mepal to the Chatteris Council Schools. A tender from the Eastern Counties Omnibus Company was too high. It was the only tender received. There weren't no private bus owners in the district and Eastern Counties had a monopoly.

The children would have to be bought to Chatteris somehow until Sutton school was finished.

A petition was received from the parents of a number of Wentworth children, aged from five to 12 years, asking for arrangements to be made for them to be conveyed to Witchford School by bus., instead of having to walk the two and a half miles. The petition stated that there were convenient buses running in the morning and evening. It was decided not to provide a conveyance as the children resided within three miles of the school.

One councillor said if the children were his, they would stay at home; it was unfair to expect youngsters to walk that distance in the winter. But another believed they could do too much carrying; it would be a help to the health of older children if they walked. A child of nine or 10 walking two and a half miles to school would see and learn a great deal more than he would ever see in a bus. 37 10 22(4)ES

Sutton and Benwick church in urgent need of repair, photographs 37 10 22(2)ES

The Bishop of Ely has launched an appeal for the repair parish churches such as the fine old tower Sutton church and the interior of Benwick church which has been seriously damaged by substance, resulting in cracked walls and pews that are no longer level. Throughout the whole area are numerous of these churches which are in very serious structural difficulties. This is not anybody's fault. It is not through neglect of any kind. The collapse has come about through such causes as subsistence of the soil, especially after the dry summers of 1934, in 1935, or the attack of dry rot or beetle. Many parishes have not enough money to meet the heavy cost of an extensive underpinning or a wholesale repair of a fine timber roof. And yet somehow these churches must be saved. Some original really 'hospital cases', such as Upwood or Croydon, are in splints, only waiting for money before they can be saved.

But besides those which give evidence signs of collapse there is a formidable list of churches, including some of the most famous shrines of Marshland, which now considerable money to prevent them becoming cases of extensive structural repair. These include Wiggshall St Mary the Virgin. The inhabitants of these villages, do their best, but they are unable to meet the expenditure necessary to put their churches into a thorough state of repair and preserve them for generations to come. 37 10 22 (2)ES

A Boxing Club for the scholars of Witchford School saw several enthusiasts, turn up to enjoy (?) the sport! Several boys showed great promise, knowing how to box. Other initiates showed that they belong to a rural district by using 'haymakers'. It is hopes that as many scholars as possible will join, as boxing is one of the noblest ports. 37 10 22(3) ES

Ely councillors considered suggestions that Poor Law Institution (or parish burials) could be arranged for three bodies in a grave nine feet and that reburying could be considered in certain parts of the cemetery. Their present grounds would allow them sufficient burials for the next 15 years. Sometimes their men would be troubled with rock, sometimes with water and sometimes with sandy soil and if they contemplated double burials, they were only asking for more trouble

Councillor Vail said "If a poor person cannot afford to buy his grave space in due course, a stranger would be buried in the same grave. I'm strongly opposed to this. I'm also opposed to the setting aside of a portion of the cemetery for parish funerals. These poor people may be paupers, but they are somebody's sons and somebody's daughter. And when death comes along, we are all equal"

Mr Churchyard said: The proposal to segregate the poor is particularly objectionable. Hundreds of people were buried in the cemetery who did not purchase their graves. They have not been paupers but respectable citizens.

But Mr Bowden asked: How are we going to know the differences between the poor of Ely and the rich in respect of purchasing graves. It is like going in a third class carriage with a third class ticket, Certain of the very wide paths could be used for burial spaces, which would make room for 400 or 500.

The curator should use his influence to get double graves. It is wrong to insist on them. It means the people who cannot afford to purchase their graves will have to consent sooner or later to someone else being buried in the graves.

But Captain Hart said he would like to see the recommendations concerning burials at nine feet adopted, because they would then be easing the situation for those who might be Members of the Board some years hence. They would have no difficulty in the future in opening up graves without going too deep and uncovering the bodies of those who had been buried. 37 10 22ES

1937 10 23

A.W. Morlin, ironmongers and builders' merchants started 1909 – 37 10 23 # c.27

A plaque to Edward Fitzwilliam was unveiled on the wall of 19, King's Parade, where he lived from 1826 to 1830 and entertained his friends. Mr Frank Brangwyn made the design and Joseph Cribb sculptured the stone which was quarried in Rutland. It honoured a man who brought the wisdom and philosophy of the East to the West. The Omar Khayyam Club had supported the appeal but George Bernard Shaw sent a postcard saying "I am not a Fitz fan. You can do as well without me". 37 10 23a

Cambridge University and Town Waterworks Company's new workshops and depots in Rustat Road would lead to improved service, enhanced efficiency and – sooner or later – reduced charges. The old premises in Bene't Street had been a veritable shambles and disgrace with pipes stored at the disused Cherry Hinton and Fulbourn pumping stations. They would wage ceaseless war against waste by leakage and had a gang of plumbers ready to deal with any emergency 24 hours a day with the promptitude of the London Fire Brigade. 37 10 23b # c.24.2

Great deal of war talk - Cartoon – 37 10 23c # c.45.6

A new novel deals with the Cambridge of the future. "Thirty Million Gas Masks" by Sarah Campion imagines 'Something like ten thousand Cantabrigians were wiped out (as every schoolboy knows) in the Air Raid of 1939. There are memorials to the Cambridge dead all over the rest of Great Britain. The enemy cared not two buttons about Cambridge but were aiming at London'. In the book a technical mishap on one of the bombing planes releases a new gas which results in the area being evacuated only to be visited by people in gas masks sent by the Government to test the poison-laden country. 37 10 23 c d e # c.45.6 # c.74

1937 10 27

Journalist H.G. Hodder told Rotarians he'd started his career at the CDN. He'd reported on the birth of the St Neots quads and on the death of King George V when he was one of 60 reporters crowded into the Feathers at Dersingham waiting for the news. He'd been accused of overdoing the 1937 floods but it was a good story at a rather quiet time and imaginations were stretched slightly. However it meant that the Government did begin to think what might happen in the Fens unless protection is improved 37 10 27 # c.04 # c.29

1937 10 29

Haddenham boy thrashed mother and tried smash home up – 37 10 29

Cambridge & Counties Crematorium Ltd was incorporated on 8th June 1936 to establish a crematorium on an attractive site on the main Huntingdon Road with a chapel, incinerating chambers, columbaria for the reception of urns and waiting rooms. The Borough Council have decided not to proceed with a Municipal Crematorium so this will be the only one within 50-60 miles and has every prospect of success. The Company's revenue will consist not only of fees for cremations but also for the storage of urns and for niches. Shares are now available – advertisement 37 10 29a & b # c.21.2

1937 10 29 ES

To provide oil engines in replacement of the existing steam plant at their 100-foot and Ten Mile Bank pumping stations 37 10 29&(2)ES # c.29

Littleport and Downtown District Drainage Commissioners turned considered whether to take advantage of the government grant to provide oil engines in replacement of the existing steam plant at their Hundred Feet and Ten Mile Bank pumping stations. The Government are very anxious to do what they can to improve the fertility of our land. They want to get poorly drained land better drained, making a grant of 33% towards doing out of ditches and drains. There was also a 50% grant available for the improvement of pumping machinery. Speaking of Ten Mile Bank, the Chairman said that as we standby to the oil plant, had a 48-inch pump connected to a steam engine. The latter's boilers were getting the worst for wear and he thought it would be desirable to replace that steam engine with an oil engine. A rough estimate would be £3,000 of which the ministry would make a grant of half. At the Hundred Feet Pumping Station the boilers had been in use for 26 years and were probably getting near to the end. That was a duplicate 33-inch plant and also a large steam engine connected with a 50 inch pump. In an ordinary winter the smaller pump had been capable of dealing with the water but if they had any very wet spells, they had last winter, it was incapable of doing so and they had had to resort to the steam engine, which was very much more expensive to run. By having an oil agent that would deal with the water, even in cases of exceptional rainfall, running expenses, which had been nearly £1,000 last year could be halved. He felt they should pass the resolution to erect an oil engine during the summer months. But at present they owe the bank just under £6,000 pounds. To put in an oil engine at Ten Mile Bank would cost £3,000 and for the Hundred Feet £6,000. The cost of the machinery does not include alterations to buildings or foundations. Mr Bedford said: I quite agree with good drainage. You can't farm without it. But I don't believe in spending this money at the Hundred Feet station to run that little time in the year as the other engine did last year. It would cost £3,000 and you wouldn't run the engine for a fortnight or three weeks in 12 months. Col. Martin: if the boilers are about done, surely it is time to put in new plant. Our pumps have got to be able to take the maximum yield of water in the wettest season of the year.

The Commissioners decided that the engine should remain as they were and they should obtain an independent report on the conditions of the boilers from an expert. 37 10 29(2)ES

Appeal for £25,000 for preservation of churches 37 10 29(3)ES

The Bishop of Ely launched an appeal for the building of new churches in rapidly developing centres of population. There were a great number of churches in Cambridge already. Perhaps too many. But they were not exactly where they want them to be. To move the church was as expensive as to build a new one. In some places it is really impossible for the village to make the necessary repairs to their church. For instance the church in Benwick is in splints and would be so for many years if the diocese did not go to the help of the church. Similarly, it would have been possible for the parishioners of Guyhirn without the help of the Diocese carry on the work of equipping their school.

He was strongly of the opinion that one of the reasons why people did not go to church was that they were afraid of what their neighbours might say. When people went into a new neighbourhood, nobody knew anything about them, and they could begin going to church without fear of stimulating criticism.

It was therefore essential that the church should be on the ground before those people had developed the non-church-going habit.

"I fear that conventional religion has almost entirely died out but the people who do come to church mean business as never before. The kind of stuff we work with in some of these new districts is positively magnificent. But no one can prophesy what is to happen in the next five or 10 years, the whole face of the world may be changed. The only thing we can be certain of is that England is going to be a very different place from which it is now. Yet the life of the people is going to be based firmly on the laws of the Christian religion. Then whatever happens it will be alright. If we cannot be sure of that then whatever happens will be all wrong". 37 10 29(3)ES

Allegations that members of Ely Urban District Council try to please certain property owners

Allegations were made that members of Ely Urban District Council try to please certain property owners and burden committees with unnecessary work.

Members of the housing committee went so far to say that unless their decision regarding unfit houses were supported, they would resign, declaring that the landlords of some properties in the city would not affect necessary repairs unless the council forced them to do so. The Sanitary Inspector said he had inspected 17 houses for defects. Twelve in West Fen Road are the property of Mr O.C. Ambrose of Stuntney Hall. The houses are in a very bad state of repair and in his opinion cannot be repaired at reasonable cost unless the owner takes the advantage of the grant obtainable under the Housing Workers Act.

The Council reconsidered parking places for motor cars. There was space for 312 cars in the garages but the number using them was 117. It was unfair to the garage proprietors for the Council to put up the garage proprietors rates and then provide more free parking. If a person could afford the cost of purchasing and running a car, that person could also afford the sixpence or shilling to park it in a garage and so keep the streets of Ely free. Barton Square and Palace Green were packed with cars on Thursdays and Saturdays. But if they wanted to keep the trade going they must give accommodation for the motor cars. There was no yard large enough to accommodate the 35 or 37 motor floats which bought cattle and pigs to Ely market on Thursdays and for the same time leave sufficient garage accommodation for the large number of cars which came in on that day. They did not intend to exclude free parking on the highway but to restrict it 37 10 29(3)ES

Anxiety for the prospects of the sugar beet industry due shortage of labour and increase in the farmers cost and unfavourable weather render outlook depressing 37 10 29(4)ES

New school at Black Horse Drove due generosity of the Fendick family 37 10 29(4)(5)ES

Tuesday was a red-letter day in the annals of Black Horse Drove for it marked the official opening of the fine new school which has been built there for the education of the younger children due to the generosity of the Fendick family. Ald J.H. Martin said he had been going backwards and forwards to Black Horse Drove for nearly 70 years, and he had seen the drove when it had been impossible to drive a motor car or even a horse and cart along it and people had either to ride on horseback or walk. Now not only had they got a good road and some new houses but an up-to-date school. Some people objected to the name Black Horse Drove, because it was named after a public house, but it was not the name that counted. The new headmistress, Miss F.O. Taylor, had shaped wonderfully well during the fortnight the school had been open and had worked like a Trojan in preparing for that day's function. The old Board school which had served the community for 62 years would probably be pulled down sometime in the future. 37 10 29(4) ES

1937 10 30

Four unemployed men were charged with stealing scrap-iron from Messrs Swann Bros, brick and lime merchants. Christopher Swann, the manager, said he was cycling on Stourbridge Common when he saw a handcart beside the hedge alongside the works. It was loaded with 21 fire bars, a grate, pieces of pipe and part of a slow combustion stove. They had been kept inside the mess house in the brick yard and no one was supposed to move it. One of the accused said he thought it was a public refuse pit; he had a crippled father, a mother unable to work and thought a few shillings would come in handy. 37 10 30

November 1937 CDN & Ely Standard

1937 11 01

At the dedication of a new organ at Histon Methodist church Dr W.H. Rouse said he had an organ which had been in the late Henry Martyn's church. It was rather like a chest of drawers. It was 'played' by putting rolls like sausages through a hole in it; then one turned the handle and the hymns came out! A Histon church once had a similar organ which played four hymns. It was not possible to select any one of the four; the whole four had to be played in strict order. The new organ, built by A. Noterman of Shepherd's Bush was used as a demonstration instrument in the film made by Gaumont-British showing the building of a church organ. Several of the leading cinema organists of the day have played on it. 37 11 01 # c.69.4

Jan Metcalfe's variety entertainment with Josephine & her Gypsy Band and the twelve 'Pye Radio Girls' – 37 11 01

1937 11 02

Mayor W.L. Briggs' year in office – review – 37 11 02 & a # c.35.7

W.H. Bansall keen photographer, founder Bansall club – obit – 37 11 02b # c.65.5

Isleham church civic service with Sheriff and Mayor – 37 11 02c

1937 11 03

Papworth Village Settlement had been acting illegally by running a bus to and from Cambridge. Journeys were varied according to need, carrying staff, patients, visiting relatives and special visitors. Patients are carried at a special rate and special journeys have frequently to be made to meet them off trains. Ambulance cases are charged according to distance. It would be impossible to carry on their work without it. Eastern Counties provided no service on four days a week and Eastern National came no nearer than Caxton Gibbet. 37 11 03

1937 11 04

Cambridge Co-operative Society's new store on corner of Histon and Windsor Road serves the needs of this new and populous district. The attractive up-to-date building has been designed with a dignity worthy of its position; the elevations are faced with Portland Stone and multi-coloured red bricks, forming a frame for the blue and gold mosaic panels incorporating the Society's name. The shop fronts are of bronze with oak entrance doors and polished granite stall board risers. The floor of the butchery shop is covered with marble mosaic and the grocery shop with rubber flooring 37 11 04a # c.27.2

Milton Road railway bridge over level crossing proposed – 37 11 04 # c.26.2

1937 11 05

Coleridge Senior School in Radegund Road was opened by the Mayor. It was not yet completely equipped – only half the gymnasium fittings were fixed and although they had a dining hall and kitchen the cooking arrangements were not complete. But the halls were fitted with cinema projection rooms, there were showers for pupils, and rooms for teaching cookery, laundry, housewifery and woodwork. The spread of population to the outlying parts of Cambridge had made it possible to provide new schools with plenty of land for playing fields. 37 11 05a # c.36.5

The cost of providing and maintaining Ely fire brigade and equipment was considerable and there should be payment if they were to attend fires in the rural area, councillors heard. Only Downham, Sutton, Witcham and Haddenham had fire fighting equipment but no one would work the Haddenham engine. The whole district was now connected to a water supply so parish councils should connect to the mains and erect stand pipes. But the Cambridge brigade had offered their services without any retaining fee and that would be cheaper. 37 11 05b

Ald H.F. Peatling, chairman of the Isle of Ely County Council opened the extension to the County Hall at March with a silver key and then unveiled a tablet in the entrance hall to commemorate the occasion. The building, which cost £17,000 (about £94,500 now), would make for more convenient working of the Council officials. Parliament imposed an ever-increasing workload which meant more staff; there had been 300 applications for the last post advertised. The Chairman then entertained the whole of the council to a luncheon. 37 11 05c

1937 11 05 ES

Opening of extension of County Hall, March photograph 37 11 05(ES)

The extension of the County Hall at March, erected at a cost of nearly £17,000 was opened with the fitting ceremony. Members of the County Council, county officials and others prominently identified with the public life of the county united in the observance of a memorial day in the annals of local government in the Isle of Ely

The extensive enlargement of the building has resulted in a most imposing hall and the scheme has been carried out so efficiently that the whole might well be imagined to have been designed and erected at once, instead of in three sections, as has been the case.

The original block was built and equipped in 1908, the first extension was made in 1928 and the latest additions brings the total overall to over £31,000

The opening ceremony was performed by the Chairman of the County Council, and afterwards guests were entertained to luncheon which was followed by considerable speech making. 37 11 05ES

Ely isolation hospital practically owing to diphtheria and scarlet fever 37 11 05(2)ES

Ely Isolation Hospital is practically filled at the present time owing to serious outbreaks of diphtheria and scarlet fever.

For many weeks scarlet fever has been prevalent not only in Ely but in the surrounding towns and villages. At the present time, there were 39 patients in the Isolation Hospital suffering from that disease.

More alarming, however, is a sudden outbreak of diphtheria at Littleport: during the past three weeks, no fewer than 17 children between the ages of five and 11 years been admitted to the Hospital.

Fortunately, however, owing to the fact that, up to now, both diseases have been present in mild form, without many complications, and to the splendid care and attention which they have received from the Medical Officer (Dr K.S. Maurice Smith), the Matron and her staff, the patients are progressing favourably

It would be advisable for anyone suffering from a sore throat or showing any kind of rash to consult their doctor as soon as possible.

Ely Rural District Council Sanitary Inspector reported that 17 cases of diphtheria had been moved to the hospital since October the 12th. It might well be faced with an epidemic of alarming proportions.

It was a question as to whether the Council would make some attempt to immunise the children.

Immunisation would be voluntary and the procedure was a simple one being carried out in two doses. The immunity lasted roughly 10 years and might be the means of saving life and certainly of saving money.

There were about 550 children at the Littleport Schools and if about 75% were to assent to immunisation, the cost would be £42 pounds. It would be advisable to carry it out straight away.

When cases are coming in at this rate there is no telling what we may be faced with in a very short time.

At present, however, no order has been received by the head teacher of the Littleport schools authorising them to close the schools until the epidemic abates. Such a course of action would seem advisable in view of the contagious nature of the disease - and several carriers of the disease have been found amongst the children sent home from school - and also the fact that the present attendance in most cases falls below the 50% mark. 37 11 05(2)ES

Black Horse Drove School memories

Sir, I read with much interest about the new schools opened at Black Horse Drove by the High Sheriff when thanks were expressed to the Director of Education, the architect and builders and to Mr Hare for selling the land.

But the retiring schoolmaster and school mistress seem to have missed their due. I a nearly 50 and I was a pupil under Mr. Goddard at Littleport Town Boys' School about 38 years ago. Mrs Goddard was the mistress of Littleport Infants' School. Leaving Littleport they took charge of Dairy Houses schools for more for five or six years.

I believe it was in 1932 by took charge of a much larger school at Black Horse Drove until a month ago when they retired to live in Wisbech.

Since a boy I remember Mr. And Mrs. Goddard being most loyal supporters of the Littleport Flower Show, Nursing Association and Addenbrooke's Hospital. The Goddards are not only highly respected but loved at Littleport, Dairy Houses and Black Horse Drove. This is only obtained by merit, hence when the public appreciations and thanks are being issued out I think the Goddard's should have headed the list. Why not? 'Fiftyish' 37 111 05(2)ES

Prickwillow housing needs – 37 11 05(2)ES

Sir,

It was inspiring to read a report that a decision had been reached to purchase an acre of land in Prickwillow on which to erect houses. About two years ago a petition signed by about 100 ratepayers resident in the village requested the Council to erect some houses in Prickwillow. This was favourably considered and plans were prepared and submitted to the council. Then before the election the plans were considered when the Council supported the proposal and move that in view of the need there should be 12 houses to the acre instead of 10.

I appealed to the candidates for the new Council to support this decision to build more houses in Prickwillow. Since the petition was sent to the Council at least one family that was born and bred in the village had been driven out by the overcrowding act and the shortage of houses. Some people have been fortunate to have houses built for them but provision has yet to be made for the needs of the less fortunate. There is not a house anywhere in which a newly married couple can make their own home. In fact, the three happy weddings that have taken place in St Peter's Church since August have ended in the newlyweds going back to live with their parents. This fact alone justifies the immediate erection of more houses. Houses must also be found for those who desire to marry, but cannot find a house. There is no doubt that during the next few years, some dwellings of present inhabitants will become derelict and what will people do then? Go to Ely?. – 37 11 05(2)ES

Poppy Day Appeal

Sir, will you allow me as Organising Secretary for the Poppy Day Appeal to make a very special appeal to the public of Haddenham, Wilburton and Stretham to subscribe very generously on Remembrance Day. Last year the three villages subscribed £34 4s. 3d. I appeal to all this year to reach the £40 mark. The need is so much greater this year. The funds subscribed by a generous public on Poppy Day did not belong to the Legion, but it is entrusted with their administration only and so to maintain that high total subscribed, we must use every endeavour adequately to fulfil our responsibility. So do please give generously for your Poppy on November 11th
A. H Wilson, Organising Secretary, Hop Row, Haddenham 37 11 05 (2)ES

1937 11 06

The treat of severe action had a salutary effect on Cambridge undergraduates during the 'Fifth' celebrations. Last year a number of students were rusticated and others heavily fined by Borough justices. The Gas Company surrounded their lamp posts with barbed wire and fitted specially toughened glass over the actual light. Although a number of the taller standards were clambered up in every case the mountaineers had to return baffled. Not a light was extinguished. However two bus windows were broken with bricks and a pane of glass in a telephone kiosk was smashed. Photographers who used flashlights to take pictures had to retire in face of a barrage of missiles. Police arrested a woman but no serious attempt was made to rescue her. 37 11 06 # c.36.94

The Agricultural Wages Committee increased the minimum wage for an agricultural worker by half-a-crown to thirty-five shillings (about £97 now) for a 50-hour week in summer (48 in winter). Extra hours will be paid at overtime rates. Horsekeepers, cowmen and shepherds should have more. This was still behind the cost of living which had gone up by leaps and bounds. Farmers said the past season had been bad and they could not begin to think about granting a week's holiday with pay. Most men were earning thirty-eight shillings with piece work, harvest and occasional overtime. The rent of cottages for agricultural workers was still often as low as two-shillings and sixpence a week (£7 now). But Mr A.E. Stubbs said farmers would purchase their labour in the cheapest possible market, in just the same way as they bought their store cattle 37 11 06b & c

Cartoon showing new Mayor, Saville Peck in a Council radio studio – 37 11 06a # c.27.8

1937 11 08

Sir – I have 4,000 acres in Mildenhall parish so derelict that they cannot be farmed and bring ruin to the families who try it. Given one road to join the five cul-de-sacs and a bridge over the River Lark to a similar road in Cambridgeshire, all these families could get their sugar beet to Ely factory. If the counties won't share the cost of a bridge, a mile of Suffolk road would save the bank where it broke and temporarily corked itself one Sunday morning. It was almost a miracle that the fen floods did not culminate in a great and tragic disaster. But the banks and roads remain bones of contention in various stages of deadlock – Rev J. E. Sawbridge, vicar 37 11 08 # c.29

1937 11 09

Ernest Saville Peck elected Mayor – 37 11 09 # c.35.7

1937 11 10

Newmarket Memorial Hall was filled for a mass meeting of stable lands organised by the Transport and General Workers' Union. It was the end of low wages and miserable working conditions. There was one man in the hall who had seven children and was drawing four shillings a week more when unemployed than when working. It was wrong and wicked that men and their families should be suffering. They had no Fascist, Nazi or Bolshevik instincts but just wanted a fair crack of the whip. 37 11 10 & a

1937 11 11

Dramatic scene at Cenotaph, a man's cry breaks the silence: 'deliberately preparing for war. Gt Silence in Cambridge photo – 37 11 11

Cambridge's act of homage – 37 11 11a & b

A small holder from Furlong Drove, Pymore was killed on Pymore Sidings Road when the wheel of a beet-laden tumbrel cart he was driving passed over and crushed his head. 37 11 11c

Cambridge Labour Party women's section heard that the Government was preparing for war and was not going to spend money on decent houses for its citizens to live in. Gas masks for 'essential' people were available at £1 and ten-and-six each, but for the masses at two shillings and nine pence. They should press for equality for rich and poor alike; gas masks should be efficient and not merely 'eye-wash' to prevent a panic. To capitalist interest war meant vast profits and hard cash. 37 11 11d # c.45.6

1937 11 12

Sir Frederick Hiam appeared before the Potato Marketing Board for allegedly using the wrong riddle to grade potatoes. Also B.A. Hazel of Tile House Farm – 37 11 12

Saffron Walden voluntary fire brigade dinner recalled the olden days when they used horse-drawn pumps and one man was always sent off to get refreshments. They could go eight or nine miles and not see a mouthful of food, and you cannot work on an empty stomach. Previously it was difficult to find hydrants but now the brigade can go right to the spot and the fire is out momentarily. But that is up to them, because they generally like a night of it. (Laughter) They had not always been welcome: at a stack fire at Newport in 1868 the brigade had received more abuse than assistance from bystanders and very little support from the police. 37 11 12b

1937 11 12 ES

Doddington church bells unsafe

Death Rev Davidson of Manea, Methodist minister 37 11 12ES

Littleport death William Gotobed. Methodist worker 37 11 12(2)ES

Wilburton death of William Norfolk carver

Wilburton has lost one of its most respective inhabitants by the death of Mr. William Norfolk, aged 54. He lived in the house where his father lived and followed his father in business as a fruit grower and florist. He was a large grower of Paul Cramped geraniums and had the distinction of being probably the largest grower in the country. In the last few years, he specialised in growing scabious for cut flowers. He was well-known in Wilburton, where he had lived all his life, being a member of a real old family and was a member Parish and Rural District Councils. For many years he was organist at Wilburton parish church. He was a lovable character, never without a smile and cheery word, always ready to do a good deed and give a helping hand. 37 11 12(2)ES

Armistice day scenes at war memorials 37 11 12(2)ES

Coveney new headmaster T.B. James 37 11 12(3)ES

1937 11 15

Paul Robeson recital at Regal – 37 11 15 # c.69

Cambridge Peace Week ends with march from Parkers Piece to War Memorial – 37 11 15a & b # c.45.6

1937 11 18

People were attracted to the scene from all over the district after an outbreak of fire was observed in a group of stacks at Street Farm, Hundon. The first stack involved was near the roadway and with the wind carrying the flames about half of the others were ablaze within an incredibly short space of time. Haverhill Brigade were handicapped as the nearest water was a reservoir some distance away. Nine stacks were destroyed including three of red clover stover, two of seed clover and one each of sainfoin, trefoil seed, barley straw and trefoil straw. 37 11 18

Motoring byelaw stopping people alighting from vehicles on off-side suggested after fatal accident – 37 11 18a

Mildenhall fen farmers let land go out of cultivation to avoid tithe – 37 11 18b

1937 11 19

The new aerodrome at Teversham Corner is a great improvement. Pilots can glide down without having to dodge or scrape over trees or other obstacles and it is a pleasure to land on a flat piece of ground after the ridges on the old airfield. The size and spaciousness of the main hangar is impressive with huge sliding doors allowing any one of the single and twin engined civil airliners in use today to be accommodated with ease. A control tower is being built to replace the small one on the tarmac and a start has been made on a hotel. They should be in full swing when the aerodrome is officially opened next spring. 37 11 19 & a # c.26.1

1937 11 19 ES

Ely is to have another super cinema

Ely is to have another super cinema,

Ely is to have another super cinema. The Proprietors of the Rex and Public Room Cinemas have purchased the premises of the late Mr George Martin Hall at the junction of Bray's Lane and the Market Place.

Messrs Ward and Woolnough, who designed the Rex Theatre, have been engaged to prepare a scheme for a new cinema on the site. It will be a super cinema of the latest type and will be designed with the object of being utilised for television as soon as that becomes a business proposition.

Another improvement will be the widening of Bray's Lane at the Market Place end for Ely Urban District Council have decided to purchase a strip of land for that purpose. 37 11 19(4)ES

Frederick Lawrence who died at his house in King Street, Cambridge, was formerly well-known in Cambridge cycling circles. He founded the Belmont Cycling Co., King Street in 1894 and about 1902 was responsible for the formation of the Belmont Cycling Club which had a prosperous existence until the outbreak of war. One of his favourite pastimes was to steer the multi-cycle on which five members of the club used to take trips about the countryside. 37 11 19(5)ES

Cambridgeshire and Isle of Ely branch of the Personal Service League does good work in helping distressed areas. There is still real need and a letter had been received from Merthyr Tydfil saying they had not received any benefit from the government schemes for introducing new industries and men were entering on their 10th or 12th winter of unemployment

The report showed 10,061 garments, boots bits shoes were received and 480 garments were distributed locally in response to calls made by the Church Army. Wayfarer's Rest and Dry Drayton parish. Grants are made through approved societies and not to individuals.

Fewer gifts of worn clothing had been received, but more advantage had been taken of the offer to supply materials free of cost, which had been appreciated by people anxious to give their work, though they could not afford to pay for the materials. All the work parties had been supplied with work, in addition to 20 individual members in the villages and Cambridge itself. The work parties had contributed 482 new and worn garments and 521 garments made from materials supplied.

Garments such as evening suits and dresses and other things not suitable for the special areas were sent to headquarters in London, where they were distributed to deserving cases. 37 11 19ES

1937 11 20

De Freville school, p5

1937 11 23

Santa Claus arrived at Cambridge station en route for Robert Sayle's where he opened the Toy Fair and the wonderful 'Streamline Express'. Every kiddie should take a thrilling ride to meet him.

Surprise parcels, 6d, including your fare. – advert 37 11 23

1937 11 24

An inquest heard that three fighters had been attacking three bombers over Therfield when two machines touched wings and spun to the ground. One man fell out but his parachute did not open. – 37 11 26b – photo – 37 11 24 # c.26.1

1937 11 25

Firemen, policemen and airmen watched as Thornhaugh Hall, a Lincolnshire mansion, scene of many smart social gatherings for 30 years, burned itself out. The owner, Mr Stanley Brotherhood, was carried from his bed, where he had lain in for a month, to a servant's cottage in the grounds, while villagers helped salvage furniture. A private lake in the grounds was emptied on to the blaze. Lily ponds were pumped dry. Then the supply of water gave out and the rescue squad stood by helpless while the flames finished their work. The house was reduced to a ruin, only the bare walls being left. There have been a dozen mansion house fires this year. 37 11 25

1937 11 26

The banks on the Reach, Burwell and Wicken Lodes should be raised and the main engine drain widened, the Ouse Catchment Board recommended. At Upware the old scoop wheel, engine and boilers should be sold, the building demolished and a new pump installed. Very few banks had broken in the fens in the last 20 years but those at Soham Lode had broken twice in the last 15 years. Last week the slips were very bad indeed. The County Council were pumping water from Soham Mere Farm into the lode - instead they should pump direct into the Cam 37 11 26 & a # c.29

Rev F.J. Bywaters instituted at Willingham 37 11 26c

1937 11 26 ES

Southery fire at Carpenters Arms public house, Westgate Street, 10 people homeless 37 11 26ES
Ten people were rendered homeless by a disaster fire which broke out at the Carpenters' Arms public house, Westgate Street, Southery early on Tuesday morning. It was the worst seen in the village for generations.

Mrs. Robert Hildreth, wife of the licensee was sleeping upstairs with her five children at the time. Robert, aged 12 was awakened soon after midnight by the barking of a dog downstairs and found his bedroom fill of smoke. He at once aroused his mother, his brothers and sisters. When they tried to go downstairs they were driven back by flames and smoke to one of the front bedrooms. Ronnie age 10 jumped from the window to the ground below a distance of 10 feet. His brother Robert slid down a sheet which had been hastily fastened inside the room and reached the ground safely. Fortunately, the Rector of Southery, the Reverend E.S. Morton, and others were soon on the scene and were able to reach the other members of the family who were rescued with a ladder. All were in a distressed condition. The dog was also saved.

Mr. Hildreth was working on night duty at Feltwell aerodrome at the time of the fire.

The Littleport fire brigade arrived on the scene, but were unable to save the building. When the roof collapsed flame shot up to a great height. It was impossible to prevent the flames spreading to the house next door in which Mrs. Gregory Porter who is over 80 years of age, was sleeping downstairs at the time. Also in the house, were her daughter and granddaughter. All the furniture was saved from that house.

The only furniture saved from the Carpenters' Arms was a piano which was badly damaged. The family lost all their wearing apparel and Mr Hildreth also lost part of his savings which were in a tin box in a locked cupboard. Books belonging to a slate club were also destroyed. Mr and Mrs. Hildreth are at present living in the Oddfellows Hall, and their children with relatives and friends.

On Tuesday and Wednesday, carpenters were busy erecting a wooden building in the yard at the back from which the usual licence trade of the house is being carried on temporarily. 37 11 26

1937 11 27

Bridge Street, p1

December 1937 CDN & Ely Standard

1937 12 03

Ely High School buildings are old and a hotchpotch of makeshifts; we are greatly troubled by the noise in the front and a great deal of time is wasted in moving about in congested spaces, Headmistress Miss B. Tilley reported at Speech Day. The domestic science room is being equipped for laundry work and sixth-form girls are taught typing and shorthand, giving them elementary business training. They were fortunate to have a mistress with special qualifications in speech training so girls could learn to speak well and clearly, a necessity for those who wish to make a success of their career 37 12 03

Demolition of houses at Horseheath and Duxford – 37 12 03a

1937 12 03 ES

Ouse Catchment Board consider purchasing Hundred-Foot Washes

Middle Level Commissioners wrote concerning the pressure on the banks of Soham Lode in times of high flood. The County Engineer reported that the work had to be postponed to enable urgent work to be undertaken on the main river. But it had since started again. He would report on the cost of carrying up the banks to the full height as compared with the installation of a pump. The bank had broken twice in the last 15 years and very little money had been spent on the banks. Very few banks have broken in the Fens in the last 20 years.

Mr. Ambrose had been there last week, and the slips were very bad indeed. The Engineer replied that he considered the work on the main river was much more essential than work in the Lodes.

Cambridgeshire County Council were pumping into this Lode. The Board ought to consider whether they could install a pump and pump direct into the Cam.

This was not the first time County Council had been blamed for breaks in the Lode. This was not true the County Council would not give up their rights with regard to Soham Mere farm and it was pure nonsense to say the Council's pumping from 1,500 acres of land would break the bank. 37 12 93(2)ES

Derelict canal might be filled in to serve traffic from Outwell and Upwell. March Hythe collapse & bridge improvement. Ely improvement junction Cambridge Road & West End. Forty Foot bank collapse danger. Under County Council Act and it will be necessary for any person wishing to erect buildings to apply for the County Council for permission. Restrictions applied to all roads under control of the county council; adopt restriction of ribbon development

The Isle of Ely County Council considered a number of alternative schemes for outlining the south side of the road which runs alongside the 40 foot River between Carter's Bridge, Chatteris and Ramsey with a view of minimising the danger of road traffic plunging down the bank into the river. The road run close alongside the river for three miles. The schemes were for concrete posts, concrete kerbs painted black and white, using old granite sets instead of kerbing and fencing along the whole length with wood posts and a single rail. It was decided to outline the bank with concrete posts placed at 25 yards intervals and to affix discs on each post. 37 12 03(3)ES

The County Surveyor reported that a letter had been received from Mr Smith of Wisbech giving particulars of an accident in which his wife had been involved in North Street Wisbech when her car was run into by trucks being shunted along the railway line, which ran on the road at that point. Under sections of the act under which the railway was permitted to run along the road it appears that steam engines could not be employed on that particular section of line. The motors which were now employed on railway were every bit as bad as steam engines. The place was an absolute deathtrap and something should certainly be done. With present day traffic, there would still be a danger even if horses were employed to haul the trucks again because the visibility for road traffic was obscured. It was agreed to write to the railway company requesting them to arrange for flagging during any movement of traffic on the line. 37 12 03(3)ES

Ship Inn Brandon Creek fire extinguished 37 12 03(5)ES

The Ship Inn, Brandon Creek was the scene of an outbreak of fire in the early hours of Wednesday. The fact that the licensee, Mr. F.Y. Blair, was awakened by a fit of coughing probably means the saving of much property, which would otherwise have been destroyed. He and his wife woke up about 4am and as he could smell smoke he got out of bed. On opening the door he was met by fierce heat and clouds of smoke and phoned for the Littleport Fire Brigade. However, with the assistance of Mr. Turner, his neighbour, he succeeded in extinguishing the flames with pails of water and was able to cancel the order to the Brigade. The contents of the rooms were damaged. The cause of the fire is believed to be connected with an oil lamp which was alight in the bedroom. 37 12 03(3)ES

Ribbon development act schedules - includes Stretham 37 12 03(6)(7)ES

The Restriction of Ribbon Development Act of 1935 enabled Highway Authorities to acquire land for the construction or improvement of roads and controlling development. It includes the restriction of building developments along certain roads. The Isle of Ely County Council have now decided to take advantage of the Act in respect of unclassified county roads. After today, any person wishing to erect any buildings or execute any works on land within 220 feet of these roads must apply for permission to do so. Work must not be commenced until consent has been obtained. If any person erects any building, in contravention of restrictions, the Highway Authority has power to demolish the building fill up the excavation or remove the works. 37 12 03(3)ES

John Rowe Cross celebrated his 92nd birthday. This worthy old gentleman was born at the Old Bank Prickwillow. After spending 14 years in London, he returned to the village where he has lived for the last 20 years in Black Wing Road. Mr. Cross is in possession of all his faculties and is still fairly hale and healthy. A few weeks ago he surprised his relatives by informing them that he was cutting a new tooth and on investigation this proved to be correct. The tooth is now safely through and another is making its way through the gums evidently to keep company with the other, nature apparently making provision for a new spell of life for the old gentlemen. 37 12 03(8)ES

1937 12 04

Cambridge was a prosperous town but much of the trade depended upon the students and members of the University. The colleges are becoming self-contained so the need for lodgings was drying up. On Sunday it is like walking along the streets of a lost city with the shop fronts in darkness. Cambridge should appoint a publicity agent to attract visitors and conferences, said Mayor, Ald Briggs. A great deal of progress is due to the two or three large light industries who have made their home here and it needs more 37 12 04 & a # c.27

1937 12 08

Sir – two months ago I visited Kings Hedges Road and was surprised to find that an entirely new, first class road has been constructed, sewered, channelled, kerbed, grass verged. This has been done by the council under an agreement with the owners who threw into the highway just under half an acre of land, worth £50. The total cost of making the road was nearly £1,500. The building speculators have received a substantial gain, a splendid road, enhanced price for the houses erected, resulting in a bigger profit for them at the expense of the ratepayers – Geo. Edwards 37 12 08 # c.44.6

Over 20 fen men appeared in court for non-payment of Swaffham and Bottisham Drainage Board rates. One said it was nearly impossible for him to pay. “For two years we have been absolutely flooded out. We have a little corn remaining but cannot get a threshing machine down there because of the conditions left after the flood. We are next door to bankruptcy”. Another said the farm he occupied had been under four feet of water for three months. The Great Ouse Catchment Board had taken over the district and a new pump had been ordered 37 12 08a # c.29

Dear Ladies. Let me help you to choose a Christmas Gift for your menfolk. How about a shirt? I can show you excellent ranges in neat stripes and plain shades with two collars to match. Is your man warm and cosy at night? If not, let me suggest a suit of woollen Pyjamas. Is he in a hurry? How about a ‘Corby’ stretcher press so he can start the day immaculate with perfectly creased trousers. I remain, always at your service, S. Phillips, head salesman, shirt and hosiery department, Johnsons, 51 Sidney Street, Cambridge – Advertisement 37 12 08b

W. King took film of fen floods last spring – 37 12 08 # c.65.5

1937 12 09

The court heard of a dispute between a Dry Drayton farmer and Elijah Deamer, machinist and steam ploughing contractor of Hardwick. Charles Wilkinson of Madingley said he had been farming 55 years. The custom was for threshers to come round at the beginning of the harvest and do a little. Then they left and worked round. While they were absent the straw was used to thatch the stacks in readiness for the thresher’s return. It was not unusual for them to be away two months and some did not thresh until after Christmas. 37 12 09

1937 12 10

Ely Kumin Café defrauded by lorry driver – 37 12 10

An Emmanuel College undergraduate was trapped when fire broke out in his sitting room. He climbed out of the window holding the automatic life-line installed in the rooms, but as he was unacquainted with its working he was unable to use it. Porters fetched a ladder but by this time the lad, who had been standing on a three-inch ledge, had got on to a roof below his window. The fire brigade threw him a rope and, returning to his room he tied one end on to a bedpost and lowered himself on to their escape. A large hole was burnt in the floor and furniture damaged 37 12 10a # c.34.75 # c.44.5

The late Professor of Mineralogy, Arthur Hutchinson, made his way entirely by his own ability. He was elected to a Fellowship at Pembroke and later Master. He did important research during the war in connection with gas masks He was a Director of the CDN and chairman of the Coffee House Association which ran a cafe for the use of cab-men in a passage beside the Guildhall until the recent redevelopment. The Cottage Home for Orphan Girls in Fitzwilliam Road was a charity near his heart as was the Evelyn Hospital 37 12 13a # c.27.47

Hughie Green, p2
Emmanuel fire, p5
If war, p8

1937 12 10 ES

Ely police promotions include George Hills of Haddenham 37 12 10&(2)ES

Quite a number of changes will be effected in the Isle of Ely Police Force when Supt. P.J. Newell, Deputy Chief Constables, retires and various promotions and moves have been announced.

Supt J.F. Flatman, now in charge of the March division, will have the rank of Superintendent and Deputy Chief Constable and will remain at March. The vacant Superintendency at Ely will be filled by Inspector Hill, whose place among the Sergeants will be taken by P.c. A.E. Bell, of Thorney. P.s. A.S. Payne of Wisbech is retiring, and to fill that vacancy P.c. F.C. Skoulding, of Wisbech, will be made Sergeant.

P.s. V.C. Taylor will be moving back to the Chief Constable's office at Ely and P.c C.H. Goodwin. of Prickwillow. will be transferred to Thorney

37 12 10&(2)ES

Association of Internal Drainage Boards formed at London 37 12 10(3) # c.29

Liability for a barrier bank important judgement - 37 12 10(5)ES

Pacifism and war peace pledge union meeting at Haddenham 37 12 10 (60&(7)ES

Meeting arranged by the Haddenham branch of the Pacifism and War Peace Pledge Union heard that it was trying to prevent something that no one wanted, and yet nearly everyone was preparing for, and that was war.

It seemed that England might become involved in a war for keeping on defending the things we had. In reality, the most effective form of defence was attack. And so to defend you would have to bomb others faster than they bombed you.

The characteristics of modern war were the inevitability of dictatorship would take away our individual choice and make us part of the war machine. We shouldn't be robbed of democracy. Secondly, we should be engaged in or support acts of brutality such as would sicken anyone who contemplated them. And, thirdly, deceit would become practised on a grand scale through government propaganda, and hatred would be inculcated. These were big opposites of Christian virtues of faith with hope.

If we renounced war we disassociated ourselves from it completely.

A few years back we could not afford to raise the school leaving age nor give better rates of relief to the unemployed. Nor raise more than £2million for the distressed areas. Then suddenly we found we could spend £300million a year and never miss it. The snag was that it was all wanted for other things - industrial products of the battlefields. The social services could be vastly augmented with such a sum, and we could afford to place £50million at the disposal of the League of Nations for meeting distress in any part of the globe.

A question from the audience was what would happen if a foreign army invaded England? Dr. Alex Wood said the life of a nation could not be carried on unless people were free to go about their jobs. A foreign occupation, while unpleasant to us, could also be made unpleasant to the enemy and finally impossible if we refuse to cooperate with them. No nation could indefinitely hold another large and enlightened nation. No doubt some of our own people would be killed, but compared with a modern war it would be a picnic. 37 12 10(6) ES

Ely post office photos

1937 12 11

Corney Grain, p6

1937 12 13

A new police and fire station should be erected at Parkside, between Warkworth Terrace and East Road. The site is a very central one, had the great advantage of good access and egress from a fire-fighting point of view and the area is adequate for present and future requirements, councillors were told. Bearing in mind the possible future requirements for protection against air raids it was desirable that both police and fire stations should be in one unit on a new site 37 12 13 # c.34.75

1937 12 13

The Borough Council approved a scheme for a ring road from Coldham's Lane to Ditton Walk. This would be a dual carriageway with a grass strip 26 feet wide between them, a nine-foot wide cycle track and paved footpath. It would be reduced to 100 ft under and near the bridge which would carry the railway over the road near Coldham's Lane. This will be constructed by the railway company. The cost would be £77,550 (£4.3m today), to which must be added the construction of a soil sewer. 37 12 13b # c.44.62

1937 12 15

Sutton Gault Bridges to be transferred from Ouse Catchment Board to Isle of Ely County Council – when 37 12 15

Hughie Green, one of the youngest and brightest stars of the variety stage, visited the Doric Cinema at Newmarket. With his gang, supported by his broadcasting band, he crooned and gave some of his clever impersonations which earned the loud applause of a large audience. Hughie, now 17, who was made a star overnight though an appearance on the BBC's 'In Town Tonight', was not the only star name. Hal Swain, an exponent of the saxophone demonstrated how even this much-criticised instrument can produce melody 37 12 15a

Broadcasting House of Parliament ... dreary – 37 12 15a

E.M. Vinsen, Newmarket Road post office – advertisers – 37 12 15b

Cambridge Photographic Club's annual competition was 'Street characters and customs'. There were interesting entries depicting well-known characters and street scenes. Graham Turner submitted a picture of 'William Davis, pedlar', Capt C.G.M. Hatfield was awarded a certificate for a photograph of 'Banjo Joe', a familiar figure on the Backs, while Graham Turner and T.E. Collier were praised for their entries 37 12 15c # c.65.5

Royston library may yet be decently housed. Royston Men's Social Club is prepared to grant the County Council the use of a room on the ground floor of their premises in Kneesworth Street at a rent of five shillings a week to include lighting, cleaning and heating. It would be available for the continuous storage of books in lock-up bookcases and made exclusively available for the exchange of books for one hour on one evening a week. The cost would be £13 a year for the hire of premises and £20 for the provision of lock-up bookcases 37 12 15d

Bertram Mills, the famous circus pioneer, is being considered as a possible parliamentary candidate by the Isle of Ely Conservative Association in opposition to the sitting Liberal MP, Mr James de Rothschild. In 1919 he saw a circus show at Olympia and thought he could put on a better one himself. He was offered the venue for the next Christmas season and took on the lease without ever having staged such a show before. He toured the Continent with his son – who was up at Cambridge – and selected the first circus turns which were to make him famous. Since 1928 he has been a London County Councillor 37 12 16a # c.76.2

1937 12 16

Cambridge police station is 'more decorative than useful', Inspectors report. The very inadequate accommodation is unsuitable for present day police methods. The building is out of date. The number of records that have to be kept has changed completely and there is no means of storing them. There is no proper place for interviewing prisoners, nowhere for officers to take their food and no provision for housing firemen or single policemen. To ensure communication between police and fire headquarters, they should be on the same spot and under the same chief. Butt Green was unsuitable as it was common ground so the cheapest and best place for a new station is at Parkside. 37 12 16 # c.34.7

Stretham football ground has been closed for a fortnight by the Cambs Football Association following complaints of disorderly conduct by spectators. The incident occurred in a Minor Cup tie with Willingham. The Referee reported sending off C.H. Sadler, of Stretham, for dangerous play and using abusive language. He also reported the spectators for disorderly conduct during and after the game. Both cases were proved and Sadler was suspended for one month and the ground closed for two weeks. The Stretham club was also severely censured for playing an ineligible man 37 12 16d

Back in 1924 Green End Road and Kings Hedges Road were narrow country roads with hedges on each side and a narrow carriageway in the centre with rough grass margins on either side. Then the Cambridge Town Planning Scheme began to evolve and development started to take place. The Corporation built some wood framed houses on the west side of Kings Hedges Road and the housing society erected houses on the same side of Green End Road. Gradually houses began to appear on the opposite side and then the proposed ring road was agreed. Builders told to keep their houses far enough back to enable the required width but then the council purchased the land and constructed the ring road in front of the properties without any cost to them. The same procedure was followed on Kings Hedges Road from Milton Road to the old borough boundary 37 12 16c # c.49.4 # c.49.62

1937 12 18

Fire from an untraced source threatened historic Wimpole Hall; smoke and a smell of burning were all firemen had to guide them. Finally after several hours search they found the outbreak to be in the roof of the west wing where some beams were well alight; one was burnt right through. Capt Bainbridge and his wife, who is the daughter of Rudyard Kipling, helped remove furniture and piled it up on the lawn. Several rooms presented a scene of desolation; they were without furniture and water dripped rapidly through the ceiling. 37 12 18

1937 12 21

Sir — in Cambridge we have a council which is over-ridden by an irresponsible official whose knowledge of local conditions is nil. Some councillors did oppose the removal of the pedestrian refuges at the junction of Northampton Street and Chesterton Lane but they meekly submitted and gave way to the arrogance of the dictator. It was said that large vehicles could not get round the corners and that the lamp post had been knocked down 'scores of times'. But if certain transport companies have their way it will be necessary to remove St Giles' church and part of Magdalene College! - George Hall. 37 12 21

1937 12 22

Village college dinners at 2½ d provide sufficient nourishment? — 37 12 22&a

Steeple Morden stack fire, third of series of mysterious fires - 37 12 22c

"Mr Clark", the canary that called "Time!" at the Spread Eagle, Lensfield Road, was suffocated to death by smoke when fire broke out in the saloon bar. He had been an affectionately regarded inhabitant of the pub for some eight years. His almost human intelligence made his cage hanging from the bar ceiling a frequent centre of attraction. The bird was alive when rescued but although given brandy was too overcome by smoke to recover. The fire was caused by Christmas decorations accidentally catching fire 37 12 22b

1937 12 23

Pantomime at Theatre Cinema - 37 12 23

1937 12 24

Fellowship House toy distribution, which has taken place about Christmas-time for the last five years, came to an end after a very strenuous week. Altogether nearly 1,300 bags were distributed to the children of all unemployment men whose addresses were obtained from the Employment Exchange. Each bag contained an old toy, a new toy, a book, orange and bag of sweets and were delivered by private cars. Then as a 'Grand Finale' some 1,400 children were given a free film entertainment at the Victoria Cinema. 37 12 24 # c.39 # c.32.9

1937 12 24 ES

Slow progress with Ely's sewerage scheme

Sutton church restoration completed new line 37 12 24 &(2)ES

St Andrew's church, Sutton, has undergone extensive repair. Scaffolding of its 14th-century tower was necessary, much of the material used had formed the Coronation stands in London.

Activities began on the southwest angle of the tower where cracks had prompted the expert survey and on the turret stairs. Five whole steps and the newel portion of 13 others between ground and ringing chamber level have been renewed. The turret has been strengthened by the insertion of an encircling beam of reinforced concrete 20 feet up.

The condition of the main parapet - stones decayed and unsightly repairs from restoration work of last century - was such that the rebuilding of the parapet was called for. Faulty stones have been replaced with new ones. The removal of a parapet stone revealed that the lead flooring is bedded not on a boarded foundation but on a mixture of sand and clay, a method described as unique. It was also noticed that the mortar used at some previous time in restoration work contained coal dust. The pinnacles adorning the tower have received attention but a proposal to restore all of them to their original height was not proceeded with for financial reasons.

For years the spirelet has had a noticeable lean. Stripped of its lead coat its timbering was found to be in a very bad state. It was riddled with furniture beetle and would hardly have withstood a strong gale. It is now completely restored with new timbering.

The iron works supporting the old weathercock has been cleaned of rust and the weathercock which had long since ceased to function now swings to the wind quarter on new bearings resplendent with a new covering of gold leaf. The clock has also been repaired, the clock faces painted blue and the numerals and hands have been regilded. 37 12 24(2)ES

1937 12 28

Christmas festivities at Cambridge, Ross Street Children's Home, Home of Mercy – 37 12 28

Mill Road Infirmary, Harvey Goodwin Home, Mill Road Sanatorium, Church Army Home, Union Lane Institution 37 12 28a # c.39

Blue Book Directory 1938 now on sale – 37 12 28b

Xmas, p5

1937 12 29

Manea – house at Clay Pits belonging Fenn gutted by fire – 37 12 29a

Fire gutted a house at Manea on Boxing Day. It appeared that the owner-occupier Mr. William Fenn of Clay Pits and his wife left their home in the evening on a visit to their relations in the village, and an hour or so later they were notified that their house was on fire.

On arrival they found that the living room and an upstairs room well light and the flames were being quelled by the local fire brigade, who soon had the fire under control.

The living room and an upstairs room were completely gutted and the furniture was destroyed. It is believed that the cause was a spark from the fire in the living room, which set a mat alight. 37 12 29a

Coursing at Stretham on Boxing Day – 37 12 29b

1937 12 30

Regent Street café owner unable pay Peak's furniture which sold Cooper – 37 12 30

1937 12 31

Supt P.J. Newell, deputy chief constable of Isle of Ely Police retires – Ely practically crime less – 37 12 31

1927 12 31 ES

Review of the year 37 12 31&(2) ES

Pictorial review of the year 37 12 31(3)&(4)ES

1938 Cambridge Daily News & Ely Standard

These stories were compiled for my 'Looking Back' column. I have copies of the articles summarised

Note: also includes CIP From Our Old Files at end of initial sequence
Includes John Martin cuttings on 1937 & other floods 'JM' - EBK1485

January 1938 CDN & ES

Sir — in Cambridge we have a council which is over-ridden by an irresponsible official whose knowledge of local conditions is nil. Some councillors did oppose the removal of the pedestrian refuges at the junction of Northampton Street and Chesterton Lane but they meekly submitted and gave way to the arrogance of the dictator. It was said that large vehicles could not get round the corners and that the lamp post had been knocked down 'scores of times'. But if certain transport companies have their way it will be necessary to remove St Giles' church and part of Magdalene College! - George Hall.

1938 01 01

Dick Whittington and his cat ushered in the New Year at the Dorothy Café where Percy Cowell and his band kept up a programme of old and new dances including the Palais Glide. Just before midnight all lights in the ballroom were extinguished as Dick, joined by two fairies, bombard the 650 dancers with paper hats and other carnival novelties. At the Salisbury Conservative Working Men's Club in Mill Road just over 200 danced to the rhythm of Cliff West's band while Son's Accordion Band played to a packed floor at the Beaconsfield Hall. 38 01 01a & b # c.69.2

The L.N.E.R. have just issued a new lantern lecture on Cambridge that may be borrowed free of charge by societies through the country. The 70 slides, which depict the colleges and other places of interest, should be of real value, because they will awaken interest in our town and University and may be the means of bringing us many visitors in days to come. Suitable reading matter has been prepared by Mr P.C. Fitzgerald beginning at the Round Church and describing a walk around the centre. This is one of 276 sets of lantern slides available from the Railway Company at King's Cross Station. 38 01 01 # c.26.2 # c.46.45

1938 01 03

Bottisham Police Court, which is a rather primitive building at the best of times, should be modernised. A large number of cases were dealt with during the year and in some there were five or six witnesses. When they were ordered outside there was no seating accommodation for them, and while waiting they were exposed to the weather. The heating apparatus should also be improved, councillors were told. 38 01 03 & a

1938 01 04

Mrs Emma Turner, Cambridge's only centenarian, looks not a day over seventy and stands as upright as she did fifty years ago. Born on 4th January 1838 at East Harling, Norfolk, she has an amazing ability to hold intelligent conversations with a stream of visitors at her cottage in Paradise Row, off Paradise Street. She has not been out of doors for five or six years, but retains all her faculties apart from very slight deafness and is able to sew and read without glasses. The arrival of a telegram of congratulations from the King and Queen brought her much pleasure. 38 01 04

1938 01 05

An occupant of the Council Houses, Mildenhall Road, Fordham was charged with stealing two rabbit traps, the property of Major Thirwell Philipson. Charles Howes, an under-gamekeeper, said he went to look at some rabbit traps on the Chippenham Road and saw two were sprung. He could not set them owing to the frost. The next morning the traps were missing. Pc Parmenter testified that he went to the defendant's house and found two wet and muddy traps in the shed. The man said he'd been walking along the road when his dog brought a rabbit and trap to him. He'd got the other from Isleham Pits. He was found guilty 38 01 05

1938 01 06

Country lanes in the rural parts of Essex should not be turned into 60ft roads, but should be left for courting couples. Anyway, with birth control, there will be no traffic for the roads in 50 years' time. And all the managers of rural secondary schools are of great age and of one class – nobody below the rank of major is required. They have never attended such schools and would not dream of sending their own children there. Working-class people should be appointed instead, Essex County Council was told. 38 01 06

1938 01 07

The demolition of parts of the old Guildhall has meant that several annual functions have lost their normal home. But a Mayoral reception elsewhere than in the Guildhall must surely be unique in Cambridge history. It is symbolic of the happy relations existing between the Town and the University that the Old Schools should have been placed at the disposal of the councillors. Cars containing guests pulled up on King's Parade and a lengthy walk under illuminated awnings led to the Dome Room. The Council Room, East Room, Syndicate Room and Regent House were in use but only the dais where the orchestra played for dancing was decorated 38 01 07 # c.35.7

1938 01 07 ES

A wonderful crop of celery, Soham: photo. 38 01 07ES

Pre-eminent amongst the most famous growers of celery seed stand Messrs. S. Moore and Sons of Soham and their seed in turn produces some of the finest, if not the finest, celery in the world. The picture shows a truly wonderful crop of Moore's Special Pink Celery, grown under ordinary cultivation on a farm of one of their many customers. Twelve of these heads weighed over six stone! 38 01 07(3)ES

Photo car outside house George Darby of Pymoor, 30 years ago. 38 01 07(3)ES

1938 01 08

R.C. Pierce retired as general manager & engineer of the Cambridge Electric Supply Company. Since he came in 1909 the Company has changed almost out of recognition. None of the original generating plant remains; recently the old-fashioned 90 cycle single-phase supply was replaced by the modern 50 cycle three-phase system and whereas when he started the annual output was only 600,000 units now it has risen to 15 million. 38 01 08 # c.24.6

Two wayfarers of the Public Assistance Institution, Union Lane were summoned that, being persons habitually wandering from place to place, they took a five-year-old child with them, thus preventing it receiving elementary education. They admitted they had no fixed abode and the boy only attended school for a few weeks at Long Sutton. The small solemn-faced lad was led into the court and lifted on to one of the benches for the magistrates to see him. He was well-nourished and well looked-after. He had never been neglected. The boy was taken into care though the father could see him once a month. 38 01 08 # c.32.9

After a successful fortnight of the pantomime 'Cinderella', the Theatre Cinema is closing down without any indication as to what its future may be. It was 42 years ago that the New Theatre was opened and has had a great history. Many of our leading actors have appeared and all tastes catered for – comedy, drama, musicals and grand opera. It was the coming of films that changed the Theatre's fortunes and after a hopeless struggle it was converted into a cinema with an occasional week of variety. 38 01 08a # c.76 # c.76.9

1938 01 11

Wrestling at Corn Exchange – 38 01 11 # c.38 : wrestling

Mr W. King showed three of his films at the Dorothy Café. The first dealing with the fen floods of 1937 had been seen before but the others were new. One showing the inspection of the Cambridgeshire Regiment by General Kirke caught the spectacle admirably: the marching of the Territorials was transferred to the screen in colour and many town and county notabilities were seen. Another showed the demonstration given by the Cambridge Women's Physical Culture Club, concentrating on the beauty and grace of their movement and showing the great advance they have made in the art of keeping fit by easy, pleasure-giving exercises. 38 01 11a # c.65.6 # c.45.6

1938 01 12

Three football grounds have been closed by the Cambs FA following complaints. At Gamlingay a referee had been threatened with violence by spectators who followed him to the dressing room, at Foxton a crowd had gathered round the ref, booing and shouting while at Barrington there'd been foul language during a match against the Railway Social team. The Council are determined to put a stop to such disorderly conduct. 38 01 12

Three stacks, a tractor and threshing drum were destroyed at a fire at College Farm, Caxton End, Eltisley. Firemen obtained water from the farm pond, emptying it three times. But after it was used the water drained back along a ditch to the pond again, thus providing a perpetual supply. Then it started to rain and poured all night. Other farm buildings containing carts and a number of other implements, together with wheat, hay and linseed stacks were saved. Four years ago the farmhouse was burnt down 38 01 12a

1938 01 13

Wilburton new school needed due unsatisfactory condition of present one. There was no room for playground 38 01 13

Councillor H.G. Martin proposed that a bridge should be erected over the level crossing at Chettisham station. Not long ago a six-wheel lorry was unable to stop when coming down the hill; it crashed into one of the gate posts before coming to rest on the line causing considerable disorganisation of rail traffic. This was the most dangerous crossing in the Isle and a bridge should be erected. But Coun Sole said it would be most convenient for Coun Martin because he would not then have to wait at the crossing. No action will be taken 38 01 13a

Ely water tower on Cambridge Road, was built in 1853 and took water from the River Ouse until 1884-5 when by a deep well was sunk at Isleham. It was designed for a population of only 6,000 – 2,500 fewer than now – and needed to be constantly topped up. In case of war, when supplies of electricity or crude oil might be suspended, the tank would be totally inadequate to meet demand from the sugar factory, brewery and laundry. This would leave no water for fire-fighting purposes. They needed a larger reservoir in a field adjoining the present tower, an Inquiry heard 38 01 14 & a

1938 01 14

Theft hens from Bertie Hazel of Wilburton – 38 01 14

The old Shire Hall on Cambridge Market Hill, was erected in 1747. At that a time the 14th-century Guildhall which stood on the south of Butter Row was under repair. This was pulled down in 1782 to be replaced by the Guildhall built by James Essex. Now demolition has revealed a fragment of the medieval Guildhall. Two pieces of ancient oak carved with leaves are thought to date from 1386. They will be replaced in the new building 38 01 14b # c.35.7

Haddenham improvements at Duck Lane – Star Brewery give land; but Cherry Tree landlord does not; no bridge for Chettisham railway crossing – 38 01 14c

1938 01 14 ES

Chatteris Picture Palace sold after 25 years. 38 01 14ES

It is 25 years since Mr. M Williams bought 'moving pictures' to Chatteris and opened the first cinema in the town. He obtained a lease of the Corn Hall, which at the time had ceased to function as a Corn Exchange, and since that time it has been known as the Picture Palace.

The building and the adjoining shops were in the hands of a private company known as the Chatteris Corn Hall Company and with the hall occupied as a cinema, it was difficult to obtain a room of any size for public functions. Then sprang up the Crown Theatre, which to some extent served the town's needs

Now the Corn Hall Company has been bought by Mr. Herbert Barrett, builder of Station Street, who has also purchased the remainder of the lease of the Picture Palace. From Saturday last the use of the hall as a cinema ceased.

Mr. Barrett informs us that he has purchased the property for the purpose of providing a suitable home for public and private functions. He intends to make various alterations to extend the rear of the hall, enlarge the stage and put in kitchen equipment and dressing rooms, which work will commence as soon as possible. 38 01 14(6)ES

The District Nurse lives at Stretham where she attends to every little ailment and it is only important cases that she visits in Little Thetford.

The Nursing Association was one of the most representative gatherings of the people of Stretham and Little Thetford and subscribers should give the committee their backing, whatever their personal views, the Chairman said. They had a very crowded meeting and feeling ran high. "Please let's have an orderly meeting, after all the business does not need to be controversial at all"

Mr. Smith said: "There has been a lot of friction in this village and I appeal to members of the committee to do their best for the Association. Let the past be buried. We want the Nursing Association to go on and I hope no one body will go on our committee and cause ill feeling. I must ask those who are appointed to consider whether they will do their duty. If not I will ask them not to accept office". Mr. Dimock: "I would like to propose that no man and wife serve on the committee. That's what caused the friction".

The last committee composed nine ladies and nine gentlemen, three of each representing little Thetford. Such a large committee with the officers was rather unwieldy and it might be better if a smaller number were elected. It was proposed that the new committee should consist of five ladies and five gentlemen from Stretham and two ladies and two gentlemen from Thetford, that number being in proportion to the amount of business done. In the Constitution, passed at the 1936 annual meeting, the ladies formed the executive committee but this meant only one lady from Little Thetford and she cannot do all the collecting.

Thanks were expressed to retiring officers who carried out their job under very difficult circumstances. Mr Mason observed: "I have nothing to say except that I have done my best. I certainly prefer high failure to lower success". 38 01 14(3)ES

Ely Rural Deanery Magazine contains a note about the social and spiritual needs of the people dwelling in the newly-built areas of New Barnes and Lynn Road, Ely.

The vicar of Ely asks: Are we going to erect a building for worship and Sunday school in the newly built area. Some people seem to be in favour, but it means a staff of lay workers and a priest. It must not be entered lightly into.

It is not clear that church people have any difficulty in making their way to the churches which exists at present. We have had difficulty in persuading people that another church is an absolutely essential thing. There is no part of the New Barnes area which is really any distance from a church. We could never go out for a church until there was a very clear indication it was needed.

Supposing we had a hall there, used it for services, and found it crammed. Then we should begin to think of a new church. My own opinion is that we would do well to provide a place for Sunday schools and perhaps a social centre.

One so often finds in a newly built area that people come from all parts of the town and do not shake together very well. There is nothing to shake them together unless there is some social centre. There is no argument at present for building a church. But there is an argument for building a place for Sunday Schools and social life. 38 01 14(30) ES

Lt Downham large hen's eggs. 38 01 14(2)ES

Padnal Fen new pumping engine. 38 01 14(3)ES # c.29 *

While national attention is being focused on the grave problems of the drainage of the fens the Commissioners for the Padnal Fen District are taking advantage of government assistance to improve their own link in the system by the installation of bigger and more powerful pumping plant. The first of the two new engines and pumps is already in operation at the Commissioner's station near Sandhill Bridge, Littleport. The engine is one of the two-cylinder vertical airless injection Diesel types made by Mrs. W. H. Allen and Co of Bedford and develops 56 horsepower at 600 revolutions a minute. It is direct-coupled to an 18-inch double suction centrifugal pump supplied by the same firm, which delivers 25 tons of water per minute against a maximum head of 22 feet of water. The cost of the engine and pump without installation was £1,024.

The commissioners took over the new plant on Monday and everyone expressed satisfaction at its performance, which was definitely better than the old engine. The plant displaced consisted of a steam engine and a vertical spindle pump installed over 50 years ago.

There will shortly be another new engine and pump on the bank of the Little Ouse near the Branch Bridge. Here a three-cylinder engine of the Diesel type developing 100 horsepower will be installed with a two-foot pump capable of delivering 50 ton of water per minute. 38 01 14(3)ES

The Education Committee heard that a Chettisham mother had had one child killed and two others injured on the road and was not prepared to have another one killed. She could not afford the bus fare. The boy had attended school very regularly until he reached the age of 11 years and the Education Committee ceased paying for his bus fare to Ely.

It was over three miles to the Ely School but Littleport School was just over two miles from the boy's home. If there was a school within three miles, it was the duty of the parents to send the child to school.

Asked of the danger of the child going along a main road without a footpath, the Clerk said that does not excuse a parent from sending the child. If this child was attending the High School the fare would be paid, there is a contract bus.

Mr Touch: "You are making one goal for the rich and one for the poor: you closed Chettisham School and now want to force this parent to send this child to school at Ely along a very dangerous road.

After all we had heard of the loss of one of this women's children and injury to others it is disgraceful".

On the question of footpaths, they all knew the Council could provide as many footpaths as they like, and people, especially children, would still persist in walking down the middle of the road. Some counties provide cycles for children who have to go a long way. But this was only provided when the school was over three miles from a child's home. Ely school is over three miles from the child's home. But Littleport was not. 38 01 14(3)ES

Downham bakery staff of A.J. Sennitt: glimpse of past; photo. 38 01 14(4)ES

March Hippodrome cinema attendants in gas masks at propaganda film show. 38 01 14(6)ES

Visitors to an exhibition of propagandist films dealing with public health services and air raid precautions at the Hippodrome, March had the unusual experience of being ushered to their seats by gas-masked attendance. This was not because the authorities feared an air raid, but because they realised it was a useful opportunity of exhibiting the masks which will be issued to the public in time of emergency while the attendants had the consolation of being assured that even if there was a raid, they would be in mood for the effects of poison gas.

The films were shown as part of a campaign in connection with the air raid precaution scheme now being formulated. An air raid film was shown to arouse public appreciation of what might happen if the country was attacked from the air. It concluded with an appeal for volunteers. The film illustrated how the country is divided into sections for defence purposes. It went on to show how there would be a fatal gap in the defence chain if the Territorial Army was not up to strength a time of war and how enemy bombers finding that gap could rain havoc on London.

There were many interesting shots of anti-aircraft defence forces at work with search lights and anti-aircraft guns and horrifying bombing scenes when the raiders reached London 38 01 14(6)ES

1938 01 15

'Charlie' Driver, the popular custodian of the men's bathing place, Sheep's Green, was presented with a chiming clock at his retirement after 34 years. It was a credit that there had been no drowning cases during his term of office. Parents knew that their children were in safe hands and he took care about its appearance. The Superintendent of Commons, A.O. Richardson, recalled that he had been reprimanded by a small boy for walking on the grass with his boots on – "You won't half cop it when Mr Driver sees you". 38 01 15 # c.38 : swimming

The LNER is going to make a big effort to ensure that the interior of their trains is kept up to drawing room standard. A staff of travelling train attendants and cleaners is to be appointed who will accompany the train throughout the whole journey. They will ensure an adequate supply of clean towels and soap in the lavatories, remove litter from corridors, dust window ledges and empty ashtrays in compartments not occupied by passengers. When trains stop at stations they will polish up the outside door handles. Where conditions are suitable women will be appointed for this work as it is felt that the feminine touch will yield the most satisfactory results. 38 01 15a # c.26.2

Albert Wright entered the service of the LNER in 1891 as a clerk at Bottisham and retired as assistant district superintendent at Cambridge. He had overseen the completion of the new marshalling yards at Whitmore, with the mechanised shunting arrangements, flood-lighting and electric signalling, improvement in transport facilities for various beet factories, up-dated signalling and improved stations. He recalled when the beet sugar season was in the heyday of its prosperity and the days when economy was the keynote in the same industry and he had to make desperate efforts to avoid cutting down the staff 38 01 15 b & c

1938 01 17

Queen Elizabeth, Queen Mary & the Princess Royal visit Woolston's antique shop – 38 01 17 # c.02

1938 01 19

St Giles church stained glass window unveiled in memory Bishop Charles Gore – 38 01 19 # c.83 # c.67

Theatre cinema may be turned into ice rink or swimming pool. Was not suitable for talkies and with cine-variety those who made the most got the worst seats – letters 38 01 19b # c.76.9

1938 01 20

Anti-Japanese demonstration – photo – 38 01 20 # c.33

Ely Aero Club (Humphrey Roger Dimmock, proprietor) let out planes for private hire but not commercial purposes. They'd received a telegram from a man in Coventry asking to hire a machine for a day. He'd been offered a Hawk for £5. But as the certificate of Air Worthiness was at the Air Ministry the man refused to hire it, saying he was not satisfied with the condition of machine. He'd flown to Ely, having to land at a village because he could not find the airfield, and claimed expenses for the journey and hire of another plane. 38 01 20a # c.26.1

The hostel for Basque children have had to leave Pampisford and experienced great difficulty in finding a suitable house large enough to take all the children. Now they have moved to Salisbury Villas, Station Road 30 01 20c # c.45.7

1938 01 21

Queen Elizabeth and Princess Helena Victoria toured Ely Cathedral. No special preparations had been made and the Cathedral was not closed to others. When news spread there were quickly more than the usual number of visitors within the walls. The Royal party also saw the undercroft & the King's School. This was the Queen's first visit to the Cathedral; she hopes to come again soon and bring the two Princesses with her 38 01 21a

1938 01 21 ES

Soham churchyard vault to Thomas Cockayne collapses, photo. 38 01 21&(2)ES

1938 01 22

New Chesterton Institute annual children's concert – 38 01 22

Death Mrs Rose Waddelow, daughter Mr Asplin, schoolmaster of Lt Downham – 38 01 22

The most popular man in Meldreth is Mr. H. Ellis, who is fighting against an order that 21 of the village children, who have been attending Meldreth School, must in future go to Melbourn. The greater part of the village showed their support in no half-hearted fashion when they crowded —80 of them—into the Meldreth club room. The only man to speak in favour of the new order, reminded one very much of Daniel in the lions' den! The meeting carried a resolution demanding that "proper education be given to our children in our own village" 38 01 22a & b

1938 01 25

Amos Newell, labourer of Hillrow, Haddenham told the court he'd left an overcoat in a living van along with an axe which George Fairchild, farmer, identified as his property. Arthur Gillett, farm labourer of Twentypence Road, Wilburton, said he'd been offered the axe for half-a-crown by an airman who said he'd found it. The man told magistrates he'd run away from RAF Cardington with only a shilling in his pocket and had lived on turnips and cabbages. He'd not have taken the items if he'd known they belonged to 'two old gents such as these' 38 01 25

1938 01 26

Oakington Isolation Hospital to be closed with cases transferred to Cambridge – 38 01 26 # c.21.4

1938 01 27

Morley Stuart, editor of the CDN, said news of events outside Cambridge came from the Press Association over a wonderful instrument known as a Creed. It was received in Morse code being punched out by a system of dots on to strips of paper which were fed into a machine which automatically transcribed them into typescript on sheets of paper. They had long reports of local meetings and councils; sportsmen were well catered for and ladies not forgotten. Due attention was paid to children in the weekly paper 38 01 27a & b # c.04

Councillors considered building houses at Boggs Gap, Steeple Morden. The site was damp and would be bad to build on as the foundations would be on gault. It was at the bottom of a slope and water was oozing out all the time. It had a north-east aspect and was at the wrong end of the village. There was no water, electric light or fence and it would prove very expensive. But the Housing Officer said it was the best of three available sites and the purchase had now gone so far that it was impractical to stop it. 38 01 27c

1938 01 28

Lieut-Col C.R. Bennett retired after 20 years with the Territorial Army. After service in the First World War he was given command of the 250th Field Company and established its headquarters in Cambridge in 1934. This was the first year of partial mechanisation leading to the loss of all horses and the extra work they made. Parades were less spectacular but were less dangerous to unwary recruits and allowed more training of a strictly engineering nature. His popularity with the troops even survived the task of judging the inter-company tug-of-war which looms very large in importance to the units 38 01 28 # c.45.6

The Great Ouse Catchment Board wanted to complete work on the Marsh Cut, extend the training walls into the Wash and improve the river between Denver and St Germans. Great work in the past has drained the fens, now they needed to keep the tidal waters out. But they would not proceed without further Government help. The fens had become a very valuable national asset and if a national emergency arose they would be of incalculable value. The Hundred Foot Washes had been flooded time after time for the benefit of other areas and that was absolutely ruining it. Half the wash was derelict but although owners could not let their land, they were called on to pay heavy drainage rates. 38 01 28b # c.29

Fenland's problem unsolved; fen floods plan in peril – Tel. JM84

1938 01 28 ES

Wisbech port history: first seagoing craft passes under bridge. 38 01 28&(2)(6)ES

Queen Mary & Queen Elizabeth visit Cathedral. 38 01 28(3)(4)ES

Wisbech farmer wind action against North Level Commissioners re flooding in 1936. 38 01 28(5)ES

1938 01 29

Henry Brunning of Great Shelford was a blacksmith for 55 years being kicked by horses many times. He did an apprenticeship at Barrington, then joined Alec Redhouse's firm of engineers and general smiths at Balsham. He later worked at forges at Linton, Shelford and Stapleford. He remembers when all travelling had to be done by walking or carrier carts and there were more penny-farthing cycles than anything else. During the Great War he worked in a munitions factory at Trumpington. He treasures a box of six spoons sent by his daughter who served in France as a nurse; each carries the name of a battlefield on which she'd served. 38 01 29

February 1938 CDN & ES

1938 02 02

New school required at Wilburton and Sutton school enlarged – 38 02 02

About 200 members of Joe Davis' billiards club in Mill Road, Cambridge, watched an exhibition by Miss Joyce Gardiner, six times the world's woman billiards champion who was paying her first visit to the hall. A stylist, she was watched with rapt attention all through her demonstration. Her highest break in an exhibition is 213 but in practice she has made one of over 300.

1938 02 03

The Cambridge University Almanac was the subject of a lecture at Cambridge Central Library by E.A.B. Barnard. Fifty-six slides were shown of etchings which adorned the Almanac from 1801 until 1855. The great majority presented views of the colleges and during 54 successive years new subjects were chosen, making an extraordinarily interesting collection of views of Cambridge. J.E. Baldry was probably the best artist in the series and was particularly good with regard to architectural details. He subsequently moved to Hatfield where he died an extremely poor man, leaving 11 children scarcely provided for. Some of the pictures featured people and the lecturer said that the artists made a point of drawing in well-known characters to give life to the pictures, and possibly with a view to increasing the sale of the Almanac. One of the most interesting was the etching of Sidney Sussex College before the alterations took place. Another was that by Burford showing King's College old buildings. This was the most valuable from the antiquarian viewpoint and a great novel feature was that the name of the College on the wall. Amongst the others the Fitzwilliam Museum was shown as it appeared in 1838 without the approach which was not completed until 1875. The lecturer spoke of the artistic ability of Bradford Rudge, another artist of the series and a competent draughtsman. Amongst his contributions to the Almanac was a superb etching of the church of the Holy Sepulchre. - 38 02 03

W.F. Turner pictures of Old Cambridge – interesting notes – 38 02 03a # c.65.5

Kings Hedges Road was shown as a private carriageway under the Inclosure Award of 1840, so why was it now repairable by Cambridge ratepayers, Councillor Edwards asked. The Town Clerk said that in 1912, when the Borough was extended, part of Kings Hedges Road was handed over by Chesterton Urban District Council as a highway repairable by the inhabitants at large and in 1934 the County passed over the remaining portion on the same terms. It seemed Chesterton UDC had simply begun repairing the road thus making it a public highway. It was a mistake made in good faith and it would be a waste of time to consider it further. 38 02 03b # c.49.4

Many unscrupulous Cambridge landlords are charging more than they are entitled under the Rent Restriction Act. There should be a crusade against them. One railwayman about to retire on a pension had been paying three shillings and ninepence rent for over 20 years (about £10.04 today). Now this had been raised by three shillings (£8). Tenants in Cavendish Avenue had been told they would have to pay sixpence a week more because the landlady was supplying sanitary dustbins. Those who felt exploited should see the Poor Man's Lawyer 38 02 03c # c.23

Huntingdon and St Neots Public Assistance Institutions are obsolete, the latter should be closed and cases of sickness and infirmity concentrated at Huntingdon. They needed a hospital for 85 beds and a public assistance building big enough for 124. The grounds of Castle Hill House would be the best site; a modern hospital was out of the question but they might afford one of the bungalow type, the Committee was told. Cottage or 'Sunset' homes would be provided for the 65 other people at present in institutions. 38 02 03d

1938 02 04

A new road linking Mildenhall and Prickwillow will probably be built in the near future to provide communications with the Sugar Beet Factory. It would metal a soft drove at Fodder Fen from West Row to the east bank of the Lark. But a new road away from the bank would be better 38 02 04 & a

Councillors refused the erection of a small cycle shelter in the front garden of a house in Scroope Terrace. There were already two such shelters and it was hard to refuse another. But they had to stop somewhere. This was one of the loveliest terraces in Cambridge and should be preserved. They hoped to get the other shelters removed. There were a great number of front gardens where people would like to have sheds but would never dream of asking the council for permission. They would have many applications if they acceded to this one. 38 02 04b # c.26.45

Pedestrian crossings and Belisha beacons never inspired the pedestrian with confidence. There should be refuges in the middle of the road. They broke the traffic into two lines and walkers felt confidence in passing over. 38 02 04b

Fen drainage deadlock, Ouse Board and £6M scheme - Cambs Times. JM85

1938 02 04 ES

Mildenhall-Prickwillow Road scheme. 38 02 04ES

Wilburton Bridge Inn granted full licence. 38 02 04(2)ES

The landlord of the Bridge Inn beer-house, Wilburton applied for a licence to sell any intoxicating liquor for consumption on or off the premises. At present he was only able to sell beer and cider and he wished to sell any intoxicating liquor and remain open on Sundays. He had been licensee of the house since October 1936 and had served during the whole of the war when he was wounded no less than seven times, losing his leg just before the armistice.

The premises are situated on the Wilburton to Cottenham Road, which is now getting quite busy and had many callers in cars and lorries who want intoxicating liquor other than beer. He is unable to supply them and they leave without having any refreshments at all. The house is situated immediately on the washes of the Old West River; boats stop for supplies both on Sundays and weekdays and can get nothing except beer.

It was a very favourite spot for fishing in the summer months and sometimes there are as many as 200 people fishing around the house. The Histon and District Angling Society had 160 members, of whom 90% were factory workers. Their members did a great deal of fishing on Sundays and every evening in summer time and other anglers came from places as far away as Sheffield.

The application was granted with the proviso that the lavatory accommodation was considerably improved. 38 02 04ES

A Councillor brought forward a complaint regarding the conduct of men working on Binneymore Road, March. For hours on end that they did nothing but when a car approached the man on the engine polished a piece of brass until he could see who was in it. If it was not a member of the County Council, the men relaxed again. It was not the only road when this went on. If there was any truth in the complaint, the County Council was spending hundreds of pounds for nothing.

Firms tendering for the hire of steam rollers had all increased their tenders by 40 shillings a day. It seemed that the firm's had put their heads together. If a ring was being formed, and a pistol being held at the Committee's head, something had to be done to break it down. They may have to purchase another roller. Ald Peake complained that the tar spraying and rolling was often not done properly. He would also like a better check on the people from whom they obtained gravel. The roads were the same all over the country. The weather was the cause of the problem. 38 02 04(2)ES

1938 02 05

Greene King wanted a new pub, 'The Running Footman' on Coldham's Lane, opposite Brooks Road. It would cater for people needing non-alcoholic drinks and keep open outside licensing hours. There were 1,700 residents within a quarter-of-a-mile with more coming soon when the ring road opened. But the licensee of the Brookfield Tavern said it would hit his trade while the Temperance Council claimed alcohol was a narcotic drug and dangerous to motoring – that was why insurance companies offered a rebate to drivers who abstained. It was refused as was another on Perne Road to be called 'The Weathervane' 38 02 05 & a # c.27.4

Gas mask demonstration – 38 02 05b

Three Horse Shoes, Harston granted licence – had tea room – 38 02 05c

1932 02 07

Undergraduate misbehaviour in cinemas – 38 02 07 # c.76.9

1938 02 08

Swann's brickyard damaged by undergraduates- seemed old and disused - 38 02 08 # c.23

1938 02 09

Old Picture of Friendly Circulating Book Society members – 38 02 09

Ouse inundations – measures demanded – Tel, JM86

1938 02 10

Briscoe Snelson lecture on East Anglia with a Camera – 38 02 10 # c.65.5

Gt Ouse Catchment Board accept tender for work on Marsh Cut between West Bank Beacon & Fisher Fleet – 38 02 10a

Bert Washington, Littleport bus proprietor in court over disposal of coaches – 38 02 10b

Meldreth School case, petition calls for inquiry – 38 02 11 & a

1938 02 11

When the lake at Madingley Hall was netted the result was not just a matter of kettles of fish but bins full. The ever-growing number of anglers makes such demands on the available fish that annual restocking is essential so the Ouse and Cam Fishery Board relies on a number of owners of private lakes who have given permission for some of their fish to be transferred to other waters. The lake at Longstowe Hall has also yielded a large number – once the haul was so heavy that the net broke. Anglers no longer regard fish as something to kill; at one time it was common to see fish left to die on the river bank. Now they are returned at the end of the day 38 02 11b # c.38 : fishing

Charles Harold Evelyn-White, rector of Rampton 1894-1928, funeral – 38 02 11c
Meldreth school, p5
Rendezvous, p5
Light in the sky, p5

1938 02 11 ES

Washington dispute over new buses. 38 02 11ES

Bert Washington of Littleport had entered into agreement with Dennis Brothers of Guilford in January 1936 to purchase three motor buses, which were to be supplied through Jordan of Biggleswade. Under the agreement, Mr. Washington was to receive allowances in respect to some 'Star' buses, of which he was the owner. Delivery was to be made in May. There was a delay in delivery and Mr. Washington wrote cancelling the order. Dennis Brothers wrote to say they could not accept the cancellation but they had taken no action in the matter.

About 10 days after the contract had been entered into Mr Washington sent an old 'Star' bus to Messrs. Jordan who sold it. They claimed it was the property of Dennis Brothers, under the agreement.

But they could have no title to retain the bus either on their own behalf or on behalf of Dennis brothers and had no excuse for depriving Mr. Washington of the bus, Justices agreed. 38 02 11ES

Unsuccessful in his numerous attempts during rat week, a village cottager from Little Downham never relaxed his effort and has since killed a rat a day for 10 days. Great Old stagers with tails at the big end exceeding an inch in circumference had burrowed under and let down the foundation of a good general outbuilding. In addition, they had raided a hen roof, gnawed through to a substantial laying box and pinched many newly-laid eggs. 38 02 11(2)ES

At Southery Parish Council it was stated that various fire appliances had been ordered and delivery could be expected in the near future. The Committee appointed to ask men to become members of the local fire brigade reported the men were all willing. The six members of the Southery Fire Brigade are Messrs. F Bates. C. Clingo, W. Cage, J.W. Porter, P. Starling and H. Youngs. Mr F. Bates was willing to have the appliance stored at his garage in Westgate Street.

Littleport fire engine old photo. 38 02 11(3)ES

An old photograph taken about 1906 shows an interested group around the Littleport Fire Engine whose public appearance was regarded as an occasion of some importance. The engineer was the late Mr. T Summerlee and amongst the young blood who posed will be recognised a number of men still living in the town. 38 02 11(3) ES

1938 02 14

Gamlingay place crash – 38 02 14

Fen dwellers again had to fight the threat of flood caused, this time, by a surge in the North Sea which resulted in an abnormally high tide sweeping up towards Denver from the Wash. The waves broke over the southern bank of the New Bedford River and the inner side began to slip away. An SOS for volunteers was flashed on a cinema screen at Downham Market and many in the audience rushed to the scene in lorries, cars and motor boats. More than 300 people, women as well as men, worked by the light of oil lamps in an effort to stem the overflowing waters. 38 02 14 # c.29

Fen flood disaster saved by inches, Norfolk village evacuated. DT. JM64
All-night fight with fens flood peril. JM64

Fenland peril: river bank slips near Denver Sluice. All-night fight by 200 volunteer workers. EDP. JM65

Greater disaster if fens are not defended. Herald. JM89

Flood catastrophe averted. JM90

1938 02 15

The vicar of Pidley said he employed a verger at a yearly wage of £6, his duties being to look after the heating and lighting of the church, which was lit by paraffin oil lamps. The man's housekeeper testified: "I saw him bringing coal from the church. He carried it in a bag across the field and over the stile near his house. This was on a Saturday evening after he had made the fires up at the church. Several times I noticed on Saturday he hadn't any coal, but had plenty on Sundays. I have never known him buy paraffin – he brought it from the church". But the man testified that she'd told him to do it after he'd run out at home and had intended to replace it. 38 02 15 & a

1938 02 16

Cottenham orchard owned by Jeeps of Willingham neglected by Gautrey family – 38 02 16

A recommendation that cars should not be allowed to park in Newmarket High Street for longer than 20 minutes was rejected by Councillors. Such restrictions would be harmful to the trade of the town. One of its greatest assets from a shopping point of view, was the wide High Street which enables people to park. That is what brought them in from villages and to take it away would do tradesmen a lot of harm. Some people have left cars for an unreasonable time, but two hours should be the minimum allowed. But the High Street was a trunk road and cars were not allowed to park on a trunk road. 38 02 16a & b

Greater disaster if fens are not defended. JM69, 70

Flood threat to nation's food supplies. JM71

1938 02 17

A Fen Ditton shopkeeper told the court that after a four-hour meeting with a representative of National Automatic Machines Ltd he'd agreed to have a cigarette machine on a week's trial. He was told he could then buy it for £22, paying in monthly instalments. So he'd signed a piece of paper, much of which had been folded over, and the machine had been fixed to the wall. But he'd only been married a few weeks, and found he could not afford it. However the firm said he'd agreed to have it and demanded payment. Their claim was dismissed. 38 02 17

1938 02 18

Rickling and Quendon Rat and Sparrow Club is over 30 years old & one of only two in the country. The rules say that each member must kill thirty sparrows (four eggs are accepted as one bird) and 10 rats during the year. There is a halfpenny fine for each pest short of these numbers. Last year the club accounted for 1,709 sparrows & 2,681 rats – one member alone killed over a thousand 38 02 18

Flood catastrophe averted, river bank slips. JM66

Flood staff standing by in the fens, sand barrier in the Wash JM66

Watch on the fens. JM67

Accident of date saves Fenland. S.O.S. on cinema screen. How fenmen won an epic fight. JM68

1938 02 18 ES

Serious slip in bank Hundred Foot River near Denver Sluice. 38 02 18&(2)ES # c.29

A large area of Fenland was again threatened with inundation when a serious slip occurred in the bank of the Hundred Foot River about three quarters of a mile above Denver sluice. Not for many years had the tidal waters of the river Ouse reached such a high level as they did on Saturday and grave anxiety was felt for several hours. The northerly gale drove huge volumes of water up the river, with the result that terrific pressure was exerted on the banks on the tidal side of the Ouse.

Fortunately, the slip was observed and the alarm given. Mr. A. Cooper, who lives near Denver station, was one of the first to see water pouring over the bank and flowing onto farmland about 30 feet below. He with others rushed to the spot and helped with the work of saving the bank from collapse. Only the prompt action of officials of the Ouse Catchment Board and the splendid way in which volunteers rushed to help saved the surrounding country side from disastrous flooding. Mr. Hebert Martin and his son Mr. J. Martin, who farmed many acres of land nearby, were soon on the scene and directing the work of filling the beach until the arrival of Mr. O. Borer, the Chief Engineer and Mr. Lacey. Mr. Martin set out an SOS for volunteers and materials. Eight thousand bags were rushed to Denver sluice by lorries followed by a load of spades and oil lamps. Volunteers arrived from the surrounding district in lorries and private cars and many made the journey on cycles. Some even walked from Downham Market with spades under their arm to take part in the efforts to save the bank. An appeal for help was flashed on the screen of the Downham Cinema and a number of people left the audience in answer. The Town Crier also paraded the streets asking for volunteers to go to Denver Sluice.

By 10 o'clock at least 300 people were working by the light of oil lamps on the riverbank filling barges with clay and carrying them to be wedged in the bank at the dangerous spot. Amongst these were several women, business people, farmers, school teachers and a doctor, working side by side with employees of the Ouse Catchment Board and labourers from many neighbouring villages in the work to save the countryside. An offer to help was received from Air Force stations and had the volunteers not reached the required number R.A.F. men would have been called to the scene.

For a considerable distance the water in the Hundred Foot River which joins the main Ouse at Denver Sluice was lapping over the tops of the banks and overflowed in two other places, one near the Downham Iron Bridge and another a short distance below Denver Sluice. Work on the bank was concluded by about three o'clock on Sunday, and anxious watchers were relieved to see that with the lessening of the gale the level reached by the water was some two-and-a-half feet less than the previous tide.

Mr. Borer said: With a hurricane wind blowing from the north the tide rose six inches above the height of the bank. The water went over the top, with the result that the bank soon weakened and slipped. Some 200 acres were flooded and had the tide been any higher the bank must have given away in many places. We should not then have been able to have repaired the beaches before the next tide, which would have been high too, and we would have been in a terrible position. But fortunately no other slips occurred.

Mr Martin said: It was the most serious aspect I have ever known in the Fens. I think there was more danger last night than ever before, to my knowledge. If the bank had gone there would have been something like half-a-million pounds worth of damage done. If the water had been three inches higher on Saturday, the people in the low-lying parts of the district around Littleport would have been swimming about by now. The weakness in the bank was now strengthened to the point of safety. The 8,000 bags of Earth used to fill the beach were to be removed and the bank would then be repaired with Gault from Roswell pits. It was fortunate the bank had gone on a falling tide instead of a rising tide. Otherwise the beach might never have been repaired. 38 02 18ES

1938 02 19

Finance of fenland drainage letter. DT. JM92

Isle representatives at drainage conference, London. JM93

1938 02 23

Tipperary Club tea – photo – 38 02 23

River Ouse in two moods. JM72

1938 02 25

Deaf & Dumb Association annual meeting – 38 02 25

Alderman Payne said many of the homes for mental defectives in the Isle of Ely were becoming overcrowded and could take no more patients. They wanted to build a new colony at March to accommodate 128 men. But the cost had soared and savings must be made. However Coun Sole thought they should not be so sparing and that money should be found to allow the walls to be plastered. 38 02 25a

The headmistress of Meldreth School said that following the reduction in her staff she could not on her own teach children whose ages ranged from eight to 13 properly. Their capabilities were so different that they would not progress. She would be sad if the older ones had to go to Melbourn but it was for their good. But parents say that a child could not be compelled to go to another school if he could learn reading, writing and arithmetic at the school he is attending. Anything beyond that is optional. They continued to refuse to send their children to Melbourn 38 02 25b & c

1938 02 26

The Fendon Estate, (new road leading from Hills Road to Queen Edith's Way). Architect designed houses built with best materials and labour by a firm which is rapidly gaining a fine reputation. Near golf course. Schools and churches nearby. Houses have sold quickly to discriminating buyers during the short period this Estate has been open. Prices £1,050 to £2,000. Secure your site now to avoid disappointment. House now ready for sale, £1,475 (about £79,000 today). Specifications include large oak hall, dining room, coal and coke stores, larder, central heating with three radiators, electric lighting, power and bell points. – Advertisement 38 02 26a # c.23

Girton's new almshouses foundation stone – photo – 38 02 26

J.L. Wilkinson retires as Official Receiver in bankruptcy – 38 02 26b

1938 02 28

Sir Frederick Hiam, a former High Sheriff, died at his residence, Grange Road. He was best-known as an agriculturalist, acquiring many farmers in the Eastern Counties after 1910. He was Director of Vegetable Supplies in the Ministry of Food 1918-21 and toured the Colonies, being knighted for his services. He took a great interest in skating, winning the 220 yards word championship in 1895 in record time and was president of Cambridge Town Football Club. He was a member of the Ouse Drainage Board and chairman of three Drainage Commissioners. His funeral will take place at Ely, where Lady Hiam was laid to rest three weeks ago. 38 02 28

Stretham car, p6

Hearse, p6

March 1938 CDN & Ely Standard

1938 03 01

Charles Edmund Brock, the artist, died at his residence in Grange Road. He was chiefly known as a water colour artist and book illustrator, including novels by Charles Dickens and Jane Austen and also did a fair amount of work for 'Punch'. He painted portraits of University worthies, several being exhibited at the Royal Academy, and two portraits of former Mayors, Ald Spalding and Ald Sinker, hung in the Guildhall before the rebuilding. His brother H.M. Brock, another artist, lives nearby. 38 03 01 # c.64

1938 03 02

Cambridge Photographic Club started at a horticultural show in the Corn Exchange in September 1902 when W.C. Squires and Addison organised a small photographic exhibition run by the YMCA. It was founded at the Prince of Wales' Hotel in October when several people came from Ely. Some of the early meetings featured a talk by Mr Stoakley on colour photography. W. Tams was a founder member - 38 03 02 # c.65.5

Meldreth playwrights Muriel & Iredale Nelson's new thriller – 38 03 02a

1938 03 03

Creditors of the Rendezvous cinema accepted an offer of 10s in the pound, payable immediately. After Mr C.L. Naylor took over management of the Company in 1937 it had made quite a profit but previous debts were responsible for the present unfortunate position. The sale was completed in Feb 1938 when the cinema and equipment was disposed of for £18,373, a loss of about £10,000. 38 03 03 # c.76.9

1938 03 04

Romsey Labour Club 10th annual meeting – 38 03 04

The White Swan was one of four pubs in Norfolk Street; in five years the sale of beer had doubled but spirits had gone down.- working classes could not afford spirits. The licensee had been barman at the New Theatre for 37 years but had to leave when it was converted to a cinema. The Tailors Arms nearby was a beerhouse and it would be better to cut down methyalted spirits licences rather than beerhouse licences. Trade at the Gwydir Arms had declined as the licensee, Mrs Newman had got old so the brewery had offered her ten shillings a week for life to give it up. It was one of the 'nicest little houses in Cambridge' and they would add a bathroom if the license was renewed 38 03 04a & b # c.27.4

George Samuel Morley, 76, a retired market gardener of West Row is homeless after his 350-year-old farmhouse was burnt to the ground. It was originally three cottages made of lathe and plaster and thatched but within an hour it was completely gutted. Mildenhall fire brigade, with their steamer, were joined by Mildenhall R.A.F. tender and thanks to an inexhaustible supply of water for a 12-foot deep well were able to save a large barn, the Plough Inn and adjacent cottages 38 03 04c

Albert E. Tebbitt formerly of Milton and farmer of 400 acres at Wentworth was British amateur skating champion 1895-1905; won the cup outright, also winning Duddleston Cup and Cameron Cup twice. In 1895 skated dead heat with H.A. Palmer over 37.5 miles on the Cam. 38 03 04d # c.38 : ice skating

The Health Foods and Herbal Store of Green Street has been established several years and specialises in non-fresh foods of many kinds; unrefined cereals, wholemeal flour, biscuits and cake; choice fruits, nuts, honey & oils – in fact everything nearest to nature and consequently the cheapest for man, woman and child. Now they have bought a speedy little delivery van to distribute their goods to customers. Some of their products however travel by post almost to the ends of the earth 38 03 04e # c.27.2

1938 03 05

Part of Sidney Street was closed to traffic following the development of a bulge in the front wall of the premises of Austin & Co., coal merchants. The bulge is sufficiently marked to be easily visible. Last night crowds gathered in the expectation that the wall might fall, but they were disappointed. In shops on either side it was a case as 'business as usual'. Traffic has been diverted via Petty Cury and St John's Street while builders work on the affected wall 38 03 05 & a # c.44.6

Folk Museum, p5

1938 03 07

The landlord of the Old English Gentleman at Harston said trade had increased and 101 new houses had been built nearby. There were plans for alterations with a car park for 30 cars. It had a slate club paying money in sick pay and a darts club where players were accompanied by female relatives who did not drink beer but asked for 'short drinks' he was not allowed to sell. He had to refuse the sale of four or five bottles of gin or whisky on a Saturday. But the licensee of the Coach and Horses said there were already four fully licensed premises for a population of 1,000. If you pooled all their takings in wine and spirits no tenant would get a living – brewers only allowed a margin of sixpence on a bottle of whisky. 38 03 07a

Hiam funeral, p4

1938 03 10

Cambridge Reference Library was packed to capacity for a lecture and demonstration on television by Mr D. Jackson of Pye Ltd. Severe electrical interference unfortunately ruined the first half of the programme from the Alexandra Palace but when after half-past-nine this eased off they were able to see some quite good vision signals and appreciate the high standard which can be expected in an area where interference is not so acute as it is in the centre of the town. 38 03 10 # c.27.8

Red Cross to plan demonstration of Air Raids Precautions work; in event of war a war hospital was to be established near Cambridge – 38 03 10 # c.45.6

1938 03 11

Home-grown Chicory Ltd, operating a factory at Lakenheath alleged St Ives Chicory Ltd was seeking to poach its staff. The pay was less but their conditions better. Chicory drying was a highly-skilled job working in very hot temperatures up to 200 degrees. It took weeks to train a man and if he left the gang was thrown out of gear. There were only two factories in England and the market was limited. But the St Ives firm said they had heard their rivals had a better method of drying and were employing Belgian labour. So they had gone to the Swan at Lakenheath and brought some of the men a drink to try and find out. 38 03 11 &a

Eastern General Hospital Old Comrades reunion – 38 03 11b

Linton Congregational Church new minister – 38 03 11b

1938 03 11 ES

Sir Fred Hiam funeral. 38 03 11&(2)ES

Sir Frederick Hiam K.B.E, the greatest agriculturalist this district has ever produced made his last journey through Fenland on Friday, when his mortal remains were conveyed from Cambridge, for burial at Ely. The interment in Ely cathedral was preceded by an impressive service. In the cathedral and scenes round the Great West doors were reminiscence of those that the funeral of Bishop White Thomson some four years ago.

In all, nearly 2,000 people must have turned out for the funeral for in addition to the many hundreds who attended the Cathedral service, many hundreds more lined every street of the city through which the cortege passed. In that vast throng were representatives of every walk of life, from county dignitaries to the humble folks Sir Frederick employed on his farms, and in the heart of all was grief at the passing of one who had been friend of all. 38 03 11ES

Littleport fire near Three Horse Shoes. 38 03 11&(2)ES

Damage estimated to cost between £400 - £600 was caused by a disastrous farm fire which burnt for two days. The property concerned was situated near the Three Horse Shoes Littleport belonging to Messrs. John William and Thomas Reginal Morton of Westlands, Wisbech Road. The cause of the fire remains unknown.

Reverend Ainsworth Taylor, Vicar of Littleport St Matthew was motoring home about 7:50pm and noticed nothing amiss when he passed the farm yard. A few minutes later, however, when he was closing his garage doors, he looked around and saw the blaze centering on the middle stack. At about the same time, Mr. William Taylor, of Burnt Chimney Drove came out of the Three Horse Shoes and notice the stack yard ablaze. He went and released the cattle and horses from the nearby farm buildings and succeeded in removing carts and farm implements out of danger.

The Police were notified and they summoned the Littleport Fire Brigade but the flames went with amazing rapidity and shot skywards from all quarters of the yard. Hundreds of people who had seen the fire for miles away came and stood on the road, their faces lit up by the glare, which was vividly reflected in the windows of St. Matthew's Church. 38 02 11(4)ES

The postal authorities had agreed shortly to erect a kiosk at Pymoor on the premises of Mr. F.C. Brown, the Pymoor Postmaster, and it would be open to the public for 24 hours. A letter was read from the Ministry of Health, regarding the numbering of village houses and fixing street, roads, and by-road name-plates in conspicuous places. The Chairman said he thought nothing of the kind was needed in a small parish like theirs and it would be a waste of money. But Counsellor Sennitt said that in the village and also in the fen, they had many residents of the same name, three of which were predominant. Postman frequently experienced difficulty in the delivery of letters and parcels, and if houses were numbered it would be beneficial. After other speakers had aired their views it was decided that no action be taken 38 03 11(4)ES

1938 03 12

Saffron Walden was deserted on five days out of seven & there were days when you could fire a machine-gun up the street and never hit anyone. Plans for a by-pass to relieve traffic passing through the centre would hit trade. But the big hay lorries and heavy traffic would be kept out and private cars would still be able to visit. Without a by-pass streets would have to be widened and houses pulled down. Then there would be precious left for anyone to see. 38 03 12

Nutt Motor Co, Hills Road – advert – 38 03 12a

Leaning shop, p6

1938 03 14

Horse cash, p5

1938 03 15

Abington Land Settlement Men in dispute – 38 03 15

Padnal Fen road at Ely should be finished 18 inches above the existing level to allow it to be better drained. Since the road lies under the bank the pressure of water percolating under it might cause the surface to break up as happened during the recent flood. The filling under the road should have porous material but if this is too expensive then there should be a row of field pipes under the road at the toe of the bank with drains every 200 feet, Ely council was told. – 38 03 15a

Ely water supply – 38 03 15a

1938 03 16

Young couples are caught in a trap: they cannot have Council houses until they have produced a family, and they must not produce a family unless they have a proper place to live, Prof John Hilton told the Cambridge Housing Society. The nation was taking no steps to provide houses for young people who wanted to marry. They might try the hire purchase system but are required to find about £50 deposit – where are the working-classes to find such a sum (about £2,700 at present prices). And is it desirable that those starting out should begin by buying a house? They are not settled in their work and may want to move only to find that because of a change in the value of the house, they have lost all they have poured into it. 38 03 16 # c.23

1938 03 17

Mr W. King gave the premier presentation of two new films depicting his tour of the Continent, tracing the journey from Cambridge to Germany. Everywhere he went he was given a wonderful reception but he noticed the extraordinary signs of militarism with numerous little armies of men and children being shown. The first film was 'Flood' which has been placed among the ten best amateur films of 1937. It was followed by 'May Week' and 'Club Clippings' showing many well-known members of the Cambridge Motor Boat Club. 38 03 17a # c.65.6

Saffron Walden air raid protection plans – 38 03 17

1938 03 18

Wyton court martial over abandonment of Blenheim aircraft – 38 03 18 & a

1938 03 18 ES

Whittlesey fire, Boat & Anchor, King's Dyke. 38 03 18ES

One of the oldest public houses in the Whittlesey district, the Boat and Anchor, King's Dyke, more commonly known as The Ball, was gutted by fire. All that was left where the end walls and the scullery

It is believed it was started by a spark settling on the dry thatched roof. Elsie Walls, 15, was in one of the bedrooms when she noticed smoke passing in front of the window and saw the roof blazing near one of the chimney stacks.

The house is in a rather isolated spot on the riverbank about a mile from the Central backyards and she went to the office there for help. Whittlesey Fire Brigade made a smart turn out, but from Funtham's Lane only a rough cart track which hampered their progress.

Folk from neighbouring farms got as many things as possible out of the house. Bedsteads, bedding clothes and furniture were destroyed but a few chairs and a settee were scrambled out before the thatch collapsed onto the ceilings along with several cases of beers and minerals. Fireman Bert Bull of Inham Road was on the roof of the scullery when the hose he was held, holding swung round and the force of the water broke his spectacles. Some glass penetrated his left eye, and it was only with difficulty he saved himself from falling off the roof.

The house was shortly to have been offered for sale. It was a free beer house and carried with it quite a good trade particularly at weekends. 37 03 18ES

Photo Alfred Clark in motor car, 1899. 38 03 18(3)ES

An old photograph shows Mr. Alfred Clark with his wife of Mill House, Soham, aboard a three and a half horsepower Benz car, which he purchased in 1899. The motorcar was the first in Soham, it was a two-seater and was belt driven. The engine was started by hand on the rim of the flywheel after lifting up the rear of the car piano fashion. Reversing was only effected by manhandling.

Extracts from the driver's diary for September 2nd 1899: Started from Soham with son at 10am.

Arrived Hunstanton 6:30pm. Engine worked well; belts had to be taken up on the way. Monday September 4th: left Hunstanton 10:20am, arrived Heacham 3:10 pm. Engine failed on the way and could not find cause of failure. With the help of Mr. Marritt of King's Lynn engine was restarted at 6pm. Next day: left Heacham and arrived four miles from Downham Market when the engine would not start again. Towed by ginger-beer van into Downham Market. After repairs by Mr. Alfred Clarke Jr, who had come by rail from Soham, arrived back there at 9:30pm. 38 03 18ES

1938 03 19

Mount Pleasant folk have had an interesting time seeing a modern workshop and showroom built on a corner site at Huntingdon Road without spoiling the beauty of an old house. Part of the ground below road level at the rear has been made full use of by having a sunk workshop built upon it with steel runners over the lower floor. This does away with the old idea of a car having to be run over a dark pit, when one can neither see to work well or do a job well. Dan Morley, well-known in the motor trade, had got this business going in less than four months. 38 03 19

Two Scotland Yard detectives investigating the death of a farm labourer have inspected the house in which he lived at West Dereham. There is little for them to see as the cottage is now empty of furniture and has been prepared in readiness for another tenant. They also searched a rubbish tip. The man lies buried in the churchyard; the grave is not yet marked by a tombstone but is covered with flowers. It is not expected that an exhumation will take place for some days. He collapsed suddenly at work with a series of convulsive fits. A few days earlier he had pared a corn with a penknife and the inquest verdict was 'Death from tetanus caused by a poisoned corn or chilblain'. 38 03 19a

London Co-operative Society Cambridge Creamery sent four million gallons of milk and nine million eggs to London – 38 03 19b & c

Cyril Rootham distinguished musician and composer – 38 03 19d # c.69

Cambridge Spanish refugee relief organisation had transformed Pampisford Vicarage, which had been practically derelict. Twenty-nine Basque children had arrived on 19th June 1937, the youngest aged seven, all fresh from their tragic experiences. The Hostel had moved in January to No.1 Salisbury Villas. The children had all lost one parent and to send them back would be cruelty; they did not know where some of their guardians were and one lad would face the firing squad if he returned. But if donations were not forthcoming, they would soon run out of funds. 38 03 19e # c.45.6

Queen Anne Lodge at Milton was threatened by a fire that started in the sheds of a market gardener in High Street. Flames gained such a hold that they were burnt to the ground and the contents including a pig float, motor cycle and several bikes destroyed along with a sow, dog and 50 head of poultry. The flames spread to within a few feet of the two neighbouring thatched cottages and some outhouses in one of the gardens were caught. But the brigade was able to stop the outbreak. 38 03 19e

1938 03 21

A witness at Cambridge Police Court took the Confucianist oath by smashing a saucer in the witness-box. Then the clerk said: "You shall tell the truth, and the whole truth – the saucer is broken, and if you do not tell the whole truth your soul will be broken like the saucer". Mr Fan Hung testified that he was a research student at Fitzwilliam Hall and that money had been taken from his wallet in his lodgings. A fellow-lodger admitted the theft and was bound over. 38 03 21 # c.34.9

Eastern Counties Omnibus Company complained of difficulties manoeuvring their buses at the Drummer Street terminus. They suggested the Corporation reduce the width of the footpath. The Borough Surveyor disagreed. He suggested that the space reserved for the parking of cars should be reduced by 54 feet from the high kerb against the coffee stall. But the Watch Committee decided that the time was now approaching when Eastern Counties should cease to use Drummer Street and consider the provision elsewhere of their own bus station 38 03 21a # c.26.46

Abington Land Settlement Tenants return to work after dispute – 38 03 21c

Joseph Ward of Toft celebrates Golden Wedding – 38 03 21d

Agriculture was in decline: more than three million acres had gone out of arable cultivation within the last 40 years and there were 250,000 fewer men on the land than at the end of the last century. Since the war a large number of farmers had bought their own farms. A lot of them had to borrow money to pay for it. They borrowed up to two-thirds on mortgage and now the land was often not worth the mortgage. Agricultural land should be bought by the community and put in proper order, Labour Party delegates meeting in Cambridge were told. 38 03 21e

Cherry Hinton Hall was a 'white elephant' and should be let as a Youth Hostel. Some 2,000 people a year would use it, spending money in Cambridge. To turn the Hall, which had many rooms, into a place for meetings would mean expensive interior alterations – it would be cheaper to put up a smaller place. When the council had bought the area, the house had not even been valued, it was bought on land value alone. Parts of the ground could be used for recreation with an outdoor swimming pool - there was a stream to provide the water. 38 03 21b, 38 03 25 # c.32.3

1938 03 22

Exhibition of furniture at Central Hall, Market Passage – 38 03 22

Footpath from Coldham's Common to Teversham Church across the new aerodrome closed – 38 03 22a

House clearance Saxton Street, Gothic St area & Park Street – 38 03 22b

Chicory factory dispute, judgement for St Ives firm – 38 03 22c

One-way traffic, Hobson St deleted from scheme, Perne Road roundabout – 38 03 22d
Market Hill fountain water not fit for human consumption – 38 03 22e # c.24.2

1938 03 23

Isleham church small chapel and window dating back to 12th century unveiled – 38 03 23 & a
A 12th century window in Isleham Parish Church was unveiled by the master of Peterhouse to complete the restoration of a corner of the church that had been closed for years. Five years ago, it was nothing but a place for storing lumber. Today it stands as a useful meeting room and it is proposed to utilise it as a museum and already a number of historical relics are housed in it. The power behind this work has been the vicar, the Reverend H.W. Flory whose aim has been to restore and preserve the beauty of so ancient and beautiful a church. In the first place, the vestry was put in good order and then work of restoration and improvement went on. At last day got to the far corner of the church to the window known as the '12th century window'. There was every reason to believe that that corner of the church was in use even before the nave. The window was covered with the Union Jack and after it had been unveiled the inscription was revealed 'In commemoration of the Coronation of King George VI this window was restored in 1938
38 03 23

1938 03 24

Nutt Motor Co moves from Newnham to Hills Road – 38 03 24

Plans for an indoor swimming pool for Cambridge were rejected by councillors. Swimming was healthy exercise for children and there was no evidence that epidemic diseases were spread by indoor baths. It would help solve unemployment in the building trade and Cambridge was one of the few towns without one. But Saffron Walden baths were built in 1910 when costs were much lower than today and they did not pay. People would still prefer the river in summer time. It would be better to have baths just for children that adults could use in the evening. 38 03 24b # c.38 : swimming

Kings Hedges Road controversy – no further action – 38 03 24c

1938 03 25

Drummer Street park was made for private cars, and now they seemed to be letting the Bus Company monopolise it; they should find a parking place of their own, a councillor urged. But Ald Starr said it was opened not for private cars but for the benefit of the working men and women who came into Cambridge by bus. Now it was used as a car park by professional and business people who left their vehicles there all morning and afternoon. Coun Stubbs said they were at their wits' end to know what to do with the traffic. It was easy to talk about telling the Bus Company to find a new park, but where could they go? 38 03 25a # c.26.46

'Luxicabs', an entirely new fleet of taxis has begun operation in Cambridge, providing a handy and economical alternative to a private hire for driving to dances, shopping or trips into the country. Long or short journeys will cost eightpence per mile (about £1.80 at today's prices). Luxicabs are saloons of the latest type, notable for their modern, streamlined bodywork, luxurious riding comfort and swift, silent performance. They will be in the charge of courteous chauffeurs and the taximeters will be concealed from the outside public. In view of the difficulties of parking private cars such an attractive service will meet a wide need 38 03 25b # c.26.47

1938 03 25 ES

River Ouse at Ely, 1937 & 1938. 38 03 25ES

Historical Association for the Fens? 38 03 25(2)ES

Isleham church window completes restoration. 38 03 25(2)ES

A 12th century window in Isleham Parish Church was unveiled by the master of Peterhouse to complete the restoration of a corner of the church that had been closed for years. Five years ago, it was nothing but a place for storing lumber. Today it stands as a useful meeting room and it is proposed to utilise it as a museum and already a number of historical relics are housed in it. The power behind this work has been the vicar, the Reverend H.W. Flory whose aim has been to restore and preserve the beauty of so ancient and beautiful a church. In the first place, the vestry was put in good order and then work of restoration and improvement went on. At last day got to the far corner of the church to the window known as the '12th century window'. There was every reason to believe that that corner of the church was in use even before the nave.

The window was covered with the Union Jack and after it had been unveiled the inscription was revealed 'In commemoration of the Coronation of King George VI this window was restored in 1938 38 03 23

About 1:30 on Monday afternoon the fire bomb was exploded at Chatteris. The outbreak was at the Anchor, Horseway, where the contents of the barn were found to be on fire. The barn contained a large quantity of chaff bags, and other inflammable material. The landlady raised the alarm and sent a telephone message for the police who notified the fire brigade.

For some reason the fire bomb was some time before it was exploded and it was fortunate that help was near at hand; the police with others were able to prevent a serious outbreak. The fire appears to have started in the floorboards of the barn underneath the chaff. A sow and litter of pigs in a sty adjoining the barn were removed for safety. On the arrival of the fire brigade on danger was soon passed. The chaff was removed from the building and the floorboards drenched with water. 38 03 25 ES

1938 03 26

Exhumation of farmhand from Pentney churchyard, near West Dereham – 38 03 26

Meldreth school petition reaching crucial stage – 38 03 26a

Widow of Dr Heinrich Hertz presented with gift from Pope – 38 03 26b

ARP precautions – 38 03 26c

1938 03 28

Railway Social Club gives up recreation ground – 38 03 28

Cambridge Instrument Company annual dinner – 38 03 28

Thomas Gregg, a familiar face on the Market Hill, has retired after 30 years as a colporteur. He came to Cambridge in 1908 and has sold Bibles, Testaments and texts on his market stall near the fountain every Saturday since. It was often used as a meeting place for preachers and people from the villages. He also works as a lay preacher and travels round on his bicycle. "I have cycled to chapels as far away as Ely and once preached five sermons at Wilburton on one Sunday", he said 38 03 28a

Collision with hearse at Chittering – 38 03 28b

1938 03 29

Mrs A.S. Cunningham-Reid changes name to Ashley; has featured in law case concerning financial arrangements with husband – 38 03 29

1938 03 30

Telephone Manager's office opens in Cambridge – amalgamation of various telephone services into one body; engineers provided the lines and apparatus but needed sales department & operating staff. Superintending Engineer's office had been in Cambridge for 70 years – 38 03 30 # c.27.75

1938 03 31

Orwell stack fire caused by threshing machine proprietor – 38 03 31

Cherry Hinton petition for bus service – 38 03 31a

The Cats' Home in Garlic Row, which opened in 1919, received 604 stray cats last year. Of these 541 were chloroformed, homes were found for 57 and six were claimed. Taken over by the Dumb Friends League in May 1937 – 38 03 31b # c.19

April 1938 CDN & Ely Standard

1938 04 01 ES

Observer Corps details. 38 04 01(2)(3)ES

Littleport A.R.P. has 70 volunteers. 38 04 01(2)ES

Protection of fens – Catchment board issue with Ministry – outfall. EDP. JM91

1938 04 02

Parliament has decided that local authorities must prepare schemes for safeguarding the population against attack from the air. This does not mean war is imminent, but the risk cannot be ignored. Large numbers of volunteers are needed; men as air raid wardens, demolition workers, auxiliary firemen and messengers, women for first-aid, gas contamination and ambulance duties. The Mayor (Coun. Peck) appealed for people to come forward and say what they can do 38 04 02 # c.45.6

Miss Moggach has retired as Matron at Addenbrooke's Hospital after 13 years. There have been many changes: the number of beds has increased from 190 to 320 and the number of nurses from 48 to 180. A preliminary training school for nurses has been established, a bed endowed at Delhi in memory of former matron Mary Cureton and a fund started for a chapel for nurses. She took a keen interest in nurses' recreations, starting the various sports clubs and presenting the first cups for tennis. 38 04 02a # c.21.4

1938 04 03

Conflict over Ouse outfall. JM73

1938 04 04

James Wentworth Day, who has made a reputation in Fleet Street, strongly criticised the sensationalising tendency of the national Press. "The present trend towards the invasion of privacy is scandalous", he told a Cambridge journalists meeting. He got his early training at the C.D.N. where he started at a pound a week and owed a debt of gratitude to Morley Stuart, the editor, who fired him for attempting one boisterous night to set fire to the New Theatre. Next day he joined the 'Cambridge Chronicle' and supplemented his income by writing advertisements for Joshua Taylor. Afterwards he got a job on the 'Daily Express' 38 04 04a # c.04

1938 04 05

Suttle, p6

1938 04 08

Miss D.I. Macdonald, who lives in Sherlock Road, has recently returned from Spain where she was caught in air raids. "There is nothing you can do except sit still and I was frightened because I felt completely trapped". The universities were picked out specifically as targets by the attackers who feared the people in them. Government suggestions that covered-in trenches should be constructed in the gardens of houses here are very sensible; the great thing is to have covered protection against splinters and machine gun bullets. In Spain they were not unsightly as flower beds have been planted on top of them. 38 04 08 # c.45.6

George Wybrow started his railway career in 1892 as a clerk at Sawbridgeworth from which he was transferred to Bishop's Stortford, Liverpool Street and finally to Haverhill. He was appointed stationmaster at Stretham in 1912, then went to Burwell and Mildenhall. In 1927 he was made stationmaster at Saffron Walden and since 1930 has also been in charge of Audley End station. He believes that in spite of the ever-increasing road transport the railways, which have reached a high degree of efficiency, are unrivalled for speed and safety 38 04 08a

Ely RDC discussed the large amount of water that continues to overflow from the water tower at Haddenham on to residents' gardens. Pipes could be put down to Grunty Fen, but people did not want it there. There was also the question of what the village would do if, in the event of war, the tower was struck by a bomb. But Mr Cross said that aircraft seldom hit their objective. Messrs Harding of Duxford's tender was accepted for the erection of three-bedroomed houses at Witcham but in future they should consider building two-bedroomed homes in view of the cost 38 04 08b & c

1938 04 08 ES

The Observer Corp's fifteenth's group covers practically seven counties, and its objective is to provide information to all air defence commanders and to the Home Office for Air Read Precaution. Group Officer Major Gordon Fowler gave some light on what had previously been a mysterious organisation. The Corps was known as the Silent Service. Their motto was 'Forewarned and Forearmed'

Under modern conditions, the first necessity in air defence is constant information of the number, course and height of hostile aircraft. The Observer Corps exists to provide that information. Practical exercises have proved it can do so very speedily and most efficiently. Its network of observation posts equipped with the most ingenious yet simple instruments covers the whole of the area which could be subject to attack by even the longest-range aircraft. Its volunteers, commanders and men are enrolled as Special Constables and in most cases are over military age. Some of the members of the group were young and in the event of a national emergency, they would be the first to go for something more active. Their place would have to be taken by older men.

The group paid an annual visit to Mildenhall Aerodrome but last year they could not get the aircraft up to a height required for their height-testing job. They were not called upon very often but it was possible with the conditions of today that their services might be needed. They did not want one post weaker than another. But 15 group were right at the top. 38 04 08 ES

With over 17 volunteers for service, and many more interested, Littleport is setting a singular example with its progress in the matter of Air Raid Precautions.

The first lecture for volunteers and friends in the Town Hall was attended by more than 117 people. Mr. A.F. Pryor, who was responsible for organising local work, said they had sufficient volunteers spread over the extremely large area inside the parish boundaries to man 23 Air Raid Warden posts, five First Aid Squads of five men and three Rescue and Decontamination parties of five men each. He thanked lorry owners for their cooperation in placing their vehicles at their disposal.

Volunteers would have the care of the people of Littleport and it was to them up to them to work conscientiously at their training in order that we may be able to pass out 100% qualified A.R.P. workers.

In the event of an air raid, it would be extremely unlikely that the British defence forces would be able to keep away every enemy machine. As a possible method of attack Successive flights of attackers might drop first high explosives bombs, secondly incendiary bombs and third gas bombs.

London might be made immune from air attack, in which case the enemy would have to attack the smaller towns and so it was wise in Littleport to prepare against some form of attack. If Raiders could not get to London but had to drop their bombs somewhere they might see Littleport sticking out of the fens and loose their bombs. They could not give protection against a direct hit by a high-explosive bomb – if you get a high-explosive bomb on your house you won't be very much interested in A.R.P. any more. But they would show how protection could be obtained from splinters and shock.

The Government did not suggest the building of bomb-proof shelters but preferred people remain in their own homes as there was less likelihood of major catastrophe with the people in small groups.

Everyone would be given a gas mask. They were already stored at Cambridge and it was proposed to build stores in various parts of the Isle and the masks would be transferred to these depots. The Air Raid Wardens would be asked to fit people with masks and register their sizes. 38 04 08 ES

1938 04 09

The inspector of constabulary had stressed the necessity of creating a detective department so that up-to-date methods could be used for the investigation of crime, taking of photographs and keeping of records. But there were no available constables so two more should be appointed. Sergeants should have an increased allowance for the use of their own motor vehicles and bicycles. All members of the force, except one, are qualified to render first aid and the majority can swim, Cambs Chief Constable reported. 38 04 09a & b

Hunts Chief Constable said the patrol car at St Ives was unfit for police service and a new Ford 10 should be purchased. But there was no money in the estimates and last year £730 had been spent on police vehicles. The committee passed an estimate of £149 for a bathroom at the Deputy Chief Constable's house but in future such large sums should be budgeted for. Trained detectives should be appointed; they would go on a proper course and be used in important cases. But the chairman considered such a step was quite unnecessary. 38 04 09c

1938 04 11

The First Eastern General Hospital is to be revived as part of a War Office plan. The site has not been officially approved but will not be far from Cambridge. It would have 600 beds on mobilisation, possibly expanding to 1,200. There will be a permanent staff of three officers and 24 other ranks with 19 medical officers, a matron and 49 nursing sisters. On mobilisation the staff will be increased by other ranks largely composed of V.A.D. men and women. They hoped it would never be called into action, but they must be prepared, ex-servicemen were told. 38 04 11a & b # c.45.7 # c.21.4

1938 04 12

Sir Fred Hiam's will – leaves £400,000 – 38 04 12

Norfolk flood might become peril to the fens. JM75

1938 04 13

Cambridge Photographic Club Cine Group annual show includes three from W. King – 38 04 13

1938 04 14

Gurney Way, p6

1938 04 15

Bertram Mills, circus proprietor and prospective Conservative candidate for the Isle of Ely died at his country home. – 38 04 15

Go house hunting this weekend. See the new attractive labour-saving houses at Gurney Way, just off Milton Road. Four bedrooms, bathroom (h & c), two reception rooms, large kitchen with 'Cozy' stove, garage and nice garden. Prices from £1,150 freehold, main sewerage and no road charges (about £66,000 at today's values). Builders S. Ginn & Sons, Herbert Street – Advert 38 04 15a

Douglas Fairbanks visits Cambridge – 38 04 15b

1938 04 15 ES

Littleport cinema fire. 38 04 15ES

An outbreak of fire, the cause of which remains a mystery, threatened the Empire Cinema at Littleport. There was no show in progress at the time, in fact the building was empty, so that there was no danger to life. It has been estimated the damage will cost between £700 and £1,000 to rectify

Mr A. Robertson, lessee of the cinema, said the fire was discovered at 4:30. He had left the building half an hour before and when he passed through the stage, everything had been in order. He had left the operator Mr. Douglas Chambers to start his engine and apparently everything was still all right when Mr. Chambers went home. He had only been in his house five minutes however, when a boy called him and told him the cinemas was on fire. When Mr. Robertson the hall was filled with dense clouds of smoke, and it was impossible to get to any of the fire extinguishers or to the fire hydrant. Littleport Fire Brgade forced an entrance to the auditorium by smashing the exit doors but such was the heat and intensity of the flames inside but they were unable to work at the hose for more than a few seconds each. Nonetheless they succeeded in getting the fire out in half an hour. The whole of the building has been saved only because the front curtains which were fireproof had been drawn across the front of the stage. Even so the backs of the seats and the balcony were blistered. Damage had been done to one screen, two speakers, the piano, curtains, interior decorations and seats. 38 04 15ES

Fred Hiam will. 38 04 15(2)ES

Ely Holy Trinity and Ely St Mary united into one parish. 38 04 15(2)ES

The scheme drawn up by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners by which the two parishes of Ely Holy Trinity and Ely St. Mary's are united into one parish with St. Mary's as the parish church was agreed at Buckingham Palace. Under the scheme the use of the Church of Holy Trinity revert to the Dean and Chapter and its name will be the Lady Chapel of Ely Cathedral.

This brings to an end a chapter which began at the time of Queen Elizabeth when the Church of the Holy Rood was a lean-to building against the north side of the Cathedral and was a parish church. Because this church obstructed the windows and was considered to be an ungainly building against the North wall of the Cathedral the Dean and Chapter of that day made an agreement with the parishioners in accordance with which the church was demolished. The use of the Lady Chapel was guaranteed to the parishioners and the parish became the parish of Holy Trinity. The Lady Chapel ceased to be a parish church on April 1st. As result of the union the annual vestry and Parochial Church Council meeting will be for the whole of the newly constituted parish of Ely. 38 04 15ES

Hall, Cutlack & Harlock, Forehill Brewery, Ely have taken over Mills Brewery of Wisbech: feature. 38 04 15(3)(4)ES

Hall, Cutlack and Harlock, brewers of the famous Ely Ales have taken over the brewery and licenced houses of the old-established firm of Mills Brewery, Wisbech.

The antiquity and fame of Ely ales dates from the reign of King Henry III. In 1257, the king commanded the Mayor and Burgesses of King's Lynn, to permit the men of Ely to come into the town to sell their beer. During the period 1700-1750 brewing was carried on by the Hall family on the Quayside, which was then the business quarter of the city and in 1760 Messrs George and John Hall Jr. had a very extensive business.

In 1771, John Harlock brought the lease of the Three Crowns Inn and Brewery attached at Quayside. The Three Crowns site is now occupied by the residence of Mrs. Harlock and the Old Brewery is now storage.

Hall, Cutlack and Harlock is a combination of nine brewery concerns. Their houses number about 360 and extend from Newmarket to Lincoln. Every house formerly supplied by Wisbech Brewery will have the famous Ely Ales on sale at both in draft and bottle.

The Fore Hill Brewery was completely remodelled in 1930 and is considered the finest brewery for its size in the country. The Malting, in keeping with the rest of the Brewery is completely up-to-date. The Brewhouse itself was erected in 1871. Vast changes had been made internally and in 1930 the whole of the interior was removed and what amounts to a new building in steel and concrete has taken its place. 38 04 15ES

1938 04 18

An ancient gate-house was saved from destruction when a number of stacks became ignited at Down Hall Farm, Abington Pigotts. 38 04 18

1938 04 19

A Cambridge newsagent for over half a century, Mr Frederick Rossendale passed away after a stroke at the age of 81. A well-known figure locally, he was a member of the Borough Police Force before he opened his newsagent's business at 14 Fitzroy Street, trading under the name of Rossendale and Clamp. As a bank messenger he had the task of taking the bank money from Cambridge to London by train before the days of modern transport facilities. 38 04 19

1938 04 20

Millions of tons of refuse have been tipped into the disused blue gault pit belonging to Messrs Watts and Son in Newmarket Road during the past 35 years. The Corporation and innumerable householders have dumped their rubbish there until an area of nearly two and a half acres has been filled to a depth of fifty feet. Now the tipping has got to stop. There is a grave danger that, in the event of a heavy rainstorm, part of the area filled in will be carried over a slender barrier and encroach upon the adjoining pit being worked by the Cambridge Brick Company. The blue gault is used for making bricks for the majority of local houses and is the best wearing material because of its remarkable durability. 38 04 20a

'Desperate measures' are needed to save part of Queens' College where the river wall of the Essex block is in a severe state. It is absolutely necessary to deposit a bank against the wall to avert a disaster and when made temporarily safe the foundations will have to be underpinned, the Cam Conservators heard. There was concern that Silver Street Bridge might also be slightly under-mined and it should be rebuilt when money was available. 38 04 20a 38 04 27

Royston market, p2
Burwell water, p6

1938 04 21

Cambridge is to be the subject of an 'air raid' on July 14th. It is actually an ARP demonstration which will take place on Midsummer Common which is to be laid-out in the form of a street and made as realistic as possible. The scenario is that several squadrons of enemy aircraft fly over en route to Birmingham but are turned back and unload their bombs over Cambridge after they are attacked by aeroplanes from Duxford. The whole of the enemy machines are destroyed. Meanwhile the Mayor of St Ives, Mr D. Bryant, has built an air-raid shelter in his garden with the help of his sons. The first in the town, he is giving his townspeople a lead. 38 04 21 38 04 22a # c.45.6

1938 04 22

Ballets Jooss at Arts Theatre – 38 04 22
ARP test, p3

Mrs Ethel Robinson, described as "Hinxton's Lady Bountiful" has died. She came to live with her husband at Hinxton Hall in 1917 and took an active interest in village life, being connected with the Mothers' Union and Women's Conservative Association. Every Christmas she entertained the children at the Hall and extended similar hospitality to the old folk in the New Year. She ran a clothing and coal club and was a willing supporter of anything which had as its object the benefit of the village. 38 04 22b funeral 38 04 26

1938 04 22 ES

Six foxes caught at Stretham. 38 04 22ES

Stretham farewell gift Dr Howe after 30 years, Dr Fairweather succeeds. 38 04 22(2)ES

Stretham residents showed their appreciation of Dr. and Mrs. Howe with a farewell gift of a silver tea service. The Rector said how deeply the people regretted Doctor Howe leaving them. Dr Howe, replying with feeling, said he deeply appreciated the thoughts. He found it most difficult to speak of all that was in his heart. He had gone amongst them as one of themselves and has enjoyed his daily visits Mrs. P Bradshaw said it was a great shock to them when they heard he was leaving. She spoke on the doctor's long service of 30 years and of the kindness and sympathy he had shown to families in trouble. They would welcome the new Doctor Fairweather when he had occasion to visit them. 38 04 22ES

1938 04 23

Huge crowds turned out to welcome the Princess Royal when she laid the foundation stone of St George's new church on Milton Road. The building with its 107 ft tower is visible for several miles around and has become a new landmark in the northern part of Cambridge. The ceremony took the form of an open-air service conducted by the Bishop of Ely. Practically all the local clergy came together with the Lord Lieutenant, the Mayor, architect (T.H. Lyon) and the builder (Mr C. Kerridge) 38 04 23, a & b, 25 # c.83

Old Chesterton bells poem composed by Richard Robinson 63 years ago – 38 04 23c

Telephone developments of future described – 38 04 25b # c.27.75

Electricity would be supplied to Wicken, Hardwick, Barrington, Orwell and possibly Teversham this year. But the Beds, Cambs and Hunts Electricity Company had to abandon a scheme at Fulbourn because of restriction on the overhead line. Telegraph poles had been passing through villages for many years carrying hundreds of wires without undue problems, but as soon as they come along with an overhead line, exception is taken to that. No one liked to spoil nature but it cost double the price to run cables underground bringing the cost per house up from £2 to £5. Six years ago there were 4,615 consumers, now it was 13,145; the number of electric cookers had risen from 526 to 2,039 38 04 25c

1938 04 26

Mr R. Wright's butcher's shop in Ely High Street was completely gutted by fire. The old raftered premises and a quantity of fat offered a good hold for the flames which cast a glow over the whole city and only the skeleton of the building now remains. Everything was destroyed, including the whole stock of meat with the exception of that in the refrigerator; tinned stuffs were piled up on the floor with the charred remains of sides of beef, pork, carcasses of mutton and sausages. Mr Wright and his family have been rendered homeless and residents of the adjoining property, which was considerably damaged, have had to seek shelter elsewhere. The blaze roused the whole city 38 04 26 38, 38 04 26a

1938 04 27

Queens, p1

1938 04 28

Royston cattle market is finished, it would be better if the pens were cleared away tomorrow and the Market House done away with so the space could be converted into a parking place for cars, Royston Council was told. But James Hargreaves objected to the proposed Market Hill Compulsory Purchase Order. He owned the market rights and was entitled to also receive tolls payable at the annual fair. The proposal would seriously affect the amenities of the market, the fair and the rights of stallage, he claimed. 38 04 28

Tudor fair, p1

1938 04 29

While the band played 'Auld Lang Syne', a special train drew out of Saffron Walden station carrying 19 officers, three warrant officers and 237 men of the 80th Squadron, RAF, which has been stationed at Debden for some time. They were bound direct to Southampton for embarkation, sailing on Saturday for Egypt, where they will be stationed at Ismailia. Friends and sightseers who saw the men off envied them on leaving bleak Britain for the sunny Suez 38 04 29

1934 04 29 ES

Ely disastrous fire, High Street. 38 04 29(3)(4)ES

The most disastrous fire in Ely in recent years broke out shortly before midnight, and at one time threatened half High Street, which is thickly populated with business premises. The property concerned was the butcher's shop and house owned and occupied by Councillor Russell Wright, one of the city's leading tradesmen. Fire spread to the house and printing works of Mr C.E. Bird and part of Messrs. Mason and Dorman stationers and news agents.

The cause is an absolute mystery. The outbreak started on the ground floor and soon the building had the appearance of an intense furnace. The premises were very old and full of oak beams and woodwork. Once the fire had secured a hold in the shop, where large quantities of fat and lard provided abundant fuel, the flames just raced up the stairs and spread along the woodwork and all over the house at an amazing speed. Many of the people who gathered thought it was likely the whole row of shops and houses down to the new Coronation Buildings would be involved. Barclays Bank was not affected due to the strong thick brick wall.

The damage was tremendous; of Mr. Wright's premises only the outside walls remain standing. The roof on two floors had given way in many places and the interior was just a mass of sodden and charred ruins. Whole walls collapsed and the bed from the top floor had fallen right to the ground floor reposing in the kitchen. All the takings and Treasury notes were rendered to ashes. Mr Bird's premises also sustained severe damage. The machinery in the printing room downstairs was damaged by water. The book-binding and stitching machinery was ruined as was a quantity of type some of which melted in the terrific heat. The wall between the two houses is on the verge of collapsing and one of the main oak beams is dangerously split. When Mr. Dorman arrived at his shop he saw the danger that threatened his premises and transferred the major portion of the stock to his other shop in Minster Place. A lot of it was saturated with water. 38 04 29ES

Mr. Tom Smith, senior, of King's Lynn, one of the Ely Beet Sugar Factory's, oldest and most respected tug men was taken ill while proceeding down the River Ouse on Friday morning and passed away within a very few minutes. Mr. Smith who was in charge of a tug and a number of barges was taken ill at the mouth of the River Wissey. His men left the barges there and hurried on with the tug to Denver Sluice. He died however, before the Sluice was reached. Mr Smith had seen service in the Navy and was a fisherman at Kings Lynn before joining the staff of the Water Transport Department of the Ely Factory as a skipper. 38 04 29(4)ES

Haddenham say goodbye Dr Howe. 38 04 29(5)ES

More than 200 people took their final leave of Dr and Mrs C.W. Howe of Haddenham. Before the actual presentation an excellent programme had been arranged which was tremendously appreciated by the large audience. For 30 years Dr. Howe and his wife had cared for their health. When they got to Kenya, they would use the money to buy something for their new home. In the new Dr. Fairweather very would have an able and painstaking Doctor. 38 04 29ES

Two RAF bombers attached to No.44 Bomber Squadron, Waddington Aerodrome near Lincoln, crashed on Friday with the loss of four lives. The airmen were killed when their machine came down near Crowland. A man who was working in a field 70 yards away said: "I saw a plane circling around with the engine switched off. It came lower and the engine was switched on again. It was running full out when the plane hit the ground and exploded. The bodies were blown to pieces. In the other incident, the machine crashed just after taking off from the aerodrome. The observer was killed but the pilot and another occupant of the machine escaped with injuries. 38 04 29(2)ES

1938 04 30

The proposed new buildings for St John's College involve the immediate erection of buildings to complete the present Chapel Court with wings projecting beyond to the north and east. These should be ready for occupation by Michaelmas 1939, including 50 undergraduates and ten fellows' sets of rooms. There will be an open court facing Bridge Street should the houses eventually be taken down and the road widened and ultimately a riverside court overlooking Magdalene 38 04 30 & a # c.44.5 # c.46.5

Air Raid Precaution plans contemplate the division of Cambridge into three main areas each of which could be operated separately in the event of communication being destroyed in an air raid on one or more of the river or railway bridges. The total personnel required should be not less than 3,300 with street wardens dealing with about 500 people. The existing staff of the Corporation, Water, Gas and Electricity companies will form a strong nucleus of the personnel required and are being trained in anti-gas measures. There will have to be co-operation between the Borough and County to give mutual assistance in case of need 38 04 30b # c.45.6

May 1938 CDN & Ely Standard

1938 05 02

May Day big demonstration 38 05 02 & a # c.33

Charles Daisley, a library assistant of Coronation Street, was injured when the aeroplane he was piloting crashed at Quy. He was practising forced landings when the two-seater, of which he was the sole occupant, landed in a field and tipped sideways. The front cockpit was damaged by the engine being forced into it. He was in the rear cockpit but sustained a broken nose and concussion. He was one of the first to join the RAF Volunteer Reserve when they started training in Cambridge a few months ago and was doing part of his 15 days' annual training. 38 05 02b # c.26.1 # c.26.1

1938 05 03

Cambridge's air raid precautions are taking shape with council workers and college staff being trained in anti-gas measures and first aid. But volunteers were needed for decontamination, rescue and demolition work and 100 messengers, ambulance drivers and despatch riders were wanted. Cherry Hinton Hall would be an important centre for training and, if necessary, for a first-aid station. The greatest danger in air raids came from high explosive bombs but nothing was included about underground shelters. The Government said there is no precaution against bombing; it was the council's duty to look after the injured and see damaged buildings were taken down properly. 38 05 03 & a # c.45.6

1938 05 04

Meldreth school parents lose their fight to stop children being sent to Melbourn (see Memories) 38 05 04 & a, 38 05 06b

1938 05 05

Ancient brickworks discovered in field at Quy thought to be part of a secret passage from Anglesey Abbey to Barnwell or an old bridge - 38 05 05

1938 05 06

New diesel train tried on Cambridge-Oxford service – 38 05 06 # c.26.2

A tablet was unveiled at Ramsey's new grammar school in memory of the late Hon Mrs Broughton. She spent much of her childhood at the Abbey and offered it to the Governors so that its ancient beauty might be preserved. The building dates back to 989 but was extensively altered in the nineteenth century with a new wing. It now houses the headmaster's residential quarters, assembly hall, laboratories and five classrooms. 38 05 06a

Bottisham Village College celebrates 1st birthday – 38 05 06c

1938 05 07

In Cambridgeshire villages 700 air raid wardens had been appointed and 251 trained in simple elementary gas precautions. Each resident would be measured for respirators of which there were three sizes. There would be five or six centres with mobile apparatus and men trained to render first-aid, repair bridges and do decontamination work. The rural area was regarded as one of the least vulnerable but Cambridge was one of the most attractive spots for airmen in the world 38 05 07 # c.45.6

Mr H.G. Morris had been chief reporter of the CDN for nearly 30 years. In 1911 he was sent out on his push bicycle to collect news of the Army manoeuvres and afterwards Lord Kitchener said his reports were so well done there was hardly any need to publish the usual blue and white papers issued each day. Captain Taylor said Mr Morris need not worry about the future from the financial side. The News appreciated his energy and sound work over the years and the least they could do was to make his future safe and secure. They hoped that, freed from the worries of newspaper life, his health would improve 38 05 07b # c.04

Railway exhibition with rolling stock opens – 38 05 07c # c.26.2

Ronald Searle cartoon about library issues – 38 05 07d # c.77.4

1938 05 10

RAF Wyton had a day of tragedy. Five members of the RAF lost their lives in two terrible crashes within an hour of each other. At 10 o'clock a two-seater trainer nosed dived from the clouds into a field at Hilton, leaving the pilots practically unrecognisable. Wreckage was scattered over a large area. Then a Blenheim bomber was taxi-ing along the airfield when the engine failed and the machine toppled over and caught fire. The pilot was thrown out and killed but the observer and mechanic were trapped and burnt alive in the wreckage. 38 05 10 inquest 38 05 12 # c.26.1

1938 05 12

A fire which destroyed 295 bales of wheat and barley straw threatened the farmhouse at Wood Farm, Knapwell. It broke out amongst some stacks shortly before 6 o'clock and as a keen wind fanned the flames in the direction of the house, the building was in considerable danger. There were also outbuildings and farm stock in the vicinity. The Cambridge Borough Fire Brigade under P.c. Carpenter were quickly on the scene, and despite water provision difficulties – the only source being a pond – they prevented flames from gaining a hold, although the house was slightly damaged. 38 05 12a

Blenheim bomber crash at Wyton – inquest – 38 05 12 # c.26.1

1938 05 13

Stapleford church celebrate May Day with Morris dancers – 38 05 13

1938 05 13 ES

Photo Arthur Hall, High Sheriff in coach, Cambridge. 38 05 13ES

1938 05 14

A new mental welfare centre for children was opened at the Fitzroy Hall, Wellington Street. When such a child came of school age he was excluded from school so the mother had to have him at home all day, teaching what she could and preventing him getting into danger. This was in addition to her ordinary work. The child missed the social life and companionship of other pupils. The new centre would allow classes five days a week with the elder girls cooking a hot meal and doing all the laundry and kitchen work. 38 05 14 & a # c.21.5

Swaffham Bulbeck Commercial End memories – 38 05 14b

1938 05 16

Saffron Walden water supply problems – 38 05 16

1938 05 17

Dufaycolor demonstration – 38 05 17a # c.65.5

1938 05 18

Ickleton haulage contractor bankruptcy – 38 05 18

1938 05 19

Councillors heard that three double houses were to be erected at Great Chishill. One large family would occupy each pair of houses and probably remain for a long period of time. In these circumstances it was not necessary that the two bathrooms should each have a bath. If two were fitted one might be used by the tenants as a coal hole or a place for keeping rabbits. And the mothers would not thank them for having two baths to keep clean. While she was watching some children in one bathroom the others would be running water in the other and doing mischief. But the pipes should be fitted so the room could be used as a bedroom. Later, when the properties were occupied by two families then another bath could be installed 38 05 19

1938 05 20

A most spectacular crash occurred at Royston Cross when a six-wheeled lorry laden with five tons of cardboard was struck by another six-wheeler carrying 14 tons of bricks. It was only by a miracle that the drivers escaped death. The wooden bodywork of one lorry was broken in half by the impact and the front of the other was completely smashed in. The force of the crash drove one into the front of Beale's Corner Café. Had it not been for the steel posts on either side of the doorway – erected as a result of previous accidents – a great deal more damage would have been done 38 05 20

Car strikes pedestrian at Ely, Prickwillow Old Bank woman theft – 38 05 20a

1938 05 20 ES

Stretham Baptist Chapel stone laying & history. 38 05 20&(2)(3)(4)(5)ES

Stretham Baptist Chapel stone laying & history. 38 05 20&(2)(3)(4)(5)ES *

It was a great day in the life of Stretham Strict Baptist Church when eight memorial stones and one from the Sunday school were laid in the new church being erected in the village. Heavy rain failed to dampen the enthusiasm and a large company gathered from a very wide area; temporary shelter had been provided and umbrellas were much in evidence. After the stones had been laid the remainder of the proceedings were continued in Stretham Methodist Church.

According to tradition in the year 1700 there was a small congregation of Baptists who had for their pastor a Mr Clack. He was a very pious man but the cause appears to have been extinct after his death. About 1760 the chapel was again introduced to Stretham through the instrumentality of a Mrs Edwards and preachers sent out by John Berridge of Everton. For a time the friends met in a barn but not long afterwards they obtained possession of an old Malting House. In 1772 a small Meeting House was erected upon the site of the present chapel. In 1799 Mr Joseph Howlett of Cottenham was invited for three months and settled in Stretham. The congregation increased and it was found necessary to enlarge the building. This was done by raising the roof and adding two galleries. A Gospel Church was formed in April 1801 consisting of 11 members which soon increased to 50. In 1818 in the old place of worship was taken down and a new and larger one erected on the site opening in September. On this occasion the place was crowded to excess and many went away unable to get in.

It was during the ministry of Mr Howlett that the name of Sennitt became prominent in the history of the church. Mr John Sennitt was Superintendent of the Sunday school for 43 years and with his clarinet led the singing. There has been one of his successors connected with the place ever since. In 1837 Thomas Watts became minister and introduced Strict Baptist rules. In 1845 Joseph Crampin accepted the pastorate and during his 14 years of ministry there were many added to the numbers. Very little is known of the events of the next 50 years but church membership so declined that a committee was formed to carry on the services and Sunday School. During recent years the Cambs and East Midlands Union has been a great help and visits of different ministers have been times of blessing and encouragement. We are now happy to report that the cause is enjoying comparative prosperity and the Sunday School is very well attended. The interest of the present congregation is such that the enormous problem of erecting a new chapel and Sunday School was faced. The need was immediate because the old chapel was, after 120 years, no longer safe. Joseph Bradshaw, a Trustee said he first came to Stretham 20 years ago. The chapel had long been in need of attention. Pastor Westrep looked forward to the completion of the work.

A. J. Sennitt of Little Downham could not remember the first time he visited as a very young lad; he became a trustee in 1895 and although numbers have dwindled down to only two at one time they had now returned to the former number. At the evening service Pastor Fensome recalled that the old sanctuary, which had stood for 120 years, was beyond adequate repair. In 1936 Mr Drever said the foundations of the old Chapel were not good enough to rebuild upon. Miss Sarah Wright gave a most generous gift and Sunday School teachers under the leadership of Miss Hazel collected the nucleus of the building fund. The people of Stretham would not rest until the top-stone of the chapel was laid. It will accommodate 120 in the chapel and 40 scholars in the school room. Picture shows two foundation stones being laid by Mr & Mrs W. Sandifer on behalf of Miss Sarah Wright. Also in picture are O.P. Drever of Kettering, A. Sennitt & Miss Hazel. 38 05 20&(2)(3)(4)(5)ES *

1938 05 21

Stretham Baptist chapel foundation stone laid – 30 05 21

Ian Miller novel 'Doorstep'; describes residence in Cambridge – 38 05 21a

1938 05 23

Putting, p5

1938 05 25

Land Settlement dispute Abington - 38 05 25

Wyton airfield to be 'bombed' – 38 05 25a

1938 05 26

Cawdle Fen Drainage Commissioners were sued by a farmer whose land was flooded in 1936 and 1937 when water flowed across the railway line. The sluice gates in the lock had been worn out for tears and water leaked back into the fen. The drains were grown up and had not been 'mudded out' for some time. The gauge on the pumping station was out of place because the fen had sunk. In Lt Thetford they had stopped the old paddle wheel and installed two efficient pumps and it was not possible to drain Cawdle Fen without pumping. But the Commissioners said the system could not be expected to cope with abnormally high flood conditions 38 05 26 & a # c.19

1938 05 27

Wyton Link Trainer aircraft simulator – pic – 38 05 27

There is a real danger that there may be a break in the South Level barrier bank. It was in a very dangerous condition. Since a slip in February bags had been put on it but no gault had been used to repair it. Unless something is done before the high tides come next winter there may be a great disaster. In 15 years there would be another demand to raise the banks because the fens had fallen and the sea had remained the same. But they had so many schemes they had run out of money, Commissioners heard 38 05 27a & b # c.29

1938 05 27 ES

Ely Aero Club new plane. 38 05 27ES

Few people realise how go-ahead is Ely's own Aero Club with its up-to-date factory and splendid planes at the flying field off Downham Road. The latest innovation is a magnificent American machine which was flown to Ely on Saturday. Christened the Wren, the plane, which is red in colour, has a two seater cabin with side by side steering seating and two steering wheels similar to a car. It develops a cruising speed of 80 miles an hour, does 30 miles to a gallon of petrol and will climb to a height of three miles above the ground.

The first passenger in the machine was Councillor Mrs. G.B. Davis who was amazed at the comfort and found it much safer, smoother and simpler than a motor car. She described her trip as a delightful luxury travel under ideal conditions.

Two Ely Standard reporters took short flights and, apart from a few bumps due to very strong wind, progress was smooth and effortless and as snug and comfortable as a drawing room chair. After five minutes instruction, the pilot handed over the controls to the reporters and they found it simplicity itself to hold a straight course, bank to the left or right or climb or drop. Landing was a little beyond them. But the ease with which the machine responded convinced them it would be comparatively simple to learn to fly. The club has now four aeroplanes with another one in the factory in course of construction. This is an entirely new type of tricycle plane. 38 05 27ES

1938 05 30

Insurgents shell Madrid ... Cambridge shop explosion, Cromwell Road – 38 05 30

W.M. Nightingale garage, Newmarket Road – advert – 38 05 30a

S.A. Rolfe's wholesale tobacconist and confectioners business began in a very small way in East Road, in 1911. Now it is the largest in the Eastern Counties employing nine full-time travellers. In March 1935 they moved to Newmarket Road where the stock is kept in perfect condition and its 20 motor vans can be loaded completely under cover. They cover a territory reaching as far as Clacton, Frinton-on-Sea, Peterborough and Luton conveying tons of tobacco every day. All leading brands are stocked including R.S. Murray (chocolates and confectionary) and Messrs Parkes 'Classic' boiled sweets – Advert. 38 05 30b # c.27

Five people were burnt by blazing fat by an explosion at a fried fish shop in Cromwell Road. It occurred a moment or two after boiling oil in the fryer caught fire. The force was so great that it blew the window out of the shop and a woman customer standing inside the door was blown out into the street. Blazing fat dripped from the ceiling, it was like a firework display. A 15-year-old assistant and a five-year-old girl were detained in Addenbrooke's Hospital with severe burns 38 05 30c # c.34.75

Wm Scott & Son, the oldest motor body decorating firm with modern ideas, James Street – 38 05 30

Blue Boar hotel – advert – 38 05 30e

Joshua Taylor, eight reigns of service – advert – 38 05 30f

Cambridge University and Town Waterworks Co, new workshops & depot – 38 05 30g # c.24.2

June 1938 CDN & Ely Standard

1938 06 01

Strychnine was found in the body of a farmhand that was exhumed two months after his death at West Dereham. The man had suddenly lost the use of his legs while riding to work on a horse and subsequently died. A doctor had thought death was caused by tetanus poison from an infected corn on his foot. But the inquest showed he'd been administered strychnine on the morning of his death. A green bottle containing traces of the poison was found in a cesspool connected to his cottage. His wife's friendship with another man had ripened and she was expecting a baby, the court was told. 38 06 01

1938 06 02

Great Abington Land Settlement Association unrest – 38 06 01

Gt Abington Land Settlement scheme – 38 06 01a

Mrs Margaret Heitland, the well-known worker for women's causes was the daughter of the Master of St John's. She became secretary of the Cambridge suffrage society in 1884, an interest she continued all her life. She was a member of the Women's Industrial Council, travelling extensively in Europe studying the conditions in factories and writing articles in many periodicals. During the war she served on the Cambridge Women's War Employment and the Belgian Hospitality Committees. Later she helped establish the Cambridge Women Citizens' Association which has played an important part in local politics 38 06 01b # WOMEN

1938 06 03

West Dereham woman acquitted of poisoning husband – 38 06 03

Wyton RAF station air day – description of planes – 38 06 03a # c.26.1

The Isle of Ely Highways Department had since 1931 been cleansing four drains at Stretham, nine in Witcham and one in Sutton that had been set out in the Inclosure Awards as public drains. This work had been undertaken under a legal mistake and should have been done at the expense of the respective parishes. This meant a serious cost would now fall on the Rural Council. At Haddenham nothing had been done with the drains and those at Wentworth had not been touched for 50-100 years. Who was going to pay, Councillors asked 38 06 03b

Conservative daylight cinema propaganda van tour villages – 38 06 03c

Anxiety for South Level bank. JM74

1938 06 03 ES

Padnal & Waterden Fen new pumping plant. 38 06 03&(2)ES # c.29

A new pumping plant erected by the Padnal and Waterden Fen Commissioners on the banks of the River Lark near the Branch Bridge has been completed as a direct outcome of the alarm caused by last year's flood. Formerly there was a steam pumping centrifugal plant, but this unfortunately broke down on several occasions when it was very badly needed. The present new and modern oil plant was supplied by Messrs Allen and Sons and is absolutely ideal for the purpose, although installation will mean increased drainage taxes for several years to come. The pump throws 50 tons of water a minute. They had tried to get the water there by cleaning out the drains but it was useless unless every owner looked after his own drain so that the engine could get the water away.

Padnal fens were amongst the last local district to be enclosed and were formed under the South Level Act of 1827. In 1830, the Commissioners considered the use of steam power for pumping but thought it to be too expensive as compared to wind power. In 1831 they put in a steam engine by Messrs. Ryde of Leicester, the Commissioners finding the waterwheel. This was renewed by James Watt and new boilers were put in at different times. In 1884 Hathorn Davey put in the engine and centrifugal pump now superseded by the Allen oil plant. Until 1853 Waterden was drained by arrangement with the owners of Woodhouse Farm by the estate engine. At that time however, a pipe was put under the river to take Waterden waters to the Upper Padnal engine.

For a great number of years, the lower division was drained by two ordinary windmills, which used to be common in the Fens. This lasted until 1879 when the steam auxiliary plant was put into the mill east of the river, where the present pumping plant stood. In 1858, the mill west of the river was burned down and a pipe placed under the river to take water with the land west of the river to the mill on the east bank. 38 06 03ES

March A.R.P test. 38 06 03(3)ES

The efficiency of March's air raid precautions underwent a rigorous test for the first time in the small hours of Tuesday morning, when the town was blacked out for two hours while aircraft exercises were carried out overhead. Home Office observers visited and reported on the results. It was purely a test of the emergency and lighting restrictions and there were no demonstrations by the firefighting service, decontamination squads or similar branches of the air raid organisation.

March was selected as the first town for a blackout on account of the proximity of the L.N.E.R. marshalling yards at Whitemoor, the largest of its kind in Europe, which would certainly be an objective for hostile aircraft in time of war. Elaborate precautions were taken to ensure that the presence of the large railway works could not be seen from the air. Shunting operations were carried out with an emergency lighting system in operation and the large arc lamps had special defusing apparatus fitted so the powerful beams were deflected downwards so they could not be seen from the air. Engine fire boxes were screened. March station was in total darkness and signal box lights were dimmed.

The blackout began at midnight. By that time all street lamps including the usual all-night lamps were extinguished and the Town Hall clock was only fatally illuminated. Householders had been requested to put out or screen on lights so they could not be seen from outside and several air raid wardens patrolled the streets. Police were stationed on roads to warn motorists to drive through the town on sidelights only but at least one drove with headlights on. The first plane passed over the town at a considerable height about 1am during subsequent periods to others flew over in different directions, one at a very low altitude. 38 06 03ES

South Level bank breach . 38 06 03(4)(5)ES # c.29

The Great Ouse Catchment Board are to spend £500 on repairing a breach in the South Level barrier Bank. The bank was in a very dangerous condition and since the slip on February 12th nothing had been done except that bags had been put in, Since then there had been two other high tides and unless something is done when the next high tides come, the bank may prove a great disaster. It was vital that the bank should be heightened and the breach repaired. The Board's duty was to drain the river water down to the sea but the level of the fens was falling year by year and the problem would be much more difficult as the level dropped and the water had to be lifted higher. In 10 or 15 years they will have another demand to raise the bank still more because the fens have fallen and the sea has remained the same and they have not erected a barrage. They are reaching an impossible stage where they cannot go much further because they have spent money in advance and have no more money to pay for the schemes. 38 06 03ES

Roy Boon, Chatteris boxer, beats reigning British champion. 38 06 03(6)(7)ES

A great crowd of 7,000 people crammed into Chatteris Engineers' football ground forgot the cold and dismal weather and the pitiless rain which soaked most of them and went mad with enthusiasm when Roy Boon, the local lightweight idol and coming 'hope' for the world title was declared the winner at the end of his great fight with Jimmy Walsh, the reigning British champion on Saturday night. The roar could be heard miles away. And when Boon told them through the microphone of his determination to bring the world's championship crown to Chatteris hats went into the air. Round after round of cheering fairly shook the stands as he left the ring and made his way to the dressing-room after the greatest triumph of his meteoric career. Boon, at the age of 18, has put Chatteris on the boxing map. When Jack Solomon took him to London a few years ago, he was hailed as one of the most promising fighters of his age in the country and since then, he has made consistent progress. 38 06 03

Ely Brewery workers: old photo. 38 06 03(8)ES

Sutton in the olden days: pageant. 38 06 03(10)ES

Southery fire damages house, shop & bakery. 38 06 03(11)ES

1938 06 04

Cambridge Daily News jubilee – Capt Taylor reminisces about early days and foundation of paper – 38 06 04 & 04a # c.04

1938 06 05

Lilian Clarke makes scrapbooks of CDN cuttings – 38 06 05

1938 06 07

One of Balsham's oldest inhabitants, Suzan Chambers, figured in a fire drama when the picturesque cottage she had lived in for 89 years was completely destroyed together with the one alongside. Firemen concentrated on saving other thatched buildings and had to damp down the old Tythe barn attached to the Rectory to prevent it being damaged. So rapidly did the flames spread there was no time for salvaging more than a few trinkets and a couple of chairs. Mrs Chambers' parents, grandparents and great-grandparents had lived in the same cottage— 38 06 07, 38 06 08

1936 06 08

Frost and drought have so affected the Cambs fruit crop that many growers are facing ruin. Many have no alternative livelihood and their distress reacted on the labourers – many hands are being discharged. Cottenham is nothing more than a distress area, hundreds of acres are going derelict. At Bluntisham the position is piteous, many were on the verge of destitution. The plum and apple crop had been absolutely wiped out and the flower industry had also been badly hit. There had been nothing like it since 1884 38 06 08a & b

During an air raid the children attending infants' and junior schools should disperse to their homes, the Air Raid Precautions Committee was told. The responsibility of keeping children at school was great. Mothers would certainly come for them. 38 06 08c # c.45.6

Col Thornton, Shudy Camps Park dies 38 06 08e

Clavering cottage demolition – 38 06 08f

1938 06 10

Firemen were called to the main road between Littlebury and Little Chesterford where they found a fairground wagon ablaze. The Foden wagon, owned by Mr J.H. Manning of Bedford, contained a Jollity Farm and was on its way to Coton. They did their best to save some of the parts but the whole of the wagon and practically all its contents were completely destroyed. Damage was estimated at between £1,000 and £2,000 38 06 10

1938 06 11

A report on A.R.P. progress in Cambridgeshire says 1,100 air raid wardens have been appointed with 235 trained in anti-gas precautions. Respirators will be stored but not assembled and distributed to each village until the emergency arises. A number of buildings have been inspected as first air posts to be manned by volunteers trained in decontamination and dealing with gas affected cases. There will be mobile parties able to rescue people from damaged buildings. 38 06 11 # c.45.6

CDN first editor was a Mr Andrews who stayed a short time, then George William Townsend, previously chief reporter – reminiscences – 38 06 11a # c.04

1938 06 16

At King's College May ball over 400 guests assembled to dance and make merry. It was a pity the night was not warmer but even so quite a few ventured on the river or wandered into the darkness to admire the scene from afar. The chapel was floodlit – though not with that subtlety one might have desired – and the college hall presented a gala atmosphere, contrasting with its customary sombre appearance. There was dancing to novelties such as the 'Lambeth Walk', fox-trots like 'The Loveliness of You' and a Noel Coward waltz. 38 06 16 # c.36.97

The Bishop told the clergy he had money to make Mill Road cemetery chapel more dignified and beautiful. He would ask an architect to prepare plans. The chapel was used from time to time and more funerals might be held there. But it was felt that as so few burials took place, it was not worth the expenditure. It was extremely damp, there was no heating, it was difficult to ring the bell and it was such an ugly building it could never be made beautiful. But it was too drastic to close it altogether 38 06 16a & b # c.21.2

1938 06 17 ES

Chatteris Palace Cinema transformation. 38 06 17ES

The transformation of the Old Palace Cinema, Chatteris, into an up-to-date public hall equipped for dances, concerts, dinners, and dramatic performances, has been completed by the new proprietor Mr. H. Barrett and represents a valuable addition to the social amenities of the town. He purchased the property some months ago. The entrance hall has been remodelled, an excellent dance floor replaces the sloping floor of the picture house and a tasteful redecoration scheme has been carried out. Additional floor space has been provided by the removal of the orchestra pit and a stage has been built. The seating accommodation is now about 450. An automatic stoker is housed in the basement with an ingenious system to regulate the heat. 38 06 17ES

1938 06 18

Trainee pilot crashes at Marshall's aerodrome in Hawker Audax two-seater plane – 38 06 18 # c.26.1

Guildhall organ electrification report – 38 06 18a # c.69.4

The Bishop told clergy he had money to make Mill Road cemetery chapel more dignified and beautiful. He would ask an architect to prepare plans. The chapel was used from time to time and more funerals might be held there. But it was felt that as so few burials took place, it was not worth the expenditure. It was extremely damp, there was no heating, it was difficult to ring the bell and it was such an ugly building it could never be made beautiful. But it was too drastic to close it altogether

1938 06 20

Cambridge Training College for Schoolmasters had gradually disappeared during the War but in 1919 Charles Fox was told to re-establish it. There was no building, no library or archives and no staff – only a debt. But there were ex-Service men keen to get on and shoals of applications arrived. He not only had to function as director, lecturer and demonstrator, but also as tutor to 150 students, a retirement presentation heard. 38 06 20 & a # c.36.72

1938 06 21

Bridge Street redevelopment by St John's college discussed – 38 06 21 # c.44.6

1938 06 22

Queens' College have to underpin the foundations of the Essex Buildings and may rebuild it further from the road instead of on its present alignment. They asked whether the Corporation wished to acquire the land released and expedite the rebuilding of Silver Street Bridge. This could be widened to 40 feet instead of 28 feet as present. The erection of new college buildings and the construction of the bridge would proceed at the same time with the bridge completed by October 1939. 38 06 22 # c.44.5 # c.44.7

1938 06 23

Cheveley Park estate consists of 176 houses including those in course of erection along Duchess Drive, Centre Drive and Ashley Road, each being drained to a cesspool. There must be some limit to the number that can dispose of their sewage in that haphazard manner. The estate was so near Newmarket it would seem easy to solve the problem by draining into the Council's sewers. But they were too small, the Medical Officer reported. 38 06 23

Part of the old school at Cottenham had burnt down; it belonged to the trustees and was just leased to the Council who'd insured the school. The portion razed was used as a public hall as well as an assembly hall for the school. The Council had postponed rebuilding to see whether they could get a junior school built in its place. But this cannot be done. The Trustees feel it should be rebuilt by the autumn. But it was an out-of-date school in an unsuitable location and the Board of Education must guarantee it would not then be condemned. 38 06 23a

1938 06 24

The new automatic telephone exchange for Royston came into use for the first time. Strings were attached to the fuses at the old exchange and at the arranged time these were all pulled out. Immediately afterwards a similar operation took place at the new exchange and the change-over to automatic telephoning had been effected in less than 60 seconds. This means users will be able to dial nearly 5,000 telephone numbers without the aid of an operator. The charges will be registered automatically on the calling subscriber's individual meter. 38 06 24

The new Cambridge Guildhall basement could be regarded as splinter-proof and it would not be difficult to render it gas-resisting, the Air Raid Precautions Committee heard. If not done they could be criticised for allowing a public building without adequate protection and could not ask other stores or factories to comply with such regulations. But it would need to have 25 feet of concrete, with earth on top, to make it bomb-proof. It was absolutely and entirely impossible. 38 06 24a & b # c.35.7 # c.45.6

Hillrow, Haddenham, farmers Walter Newman, Fred Wright, Percy Allen & Arthur Thulborn fined for failing to dress cattle infested with maggots of the warble fly 38 06 24c

Littleport swimming bath to reopen – 38 06 24d

1938 06 24 ES

Rumours are floating around Ely concerning a possible erection by the Air Ministry of a military hospital or landing ground in the vicinity of the city. No official information has yet been given although several sites have been inspected with a view to purchase for some purpose. Mr W.H. Mann who hires 147 acres of pasture land between Lynn Road and the end of New Barnes Road from the Ecclesiastical Commissioners says he has received a letter from the Ministry instructing him to surrender his agreement for 47 acres of his land and vacate his house by the 11th of July. He has no idea as to the use of the land, which is immediately around his house, but has been asked to submit his terms for surrendering it. Accordingly a sale of all the farm effects and stock which includes 600 sheep, 50 cattle and the number of pigs, will take place on July 8th. He is very upset at the short notice particularly as he is just in the middle of the grazing season, a very important time of the year. 38 06 24(3)ES

A meeting of Downham Parochial Church Council was held when the rector submitted plans for the improvement of the War Memorial Chapel in the south side of the parish church. The schemes provides for the erection of a stone altar of a very simple design to stand on a raised pavement of York stone. The illuminated roll of the names of those who gave their lives will remain in its present position over the altar and under a memorial window. But it is proposed to move the photographs of some of those who died from their present position and set them in a specially designed frame on the south wall near the memorial altar where they will be better seen. 38 06 24ES

1938 06 29

Several towns in the Isle of Ely were 'raided' by bombers in the early hours. There was no cause for alarm, because the raid was nothing more than an experiment to test the effectiveness of air raid precautions. Two bombers from Marham left the aerodrome to spot the black-out area in Whittlesey, March, Chatteris & Wisbech. March and Chatteris were in complete darkness and it was an eerie sight to see the chain of lights representing the brickyards, being switched on and off during the flight. But some motorists would not comply with the requests of air wardens to dim their lights. 38 06 29

1938 06 30

Demolition of old buildings on corner of Fen Causeway makes improvement – 38 06 30

July 1938 CDN & Ely Standard

1938 07 01

The Gwydir Arms was a fully licensed house. Within a radius of 400 yards there were seven fully-licensed houses, two beer houses and one beer-off. The area was fully developed and did not need this number. Its trade was small and declining. But Greene King had spent money on improvements since they bought it in 1925 and would put in a bathroom and private lavatory. There was an atmosphere in the building which puts it in a street by itself. The licence was renewed. But that of the Tailors Arms beerhouse in Norfolk Street was refused. 38 07 01 & a # c.27.3

Cottenham Social Retreat refused

1938 07 05

Slidney Street, p3

1938 07 06

Burwell lads had been drinking at Waterbeach and arrived at Upware ferry about 11pm. There was a ferry staging and they pushed it adrift. It weighed half-a-ton and was dangerous when floating submerged. A notice board was also pulled off and they turned their attention to the South Level tollhouse. Windows were smashed with a hoe and the bedroom covered with glass. One lad said they went to the house for shelter as it was raining, but could not get in and spent the night in a barn. He wanted to swim the river for the boat, but the others would not let him. They were fined. 38 07 06

Clavering cottages clearance – 38 07 06a & b

Ely had suffered a scarlet fever epidemic of some severity; over half the children affected attended the National School in Market Street. They should be taught in as hygienic conditions as possible. But the buildings are badly lit and ventilated with inadequate windows or sanitary provision. For children of a tender age they are a disgrace to the city, the Medical Office reported. There were also epidemics of measles and mumps striking the 5-10 year old age groups 38 07 06c

1938 07 07

The Government was aware of the danger to civilian populations and had made elaborate preparations. But these would be useless unless the civilian population co-operated. In Germany practically every civilian had been trained so that in the event of an air raid they knew what to do. It was deplorable that men, women and children should be destroyed by the abuse and misuse of science, but they had to be prepared for passive resistance. Cambridge would be divided into 10 minor centres which would act as headquarters for the mobile first-aid parties and there would be five main first-aid posts. At least 1,000 volunteers were needed but at present only 200 had come forward, mainly women. They could not be expected to carry stretchers and do heavy lifting work. Cherry Hinton needed 30 air raid wardens, each looking after 120 houses 38 07 07 # c.45.6

Alex Wood's A.R.P. protest – 38 07 07a

Lolworth Grange estate. extending to 750 acres, will be sold by auction. It includes The Grange, an attractive old-fashioned residence in well-timbered ground, a good farm house, 23 cottages including the village post office and the village institute is also on the property. The estate is ideal for mechanical cultivation and grows heavy crops of wheat, sugar beet & potatoes. 38 07 07b

1938 07 08

King's Cup air race, Henshaw pilot – 38 07 08 & a

Little Ouse Catchment Board have authorised their Engineer to prepare plans for the reconstruction of the bridge at Feltwell Anchor, with concrete piers. The Board never had any liability with regard to the bridge but might find it necessary to take steps under the Land Drainage Act to secure that the interests of land drainage were not deleteriously affected. They would write to Norfolk and Isle of Ely County Councils suggesting the bridge should be taken over by them 38 07 08a

Littleport, Sutton, Downham & Thetford councils want more houses – 38 07 08a

1938 07 09

The death of George Alfred Warren closes one of the remaining links with the past history of the London coal trade. Born in 1843 at Cambridge, he went to London when the Eastern Counties

Railway was being extended to Bishopsgate and with his brother founded a coal company at Stratford and Spitalfields, later joining with Thomas Coote & Son of Huntingdonshire to form Coote and Warren Ltd 38 07 09

1938 07 14

A steam wagon loaded with 60 coomb of rye grass seed and drawing a trailer carrying 40 coombs, ran off the road and crashed into the river at Nordelph. As it plunged into the water clouds of steam enveloped the vehicle and the driver experienced considerable difficulty in escaping from his cabin. His mate jumped from the vehicle as it was entering the water. The accident happed as the wagon was turning over Nordelph bridge. The steering gear locked, causing it to crash through the railings. Attempts to salvage the vehicle during the day proved unavailing but the bags of seed were recovered. 38 07 14

The Bursar of Downing College complained that water supply to cottages they owned near Valley Farm, Croydon, had been affected by the new Gamlingay and Lt Gransden water scheme. It was a bored well to the greensand and always provided an adequate supply but since the last pumping operations the water had completely failed. Tenants had to fetch water from the standpipe at Toll Bar Bungalow. He asked the RDC to meet half the cost of connecting the cottage to the main 38 07 14a & b

Ely High School for Girls was a 'rabbit warren' and a new Market Street School needed – 38 07 14c & d

The County Council intended building a road and bridge at Whittlesford Station, above the railway and river giving about 15 feet of overhead height. There would be a considerable amount of concrete used in the construction with a series of arches in the viaduct open at each end. These could be closed and made gas-proof at little extra cost, making them suitable for protection from an air raid. But there was only a very scattered population and it was a bad idea to construct shelters at a place where there was an important road and railway 38 07 14e

1938 07 15

The Cambridge Reserve School are using Tiger Moths, Hawker Harts and Audax for their training – 38 07 15

Coton village flower show was revived by the WI for the first time since 1913 and attracted over 300 entries. Beautiful flowers were not the only things on show, the mothers bringing along some bonny specimens of babyhood. The winners were: John Sadler, Rex Webb, Marigold Saunders & Elaine Cousins. A fete with side-shows and competitions proved a great attraction and in the evening young and old spent a jolly time dancing to the strains of Josephine's Gipsy Dance Band. 38 07 15a

Heber G. Martin profile - Farmers Wkly. JM94

1938 07 15 ES

North Level drainage pumps, Cross Guns to start, Dog-in-a-Doublet soon. 38 07 15ES # c.29 *
Today should see the starting of one of the drainage pumps at Cross Guns, part of the North Level's £140,000 scheme for draining 5,500 acres of land in the Thorney district. The pumps at Dog-in-a-Doublet will be ready for work in about a month but the other two pumps at Dowsdale Arm and the Tydd. In October 1936 Messrs. B Grantham of Doncaster submitted a scheme showing how flooding could be prevented in the North Level and contracts were drawn up. The pumping station at Cross Green, almost opposite Thorney Toll has three pumps each capable of lifting seven tons per minute against the highest water in the Nene. They are designed to lift the water from the Counter Drain and the New Wryde Drain into the Nene. The pump house rests on a concrete foundation and some difficulty was at first experienced in getting the foundations firm. It is hoped that the pumps at Dog-in-a-Doublet will be ready in a month. They drain an area of 5,580 acres west of Thorney river and lift the water from the Counter Drain into the Nene. The other pumps at the Dowsdale Arms and Tydd

Protection Sluice will not be ready for some months. During normal times the whole system will be a gravitational one. At certain times part of the district will be pumped while the other parts continue to be drained by gravitation. Since work had been done to the river, the water level was not as low as formerly and the water was going back on the land. Unless something had been done the North Level might be swamped. 38 07 15ES

Stretham Parish Council was asked by Ely Rural District as to the building of further houses, apart from those to be erected to rehouse people whose present dwellings were under an order of demolition. The Parish Council think it desirable to erect four houses and two bungalows to meet the requirements of applicants for houses at the present time. 38 07 15ES

The first experiment in connection with the air raid precautions arrangements at Chatteris was held. Some dozen air raid wardens were on duty throughout the town while the police regulated the motor traffic, as to lights etc. Everything appears to have worked harmoniously and the cooperation of the public in respect to lights was very satisfactory. Indeed to a large number of the inhabitants the idea of what was taking place was entirely overlooked. 38 07 15ES

While waging war on rats at Sutton youth pursued a rat into a building with a fork. The pursuit carried him away from his companion who was armed with a gun. He saw a rat and fired. The shot penetrated a partition and passed into the leg of the youth who at that time chanced to be in direct line on the other side. Dr. D. Young extracted out of the shot which entered the leg. Four months ago the same boy received the discharge of a gun in his right wrist. 38 07 15 ES

1938 07 16

Territorials off to camp down Hills Rd – 38 07 16 & a

Fen Ditton ferry boat sinking 1883 – personal memories – 38 07 16b

Cambridge lorry for Spain – 38 07 16c

1938 07 18

The Spanish people were fighting our battle & the British Government should take strong measures, a Conference on Spain in the Cambridge Masonic Hall was told. If Franco were to win as the pawn of Mussolini and Hitler another European war would be much closer. Meanwhile a service of prayer on behalf of religious persecution in Germany was held at the Synagogue in Thompson's Lane. Cambridge Refugee Committee exists to help all German and Austrian refugees and would be pleased to receive gifts of money 38 07 18 & a

Cambridge & Jewish, p5

1938 07 19

Ely cemetery conditions – 38 07 19

Concrete roads to be made on Isle smallholdings – 38 07 19

Each village should have a utility squad of men or women with knowledge of first aid, buildings and fire-fighting who could help in an emergency. Parish councils should establish a first-aid point with hot water where a casualty could wash. There might be five storage-distribution stores for about 80,000 respirators that would be assembled and sent out in cartons to air raid warders for personal distribution, the Home Office suggests 38 07 19a & b

1938 07 20

Silver Street bridge, p6

1938 07 22

Sussex Street is the most striking of the many improvements made in Cambridge during the past few years. Those who recall the dark, narrow lane of bygone days, with its overhanging roofs on either side, and its small, ill-lit shops, will hardly recognise the imposing street that has emerged from the builders' hands with its line of modern shops and shop-fronts. It is now Cambridge's latest shopping centre. 38 07 22

HMS Repulse, battle cruiser scale model visits for Navy Week - 38 07 22a, 23

1938 07 22 ES

Squadron Leader Ashton, of Cambridge Road, Ely, attached to the R.A.F. station, Mildenhall, had to make a forced landing during manoeuvres near Ely. He was piloting a single-seater Gloucester Gauntlet and on the outskirts of the city his engine failed. It was then that the Ely Flying ground came in extremely useful, and he was able to land in it without mishap. He telephoned to Mildenhall for assistance and shortly afterwards a Miles Magister appeared on the scene with a mechanic. Repairs were carried out and the Gloucester Gauntlet took off. It was quickly realised however the engine was not working properly, and a second time it landed in the Flying Club's field. The trouble could not be rectified, the plane having to be dismantled and taken to Mildenhall by road. 38 07 22(3)ES

Cawdle Fen drainage compensation claim. 38 07 22(4)ES

Steam roller loses wheel, Soham: photo. 38 07 22(6)ES

1938 07 23

The Air Raid Precautions Committee has constructed several types of household trenches at Ditton Lane for demonstration purposes. Two are about six feet below ground level and are roofed in, whilst the third is merely an open trench with an embankment around it. Shelters of this type can be constructed of any suitable material in the average garden and are strongly recommended as give the best practical protection to a man and his family. The duties of Air Raid Wardens were outlined: they should be sensible and able to keep their wits in times of stress. 38 07 23 c-e # c.45.6

H.W. Peak new premises, Sussex Street – advert – 38 07 23f

A farmer claimed his land at Wissington, near Stoke Ferry, had become waterlogged and flooded as the pumping machinery was quite inadequate and broke down frequently. An engineer said the engine was of an old type and the boilers were not strong enough to drive the pump properly. But the Ouse Catchment Board said they'd got a new drainage plant since it broke down in June 1938. Any problem was due to excessive rainfall and seepage from the river Wissey. Although some celery had rotted there was no damage to wheat. 38 07 23g # c.29

1938 07 25

There were many hundreds of acres of sugar beet in the Aldreth area and the condition of the Causeway made a three-horse job out of a one-horse job, County councillors heard. This winter they were likely to have a big increase in unemployment and the Ministry of Transport might give a good grant to improve it. But Government had already contributed to the Twentypence Road. It would cost about £30,000 including the bridge. If the land was a valuable as claimed why did the farmers not supply a road for themselves, as smallholders at Soham had done? 38 07 25

1938 07 27

Silver Street Bridge was at present 21ft 6ins wide. Some years ago the Council bought land on the south side to enable it to be increased to 28ft when re-building was done. But it was unnecessary to increase it to 40ft as the road beside the old buildings of Queens' College could not be widened. Now the college wanted to redevelop and had offered land provided the bridge was widened – 38 07 23a & b Borough council decide to apply for funding – 38 07 27 # c.44.7

1938 07 28

Plans for a new police and fire station on Parkside between Warkworth Terrace and East Road came before an Inspector. It was a central site with good access for engine and ambulances and suitable for future requirements. It comprised five houses with a pork pie factory behind. But owners, Peterhouse, did not want to sell. They were concerned about noise at night and some undesirable 'guests' at the police station reducing the value of adjacent property. 38 07 28 # c.34.7 # c.34.75

1938 07 29

The Great Ouse Catchment Board says £1.3 million must be spent on strengthening the banks of the Hundred Foot River between Denver Sluice and Welmore Lake, lining and dredging in the Eau Brink and Marsh Cut, construction of an intermittent barrage and training work in the Wash. The people who live in the fens are unable to pay for them so the Government will contribute 75% of the money. The fear was that they were spending money on a scheme which might not be an effective solution to the problem 38 07 29 & a # c.29

1938 07 29 ES

Ely Aero Club fly to Hunstanton, to organise new Civil Air Guard. 38 07 29ES

Two members of the Ely Aero Club on Saturday, wishing to join the party who had gone to Hunstanton by car, decided to fly there doing the journey in 28 minutes. It was high tide when they arrived and the plane landed by the edge of the water. The machine attracted a large crowd of visitors. Later in the evening, the wife of one of the members flew back to Ely with a three-months-old baby, which did not like travelling by car. The machine is one of the safest ever made; it lands at only 25 miles an hour and weighs 610 pounds. Ely Aero Club have been responsible for the organisation of the new Civil Air Guard in this district. In order to cope with the large number of recruits anxious to take their 'A' licences the Aero Club will require apprentices for training as Air Ministry licenced ground engineers. There will also be a demand for apprentices for training as flying instructors. 38 07 29ES

Cawdle Fen drainage judgement reserved. 38 07 29(2)ES

The possibility of providing a motor ambulance for the use of Littleport is receiving serious considerations. True, there is an ambulance at Ely but it might be elsewhere when required, and long weary hours might elapse before a patient from Littleport could be taken to hospital. For Littleport to have an ambulance of its own would be a big boon. And although we live in times where money is scarce, one can only hope it will be possible within a comparatively short time. 38 07 29ES

A casual who absconded from the Ely Poor Law Institution was sentenced to seven days in prison. Charles Latham, master at Ely Tower House, said prisoner was admitted on Tuesday evening and should not have left until eight o'clock the next morning. He had his supper and bed and breakfast next morning and was then put out to work by the porter to clip a hedge. But the prisoner said he felt self-conscious and absconded. The Magistrate said "You had a bed and accommodation and this is how you appreciate it". Prisoner complained that the sanitary arrangement in the ward were very bad 38 07 29ES

1938 07 30

Castle Camps fire, four houses involved – 38 07 30

Horace Gray, head of H.J. Gray & sons retires – 38 07 30b

August 1938 CDN & Ely Standard

1938 08 02

Thousands of people enjoyed nine hours' fun at the Gogs Fete on August Bank Holiday. Sir Harold and Lady Gray's gardens presented a beautiful appearance and non-stop variety shows were given. There was a quoits championship, darts tournament, whippet races as well as games of skill like Aunt Sally, coconut shy, skee ball and hoop-la. The County MP made a speech and there were gifts to Conservative workers. 38 08 02

1938 08 03

A car owned by Mr J.E. Bidwell of Gt Shelford and driven by his chauffeur was proceeding down Castle Hill when the front nearside wheel came off. The wheel collided with Alexander McFarlane, of no fixed abode, who was taken to Addenbrooke's Hospital with leg and hand injuries. He was treated and taken to the Poor Law Institution. After the wheel had become detached from the car, the vehicle was stopped without further damage being done 38 08 03

1938 08 04

Pilot parachutes from plane into beech tree at Thriplow, plane crashes Duxford 38 08 04 # c.26.1

1938 08 05

Queen Mary visits Woolston's antique shop – 38 08 05 & b # c.02

Some 900 aircraft are taking part in an exercise testing the air defence of Great Britain. The attacking force will have 36 bomber squadrons (some from Bassingbourn and Wyton) while the defenders will consist of 23 fighter stations and 14 bomber squadrons, including planes from Duxford, Debden, Feltwell, Mildenhall and Stradishall. Anti-aircraft and searchlight batteries will be spread across the Eastern Counties. Bombers will fly without navigation lights unless other aircraft approach and fighters are forbidden from attacking below 1,000 ft 38 08 05a plane crashes at Melbourn – 38 08 08. Mayor made tour of town, all in darkness apart from one or two lighted windows – 38 08 08b # c.45.6 # c.26.1

1938 08 06

People in an area from Yorkshire to Buckingham, including Cambridgeshire and Norfolk, should extinguish out-door lights on their premises, draw blinds and curtains and take all other measures to prevent illumination from being visible during the air defence exercises. Those compelled to travel by road during the period must bear in mind that streetlights will be extinguished. If weather conditions are such that large numbers of bombers can operate without due risk, intensive raids may be anticipated. Fighter patrols will probably be kept away 38 08 06 # c.45.6

Ely RDC receives tenders for houses at Coveney, West End & Duck Lane Haddenham, Witchford, Downham, Littleport & Lt Ouse. Wilburton school & ditch Carpond Lane 38 08 06c

Frederick James Sebley, book lover & collector, dies 38 08 06a

1938 08 08

Hundreds of acres of barley ripe for the reaper were devastated by a disastrous storm which raged over Gt Wilbraham. Hailstones as large as lump sugar left a trail of destruction; beet was stripped of its greenery as if by a plague of locusts, hedges cut by the sharp ice and barriers of ice, like miniature mountain ranges rose to a high of four feet. "It would have killed a man if he had been out in it", an old farm worker said. 38 08 08a & b

1938 08 11

Water scheme including Bassingbourn aerodrome – 38 08 11 & a

1938 08 12

Queen Mary named the first block of the new buildings at Newnham College after Professor and Mrs Fawcett and their daughter Philippa. It was at the Fawcett's house in December 1869 that the first meeting was held to discuss plans which resulted in the foundation of the college. Twenty-one years later Miss Philippa Fawcett justified her parents' faith by being placed above the Senior Wrangler in the Mathematical Tripos. She was amongst the guests and was presented to the Queen who has taken the keenest interest in the College 38 08 12 # c.44.5 # c.02

Flood dangers – internal drainage authorities combine. JM95
Cutting new river to slop floods. JM76

The Great Ouse in harness. JM77

1938 08 12 ES

A visit to Wicken Fen: how moths are caught. 38 08 12&(2)ES

Ely St Mary church floor in spire collapses. 38 08 12(4)ES

Charlie Grey of Witchford builds Austin 7 Sports Car. 38 08 12(5)ES *

1938 08 13

The harvest is in full swing; the dry summer means gain to the heavy land and fenland farmers but a loss to the light lands with corn yield and quality far superior to last year. Against this must be set off the partial failure of the hay, sugar beet, roots and other green crops required to feed the cattle and stock during the coming autumn and winter. At Burwell there is a total failure of fruit owing to severe frosts, Ickleton report a poor year for roots – the soil is much too dry, Oakington wheat looks well but sprouts and cabbage are very poor at Steeple Morden. - 38 08 13

British Association meeting at Cambridge 1833 first moving pictures demonstrated, 'Phantasmascope' – 38 08 13a # c.76.9

1938 08 16

Photo of training bank. JM78, 79

Iron road under water: Littleport train. JM80

1938 08 17

Exhibition of historic scientific apparatus in Cavendish Laboratory – microscopes etc, steps should be taken to find permanent home – 38 08 17 # c.03

1938 08 18

Queen Mary visits Folk Museum – 38 08 18 # c.03 # c.02

Nearly 3,000 scientists gathered in Cambridge for the inaugural meeting of British Association for the Advancement of Science held in the Regal Cinema. It last met here in 1904 38 08 18a # c.27.9

The Bishop told clergy he had money to make Mill Road cemetery chapel more dignified and beautiful. He would ask an architect to prepare plans. The chapel was used from time to time and more funerals might be held there. But it was felt that as so few burials took place, it was not worth the expenditure. It was extremely damp, there was no heating, it was difficult to ring the bell and it was such an ugly building it could never be made beautiful. But it was too drastic to close it altogether

1938 08 19

Rural depopulation is a serious issue as the influx of people to the towns continues. The towns had all the amenities of life – water, electricity and gas – and men and particularly women would not suffer the lack of comforts which others enjoyed. These amenities must be provided in the country. The Government had given a million pounds for water supplies in rural districts, but that grant was exhausted. Sawston waterworks was the fourth in South Cambs and if people came to the district the rateable value would improve enabling them to construct more 38 08 19a

T.C. Lethbridge said a great number of ancient weapons had been found during dredging operations in fenland waterways. An enormous number of daggers dating to the Peasants' Revolt had been found between Cambridge and Clayhithe together with a cup that was probably a chalice stolen from a church. Near Aldreth battle-axes of the type used at the Battle of Hastings had been found; they had hoped to find evidence of Norman knights falling from the causeway into the bog, but succeeded only in finding relics of the Bronze Age. 38 08 19b # c.41

1938 08 19 ES

Russell Wright opens new Ely butchers and food store. 38 08 19ES *

1938 08 22

An invention that makes motoring simpler, safer and more economical was described at a conference. A hydro-electric power transmitter was fitted in place of the clutch and gearbox of a Standard car. Acceleration was lively with optimum performance achieved without gear changing skill on the driver's part. And there was an appreciable saving in fuel consumption. The driver is not wearied by declutching and gear changing over long distances, in traffic and climbing sinuous hills, Prof Lea reported. 38 08 22

Mr H.G. Wells criticised Cambridgeshire Village Colleges: "They are very beautiful specimens of architecture. I admired the decoration of the rooms, the beautiful chairs and tables. And then I went into the library and was shocked beyond measure at the unattractiveness and want of imagination. There were no dictionaries or encyclopaedias. There were no books of reference. There was not even a Whitaker. These things are of great educational importance" If some of the money spent on flowers and tables was expended on reference books it would be better for the village college as an educational institution", he told a conference. 38 08 22a. also 38 08 23 response from wardens – 38 08 24a # c.77.1

1938 08 24

One of original 'Flying Scotsmen' locomotives runs through Cambridge – 38 08 24a # c.26.2

1938 08 26 ES

Transport & General Workers Convalescent Home, Littleport. 38 08 26ES

Scientists view fenland – British Association. CT. JM96

1938 08 27

Many cemetery chapels are utterly dismal and depressing, the Bishop of Ely says, work may be undertaken at Mill Road cemetery – 38 08 27

The foundation of Silver Street Bridge, built about 1850 has been partially washed away by the rush of water from the King's Mill sluice, a diver underpinning Queens' College discovered. The Cambridge Borough Survey donned a diving suit and personally inspected the damage. There is no danger of it collapsing yet but as a precaution buses and heavy lorries will be banned. For many years heavy vehicles have been limited to a speed of five mph. In June the Council adopted a scheme to construct a new one by acquiring land from the college. But the County Council opposed it. 38 08 27 # c.44.7

P.C. Yeomans testified that he was on duty in Cambridge Road Papworth when he stopped two men who were cycling towards Boxworth village. They were strangers and were hanging about with a bicycle. When searched they had a brace and bit, screwdriver, pair of pliers, hacksaw blade, glass cutter, electric torch with two spare accumulators and one spare bulb, two pocket knives, three bunches of keys, a roll of wire, two attaché cases, two nails and two pieces of string together with a tin opener. These were house-breaking implements. 38 08 27

Whenever you see Hollimans' vans they are delivering 'paid-for' furniture to the homes of contented and satisfied customers. You have the choice of the largest selection of guaranteed furniture at keen prices and save the additional 'easy-payment' charges. Save money and enjoy the additional prestige when our vans deliver the goods to your home: the neighbours will be certain you have not bought on convenient terms. Linoleums and carpets fitted free. Holliman's 'Cash Only' Furnishers, 71 King Street – Advert. 38 08 27a

1938 08 30

The Vicar of Abbots Ripton, Rev E.H. Vigars, was presented with a long-service medal for 22 years voluntary service as a special constable. He joined the constabulary in February 1916, did service during the Great War and the General Strike of 1926 and more recently identified himself with the Observer Corps. The vicar said the small duties he had been called upon to perform had given him infinite pleasure. 38 08 30

Ely council – Barracks field, waterworks – 38 08 30 & a

1938 08 31

Smart-looking Army Recruiting Office in Mill Road attracts inquirers – photo – 38 08 31

September 1938 CDN & Ely Standard

1938 09 01

Fen Causeway – Barton Road temporary roundabout pic – 38 09 01

1938 09 02

Speedway enthusiasts visiting Wembley Stadium were unaware that amongst the finalists was a local man. Tommy Price was born in Cambridge and attended the old County School. An enthusiastic mechanic he acquired an A.J.S and took part in his first grass-track race at St Ives. Having moved to London he graduated to a pukka speedway machine and began his racing career with the Wembley team competing against the finest riders in the world. He also studied aeronautics and has build several model planes which he flies at Northolt Aerodrome. 38 09 02

Saffron Walden's new Close Garden, commemorating the Coronation of King George VI was formerly opened, joining the Jubilee and Bridge End Gardens, also open to the public. The idea had been suggested by a veteran of the town, William Adams in order to open up a view of one of the best old churches in Essex. It added to the attractiveness of an already beautiful town. People who are troubled or hard pressed will find repose and rest there. 38 09 02b

A ceremony, believed to be unique, took place at Duxford Aerodrome at the funeral of one of the young airman killed in a road crash near Abington cross-roads after special authority had to be obtained from the Air Ministry. Following a service in the RAF church on the aerodrome the ashes were carried in a special urn on a gun carriage draped with a Union Jack escorted by a bearer party of six airmen. The 'Last Post' was sounded before the ashes were committed to the air by the Commanding Officer. 38 09 02b

Ely RDC heard that there had been no decoration of the inside of their houses at Littleport for 20 years, although sometimes a good tenant would paint. There was a pressing need for housing and they accepted a tender of £2,250 for the erection of six at Wilburton. The present sewerage system had served the village satisfactorily for 30 years so if the Church wanted to build a new school in Carpond Lane they should pipe the ditch at their own expense 38 09 02

1938 09 02 ES

Haddenham grand old people: seven, average age 90. 38 09 02&(2)ES

A reporter interviewed seven Haddenham residents whose combined ages totally 630 years Mrs Hannah Betts 92 of High Street is the oldest inhabitant in the parish of having them though she has only lived in the village for just over a year. She walks with the aid of a stick, still has her own teeth and can even read and sew without using glasses

Next door, 90-year old John Taylor's carriage and alert manner betrayed the fact that he has seen military service. He and his wife, 78, are proud parents of 10 children although he lost the sight of one eye in an accident he can see and hear quite well and never misses his daily pint of beer. He remembers when he worked for seven shillings a week, but times were better now. He has never been to the pictures in his life and did not think much of motorcars. He would rather ride in a donkey car. He entertained the reporter by singing three songs.

Mrs Hamer Goff, 91, a kindly and active lady, attributes her long life to the fact that she has been a very keen walker and thinks nothing of walking to Wilburton and returning after a rest. She reads a great deal. The Bible was her chief book. She has never been to the cinema.

Mrs S. Porter, 88, lives alone in High Street and does all her own housework and cooking and attends the Baptist Chapel twice every Sunday. She is a native of Sutton and only been to the seaside once. She always had plenty of hard work and fresh air.

Mrs. K. Charles of the Terrace, 89, nine taught herself to read during the Great War She brought up a family of nine children, the youngest being killed in 1917 at the age of 27

Mr. J Watts of Hillrow, 90, taught himself to read as when he was young as there was no system of compulsory attendance. He has had 14 children and has two brothers living in American.

Mrs. Martha Jane Acred of Hop Row, 90, although not able to get about, possesses all her faculties and is able to read and sew with or without spectacles. 38 09 02

Agents of the Beds., Cambs and Hunts. Electricity Company made a tour of the houses in High Street. Prickwillow to inquire into the number of possible consumers of a supply which it is proposed to pass through the village. There is a possibility of current being run from the aerodrome at West Row to a proposed RAF hospital in Ely. If sufficient users can be found in Prickwillow then there will be electric light and heat for the inhabitants. Inquiries were promising. 38 09 02ES

Ely Brewery workmen – photo. 38 09 02(3)ES

1938 09 05

Meldreth church was packed when Capt H.O.S. Ellis an 82-year-old barrister, was married to a lady 30 years his junior. The bride had planned a private wedding, but the parishioners altered all that. A continual dream came on foot, by cycle and even in bath-chairs until the whole of the path to the church was lined four or more deep. The ceremony over the couple faced a crowd armed with confetti, rice and cameras and some force had to be used to clear the way for the CDN photographer. They left by car for the Corner Café, Royston and their wedding feast. The groom has spent all his life in the village, is a councillor and was leader of the recent school strike. He first met his bride about six weeks ago. 38 09 05 & a

Mr & Mrs Albert Wenham were married at Castle Camps church in September 1888. He is a native of the village but his bride was born in Helions Bumpstead. They have a family of nine – three sons and six daughters - and 16 grandchildren. He recalled when they had eight children, not one old enough to be at work and his wages as a horse keeper were just fourteen shillings a week. Mrs Wenham then did her share by taking in sewing work for Messrs Gurteen's factory at Haverhill, following the example of a large number of women. 38 09 05a

Ex-Inspector Lazarus March collapsed while on his way to morning at St Paul's church. Born in 1854 at West Wrating, he came to Cambridge on joining the Borough Police Force in 1874. In April 1892 he was appointed detective-constable and, six years later, was promoted detective-sergeant. The in April 1920 he obtained the rank of inspector, retiring a few weeks later when he received a public presentation from many friends who appreciated his work. He had lived in Covent Garden for about 50 years. 38 09 05b

Mr M.C. (Jack Scudamore) served his apprenticeship with Mr J. Stranger, boat builder of Chesterton and, after serving in the Boer War, started business as a boat and launch builder in Mill Lane about 1903. He had considerable success in building motor boats and his craft won prizes for motor boat racing. When the Thames punt became the vogue he turned his attention to the building of this type of boat and was the pioneer of their use on the Backs and Granta. Since the popularity of the punt in Cambridge he has supplied them to users all over the country. 38 09 05c # c.26.3

1938 09 07

New police houses, garages and recreation room at Shire Hall – 38 09 07 # c.34.7

1938 09 09

Soham parish council to sell old fire engine – 38 09 09

1938 09 09 ES

Ely basket-making industry fading into oblivion. 38 09 09&(2)ES

Oliver Edward Scott, 82, was born into a family that has been making baskets for generations. The business was founded by his forefather in the time Oliver Cromwell. The factory is at Common Muckhill - or Willow Walk as they now call it. Although at one time he employed as many as 12 people there is now only one employee, Mr. W.E. Hall, who served seven years apprenticeship in the trade. The business is carried on only occasionally now because the foreigners have captured the trade. Belgium exports baskets into this country today in such quantities, that they can be bought as cheaply as the cost it takes to employ a man to make one. The trade is absolutely dead.

Mr Scott makes a few baskets. That is all. And only when he has a special order. In the shed a number were piled up which were for potato picking.

Mr Scott went to school until he was 15. He used to make baskets at night, and Saturdays. The willow with which the baskets are made is grown in the fen not far from the site they are made, hence the name Willow Walk. At one time he had 30 acres of land for growing the willows but today he has not nearly so much.

The sticks are cut from February up to the end of May, and they then have to go through the break in order that the skins will drop off. Afterwards they are dried and stored up ready for use. In the old buildings which are factory comprises are huge piles of wood. It seems incredible to think that half of this will ever be needed for making baskets. Some baskets cannot be made in under 18 days. Others can be finished in less than one. They have to go through several stages before they can be termed completed: the willows have to be cut and graded according to the type of basket needed.

Mr Scott is not the only person in Ely who takes part in the industry once flourishing but now on its last legs. But he claims to be the eldest. He supplies baskets to anyone wholesale or retail. He has never married, so that when he goes to the ancient firm of basket makers will go with him. If he could get rid of all his equipment he would never make another basket.

That is the story of one of the oldest industries in which the skilled craftsman is still superior to the machine but which unfortunately is fast dying out. 38 09 09&(2)ES

Concern is being felt in flying circles at the decision of Alex Henshaw, the Wisbech pilot and 236 miles-per-hour King's Cup winner to attack the England to Cape record in his tiny single seater Mew Gull. Accompanied by his father, the 24 year old pilot made a rehearsal flight over the route in March, and has been warned not to risk it in his small racing plane.

But he may make the attempt. Pilots and engineers have issued a warning, and it has been pointed out that a similar plane collapsed and crashed through fatigue a few hours from victory in the Johannesburg race 1934.

When Andrew landed his Mew Gull between laps in the King's Cup race his hand was trembling with vibration so much that he could not hold a cup of tea. His cabin roof was almost touching his head and in rough weather the tiny plane bounced and rocked in the air. In spite of all this, Alex insists on having a crack at the record next month. With petrol for 800 miles in his tanks he plans to reach the Cape with four stops, flying over the Sahara Desert, and down the West African coast.

38 09 09ES

Littleport Brickmakers, Portley Hill photo. 38 09 09(3)ES

Work on the new bridges at Sutton Gault proceed satisfactorily. The superstructure of the new bridge over the Old Bedford was sufficiently advanced for a local motorist, with the aid of a few planks, to gain the title of the first to drive over the bridge, and thus win a wager last week. 38 09 09(2)ES

1938 09 10

'Doctor Dido' novel by F.K. Lucas set in Cambridge & Babraham at time of Pitt – 38 09 10 # c.74

1938 09 13

Cambridge A.R.P. headquarters, GPO building – 38 09 13

An experimental stream-lined Diesel-driven light passenger unit, something new in rail transport, made its first trip on the Oxford and Cambridge route. The unit consists of three cars permanently coupled together with a driver's cab at each end of the train. Acceleration was much more rapid than a steam train and instead of the familiar 'chugging' there was a pleasant whirr. Soon it was travelling at 75 mph with unusual smoothness. It has loud-speaking communication between driver and guard and the seats are reversible, so passengers can face whichever way they please. 38 09 13a & b # c.26.2

1938 09 14

Condemned cottages at Duddenhoe End raise concerns of repetition of Clavering case – 38 09 14

The Cambridge Scientists' Anti-War Group, whose book 'The Protection of the Public from Aerial Attack' was criticised in the House of Commons, has been championed by Prof J.B.S. Haldane. He says they should carry out experiments into the effect of gas with the assistance of the Chemical Defence Research Department. They have also worked out a scheme for evacuating many of the population of Cambridge into surrounding villages 38 09 14a # c.45.6

Last days of Clayhithe toll – 38 09 14b

1938 09 15

Nearly a mile of Main Drove, Little Downham, may be metalled now the Ministry had approved a grant of 50% of the cost providing owners contribute one-third. The road would be 12 feet wide with passing places and link up with Short Drove, Pymore. If it were constructed in concrete it would shorten the work by five weeks. There is no provision in the budget but £1,400 had been provided for the proposed Isleham-Prickwillow road and there was no likelihood of this being built during the present year, Isle Councillors heard. 38 09 15

Residents of Hope Street, off Mill Road, should not be surprised if they see a goose and gander waddling down the road. Mr E.R. Smith has tamed them to accompany him for walks each morning and evening. "You can get a goose to follow you by enticing it with a piece of cabbage or lettuce", he says. The pets are not traffic shy and keep to the side of the road or go on the pavement. They wait outside while he goes shopping. He bought them when they were a fortnight old and is fattening them to adorn the table at Christmas. 38 09 15a

1938 09 16 ES

Ely Brays Lane bungalow erection: photo. 38 09 16ES

21,000 gas masks arrive. 38 09 16 ES

Stretham death Isaac Asplin, former postman & village crier. 38 09 16(2)ES

Ely Lynn Road new sports ground. 38 09 16ES *

1938 09 17

Lloyd's Bank, p10

It has been a momentous week. Those of us involved with the daily production of a newspaper have spent a harassing time. Some say that today we know too much of the happenings in the world and know it much too quickly. The tension became painfully apparent at the weekend when the world waited for Hitler's pronouncement. Was it to be war...? But then a bolt from the blue. 'The Premier is to fly to see Hitler tomorrow to endeavour to find a peaceful solution to the crisis'. Our fervent hope is that international chaos has been averted 38 09 17a # c.45.6

1938 09 19

Mr Chamberlain's mission – CDN readers' views – 38 09 19

1938 09 21

Arthur Chapman worked at Pembroke College for over 60 years, during the last 30 of which he was manager of the kitchen and buttery. During the war he was responsible for the feeding of hundreds of troops at Pembroke and was also in charge of a large field kitchen on the polo ground. He was held in great esteem by many generations of Pembroke men 38 09 21

Positively the best house property value in Cambridge is obtainable at Winston Road Estate, Cherry Hinton. Delightful houses, overlooking meadows, contain two reception rooms, three bedrooms, W.C., bath (h. & c.) and all latest labour-saving fittings. Main sewerage. Large garden. Near bus route. No road charges. Price £550 freehold (about £31,300 at today's prices) (Advert) 38 09 21a

Thornton estate, Huntingdon Road – finest house value in this district – 38 09 21b

In the event of air attack schools would be closed for a month as men would not be able to prevent their wives from going out to fetch their children. Many homes had no room in which to build shelters so two types had been constructed in Ditton Lane; one was open and about six-feet deep but there was nothing to prevent a corrugated iron roofing to be placed over the top. The other was covered and had seating. They afforded a greater degree of protection than cellars where there was a great danger of being buried by masonry, a meeting was told 38 09 21c. # c.45.6

1938 09 23 ES

Sugar Beet campaign, improved facilities; vehicles – adverts. 38 09 23&(2)ES

1938 09 26

Mayor's air raid shelter – pic – 38 09 26

The Mayor, E. Saville Peck, writes: "I realise that at this time we are all anxious about the present international crisis. I wish to assure the public that so far as practicable the necessary steps in regard to A.R.P. are being taken to provide protection against both gas and high explosive. Sufficient gas respirators are already in Cambridge and instructions will be issued as to where they can be obtained. First aid posts are being organised and equipped. Householders should consider making small trenches in their gardens for protection of their families in the case of emergency". 38 09 26a # c.45.6

Huntingdon is to establish a police reserve to replace constables called to the colours in the event of war. There will be a retaining fee of £1 to anyone joining with a bonus at the end of the year. Men would be entitled to boot allowance, refreshment and lodging allowances as other members of the force. When called up they would receive ten-pence a day pay. The age limit is 55. Three air raid sirens will be bought for use on the large police cars; they would be useful in the event of a power failure or in areas where there were no other air raid sirens 38 09 26b.

1938 09 27

Sketch for a garden ARP trench – 38 09 27

1938 09 28

Ladies lead the war – women with respirators picture – 38 09 28

Leys school dig ARP trenches – 38 09 28a

The Mayor's air raid shelter: trench in garden. 38 09 28 [circa]

With the delivery of 20,000 gas masks from the Home Office – part of a consignment of 70,000 for the Isle – the Ely depot has been the scene of tremendous activity. Wardens, special constables and members of the public have been assembling them ready for distribution. A census of rooms available in houses will be taken to accommodate people who may be evacuated from London. Territorials have been filling bags with sand at the Barracks ground. They will be used to protect the Drill Hall, which is being made gas-proof 38 09 28b

1938 09 29

Newspaper heading reflect crisis – 38 09 29

Cambridge colleges have sent out notices to undergraduates ordering them not to come into residence until further instruction. However examinations will take place as usual and candidates will be allowed to come up for them. Meanwhile preparations continue for the reception of 10-11,000 London children it is planned to evacuate. Church halls and schools will be suitable for temporary accommodation. Women helpers, blankets and rugs are still needed 38 09 29a # c.45.6 # c.36.9

Calmly and without fuss, Cambridge people have started to collect their gas masks in readiness for 'come what may'. A steady stream of callers arrived at all distribution centres. Schoolmistress and volunteers showed each caller the simple method of fitting the masks on. Tragic was the contrast at Milton Road School where during playtime small children shouted 'We want peace' while adults waited outside to be fitted with their masks. It drove home Mr Chamberlain's words "How horrible that we should be digging trenches and trying on gas masks because of a quarrel in a far-away country between people of whom we know nothing" 38 09 29aa # c.45.6

Air-raid trench in garden, Coleridge Road – 38 09 29aaa

Newmarket trainers say no useful steps could be taken for the protection of bloodstock in the event of a national emergency – 38 09 29b

Cambridge prepares for influx of evacuees; sandbags piled outside East Road drill hall 38 09 29bb # c.45.6

International newspaper headlines – pics – 38 09 29c

1938 09 30

Anti-aircraft gun manned by Territorials – pic 38 09 30

Pye dig trenches Old Chesterton Recreation ground – pic – 38 09 30b

1938 09 30 ES

War clouds lift: Chamberlain meets Hitler. 38 09 30ES

Witchford proposed speedway. 38 09 30ES

Precautionary measures throughout Isle, gas masks assembled, plans for billeting refugees; how county would react in event of war. 38 09 30(2)(3)(4)(5)ES

October 1938 CDN & Ely Standard

1938 10 01

The Mayor said he'd received a telegram that plans to evacuate London children had been cancelled. Later he got another saying they were on their way. They arrived in three motor coaches, the children's ages ranging from six weeks to four years. Accommodation was found at Homerton and Newnham College. Their mothers left the children, aged from six weeks to four years, to the tender mercies of students and returned to London. Today the babies have rejoined their mothers, which is a very happy solution. 38 10 01 # c.45.6

1938 10 05

Martin's bank opens new branch on Market Hill – 38 10 05 # c.32.8

At Ely, 16,600 respirators were assembled at Woolworth's but there was a shortage of smaller ones and none at all for infants. The W.I. and Mothers' Union made plans for evacuating 500 children under five, they would be placed in Ely Badminton and W.I Halls and Littleport Constitutional Hall. Tradesmen report a brisk trade for black-out material and corrugated iron for dug outs. The drill hall is practically encased with sandbags and a pit for the anti-aircraft guns prepared in the parade ground. In event of an air raid the Ely Jam Factory siren will be sounded 38 10 05aa

ARP precautions in South Cambs in state of chaos, digging trenches – 38 10 05b & c

1938 10 06

Cambridge aerodrome has been in use for some months but the building operations have only recently been completely finished. The immense aeroplane hanger already houses over 20 machines and has room for more. The engine overhaul and repair shops are every well equipped and all the parachutes are stored, packed and aired. The airport hotel has lounge bar, dining rooms and kitchen with guest rooms on the second floor. I have seen a lot of aerodromes but this takes a lot of beating for its well planned layout 38 10 06 # c.26.1

Martin's bank advert – 38 10 06a # c.32.8

1938 10 07

William Coad of Cavendish Avenue has come up with an answer to the need for underground A.R.P. shelters. His scheme is to construct a sub-way car park underneath Cambridge Market Square with inlet and outlet ramps, which, in the event of an emergency, could be converted into an effective shelter accommodating several thousand people. A nominal car-parking fee would eventually pay for the initial outlay and alleviate the need for suitable garaging for business men coming into the town. 38 10 07 # c.44.6 # c.45.6

The new drill hall for Newmarket is a spacious well-equipped building and includes an armoury, rifle range, officers' rooms and canteen. 38 10 07a

Cambridge airfield was opened by Secretary of State for Air. There was no airport in Europe, with the possible exception of Berlin, which is so conveniently placed in relation to the town. D.G. Marshall recalled that in 1919 he purchased his first hangar from the Disposal Board and bought his first aeroplane. Some of his neighbours had told them to take their business elsewhere and now they had moved further out. The Flying School has been run in full understanding of University regulations; in most aerodromes the most profit-making department is the club bar, but there is not one here. 38 10 07b & c # c.26.1

H.M. Inspector of Police had urged the creation of a detective department so that up-to-date methods could be used in the investigation of crime. But this would involve an increase in the establishment and is not justified at present. The two officers who have received training in detective work will be stationed in the least-busy sub-sections and be ready to help if their skills were needed. Other officers could also be trained, the Police Committee decided. 38 10 07d # c.34.7

1938 10 07 ES

Air raid precautions brought into operation. 38 10 07ES

Gale recalls great tornado of 1895 – Abraham Ward poem. 38 10 07&(2)ES

The windstorm that swept the district this weekend proved a great source of worry to fruit growers; pears and apples ready to be picked have been ruthlessly blown off trees and badly bruised.

Thinking of this gale, it is interesting to record the great tornado which swept the whole country on March 24th 1895. At Ely it was unsafe to walk in the streets with tiles and branches of trees blown down in every direction. Whole rooftops were blown off with the roof of the Temperance Hotel, which stood on the site of Lloyds Bank, blown right across the street onto the Post Office premises that have since been replaced by the Prudential Assurance Company's buildings

The storm inspired Abraham Ward, "The West Norfolk Poet" to record the incident in verse:

It was on a Sunday afternoon, The 24th of March, A dreadful gale didn't prevail Whilst going to the church. House tops and chimney pots Did fall on every hand And some did say they thought that day The world was at an end.

Slates and tiles were flying then Like birds up in the air. Doors and windows were dashed in That awful fate did share. Large halls noble mansions And fine chimneys then did fall. That dreadful sight some did afright - For mercy they did call.

The poem continued, much the same way for several verses. 38 10 07ES

Soham A.R.P. 38 10 07(3)ES

Ely photographer W. Trevers marries. 38 10 07(4)ES

1938 10 08

At long last a start is to be made on the construction of a railway bridge on Milton Road in place of the present level crossing. Ministry of Transport approve has finally come through and work is expected to take 18 months. The crossing is frequently closed to road traffic and the adjacent subway, which has not sufficient head-room for larger vehicles, is narrow with steep gradients. Now there will be a bridge 44ft wide with a 30 ft carriageway and two footpaths. In 1935 2,000 motor vehicles and 1,000 pedal cycles used the road each day 38 10 08 # c.26.2

When Cambridge airfield was opened D.G. Marshall recalled that in 1919 he purchased his first hangar from the Disposal Board and bought his first aeroplane. Some of his neighbours had told them to take their business elsewhere and now they had moved further out. The Flying School has been run in full understanding of University regulations; in most aerodromes the most profit-making department is the club bar, but there is not one here. 38 10 08

What to do with gas mask now crisis over – Ronald Searle cartoon - 38 10 08a # c.45.6

1938 10 10

Coldham's Lane new street proposed – 38 10 10

One of the biggest attractions at the air display that followed the official opening of Marshalls Aerodrome was the first public appearance of some of the R.A.F.'s new Spitfire fighters. Three of these machines were demonstrated and flew in formation. Other items come first, but it was obvious to everyone was waiting to see the Spitfire. And the show that the Squadron Leader and his colleagues put up in them was worth watching. The display had been opened by a flight of three Hawker Harts which carried out practice routine formation flying. The Cierva Autogiro Company's chief test pilot amused the crowd when he demonstrated an autogiro. He hovered over them disconcertingly and then caused the machine to shoot off suddenly. He also demonstrated the autogiro's amazing taking off and landing capabilities.

Captain Percival, the famous aircraft designer, demonstrated the Percival Mew Gull racing monoplane which has a top speed of 195 miles per hour. A gliding demonstration was also given. – 38 10 10a, b # c.26.1

Silver Street Bridge widening recommended in report – 38 10 10c # c.44.7

1938 10 11

Anti-aircraft battalion placed searchlights around Cambridge – thanks – 38 10 11a # c.45.6

Soham Grammar School reorganisation – 38 10 11b, 12

1938 10 13

A.R.P. needs in Cambridge debate – 38 10 13, a # c.45.6

1938 10 14 ES

Stretham Nursing Association meeting. 38 10 14ES

Soham Literary and Social Institute difficulties. 38 10 14ES

1938 10 15

Marshall's spacious new motor premises on Jesus Lane include an entrance and exit to the petrol and oil filling stations, wide enough for three lines of traffic. There are showrooms on three upper floors which are approached by ramps, with the stores department in the basement. The garage and workshops behind is equipped with the most modern and up-to-date machinery and run by a large and efficient staff. The whole is laid out to afford every luxury and comfort for the motorist 38 10 15, b # c.26.48

New Cambridge aerodrome opened – 38 10 15a # c.26.1

John Cornford memoir – killed in Spanish Civil War – 38 10 15aa

Indoor swimming pool possible – cartoon by Searle – 38 10 15bb # c.38 : swimming

Cambridge Electricity advertisement – 38 10 15cc

Saffron Walden to oppose A.R.P. centralisation – 38 10 15d, e

1938 10 17

Cambridgeshire Regiment to be raised to war establishment but First Eastern General Hospital will not remain and recruiting will cease – 38 10 17 & a # c.45.6

Downing College rebuilt boat house opened – 38 10 17b # c.38 : rowing

Newmarket Amateur Operatic Society – 38 10 17b

1938 10 18

Petersfield playground objections – 38 10 18

1938 10 19

Festival Theatre to reopen under direction Neville Towne with his own Repertory Company – 38 10 19 # c.76

Two RAF Wellesley bombers collide over Gt Dunmow – 38 10 19a # c.26.1

The tenant of Alderbooke Farm claimed damages from Cawdle Fen Commissioners over flooding. Their pumps were insufficient and inefficient, their lock gates were excessively leaky and their dyke walls were not high enough. The judge agreed. The Commissioners had a duty to inspect, maintain and care for all their drains and drainage works and keep them in good condition. They did not have a sufficiently powerful pump nor spend enough on rebuilding banks. But the Act merely authorised them to do the work, it did not direct them to do so. The claim was dismissed 38 10 19b # c.29

1938 10 21

A.R. Nichols and Son, butchers on the corner of Petty Cury and Guildhall Street notify customers that owing to building reconstruction in Petty Cury they are temporarily carrying on their business at their East Road shop and also at a stall on Market Hill 38 10 21

Waterbeach fire, thatched barn at The Gables – 38 10 21a

1938 10 21 ES

When Cherry Hill was a castle: lecture. 38 10 21ES

Colonel G.L. Archer spoke on the history of Ely castle on Cherry Hill

The earthworks were one of many to be found in all parts of the country. It consisted essentially of a mound, or Motte, surrounded by a ditch, with a more extensive semi-circular work beyond, the bailey, for the accommodation of a garrison, depended for their military usefulness on the ditch, with steeply sloping sides, the edge of the ditch being surmounted by some sort of stockade.

In the case of Ely castle there does not appear ever to have been any superstructure of stone or wood. Taking Cherry Hill as the 'motte' the limits of bailey roughly coincided with the present limits of the park on that side towards Broad Street, 'The Close' and Needham's School.

Records relating to the history of the castle are tantalisingly scanty. Most of the earthworks arose the turbulent time of King Steven. On the death of King Henry the country lapsed into anarchy and the struggle between Steven and Matilda ensued. Stephen attacked and took a Ely, expelling Bishop Nigel who pled to Matilda for protection. After the capture of Stephen at Lincoln, Nigel returned to Ely and recovered possession of his castle. During the Bishops absence in Rome, in 1144, Ely castle was held for him against the King, by Geoffrey de Mandeville who was later killed at Burwell castle.

The Isle of Ely suffered sieges and attacks in the reigns of John and Henry III. In 1216, during the war between the Kings and Barons, the Barons took possession of the island, excepting only Ely castle whither the King's friends had retreated. Eventually Edward I, when Prince of Wales, attacked and defeated the barons, and there was no doubt, at the time that the defences of Ely were destroyed.

An interesting discussion followed from which emerged some points of antiquarian interest. The Castle was connected with the Castle Hithe, (the present gasworks green) and Castlebridge, or Stonebridge was built over the Caldwell, (Cawdle) ditch, which ran through Auntres dale (Annesdale) to the river, roughly where the Angel Inn now stands.

There does not appear to be any historical support for the traditional that William the Conqueror built a castle here after he had broken through Hereward the Wake's defences, but the discussion most concerned itself with the possibility that there may have been, after all, a stone built castle on the site. Mr. Jeffrey Smith remembered his father recalled some human bones being removed from the old Holy Trinity churchyard to Cherry Hill for reburial. 38 10 21ES *

Cawdle Fen flood case fails. 38 10 21(2)ES

Stretham Baptist Chapel opening. 38 10 21(3)(4)(5)ES

Stretham new Baptist Chapel has been erected on the site of an old building, which had fallen into a state of disrepair, making it difficult to maintain. The building is an excellent example of sound, modern craftsmanship. The exterior, in a subdued colour of brick with stone dressing, is notable for the imposing stone entrance porch with a tall, elegant window above it and a steeply-pitched gable, with its bold stone finial. The interior is lofty and a special feature has been made of the timber roof trusses. The pulpit and choir seating is pleasantly set in a recessed platform. The new chapel will seat 100 persons, at the back is a schoolroom and small vestry.

Situated in a prominent position in the porch is a tablet acknowledging the generosity of Miss Sarah, Wright who had generously given the major part of the sum necessary. Miss Marion Hazel had raised money by selling photographs of the new building, she had taken herself.

The chapel was crowded to overflowing with the service relayed to a marquee.

Ely railwayman W.A. Bailey retires. 38 10 21(6)ES

1938 10 22

The publication of the first volume of Victoria County History of Cambridgeshire is welcome. It covers geology, botany, zoology and the Domesday Book. Four more volumes will appear at annual intervals. There is one drawback – the price; at three guineas a volume it is very unlikely you can afford to buy it. But you can impress your public library that there should be copies for loan. But if you can afford it, buy it, for it will be a joy for ever. 38 10 22 & a Racing pigeon registered 1920 found in chimney of house in Castle Row – 38 10 22b

1938 10 24

A sixteen-year-old boy was injured by an explosion in a shed 'laboratory' in his garden at 132 Ramsden Square. Neighbour C.F. Brown said "There was a terrific bang like the explosion of an eighteen-pounder shell. Seeing that the shed had been wrecked I jumped over the fence and looked for the lad among the ruins. Then I heard his mother scream. He had been blown through the door of the shed and managed to stumble into the house". Only the frame of the hut remained, the sides and roof was blown away, some being flung 20 yards. Flames and smoke shot 40 feet into the air. The lad had been making fireworks. 38 10 24

1938 10 25

For over ten years the road fork near Trumpington A.A. box has been free from serious accident. But after the introduction of a system of experimental traffic islands there was a collision between a lorry and a van. Another slight accident also occurred earlier. 38 10 25

Ely Council discussed air raid precautions and thanked the 140 volunteers who assembled the respirators, working till three in the morning without a break. However there were difficulties: "Whatever we try to do at Ely, the big bugs at March put the damper on it", Col Archer said. They were going to test the air raid siren that had been fixed to the roof of the police station. The siren had been tested at March and was not thought satisfactory, so it had been passed on to Ely. But if it was not good enough for March, it was not good enough for them. 38 10 25a

Ely Field Club asked the council to restore ancient names to certain streets, such as Castle Hithe to the part now known as Railway Terrace, Smock Mill Lane to the lower part of Barton Road and Walpole Lane to Silver Street. Perhaps a double name plate could be erected with the old name underneath the present one. The old names sounded very well but there would be difficulties with the post. People would not like West Fen Road to be called Cow Lane and where is Bugs Alley? 38 10 25b

1938 10 27

Park Street was a very congested area in the heart of Cambridge and the houses were upwards of 100 years old. The brickwork was weather worn and crumbled, the walls were damp, natural light was poor and the staircases narrow, winding and dark. The ceiling plaster was cracked and liable to collapse and the floor boards were weak, springy and worm-eaten. In some cases there was no copper or sink and no proper food store. Some had no water supply. They were unfit for human occupation and should be demolished, an Inquiry was told. But residents objected 38 10 27 & a also Saxon Street # c.23

1938 10 28

The Cambridge & County Girls School started in 1900 in the Drill Hall, East Road, then known as the Technical Institute. By 1903 they overflowed into rooms belonging to the Zion Chapel Sunday School and it was not until 1909 that they moved to the present buildings, retiring headmistress, Miss Dovey said. But in August 1914, when war broke out, the school was taken possession of by the Welsh Fusiliers and other regiments. For a year the school was housed in Emmanuel College lecture rooms and St Andrew's Street Sunday School. Soon they would move to new premises in Long Road 38 10 28 & a # c.36.5

1938 10 28 ES

Making fens safe: probably large scheme outlines. 38 10 28&(2)ES

Littleport and Downham Drainage Commissioners discuss a scheme for making the fens safe from flooding. The Engineer said that owing to the fine summer they have been able to rode a large number of the line dikes and the remainder will be completed when the drains have been done. The dredger had completed the Witcham Fen Frain as far as Wardy Hill – Witcham Gravel Bridge and from there to the Gravel has been done by hand. It was decided a new dredger should be purchased at a cost of £1.125. A tremendous amount of water drained through Denver Sluice and the river to the sea was not big enough. By cutting another river they should have two rivers to take the water to the sea in the flood time which would probably mean a decrease in the level of the rivers of about three feet, which would make a very great difference to the safety of the district. Where necessary bridges have been tarred and painted. The bridge over the chain drain leading to Mr. Bedford's farm had been replaced by a concrete structure. Guard rails have been placed on the white bridge carrying the Ely-Littleport Road at Chettisham. These concrete posts are made at the Hundred Feet Engine. The Ministry of Agriculture had written complaining of slackness of doing work at Littleport and on the Hundred Foot River. Since then, the Catchment Board had put forward a £1.4m scheme which would be started soon. This included work on the Hundred Foot Bank. This was the most dangerous spot of the whole district. The Engineer had been down to Horsey and seen the devastation that had been brought about by the salt-water flooding there. If they got any salt water through the Hundred Foot it would do a tremendous amount of damage. It was the key position of the whole of the fen. If it were not made strong they would be in a hole. They had a narrow squeak in February this year. The Engineer had stated that if the water was held up against the banks at any time of time during the coming winter he could not say what the result might be. 38 10 18(2)ES

Stuntney's new and modern village hall, 38 10 28(3)ES

Stuntney village hall was erected through the generosity of Mr. O. S. Ambrose and Dr. William Ambrose as a memorial to their father, in place of the one that was burnt down a few years ago. Above the main entrance is a stone bearing the inscription "In memory of Cole Ambrose". The Institute, as it is called, is being run by a committee of men and women in the village. It is hoped centre enter the village life around the new hall, but it will be used mainly as a meeting place for the young men of the village. The hall is fitted with every modern convenience and there is a partition enabling it to be divided into two parts if needed. 38 10 28(3)ES

Ely air raid sirens, anti-gas bombs exploded. 38 10 28(4)ES

An air raid siren which was originally intended for March – but not thought satisfactory - has been fitted on the Shire Hall at Ely.

Councillors would have the opportunity of hearing it themselves at a test. The climatic conditions were ideal, it being a calm night.

At the time the siren was sounded observers at the Railway Station and on Cambridge Road failed to hear it. Numerous residents who were asked if they had heard the siren were quite unaware that it had been sounded. The Clerk to the Council who lives in Victoria Street said he could not hear it although he was paying special attention. Neither was it heard in the King's School. Bu naturally in the immediate vicinity and Market Street it could be heard quite distinctly.

It is obvious that the siren fails the purpose for which it is required. Councillor Vail said, "If it is not good enough for March, it is not good enough for Ely". 38 10 28(4)ES

Bombs Exploded at Ely

The novel sight of bombs being exploding in a field at Downham Road, Ely on a Sunday morning attracted a large crowd of 150 people. The demonstration was arranged for the benefit of students of an Air Raid Precautions courses wishing to qualify as Local Anti-Gas Instructors. The demonstration commenced when a high explosive bomb was blown. After the explosion the crater was examined and prodded with a stick by Dr. Maurice-Smith. Gas plainly visible to the spectators, then seem to arise. The lesson was that the crater should never be interfered with as gas will lie harmlessly buried by debris for some time until disturbed. If left the gas will gradually disperse into the earth. A persistent bomb was then blown, the result of which was that the detection boards (boards painted with special detector paint) were splashed with brown liquid and turned red. The object of the demonstration was to show that the heaviest degree of contamination would lay downwind and therefore they would know where to look for the contaminated area. Perhaps the most interesting demonstration was the igniting of an incendiary bomb. After allowing the bottom to burn for a short time water was poured on it causing the flames and heat to increase. A small explosion also occurred blowing large pieces of molten metal in all direction. The burning bomb was then dealt with by Inspector Hill who covered with dry soil. He then placed the controlled bomb in a bucket using a rake and scoop. The conclusion was 'Never put water on a blazing incendiary bomb'. It should be smothered with sand so that it can be removed from the premises and any resulting fire in the building put out with water 38 10 28(4)ES

Ely Brewery workers old photo. 38 10 28(5)ES

Agricultural Matters

There has been a steady but not very marked rise in the sugar content of beet and yield is still very much on the light side

The sharpest frost so far experienced came with thick fog on Monday night. There are still a good many acres of potatoes to be lifted and the fog is likely to still further increase the rapid spread of blight which is already taking toll of a big percentage of the Edward crop. Trade for potatoes is slow and prices are certainly not sufficiently good for the crop, especially taking into consideration the losses that must result from a blight.

The weather conditions have not been too favourable for wheat drilling but a fair amount has been put in during the week. Under modern farming methods the present is one of the busiest seasons of the year on most fen farms with beet lifting, getting the wheat in and harvesting the tail end of the potato crop.

Eggs are scarce and getting scarcer and prices as a result are high. This is expected to continue for a week or two after which there is a temporary fall with a further increase when the Christmas demand begins. Poultry have been making useful prices in the markets but pigs have on the whole shown a downward tendency.

The big falling off in the average of soft fruit, including gooseberries, is an indication that this branch of the industry has not given satisfactory returns for a good many years. In this part of the country, the reduction in acreage is pronounced. Gooseberries, which a few years ago were looked on as a safe crop, are very much out of favour and a big acreage of bushes is likely to be uprooted again this season. The expenses of growing these crops is continually mounting while the returns are on the whole down. Though there may be happened to be an exceptionally good season as was the case in 1937 with strawberries, the losses on this crop in 1938 more than taken away the profits of the season. The one crop amongst bush fruits which gives a steady return is that of red currants. Although prices are never high, they do not vary to the extent they do with other fruits. Birds are sometimes troublesome but there are few fruits which do not suffer from the attention of these 38 10 28 ES

1938 10 29

Briscoe Snelson lecture on River Ouse

Fireworks, jeers, cheers and shouts punctuated a meeting organised by the University Socialist Club addressed by Major Atlee, the Leader of the Opposition, in the Corn Exchange. The noise died down when he began to speak but there were frequent interruptions caused by exploding fireworks. All police leave was cancelled because of the meeting and a visit by Sir Oswald Mosley to the C.U. Fascist Association dinner in the Dorothy Café. But rowdyism was principally of the vocal kind. 38 10 29a # c.33

The West End comes to Cambridge. Paris House, the beautiful new fashion rendezvous in Sussex Street caters specifically for the High Class trade. The Inner Court, richly executed in Indian Padouk and Australian Walnut, displays the most lovely garments, becoming the rendezvous for ladies of taste. To Car Users – our Commissionaire will attend to your car with pleasure while you are in our salon – Advert 38 10 29b

1938 10 30 CDN

Cambridge firm's lead: trenches at Pyes 112.06

1938 10 31

Detailed statement of County Air Raid Precautions shows 30 tons of gas masks had been transported to Shire Hall where they were assembled by clerical staff and outside helpers. But they were still over 5,000 respirators short and telegrams had been sent to the Home Office. Parish Councils will establish a first-aid point in each centre of population but there will be no public shelters as it was safer for people to disperse rather than congregate. They would provide services to meet needs of casualties caused by the chance dropping of bombs 38 10 31a

November 1938 CDN & Ely Standard

1938 11 01

Parish councils to be asked for a list of parochial documents under their control; they should be stored in a museum. But they were very loathe to part with them. 38 11 01

Mid-air plane collision near Dunmow – 38 11 01a, b

1938 11 02

Captain Taylor, Managing Director of the CDN, spoke of the many features of newspaper working which are creating financial difficulties. They are paying a very high price for paper and metal prices had risen due to the re-armament programme. With new complicated modern printing machinery they needed much more skilled operators. But a man in one union would not do the work of a man in another one. Unions had done a great deal of good but must not be virtual dictators of the industry. There was no cure to the evils they were suffering and he hoped no diminution in the supply of their life blood, sales and advertising. 38 11 02, a

A Wilburton gypsy was killed when his car overturned at Hillrow – 38 11 02b

1938 11 04

Ely RDC considered replacing pail closets in Council Houses with water closets and suitable catchpits. But this would cost £4,000. Mr Darby said it needed serious consideration. He thought they had made a mistake in not putting in the flush system when the houses were built. For the time being those houses with pail closets should remain and they put the new system in new houses. Others said it was not fair that some should have the flush system and others not

A number of Parish Councils had indicated the number of additional houses required. In order to judge the need the Housing Committee requested that an application form be sent to each person said to require a house whose name appeared on the current list of applicants.

“I think we have gone mad. We pass all expenditures without a single comment. We must go more careful”, one councillor warned.– 38 11 04 & a

1938 11 05

“The Gobblecock Mystery” by Lois Austen-Leigh tells of attempts by foreign spies to secure details of an experiment on the Suffolk coast to save the country from successful air attack. Scotland Yard suspects Cambridge is being used as a base by men working with “Mr X”. It involves a Cambridge Professor of Cryogenic Crystallography, a weird old boy who is too much for the Suffolk police, and the murder of an undergraduate who went to do a bit of sleuthing. It’s a good yarn on a subject that is very topical. 38 11 05

1938 11 07

George Buck was head St Andrew’s School, Chesterton, parish clerk and captain Boys Brigade 38 11 07

1938 11 11

Undergraduates invaded the streets, skilfully extracting all the spare coppers with various ingenious stunts. In white sweaters and kilts of many clans the University Pipe Band paraded to Market Square for a display of Highland dancing, then toured public houses. The ‘Peace Group’ were perched on a cart disguised as a camouflaged tank decorated with “Atlee’s pants” – which appeared to be pale pink in colour. Standing on the tank were two dictatorial-looking figures in uniform. Amongst the individual performers was a man on a pair of stilts made from sculls while barrel-organ players were dressed as ghosts 38 11 11.

Poppy Day revels: mud wrestling and ‘Hitler’ and ‘Chamberlain’ on float. 38 11 11a 112.76

1938 11 11 ES

Witchford Social Club opened. 38 11 11ES

Sugar Beet the salvation of agriculture. 38 11 11(3)ES

1938 11 12

Mrs F.A. Keynes has rendered magnificent service to Cambridge council; her election for Fitzwilliam Ward in 1914 followed the passing of the County and Borough Councils Qualification Bill.

Previously a married woman, although otherwise qualified, could not be a councillor, whereas an unmarried woman could be. Mrs Keynes was largely instrumental in persuading the Government to alter this state of affairs and it was fitting that she should be among the first women in the country to be elected. She was elected first woman alderman of Cambridge in 1931. 38 11 12 # c.35.7 #

WOMEN

Robert Clark, the Royston photographer, literally takes a camera to be with him so he can dash out after pictures of accidents at Royston cross, near his home. He has photographed 60 smashes at the spot during the past two years. 38 11 12a

1938 11 14

Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain at Gt St Mary's – 38 11 14*a 112.75

1938 11 16

Newnham improvement, p1

1938 11 17

The President of the Cambridge Union Society is amongst signatories of a letter to the German Ambassador in London protesting strongly against the barbarous violence and cruel legislation inflicted without mercy or justification on the Jews of Germany. "We record our horror and revulsion at these acts of collective punishment, deprivation and arbitrary arrest and are appalled at the terrible suffering imposed on thousands of men, women and children for no other reason than their race", it reads. The University branch of the League of Nations also passed a resolution in protest 38 11 17 # c.45.6

1938 11 18

Messrs W.A. Bull commenced business in Burleigh Street over 30 years ago – Advertisers – 38 11 18

Cambridge auxiliary firemen in action – photo – 38 11 18a

1938 11 18 ES

Stretham:

Methodist anniversary

WG

Lantern lecture

Accident Wilburton Road, crashed into coronations eat and wooden fence

Wedding Oliver Murfitt & Charles Acred, photo. 38 11 18ES

Stretham Golden Wedding, James Baxter: photo. 38 11 18(2)ES

Mr. And Mrs. James Baxter of Stretham celebrated their Golden Wedding which took place at Stretham church on November 13 1888.

Although Mr. Baxter will shortly be 75 and Mrs. Baxter is 70 they are full of good spirits, a sure indication of the happiness of their marriage. Since then, they have lived in the village and for the past 39 years they have occupied their present house in Top Street.

Mr Baxter's parents were both bred and born in Stretham as he himself was, and his wife is a native of Guilden Morden

Of their seven children two boys were killed in the Great War leaving them with one son, and one of their four daughters has also passed on. Two of their daughters live in London, while the other daughter and son live at home. They have no grandchildren.

Though he has been unable to work for the past five years owing to leg trouble, Mr. Baxter and his wife both know the meaning of hard work. In the first five years of their marriage, when they had five children, Mr Baxter worked as a farm labourer, the family's total income being only 10 shillings a week! It was a bit of a struggle. Things were better when he started work with the County Council, whose employee he remained until five years ago.

Their chief trouble in the old days was obtaining sufficient quantities of the right sort of food. Bread however, was much cheaper whilst homemade butter and fresh milk were more plentiful.

Mr. Baxter recalls the time when motorcars were unknown, and the old penny-farthing bicycle was a popular mode of transport.

On Sunday, all their living children met together to offer them many congratulations. 38 11 18(2)ES

Mr & Mrs. George Bailey of Qua Fen Common, Soham, together with members of their family, were rendered homeless when their cottage and a good deal of household goods were destroyed by fire. The outbreak appears to have been caused from a defect at the back of the living room stove, from which the flames quickly developed and caught the inflammable structure of the cottage. In spite of the creditable efforts of the Soham Fire Brigade considerable damage was caused to the property and contents 38 11 18ES

A lengthy discussion took place on the subject of the Soham sewerage scheme. The scheme would involve on the present estimate of £37,000 and the Cambridgeshire County Council and Ely Rural District Council had agreed to make a grant towards it. But it would mean an extra Parish rate.

Although sewage would be very nice, it would be a burden on the ratepayers of Soham for the next generation. The price would quite likely increase to £45,000 before the thing ended as big schemes always cost more than the estimate. 38 11 18(2)ES

1938 11 19

Visitors chase round the colleges in a couple of hours leave without having spent even a penny on a bun or twopence on a cup of tea – or twopence on a bun and fourpence on a cup of tea as it is in Cambridge. Something must be done to make the town more attractive so they will want to stay two weeks. So many colossal companies with huge capital have come into Cambridge, purchased the finest sites and are trading at cut prices to the detriment of the private trader. But there will always been room for people with enterprise and personality, Commercial Travellers were told. 38 11 19

1938 11 20

Julian Bell killed fighting in Spain, biography published – 38 11 20 # c.45.6

1938 11 22

The Theatre Cinema reopened after a closure of over nine months with a performance of 'The Mikado' by Cambridge Amateur Operatic Society. They had found the building in a poor and dirty condition and put in much work to recondition it. Now it was crowded with a delighted throng; it was itself again. That pre-overture buzz of conversation created a delightful feeling of mild excitement. At the final curtain everyone was thoroughly happy 38 11 22 # c.76

1938 11 23

The Isle Ely police reserve will replace constables who, as Reservist, would be called up in the event of war. They would be paid ten shillings a day with a bonus at the end of the year. Boot, refreshment, subsistence and lodging allowances would be granted. They would be responsible for the safe custody and maintenance of any uniform issued, a report says – 38 11 23a

Ely new water tower work starts; new hospital will need 30,000 gallons of water a day
– 38 11 23b

1938 11 24

During the recent gale the roof of St Barnabas' Institute was damaged, bricks blown from a chimney stack at Hawkins' shop on the corner of Gold Street and a chimney pot lifted clean off a house in Sturton Street. Extensive damage was also caused to two shops at Green End Road. Haystacks, especially those unthatched, suffered badly and a furniture lorry was blown over near the Swavesey turning when the gale was at its height. 38 11 24a

1938 11 25 ES

Many a strawstack was the smaller and many a rooftop in Sutton carried fewer slates or tiles as the result of Wednesday's terrific winds. Hoardings were wrecked, gaps blown in boarded fences, a chicken house or two were dismantled and strewn over a wide area. In Church Lane the road was closed to traffic for a time by a tree that crashed, carrying with it telephone wires and cable. In the course of sawing up the tree for removal, a man was struck in the face by a cable as it was released. 38 11 25ES

1938 11 26

Collins' Agency, High-Class Registry for Servants at 55 Regent Street has been established in Cambridge for over 28 years and now has offices in Bridge Street, at Peterborough and Chelmsford. The extent of the business is shown by the fact that in 1937 more than 1,500 ladies were suited with maids in spite of the great dearth of servants. Collins' Agency advertisements regularly appear in Cambridge newspapers 38 11 26 # c.28 # c.32.1 # WOMEN

There was a mistaken idea that to send a girl to Ely High School was a heavy expense to parents. The school fees were only £10 a year and included books and stationery. There were scholarships offering total remission of fees and travelling expenses, headmistress Miss B. Tilley said. Education is extraordinary cheap and attended by splendid opportunities which no girl should be allowed to miss. Ivy Steadman had obtained honours at Southampton University College while Hilda Ames and Beatrice Rushbrook have completed their training as teachers. 38 11 26a,

1938 11 28

A pacifist convention held in Labour Hall, Norfolk Street under the chairmanship of Dr Alex Wood called for every citizen to renounce all participation in and preparation for war. It was a crime against humanity and a sin against God. You cannot destroy German militarism through killing German soldiers. The colossal expenditure on death should be stopped and our country should take the lead by disarming 38 11 28 & a

1938 11 29

Mayfair, Cambridge's new fashion specialist opened its salon at 75 Regent Street, transforming an empty shop into a revelation of smartness and beauty. Mannequins displayed a collection of the loveliest prevailing fashions comprising a galaxy of dresses grave and gay, day and evening gowns, tailored suits and winter coats. They will supply only exclusive models with special attention to smart styles for the fuller figure. 38 11 29

Eaden Lilley's 'Toyland' department has toys of all kinds, sizes and prices and for sixpence the young visitor can pay a trip in the Flying Comet to the Land of the Midnight Sun and (perhaps more important) Father Christmas. There is a range of Meccano and Hornby products together with the Mickey Mouse Circus Train. Dinky toys, marionettes worked by hand and outfits to transform the wearer into a bus conductor or soldier are obtainable from a shilling upwards. Games including the still popular 'Monopoly', its successor 'Totopoly' and home cinemas are a strong feature 38 11 29a

Gift ideas. New fashion gloves in rich suede, fine glaze kidskin, pigskins, calfskin ... all beautifully styled. Classic shortie, gauntlet, costume types – George Stace, Petty Cury. British made sewing machines and stainless bread knives – A. Macintosh, Market Place. Private Christmas cards; sample book sent to your home for inspection. Autograph cards from 6d per box – Harry Johnson & Nephew, St Andrew's Street. The popular G.E.C. electric cleaner will be welcomed because its period of service extends far beyond the festive season; £8.15.0 cash or 8/6 a month – Allin's, Sidney Street.– Adverts 38 11 29a

In 1903 was a small cycle shop. Today it is a handsome building comprising car showrooms, up-to-date workshops, radio and cycle showrooms and efficient service department. Such is the remarkable history of Messrs Herbert Robinson whose modern premises are one of the features of Cambridge.

Herbert Robinson senior, the present Managing Director, was the founder of the firm and other members of his family are directors 33 11 29b

December 1938 CDN & Ely Standard

1938 12 01

Fire brigade, p3

1938 12 02

Charles Wright of Shudy Camps paid the price of active service in the Great War 20 years after the Armistice when he collapsed and died at his home. He had served in Salonika and afterwards suffered from malaria. His colleagues in the British Legion pulled the old-fashioned bier carrying his coffin draped with a Union Jack along the road which winds to the church. The cortege was preceded by the Legion standard fluttering bravely in a stiff breeze which sang through the leafless trees. Since the death of Canon Thornton the church has had no minister 38 12 02

The King Street Riding School is the largest and most up-to-date indoor riding school in the country. The Principal (Capt E. Cooper), as an instructor and horseman ranks second to none, having the reputation of being one of the finest riding masters to serve in the British Army. The long list of successes gained by his pupils in all branches of equitation during his thirty years at King Street testify to his outstanding ability as a Riding Master. 38 12 02a # c.38 : riding

Western area water scheme – 38 12 02

1938 12 02 ES

Gorefield minister Payne leaves for Littleport. 38 12 02ES *

Rev J. K. C. Payne, Vicar of Gorefield for eight years, has been appointed to the parish church of St. George, Littleport. For a number of years he was vicar in the neighbouring village of Prickwillow. He has worked hard in Garfield and shown himself to be keenly interested in the welfare of the village. He is chairman of a thriving men's club which is open to all denominations, a member of the ex-servicemen's committee and a school manager Mrs. Payne two has worked vigorously to keep the church very much alive in Gorefield has been responsible for the Mothers' Union, which has 80 members, and every year has helped the Cambridge University students who have made Gorefield a centre for their fruiting campaign. Villagers are waiting to learn who will come along to take the place of a clergyman, the news of his departure has caused regret in the village. 38 12 02 ES

At Wilburton the ninth lantern lecture in the series, the Early History of the Fens, was given in the school to a very appreciative audience by Mr. M.H. Clifford of Cambridge. It was very interesting to hear about and see the slides of some relics of the Bronze Age unearthed at Wilburton by a Mr Sharpe about 1874. 38 12 02

1938 12 03

A young Indian student who incurred debts of over £700 while up at Cambridge appeared at Cambridge Bankruptcy Court. He had received an allowance of between £600 and £700 a year from his parents (about £40,000 at today's prices) which should have been ample for a bachelor student to live on. But he found it particularly easy to incur debts and got in a set which invited him to incur credit. He'd been called home because of his father's illness but had now paid his creditors in full. 38 12 03

1938 12 05

A pavilion erected in memory of H.G. Comber and W.F. Smith was opened on the University Hockey Ground, Barton Road. Comber had been captain of the University side in 1893, chairman of the council of the Hockey Association and first President of the Eastern Counties Association formed in 1908 while Mr Smith had been its Secretary for many years and had played for England from 1911-21. Inside is a case containing a collection of old hockey and bandy sticks 38 12 05 # c.38 : hockey

1938 12 07

Death of Dennis Barton Ginn, family solicitor of Newton Manor 38 12 07

1938 12 09

Grocers and their assistants were a very courteous set of people. They supplied a greater variety of goods than any other branch of the retail trade. Quality had gone up and up although the arrangement for opening tins was not yet perfect. A tin should be guaranteed to open with a key but the number of knives and other weapons being ruined by tin opening was beyond computation. With regard to voluntary registration for service in an emergency there were fewer trades that could be as well done by a woman as a man, the Grocers' Association dinner was told. 38 12 09

Wimbish man Arthur Ridsdale walks 5-miles, married 60 years – 38 12 09a

1938 12 10

Queens' College have commenced a Chancery Court action against Cambridge Corporation seeking to prevent them from diverting the Cam at the sluice near the former King's and Bishop's mill so as to undermine the college buildings in Silver Street and seeking £5,150 damages for damage already caused. The Town Clerk has been instructed to protect the Corporation's interest and take any action advised by their counsel 38 12 10 # c.35.7 # c.46.5

When Jimmy Overton, retiring secretary of the Trades and Labour Council, came to Cambridge in 1909 no Labour movement existed apart from the Independent Labour Party so he set about forming one. They contested Romsey, the strongest Liberal ward in Cambridge, in 1911 to prove Labour was not just a wing of the Liberal Party. Cambridge's first parliamentary Labour candidate was Rev Rhondda Williams but stories that members of the party pawned their furniture to finance the election are untrue. However Mr Overton had a great deal to do with providing his deposit. 38 12 10a # c.33

The Home of Mercy dates back to 1836 when residents concerned about the lack of provision for women, hired Dover House in East Road as a place of refuge. Then in 1838 the Cambridge Female Refuge opened in Christchurch Street in which girls who have fallen into evil ways can receive Christian guidance and discipline in a home-like atmosphere. Last year nine left to go into service and four were returned to their parents. One was baptised and three received Confirmation. 38 12 10b & c # c.32.9 # WOMEN

Spiritualist meeting – 38 12 10d, e

1938 12 13

Testing a medium's power – letter – 38 12 13 # c.39

Cambridgeshire Photographic Record exhibition – includes watercolours of areas impossible to photograph including view of Fitzroy Street and Burleigh Street corner from roof of Laurie & McConnals painted by Beryl Pickering; other sketches include the Saxon Cement Works, Eagle Hotel yard, Hobson Street from King Street end, Miss M.C. Greene paintings of yards – Ninepin, True Blue, Ram Yard, Falcon Yard. Last thatched roof in Blackamoor Head Yard - 38 12 13a # c.65.5 # c.64

1938 12 14

Councillor Dorothy Thirza Stephenson worked for women's causes; elected Board of Guardians 1912, councillor 1919. Original member of Cambridge Housing Society, founder Hundred Housing Society, organised soldiers' canteen during war, Chesterton National Kitchen Committee, Belgian refugee and communal pig keeping committee 38 12 14 38 12 15

1938 12 16

Guildhall large room seating, public abattoir – 38 12 16

J.H. Bullock re-elected to Library committee for 51st time; first elected 1887 (?) and served over 50 years 38 12 16

The Bishop of Ely spoke in favour of cremation at the opening of the Cambridge Crematorium: it overcame the difficulty of overcrowded cemeteries and the danger of water pollution which might arise from earth burial – 38 12 16a, b Advert 38 12 17c # c.21.2

1938 12 16 ES

Steam Engine Share Out. The members of the Five Alls Helping Hand Slate Club held their annual share out on Friday evening. 61 members share £1.2.0 each. The evening was afterwards spent in a convivial manner with songs accompanied on an accordion.

At Oxloade 38 members of the Ladies Slate Club connected with the Memorial Hall received £1.5.0 each at the annual share out.

At Little Downham the members of the Anchor Inn Helping Hand Slate Club held their annual share out. 45 members were handed £1.1.0 each. Community singing was afterwards indulged in.

At Stretham the first supper of the Red Lion Thrift Club was held in connection with the share out of the year's savings. About 14 members sat down to an excellent supper which had been prepared by Mr and Mrs Blayney. The Rector proposed a toast of the Club. The health of the brewers was heartily drunk, and the remainder of the evening was spent in songs. 38 12 16ES

1938 12 17

Steeple Morden parish council protested against the proposed acquisition of 500 acres of good agricultural land by the Air Ministry for use as an emergency landing ground. The site was extremely valuable & would mean 20 people would be put out of work. Nearby was a farm which only employed one man, it was practically derelict. Two miles away was land of thin chalk soil that the owner would be pleased to get rid of; it would make a highly suitable landing ground. 38 12 17

The Christmas dinner of No.37 Squadron, 'B' Flight Feltwell was held at the White Lion Hotel, Newmarket. The menu contained tasty dishes described as Crankshaft cocktail and lead punch, filleted pistols and filings, roast rocker boxes and force feed baloney. Speeches were practically non-existent. Wing-Commander Fogarty said a squadron badge had been suggested; it was a candle burning at each end - as they flew by day and night. There were Air Force 'games' and the conviviality of the evening left nothing to be desired 38 12 17a

1938 12 19

Cambridgeshire Regiment dinner addressed by Commanding Officer, R.N. Drake Digby. The responsibilities resting on the Territorial Army were tremendous. They had got their new Bren guns and anti-tank rifles and every man had to learn to use them to be ready to defend Newmarket 38 12 19 & a # c.45.6

Nearly 2,000 young members of the Cambridge Independent Press and Chronicle's Robin Fellowship filled every seat in the Regal Cinema for the annual entertainment. As they entered they dropped pennies into pails which will go towards the Robin cot at Addenbrooke's Hospital. From out of the corner of tightly-clasped handkerchiefs or from the deep recesses of small pockets came the freely given coppers. Then the organ rose from its pit and Cecil Atkinson played well-known tunes for community singing. Then came the revue with comedy and magicians, songs, plays and a 'bearded lady' 38 12 19b, c

1938 12 21

RAF plane crashes in snowstorm near Milton Road railway crossing – picture – 38 12 21# c.26.1

Police work had changed: in the old days it was mainly concerned with 'drunks' and poaching; today offences had mainly to do with motoring. All would agree that if a motorist can go on for many years without a motoring offence he is a very lucky man. There was not a policeman who sometimes wishes the internal combustion engine inventor had never been born. Their duties went on increasing constantly. Now air-raid precaution had been thrust upon them, Saffron Walden police dinner was told. 38 12 21a & b

1938 12 22

After many hours of continuous snow-fall 400 men commenced work on the gigantic task of clearing a path for road traffic and pedestrians and six snow ploughs were brought into use. The three new motor ploughs were a great success and buses were able to keep to schedule exceptionally well. But everything is disorganised at the post office: some of the mail trains are arriving late and it looks as if letter deliveries will have to be pushed right up to Christmas Day. A large crowd skated on a flooded meadow at Newham but at Milton Sewage Farm the ice was too thickly coated with snow. 38 12 22 & a # c.12

Lingay Fen skating called off because of snow on approach roads – 38 12 22b

It was a custom in Cambridgeshire for labourers to drag a Yule log into the manor to the accompaniment of singing and to place with the new log a charred piece of the log of the previous year to ensure prosperity to the household. There is also a belief that if a piece of the burnt Yule log is kept in the cellar throughout the year it will preserve the house from fire. Boughs of mistletoe hung outside a door to ward off evil. Cottages burn light in window to guide baby Jesus to the dwelling and disk of milk and 'creed' wheat, sweetened with honey or sugar, sometimes laced with run, was served to all comers. Carol singers with the old violin, concertina or double-bass, farmer throws feather into air to forecast growing conditions, Christmas day dinner, University scholars erected Prince of Misrule, Mumming plays - Stuart-Baker 38 12 22c # c.39

1938 12 23

Cambridge Police Poor and Needy Fund ensures many needy families can enjoy a good Christmas dinner and plenty of coal. A large queue formed in Downing Place, young and old, they call carried baskets, jugs and sacks – even pillow slips. A huge pile of potatoes was in one corner and milk was handed out from churns together with butter, tea and cartons of peas. The Police Santa Claus No.1 (the Chief Constable) chatted with people as they came in. Then came a Distribution Day lunch of roast beef and Christmas pudding in the police station. 38 12 23 # c.34.7 # c.32.9

1938 12 23 CIPof

Snowed Off. Skating has been in progress this week at Lingay Fen and Mere Fen, Swavesey, but heavy snow on Wednesday put the damper on arrangements for races. The snow cloak, which Cambridge had been donning over the last few days, was yesterday becoming a bedraggled and dirty gown. After many hours of continuous snowfall - the longest, if not the deepest, fall for many years - a partial thaw set in, and the typical Christmas scenes slowly changed to a sandy slush, most uncomfortable for those on foot and equally uncomfortable for vehicular traffic. But it is unlikely that even the most hardened lover of the so-called "seasonable" weather regretted the change. After a trying two days of attempting to thaw frozen pipes, and kneeling in the snow to turn off stop taps, it was a welcome change to find water running freely, even though walking to work meant going through knee-deep snow. In Cambridge 400 men were employed (during the fall of snow) to clear a path for road traffic and pedestrians, and six snow ploughs were brought into use. # c.12

Another Hobbs' Century!—Mrs. Isabella Esther Victoria Hobbs celebrated her 100th birthday yesterday at the home of her daughters, Mrs. Dee and Mrs. Watts, of the Causeway, Godmanchester. She has been without a home of her own since 1915. The house she lived in at Woodford, near Thrapston, was burned down, and since then she has stayed in turn with her six daughters in various parts of the country. Now, having reached the century, she has decided to settle down in Godmanchester. Mrs. Hobbs is Godmanchester's second centen-arian of recent years. Mrs. Roberts, who died early this year, was 104.

New Stationmaster. The L.N.E.R. announce that Mr. C. E. Solly, stationmaster at Clacton-on-Sea has been appointed stationmaster at Newmarket.

Boon Welcomed Home. Eric Boon, youngest ever of British lightweight champions, returned to his home at Chatteris on Tuesday afternoon, amid scenes unparalleled in the town since the Coronation celebrations, or even the excitement which heralded his sensational victory over Dave Crowley at Haringey last Thursday. Arctic conditions held no qualms for the large crowd which waited patiently at the station in the blinding snow to welcome them, and Great Britain's, young champion home. To mark the occasion, the whole town had taken the "day off." School-children were given a holiday, and farmers and employees, regardless of the shivering conditions, had travelled for miles from the surrounding fens to add their salutations to the conquering hero. An address of welcome was delivered by the Chairman of the Council, Mr. W. E. Seaton.

1938 12 23 ES

Looking Back over 1938. 38 12 23&(2)ES

Doddington link with Eddystone lighthouse. 38 12 23(3)ES

1938 12 24

A farmer from West Row was fined for making and constructing a dam at no.6 culvert, Cooks Drove Drain, Mildenhall Fen without the consent of the Fen Drainage Board. The obstruction caused a settlement of the culvert heading causing a crack in the brickwork. The farmer said he'd put a board in the drain to supply water to his cattle 38 12 24 # c.29

Henry Tomlin celebrates 70 years marriage – 37 12 24a

Lombary Poplar by Catholic church was planted by Julian Skrine in his garden at 'Lensfield' the grounds of which extended to where Catholic Church now stands; has photo of garden showing windmill in Mill Road. 38 12 24b # c.18

1938 12 27

Two tramps broke windows to spend Christmas in gaol – 38 12 27

1938 12 28

Christmas Day at Victoria Friendly Societies' institution, Home of Mercy, Harvey Goodwin Home, Cottage Home for orphans – 38 12 28

1938 12 29

Snowed-up streets a disgrace – letters – 38 12 29

Canon Thornton's will, Shudy Camps - 38 12 29a

1938 12 30

The new Cambridge Model Aircraft Club, formed to get model makers working together, held an exhibition at the YMCA including flying scale models of actual machines. They have been very lucky as the old Cambridge aerodrome on Newmarket Road has been generously loaned to them by Mr Marshall and already Mr Powdrill has recorded the longest flight with the 'Merlin', a model of his own design while the "Fairy Facular" built by Mr Hayden flew for over a minute-and-a-half from a hand launch 38 12 30

When Haverhill elementary schools opened in 1877 they were under the management of the School Board which was publicly elected every three years for the Haverhill and Sturmer district. In 1902 control passed to the County Council and Sturmer and Haverhill separated, one under Essex, the other Suffolk 37 12 30a

A farmer from West Row was fined for making and constructing a dam at no.6 culvert, Cooks Drove Drain, Mildenhall Fen without the consent of the Fen Drainage Board. The obstruction caused a settlement of the culvert heading causing a crack in the brickwork. The farmer said he'd put a board in the drain to supply water to his cattle 38 12 30b

Water leak at Bartlow Hall – 38 12 30c

Addenbrooke's Hospital Christmas decorations – 38 12 30d

Flood fighters stand by in fens; rivers above emergency level. DT. JM97

1938 12 30 CIPof

Wedding Rush. A record for Christmas Eve weddings was established at the Shire Hall Register Office, Cambridge on Friday. There were 14 ceremonies as against last year's four. They were all country weddings. Small decorated Christmas trees and other seasonable decorations adorned the Register Office, to which couples came from as far away as Somersham.

Christmas. Thaw, thaw, thaw was the rhythm of the Christmas weather in Cambridge. It was very much a home and fireside festival this year; in fact, it was everything implied by that phrase "A good, old-fashioned Christmas." The town on Sunday was not as white as the Christmas cards would have the ground appear at this season — the thaw had seen to that — but there, was a covering of snow. Then on Christmas night Dame Nature decided that a party dress was indicated and on Boxing Day, Cambridge awoke to find snow falling and the slush covered with a white mantle. The evening brought with it a rapid thaw. Though weather conditions and the fact that it was Sunday kept most people at home for the greater part of the Christmas Day, there were many who made the early morning journey to church. The celebrations this year of the Birth of the Prince of Peace had a significance more emphatic than any attached to Christmases of the recent past. And the fact that of necessity this year it was a family round-the-fire Christmas stressed the bounteous blessings of an unbroken peace.

New Vicar of Milton. — The Rev. Geoffrey Thomas Berwick, M.A., has been appointed by the Provost and Fellows of King's College, Cambridge, to the Vicarage of Milton, vacant by the resignation of the Rev. G. S. Osborn.

Married 50 Years. — The golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kerry of 144a, Gwydir Street was celebrated on Christmas Day. The wedding took place at St. Matthew's Church, Cambridge or December 25, 1883, between John William Kerry, and Georgina Smith, the officiating clergyman being the Rev. F. E. Rogers. During a very happy married life, Mr. Kerry has carried on the business of a boot and shoe salesman in many villages around Cambridge. He is well known and highly respected by all who have done business with him. In the early days, Mr. Kerry travelled with a horse and van and in these later years, he has had the advantage of the more modern method of transport, the motor car. Both Mr. and Mrs. Kerry have been very active workers in religious and temperance movements for over 40 years as members of the Sturton Street Methodist Church and previously as members of the local Salvation Army.

A Chesterford Jubilee. — A presentation of a scroll and cheque to Mr. A. L. Denny was made at Great Chesterford Post Office on Thursday of last week. It was in appreciation of his work in the village and there were 193 subscribers. The presentation was made by Lt. Col. A. S. W. Stanley, who spoke appreciatively of Mr. Denny's work in the village both as postmaster and also as vergier at the parish church. He had done very much for the village and they were all very grateful. Col. Stanley added that it was the 50th Christmas Mr. Denny had spent in the local post office.

1938 12 30

Happenings of 1938 in the Ely district. International Crisis which brought the whole of Europe to the verge of war was the outstanding event of 1938. It was an event which will not fade quickly from our memories, but if any good came out of it at all, it was a realisation that Britain must be ready for any emergency. In this respect, there was feverish activity among air raid precaution organisers and the New Year should see further progress in this direction. Turning to more domestic arrangements we find the year had been pursued along much more peaceful minds. In comparison to 1937 the Fens did not have to contend with disastrous floods. In the spring. But as the year closes, there is some apprehension. Heavy snow covered the whole of the district during Christmas, and there are many who feared that floods might follow the Thor. An interesting and memorable event nearly was the visit to the cathedral by Queen Elizabeth and Queen Mary. While later in the year, the Princess Mary and the earth head would also attended to service their death has robbed the district of many well known personalities, and the passing of Sir Frederick Hiam was a tremendous blow to the locality.

1938 12 31

Arthur Rutter auctioneers and estate agents Cambridge branch sold to staff – 38 12 31 # c.06

Sanitary conditions in Ely in the 1830s were terrible and in 1853 the Board of Health built the existing water tower; now the foundation stone was laid for a new concrete reservoir to cater for increased growth. Nothing sort of an earthquake or a direct hit from an aerial torpedo would deprive consumers. 38 12 31a

The foundation stone was laid of a scheme which when completed will mark the most important development in Ely: an additional water reservoir. The new reservoir occupies the site adjacent to the present 85-year-old tower, a landmark for miles around. It was originally built to serve a population of 6,000 but with an increased extensions of mains coupled with housing development, the storage capacity of the old reservoir is only suitable to afford consumption for a few hours. Age has left his mark on the old tower and a new 35 36,000 gallon tank will replace the present one. When both are in commission, there will be sufficient storage for three days. Nothing short of an earthquake or a direct hit from an aerial torpedo will deprive consumers of their normal requirements. The possibility of air attacks have also urged more pondering on the question of intercommunication of mains both within and outside the area. It is expected the work will be completed in August 1939.

The president drain on the old tower means that when the water is cut off through burst or a pumping failure, or in the event of a serious outbreak of fire, it was quite possible that the whole 360,000 gallon would be used in a very short time. To thwart such a menace, the new concrete reservoir will contain sufficient storage for two days' supply.

Colonel Archer reviewed the history of the present supply. In the 1830s the sanitary conditions of Ely were terrible and in 1853, the Board of Health built the existing tower which was a remarkably efficient and ornate building, bearing in mind when it was built. Faced with drought the earth's supply of water was not inexhaustible and although they might have a bountiful supply from the heavens, he would urge consumers to be as sparing as possible in their usage, and not leave their taps running.. 38 12 31a

County Councils first established 50 years ago; has had ten chairmen – listed – 38 12 31b

Fen district flood precautions: repairing railway track. JM81

Hanging out the washing with the aid of a punt in the flooded fen district. JM82

Fen district flood precautions – track to build up banks Waterbeach. DT. JM98

1939 Cambridge Daily News / CIPof & Ely Standard

These stories were compiled as part of my 'Looking Back' column. I have digital copies of each article – Mike Petty.

CDN, CIP digitised on British Newspaper Archive

Includes notes on aircraft from J. Evan-Hart 'War-torn skies: Cambridgeshire'. 2008 'E-H'

Includes John Martin cuttings on 1937 & other floods 'JM' - EBK1485

January 1939 CDN

1939 01 02

Sir – During the last snowfall some bridges were a sheet of ice for a whole week and Garrett Hostel Bridge and Walk were never touched. Neither was any clearing done on Mount Pleasant, one of the most dangerous parts of Cambridge. More lorries are needed to cart away the snow which could be dumped on the Commons, rather than taking it miles to the river. And the by-laws should be enforced – residents in Portugal Street turned out to clear the snow but one of the worst lengths of pavement in Castle Street was in front of the Shire Hall. The unemployed or people receiving public assistance should be utilised 39 01 02

The Home Office has overruled Cambridgeshire Police on the appointment of detectives. The detective organisation of any force must be adequate not merely for carrying out work in that area but also for co-operating with other forces. It needs not only investigating officers but an organisation at headquarters capable of dealing with the necessary records. This officer could be shared with the Borough Police force. But the Chief Constable said that with the enormous amount of extra work caused by traffic problems, he was finding it difficult to cope with the men at his disposal. 39 01 02a

1939 01 03

Sir – Teversham people cannot understand why we are not going to be allowed to have electric light brought into our houses. Two years ago an inspector came and condemned our pumps and put up notices saying 'Not fit to drink'. Still we are waiting for the piped water supply. It seems as though the chief objection to electric light is against poles being stick up in the village. But what about the lovely-looking building on the corner of Teversham Road – a machine gun range. We are going to have all the noise from guns, aeroplanes etc but not a little comfort and cleaner water. – Lightwater 39 01 03

1939 01 04

Watch on Great Ouse. EDP. JM99

1939 01 05

Royston residents who don't go to church are invited to the Priory Cinema Services on Sunday evenings. They will be entirely undenominational where speakers will choose their own subjects. They will not deal with prophecies or propound theories, just bring facts before people. It is not a stunt and they are not trying to compete with the churches. There are many people who don't go to church because they don't like the parson or because it's cold. Meetings will be held for the next four Sundays and last about an hour. 39 01 05

1939 01 06

Meldreth will, p5

Special constables, p5

Emilie Agnes Elin establishes almshouses for poor persons in Meldreth in her will – 39 01 06

Cambridgeshire has 1,050 special constables all trained in anti-gas and other duties 39 01 06a

Flood danger held in the balance. CT. JM100

1939 01 06 CIPof

College Master Knighted. In the New Year Honours List, Mr. Will Spens. Master of Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, becomes a Knight Bachelor "for public services." The honour follows immediately on the publication of the Report on Secondary Education. He was appointed chairman of the Committee in succession to Sir Henry Hadow.

Golden Wedding. Mr. and Mrs. J. Alsop, of 150, Fitzroy Street, Cambridge, celebrated their golden wedding on Sunday with six of their sons and six grandchildren. One son out of the five who went was killed in the Great War. Mr Alsop, who is 73, has been a smith at the Britannia Works, East Road, for 58 years. Mrs. Alsop is three years younger than her husband.

£10,000 for Almshouses. Mrs. Emile Agnes Elin, of The Gables, Meldreth, who died at Harrogate on October 10, has left £96,519 (net £93,285). In her will she leaves the residue to her husband, Mr. Henry Dyne Elin for life. Then: £10,000 to establish "Emile Agnes Elin Alms-house" for poor persons of 60 years of age or more, resident in Meldreth for at least 10 years, and £500 for a fund to be known as "The Emile Agnes Elin Coal Fund" for the distribution of coal among the poor of Meldreth.

A Family Affair. Mr, J. Johnson, Chairman of the St. Ives Bench, on Monday had the unusual distinction of presiding over a case in which his nephews, Messrs. Kenneth and Malcolm Wheeler, were opposed to one another. Mr. M. Wheeler is the County Council's assistant solicitor.

Flood. As expected, the melting snow has caused a flood (at Over), but not so bad as anticipated. The Drainage Commissioners report only a normal flood, but they have had to run the water engine for three or four nights. The river is in full flood, but most water to be seen in on Mere Fen and Swavesey Fen from the barrier bank to Webb's Hole Sluice.

1939 01 06 ES

Wisbech food ship for Spain? p8

Ely new water tower foundation stone laid p9 - photo p11

Chatteris Cromwell school completed - photo p14

1939 01 07

Cambridge Town & County Lawn Tennis club to have last season on existing ground in Madingley Road and Wilberforce Road; will move to fine ground nearer centre town with 16 to 20 first-class grass and one hard court 39 01 07

1939 01 09

A mass meeting of farmers held in Cambridge Corn Exchange expressed alarm at the catastrophic fall in the price of certain agricultural produce and called for guaranteed prices. In 1938 they'd increased their production of barley by 60,000 acres but received the same amount as the previous year. The consumer demands cheap food, but this should not be at the expense of the farm worker; acres were going out of cultivation and farmers were getting harder and harder up. The farmer was traditionally Conservative and in the old days the party was drawn largely from the land. But now it was made up of industrialists and financiers. 39 01 09 & a

1939 01 11

Ely RCD discussed the Government's scheme for the evacuation of civil population; children would have priority; the acceptance of children will be voluntary but those who refuse must accommodate other persons. Schools will be required for the education of the children transferred; there would be one teacher or helper for ten children. There will be payment of 10s 6d per week where one child is taken, and eight and six each for more. Children under school age will be accompanied by their mothers or some other person and in these cases householders will only provide lodgings, not board., at the rate of five shillings a week for each adult and three shillings for a child. 39 01 11

Work will start on a huge new power station at Little Barford to cope with the increased demand for electricity 39 01 11a

The aconites are coming up in the Spinney, the little triangular bit of woodland at the end of Burrell's Walk with the Binn brook running through it. When old Mr Whitaker was a boy it was a pretty stream fringed with rushes and haunted by butterflies. He watched a fresh water mussel creeping over the mud at the bottom of the ditch and remembers boys used to catch cray fish to sell to St John's kitchens. In February 1919 came a great snowfall which led to Garrett Hostel Lane being flooded from end to end and the boys were climbing along the railings from the Queen's Road to the Bridge. 39 01 11b

Royston's hill-sides may soon be riddled with tunnels. The idea to provide permanent A.R.P. shelters would be better than completing the half-dig trenches on The Warren which, at best, would be only splinter proof, councillors say. These were intended for people who had no gardens in which they could construct their own shelters and those away from their houses during an air raid. But the hills were a long way from where the main part of the population live and people could not be forced to go into them 39 01 11c

1939 01 12

Much opposition to women taking holy orders came from a spirit of trade unionism among the clergy, a conference at Ridley Hall was told.. The present position was illogical: women were allowed to give addresses, but seldom to preach and were not permitted to use the pulpit. The ministry of the Sacrament was denied, the priesthood was forbidden. Women had intelligence and wit worthy to be matched against the finest masculine brains and had to receive the opportunity to make full use of their God-given powers. But if they came crowding into the church it would bring competition for male clergy – a job that though poorly paid was safe and still fairly respectable. 39 01 12

The Old West River is very narrow and in normal conditions appears slow, lazy and far from dangerous. But now it has risen above its low banks, covering the washes and lapping against sandbags placed along the A10 road near Stretham Ferry Bridge. Four barges are tethered to willow trees, loaded with gault to mend the banks. It is a scene reminiscent of what happened here in 1937 when water ran across the main road to the low-lying fields beyond. A little more snow or rain will cause flooding 39 01 12b # c.29

An Exning coal merchant told the Bankruptcy Court he'd started in 1919; he'd no experience or capital but thought it would be 'a good game'. His wife had carried on the business successfully until 1934 and he'd only received pocket money. But things declined because of restrictions of his haulage business just after he'd bought four new lorries. There'd been additional competition and creditors began to press him seriously 39 01 12c

Lt Downham Football Club has been closed for a fortnight because of complaints about the conduct of spectators. The start of a match between Ely City Reserves and Little Downham Swifts was delayed by half an hour due to the non arrival of the referee and, owing to the hostile and abusive spectators who constantly encroached upon the ground and hooted the referee and Ely players, the game became a farce. The linesman, who encouraged and assisted in the disorderly conduct of the spectators, was suspended from taking part in football for the rest of the year 39 01 12f

1939 01 13

First vicar of St George's – 39 01 13 # c.83

1939 01 13 CIPof

Floods. Ouse Catchment Board men have (in view of the existing floods) reinforced the bank running alongside the road on the Cambridge side of the bridge over the Old West River (at Stretham). When a Pressman visited the district, he saw flood water lapping menacingly against the sandbags. The Old West River, which runs from Earith to just below Ely, is at this point narrow but now it has risen above its low banks, and is covering the washes which extend from the normal water's edge to higher banks running parallel. Willow trees along-side the normal river, which in summer time afford adequate protection from the sun to the many anglers who sit along the banks, are now half under water. Four large barges are tethered to these trees. They were brought up from Ely loaded with gault to mend the banks in the vicinity. With the continuance of fine weather, the flood water should soon be drained off. A little more snow or rain, however, would bring it over the main Ely to Cambridge Road, and many adjoining fields would be flooded. The Ouse at Holywell is over its banks, and water is within six feet of the Ferry public house. But it has to rise several more inches before it reaches the level of the house. . . . The flood position at Welney yesterday showed little improvement, for there is still 3ft. 6in of water over the road across the wash between Welney and the Suspension Bridge at Oxloade. The flood waters from the Old Bedford River have risen slightly at Earith but there is at present no anxiety. Flooding is most severe at Brandon Creek and in the Hilgay area. # c.29

Shop Episode. "Hands Up!" was the order given to a Cambridge man when he went to a room in his shop after business hours to view Bertram Mills' circus on his television receiver on Thursday night. The central figure in this alarming incident was Mr. B. G. Reynolds, of the Renbro Wireless Service, East Road, Cambridge. The intruder who threatened him, escaped through a window after Mr. Reynolds had looked him in the room. He took with him about £12 from a cash box, but had Mr. Reynolds not returned to the shop for the television programme, he might have got away with the whole of last week's takings. # c.27.8

P.O. Attacked. Police in Cambridge Borough and the County were making an intensive search last night for two men who attacked P.C. Renwick, of the Borough Constabulary. When the constable was examining an unoccupied house in Clarkson Road, Cambridge, at about 8.50p.m., he discovered that it had been entered and goods had been packed for removal. He was then attacked by two men, receiving head injuries. He blew his whistle, and getting no response, staggered to the house next door where he phoned the police station. At Addenbrooke's Hospital later, several stitches were inserted in wounds in the constable's head.

Rain, Snow, Gales on Wedding Day. "It rained snowed and the wind blew a gale when we were married 50 years ago. It was very different, from today." These were the reflections of Mrs. Frederick Chapman, when she and her husband celebrated their golden wedding yesterday. They live in a small cottage in Winfold Road, Waterbeach, where they have been for 40 years. Both are now in their 72nd year.

"Specials."—It was reported at Friday's Cambridgeshire Quarter Sessions during the transaction of civil business that there were 1,050 trained special constables in Cambridgeshire.

1939 01 13 ES

Evacuation in wartime - survey to be made p4 & p9

Gas mask census - another check p12

Stretham: Plough Monday observed by elder boys, though no make up

1939 01 16

Huntingdon Road house struck by lightning – photo – 39 01 16

1939 01 17

Queen and Queen Mary visit Woolston's shop – 39 01 17 & a # c.02

1939 01 18

Ely livestock market gives cause for concern, a report says. Changes made by A.T. Grain could have been better planned and considerable improvements could be made on Messrs Comins' area. Various articles were sold that should not be permitted in a livestock market. The entrances should be improved, Comins' section completely reconstructed, cattle pens removed and the sale of timber and ironmongery prohibited. 39 01 18

1939 01 19

Four radio devotees at Haddenham were fined for using wireless receiving sets without licences. One, in Lode Way, claimed he was a repairer and had no sets of his own but there were several sets in a shed together with an aerial and he'd charged batteries for years. Two accused, living at Vine Farm and Hillrow, did not appear in court. Nor did a man from the Council Houses in Station Road where inspectors had found a fairly new set in working condition – the man had claimed it belonged to a lodger. 39 01 19

1939 01 20

Wards on East Road was originally a cycle business, producing Crown bikes, then came a wireless department and baby carriages, electrical installations and fittings – 39 01 20

1939 01 20 CIPof

On Top. That Cambridge had come out on top for punctuality of passenger train service was mentioned by Mr. S. N. Wright (Stationmaster) in a speech he made at the London and North-Eastern Railway Cambridge station all grades' dinner at the Dorothy Cafe on Saturday night,

£1,000 a Week Increase. An average increase of £1,000 a week ever since the bank was started in Cambridge was revealed in the report of the Cambridge and District Trustee Savings Bank, presented at the annual meeting in the Wesley Library, Christ's Pieces, on Friday. It was also disclosed that the average annual increase in the number of accounts was over 400.

Queen Again in Cambridge. The Queen paid her fourth visit and Queen Mary her eighth visit to Mr. Stanley Woolston's antique shop at Cambridge on Tuesday. The large car in which Queen Mary customarily travels to Cambridge arrived in St. Andrew's Street from Sandringham about 11.40 a.m. Passers-by, who noticed the numerous policemen in the vicinity, congregated near the shop and there were about 150 waiting when the two Queens alighted. As soon as the royal car drew away, more people congregated, and pavements on both sides of the main street became practically impassable for the one hour 40 minutes the royal visitors were inside the shop. They were received by Mr. Louis Clarke, Director of the Fitzwilliam Museum, and Mrs. Featherstouhaugh, widow of King George V.'s racing manager. Both the royal visitors made purchases of furniture, china and objects d'art, and found many things to claim their interest. A crowd of 400 were thronging the roadway at the lunch hour, and at 1.20 the cheers which greeted their Majesties' reappearance were acknowledged both from outside and inside the car. . . . The car was surrounded directly they were inside, and a passage had to be cleared for them to drive away to Exning, where they lunched with Mrs. Featherstonhaugh. # c.02

Jewel Raid. Jewellery valued at nearly £300 was stolen from Col. O. M. Lanyon's home, London Road, Royston, on Wednesday by thieves who entered by means of a ladder while the owner's wife and two maids were in the house.

House Struck by Lightning. During Monday's thunderstorm - an unusual phenomenon for the time of year - a Cambridge house was struck by lightning and considerably damaged. Fortunately none of the five occupants was injured or complained of shock. The house, 54, Huntingdon Road, is occupied by Mr. John S. Furnival, a retired Indian Civil Servant.

1939 01 20 ES

Ely to be blacked out - experiment; gas van to visit p7

Ely RAF hospital - local men employed - no "foreigners" p7

Drastic alterations pending at Ely cattle market p9

Regional transport in war time - plan for voluntary organisation p12

Glimpses of the past - Stuntney villagers 47 years ago - photo p14

1939 01 21

Evacuation scheme - Mayor sends letter to each home – 39 01 21 TT

1939 01 21

Claude Hulbert, who appears in the film 'His Lordship Regrets' at the Victoria Cinema, was not born in Ely, unlike his brother Jack. He came to Caius aged 17, took part in Footlights productions and made his first professional appearance in Cambridge at the A.D.C. Theatre with Ernest Crampton's concert party 'Cigarettes'. He finds broadcasting easiest, then screen work – if you make a mistake you can do it again, but on stage it's too late, he says. 39 01 21

1939 01 24

Queen Mary and Princess Royal visit Fitzwilliam Museum – 39 01 24 & a # c.02

1939 01 25

Flood photos at Earith – 39 01 25

1939 01 26

Dennis Ginn, solicitor will leaves money to his servants at Newton Manor – 39 01 26

Cambridge has been scheduled as an evacuation area in event of war. If properties have less than one person per inhabitable room enquiries will be made as to whether the householder was suitable to take unaccompanied children. An old lady or somebody who was out at work all day would not be considered. First aid posts were ready and manned. But during an air raid was the danger of going from a warm bed into a trench in a garden not greater than staying indoors. If you had to remain in a cold trench for hours you might die in a more unpleasant way than if hit by a bomb. 39 01 26a # c.45.6

1939 01 27

Flooding at boat houses, Midsummer Common – photo – 39 01 27

Shepreth and Meldreth ratepayers objected to the new water extension scheme. Everybody would pay an extra rate, whether they used the water or not. But there were 39 artesian springs in Meldreth that could all be made to run to a small pump. Water supplies in Orwell were inadequate and unsafe, being favourable to an outbreak of typhoid. The Government evacuation scheme made a pure supply a necessity for children coming from London: they would not be used to well water and serious illness might break out. 39 01 27a

The Ouse Catchment Board agreed a scheme for Roswell Pits showing the proposed lay-out of the buildings, dock, roadways etc at a cost of nearly £5,000. Any old iron that may be on hand at the depot should be sold off. At present the yard is used mainly on the South Level Scheme but the time had come when it should be used for the general work of the Board. 39 01 27b # c.29

1939 01 27 CIPof

Train Crash. A woman passenger—Mrs. F. O'Dell, of Sandy— was killed, and five other passengers injured, one seriously, in a collision involving three trains on the L.N.E.R. line two miles north of Hatfield on Thurs-day. Capt. John J. Metcalfe, of Morden Hall, Guilden Morden, was a passenger in front of the Cambridge express, one of the trains concerned.

County Alderman's Retirement, When the Cambs. County Council meets tomorrow, they will have before them the resignation of Ald. A. B. J. Chaplin, of Fulbourn. A member of the Council since 1922, Mr. Chaplin has served on the following committees: Finance, Roads and Bridges, Public Health and Housing, Selection. County Agricultural and several sub-committees, Standing Joint, Public Assistance Accounts Sub-Committee, and Fulbourn Visitors. Elected Alderman in March, 1937, Mr. Chaplin would have held office until 1943. His successor will be chosen at to-morrow's meeting.

Royal Visit to Museum. Her Majesty Queen Mary and her daughter, the Princess Royal, paid a visit to the Fitzwilliam Museum at Cambridge on Tuesday. Queen Elizabeth was also to have come, but she was unable to do so. It is understood that she had a cold. The royal party spent over two hours in their tour of the building. In the course of it they saw almost the whole of the collections on view within its walls. # c.02 # c.03

Death of a Nonagenarian. Elsworth has lost its oldest inhabitant by the death of Mrs. Edith Brand, who passed away on Sunday at the great age of 97 years.

A Bad Omen. A correspondent writes: There was some excitement in the village on Monday afternoon, when a flock of fifteen geese was seen passing westward over Melbourn. Old inhabitants and the weather-wise said the geese presaged wintry weather, and they were right, for Wednesday was one of the worst days so far of a real old-fashioned winter, with its east wind, snow, sleet and slush.

Floods. Some of the low-lying fields in the district (Histon) are under water. Farmers and fruitgrowers are experiencing considerable difficulty, and work is being held up as many acres are waterlogged.

Water protest. "A wanton waste of public money" was the phrase used in a resolution carried by a large majority at a crowded public meeting at Shepreth on Monday evening. The meeting was called to discuss the proposal of South Cambs. Rural District Council to supply the village with a main water supply. Of an attendance of between 90 and 100, only six voted against the resolution, which read as follows: That this meeting of local electors in the village of Shepreth wholeheartedly disapproves of the proposal put forward by the South Cambs. Rural District Council to supply the village with a main water supply as being utterly and entirely unnecessary and unwanted by the majority of residents of the village, and as being a wanton waste of public money. The Chairman (the Rev. C. J. Sharp) drew attention to the fact that there were three public pumps, many private pumps and that Shepreth always had a good supply of water. A remark came from the audience: "What we want is a scheme to get rid of water. We have enough as it is."

1939 01 27 ES

The crisis of peace 1938-39; Europe's fate hangs on Spain p7

Ely flying club plane burnt out in hanger, now 4 - photo p7

1939 01 28

Aerial pictures of flooding in fens – 39 01 28

ARP on agenda – 39 01 28 TT

The fenland flood situation is very serious, with water six feet above normal. Patrols are watching the banks day and night and additional engineers have been sent in.. At Littleport and Prickwillow waters have encompassed a number of properties and the occupants are preparing to evacuate. With further rain there would be as serious a threat of flooding as in 1937. Pumps at St Germans were operating at full throttle and Denver is pumping 11 out of 12 hours 39 01 28a # c.29

Cherry Hinton has a non-provided school with teaching of a definite Christian character. It was founded by Rev Buick Bridge and later benefactors added to it bit by bit. But it was not built to meet the ever-increasing demands of the Board of Education and 14 years ago was placed on the black list. Now it has been improved with a storeroom and staff room, modern classrooms and cloakrooms with hot water. The playground space had doubled and a field rented so the children could use it for games. 39 01 28b # c.36.5

Flood position ... Lt Ouse: Thetford's worst night. EDP. JM101

1939 01 31

Tension in the fen flood areas is expected to be greatest when the moon is full at the end of the week. Water was flowing freely through Denver sluice on Sunday, the danger will be when the lock gates are shut.

In the Cambridge area there has been a shortage of labour to reinforce the banks and at Waterbeach the local town crier made a call for volunteers and rallied about 14 men to work on the banks of Bottisham Lode. Mr. O Borer, the Catchment Board Chief Engineer says the level in the fens is very high, but the rate of rise has steadied down during the night. Although the level is over that of 1937 the work done since then has given a greater margin of safety and except for some bad places in the banks of the lodes there has been no serious trouble.

At Littleport water is over the main Cambridge to King's Lynn railway line which parallel with the river, water from which is covering acres of land on either side of the track. The bank on the yonder side of the river at this point is high but there is hardly any bank at all on the Littleport side. A biting east wind is driving the water in appreciable wavelets from the river in the direction of the village. The sleepers are covered and only the tops of the rails are showing. Goods trucks are standing with water beneath them.

James Cooper, a crippled bootmaker of White Hart Lane has evacuated his cottage and not far away. in the Holmes water had advanced 30 yards during the morning and was still rising. Inhabitants had left their houses before they were surrounded.

Water is seeping through the banks and across the road running alongside the river from the Littleport Ouse Bridge to Brandon Creek. Cottages bordering this stretch of river live very low. Four men are patrolling the bank by day and four by night. . 39 01 30a pic Holmes flooding – 39 01 31

Banks still holding well; trouble at Littleport. EDP. JM103

Families flee from fenland. JM83

February 1939 CDN & CIPof & Ely Standard

1939 02 01

King and Queen with princesses join Royal train at Cambridge after visit Newmarket - 39 02 01a # c.02

The Jubilee Clock at Newmarket, a well-known landmark to all road users, has stopped and refuses to start again. The guttering round the tower had split allowing water to get through the roof and rusting some of the pinions. Scaffolding will have to be erected and they hoped to put something over the top of the clock to prevent further damage. But the council does not have enough scaffolding and they may have to call in one of the large builders. Major Griffiths said that when he heard the clock has stopped he hoped the tower had fallen down, but was disappointed. 39 02 01b

Men at Barway worked in mud and water through the night to strengthen the sluice gates which divide Soham Lode from the main river. One large barge loaded with clay was wedged in the mouth of the lode. But when the bank burst huge clods of earth weighing many hundredweights were blown out by the water. The edges of the gap are so sheer and straight that they might have been cut out by a gigantic knife. With the earth went sandbags and all manner of other material used to strengthen the bank. Tarpaulin sheets had been stretched over the top of the bank and held down by weighted sacks. Parts of these are now lying in the water swirling through the gap 39 02 01 & c # c.29

Marching to save the banks: Lt Ouse near Brandon Creek. JM84, 85

Floods burst river banks in the fens: Little Ouse. JM86

Sandbag barriers against fenland floods. JM87

The toilers: photo men on banks at Lakenheath. JM88

Sandbags against fenland floods. DT. JM104

Floods burst river banks – all night work. JM105

Anxiety in fens – flooded railway, Littleport. EDP. JM106

Fens battle with flood menace; volunteer gangs rush to stop breaches.EDP. JM107

Flooding at Littleport – walkway to shop. EDP JM108

1939 02 02

Swavesey clock stopped, needs overhaul – 39 02 02a

Throughout the night 300 men patrolled between 3-400 miles of the banks of the Ouse, Cam and Lark. The patrols, equipped with field telephones, are part of the extensive flood prevention scheme organised following the floods of two years ago.

The news of the gradual decrease in the water level has brought relief to scores of families who had hurriedly abandoned their houses earlier in the week. A number have returned by boat to their homes and set about restoring order out of the chaos created by the water.

At Barway, where five families were evacuated, there is now said to be no danger. People who returned to their homes by boat included an eighty-years-old woman.

A squad of men are working at Barway building a dam to relieve the pressure of water on the gates of the lode. Steel piles are being driven to the bed of the river. It is reasonably certain that the gates will hold but they are damming as a precaution.

At Lakenheath, however, farmers have moved their stock to safety. Mr George Plumb, of Bridge Farm, whose stockyard is flooded said: "I have been here two years and in that time I have had two floods and one drought!" 39 02 02b # c.29

Littleport flooded cottage. DT. JM109

Floods checked – Soham Lode sluice barricade. JM110

Soham Lode breach. JM111

All quiet in fen front – King & Queen in flooded area. EDP. JM112

1939 02 03

Hurricane crashes at Debden, it came down like a bomb, pilot killed – 39 02 03

Central library alterations, Miss Green gives watercolours – 39 02 03a # c.77.4

Danger of fenland flood steadily abating – Barway breach. EDP JM113-115

1939 02 03 CIPof

Fen Floods. After a week fraught with anxiety, and over-shadowed by the darkest fears, the position in the Fen country is now easing. Yesterday a steady fall in the level of the water all round was reported. The watch on the banks of the rivers and lodes of Fenland however continues. Throughout the night 300 men patrolled between the 400 miles of the banks of the four rivers—the Great and Little Ouse, the Cam and the Lark. These patrols, equipped with field telephones, are part of the extensive flood prevention scheme which was organised by the Catchment Board following the floods two years ago. The scheme is now playing a vital part in defensive measures against another flood menace. The news of the gradual decrease in the level of the flood water has brought relief to scores of families, who had hurriedly to abandon their homes earlier this week. When the flood waters dropped nearly a foot in some parts on Wednesday, a number of families returned by boat to their homes and set about restoring order out of the chaos created by the water. At Barway, near Soham, where five families had hurriedly evacuated on Tuesday, there is now said to be no danger. Yesterday men were working at Barway building a dam to relieve the pressure of Water on the gates of the lode. Steel piles are being driven into the bed of the river. # c.29

Mr. C. J. Moore. The death occurred at his home at St. Mary's Street, Ely, on Friday of Mr. Charles James Moore, managing director of Messrs. G. & J. Peck, Ltd. ironmongers, of High Street. A well-known member of several local organisations, Mr. Moore had been for many years Secretary of the Ely Literary Society. He was one of the original members of Ely Field Club and was partly responsible for forming a branch of the League of Nations Union in Ely in 1923, becoming its first secretary. He was also one of the founders of the Ely Rowing Club and a member of the Chess Club.

Plane's Terrific Nosedive. Hurling to earth at the terrific speed of 400 m.p.h., a Hawker Hurricane R.A.F. machine crashed half a mile from Debden aerodrome shortly before four yesterday (Thursday) afternoon. It struck open ground on Pamphillians Farm, Debden, and such was the force of the impact that the plane buried itself nearly 20ft into the earth. It came down like a bomb, and was completely lost to sight, the earth falling back over the remains of the machine. A man some distance from the spot stated that when the plane crashed, earth and mud were thrown high into the air so as to be visible over the tops of the trees. There was no explosion and the plane did not catch fire. Pilot Officer Terence Hugh Knapp O'Brien, in charge of this single-seater fighter was killed instantly. He was attached to 87 Squadron at Debden. R.A.F. men from Debden later recovered the body, digging their way down to the machine with spades and shovels.

Drill Hall. A scheme to remodel the Cambridge headquarters of the Cambridgeshire and Isle of Ely Territorial Association at a cost of £5,650 was approved, subject to confirmation by the War Office, at the quarterly meeting of the Association, held at the Drill Hall, on Saturday. It was also decided to acquire a garage in East Road (Cambridge) at a cost of £2,500. It was announced that the new Ely Drill Hall would be completed by the end of March.

The danger of fenland flood steadily abating... water in the Great Ouse reaches 1937 danger level, serious burst at Barway Lode. MM89-93

Flooding on Cambridge Road near Stretham. JM91

1939 02 03 ES

"Long period of peace": Hitler speaks in pacific strain p3

National service in Isle, 1st meeting

Billeting of evacuees - good reception p5

Danger of fenland flooding subside - - photo

Stretham Cambridge Road flooding, sandbag barriers - photo p11

Flooding of Littleport houses p15

1939 02 04

The new Cromwell School at Chatteris will accommodate 640 senior pupils from an area including Benwick, Manea & Witcham and be a recreational centre for young people and adults. It is one of the most modern schools with a separate department for boys and girls each with a hall equipped with a complete range of Swedish gymnastic apparatus. There are 'practical rooms' where boys will be taught handicrafts and girls housecraft and a clinic for medical inspection and dental treatment 39 02 04

St George's players first performance – 39 02 04 # c.76

1939 02 06

Ralph Wright, Ely RAF Volunteer Reserve Pilot,

Mr. Ralph Earnest Wright, a 19 year old Ely RAF Volunteer Reserve Pilot, set out in a Hawker Hind for his usual Sunday flip from Marshalls. Flying over Ely he attracted the attention of many with his stunting. Later more aerobatics thrilled the people of Chatteris. Then fate took her hand. Shortly after a double loop the plane dived from about 1000 feet and hit the ground with a sickening thud. The machine narrowly missed a house and buried its nose deeply into the grass turf, killing the pilot instantly. 39 02 06ES

Paul Robeson gave a concert at the Regal Cinema; his friendly smile and magnificent stage presence completely won his crowded audience. He included items of both Russian and Negro origin including "Short'nin' Bread" and Ezekiel Saw de Wheel" with the well-known "Canoe Song" from "Sanders of the River" as an encore. It was followed by "Ol' Man River", "Ma Curly-headed Baby" and "Joshua Fit de Battle of Jericho" 39 02 06a # c.69

1939 02 07

Men and women members of the International Brigade, who have seen service in Spain fighting for the Government, spoke at the Guildhall which was almost filled to capacity. The meeting was called by the Cambridge Co-ordinating Committee for Spanish Relief. In Spain rickets was becoming rife, hunger dropsy was beginning to appear and anaemia was present. Between 300 and 400 people were dying from actual starvation in Madrid every day. For the first time in history in America surplus food was not being destroyed but was being sent to Spain. 39 02 07 # c.45.6 # c.33

The Auxiliary Fire Service wound up their training at Cherry Hinton Hall with a demonstration with specially made incendiary bombs. Two were used to set fire to a house of boxes kindly donated by local tradesmen which was tackled using an ordinary hand-pump with a spray jet. Many important lessons were learned. The bombs give off intense heat and coloured glasses must be worn by the fireman to protect his eyes. The application of water increases the ferocity of the flames. 39 02 07a

1939 02 08

Cambridge Place demolition pictures – 39 02 08

Flood waters from the Ouse at Littleport have caused residents of a number of houses in the Station Road area to either evacuate their homes or live upstairs. It is not the first time this has happened and despite protests nothing has been done. Now ratepayers are demanding action. The council are proposing to build a concrete wall, three feet high. But residents from the Holmes believe this would tend to flood their properties even more. Sewage matter from the homes was emptied on the gardens and it would be easy for bacteria to get into the flood waters 39 02 08a

The Grove Nursing Home was opened in 1920 with three beds. Nine years ago it was moved to Chesterton Road where there were nine beds. The most recent expansion is to 159 Hills Road where a newly completed extension gives accommodation for 20 patients as well as an up-to-date operating theatre with anaesthetising room and all the modern apparatus. The home is, of course, centrally heated 39 02 08b

Miniature rivers to be built. DT. JM116

1939 02 10

Inquest on pilot Wright of Ely, who crashed at Chatteris – 39 02 10

1939 02 10 CIPof

Death of Professor. Professor John Hay Lobban, who retired from the Professorship of Literature at London University three years ago, died suddenly at his home, South Cottage, Gt. Chesterford, on Wednesday. His wife is sister to Sir Arthur Quiller-Couch, Professor of English Literature at Cambridge University. Professor Lobban had been about the village as usual during the day. He was seized with heart failure while chatting after dinner.

Pilot's Fatal Crash. Mr. Ralph Ernest Wright, a 19-year-old Ely pilot, set out in a Hawker Hind for his usual Sunday "flip" from No. 22 Training Centre : of the R.A.F. Volunteer Reserve at Marshall's Flying Ground, Cambridge, on Sunday morning. Over Ely he attracted the attention of many with his stunting. His brother Duncan was among the interested spectators, though he did not know at the time who it was in the machine. Later more aerobatics thrilled the people of Chatteris. Then fate took a hand. Suddenly, after a double loop, the plane dived from about 1,000 feet towards the earth, straightened out and rose slightly at about 500 feet, then dived again, striking the ground with a sickening thud. The machine narrowly missed a house and buried its nose deeply into the grass turf, killing the pilot instantly. Mr. Ralph Ernest Wright was the second son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Wright, of High Street, Ely. His father told our representative that Ralph had been flying for about 12 months, and was used to flying solo. It had been his ambition to fly. Mr. Duncan Wright said his brother would have celebrated his 20th birthday on Thursday. " I watched the plane stunting over Ely," he said, " but at the time I did not think it was my brother. Shortly afterwards I received news of the disaster. I immediately 'phoned my parents, who were 80 miles away at Holland-on-Sea. In about two hours they were at Ely. My brother had been flying solo for about eight months." # c.26.1

Hunts. Jockey's Fate. Peter Fitzgerald, 29, a well-known jockey, of Little Stukeley (Hunts.), who rode three horses at Derby on Wednesday, died in Stamford Hospital on Wednesday from injuries received when the horse-box, in which he and his wife were riding, was in collision with a stationary furniture van on Casterton Road, Stamford. His wife had a cut lip, but the driver of the horse-box escaped injury. Fitzgerald was attached to J. C. Cockton's stables at Little Stukeley. He was a useful jockey under National Hunt rules. Last season he rode six winners.

Minister's Anniversary. An inspiring series of services marked the first anniversary of the settlement of the Rev. Wilfred Monk as Minister of the Congregational Church (Castle Camps), which was celebrated on Sunday and Wednesday.

Water levels receding. CT. JM117

Lighter side – Harold Painter cartoon. JM118

1939 02 10 ES

Food ship for Spain expected to leave Wisbech next week p3

Chatteris Cromwell School opened p6

Ely pilot, son Russell Wright, killed in plane crash at Chatteris - photop9

Evacuees: Canons house to be used for non-Aryan refugees from Vienna & Germany p9

Ely blackout trial p9

Spain food ship - contribution from Soham & Isleham p9

1939 02 11

In March 1937 flood waters breached Soham Lode, causing thousands of pounds worth of damage. This year the same bank gave way to the enormous pressure of flood water, bringing a further trail of havoc. Natural seepage and pumps have cleared this away but at Swaffham Prior Fen about 1,000 acres are under water caused through seepage from the banks of the Lodes. Pumps have been going day and night but still farms are isolated and cattle have had to be moved. Distress warrants are being issued for drainage rates but farmers won't pay because they haven't any money 39 02 11

Cambridge Central Library lending department will transfer to what is now the main reading-room making it more commodious and in every way more convenient both for borrowers and the library assistants. With better natural lighting and the new bookcases the books will be shown to greater advantage and readers should be able to move round more freely. The present lending department will be used mainly for the newspapers. Magazines and periodicals will be found on the other side in the present reference room and librarian's room which will open into each other. The librarian's new room will be upstairs in the present education offices, and there too the reference room will be found. 39 02 11a

King's College old pump and fountain – notes – 39 02 11b

New County dental caravan – 39 02 11c

1939 02 13

W. Kester, worked as signal man at Swavesey station for 43 years – 39 02 13

An exhibition of watercolour studies of old Cambridge yards by Miss Mary C. Greene, which were recently given to the library committee has opened in the Reference Room. Many of the picturesque places depicted now, alas, no longer exist but similar spots are still to be found in Cambridge by those who took the trouble to look for them. Many should be inspired to take up this hunt for them by this exhibition which is valuable both from the artistic and historic point of view. The old-world air associated with the subjects depicted has been delightfully captured by the artist. All the studies have atmosphere and make one regret that the demands of progress have necessitated the alteration of much that is beautiful in the town of Cambridge. In some of the studies one sees spots that still exist, though they now bear the signs of change. Falcon yard, for example, as pictured in this collection, has galleried houses along one side of it. And Ram Yard in 1899 had an archway at one end. The arch was demolished in 1905. Of the yards still much as they were when Miss Greene painted them in the early years of the present century that of the White Horse Inn, now the Folk Museum, and that of the Eagle Hotel stand out. Sayle's Yard too is easily recognisable as is the yard at of the Merton Arms. One scene that no longer exists is to be seen if the study of the Bell Inn and Corn Chambers in Peas Hill, on part of the site now occupied by the new Guildhall. The yard of the old Castle is another scene that now lives only in paint. These and a large number of others makes this exhibition one of the most interesting scene in Cambridge for a long time – 39 02 13a

Auxiliary Fire Service first batch of 134 recruits now training at Cherry Hinton Hall – 39 02 13b

1939 02 14

Kurt Jooss ballet company first visit to Cambridge – 39 02 14

Royston evacuation scheme – 39 02 14

Ely ARP scheme most efficient – 39 02 14a

Camtax one year old today – 39 02 14b

1939 02 17

An automatic machine dealer of Mill Road told the bankruptcy court he'd set up in 1934 starting with 20 machines on licensed premises. He was making a profit of £25 a week until police prohibited the machines in Cambridge and he was forced to move to other territories where profits were much lower. In 1937 he took the tenancy of the Magpie Transport Café at Shelford but it lost money. He carried on business as a bookmaker, losing £140 in one day. He kept no books. He was questioned about three machines at Prickwillow and a pawned gold ring. 39 02 17

1939 02 17 CIPof

Pantomime. This year's Papworth pantomime is being produced in a hall which has a new stage and a new name, but there is no change in the quality of the show. The Pendragon Theatre, as the scene of the Papworth Players' former pantomimes is now called, has been enlarged and new stage equipment has been fitted. It is excellently employed in this year's pantomime, the title of which is "Beauty and the Beast." It is highly appropriate that there should be something special about it, for this year Papworth Settlement comes of age. "Beauty and the Beast" the seventh pantomime, the Papworth Players well maintain their reputation for staging a good show.

Unusual Accident. A St. Ives railway platelayer had his leg broken on Tuesday at a level crossing by a motor car. The victim of this unusual accident, John Peggs had opened one of the main gates at St. Ives to road traffic when he stepped in front of a car and was knocked down. A doctor rendered first aid on the spot, and Mr. Peggs, who is 62, and resides at London Road, St. Ives, was taken by ambulance to the County Hospital. .

Over 40 Years on Railway. Mr J W. Kester, a signalman at Swavesey Station, retired on Saturday, I after 43 years service on the railway, and at a meeting held at the station, he was presented with a suitably inscribed canteen of cutlery, subscribed for by members of the staff and platelayers.

Centenarian. Willingham's oldest inhabitant, Mr. George Barton, passed peacefully away on Sunday morning at the residence of his son, Mr. Charles Barton, Silver Street, in his 102nd year. Mr. Barton spent the whole of his life in Willingham, and was married at the age of 24 years, when his weekly wage was 9s., and on that amount he and his wife brought up a family of eight children. He was able to work on the land and sow crops until he was over 80. His wife died 31 years ago, and he has survived seven of his children. 1 He had 13 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren.

Diamond Wedding. Mr. and Mrs. George Chapman, of Fen Leigh, Smithy Fen, Cottenham, who were married at the Cambridge Register Office on February 14, 1879, celebrated their diamond wedding on Tuesday, and were the recipients of telegrams and letters of congratulation. After their wedding, they settled in the village and a few years later Mr. Chapman left for Australia, where he worked on a sugar plantation, and later in the tin mines. He returned to his family in the village in 1889, and moved to Smithy Fen, where he had been farming until recent years. He was a well-known figure at Cambridge Cattle Market, which he attended for upwards of 30 years. Mr. Chapman is 80 and his wife 83. Of their seven children, three daughters and one son are still living, one son being killed in the Great War. They have five grandchildren, two in England and three in Canada, 1 and five great-grandchildren, also in Canada.

1939 02 17 ES

Ely's welcome for refugees - acting while other places thinking, Rothschild appeal p4

Ely leads in air raid precaution organisation p9

Ely St Mary's bells removed for retuning - photo p9

Food ship expected to dock Wisbech p11

The lighter side of fenland floods - cartoon by H. Painter p16

Stretham: two accidents - lorry collides with Swans van and crashes into two cottages adjoining the shop, cottages owned by W.H. Coates of Isleham; another at Sun corner p9

1939 02 20

George Pearson of Fen Road Milton said he was about to milk his cows when the whole yard suddenly lit up and he noticed a brilliant white light moving across the sky. There were no flames coming from it; it was something like an electric light. Then there was a boom like thunder – he thought the I.R.A. were trying to blow up the bridge. The meteor was also seen by Mr Ketch of Corporation Terrace, Cheddars Lane; a blue light followed by a red glow passed over him with a whizzing noise and afterwards came an explosion. 39 02 20

H.G. Morris, former chide report on CDN, covered 1912 army manoeuvres – 39 02 20a

1939 02 21

Much of the charm depended on traditional cottage architecture but many thatched cottages were derelict and beyond repair. The use of country cottages as 'bolt holes' for the townsman wanting a foot in the country could help preserve them. But it was not to be encouraged from the social point of view of preserving village life. There was one village in Cambridgeshire which was empty during the week and full only at weekends. There were still plenty of thatchers but they were almost all old men, the chairman of the Cottage Improvement Society said 39 02 21.

1939 02 22

A labourer of Hillrow, Haddenham said he lived in a portion of the house where the old widow lived. At 10:30 p.m. everything was quiet in his house and the deceased's. At about 11 p.m. while he was asleep there was a knock which awakened his wife. She woke him and told him that the old lady said "Come, Frank I have got a fire".

The lady had told him that if there any time she needed his help she would knock on the back bedroom window. On this occasion she knocked on the inside door. He threw open the back window, saw the flames coming from the deceased's part of the house and told his wife and children to get out as soon as possible.

"I then ran downstairs to her door but it was impossible to get in. The heat was intense and the door frame was falling. I ran around the front door and burst open the door but could not get through a door leading to her front room. When I got the door partly open the fumes and flames beat me back".

The deceased was in the habit of staying up till midnight before going to bed. She always read the bible for an hour before getting into bed. The light in the house was supplied by a paraffin oil lamp. When she read in bed she used a candle in a tin lid. There was not room at the side of the bed for a table but she could possibly have got a chair there. She very rarely used a cold fire but was dependent on heat and for cooking upon the oil stove. She had had no fire in her front room for five years. He never knew of her taking an oil stove upstairs for heat.

Haddenham Fire Brigade Chief said he had to go around the village to call up the men to go to the Fire Engine House. They got to the fire but found the nearest hydrant was a quarter of a mile from the burning building. He had no hose which would reach from the hydrant to the fire.

The only thing he could do was to phone the Cambridge Fire Brigade. Ely was nearer than Cambridge but the local authorities had an arrangement with Cambridge Brigade if they could not cope with a fire. He phoned up at 11:55 p.m. and the fire brigade arrived at 12:40 p.m. In the meantime he had his men tried to put the fire out with the aid of buckets.

There were only seven hydrants from Haddenham to the corner of Earith Bridge period. The brigade had only 200 yards of hoses and owing to not having enough appliances there had been several serious fires in Haddenham.

The coroner commented that the candle might have been the cause of the fire. The death was accidental. But for a village the size of Haddenham the firefighting apparatus was inadequate and many valuable properties were unprotected. If the brigade had had enough hose they could have saved one part of the house but now a man and his family were without a home 39 02 22

1939 02 23

East Hatley water supply – 39 02 23

No.7 Petty Cury, comprising a double-fronted shop in the occupation of Messrs Lipton, the upper floors providing part of the bedroom accommodation of the Lion Hotel was offered for sale by auction. Shop property in the heart of the shopping centre of Cambridge seldom came to market by public auction and formed an excellent purchase for occupation, speculation or investment. It would be very difficult to find a much better investment. Demand was especially keen in Cambridge where the best shopping area was limited owing the centre being 'horseshoed' by college buildings. But it failed to reach its reserve and was withdrawn at £11,750 (about £650,000 today) 39 02 23a # c.44.6 # c.06

1939 02 24

A report proposes a new drainage canal about six miles long, between the Ten Mile River near Denver Sluice and a finishing point near St Magdalen's Bend on the tidal river. The water would be controlled by sluice gates at both ends with a battery of irrigation pumps. This canal would only be used in times of severe floods allowing water in the Ten Mile River to flow interrupted down the new canal, the old sluice at Denver being kept closed. The storage capacity would be sufficient to cope with the accumulation of water during high tide. 39 02 24 # c.29

University Gas Light Company install new carbonising plant – 39 02 24a # c.24.4

Lt Thetford postman accused of stealing postal packet 39 02 24b

1939 02 24 CIPof

Boon Retains Title. Eric Boon, the Chatteris boxer, retained his British lightweight title at Haringey Arena last night, when he beat Arthur Danahar, the referee stopping the fight early in the 14th round. This was a thrilling contest between two hard-hitting boxers. Danahar showed clever boxing ability early in the fight, but he was down for two counts of nine in the 8th round, and was saved by the gong at the end of the 11th round. Danahar was again down three times for the same count (nine) in the 13th. When he was down for another count of nine in the 14th round, the referee stopped the fight.

New Appointment for Bishop's Son. Many will offer congratulations to the son of the Bishop of Ely, Mr. F. M. Heywood, M.A., Fellow and Assistant Tutor at Trinity Hall, Cambridge, upon the announcement last weekend of his appointment as Master of Marlborough College. Mr. Heywood, who is 30 years old and married, is the fourth son of the Bishop. He was educated at Haileybury where he became head of the school and captain of the cricket and Rugby football teams, and at Gonville and Caius College, where he was a Scholar of the College and was placed in the First Class in the Classical Tripos. Parts I and II. He won his Blue for Rugby football at Cambridge. After taking his degree at the University, Mr. Heywood went back to Haileybury as assistant master and house tutor. In 1935 he was elected Fellow of Trinity Hall, where he is at present Assistant Tutor and Praelector. He is also Secretary to the Cambridge Committee of the Universities Council for Unemployed Camps.

A Champion Stallion. A ten-years-old bay stallion broke records at the Shire Horse Show at the Royal Agricultural Hall, Islington, on Wednesday by winning the premier award at the show for the fourth time. The stallion, Power Winalot, is owned by Mr. J. G. Runciman of Cambridge. He was awarded the King George the Fifth Champion Challenge Cup and the Society's 100 gns. gold challenge cup, both given for the best stallion in the show.

Jockey Weds at Newmarket. The wedding of a prominent jockey and the daughter of a well-known Newmarket licensee took place at the Church of Our Lady Immaculate and St. Etheldreda, Newmarket, on Monday, and created considerable interest. The bridegroom was Mr. Peter Patrick Maher, son of Mr. Patrick Maher, of Ireland, and his bride was Miss Winifred Kate Pudney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pudney, of the Black Horse Hotel, Newmarket. The bride's father is Chairman of the Newmarket and District Licensed Victuallers' Association.

Meteor Seen in Cambridgeshire. A meteor was seen in Cambridgeshire on Sunday about the time one was observed in London and near King's Lynn. One of those who saw it was Mr. George Pearson, of Fen Road, Milton, who said it came into view at 6.10 a.m. "I had got up to milk my cows," he went on. "As I stood outside my cowshed, the yard suddenly became lit up. I thought it was a freak thunder-storm, but when I looked up I saw a brilliant white light moving across the sky. It was like a white hot aeroplane body, and about the same size as an aeroplane would seem to be in the sky. It moved quite slowly in a straight line from the direction of Histon towards Horningsea. Shortly after I first saw it, it seemed to divide; then it was shut out from my view by a shed. There were no flames coming from it: it was something like an electric light . . . The meteor seemed to come through the clouds." # c.12

1939 02 24 ES

Ely & Littleport blacked out - trial of value p11

Haddenham Legion clubroom opened p11

Food ship leaves Wisbech p14

1939 02 25

Fendon Estate new choice residential area of Cambridge – advert – 39 02 25a # c.44.6

Mr H.R. Dimock flew over Ely in a Heyford bomber as official observer during the two-hour blackout to test the A.R.P precautions. The night was wet and rain on the windows made visibility difficult and light from the engine exhaust caused a slight haze preventing weak lights from being visible. So he used the revolving turret which was quite open. As they discussed where to drop imaginary bombs the number of lights diminished but there were always about 300 showing somewhere. The railway station was plainly visible and could have been bombed with great precision 39 02 25b

1939 02 27

The tragic end of a widow who perished by the flames which destroyed her home led to a special meeting of Haddenham parish council. Had there been sufficient length of hose or more hydrants in Hillrow the house might have been saved. Twenty hydrants at £100 each would never perish in a hundred years. But a hundred yards of hose would perish in a very short time. The council paid three capable people to take charge of the brigade but they got fed up with criticism and chucked the job in. 39 02 27a

Arab delegation from Pakistan conference visit Cambridge – 39 02 27b

New planned towns should be created to allow decentralisation of population from London, a conference was told. Large cities were susceptible to mass emotion. Jewish riots, Fascist processions etc were becoming dangerous because of the multitudes of men without a place in the world who were ready to act as hooligans and acerbate every situation. But the absence of communal life, lack of social interests or civic centres leads to deadness and dullness which reacts unfavourably on the inhabitants 39 02 27c

1939 02 28

Folk Museum's progress, Catherine Parsons honorary curator – 39 02 28 # c.03

March 1939 CDN & CIPof & Ely Standard

1939 03 01

Blenheim crash at Wyton inquest – 39 03 01c # c.26.1

1939 03 02

ARP trenches – 39 03 02 112.70

Borough Librarian, W.A. Fenton, lectures on Guildhall site – 39 03 02a

1939 03 03

Licences renewed – Golden Rose, Pickerel, Arts Theatre – 39 03 03

A new automatic telephone exchange situated in High Street Histon provides the latest modern automatic apparatus to serve the telephonic requirements of 200 subscribers, day and night. Now they are able to connect themselves automatically to nearly 5,000 telephone numbers without the aid of an operator. The charges, varying from one penny to four pence will be registered automatically on their individual meters. The service is not comparable to that enjoyed in the largest cities 39 03 03a

Cambridge is to raise a 600 bed Military Hospital (Territorial) with an establishment of 23 officers, 50 nursing sisters and 145 other ranks. Steps are being taken to provide temporary accommodation for officers and social purposes pending the erection of permanent buildings. This new unit replaces the original 1st Eastern General raised in Cambridge and the Isle of Ely in 1908. After the war, the hospital was disbanded, but in 1938 it was reconstituted under the command of Lt.-Col. C. H. Budd. M.C. T.D. 39 03 03 CIPof

Cambridge A.R.P. trenches: permanent A.R.P. trenches are taking shape on Midsummer Common between Auckland Road and Brunswick School – photos – 113.70 - 39 03 03

1939 03 03 CIPof

Bus Mishap. Three men were injured at Papworth Everard on Wednesday, when a bus got out of control and jumped a ditch on the road between Kisby's Hut and Lattenbury Bridge.

Flu Sweeps Hunts Institution. During the last nine days. 16 deaths — the majority due to influenza — have occurred at St. Neots Public Assistance Institution, which has been closed to visitors by order of Dr. E. H. Harrison, the Medical Officer. On one day four deaths took place. The victims are mostly elderly people. Yesterday only people with relatives on the danger list were admitted. Several members of the staff are ill

New Master of Christ's.—Canon C. E. Raven, D.D., Regius Professor of Divinity, was yesterday elected Master of Christ's College, Cambridge, in succession to Dr. C. G. Darwin.

New Territorial Unit. Once more history is to repeat itself, and Cambridge is to be called upon to raise a 600 bed Military Hospital (Territorial) with an establishment of 23 officers, 50 nursing sisters and 145 other ranks. The hospital is to be raised at once, and already steps are being taken to provide temporary accommodation for officers and social purposes pending the erection of permanent buildings. This new unit replaces the original 1st Eastern General raised in Cambridge and the Isle of Ely in 1908. After the war, the hospital was disbanded, but in 1938 it was reconstituted under the command of Lt.-Col. C. H. Budd. M.C. T.D. c.45.6 # c.21.4

Lady as Deputy Grand.—A satisfactory outcome of the most difficult year experienced for a considerable time was reported at the annual meeting of the Cambridge District, Manchester Unity, Independent Order of Odd Fellows held on Saturday at the Lion Hotel. Cambridge. For the first time in its history, the district is likely to have a woman Provincial Grand Master next year. The 121 delegates elected Sister M. Woodford of the Strangers' Refuge Lodge, as Provincial D.G.M. She is the wife of the District Treasurer (Bro. J. M. Woodford), who is himself a Past Provincial Grand Master.

Aurora Borealis.—Last Friday's display of the Northern Lights, visible from many parts of the country, was seen very clearly at Intervals between 7.30 and 9 p.m. from points on the Melbourn-Meldreth Road, many people going to the railway bridge, where an un-obstructed view northward could be obtained.

Presentation, — Twenty years' service by Mr. H. S. Smith as hon. secretary of the Free Church Social and Literary Society (St. Ives) was recognised this week, when the members presented him with a barometer.

Death of a Nonagenarian.—Great Wilbraham has lost a very old and highly respected inhabitant by the death of Mrs. Wye, who passed away on February 24, aged 99 years. For the last few years she had resided with her daughter in Cambridge.

1939 03 03 ES

Ely trial blackout discussed p7

Delivery of steel shelters begun p7

Improving Isle air raid precautions p14

1939 03 04

Christ's Lane bar – 39 03 04

Tuberculosis work has been carried on in Camden Place for 25 years. Now the old dispensary is being demolished with a new clinic adjoining Shire Hall, Castle Hill opened by Prof Ryle. It is equipped with an X-ray apparatus of the highest quality with a skilled radiologist in charge of it. Now the death rate from tuberculosis in Cambridgeshire was one of the lowest. The new dental caravan was also on display 39 03 04a # c.21.1

1939 03 07

Cambridge & District Town Planning scheme inquiry heard that Grantchester Meadows, a large area of land between Cambridge and Coton, the University Farm and land at the Gog Magog Hills had been safeguarded. An area of 160 acres near Trumpington should be reserved for a municipal golf course. But at Rectory Farm, Milton the field the Corporation wanted to take was the only old pasture on the farm and the tenant had 21 cows and a bull. If he had to give it up it would take 10 years before the grass would be useful for milking purposes 39 03 07a # c.49.4

Little Chishill was inarticulate: there was no parish meeting or ways of making their voice known. It was a straggling hamlet of nine houses round the church and others down one side of the road; the other side was Great Chishill. The refuse was collected from one side, not the other. They should be combined, Gt Chishill council said. But residents were opposed; dust-carts spoiled the beauty of the countryside and they always buried their tins. 39 03 07b

Camden Place demolition for new head office Telephone Area – 39 03 07c

1939 03 08

The RDC heard that a drain needed for Stretham council houses should run inside the recreation ground and join up with the existing sewer. The Parish Council Chairman had said they'd be no difficulty but the council then refused permission. If they brought their outlet to the open ditch it would create a nuisance and the parish council would have to pay for it. That would bring them to their senses. 39 03 08 & a

Wilburton sewage & evacuation scheme

Huntingdon will be able to accommodate 2,212 persons evacuated in the event of war, nearly half the present population of the town. The majority would be children but include 888 adults. 39 03 08b

1939 03 10

Dora Pertz, Cambridge research worker – 39 03 10

Debden airfield construction fraud – 39 03 10a

Madingley wood future – 39 03 10b

Grantchester parish council did not want the construction of any road near the village. One of the advantages was the acute corners which meant that people cannot go through at speed. Widening them would lead to increased speed and greater danger. The nearer a ring road was to Grantchester the more disastrous it would be. The beauty of the village was to be sacrificed to an ideal of a boulevard, an inquiry was told. 39 03 11, 10c

1939 03 10 ES

Stretham: death of William Tyrrell Rayner, 68, builder of Ely Rd; family established in Stretham for 300 years, now died out; 1907 took over building business in S; was son late Philip Rayner, builder & wheelwright of Lt Downham; funeral p4

Littleport ARP organisation p7

The lighter side of ARP - supper p9

Ely RDC consider village fire appliances p11

1939 03 11

Ramsey St Mary haulage contractor's problems 39 03 11a, b

1939 03 13

Keith Falkner, the famous singer, gave a concert in Sawston, the village of his birth, in aid of a memorial to his father. He brought several other artists from London 39 03 13

1939 03 14

There are too few women councillors in Cambridge, said Mrs Hartree. Political parties have had the wisdom to put forward women candidates but it was better to be independent. 39 03 14

Ely jam factory chimney causes complaints; the fountain was an eyesore and should be moved – 39 03 14a

1939 03 15

Royston council's decision not to allow part of the Priory Estate to be used for shops, a garage filling station and showroom has been upheld by an Inspector. It was zoned for residential purposes and is unnecessary for local needs. The owners of the land had offered it to the council to be preserved as an open space, since development would mean the clearance of the trees. But there were a great many principles and a certain amount of money involved so it should be discussed by the full council 39 03 15

1939 03 16

Royston Council's old manual fire engine is a venerable relic but retains its 'Directions for Use'. "Put as many men at the handles as can stand both inside and out and move the handles quickly from top to bottom", it says. "Should an obstruction of the water appear ... it should be immediately stopped to allow the rubbish to be cleaned away ... On return from a fire it is advisable to pump clean water through the engine and remove mud ... that may have been drawn into the works", But in one of the pipes we discovered the mortal remains of a rat. The engine was given to the town by Henry Fordham and was only used for in-town fires. Now it may be sold. 39 03 16 & a # c.34.75

Cambridgeshire Cottage Improvement Society annual report 39 03 16b

1939 03 17

Value of air photography – detailed article – 39 03 17 # c.65.5

Plans to make the Festival Theatre a twice-nightly music-hall were knocked on the head by the war scare last September, a bankruptcy hearing was told. A lady trading as 'Diana Tempest', who was previously a clairvoyant under the name of Alexia, became actress manager at the Festival and the Theatre Royal Aldershot. But the venture was not successful: she did not take more than £50 a week and the expenses were £90. She was now earning £2 a week in Cambridge by her clairvoyancy. 39 03 17a # c.76

Meldreth builder bankruptcy 39 03 17b

1939 03 17 CIPof

Trainer's Will. Mr. College Leader, of Fairway House, Exning, racehorse trainer for the Earl of Derby, who died on December 9 last, aged 55, left gross estate of the value of £26,465 1s. 4d., with net personalty £14,657 12s. Id.

New Post. At the end of September, Mr. B. Touch, manager of the Ely and District Co-operative Society Ltd., will leave that post to take over the secretaryship of the Countess of Huntingdon's Connexion, whose offices are in London. In his new appointment, Mr. Touch will succeed Mr. E. Dolby Shelton now in his 83rd year, who has held the position for 34 years. Many residents of Ely will remember Mr. Shelton's connection with the city, where, in High Street, he was associated with a well known firm of printers. Mr. Touch, besides being vice-chairman of the Ely Urban District Council, is a member of the Public Assistance Sub-Committee and many other public and social bodies. 39 03 17 CIP Artist's Sudden Death. Shortly after complaining to his servants that he was feeling unwell, Mr. Alfred Frederick William Hayward, the well-known artist, died in his chair in the studio at his home at Hemingford Grey on Tuesday. He was 82. Mr. Hayward specialised in painting flowers, although he was a highly skilled still life artist. He was a member of the Royal Institute of Oil Painters and exhibited at the Royal Academy. He came to this country from Canada some years ago and purchased the house at Hemingford of a fellow artist, the late W. Dendy Sadler.

:

Strange Sequence. Four players with equal score had to cut for second and third prizes at the Literary Institute whist drive at the Constitutional Hall (St. Ives) on Tuesday. They turned up the two of hearts and the three, four and five of spades. Numbers four and five took the prizes.

Presentation, At a business meeting of the Baptist Old Meeting (Gamlingay) held recently, Mr. E. Garrott, who has resigned from the post of treasurer, was presented with an easy chair as a token of the appreciation of the congregation of his valued services to the church for many years. During his long connection with the Baptist cause, Mr. Garrott has been Sunday School Superintendent, Deacon and Treasurer.

Water Supply. A meeting concerning the village water supply (at Pampisford) was held in the school on Friday under the chairmanship of Mr. R. C. C. J. Binney (chairman of the Parish Council). After Mr. Binney had explained the details of the scheme, the meeting was thrown open for a general discussion. Several of those present expressed their own particular views and eventually the following resolution was passed by 15 votes to none five not voting. — "That as the village of Pampisford already has an adequate supply of pure water, there is no necessity for a piped water scheme."

1939 03 17 ES

Ely RDC plan new housing p7

Prickwillow: Ely council to build 12 houses on Padnal bank p7

Eastern counties food ship seized; British Destroyers rescue it from Spanish warships p11

1939 03 22

Isleham-Prickwillow road costs – 39 03 22

The Basque Children's Hostel is still in need of support. The children came over in 1937 and moved to the present hostel in 1938. The conquest of the greater part of Spain by Franco and his Fascist friends meant their parents were scattered and it was dangerous for them to return. Several businesses had given valuable support including Chivers and Pordage. It was a very happy home. There had been no bullying or dishonesty. Three of the boys were at garages being trained as motor mechanics, one girl was a dressmaker, another a laboratory assistant 39 03 22a # c.45.7

1939 03 23

A Hardwick family had been tenants of Pembroke College on lands at Hardwick for nearly 100 years. Now a widow claimed the tenancy belonged to her. She said the land had been granted to her grandfather by Lord Hardwicke and she'd lived for 15 years in a house consisting of two railway carriages. The deeds had been stored in a box that had been destroyed in a fire. But Pembroke produced documents showing they'd been granted the land under the Hardwick Inclosure Act. 39 03 23

Parts of Milton Road branch library are unsafe and re-building is the only cure, the Library Committee was told. It was constructed on the site of an old brickyard and there has been a serious settlement. Every cove cornice in every part was cracked and the whole library should be pulled down. A new building a short distance away was erected a short time ago and when the foundations were exposed it was found they had no bottom. It had to be built on piles that went 15 feet down to get a foundation. 39 03 23a # c.77.4

1939 03 24

Cherry Hinton factory proposed for Lamson Paragon Supply Company – 39 03 24

Cambridge Housing Association – needs desperate, perhaps use land Cherry Hinton Hall – 39 03 24a, b

Swann's Yard, Newmarket Road 'offensive trade' – rags & bones – 39 03 24b

1939 03 24 CIPof

Police Chief's War Prophecy. Huntingdonshire Chief Constable, Capt. J. T. Rivatt-Carnac, caused a Huntingdon and Godmanchester audience at a National Service meeting on Friday to gasp when he declared: "I think we are almost certainly due for another world war, either this year or next." Professing not to be a pessimist, he went on to say: "It is far better to face it. I think it is a mistake to tell people of improving conditions. It is far better to make them out to be worse than they are. To tell people in a voluntary country that they are all right will cause them to slacken and decline to volunteer. If you tell them they are really bad — they are worse now than they were last September -it is only self-preservation to .." The Chief Constable did not finish the sentence. Then, as if sensing the stir he had caused, he said: "I hope I am not being too pessimistic." The only opinions on that came, from other speakers on the platform. Wing Commander Findlay, of Wyton, speaking of the possibility of hostilities occurring, said: "I notice the police are a bit depressed about it." This raised a laugh. Dr. S. J. Peters, M.P., confessed that the Chief Constable had "made him feel gloomy."

First Within Living Memory. For the first time within living memory a marriage was solemnised in Magdalene College Chapel on Saturday. The bridegroom was Mr. R. F. Bennett, a graduate of the college, who was elected a Fellow last June. He was married to Miss Daphne Mayler, of Haverfordwest. Before the college service, a civil ceremony was performed at the Shire Hall.

R.D.C.'s New Clerk. Of the seven candidates interviewed by St. Ives Rural District Council on Wednesday for the post of non-legal Clerk, Mr. D. J. Tansley was selected. He is 34 years of age and is at present Deputy Clerk to the Dunmow Rural District Council. At St. Ives Mr. Tansley succeeds Mr. G. L. Day, who resigned because the work interfered with his private practice as a solicitor.

Presentation. — The Soham Station waiting room was the scene of a pleasing ceremony on Thursday week, when Mr. and Mrs. W. Ayres were presented with an armchair and a handbag respectively on the occasion of Mr. Ayres' retirement from the service of the L.N.E.R. The presentation was made by the Stationmaster (Mr. H. M. Parker). Mr. Ayres commenced service on the railway in 1898, and after a number of moves, went to Barway siding as signalman in 1909 and to Soham in 1912. He has thus completed 40 years' service, 29 of which were

1939 03 24 ES

Stretham: Pinions failure - without capital built up haulage business giving £10 week profit but hit by series of accidents; until 1929 assisted father as fruiterer & farmer at Wilburton; started with £100 in Sept 1929; by 1935 had 3 lorries & invested profits in new; but series of accidents 1936-7 & extra heavy premiums & sold up. Firm promised £863 but only paid £600 as yet. In November 1937 opened petrol station at Crossways with 4 pumps under hire purchase agreement for £516 but not sufficient turnover, could not pay & petrol supplies curtailed p4

1939 03 25

Mill Road cemetery chapel to be decorated by Reginald Hallwood – 39 03 25 # c.21.2

Chesterton Community Centre needed – 39 03 25a

Babraham Road development approved – 39 03 25b

1939 03 27

Marshall's airfield new hangars – 39 03 27 # c.26.1

1939 03 28

Cambridge members of the Women's Voluntary Services for Civil Defence are being trained as ambulance and car drivers. A feature of the classes is tuition in driving in the dark in gas masks and without lights and in changing wheels, fuses etc under the same conditions. This instruction is being given by Mr North of Messrs Marshall's, Jesus Lane. Women wishing to enrol for this important National Service should apply to the W.V.S., Old Post Office, St Andrew's Street - 39 03 28 # c.45.7

1939 03 29

Air Defence Cadet Corps Squadron formed – 39 03 29 & a # c.26.1

1939 03 30

The A.R.P. First Aid post at Auckland Road will be staffed by a doctor and trained nurse and give more extensive first-aid. Two practices have already taken place. A sham air raid was enacted last night with casualties brought in by ambulance and unloaded by stretcher bearers. Nurses and orderlies under the direction of Dr Walker, dealt with them. Realism was added by squibs which were let off and red paint was used to give the impression of real wounds. 39 03 30 & a # c.45.7

1939 03 31

Lands in the South Level are in greater peril of inundation than ever before owing to the rapidity of flood waters flowing down from the upland due to improvement of the upland water courses and because Denver Sluice in time of flood is impeded by water passing through the Hundred Foot River. The report by Sir Alexander Gibb should be examined, the Ouse Catchment Board was told. But the Board's engineer had criticised it. "This is the most inefficient body I have ever sat on, far worse than the most incompetent parish council", one member complained. 39 03 31 & a # c.29

1939 03 31 CIPof

Churchyards. A letter from Thriplow, signed "E. T. Hellins" follows up a note I had last week (says Watchman) about country churchyards. It says: "With reference to your note regarding country churchyards, in addition to the ones you mention, I think it is generally agreed that the churchyard at Great Shelford is kept in excellent order. It has been closed for burial for some years — with the exception of the interment of persons whose relatives are already interred there. Another nicely kept one is, or was — I have not visited the place for some years — at Hildersham, close to Linton."

An Old Servant. Mr. John Vincent Bellairs, who spent nearly the whole of his life in the service of one farm, died on Saturday at the age of 66 (at St. Ives). He entered the local office of Messrs. Coote and Warren Ltd. as a boy and when he left it over 50 years later, he was office manager. He had been retired about 18 months. He was a bachelor and lived with his mother at Needing-worth Road.

Dedication of New Organ. The new organ in the Congregational Church (Sawston) was dedicated on Tuesday evening. The Minister (the Rev. L. J. Ballard) conducted the service of dedication, in which thanksgivings were offered for all who had worked towards the raising of funds. In his address, the Minister remarked that gifts had come from Australia and Canada from old Sawstonians. The organ cost £315.

Veteran's Death. Mr. J. T. I Osborne died at Girton this week after a useful life of much activity in the village. He was Clerk to the Parish Council for 40 years, a tithe collector for 55 years, a village charity trustee for 33 and a school manager for 30. He was 90 years of age.

Director of Religious Education. The Rev. A. Wayment, who has been appointed to the Vicarage of Barton, has also been chosen by the Diocesan Board of Education to be Director of Religious Education in the diocese of Ely. Before he was ordained Mr. Wayment had a long and successful experience as headmaster of a large elementary school for boys at Lambeth. He succeeds the Rev. B. F. Sheppard in the post, but the work of Sunday School Adviser, which Mr. Sheppard combined with the directorship, will now be otherwise provided for.

1939 03 31 ES

Witcham has had fire engine since 1808

April 1939 CDN & CIPof & Ely Standard

1939 04 01

Rudd's Garage and Petrol Filling Station on the Huntingdon Road is well-known to thousands of motorists as a place where they may obtain expert and courteous service at a reasonable charge. For many years it has specialised in the presentation of reliable used cars. They currently have a very handsome selection of the popular low horse-powered used vehicles, all spick and span and ready for the road and almost indistinguishable from new. They are also sole agents for the new Renault 'Eight' 39 04 01

Mill Road cemetery chapel has been redecorated and a dedicatory service was conducted by the Bishop of Ely who said he was very keen about cemetery chapels, some of which were in a very sorry condition. Before this chapel was redecorated it was much better than some others. It is exceptional for a cemetery chapel to be inspiring and uplifting; they should be beautiful and eloquent of the Christian faith. He thanked the decorators for their work and a collection was taken in aid of the fund for the readornment of the chapel. 39 04 01a

1939 04 04

Clayhithe new bridge tested, will open to general traffic soon. Pedestrian traffic starts at once – 39 04 04

Ted Robinson licensee of British Queen for over 30 years – 39 04 04a

1939 04 06

A Lt Thetford man told the court he had served in the army until 1919 then commenced work as an agricultural labourer. In 1921 he became a postman. He was married with five children and farmed 65 acres of smallholding. He brought his own implements and made a good profit until 1937 when, during the disastrous floods, seven acres were completely under water and other crops were poor. Next year was equally bad owing to drought. He worked harder but his health failed him and he fell into temptation. 39 04 06

St Regis luxury flats, Chesterton Road. The main staircase has Rexine-finished walls with soft lights dispensing an atmosphere of well-being. The stairs are covered with cork to silence the noise. All flats are expensively fitted out and a resident caretaker will remove refuse and arrange for domestic cleaning. A unique feature is the provision of a large air raid shelter build under the garages. It has a concrete roof and will be perfectly safe against all but a direct hit by a heavy bomb. Provision has been made for gas-proofing it in case of emergency. 39 04 06a

1939 04 07 CIPof

Retirement. Alderman W. Few, the well-known member of the Cambridge Town Council, retired from the L.N.E.R. on Wednesday. He did his last job of driving— to Mildenhall—that morning. He has been with the Company for 46 years, and a driver since 1914.

Married. The wedding took place at Cherry Hinton Parish Church early on Monday morning of Barbara Ruth, daughter of Lt.-Colonel and Mrs. F. N. Drake Digby, of 20 Fendon Road, and William Nicholas, son of Mrs. Carter, of Slough, and the late Rev. T. B. Carter, some time Vicar of Little Farringdon, Gloucestershire. The ceremony was very quiet, only very close relatives being present.

Youngest Team of Bell Ringers? An article in a national newspaper (writes Watchman) recently told of a schoolgirl, aged 16 years, who was an expert bell ringer. Meldreth's church bells were re-hung two years ago, and a team (of ringers) was made up of Wilfred Butler, 13; John Gipson, 13; George Newell, 12; Archie Tuck, 16; Jim Turner, 16. The boys were very keen. They joined the Bell Ringers' Association and attended all the meetings round about. A few weeks ago they rang their first peal, and are very proud of it. I wonder if they are the youngest team? Their ages now, of course, are 15 years. 15. 14 18 and 18

Death.—Sir Charles Wentworth Stanley died on Friday at his home, Bentley Corner, Cambridge, aged 79. He had been in ill-health for some years. Sir Charles, who was High Sheriff of Cambridge-shire and Huntingdonshire in 1930, took a wide and active interest in many county activities until his retirement a few years ago. Born in 1860, he was the eldest son of Capt. Sidney Stanley, of Longstowe Hall. He was a member of the 4th Suffolk Regiment, and during the war was with the Cam-bridgeshire Regiment. Prominently associated with the Conservative Party in Cambridgeshire, he was a past President of the Association. He was knighted for public services in 1929. Until his retirement a few years ago, he was an alderman of the Cambridgeshire County Council and Vice-

Chairman of Cambridgeshire Quarter Sessions. For over 40 years he was a J.P., and during that time was Chairman of the Caxton Bench.

Champion Darts Team. — The championship of the Shelford and District League has changed hands this season, the winners being the Horseshoes (Stapleford) team. Having obtained the lead several weeks ago, the team has never looked like being caught, and were eventually easy winners. Proof of the team's merits is also emphasised by two of the players being concerned in the final of the singles championship. Messrs N. Johnson and J. Sanderson, the former winning the trophy for the second successive year.

Golden Wedding in Australia. — Mrs. Potter, of the Anchor (Bottisham) has received a paper from Maryborough, Australia, containing an account of the golden wedding of her brother, Mr. Alfred John Jarvis. Mr. Jarvis is the eldest son of the late Mr. W Jarvis, who lived for many years at the Anchor with his daughter. He was born at Waterbeach and went to Australia in March, 1887 in the sailing ship Eastminster, the journey taking 91 days. His brother, Mr. Walter Jarvis, went with him. They landed with but 9d. between them, and of this they spent 6d. for a stamp to send a letter home to say they had arrived safely. At various times, Mr. A. J. Jarvis worked on a sugar plantation and at timber hauling, serving at the latter for nearly 50 years with one firm

1939 04 07 ES

Ely RDC make doubly sure of pure water supply; chlorination plant to be installed; trailer pumps at Littleport & Haddenham p11

1939 04 08

Good Friday skipping photo – 39 04 08 # c.39

1939 04 11

Mayoress tries out a Bren gun on Parker's Piece – 39 04 11

The Cambridgeshire Regiment displayed its new mechanical vehicles on Parker's Piece on Easter Monday, attracting large crowds. There was a small tank, anti-tank rifle and a Bren gun mounted on a tripod which can be used as an anti-aircraft gun to keep invading aeroplanes at least 2,000 feet up. The Mayoress (Mrs A.A. Spalding) became so interested that she insisted on going through the motion of firing it without live ammunition 39 04 11a

Swaffham Bulbeck cottage fire – 39 04 11a

1939 04 12

New Guildhall rapidly nearing completion – photo – 39 04 12

1939 04 14

Caxton Gibbet Cut Down. The Caxton Gibbet is no more. The famous hanging post, which stood on the side of the Old North Road as a reminder of olden days' justice was cut down by someone unknown on Sunday. "Neatly sawn off" was the way the manageress of the Caxton Gibbet Hotel described what she found early on Monday morning. The gibbet was still dominating the scene late on Sunday evening, but on Monday morning only a stump of about six inches was standing. It took eight men to carry the famous oaken sentinel to the hotel yard, where it now lies. "We wish we could find some clue," said the manageress, "but there is none. Everyone is very indignant about it. Holidaymakers passing through called and wanted to know where the gibbet had gone." The gibbet stood at the side of the Old North Road a few yards from the spot where it crosses the St. Neots Road. It was not knocked down by anything, but carefully sawn through. Though very few of the passers-by must have known it, the gibbet was actually a replica of the one which stood at the spot years ago and had only been standing about five years. The site had always been remembered as the scene of old-time hangings, and a notice to this effect was erected prior to the erection of the replica. The 20th-century gibbet was made by the brewers for the hotel. They made it with some very old oak and erected it with the permission of the Society for the Preservation of Ancient Monuments. An official of the brewery went to the spot this week, and it was decided to replace the gibbet. So Caxton will not lose its claim to fame after all.

1939 04 14 CIPof

Fire Engine for Museum. Royston's ancient manual fire engine has been found a home. At the Royston Urban Council's meeting on Tuesday, it was reported that the Vicar of Shepreth had asked whether the Council would give it to the Shepreth Museum Committee, and the Council decided that they would # c.34.75 # c.03

Married. A well-known Ely doctor, son of a medical man who practised in the city for many years, was married to the daughter of a Cambridge physician in St. Benet's Church, Cambridge, on Wednesday afternoon. He was Dr. Francis George Archer Beckett, M.A., M.B., B.Ch., L.R.C.P., son of the late Dr. F. H. M. A. Beckett. The bride was Miss Lucy Daville Haynes, daughter of Dr. G. S. Haynes, of the Corner House, Cambridge. Over 300 guests attended the reception, which was held in the hall of King's College.

Died Five Months after Diamond Wedding. Mr. George Skeel, a well-known Cambridgeshire farmer before the War, died on Sunday at his home, 154 Girton Road Cambridge, Born on his father's farm near Bottisham Lode 86 years ago, he went to Sanderson Farm, Girton, in 1891, when the village was remote from Cambridge. He retired in 1911. An expert at duck and snipe shooting, Mr. Skeel used to take University men shooting on his father's farm on the lode. He used to be assisted in this by a Mr. Tarrant, who was a gunsmith in Sussex Street. In later years, Mr. Skeel was a great worker in the Girton parish. Mr. and Mrs. Skeel celebrated their diamond wedding last October. His widow and three sons survive him. One of his sons, Mr. Arthur Reginald Skeel, is well known in Cambridgeshire as a Cycling pioneer.

1939 04 14 ES

Ely hostel for refugees - help solicited p7

1939 04 15

Caxton Gibbet stood on its usual site on the Old North Road late on Sunday evening. Early Monday morning only a stump of about six inches remained. The gibbet had not been knocked down but neatly sawn off. It was a replica made by the brewers Payne for the hotel using very old oak and had only been standing about five years. The site had always been remembered as the scene of old-time hangings. Now it will be replaced. 39 04 15

1939 04 17

The old First Eastern General Hospital had been born again last year, but it had a short life and died in the September crisis. Then the Cabinet decided to form eight Territorial General Hospitals and it was revived as the "2nd (1st Eastern) General Hospital". There are 23 officers and 145 other ranks, a matron and nurses and it will have the same number of beds, about 600. Old Comrades can assist training recruits in the initial stages, they were told at their annual dinner 39 04 17 # c.21.4 # c.45.7

1939 04 18

Tank stimulates recruits – photo – 39 04 18

1939 04 19

The Master of Corpus Christi College has been appointed Commissioner for the Eastern Region under the Civil Defence Scheme, with Lord Eltisley as his deputy. Sir Will Spens, 57, has been Master since 1928 and was knighted last year. Lord Eltisley is the former MP for Cambridge, an alderman of the County Council and High Steward of the Borough of Cambridge. The twelve Regional Commissioners will direct civil defence on behalf of the Government in war-time from cities and towns throughout Britain. 39 04 19 # c.45.7

The inquest on a 19-year-old aircraftman who shot himself while on sentry duty at Bassingbourn airfield failed to find any evidence as to what had led him to commit suicide. He had been issued with a rifle and five rounds of blank ammunition. Police found the empty case of a live cartridge in the magazine. There was no blank ammunition anywhere. Later the missing rounds were found in another airman's coat pocket. It seemed he had taken the wrong coat by mistake. 39 04 19a

British Portland Cement has constructed an emergency headquarters at the disused Saxon Cement Works in Coldham's Lane. Built by William Sindall it includes a complete set of offices with bombproof shelters and all A.R.P. necessities. There are two decontamination rooms with gas proof windows and splinter-proof steel shutters. Seven bomb-proof dugouts covered with eight inches of reinforced ferro-concrete and two feet of earth can each accommodate 30 people. It has an air-filtration plant, central heating and electricity supplied from an accumulator driven by a crude oil engine 39 04 19b & c # c.27 # c.45.7

National service and ARP: the young man's job: prepare today. How you can help yourself – articles explaining situation – 39 04 19d & f

Lavender & Bateman for air raid shelters of all kinds – advertisement – 39 04 19e

Air raid precautions. Every house should have a refuge room. A cellar or basement is the best. The stronger the walls, floor or ceiling the better. If possible the room should be without windows. If this is impossible steps can be taken to lessen the danger of the windows being blown in by blast and so perhaps allow the entry of gas-laden air. Sandbags or boxes filled with earth should be placed outside them. Otherwise trenches can be dug seven foot deep with at least two entrances and covered with corrugated iron topped with two feet of earth. Keep these pages for future reference – 39 04 19 e,f, g, h # c.45.7

1939 04 20

Water supplies at Old Wimpole adequate, no householder wanted to take water from mains, but Gt Chishill wanted supply – 39 04 20

1930 04 21

The Victoria Friendly Institution was inaugurated at a meeting at the Wrestlers Inn, Petty Cury in 1837 and the foundation stone of the old building laid in 1841. A programme and a number of coins were also placed in a bottle. But there is no trace of them. Now six houses have been erected to mark their centenary, providing happiness for those fortunate enough to be elected tenants. It was a great satisfaction to know there were such places in which people could spend the eventide of life 39 04 21 # c.32.9

1939 04 21 CIPof

Police Wartime Reserve.—The recruitment of a special Police War Reserve and the provision of private telephone lines for police use in time of war was approved at Friday's meeting of the Huntingdonshire Standing Joint Committee at Huntingdon.

New Head of Clare.—Mr. Henry Thirkill, M.A. President and Tutor of Clare College, was on Monday elected Master, in succession of Mr. G. H. A. Wilson. Mr. Thirkill was educated as an undergraduate, at Clare College, and was elected a Fellow of the College in 1910, shortly after he had taken his degree. He was elected Tutor of the College in 1920, and has held the Presidency since 1930.

Championship Retained.—Jackie Clarke, of Cambridge, retained the Eastern Area lightweight boxing championship on Monday, when, at Bury St. Edmunds for the second time in six weeks, he out-pointed Walter Redit, of Wicken, the former holder.

Presentation. — Twenty - five years' devoted service as Secretary of the Cambridge Trades Council and Labour Party were honoured on Wednesday evening, when presentations were made to Mr. J. J.

('Jimmy') Overton and to Mrs. Overton. An interesting feature of the proceedings was that Mr. Overton, who has been associated for many years with a well-known Cambridge firm of watchmakers and jewellers, selected as the gift from the Party of a gold watch. He was also presented with a cheque and a handsome album containing the names of all subscribers. Mrs. Overton received an armchair.

Defence Chiefs.—Sir Will Spens, Master of Corpus Christi College, has been appointed Commissioner for the Eastern Region under the Civil Defence Scheme, with Lord Eltisley as his deputy. The names of 12 of the Regional Commissioners, who are to direct Civil Defence on behalf of the Government in war-time from 12 cities and towns throughout Great Britain were announced in the House of Commons. The Commissioners are nominated for three years as from April 1. # c.45.6

Plane Crash. — An aeroplane, piloted from Cambridge by F. Rickaby, the well-known Newmarket jockey, crashed while trying to land at Utttoxeter racecourse on Tuesday. The machine collided with a hedge and overturned. There were two passengers in the plane and both escaped injury. Rickaby, who has held a flying licence for six years, rode in the third race at the meeting.

Blossom Time.—A correspondent writes: The air for the past week at Over has been heavily scented with perfume thrown off by the blossoming trees. There is a wonderful show of blossom, and the trees look as if they are covered with snow. All the plum trees have blossomed well, the Czar blossom being exceptionally heavy. The pear blossom is just out, but the apple will not be out for a few days, while in the hedgerows the wild sloe has an abundance of blossom, as has the wild cherry plum, which has now shed it and is covered with leaves.

1939 04 21 ES

Glimpses from past: Engine used as Royal train 1903 - photo p16

1939 04 22

An appeal was made for townspeople to join the army of National Service. Cambridge requires 540 air wardens, 189 special constables and 90 men for the auxiliary fire service. Women could join the Land Army, nursing or first-aid services or help with the evacuation of children. The world is in the hands of certain irresponsible and uncontrolled men. Vast multitudes had lined the streets of Berlin to cheer their leader, the man who had massacred the liberties of two neighbouring people. We need to be ready 39 04 22 # c.45.7

Regional commissioners for civil defence – editorial – 39 04 22a

Caxton gibbet – last man hanged was Partridge – 39 04 22b

J.M. Bull, dairy farmers, open new. Rock Estate depot, Cherryhinton Road – 39 04 22c

1939 04 25

The Central Cinema, Hobson Street, was burnt to a shell in the early hours of the morning. Only the fire-proof operating box, the foyer, crush hall and some of the back stalls remain intact. Firemen hauled hoses up to the roof of the Dorothy Café and from the high ladder of the Merryweather turntable in Hobson Street P.C. Kelly poured another stream of water on to the flames. But after an hour-and-a-half the roof fell in amid a shower of sparks. There was concern about Christ's College chapel where the roof had been removed because of damage done by the death watch beetle and only a tarpaulin covered the wooden ceiling. But a shower of rain helped to prevent it catching alight 39 04 25a, b # c.76.9 # c.34.75

1939 04 27

Progress is being made on the construction of the Cambridge Waterworks Company's new reinforced concrete service reservoir on Lime Kiln Road. With a capacity of two million gallons, it will double the available storage so that in the event of a breakdown at the pumping station the supply could be maintained for practically two days. Over 1,400 tons of concrete and 150 tons of steel will be used. When finished the banks and roof will be soiled and sown with grass seed to provide effective camouflage for something which would doubtless prove attractive to raiding aeroplanes 39 04 27a # c.24.2

1939 04 28 CIPof

Worst Angling for 58 Years. — Hopes for a better season were expressed at the annual meeting of the St. Ives and District Fish Preservation and Angling Society on Wednesday evening. Mr. E. Collinson (secretary), in his report, stated that it had been the worst season during his 58 years as secretary, but they lived in hope for the future.

Appointment. — Mr. Henry Tomlinson, M.Sc., at present Warden of the Village College, Linton has been appointed headmaster of Sexey's School, Blackford. Somerset, in succession to Mr. Laurence Abram, M.Sc., who is retiring. Mr. Tomlinson had a brilliant academic career at Manchester University. Sexey's School, Blackford, is an endowed secondary boarding school for boys and girls situated in the Somerset countryside. The school has attached to it a small farm. An agricultural course is conducted for boys and girls and the produce of the farm supplies the boarding side of the school.

Gold Medallist. — Mr. Albert Cox, the well known local bass, who recently obtained a gold medal for singing at the London Academy of Music, also won the Miller Bowl for singing at the Cambridge Solo Festival on Saturday. He is a student of the Mackenzie School of Music.

Councillor Bereaved. — Mrs. Emma Chapman Horn, wife of Councillor W. W. Horn, of St. Mary's Street, St. Ives, died at their residence on Tuesday morning aged 74. Mr. and Mrs. Horn were married at St. Mary Abbots, Kensington in 1890 and had lived in St. Ives for the past 28 years. Mrs. Horn made many friends, particularly during her husband's mayoralty in 1925.

Cambridge Cinema Gutted. — The Central Cinema, Hobson Street, Cambridge was burnt to a shell in the early hours of Tuesday morning. Adjoining property was endangered but the Cambridge Borough Fire Brigade managed to prevent the flames from spreading. When they finally subdued the outbreak after a five hours' fight, only the walls, the fire proof operating box, the foyer, crush hall and offices and some-rows of the back stalls remained Intact, though, viewed from the outside, the building shows little evidence of the havoc wrought by the flames. The damage amounted to several thousands of pounds. # c.76.9 # c.34.75

New Vicar. — The Rev A. Wayment was inducted and instituted to the living of Barton on Friday by the Bishop of Ely, assisted by Bishop Price.

Not a Bomb. — Last week-end a gentleman deposited an attaché case in the parcels office at Huntingdon railway station. A little later one of the clerks heard a ticking sound coming from the case. Being suspicious, he called the porters and also the clerk at the bookstall. The ticking still went on, and the case was carefully carried out and placed at the extreme end of the platform to await the explosion. The owner of the case came along and explained that all it contained was a travelling clock.

Golden Wedding. Mr. and Mrs, Oliver Pink, of St. Michael's Lane, Longstanton, who celebrated their golden wedding on Sunday, all the family, consisting of three daughters 18 grandchildren, one great grandchild and three sons-in-law, being present. Altogether 28 sat down to tea. Mr. and Mrs. Pink were married at Bene't Street Register Office, Cambridge, on April 20, 1889. Mr. Pink, who is 78, is a native of Longstanton and has resided in the village all his life. Unfortunately he has been for some years in failing health. Mrs. Pink, who is 73, is a native of Swavesey.

Denver river improvements, Fishing corner to be removed. CT. JM119

1939 04 28 ES

Nurse Clark to retire after 32 years, Ely - photo p9

Ely's new water tower progress - photo p9

River Ouse improvements at Denver - photo p16

Stretham: Isle to lay 2ft pipe through pond which then be filled in; because of flooding to enlarge a pipe from 1ft to 2ft p10

1939 04 29

In the event of war there would be several hundred thousand casualties in the first few weeks.

Cambridge was tolerably safe from air raids but patients would be transferred to Addenbrooke's

Hospital from other areas. But there was a shortage of nurses. A nurse could do a great deal for a casualty with no hospital, but a hospital could do nothing for a casualty without a doctor and a nurse –

39 04 29 & a # c.45.7 # c.21.3

May 1939 CDN & CIPof & Ely Standard

1939 05 01

It is unlikely that the Water Company's source of supply, the Fleam Dyke pumping station, would be chosen as a target by enemy bombers, but even if it were it is less likely that a direct hit capable of putting both duplicate sets of machinery out of action would be registered. However the disused Fulbourn pumping station has been completely reconditioned as a precaution. But if Cambridge was raided it is almost inevitable that water mains would sustain considerable damage the Manager said. The Company supplied water to 81,000 people but this may well be increased to over 110,000 by evacuations from London, 39 05 01 & a

1939 05 02

Allied newspapers, telling the public the truth; Lord Iliffe to retire – 39 05 02

1939 05 03

If war came some kind of press censorship would be inevitable, the Home Secretary told the Newspaper Society dinner. Retiring President, Captain A.C. Taylor, Managing Director of the CDN, said the provincial newspaper editor was very discrete and trustworthy but must make a true and faithful record of events as they take place. Only a free Press, unfettered by Government interference, can be looked upon as a true Press, and a faithful record of everyday affairs 39 05 03b

1939 05 04

The cries of a twelve-month-old baby saved the lives of an unemployed man, his wife and four children on the St Neots Road near Hardwick turning. It awakened her mother, who found that the room in which she and the other members of the family were sleeping was rapidly filling with smoke. They ran to safety outside, clad only in their night attire. The fire rapidly caught hold and the building was burnt to the ground, only the brick chimney remaining 39 05 04

1939 05 05

The Ely and Chatteris area would receive about 9,000 evacuees in three days, the W.V.S. was told. Accommodation offered for the children far exceeded the number that would be billeted, but there was not sufficient accommodation for adults. The first batch of evacuees would arrive at Ely at 1.05pm, bringing 1,000 and the second train at 5.35 and the W.V.S. could escort them to their billets. The receiving stations in Ely would be Silver Street and Broad Street schools. Food would be provided but the authorities did not have the means to prepare or serve it 39 05 05 & a

1939 05 05 CIPof

Bungalow Gutted.—The cries of a 12-months-old baby saved the lives of an unemployed man, his wife and four children when fire broke out in their bungalow on the St Neots Road near Hardwick turn in the early hours of yesterday morning. The child, Patricia Pink, awakened her mother, who found that the room in which she and other members of the family were sleeping, was rapidly filling with smoke. She roused her husband, Mr Wm. Stephen Pink, who took hold of Anita, aged 2, and Derrick, aged 6, while his wife took the baby, Patricia, and Terence, aged 5. They ran with them to safety outside, clad only in their night attire. The fire rapidly obtained a firm hold, and before long the building was burnt to the ground, only the brick chimney stack re-maining standing. The Borough Fire Brigade turned out under P.S. Clague but no water was available. All the family's belongings were destroyed except a bundle of wash-ing and a dress of Mrs. Pink's which Mr. and Mrs. Pink grabbed as they ran outside.

Recruiting Speed-up. Recruiting for the Territorial Army in the County of Cambridge and the Isle of Ely has made great strides in the last few days. Already the 1st Cambridgeshire Regt. and the 2nd General Hospital has reached war strength and the 250th Field Company Royal Engineers, expect to do so before the end of this week. This is very encouraging progress, and is largely due to the support which has been given to their men by employers, who have promised that the man who comes forward to defend his country shall not risk either being out of pocket or losing his job. Many employers have also been very helpful in promising men who enlist now that they shall have a holiday on full pay additional to the time spent in camp.

Three - Hour Chase. A cow brought to Cambridge Cattle Market on Monday became enraged and had to be shot after a chase lasting over three hours. In the course of its mad stampede through fences, hedges and gardens it knocked down an old gentleman, Mr. Ernest Warboys of 218 Hills Road. He was not badly hurt, but had to go to bed after being seen by a doctor.

Railway Fireman Injured. A railway fireman was taken to Addenbrooke's Hospital with injuries to a shoulder after an accident near Cambridge Railway Station on Tuesday morning. He was Arthur Cambridge, aged 38, of 24, Suez Road. He was working near the station when he was caught between a truck and the engine, but his injuries are, fortun-ately, not serious.

Presentation. At the County Education Offices (Huntingdon) on Saturday, Mr. H. A. Holloway, who has retired from the position of school attendance officer, was pre-sented with a gold wristlet watch by the staffs of the Education and Public Health Offices. Dr. Moss Blundell made the presentation and Major Harvey also spoke of Mr. Holloway's good work.

1939 05 05 ES

Isle's part in evacuation - reception of 18,000 planned p9

1939 05 06

Dorothy Garrod of Newnham College elected first woman professor of Cambridge University – women are not officially members of the university and have no gowns – 39 05 06 # c.36.98

1939 05 08

A.R.P. trenches to be discussed in congested areas where gardens too small to build their own – 39 05 08 & a

1939 05 09

Milton Road Library – surveyor's report on site; some movement but hundreds of houses have been built on sites excavated for gravel or coprolite – 39 05 09. But cracking continues – 39 05 11b # c.77.4

For many couples contemplating marriage, the biggest obstacle is a home. Mr L.M. Parker, a local bricklayer, was faced with that problem in 1935 and set to to build his own. It took him three years to finish but if you go along to 187 Hinton Way you will agree his time has been well spent. It is a home any working-class man would be proud to possess with six rooms, modern labour-saving devices and inlaid cupboards. Above all the cost was comparatively negligible. 39 05 09 # c.23

1939 05 10

Dr H.M. Leake has invented a seed drill which will revolutionise the sowing of root crops. The Leake Spacer Drill sows groups of four seeds at intervals of nine inches – 39 05 10

1939 05 11

Air raid trenches would not protect people in event of air raid. Seven minutes would elapse after the warning before the planes were here. During that time head wardens had to get their wardens out of bed and they, in turn, had to get people out of their beds into the trenches. Under this scheme 30,000 people would be turned out into the darkened streets where there might be a lot of transport. Instead steel shelters should be provided, councillors were told. Cambridge was a safe place and trenches were practically no defence against aerial bombing. And they were narrow: young men will be touching knees with girls (Laughter) 39 05 11 & a # c.45.7

1939 05 12

Sir Murdoch MacDonald was appointed consulting engineer to the Great Ouse Catchment Board to report on the whole programme of the tidal river and whether a barrage is the right solution to the problem. He had worked chiefly in Egypt, built a bridge across an estuary in Scotland and was now working on a large harbour scheme on the West coast of England. He also had considerable experience in carrying out work on the Wash 39 05 12 # c.29

1939 05 12 CIPof

Cambs. Council Chairman, — Coun. A. R. Fordham was re-elected Chairman and Ald. W. J. Taylor Vice - Chairman of the Cambridgeshire County Council at the annual meeting of the Council on Saturday. No other nominations were received, and the elections lasted only 10 minutes.

Woman Professor for Cambridge. — On the anniversary of her birthday, Miss Dorothy Annie Elizabeth Garrod, of Newnham College, Cambridge, was on Saturday elected the first woman professor at Cambridge University. Miss Garrod, who is an archaeologist of distinction, was educated at both Oxford and Cambridge, and is the daughter of the late Sir Archibald Garrod, the former Regius Professor of Physics at Oxford. She succeeds Dr. E. H. Minns, of Pembroke College, on October 1 in the Disney Professorship of Archaeology, # c.36.98

Cool and Clever Riding. — An exhibition of cool and clever riding, seldom witnessed, even on a racecourse, was seen at Newmarket on Tuesday, when Orange and Green, a big jumper trained by Ryan Jarvis, bolted with the tiny lad, T. Fitzgerald, who was riding him. The horse dashed through the High Street at top speed. Approaching the traffic island at the top of the town, the boy attempted with all his strength to check the horse's pace, but without avail, and disaster seemed inevitable. To the astonishment of the onlookers, Fitzgerald managed to get him safely round the sharp turn, and after he galloped another half mile, pulled him up safe and sound.

Harry Pink Dies Suddenly. "Harry Pink was popular with his colleagues and his pleasant manner and ready welcome will be missed by visitors as well as staff at the hotel." This tribute was paid by Mr. L. B. Barr, a director of the Lion Hotel, Petty Cury, Cambridge, to Mr. Pink, a member of his staff for 28 years, who died at his home suddenly on Saturday evening. He lived with his wife and three of their four children at 145 Chesterton Road. "Mr. Pink," continued Mr. Barr, "was hotel porter, and also had charge of the stock rooms, in which capacity he became known to hundreds of people from all parts of the British Isles. Hotel visitors and friends are continually coming and saying, "Where is Harry?" Mr. Pink, who was 46, went to the hotel in 1911 as "buttons," and except for the period of the war when he joined the 203rd Field Company of the Royal Engineers, remained a member of the staff. He was also a member of the Royal Antediluvian Order of Buffaloes and an A.R.P. warden for Chesterton. # c.27.45

Mothers' Union Jubilee. — Over 2,000 members of the Cambridgeshire branches of the Mothers' Union attended a special service in Ely Cathedral on Wednesday afternoon, the occasion of a thanksgiving festival in celebration of the jubilee of the Union in the Diocese of Ely. Altogether, 98 branches brought with them 74 banners, and the scene was a most inspiring one as 55 robed clergy headed the procession from the West End of the Cathedral to the Octagon. The Union diocese banner was placed at the foot of the altar. The sermon was given by the Dean of Ely (the Very Rev. L. E. Blackburne) and the collection was devoted towards the Bishop's Appeal Fund.

1939 05 12 ES

Isle reassessment of licenced houses "will force tenants out of business" p4

Civil defence - county council scheme complete p7

1939 05 13

Clayhithe Bridge opened – 39 05 13

Ronald Searle cartoon having joined Royal Engineers – 39 05 13a # c.45.7

1939 05 15

Sir – my criticism of the appointment of Sir Malcolm MacDonald as consulting engineer with the Ouse Drainage Board is that he is 72 years of age. This is rather old for such a tremendous undertaking since the Ouse is probably the most difficult river problem in the world. He is also a Member of Parliament and may not have time to give to the work. And the fee seems a lot. Mr O. Borer, the Board's skilled, resident engineer, is hampered by having so many Saturday afternoon members of the Board who adopt a parish pump attitude. – S.S. Wilson 39 05 15 # c.29

Cottenham King George V Memorial playing field opened – 39 05 15a

Cherry Hinton Hall Youth Hostel opened – 39 05 15b

1939 05 16

There was only a solitary sweet stall on the green which is usually well-filled with swings and roundabouts when the Mayor of Cambridge came to open Reach Fair. After lunch two or three side-shows had arrived, but they were unrepresentative of the noise and excitement traditionally associated with the event. But the ceremony followed its time-honoured procedure, pennies were thrown and the Town Clerk read the proclamation. Though it seems a little decrepit, the fair may flower again, the Master of Magdalene predicted 39 05 16 & a # c.27.31

1939 05 17

When Christ Church was established, 100 years ago, Barnwell inhabitants were described as 'heathen and dissolute'. Nelson Street was known as 'Devil Street' and there were many proctorial raids. The credit for the change was due to churches such as Christ Church and Zion who had now eliminated many of the differences between themselves. Congregations had been very hard hit by the demolition of houses in the districts but they hoped more young people would offer support, the centenary celebrations were told 39 05 17 # c.83

Ely's old Drill Hall was an awful place, not fit for a gangster to live in. But the new one is one of the most modern of its type and will be used for the training of personnel. The Isle's own Territorial Army battalion is nearly up to strength and if youngsters joined the Territorials they would be 'old hands' when called up for service in the Regular Army 39 05 17a, 18a

1939 05 18

Tackling an incendiary bomb – photo – 39 05 18

Godmanchester council's action in purchasing a siren for A.R.P. purposes was unauthorised and they must pay for it themselves. Everybody had thought the County Council would pay as they were responsible for public air raid warnings all over the county. But they had decided sirens were only needed at Fletton, Ramsey, Huntingdon, St Ives and St Neots. The Huntingdon siren, supplemented by one at the hosiery mills was sufficient for Godmanchester 39 05 18b

Jack Brignell carried on business as a builder and undertaker in Newmarket Road for over 40 years. He erected many large buildings in Cambridge but was recently mainly engaged on Council schemes such as the erection of the Coleridge Senior School. He was a county councillor and took a keen interest in the Mill Road Infirmary, Salvation Army, Victoria Institution and Cambridge Brotherhood. He died on the eve of his only son's 21st birthday so a coming of age party arranged at his college, Sidney Sussex, has of course been abandoned. 39 05 18c # c.23

1939 05 19 CIPof

Welcome for Mrs. C. R. Attlee. — Mrs. C. R. Attlee, wife of the Leader of the Opposition, opened a fair held by the Cambridge Trades Council and Labour Party in the Labour Hall on Saturday afternoon. It was held in aid of the fund to reduce the debt on the hall. Mrs. Attlee was introduced and welcomed by Mrs. Rackham.

First in the County. — The first King George V Memorial playing field was opened at Cottenham .on Saturday. It is a spacious ground in Lamb Lane, and in the words of the Chairman of the Cottenham Parish Council (Mr. Arthur Cundell), it is what the village has been trying to get for 30 years. Now the sporting element of the village will be well catered for. The local Sports Association is contributing £50 a year to the cost of the project, to which the King George Memorial Fund gave £600 —a third of the local cost. Saturday's opening was performed by the Lord Lieutenant of the County (Mr. C. R. W. Adeane) who formally unlocked the main gates. Dr. R. Salisbury Woods congratulated Cottenham on being the first village in Cambridgeshire to possess a King George's Memorial Field, a field which would be held in perpetuity, and therefore free from the encroachment of the builder.

Pilot's Narrow Escape. An R.A.F. Volunteer Reserve pilot had a narrow escape at Marshall's Aerodrome (Cambridge) on Saturday. As he landed, his machine overturned, finishing up on its back. He ducked his head inside the cockpit, so escaping injury. The machine was badly damaged, but did not catch fire. # c.26.1

Death of Mr. John Brignell.—On the eve of his son's 21st birthday Mr. John Brignell, the well-known and esteemed Cambridge builder died yesterday in his 68th year. He had carried on a business as a builder and undertaker for 40 years. He erected many large buildings in Cambridge, but latterly was mainly engaged on Borough Council schemes, one of the most recent being Coleridge Senior School in Radegund Road. Outside his business activities he had many public, philanthropic and religious interests. He had been a member of the Cambs. County Council since 1931, and took a keen interest in the Mill Road Infirmary. He was a staunch supporter of the extensive improvements carried out there and was a frequent and popular visitor. He was a member of the Cambridge Board of Guardians until that body was dissolved. Another interest extending over many years was the Cambridge Salvation Army. The Cambridge Brotherhood claimed his active support over a long period, and for the past six years he had been president. He was an active Liberal in former years, and always retained his faith in Liberalism # c.23

Dedicatory Service.—There was a short service in Ely Cathedral on Tuesday evening, when an altar cloth and other gifts by the Cambridgeshire Regiment were dedicated in the Memorial Chapel. The service was conducted by the Rt. Rev. H. Mcc. E. Price, Assistant Bishop, assisted by the Dean, the Very Rev. L. E. Blackburne.

Disgraceful Conduct. — Within three hours of the burial of a respected local resident in Great Shelford Cemetery last week, members of the family visiting the grave found ribbon had been taken from the floral tributes and the cards destroyed. This disgraceful conduct has shocked many residents and it is hoped the inquiries being made will reveal the culprit.

1939 05 19 ES

Ely new drill hall opened - photo p4

Wentworth rectory withdrawn at sale p8

Ely market hill fountain removing to Brays Lane - photo p9

1939 05 20

Cambridge Corn Exchange was packed with 2,500 undergraduates when Winston Churchill made a striking speech on conscription which was relayed to the Lion Hotel. There was some violence when those unable to get in attempted to force an entrance; during the melee a policeman lost his helmet. Several hundred undergraduates remained outside until a proctor ordered them to disperse. Inside a motion accepting conscription was carried by ten to one 39 05 20 & a # c.33 # c.45.7

1939 05 23

Christ Church centenary – sketch on back admission card for first service – 39 05 23

1939 05 24

Tansley Typewriter Works – picture – 39 05 24

The court heard that an argument in the pantry with a footman had led to the sacking of the butler at Kimbolton Castle. He later went to the cocktail bar, then entered Lord Mandeville's dressing room and took a coat and gloves since he had not been given a month's wages in lieu of notice. He'd also taken some articles from the silver cupboard and removed the crest from a cigarette case because he was going to use it himself. He'd indulged in more varieties of crime than most members of the criminal classes and was sentenced to 18 months' hard labour 39 05 24a

1939 05 25

Home Office won't pay for Cambridge ARP trenches – 39 05 25

1939 05 26 CIPof

2nd Battalion Formed. News was received on Friday that the Cambridgeshire Regiment had succeeded in what everybody regarded as the definitely hopeless task of raising a second battalion. From now onwards, those applying will be placed on a waiting list, as pending other possible arrangements, it is not permissible to recruit over the establishment laid down. # c.45.6

Undergraduates Rush Churchill Meeting.—The 2,500 undergraduates and others who packed the Corn Exchange (Cambridge) full on Friday night, when Mr. Winston Churchill made a striking speech there on conscription, gave, at the end of the meeting, a convincing demonstration of the measure of their support for compulsory military training. By an overwhelming majority, estimated by the Chairman (the Master of Clare) to be about ten to one, the audience carried the following motion: "That this meeting of Cambridge undergraduates gladly accepts the measure of conscription involved in the Military Training Bill, and they express their determination to maintain, at any sacrifice, England's power to play her part, and to do her duty for the British Empire and the world causes that are now at stake". Thanking the audience for its vote, Mr. Churchill declared. "Make no mistake about it, what you have done tonight will travel far, and wherever it travels it can do nothing but to consolidate the assurances of peace and freedom throughout the world." The opposition at the meeting concentrated chiefly in a block towards the centre of the hall. Mr. Churchill was occasionally interrupted by cheers, ironic laughter, and cries such as "Chamberlain must go," but generally speaking, the meeting passed off quietly. What violence there was occurred outside. Long before the meeting was due to start a queue formed up outside, and after the hall filled, some of those unable to get in attempted to force an entrance. A rush was made on the west door and in the course of the melee, a policeman lost his helmet. Other officers repelled attempts to enter by the main door. A crowd of undergraduates several hundred strong remained in Corn Exchange Street until a proctor ordered them to disperse. All Cambridge police were on duty. # c.45.6 112.83

New Public Orator,—Mr. W. K. C. Guthrie. M.A., Fellow of Peterhouse, was elected on Tuesday Public Orator of Cambridge. Mr. Guthrie is a Lecturer in Classics, and was a member of Trinity College before being elected a Fellow of Peterhouse. He was formerly at Dulwich College, and gained an entrance examination in classics to Trinity College in 1925. He succeeds Mr. T. R. Glover, M.A., Fellow of St. John's College, who has held the office since 1920.

Fire at Works. — The packing room of the Forum Cleaning Works, Hartington Grove, Cambridge, was destroyed by fire on Wednesday. Damage was also done to the office and articles of clothing. The fire started in a machine in one of the cleaning rooms. This was put out with the aid of a fire extinguisher. The clothing was then put in one of the tanks and was run through a press room. When some of the staff reached the door, however, the handles of the tank burst, and the whole lot went up in flames. The outbreak occurred soon after one o'clock. At the time, the night staff was on duty, and the works manager called the Borough Fire Brigade. It is understood that there was some danger at one time of the fire spreading to a 500-gallon tank of white spirit. # c.27 # c.34.75

Empire Air Day.—Local interest in Empire Air Day was divided between Duxford, Mildenhall, Debden and Wyton. Thousands of people were present. The attendance at Duxford was a record for the occasion, being only about 100 short of the 12,000 mark. The day passed off without serious mishap. Cambridgeshire saw its Spitfires in action over Duxford aerodrome.

1939 05 26 ES

Villagers still without gas masks - ARP organiser explains shortage p10

Prickwillow: making new Prickwillow - Isleham road - photo p16

Stretham: W.T. Rayner's workshops ave been taken by P. Bysouth (late Rayner & sons), builder, wheelwright, decorator & undertaker, Lt Downham; holds stock timber; enquire shop or at Johnson

1939 05 27

A feature of the newly-finished ring road between Ditton Walk and Newmarket Road in Cambridge is a special track for cyclists, which is an innovation in this district – 39 05 27 # c.26.485

1935 09 29

Oil dumps all over East Anglia were specially guarded as a precaution against possible I.R.A. outrages. Watchmen have been on duty at distributing depots for some time, a number of which supply RAF aerodromes. Today the guard was increased and special constables were on duty – 39 05 29

1939 05 31

Cossacks on horseback gave a breath-taking display of acrobatic riding at the Cambridge Town Football Club ground. As the horse swept at full gallop past the crowd the riders did tricks. Vaulting at full speed was just the simplest of the exercises. Jumping from the horses to the ground, first on one side then the other was made to look easy. The lancers' drill saw them spear a ball placed on a pole and they cut down branches of trees doing the sabre drill. A charge through a burning straw hoop was the highlight. 39 05 31, 31a

June 1939 CDN & CIPof & Ely Standard

1939 06 01

Three women were killed and a dozen injured when an express train from Hunstanton to London collided with a lorry on an occupational crossing near Hilgay station. The dead were all in the second carriage, which toppled over on to a stationary goods train. The driver, D. Barber and firemen R. Miller, both from Cambridge, were injured. The train was travelling at 40 mph when it struck the lorry, flinging it 30 feet into a ditch. The side of the cabin was torn off and the railwaymen scrambled out. 39 06 01 & a

Clayhithe bridge improvements – photos – 39 06 01b

1939 06 02

Under the Military Training Act, 1939, the names of some 1,200 undergraduates and 800 other men are being registered at the Senate House and the Central School. Medical examinations will begin next week and men allocated into four grades, one being unfit for any degree of service. The others will then be interviewed by the War Office to determine their most appropriate allocation to the Forces. They are expected to be conscripted in Cambridge 39 06 03

1939 06 02 CIPof

County Show.—The Cambs and Isle of Ely Agricultural Society's show became a septuagenarian on Monday. It celebrated the attainment of this ripe old age by drawing the largest crowd; ever seen in the 70 years of the Society's history at Leverington Hall, near Wisbech. The entries, as compared with those at Chatteris last year, were fewer, but in every other respect the show achieved unsurpassed success. The judges were almost unanimous in expressing the opinion that what the exhibits lacked in quantity they made up for in quality. The total number was 582 (excluding late entries in certain classes) compared with 780 last year. H.M. the King, showing more extensively than in previous years, gained a number of successes, including several championships.

Train Crash- — Three women were killed and seven or eight other passengers injured, one of them seriously, when an express train from Hunstanton to London, via Cambridge, collided with a lorry on an occupational crossing near Hilgay at midday yesterday (Thursday). The dead were all in the second carriage of the train, which toppled over on to a stationary goods train. The driver of the lorry had a miraculous escape, sustaining only a cut arm, while the driver of the train, a Cambridge man, also escaped with a grazed leg and shock. The fireman, also of Cambridge, received head injuries. The driver of the train was Mr. D. Barber, of 73, Hills Avenue, Cambridge, and the fireman. Mr. R. Miller, of 2, Brookfields, Mill Road, Cambridge. The guard, Mr. I. Jolley, of Liverpool Street, escaped unhurt. # c.26.2

Golden Wedding.—Bank Holiday had a special significance for Mr. and Mrs. David Cox, of 169, Mill Road, Cambridge, for it was their golden wedding anniversary. They were married 50 years ago at Zion Chapel by the Rev. Frederick Griffith. Mr. Cox, of Bicester, came to Cambridge in 1884. After being in private service, he opened in 1901 the now well-known fruit shop bearing his name. He informs us that in those early days he used to work from 4 o'clock in the morning till 11 o'clock at night, with no half-days. His son now looks after the business. Mr. and Mrs. Cox are both 75 years of age, and they have one grand-daughter.

Unusual Incident—When the local Salvation Army Band was marching along High Street (Cottenham) on Sunday morning, a young man drove by in a car obviously unaware that the underpart of the car had caught fire. Seeing the flames the bandsmen promptly stopped him and helped to extinguish the fire, thus saving him from what might have been a much more serious result.

Pyrethrum Week. — A (Willingham) correspondent writes: This week has proved a busy time for the Willingham gardeners and smallholders among the pyrethrums. It is pleasing to see the fields a mass of red, pink and white blooms, and every day thousands of boxes are transported from the village to the various towns by rail and road. The ideal weather has also brought out the blue, yellow and white iris, and also the lovely coloured poppies. This year, too, everything points to a good prospect for strawberries, also crops of plums and apples. Even the allotments are promising plenty of all kinds of vegetables.

1939 06 02 ES

ARP demonstration at county show - photo p6

Rothschild celebrates 10 years as Isle MP, defends Jews p9

"Welcome to Ely" signs erected - photo p16

1939 06 05

An extended camping ground for scouts opened at Little Abington. By the aid of friends in Newmarket they had procured a hut and then the field was bought, increasing the size of the camping ground to 5½ acres. With the opening of the new ground more boys who lived in Newmarket would be able to go out and enjoy the light and sunshine. The ceremony coincided with the annual Wolf Cub weekend and after 'The Grand Howl' (signifying a warm welcome), they gave a short entertainment. 39 06 05

1939 06 08

It would be utterly misleading to talk about great enthusiasm for the beginning of the May Races. One aged riverside dweller said "I've been living here for 54 years, and there never has been much doing on the Wednesday". There certainly was not last night and the Cam came through the ordeal with a relatively calm and placid face. If there were not a great many townsfolk, there were the usual bands of almost rabid collegiate supporters who galloped, pedalled and ran with the crews, sounding like the I.R.A. at work. 39 06 08a

Two cottages in Town End Fulbourn were completely destroyed by a fire caused by the intense heat acting on the thatched roof. They are owned by Bishops Charity and occupied by Mrs Brand and Mr & Mrs Osbourne, their three young children, a grown-up son and Mrs Osbourne's mother who celebrated her 76th birthday. Neighbours helped sort out the household articles and clothes rescued from the fire but the beds, heavy furniture and bedding was badly damaged. "It might have been much worse" was Mrs Osbourne's comment. 39 06 08 & b Company Decline Responsibility. After formal evidence had been given, the inquest at Downham Market on three of the four victims of the Hilgay (Norfolk) train disaster on Thursday was adjourned. The train had been in collision with a lorry at a level crossing. Mr. F. C. Scott (for the L.N.E.R.) said: "I am instructed to say that the L.N.E.R. consider that in the circumstances in which this accident happened, it is clear, in their view, that it is not an accident for which they can accept responsibility." Mr. W. O. Carter, speaking for the lorry driver, commented: "I do not think this is the right and proper time to say anything with regard to any question of liability."

1939 06 09 CIPof

Charlie and His Maud.—The fair folk at the May Fair had a day of celebration on Tuesday, when a granddaughter of old Harry Bailey, of Barnum and Bailey's circus, was married at Fen Ditton Church. Besides those from the fair, show people came to the wedding from all over the country. The bride was Miss Maud Amey Bell, and her bridegroom Mr. Charles Baron Prestney. Both of them are on the shooting galleries, and they are busy at work today. At the ceremony were a hundred friends. Among them were members of the celebrated Thurston family. In the evening there was dancing on the Plough lawn to amplified recordings, illumination being provided by a network of lights above the lawn. # c.27.31

Commander.—It was reported in Tuesday's "London Gazette" that Lt-Col. H. P. Gadd, D.S.O., M.C., of the Reserve of Officers, has been appointed a Lieut-Colonel. He will command the Second Battalion of the Cambs. Regiment. He recently commanded the Second Battalion of the Suffolk Regiment in India.

Fire Destroys Fulbourn Cottages.—Two cottages situated in Town End, Fulbourn, were completely destroyed by a fire which broke out about 4-45 on Wednesday afternoon. The intense heat acting on the thatched roof is believed to have been the cause of the outbreak.

Golden Wedding on Birthday. — Mr. and Mrs Lemuel Thurlbourn, Mayfield Cottages, Ness Road, Burwell, celebrated their golden wedding yesterday (Thursday). They were married at St. Mary's Church, Burwell, 50 years ago, and still enjoy very good health. Not only was the day noteworthy as the wedding anniversary, but was also Mrs. Thurlbourn's 71st birthday. Mr. Thurlbourn is four years older.

An Octogenarian Alderman. — Aid. Dr. J. W. Ellis, who was born at Swavesey on June 10, 1853, will celebrate the 86th anniversary of his birth tomorrow (Saturday). He retired from practice some years ago, but retains his seat on the County Council, of which he has the distinction of being the "Father," having been a member since 1891; except for a short break between 1895 & 1898.

1939 06 09 ES

Ely concern over demolished houses, will soon be faced with 'ugly places' p11

1939 06 13

Stepney and Son applied for an additional lorry to cope with the increase of work owing to Eastwoods having opened up a depot in Cambridge. The firm made use of vehicles from fifteen other contractors to haul their bricks and there was keen competition. Even if Stepney got the licence there would still be a shortage of vehicles for the haulage of bricks – they would need dozens of extra vehicles. The Corona Company had also approached them to carry two loads a week. But the licensing authority did not believe haulage power for the building material was exhausted and they refused to licence another vehicle. 39 06 13

An inquest heard that a car had come into contact with a lamp standard in Hills Road. The impact was very severe indeed as the car ran up the post for a distance of eight feet and the force of the impact was sufficient to break the axle of the front wheel, which came off. There must have been considerable speed behind the car, for despite the loss of the two front wheels, it travelled for some distance. The driver was found unconscious ten feet away. He'd previously been drinking with an undergraduate friend in a pub and had a slight collision with a taxicab 39 06 13

The weather was unreasonably dull for the annual First and Third Trinity Boat Club's Ball. and rain meant that the delightful after-dance wandering over the grass was only indulged by the less cautious. Most welcome were the braziers delivering heat to shivering bodies. In the blue-and-white marquee Joe Loss and his dance orchestra reigned supreme playing the 'Eton Boating Song', 'Jeepers Creepers' and other dances. There were three suppers and the dance ended at 6 o'clock with a photograph. Amongst those present were M. Swithinbank, J.C. Balfour and the Earl of Euston. 39 06 13a # c.36.97

1939 06 15

Clayhithe Bridge has been in use for some weeks but the official opening was performed by the Chairman of the County Roads Committee. The first vehicle to cross after the ceremony was a horse and trap driven by Ald Francis and not until a bicycle and bath chair had crossed did a car make an appearance. The old bridge had been built under the 'Clayhithe Bridges Act' of 1871 with toll gates charging for its use. But with the coming of motor cars improvements were needed and the County Council purchased the undertaking to provide a free crossing 39 06 15a

1939 06 16

Two men from Leeds who stood outside schools and collected old woollen articles from children, giving new coins in exchange were fined. They'd distributed leaflets offering 3d or 6d bits for old clothes with a special consolation prize for the person bringing most wool. But no person who deals in rags should deliver any article to a person under the age of 14 years. The men said they thought cash was money and not articles. But they had convictions to similar offences at Dewsbury, Wakefield and Castleford. 39 06 16

1939 06 16 CIPof

Plane Crash.—A young member of the R.A.F.V.R- at Marshall's Aerodrome received concussion and the sergeant with him slight injuries when their plane crashed at Lode on Saturday. As a result of the accident Geoffrey Bray, 22, a civil servant of Canterbury Close, Cambridge, is detained in Addenbrooke's with concussion. The other man, Sgt. John Stearn, was treated at the hospital, but was later allowed to leave. The crash occurred during practice flying. It is understood the plane hit a tree. Sgt. Stearn is a son of the Rev. A. J. S. Stearn, Vicar of Swaffham Prior. # c.26.1

Golden Wedding. — On Monday, barely six months after his brother's diamond wedding, Mr. Samuel James Mills, of Haslingfield, celebrated, with Mrs. Mills, a golden wedding. They live at 6, High Street, Haslingfield. At All Saints' Church, in the same village, they were married by the Rev. G. C. Clements, and they have been in that village ever since. Mr Mills, who is aged 74 and a member of a family of seven, retired two years ago from his work as a farm labourer at Messrs. Chivers' River Farm, Haslingfield. He received a long-service medal for 51 years' service there. His brother, who celebrated his diamond wedding in January, was Mr. George Mills, who is also of Haslingfield. Mrs. (S. J.) Mills, who is 67, was before her marriage Miss Annie Flack, daughter of James Flack, of Haslingfield. She works for the local Methodist Chapel. She and her husband had seven children and 19 grandchildren.

Clayhithe's New Bridge.—The new bridge over the River Cam at Clayhithe, which has superseded the old toll bridge, was formally opened on Wednesday by Ald W. Clark Jackson, the- Chairman of the Cambridgeshire County Council Roads and Bridges Committee. The first vehicle which crossed over the bridge after the opening was a pony and trap driven by Aid. Francis. # c.44.75

Pals Far 50 Years.—One of the secrets of the 50 years of happy married life enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Cooper, of Gt. Abington is they have always been pals. What better state of affairs could exist than that?" We have shared alike, even to the extent of sharing the same purse," Mr. Cooper said. "What little we have been able to save for our old days is in our joint names." Mr. Cooper, who is 73, and a year older than his wife has had a busy life. Born in the neighbourhood of Gwydir Street, Cambridge, he has been a general smith by trade. The big thing outside his home has been Friendly Society work.

1939 06 16 ES

Hunstanton pier on fire p4 - photo p13

Lt Downham church tower repairs - photo p9

1939 06 17

Theatre Cinema, St Andrew's Street, known for many years as the New Theatre, was closed in January of last year after the pantomime but specially reopened for one week in November for the annual production by Cambridge Amateur Operatic Society of 'The Pirates of Penzance'. Now the ABC company has decided to use the building once again as a cinema 39 06 17 # c.76 # c.76.9

Hundreds of Cambridge people will feel a sense of regret at the disastrous fire which destroyed the pavilion on the end of Hunstanton pier. It has always been a popular holiday ground for local families and many cherish happy memories of hours spent on the pier. It was six o'clock on Saturday that the flames burst through and within a few seconds the pavilion was blazing. But by tea-time on Monday a postcard was produced showing the fire at its height. 39 06 17a

Cartoon about summer conferences in Cambridge by Ronald Searle – 39 06 17b # c.27.9

1939 06 19

A barrage balloon was seen drifting in the vicinity of Saffron Walden during a heavy rainfall. At dawn it was discovered caught on the side of a tree between two fields at Mitchell's Farm. Only partly deflated, it extended to its full height and remained against the tree waving in the wind. When discovered it was quickly made fast by the ropes attached. The balloon had drifted 55 miles from Hook, Surrey, where it broke away during exercises 39 06 19

1939 06 23

A Royal Institute of British Architect's plaque was unveiled on the new Caius College building in St Michael's Court and a medal presented to the architect, J. Murray Easton. At no time have more buildings of distinguished character been erected and yet many buildings are not very pleasant to live in and certainly unpleasant to look at. This was due to lack of public appreciation of beautiful architecture. Accepting the plaque, the Master said that the building was very popular among the undergraduates. 39 06 23 # c.44.5

1939 06 23 CIPof

Fingerpost Damaged. A Melbourn correspondent writes. The famous old finger-post at the cross-roads in the centre of the village has been damaged. A party of roisterers, on leaving a dance in the Council School on Thursday week, tried to uproot the post and turn it round in order to puzzle passing motorists and lorry drivers. They failed to move the post bodily, but climbing it, managed to dislodge the Royston and London arm. Row-dyism after dances has not been unusual of late, and villagers are of opinion that something should be done to put an end to it.

Death of sub-postmistress. Willingham has sustained a severe loss by the death of the highly-esteemed sub-postmistress, Miss Kate A. Gadsby, who passed peacefully away after a short illness on Friday at the age of 69 years. Miss Gadsby had held the position of sub-postmistress for 38 years, having succeeded her father, Mr. William Gadsby, who had been sub-postmaster for 23 years. Through all these many years of service, she had always carried out her duties faithfully and with the utmost trustworthiness. She will always be remembered for her kindly and cheerful disposition, ever ready to help all with whom she came into contact, especially the old-age pensioners.

Late Mrs. Guy Dale. Mrs. Eileen Primrose (Bobbie) Dale, wife of Mr. Guy Dale, head of the well-known Cambridge firm, died on Saturday evening at her home at Woodlands, Long Road, Cambridge. Mrs. Dale, who was 32 years of age, had been ill for a long time from a disease which she contracted during a holiday at Madeira. The only child of Mr. R. Lindsay and the late Mrs. Lindsay, of Jesmond, Newcastle, and Wellington Square, London, she was married on July 25, 1935, at St. George's, Hanover Square, London. Mrs. Dale was greatly interested in all her husband's activities, especially in regard to his work as President of the '99 Rowing Club, and her death will be keenly felt.

139th Anniversary. Large congregations attended the inspiring services which marked the occasion of the 139th anniversary of the Congregational Church Sunday School (Linton). The special preacher was the Rev. J. Wesley Green, of East Ham, son of the late Rev. J. Wesley Green, who was Minister of Linton Congregational Church for over 21 years.

Postponed Games. In an attempt to alleviate the end-of-the-season congestion, due to replayed cup-matches, members of the Cambridgeshire Football Association, at the annual meeting at the Railway Social Club, Cambridge, on Friday, discussed proposed alterations to the rules. The council's suggestion that an extra half-hour should be played, if necessary in cup games prior to the semi-finals was not accepted, but a proposition by Histon Football Club that the Council should review the postponed matches from January onwards met with general approval. In recognition of 20 years' service with the Council, Mr H. W. Onion, of Ely (Cambs.) was presented with a gold medal.

1939 06 23 ES

Ely cathedral lighting scheme approved p4

1939 06 24

The Air Ministry's proposal to purchase land at Winfold Farm, Waterbeach, thereby displacing 20 tenants, seven of whom lived on the farm with their families, was criticised by councillors. The land had been brought to a high state of cultivation by tenants since they took their holdings as ex-servicemen in 1920. They would have the utmost difficulty finding a farm as good. The Ministry were dealing with the defences of this country but there must be other land they could use. 39 06 24

1939 06 27

Cambridge has expanded but the sewage disposal plan has remained practically unaltered. People were invited to the opening of the new bacteria beds which will treat half the dry-weather flow and can be expanded later. 39 06 27 # c.29.8

1939 06 28

Godmanchester accounts to be investigated - 39 06 28a

Sir - The War Office states that no permanent military camp is being contemplated on Royston Heath. I saw the Heath a week ago. Near the road were a number of substantial hutments and tents which look to a war-time soldier very much like dwellings of an advance party. But the rape of common land would make even the War Office careful. The agents of a foreign power can see that the hutments are there and they seem to be occupied by the Royal Engineers. If that information is any importance to a possible enemy why allow newspapers to publish it – H.A. Baker. The camp is headquarters for the anti-aircraft searchlight units around Royston. The period for which the searchlights are to be maintained is not officially stated – Ed. 39 06 28b

1939 06 29

Emergency plans envisage that as London will probably be attacked before Cambridge the County Infirmary should be provided for 250 casualties from Central London. The Ministry would provide bedding and equipment but mattresses and pillows would be supplied as cases only, to be filled as required. It would be up-graded with an operating theatre and X-ray rooms, emergency lighting and better sanitary conveniences. But in the event of local casualties the London cases would be transferred to other hospitals 39 06 29

1939 06 30

Auxiliary Fire service drill – photo – 39 06 30

The Red Bull in New Street was redundant, magistrates said. It was in a poor state. There were twelve other licensed premises within 400 yards and the population had reduced following slum clearance schemes. The licensee had another job and his wife did most of the work at the pub. But the Star Brewery said it was doing a trade of barrels a week and other pubs did less. They had already re-built the Fives Bells and the Star, nearby, and had plans for rebuilding it when cash became available 39 06 30a

1939 06 30 CIPof

Death of Mrs. Anderson Scot. Cambridge has lost one of the most-liked of its women personalities by the death in a nursing home of Mrs. Anderson Scott, wife of Dr. Charles Anderson Scott, of Huntingdon Road. Her charm and sympathetic kind-heartedness made her friends wherever she went. A pleasant personality and a keen sense of humour were other attributes which endeared her to those who knew her. She was the same with everyone. "Thank goodness I've only one set of manners for everybody" was a remark she once made. She was for some years Secretary of the local Women's Liberal Club, a member of the Board of Guardians (1920-30), a member of the County Council and various of its committees and a member of the Executive of the League of Nations Union. She spoke throughout the length and breadth of the county at Women's Institutes, for the local Sisterhood Movement and for the B.W.T.A. In connection with the last-named, she had much to do with the erection of a shelter in the station yard—an example of her great interest in the well-fare of the people of the town. She was an ardent worker for the Presbyterian Church. For the last six or seven years she had been an invalid, but her cheerful and philosophical outlook never left her. "Old age," she used to say, "shut many doors, but it opens many windows."

Starlings Galore. A correspondent writes: Melbourn is now, and has been for some time, suffering from a plague of starlings, and it is said by the oldest inhabitant that never before have starlings been so numerous in the village, or so daring. Some have been seen to damage the growing fruit, and as they rarely, if ever, attack singly, but usually in companies their unwelcome presence in such large numbers is a source of worry to fruit growers. A local bird lover says starlings do more good than harm, as they destroy vast numbers of the larvae of the crane fly (better known as daddy-long-legs), cockchafer and other pests. 39 06 30

Another Egg. The 30-years-old West African parrot (at Meldreth) which laid its first egg a few weeks ago and caused much excitement to her owners, has now laid another, but unfortunately it was without a shell.

Fifty Years Wed. Mr. and Mrs. E. Butler, of Ness Road, Burwell, celebrated their golden wedding on Sunday last.

Midsummer Fires. Motoring through the heart of the Cambridgeshire Fens on the evening of June 23—Midsummer Eve— (writes Watchman), a correspondent was a little surprised, but even more interested, to see an unusually large number of bonfires in the fields. He wondered if the makers of them were aware that they were keeping alive an age-old tradition. Most probably they were not aware of it. In former times it was the custom in the Fens, and in most agricultural districts, to have organised or traditional bonfires in the fields in the evening before Midsummer Day (St. John the Baptist's Day), also upon St. Peter's Day, which is June 29. Why the two bonfire nights are so close together cannot be explained (says the correspondent), but the old-time authorities are agreed that such fire were believed to exercise a quickening and fertilising effect on animals, crops and even mankind, as witness the old Irish custom of driving barren cattle through the flames of a bonfire to ensure progeny. 39 06 30 # c.39

1939 06 30 ES

Littleport St John Ambulance brigade, names - photo p16

July 1939 CDN & CIPof & Ely Standard

1939 07 01

Mill Road library was built on part of the old workhouse field; a Chesterton reader recalls "The firm who did the plumbing were so short of work that they 'small-ganged' this job and in the forming the foreman used to say "Mill-road gang, fall in". The library is very handy to pop in to read the papers. A.E.H. remarks: "I have good reason to know it as I spent many happy hours in the management of that establishment when I was an assistant librarian under the late John Pink" 39 07 01

1939 07 06

Lord Brackley, son of the Earl and Countess of Ellesmere, of Stetchworth Park, who was recently married at Westminster Abbey, introduced his bride to the employees of the estate on Saturday. The new Lady Brackley is the younger daughter of the late Duke of Northumberland. The couple have just concluded their honeymoon and their visit was taken as a suitable occasion for celebration.

Accordingly the 90 odd employees of the estate, with their families and all the school children of the village were entertained to sports and tea and an extremely happy time was spent. 39 07 05

Haymaking on Grange Road rifle range – photo – 39 07 06 # c.38 : shooting

1939 07 07

The office of parish constable has been abolished in Cambridgeshire. They were no longer necessary for the preservation of the peace or the discharge of public business. They cost about £250 a year and every other county had abolished them. The county had 956 special constables and an additional 168 members of the Observer Corps. 39 07 07 # c.34.7

Two Littleport wireless and electrical dealers trading as the Granby Service Company in bankruptcy court – 39 07 07a

If war should come a number of London University students studying medicine and science may be evacuated to Cambridge – 39 07 07a

1939 07 07 CIPof

Outstanding Successes. Having shown pedigree Percheron horses, Shorthorn cattle and Middle White pigs at the Royal Show continuously for the past 20 years, it was fitting that Messrs. Olivers should reach the climax of their successes in this year's great centenary show of the Royal Agricultural Society. The firm were second largest exhibitors at the show, making 44 entries, only two fewer than Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan, who, however, showed a further breed—Southdown sheep. In all, Messrs Chivers secured five were second largest exhibitors at championships, three reserve championships, nine first prizes, eight second prizes and five third prizes, making a total of 30 awards with their 44 entries. This does not include the milk yield and butter fat test results, which are not to hand at the time of going to press, and in both of which the Dairy Shorthorn and the Lincolnshire Red section. Messrs Chivers and Sons at present stand top yielders for quantity of milk.

Clever Ruse. Three men walked into White's garage, on the Stukeley Road, Huntingdon, on Friday and asked if they could use the telephone. While so engaged, they opened the till and took about £4 without being noticed by Mr. and Mrs. White or their two sons. The theft was discovered about ten minutes later. Up to the present, the police have made no arrest.

Vipers. Miss Hearn of the Chestnuts (Great Wilbraham) killed a viper about two feet in length in her garden this week, and on Wednesday, Mr. J. Drury at Fulbourn, when cycling to Wilbraham, saw another of about the same length crossing the road. After holding it with his back wheel, he killed it.

Mr. Dan Royston. Amid manifestation of deep sympathy, the funeral took place on Saturday afternoon at the (Willingham) Cemetery of Mr. Daniel Royston, who passed away suddenly on the New Recreation Ground (of which he was groundsman) on June 28 at the age of 45 years. The service was conducted by the Rev. E. B. Blacfcaby (Minister of the Tabernacle).

Clerical Appointment. The Rev, R. J. Hills, M.A., Selwyn College, elder son of the Rev. Rowland Hills, Vicar of Fen Drayton and Rector of Conington, has been appointed Chaplain of Cuddesdon Theological College, near Oxford.

A World's Record. From a village in Huntingdonshire comes a remarkable claim (writes Watchman). A nine-years-old crossbred sow owned by Mr. Frank Haggard of South Farm, Upton, near Huntingdon, has produced 177 pigs in 17 litters. Mr. Haggard claims that this is a world's record.

Sunshine Roof Rescue. A passer-by tore off the sunshine roof of an overturned car to rescue one of three men (a driver) injured in a collision between two cars on the outskirts of Cambridge on Thursday. The collision occurred at the junction of Girton Road and Huntingdon Road.

Well-Known Cambs. Farmer. Mr. Francis William Bertram Parrish, a well-known Cambs. farmer and cattle dealer, died on Tuesday at his home, Church Farm, Steeple Morden. Sixty-eight years of age, he was a regular and popular attendant at Cambridge, Norwich and other markets over a wide area.

1939 07 07 ES

Militiamen called up - 100 in this district p4

Ely National Service Volunteers reviewed - photo p9

War-time provision for Isle highways, ARP traffic aids p10

Barrage balloon breaks loose, drifts over March p11

1939 07 08

During the forthcoming 'Black Out' test there will be something like a thousand people taking part. There will be no general alarm but air raid signals will be transmitted by telephone to the various centres. You will be relieved to know that no houses are to be set on fire (!) but a red lamp and smoking candle will indicate than an outbreak of fire has occurred and wardens finding them will call the brigade. There will also be casualties of various kinds in the streets with labels on them to signify they are 'injured'. Streets lights will be extinguished and motorists asked to drive with sidelights. 39 07 08 # c.45.7

Women farm workers wages – 39 07 08a

1939 07 10

Perse School Scout Troop demonstrated the way they can assist in an emergency. Into the arena strolled a group of passers-by, then came the wail of a siren leading to a mad rush for an ARP shelter. Exploding rockets gave a hint of realism to the scene. Scouts ran to various 'casualties' and treated their 'wounds'. Afterwards the wounded were carried on emergency stretchers made of Scouts' staves placed through the arms of overcoats and mackintoshes. The wounded took great care to make themselves comfortable on this rather uncomfortable mode of transport. 39 07 10 # c.37.9 # c.45.7

1939 07 12

Royston's A.R.P. control centre is totally unsuitable for the job and in the wrong place, councillors say. They don't know how many hundreds of pounds it will cost or even if it is bomb-proof. The Home Office were pressing for the building to be in concrete but the one they have is more of a glorified chicken-house and should be scrapped. But it will only come into use in case of an actual air raid and might only be occupied for an hour. 37 07 12

Col F.N. Drake-Digby, C.O. of the Cambridgeshire Regiment, said the Territorial Army have far greater responsibility than before with a weapon that will fire into the air and keep machines well up. Every single man has to learn about his rifle, a Bren gun and an anti-tank rifle for use against different types of armoured fighting vehicles. His knowledge of everything connected with gas must be very high. Corporals are the most important men in the army and the success of a major operation may depend on their initiative and skill. 39 07 12a & b

1939 07 13

N.F.U. meeting: women to be trained for Land Army – 39 07 13

Wicken Coronation Band have smart, new, bright red uniforms and playing better than ever – 37 07 13a

F.S. Fuller of Field Farm, Upware invents machine for hoeing sugar beet, attached to front of Austin Seven – 39 07 13b

1939 07 14

The office of parish constable has been abolished in Cambridgeshire. They were no longer necessary for the preservation of the peace or the discharge of public business. They cost about £250 a year and every other county had abolished them. The county had 956 special constables and an additional 168 members of the Observer Corps 39 07 14

An exercise demonstrated war-time black-out conditions in Cambridge. Streets lamps were turned out, speed limit signs extinguished and red hurricane lamps were placed on traffic islands. The external lights on police boxes were also put out and the bulbs removed as an additional precaution. Most vehicles drove slowly with only side and rear lights and cars using head-lights were stopped. Lights at the railway station were left on but carriage blinds on the 11.55 from London were drawn at Bishop's Stortford 39 07 14 # c.45.7

The A.R.P. exercise envisaged that an incendiary bomb had fallen on the Tivoli Cinema and no water was available from the hydrant. Within a few minutes a van-drawn Scammel pump pulled up outside. Firemen transported the pump to the riverside from which a hose was laid to a portable canvas dam near the burning building. There were four casualties – presumably usherettes, two suffering serious burns. Eighteen lorries were used as ambulances with an illuminated red cross on the front. 37 07 14a # c.45.7

1939 07 14 CIPof

Death of Professor Temperley. The death occurred at Peterhouse, Cambridge, on Tuesday of Dr. Harold William Vazielle Temperley, University Professor of Modern History and Master of Peterhouse. Doctor Temperley, who was the son of Mr. Ernest Temperley, Tutor of Queens' College, Cambridge, was born on April 20, 1879. He was educated at Sherbourne and King's and in 1901 was awarded the Gladstone Memorial Prize for his performance in Part II of the Historical Tripos. He was appointed historical lecturer and Fellow of Peterhouse in 1904. He was made Professor of Modern History in 1930, being the first holder of that chair. In 1938 he became Master of Peterhouse, in succession to Lord Birdwood. Professor Temperley was one of the leading historians of the Great War. He edited the history of the Peace Conference, and with Dr. G. P. Gooch, was responsible for "British Documents on the Origins of the Great War." He has published a number of other historical works.

Women Teachers and Marriage. —The desirability of employing married women teachers formed the subject of considerable discussion at Tuesday's meeting of the Cambridge Borough Committee. By nine votes to seven the meeting decided that married women teachers should be eligible for re-appointment. The matter would now go before the Town Council. In favour of the resolution were Aldermen Briggs and Condor, Councillors Arnold Elvin. Mrs. Rackham, Swift and Dr Wolf. Against the Mayor, Alderman Brown Dr. Dalton and Starr Councillor Wilding, Dr. Ratray and Mr. Bullock, Ald Pollock and Coun. Eraut were neutral and Mrs. Salter was not present at the voting.

Pea Picking.—The annual picking of peas grown by Mr. R. Driver in Church Lane field, Sawston, took place on Monday afternoon. The majority of the village people turned up to fill their baskets and bags. There was a fairly good crop.

100 Years Old.—The death occurred on Thursday last of Mrs. Esther Hobbs at her daughter's residence, The Causeway, Godmanchester. Mrs. Hobbs, who was born in London, was in her 101st year. Her husband, Mr. Frederick William Hobbs, died in 1914. There were ten children of the marriage.

Golden Wedding.—Mr. and Mrs. N. Williams, of Station Road, Histon- who were married at Queen Street Baptist Chapel on July 10. 1889 - celebrated their golden wedding on Monday, They were the recipients of many messages of congratulation.

1939 07 14 ES

SE England blacked out in ARP test p7

This morning's black out - Isle in exercise p9

Women's Land Army, Isle cmte at work p10

1939 07 15

The Black Out exercise went off satisfactorily but I hope next time it won't be on a Thursday night because the hours between twelve and four are very busy ones in a newspaper office where there are a series of weekly titles to be made up and printed ready for Friday morning publication. Our own difficulty was increased by the fact that the printers work under glass roofs. We did our best to meet the emergency and the bulk of the work was done before midnight. But the last page or two had to be put together under one small light, suitably shaded. I have never seen pages made up so quickly before – 39 07 15 # c.04

Although a considerable number of Militiamen from Cambridge travelled to their depots the scene at Cambridge railway station was little different from a normal Saturday. I expected to see goodbye and good luck messages being given to the first of the young men who are to give the next six months to the service of their country. But there were no martial strains to cheer them on their way. The explanation is that the men were free to travel as they wished and by travelling in small parties they avoided any publicity – and any reporters 39 07 15a # c.45.7

1939 07 18

Stretham Horticultural show – 39 07 18 & a

Hinton Avenue flooding pic – 39 07 18a

Snailwell does not have a garden fete every year, but when it does it is a splendid effort for so small a village. The proceeds were for church funds and the churchyard extension. Notable among the attractions was the voluntary band of the R.A.F. station Mildenhall who also played for dancing on the lawn in the evening. There were stalls and competitions like balloon race and a tug-of-war and many visited Mr Webb's dairy and saw the milking machine in operation 39 07 18d

1939 07 19

Two mobile first aid posts are to be provided, one stationed at Waterbeach and the other at Gt Shelford to deal with air raid casualties and second-hand vehicles will be purchased for adaptation as ambulances. 39 07 19

1939 07 20

PC Brookes joined the force in January 1913 and for the first seven years was engaged mainly in plain clothes work with special reference to the campaign against the white slave trade. He also investigated the burning down of a house in Storey's Way when Suffragette troubles were at their height. Afterwards he spent time on cycle patrol, inspector of diseased animals and hackney carriages. Then he became coroner's officer and was engaged in three major tragedies – the King's College shooting affair, the five-fold shooting tragedy in Hinton Avenue and the death of a Sidney Sussex undergraduate. 39 07 20 # c.34.7

Thomas Walter (Tom) Hayward one of most famous professional batsmen was born in Cambridge in 1871; obituary – 39 07 20a

1939 07 21

The A.R.P. exercise envisaged that an incendiary bomb had fallen on the Tivoli Cinema and no water was available from the hydrant. Within a few minutes a van-drawn Scammel pump pulled up outside. Firemen transported the pump to the riverside from which a hose was laid to a portable canvas dam near the burning building. There were four casualties – presumably usherettes, two suffering serious burns. Eighteen lorries from local firms were used as ambulances with an illuminated red cross on the front. 39 07 21

1939 07 21 CIPof

30,000 At British Legion Rally. Some 30,000 of the "old brigade," massed on Jesus Green on Sunday afternoon, cast an approving eye on those carrying on their tradition—over 1,000 of the new brigade, the Territorials, who took part in the huge rally. The old brigade were members of the British Legion attending the Eastern Area's second rally at Cambridge. Their greying hair indicated that it was long since they marched to the war-time tunes played during the rally, but the passage of years had made no difference to their uprightness on parade. Line upon line they stood in front of the platform from which the service, which formed part of the rally, was conducted, medals gleaming on every breast. To one side of the serried ranks was a space reserved for the standards, a sea of blue and gold against the green background of the Common. At one point in the service the ranks broke into hurried movement as the rain, which threatened most of the afternoon, began to fall, and the Legionnaires donned their mackintoshes. A few minutes later it ceased and held off for the remainder of the rally. Twenty thousand spectators were in attendance. A far wider audience heard the service, for it was broadcast. A feature as remarkable as the assembly itself was the clockwork precision with which the schedule was kept. A ceremonial march that preceded the service provided an impressive spectacle. An address was given by Admiral of the Fleet the Rt Hon. Lord Chatfield, Minister for the Co-ordination of Defence. # c.45.6

21st Year In Office. Cambridge Town Football Club members at Friday's annual meeting at the Lion Hotel, elected Mr. H. H. Neve as Hon. Secretary for the 21st year in succession. The reports showed that as a result of the Hospital Saturday effort, the sum of £137 18s 3d had been handed to Addenbrooke's Hospital. Although showing a reduction on the previous year there was a profit of £112 13s. 6d. on the season's working. The President, Mr. W. Kidman, was in the chair

Death of Tom Hayward. The death took place after a long illness at his home in Glisson Road on Wednesday of Tom Hayward, one of the most famous professional batsmen that cricket has even known. He was 68 years of age, and although many years had elapsed since he last played, he still held many records at the time of his death. His name was Thomas Walter Hayward and he came of a famous cricketing family. His father was Daniel Hayward and his uncle, Thomas Hayward, another fine batsman in the sixties. Tom Hayward was born in Cambridge on March 19, 1871, and first came into the public eye by some fine performances when playing with the Cambridge Y.M.C.A. He went to the Oval in 1891 and qualified for Surrey by the usual period of residence. In 1892, he played so well for Surrey Club and Ground that he earned himself a trial for the county in the following year. In his second season he was chosen as one of the "Five Cricketers of the Year" in Wisden's Almanack and he actually scored a century in his second county match, against Leicestershire. At the beginning of his career he was a good medium pace bowler and outfielder, but later he concentrated on run-getting, and stipulated in his contract with the Surrey Club that he was not to be put on to bowl. When he finished his first class career at the end of 1914, he had made 43,518 runs, with an average of nearly 42, and had scored 104 centuries. He was the first batsman after W. G. Grace to complete 100 centuries, and in 1906 scored 3,518 runs, figures which still stand as the record aggregate for one season. It was at Hay ward's persuasion that Jack Hobbs decided to abandon second class cricket. The two Cambridge men made prolific opening stands for Surrey. Their association began in 1905 and two of their partnerships produced over 300 runs and 40 over three figures. In one week in 1907 they topped the 100 four times. On the only occasion on which they played together for England they were not particularly successful. Hayward visited Australia three times, and altogether played in 29 Test matches and batted 51 times. He with ... A. C McLaren against New South Wales in 1901, 352 with Hobbs against Warwickshire in 1909, and 313 with Hobbs against Worcestershire in 1913. During 1906, he achieved the feat of scoring four centuries in succession, and during the same season he scored 13 centuries. His highest score, 315, was made against Lancashire at the Oval in 1898. # c.38 : cricket

1939 07 21 ES

Proposed mental colony at March p3

Ely black out a success p9

Road flooding between Stretham bridge & Chittering to be discussed p15

Ely's new water tower - photo p16

1939 07 22

Waterworks new service reservoir is most up-to-date in country; Fulbourn pumping station brought back into use as ARP standby; history – 39 07 22

Silver Street bridge new design, dispute between Cambridge and county – 39 07 22a

The new Cambridge Guildhall will be opened on October 9th by the Earl of Derby. The grand staircase is much more imposing than the old one, the new small room, complete with carpet, will be very convenient and the large hall improved though it is not nearly large enough for conferences, political mass meetings or big musical enterprises. The new Council chamber also seems on the small side and the aldermanic bench has been considerably shortened. 39 07 22b

1939 07 24

Waterbeach aerodrome site of smallholdings, 20 tenants, two had lost legs in war – 39 07 24 & a

1939 07 25

Waterworks Company new bowling green opened, the only one with an air raid shelter – 39 07 25

1939 07 26

Cambridgeshire Regiment at station for camp – 39 07 26

Strangers drinking the water in Houghton and Wyton would be risking typhoid or other disease, due to the putrid wells, but the natives were immune, an inquiry heard. The school well was condemned and cottages with pail closets had to bury the contents in an inclosure that seeped into the wells. The supply was from very shallow wells and liable to contamination. The wells were of dried brick, most of the tops being below the surface of the ground. Some were on cultivated plots that were manured. Two in Hemingford Abbots were so grossly polluted they were not analysed, the Sanitary Inspector reported 39 07 26a

Vicar of Wilburton opposed the rating assessment of the new vicarage: the individual who assessed it took it for a rich eccentric's whim instead of a poor man's house. It was not only small but of a different class to the old vicarage which was a gentleman's residence. That had grounds but this had barely an acre which was to be reduced by widening the road. It was no more than a couple of council houses and too close to the cemetery. It had a flat roof because they could not afford to pay for a pitched one. He'd had nothing but trouble and if there was no reduction he would stop building. The appeal was refused. 39 07 26b

1937 07 27

Brampton water polluted 39 07 27

1939 07 28

Bomb explodes at King's Cross – 39 07 26c; one victim on way to Cambridge 39 07 28

Comberton straw stacks in field opposite church destroyed by fire – 39 07 28a

Cambridge Town council held its last meeting at Shire Hall while the Guildhall was reconstructed. The Library committee asked to use the Small Room as temporary reading room during the re-arrangement of the Central Library. But it had a very expensive carpet that might get spoilt. The library might use the Corn Exchange annexe if the cycles were moved. Ald Briggs said that was not a proper alternative: "The fact is that we have had made a beautiful Guildhall, but must not use it". The carpet could be taken up. But the Guildhall might not be finished by that time and it would be unfortunate if people were allowed in the Small Room before the rest were completed. The request was denied – 39 07 28b & c

1939 07 28 CIPof

Waterbeach Aerodrome. At a meeting of the Cambs. County Council on Saturday, Ald. W. C. Jackson, referring to the proposed acquiring by the Air Ministry of County Council land at Winfield Farm, Waterbeach, as an aero-drome, said the Council had 20 tenants there. Two of them won cups for the best smallholdings this year; both lost legs in the war. To have men like that turned out was a very serious matter. The County Council had no idea where to find land to put them on. The Committee had written to the County Member drawing his attention to the matter, and had made a strong protest to the Air Ministry against the proposal to acquire the land. The reason the Air Ministry gave was that they must have an aerodrome in that district. They said there was nowhere else they could possibly go. Coun. Richards moved, and Coun. Woodman seconded, that the Member be asked to raise the matter in Parliament. The Council felt, however, that the steps taken by the Committee to draw attention to the position were sufficient and the motion was lost. # c.26. 1 # c.45.6

Funeral of Tom Hayward. — Representatives of the local cricket fraternity, as well as of the County Club, with which he had such a renowned association, were present at the funeral of Mr. Tom Hayward at Mill Road Cemetery (Cambridge) on Saturday. The service was conducted by the Rev. P. H. Potter (Vicar of St. Barnabas). There was a wreath from Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hobbs and another from the Surrey County Cricket Club. A two minutes' silence was observed at 3 o'clock on Saturday afternoon by teams on Parker's Piece.

Holiday Fatality. — Mr. Robert Fisher Alexander, a second year undergraduate, of Emmanuel College, was killed in a climbing accident on Friday in Switzerland. With Mr. Richard Wheelock, of Magdalene College, Cambridge, he was climbing the Aiguille de la Za, 12,050 ft., opposite Arolla, in the Canton Valais when a rock broke loose and struck Mr. Alexander, who fell 600 feet and was killed. Mr. Wheelock returned to Arolla and a search party re-covered Mr. Alexander's body and brought it down the same night. Alexander, who was 20 years of age, was an only son. He was studying law at Cambridge, and his home-address was Rachan, Kilmacolm, Renfrewshire. He was an experienced climber, and had mountaineered in Switzerland before.

A Golden Wedding Celebration.— Many in the diocese, I am sure (writes Watchman) will join me in offering congratulations to Archdeacon and Mrs. G. H. Ward, who will be celebrating their golden wedding next Tuesday. Archdeacon Ward has been Rector of Hilgay since 1915, and became Archdeacon of Wisbech in 1924. A son of Oxford University, the Arch-deacon held scholastic appointments and a curacy before taking up the living at Hilgay.

Three Die in Burnt-out Plane. An aeroplane crashed and was burnt-out at Massingham, near King's Lynn, early on Tuesday. The three occupants lost their lives. One of them was Sgt. Aubrey Alan James Sheriff, of Huntingdonshire.

1939 07 28 ES

County council to take over water & sewage p14

1939 07 29

Ronald Searle cartoon saying au revoir to Cambridge – 39 07 29

August 1939 CDN & CIPof & Ely Standard

1939 08 02

The Fire Brigade reported they had difficulties arranging for a motor lorry to tow the trailer pump based at Haddenham and arranged for it to be removed to Sutton where a suitable motor tender would always be available. The owner would be paid sixpence a mile with more if it had to convey firemen. Now all Haddenham Brigade were going to resign, though if there were a fire they would probably bring out their hose. 39 08 02 & a

Turner & sons, Trinity Street was founded by John Leach, chemist and photo dealer 50 years ago and taken over by W.E. Turner in 1912; has one of the most modern photographic developing and printing factories at Humberstone Road – 39 08 02b

1939 08 04

Balsham blaze, High Street – 39 08 04

Owing to a misunderstanding, a fire at a cottage-cum-general-stores in Balsham High Street was raging for forty-five minutes before the Fire Brigade was notified. But they managed to save a semi-detached cottage. The blaze broke out in an out-house and destroyed all but a front room and bedroom; a garage at the back was razed to the ground. Although most of the property perished, a tin containing money collected for Addenbrooke's Hospital was found to be intact after the fire – 39 08 04 & b

Old Crown pub, Girton entirely rebuilt – 39 08 04a

Cambridgeshire was not likely to be attacked in the event of war: there were no munitions factories and places of military importance. This is why it would be one place to which people were evacuated. Two first-aid parties would be stationed in Soham together with three ambulance depots. There would be mobile first-aid units to carry doctors and nurses to casualties and four decontamination units, one based at Burwell, Thirty ambulances would be needed and they were trying to get lorries of suitable size fitted up with everything necessary, a meeting was told. 39 08 04c, d

1939 08 04 CIPof

New Master of Peterhouse.— Mr. Paul Cairn Vellacott, Headmaster of Harrow since 1934, has been appointed Master of Peterhouse in succession to the late Prof. H. W. V. Temperley. The appointment was announced on Sunday, but Mr. Vellacott will not take up duties at Cambridge until Christmas.

Big Black-Out Test. Cambridgeshire and adjoining counties will be the centre next week of a gigantic black-out test. Twenty-five counties, in which the County and City of London will be included, will be in complete darkness - or as near to it as possible - on the night of August 9-10. More than half of England (from the Isle of Wight up to Lincolnshire, Staffordshire and Derbyshire) will be included in the biggest black-out test ever attempted. In all places, except the London region, the test will start at midnight. To meet the special requirements of London, the exercise will begin in that region at half-past twelve. It ends throughout the area at 4 a.m. There are no penalties for not observing the request made to everyone in the whole area, that there shall not be any light to interfere what is aimed at—a 100 per cent, black-out. R.A.F. observers will be flying to report on the results of the great darkness, which is to approach as near to war conditions as possible. # c.45.6

Golden Wedding Party.—A party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Rayner, of The Grove, Wendy, on Tuesday to celebrate the 50th anniversary of their wedding. Of the family of ten, three sons and three daughters are living, and they were grouped round the old couple, together with their husbands, wives and children to have their photograph taken. Mr. Rayner has been a farm labourer all his life. Before his marriage and for nine years afterwards he worked at Manor Farm, Shingay. Before retiring about four years ago, he was employed for 37 years at Vine Farm, Wendy, first by Mr. O. Brown and then by Mr. W. Bath. Mr. and Mrs. Rayner were 27 and 24 years of age respectively when they were married at Wendy Parish Church . . . Both Mr. and Mrs. Rayner enjoy good health, and are very proud of their family. Mr. Rayner remarked: "Some people nowadays make a fuss about bringing up one or two children: I don't know what they'd do if they had ten."

New Mayor.—Councillor W. J. Wing, of 10, Storey's Way, will be the next Mayor of Cambridge. He has agreed to accept nomination on November 9, and other groups on the Council expressed approval of the Independent's choice. He is the elder son of the late Mr. William Wing, and brother of Aid. H. T. Wing (who was Mayor in 1935-36). Mr. Wing was a chief bank cashier at the time of his retirement nine years ago.

Gifts.—Miss I. N. Mitchell, the Matron of Mill Road Isolation Hospital, is leaving after 25 years' work, and on Friday afternoon the Cambridge, Public Health Committee made a presentation to her. At the same time, they made a presentation to Sister M. A. Carnochan, who is leaving the Isolation Hospital after 22 years. The presentations were made by the Mayor, Ald. A. A. Spalding.

1939 08 04 ES

Black out - mock bombs & fires will add to realism p5

Church bells not to give aid raid warning; Soham not to be warned - "not worth much to enemy air raiders p7

Rural fire engine to be kept at Sutton p10

Presentation to Dr McFeeters - his work in connection with new road, Prickwillow-Isleham p11 - photo p16

Ely territorials off to camp - photo p16

1939 08 05

In 1880-81 Headley and Edwards built an iron bridge over the river near Coe Fen and in 1897-8 the sum of £411 15s was paid for Robinson Crusoe bridge. But mystery surrounds the name. Leases from 1500 call the site the Swan's Nest which, with the old stock of boats, was sold by auction in 1895. Readers recall there was previously a ferry boat. Mr Edward Goode lived with his sister in a little cottage beside the bridge and a former Chief Constable used to have a garden there. Mrs Robson loved to sit in the garden beside the boatman's house 39 08 05

1939 08 06

Spitfire. Pilot killed, near Duxford airfield. E-H.

1939 08 07

Czechs rose to their feet and cried 'Long Live Czechoslovakia' when ex-president Dr Eduard Benes broke his silence to address the Liberal Summer School at Cambridge. Special precautions had been taken against demonstrations. He told the crowded audience that democracy would be victorious. He analysed the background of 'a Duce and a Fuehrer'. They were persons of adventurous character, ambitious, emotional and amoral. Such regimes finished in catastrophe, war and revolution, he said. 39 08 07

1939 08 08

Dr Benes at Cambridge – photo – 39 08 08

1939 08 11

The prospects of the approaching cereal harvest have deteriorated during the last week owing to the abnormal heavy rain. Winter oats, only half the normal crop, are now sodden in the shock. Spring oats, which gave promise of excellent yield, are uncut and battened down. Wheat has stood up to the wet pressure but through damp and humidity now shows sign of rust and blight though barley has held its own. Fruit is a heavy crop but the market value barely covers the expense of picking and distribution. And field peas are practically a failure 39 08 11

If the A.R.P. exercises which took place during the black-out had been the 'real thing', you, dear reader would not have a copy of this paper. For one of the buildings supposed to have been fired by an incendiary bomb was the Cambridge Daily News office. A patrolling warden summoned the A.F.S. unit which dealt with the 'blaze' effectively. But whether any vital damage was done by the fire was a matter left to the imagination. Thankfully only one pub was 'hit', the Jolly Waterman in Chesterton Road. 39 08 11a & b

1939 08 11 CIPof

10,000 at Gogs Fete.—Throughout the 16 years of its existence, the Gogs Fete has created a remarkable record for inducing the Weather Clerk to show his best and most generous behaviour. When this annual Cambridgeshire Conservative bumper fun-fair, with its penny per hour programme of entertainment, opened on Monday, however, it seemed that 1939 would be an exceptional year—in the wrong sense. Rain in the morning and an overcast sky at lunch-time caused a good deal of anxiety among the organisers and the 500 voluntary helpers, who had visualised hours of assiduous pre-paration reaping but a small harvest. Nevertheless the threat of rain did not prevent thousands of Cambridge and County holiday-makers from joining the stream of traffic, both vehicular and pedestrian, which had assumed large proportions, even by two o'clock, with the Gogs as its objective. The earlier part of the programme was watched by several thousands, and during the afternoon there was a steady influx of people. Shortly after three o'clock the sun emerged from the greyness to the immense relief of the organisers. By tea-time the weather had cleared and the 10,000 people who had defied the clouds entered the carnival spirit of the occasion, unhampered by climatic conditions. They were not under the brilliant sky of last year, but the cooler weather yesterday was almost ideal. For the convenience of the public, the avenues and car parks of the estate were electrically illuminated at night. Mr. Ronald Cross, Parliamentary Secretary, Board of Trade, was the principal speaker at an evening meeting, which was attended by hundreds. # c.33 # c.38

Cambridge-Lynn Canal.—A new canal from Cambridge to King's Lynn is being considered by engineers of the Great Ouse Catchment Board as a permanent solution to fen flooding. At present, however, the scheme is "in the air." Surveying is being undertaken to see if the scheme is practicable, and if it is found that it is, a full report will be submitted to the Board at a later date. It is probable that the new canal, if it is decided upon, will run from near Cambridge, via Mildenhall, Brandon and Stoke Ferry to Denver, and then to King's Lynn, a course which would take the surplus water from the highlands. The cost would be in the region of £2,500,000. # c.29

Co-operative Pioneer Dies.—The death occurred at his home, 5 Sleaford Street, Cambridge, on Tuesday, of Mr. Ben Mills, who was one of the pioneer workers in the early days of the Cambridge Co-operative Society. He was born on August 17, 1848, and joined the Cambridge Society in 1873. He was appointed part-time secretary in 1882. He served as secretary, and for some time as secretary-manager until 1910. Owing to failing health, he had to relinquish that position, and was found a suitable job on the Society's staff. He retired on pension on January 13, 1923, but always took a keen interest in the Society and the neighbourhood in which he lived. When his health permitted, he always took a daily walk round the Society's premises. # c.27.2

1939 08 11 ES

Ely ARP exercise p7

Experiences of militiaman p7

Spanish refugee appeal - funds needed for emigration p12

Controlling county ARP- how the system works p13

Test of Britain's defences - air exercises over wide area p13

1939 08 12

London evacuees from Caledonian Road pictured in Newton – 39 08 12

Seventy local villages took place in the A.R.P. exercises, all suffering some pretend bombing. The first aid party leaders asked for cars in their villages and three were used as ambulances. In one large village a woman playing the part of a casualty was missed and after waiting two hours she rang up the warden to say, 'Please can I go home? I'm cold'. At Histon Chivers allowed their fire brigade to take part and general utility grades went out to 'explosions'. 39 08 12a

1939 08 15

2,500,00 plan to stop floods – new channel to Lynn. DT. JM121

1939 08 16

Saffron Walden council heard that billeting of evacuees would become compulsory and a tribunal should be appointed to hear appeals from people not wanting to have them. They would have to accept them and their appeal would be heard as soon as possible. A second-hand fire tender had been bought for the Great Chesterford brigade and smoke helmets should be bought for Stansted, Newport and Chesterford brigades with hose parties established in Berden, Elmdon and Hempstead. 39 08 16

Royston council heard that A.R.P. trenches at the Warren and Melbourn Street together with the control centre at the Town Hall will cost £720. Walter Hart, William Palmer and George Starr were appointed as Auxiliary firemen and extra uniforms would be obtained while 17 others have been trained and would receive a one-pound bonus. Supplies of respirators for small children and protective helmets for babies will shortly be available but must not be issued until necessity arose. 39 08 16a

1939 08 18

Oak Cottage, Shelford has been restored after four months work by Messrs Kerridge of Cambridge under the direction of Douglas Loukes. Much work was done internally and is not obvious to passers-by but all who visit the village will be able to appreciate the removal of the external plaster to expose the vertical studs, beam ends and the long oak beam running the whole length of the house. 39 08 18

1939 08 18 CIPof

Cafe Owner's Road Death.— Alphonse Felex Lienard, better known as "Toni", proprietor of the Festival Grill, on King's Parade, Cambridge, received fatal injuries in a car crash on Tuesday night.

He was a passenger in a motor car which came into collision with a motor on the Barnet by-pass. # c.27.47

Royal Visit to Papworth.—Just before the conclusion of a 2 ½ hour visit to Papworth Village Settlement yesterday afternoon, Queen Mary strolled in to the grounds of Papworth Village Hall and delighted several of the patients by posing several times for "snaps" to be taken. Her Majesty spent two hours going through several departments of Papworth Industries, and also visited for the first time the new Nurses' Homes. It was after she had had tea in the Hall that Her Majesty unexpectedly appeared in the grounds where a great many of the more advanced patients were enjoying themselves in the sun. # c.02

Medals for School Attendance.—My recent note (writes Watchman) about the school attendance feat of a Heydon child has brought me this week the following interesting letter from Mr. T. F. Teversham, of Hillside, Sawston, "Joan Smith, of Heydon deserves our congratulations, but her performance does not reach the standards of a previous generation. I will quote the case of Mr. Stanley Barker, of Orchard Road, Sawston. He holds the bronze medal, with six bars, awarded by the Cambs. County Council for unbroken attendance for seven successive years, 1904-10, at the same school, Sawston Board School. For a time, also the County Council awarded a silver watch for seven years' unbroken attendance, but by the time Stanley had qualified, the Council had raised the period to eight years, and he was not allowed to stay on for another year to qualify. Mr. Stanley Churchman, also of Sawston, holds the medal and the watch for the seven years' record - altogether, he attended Sawston Board School for eight years without being absent, two years at the Infants' School and the six years following at the Senior School. Both these honours were gained during the headmastership of John Falkner, the most noted schoolmaster of his time in this county. I have no doubt that others gained similar honours at Sawston and elsewhere in this county." # c.36.6

1939 08 18 ES

Fighting fen flood peril, suggest new channel Cambridge - Lynn p5

A.R.P. exercises at Soham p5

Permanent military camp started at Ely, West Fen Rd, formerly Ely aero club drome - 1,000 men p7

Good progress with new road Isleham-Prickwillow p9

1939 08 19

Cambridge black-out exercise reviews – 39 08 19

Blinded by the dazzling beam of a searchlight and unable to see his instrument panel, an RAF pilot leaped by parachute from his plane as it dived to the ground and burst into flames at Steeple Morden. Flying Officer Jeff, of Debden, was flying a Hawker Hurricane in formation with two other planes when he was caught by the searchlight. He dare not move out of the beam for fear of colliding with the other planes and, unable to see his panel, got into a spin. He jumped out and landed in a churchyard. The machine fell near a cottage, setting fire to some trees and killing several chickens. There were several small explosions as flames reached the ammunition. All that remained was a charred and tangled mass of metal strewn about an orchard 39 08 19a # c.26.1

1939 08 21

Queen Mary surprise visit to Stanley Woolston's shop, her ninth visit – 39 08 21 # c.02

Royal Engineers return from training – photo – 38 08 21b

Lightning strikes Trumpington general store, houses at Huntingdon – 39 08 21a

1939 08 23

A man with 'a cultured authoritative voice' phoned the Regal Cinema and Arts Theatre in the name of the Commanding Officer of the Cambridgeshire Regiment, asking for a notice to be put on the screen ordering all Territorials to report to their stations immediately. Both managements took the precaution of verifying the message and discovered it was a hoax designed to create panic 39 08 23

King & Harper garage – reminiscences of H.H. Harper – 39 08 23a, b

1939 08 24

Should lighting regulations be brought into force motor car side and rear lamps must have electric light bulbs not exceeding seven watts, acetylene lamp burners must not consume more than 14 litres per hour and in oil lamps only one burner must be used. Light may be emitted only through a single aperture facing to the front or rear of the car of not more than two inch diameter. Front glasses must be obscured with white tissue paper or paint. Head lamps may be used provided the whole of the reflector is blackened. 39 08 24, a

Shoppers at Cambridge's Woolworth stores were suddenly shepherded outside as part of an A.R.P. test. The staff had been warned but customers were quite in the dark when whistles blew just before the usual Thursday closing time. Four of the girls behind the counters approached the 250 customers on both floors and asked them to leave as a test was in progress. Others opened all the tills and put the money into bags, then made for the 'safety room' at the back of the store. Within two minutes fifteen seconds all money was placed in a fire-proof safe, the lights were out, the doors locked and the store's fire-fighting squad had their equipment ready for action. 39 08 24b

1939 08 25

Norton & Naylor, electrical engineers, started in Staffordshire Street in 1920; acquired G.N. Edward's business in Bridge Street and added radio & television – 39 08 25

In view of the crisis all police leave has been cancelled and special constables have been called up. The Fitzwilliam Museum is packing valuable items so they can be removed should the situation worsen and cinemas warned they will be closed in the event of war. Kerbs at street corners have been painted white in readiness for any black-out. There was a constant stream of people collecting gas-masks and a steady demand for black paper and curtains. Prayers for peace will be said at churches and it is hoped that Hitler will see it is suicidal to attempt to make war 39 08 25a

Saffron Walden proposed bypass 39 08 25b

1939 08 25 CIPof

Surprise Visit. — Queen Mary arrived in Cambridge almost unobserved just before noon on Monday. When Her Majesty alighted from her car in St. Andrew's Street, she was only noticed by a handful of people. It was her ninth visit to Mr. Stanley Woolston's shop. She motored over from Sandringham, being again accompanied by Mrs. Fetherstonhaugh. With her was a Curator of the Fitzwilliam Museum, and together with Mr. Woolston they went over the whole of the establishment's rooms. As on previous visits, Queen Mary showed a great interest in the antiques, inspecting china, furniture, pictures and other works of art. She made several purchases . . . the parcels being placed in her large car as she left. # c.02

Houses Struck. —When lightning struck a new house and general store at Trumpington on Sunday, debris from a chimney stack was strewn over the road and several vehicles had to go carefully to avoid accidents. The incident occurred about midnight. Mrs. A. J. Day, who was sleeping in a bedroom on the side of the premises farthest from the chimney stack, said "When we went to bed at about 10 p.m. there was a lot of lightning. The storm continued, and it was just before midnight when there was a terrible crash. Pieces of the chimney were strewn all over the road, but fortunately the policeman was coming up the street and soon had things in hand. After striking the chimney, the lightning entered the upstairs sitting room down the chimney and through a window, and debris was strewn all over the floor. It ran along the wall into my son's bedroom, but luckily he went on holiday on Saturday. It smashed the electric switch in his room into small pieces. The trail of lightning could be clearly seen in the house. It made two holes in the sitting room wall near the ceiling, ran along the electric wire, and made another hole. The chimney stack was cut in half."— Mr. and Mrs. Lilley, of 22, Hartford Street, Huntingdon, were awakened by a loud explosion about midnight, and, rushing downstairs, they found the house filled with smoke and soot. It appears that a large chimney at the back of the house had been struck by lightning. Most of the structure was hurled to the ground, but luckily the outer walls stood fast, otherwise the whole would have crashed through the roof of the house. No one was hurt, but Mr. Lilley, who is the local manager of the Liverpool Victoria Friendly Society, and his wife were terribly alarmed. The tele-phone was put out of action.

Cambridge and the Crisis. — Complete confidence in Cambridge preparations against air attack was experienced by Aid. W. L. Briggs (Chairman of the Cambridge A.R.P. Committee) in an interview. In the course of this he said: "I feel that we shall be able, in case of emergency, to put up a thorough working skeleton organisation which we shall make every endeavour to enlarge as the necessity arises. With the volunteers that we have got we have worked persistently to put into operation all the necessary measures. But it must be realised that from the first we have been, from the Government point of view, a non-vulnerable area, and this has restricted us very much in making the preparations which we think are necessary, but every section has persistently and thoroughly worked out the details of their duties. First aid is trained and equipped as far as possible." With regard to the evacuation scheme", Aid. Briggs added: "Everything has been worked out to the fullest detail, both with regard to reception, billeting, feeding and medical attention." # c.45.6

1939 08 25 ES

Sounding air raid siren, practices at Ely & Littleport each Saturday p7

ARP telephones manned day & night p7

Wilburton's "grand old man" : Herbert Warren's reminiscences

1939 08 26

Sir Alfred Ewing, Prof of Mechanism and Applied Mechanics at Cambridge University 1883-1903 established room 40 where experts deciphered enemy messages and intercepted wireless calls during war 39 08 26

1939 08 28

There are to be two anti-aircraft batteries and one anti-aircraft signalling unit based in Cambridge. Recruiting for the batteries opens at 45 Parkside and Salisbury Villas for the signalling unit. Cambridge has already responded to the call for National Service. The Cambridgeshire Regiment is over establishment, the Royal Engineers unit, 2nd General Hospital and the Cambridge National Defence Company are complete. A second Auxiliary Territorial Service (clerical) company for women will also be raised. 39 08 28

1939 08 29

First ARP shelter at junction Cherryhinton Road & Perne road – 39 08 29

Air-raid siren set off accidentally at Waterworks in Rustat Road – 39 08 29a

1939 08 30

Ambulance drivers on parade- photo – 39 08 30 112.10

Addenbrooke's Hospital & Police station guarded by sandbags – 39 08 30a & b 112.09

1939 08 30

Wellington. Pilot baled out uninjured, on approach to Duxford. E-H

1939 08 31

Police station sandbags photo – 39 08 31a 112.02

Evacuation from London begins – 39 08 31

Lloyd's Bank practiced evacuating their staff to air raid shelters in the two strong rooms adjoining the main hall of the bank. Those in Lloyds Bank Chambers used a specially constructed cat-walk over the roof to the fire escape window. The two strong rooms are situated one below the other and a trapdoor will supply a means of escape should one of the entrances become blocked. In the event of a raid customers can accompany the staff or seek the nearest public shelter in wine vaults under Peas Hill
39 08 31 # c.45.7 # c.32.8

Bourn welfare centre babies – photo – 39 08 31a

September 1939 CDN & CIPof & Ely Standard

1939 09 01

Poland invokes treat with Britain, gas masks, evacuees – 38 09 01 # c.45.7 112.98

The first children who have been separated from their London families by the dark threat of war arrived at Cambridge station. The train contained 800 boys and girls, all had a label bearing their name and address, a few carried a football, several had oranges. They were handed bags containing their rations and helped on to the waiting buses 39 09 01a 112.73 # c.45.7

The first 600 of the 1,100 children allotted to Huntingdon arrived at the North Station. They were received on the platform by officials and after being given refreshments were taken by a fleet of buses to the districts allotted to them. Other train loads followed at short intervals and are being cared for by Huntingdon residents who are doing all they can to make their little visitors as comfortable as possible. 39 09 01b

An experimental gas mask drill was held for Ramsden Square children. Over 100 assembled and were instructed in the proper use of the gas masks by the senior warden, Mr E. Winkworth. They were told a whistle would sound in the event of an air raid, that the sound of a rattle would indicate a gas attack and a bell would sound when it was safe for them to come from their shelters. Aeroplanes roared overhead as the children were instructed 39 09 01b 112.65 # c.45.7

Compulsory powers of billeting are now in force in Cambridge. Quite simply it amounts to this. Enough voluntary offers have been received to take in all the children who are coming in school parties. But expectant mothers and those with young children are also expected and householders will be required to house them. The payment is five shillings a week for each adult and three shilling for each child for lodging only. The adults will be responsible for their food. The third class comprise voluntary helpers from the evacuated areas working full time in Cambridge. The payment for them will be twenty-one shillings for board and lodging which will be paid by the Government. 39 09 01c

1939 09 01 CIPof

Protest Meeting. A protest meeting was held on Thursday evening in the Hempstead schoolroom against losing the water of the Fountain. Villagers made indignant expressions against the Saffron Walden Rural District Council for posting on the Foun-tain a notice stating' that the water supply would be discontinued on September 2 as the Council's main supply was now available. The meeting was called by the Rev. T. P. Conyers Barker (Vicar of the Parish), who had been asked by several villagers for an opportunity to discuss whether the Fountain should be closed. Villagers maintain that the Fountain has supplied the village with drinking water for generations past and there was also a great demand by travellers, hikers, cyclists and motorists passing through. It was emphasised that the water had been analysed from time to time, and was stated to be perfectly pure spring mineral water, always flowing in abundance and recently approved by the Ministry of Health for dairy purposes. It was known as the "Dipping Well" until about 60 years ago, when the overseers of Hempstead village built up the Fountain and it was paid for by subscriptions collected from the villagers. # c.24.2

Villagers Show Appreciation. — The Rev. R. Doble (now at Forest Hill) paid a return visit to Great Chesterford on Thursday week when about 80 people gathered in the schoolroom to greet him. The occasion was a presentation to Mr. Doble by the parishioners of Gt. and Lt. Chesterford in recognition of the services he had rendered to the villages during his 15 years as Rector and Vicar. When Mr. Doble entered the hall, he was greeted with great applause, and after the presentation, "For he's a jolly good fellow" was sung. There were 140 names of subscribers on the list that was lying in the walnut bureau which bore the inscription: "Presented to the Rev. R. Doble by the parishioners of Great and Little Chesterford." Mrs. Green made the presentation.

Strongrooms as Shelter. A full rehearsal for evacuating the staff at Lloyds Bank, Cambridge, and the various offices in Lloyds Bank Chambers to air raid shelters provided by the two strongrooms adjoining the main hall of the bank was conducted with full satisfaction on Wednesday afternoon. # c.45.6 # 32.8

"Everything is Ready." Confessing that he hardly expected to find himself opening a garden fete at Newmarket on Thursday afternoon. Capt. F. Heilgers, M.P., said: "The only reason I am able to come here this afternoon is because as far as our country is concerned, everything is supremely ready." Applause and murmurs of "Hear, hear" greeted this statement. Capt. Heilgers was speaking at the garden fete held in aid of the funds of St. Agnes Church in the vicarage grounds. In a short speech he made before declaring the fete open, Capt. Heilgers first made the reference already quoted to Britain's readiness, and then added: "The country is not only ready, but it is steady"

Cwt. of Bream.—Mr. Searle, of the Green, Willingham, caught over one cwt. of bream on Sunday in the Albion Club's water at Earith. Mr. Searle was fishing between 11.30 and 6-30 and his six best specimens averaged 3 ½ lbs.

1939 09 01 ES

Ely's emergency preparations complete; billeting arrangement for evacuated, buildings sandbagged - photo p7

Emergency instructions - what to do in air raid

Still hope for peace

Evacuation to start today

Peterborough's air raid shelters - for 4,500 people p10

Isle is prepared for emergency, work day & night complete ARP arrangements p11

1939 09 02

Concrete air raid shelter from Cambridge Artificial Stone Co – advert – 39 09 02

An important announcement from Cambridge bakers. As new Acts have been applied to the baking trade, Master Bakers have agreed to provide a shorter working week for employees. We have decided not to bake or deliver bread on Thursdays. Signed: J. Harwood of Derby St, W.H. Pratt of Halifax Road, G.P. Hawkins of Parsonage Street, A.E. Mason of Trumpington Street together with Tylers, Maskell, Markillie, Horspool, Summerlin and over 20 other bakers. [advert] 39 09 02a

The fete at Spicer's Sports Ground for Sawston Maternity and Infant Welfare Centre was curtailed by messages requesting mothers to return to their homes for the reception of youthful evacuees. Beside the usual stalls an entertainment by Miss Joan Slipper and her Juvenile Sparklettes had been arranged together with a marionette show. However the entertainer had been prevented from attending owing to being called up for national service. It was decided to have the public tea immediately. 39 09 02b

1939 09 04

Cambridge had its first air raid warning in the early hours of the morning and hundreds of householders left their beds and adjourned to lower rooms. Others, however, slept through the noise of the sirens. One householder, doubtful about the efficiency of their black-out wrapped a woollen scarf round the electric light. Shortly afterwards they donned their gas masks after noticing a very pungent smell. Later they noticed it came from the scarf which had been charred through. The alarm was caused by the passing of unidentified aircraft over the Eastern Counties. Fighter aircraft went up to investigate 39 09 04

Children with gas masks – 39 09 04a

Smiling evacuee – photo – 39 09 04b

CDN reduced to four pages due war conditions – 39 09 04a

1939 09 05

Many weddings have taken place in Cambridge during the last few days. They include those of Lieut Robert E. Strong and Miss Prudence M. Lathom, married at St Paul's Church and Sapper Frank Rooke and Miss Nellie Haylett, both of Cambridge, who married at St Philip's Church. [Photos on front page]. Owing to war conditions, all newspapers will be reduced in size. The CDN until further notice will consist of four pages. – 39 09 05

Cambridge is getting into its war stride. After-dark bus services are curtailed owing to lighting restrictions, no cinemas are open and public libraries close at sunset. Banking hours are now 10 to two on weekdays and delays may occur in the collection of cheques. Various museums are taking steps to protect exhibits from damage and already half of the stained glass in the east window of King's College Chapel has been removed. It is being packed and taken to a place of safety. The remaining 23 windows are being left as they are, owing to the enormous nature of the task of removing the glass. 39 09 05a

1939 09 06

Cambridge company of the ATS – Territorial Unit for women – leave – 39 09 06

1939 09 08

The War Agricultural Committee is taking steps to get at least 10,000 additional acres under the plough. They have wide power but they hope farmers will voluntarily get the land broken up and sown to wheat this autumn. But there are grave difficulties especially in connection with labour and machinery. 39 09 08

Appeal for two anti-aircraft batteries – 39 09 08a

Len Garner, drummer in Reg Cottage's Band, weds – 39 09 08b

1939 09 08 CIPof

Blow Falls. — Well, (writes Watchman), the blow has fallen at last. When I wrote this feature last week, there was still hope that hostilities would not break out, but Hitler has decided otherwise, and now the whole country and Empire is rallying with France to fight for a great principle . . . We enter the conflict regretfully, but resolutely, and fully confident that we shall win through . . . The new lighting restrictions have made progress difficult and strange during the last few days, but we are gradually becoming used to the new conditions . . . One day this week the Minister of Agriculture and Fisheries broadcast an important message to farmers and the rural community generally. He said that the farmer's main job is to increase, in an orderly fashion, our home production of essential foodstuffs—a task just as vital to the nation as that which has to be carried out by our armed forces. As far as the immediate after-harvest plans are concerned, the majority of farmers must think in terms of ploughing up more land, both for supply of human food and animal feeding stuffs. The immediate task is to plough up as much land as possible for next year's harvest. # c.45.7

War Measures at Cambridge. — Cambridge, in common with the rest of the country, is getting rapidly into its war stride. Banks, buses and libraries are among the services affected by the situation. Mr. A.

Cousin, the Eastern Counties Company District Traffic Supt., said that after-dark bus services had had to be curtailed, owing to lighting restrictions "and of course, the cinema buses are not running at the moment, as there are no cinemas open." He added: "We are running buses up to 10.15 p.m." . . . Both lending departments and reading rooms of the public libraries in the borough are closing by sunset, in view of the lighting regulations. Banking hours have also been altered. They are now from 1.0 to 2 from Monday to Friday and 10 to 1 on Saturdays. They are subject to revision. This week the stained glass in the east window of King's College Chapel was removed. It was being packed and taken to a place of safety. # c.45.7 # c.77.4

Evacuees at Cambridge. — The first of the children who have been separated from their families by the dark threat of war arrived at Cambridge from London on Friday. During the weekend many others arrived and were dealt with. On Friday, numerous helpers gathered at the station. Among them were a number of Rangers who came on duty at six o'clock in the morning to fill the "ration bags" ready for distribution among the evacuees destined for the county on their arrival. # c.45.7

Early Morning Raid Warning.— Cambridge, in common with other towns and districts in East Anglia and the Midlands, had its first air raid warning in the early hours of Monday. Nearly half an hour elapsed before the "all clear" signal was given—about 3.15 a.m. —and in that time hundreds of householders left their beds and adjourned to lower rooms. Others, however, slept through the noise of the sirens. Not until morning was it revealed that the alarm was caused by the passage of unidentified aircraft over the Eastern Counties. # c.45.7

No Cambridgeshire. — Yesterday's "Racing Calendar" stated that no indication has been received of the withdrawal of the prohibition of sports gatherings. Several meetings, including Newmarket's First and Second October meetings, have been definitely abandoned, and the Cambridgeshire will not take place this year. Newmarket trainers are following the Government advice to the general public, and are carrying on for the time being. Horses are being exercised as usual, although, as there is no immediate prospect of a resumption in racing, strong work is not done.

1939 09 08 ES

Billeting tribunal set up, evacuees at Soham p1
Haddenham pond, West End to go p1
Evacuation scenes at Ely railway station - photo p4
Evacuation works smoothly - list villages with numbers p5
Escaped barrage balloon p5
Evacuee impressions of Ely p5
Hewish - catering p5
Two air raid warnings in an hour p5
Britain & France at war with Germany p6
No hoarding of food p7
"Black out" fatality, Sutton p9

1939 09 09

Peas Hill air raid shelter opens; large cavity under road shelters 400 people in converted wine cellars – photo – 39 09 09, 09a

Cambridge graduate on torpedoed Athenia liner – 39 09 09b

1939 09 11

Newnham youngsters at paddling pool with gas masks –photo – 39 09 11a

Ladies lead the way: a general distribution of gas masks began in Cambridge today. Here five women trying out their respirators which they received at St Luke's Girls School. [c]39 09 11b 112.07

1939 09 12

The outbreak of war and the cancellation of all sports gatherings had had severe consequences on horseracing in Newmarket. With only a few race meetings, owners are not inclined to maintain their horses and the number in training have been considerably depleted. Many stablemen have lost their employment and others, including jockeys, find themselves without work. Newmarket's future is a matter of speculation – 39 09 12

1939 09 13

Milton Road school ARP trenches – 39 09 13

Anti-gas protective helmets for babies are being produced but for moment youngsters (not babies) can use ordinary respirators, Royston council told 39 09 13a

1939 09 14

Cambridge University will not cancel examinations this term and entrance scholarships will be held in December – 39 09 14

Isle of Ely County Council form special emergency committee – 39 09 14

The headmistress of the Jews' Infant School, Commercial End, London says they were all given the heartiest welcome in Fordham. Not one teacher is in an uncomfortable billet and nobody wants to be rehoused. Quiet a number of parents came down pm Sunday and all were delighted at the reception given to their children. Mr Pickett, headmaster of the village school, is excellent. Village people have been quite ignorant of Jewish children and Jewish ways and a great deal of good should result from the contact. 39 09 14a

1939 09 15

Sir – when my husband handed me his pay packet for last week I found it was 1s.10d short. He told me it was one-and-a-quarter hours lost for the air raid warning which made work impossible. I think it very mean to stop working men's wages. He clocked in as usual and was ordered to the works' A.R.P. shelter. Does this mean that if an air raid warning is given during working hours money will be stopped, as work has to cease and the men take shelter? – Working Man's Wife 39 09 15

1939 09 15 CIPof

Cambridge Police Promotions. Six new promotions in the Cambridge Borough Police Force were announced on Wednesday to take effect from tomorrow, viz. Det-Sgt. Bird to Detective Inspector; Sgt. Ainsworth to Inspector and Chief Clerk; Sgt. Rogerson to Inspector, Air Raids Precautions Department; P.c. Lock to Sgt., Air Raid Precautions Dept.; P.c. Reginald Lewis to Patrol Sgt.; P.c. Beckett to Sgt., General Office. All the promotions are made following the augmentation of the Force earlier in the year.

Death of Mr. Charles Armstrong. —The death occurred suddenly on Saturday at The Grove, Huntingdon Road, Cambridge, of Mr. Charles Armstrong. He was in his 86th year, and had lived at The Grove for the past 40 years. The late Mr. Armstrong came to Cambridge in 1889 and in the same year bought the Star Brewery from Mr. Bailey. He was Chairman of that company until it was taken over by Tollemache's five, years ago. The Star Brewery is still in existence as a subsidiary of the Tollemache business, and the late Mr Armstrong was trustee for the first debenture holders of the Star Co. He served for a short time on the Cambridge Town Council about 40 years ago, but his chief local interest was the Royal Albert Benevolent Society Almshouses. He was President of the Society, and every year invited the residents to the Grove for an outing. He was a Past Master of the Brewers Co. and a Past Master of the Curriers Co. He had many business interests in London. # c.27.41

Doctor's Daughter Weds. — The daughter of a well-known Cambridge doctor was married quietly at St. Giles' Church on Tuesday. She was Miss Frances Hope Roderick, daughter of Dr. Henry Buckley Roderick, of Newnham Cottage, Queen's Road, Cambridge. The bridegroom was Mr. Nigel Winsor Hean Gaydon, the son of Mr. Harold Wallace Gaydon, of Hornsea House, Hornsea, Yorks.

War-time Farming Push.—The war has come at a time of the year that gives farming the best possible opportunity to prepare for the great effort it must now make in the defence of our country (writes Watchman). Harvest is nearly finished, and has turned out better than at one time seemed possible. Given reasonable weather, farmers will be able to push on with their normal early cultivations and supplement them with ploughing up even more land, for another 1½ million acres of land must be brought under the plough this coming year. It is an ambitious programme, for we are attempting in one, year what we only achieved in four years in the last war Cambridgeshire and Huntingdonshire are expected to have little difficulty in supplying and probably exceeding, their allotted contributions towards the 1,500,000 acres of land which the Minister of Agriculture proposes to bring under the plough this autumn. # c.45.7

1939 09 15 ES

Ely amusing black out incidents p5

Evacuee children have play centre p5

Parents visit evacuated children; how evacuee will be taught p5

Ely High school to open on Monday in conjunction with evacuated school p7

1939 09 16

The postponement of petrol rationing gives car owner an extra week's normal driving and enables hundreds of others to see that their tanks are full by the time rationing comes in. Many motorists left the filling of their tanks to the last day and there was a tremendous rush on garages. Several sold out of petrol and one motorist was only able to get one gallon after calls at eight Cambridge garages. For that one gallon he used nearly a half! 39 09 16

Victor Rothschild, brilliant scientist, a handsome but shy undergraduate married Barbara Hutchinson – 39 09 16a

1939 09 18

Elderly man knocked down by car at Stapleford during black-out – 39 09 18 & 19a

The University Arms management pleaded guilty to failing to obscure lights in the hotel and preventing them being visible outside the building. Mr Bradford, the manager, said he had 400 windows and 40 skylights. It had been impossible to screen all these within 36 hours of war being declared. The skylight in the kitchen took four men three days to screen properly. Four of the six hotel porters who would have done the work had been called up and although they'd bought dark blinds some light shone through little cracks. They'd also put notices in each room asking visitors not to open the windows until they had put the lights out. 39 09 18 & a Geldhart public house, Sleaford Street also accused

1939 09 19

Central school pupils return school – photo – 39 09 19

1939 09 20

Kerbs painted white to assist during black out – 39 09 20

Newmarket air-raid warning fined over black-out – 39 09 20a

Arthur Palmer, Hillrow, butcher bankrupt – 39 09 20a

Claude Sadler, Stretham butcher, bankrupt – 39 09 20b

A Meldreth wheelwright and blacksmith claimed the increased use of motor traction and the slump in the agricultural industry were the cause of his failure. He'd open an ironmonger's shop in Melbourn in 1934 and bought a van to drive round villages selling hardware goods. But he did not make a profit so he sold the van to pay creditors. Two butchers, one at Stretham, the other Haddenham were also insolvent 39 09 20c

The proprietor of the Empire Cinema, Littleport told the court he'd been a cinema manager at various towns in the Midlands, then been told about the Littleport cinema. Business was very good to start with but then his wife was taken ill and two months after the opened the cinema caught fire and was partly destroyed. The cause was never discovered. After rebuilding business was not so good because harvest time was approaching. Then creditors began pressing and one obtained a bankruptcy notice. 39 09 20d

During the Great War food was in short supply and Motor Agents were told to buy up mechanical implements. They managed to get some tractors and others arrived from America. Ladies, college tutors and errand boys came forward to drive and groups of engineers formed to attend them. At first they ploughed both day and night though farmers complained they turned up the sub-soil, making the land unusable. Now, once more at war, we must grow more food, Rotarians were told. 39 09 20e # c.45.5

1939 09 20 [circa]

Evacuees at Newnham College: girls from Downshills Central School who are guests of Newnham students. 39 09 20 112.68

1939 09 21

King's college chapel glass removed – photo – 39 09 21 112.04

1939 09 22

Taking precautions – protecting windows – photo – 39 09 22 112.01

Haverhill depot for supply of bandages – 39 09 22a

1939 09 22 CIPof

Night Blaze. Members of the Fire Brigade and the Auxiliary Fire Service and other helpers, including small boys with buckets, fought a serious outbreak of fire with outstanding success at St. Ives on Friday night. The fire was at the wood yard of Messrs. G. Fuller and Sons, which is close to the railway station and some garage properties. The alarm was given at 6.45, and the brigade arrived to find that the flames had gained a strong hold. So hard did the fire fighters work, however, that within an hour they had the blaze completely under control and had prevented it from spreading further. They left the scene just before midnight. The high tension cable running through the wood-yard represented a considerable danger to the men with the hoses playing on the flames around, and to minimise the risk, the current was cut off in that section.

False Alarm. It is possible (writes Watchman) to see the funny side of things in connection with the war. I was told the other day of a raid warden in a small village in Hunts., who, on hearing noises which he interpreted as a raid warning, dashed from his house and along the street blowing his whistle and urging the population to take cover. He met a party coming out of the "local" and insisted that they should go back until the raid was over. Having fulfilled his duty, he and the villagers sat back and waited for the enemy. But the enemy did not come and have still not arrived. It transpired later that a town a mile or two away (as the crow flies) was having a fire near the railway line. Traffic on the line was temporarily delayed, and an impatient engine driver sounded his engine whistle. It was this which caused all the excitement.

Warning to Pedestrians. "I do not think it can be too publicly stated that pedestrians should walk facing the oncoming traffic. We have had a lot of cases lately," said the Borough Coroner (Mr. W. R. Wallis) when he held an inquest at the Guildhall, Cambridge, on a 72-year-old farm worker, of no fixed address. The man died as a result of injuries he received when he was knocked down by a car at Stapleford about 11 o'clock on Thursday evening. The Coroner was emphasising the necessity for pedestrians to take special care in view of the present restrictions

Evacuees Return Home. Many of the women evacuees who had been billeted in Fulbourn have returned to their own homes.

A Good Apple Crop. Gathering apples last weekend in an orchard in Orchard Road, Melbourn, belonging to Miss Emily Hagger, Mr. John Hinkins was able to procure 16 bushels (32 half-sieves) of fruit from one tree, and then to leave a few apples upon it. The tree, a summer Pearmain, is believed to be one of the oldest and the only one of its kind, in the village.

1939 09 22 ES

Ely council protest over treatment in evacuation scheme; evacuation of mothers a failure - 60% from Fordham go home, complaints, billeting tribunal formed p5

Soham to have siren p7

British Legion Hall, Littleport opened p7 (- photo 20th p10)

Stretham schools reopened but due number evacuated children need to use Methodist Chapel schoolroom for infants as well as Infants school; Stretham will work separately from London infants but at Upper school work together p10

1939 09 25

County Council employees called up to fight will have their army wages made up to what they would have received. But what other employer would think of making up salaries in this way? They were already more fortunate than others because their jobs would be kept open for them. But they would have to be replaced meaning wages and salaries would be re-duplicated. Many people in business would have to close, others were working for nothing. Properties would fall into the hands of the receivers and rateable values go down, councillors heard 39 09 23 Cambridge does same - 39 09 25 # c.35.1

There was only a remote possibility of villages being bombed but mobile units had been fitted up to deal with casualties and there was a first-aid point in every village. It was not practical to provide air raid sirens but a parish could provide one if the Chief Constable approved. Warnings would be given every time a hostile aircraft crossed the coast between King's Lynn and the Thames. If you are in bed at night and the warning comes, you should stop in bed. If it comes in the day, you should go to bed, people were told. 39 09 25

Evacuees - some teachers doing the minimum required; they had arrived with little clothing but there were W.V.S. centres in every village - 39 09 25a

1939 09 27

Problems with regard to evacuees in the Isle were discussed. At one Ely school there were only two English girls, the rest being Jews. They were receiving Jewish education and had been told they had to fast on Saturdays, as laid down for members of the Jewish faith. It was too expensive to black out the windows of every school but children must receive a full education. At Outwell boys of 15 were billeted in the homes of fruit pickers who had to return home early to look after them. As a result hundreds of tons of fruit would be ruined. The lads should help with the crops. 39 09 27

Blackout offences - Soham fish shop, Cheveley & Burwell houses - 39 09 27a, b

1939 09 28

Ely old brewery was completely gutted in one of the most disastrous fires seen for many years. Thirty-five members of the brigade and all available equipment were needed in combatting the blaze. The blaze was at its height at about 7 o'clock when the old portion of the brewery was belching fourth flames to a height of about 60 feet. Firemen armed with the plentiful supply from the River found difficulty in approaching the building owing to the proximity of adjoining property. But with nine jets pouring 1,500 gallons of water per minute on the building they managed to gain the upper hand after a three-hour struggle. Falling debris constituted a grave danger. Huge girders came crashing down from the four-storey building along with brickwork, masonry, flooring and roofing material. The most serious threats were from a tall chimney stack and a huge water tank situated high up in the building. The lower portion of the premises used for bottling ginger beer and for the storage of thousands of bottles were gradually devoured, threatening stock of well over 100 tons of cold. Burning debris fell on cottages on the west side, which abutted Ely's public Air raid shelter. Fortunately, these buildings were well protected with sandbags otherwise, they too might have caught fire. The old brewery buildings were used for the storage of bags by the Beet Sugar Corporation. The building was packed to capacity with them and it is believed the fire was due to combustion caused through the stacks of bags. Only part of the old building remains and police guard were posted around the shell as it is feared that the walls may collapse. 39 09 28

Mortuary accommodation required, need disinfection plant for verminous evacuees & bedding – 39 09 28a

1938 09 28

Taking timely precautions: trenches 112.05

1939 09 29

Cambridge councillor rescued after freighter in which crossing Atlantic torpedoed – 39 09 29

County school trenches construction – photo – 39 09 29a 112.03

1939 09 29 CIPof

Making up pay. — By 31 votes to 22, Cambs. County Council decided on Saturday that they will make employees' service pay up to the amount they had been receiving in civil life. The decision meant an overthrow of the Staff Committee's resolution, which was that no general resolution be passed to make Service pay up to civil remuneration, but that any cases of hardship be given special consideration. The Committee had also resolved that the Council pay into the Superannuation Fund the employees' contributions and their own In respect of all officers and servants on naval, military or air service.

The Record of Records, — Writing this week from 18, Hillside, Sawston, Mr. T. F. Teversham writes.—"During the past few weeks you have published many attendance records. I have kept one up my sleeve, which, I believe, eclipses all of them. It is held by Mr. Frank Barker, of New Road, Sawston. He performed what seems to be an almost incredible feat of attending the Sawston Council School for ten years, and was never absent and never late. The particular period was 1897-1901. He started school at the age of 3 plus, and was allowed to leave when 13½, six months before his full time, as a reward for an extraordinary achievement. His wife also attended for 7 years at Duxford School without an absence being recorded against her."

Close Vote. — Cambridge Town Council have decided (by 27 votes to 22) not to make up Service pay of all men called to the Colours to the amount which they would receive in their normal employment. Additions will be made, however, in the case of men joining before September 15.

"No Truth". — The following message from the Regional Commissioner for the Eastern Region (Sir Will Spens) has been received.—"The Eastern Regional Commissioner has noticed that allegations have been made of food profiteering in the Eastern Region. After making inquiries, he is satisfied that, generally speaking, there is no truth in such reports. On the contrary, the Commissioner finds that the food traders of the Region have, to a marked degree, resisted any temptation to profiteer, and he desires to emphasise the importance and the value of their action. The Commissioner wishes, at the same time, to acknowledge the debt of the Region to all concerned in the production and distribution of food, who, in many cases, have been working for long hours, and, owing to lighting restrictions, in trying circumstances."

Six injured in Smash. — Six people were injured when a Standard Nine car came to grief near Worsted Lodge, not far from Balsham cross-roads on Sunday morning. The car was proceeding in the direction of London, and was overtaking a motor coach at the time of the accident. It is believed it struck the off-side kerb and then went on to its near-side, colliding with the coach. The car was badly damaged and all its six occupants were injured.

1939 09 29 ES

Ely old brewery, Waterside, gutted p5 - photo p10

Evacuees compulsory billeting, new maternity home opens soon p5

Schoolchildren to work on land p7

1939 09 30

Colonel Cody flew over Cambridge during Army manoeuvres at Hardwick, 1912 – photo – 39 09 30 # c.26.1

1939 09 30

A Cambridge defence work: territorials with anti-aircraft gun 112.08

October 1939 CDN & CIPof & Ely Standard

1939 10 03

Many University staff have already left Cambridge since the start of the war and students from London and St Bartholomew's Hospital have joined students at the Medical School. Undergraduates will continue their studies 39 10 03 & a # c.45.7 # c.36.9

City girls on the farm – photo – 39 10 03b 112.78

1939 10 04

Barton ARP hut – photo – 39 10 04

Cambridge business is experiencing a war boom with the influx of thousands of evacuees and fewer facilities for getting to London to shop. A feeling of optimism prevails among tradespeople who point out that although prices will rise in the near future it will not be due to profiteering on their part. The Paris House reports a flourishing sale in fur coats and higher priced merchandise while Mr Hensher of Peas Hill says his shop has been crowded by purchasers of black-out materials, blankets and bedding. Millers say gramophones and wirelesses are selling well and they expect a rush on pianos. 39 10 04a

1939 10 05

Dressmaker, hairdresser, dancing expert, officer clerk, shop assistant and television worker. All these are working side by side potato picking, milking cows, muck spreading and clearing out pigsties at the Cambridge University Farm on Huntingdon Road. The girls are members of the Women's Land Army undergoing a month's training before being sent to work for farmers. The majority are in their late teens and early twenties but some are older. One has her two grown-up daughters with her; her son and his brother are doing their bit in the Tank Corps in France. 39 10 05 # c.45.7

1939 10 05 CIPof

£4,000 Horse Sale at Histon.—Approximately £4,000 changed hands at the 12th annual sale of Percheron horses at the sale yard, Histon, on Friday. It was one of the largest sales of the breed which has been conducted in Great Britain for some time. The magnificent work of the Percheron during the last war gave the introduction of the breed into Britain an enthusiastic reception and the interest displayed at yesterday's sale was a patent tribute to the part to be played by these animals particularly in respect of agriculture, during the present conflict. A feature of the sale, which was attended by a large selection of buyers, was the inclusion of the entire noted prize-winning Aldenham stud, the property of Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan. There were also entries from many other famous studs.

For Evacuees.—A social club for the benefit of evacuees has been started in the village (Histon) and at the first meeting 38 mothers and a good number of babies and young children were present. It is proposed that the club should meet every Monday and Friday at Impington School.

The "Square Pegs" Depart. — Evacuated London mothers and children billeted in the village (Melbourn) are slowly, but surely drifting back to their homes. Exactly how many have gone back is not known, but it is estimated that about 50 mothers, with their offsprings, have left Melbourn since the great influx of September 2 and the few following days. Villagers bravely, and often at, great inconvenience, did their best to make the refugees comfortable, but many refused to settle down, grumbling at the quietness of country life, the absence of a cinema and other amusements, the scarcity of shops and other "inconveniences." The great trouble at the moment, particularly at weekends, is the uninvited and unannounced relatives of the evacuees who descend upon the village and expect to be fed and entertained by the villagers.

Presentation. — Mr. Harry Spencer, for 12 years sub-post-master at Great Sampford, has taken up duties in the same capacity at Great Shelford. A native of London, Mr. Spencer served in the last war, and on leaving hospital following war injuries, was appointed sub-post-master at Great Sampford in 1927. While in the village, both Mr. and Mrs. Spencer won many friends for themselves, and the active interest they took in village affairs was much appreciated. At Sampford, Mr. Spencer founded a branch of the Essex County Library and conducted its affairs for five years. For three years he was a member of the Sampford Parish Council, and in addition to taking a keen interest in all the social affairs of the village, helped with legal matters. Mrs. Spencer was for many years secretary of the Great Sampford Women's Institute as well as a member of the Child Welfare Committee. At a large and representative gathering in the Parish Hall, Great Sampford, on Wednesday last week, a cheque for over £15 was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Spencer.

1939 10 06

South Cambs RDC discussed a request from the School of Our Lady of the Sacred Heart for the transfer of 300 evacuees from other parishes into Sawston Thirty children had arrived in Ickleton who were dirty, filthy, badly-clothed and badly cared for. They were put into cottages which are clean, bright and healthy and the cottage people had changed them. The children are now clean and tidy, their manners have improved. But if they were taken to Sawston there would be no more evacuees taken in that village. 39 10 06

Suggestions for brightening the black-out at Cambridge. Heffer's have a selection of indoor games such as Autobridge, dominoes and jig-saw puzzles. Coad's stock khaki wools and other artistic shades for personal shoppers while Johnson's have a range of novels as well as black-out paper. Gray of Sidney Street can supply miniature billiard tables but those who prefer the real thing should visit the Guildhall Street Billiards Saloon which is open from early morning till late at night. 39 10 06b

1939 10 07

Auxiliary fire service headquarters, Victoria Road – photo – 39 10 07

Demolition of part of St John's College, Bridge Street – 39 10 07a

Concert parties to entertain troops – 39 10 07b

First Eastern General Hospital cooks – photo – 39 10 07c

1939 10 09

The small new Roman Catholic chapel on the corner of High Street, Old Chesterton is a corrugated iron structure but its lines are good and the interior fittings and decoration are in excellent taste. After the Reformation there was no Catholic church in Cambridge. Then Mass began to be said in the room of a house and in 1841 a small church opened in Union Lane. This was supplanted in 1890 by the fine building in Hills Road. Now there are large congregations at four Masses every Sunday and two other chapels of ease beside the one now opened. 39 10 09 # c.83

The majority of basements in Cambridge are useless as public air raid shelters since they need to be capable of holding between 50 and 100 people. But those at Herbert Robinson's Garage in Regent Street, Zion Baptist Church, Mr Wheatley's in Sturton Street and Potts' Mineral Water Works in Castle Street are suitable. However these are not enough and shelters should be constructed in various areas. They will be of brick and concrete and accommodate 50 people. Shelters in schools should be available for the public during the night and at week-ends. 39 10 09a # c.45.7

1939 10 10

Ely Beet Sugar Factory fire – 39 10 10

A fire which broke out at the offices of the Ely Beet Sugar Factory cause considerable inconvenience. The factory's auxiliary fire pump was engaged until after midnight in combating the outbreak in a despatch office. All available hands were rushed to the scene, and office equipment and important documents were as far as possible removed to a place of safety. Firemen in gas masks did good work in checking the outbreak from spread to the adjoining offices, because the dispatch room situated on the third floor was not easily accessible particularly in view of the volumes of smoke that were pouring through the windows, and through the lower rooms. Considerable damage was also caused by water that seeped through the floors in the various departments causing a dislocation of telephonic communication and the electric light. A spokesman said that although there was some delay and inconvenience, the office staff were carrying on their normal duties. The main factory was not affected. 39 10 10

1939 10 11

Air Raid precautions committee have ensured that petrol supplies will be available for special services and several garages have reserved tanks and pumps for them. There are decontaminating centres at Mill Road store yard, Cherry Hinton Hall and Victoria Road. First aid depots have been set up at Shirley and other Schools with first aid parties and two ambulances. Electrically controlled sirens have been installed which together with the steam sirens should be adequate to give necessary warnings 39 10 11 # c.45.7

1939 10 12

ARP shelter under construction at Christ's Pieces – photo – 39 10 12

Guildhall first council meeting – 39 10 12a & 12b [and see Memories 20th Oct 2014] # c.35.7

1939 10 13

No action will be taken against schoolboys aged 12 and over who are absent from school assisting the harvest. But there were a great many women volunteering for the land who were not being engaged – why should children be used as cheap labour. There was no need to employ boys and girls of that age. Coun Taylor said it was only a question of boys leading horses but this meant breaking off education during the last few months when a boy could be educated. 39 10 13

Happy evacuees from the poorer parts of London enjoyed a birthday party for 'Little Joan'. She had told her new 'mummy' that she had never had a birthday party before and it added to her happiness to share it with chums from Fulham. Joan enjoys her 'holiday' home and only wants to go back 'now and again'. She would like her mother to come and see her in Cambridge. But she cannot afford the trip. Other children are saving their money to pay their own mummy's fare. 39 10 13a

Work re-arranging Cambridge Central Library is going on well. Book cases are being installed in the domed room, the Reference Library has moved to the Education Offices and its old home will house magazines. 39 10 13b

An Ely police constable told the court he was cycling with another officer along Cambridge Road on the first night of the black-out when he was struck by a van. The driver said he was travelling at 10-15 mph with only sidelights, due to the blackout. He suddenly saw two cycles; they carried red and white reflectors, but had no light on. The first thing he'd seen was the strap of a gas mask. The policemen admitted they did not have lights on their bicycle but claimed the man was speeding. The driver was fined. 39 10 13c

The Isle of Ely Surveyor said there was no need to sack roadmen as the work was vital and a number were digging trenches at schools. He was disappointed not more had gone to work on farms where they would earn more money. But they could not force them unless they first sacked them. Then when they came to the Labour Exchange they could send them. Any farmer needing labour should contact him for a list of volunteers available. 39 10 13d

1939 10 13 CIPof

Happy Evacuees.—A suggestion, made during a short discussion concerning evacuation, that there should be a re-shuffling of evacuees around Cambs. villages, drew a spirited protest from members at a meeting of the Cambs. Education Committee on Tuesday afternoon. The Chairman (Ald. E. G. G. Frost) stated that the number of evacuated children of: school age attending public elementary schools was 4,289, made up of 2,713 in school parties and 1,679 others. Three hundred and sixty-six secondary school children had been evacuated. Ald. Frost said he had been out to several of the schools with the Education Officer, and on his own to other schools in the county. "I would like to say that what has struck me more than anything else has been the extraordinary good feeling there is on the whole between evacuated teachers and our own teachers. I was also struck with: the happiness of the evacuees," added the Chairman. # c.45.7

A Refugee Story. A Polish refugee, a corporal in the Czech Army, arrived at Huntingdon North Railway Station on Friday, but as he could not speak English, the officials were unable to help him in his travels. The help of the police was sought, and at the station, Supt. E. Afford, with a Press representative, attempted by signs to make the corporal understand, and found that he wanted to go to Baldock. It was too late for a train, so Sergeant Fardham found him lodgings for the night, and the next morning he was safely on his journey. The next day a Czech refugee called at the station with a piece of paper, on which was written, "I thank all Polish men and Mr. Inspector."

New Catholic Chapel. The small chapel erected on the corner of the site in High Street, Old Chesterton, purchased by the Roman Catholic Church, was inaugurated on Sunday. Mgr. Canon Marshall (Rector of the Church of Our Lady and the English Martyrs) blessed the chapel, and Mass was celebrated by Father Watkis. The chapel is a corrugated iron structure, but its lines are good, and the interior fittings and decoration are in excellent taste. Canon Marshall announced that the Bishop of the Diocese wished their new chapel to be put under the patronage of St. Laurence, the great martyr of the Roman Church in the 3rd century, a saint to whom the conversion of Rome from paganism to Christianity was largely attributed by the fathers of the church. # c.83

A Pathetic Note.—There is a pathetic side (writes Watchman) to some of the stories concerning small evacuees, and here is one sent by a Cambridgeshire billeting officer. A small child billeted with a "very respectable family" saw the husband preparing to go out one evening, so she said rather pathetically, "I know where you are going. You are going on the booze." Somewhat anxiously she watched for his return. Her anxiety was understood when she said to him, "I wish you were my daddy. When my daddy goes out on the booze, he throws cups at my mummy when he comes home."

Funeral of Peter and David Leggett.—A large number of sympathisers and friends attended the funeral at the Parish Church (Over) on Friday of Peter James Leggett (11) and David John: Leggett (9), sons of Mr. and Mrs. James Leggett, of High Street, who died last week from diphtheria. The two boys were popular in the village. They were members of the Church Sunday School and Guild and also of the church choir to which they had belonged for the past three years and had the distinction of having the best attendance records of all the choir boys.

1939 10 13 ES

Ely's two public air raid shelters - underground accommodation for 1,000 people p5

1939 10 14

Field kitchen sited in churchyard – photo – 39 10 14

Farm workers pay was raised by 2/- week. This was not a living wage but in the last war fathers and mothers brought up families of 10 and 12 children, all well and working, on a farm worker's wage. At Warboys a man and his wife, both over 80, were living in a tumbled-down cottage. He had brought up 19 children on an agricultural wage and every one of them was alive and well. But just because they had a certain measure of happiness, this did not mean they'd had a very good life 39 10 14a farm workers wages discussed – 39 10 14b

New Guildhall – first meeting; poor view from gallery – 39 10 14c

1939 10 17

Stretham lorry driver Herbert Gillett drove without care – 39 10 17

1939 10 18

Entertainers leave to give a show for the troops – photo - 39 10 18

1933 10 20 CIPof

Ouse Flood Water. — In spite of the serious flooding which has occurred in the Midlands, where the Ouse and Grand Union Canal have overflowed their banks, there appears little danger that the Cambridgeshire Fens will be greatly affected. Mr. Oscar Borer, Chief Engineer to the Great Ouse Catchment Board, said that although the level of the water at Newport Pagnell is 7ft above normal, the flood waters of the Ouse have not reached Bedford, and they should be dispersed before they can get down to the Fens. He added, too, that all the washes were empty.

Fire Fighting. St. Ives Rural District Council, at its meeting on Friday afternoon, revealed concern at the lack of fire-fighting equipment in the district, and attacked the system which provided for the requirements of urban districts being met first.

Call-up. — It is expected that between 600 and 800 students and townsmen will be affected by the first proclamation under the National Service (Armed Forces) Act, 1939. The smallness of the number is accounted for by the fact that many men in this age group have already joined the Forces. On Saturday, October 21, _ the anniversary of Trafalgar, all men who on October 21 were between the age of 20 years and 22 years, are required to register at the Senate House, King's Parade. # c.45.7

Archbishop at Cambridge. — Dr. Temple, Archbishop of York, addressed an audience of over 2,000 at the Regal Cinema, Cambridge, on Sunday evening. Professor C. E. Raven presided.

8,000 Acres for the Plough. — Of the 10,000 acres of grassland, which is the ploughing-up quota for Cambridgeshire in the nation's effort to produce more food, some 8,000 acres are accounted for by promises. This is disclosed in a statement received from Mr. J. A. Macmillan, Executive Officer of the Cambridgeshire War Agricultural Executive Committee.

Rise for Farm Workers. — Improved rates of pay for farm workers were approved by the impartial members at Friday's meeting of the Cambs. and Isle of Ely Agricultural Wages Committee at the Lion Hotel, Cambridge. Basically the decision provided for an increase of 2s. a week for workers, who will earn 37s. a week instead of 35s. An increase of 5s. was applied for by the workers' representatives.

Golden Wedding. — Mr. and Mrs. Albert Taylor, of Pond Green, Wicken, celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage on Tuesday. They were married at Isleham Church by the Rev. Robinson, but had lived in Wicken ever since. Mrs. Taylor is 76 and Mr. Taylor 74. Both are in robust health.

1939 10 20 ES

Ely air raid shelter - photo p5

Ely maternity home fully staffed - evacuation scheme p5

Evacuees: new mode of school life working well

1939 10 21

Undergraduates make sandbag wall – photo – 39 10 21 112.69

Troops march past War Memorial – photo – 39 10 21a

Dr William Mortlock Palmer of Linton, the well-known antiquary, started his career with Messrs Campkins, chemists and in 1901 took up practice in Linton, retiring seven years ago. In 1935 he proceeded to an honorary degree of Master of Arts and became a member of Pembroke College. He was best-known as a member of Cambridge Antiquarian Society and wrote several volumes, the last on of the History of Burrough Green. In 1931 he received an address of thanks from Cambridge Town Council for his work on the Borough documents 39 10 21b

Nursing Association report – 39 10 21c

The Cambridge School of Flying started in 1916 and was open to those applying for commissions in the Royal Flying Corps for training as air pilots. A field was rented from Mr Lilley, a farmer in the old world village of Harston. Soon afterwards only cadets entering the R.F.C. were admitted. After the serious side was finished for the day it was natural that young men of high spirits should have an occasional 'rag'. They removed the sign from the village pub and fixed it to the gate of the church. An investigating policeman found his bicycle missing; it was found in the branches of the highest tree. The villagers were very tolerant and forgiving, friendships were formed and some found life's partners in this romantic old village 39 10 21b & c & d # c.26.1

1939 10 23

Mr J.A. Scudamore, the boat builder, has died aged 52. He built several motor launches when they were first introduced on the Cam and had considerable success in the races promoted by the Motor Boat Club of which he was an early member. In the summer months he was a well-known and genial figure in Mill Lane, being in charge of the new Granta boat houses which he'd helped to plan. 39 10 23 # c.26.3

1939 10 25

Gathering at Matthew's Café for scheme to supply cigarettes and comforts for soldiers – pic 39 10 25

T.R. Glover, Public Orator, looks back, including Emperor Hirohito of Japan & Abyssinia – 39 10 25a & b # c.36.9

1939 10 27

Evacuees entertained Baptist Church Hall, Arbury Rd – 39 10 27

Hitler's bombs will have no effect on the air raid shelter in the basement of Herbert Robinson's garage in Regent Street which is not only the largest in Cambridge but impregnable even from a direct hit. It has three steel reinforced floors above the actual basement which comprise the shelter. Experts say that even if the first or second floors were damaged by a direct hit from a bomb, people sheltered would still be immune. It comprises 6,000 square feet and has accommodation for over 700 people 39 10 27a # c.45.7

1939 10 27 CIPof

Death of Mr. C. Askew.—By the death on October 18 of Mr. Charles Askew, of Fen End, in his 91st year, Willingham has lost its oldest inhabitant. Highly respected, Mr. Askew took a keen interest in the affairs of the village and held positions on many public bodies in the district. His knowledge of the Fenlands and his many years of experience have always been in-valuable to so many, and right up to his death his memory had not weakened and he loved to show his deep interest and pass on any helpful information.

Next Mayor.—Councillor William Pratt Anderson has accepted the invitation of the Godmanchester Borough Council to be their Mayor for the coming year. For some years, Coun. Anderson has served on the Council, and his practical knowledge of local government work has been of real service to the borough. For 16 years he has been Headmaster of the Godmanchester Boys' School, and has taken a particularly keen interest in elementary school sports.

Mr. A. J. Scudamore. — The funeral took place on Saturday of Mr. A. J. Scudamore, boat builder, who died the previous Thursday at his home, Rosario, King's Hedges Road, Cambridge. Mr. Scudamore was in business with his brother, the late Mr. J. C. Scudamore, who died about a year ago, assisting him in the carrying-on of the well-known business in Mill Lane and the Granta Boathouse. When motor launches were first introduced on the Cam, deceased built several of them, and they attained considerable success in the races promoted by the Motor Boat Club. He was also one of the first members of the club. # c.26.3

A Technical Hitch. — After 25 years of faithful service and bearing hitherto an unblemished character, the clock in the church tower at Melbourn stopped working after mid-day on Monday, and remained dull and lifeless for two days. The clock, seen daily by hundreds of passing motorists, has received professional attention and now appears to be working well again. Monday's stoppage is said to have been the first during the quarter of a century of the clock's life

Strawberries. — Several ripe strawberries have been gathered during the past week in Over and it is also reported that quite a lot of plants are on flower, especially the Brenda Gautrey variety.

Presentation.—During the "Pleasant Hour" at the Old Baptist Church on Sunday evening a pleasing little ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. S. Swain, when he presented a hanging mirror to Mr. J. Cornell, a gift on the occasion of his marriage, subscribed for by members of the Young People's Fellowship Committee and the Deacons

1939 10 27 ES

Burnt Fen seaman lost on Royal Oak - Horace Martin p5

Memories of WWI Ely hospital supply depot p5

Mines washed up at Hunstanton p9

Glimpses of past - Dandies concert party - photo p10

1939 10 28

The Food Officer in Cambridge (Mr C.H. Kemp) and his staff of about 100 have been busy preparing ration books for the time when the Government brings the scheme into operation within the next three weeks. Workers, some volunteers, others recruited from the Ministry of Labour, have prepared 500 cards a day. Now all is ready. Rationed foods will be meat, bacon, ham, butter, margarine, cooking fats (including lard and dripping) and sugar. There will be an ordinary ration book, another for children under six, one for travellers and a supplemental book for boys aged 13-18 who are considered to need more meat than the average adult. 39 10 28 # c.45.7

Silver Street bridge will be strengthened so it is able to take buses again; work needs to start soon because of the inconvenience – 39 10 28a # c.44.75

1939 10 31

The Pike & Eel Inn, a 16th-century property on the banks of the Gt Ouse at Overcote Ferry Needingworth, has been modernised and enlarged with a new part in complete harmony with the old. The installation of central heating, running water and other modern conveniences has been unobtrusively carried out and the interior, with its period furniture, armour and arms has remained unchanged for centuries. Legend says that Oliver Cromwell held council of war there. It stands in 11 acres of gardens with garages for six cars and has good fishing. Wild fowl and rough shooting is available together with golf, bathing, boating, tennis and hunting. 39 10 31

November 1939 CDN & CIPof & Ely Standard

1939 11 01

Rev E.M. Tweed was at The Perse 1884-87 under Rev John Wisken; played in football team; then to St Catharine's and 'coached' while undergraduate. Guy Fawkes day memories & proctors 39 11 01

A.F.S. station – men waiting call to action, photo – 39 11 01a

Picturesque villages might be left to burn while Cambridge fire brigade concentrated on town buildings. They had agreed to provide cover for various villages but had not been able to obtain more hose - 39 11 01b

1939 11 02

ARP trenches, Brunswick school – photo – 39 11 02

Rampton church bell dedicated memory Rev C.H. Evelyn-White – 39 11 02a

Work on dwellings for the re-housing of people living in condemned properties has been suspended owing to the shortage of timber. A number of houses, if left half-build would be ruined, councillors heard. Ninety percent of the timber contracts from the Baltic had been cancelled or sunk in process of delivery. They could not get wood to finish urgently-needed houses for farm workers - but a farmer was allowed to use wood to erect buildings for agricultural purposes. There is no shortage of bricks 39 11 02b

The Corporation want to construct a refuse-dump at Swann's brickyard, Newmarket Road. Their destructor could only incinerate two-thirds of the town's refuse and the remainder disposed of by controlled tipping. It was a deep disused clay pit and brick-making works and when filled a good part of the area could be added to Stourbridge Common. There were houses only on one side and it was quite remote. There would be a seven-foot high screen around the pit and the estimated life of the tip was ten years 39 11 02b # c.21.15

Linton black-out fines – 39 11 02b

1939 11 03

County High School for Girls speech day facts - 39 11 03

1939 11 03 CIPof

To Continue Office.—The Mayor of Huntingdon (Coun. W. E. Driver) will continue in office for another year, as will also three of the councillors due to retire from the Town Council. Godmanchester and the county are acting in a similar way, and no elections will take place.

Licensee Retires.—After 37 years as licensee of the Black Bull public house, Mr. A. Laurie retired on Monday. Mr. Laurie and his wife have had a life - long association with the trade, and before going to the Black Bull were at the Wilken's Head, a public house which used to stand opposite the Post Office, They are going to continue to live in St. Ives.

Royal Visit.—Huntingdon had its first visit by royalty for 25 years yesterday, when His Majesty the King arrived about midday to inspect the various units and services in the district. He was met by various high officials of the Forces. The visit was strictly private. It was not until about 10 o'clock in the morning that the news spread that His Majesty was arriving about noon. By that time crowds lined the route and, as the King passed, the sightseers waved and cheered. Huntingdon will remember a visit of the late King George V in the early days of the last war, September, 1914, when His Majesty came to inspect the Lovat Scouts.

Isle M.P. Gives £1,000. — Mr. James A. de Rothschild, M.P. for the Isle of Ely, has given £1,000 in response to the Lord Mayor's appeal for the Duke of Gloucester's Red Cross Appeal Fund. The fund has already passed the half-million mark.

Ripe Raspberries.—Mr. Albert G. Parish, of High Street, Swavesey, last weekend gathered ripe raspberries in his garden for a good-sized pie for his Sunday dinner.

Memorial Dedicated.—At evensong last Sunday, the new electric organ blower in the Parish Church (Waterbeach) was dedicated. It has been installed as a memorial to the late Vicar, the Rev J. H. Davies, who died at Waterbeach two years ago. The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. J. G. L. Swann) who also read the dedicatory prayers. Mrs. Davies was present. Mr. F. C. Stiff was at the organ.

Bright. Swavesey L.N.E.R. station is now looking very bright in its new colour scheme, after re-painting, which has been carried out at this and other stations on the St. Ives branch line.

1939 11 03 ES

Ely boxing club disband p7

Return of child evacuees p7

History made at Sutton - story of Homefield dairy - largest in Eastern counties p8

Evacuee mothers in Ely maternity home - photo p10

1939 11 04

Cambridge is a much more cheerful place in the black-out today than it was when the war started. Then cyclists and pedestrians were few and it felt like a dead city. Now with theatres and cinemas going strong there is plenty of life and the whole atmosphere has changed. But with more traffic comes more danger. Some motorists and cyclists go too fast in the darkened streets. But the worst offenders are pedestrians dawdling in the roadway without any thought for the poor people awheel who with dim lights have to thread their way through the streets. 39 11 04

Roosevelt and teddy bear when got degree – 39 11 04

1939 11 07

Constance Porter, Highfield House, Hillrow Haddenham – will – 39 11 07

1939 11 08

Cambridge Fire Boat trial – photo – 39 11 08

Sir – may I draw attention to the wanton destruction of air raid shelters in Histon? For many Sundays a band of volunteers have worked to construct shelters for the public and school children in case of emergency. But elder children delight in removing the sandbags. Now almost the complete side has been taken from the shelter at School Hill and spread about. May I appeal to the special constables who seem to be rather efficient in some other instances – G. Grimwood – 39 11 08a

1939 11 09

W.J. Wing selected mayor – 39 11 09 & a

1939 11 10

The first part of the new scheme for improving the Central library is complete. In the new lending department book shelves radiate from a central staff inclosure, providing more room and improved natural lighting. The old lending library will become the newspaper reading room while the old reference room will be used for magazines. An innovation is the transfer of the Reference room upstairs to the old Education offices, entrance to which is gained through Peas Hill. Refugees, evacuees and any person resident in Cambridge are eligible as borrowers. 39 11 10

1939 11 10 CIPof

